MHS Girls at Top Boys at Bottom of 12-A District Race

From Washington and Austin we hear the same story — the new legislators face the seemingly impossible job of finding new sources of revenue. It's just another way of saying that we who think we are already burdened to the limit might as well brace ourselves for some more tax load. "Other sources of revenue" literally means additional ways of clipping the long suffering taxpayers.

In his recent pow wow with state governors President Nixon assured them that he intends to give cities and states a bigger slice of federal tax receipts. That sounds like a fine idea for the states that will receive more from the revenue sharing fund than they have to pay into it, but, considering overall implications the idea has definite drawbacks.

To us this appears like another step toward making our big centralized government bigger than ever. Uncle Sam adds to the big bite he has already placed on us and sets up another agency to determine extent of need, method of distribution, and those other bureaucratic functions which absorb so much of the government's welfare money before it even does any good.

Our guess is that more welfare can be achieved if the federal government would reduce its tax and leave us taxpayers with a little money to give directly to the state program. The idea has appeal because it eliminates the middle man. States can gain if they do the collecting instead of waiting for a handout from what Uncle Sam collects.

And that idea, in turn, is inferior to one in which the legislators seek to reduce expenses instead of raising revenue. This is an old fashioned idea, we'll admit. It's economic heresy to people who have manipulated the public purse strings for the past few decades. Nevertheless, in view of our extended failure to solve the problem by deficit financing, one would think that a bit of old fashioned belt tightening ought to be considered. Old timers can remember very well. When funds were scarce they managed to get along on less. Well, that spirit of sacrifice can do what the spendthrift policies never did and never can accomplish.

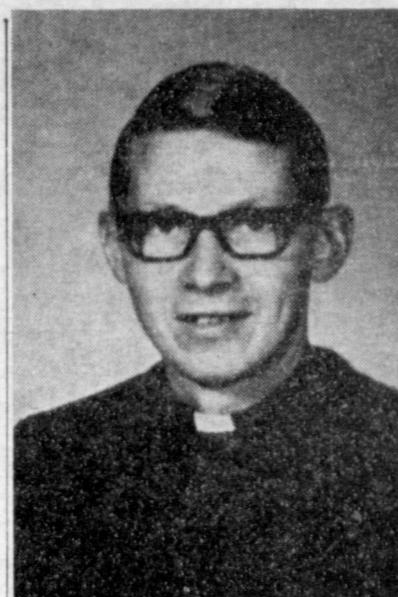

It's estimated that our state will have to dig up from $645 to $850 million to take care of additional expenses already in sight. Included in that budget are pay raises for government personnel and teachers and additional benefits for the welfare program. But some of that extra revenue would not be needed if legislators and teachers agreed to wait for better times to press their demands and if the welfare program were revised to weed out the undeserving. A lot more of it would not be needed if legislators worked carefully and conscientiously to eliminate all non-essentials from their budget and if they got double tough about appropriations which don't give the taxpayers their money's worth.

Changing to that kind of policy would be difficult of course, after all these years of the "easy come, easy go" attitude. But let's remember that we have been going in the red year after year. We're going the wrong way. We're headed for disaster and we've obviously reached the point where we have to quit living beyond our means. Before long, if not now, thrift and sacrifice will become the economy's only means of survival. Otherwise this folly can go on until it crashes and brings on a depression like the world experienced in the thirties, or worse.

It's hard to imagine an economic breakdown in affluent times like these. We have the highest standard of living ever known to civilization, an abundance of life's needs plus a fabulous array of comforts and luxuries. But all of it depends on a very complex economic system which can be completely upset when some of its functions break down. Abundance soon turns to scarcity when factories shut down and goods quit moving.

Economic experts have said that a civilization cannot endure when a third of its income is siphoned off as taxes. This generation has seen the theory exploded. We have already passed the theoretical limit and wonder how much farther we can go before reaching the actual limit.

While we're uncertain about the answer, good judgment (Continued on Page 8)

Two Deputies on Duty in Muenster

Robert Byrum, the city's new resident deputy sheriff, has been on the job here since January 1, sharing the local officer duties with George Davis.

Byrum has lived here for several months and was assigned to the sheriff's department at Gainesville for training. Meanwhile other deputies helped with enforcement duties here.

Plans Shaping for Boxing Tournament January 28 to 30

Something new on the local sports scene is a boxing program including the community's first boxing tournament on January 28, 29 and 30 in the Sacred Heart gym.

The local class of about 30 members is coached by Mike Stoffels and is affiliated with the North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Boxing Association which sponsors about a half dozen tournaments in the area and a regional golden gloves tournament in Wichita Falls.

The Muenster tournament is one of those others are booked in Duncan, Comanche, Ardmore, Walters and Wichita Falls.

The couple was charged with attempt to rob the bank by forcibly entering the home of Herbert Meurer, president, and demanding that he open the vault for them. They abandoned their robbery plans after Meurer insisted that a time lock on the vault cannot be opened by anyone until the proper time without setting off a burglar alarm. As they departed they left Mr. and Mrs. Meurer bound on the floor.

The Fosters were arrested several months later in connection with a robbery of the Maypearl bank, and were identified by the Meurers in a police lineup in Dallas.

The local tournament, according to Stoffels will have about 150 to 200 entries in divisions ranging from 50 pounds to heavyweight. Also contenders will be matched according to ability. Beginners will not have to fight the experienced boxers. At the end there will be winner and runner-up trophies in all divisions and also a team sportsmanship trophy.

Muenster Mutual Reports at 77th Annual Meeting

Another good year in the history of Muenster Mutual Fire Insurance Association was reported at its 77th annual meeting held Wednesday afternoon in the Muenster VFW Hall.

Ed Endres, secretary, told representatives of the five districts that the association's cost of insurance last year was only 15.5 cents per $100 worth of insured valuation. This is one of the lower rates of the mutual's career. The cost in 1969 was 15 cents, and in 1968 it was 26 cents per $100 of insured valuation.

Endres disclosed that the total paid out for fire and lightning losses during the year was $11,849.64, which includes

$10,180 to Bill Streng for total loss of his home. Twenty-other fire and lightning losses added to $1,669.64. Seven claims on storm losses amounted to $271.63. Combining those figures indicates total payment of $12,121.27 for all losses.

Total administrative expense was $5,851.81. That amount plus payments on loss claims make up the total disbursements of $17,973.08.

Total income for the year was $44,693.10, and the gain in assets after total disbursements was $26,720.02. Sources of the income were $31,864.16

from the assessment of 35 cents per $100, $4,835.18 from premiums and $7,943.78 from interest on investments.

The report also revealed

continued growth in membership.

There are 759 members with 965 policies on insured valuation of $10,126,052. A year ago there were 723 members with 917 policies on $9,761,679 worth of insured value.

In keeping with recommendations of the state insurance commission to build toward a 2 per cent reserve, the delegates voted to continue their annual assessment at 35 cents per $100. The mutual's insurance now is over $10 million and the reserve is almost 1.8 percent of that figure. If the coming year is as good as the past one the recommended 2 per cent will almost be reached.

Delegates at the meeting represented the districts of

Muenster, Lindsay, Electra,

Windthorst and Valley View.

They voted for re-election of officers as follows: Al Hess, president, Al Fleitman, vice-president, Ed Endres, secretary, Victor Hartman, treasurer, J. A. Klement, director.

Clear Distinction

Dr. Clifford Lord, president of Hofstra University, in his statement of policy to the University faculty, reflects the new mood of sternness in enforcing order on the campus. He says, "We are educators, not skull crackers. We believe in reason and the rational process. But the true revolution does not. And if the rational process should fail, I do not for a moment believe that we are obligated to preside at our own demolition."

This University president makes it clear that the crackdown on campus violence at Hofstra reflects no desire to oppose change. Change is desirable. Opposition to disruption and disarray, however, is not opposition to change. The distinction is clear and obvious.

Help Fight Crime

The increasing problem of crime in this country cannot be solved by police activity alone. It requires the involvement and support of all citizens.

This does not mean the public should play "cops and robbers," but rather that they should coordinate their efforts to assist the nation's criminal justice system.

People should be willing witnesses in criminal cases, ready jurors, and in addition to living within the letter and the spirit of the law, they should report offenders to proper authorities.

If you shut your eyes to the fellow employee who shorts the boss at the cash register or at his work bench, you are lending assistance to crime, just as if you did not report a neighbor you believe to be a hijacker or a bank employee who was bringing home samples. Speak to the boss or policeman or prosecutor, or go before the grand jury and insist that your friends and neighbors be as honest as you are. And be sure you are honest.

The embezzler or workman who brings home tools or material from the shop adds more to the cost of crime than the armed robber or shoplifter and are rarely more worthy citizens.

Embezzlers in banks take several times the amount taken by bank robbers at gun point. However, most of all losses are recovered and through constant and effective checks the loss figure is sharply reduced. Banks still remain a safe place for your money.

You can effect substantial savings for your employer by providing honest measures of service and insisting that others do the same. Then he can go into the marketplace at a more competitive price and make your job more secure.

Successfully fighting crime at all levels can mean greater prosperity for you.

Medicare Patients Hit by Inflation

Medicare, too, is being affected by inflation, according to Gus Jones, social security district manager in Sherman. Spiraling hospital care costs have forced an increase in the hospital deductible paid by the Medicare patient, he explained.

Although that deductible will remain at the present $52 for Medicare enrollees entering the hospital this year, the deductible rate rises to $60 for any spell of illness beginning in 1971.

"The Medicare patient will pay $15 daily co-insurance for the 61st through the 90th day of hospital care in 1971," he said. This represents a two dollar increase over the current co-insurance of $13 per day.

In addition, if he is hospitalized over 90 days, the Medicare patient may draw on a 60-day lifetime reserve, paying co-insurance of $30.00 daily (compared to $26 per day before 1971).

"Post-hospital care in a skilled nursing home will cost Medicare enrollees $7.50 per day after the first 20 days," Mr. Jones continued. The present rate is $6.50 per day. Medicare pays the entire costs for the first 20 days.

People should be willing witnesses in criminal cases, ready jurors, and in addition to living within the letter and the spirit of the law, they should report offenders to proper authorities.

Since hospital care costs have risen throughout the country," he said, "Medicare patients, too, must pay more for hospital care."

There have been no increases announced, however, in Medicare's supplementary medical insurance monthly premium of $5.30, covering doctors' services and related charges.

Good Court Signs

THE HOPE that a new, and better, day is on its way for the U. S. Supreme Court was bolstered by several decisions handed down the other day.

Item: The Court let stand an Oregon Supreme Court ruling that a warrantless search of an individual without an arrest is permissible if police have reason to believe a crime has been committed. Recognition of this reasonable right of policemen is, of course, of great help to law enforcement.

Item: The Court refused to review a second-degree murder conviction of an Oregon man who claimed scraping his fingernails for evidence was "unlawful." The courts should give the shortest of shrift to frivolities of this sort.

Item: Also, the Court rejected an appeal by a Connecticut clothing salesman who was ordered to active Army duty because he wore his hair too long to National Guard drills. Rules for dress and grooming are part of the discipline the armed forces must have if they are to perform their function properly.

To the Justices: Keep up the good work.

Janice Hellinger
And Steven Yosten
Say Vows at Mass

Army Specialist Four Steven Yosten and his bride are honeymooning enroute to Manitou Springs, Colo., to make their home. She is the former Miss Janice Hellinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hellinger of Lindsay. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Yosten of Muenster.

The couple was married in St. Peter Church at Lindsay Saturday, Jan. 9. Father Damian Wewers, pastor, celebrated the afternoon Nuptial Mass and heard the double ring vows.

White mums, greenery and candles decorated the altar space.

Mrs. Cecilia Schmitz furnished organ music. Mrs. Ben Hermes, Mrs. Bruno Zimmerman, Rudy Dieter and Nick Elock were vocalists. Mrs. Zimmerman sang "Mother at Your Feet" as the bride placed a bouquet of white mums on the Blessed Virgin's altar after the vows.

Presented by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over peau de soie. The bodice of lace had a highrise neckline featuring scallops of the lace pattern. Rows of lace were appliqued down the dress front emphasizing the highrise Empire waist. Motifs of the lace and seed pearls were appliqued on the points of the long fitted sleeves and on the chapel length train.

Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a flower headpiece of lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Miss Joyce Hellinger was her sister's maid of honor and the bride's cousin Miss Janie Spires of Gainesville was bridesmaid.

They wore floor-length gowns of watermelon pink peau de soie with pink flower trim at the Empire waist and neckline. Velvet bows were in their hair and they carried nosegays of pink roses showered with ribbon.

Bestman was the bridegroom's brother Jerry Yosten or Navy leave from San Diego, Calif. James Hellinger, the bride's brother, was groomsman. Pete Hellinger Jr. and Kenny Yosten were ushers.

Wedding reception and buffet were held in Lindsay Parish Hall for about 200 guests. They were registered by Miss Linda Spires and Miss Christine Bengfort, cousins of the bridegroom.

A dance concluded wedding festivities.

For their honeymoon trip the bride wore a royal blue suit and black accessories. They will be at home at 1 Brook Street in Manitou Springs.

The bridegroom was graduated from Muenster High School and is serving at Fort Carson, Colo., as a clerk-type.

The bride is a graduate of Lindsay High School and has been employed at Jr. Elite Dress Factory in Muenster.

It may be more dangerous for the protesting young men to stay home than be shipped off to Viet Nam. Those in the 15-24 year age bracket lead all others in those killed in accidents for the second quarter of the year in N. Y. State. Deaths in that group totaled 246, of that number 175 were motor vehicle tragedies. In the same period (three months) 106,600 were injured.

Wayne Trachta
Make Home Here
After Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Trachta have returned to Muenster to make their home following their wedding trip to Colorado where they were snowbound for a length honeymoon.

The bride is the former Miss Debbie Cain, daughter of Mrs. Richard (Dick) Cain and the late Mr. Cain. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Trachta.

Sacred Heart Church was the beautiful setting for the holiday wedding on Dec. 26 at 5 p.m. The day marked the silver wedding anniversary of the bridegroom's parents.

Father Bede Mitchel celebrated the Nuptial Mass and directed the exchange of vows in a double ring ceremony. Anthony Luke, organist, played the wedding procession and recessional.

Other music was by Misses Debbie Yosten, Cheryl Otto and Laurie Wimmer who sang to their own guitar accompaniment.

Pausing along the way to present a long-stemmed white rose to her mother, Debbie paced the aisle on the arm of her brother, Dickie Cain of Denton, who presented her for marriage.

She wore a romantically styled wedding gown of floor length white velvet and a lace-edged veil that cascaded into a cathedral-length train which was carried by a niece, little Miss Kelley McCollum of Dallas. The bride's bouquet was a white orchid surrounded by white roses and stephanotis. Adding wedding sentiment she wore a pearl necklace belonging to the groom's mother and had a penny in shoe.

Miss Jan Wilde attended as maid of honor and Mrs. Sandra Christian of Lewisville, and Mrs. Judy Harman of Denton, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Cheryl Raney of Dallas were bridesmaids.

Little Misses Stephanie Richey of Gainesville and Shauna Cain of Denton, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Richey Christian of Lewisville, a nephew, was ring bearer.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids wore floor length red velvet gowns and carried white fur muffs with red roses. Their headpieces were red velvet bows.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother Glenn Trachta. Groomsmen were Chris Cain, a brother, Robert Walterscheid, cousin of the groom, and Bob Daley of Los Angeles, Calif., an army buddy of the groom.

As the newlyweds left the church the bride presented a long-stemmed white rose to her mother-in-law.

Wedding reception was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall where Mrs. Larry Wetsel of Wichita Falls, and Miss Kathy Rhone of Bellevue registered guests.

Misses Robyn Ann Richey of Gainesville and Tami Sue Cain of Denton opened and displayed wedding gifts. Jeanne Hartman of Denton and Tracey McCollum of Dallas, handed out rice bags. The four are nieces of the bride.

The handsome three-tier wedding cake was baked by Mrs. Al Horn who assisted in serving it with pink Hawaiian punch from a crystal punch service. Guests helped themselves to finger foods.

The bride's mother attended the wedding and festivities in a French blue wool dress with three-quarter length coat and matching accessories. The groom's mother wore a pale green knit costume with matching accessories. Both had orchid corsages.

When the couple left on their wedding trip the bride wore a red and white pants suit with matching coat and red crushed patent accessories.

She is a graduate of Muenster High and he was graduated from Subiaco Academy, Ark. He has served two years in the Army with one year in Vietnam. Both are attending Cooke County Junior College. They are residing in Sylvan's Mobile Home Park.

Muenster Divides Pair of B Games With Pilot Point

B teams of Muenster High School divided with the Pilot Point second stringers in a pair of games here last Thursday night. The local gals edged ahead in the final minutes for a 28-27 win after which the visiting boys got revenge by a score of 50-31.

The girls game was neck and neck all the way with Pilot Point leading the first three periods by counts of 11-7, 15-13 and 18-17. In the closing minutes Muenster moved ahead and held the lead. Scoring were Janet Swirczynski 13, Joyce Swirczynski 8, Becky Jaska 6 and Paula Sickling 1.

Pilot Point boys gained in every quarter for scores of 12-9, 27-15, 41-24 and 50-31. Top scorers for Muenster were Jerry Eckart 9, Ronnie Felderhoff 8 and Lonnie Hellman 4.

Next action will be with Valley View's B teams there Thursday.

Swirczynski Kin Hurt in Car Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swirczynski have word that their granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Doty of Dallas, who were injured in a car crash on New Year night are improved. Mrs. Doty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Swirczynski of Mesquite and was more seriously injured than her husband. She is a patient at Baylor Hospital with a broken leg and other injuries. Mr. Doty was treated for a head injury and bruises and was released from the hospital.

A grandson of the Joe Swirczynski and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Knauf, who were seriously injured in a highway accident on Dec. 19, are slowly improving in a Denver, Colo., hospital and may soon be transferred to a hospital in their hometown, Colorado Springs. Jerry is the son of Mrs. Alex Knauf of Colorado Springs.

Juniors Win Two Over Sunset Kids

The two elementary basketball teams of Muenster Public School beat Sunset in opening games of the Forestburg tournament Monday. Those two wins advance the teams to semifinals of the champ brackets, in which they will meet the Forestburg boys and girls Friday afternoon.

Muenster girls had little more than a practice session as they took their game by a count of 23-2. Becky Fields led the scoring with 11 and Nancy Fisher added 4.

The boys' game was better, but still one-sided, as Muenster gained in all periods but one for the count of 63-43. Scores ending the first three quarters were 12-4, 30-15 and 42-23.

Tom Otto led the effort with 17 points, Randy Wolf added 9 and Terry Walterscheid 8. The two teams will play again Thursday in a 4-game program of B and junior teams at Valley View.

Certificates issued to those under 21 will be labeled for "federal elections only until 21 years of age." Same document will contain birthdate so it can be used for state and local elections after applicant turns 21.

When she was asked why she refused to take tranquilizers prescribed by her doctor, a Dallas woman said: "The last time I was on them I found myself being friendly to people I wouldn't even speak to otherwise."

If all farms with a value of production of less than $2,500 were eliminated, we'd have 42% fewer farms. If that figure was raised to less than $5,000, we'd lose 56% of our farms, and at $10,000 we'd lose 72% of them.

Water Adds to The Cost of Food

"We're paying more and more at the supermarket just for the privilege of carrying home plain, ordinary water," reports Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist.

Soup manufacturers have realized that consumers will pay a good price for water, so they're adding it at the plant, the specialist explains. By advertising an "honest, old-fashioned soup," they can get the public to pay two to three times the single serving price of condensed soups.

A recent survey taken in Washington, D. C. shows that soups with water added cost about 12.5 cents per serving, while condensed soups cost about 4.2 cents for the same serving.

There are other products in which we pay for water, Mrs. Myers adds. Some puddings and whipped toppings come ready-to-eat. Fruit drinks often containing only 6 percent actual fruit are made up mostly of water.

"Just think how much we've spent on bottled drinks and the energy exerted luggin home all those bottles of water," she points out.

But convenience can't be ruled out. When we're in a hurry or unable to make the product ourselves, convenience foods come in handy. Products such as ready-to-eat puddings and toppings save cooking and cleaning equipment. And some take the guesswork out of cooking.

Soups and soft drinks, however, are another story. A can of soup still needs to be opened and the contents heated in a pan. Do you consider it much work to add water?

The next time you feel the cost of living tugging at your pocketbook, stop and think. Is it worth the extra cost to have someone else turn on the faucet?

ASC Announces Basic Provisions For Wheat Yields

Chester Calhoun, chairman of Cooke ASC County Committee, announces that the basic provisions for proven wheat yields are continued under the Agricultural Act of 1970. A producer may elect to establish a yield for his farm based on actual production rather than use of a yield established by the county committee on judgment basis only.

The base period for establishing 1971 farm yields is 1967, 1968, and 1969. To prove his yield, a producer must have harvested wheat acreage in each of these three years and be able to provide reliable proof of production on the harvested acres.

In order to assure consideration, producers may file a written request by January 22, 1971. Production data timely received will be considered by the county committee before notices of 1971 farm wheat yields are mailed.
