NUMBER 27

Liberals of the government and the press seem to be succeeding in exploiting the Watergate incident to the nth degree. They have the Senate investigation going now with full determination to embarrass the Administration and even try to bring out impeachment proceedings against President Nixon.

One would think from the attitude of those accusers that Watergate was the first foul ever in the game of American politics. And certainly they don't adhere to the principle that only those without fault should cast stones.

The significant point is that we have here a case of indiscreet snooping for damaging evidence in a political campaign. Burglary and bugging, the means to that end, are violations of the law, but that's the extent of the wrong doing. Judged by its effect, Watergate is mild compared with a number of big scandals in national politics. We have had election frauds, political payoffs and grafts and various other misbehavior that did real damage to the country. They were far more serious than just catching some politicians with red faces.

This isn't to say that two wrongs make a right. But it does seem that one wrong should not be blown up when others were played down. And especially as a matter of national pride and prestige there is no excuse whatever in the big howl for impeachment. Some politicians may think this a way to win a battle or two in the perpetual partisan war, but are they also thinking about the country's loss in world politics? In this as in family friction, it's not smart to wash the dirty linen in public. The real tragedy about the impeachment efforts is that regardless of outcome it belittles America before the world, has a tendency to make it a second rate country — and we know who's itching to horn into the Number 1 spot. It makes us wonder how many of the trouble makers have that goal in mind.

It's a shame that the country is wasting so much effort on Watergate when it ought to be tackling the important issue of energy crisis. More people every day are telling us this is a serious problem needing attention as soon as possible. As stated by Paul Woolstadt of the American Petroleum Institute "Every day lost now means more and longer trouble in the future." He suggests terminating government regulation of natural gas prices, getting the Alaska pipeline in use as soon as possible, encouraging search for oil and gas reserves, allowing more offshore drilling, and tapering off the exorbitant demands of environmental cranks. A great deal of relief for the energy crisis can be attained if we'll stop the demands for ecological perfection and accept reasonable standards. We use tremendous quantities of energy achieving a standard of excellence which is higher than we need or can afford.

Another environmental problem is the nuclear energy hang-up. Cranks have delayed progress on grounds of explosion danger, nuclear radiation and emission of excessive heat in air and water. Objections are being ruled out one by one but so much time has been wasted. And obstructionists are still scheming for more ways to delay.

Energy is the basis of our way of life. We need it for lighting, cooking, heating and cooling, for transportation, farm and factory production and distribution of all consumer goods. It determines our standard of living and our national security. A shortage of it could reduce us to a painfully plain existence and leave us helpless before an enemy. It's most important, of course, to restore the energy sources that are falling short. We need more gas. We need to expand exploration, tap our established reserves, start the Alaskan oil flowing, be less demanding of the environment, and get more help out of nuclear power, hydroelectric power, lower grade coal etc. All of those ways will restore energy that was lost by short sighted government policy. But it takes time to do all those things, and by the time they're done demand will have increased some more and kept ahead of supply.

41 Graduates at Muenster High Receive Diplomas

Forty one high school senior and thirty seven eighth graders of Muenster Public School received diplomas Friday night during commencement exercises in the MHS auditorium.

Their graduation speaker was Dr. Don Newberry, director of community relations at Tarrant County Junior College. Along with an abundance of humor he gave the graduates a number of hints on how to live useful and satisfying lives.

As the mark of educated people he quotedocrates: "Those who can deal positively with daily situations," and urged the grads to keep striving and learning in order to improve on their own ability to deal with situations. To help in that respect he suggested trying to "make every day your best one" . . . determine what's more important and establish priorities . . . learn what to worry about . . . exercise self discipline which is an essential trait of successful people . . . maintain humility because there is so very much that every person does not know.

Regarding patriotism and national pride he advised the grads not to worry until the line of people waiting to get out of the country is as long as the line waiting to get in.

As a parting thought Dr. Newberry told the story of framing the Constitution, how the meeting was interrupted by a severe storm. Rather than sit it out in terror the assembly brought out the candles and kept working. If the worst happened they would be caught working.

High school diplomas were presented by Urban Endres, school board president, assisted by Superintendent L. E. Bruns. And Elementary diplomas were presented by Robert Bayer, school board vice president, assisted by Principal C. O. Cash. Special awards were made by Mr. Cash.

Valedictory and salutatory addresses were given by Patti Dittfurth and Marlene Herr respectively. Invocation and benediction were given by elementary salutatorian and valedictorian, Tracey Klement and Patricia Davidson. Vocal selections were given by Susan Sloan, Lenora Fleitman, Darlene Wolf, Pam Schneider and Kay Wimmer accompanied by Lola Bright. Bettye Dodds played for processional and recessional.

Mrs. Sue Trachta has joined her soldier husband, Spec. 4 Thomas J. Trachta, in Heidelberg, Germany. Waving her off from Dallas Love Field Monday were her parents, the J. P. Coaching Staff Needed for Girls Softball Program

Whether girls of the community will have their customary softball program this summer remains to be decided. Alvina Hellman, previous chairman, said the KC Council is willing to sponsor but doesn't have the staff of coaches and officials.

She asks that persons who are willing to help contact her immediately so that a meeting can be arranged to work out the details. It will take some rushing, she said, because registration forms have to be made available and returned before rosters can be made. And the intention is to have the first game on June 5.

Swimming Pool Will Open June 1

Muenster's 1973 swimming season will arrive next week Friday, June 1, at 2 o'clock. The pool's opening at that time will follow about two weeks of repairing and renovating along with installation of a new diving board at the lower level. Also new is a set of patron's baskets.

Other work includes a new paint job for the pool's bottom, over-all paint in the baby pool, and special non-skid paint for the sidewalk surrounding the pool. Filling of the pool started Tuesday and that will be followed by acid treatment and back wash of the filter sand.

The operation will be about the same as in previous years. Hours are from 2 to 9 p.m. daily except Mondays and the charge will be 25 cents for children under 13 and 50 cents for all who are 13 or over. Cold drinks and snacks will be available at vending machines.

Dan Hamric is back on the job as manager and June Stoffels is his assistant. The life guards are Debbie Reynolds, Janice Fisher, Gerrie Knabe and Terry Walterscheid.

Again the pool will be available for private parties on Mondays and before or after the regular hours on other days.

The annual Red Cross swimming lessons are scheduled from July 9 to 20. By then, hopefully, the morning air will be less chilly for the kiddies.

.87 Inch Rain

Almost an inch of rain fell during the past week causing a slight delay in haying operations but otherwise giving a helpful lift to local farming. Pastures and growing crops had good use for the additional moisture and maturing grain crops, though not needing it, were not hurt by it.

Showers Monday and Tuesday nights measured .51 and .36 inches, bringing the month's total to 4.86 and the year's total to 18.53.

SHH seniors will conduct a scrap paper drive Saturday, May 26, beginning at 9 a.m. Persons with paper to give are asked to have it out at the curb. If not able to get the paper out please phone 759-4389.

Eternal Goal Is Vital to Success SHHS Grads Told

Success in life is a faithful pursuit of man's primary purpose, that is to know, love and serve God so as to attain eternal happiness hereafter.

That was the essence of the commencement address to Sacred Heart High graduates in their commencement service Sunday night in Sacred Heart Church.

The speaker was Father Harold Heiman, O.S.B., of Subiaco Abbey, Ark. He pointed out that the secular studies are necessary for making one's way in the world but the important thing is to live the life that's pleasing to God. Also that, as students of Sacred Heart they have had the opportunity of a sound foundation in religion and morality.

Relative to temporal interests he reminded the seniors that success should not be measured solely by material standards. Fame and fortune are not necessary. The important thing is to improve our own little area of the world while living in harmony with the Divine plan.

His parting thought was the scriptural passage: "What doth it profit a man to gain the world if he loses his soul?"

The services were held in connection with the regular 7 p.m. Mass in which Father Leonard Wangler was the celebrant and the high school choir sang.

Diplomas to the seventeen seniors and thirty seven eighth graders were presented by Bishop Augustine Danglmayr with Father Placidus Eckart assisting. Processional and recessional were played by trumpeters Robert Weinzapfel, Melissa Weinzapfel, Kimberly Klement and Mike Richardson while Pat Hennigan Jr. accompanied on the organ.

A special liturgical service at Mass on Friday also marked the end of the school year. Father Placidus Eckart was the celebrant and the school choir sang.

Others participating were Gary Rohmer, Karen Schilling, Chris Felderhoff, Bev Walterscheid and Greg Wilde a scriptural readers, and Nancy Fuhrmann, Ramona Walterscheid, Mary Hoedebeck, Monica Hartman, Cheryl Luke, James Bartush, Keith Bayer, Tim Voth, Jamie Moster, Gary Endres, Mark Schmitt, Carla Otto and Jenelle Hellman in the processional.

A presentation of appreciation gifts to faculty followed the Mass.

Jaycee Baseball Program Will Be Organized Sunday

This year's summer baseball program sponsored by Muenster Jaycees got into motion Tuesday night in a special meeting of the coaches with Wayne Klement, chairman.

The group decided to have junior and senior divisions, as in past seasons, and to begin on Monday, June 4. The divisions will alternate double header games on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Another meeting, to get the players assigned, is set for Sunday at 1 p.m. in the ball park. Boys are asked to be there with their registration slips filled out. In case any have not received the forms they can get them then and return them to their coaches before the first game. Eligible ages are 9 through 11 for the junior league and 12 through 14 for the senior league.

Also discussed at the meeting was the need of umpires. Klement asks that anyone who is willing to help at the job notify him as soon as possible. The Jaycees would like to have several of them so that none will have to be over-worked.

Sponsors and their coaches are listed as follows.

Hospital Board Adopts Budget of Over $5 Million

A budget of over a half million dollars for the fiscal year beginning July 1 was adopted by the directors of Muenster Memorial Hospital at their meeting last Wednesday night. The total amount was $500,173.

As explained by Administrator David Bright, the figure anticipates continued inflation as well as continued moderate growth and is based on experience of the year ending March 31. The volume for that period was slightly more than $460,000.

Biggest item on the budget is salaries, which are estimated to come to $237,112. Supplies are expected to cost $54,000, and the combined cost of drugs, food, utilities, insurance and retirement plan are expected to be about $142,000. Payments of interest and principal on the hospital debt are set at about $39,000.

The principal source of revenue is room charge which is expected to reach $227,000. Some of the other items of income are X-ray and laboratory fees $80,000, charges for surgery, obstetrics and emergency treatments $71,000, drugs and supplies $60,000, and tax income $38,500.

Rev. Louis Honored At Jonesboro on 50th Anniversary

Father Louis Deuster, O.S.B., former pastor of Muenster, was honored last Sunday by the Blessed Sacrament Parish and the City of Jonesboro, Ark., in celebration of the 50th anniversary of his ordination to the holy priesthood.

The observance was a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving at noon in the Blessed Sacrament Church followed by a reception from 1 to 3 in the parish center.

Father Louis has been chaplain of the Olivetan Benedictine Sisters at their motherhouse, the Holy Angels Convent, and St. Bernard's Hospital for the past 15 years.

More celebration of the anniversary is planned at Subiaco Abbey, of which he is a member, on June 8, and later at his home town parish, St. Boniface of Fort Smith. Father Bonaventure Moechler will be a co-celebrant with him at Subiaco.

Father Louis was born at Fort Smith on March 5, 1899, a son of Joseph and Mary Deuster. He attended his parish school, then Subiaco Academy and Abbey and was ordained on April 29, 1923. He taught at Subiaco for 30 years, part of the time as rector of the school, and as superior. As director of athletics he brought football to Subiaco. He received an MA degree in English from Notre Dame in 1926.

Second Thoughts On Watergate

Perspective on the Watergate case is needed as the overblown enormity of that affair is inflated. Let us list factors that provide hope for some serenity amid the loud cries of foul. Here they are:

1. The political nature of the most stentorous lamentation cannot be ignored. The leaders of the outcries, in the Eastern part of the country at least, are not notable as friends of the Nixon Administration. They leaped upon the Watergate affair as a gift from beyond in their effort to draw fire away from the Ellsberg case, the continuing violation of the cease fire by the North Vietnamese, and the possibility that the present Administration might get into the clear in its grappling with domestic problems.

2. The seven men who broke into the Democratic National Headquarters in the Watergate complex in Washington, D. C., last spring committed an illegal act. Admitted. They have been sentenced to long terms in prison, some up to 20 years — terms that might have been given to the most hardened criminals. (A teacher pushing heroin upon high school pupils in Miami, Florida was sentenced on May 1, 1973, to only 5 years). The Watergate men were neither hardened nor vicious criminals. They inflicted no personal injuries. The sentences imposed upon them are out of all proportion to the nature of their crime.

3. Charges have been publicly filed against others; but it is important for us to note that many of the accusations are based upon hearsay, upon innuendo, and by attacks made by nameless, and faceless "sources." It is extremely important, at this time, for all of us to abide by our constitutional guarantees that no man is to be considered guilty until such a decision is rendered in a court of law. If we forget that principle, then none of us is safe, and none of us is secure.

4. President Nixon said "both of our great parties have been guilty of such tactics." Witness the burglary and ransacking of the offices of the late Senator Thomas Dodd, the bugging of the State Department office of Otto Otepka, the systematic robbing of the offices of the late Senator Lundeen, and the alleged bugging of the Republican Presidential candidate of 1964, Senator Barry Goldwater. Nobody was even tried in those cases.

Agreed, "two wrongs do not make a right." At the same time, our Constitution declares that everyone is to be treated equally under the law. Are the accused in this matter being given equal, or fair, or reasonable treatment?

Whatever one's political persuasions, it is vital, at this juncture in our history, that our common sense does not give way before hysteria. Yes, perspective is needed.

Overcrowded Jail Bill Becomes Law

House Bill 403 by Representatives Hilary Doran of Del Rio and Bill Sullivant of Gainesville was signed into law May 1. The bill provides that immediately upon conviction and sentencing of a felon, the defendant may be turned over to the Department of Corrections. He will no longer remain at county expense in the county jail while awaiting the final disposition of his appeal. The measure is directed at alleviating the overcrowded condition, as well as removing potential trouble makers, from county jails.

The bill has been hailed by law enforcement officers as a major improvement in Texas law. It is felt that it will have the added advantage of discouraging frivolous appeals filed solely for the purpose of allowing the defendant to remain in local jails.

Forestburg News

By Myrt Denham
FORESTBURG, May 21 —
Mrs. Bruce Steadham celebrated her 91st birthday Sunday, May 13, at her home east of Forestburg. Mrs. John Links and Mrs. Wayne Thompson honored their mother with a birthday party. Refreshments were served to many friends and relatives. Mrs. Steadham is well known and loved by many folks.

Miss Ina Mae Denham, Denver, Colo., has been visiting with friends and relatives in the Forestburg area. Miss Denham lived in the Stoney Point area as a child and attended grade school at Forestburg. She is the daughter of Mrs. Steve Denham, Bowie, and a sister of our rural letter carrier Perryman Denham. Tuesday, May 15, several members of the Perryman clan gathered for a picnic supper honoring Ina Mae. Later she showed pictures of her nine day trip through the Grand Canyon, Arizona, on the Colorado River via a rubber raft.

Saturday, May 12, the Sunshine Club had its monthly meeting at the Forestburg Community Center. There were only a handful of people present. Again, we think it is a shame that more of the older folks do not participate. They are missing a good opportunity to visit with friends and spend a couple of hours in fellowship with others.

Hasn't the weather been beautiful lately? However, we are getting a little dry — need a good shower to break the crust. Folks here have really been busy working their land and in their gardens. Noticed our neighbor Jack Carter is getting a patch of land ready for a late tomato patch. Sure glad this patch is just over the fence from us.

Hear Barney Brogdon and Rex Anderson are busy planting a blackeye pea, watermelon, and cantaloupe patch. Rumor has it that Charlie Barclay and H. B. Perryman are fixing to tear up the soil for the same purpose. Perhaps Forestburg might be able to get a railroad spur now with all this potential produce.

Two more big tomato patch operators are Buford Huddleston and his son Harold. Buford tells me they have three patches going. Am afraid wife Dorothy is in for a very hard summer.

A stranger came to the Burg the other day asking directions to the old Ira Sledge place. When given directions he remarked, "Oh, is it across from that junk yard?" Jack Dill please take note.

Mrs. Doward (Jiggs) Roper lost control of her pickup Thursday, May 17, and it is a total wash-out. Mrs. Roper and two children of James Roper were bruised and shaken up but not seriously injured. The lawn-mower of Judge Louis Holland received the most injuries. The Roper pickup can now be viewed at the Jack C. Dill junk yard.

The home of the Doyle Lynchs' out on the Alford highway was entered into this past week during the absence of the family. A sewing machine, tape recorder, and man's wrist watch are missing. This makes the second time the Lynchs have fallen victims to robbery.

This comes under the "they say" department — but rumors have it that some young men from a neighboring town were in the Burg one day this week. Seems they were sorta acting up and when approached by local citizens asking them to leave — they in turn threatened our folks with bodily harm. Thus another side of progress comes to our community . . . if such an incident can be called progress.

The Boyd L. Barnetts and son Jerry moved into the house of the late Jim and Calie McMillion this past Friday, May 18. They have been fixing and sprucing the place up for several weeks now. Welcome back to the Dewey area.

Speaking of sprucing up homes — the J. J. Reynolds, Dewey way, were seen out giving their home a new coat of paint. They did a fine job and their home sure looks nice. Don't suppose you two would hire out to do some sprucing up around the area?

By the time you read this our new shoe factory should be humming. Much credit for its progress is due to Wib Reynolds, Houston Foster and Joe Hunt. Wib has done the supervising and Houston and Joe have done the work.

Thursday evening, May 17, a surprise birthday party honoring Cleo Lanier was held at the Community Center. We did not ask Cleo her age but she is sure she is at least Jack Benny's age. Refreshments were served to 40 people. Cleo received many nice gifts and she made the remark "This is just like getting a wedding shower but without having to get married."

There will be a Homecoming Sunday, June 3, at the Dewey Church. This is for all present residents, former residents, and those folks that attended school at Dewey. Of course, anyone that would like to attend is welcome. Bring your dinner and meet us under the shade trees. Dewey is a part of the greater Forestburg area.

We close this week's news with this thought for our Forestburg folks. Our little community is beginning to perk up now. Therefore, it would behoove all of us to take a look about us and see it as a stranger sees it driving through. It could be one of the prettiest little communities around if a few more "eyesores" were removed. Hope to be with you next week.

A wife is just the opposite of a fisherman. She brags about the ones that got away and complains about the one she caught.

Mrs. Anderson and Kim Visit Athens On Jet Vacation

Mrs. Rex Anderson and daughter Kim of Forestburg report a great time on a jet trip to Athens, Greece, with short stops in Milan and Rome.

Highlight for Mrs. Anderson was shopping for a coat in Athens, finally settling for a middi length dark brown mink. The bottom zips off to form a stole, leaving the coat street length. Furs are a fabulous buy in Athens, she said. The two took a one-day cruise to the islands of Aegina and Hydra on the M-V Marina and fed the sea gulls.

Another day Karen and Wayne Rogers from the American Embassy in Athens — both native Texans — came to the hotel where Mrs. Anderson and Kim stayed. They came laden with red, white, and blue flowers to welcome the Forestburgers to Greece and took them to dinner in a small village where they dined on octopus in wine sauce (really not too bad) and lots of other Greek delicacies. Later they all visited in the Rogers home. Kim is convinced that she wants to go into foreign service. Mrs. Anderson works in Dallas for American Airlines.

Lillian Vogel and W. J. Walterscheid Say Vows at Mass

Miss Lillian Vogel and Wilfred J. Walterscheid exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at nuptial Mass 5 p.m. Saturday with the Rev. Placidus Eckart, pastor, officiating.

Daughter of Mrs. Joe Vogel and the late Mr. Vogel, the bride was given in marriage by Richard Mitchell of Fort Worth. Her wedding gown of white voile was lavishly trimmed with French lace on the bodice, the high neck-line and long sleeves, and her shoulder-length mantilla-type veil was framed in lace. She carried a cascade of daisies, stephanotis and an orchid showered with love-knotted streamers.

For something old she wore a wedding band that belonged to her great-grandmother Mrs. Joe Kleiss. For something borrowed she wore pearl and diamond earrings belonging to her sister Mrs. Kenneth Sherrill.

The couple's attendants were the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Danny Hoening of Denton. Mrs. Hoening wore a floor-length gown of light green voile banded in French lace and completed her costume with a white picture hat. She carried white and yellow daisies in a white wicker basket.

Rudy Koesler and Leonard Vogel, brother of the bride, were ushers. Ron Muller of Lubbock, Brian Hess, Bert Miller, Bert Hesse, Freddie Koesler and Chuck Koesler were Mass servers.

Mrs. David Bayer was organist and Misses Christi Koesler, Beverly Walterscheid, Susan Endres and Carol Yosten were vocalists. Miss Walterscheid played guitar accompaniment. They sang "If," "Peace, Joy and Happiness," "Into Your Hands," and "Wedding Song" during the service and afterward sang "Mother at Your Feet" when the bride placed a basket of white and yellow daisies on the Blessed Virgin's altar. The floral tribute was handed to her by a niece, Miss Gay Lynn Muller of Lubbock.

White gladioli, white and yellow daisies adorned the altar flanked by candelabra entwined with white daisies and holding crystal votive lights.

Wedding reception and dinner were held in the VFW Hall where some 300 guests were registered by Miss Mary Jane Beyer of Lindsay, niece of the bride, and Miss Christel Monzel of Dallas. Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid presided at the wedding cake and it was served by the bride's nieces Misses Sherrill Hess and Gay Lynn Muller.

After their honeymoon the newlyweds will reside in Muenster on his farm west of town. She will continue, until January 1, with duties at Riverside State Bank in Fort Worth, where she recently was made assistant vice president. She has been with the bank about 20 years, following graduation from Muenster High and business college in Fort Worth.

The groom, son of Mrs. August Walterscheid and the late Mr. Walterscheid, attended Sacred Heart School and is a veteran of World War II. He served in the Army with overseas duty in the Pacific Theatre.

The bride's 11 brothers and sisters, along with spouses and families, attended the wedding. They are Wilbert Vogel of London, England, Leonard Vogel of Dallas, Mrs. Robert Beyer of Lindsay, Messrs. and Mmes. Wayne Keys of Little Rock, Ark., Don Muller of Lubbock, Kenneth Sherrill of Euless, Clifford Otto of Gainesville, Danny Hoening of Denton, Don Vogel of Dallas, Weldon Vogel and Leo Hess of Muenster.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Vogel wore an aqua blue dress trimmed with beaded flowers and Mrs. Walterscheid, mother of the groom, wore an orchid crepe costume. Both had gardenia corsages.

Rehearsal Dinner
The rehearsal dinner was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hess for members of the wedding party, family members including Sister Francesca Walterscheid of Fort Worth and other out of town relatives.

Special guests were Sister Georgia, Father Leonard Wangler and Dr. and Mrs. Martin Kralicke.

26 SH '74 Seniors Receive Rings in Special Liturgy

Twenty-six students of Sacred Heart High received their 73-74 Senior Ring during a special liturgy service Tuesday, May 22, at 9:35 a.m., in Sacred Heart Church.

The 26 students marched in the entrance procession preceding the holy sacrifice of the Mass. During the homily of the Mass, Father Leonard, celebrant, spoke on the Senior Ring as a status symbol which carries corresponding responsibilities. "The success of the 73-74 school year will depend in a large measure on how the seniors meet their responsibilities," he said.

Following the homily, Father Leonard blessed the rings and presented them to each individual saying: "Wear this ring as a sign of your interest and involvement in Sacred Heart High School."

At the Communion of the Mass, the newly inducted seniors of 73-74 received Holy Communion under both species. Class Sponsor, Mr. Jim Gehrig, assisted in the distribution of Holy Communion.

Faculty and students of SHH attended the morning service.

USS American Galvanized Steel Fence & Barbed Wire

Strong, sturdy AMERICAN Fence is made of galvanized steel line wires of correct tensile strength that are soft enough to splice, yet hard enough to retain tension curves. It remains taut in summer and winter because of the extra-deep tension curves. Intersecting stay wires have securely wrapped hinge joints which permit the fence to flex, not distort. You get full length, full height, full gage when you buy AMERICAN Fence. There is more in use than any other brand. USS AMERICAN Galvanized Steel Barbed Wire is made for long service life. It's furnished in eight types—two and four-point styles. Wires are of the correct tensile strength and properly stranded. Firm, sharp barbs are proportionally spaced and tightly tied. Controlled, even galvanizing protects the wires against corrosion—assures long service life.

SOME "GUARDIAN ANGELS" LOOK A LITTLE DIFFERENT

And some of them, such as this one, have unusual names. Electrostatic precipitator. It's a protective guardian of the air you and your children breathe—a complex, mechanical giant being installed at Texas Power & Light Company's new lignite-fueled generating plants to safeguard the quality of the air—and your environment. But it's only one of the guardian measures TP&L uses. Soil is reclaimed at lignite plants by sodding beneficial grasses in areas where lignite has been produced. TP&L also conducts water and aquatic life studies in its power plant reservoirs to find better ways to preserve (and enhance) the quality of both. Even new substations are being designed to be eye-pleasing. As your needs for electricity continue to grow, TP&L must also—but we do it with protective concern for the environment.

I'm always impressed by the politician who leaves his $80 a day hotel suite to climb into a $9,000 limousine which takes him to a $20,000,000 jet which delivers him to the city where he has to deliver a speech on economy in government.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Editor, It is sad that you had to lump all cyclists into one barrel, leaving the impression they are all dope-heads, frustrated because of their lack of ability to participate in the community accepted sports and activities.

Let us do a little job of retrospection. Did it every occur to you and others who have castigated the cyclists, that perhaps some of this element of youth have not, for various reasons, accepted or actively participated in some "past-time" activities, namely parent-sponsored "beer-busts", and therefore have chosen another means of expression — and sans drugs?

I apologize, Mr. Editor, perhaps I haven't given you sufficient time to laud or condemn this type of group-participation in one of your articles; however, I think I have, for to belie this type of social indulgence for our youth is a "no-no" by some in this community. Somehow, I have an aversion to the skillet calling the pot black.

And please note, I am not lumping all of this permissiveness in one container. I would say that the majority of Mothers and Dads are opposed to this type of celebration after a ballgame, graduation, etc., if not as a moral issue but for other various and sundry reasons.

I very well realize that this is not the present issue; however, I am using it as an analogy as to what is right and wrong for our youth.

Mr. Editor, did you attend the "Enduro" Sunday morning which was sponsored by the fine young men of the Muenster Jaycees? If you did, you would have observed that after a good 3½ to 4 hours of hard riding over the roughest type of terrain, cyclists crossed the final check point — dirty, exhausted, limping, and some having flipped their cycles numerous times — yet, proud because they had the fiber to, as the contest name indicated, endure the full course on one of the most skillful and exhausting sports. Does this imply they haven't the stamina to withstand the demand of other equally fine sports and activities mentioned in your writings?

Now let us assume that your accusation is true. Did your editorial give our young cyclists any hope of later leading constructive and beneficial lives as mature adults if they are such "failures" as youths? I wonder if all the professionals such as lawyers, doctors, insurance executives, and educators, who ride the trails north of town almost weekly, were anti-socialists and dope-heads as youth. Something to ponder, isn't it?

Yes, Mr. Editor, I am leaving myself as an open target for hostile feelings and comments from various people of "my" community, but if I don't have the fortitude to stand up and be counted for defending a group of youngsters, including my own, who have chosen another type of sport — which some people still equate with the HELL'S ANGELS, I had better resign as a Mother, citizen, and educator of this community. I really haven't intended doing any of the three, but may I stress that when you have the proof and statistics to back up what I consider an off-the-cuff statement, then I'll be the first to write a letter of retraction.

Perhaps the majority of the populace of this community and other communities consider the cyclists a misfit. But what is a misfit? Are they those who do not conform 100% to the tradition of their respective locales?

Yes, I can readily understand how the noise made by hot-rodgers and cyclists can be very annoying not only to the senior citizens but to all of us. I wholeheartedly agree something should be done about this problem and I hope it can be reconciled in the near future.

I will now sincerely and humbly apologize to any I may have offended, but I do hope there is a realization that one can hardly write a controversial letter without making those who are in disagreement, irate. Let us all remember, including the writer of this letter, those words of wisdom. In essence, "He who casts the first stone, let him be without sin." We all stand guilty of misguided judgment.

Thanks for listening, and I do appreciate the right and privilege of expressing my opinion. Gratefully, Mrs. Prue Selby being made we individuals can help a lot by adjusting our habits to make the supply stretch farther. A number of suggested ways can save energy and pay us for doing so by reducing operating cost. Some of those are to cut down the speed of cars, eliminate fast starts and stops, don't leave engine idling, use car air conditioner less, shut off home lights and appliances when not in use, set air conditioner two degrees warmer and heater two degrees cooler. Electric companies say to set the cooler no lower than 73, that every degree lower uses about 5 percent more current.
