LOOK WHO'S TALKING

Sargent Shriver, who heads the war on poverty, might well take note of remarks made by president Johnson late last week when he embarked on a three-day, five-state political stumping tour.

The President at Syracuse, New York, promised to "take the profit out of poverty." But this wasn't all. The President also said that no condition in the country is more shameful than "that which permits some people to line their pockets with tattered dollars of the poor."

We might say: Look who's talking.

While the president may be slow at catching on sometimes, he should by this time be fully aware that the poor, which the anti-poverty program was set up to help, are not, on the whole, receiving the funds allocated to fight the poverty program.

He should be aware of the many complaints that have been made to the effect that it is the top antipoverty employee — the administrative official — who is getting the bulk of the appropriated funds.

He should know, too, that in some instances poverty officials are receiving as much as $25,000 a year and that in many local cases more than 50 percent of the funds appropriated are being spent for office expenses, administrative salaries and the like with very little indeed going into programs which help the underprivileged.

The President and Sargent Shriver may fool the American people some of the time but not all the time. And, the people are beginning to catch on.

COFFEE

African tribesmen are thought to have been the first coffee consumers... They used a mixture of crushed coffee beans and animal fat centuries before coffee was recorded in the annals of Aribians who are most often associated with the drink... African warriors found coffee to be a stimulating ration during their long treks through the jungles and they became the earliest users of coffee... Ethiopia was one of the first coffee consuming countries... An ancient village in the heart of the Ethiopian coffee district was named "Kaffa," which bears a striking similarity to the word "coffee."

Africa today is one of the world's leading coffee producers... Thirty percent of all coffee entering world trade comes from Africa... Production in the past ten years has climbed to six times the average it was in the 1930's... The Ivory Coast is Africa's leading coffee producer and the world's third largest... Only Brazil and Colombia outproduce it... Angola, second to the Ivory Coast in African coffee production, is said to have the world's largest coffee plantation, the Bon Estrada... Madagascar, another top coffee producer, has rare trees which bear beans that contain little or no caffeine... In all, some 25 countries in Africa contribute to total coffee exportation.

BIG LAND OWNER

You may not know it but your Uncle Sam now owns about 770 million acres of land. To visualize how much 770 million acres is, think of an area four and one-half the size of the state of Texas.

The federal government owns 775,000 acres of the state of Texas, not a very high percentage. But Alaska is a different story. The 49th state has an area of 365 million acres and 364 million of them are owned by the federal government.

Uncle Sam owns 42 percent of California, which is pretty-high-priced real estate. The government owns three-fifths of Idaho, six-sevenths of Nevada, more than a fourth of Montana, half of Oregon, three fifths of Utah, half of Wyoming, one-fourth of Washington, more than one-third of Colorado.

DO IT YOURSELF

Remembering all the pledges by the Great Society administration to rebuild all of our large cities, "where the votes are," and to abolish ghettos and all the poverty not only in our own country but throughout the world at U.S. taxpayers' expense, and reading the latest statement of condition of the U. S. Treasury with more debts than all the rest of the nations in the world combined, we will not bank strongly on getting much help from Washington for saving our small towns and our good way of life in rural America. We will move faster if we try to solve some of our problems here at home rather than wait for L.B.J.'s help. He is going to be pretty well occupied.

—Traer, Iowa, Star-Clipper

According to Rep. John Dodwy (D-Tex.), the official report for the operation of the domestic Peace Corps for its first fiscal year shows that it spent $3.1 million to train 202 volunteers or $15,302 per trainee.

Congressman Alvin E. O'Konski of Wisconsin tells the story of two brothers in his home district. One brother was valedictorian of his graduating class. He is serving in Viet Nam for $78 a month. The other brother is a dropout who once beat up his mother and his teacher. He is serving in the War on Poverty's Neighborhood Youth Corps and is getting $200 a month.

April 6, 1968 will mark the opening of the first World's Fair ever held in the South-Western United States This International Exposition, HemisFair 1968, is dedicated to the promotion of an even greater rapport between the people of the New World. For 184 days this festival of international importance will thrill, excite and entertain millions of visitors to Texas from all over the world.

The rate of economic growth has slowed markedly in the Soviet Union since 1958 and Soviet economic performance is still only about 47 per cent of that of the United States, a major study has concluded.

Congressman W. L. Dickinson of Alabama says, "This country, built upon individual enterprise, cannot survive by glorifying the incompetents, the ignorant and the shiftless."

Weavin' Willie says: "A hangover is something that happens to a head that was not used the night before!"

Hundreds of waterfowl have turned part of a Texas oil refinery into a bird sanctuary, according to Oil Facts. Herons, egrets, roseate spoonbills and other birds are nesting in a water-purification lagoon area, almost in the shadow of oil derricks and refining equipment.

Highway users pay more than 24 per cent of all state taxes collected in this country. In fiscal 1965, the states collected $26 billion, of which $6.3 billion came from taxes on motor fuel and motor vehicles and from drivers' license fees. Motor fuel taxes alone amounted to $4.3 billion.

One tax that completely startled this writer and it takes some doing to do this, is the so-called 'inheritance tax'... My mother, for example, after working side by side with dad, now has to pay taxes (on which taxes have already been paid) as 'inheritance'! Government officials move in... tie up bank accounts, anything they can get their hands on. We call it downright 'thievery'... We aren't saying anything about passing it on to children who have never really earned it, but for the husband-wife routine... that's robbery as sure as a bank robber comes into your bank!

Local Conservation Practices Observed By Puerto Rican

Willie Cumpiano, Range Conservationist from Puerto Rico, spent last Thursday, September 29, in the Muenster Work Unit observing range work and watershed treatment in the Clear Creek watershed.

Cumpiano explained that some of their problems in Puerto Rico are caused by a rainfall from a few inches to 150 inches per year. The erosion is severe in the area of high rainfall. They have a watershed program there, which consists of floodwater retarding structures. But the land treatment, or the way the land is used and managed, is an important part of the program there, as it is in this country.

Cecil Chaney, work unit conservationist, from the soil conservation office at Muenster showed Cumpiano different ways and methods that have been used to treat critical areas of severely eroded land in the Clear Creek Watershed. Some of the gullies in the critical areas have been sloped, fenced and seeded to native grass. The fence was constructed around the areas so good management could be carried out. "The only way to reduce the erosion is to maintain a good cover of grass at all times. The grass cover will reduce runoff when it rains and more water will go into the soil. When runoff is reduced the erosion will also be reduced," Chaney said.

Chaney also showed Cumpiano some of the work being done under the Great Plains Conservation Program. One of the practices in the Great Plains Program is shaping gullies and establishing grasses on critical areas. The Great Plains Program is also designed to assist farmers in reducing soil erosion and improving land treatment.

Home-School Group Starts Term With Program on Safety

First meeting of the Sacred Heart Home-School Society for the new term featured introduction of the faculty to parents, a program on safety and a talk by a guest speaker.

Bill Hanes, director of safety for Texas Power & Light Co., Dallas, was introduced by Steve Moster, program chairman. He discussed how and why accidents occur, spoke on injuries and death resulting from car accidents, and answered questions from the floor.

A welcome and unexpected guest was Bishop MacDonald, administrator of the Catholic University of Washington, D. C., guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders.

In his talk he lauded the nuns, pointed out their dedicated lives — teaching, studying, praying. He emphasized that education on the elementary level greatly affects the entire life of a child — lays the foundation for future education.

He pointed up the responsibility of parents to cooperate with the Sisters and school, and said a Catholic education has values that cannot be received elsewhere.

New officers took over the business session. Norbert Koessler is president, advancing from the vice presidency. Dan Luke is vice president, Mrs. Alvin Hartman is secretary and Mrs. Steve Moster is treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the annual Halloween Carnival the Home-School Society will sponsor on Oct. 31 afternoon and evening in the Parish Hall. Roommothers were to have a meeting soon to elect chairmen and arrange events. After adjournment hostesses served coffee and cookies to 81 members.

Garden Club Will Have Meet Monday

Appreciation Sale Marks Anniversary At Charm Shop

The Charm Shop, Muenster's exclusively feminine store, this week marks its 20th birthday. Owner Pearl Evans opened the business on October 5, 1946, as a small shop in a small building on Main Street. Mrs. Ervin Hamric assisted her as first clerk.

Through the years the shop has grown and added merchandise until today it features more nationally advertised brands of women's and girls' wear than any store in North Texas.

Since 1956 it occupies a modern new building on the Main Street location. Salesladies on duty are Mrs. Lawrence Wimmer, Mrs. Hugo Lutkenhaus, Mrs. Willie Walter-scheid and Mrs. R. T. Brock.

Charm Shop's sales featured several times through the year employ additional help.

Mrs. Evans is proud of her shop and women from Cooke and Montague Counties and more distant places find shopping interesting because she carries so many top name brands and the full lines of sizes.

To show her appreciation, Mrs. Evans is having a drawing during a three-day anniversary sale which ends Saturday. Everyone is invited to stop by and register. Winner need not be present at the drawing 5 p.m. Saturday.

Prizes and sale prices are listed in The Charm Shop's ad on page 2 in this week's Enterprise.

green beans, wild rice mix, fresh fruits with imported cheese, tossed green salad, dessert of chantilly tarte and coffee with Chateau St. Jacques burgundy.

Hundreds of Wichitans rode buses which were furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Medders.

Mrs. Jack Wages, director of the rehabilitation center, and Tom Medders, chairman of the center's board of directors, expressed their thanks and appreciation to the hosts for their generosity and to all who attended to make the ball successful.

The rehabilitation center provides occupational, speech and physical therapy for children and adults from a seven-county area. Not a United Fund agency, the center receives its primary support from the annual Easter Seal drive and from group and individual donations. Fees charged are nominal and no one is turned away because of inability to pay. Proceeds from the party will not completely eliminate the debt for the fiscal year but has made a big dent in it, the board chairman said.

Mrs. Charlie Wimmer Jr. has joined the clerking staff at Pangel's Store. She started Tuesday.

plant may be strongly acidic or strongly alkaline. Either way it reaches the treating plant in considerable volume and puts an abnormal strain on the treating process.

To correct that situation the city is planning a neutralizing reservoir which will be first stop for the milk plant's wastes and where the acidic and alkaline wastes will mix, to be delivered to the treatment plant in more nearly neutral condition.

The other improvement concerns the treatment plant. Already oversize to handle the commercial wastes along with the city's normal load, it still is not large enough. Its capacity needs to be increased.

Leaving Friday to return to St. Louis, Mo., after visiting the Weinzapfels and attending their anniversary celebration will be her cousins, Mrs. Florence Dodenhoff and Mrs. Ed Roseman. The Rosemans have the same anniversary date. Oct. 3 was their 30th.

SH Lunch Room Holds the Line on School Lunch Price

How much does your child spend at school on lunch?

If he is eating in the SH School cafeteria, he spends only 30 cents. Or if he has a ticket, only 25 cents.

Do you know what your child gets for his lunch money?

He gets a tasty meal providing a third to half of his daily nutritional needs. Every meal contains a high protein dish such as turkey, hamburger or cheese, fruits and vegetables, bread, butter or fortified margarine and a half pint of whole milk — all in proper amounts.

Often other foods are added for flavor or energy such as cookies, ice cream and other goodies.

How can Sacred Heart serve such a meal for this small amount?

"We operate on a non-profit basis," explains Brother Thomas, representative of the lunchroom. "Also, we operate under the National School Lunch Program of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, so we receive some Federal funds plus donated foods from the Consumer and Marketing Service."

Every lunch served under the National School Lunch Program must meet the USDA Type A standard — the assurance that your child gets a nutritionally balanced meal every day.

Despite rising costs, Sacred Heart School has been able to hold the price to students at the same level ever since the lunchroom began its type A program last December.

Schools throughout the country are celebrating the 20th anniversary of the National School Lunch Program this year by trying to reach all students with a nutritious lunch.

The week of October 9-15 has been designated by President Johnson as National School Lunch Week.

Survey Reveals Texas Needs 5,500 Qualified Teachers

AUSTIN — Texas is facing its worst teacher shortage in 25 years, according to the Texas State Teachers Association, based on a survey released September 29 by Charles H. Tennyson of the TSTA.

A need exists for some 5,500 fully qualified teachers throughout the state, he said.

The survey was conducted to include every one of the some 1,303 Texas school districts, of which 82% have replied.

Tennyson said that tabulation of the survey returns showed that by September 28th, 1,069 school districts reported a need for 5,492 fully qualified teachers.

He said this figure was determined by a two question query:

1. "How many professional positions do you have vacant at the present time?" The total reported in response to this question was 1,092

2. "How many positions have you filled with teachers who are not fully qualified?" Survey results showed 4,400 not fully qualified teachers have been hired to man teaching positions requiring a fully certified teacher.

"By adding those two figures together," Tennyson said "we see that there is a shortage of at least 5,492 fully qualified teachers in Texas."

More than 10,000 teachers are teaching in Texas this year with only emergency permits, Tennyson said.

"According to the survey returns," he continued, "superintendents apparently feel that almost one half of the holders of these 10,000 emergency permits are not qualified to handle the professional duties required of a classroom teacher. Of course, many of these emergency permit teachers are excellent instructors."

"The sad fact is that Texas superintendents are today forced to hire unqualified persons in order to keep Texas schools open. We have no estimate as to the number of school children receiving inferior instruction."

An elderly gentelman observed a young lad trying to reach a door bell in order to ring it. Since the boy couldn't reach it, the kindly old man rang it for him. He asked the boy what he was going to do next.

The boy replied, "I am going to run! What are you going to do?"

DPS Accepts Applications for Exam in January

AUSTIN — The Texas Department of public Safety announced today it has 231 vacancies in its uniformed patrol services and reminded interested men between the ages of 21 and 35 that the next deadline for applications is October 17.

Examinations will be held on October 22 for the next cadet training school scheduled to begin January 3.

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., DPS Director, said vacancies exist in all four of the uniformed services — Highway Patrol, License and Weight, Driver License, and Motor Vehicle Inspection. Most of the openings are in the Highway Patrol Service.

"These opportunities for careers in the public service offer many and varied advantages for qualified young men," Garrison said. "Men who would like to dedicate their lives to helping people can at the same time enjoy a livelihood with security and opportunity for advancement."

He pointed out that effective September 1, higher salaries and the five-day week went into effect for all DPS uniformed personnel. He said cadets at the DPS Law Enforcement Academy in Austin will receive $400 per month while in training, and will be off Saturdays and Sundays. The training period will last approximately 18 weeks, including 13 weeks of basic training. The remainder of the period will be devoted to specialized training in the services to which the cadet is to be assigned.

The cadet's choice for a particular service will be granted, consistent with vacancies existing at the time, and the Department will make every effort to station a man within 150 miles of his desired location.

Upon graduation, cadets will be commissioned and assigned to the field, with salaries ranging from $468 to $484, depending on service assigned.

Faced with a world food shortage and increased production needs, today's farmer is building his "landpower," or increasing his land's ability to produce good crop yields consistently, by fertilizing. The most practical and dependable way to fertilize, in many livestock operations, is by returning animal wastes to the land through the use of modern spreaders. Spreading manure improves soil structure, has a beneficial effect on soil tilth and increases the soil's ability to hold water.

Motorists Bear Heavy Tax Load

Special taxes levied on highway users accounted for more than 24 per cent of total state tax collections in the United States during fiscal 1965.

The states collected $26.1 billion, of which $6.3 billion came from levies on motor fuel and motor vehicles and from drivers' license fees.

State motor fuel taxes alone — averaging 6.5 cents a gallon — amounted to $4.3 billion. Vehicle taxes totaled $1.9 billion, while drivers' license fees added up to more than $150 million.

Of the 50 states, Nebraska relied most heavily on highway user taxes, deriving 48 per cent of its tax revenue from those sources.

The next 10 states and the percentage of total taxes provided by highway users were: New Hampshire, 46; New Jersey, 42; South Dakota, 40; Wyoming, 38; Iowa, 37; Ohio, 36; North Dakota, 34; and Virginia, Oklahoma and Florida, 33 per cent each.

Emerging from an underwater tunnel at a speed of 38 feet per second, past startled passengers aboard the Caddo War Canoes, is Six Flags Over Texas' newest ride, the Run-A-Way Mine Train. Built at a cost of $1,000,000, the exciting ride, which just opened, is situated in the Boom Town Section of the famed historical-theme park located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

NEW $1,000,000 RIDE PREMIERES AT SIX FLAGS

Arlington, Texas: The most ambitious and expensive attraction ever built at Six Flags Over Texas, the Run-A-Way Mine Train, was unveiled at the famed historical theme park located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Situated in the Boom Town Section of the 115-acre park, the ride, costing $1,000,000, opened after more than a year of research, development and construction.

Covering about an acre of wooded grounds along the banks of Johnson Creek, which flows through Six Flags, "The Run-A-Way Mine Train" tracks extend in a twisting pattern for 2,484 ft.

A capsule version of the trip begins when passengers are taken for an excursion through the "Great Southwest Mining Company's" property in ore cars.

The cars are propelled through a series of lifts up to 35 feet high by pulleys and gravity. The train, gathering speed, reacts as if it is out of control, reaching a maximum speed of 38 feet per second.

The train races across a bridge through open cuts, crossing over and under the tracks where the two narrow-gauge steam engines regularly travel. It passes through a hotel lobby, dives down a shaft into a 150-foot-long curving tunnel built underneath the water and emerges in the middle of the "Caddo River" domain of the Indian War Canoes. From there, the cars glide gently back to the depot.

Some interesting facts and figures are that a force of slightly under 2 G's is exerted as the train races through the curving 150-foot-long tunnel under the water; each train consists of five ore cars capable of carrying six passengers each or 30 passengers per train. Construction of the ride involved 2,000 yards of poured concrete, 165,000 feet of reinforced steel, 35,000 feet of electrical wire and conduit, 350 telephone poles for supports and piling, 110,000 square feet of redwood, cedar and pine lumber. Some 443 electrical connections are contained in the console to operate the ride. The loading depot contains 30 tons of air conditioning for the comfort of passengers waiting to board the train. About 150 kw's (150,000 watts) of electrical power per hour are consumed by the ride (equivalent to the amount of power used in one hour by 30 three-bedroom homes).

Six Flags' operating schedule for the remainder of the 1966 season is that the Park will be open seven days a week through September 5; thereafter, until closing on November 27, the Park will be open on Saturdays and Sundays only.

The average manufacturing employee in the United States could buy 31 per cent more gasoline with an hour's wages in 1965 than in 1955. During those years, average wages rose while gasoline prices decreased.

Louis were changed. Mrs. Detten had little Steve here with her until his parents got settled. Farrar recently completed his tour of military duty.

Cousins of J. M. Weinzapfel Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boling and their son-in-law, Hartman Cannon, all of Chicago, flew in by private plane Sunday bringing Mrs. Boling's brother, Father Lawrence Weinzapfel of Bedford Ind., with them. They were all among guests at the Weinzapfel's 50th wedding anniversary observance.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnye Russell and daughter Paula Michelle have moved into their new home on West Third St.

J. A. Travis is on an extended visit with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Black at Myra.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hellman arrived Saturday from Portals N.M., to visit relatives and attend the Weinzapfel's golden anniversary party. They were houseguests of her brother and wife, the Ervin Hamrics.

Pecan Harvester Developed at A&M

COLLEGE STATION — A mechanical pecan harvester has been developed at Texas A&M University. Researchers consider it an important breakthrough.

The designer, William H. Aldred, A&M agricultural engineer, said the rig could probably be mass produced to sell for about $3,000. He said there is presently no economically priced mass produced mechanical harvester that harvests native Texas pecans well.

Last year, he said, several million pounds of native Texas pecans rotted on the ground because there was no hand labor to pick them up.

Aldred said his harvester will gather up to 4,000 pounds of nuts a day, while a man can harvest only about 150 pounds a day by hand.

In one A&M test, the machine picked up 94 percent of the pecans on the ground—a laborer picking up nuts by hand could be expected to get only about 70 percent, said Aldred.

The unit has flexible 10-inch rubber fingers mounted around a drum that rotates near the ground. The fingers sweep the pecans from the ground up into the machine. After two cleaning processes, the nuts are carried up an elevator where a burlap bag catches the nuts. Then, a final cleaning job is needed.

Ninety-two acres in the heart of San Antonio, the fifteenth largest city in the United States, has been reserved for a World's Fair, the first to be held in the Southwestern United States. HemisFair 1968 will commemorate the 250th anniversary of the founding of San Antonio on May 5, 1713. HemisFair will be a place of fun and education, where surroundings change as utterly and instantaneously as a kaleidoscope. Much of the entertainment will be outdoors, all of it different, and most of it free.

At least 25 poverty bureaucrats will be paid more than the base pay of General William C. Westmorland who leads our forces in Viet Nam.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Establishing a good Bermuda grass pasture can sometimes be a difficult job. Grass plantings will occasionally fail to become established even under the best conditions. However, many times poor stands are the result of conditions which could have been improved by the farmer.

One of the most important things a farmer can do is to prepare a good seedbed, soil conservation technicians emphasize. Seedbed should be prepared in the fall with a plowing operation that will leave the ground rough and help soak up winter moisture.

In the spring, just before planting the seedbed should be leveled and firmed by disking or some similar process. This will also kill any weeds which may be on the land.

Bermuda grass sprigs used must be fresh, healthy ones to insure a good stand. Poor quality sprigs cause many failures. Sprigs should be dug the same day they are to be planted and should be kept moist and covered, in shade, until used. Sprigs which must be hauled should be packed tightly, sprinkled, and covered with a tarp.

When the sprigs are planted it is best that the soil be moist. It should be packed firmly around the sprigs to cut out air and prevent drying. When handled this way, sprigs will stay alive for several days or even weeks. If they are planted in dry soil they must have rain within a few days.

After the grass is planted competition must be controlled. This can be done by cultivation practices or by chemical sprays. When competitive plants are controlled, grass can make use of all available

Machine Will Manufacture Barbed Wire At State Fair

Visitors to the 1966 State Fair of Texas can see Sheffield "A to Z" barbed wire being made in "slow motion" at the Armo Steel Corporation exhibit. Armo's William O. Bueff (right) and Richard Jensen (left) explain the machine's operation to Paul Swaffar, executive secretary of the American Hereford Association.

If you've ever wondered how barbed wire is made, now's your chance to find out. This year, at the State Fair of Texas, a production-line barbed wire machine will be in operation, Oct. 8-23, at the Armo Steel Corporation exhibit.

The machine, capable of producing more than a mile of barbed wire every hour, will be operated at one-fiftieth normal speed to let Fair visitors see production details in "slow motion."

Two main strands of specially-coated 12 1/2-gauge wire and two strands of 14-gauge wire are fed into the machine. Barbs are cut from the 14-gauge wire and wrapped around and through the two main strands at five-inch intervals. The wire then is twisted to lock barbs in place and wrapped on 80-rod (1320-ft) reels.

The eight-ton exhibit highlights development of a special aluminum-bearing zinc coating that increases service life of Sheffield "A to Z" barbed wire by up to 50 percent—a major breakthrough in barbed wire's 80-year history.

The Armo exhibit is currently on a tour of State Fairs in six states, including the Ozark Empire Fair in Springfield, Mo.; Iowa State Fair, Des Moines; Nebraska State Fair, Lincoln; Kansas State Fair, Hutchinson; Tulsa (Oklahoma) State Fair; and State Fair of Texas, Dallas.

Weinzapfel - - -

Okla., Mrs. Hugh Jackson (Dora) and Mrs. William L. Birken, (Mary) of Fort Worth. They were present along with most of the 28 grandchildren. There is one great-grandchild.

Joseph Michael Weinzapfel, native of Windthorst, son of Archer County pioneer parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Weinzapfel, and Julia Meurer, native of Muenster, were married in Scotland, Texas, on Oct. 3, 1916, and moved to Muenster in 1923 when he and the late John W. Meurer organized Muenster State Bank which he now heads as president and chairman of the board.

Mrs. Weinzapfel is second youngest in the family of 12 children of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Meurer who lived in Muenster before settling in Scotland.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Weinzapfel have been outstanding in civic and church activity with achievements that could be listed by the score.

Served as Mayor

He was the driving force behind the incorporation of Muenster as a city in 1927, became first secretary serving for seven years and was later elected mayor, serving six years. He played a prominent part in building the city water and sewer systems.

He was one of the pioneers of rural electrification in Muenster and was out front in the soil conservation movement. He has been recognized on the local, state and national level for conservation work. He is currently president of the Clear Creek Watershed Association.

He has always been a booster of good roads and for the past two years has been a director of the Texas Good Roads Assn.

Among other achievements he stands out in the erection of Muenster Hospital, a project to which he devoted much time along with donation of the building site.

Mrs. Weinzapfel has extended her interests to include membership in the Civic League and Garden Club of which she is a charter member and a past president; the Parish St. Anne's Society which she has served as president; the Mission Sewing Circle which she organized and in which she held various offices, and the Catholic Daughters of America of which she has been grand regent, treasurer, lecturer and organist.

City Librarian

She was instrumental in organizing Muenster Library and served as first librarian — five years — resigning in January 1965. She served as deanery president of the National Council of Catholic Women and was Rural Life chairman for NCCW for four years.

Mr. Weinzapfel is a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Fourth Degree Assembly which he organized here in 1944 and headed as faithful navigator ten years. He also served as Master of District Three, Texas, Guadalupe Province. Both are members of the Third Order of St. Francis, Sacred Heart Parish.

Knighted by Pope

And both Mr. and Mrs. Weinzapfel are members of the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre since 1955, appointed as knight and lady by the Holy Father. He rose to the rank of Knight Grand Commander in 1963 and she reached the rank of Lady Grand Commander in 1966.

Following their marriage they lived in Windthorst where he engaged in general merchandising, insurance and livestock business until they moved to Muenster.

In addition to Mrs. Rasch, Mr. Weinzapfel has three other sisters, Mrs. Tony Gremminger of Muenster, Mrs. Otto Hemmi of Scotland and Mrs. Catherine Morbitzer of Fort Worth. His twin sister, Olivia, died in 1911 at the age of 17. He has one brother, William V. Weinzapfel of Windthorst.

Of Mrs. Weinzapfel's family, three sisters remain: Mrs. Ed H. Otto of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Frank Wolf of Stratton, Colo., and Mrs. Lucy Jensen of Canyon City, Colo.

Mrs. Weinzapfel's hobbies have been keeping her home, knitting, and in recent years collecting clothing and other items for the state hospital in Wichita Falls. Mr. Weinzapfel says community development continues as his hobby, however he spends leisure time tending the yard and flowers at the family home.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zimmerman and daughter Denise and his mother, Mrs. Julia Zimmerman, are visiting Mrs. Walter Zimmerman's mother, Mrs. Theresa Schriver. The visitors are from LaFeria.

Visiting Clergy At Anniversary

The clergy was well represented at the J. M. Weinzapfel's 50th anniversary observance joining members of the banking profession, medical profession, Knights of Columbus, soil conservationists, relatives and friends from far and near. Nineteen members of the clergy in addition to the five con-celebrating the anniversary Mass attended. They are: Monsignor Fred Mosman, John Wiewell, Anthony Daly and John P. Brady, all of Dallas and Msgr. Ernest Langenhurst of Fort Worth.

Reverend Fathers Richard E. Johnson, secretary to Bishop Gorman, John Matzner, Louis Wiese and William Lane, all of Dallas, Harry Fisher and while bragging about prosperity. Anyone knows that doesn't make sense. The law of economics applies to a nation as well as to an individual. The day of reckoning has to come.

So far the government has been able to postpone the inevitable by raising taxes and printing money, both of which are only means of robbing the public. One takes the money directly, the other reduces the value of what people have left. And, incidentally, the money government has been taking, directly and indirectly, is far more than it has been handing out in grants.

This country urgently needs a strong vote of protest at the next election against the fiscal policies that are wrecking our economy.
