

Seemingly too good to be true are the reports early this week of a possible pleasing settlement of the Czech crisis. There's talk that the Soviet troops are to be withdrawn and Dubcek will be allowed to return to the Prague government.

If so, it means that Russia is backing down. People of Czechoslovakia will be allowed to continue their program of liberalizing political, economic and cultural standards. And the Kremlin crowd will have failed to bend a satellite country to its iron will. People of the free world along with millions of freedom loving people in the communist world hope that the affair will be settled this way.

One wonders, of course, about the significance behind it all. Was it a change of heart or a change of judgment? Did the Moscow bosses mellow suddenly and admit that the Czechs are entitled to independence and freedom? Or did they realize they had pulled a colossal blunder in which the mission would cost more than it is worth? We'd bet on the latter.

One fact became apparent quickly. Czechs offered very little military resistance. They decided wisely against defying the long odds. But they showed that they would be uncooperative under Russian rule. A short general strike gave the Soviets something to think about. If that was a sample of what was to come the country would be more of a liability than an asset.

Czechoslovakia in recent years has been one of the most prosperous satellites, and Russia reaped fat benefits because of favorable trade relations. It would have been folly for Russia to hurt itself by goading the Czechs into non cooperation. Furthermore, occupation is expensive, a burden which must have caused some second thoughts in the Kremlin.

In addition the Soviet image was hurt badly by its iron fist method. Opinion was unfavorable all over the world. People everywhere had the opportunity to see that communists had not really mellowed after all. They were still the same old brutal slave masters.

Well, expediency may induce the Kremlin to back down, but it will not undo the blunder already made. The Soviets have shown their real nature as power hungry imperialists operating on a double standard. They sought to hold by force a country that was slipping out of their iron fist influence. In so doing they violated their own sanctimonious pronouncements on self determination.

The issue of self determination here presents a real classic of hypocrisy. Russia, while supporting the rebels of South Vietnam, has claimed that Vietnamese should be allowed to decide their own affairs. It has preached this policy all along, knowing very well that it was actually denying the legitimate Vietnamese government's right to self determination. The Czech affair was exactly opposite. The legitimate government of Prague had no internal problems and was rapidly attaining higher standards of freedom and progress. It was enjoying the sacred right of self determination when Russia moved in and ordered restoration of the hard red line.

The excuse given for the invasion was a complete fraud. Soviets said their help had been asked. But by whom? By a few hard line die hards of Czechoslovakia. Not by the legitimate government. That's equivalent to saying the Soviets are justified in invading this country if Gus Hall or Stokely Carmichael asks them to. In fact, this line of thinking justifies them in taking over any nation which has a few communist sympathizers. It's amazing that even the Soviets would try to impose such twisted logic on the world.

The apparent happy ending of the Czech affair, however, is definitely no assurance that all is well in the global struggle. Rather it's just a strategic retreat as the Kremlin realizes that this way is better in its long range program. Big reds have not abandoned their plan of world domination, and free countries had better keep aware of that fact.

This column fervently hopes that our next administration will adopt a more positive

Students Begin School Year with Solemn Services

Special services in Sacred Heart Church Monday and Tuesday morning opened the new school year on a solemn note for students of the parish.

The ceremonies were conducted separately to avoid crowding. Parochial school students had their on Monday. Public school students had theirs Tuesday.

While the Tuesday service was in progress an alternate service was conducted during the assembly period in the MHS auditorium. Principal Charles Cash spoke briefly and led in prayer. Bettey Dodds directed and Garelid Payne accompanied in sacred and patriotic singing.

The church services featured special rituals in which representatives of classes, sports and other activities placed articles on a table symbolic of their studies and other interests, dedicating their efforts to the glory of God and asking for Gods blessing. An added detail in Monday's ceremony was the presentation of several students by their parents for the service of God.

Father Placidus was celebrant of the Mass both days, also spoke to the students on the opportunity available to them, the duty of using their time to advantage, the importance of a sound background in religion and morality for happiness here and hereafter.

SIXTY FEET LITTLE
—This is Li'l Tex, the symbol of Texas Western Fair of Fort Worth. The 60-foot-tall "little" fellow will beckon visitors to the Sept. 20-29 fair affixed to the 140-foot main tower of the Will Rogers Memorial Center. More than 500,000 guests are expected for Fort Worth's first big-time fair.

Hoedebeck GMC Has New Location

Hoedebeck GMC, Muenster's dealership for GMC trucks and pickups, owned and operated by Gene Hoedebeck, will spend the long Labor Day weekend moving into its new location at 216 North Main.

The building is a 40x100 brick structure built about fifty years ago by Frank Seyler and John Lehnertz for their Ford agency. It was bought recently by Hoedebeck from Bruno Fleitman and Albert Dangelmayr. During the past two decades it has been used principally by Cooke County Electric Co-op and J&L Supply.

The sturdy old landmark will provide considerably more space than the business has been using. In addition to slightly more show area it has separate space for display and office.

Hoedebeck has been the local dealer for GMC trucks and pickups for slightly more than three years. He started in automotive business as an employee at a Denison dealer in 1946, shortly after returning from World War II. He came to Muenster in 1951 and joined the service department of Wilde Chevrolet. He opened his own service shop in September 1964.

Working with Hoedebeck at the GMC agency are Pat Knabe, Joe Trubenbach and Leon Knave.

Outlook of Tigers Improves as Nine Boys Join Squad

Prospects for Joe Felderhoff and his Sacred Heart Tigers got a big lift this week as the beginning of classes brought out several new candidates for the squad.

The roster was boosted to 28 as four seniors, two juniors and three freshmen donned the uniforms. And Coach Felderhoff was elated by a big improvement in size and depth of the team. To begin he had only five seniors and four juniors plus a number of small, inexperienced sophomores and freshmen. The new men are lacking in experience, he said, but they have adequate size with the potential of developing into good players.

Felderhoff is also encouraged by the fact that the newcomers have come to play. They have the desire to make good, are working hard in practice.

The additions are: Seniors Melvin Bayer, Tim Endres, Steve Fette and Donny Schneider; Juniors Doyle Hess and Douglas Stoffels; Freshmen John Paul Luttmner, Ross Felderhoff and Gene Hess.

At this time Coach Felderhoff is undecided about the positions he will assign. He expects to have more definite ideas along that line toward the end of the week after he has had time to test the new talent.

Theft Made Easy By Keys in Car

Leaving keys in his car was an expensive mistake for William Fisher Monday afternoon. When he got off duty at Fisher's Store about 7:30 p.m. and found it gone.

Apparently the car, a '68 Ford Torino was stolen about 5 p.m. One person saw it being driven away about then but was not aware it had a wrong driver. Another saw it shortly before then and missed it shortly after.

Also stolen with the car was the title and $43 cash, which were in the glove compartment.

Reports of the theft were broadcast immediately to all police officers. Up to Wednesday afternoon there are no reports of finding the car.

3 Center Men on County All Star

Three members of the Muenster Center team, Willie Walterscheid, Alvin Hartman and Joe Felderhoff, were selected to play on the County Softball all-stars team which took on the loop champion undefeated Bullard in a double header Tuesday night.

All-stars lost both of the games, 6-3 in the first and 2-1 in the second. Willie played first base in the first game. Alvin pitched in the second game, losing in an extra inning. Joe was picked for third base but could not go because of football practice with his Sacred Heart Tigers.

Seniors of Muenster High report they will be collecting waste paper all year and ask that residents save newspapers, catalogues, etc. for them. Students will pick up anytime on a call to 759-2535 or 759-4123. They thank everyone who helped in the drive during the summer.

Mrs. Alvin Hartman has joined the clerking staff at Fisher's Market & Grocery.

Swimming Pool's Paid Attendance In '68 was 8725

Muenster's municipal swimming pool had 8725 swimmers during the season which ended last Sunday. Ronnie Russell, pool manager, gave the figure in his report this week and also indicated that there were 2898 40 cent admissions and 5827 20 cent admissions.

His record did not show about 200 children who used the pool without charge for five classes of Red Cross swimming instruction, nor the free swims on passes given for teaching the swim lessons.

City Manager Steve Moster said when all figures are in they will show that the pool very nearly broke even for the season. Admissions were $2324.60 and commissions on leased out concessions are expected to be near $150. And expense is expected to be near the budgeted estimate of $2375. It isn't apparent now whether the season operation will be in the red or black, but it will be close either way.

Fishing Derby for Kids Set Sunday

A fishing derby for sub-teen children will be held next Sunday at Weinzapfel's Lake under sponsorship of the Muenster Jaycees. Plans for it originated at the organization's meeting last week. Robert Fisher is chairman in charge. The hours are 2 to 5 p.m.

Children will compete in two divisions — one group under 9, the other 9 to 13, and three prizes are offered in each division. One is for the greatest number of fish, one for the biggest fish, one for the smallest fish.

Each contestant is expected to bring his own equipment and bait.

Hornets to Meet Dragons Friday in Scrimmage Test

Two weeks of rugged practice for Muenster's Hornets will be topped off Friday night as they take on the Chico Dragons in practice scrimmage on the MHS field.

Coaches Glenn Richardson and Dan Hamric are looking forward to the event as a good test for their boys. The Dragons beat the Hornets 21-0 last year in district competition. They are not members of the loop this year.

However, the coaches are confident that things are different this year. The Hornets are starting the season with the best hold-over of experienced players in many seasons, and they have been working hard. Both coaches are pleased with their progress so far.

Richardson said the team is the best of many years from the standpoint of weight and experience, and that applies in depth. The starting lineup is made up of senior and junior lettermen most of whom are backed up by an eager group of substitutes including several more lettermen.

In general it is last year's first and second string less three graduates, plus a year of growth and experience, plus the addition of three seniors who were ineligible last year and one senior who was out on doctor's orders.

Richardson named two men for each offensive position as those he expects to do most of the work for him. They are right ends Bobby Bruns and Andy Knabe; right tackles Ken Swirczynski and Tommy Henschaid; right guards Mike Cason and David Stormer; Centers David Fette and Terry Miller; left guards Robin Wimmer and Leon Klement; left tackles Mike Hennigan and Henry Sicking; left ends Alcuin Schilling and John Felderhoff; quarterbacks John Monday and Dale Cash; fullbacks Don Hartman and Tim Hennigan; tailbacks Clifford Sicking and Henry Knabe; wingbacks Mark Hellman and Sam Sparkman.

Deputy Sheriff Is New Resident

Deputy Sheriff Robert Kaylor this week became a resident of Muenster. He with his wife and two pre-school children moved in Tuesday, occupying the house at 123 N. Oak Street.

Mr. Kaylor is the resident deputy assigned to Muenster. The city and the Sheriff's department cooperate on a 50-50 basis in paying his salary. He has been on the job for several weeks but unable until now to find living quarters.

Late Enrollment Adds 20 Students

Revised Count Of Schools, 797

Add 20 to the enrollment of Muenster schools. The record high total of 777 reached in early registrations last week was shattered Monday as a number of students registered when they reported for first classes. The revised total is 797.

Nine of those additions reported to the elementary department of the public school, ten reported to Sacred Heart

City's Water Use Sets Record High Of 470,000 Gallons

Records of the city water department bear witness that hot and dry weather has arrived. Water Superintendent Joe Moster said that city water consumption reached its all time peak of 470,000 gallons last Friday, August 23.

That is the highest since July 21, 1964 when the consumption reached 445,000. Peaks for the years since then were 430,000 gallons on August 14, 1965; 417,000 on May 31, 1966 and 430,000 on August 16, 1967.

Normally water consumption during the summer months is about 300,000 gallons a day, Moster said. That is indicated by pumping totals up to 9 and 10 million for a month. This year it's been different, however. Until lately, while showers were frequent and temperature was mild, the average was about 225,000 gallons a day. But then typical summer weather arrived and water use has increased.

Last Friday several demand factors, including lots of grass watering, seemed to come together. Two of those factors were the football fields, both of which got a good soaking.

Peak monthly consumption here in recent years has been as follows. 1964, 10,098,000 gallons. 1965, 9,866,000 gallons. 1966, 8,168,000 gallons. 1967, 10,550,000 gallons.

elementary and 1 reported to Sacred Heart High. That increases public school enrollment to 416 and parochial school enrollment to 381.

The revised count represents a gain of 48 over the first day enrollment last year, much of it explained by the big difference in number of last year's graduates and this year's beginners. Offsetting 42 grads dropped from the former roll are 72 first graders on the new roll, which accounts for 30 of the gain. Of the remaining 18 a few were late enrollees last year and the others were net gains as transfers coming in outnumbered those going out.

A breakdown of each school's figures shows Sacred Heart with 286 in the first eight grades and 95 in high school; the public school with 133 in the first six grades, 72 in junior high and 161 in high school.

Combined enrollment of the two schools by department is 541 in the first eight grades and 256 in high school.

The revised enrollment by grades in the two schools is as follows:

	SH Sch.	Pub. Sch.
Grade 1	54	20
Grade 2	45	26
Grade 3	38	31
Grade 4	42	36
Grade 5	27	32

Grade 7	25	30
Grade 8	26	42
Grade 9	25	42
Grade 10	22	37
Grade 11	21	47
Grade 12	27	35
Totals	381	416

I HAVE SOME RIGHTS, TOO

The right to walk the streets of my home town in safety. But courts and parole boards have so pampered criminals and hampered police that crime is skyrocketing into anarchy. I have the right to expect my taxes to be prudently used for my country — not squandered on buying votes of pressure groups nor perpetuating bureaus. I have the right to save my own money by doing without — save for a secure future; not to have it stolen by inflation created by wasteful government. I have the right to start my own legitimate business and if I have the ability, see it prosper; not succumb to greedy union bosses who, for their own power and profit, can close me out with an unreasonable, even illegal, strike. I have the right and desire as a decent American to be sure no honest man goes hungry, but I also have the right to insist he do everything he can to earn his own living. This nation was founded by men who rose up in anger against the bossism Taxation without Representation, and established a country where the majority rules (not pressure groups) — the majority of law-abiding, hard-working, tax-paying citizens.

This great nation has come dangerously close to mob rule supplanting majority rule. Any official who supports or tolerates it is untrue to his country and should be treated accordingly.

"IT'S YOUR FAULT"

I just don't dig this premise-generation that believes a man should assume no responsibility for what he does.

The federal government does more to promote this theory than anybody else.

If an individual does something wrong these days, society is at fault. And if a criminal shoots somebody he is not to blame. In the eyes of administration officials, the blame should be placed at the feet of congressmen and senators who oppose confiscatory gun control laws.

In other words, it is their fault that he was allowed to have a gun in the first place.

If Junior starts throwing rocks through the neighbors window, you don't blister his rear end any more. That's old-fashioned. You just gather up all the rocks and hide'em.

Another sign of these perilous times is the excuse the administration uses to justify all the federal giveaway programs. They say the states are to blame. They argue that if the states would go ahead and make welfare payments to women for raising illegitimate kids and to the numerous deadbeats in our society who refuse to work, then the federal government wouldn't have to spend the taxpayers money this way. So, as you can see, the fault lies with the individual states.

What they're trying to tell you is that if somebody sticks a gun in your ribs and takes your money, it's really your fault. If you had handed the money over in the first place it wouldn't have been necessary for him to rob you.

If this sort of a theory doesn't make sense to you, you're just not looking at things in the proper perspective.

All you have to do is take a snort or two of LSD and everything will clear right up.

My advice to young men deciding on a career is to avoid the businesses and the professions and to go into poverty. That's where the big money is.

—Belton Journal

Anyone who thinks total restriction of firearms will eliminate political assassinations or armed robberies is only fooling himself. The man who assassinated President Kennedy was a dedicated communist, the man who is charged with killing Senator Kennedy is an alien and the man who shot Martin Luther King is an escaped convict. There are federal and state laws that prohibit any of these three from owning a gun.

Land of the free and home of the brave! Land where every babe starts life with his $1650 share or more of Federal debt! Land where every boy has a chance to grow up to be President, or at least to be drafted! Land where every person is absolutely free to choose his own job and work where he wishes, provided the union will let him do it! Land where, if a fellow makes a dollar he can keep it, or spend it — except for the 20 or 30 cents or more the government will take. Hold on, let's start over. It is easy enough to be sarcastic. This country of ours falls short of being perfect; yet where is one we might like better? ... We have been reckless with our heritage, but we have not yet damaged it beyond recovery.

BITING OFF THE NOSE

A pet charge of Vietnam critics is that we are "saving a country by destroying it." Perhaps it is valid if taken in the context of "why destroy South Vietnam while aiding the nations that are furnishing and transporting materials to North Vietnam, while preventing South Vietnam from blocking Haiphong Harbor." But we have seen no complaints from these critics on an analogous situation regarding Rhodesia, the United States and the Soviet Union. Perhaps these critics have not gotten around to reading the Congressional Record on November 22 and December 6, 1967.

Chrome is recognized as one of the important strategic minerals essential to our military and space programs. Our current stockpiles of chromite are sufficient for only 6 months; strategic stockpile requirements call for a 2½ year supply. There are only two sources of high-grade chrome ore, Rhodesia and the Soviet Union.

On January 5, 1967, President Johnson issued an executive order implementing the United Nations' sanctions against Rhodesia. Those sanctions were voted by the Security Council at the request of Great Britain.

Foots Mineral Co. is a wholly-owned US enterprise which has mined chrome ore in Rhodesia for years, shipping it to its processing plants in Ohio and West Virginia. Following issuance of the executive order, the company reduced its mining operations to minimum necessary to keep the mines from flooding. It requested permission to import 40,000 tons of ore per year, a minimum to keep the mines in operation and to preclude flooding which would require at least three years and millions of dollars for rehabilitation. The permit was denied, apparently at the behest of our State Department.

If the Rhodesian mines are closed, it will mean the scattering of 27 European experts, some 1,200 skilled African employees and their 3,800 dependents. The Ohio and West Virginia operations will be idled. And the United States will be dependent upon the Soviet Union for a vital strategic material, the price of which has been escalated 25 percent to the detriment of our ailing "balance of payments."

We doubt that any editorial comment is necessary.

LABOR DAY 1968

Labor Day this year falls on the second of September. As the last long three-day holiday of the summer, it signals the coming of the fall season and a pick-up in the tempo of life that is characteristic of this time of year. One of the newest of our national holidays, Labor Day, is intended to commemorate the contributions which labor has made to the economic, social and political development of the United States.

With all of its accomplishments and its present position of eminence and power, labor has gained a deep responsibility to further the orderly working of the U.S. economy and strengthen this nation's ability to compete in the international marketplace of an ever-more competitive world.

This will be a hard task, and as we enjoy the beach or the mountains or the barbecue in our own backyard this Labor Day, let us give a thought and our best wishes to American labor and to the men and women who must help move it and this nation forward.

GREASED SKIDS TO BANKRUPTCY

What is the answer to rising welfare costs? That is a question that may soon be foremost in the minds of voters, as well as officials at every level of government. In spite of statistics that indicate prosperity, the relief rolls continue to grow.

Two states, California and New York are approaching a crisis — 24 million people in these two states live on relief. This amounts to 25 percent of all the welfare recipients in the nation. These two states are expected to spend $4.5 billion on welfare during the next fiscal year. Welfare roles in New York State rose 40 percent in 1966 and 1967. California's welfare tally has doubled in the last five years. Medicaid has become a major part of the welfare picture — $946 million of California's $2.3 billion welfare budget for next year is allocated to medical aid for the needy.

A New York official in commenting on what has become a national problem says, "Welfare is now almost beyond the power of any city to handle. It is getting too big for a State." All of which brings up the question of how much longer candidates for public office can ask for voter support on the strength of bigger spending programs.

Development of Business Stressed By State Co-ops

Efforts to develop the business and industrial, as well as the agricultural, potential of rural Texas received new stimulus in Dallas last week during the 28th Annual Meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc. The 700-plus delegates assembled there August 21-23 vented their concern over the loss of rural youth to urban areas and the need to make rural areas more appealing economically to all Texans.

On hand to counsel with delegates and outline professional assistance available were experts in economics and community development, including James Heath of the Texas Industrial Commission, James Bradley of the industrial economics research division of Texas A&M University, Dr. James H. McCorklin, undersecretary of health, education, and welfare, and Edward Kiley, director of community development for the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

The experts agreed that extension of electric service into rural areas during the last 30 years had enabled many to stay in rural areas and had attracted others — to operate agricultural, business, and industrial enterprise, or just to live. But, the experts also agreed, the rural leadership represented in their Dallas audience is needed now to develop additional opportunities to assure a prosperous future for rural Texas.

In other sessions, delegates heard officials report on activities of the association. George Henry of Wellington, TEC vice-president, reported and president in lieu of the president, M. D. Head of Decatur, who was absent due to illness. Other officials reporting were Joe Lytle of Green Ville, secretary-treasurer, and J. R. Cobb of Austin, general manager. W. G. Newton of Lubbock, Texas director of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, reported on national affairs.

"Why can't we have just one candidate, who can stand on his own two feet and say: I'm for less spending, less taxes, reduction of our national debt, less give-aways, more work for a day's pay, less crime, no riots, less strikes, less wrangling in our schools and universities, less bureaucracy, reduced doles to all federal departments, less waste in armaments, less foreign aid, less big brother to the whole world, more responsibilities to the states, less rent subsidies, less federal intrusion into everything from cradle to grave, more honesty, integrity in office, more thought and consideration to the lowly, downtrodden taxpayer?" —Benton, Mo., Democrat

Farrow of Itasca announced the expansion plans which include a new 100,000 KW generation unit at the recently dedicated Randle W. Miller power plant on Palo Pinto Lake near Mineral Wells, related substations, transmission lines and an expansion of the headquarters building in Waco. The firm of Tippet & Gee has been retained to design and supervise construction of the power plant addition and a target date of 1972 has been set for its completion.

During the next five years, several hundred miles of 69 and 138 KV transmission lines will be added. The program also includes the addition of 24 new substations and capacity increases in numerous existing substations.

The headquarters building in Waco will be enlarged by approximately 8,000 square feet to house the expanding data processing division and the systems operation department. Additional space will be allocated the Area and Industrial Development Division, added in 1967. The firm of Wiedemann and Salmond of Waco are architects for the project.

Mr. Farrow stated that "the construction of these needed facilities exemplify Brazos' planning for the future need and growth of its 19 member electric cooperatives serving over a quarter million Texans in 57 counties."

Development of Business Stressed By State Co-ops

Efforts to develop the business and industrial, as well as the agricultural, potential of rural Texas received new stimulus in Dallas last week during the 28th Annual Meeting of Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc. The 700-plus delegates assembled there August 21-23 vented their concern over the loss of rural youth to urban areas and the need to make rural areas more appealing economically to all Texans.

On hand to counsel with delegates and outline professional assistance available were experts in economics and community development, including James Heath of the Texas Industrial Commission, James Bradley of the industrial economics research division of Texas A&M University, Dr. James H. McCroclin, undersecretary of health, education, and welfare, and Edward Kiley, director of community development for the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

The experts agreed that extension of electric service into rural areas during the last 30 years had enabled many to stay in rural areas and had attracted others — to operate agricultural, business, and industrial enterprise, or just to live. But, the experts also agreed, the rural leadership represented in their Dallas audience is needed now to develop additional opportunities to assure a prosperous future for rural Texas. And each expert described the professional and organizational assistance available from his development agency or firm.

In other sessions, delegates heard officials report on activities of the association. George Henry of Wellington, TEC vice-president, reported and president in lieu of the president, M. D. Head of Decatur, who was absent due to illness. Other officials reporting were Joe Lytle of Green ville, secretary-treasurer, and J. R. Cobb of Austin, general manager. W. G. Newton of Lubbock, Texas director of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, reported on national affairs.

The Clive Gobbles
See Kin, Sights in Calif., Las Vegas

Mr. and Mrs. Clive Gobble had a fun vacation in California and Las Vegas. They were away two weeks on the flying trip — his first air travel.

They flew to Norwalk, Calif., to visit their son and daughter-in-law and grandchildren, the Glenn Cathey family, saw sights of interest in the area and went to Anaheim to see the Angels and Yankees in action.

From there to Buena Park to visit her sister and husband the W. L. Eddys; on to San Bernardino to visit another sister and brother-in-law, the W. H. Pattersons, and a brother and wife, the C. E. Bagwells.

Next was Corona, visiting Clive's brother Earl and family. Then they flew to Sacramento to visit the Woodrow Bagwells who took them to Eldorado National Park and Lake Tahoe.

They also went to Marysville to see cousins and flew back to Corona for a visit before boarding a plane at Riverside for Las Vegas where they were guests of a nephew Kenneth Gobble and had an exciting time visiting the casinos and night clubs and attending stage shows. From there a jet flight back to Dallas.

We're constantly amazed at those young things with their fancy hair-dos and skin-tight pants. And the girls are even worse!

HANDLE MANURE AS A LIQUID--

Quickly, Easily, At a low cost!

The new Clay Honey Wagon liquid manure spreader allows one man to load and spread 5,000 gallons per hour. It's the first real answer to getting valuable manure (liquid, solids and bedding) out of pits or livestock areas and spreading it on your fields. Easy loading is provided by Honey Wagon's dual purpose PTO-powered pump which produces a vacuum in the big 800 and 1,475 gallon tanks. Tank fills in 4 minutes or less. Reverse process and pump produces pressure to force manure out in exceptionally even, 25-foot-wide spray pattern. Agitator in tank homogenizes solids and liquids to keep tank from ever clogging. Isn't it time you started handling your manure the logical way... in a liquid? See us today for complete details... or better yet...

Federal Land Bank Has a New Slogan

Mr. W. P. Waldrop, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Sherman, announced this week that the Federal Land Bank System has adopted as a permanent slogan, "Serving America's Farmers: Providers of Plenty." The local association is a part of a national network of twelve regional banks and 695 local associations. The Land Bank System, which last year celebrated its 50th anniversary, is moving ahead into the second half-century of operations with renewed dedication of purpose to meet the essential long term financial needs of the nation's farmers and ranchers.

"Our System has coped with a variety of great demands made upon it during the past 50 years, all the while maintaining a dependable loan service to farmers and ranchers. As agriculture continues to increase its productive capacity through technology, it will be our purpose to continue to serve the changing credit needs of farmers and ranchers," Mr. Waldrop stated.

The Land Banks and associations comprise a system which is operated entirely on private funds and is owned by its 394,000 member-borrowers whose elected directors formulate its policies. The board of directors of the local association are as follows:

Cooke County: Jimmie Cole, Hugh S. Morgan

Grayson County: T. G. McGraw, Vice President, W. W. Westbrook

Fannin County: G. C. Hodge, President, E. J. Cappleman.

Serving America's Farmers: Providers of Plenty

For more than 50 years The Federal Land Bank of Houston has provided DEPENDABLE agricultural real estate loans to Texas farmers and ranchers. LONG TERM, LOW COST loans with a repayment plan geared to meet each individual's requirement.

Those colorful Colonials from Connecticut, the fifers and drummers of the Deep River (Conn.) Drum Corps, will march again at this year's State Fair of Texas, coming up Oct. 5-20 in Dallas. The New England music makers, wearing white wigs and red and black uniforms carefully copied from those of Revolutionary times, will give several free performances daily Oct. 12 through 17. The two dozen parading Pied Pipers in three-cornered hats drew huge crowds in 1963 and 1965 at the nation's largest annual exposition. The Deep River citizens have been popular favorites since 1873; The State Fair of Texas has been the people's choice since 1886.

Public Relations Man Appointed By Texas Co-ops

A man of many interests and numerous talents is Neal Johnson, newly appointed Information Director for the Texas Electric Cooperatives, Inc. Austin, the statewide service association for rural electric systems.

Johnson will coordinate information pertaining to rural electrification in Texas, including liaison with newspapers, radio and television stations for the organization which represents the 79 rural electric cooperatives in the state.

He succeeds Jim Morriss who resigned his duties only recently to prepare for his work in the missionary field for the Methodist Church.

Entering his work with the Texas Electric Cooperatives, Johnson, 31, brings several years of newspaper and broadcasting experience to his new post. Following his graduation from Abilene Christian College in 1961, he did graduate work at Texas Tech. He was Farm Editor for the Wichita Falls Times and Record News and Farm Director of KFDX-TV, Wichita Falls and KCBF Radio and TV, Lubbock.

A native of Frederick, Oklahoma, Johnson was a member of the 4-H and Future Farmers of America while growing up on the family's wheat, cattle and cotton farm. He later farmed and ranched in Tillman County, Oklahoma.

500 KILOWATT HOURS PER BALE!

It takes about 500 kilowatts of electricity on irrigated land to convert a sack of cottonseed into a bale of cotton. There's irrigation water to be pumped, plus ginning and compressing. Electricity is needed for de-linting, grinding cottonseed hulls and pressing cottonseed for oil.

This is just one important area in which the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative contributes substantially to the rural economy. The low-cost dependable electric supply furnished by the Brazos Electric Power Cooperative and distributed by 19 member-owned electric systems also attracts commercial and industrial establishments to the rural area, helping stimulate the rural economy. Brazos Electric Power Cooperative is building a brighter tomorrow today for a quarter million people in the Brazos River Watershed, and Helping Texas Grow.

Good News about WRINKLES

By Marie Davant

NEW YORK — Chemical science has found a white substance that works wonders on dry-skin wrinkles.

In only a few days, those wrinkles begin to vanish. Soon, the crow's-feet and many small wrinkles around the eyes and mouth have already disappeared.

But that is not all. Use it one day, and it is entirely possible you will see improvement in the weathered surface of your skin. Greedily, dullness and muddiness lighten and more youthful clarity returns. Even "old-age" (weathered) brown spots on hands and arms steadily fade away.

Rich oils lubricate pores so blackheads can slip out without squeezing. Surface pimples dry up or become less noticeable.

But don't take my word for it, make a 10-day test without risking a penny. Just get a jar of Peacock's Imperial Creme at your department or drug store. Use this thrilling cream for 10 days — satisfaction guaranteed or return unused portion to retailer for full refund. No questions asked.

Peacock's Imperial Creme can work wonders for dry-skin wrinkles, crow's-feet, brown spots and other weathered blemishes. You may obtain Imperial Creme for $2.00 at:

 - b. Obtain the benefits of hybrid vigor.
 - c. Maintain or improve carcass quality.
 - d. Leave basic color and color pattern unchanged. (Red is recessive.)

Angus Cattle have long been known for longevity, mothering ability, hardiness, smaller calves at birth, feeding ability, and carcass quality.

As a new breed, RED ANGUS Cattle production offers opportunity on the ground floor, with a sound progressive breeding program.

Red Angus can increase the amount you receive from a weaning calf as much as $15.00 per calf.

A performance testing program is a part of the registry requirement and a goal to be "Best by Test." It is the opinion of the RED ANGUS breeders that registry breeders should produce the kind of cattle commercial men can use and make money using. We have never had a dwarf.

Hereford breeders are finding it convenient to use RED ANGUS bulls on yearlings for an extra calf crop, keeping the red color.

Salvation Army to Send Truck Sept. 9

Usable coats and woolen garments are needed by the Salvation Army, announced Major Byron A. Freeman, commanding officer of the Salvation Army Men's Rehabilitation Center for North and Central Texas.

"Winter clothing for men, women, and children will soon be in heavy demand. We also need work clothes," added Major Freeman. Clothing completely worn and not repairable is also valuable to the Salvation Army as it is salvaged for bulk sale, as rags.

The Salvation Army truck will be in Muenster on Sept. 9. A telephone call to 759-4311 will bring the Salvation Army truck to any home or business in the area. Persons wishing to deduct the fair value of the gift from their taxable income will be sent receipts on request to the driver. The Salvation Army Men's Rehabilitation Center is completely sustained by the salvage of household items.

Dorothy Zimmerer Robert O. Billner Marry at Lindsay

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Zimmerer and Robert Owen Billner was solemnized in St. Peter's Church Saturday and the newlyweds are on a honeymoon in Acapulco, Mexico.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John F. Zimmerer of Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Billner of Grosse Pointe Woods, Michigan.

Father John Walbe officiated at the 5 p.m. nuptial Mass and double ring ceremony. Mrs. Matthew Galvan of Dallas was soloist.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a full-length cage bridal gown of candlelight alencon lace over peau de soie complemented by a cathedral-length train. Scalloped lace accented the seed-pearled neckline. Lace petals and seed pearls held her tiered veil. She carried Cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were her sister Mrs. Ernest Wolf of Gainesville, matron of honor, another sister Mrs. Frank Novacek of Fort Worth and the bridegroom's sister Mrs. Donald VanHove of Warren, Michigan.

Frank Billner Jr. of St. Clair Shores, Mich., brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Donald VanHove and Frank Novacek were groomsmen.

Bride's attendants wore full-length A-line avacado peau de soie dresses with beaded neckline.

Shelly Zimmerer and Troy Wolf, of Gainesville, niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer.

US, Canada Have Over 700 Species Of Toxic Plants

"The summertime beauty of our state's lush vegetation in yards, fields, pastures, and woodlands also holds dangers that the public should heed," H. N. Smith, state conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service in Temple, Texas, warned this week.

Smith said that throughout the U.S. and Canada more than 700 species of plants are known to cause death, illness or extreme discomfort to people.

"Chewing, swallowing or otherwise contacting the toxic parts of certain plants, trees and shrubs takes a heavy toll," Smith said. "Each year health services report that about 12,000 children are poisoned or injured by these sources."

Parents should be concerned, the SCS official stated, because many of the plants are quite common in flower and vegetable gardens, and in ornamental landscaping, as well as in wild places. Buds, roots, seeds, leaves, beans, stems or berries may contain poison, depending on the species of plant.

The beautiful oleander bush, for example, grown all over the country, contains a deadly heart stimulant similar to the drug digitalis. The toxin is so strong that a single leaf can kill a child. People have died merely from eating steaks speared on oleander twigs and roasting over a fire.

The popular Christmas flower, poinsettia, is full of an acid, burning juice, so lethal that a child who consumed one leaf might die. Mistletoe berries can also be deadly.

Peach tree leaves contain hydrocyanic acid, one of the most dangerous poisons known.

Potato and tomato plants, close kin to the deadly nightshade, have foliage that contains alkaloid poisons which can cause severe digestive upset and nervous disorder if eaten. Jimson weed, sometimes called thorn apple and stinkweed, grows almost everywhere and causes more poisoning than any other plant. It grows from 2 to 5 feet tall, has large leaves and white funnel-shaped flowers resembling morning glories. All parts are poisonous, especially seeds and leaves.

Duffenbachia, or dumb cane, is a beautiful house plant grown in millions of homes, but merely biting the stalk can cause swelling of the mouth and tongue that can be deadly. It is called dumb cane because of its power to strike its victims speechless. The stalk contains needlelike crystals of calcium oxalate that become imbedded in the tissue of the mouth and tongue causing severe swelling and pain.

Castor bean seeds are especially dangerous because they are so deadly and so readily available. They are sold in garden stores for about 25 cents a packet and are popular because they produce large, lush plants in one season. Yet each seed contains enough ricin, powerful blood poison, to kill a child.

Mescalbean, mountain laurel, is also dangerous. It has a poison bean with a hard coat. If it is swallowed whole there may be no ill effects, but if chewed or crushed it can be lethal.

Other common plants in Texas that have poisonous parts include, elephant ear, larkspur, azaleas, lantana canna, yew, oaks, water hemlock, poison hemlock, poisoning, poisonoak and poison sumac.

"More detailed information on these and other plants can be secured from health and plant authorities," Smith said. "However, we have requested SCS offices in our state's 184 soil and water conservation districts to cooperate fully with the National Safety Council in keeping the public alerted to plants that cause these problems."

policy in relation to that fact, and stop the silly ideas of courting the friendship of red countries. Such friendship up to now has always been rewarded by treachery. Such friendship has only served to sustain the scoundrels who are plotting our destruction.

The time is past due for a revival of isolationism — a new kind of isolationism which calls on all free people to stand together and refuse to have any dealings with the reds. History has shown that communism is an evil system which survived and thrived on the help it got from free people. Without that help it would have folded long ago. Without the continued help its future is doomed.

That policy should also include an assurance to all red subjects that they will be happily welcomed into the family of free nations when they shake off the shackles and establish governments of their choice.
