

Not many years ago electric companies had their promotion departments going constantly in suggesting ideas that might induce the customer to use more current. Now it's different. The promotion people are reminding customers how they can reduce their light bills. The motive here, of course, is to have us reduce the unnecessary use so that our limited supply of current can serve more people. We've reached the stage of straining our resources, so it's comforting to think that we are seeking ways to use them more efficiently.

Some of the recommendations are to turn off lights that are not in use; avoid frequent opening of refrigerator doors; turn off appliances when not in use; set the air conditioner thermostat just a few degrees higher; conserve on the use of any kind of heating appliance. The idea has lots of appeal on both sides. Lower electric bills will be welcome to the consumer, and help toward solving the energy crisis will be equally welcome to the power companies.

Appearances are that we are heading for a similar adjustment in our fuel supply. Small, economy cars are gaining in popularity as we hear about possible rationing and likely price increases in gasoline. Next they'll be urging us to reduce speed, avoid the unnecessary acceleration and braking, and stop the long idling periods so as to get more mileage out of gasoline.

We hope the ecology people will also join in the economy spirit by concentrating on engine improvement for more complete fuel combustion instead of adding gadgets for treating the pollution from inefficient engines.

Now that we've turned in our income tax reports, and remittances, we can appreciate lots of merit in a deduction recommended by Representative Ed Koch of New York. Mindful of occasional emergencies when blood for transfusions is in short supply, he has introduced legislation to allow a $25 income tax deduction for every pint of blood donated.

Our guess is that this bill ought to be popular with everybody concerned. Those who have been giving deserve the tax reduction as a sort of reward, and many others can be induced by it to become donors. And of course the medical profession would like to be assured that plenty of blood is always available.

The tremendous progress made by Japan since the second world war is grounds for some people's fear that in a few more years that nation will be the dominant one of the economic world. It's being said that ambitions Japanese are openly aiming for the position.

As we think about trends in this country we feel that, by default, we are actually helping the Japanese to achieve their goal. We're slipping, simply because Americans on the average are doing a lot less than they are able to do. We're no longer eager to turn out quality service or products but rather to get the most possible pay for the least possible work.

A consequence is that consumers are not getting their money's worth, so they turn to foreign imports produced by people like the Japanese, who already have a tremendous volume of their things in our market and are trying for more.

All that is alarming until we remember that the Japanese are human beings in danger of weakening like the rest of us. When the good life was attained we Americans changed our attitudes. We thought more of living it up and less of achieving, more of the pay and the leisure and less of the quality of our work.

It's said that Japan already is starting to incline that way. Too much prosperity is having its effect and people are slacking up their work pace. They're living it up more and more while showing less concern for the material success which brought them the higher standards.

Perhaps this means that Japanese competition, which has been a thorn in the side of American industry, will gradually become less aggressive. But we're wondering.

Rain Continues

Though not setting any records, persistent wet weather is keeping the community well soaked. Seven days of the month to date have had rain recordings and there were additional days of damp cloudy weather. Through Tuesday the total for the month was an even 3 inches. Most of it fell Sunday and Tuesday when the measures were 1.66 and .43 inches respectively.

The year's total to now is 12.10 inches, which already tops the first four months in all but three years of past decade. Those years were 1966 with 17.31 inches, 1968 with 16.42 and 1969 with 13.85.

Historians tell us about the past and economists about the future. Thus, only the present is confusing.

The evening was precluded with music from Doug Martin and The Rustlers and was concluded with the drawing of 31 attendance prizes valued in excess of $700.00.

Three Block Area In South Muenster To Be Developed

The recent sale of the Mike Kleiss Estate in and adjoining the south part of town will be followed soon by a development of building locations.

The owners, Rufus Henscheid, Richard Grewing, James Jack Biffle and James Hess, have indicated their intention to improve the portion of their land inside the city and sell it for building sites.

Included is an area of three large blocks measuring 545x710 across the creek south and west of the city park. It will be divided into 72 locations, streets will be laid out and water and sewer service will be made available.

Remaining area, beyond the city limits, will be sold in tracts of 5 to 10 acres. Total area in and out of the city is 150 acres.

Garbage Disposal Favored at Hearing

A proposal of a garbage collection service in Muenster was favorably received Monday night by the city council and twelve visitors at a special hearing in the city hall.

The group was impressed by two considerations. It was in favor of the service because of the convenience as well as eliminating the smoke and odor from burning trash. And it was concerned by a possible shut-down of the present system by the state, which is getting more demanding about the quality of air and water.

It was pointed out that rain-water flowing through the ravine now used for a city dump carries pollution to the streams, and that trash burned inside the city limits is polluting the air. Solution will require a sanitary landfill system in which trash is collected regularly and buried.

The meeting was headed by Mike Willbanks of Irving, representative of a firm which contracts with cities for collect-

Lippe, Klement Qualify for State UIL Competition

Two of Muenster High School's four entries scored in the regional track meet last weekend in Stephenville, earning 17 points for ninth place in a field representing 49 schools.

Mark Lippe was second in the high jump with 6'1" and Lyle Klement was second in the mile run with a fine time of 4:41.8 in spite of cold and rain. He missed first place by only .4 second. The second places qualified both of the boys to compete in the state meet on May 4 and 5.

The Hornets got one more point on Lippe's sixth place in the 120 high hurdles. He was also in the 330 low hurdles but failed to qualify for the finals. Likewise Louis Koelzer did not reach the finals in the 120 hurdles and Jim Endres did not get to the finals in discus or shot.

In UIL regional literary events Kay Wimmer was second in poetry interpretation but did not qualify for the state contest because only the first place advances in that event. The only other literary score was Curtis Klement's fourth in number sense.

Others who had placed first or second in the district and advanced to regional were Lois Sicking in informative speaking, Kirk Johnson in poetry interpretation, Debbie Reynolds in prose reading, Mary Lou Fleitman in editorial writing, Janice Fisher in news writing, Charlotte Johnson in headline writing, Curtis Klement and Louis Koelzer in sliderule.

In regional tennis Patty Dittfurth and Becky Jaska defeated Santa Anna in their first match and lost to Mason in the semifinal. Randy Wolf lost to Carroll in his opener.

Jim Endres as district golf medalist scored a fine 156 on 36 holes in the regional, but that was good for only the 6th place. Low score was a sizzling 146 by Hugh Marshall of Aledo.

Band Will Present 20th Anniversary Concert on May 11

The Muenster Hornet Band under direction of Bob Hayes will present its annual Spring Concert in the MHS auditorium on May 11 at 8 o'clock.

The program, observing the band's 20th anniversary, will honor former band members and urges all of them to attend if possible.

The band was organized in August 1952 as the Muenster Youth Band with 35 students under direction of Bill Searcy. Since then it has had eleven directors.

Presently directed by Hayes, it has 58 members in grades 7 through 12, and it recruits new players annually from beginner bands of the fifth and sixth grades. Muenster Public School has 96 students participating in the band program.

ing and disposing of the garbage. He showed slides of garbage deposited in cans and bags at people's curbs and pointed out that after collection the empty cans are still there whereas the yard is clear after bag collection. Other pictures were of the collection truck and the landfill operation.

Willbanks said the city can maintain its own program or it can contract with a firm such as his to do the work. Councilmen favored the latter method because it does not require them to buy the equipment, particularly a truck and bulldozer. However they assumed that the city will have the job of collecting fees from residents. If turned over to a disposal firm the rate would be determined by the extent of service contracted.

Willbanks said that the average fee charged to residents is $3.00 a month and business firms pay more. However that amount would not cover the city's cost, either for the contract or its own operation. The balance would probably be paid out of the sales tax or revenue sharing fund.

Items included in the collection are all the things a family needs to dispose of — such as cans, bottles, paper, table scraps, rubbish, tree and grass trimmings.

First step toward establishing the service is to study ordinances from several cities to determine what should be offered here and what rate should be charged. After that the city will draw up its ordinance and determine whether to set up its own collection service or advertise for contract bids.

Awards and advancements of the Muenster Boy Scout troop will be recognized Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at court of honor ceremonies in the K of C Hall.

The boys will receive merit badges advancement badges and certificates which have been earned since their last court of honor. Mayor David Bright will make the presentations and also talk briefly on the merits of the scouting program.

All the scouts and their parents are urged to attend. Refreshments of cold drinks, coffee and cookies will be served after the ceremony.

Honor Court Set Monday for Scouts

The electric co-op will sponsor this program again this summer, and Mrs. Hickerson will be the instructor.

The program is designed to stimulate interest in good nutrition, principles of table etiquette and service, and set a foundation for fun in food preparation.

Jaycees to Treat Kiddies Sunday in Easter Egg Hunt

All children of the community under ten years of age are invited to be guests of Muenster Jaycees at an Easter egg hunt in the City Park Easter Sunday afternoon.

The hunt, to begin at 2 o'clock, will be conducted in two sections under direction of Jack Flusche and Alan Miller, chairmen.

Tiny tots, aged one through five will have their own division while children six to 10 will form the other group.

Three 5-dollar prizes will be awarded in each division for finding the most eggs and for finding the prize egg.

Mrs. Charlie Berend has been the house guest of her sister Mrs. Leo J. Haverkamp while Charlie Berend was a patient at Muenster Hospital. In addition to being with her husband every day she also visited regularly with her mother Mrs. C. J. Wimmer at Hillcrest Manor.

Co-op Members Hear Record Year Report

A large number of members and guests gathered at the Muenster Public School Auditorium April 16, 1973 for the annual meeting of the Cooke County Electric Cooperative.

They heard Manager Mike Sloan report that sales increased 16.1% in 1972 to a total of 180,374,100 kilowatt hours. This was an increase of 25,059,685 KWH, the largest ever for one year.

Gross operating revenue for 1972 was $2,355,328, an increase of 12% over the previous year. Revenue from the sale of electric energy increased $253,941 while miscellaneous operating revenue decreased by $1,041. Revenue per KWH sold continued to decline to an all time low of 12.9 mills per KWH.

Net operating revenue for 1972 was $326,989, a decrease of $48,980 from the previous year. The reduction is due primarily to a higher rate of increase in operating expenses as compared to the rate of increase in operating revenue. While operating revenue increased 12% operating expenses increased 17.5%.

Net revenue totaling $380,517 plus funds provided by depreciation totaling $203,054 plus $43,456 of reserve funds was used to make plant additions and replacements totaling $507,335 and invest an additional $89,000 to help capitalize C.F.C., which is a cooperative banking institution organized and capitalized by the rural electric systems nationwide whereby private capital can be made available to electric cooperatives as loans to finance at least a part of their future additions to plant.

Since the 2% direct loan program was terminated effective December 31, 1972 by the Administration, C.F.C. at this time is the only established source of loan funds the nation's rural electric systems have. However, C.F.C. cannot with its present capital structure be more than a supplementary source. Efforts are being made at this time in the National Congress to restore the REA direct lending program at a basic 5% interest rate rather than at the 2% rate.

The program also included the election of two directors for 3 year terms. Vincent Zimmerman and Al Wiesman were returned to the board by a unanimous vote.

The large crowd then heard Walter Richburg, vice president of Continental National Bank, Fort Worth, explain that the American public is being misled by the outcry that food is too high, when actually the increase in prices has been only approximately 8% while wages and other types of income increase at a much higher rate, even some as high as 100% in the past two decades.

He further explained that, through advanced technology, conservation practices and the utilization of electricity, we are the best fed Nation in the world with only 16% of spendable income being allocated to the purchase of food, the lowest in the world.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The letter which appeared in your paper on March 29 concerning a merchant seems to have caused quite a furor. I hope the response in this weeks paper reflects the majority opinion as shown by the mail you received and is not prejudiced by the view of yourself and your staff. This would defeat the purpose of a letters column.

I must take issue with the letter that said anonymous letters should not be printed. I have talked to several people in Muenster who are uneasy about expressing their opinions because of the consequences. I have talked to those who have been told, in a round about way, that if they don't trade with this merchant or do such and such, or go out of town for services, they will lose business. I have even been told this myself and for this reason I can not sign my letter. By allowing anonymous letters you let people like myself be heard. You let those who are shy about speaking out in public be heard. Naturally you will receive a few crackpot letters but I'm sure you and your staff can pick those out.

I also must add that I agree, to some degree, with the letter scolding Muenster merchants. It is very true that Muenster businesses are hit every time they turn around to support this or that project or program. Merchants in surrounding towns are asked too, by Muenster people and people in their own town. The support given these projects help build a strong community in one way or other. The Jaycee projects and other civic minded group projects benefit us directly and now. School projects benefit us in the future by giving our youth a good education and background for the future. Outside activities for the youth benefit us now by keeping the kids busy in useful endeavors and out of mischief and later by teaching them a trade or business management or how to generally get along with others. A strong community and good programs for youth are what we all want. The support given by the merchants benefit them by allowing Muenster to grow and develop into a strong community. Many projects supported by the merchant benefit his or her child, grandchild, niece, nephew or other kin. The merchant definitely does not lose for his sacrifices and support. But I've seen merchants support one group or project to the neglect of others because some one made him mad or he didn't like the group or they didn't give him enough business. This is poor business and hurts us all and teaches our children to be small and petty about things.

All this aside, the biggest problem I've found in trading in Muenster is the fact that there is little competition and the merchants act like it. The prices are higher, in many cases, and the service poorer because they know you have no place else to go. Of course you could drive the distance to another town but sometimes you haven't the time. If you do shop out of Muenster you are criticized and talked about and made to feel guilty for not supporting your community.

Why can't we work together and help each other? These problems are not present in some area businesses and these merchants should be thanked for thinking of others before themselves, at least part of the time. In the other businesses the owner should know what's happening — maybe the employee is at fault not the owner — as these problems can be corrected.

Muenster has great potential if each merchant would forget his personal selfish needs once in awhile and all merchant work together for the common good. Gainesville merchants have banded together to attract area business. They are stressing good service and lower prices. Why can't Muenster merchants work together too on all community levels for a better town and for a better atmosphere for our children to develop in — one of brotherhood and good will.

I am afraid you will have to sign me

A Concerned Citizen

Dear Editor:

Best for last?

In the letter written from a proud Muenster resident I could not but notice no mention of our fine nursing home that I am proud of.

Hillcrest Manor is a home-owned and home-operated facility and employs local people.

Please visit Hillcrest Manor Nursing Home just one mile west of Muenster on Hwy 32. You will be glad you did.

I have been a nurse and a cook for this home and I am real proud to serve our aged residents of Muenster and vicinity.

Kralickes in Rome For Class Reunion Of Loyola Doctors

Doctor and Mrs. Martin Kralicke were with a group of M.D. graduates from Loyola University, Chicago, flying to Rome to join in the silver anniversary class reunion. There were 20 doctors and wives, some accompanied by their families, in the party.

A 707 jet flight took them to Rome for ten days of re-unioneing and sight-seeing with side trips to Assisi and Florence.

There were many highlights of their trip outstanding among them a private audience with the Holy Father who spoke to them in English; being present for the ceremonies of unveiling the restored Pieta; St. Peter's Square, the Vatican where they walked to the top of the dome; the Catacombs and Coliseum. The group also was present at a reception where they met the vicar general of the Jesuit Order.

In Assisi it was St. Francis' birthplace and the beautiful church named in his honor. And in Florence it was the priceless works of art. These were spared from bombing during the war but were damaged by the destructive flood of 1956. An attendant told the group of tourists that gratitude will always go to the American people whose generosity helped restore these treasures.

There were reunion dinners with delightful Italian food — which was always good. Weather was perfect and scenery beautiful, landscaped with olive trees and vineyards. Souvenirs and pictures brought back by the Kralickes add to happy memories of their Roman holiday.

$3.8 Million Fund
For State School
Tentatively OK'd

The House Appropriations Committee has tentatively approved a 1974-75 appropriation for the Gainesville School for Girls totalling $3,858,957. Representative Bill Sullivant has announced. Federal Grant financed programs for the school for the same period amount to $217,399 for an aggregate total of $4,076,356 for the biennium. The State funding for the next biennium represents a substantial increase over past appropriations for the school. In 1972 and 73 the total state funding was $1,326,913 and $1,534,981 respectively. For 1974 and 75 the figures are $1,894,603 and $1,964,354 respectively.

Salaries for Teachers, Administration and other personnel comprise, by far, the largest part of the appropriation. These amount to $1,584,377 for 1974 and $1,666,913 for 1975. The total recommended budget for 1974-75 comes to almost one million dollars over the amount spent or budgeted for 1972-73. "Most of this money will be spent here in Cooke County and represents an important percentage of our total economy", Sullivant noted. "I have gone over the figures carefully and believe this budget is justified by the services this institution provides for our State. We have every reason to believe that it will pass the legislature and be approved by the Governor."

Project Sunrise Gets Support of Muenster Jaycees

Muenster Jaycees became involved in helping handicapped and blind children of Texas Thursday night at their regular meeting. They started by having Phillip McLelland, director of Project Sunrise and assistant to Texas Commission for the Blind, as their speaker, and ended by ordering a tandem bicycle for use in the school's training program. McLelland explained Project Sunrise, saying it has been in effect at the state school since 1966 for recreation and rehabilitation of the blind students, including several from the state school at Denton. It has 57 students, is funded 80% by federal funds and 20% by state funds. Along with the talk he showed slides of scenes from the training program. McLelland has been with the state school for one year. Before that he worked on a similar project with the North Carolina Department of Mental Health and Retardation. When the tandem bicycle arrives it will be presented to the project director at the state school by one of the Muenster Jaycees.

Charolais Assn. Sets Field Day at Paradise, Apr. 28

The third annual field day sponsored by the Top o' Texas Charolais Association will be held Saturday, April 28 at the Dean Charolais Ranch 1½ miles north of Paradise.

Registrations begin at 10 a.m. and judging at 10:30. A noon barbecue lunch will be furnished by the association and Dean Packing Co. of Fort Worth.

The event will emphasize marked changes in the beef raising industry in recent years. Ten years ago only about 40 per cent of the slaughtered animals were grain fed, today the figure is near 80 per cent. Also growers are becoming less interested in traditional conformation and more conscious of growth performance and ratio of red meat to fat and bone. Dr. Dale W. Zinn, of the Animal Science Department of Texas Tech, will cover that subject in his talk entitled "Beef and Beef Cattle of '73."

Also on the program is T. J. Davidson of Cooke County Junior College. He will explain the bull performance testing program conducted by the beef cattle evaluation center of CCJC.

With revenue sharing in the news so much today, our quote of the week goes to Rep. H. R. Gross (R-Iowa). He said: "A robber took $100 from his victim gave him back 25 cents to catch a bus. That started revenue sharing."

County FB Will Propose Revisions In Constitution

Cook County Farm Bureau will cooperate with the state organization in making recommendations for revision of the Texas constitution. The decision was made in last week's monthly meeting of the county FB, and members appointed to the revision committee are Martin Krahl, Andrew Whaley and James Cole.

Also taken up at the meeting was the 1973 membership drive. Melvin Dansby, district supervisor, said that a statewide drive has been started to register gains in every county. As an incentive a burgundy vest will be awarded to the head of every county FB unit that shows an increase. J. C. Cole of the county membership committee was encouraging in that respect, saying that it has a substantial gain over last year.

President Burney Almon reported that the State FB's new building at Waco is finished and due to be occupied during the weekend.

M. B. Feaster gave a favorable report on the FB insurance program in the county and presented Gordon Beale, district sales manager, who pledged his help in promoting the program.

Mrs. Lawrence Zimmerer and Mrs. E. V. Fox served refreshments to the 22 members attending.

6th Grade Pupils Hear About Cuba

Sixth graders of Muenster Public School learned first hand about freedom and dictatorship in government when Mrs. Alfredo Antonetti and her niece, Lourdes Montesino, told them about the communist take-over of Cuba and conditions over there.

Speaking from her experience before she and Dr. Antonetti were permitted to leave with only the clothes they wore as possessions, she told about complete government control of schools, industry and business. There was no free enterprise nor any other kind of freedom. She reminded the children that the Pledge of Allegiance has real meaning and all should appreciate the freedom they enjoy in this country. She also stressed that they are the future citizens with a responsibility to be alert to governmental happenings.

During a question and answer period principal interest centered on family life in Cuba at this time.

Paul Arendts Jr. Are Honored on 25th Anniversary

LINDSAY — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arendt Jr. have reached a silver milestone in the lives together and have celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the observance in the KC Hall at Gainesville where the couple's children Janet and Earl Cunningham, Patsy, Gina and Adam Arendt were hosts.

A tiered cake centered the refreshment table. The cake was topped with the bride and groom figurines that topped the wedding cake in 1948 and was further adorned with small figurines representing the couple's children. Mrs. Jerry Walterscheid served the cake assisted by Adam and Gina Arendt.

Guests were registered by Miss Patsy Arendt and Mrs. Earl Cunningham at a table covered with cloth that was a wedding gift 25 years ago and held photos of the wedding day.

Mary Wolf and Paul Arendt Jr. were married April 12, 1948 in St. Peter's Church. Attendees were her three brothers, Ed, Lee and Adam Wolf, and his three sister, Mrs. Ray Voth (Lou), Mrs. Earl Walterscheid (Florence), and Mrs. Albert Bauer (Joan).

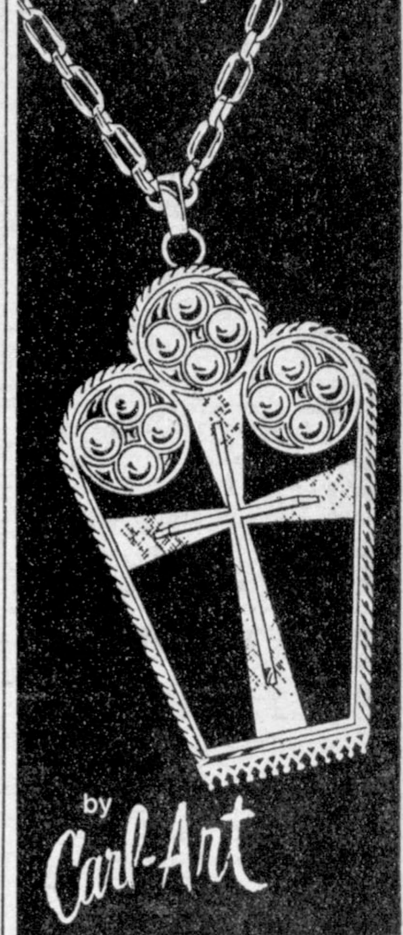

They live on a farm where they set up housekeeping south of Lindsay 25 years ago. He is associated with his brothers in business. They have four children — one son died in infancy — and one grandchild, Tony Cunningham.

Guests were present from Lindsay, Muenster and Gainesville and included also the Bob Lees and Mac McDavitts of Tioga, Mrs. Neva Yost of Dexter and an aunt, Sister Tarcisia Schroeder of Paris, Ark.

Mrs. Jim Stockman of Kansas City is visiting her mother Mrs. R. M. Zipper, a patient at Muenster Hospital. Another daughter Miss Joan Zipper of Dallas spent the weekend.

Hospital Auxiliary Busy with Plans For Benefit Dance

Members of Muenster Memorial Hospital Auxiliary are busy getting ready for their annual big benefit — a spring dance. Proceeds will go into the Alert System fund.

"Over the Rainbow" is the theme of the ball which will be held in the KC Hall on April 28 and will have Bill Tanner's music. Decorations will be in a garden theme.

Tickets at $6 a couple are available at Hamric's, Modern Floors, Carol's Beauty Salon and Evelyn's Styleroom. Mrs. Charles Bayer is in charge of reservations. Tickets include set-ups.

Set-up donations are through courtesy of Lindsay merchants: Lindsay Liquor, Metzler's, The Cove, Smokehouse, Bill's Liquor, Superette Grocery, Grady Jones, The Dutchman, Pat & Mary, and Lindsay Grocery.

Muenster Knights of Columbus have donated $50 to help with expenses. Decorations which will be elaborate have received a boost from Flowers by Dolores, Ben Franklin Store and Muenster Garden Center.

Auxiliary members invite everyone to mark the calendar and save April 28 for this benefit event.

whether we at the same time will be smart enough to overcome some of our affluence-related faults. The report serves as a hint to people of this country to shake off the bad habits of our recent past and revive the eager attitude. Hard work got us in the Number 1 position and it has to be continued to keep us there.

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. King had as weekend guests her cousins, Senator and Mrs. John C. Ryan of Sedalia, Mo.

Lens-View

Easter is late this year in fact it will not be this late again til after the year 2000. Could it be that is the cause of our disagreeable weather the past two weeks. The last two Sundays just could not have been an Easter Sunday.

Congratulations to Roger

Taylor newly elected president of the Muenster Jaycees. That is one active organization — always looking for a way to improve our city.

It is difficult to understand the reason for the sudden shortage of so many items. For months we have been reading about the anticipated shortage of fuel. Already in the New England states also in Minnesota and Florida many service stations have had to close and those that are operating sell limited quantities to their customers.

Grain is scarce and high because of the tremendous amount sold to foreign companies. This, along with this winter's weather has caused the shortage in fat livestock available for market.

All items made from wood are scarce and high because of the lumber shortage. Plywood, furniture, and paper are all difficult to buy even at higher prices.

Could our land of plenty possibly see rationing during peace time?
