Drive Right

A professor at one of our state universities was quoted as saying that the administration of our colleges and universities must keep ahead of student demands, or they are asking for trouble.

He said that civilization reminds him of cars on a busy freeway. If the cars in front don't speed up, there will be rear end collisions.

One thing this professor may not have thought about is that there are speed limits on freeway traffic, and there is a possibility that the collisions are caused by the cars in back going too fast.

It might also be well to remember that a sizeable number of the demands for change made by the more militant students on the campus of his university and others may be coming from reckless drivers who are traveling the wrong way on a one-way street.

Too Good

An old farmer was an incurable grumbler. One fall he had the best apple crop for miles around. A neighbor stopped to congratulate him.

"Well Hiram, you sure ought to be happy now," he said. "You've got the finest apple crop ever raised in these parts."

The other farmer grumbled: "Well, I suppose it will do, but where's the rotten ones for the hogs?"

WHO PROTESTS THE TRAFFIC TOLL?

A LIFE-SAVING CAMPAIGN

On July 8, 1959 the first United States troops were lost in combat in Vietnam. Since that time some 40,000 Americans have been killed in the war. This is a fact everyone deplors.

In that same period over 450,000 persons have been killed on the streets and highways of this country in traffic accidents. This is another fact we all deplore.

The young people of the nation and many adults, too, are protesting the war deaths. This is their right as long as the protests are not violent and do not injure others.

But what are the people who protest the war deaths doing to protest and prevent the enormous number of deaths in the traffic category — a toll which each year now exceeds the total war toll of a whole decade. The year 1969 was the bloodiest and costliest in the nation's history of highway accidents.

The conduct of the war is in the hands of the government. But the tragic traffic toll is in the public domain. Everyone could have a part in reducing it. Wouldn't this be a constructive drive for young people to get involved in?

Out of This World

A short item in CIPSCO News, a house organ of the Central Illinois Public Service Company, helps to bring into proper perspective the cost of the moon programs: "... Some people may still complain that the 24 billion spent since 1961 to put man on the moon could have been put to better use here on Earth. Imagine, however, five times that amount -- $120 billion -- for use in improving the lot of mankind. That's the amount paid in interest on the national debt since 1961 -- a figure clearly out of this world."

It would be difficult to think of anything less productive than interest payments on the national debt. They are the price of political squandering of the nation's substance. If anything, the space program and the technological advances resulting from it, may help to make the burden a little easier to bear.
 —Industrial News Review

There's Also An Obligation

If you kept telling a child about his rights and never about his duties. You'd soon have a spoiled brat on your hands. We're doing the same thing in this country but on a vastly more dangerous scale.

The "rights" of unions to strike for more pay but no obligation to earn it.

The "rights" of new nations to independence but no obligation to prove they deserve it, no obligation to use freedom for the good of mankind.

The "right" of young people to education but no obligation to pay their own way to get it.

The "rights" of criminals and communists to flout the laws of our land, without any obligation to contribute to its worth and its freedom.

Spoiled children grow into adult criminals, who have to be punished by the decent society they defy. Why wait?
 —Warner and Swasey.

Law and (Dis)Order

As with many other areas in the United States, the Nation's Capital has experienced a shocking rise in crime. Many suburban area residents avoid going into the District at night for fear of their personal safety. Bank robberies and murder are common place. Many small businessmen have closed their doors after being "hit" by not one, but continual holdups. Rapes and other serious crimes have been committed in broad daylight.

Serious efforts are now being made by law enforcement officials and concerned citizens to crack down on crime. The drive has the active support of all sorts of groups — civic, social, church, and business. One Washington commercial radio station has been strongly backing pending legislation calling for a mandatory prison sentence for anyone using a gun in the commission of a crime. An Episcopal minister has called for sterilization of convicted rapists.

Strangely, however, strong resistance to these and other anti-crime proposals has been coming from so-called "liberals", in Congress and out. "Gun control" advocates who want to restrict or remove firearms from everyone, have failed to support measures to remove guns from criminals.

Recently, an ad-hoc citizen's group to combat crime invited the District police chief and a representative from the U.S. Attorney General's office to address a meeting called to discuss the crime problem. The meeting was disrupted by a screaming band of "ladies" calling themselves the "WITCHES" — the Women's International Terrorist Conspiracy from Hell. Dressed in weird costumes, they proceeded to attack the speakers with catcalls and epithets, sprinkled with a generous portion of foul and unprintable language. "Facist pigs" was one of their milder outcries. It is noteworthy that one of the shouted slogans of the invaders was "Stop prosecuting the Chicago Eight". The "eight", of course, are the extremist "new left" radicals now on trial for allegedly conspiring to riot against the democratic convention in 1968.

The "liberals" have also leaped, with moral and financial support, to the defense of the "Black Panthers" whose members are currently on trial in courts across the land, charged with any number of violent crimes.

But, since the "liberals" have in the past supported the criminal acts of Stalin, Ho Chi Minh, Vo Giap and others, and have similarly supported the Communist criminal invasion and persecution of such lands as Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and South Vietnam, it logically follows that these self-same "liberals" should come to the defense of criminal elements in the United States today.

Miss Debbie Cler And Danny Wyatt Say Vows at Mass

Miss Debbie Cler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cler, pledged wedding vows with Danny Wyatt in a double ring ceremony Saturday in Sacred Heart Church during nuptial Mass. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wyatt, 1014 Moss Street, Gainesville.

Father Andrew Wewer officiated at the 7 p. m. services.

Wedding music was provided by Anthony Luke, organist, and Miss Bettye Dodds, soloist, who sang "On This Day" before Mass and "Mother at Your Feet" after the services when the bride placed the traditional bouquet on the Blessed Virgin's altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace over peau de soie with shaped Empire bodice, high rise neckline, long puffed sleeves and a three-tier lace chapel-length train. A crown of seed pearls held her triple-tiered veil and she carried a white orchid, stephanotis and carnations.

Adding sentiment to her wedding, the bride carried an antique prayer book that her maternal great-grandmother gave her grandmother, the late Mrs. A. T. Hoehn who carried it on her wedding day as did the bride's mother and her sisters. And she had a six-piece in her shoe.

Miss Christi Cler was her sister's maid of honor and Miss Ann Sicking of Fort Worth was bridesmaid. They wore floor-length yellow crepe Empire gowns and matching veiled headpieces. Their flowers were crescent shaped bouquets of yellow-centered white fiji mums and acacia.

Jim Jones of Gainesville was best man and Leon Fuhrmann, bride's brother-in-law, was groomsmen. Charles Cler, a cousin, and Robert Sicking ushered.

Wedding reception and dinner were held in the Parish Hall for some 80 guests. They were registered by Miss Dolores Sicking of Fort Worth and Mrs. Jim Jones of Gainesville.

When they left on their honeymoon the bride was wearing a black, white and yellow costume with black accessories. They will make their home in Fort Worth. She is with the office personnel of Montgomery Ward and he is employed at General Dynamics.

Relatives and friends from Fort Worth, Nocona and Gainesville were among wedding guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cler wore a turquoise knit suit and Mrs. Wyatt, mother of the groom, wore a navy ensemble. Both had corsages of white and yellow fiji mums.

Her car stalled at the corner, and the traffic light kept changing—red, yellow, green, red, yellow, green.

The policeman stepped over to the car and asked in a hurt voice: "What's the matter lady, aint we got any colors you like?"

Hydroponics Is Program Topic at Garden Club Meet

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club members learned about Hydroponics — soil-less growth of plants — at their January meeting when Parker Yarbrough and Waller English showed slides and explained the cultivation of plants by placing the roots in liquid nutrient solution rather than in soil.

This has been successfully done in the growth of tomatoes at Era and the pictures showed the portable plastic greenhouse used.

Mrs. L. B. Bruns was hostess in her home and Mrs. Pat Stelzer, president, conducted the business session. Miss Bettye Dodds, program chairman, introduced the guest speakers.

It was announced that the club will erect a Martin bird house at the Public School and will plant a tree on the grounds in connection with the organization's project on conservation.

After adjournment the hostess served refreshments to 15 members.

Mrs. Wieler Hosts HD Club Members

Muenster Home Demonstration Club's January meeting was held with Mrs. John Wieler as hostess in her home and 17 members present.

Mrs. Bill Lutkenhaus, president, presided Mrs. Rudy Hellman gave the county council report, Mrs. Alois Rohmer and Mrs. Andy Schoech reported on visiting shut-ins and Mrs. Earl Robison volunteered for visits this month.

Miss Dona Brewster, assistant county home demonstration agent, gave the program on "Design Is Everywhere" and illustrated with leaflets distributed to members.

After business Mrs. Bruno Fleitman directed a game in which Mrs. Paul Fisher won the prize and the hostess served refreshments assisted by her daughter Mrs. John Broome.

Muenster Hi Wins Four Game Series With Era Teams

Muenster High's basketball teams made a clean sweep of their four games with Era Friday and Tuesday nights. The first pair of games was at Era, the other pair at MHS.

The two battles of the Hornets were sizzlers, both decided in the final minutes. In the first one both teams had a miserable first quarter ending 3-3. Next period Era pulled ahead 17-11. Ending the third Era was still ahead 25-23 and then came a see saw final period in which Muenster's strong final minute netted the final lead of 40-33.

Gerry Cash led the scoring with 17, John Monday hit 15, Bobby Bruns 5 and Jim Endres 3.

The next game was another see saw affair but different in higher scoring and more fouling. Midway in the last quarter, within about a minute, five players were ousted on fouls: Monday and Schneider for Muenster, Cook, Nash and Ford for Era. The losses hurt Era worse and Muenster piled up the points in the remaining minutes.

MHS made a good start for a 19-12 lead but fell behind 28-27 at intermission. The lead changed several times in the last half and Muenster led 43-39 at the third quarter and 67-53 at the end. MHS scorers were Monday 22, Cash 16, Endres 9, Bruns 7, Glenn Felderhoff 6, John Schneider 5, Tom Henscheid 2.

The girls games likewise were similar in that MHS gained steadily for a final lead of 20 points. First start was slow for a 13-12 advantage but quarters after that ended at 25-17, 34-24 and 52-30. Point makers were Doris Felderhoff 25, Joan Monday 13, Debbie Yosten 8, Sue Flusche 4, Janet Swirczynski 2.

The second game was more of the same as Muenster led all the way for counts of 11-5, 24-14, 34-21 and 46-26 ending the quarters. Daris Felderhoff scored 27, Joan Monday 11, Debbie Yosten 8 and Sue Flusche 2.

The last pair of games begins the second half of the season's schedule in which the order of games for the first half is being reversed. Next action for MHS will be Slidell here Friday and Lindsay here Tuesday. Team records in 30-B contests to date are 5-2 for the boys and 4-4 for the girls.

Miss Clara Richter returned to Dallas Wednesday after a week's visit here. She was the houseguest of her sister, Mrs. H. A. Walterscheid and visited with the rest of the relationship.

Siesta Time

For Mother And Future Engineer

America's foremost mechanical engineer never learned his trade at MIT or Caltech. What's more, he was felling trees, building bridges, damming streams and constructing homes by the time he was two years old!

Such a description could apply, of course only to the beaver. This amazing animal, the subject of mystery and conjecture for centuries, will be pictured from his own vantage point underwater as "The World of the Beaver" is telecast in color over NBC January 30, at 7:30 p.m. EST. The sponsor of the wildlife special is the Quaker Oats Company.

Scenes never before captured on film will show the beaver gathering material to build a dam, piling stones on the bottom and building upwards by wedging in twigs and branches. The viewer will act as a spectator as the beaver next constructs his lodge, skillfully arranging a "drying room," a "living room," and only underwater entrances, so that he can be safe from enemies.

As most wildlife enthusiasts know, beavers are marvelous construction and drainage engineers, as evidenced by the extensive water canal systems they build under their lodges. During the winter they store branches and bark in their larder. Then, even though there may be ice and snow above, they can swim through their canals to get food.

The beaver's role in the early days of North America could hardly be exaggerated. This versatile animal actually was the first natural resource of the whole area. Beaver skins were "coin of the realm" in Canada, for example, and the Hudson Bay Company used them as a value upon which centuries, will be pictured from his own vantage point underwater as "The World of the Beaver" is telecast in color over NBC January 30, at 7:30 p.m. EST. The sponsor of the wildlife special is the Quaker Oats Company.

Beavers are perhaps nature's best conservationists. They benefit almost every living thing, from the tiny pine squirrel who can enjoy a meal in safety atop the beaver lodge to man himself who can make productive use of the rich soil that the beaver has reclaimed from rocky river beds and sparsely covered hillsides.

When, after several years of service, the dams no longer are required by the beavers which built them, they eventually give way and are washed downstream. But the land they fed and saved from erosion now appears, and this soil is among the most fertile in the world. Fed and nourished by leaves, algae, and parts of trees, it is highly prized by landowners.

Our Changing Words
Remember when Hippie meant big in the hip, And a trip involved travel in car, plane or ship?— When pot was a vessel for cooking things in — And hook was what grandmother's rug may have been.

And fix was a verb that meant mend or repair, And "be-in" meant simply existing somewhere. When neat meant well organized, tidy and clean, And grass was a ground cover usually green. When the lights and not people were turned on and off, And a pill might have been what you took for a cough. When groovy meant furrowed with channels and hollows, And birds were wing creatures like robins and swallows. It's groovy man, groovy, but English it's not, One wonders if the language has gone straight to pot.

Bill Carroll Asks For Re-Election As County Judge

County Judge Wm. W. (Bill) Carroll announced today he will be a candidate for re-election. He has served as County Judge of Cooke County since 1963.

Judge Carroll said his campaign will be based on his record of experience and his effectiveness in office.

He said "I believe it important for a County Judge to be impartial and independent in the discharge of his duties. He must not be controlled nor be a rubberstamp for those who would use the office for their personal gain."

Judge Carroll was born in Cooke County and attended Gainesville public schools. He graduated from Tulane University at New Orleans, La., and the University of Texas Law School.

He is active in civic affairs and at present is Chairman of the Gainesville Housing Authority, director of Cooke County Development Foundation and Gainesville Industrial Authority. (Paid Pol. Ad.)

Guest Speaker for PTC January 28

Lindsay Parent-Teacher Club will meet January 28 at 8 p.m. and will have as guest speaker Tom Fluker, guidance counselor for Lindsay and several other county schools.

He will explain services available through his office.

His talk should be of special interest to parents now that first semester reports have been sent home, the faculty said.

WM. (BILL) CARROLL

Logic Is Logic

A man was charged with using counterfeit money to pay a bill. At his hearing, the defendant pleaded that he didn't know that the money was phony. Pressed for proof, he blurted, "Because I stole it. Would I be stealing money if I knew it was counterfeit?"

That made good sense to the judge, so he tossed out the counterfeit charge. But he substituted a new charge: theft.

"Sure, I stole it," the defendant conceded amiably. "But counterfeit money has no legal value. Since when is it a crime to steal nothing?"

No one could find any flaws in his logic, so the man went free. All of which shows that two wrongs—if the breaks are with you—can make a right.

Hermes Re-elected Prexy Hood Club

Principal business at the January meeting of Hood Community Club was election of club officers and Cemetery Association officers. William Hermes presided and the Rev. Pledger led the opening prayer.

Club officers are William Hermes, re-elected president; Don Fenley, vice president; Margaret Blount, secretary-treasurer.

Cemetery Association officers are Earl Taylor, president; Don Fenley, vice president; Jim Blount, secretary. The cemetery is a project of the club.

It was voted to ask Mrs. Milton Thomason to write a history of Hood Community.

January 29 was set for members to meet at the club building to work on record books.

Members presented Mr. and Mrs. Hermes with a lamp in appreciation for their work the past two years.

A chili and soup supper was served to 25 attending.

Aesop may have invented the fable, but married men improved on it.

Creating a Word

What makes a combination of letters a word? And how is a new word accepted by the lexicographer of society?

A Penn State professor of speech, Dr. Gerald Phillips, wants to find out. So he has coined the new word called khulyages. "I do not know what it means. I urge you to use it every chance you get and hopefully it will acquire creditability and meaning," he told his class. "There are really no good common American words that start with K-H in our dictionary anyway, and it will be a boon to Scabble fans all over the world."

One unidentified youngster who slipped this note under Dr. Phillips' door one day said, "Khulyages is a situation in which alternatives are perfectly clear, but what is not clear is whether the alternatives are any better than the situation. Example: You're in a cafeteria and you have a tuna and noodle casserole in front of you when all of a sudden you realize they're also serving Sloppy Joes and Chop Suey."

The new implied consent law specifies that the act of driving implies one's willingness to take the alcohol breath test if suspected of drinking to the excess. Refusal carries the same penalty as a bad test, that is, suspension of one's driving license for a year.

The gruesome statistics on traffic accidents present abundant reason for the state's new driving regulations. They also present a big incentive for learning and practicing good driving habits, both offensively and defensively.

26th International Horticultural Show In Ghent, City Of Flowers, In 1970

The City of Ghent, Belgium will hold its 1970 Floralia from April 25 to May 4. Organized in 1809 by the Royal Agricultural and Botanical Society of Ghent, the Floralia which is held every five years draws more than one million visitors.

An international jury of 100 members will judge the more than 800 contests for the tens of thousands of plants, trees, shrubs and cut flowers that will be exhibited for prize money.

Begonias, for which Belgium is justly famous, will undoubtedly be among winning blooms. They are grown chiefly in the countryside around Ghent by some 600 market gardeners — mainly family firms — to make this the largest begonia-growing center in the world. The annual output represents 80 million bulbs, 80% of which are exported to 34 countries throughout the world. This lovely flower, in raiment of many colors, blooms for five months.

Europe begins in Belgium and Brussels, its capital, offers easy commuting distance to Belgium's varied attractions including a visit to the Ghent Floriales. SABENA Belgian World Airlines' jets fly to Brussels daily from New York.
