VOLUME XXXVII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 APRIL 27, 1973

NUMBER 23

The latest Farm Bureau newsletter calls attention to HB 1374 providing for union "agency shops," and reminds its members that this is a big issue which urgently needs their attention. FB opposes the bill simply because it strongly supports the Texas Right to Work law, which guarantees a worker's right to hold his job whether or not he is a union member.

The House Labor Committee, which is loaded with pro-union men, reported the bill favorably for consideration by the House, so, it's time for FB people to ask their representatives to work and vote for the bill's defeat.

The bill requires non-union members to pay union dues and initiation fees if a majority of employees belong to a union. The employer would be required to take the money out of the workers' wages.

Needless to say, this law would give union bosses complete charge over all of the workers concerned and over employers as well. It would clear the way for them to become dictators, because they would be in a position to disregard the wishes of their captive members.

That's why FB is so concerned. It favors the Right to Work arrangement which calls for voluntary unionism. It thinks workers should have the right to belong or not to belong. It believes that the leadership will be more representative of member wishes when dissatisfied members can quit the union without losing their jobs. The Right to Work law is the worker's last line of defense against unscrupulous labor bosses.

In recent years, with efforts by Chavez to organize the farm workers, the issue also becomes important to farmers. The law if passed would make it possible for some labor bosses to dictate the operation of a number of big Texas farms.

Big wheels of labor put up a big howl about the anti-labor attitude of FB. Actually that's not the case. Rather, Right to Work has the pro-labor side of the issue because it represents the wishes and welfare of most working people. Furthermore, it's even better for the unions themselves. The organization will attain and maintain better quality when it is based on merit rather than compulsion. As the saying goes, good unions do not need compulsory membership and bad unions do not deserve it.

A quotable quote from the Forrest City, Ark., Chronicle: "The cry is education! Education! We must have more buildings, classrooms, teachers and escalators. Everybody must be educated! Hardly anybody asks, 'educated for what?' Educated for broadmindedness? The great issue of our time is not education versus ignorance. Some of the most educated people in the world are the most wicked. Empty bellies are not, per se, the cause of Communism nor of wars. Germany started two wars on a full belly. The Communists and fellow-travelers in America, and throughout the world, are mostly full-bellied. Full bellies and education, as such, are not bulwarks for or against freedom or morality. The struggle for the world is not based on hunger vs. plenty, ignorance vs. education, totalitarianism vs. democracy. The war for the world is between good and evil."

With the arrival of "Law Day" next Tuesday, May 1, it's proper to take note of a congressional joint resolution passed on March 15. It declares that "the law enforcement officers of this nation face formidable challenges in protecting our rights and property. They are charged with the duty of upholding and enforcing our laws, and they meet this difficult and dangerous obligation with courage and dedication. They have earned our praise and our appreciation."

Many of us recall the big annual hullabaloo on May 1, observing May Day by shouting the praises of Communism. It was the occasion to proclaim the Red system's alleged superiority.

Congress in 1961 responded to the Red propaganda line by designating May 1 in this country as "Law Day". The intention was to tell the world that ours is a free country. (Continued on Page 12)

Eual Davis to Be Transferred from Local SCS Office

Eual (Jack) Davis, district conservationist in charge of the Muenster work unit of the Soil Conservation Service, and scoutmaster of the local Boy Scout troop, announced Monday that he will soon be transferred to the SCS work unit at Tahoka, about 30 miles south of Lubbock.

He said the change is in line with a new SCS policy to reduce its over-all work force by not adding new personnel as retirees leave. Accordingly he replaces a retiree but no replacement is sent here for him. Arlin Naegeli, local conservationist, is temporarily placed in charge of the Muenster work unit.

Davis leaves here with two 4-year assignments on his local service record. He was here from 1961 to 1965 on the staff headed by John Tippie then spent four years in the Waco and Rosebud offices before accepting to top job her on April 12, 1969. He has been the scoutmaster here since last October.

Changes Made by Insurance Firm

Changes were made this week in one of the community's older business firms as the J. M. Weinzapfel Insurance Agency lost one former partner and added two new ones. Henry Weinzapfel has purchased the interest of his father, J. M. Weinzapfel, and John David Meurer has purchased half the interest of his father, Herbert Meurer. Earl Fisher continues with his former share in the firm and also as manager.

At the same time the name was changed to FMW Insurance.

Change Your Clock

Clock changing time is here again. Daylight saving time will officially arrive at 2 a.m. next Sunday beginning the six-months period when official time in the United States is an hour ahead of sun time.

An important chore for Saturday night is setting clocks ahead one hour. It means losing an hour of sleep during the night but it's the only way to be on schedule the next day, especially getting to church services on time.

Forestburg Gets Linda Jo Shoe Co. Extension Plant

An extension of the Linda Jo Shoe Company of Gainesville will be opened at Forestburg on or about May 21. The plant will be a part of the Gainesville production line.

Mr. Silvan, executive vice-president of the Gainesville factory, said that the new facility is expected to start with about 20 employees and grow to about 36. He added that nine people of the Forestburg area are training now at the Gainesville plant and the other beginning employees will be partly trained before the opening.

The new plant site was chosen after a number of small communities were considered. During the process Mr. Silvan contacted Gene Davenport of Cooke County Electric Co-op explaining his interest in setting up a branch plant. Principal factors to consider were available female labor and community interest.

Forestburg met the requirements and showed its concern by forming the Forestburg Development Corporation to promote business and jobs in the community. It acquired the 37x48 building which is being remodeled and repaired for the plant.

The organization has 48 members who have pledged or contributed over $12,000 for the organization's use. Officers are Clifford Hudspeth, pres.; Glen Lynch, W. B. Freeman and J. A. Moore, vice-presidents; W. T. Reynolds, treasurer; Olin Merrett, secretary.

City Gets $14,569 From Sales Tax & Revenue Sharing

The City of Muenster has hit the jackpot. It received both its federal revenue sharing check and its sales tax check for a total of $14,569.

The revenue sharing check was for $5,680 covering the first quarter of this year.

The sales tax check in the amount of $8,889.18 was the largest received here since the tax was started. It represents collections of the last three months of '72 indicating that business was fine for the Christmas quarter.

Next highest remittance was for the preceding quarter, a total of $8,800. Before then the top figure was $8,616 for the last quarter of 1971.

A statement with the treasurer's check explains that the gross amount collected was $9,065.09 and the state's 2 per cent collection fee was $181.30. Adding the hold-over of 449.66 from the previous quarter and holding back $444.27 this time nets the check of $8,889.18.

Rosston Is Beautiful

A tour of the Ross-Point community revealed the extreme change that has taken place in that area in the past few years. On display were the ten or twelve new homes and the improvements to the older homes. Every home in the area shows the joint effort of the people in making their surroundings so attractive as to create a desire of more people to make their home there.

On the tour were representatives of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce, Cooke County Electric Co-op, Texas Power and Light Co., also representatives from Era, Forestburg, and Muenster. After the sightseeing there was a lunch served by the Ross-Point Progress Club.

8-Year Probation Given for Robbery of Muenster Bank

Jimmy Lee Belcher, 22, of Sanger, convicted of the robbery of Muenster State Bank, was given an eight year probation sentence Tuesday after serving less than three years of previously assessed federal and state sentences of 6 and 8 years.

The probated sentence was handed down by Judge W. C. Boyd in a special hearing in 16th District court after attorneys had asked for a new trial because of incomplete transcript due to the death of Court Reporter Emory Barton. Belcher robbed the Muenster bank on November 25, 1969, getting away with $25,000. He was wounded and captured less than an hour later in an exchange of gunfire with officers near Slidell.

His first trial on the charge was declared a mistrial by Judge Boyd on April 9, 1970. In spite of Belcher's guilty plea the jury failed to agree on a sentence.

On June 2, in federal court in Sherman, he was given a six year sentence, and on June 15, following a hearing by Judge Boyd he was given an eight year sentence.

Since then until April 1972 he served in the federal penitentiary at El Reno, Okla., then until December 1972 at the state prison in Huntsville. At that time he was released to the custody of Sheriff Wylie Barnes of Denton County.

Motion for the probation at Tuesday's hearing was supported by Belcher's prison record at El Reno, and also by the recommendations of prison officials, Sheriff Barnes, Probation Officer Charles Cole, and two life long acquaintances from Sanger.

Home-School Group Ends Year with Officer Election

Principal business at the April meeting of Sacred Heart Home-School Society Tuesday night was election of officers for next year. It was the final meeting of the current term. Tommy Knabe, retiring president, presided.

Dan Haverkamp is the new president moving up from vice president. Other new officers are Alfred Bayer, vice president; Mrs. James Voth, secretary; Mrs. Leon Fleitman, treasurer.

Sister Georgia, grade school principal, suggested parents form a work crew to clean and paint the elementary rooms during the summer.

Sister Lenore, in charge of project aluminum cans, reported that Coors cans have brought in $300 during the term and that the goal is $500. This is a new bus fund project.

She also reported that Coors throw-away bottles are included in the drive. Small bottles bring one cent, large bottles three cents.

Sister Mary John announced the school's art show dated for May 6 when Mrs. Joy Sanders' students will display their work. The show is open to other local artists and craftsmen.

Refreshment hostesses Mmes. Albert Hess, Leo Hess, Werner Cler and Thomas Hesse served coffee and cookies.

Hailstorm Wipes Out Large Area of Crops

Disaster struck a large area south of Muenster early Tuesday morning when the worst hailstorm in the memory of local old timers wiped out thousands of acres of grain crops besides doing extensive damage to homes and automobiles. Flower and vegetable gardens too were destroyed.

Scattered reports indicate that the area affected is a strip about ten miles wide extending generally from Forestburg to Gainesville.

The worst damage apparently was sustained in the area between the Era-Rosston road and the Hardy-Gainesville road. That includes dozens of farms of the former Linn community south of Muenster and the Hood community.

In those localities the grain crop is a total loss. Some of the fields look as if they had been mowed. Others still have vegetation but with the tops stripped off. Entire fields do not have a single wheat or oats head standing.

The storm, including heavy rainfall with extensive lightning and thunder, arrived at about 1:30 Tuesday morning and raged for about an hour. Some observers said the hail was three to six inches deep

SH Actors Ready To Stage Musical April 27 and 29

Sacred Heart High's thespians are poised, awaiting curtain call for their 1973 musical production, "Fiddler on the Roof," Friday, April 27 and Sunday, April 29, at 8 p.m. in the Parish Hall.

Directed by Brother Thomas Moster, Thespian Society sponsor, with Sister Yvonne in charge of music and Sister Carmelita in charge of choreography, the musical is being presented with special permission of Music Theatre International of New York City. Laura Kralicke is pianist.

Doug Yosten heads the cast in the leading male role of Reb Tevye and Debby Walterscheid is cast in the role of Golde, his wife. Tevye's three eldest daughters will be portrayed by Christi Koester, Susan Endres and Beverly Walterscheid.

Tevye, the dairyman father of five daughters, lives in a Russian village in the days of the Czarist oppression of the Jews, and is a character rarely found in musical comedy. Although good and kind-hearted he is a man with an angry exterior. He carries on a kind of continuing conversation with his God as he faces each day.

Klement, Lippe Win in Practice Meet at Marietta

Trackmen from both Muenster schools were at an invitational meet in Marietta, Okla., last Friday, the Hornets getting additional experience before going to the state meet on May 5 and the Tigers closing out their season.

The two Muenster entries took the top honors in the 2 mile, Lyle Klement of MHS coming in first with 10:23 and John Bartush of Sacred Heart second. Only fifteen minutes after that event Klement also ran in the mile race, coming in second with a time of 4:52.

Mark Lippe of MHS won the high jump with 5'11", and Davey Krahl of SHHS was fourth in the 800 run. Two others who participated but failed to qualify for the finals were Larry Bayer in discus and Paul Reiter in the mile, both of Sacred Heart.

In addition Coach Bob Steele had several boys in the meet's ninth grade division. Billy Krahl and Roger Endres tied for first place in the high jump, Mark Hess was second in the shot put and Jack Dangelmayr was fourth in the 60 yard high hurdles.

That was the end of competitive athletics for the year at Sacred Heart. The remaining few weeks will be spent in non-contact football practice.

Lippe will attend one more practice meet before going to Austin on May 5. He'll be in a meet of champions Saturday at Fort Worth, open to all boys who qualified in regional meets for the state meet. Lippe was second in the high jump in the regional. Lyle Klement, also qualified for state, will be in a judging contest at A&M.

Adult Class in Sewing Offered

An adult education class on the basics of clothing construction will be taught in the Muenster High School home-making department Monday, May 21 through Wednesday, June 13. Class hours will be 1 to 3 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Interested persons may contact Judy Flowers, 759-2281, between 11:15 and 1:30 on school days.

in places. And drifts of hail in ditches were still not melted up to noon Tuesday.

Meanwhile property also took a beating, especially from the west side. Hundreds of windows were broken after which rain came into houses and caused additional damage. Likewise roofs were clobbered by the stones reaching up to golf ball size, and more water damage resulted from their leaks. Still more damage was inflicted on cars and houses, chipping off paint and denting car bodies.

Reports also say that many trees seemed to have most of their foliage stripped off. No reports were heard on fruit trees but it is assumed that very little if any of the crop remains on them.

The fringe of the storm brushed Muenster, but was much milder than south of town. Grain crops, gardens and trees escaped with little damage despite the noisy clatter of hail with an electrical storm and strong gusts of wind. Combined rain and hail measure was 1.30 on Steve Moster's weather bureau gauge. That upped the month's total here to 4.57 inches and the year's total to 13.67.

Some of persons over a wide area who reported home and car damages are Jack Hogan — near Hardy, H. D. Cook, Adolph Walterscheid, Arthur Hellman, Ben Fleitman and George Gehrig.

Total crop losses were reported on the farms of Herbert Sicking, Bill Lutkenhaus, Julian and Denis Walterscheid, Adolph Walterscheid, Sparkman Vann, Mrs. Albert Reiter, Andy and Ben Fleitman, Johnny Reiter, Leonard Hartman, Bill Hermes and Arthur Hellman.

They were coached by Thomas Felderhoff who accompanied them to Commerce.

As district winners they will compete in the State Roundup at Texas A&M on June 5 and 6.

Elusive Security

President Nixon's vow to get big government off the backs of the people, hold down taxes, cut government spending and encourage private initiative could have been inspired by more than the knowledge that voters have become restless with an excess of bureaucracy. It could have sprung from the glaring failures of planned economies in the rest of the world. Britain, of course, is a most notable example.

That nation, the granddaddy of welfare states, has reached a rate of decline verging on chaos. Runaway inflation, strikes, and labor rebellion against wage and price controls have made a tragic farce of the "cradle-to-the-grave" security promised for British citizens under government social programs so popular a number of years ago. News reports now tell of such things as 47,000 gas workers striking and leaving millions of British homes without heat, cooking facilities and other necessities. The medical staff of hundreds of hospitals have left their jobs. Hospitals have been closed and patients sent home. Some 250,000 government workers walked out for a short time paralyzing essential government services, and most families in Britain are now spending 20 to 25 percent more on "the basics" than they were eight months ago. If this is an example of "security" in a modern welfare state, it is little wonder that the President of the United States is endeavoring to call a halt to a similar trend in this country. If the people are smart, they will back such efforts to the hilt before they have to learn the hard way that political promises of "security" under big government are no better than a gigantic vote-getting medicine show.

A Different Point of View

Dr. B. Ross Morrison of the First Baptist Church in Wheaton, Maryland, sends us a story which one of his fellow preachers recently passed on to him. A stranger in the city noticed that a large brick structure was being built. Noticing a workman near by, the stranger walked up and asked: "What are you doing?"

Without glancing up, the man replied: "I'm laying bricks."

Walking on, the stranger approached another worker and asked him the same question. "Fine day," he said. "What are you doing?"

The second workman replied "I'm earning twenty dollars a day."

Near by, the stranger found a third bricklayer, and again he asked the man what he was doing. The workman carefully finished laying a brick, straightened, stepped back and slowly surveyed the unfinished structure. With pride in his voice, he said: "I'm building a cathedral."

Dr. Morrison didn't say so, but the implied question, of course, is: If a stranger were to ask you: "What are you doing?" what would your answer be?

Loyalty Day Proclamation

WHEREAS The progress, tranquility and worthy influence of our city depends in large measure upon the determination of its citizens to create and to maintain vigorously the loyalty practice of true American ideals, and . . .

WHEREAS It behooves us to periodically take stock of our achievements in such matters and to strengthen our stand against any influence, either foreign or domestic, which might threaten to disturb our preferred way of life, and . . .

WHEREAS There is in our nation evidence of some subverting forces endeavoring to undermine and destroy American unity, now . . .

THEREFORE I, David Bright, Mayor of the City of Münster, do hereby concur with our national and state leaders in praising the concept of LOYALTY DAY, celebrated on the first day of May; and in further support of that special occasion I do urge every citizen, school, church, organization, business establishment and home within my official jurisdiction to display the flag of our country proudly and to participate in public demonstrations and ceremonies sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, and others, on LOYALTY DAY, May the first, nineteen hundred and seventy-three.

Facts of Meat Supply

Many years ago, there were those who could see the handwriting on the wall as fewer and fewer farmers produced the food supplies for ever-greater numbers of nonfarm people who knew little or nothing about the economics of agriculture. The day would come when lack of farming knowledge would lead to a failure to appreciate certain natural laws of nature.

A spokesman for the livestock industry, Mr. David H. Stround, president of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, expressed it well when he said lots of people think the supply of beef is automatic and no further away than their favorite food store and that the farmer, packer or retailer "sets" the price. "But that's not so," he observes, "Despite tremendous farm efficiencies, there's no short cut to a choice T-bone steak or a pound of hamburger." It still takes two years to grow the steak or roast you have for dinner, plus 2,500 pounds of grain, 450 pounds of protein supplement and 12,300 pounds of hay, silage and pasture and tremendous substantial investments in labor and capital before a steer is feedlot-finished and ready for the market at 1,000 pounds. Further, supply and demand set the price for beef regardless of farmer-rancher cost of production. When homemakers buy more beef, supplies are reduced, and prices tend to rise because consumers are bidding against each other for available meat. Over the long pull, however, ranchers have steadily increased beef production — increased it 2.5 times in the last 20 years. Today, beef consumption in the U.S. has more than doubled — up from 56 to 115 pounds per person compared to 20 years ago.

There is only one way that Americans can have the meat supply they will need in the future and that is by adhering strictly to a market-oriented agricultural industry capable of producing abundance in accordance with the laws of supply and demand. This is one of the hard facts of nature there is no dodging. It is a fact which farmers live everyday of their lives. It is also a fact that many nonfarm consumers have forgotten.

Tarnished Star

The great Soviet bear is limping rather noticeably these days, and small wonder with the poor economic performance it turned in for 1972. Serious shortfalls have been reported in all major areas of the USSR economy: industrial production, agricultural output, labor productivity, national economic growth and personal income. Associated Press correspondent Stephens Broening writes, "The prospect of near-term relief for the Soviet consumer does not appear bright." In the process, two forms of governmental anger have appeared: (1) A shakeup of high agricultural officials has cost several their jobs, and they may be facing trial; (2) A public condemnation of industry in the government newspaper, "Izvestia."

The hardships endured by the Soviet people should be a lesson to critics who find the United States so distasteful. The U. S. has never experienced Russian-type purges to cleanse the land of those who displease the government. Also, the American consumer enjoys an abundance of merchandise and a living standard the likes of which the world has never seen before. It seems that the "glorious" star of communism, which was supposed to light the world, has lost a considerable portion of its glitter.

4-Day Work Week?

News reports from Washington tell of a government conference within the Civil Service Commission to have a "selected" number of government workers put on a four-day work week — with a full week's pay.

If government workers can get all of their week's work done in four days, they aren't being given enough work to do.

There is, of course, a rather obvious alternative plan that could well serve as the basis for a government conference, but there is no evidence to show that the Civil Service Commission has entertained the idea. Why not drop two out of every six government workers now supported by taxpayers, and then have the remaining four work a full six-day week? They will still be working one day less than most independent farmers and small businessmen. Who knows? With the tax money thus saved, maybe some of us on the seven day week might be able to cut back to six!

One of The Answers

LNG (liquefied natural gas) is something the public is going to hear a great deal about in the years ahead. LNG is destined to become one of a growing number of technological answers to the nation's energy shortage. A release from the American Gas Association explains the far-reaching implications of LNG to both consumers and the economy.

The release explains, "Liquefied natural gas (LNG) means exactly what it says, the conversion of gas into a liquid at -260 degrees Fahrenheit. At this temperature it shrinks to one-sixth of its volume as a gas, so that huge amounts can be transported and stored economically. . . . LNG provides a new source for heating homes, fueling factories, and keeping restaurant chefs happy. It also brings in the cleanliness of all major fuels to help clean up the environment." The scope of the LNG program represents the development of a whole new industry. For example, a single company plans to import Algerian gas at a rate of one billion cubic feet a day for 25 years to help fill the base load needs of utilities in the Northeast, South and Midwest. This is equivalent to twice the average daily needs of New York City. Involved in the project is an investment of $1.7 billion. This huge investment will go for a gas pipeline, a plant to refrigerate the gas into a liquid, and a tanker terminal in Algeria. It includes nine massive tankers to carry the LNG, two U.S. terminals to receive the liquid, store it and ultimately convert it back into gas.

The liquefied natural gas program of the U.S. natural gas industry is an excellent illustration of the meaning of private initiative — the kind of initiative that refuses to accept defeat. It is our most potent secret weapon in the battle to lick the energy problem.

Aid to Hanoi Poses Questions

The President has proposed that the United States give reconstruction aid in the amount of $7.5 billion to the countries of Indochina — South and North Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. Of the total, 2.5 billion, or one third, would go to North Vietnam, the cruelest and most intransigent enemy this country has ever faced.

When Mr. Nixon submits this rehabilitation and modernizing bill to Congress it will be faced with several questions. First, will the time be right to start giving vast help to an aggressor government with more than 100,000 troops in South Vietnam? Second, is it right in any case for the United States to rebuild a country whose government along with others is dedicated to the overthrow of democratic governments all over the world? The Marshall Plan in Western Europe after World War II was designed to bolster freedom and democracy against Soviet expansion. True, the USSR was invited to join in that $100 billion plan but refused because it could not accept the rules. Besides, Moscow did not want to see Western Europe prosper.

Another question will be that of who is to administer the aid. The President's advisers are said to favor the creation of an international commission for this purpose. Does that mean another United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration? Perish the thought. The abuses of that body are too fresh in mind for such a repetition of history. Let the United States administer its own aid, and let it be strictly labeled as such.

There is strong feeling in Congress, especially in the House, that no aid should be given to North Vietnam unless it gets out of the South country. It is feeling that no doubt is widely shared in the nation.

By the Seat of the Pants

Since nickels, dimes, quarters and even 50-cent pieces won't buy much anymore, men are increasingly burdened by having to drag their wallets out of the back pockets to reach for a dollar bill. As a result, the increasingly costly seats of the pants of evermore expensive suits are being worn out in growing numbers. Columnist Russell Baker suggests with tongue-in-cheek humor that if the dollar bill were turned into a coin to be carried as loose change in a man's pants pocket where it belongs, this problem could be solved.

The government is always trying to solve our problems for us, and usually it fails miserably. In this instance, by a little decisive action it could succeed splendidly. Everyone knows that inflation has us by the throat, and it is depressing indeed to realize that it also is taking out the seat of our pants.

A Hero's Award

While many American GI's have been credited with helping to save the lives of South Vietnamese, in South Vietnam, at least one citizen of Vietnam has received a well-deserved commendation for saving the life of an American — in America.

Pham Dang Duoc, who hails from Saigon, South Vietnam, and now a student at Montgomery College in Maryland, was recently presented with the coveted Carnegie Metal for Heroism. The award was established by philanthropist Andrew Carnegie in 1904 to recognize those who lost or might have lost their lives while attempting to save the lives of others.

Duoc was given the award by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for rescuing a friend and fellow student, Robert Hennessee, Jr., from five knife-wielding hoodlums. Hennessee was hospitalized with serious stab wounds and in all probability would not be alive today had not Duoc gone to his aid with nothing but his fists. Duoc, fortunately trained in Karate, was able to rout the attackers.

Andrew Carnegie, in all probability, never dreamed that one of the heroes to be honored by the award would come from a land twelve thousand miles away from America. But nothing, we can be sure, would have pleased him more.

Garden Club Has Bettye Dodds as Program Speaker

Muenster Garden Club members heard a talk on "Gardens in America" at their April meeting when Miss Bettye Dodds presented the program in the home of Mrs. H. H. Houtchens with Mrs. Arnold Rohmer as co-hostess.

Miss Dodds showed colored slides she made on tours of many famous public gardens from Canada to Mississippi. Commenting informally, she included interesting side lights of her extensive travels.

Mrs. John Mosman, president-elect, conducted the business session and Sister Mary John Seyler led the group in the opening prayer.

Mrs. Mosman reported on the District 2 meeting she attended as a delegate in Sherman where Carol Yosten of Sacred Heart High won first place in district speech competition. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Yosten, she will represent the district in Dallas during the state convention May 2 and 3.

She also reminded members of the flower arrangement work shop at the local Electric Co-op on June 6 and the local flower show on June 22.

Sister Mary John Seyler, S.H. School principal, asked that people discontinue a practice of unloading tree limbs in the open field east of the cemetery. She cited the fire hazard and damage to nearby shrubs as some of the reasons for this request.

Mrs. Houtchens and Mrs. Rohmer served refreshments to 25 members and two guests, Mrs. Ben Seyler and Mrs. Harvey Schmitt. The refreshment table with a spring theme held an arrangement of iris and lilacs.

The May meeting will feature installation of new officers and a buffet.

A membership drive is underway and anyone wishing to join is invited to contact Mrs. Henscheid.

With painstaking care the dealer wrote: "Bearer doesn't owe the under-signed anything — and isn't going to any more."

After the meeting, members had a plant exchange.

Mrs. Lloyd Young was hostess in her home at Marysville and Mrs. John Wimmer, president, presided for business.

Announcements of interest included the May 8 county-wide luncheon for HDC members, the 4-H Dress Revue on Sunday, April 29, 2 p.m. at Whaley United Methodist Church in Gainesville, and a Sewing Problems Clinic on May 7, 14, 21, 28, in the Reddy Room of TP&L building in Gainesville at 7:30 p.m. Registration fee is one dollar.

Contest Ends but Stamp Collecting Continues at SH

Sacred Heart School's cancelled stamp contest has come to an end but stamp collecting will go on and on, according to Sister Theresina, mission moderator and sponsor of the stamp project.

She advised that 70 pounds of stamps have been shipped to mission stamp headquarters — Sacred Heart Mission Seminary, Geneva, Ill. Of them ten pounds are "counters."

Sacred Heart is one of 900 schools in the stamp contest, and while it is nice to be a winner Sister Theresina says that is secondary. First is the good the stamps do in being sold to collectors and the money going to needy missions.

She is pleased and grateful for the community's involvement in the project. Grateful too to donors who sent stamps from far and near. One donation is a beautiful collection of Philippine stamps. Special thanks also go to Mrs. John Felderhoff who spent many hours cutting stamps from envelopes.

And though the contest is ended, stamp saving for the missions goes on and on.

If the power fails, keep the home freezer tightly closed. Food will stay frozen for about 48 hours if the freezer is full and about 24 hours if half full.

Memories Recalled After Forty Years

After 40 years, a telephone switchboard salesman in Georgia recalls friendly treatment he received in Muenster in 1932. In a letter to Alvin Fuhrman he writes "One of the many pleasant rewards that come with time are happy memories."

His letter was prompted by a news story concerning Fuhrman in a recent issue of Texas Telephone Topics. He recalled that in 1932 he came to Muenster from Dallas after learning Muenster needed a new switchboard and "met with a very fine man and his wife" whose names he could not recall, and left with an order for a very nice magneto switchboard. Not long afterward he was transferred to other work and "lost track of those good people of German extraction." But he often recalled this trip and the warm friendly treatment he enjoyed, his letter concluded.

MUENSTER GARDEN CENTER

The warm rains are really bringing out the termites. Watch for "mud" balls or tunnels on walls around windows and doors. You might also find the winged swarmlers. They are Black with long wings.

New foliage on elm, oak and hackberry trees are being attacked by a variety of worms. Watch yours closely. adv.

Richard Growing Attends Hearing On Water District

Mayor Pro-Tem Richard Growing represented the city of Muenster on Thursday April 12, at a committee meeting of the state legislature concerning creation of a water district for the City of Muenster.

It would grant legislative authority for creating the district as a step toward providing surface water for the city to supplement or replace the present supply of well water. Principal purpose for creating the district is a cheaper rate of financing.

Also presenting data on the project was Pete Tart, the city's legal adviser, Dan Almon the city's financial adviser and Don Fleming, city engineer.

Someone said if you throw a frog into boiling water that its reflexes are so fast that the frog will jump out before it is injured. But if you put him in a pot of cold water and heat it until it is boiling the frog will make no effort to get out and die. This has been compared to our trend in government toward socialism and communistic infiltration. If it happened overnight we'd have a revolution, but it sneaks up on us gradually we even think it's our own idea.

A racket is any form of making money without giving worthwhile service in return.

Some years ago King Carol of Rumania told now he had selected fourteen of the brightest young men in Rumania for training in government service. Seven he sent to England seven to America, to study the economic and political systems of the two countries.

"The seven who went to England were very wise," said Carol, "and they all now have very important posts in Bucharest. But the seven who went to America were wiser still, they stayed in America."

It is quite probably that 20 years from now, the minimum Social Security benefit may be double what it is today — but because of continued inflation, those who will be dependent upon the minimum then will be relatively no better off than those dependent upon it today. The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away, but the government taketh — and taketh.

Meat Price Freeze To Hurt Expansion
 President Nixon's decision to freeze the retail prices of beef, pork and lamb may have long-reaching effects on future production plans of farmers and ranchers, believed Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Production costs of farmers and ranchers are continuing to increase. Since there is no freeze on these inputs and the producer knows now that he will not receive any higher prices for his animals, he may just become 'fed up' with the whole situation. This could mean a pullback in resources and less expansion. And that's certainly not what is needed at this time.
 Just at a time when producers should be expanding their herds to meet the increased consumer demand for red meat, they are caught in a situation that may "choke" some of them out of production or at least cause them to slow down on their expansion, notes the Texas A&M University specialist.
 Uvacek believes this ceiling will stymie many farm and ranch efforts directed to herd expansion. "Producers will feel like they're in a dark room, afraid to move. Still others may even react with a 'get even' attitude and hold back cattle and calves.

 "Right now farmers and ranchers need to be enticed to continue to increase production," Uvacek stresses. "Higher prices have done this. Unfortunately, expansion takes time. You just don't produce more beef or more pork or lamb overnight.
 "Some analysts already project a shortage of beef in the second half of this year," points out the marketing specialist. "This shortage could become even more critical in the wake of the ceiling on meat prices."
 Consumers will probably see less meat in the grocery case of the future and will be paying more for it, unless livestock producers are given some incentives for profitable production, contends Uvacek.

DPS Head Quotes Law on Stopping For School Buses

A reminder on the State law about motorists stopping for school buses was issued today by Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Speirs said the law, which applies on city streets as well as rural highways requires motorists moving in either direction on the same roadway or street with a school bus to stop and remain stopped as long as the flashing top red lights on the bus are in operation.

He said the problem is becoming more serious in cities due to increased use of school buses in urban school districts.

There are only two exceptions to the law on stopping for loading or unloading a school bus: Those vehicles on another roadway of a divided highway (divided by median or physical barrier) are not required to stop, and stops are not required if the bus has stopped in a loading zone of a controlled access highway where pedestrians are not permitted to cross.

14 Toll Circuits Added by Muenster Telephone Corp.

Muenster Telephone Corporation has just completed adding 14 more circuits to its various exchanges to take care of increased toll traffic since starting Direct Distance Dialing in November 1971.

 From these reading better use can be made of existing equipment and additional equipment added when a need is indicated.
 Included in this addition are three more EAS (Extended Area Service) lines between Myra and Gainesville for direct service between these towns.

Dear Old Golden Rule Days

Every day of the school year, area elementary school students are stepping out of their classrooms for a day and into the past at Greenfield Village in Dearborn, Michigan to learn what reading, writing and arithmetic taught to the tune of a hickory stick was all about.

In the Village's Miller School, a typical 19th-century, one-room school house, they sit at hand-made wooden desks, do their lessons on old fashioned slates and read from McGuffey Readers and other century-old text books. The once-feared hickory switches are kept in a holder beside the teacher's desk.

One of nearly 100 authentic, historic buildings in Greenfield Village, the school duplicates a rural school of the 1870s. The kerosene lamps that line the walls have been electrified and the wood-burning stove stands cold in the middle of the room since the installation of a modern furnace in the basement, but they re-create the atmosphere of a bygone era. Also authentically out of the past are the 38-star flag of the period behind the teacher's podium and the bucket filled at the pump in the school yard for the class to dip their drinking water from. As a final touch, a dunce's cap sits on a high stool in the corner.

The children actively participate in this experience of living a day in the past. With the help of background materials sent by the Village in advance, they play games popular 100 years ago, they bring lunches similar to the ones their ancestors carried and some of them even dress in costumes of the period. When their day at Greenfield Village and the Miller School is over, the students not only have learned what schools were like in great-grandfather's day, but they also have a greater awareness of history and their own heritage.

Lens-View

We visited Six Flags and Seven Seas last weekend and wish to compliment both for the wonderful shows they have. We could visit both places in one day because no children were with us to enjoy all those rides. Any lover of flowers and shrubs would enjoy the beauty of both places — they are outstanding.

We are hearing a lot about the fuel shortage. Now an inventor in England claims he has for 17 years been operating his car with gas produced from pig manure. It takes about 100 pounds of manure to produce 8 gallons of gas at a cost of three cents per gallon. The inventor claims any kind of human or animal waste will work and the gas will operate any engine from a power mower to a Rolls Royce.

The disposal of manure from the feed lots out west is a considerable problem. Now they could build a refinery and do some converting to a needed product.

The rainy season is still with us but watching the news on TV and seeing all those farms, homes and towns being flooded along the Mississippi river gives us something for which to be thankful. Every person, family, and city has problems but one does not have to look far to find others with problems much greater than ours.

CCJC to Receive $1.34 Million from State in 1974-75

The House Appropriations Committee has approved a 1974-75 appropriation for the Cooke County Junior College totaling $2,734,693.00. Representative Bill Sullivan has announced. Of this amount, $1,342,496.00 is budgeted for 1974. This is an increase of more than $562,000 over the 1973 budget; which represents an increase of over 70%.

"I have been working with the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee and other members of the House and have good reason to believe that this appropriation will pass the House intact, Sullivan noted. "The service our College is rendering to the people in our area justifies the increase, and the funds are available without resorting to any new tax."

governed by laws, not men — that our rights and responsibilities are spelled out by the law, that we are protected as well as restrained by it. Apparently the idea was well received. People are becoming more aware of the nation's blessings and less aware of the so called glories of Communism.

And now we have added meaning for Law Day. It not only refers to the system which is the basis of our national greatness but also stands as a tribute to the law enforcement officers who have helped preserve our freedom under law. This Law Day lets make a special point of appreciating the officers who face danger and hardship for our sake, some who die for our sake.
