Early Harvesting Indicates Better Than Normal Crop

President Eisenhower was 100 per cent correct in his remarks about communism at the Baylor University commencement service last week. Communism is a failure. It did not make good on its promise of bringing a better life to those who have come under its influence. Instead it has brought privation and slavery. It is passionately hated by the people who have to endure it.

So far as he went the president's appraisal was completely accurate, but he did not go far enough. For while the godless red ideology has been a miserable flop in the field of human welfare it has been an astounding success in the field of exploiting mankind for the benefit of a few power mad tyrants. Likewise it has had notable success in destroying traditions and beliefs that had been established by centuries of Christian culture.

Doubtless the communist big shots of the world were amused by Eisenhower's remarks. While being referred to as failures they had only to think of the hundreds of millions they had enslaved in the last decade, of the turmoil they are still causing every day even while preaching peace and co-existence, of the desperate efforts by Western countries to keep up an adequate defense, of the infiltration and espionage by which they spread their evil influence even among free peoples.

The sad fact is that both Eisenhower and the reds are correct, but the failure of which the president speaks makes no difference to them, and does not retard what they consider as success. They don't care if people starve and live like slaves. Their only goal is conquest of the earth and mankind. As the past two decades of history have shown us repeatedly, they are not concerned with failure to live up to promises as long as they can go forward in their main objective.

Realizing that situation we should be especially eager to welcome and encourage a new plan mentioned a few weeks ago by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. He proposes developing NATO into a political as well as a military organization and have it work toward the solution of many of the world's international problems. The reason behind his suggestion is obvious. Russia and its stooges, by means of the veto and a special talent in trouble making, have worked constantly to intensify problems rather than solve them. By forming a tribunal which is not hampered by the forces of evil, Dulles and the leaders of a few other countries have hopes of bringing justice and common sense to international dealings.

The idea is wonderful, the best that has been offered in world politics since the UN was established. Incidentally, this isn't by any means the first appearance of this proposal, but this is apparently the first time it has received top level consideration. Furthermore, even greater merit for the plan hinges on another very important proposal... the withdrawal of participating nations from the UN, or possibly a continued membership in the UN for the sole purpose of talking turkey to the Soviet gang if and when it is necessary.

As things stand now, the UN is nothing but a farce. A majority of its members condemn communist aggression in one sector of the world, send in their troops to check the conquest, and another member supports the aggression. To end the war a truce is established, then observed by some members and violated by the reds. In other dealings any measure in behalf of human welfare or justice is obstructed by the Soviet veto. From the day the UN was set up civilization has taken a beating at the hands of the communists every time an issue came up.

We have had plenty experience to know by now that we can't do business with the reds. Common sense is in full support of the Dulles proposal, even more so if it will go all the way and unite all the supporters of freedom and human dignity, including SEATO. We need to form a solid front with the remnants of freedom in the West and the East then stand pat in

First reports on the Muenster harvest bear out the old remark that crops are usually good when people complain about dry weather.

Combining is just getting a good start here and few farmers are in a position to estimate their yields. Nevertheless, most are agreed that what they have seen so far is better than they expected... much better than they had hoped for a few weeks ago.

Two unconfirmed reports on wheat tell of a 34.6 bushel average southeast of Myra and a 28 bushel average north of Lindsay. Those yields are somewhat better, however, than expected here because of better moisture condition several weeks ago. Around Muenster wheat yields are expected to average nearer to 15 bushels.

Oats is admitted to be poorer, but still better than average. Some early cuttings indicate a yield of about 30.

Bishop Addresses Parochial Grads; Presents Diplomas

Sixteen graduates of Sacred Heart High School and forty-three graduates of the elementary department received their diplomas from The Most Rev. Thomas K. Gorman, bishop of the Dallas-Fort Worth Diocese, at commencement exercises Sunday night in Sacred Heart Church.

His Excellency celebrated the mass which preceded the graduation and also delivered the commencement sermon.

Bishop Gorman, addressing his remarks especially to the high school graduates, emphasized the urgency of continued mental and spiritual development in the years to come. To a great extent graduates are now on their own, he said, and they must keep learning to keep abreast of the times in this highly complex and highly competitive age. "Those who prepare the best get the best return," he advised. He also urged constant prayer as a means of developing spiritual faculties and rendering greater service to Almighty God.

He congratulated the graduates on having reached an important goal in their careers, and the parents for their part in bringing their sons and daughters to that goal. To them goes the credit for giving the schooling that begins before the first grade and for cooperating with teachers during school days.

Bishop Gorman also told parents to appreciate the freedom of education which is theirs under the American system, and quoted a Supreme Court decision declaring that the right to

Koesler Child Goes To Kerrville Camp As Guest of Lions

Hartman Improves After Severe Injury In NTPA Accident

Victor Hartman apparently is on his way to recovery from injuries received at the NTPA milk plant about 5 a.m. Sunday morning when he broke his leg in a fall and then tried in vain to get away from a stream of hot caustic soda solution which came gushing at him.

He is in the Gainesville Sanitarium still suffering intense pain from both the burns and the fracture, however many of the burns are clearing satisfactorily and the fractured leg is in traction. His eyes also seem to be recovering. He has been able to recognize people the few times he put his eyes to a test.

Hartman's accident occurred while he was on his routine job of preparing for the day's milk processing at the plant. He had sterilized a vacuum pan with a boiling caustic soda solution and opened an 8 inch clean-out opening to let it flush away. As he stepped back he slipped and broke his left leg.

Unable to get up and seeing the hot caustic flow toward him on the floor he tried to keep ahead of the stream by rolling away. His call for help brought other employees on the run but the stream caught up with him and parts of his clothing were soaked before the help reached him. Some of the caustic also reached his face and eyes.

As quickly as they could the other employees carried him to a clear spot on the floor and removed his clothing. Areas of his body receiving the most severe burns were the leg, abdomen, arm and shoulder of his right side. Lesser burns were scattered over the rest of his body except his back.

NEWS OF SICK AND INJURED

Mrs. Cecil Aytes is a patient for surgery at Gainesville Sanitarium.

Mrs. M. H. King was a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium Monday and overnight for x-rays and observation. She has a leg ailment.

Mrs. Gene Carter of Seymour, formerly of Muenster, was the victim of a freak accident on May 18 while shopping for groceries. As she passed a display of soda water one of the bottles chose that very instant to explode. She received a very painful cut on the top of the foot, severing a tendon and will be out of general circulation for about three weeks.

John Rohmer was dismissed from M&S Hospital last Thursday and is resting — as well as one can rest with two broken legs — at his home. He was hurt in a farm accident May 21 when he was caught in a power take-off on a side delivery rake.

Mrs. Sam Sparkman was a patient at Gainesville Sanitarium last week.

Mrs. Herman Richey is convalescing at home following an operation at M&S Hospital.

Bill Kathman was back on the job at Hofbauer's Friday after being off duty since May 4. He was at Veterans Hospital in McKinney for medical care.

Joe Tempel was in Fort Worth last Thursday for dental surgery. He had 12 teeth extracted. His wife and Mrs. Ray Tempel accompanied him.

Ladies Invited to Lions Installation Ceremony Tuesday

Deputy Governor Roy Perry of Lewisville will be here to take charge of the installation ritual.

President H. H. Homsley, in charge of the event, asks the Lions to notify him as soon as possible if they are able to attend... so that he can notify cooks how many to prepare for.

Parish Procession To Observe Feast Of Corpus Christi

Swimming Pool Will Open Friday

Preparations were under way Wednesday and Thursday for the opening of Muenster's 1956 swimming season on Friday. The pool was full by Wednesday noon, sidewalks from the driveway to the pool were poured, and city workers were sodding the area around the pool with San Augustine grass.

Remaining preparations were scheduled for Thursday. Concession stands and clothing checking facilities will be set up and pool hardware will be installed. A telephone will also be installed.

L. B. Bruns will manage the pool for the city and Laurence Saye will be his assistant. Swimming time will be 2 to 9 p.m. every day and charges will be 15 and 35 cents.

24 MHS Seniors Receive Diplomas; Dr. McAlister Talks

"Strive to be numbered with the best," was the advice given by Dr. Sam McAlister of North Texas State College to Muenster High School seniors at their graduation last Friday night in the school auditorium.

Everybody wants the best students, he said, and mentioned several recent incidents at NTSC when representatives of large firms asked for names of leading students in their quest for new talent. Because of this widespread demand for scholastic excellence the best students get a head start on the road to success.

His remarks were intended especially as a guide to those who intend to continue in school. He also listed a set of qualifications by which a federal agency measures personal ability for important positions. Among them were mental alertness, poise, thoroughness, strength of personal convictions, honesty with self and others, and awareness of a divine source of right and justice. The person who seeks to develop himself can profit by measuring himself frequently against such standards, he said.

Another nugget of advise was to take an interest in good government in order to preserve the most possible civic and economic freedom.

Norma Klement delivered the salutatory address based on the class motto, "Faith in the Future" and also conveyed the graduates' thanks to parents, teachers and any others who had helped them during the preceding four years.

Juanita Wieler, as valedictorian, continued with the class motto as her theme, dealing separately with the virtues on which to build and develop "Faith in the Future."

A 300 pound shipment was delivered to Dunn Memorial Orphanage in Dallas and a 200 pound shipment was taken to St. Vincent's Store in Fort Worth. The Dallas and Fort Worth goods were delivered by Central Freight Line free of charge.

Electric Co-op Moves into New Office-Warehouse

The Cooke County Electric Co-operative Association is at home in its new $89,000 building.

Employees made the move during the past weekend and are still spending spare time, especially in the warehouse, getting their equipment and materials arranged in their proper places.

The deadline they have set themselves for that job is Sunday, June 17, when the new office and warehouse will be formally presented to the public at an open house. Unofficially the open house will probably continue through the next day when Co-op members will gather here for their annual meeting to hear reports on the past year and elect three of their directors.

The building, designed by Wyatt C. Hedrick of Fort Worth and built by Allen and Wilson Construction Co. of Denison, has a total floor space of more than 7500 square feet. The office wing has slightly less than 3600 square feet and the combined warehouse and truck shed has almost 4000 feet.

The office wing is completely air conditioned and completely equipped with fluorescent lighting. Floors are asphalt tile and walls are painted plaster. An eye-catching feature of the interior is a vertical style of blinds at all windows. Telephones are interconnected to serve as an intercom system as well as reach outside.

Included in the office are the lobby and thirteen rooms. In addition to separate offices for key personnel there are a store room, a vault, rest rooms, a room for linemen and one for heating and cooling equipment. Space is also provided for an electrical

A Youth Talks On Americanism

By Congressman Frank Ikard
 Recently, John Rogers, the son of Congressman Walter Rogers of Pampa, Texas, wrote and delivered a prize-winning speech in the National High School Oratorical Contest sponsored by the American Legion. In reading John's speech, I was greatly impressed with the statements that he makes concerning fundamental Americanism. John Rogers wrote and spoke words that all Americans should read — He spoke in part as follows:
 "Communism, sin, and depravity are easy to spot. You can point to suffering, to death, to slavery and there is your Communism, your sin, your depravity.
 "But indifference is deceptive. It cannot be seen, it cannot be realized, we can only see what it has done. We look at the skeleton of Poland and say, 'Too bad.' But it was indifference that murdered her. We read in the paper that a small country has been engulfed by revolution and death. Again, we say, 'Too bad,' but it is indifference that bleeds her . . .

 "But for an American citizen to sit back and allow the reins of Government to slip from his grasp and become in grave danger of being taken over by the cruel claw of oppression — that is treason, lacking only motivation and intent.
 "How can a 'good' American be called a traitor when he respects the Flag and upholds the Government? How does he respect that Flag? Does he actively seek to protect and defend her that 'long may she wave on high' or does he merely tip his hat in passing? How does he uphold the Government? Does he know there are some 280 front organizations devoted to destroying that Government? Does he know their names, their approach, what to do about them? Or does he say, 'Someone in Washington will take care of it.' Someone in Washington can't do everything — can't show step by step all the pitfalls to each of the 160 million Americans.
 "America is not a Nation of dullards who have to be waited on hand and foot and spooned full of information; who must live in constant jeopardy of being poisoned by the sugar-coated pollution of Communism. If Communism were to bang at our door at this minute, and flash bayonets and guns in our faces, Americans would rise as a man to smite down this foul invader of our free shores. But because it sneaks in, because it infiltrates, we say someone else will take care of it. Without a doubt what happened to Poland, to Yugoslavia, to Albania, to Latvia, to the Balkans, and to many, many others can happen here. In fact, it has very nearly happened already. Just 15 years ago when World War II broke out and America began to gird and prepare herself for battle, detailed checks were made of all Government employees, workers, and anyone else in any way connected with the war effort. It was then that it became evident just how many beams in our ship were rotted and infested with the worms and termites of subversion, and by far the majority of these vermin were not Nazis or Fascists, but radical free thinkers, that is to say, Commies. "Commies, Reds, Pinkos, fellow-travelers, leftists, progressives — many were rooted out and unmasked — many, but not all. Some burrowed deeper or took on new colors. These are the Hisses, Remingtons, and Coplons of our present day.

 "However, those that were uncovered were found out, not because we finally wised up, but because of wartime security, and the discovery of these Americans in name only did not do away with them entirely. They have only changed their immediate objective. Though still penetrating the stronghold of free men, their main purpose now is to lull us into a false sense of security and well-being.

Pause For Reflection

. . . with James C. Ingebreten President, Spiritual Mobilization
 According to a recent news item from New York City: "Three bandits in Coney Island got away yesterday afternoon with a black leather bag that looked just right for a payroll. Instead, it contained a collection of soap samples."
 Without implying that anyone concerned is a bandit, I should like to point out that the great American public has made a similar mistake during the past quarter century by grabbing for what it thought to be financial security via governmental paternalism only to find that what it has actually acquired is a lot of soap — soft soap to be exact. The cajolery of demagogues, instead of being "money in the bag," has materialized as higher and higher taxes, greater and greater spending, more and more bureaucrats, and less and less liberty.

 Never have a naive people, moved by cupidity, made a more mortifying mistake than when they grabbed for the New Deal and got "the old run-around."

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

More Than She "Bargained" For

Dad Baker retired from active dairying—seven or eight years ago—but still keeps a half-dozen pure-breds more or less as a hobby.
 Dad goes all-out for these six. Temperature-controlled barn, expensive feed . . . the works. As a result his milk has a low bacteria count, a high butterfat content. And as a favor to neighbors, he sells it just two cents above the ordinary price.
 Recently, a neighbor complained—asked if she couldn't get the milk "at cost." Dad agreed, sent her a bill for exactly what the milk cost: 75¢ a quart.
 From where I sit, it's easy to misunderstand if you don't get all the facts. That's why we ought to consider the other fellow's viewpoint before we talk out. For example, you have your reasons for liking particular beverages. I have mine. And whether we're talking about buttermilk or beer . . . let's try to respect each other's point of view.

Sisters Leave for Jonesboro, Arkansas

The departure this Thursday of Sister Patricia, Sister Grace and Sister Romana left only three of the local Benedictine Sisters at Muenster. Sister Rose, Sister Jerome and Sister Frowina are those remaining.

The first to leave, last Saturday, were Sister Gerarda and Sister Ursula. They went by car with the Felix Yostens who drove to Jonesboro to get their daughter Linda who had attended school there. Returning with them were other local girls who had been at school there: Rose Mary Walter, Jeanette Bayer, Mary Ann Eckart and Lillie Mae Reiter.

Leaving Monday were Sisters Roberta, Denis, Alberta and Christopher. They went by car with Mrs. John Kathman who will return with some of the girls who were students there and perhaps some Sisters who will help teach catechism in Montague and Nocona.

Tuesday morning after a four o'clock mass, six Sister left in their station wagon. This group was Sisters Leonarda, Gregory, Aloysia, Theophane, Richard and Gebharda. Tuesday night the three Sisters who had taught at Rhineland left from here after visiting here during the day. They took the evening train. The three were Sisters Barbara, Alexia and Josephine.

Of the three remaining Sisters, two do not know their departure date. Sister Jerome is doing library work and Sister Frowina is still housekeeper. Sister Rose will be one of the six Sisters giving catechism instruction in Montague county from June 6 to 17.

Lindsay Festival Honors Pastor on 40th Anniversary

Several hundred people gathered at Lindsay Sunday for a religious service and day-long festival honoring Pastor Rev. Conrad Herda on the observance of his 40th anniversary of ordination to the priesthood.

A solemn high mass in Saint Peter's church at 10 o'clock opened the day's program. Assisting Father Conrad who was officiant were Rev. Louis Deuster and Rev. Christopher Palaudio of Muenster as deacon and sub-deacon. Father Louis delivered the anniversary sermon.

After mass more than 300 old-timers and youngsters got together for dinner at the school lunch room. Women of the parish cooked the huge meal and young ladies of the congregation served.

Seated at the main table with the guest of honor were visiting priests who were introduced by Joe Bezner Jr., master of ceremonies for the dinner program. Father Conrad led the invocation.

Speakers, theming their talks on congratulations and best wishes along with praise for the work Father Conrad has done during his more than 20 years at Lindsay were Rev. Emil Gerlich and Rev. William Lane, both of Gainesville, and Father Christopher. Also present were Rev. Anthony Gajda of Valley View and Father Louis.

Father Conrad concluded the after-dinner speaking with acknowledgements and thanks. As a parting gift his parish gave him a matched set of Samsonite luggage. Father Gerlich offered the closing prayer.

Proceeds from the afternoon and night's festival went into a traveling fund for the pastor. Actually the ordination date is June 8, but on that day Father Conrad will sail for his homeland in Germany.

Former residents from a wide area along with scores of people from neighboring communities joined in the celebration. In a bazaar atmosphere, games and concession booths furnished entertainment and refreshment for all age groups.

Visitors noted parish plant improvements made by Father Conrad. An able architect, he planned most of the building program — and did much of the manual labor himself. Among outstanding developments are the new rectory, the new parish hall and enlargement of the school, repairing the sisters' house, beautification of church grounds and cemetery, installation of lighting system in church and an electric clock and bell-ringer which strikes the hours and rings the angelus automatically. Special rings are controlled by an electric switch. Other things in the church, some through purchase and some through donations, include an electric organ and six new statues.

Among parish duties during Father Conrad's pastorate he has adviser's office if and when one is added to the staff.

The warehouse has a dock along the east wall for its line construction equipment and space for storing six trucks. Adjoining it is a specially equipped room for meter repairing. The six overhead doors for vehicles open to a gravelled lot which can be lit up, when necessary by two floodlamps on the roof.

Outside walls of both wings are 12 inches thick. The warehouse is faced with load bearing tile and the office is faced with light brick and Tennessee crab orchard stone. Interior walls, consisting of metal lath and plaster, serve as partitions only and do not help support the roof.

Landscaping is now in progress on the premises. A driveway with entrance on the north and exit on the west passes in front of the building close enough for customers to use an outside pay window from their cars if they wish. An offset on the driveway also provides parking space for several cars.

Underground pipe for a front lawn sprinkler system has just been installed. San Augustine grass and shrubbery will be set out in the near future.
