

Two events this week can be regarded as signs that Muenster is moving forward. One is Wednesday night's dinner meeting to organize a chamber of commerce. The other is next Sunday's open house to show facilities at the recently opened A-OK Motel. The community in general extends best wishes to both, not only in a spirit of good will but also from a conviction that the success of either will have a good effect on all of Muenster.

That applies in a very direct way to the chamber of commerce, which exists solely to do things for the community. It cannot possibly have a good record without helping make Muenster a better place to live and make a living. Nor can it fall down on its job without depriving Muenster of opportunities that might be developed by coordinated thought and effort.

We are aware, of course, that many things have been accomplished here in the past without such an organization. Muenster's progress has been gratifying, but with few exceptions it has been achieved through the unassisted efforts of individuals who had the confidence to invest in the future of their home town. Undoubtedly it would be better if there had been diligent, unified effort to go along with the individual ventures.

That is the mission we see for our newly organized chamber of commerce. Building on a conviction that we have a big potential, we can create an atmosphere of pride and confidence that will encourage growth and improvement.

The story has been told many times of communities that got an unexpected lucky break because the right person or persons were impressed by the pride and confidence and friendly spirit of people in the town. The first function of a chamber of commerce is to strive for such a condition — and its first asset is the assurance that such a condition pays dividends. The town will be more happy and more prosperous even without benefit of a windfall.

Next in importance are specific benefits deriving from united effort. People getting together can discuss the possibilities in sight and work together at creating incentives or removing obstacles.

This column would not attempt to suggest a possible project, but it is very confident that this newly established organization, based upon principles of community pride and enthusiasm, will adopt several such projects before long.

Another point to consider is the advantage of having a definite organization to serve as a contact with interested persons or firms. There's more prestige, more effectiveness, in having a recognized official group qualified to speak for local interests.

So, with both selfish and unselfish motives, this column wishes every success to the Muenster Chamber of Commerce. As a matter of civic pride it is pulling for its achievement that will be a credit to the organization. And it is also banking on the conviction that benefits of any community success somehow spread around to everybody.

That last statement sums up Muenster's attitude toward its newest business venture. It's a pleasure to say, after many years, that our town has a place to accommodate its visitors. We no longer have to say, sort of apologetically, that lodging can be found so many miles east or west. There's added pleasure, too, in being able to recommend it as a good looking and comfortable place, a real credit to Muenster.

Regarding its value as a community asset, we can think of several direct beneficiaries — the motel itself, and restaurants, service stations and stores. No doubt there are more, besides fringe beneficiaries who do a little better because of better business enjoyed by others.

While on the general subject, let's not forget another community asset that's in the making now. The Muenster Medical Center will soon be a fine companion facility to the Muenster Hospital, offering more convenience and more completeness of local medical care. It is the best step yet toward attracting a local dentist and could eventually also help to bring in

Motel Will Be Shown Sunday at Open House

The A-OK Motel, in business since the last week of June, is completely finished now and will be shown at an Open House next Sunday afternoon, 2 to 5 pm.

Its owners, Jerome Pagel and Rody Klement invite all to come and get an idea of the accommodation and service offered by the community's newest business. Even though few of the local people are likely to be guests, Pagel and Klement want them to be sold on it so they'll pass the good word to visiting friends and kin.

Hornets, Knights Deadlock 6-6 in Sloshy Contest

Muenster High Hornets had troubles with their system as well as with the opposition and the weather at Lindsay last Friday night, and they were lucky to settle for a 6-6 tie.

Coach Glenn Richardson said that a number of fouled up plays, both offensive and defensive, indicate the need of more experience and more practice. He gave an A for effort, however, adding that they will look more like a team when they achieve a better combination of team work and hard work.

The game can be summarized as a deadlock on a sloshy field interrupted twice by beautiful scoring plays.

The first of those beauties came on the first play after the second half kickoff as Brian Bezner broke through a nice opening and used Louis Gieb's downfield block to perfection in a 7 yard gallop to the goal line.

The next one came a minute and a half before the final whistle on a pass play that covered 45 yards. Ken Stormer was in the clear as he grabbed Chris Cain's toss of about 20 yards and outran Lindsay's defender to the goal line.

Both tries for extra points failed. Mike Hundt failed to connect on his pass across the goal line to Arnold Zimmerer, and Chris Cain was about a foot short in his attempt to crash through the line.

Hornets Look for Rugged Encounter With VV Warriors

An uphill struggle faces Coach Glenn Richardson and his MHS Hornets as they prepare for the game here Friday night with the Warriors of Valley View, Kamay.

Though he has no performance report on his visitors Richardson is certain they will have the edge on his Hornets. Lineup data shows that they will have an advantage in weight and experience — especially since last week's game revealed that the Hornets are exceptionally short on the latter quality.

A number of fouled up plays convinced Richardson that the Hornets still have lots of problems to work out. Considering those factors he expects the Warriors to be more ready than his boys.

Kickoff time will be 8 o'clock on the Muenster High field.

There are thirteen single units each measuring 12x21 feet, nine double units measuring 12x26 and one triple unit measuring 21x30. All are electrically heated and cooled, the cooler being a one ton air conditioner and the heater being a baseboard heating panel. Each room has its thermostat to maintain the desired temperature.

Other features to be found in all rooms are wall to wall carpet, except bath area which has tile floor, drapes, queen size beds, television, desk, luggage rack and three chairs. Telephones can be dialed directly in the rooms and do not have to go through a front office switchboard.

Bath areas feature tile walls, shower in tub and lavatory built into a formica top dressing table. Other furniture of the unit also has formica top. All units are soundproofed by double partition insulated walls.

The A-OK, first motel ever to be built in this town, is a brick veneered structure built in two parts, consisting of 23 guest units and the manager's quarters. Outside features include the swimming pool, asphalt hot mix pavement for the courtyard and parking area, and landscaping.

Area Soaked as Rains Continue

Wet weather continues to haunt the Muenster area, the latest rainfall being a hard half hour shower Wednesday morning measuring .32 inch.

Fields of the community are saturated by the wettest August-September of many years. Total for last month was 6.94 inches, a 15 year record, and the measure for half way through September is 2.77.

It brings the year's total to date to 32.93 inches, the equivalent of a normal full year's rainfall in this area.

City and County Renew Contract for Rural Fire Calls

A contract with Muenster's Fire Department for another year of answering rural fire calls was approved by the Cooke County Commissioners Court meeting last Monday. The action renews a contract which expired on August 15, under which the city receives $1,000 a year for fighting fires outside of town.

The agreement has been in effect about five years. It was adopted when the city decided it would discontinue answering rural fire calls and save the expense of replacing its worn out tank truck. Commissioners voted then to compensate both Muenster and Gainesville fire departments and keep both available for rural fires.

The deal with the county enabled Muenster to buy the tank truck which has been answering rural calls.

Jaycees Reveal Plan to Conduct Opinion Survey

A community attitude survey to look for recommendations of feasible improvements in the town and community is about to be conducted here. Muenster Jaycees, with Dr. Larry Tisdale as chairman and Bernard McNamara and Henry Weinzapfel as assistants, expect to start it next week.

Their intention is to have about 100 persons participating in the survey. Those hundred are to be selected at random in the phone book and each will be called and asked whether he or she will answer the questionnaire. If one declines the Jaycees will select another name. Identity of those who participate will be kept confidential.

After the list is completed the questionnaire will be sent out by mail with a return envelope and a request to finish it as soon as possible. Results then will be tabulated and the Jaycees expect to adopt some of the recommendations as their projects. The questionnaire is divided into three parts, the first part asking what the person likes (Continued on page 10)

Garden Club Has Season's Opening Meet at Medders

A tour of Colonial Acres gardens and a lecture on "Fall Planning and Planting" highlighted Monday night's meeting of the Muenster Civic League and Garden Club.

Marvin Davenport of Gainesville, landscaping artist, who planned landscaping at Colonial Manor and Colonial Acres Farm, was tour leader and lecturer.

He led the group of women over the grounds at the home of Mrs. Ernest Medders who was assisted with hostess duties by Mrs. John Mosman.

As he showed plants — various flowers, trees and shrubbery — Mr. Davenport identified them for members and discussed their suitability to the soil and climate of this area.

The tour led to the Medders' attractive patio where the speaker talked on the program subject, then answered questions from members.

Mrs. Earl Fisher, president, conducted the business session during which reports were heard and Mrs. Daniel Luke, program and yearbook chairman, distributed new yearbooks. Mrs. Fisher said a spaghetti supper is being planned as a club benefit next month. That October date will be announced when arrangements are complete.

Two new officers were introduced, Mrs. L. B. Bruns, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Arnold Rohmer, sanitation committee chairman.

Four honorary members were recognized: Mmes. L. A. Bernauer, Ben Luke, Jake Pagel and J. M. Weinzapfel. Six guests were introduced. Twenty-seven members were present.

From the patio the group moved to the dining room for refreshments. Mrs. Mosman presided at the silver coffee service and members helped themselves to desserts. Guests were Mmes. Gerald Hess, Frances Fisher, Walter Grewing, Joe Moser, Al Schmitt and J. W. Fisher. Mmes. Schmitt and Fisher signed up for membership.

Over 100 Gather to Organize Muenster Chamber Commerce

Over 100 persons at a dinner meeting in the VFW Hall Wednesday night adopted a constitution and by-laws and elected a board of directors of a Muenster Chamber of Commerce.

Another meeting to be held soon by the board will elect three of those directors as officers and organize a membership drive.

The directors are Urban Endres and Mrs. Ernest Medders for three year terms, Al Felderhoff and Ernest Jaska for two year terms, and J. M. Weinzapfel and Mrs. Ray Evans for one year terms.

Ernest Jaska, organizational chairman elected at a previous meeting, presided at the event. With him on the program were Gene Davenport, manager of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, W. J. Luke of the Muenster City Council, Father Benedict Buegler and Mike Sloan. The latter two gave the invocation and benediction.

Davenport talked about the objectives of a chamber of commerce, particularly the challenge of adjusting to inevitable changes and keeping pace with progress. He referred to the predicted population explosion of the coming decades and said that Muenster and Cooke County face a big job in getting their

Reading Program In Full Swing at Parochial School

The project plan for reading improvement is in full swing at Sacred Heart School. The two first grade teachers, Sister Angelina and Sister Henrietta, visited the home of each of the sixty-two children enrolled in first grade this year. Since there are two sets of twins in first grade the Sisters visited sixty homes.

The New Revised Metropolitan Readiness Test was administered on Wednesday of this week. To inaugurate the new project plan at Sacred Heart, all children in the elementary grades, one through six, were divided alphabetically. Children are to be grouped within a room, not by room. Thus, the first grade children will be grouped for instruction according to need, rather than ability. This new plan of action has been adopted as the result of recent research in reading instruction.

Other features of the project plan include more library experiences for the elementary children and special reading workshops for the teachers.

Originally our county was mostly agricultural, he pointed out. But farm population shrinks as fewer farmers work more land. Oil development compensated for the loss for a while, and now we face the need of business and industrial development to compensate for automation on the land and in the oil field. It's a continuing job and a big job, he said requiring the united effort that can be best achieved through an organization such as the chamber of commerce.

Luke spoke for Mayor Earl Fisher, who could not be present. He said that the city council strongly endorses the organization as the best means of promoting a good town. He also suggested that a good project for immediate consideration is one that has been dormant for several years, a river crossing north of Muenster creating a fine potential in trade possibilities. He added that many other possibilities await the attention of an active group interested in developments that will keep our young talent at home.

Tigers Lose 8-0 In Season Opener With Saint Jo

Saint Jo's Panthers had too much speed and control last Friday night and turned back the Tigers of Sacred Heart by a count of 8 to 0. The game was played on a sloshy field with a steady drizzle falling all the way through.

The visitors from Saint Jo were out front in practically every category of the game — more first downs, more yardage on both rushing and passing and fewer fumbles, but a single big play marked their well earned win on the score board.

It happened near the end of the first quarter as Charles Cook passed to William Talley for 39 yards and a touchdown. Sprinter Gary Lovett added extra points with a sweep around left end and the score was 8-0.

An equally spectacular play near the end of the first half turned out to be a heart-breaker for the Tigers and eliminated a big opportunity to even the count. Robert Klement got loose at the Panther 45 and headed down the sideline — and fumbled as Panther defense caught him at the 7.

The play followed two previous nice gains starting at the Tiger 18, and it was the Tigers' biggest opportunity of the game.

Another fumble just before the game ended gave the Panthers a big opportunity to increase their score but they ran out of time before they could finish the job.

After stopping an 80 yard drive on the 7 Sacred Heart got back to the 19 and fumbled. (Continued on page 5)

LIGHTS FOR TOKYO

Natural gas from Alaska will soon be fueling a new electric generating station in Tokyo, Japan. Even in these days of astonishing industrial accomplishments, a statement such as this might seem somewhat farfetched. But, it appears that nothing is beyond the resourcefulness of the United States' investor-owned oil industry. In this case, a group of American oil companies have joined together in the sale of 50 billion cubic feet of liquefied natural gas per year, to be produced from substantial gas reserves in Alaska, and moved to Japan in specially designed refrigerated tankers. Approximately 140 million cubic feet of gas per day will be reduced to a liquid state at a temperature of around minus 260 degrees Fahrenheit. Deliveries are expected to begin in early 1969 and continue for 15 years.

This is the first commercial agreement involving the sale and exportation of liquefied natural gas in North America to overseas markets. Expenditures for all phases of the project are estimated at more than $100 million. Furnishing the fuel for the lights of Tokyo derived from gas reserves deep in the earth under Alaska is a big job requiring capital, initiative and imagination—assets which the oil industry has demonstrated that it possesses in a large measure. In war and in peace, it has provided an endless flow of products that have more than met the energy requirements of the United States and helped supply many other nations of the free world as well.

ALL RIGHT NOW — EVERYONE ANTE UP FOR NEW YORK

While it has almost become standard practice these days for political figures to talk about spending tax dollars as if they were nothing more than peanuts, some of the current talk about what it is going to cost us taxpayers for curing the ills of our major cities ranks as pure asininity.

Consider, for instance, the testimony presented by Mayor J. Lindsay of New York this week before a Senate subcommittee which is currently looking into the issue of urban problems and what it will take to solve them.

Mayor Lindsay declared that his city will have to spend a minimum of $50 billion over the next 10 years to make it thoroughly livable, improve the quality of life and make it an exciting place to live.

Unfortunately, however, Mayor Lindsay had to admit that New York City's taxpayers simply couldn't afford to make this kind of investment in their city's future. They are already saddled with just about the maximum tax load they can afford to bear, the Gotham mayor stated, and he then went on to say that the federal government would, of necessity, have to pick up this tab.

But where, we might ask, will the federal government get the massive amount of money Mayor Lindsay says is needed to rehabilitate his city? That's not too difficult a question to answer as even Mayor Lindsay admits it will have to come from taxpayers all over the nation.

Presumably, all the rest of us outside New York City aren't overly burdened with taxes and, therefore, wouldn't have much objection to shelling out another $5 billion a year just to help New York City solve the troubles its fouled-up and corrupt political system has helped to bring on itself.

NATIONAL 4-H WEEK

National 4-H Week will be observed throughout the country from September 24 through October 1. Recognition will be given to the achievements of nearly 2.25 million boys and girls who participate in the activities of some 96,000 4-H clubs. Organized for young people between the ages of 9-19 in cities, towns, suburbs and rural areas, 4-H clubs carry on a wide variety of educational projects in civic and community service, in farming, homemaking and personal improvement. The goal of developing good citizenship is foremost in all 4-H programs. By this pledge, millions of young boys and girls have developed character, talents and skills which today make them better citizens. National 4-H Week deserves the support, cooperation and respect of every citizen.

2000 Will Attend Speech Disability State Symposium

Austin, Tex. —Texans from all areas of the State and all walks of life, whose common denominator is an intense interest in a program to correct language disability among the State's school children, will gather in Austin on Friday, September 16, for a one-day symposium.

Some 2,000 persons have registered to attend.

Officially known as the Speaker's Symposium on Language Disabilities, the conference is being arranged by Texas House Speaker Ben Barnes and a special House of Representatives interim committee appointed by Speaker Barnes to study language disorders in school children.

Educational officers, including school superintendents, school board members, college and university presidents and speech teachers, PTA officers and members, medical, civic and community leaders will attend the symposium which gets under way at 9 a.m. in Austin's Municipal Auditorium.

"It is gratifying to observe the widespread interest in this meeting," Speaker Barnes said. "The heavy advance registration demonstrates that when Texans are alerted to a problem, they swing into action, become keenly interested and personally involved."

Barnes will moderate the meeting and bring it to a close with a summary speech at 3 p.m. on "Education — Change and Challenge."

Five internationally known experts in the area of language disabilities will conduct the symposium, each discussing a particular area of the problem of language disabilities.

The symposium is an outgrowth of a House resolution adopted during the last legislative session providing for an interim committee composed of five members of the House and five lay members to study language disabilities and report its recommendations to the 60th legislature convening in January, 1967.

"Language disabilities in children touch many Texas homes," Speaker Barnes observed. "Texas' immediate needs are to set up a program to train teachers in methods of correcting language disabilities and to provide facilities for diagnostic testing," the speaker added.

Barnes noted it is estimated that as high as 20 per cent of the nation's entire school population is afflicted in greater or lesser degree with language disabilities.

The estimate of severe cases, he added, is seven per cent, or approximately 2,500,000 children, as based on the present U. S. secondary school population.

"This symposium is designed to focus attention upon the problem, to discuss what can be done about it, and lay the Representative Richard Poff, (R-Va.), said recently: "Since 1961, the federal budget has not been balanced a single time. Said differently, in each of the last five years Uncle Sam has spent more than he has taken in, and the deficit has been added to the national debt. In that same five-year period, the annual interest payment on the debt has risen from $9 billion to $13 billion. It helps to put things in proper perspective to understand that this $4 million increase would finance the school milk program (which the President asked Congress to curtail) for the next 40 years."

groundwork for obtaining state funds to launch a worthwhile corrective program in Texas," Barnes pointed out.

The tragedy of language disabilities among school children is one that no one talks about because so few understand it, Barnes said, adding "I am told by authorities that unless children with this condition are correctly diagnosed and treated, many will become school dropouts or force-outs. Then they stagger through life in low-paying jobs, anguished by embarrassment and contributing little of their potentiality to society."

In addition to the legislative study committee on language disorders, Speaker Barnes has appointed a special 15-member advisory committee for the symposium. Mrs. Ernest Medders is one of that group.

NO VALUE TO STRIKES

It gives cause to wonder how long the people of the United States will continue to defend labor union officials who have no regard for the individuals who are put at disadvantage by the unions.

Even some defenders of compulsory unionism are beginning to wonder why some way can't be found to put a stop to such nonsense. They say they don't want to outlaw strikes — just strikes that affect the public interest, whatever that is.

Well, we think all strikes affect the public interest. They interfere with the free market. Why those in government — and some others — can claim a man or group of men can walk off a job and claim to own the job is more than we can understand.

And we cannot understand how any fair-minded individual can defend the aggressive force used or threatened in picketing to keep other persons from filling the vacated jobs.

We contend all men have a right to quit their jobs for whatever reason they want. But they do not own those jobs. By the same score, all employers have a right to fire those in their employ for any

Nation's 300,000th M.D. To Be A 'Family Doctor'

NORMAN, Okla., —The nation's 300,000th physician was graduated from medical school in June at the University of Oklahoma School of Medicine.

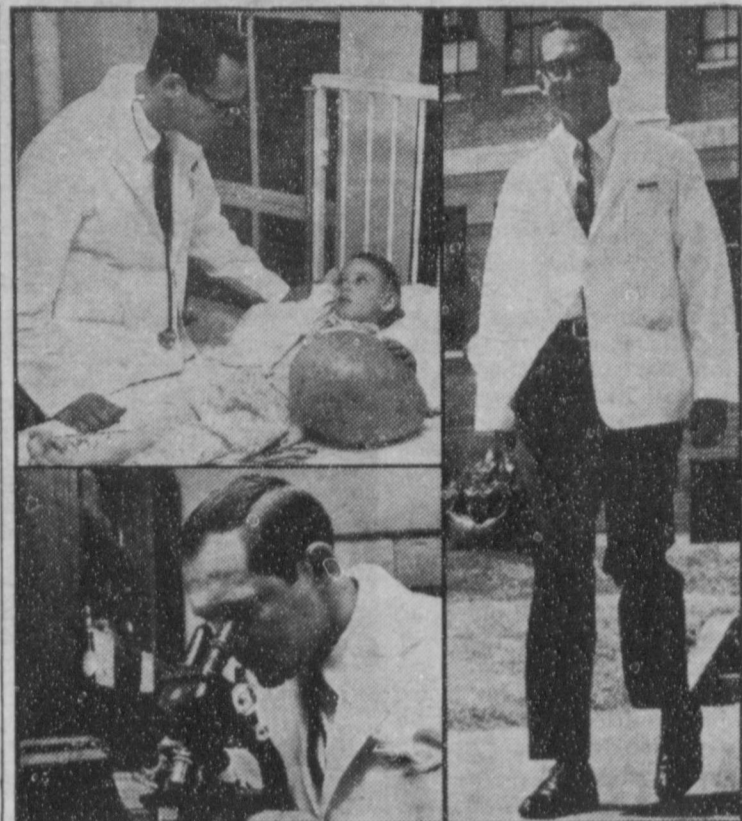

Jerry Dean Leu, 29, of Alva, Okla., plans to become a smalltown "family doctor." First, however, he will go on for four more years of internship and residency training in internal medicine.

Dr. Leu's graduation marks a medical milestone—the first time 300,000 physicians have been available to serve Americans. The number of M.D.'s in the U.S. now is increasing faster than the general population. The ratio is better than one physician for every 680 people, compared to one for every 737 in 1960. By 1975, the AMA estimates, the ratio will be down to one physician for every 638 persons.

Even more physicians are needed to meet an insatiable demand for medical services, the American Medical Association says. The increase in demand for medical services has come about through a growing health consciousness on the part of the public, scientific advances in medicine, new government health programs and the growth in population, the AMA pointed out.

Becoming a doctor wasn't easy for Jerry Leu.

"When I was in high school, I wanted to go to medical school, but I had doubts about my ability and whether I could obtain the necessary funds," he said.

Dr. Leu said his wife's work and loans through the AMA's Education and Research Foundation and the Oklahoma State Medical Association made it possible to obtain his degree.

He was accepted for medical school in 1962 after graduation from Northwestern State College, Alva, and Air Force service as a medical research technician.

"I want to establish a family-type practice in a smaller town of 15,000 to 30,000 population," Dr. Leu said. "Why a family practice? It's hard to explain. I want to know my patients—know them as individuals and as families."

He plans to take his internship at the University Hospital, University of Oklahoma Medical Center.

reason. But they do not own the workers. Any employee or employer, who has respect for his fellow-man or who expects fair treatment will give reasonable notice of termination, or the business man will not long remain in business or the worker will have difficulty finding employment in the future, if either fails to give reasonable notice.

Proposals for compulsory arbitration, most often advanced, will do nothing except place both worker and employer under control of government. And passing another law which would place the unions under the same antitrust laws which regulate business would only further reduce freedom.

Until the people realize that the only way to determine a proper wage is to allow all to establish values, there is not much chance for solving the strike problem. When the people realize this they will no longer stand for strikes and picketing by which a union boss can ruin or threaten to ruin an employer if he does not grant whatever demands the union makes.

Miss Irma Vogel Ivan Koelzer Plan October Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Vogel have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Irma Vogel to Ivan Louis Koelzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Koelzer. The young couple has set Saturday, October 29, for the wedding. It will be solemnized in Sacred Heart Church at 4 p.m.

Selected attendants are Miss Shirley Vogel, sister of the future bride, maid of honor, and Miss Debbie Schilling, future bridegroom's cousin, bridesmaid, Spec. 4 David Vogel of Homestead AFB, Florida, brother of the bride-to-be, best man, and Wilfred Koelzer, cousin of the prospective bridegroom, groomsmen.

Both are graduates of Sacred Heart High School and are employed in the city. Koelzer served four years in the Navy, assigned to the USS Enterprise and helped pick up Astronaut John Glenn after his trip into space.

Salvation Army to Send Truck Next Monday-Tuesday

Back to school clothing is needed by the Salvation Army, reports Major Byron A. Freeman, commanding officer of the Men's Rehabilitation Center for North Texas.

"Summer or winter clothing, shoes, jackets, and associated school items such as study lamps are in short supply for us," he notes. The Salvation Army truck will be in Muenster on September 19-20. A call to 759-4311 will bring the truck to any home or business in the area.

The Salvation Army cleans and repairs the items given and makes them available to deserving children. This process of gathering and cleaning back to school items and household discards completely supports the rehabilitation of over 1100 men each year.

"All gifts of goods and discards are deductible from your federal income tax," notes Major Freeman. The Salvation Army will give receipts which may be used in support of the claim at fair value when figuring the tax return.

TALL TEXAS TALES

Spinach fans of Crystal City, Texas really have something to look up to. In March, 1937, during the Second Annual Spinach Festival, a six-foot tall, colored concrete statue of Popeye was unveiled—the first monument ever erected to a comic character.

In the Texas tradition, even mother-in-laws are bigger and better. In Amarillo, they have their own special day started in 1934 when newspaperman Gene Howe decided to honor his own mother-in-law.

Watching the clothes go round and round in the washing machine became a popular pastime in Fort Worth when the first public "washateria" was started in 1934. More facts about Texas landmarks and innovations can be found in a two-part series in Life Magazine's July 1 and July 8 issues. Z

If the children head for your new cotton upholstery with drippy ice cream cones, don't panic. Even if the upholstery doesn't have one of the stain-repellent finishes, the fabric is washable. To remove food stains from cotton upholstery fabric, first scrape off excess with a dull knife. Then gently rub area with a sponge dipped in a mild detergent solution. Wipe with a dry terry cloth towel.

This "beef roll" saddle slip on features genuine moccasin construction and hand sewn moc seam demanded by young men. Kicker back-stay. Comes in black, Burgundy wine, antique bronze, brown, and weathered moss brown.

Local Group at Event Dedicating 1000th Reservoir

"The conservation revolution, now just beginning to flower, may be the most important and least understood revolution of all," Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman said at McKinney, Thursday, September 8, as he dedicated the 1,000th flood prevention dam in Texas.

Attending the event from here were Cecil Chaney of the SCS office, J. M. Weinzapfel and Ed Cler, also supervisors of the Upper Elm-Red Conservation District and John Tippie and George Davis of the Gainesville SCS office.

Freeman said conservation meant stopping floods and soil erosion which would result in unpolluted streams and lakes. He also said it meant the development, protection, use and management of all our resources for the need and enjoyment of people.

Site 16, Sister Grove watershed, a tributary of the Trinity, was the dam dedicated. Freeman pointed out that the Sister Grove project would return $2.35 in benefits for each $1.00 of total cost.

Freeman also paid tribute to the leadership of soil and water conservation districts, the Soil Conservation Service, County Courts, and other local groups for progress made in Texas watershed projects.

H. N. Smith, State Conservationist, SCS, officially turned Site 16 over to John Wells, Chairman, Collin County Soil and Water Conservation District, for operation and maintenance. Wells promised that with the help of the Collin County Commissioners Court, the dam would be well maintained.

Yearbook Predicts Action Filled Year For Garden Club

New yearbooks distributed to members of Muenster Civic League and Garden Club at their September meeting Monday foretell a year of interesting and worthwhile activity.

Club projects include bird sanctuary, conservation, and Christmas cheer in addition to the major projects of beautifying grounds at Muenster Memorial Hospital and beautification and maintenance of Sacred Heart Cemetery.

Activities include a fund raising event in October for the Saint Francis statue the organization will erect in the inner court on hospital grounds and blessing of the statue in a ceremony on December 8.

Planting hanging baskets in February, placing bird feeders and houses throughout the city, planting caladiums at the hospital entrance in May, a tour of the Botanic Gardens in June and a cookie bake for patients at Muenster Memorial Hospital in December.

Program features include lectures on "Birds at Home in Muenster," "Fall Finery and Dried Material," "Tree Planting and Wound Treatment of Trees," "Beauty on the Patio," "Proper Fertilization of Plants," "Planting Care and Varieties of Caladium," and a book review.

Also included are an exhibit of bird houses and feeders with specifications, an exhibit of Christmas novelties and favorite recipes, a plant and seed exchange, and an exhibit of hanging baskets, the club's horticultural project this year.

Cancelled Stamps Again Solicited By S.H. Students

Sister Theresina's return to Sacred Heart School brings a return to stamp collecting. She's issuing a call this week to turn in cancelled stamps that have accumulated and to save stamps from now on.

She said several contributions of considerable size have already been turned in, showing that people of the community and friends elsewhere are still alerted to this charitable project — a project that takes so little effort and does so much good for the poor of the world.

One suggestion: do not send the common current 5c stamp. The Mission Stamp Bureau in Saint Louis, to which locally collected stamps go, has asked that these five centers are not included in shipments.

At this time these stamps do not justify the work of sorting and trimming and the expense of mailing. Air mail, high denominational and foreign stamps, special delivery, commemoratives and duck stamps are valuable.

At this time Sister Theresina and students of Sacred Heart High have made no decision about entering a contest this year. They were top winners for several years in an annual contest. Most likely, said Sister Theresina, the stamps collected here will be sent to the Mission Stamp Bureau.

Registration for PP & K Contest Begins Thursday

Boys of the Muenster and Saint Jo areas, ages 8 through 13, can start signing up Thursday, September 15, for the sixth annual Punt, Pass & Kick competition, with prizes and trophies for the youthful football enthusiasts most skillful in punting, passing and place kicking.

Registration headquarters is at Endres Motor Company, where entries will be accepted through October 7. Entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. There is no charge, no special equipment is needed, no body contact is involved. Upon registration the boy will receive a booklet on PP&K competition tips by professional football stars.

Boys will compete against boys of their own age and will get points for the distance a ball travels on the fly, less a penalty for distance the ball lands to either side of a center line.

The three top winners of each age bracket in the local contest will receive medal of achievement awards. There will be 18 such awards.

Winning scores will be sent in for comparison in a zone contest, in which six winners will be selected. Nation wide there are 360 zones and there will be 2160 zone winners, all eligible to compete in the 37 Ford District contests.

That contest will determine 228 district champs who will compete for area titles at NFL games. And the area winners will compete for division champs who compete in the national PP&K finals at the NFL play off game in Miami.

The contest is sponsored nationally by Ford dealers and the National Football League. The local contest is set for Saturday, Oct. 8.

Art Show Booked For September 25

An art show presenting outstanding paintings and drawings of this area, particularly those made since the last art show, will be held in the Muenster High School gymnasium Sunday, September 25, starting at 1:30 p.m. It is sponsored by the Muenster Public Library and supervised by Alex Lutkenhaus.

Artwork from Muenster, Gainesville, Saint Jo, Nocona, Bowie and Henrietta will be on display, Lutkenhaus said.

There will be no admission charge, however a box will be handy for donations to the library.

Meeting Held by St. Anne Society

Members of St. Anne's Society at their meeting Sunday night heard a report on the Deary NCCW meeting held in Valley View. Mrs. Frank Herr, local NCCW president, gave the meeting highlights and Father Andrew Wewer, spiritual director, added comment on the talk given by Father Robert Rehkemper at that meeting.

Mrs. Al Walterscheid, president, presided, and read parts of addresses given at the state convention of the Catholic State League. It was suggested that portions of these talks are read at each meeting.

Mrs. Leo Henscheid read a sermonette entitled "This Has Been a Long Hot Summer," and another entitled "Childless Cradles."

Father Bertin Roll's recording for the month was titled: "Ten Sure Ways to Smash Any Church Organization." His message, delivered so smoothly, was not only informative, it was, in turn, amusing and alarming.

Members voted to donate $25 from treasury funds to the Civic League and Garden Club for the hospital's St. Francis Statue.

Eighteen members were present and Mrs. Leo Henscheid won the door prize. A social hour and refreshments with members of St. Joseph's Society followed.

Tony Trubenbachs And Cousin Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Trubenbach Sr., observing their 57th wedding anniversary, shared honors at a dinner party with their cousin, Father John Schumacher, a visitor from Toluca, Ill. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Voth Sr. were hosts in their home honoring her parents and cousin.

Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Tony Trubenbach Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alois Trubenbach, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Becker, Shirley and Paul Joseph, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer and five children, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Voth Jr. and five children.

Father Schumacher visited relatives in Gainesville, Muenster and Lindsay for a week. They took him to Golden Years Rest Home, the Olson Ranch and Moss Lake, and one night the Beckers and Rohmers took him to Casa Mariana. He left Friday by train to return home.

Crashing Through Insecticide Fog Can Cause Crash

A number of Muenster drivers have been risking lives, their as well as others, during the city's insecticide sprayings. City Manager Steve Moster said there have been many times when people drove through the fog of spray unable to see anything ahead of them. That happens just after the fog machine has passed an intersection before the fog clears away. If people would wait about 30 seconds they would have clear visibility and no danger of accident, Moster said.

There is no such danger for people on the same street with the sprayer. The machine does not spray across the street, hence there is no fog in front of cars.

Bill Moon Kills Big Rattle Snake

Bill Moon created quite a stir Tuesday at Marysville, and everywhere else he showed a huge rattlesnake that he dispatched on the creek at Mrs. B. G. Lyons' place. The snake was a "good five feet long and as big around as a good-sized man's arm" according to viewers. It had 12 rattlers.

Mrs. Lyons, who has seen lots of snakes in her time, said this was the largest she ever saw. Bill Moon had it in his pick-up when he was showing it around.

bled, giving the visitors their second try at the goal. Saint Jo made a first down at the 5 and got to the 1 on two more plays as the game ended.

Sacred Heart started the game with a fumble on the second play and got the ball back as Saint Jo fumbled on the second series. Then the Tigers made a first down and kicked on the next series, after which Saint Jo went from mid field in two big plays. First a gain of 16, then a 5 yard loss on an offside penalty, then the 39 yard scoring pass.

Two kicks, a Tiger fumble and another kick followed before Sacred Heart made its only real threat of the game. The second play was a nice gain ending in a fumble but Stan Endres' recovery kept the Tigers in business. Robert Klement's 8 plus a pass for 19 reached the Panther 45 and the next one was that big gain ending in a fumble at the 7.

Next half Saint Jo Kicked on its second series and Sacred Heart gained 35 to mid field in two series and kicked on its third.

The visitors then started from their 3, made five consecutive first downs and fell six inches short on their next series. After 90 yards the Tigers halted the drive on the 7.

Three plays later Saint Jo recovered its fourth Sacred Heart fumble on the 19 and headed goalward again, but ran out of time at the 1.

Tips From Your Hatchery

Now is the time to prepare your lawn, trees and shrubs for Winter. From the makers of lawn and tree fertilizers at Waco comes a special fertilizer fortified with root stimulator to insure vigorous growth next Spring. If you have peach, plum or apricot trees and neglect to borer-proof them with Paradow crystals, you have invited disaster to those trees.

Have you checked your crepe myrtle shrubs for mildew? You surely want them to come through the Winter in good shape, 'cause that is our national flower, or maybe it's our official city flower. Anyway, it is too pretty to neglect.

Texas Car Owners Urged to Hurry Safety Inspection

AUSTIN — Colonel Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today that the 1967 vehicle inspection period has begun.

Garrison said that the new inspection period began on September 1 and will end on April 15, 1967 as prescribed by the Public Safety Commission. The inspection period is the same as in previous years.

"This means that between now and April 15, 1967 each of the five and one half million Texas registered vehicles will have to secure the new green and white 1967 inspection sticker from one of the 5500 official inspection stations," he said.

Garrison pointed out that Texas inspection stations can be identified by the official vehicle inspection station signs displayed at each station.

Garrison suggested that if motorist have their vehicles inspected during the routine visits to garages for ordinary maintenance, the necessity of having to wait in line at a later date for an inspection will be eliminated.

In announcing the new inspection period, the Public Safety Director pointed out that vehicle defects contributing to traffic accidents in Texas during 1965 were the fewest yet experienced since the inspection program began in 1951.

The Texas Highway Department has under construction more than 1,000 miles of new highways on any given day.

We are only beginning to appreciate the fact that this country, as vast as it is, is nearly a third again as big as we thought it was. Land area of the United States, including Alaska and Hawaii, is a little over 3.6 million square miles. But, this is not the total area available to us, not by about another million square miles. Those extra million miles are the continental shelf regions — and undersea area of tremendous economic potential", says a report by the Environment Science Services Administration of the Department of Commerce.

College Expects 20 per cent Gain

Applications from prospective freshmen at CCJC are running 20 per cent ahead of the number received during a similar period of time last summer.

President Parker attributes "a significant part" of the increase to the individual attention provided students at CCJC and to the expansion of the curriculum to accommodate a wide range of abilities and interests.

One of the major tenets of CCJC's long-range plan is the establishment of an academic counseling service to assist every student prior to his admission.

As a part of the academic counseling service, each student is assigned to an academic advisor who teaches in his field faculty.

This advisor meets with the student to assist in examining the student's potential and goals in choosing his major. The student is assigned to an advisor who teaches in his field of special interest.

Psychological testing services provide help for undecided students to determine their roles in society.

CCJC Announces '66-67 Calendar

The 1966-'67 calendar adopted by the CCJC board of trustees is very similar to that which has been adopted by the board of regents of North Texas State University.

In the past years registration at CCJC has preceded that of North Texas State University and other senior institutions, and the overflow of students from those institutions hit the CCJC campus from one or two weeks after classes had begun.

"We realize that there is a very high correlation between absenteeism and academic failure; therefore, anything we can do to reduce the inconvenience to students who register late is worth consideration," says CCJC President John H. Parker.

The fall semester begins at 8 a.m. on September 16 and ends on Wednesday, January 25. Students will be dismissed for Christmas holidays after attending classes on Friday, December 16, and will resume classes on Tuesday morning, January 3.

Registration for the spring semester will be February 1-2 and classes will be started February 3, continuing until the last examination on May 30. Commencement has been scheduled for Sunday, June 4. The summer session for 1967 is scheduled tentatively to begin Monday, June 5, meaning that the year-round student will have a five day holiday period between the spring and summer session.

Classes will be dismissed for three days for Easter. President Parker explained that the CCJC calendar is subject to change by the board of trustees, and that any regular class time which may be lost because of weather or other reasons is subject to be scheduled.

CDA Court Faces Busy Schedule in Coming Months

Members of Muenster Court Catholic Daughters of America faced a full agenda at their September meeting Thursday night.

Plans were made for a tea next month for prospective members. Mrs. Ernest Medders will be hostess in her home entertaining candidates and members for that October event. Reception ceremonies for new members will be another event in October. Dates are still to be announced.

Members agreed to serve breakfast — coffee and homemade cinnamon rolls — during the National Cutting Horse Show at Colonial Acres Coliseum in November. Also at that time members will hold their annual pre-holiday bazaar, a big event each November. It will be held in the Coliseum this year during the Horse Show.

The bazaar committee is headed by Mmes. Paul Fisher, Ferd Luttmir, Walter Grewing, Charley Hellman and Henry Pick.

And Mrs. Medders delighted members by inviting them to a holiday dance she will host in December for the court's membership and escorts in the Coliseum.

Mrs. Paul Fisher, grand regent, conducted the business session in the presence of 52 members.

It was voted to hold October and November meetings on Thursday instead of the second Friday of the month on account of football games Friday.

Committee reports included Mrs. Andy Schoech's on the monthly visit to Golden Years Rest Home. Three members, Mmes. Ed Schmitt, Paul Fisher and Joe Hess, cheered residents of the home with visits and took a cake baked by Mrs. Schmitt for those who have birthdays during the month.

Mrs. Steve Moster reported on library activity including a successful summer reading program by students, a party by library staffers for the children and presentation of over 100 reading certificates. She also reminded that the library is open on Thursday nights, 7 to 9, in addition to daytime hours of 9 to 5.

Members voted to donate twenty five dollars from the treasury to the fund for the St. Francis statue the Civic League and Garden Club will erect in the inner court at Muenster Memorial Hospital.

After adjournment there was a social hour with a series of games and refreshments of barbecue sandwiches and drinks. Refreshment hostesses were Mmes. Tommy Knabe, Albert Herr, Leon Fleitman and Gene Schmitz and Miss Sara Fleitman.

The rare exhibit in the Museum of Natural History will display some of the best of Mr. Klein's trophies of 13 of the 14 major species of wild sheep found on the six continents of the world. Above, Mr. Klein is shown with the most difficult trophy of them all, the North American desert sheep.

"Let me tell you, ladies and gentlemen, it is the working classes that have made this country what it is today," said the orator and he hesitated in expectation of applause.

Instead an angry listener shouted: "That's the way with you politicians, blame everything in the poor folks!"

another medical doctor. Its possibilities are very encouraging.

A final thought for this week's column, still on the cheerful side, goes far from home to last Sunday's election in Vietnam. It's a real pleasure to observe that folks over there had the judgement and courage to defy the communists with an overwhelming turnout favoring a free constitutional government. It proves, as stated so often, that people do not vote for communism. It proves likewise that people in danger of losing their freedom think more of a vote than we who take freedom for granted. The dedication of Vietnamese was nothing less than inspiring. Their 80 per cent turnout in spite of intensive red effort, including terror and murder, to stop the election deserves our admiration. It also deserves intensified effort on our country's part to rid the country of reds as soon as possible.

Another thought: the country makes big liars of all who claim that the Viet Cong are liberators representing the majority of South Vietnam.

"Hey, man," asked the betnik of his friend. "Do you know Lincoln's Gettysburg address?"

"No," was the reply. "I didn't even know he had moved."
