

The release of the three prisoners of war by North Vietnam Sunday is newsworthy but definitely not as great as Hanoi would like to have us think. Other than the fact that a long, dreary imprisonment has ended and the men concerned have regained their precious freedom, there was no important significance to the event.

Amidst the gush of appreciation for Hanoi's generosity let's consider what the Red's actually gave. Three men had the opportunity for a deal — their release for statements that pleased Hanoi. Actually those three were insignificant to their captors, a mere trifle compared to the hundreds still held and a very small price to pay for the propaganda value exploited therefrom.

And, of course, there was that detail of releasing the trio to the activists Dave Dellinger and Cora Weiss. Dealing with those known communists and public enemies rather than with US officials was an obvious insult to this country — another bonus value for Hanoi.

So, this column's reaction is satisfaction over the new liberty of three men, but no appreciation to Hanoi. They have actually done nothing of merit. They only gave to three what they should have given long ago to several hundred, and meanwhile they got far more than they gave. No thinking people will be taken in by the big show.

A new law to become effective in Oregon on October 1 may be the big step in the country's effort for a cleaner environment. Known as the bottle deposit law, it requires a five cent deposit on beer and carbonated soft drink bottles and cans and prohibits entirely the sale of beer and carbonated soft drinks in non-returnable containers.

This seems like the best answer yet for the clutter of cans and bottles which is so widely deplored throughout the nation. Five cents each for the containers is more than they are worth, doubtless the reason why the constitutionality of the law was tested in court before it became effective. But the important point is that five cents is sufficient inducement to return the container. That's what society wants . . . to keep it off the landscape.

As it looks from here, this idea is a real dandy. It does not require anything more than considerate people did anyway, and it has a money value that appeals to most others. And finally, it will make cleaning up a bit more worth while. For those who want to throw away the nickle containers there will be plenty others, especially kids, who are eager to pick them up and cash them in.

We hope Texas lawmakers are taking note of the new Oregon law. Let's add that nickle deposit to the price of all canned and bottled drinks. Then if some guys want to keep on littering, let 'em do it. Indirectly they'll be paying those who clean up behind them.

Unfortunately, that doesn't do all of the environment job. Hopefully someone will come up with a way to stop some of the other littering. But for now, this seems like a big start.

Politicians are still handing us that old line about tax loopholes. They like to have us think they have come up with ideas whereby tax dodgers will have to take on some of the burdens carried by you and me.

We've all heard about the millionaires who don't pay a cent of tax, the petroleum and mining interests who get big deductions for depletion, or the deductions for charity, medical costs or interest. The inference always is that the fat cats will be stuck, but when we think it through we realize that somehow more money will be drained from our pockets. The man who has tax free municipal bonds also happens to draw less interest which is a break for us who pay the city taxes. Suppose his interest were taxed. He'd make other investments and get proportionately more to pay the tax. Then how about the city bonds? They'd have to go up, of course, in order to get investors, and the difference would come from the city taxpayers.

Depletion allowance is another favorite target in the so called hunt for tax dodgers. Lots of people can be convinced that it's a fat deduction.

1972 United Fund Drive in County Starts October 2

The Cooke County United Fund campaign for 1972 will be launched Oct. 2 with a goal of $48,550.

Charles Draper, president, and John Kinsey, campaign chairman, are in charge of the drive. "We are attempting to increase our contributions for the Cooke County agencies by 5 per cent over the 1971 campaign," Draper said. The youth and underprivileged in our community require more services and we must attempt to provide for these needs. If we don't do it for our friends, neighbors and children, it won't be done," he added.

Thirteen agencies, an increase of one agency over the preceding years, have been approved for participation in the United Fund campaign.

The agencies and their budget share are: Boys Club, $9,560; Camp Fire Girls, $5,082; Salvation Army, $6,006; Council on Alcoholism, $1,350; Camp Sweeney, $6,468; Red Cross, $9,240.

Boy Scouts, $5,082; FFA and 4-H, $1,432; Muenster Youth Council, $555; Texas Rehabilitation Center, $323; U.S.O., $554.

Texas United Community Service, $200; and United Way of America, $198.

The latter two agencies are new to the United Fund here. One takes the place of the Tri-Hi-Y, the other is added to the list, making a total of 13 agencies.

Rampaging Hornets Clobber Boyd 44-0

MHS Hornets made an impressive start in their '72 season last Friday night on the local field by mauling the Boyd Yellow Jackets 44-0. They took charge of the situation in the opening seconds and held the initiative all the way through.

Their start was explosive. Following Louis Koelzer's nice kickoff return 30 yards to midfield, Quarterback Jim Endres started the offense with a bomb. The ball floated some 35 yards down the field where Alan Miller caught it at full speed and kept going. A kick by Endres upped the count to 7-0 with only 16 seconds gone.

At their first turn with the ball the visitors got a pair of first downs and failed on the next series. With 64 to go MHS started on its second TD. Hank Trachta and Endres did most of the carrying in the nine plays to pay dirt. Endres going over for the last 2 yards. Endres' kick was good for another point.

For the second time Boyd snapped back with an effort that netted two first downs but failed on the third series. That time the Hornets had 73 yards to go.

A pass to Randy Wolf for 11 started the drive and runs by Tom Hennigan and Trachta gobbled the yardage. Eleven plays were used and the payoff was an option lateral to Trachta for 7. The try for kick failed leaving the count at 20-0 and 5:31 remaining on the clock for the second quarter.

The Jackets, still not using a punt, gave up the ball at midfield when their series failed. And Muenster headed for the goal again. Six plays made the distance. Hennigan and Trachta alternated at carrying, Miller caught a pass for 16 and Endres scored from the 10. The third after touchdown kick by Endres was good making the score 27-0.

First half ended with Muenster well ahead in the statistics as well as the score. They led 14-4 in first downs and 223 to 70 in yardage. However the tempo slowed down considerably in the second half as practically all of the reserves had a chance at the game.

Opening the third period Boyd failed to move and kicked and Muenster started from its 47. Eight plays were enough. A pass to Miller for 20 was the big gain. And Trachta went over from the 1. Endres' kick added a point.

From then on Coach Glenn Richardson mixed regulars and rookies at about a 50-50 ratio. Nevertheless the next TD was not long in coming.

The Men In Service

Civilian Again

Capt. Henry Victor has returned to civilian life after seven years in the Army. He received his separation papers after his recent return from duty in Germany. His wife is the former Loretta Schmitt of Muenster and they have two sons Kenneth and Allen. The family visited here with her parents the Al Schmitts a few days enroute to San Antonio to make their home.

At New Station

Army Major John Broome, his wife Juanita and their children Kathy, John Paul and Douglas are living in Leavenworth, Kansas, since his recent transfer from Fort Knox to Fort Leavenworth where he is on a ten-month assignment. Mr. and Mrs. John Wieler visited their daughter and family last week, seeing them in their new location for the first time.

On Duty In Thailand

Air Force Staff Sergeant Ray Rumley reports being settled in Thailand for a six-month assignment. His home base is Wichita, Kansas, and his wife and daughter are remaining there while he is overseas. It's his second assignment in Thailand. He is the son of Mrs. J. C. Miller of Gainesville. His brother, J. D. Rumley, stationed at Loring AFB, Maine, has been advanced to airman first class.

Elm-Red Contest On Grass Judging Booked October 3

Directors of the Upper Elm-Red Soil & Water Conservation District, along with other agricultural workers in the district, set Tuesday, October 3rd, as the date for the annual grass judging contest. "This will be our 23rd annual contest," said J. H. Bayer of Muenster, Chairman of the Board. "This contest, started in 1950, has lasted through the years and has proven to be one of our best contests for the youth of this district", Bayer added.

This year's contest will be held at Cooke County Junior College. Registration will start at 1:00 p.m. and judging at 2:00 p.m. This contest is open to all Agricultural Extension Service 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers of America Chapters in the three county district. "We hope to have at least 100 students competing," Bayer stated.

This is a unique contest in that it is based on actual knowledge of fifty plants growing on the farms and ranches of this district. These plants are identified by giving them the correct common name and then classified as to grazing value, wildlife value, annual or perennial, native or introduced, and as to whether cool season or warm season growing plant. It would be purely accidental to make a high score by guessing.

Students study and practice for a number of days before the contest to learn as many of the common plants growing about them as possible. With the help of their advisor they can become very proficient in learning the common plant characteristics. This type of information is helpful to them all through future life as many of them will own and operate farms.

Chairman Bayer stated that plans call for a meal to be served to all team members and their coaches after the contest. Awards will be presented winning teams and high scoring individuals.

This contest will have a junior division for the first year agriculture students and a senior division for advanced students. A team will be composed of four students with the three highest scoring individuals. Each school or County 4-H Club is requested to enter a team in each division of the contest.

Earl Walterscheids Win Trip Abroad

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walterscheid will leave Friday afternoon on an all-expense-paid trip to Spain and Portugal — awarded as a prize in a sales contest for Gibson at Muenster Electric.

They'll jet from Love Field at 3:30 to Pittsburg and from there to Madrid for a full week of sight-seeing and entertainment in Spain and Portugal.

MHS, Whitesboro Will Tangle Here Friday Night at 8

Following last week's easy romp over Boyd's Yellow Jackets, the MHS Hornets have the feeling that their picnic is over and it's time to get to work.

Their job, which looms as a rugged chore indeed, is to handle their tough neighbors, the Bearcats of Whitesboro. They'll play here starting at 8. On paper everything seems to favor the Cats. Rated as AA and figured to make a good district showing, they are well ahead of the Hornets in both number and average weight. Not great big, according to Coach Glenn Richardson, but a good husky balance from 170 to 200. By contrast Muenster has an average of 200 in three players and no others up to 160. Likewise in speed the Bearcats have the advantage.

Hopefully Muenster will be able to counter with a combination of sharp passing and strong running. Endres can hit the mark and several of his receivers have good hands. Behind the very light line are heavier than usual runners, Endres, Trachta and Hennigan. That's the offense which looked good against Boyd. Whether or not it can move against the Cats remains to be seen.

Defensively the Hornets have to be rated small and scrappy. At times last week Richardson was unhappy with their technique but liked their pursuit. So, this week they are working on methods, trying to eliminate the mistakes they made before.

Physically the boys are improving. Players who got a slow start because of injuries are shaping up. And last week brought only one injury, putting Hennigan on the doubtful list.

According to the record the teams seem to be fairly even. Muenster looked sharp in its 44-0 win over Boyd and Whitesboro was equally sharp in dumping Sanger 23-6. Its 12-0 loss to Lake Dallas was mostly the result of a terrible streak of bad luck — five lost fumbles and two interceptions — and can't be regarded as a measure of the team's ability.

KCs Make Plans For Columbus Day

Muenster Knights of Columbus are making big plans for the observance of their patron's feast, Columbus Day. The holiday falls on Thursday, October 12, and will be observed by programs on the preceding and following Saturdays.

The first, on Oct. 7, will be a religious event. Members and wives will attend the 7:30 evening mass which will be followed by presentation of the Good Neighbor Award to someone of another faith in keeping with the ecumenical spirit of good will among the denominations.

A week later the KCs will have a social observance in their hall. It will be an Oktoberfest, including a Happy Hour at the Bierstube, a German dinner and a dance with music by the Czechmats.

Coronary Is Fatal To John Grewing, 74

John Grewing, 74, native and life-long resident of Muenster, died at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in Muenster Memorial Hospital following a massive heart attack at about 1:30 a.m. at his home. He had had a heart condition for about 12 years.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 9:30 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church and burial will follow in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Father Placidus Eckart will officiate and Nick Miller Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements.

Bearers will be Wilfred Bindel, Henry Grewing Jr., Bernard Haverkamp, Irven Derichsweller, Bobby and Gerald Steinberger.

Rosary services will be held in the Miller Chapel Thursday at 4 and at 8 p.m.

John Grewing was born April 21, 1898, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Grewing, early day residents. He married Miss Hattie Bindel here May 14, 1923.

After their marriage they lived for a number of years on a farm northwest of town and moved to the city in the early thirties. He worked for the Katy Railroad and highway department and later with Grewing Brothers Well Service. He retired in 1961.

Surviving are his wife; six sons, Richard, Steve, Walter, Joe, Herman and Anthony; two daughters Mrs. Raymond Barnhill and Miss Doris Grewing, all of Muenster; 37 grandchildren and one great-grandchild; one sister Mrs. Ben Haverkamp of Muenster and one brother Henry Grewing of Lindsay.

Bank Deposits Top Six Million

For the first time deposits at Muenster State Bank are over $6 million. The figure was reached on Monday, September 11, when the total ending the day's business was $6,075,555. Since then the amount has dipped below $6 million a few time but has generally remained above. The all time high was $6,094,465 on September 12.

The deposit has been gradually moving upward throughout the summer. On June 30 it was $5,269,568 and by the end of July it grew to $5.5 million. On August 15 it was up to 5.7 and the increase has been steady since then.

President Herbert Meurer said it is probable that a number of factors combine to account for the growth, principally the strong beef market and the usual dairy business. Other factors are inflation and a few new accounts.

City Council Has Quickie Meeting

Monday's meeting of the Muenster City Council was a two session affair — a quickie open session followed by a closed session for discussion of the personnel.

The first part lasted only 25 minutes during which the principal business was review of current bills and approval for payment. The other business was the issue of a proclamation designating Sunday, October 15 as Catholic Daughters of America Day in Muenster. The day coincides with nationwide observance of Catholic Daughters Day.

Rain Measures .75

Another slight but very welcome improvement to the local moisture arrived Wednesday night. It measured .75 inch.

This up the September total to 3.54 inches and the 1972 total to 15.52 — hardly half of normal for this time of the year.

Firemen Get Tips On LP Gas Fires

Four members of the Muenster Volunteer Fire Department were in Gainesville Monday night joining that city's fire fighters in special instruction on the method of dealing with LP gas fires. They spent an hour on discussion and two hours on practice.

Muenster men attending were Fire Chief Herbert Knabe, John Yosten, Jim Voth and Henry Knabe.

Tigers Edge Gunter 14-12 In Fourth Quarter Rally

Sacred Heart fans got their money's worth and more Friday night at Gunter when the Tigers put on a fourth quarter rally to overcome a two touchdown deficit and win by two bonus points. The score was 14-12.

It was a game of lots of exchanges, the Tigers losing possession six times on fumbles and Gunter losing three times on fumbles and twice on interceptions. The most costly of those fumbles came in the third quarter at the goal line. The ball tumbled over and was recovered by Gunter.

The game opened as a stalemate. Sacred Heart held twice and stopped itself twice with fumbles. About midway in the period it advanced three first downs to midfield and then bogged down and lost ground.

Midfield there was the 40 yard line. Marked for 8-man football, the field is only 80 yards long. It was also narrower, which was a possible handicap to the Tigers who favor the end sweep in applying their speed.

Returning the Sacred Heart punt to their 35, the Gunter Tigers made the remaining 45 in just four plays. The big one was a pass for 34 yards and the score.

Again in the second period the hosts were moving but were stopped by a fumble covered by Ricky Walterscheid. And moments later John Barthus blocked a punt on the Gunter 25, setting up the best opportunity of the game to then. However Lady Luck was still frowning. The Tigers advanced to the 8 and fumbled again.

An interception by Kenny

Hess early in the second half inspired a drive from the 34 yard line. Six plays went to the 1 foot line and the big gainers were a 21 yard pass from Gary Endres to Melvin Luke and runs by Kevin Pels. However, the next play was the heartbreaker — a fumble across the goal line and recovered by the wrong side.

As the third quarter ended Gunter was working on its second TD. A 10 yard pass reached the 19 and a 16 yard pass three plays later went over the line. The hosts failed to get extra points after both of their scores.

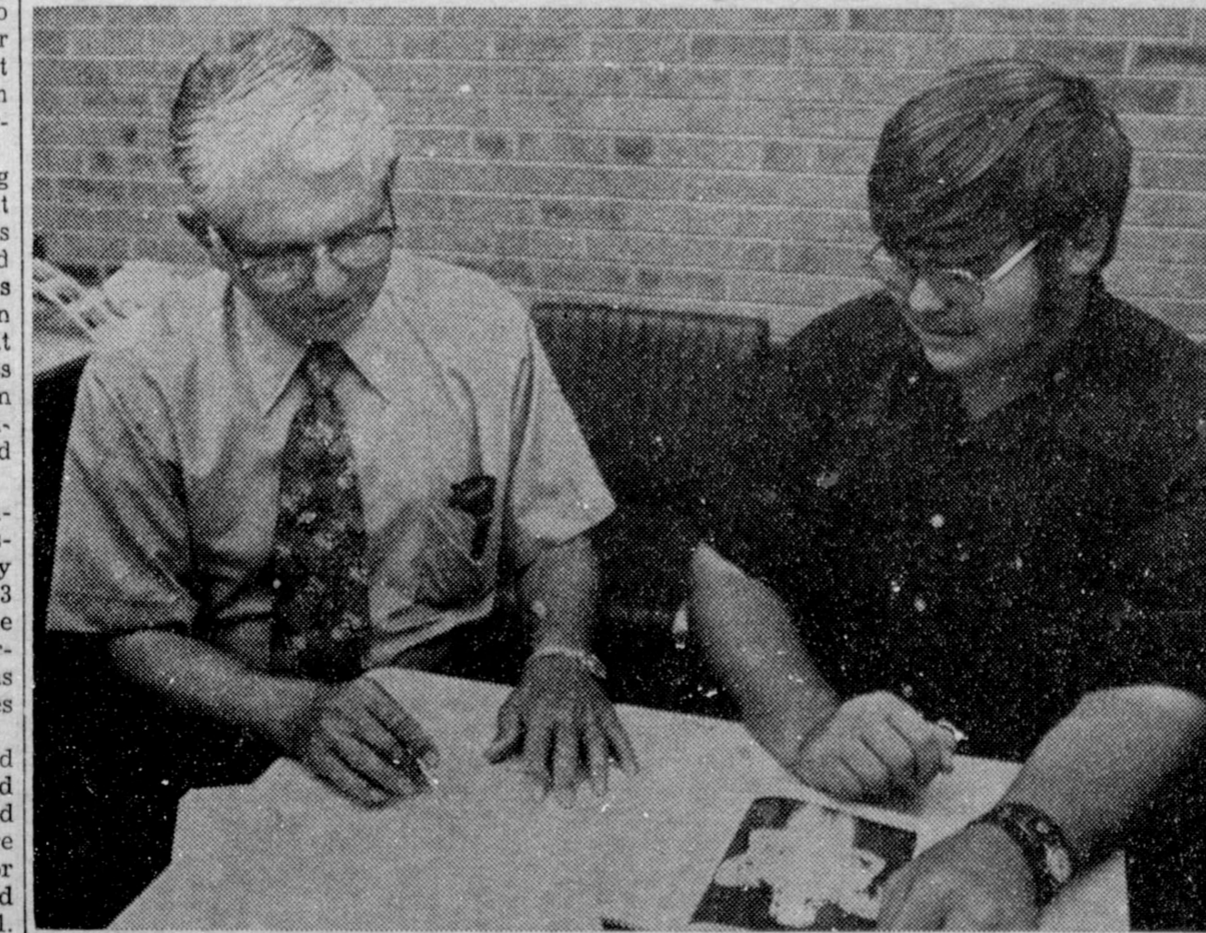

Sacred Heart fumbled the kickoff that followed and was back on its 5 after Gunter's kick. That's when they finally went all the way. Nice runs by Pels reached the 23, and Endres fired a pass to Davey Krahl who made a sensational catch and beautiful run for 7 yards and the six-pointer.

Gunter's next possession ended in a fumble recovered by Ricky Walterscheid, and the Tigers were in business with 31 to go. Krahl went to the 14, Luke to the 1 and Pels plunged over for the tying TD.

Then came the all important try for bonus points. Pels was equal to the job in a crash over right guard.

The remainder of the game was an exchange of kicks, the second being fumbled and recovered by Melvin Luke.

4-H Week

National 4-H Week is to be observed this year from October 1-7. The activities of some 5 million young people, as the events of the Week unfold, should serve once again to remind America that the great body of its citizens, especially its young, hold firm to the ideals and aspirations that make a great nation.

The interests of 4-H are broad and varied. They deal with the environment, nutrition, health, community betterment, management, careers and international programs. 4-H'ers fight air and water pollution, learn about land management, strive for safe use of insecticides and other chemicals. They promote health education and endeavor to eliminate harmful drug use and smoking. Special 4-H groups aid the mentally-retarded and physically-handicapped. They learn management techniques and how the free enterprise system works. They seek understanding of other cultures in over 80 countries.

This is 4-H today — a many faceted organization of youth keenly alive to the complex issues of our time. Observation of 4-H Week is an occasion for catching up on the many things that millions of young people are doing to make the U. S. a stronger and better nation.

His Forte?

Senator George McGovern's proposed economic policies have been re-shuffled several times. That is almost understandable. McGovern is an historian taking economic advice from various areas. What is harder to understand is his failure to relate history to his plans.

In 1936, French socialist Leon Blum's Popular Front swept him into power. Blum had a wide following among youth and intellectuals, who zealously wanted to put their "Make the Rich Pay" and "Bread, Peace and Liberty" slogans into effect.

Blum vigorously attacked the 200 families who allegedly owned France. He claimed to be a friend of the working man. Today, after much government tinkering with the market place mechanism, French workers still are among the lowest paid in industrialized nations. Whatever Blum and the socialists gave them, it was eaten up by the inflation that accompanies over-centralized economies.

The "Bread, Peace and Liberty" shibboleth fared even worse. Cutting back military spending while Hitler's Germany was rearming at break-neck speed, the Popular Front left France in a weakened state. In 1940, Germany overran France in a few weeks. Over 25 million American, British, Russian and French lives were lost restoring "Bread, Peace and Liberty" to France.

McGovern's plans for large-scale tampering with the economy and reliance on the good will of nations who rarely show good will is a grave threat to America. It is a threat he should realize as an historian. But if he is ignorant in his own field, what can we expect from him in other matters?

Wait and See

Says "Philnews", a Phillips Petroleum Company publication, "Your vision will improve 20,000 to 30,000 times if you wait a few minutes before driving off into the dark, according to the British Association of Optical Practitioners. The association claims it takes about 15 minutes for a driver's eyes to become completely accustomed to the dark — but few motorists wait even 15 seconds. They come out of a lighted building, jump into a vehicle and drive off. They are, in fact, partially blind. For minimum safety, 17-year-old drivers should wait two or three minutes and 60-year-old drivers at least five minutes for dark adaptation. But it still takes 15 minutes to gain your best dark vision."

USSR Tackles Drinking Problem

Acknowledging that addiction to alcohol was causing "tremendous harm to the entire Soviet society," the Soviet government took measures that fall just short of prohibition. The number of government-run vodka stores will be reduced, as will their hours of business. Vodka outlets will be banned from areas near factories, schools, railroad stations and other busy places. Those remaining in business will be closed weekends and holidays.

Higher vodka prices and the emphasis on social harm had little effect on rampant alcoholism. Even the public "dishonor rolls," exposing habitual drunkards, have been unsuccessful. Alcoholism, in fact, has gotten worse steadily. There has been a particular increase in vodka consumption among Soviet youth.

Now the economic damage will be emphasized. Some factories report 10 to 30 percent of their workers absent after payday. Shoddy workmanship, idle equipment and dislocation of assembly-line operations are costly problems. Labor turnover and loss of work skills have also been increasing. Soviet economic growth as a whole is threatened. Labor productivity is stagnating under the influence of alcohol.

The new sobriety drive will be carried out in the press, broadcasting, social clubs and motion pictures, and enforced with the usual Soviet rigor. Nor can the people resort to making bathtub vodka. There are too few bathtubs.

Four Threats to Youth

Former Attorney General John Mitchell said: "It is no exaggeration to say that the drug danger threatens the moral and physical health of an entire generation." Most Americans know there is a drug problem, but few understand its core. There are four basic types of dangerous drugs that everyone should be familiar with.

One: hard narcotics derived from the opium poppy. Red China and Turkey are the chief opium sources. Opium is converted into morphine and heroin.

Two: stimulants called "ups" that produce feelings of energy. Ups act directly on the central nervous system, causing weight loss and inability to sleep. Amphetamines are the most widely used stimulants, often called "speed," "dexies" or "pep pills."

Three: depressants called "downs" that relieve tension temporarily, produce sleep and deaden the central nervous system. Barbituates are the most common downs, also called "goofballs" or "barbs."

Four: hallucinogens such as LSD and marijuana that lure the mind into pipe dreams. LSD is usually called "acid" because its chemical name is lysergic acid diethylamide. Marijuana, and hashish, its more concentrated form, contain THC (tetrahydrocannabinol), a brain-damaging substance. They are usually called "pot," "grass," "hash," or "joints."

Of the above drugs, heroin is the most deadly, marijuana the most dangerous. Heroin addicts, reports the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, steal an estimated $9 billion worth of merchandise a year to pay for their habits. Less than one out of 10 addicts recovers. Most are dead within a few years.

Marijuana is particularly insidious because it is usually the first drug people try, often as a dare. According to a veteran Federal narcotics agent: "Eight out of every 10 heroin addicts I've talked to in the last 10 years started their drug career with marijuana."

Marijuana smokers, or "pot heads," claim that it is no worse than alcohol. We cannot ignore alcoholism. Neither can we be deluded into believing that one illness is tolerable because there is another one just as bad. Dr. Stanley Yolles, former Director of the National Institute of Mental Health, says medical evidence shows that marijuana "is similar to LSD; can, in sufficient high dosage of THC, induce psychotic (insane) reactions."

Hippies at Miami's recent Democratic convention dedicated a Pot-Tree. They just might be in asylums or cemeteries by the next convention.

Open Letter to Sacred Heart Football Fans

I was disgusted and embarrassed by the conduct of some of the Tiger supporters at last week's Sacred Heart-Gunter football game. I realize that most people felt they had reason to be upset with the officiating (although these fans failed to check the facts with the coach and players involved); but that does not excuse the language and disrespect for authority I witnessed on the sidelines last Friday night. These individuals should examine themselves before God regarding the possible damage they did to the school reputation. But more important than that is the example they gave to the students and children who also attended the game. It is difficult for the school to demand better conduct from its students than that which they see in the adults with whom they come in contact.

I am a loyal Tiger fan and I am disappointed when the team is behind just as I am happy when they are winning. I was proud of the team for pulling victory out of seeming defeat. They did not gripe and complain and quit, but did what was necessary to win. Leonard Wangler, O.S.B.

Report on Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hesse, writing from Munich on their return here after their vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Meinrad Hesse and family tell of their trip and hearing the pilot announce trouble at the Olympics as their flight left Love Field.

After leaving Kennedy Airport in New York they flew to Labrador, and were 37,000 feet up when they were over Belfast, North Ireland and Scotland. Before landing at Amsterdam, the pilot announced Arab terrorists had been captured or killed and it would be okay to land at Munich. They made a nose dive landing coming in from 20,000 feet in about two minutes... don't know why, probably to avoid any shooting, Paul thought. They included a Stars and Stripes issue about the Olympics and a number of colored picture postcards.

Muenster Kids Tie Whitesboro 6 to 6

Muenster's Little Monsters and Whitesboro's Bearkittens settled for a 6-6 draw at Whitesboro last Thursday night, but the score doesn't indicate the kind of game that was played.

Muenster kids had the better record in yardage and first downs and had no trouble in moving the ball consistently, except when it counted most. They were inside the 10 five times but went the rest of the way only once. The scoring play was a 3 yard plunge by Tim Wolf. Otherwise the Monsters lost possession twice on fumbles and once on an interception and once on a bogged down offense that failed to make the required distance.

Whitesboro got its score in a single big play — an 81 yard gallop.

The game was the first of two for the teams this season. The other will be at Whitesboro this Thursday night at 6:45. It is the originally scheduled game and the other was booked to fill an open date for both teams.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettie Luke

Muenster Library Board met in regular session again Tuesday night after dispensing with meetings during the summer. Members present were Joe Felderhoff, president; Mrs. Johnny Pagel, secretary; Charles Bayer, Albert Lippe and Leonard Reiter. Mrs. Joe Luke, librarian, also attended.

Mrs. Luke reported on summer activities at the library and it was decided, due to rising price of copying paper, to charge five cents a sheet for copies made on the library machine.

American Dictionary of Biographies, 12 volumes, and the best source of information on American Authors, is in the library which has also several more volumes of American Author Biographies for more sources of information.

Why a Charge for Installation?

It is the day before you move into your new home. Your footsteps echo as you walk through the bare rooms. Bare, that is, except for a telephone in a corner — a heritage from the previous owner.

Later, the telephone company sends out an employee to connect your service. When the first bill arrives, you notice a charge for installing the telephone. Why? The telephone was already there.

Well, you saw the installer come out and activate the telephone. From experience with appliances, you know that service trips cost money. In this case, there is the expense of the employee's time, equipment and the truck he drives.

But there is considerable work behind the scenes you didn't see. First, an order was written by the business office employee who took your request. A new number was assigned and records were posted in several different places. A computer billing record was established.

A connection was made at the central office. Your telephone number was added to the updated directory that is printed and distributed to Directory Assistance operators.

Possibly, we arranged to intercept calls at your old address so that people would know your number has been changed.

Even when the telephone stays in place, our expenses are there.

We could simply add these expenses to the cost of basic service and let them be shared by everyone. But it would be unfair to ask customers who stay in the same location to help pay for establishing your new connection.

So, we charge a fee to people who receive the service. We hope you'll agree it is a reasonable charge, considering the work involved.

Texas' total cash receipts from sales of crops and livestock during the last year totalled $3.25 billion, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported.

Only California and Iowa have higher cash receipts.

Hidalgo County in the Lower Rio Grande Valley had the highest returns of all Texas Counties — $117.3 million. Deaf Smith County in the Panhandle west of Amarillo was the only other to top the $100 million mark. Its receipts were $103.36 million. Parmer, Castro, Hale, Swisher, Cameron, Lubbock, Hansford and Lamb counties were in the top 10. Livestock accounted for almost two-thirds of the total cash receipts.

Major agriculture production area is the irrigated High Plains with $668.1 million in receipts. The Blacklands rank second in cash receipts ($347.8 million).

Sister Zita Zipper of New Iberia, La., arrived Saturday to spend a two-week vacation with her mother, Mrs. R. M. Zipper. On arrival by air at Love Field she was met by her sister Miss Joann Zipper of Dallas and the two came to Muenster together. Miss Zipper spent the weekend.

3rd Graders Hear Of Local History

Third grade pupils of the Muenster Public School have been learning local history from well posted local sources in their recent classes of social studies. Special visitors for the classes are Mrs. Al Fleitman and Mrs. Rose Walterscheid, both long time residents and members of pioneer community families.
 They have been telling about the founding of the town in 1889 and its steady growth, much of which they personally experienced or observed. Their story was accompanied by an assortment of pictures from the early days.

CCIC Considers Training Program for Vet Assistant

An advisory committee met at Cooke County Junior College recently to discuss the possibilities of developing a veterinary assistant program at the college. The need of such a program is due to the increased demands on the practicing veterinarian caused by the ever growing population of pets, new demands on the livestock industry, and the growing usage of animals in research.
 The committee discussed designing the program to train individuals to assist the veterinarian with his increased demands. Students enrolled in the program would be trained under the supervision of licensed veterinarians.
 Many occupations and areas of employment will be available to graduates of this program. These include serving in city, state, and federal animal health agencies, in research and development for government and private industry; and as a veterinary assistant.

Education is really a wonderful thing. After all, if you couldn't sign your name, you'd have to pay cash.

Cubs Tie 6-6 with Valley View Kids

Two mistakes deprived the Tiger Cubs of a win when they played the Valley View kids Tuesday afternoon. The final count was 6-6, but without the boners Valley View might have been scoreless or Sacred Heart would have had another TD.

The first mistake was in failing to receive the ball on the kickoff. It was short and a lineman left it for a back to pick up, but the Valley View boy got there first and claimed the free ball. That was 40 yards away and the hosts promptly cashed in. The scoring play went 31 yards.

The other mistake was less than two minutes from the end. Jim Koelzer got loose on a 75 yard dash to the goal but a teammate had slipped at midfield and nullified the touchdown.

Otherwise the Cubs did a good job playing the Little Eagles on even terms most of the time and putting together a nice scoring drive. After the first score the remainder of the first quarter and all of the second and third was stalemate, with Sacred Heart leading 3-1 in first downs.

But as the final period started the Cubs caught fire. From 72 yards away, Jim Koelzer stepped off 34 and three more tries made a first down on the 27. Then a 2-yard setback before Joe Sicking scored from the 29 on an end around sprint.

Next action for the Cubs is a game of seventh graders with Gunter here next Tuesday, the 26th, at 6:45. It replaces the Alvord game, which was cancelled.

New Yorker Here on Visit

Mrs. Pat McKenna of Brooklyn, N.Y., arrived in Muenster Tuesday afternoon to visit friends of the Dangelmayr families and Rosa Driever. She is the houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Fleitman and is seeing other friends from there. Mrs. McKenna is remembered as the former Miss Ann Gorden of Dallas who was a frequent visitor in Muenster before she married and moved to New York. This is her first visit back in over 15 years and she's amazed at Muenster's growth and progress, hospital and new homes. She was in Dallas for the funeral of her brother and came to Muenster from there. Wednesday evening she went to Gainesville with Mrs. Driever to visit Angela Laake at the nursing home . . . an early birthday visit for Miss Laake's 90th on Sept. 28.

BEN FRANKLIN
Anthony and Leona Luke

It's 1973, and Chevrolet roofs are opening, seats are swiveling, bumpers are retracting, hatches are flipping up.

Did you ever have so much to talk about that you didn't know what to say first?

We're happy to report that's us for 1973. But since everything must begin somewhere...

Isn't it romantic?

You see that rectangle beaming at you from above? That's a moonroof. Not to be confused with a sunroof. (Although many people will undoubtedly be caught using it like one.) A power roof is available on Chevelle and Monte Carlo; a manual one on Nova.

Bumpers are exciting?

This year's are something to get stirred up about. One of our new bumpers, for example, is built around twin hydraulic cylinders. So on minor impact, the whole system retracts to cushion the shock.

It's standard on all big Chevrolet, Chevelle and Monte Carlo

Look what we hatched

You know us for our little Vega Hatchback. Now dependable Nova has one. Which literally makes it half trunk with the backseat down. It's a feature as practical as Nova itself.

We've been thinking about your legs

One of the few things people asked us to improve in our popular Chevelle was leg room in the backseat. Well, your knees will be pleased with the '73s. There's almost 3½ more inches in the sedans.

So what else is new

Naturally this is only a taste of what's new for '73.

Among other things, we're introducing larger gas tanks for longer cruising range, a new Exhaust Gas Recirculation system, a hatchback for wagons, and a highly refined flow-through power ventilation system.

Plus a reading light for front seat passengers, improved suspension systems, engines that give you performance combined with gas economy, reclining seats and scores of dramatic styling changes.

We invite you to see it all at your Chevrolet dealer's.

New Nova Hatchback Coupe.

New Malibu Colonnade Hardtop Coupe.

(above) Caprice Coupe. Our new uppermost Chevrolet. Its luxury, comfort and quiet ride rival the most expensive cars you can buy.

(below) Monte Carlo S Coupe, America's newest road car. With the handling of the finest European cars, and the looks and comfort of an American car.

TP&L shares Texans' special pride in a natural environment. And the Company is working to preserve all the environmental assets possible while providing adequate electric service throughout the territory.

Air monitoring devices have been installed at lignite-fired generating plants as an aid in air quality control. Also, these plants have been equipped with electrostatic precipitators, devices which will remove substantial amounts of particulate matter from stack emissions. These efforts will help keep Texas air pure and healthful.

To help conserve the natural landscape in every way possible, substations are low-profile structures with underground distribution facilities, screen-type fences and extensive landscaping. Plant-site lakes are stocked with fish and opened to the public. An experimental catfish farm has been set up at the Trinidad generating plant.

Mary Kay Flusche
Dennis John Hess
Marry at Lindsay

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis John Hess are honeymooning on a trip to Virginia and the Atlantic Coast following their marriage Saturday in St. Peter's Church at Lindsay. The bride is the former Miss Mary Kathryn Flusche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Flusche. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Arnold Hess and the late Mr. Hess of Münster.

Father Damian Wewers, Lindsay pastor, celebrated the Nuptial Mass and performed the double ring ceremony.

Miss Patsy Spaeth, organist and guitarist, accompanied Misses Debbie and Glenda Shasteen, vocalists. They presented "The Impossible Dream" before the wedding march, "More" at the offertory, "Lord I Am Not Worthy" at the communion and "Mother at Your Feet" after the service when the bride placed a floral offering on the Virgin's altar.

Mr. Flusche gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white silk organza gown over satin peau de soie with natural waist line, high stand-up collar, and long sheer sleeves with ruffles at the wrist. The bodice and sleeves were trimmed with Venise lace and seed pearls. The soft gathered skirt with a wide ruffle edged in lace swept back into a chapel train.

A Juliet cap of lace and seed pearls held her lace-edged cathedral veil and her flowers were a cascade of white stephanotis centered with a yellow-throated orchid. Her only jewelry was a gold chain and cross, her father's gift to her mother on their wedding day.

Mrs. Albert Zimmerer, bride's sister, was matron of honor and Miss Frances Hess, sister of the groom, and Mmes. Jimmy Flusche, William Flusche Jr., and Ronnie Zimmerere were bridesmaids. Sharon Hess, niece of the groom, was flower girl.

Identically dressed, they wore flame colored sheer gowns over satin peau de soie with gathered skirts edged in wide ruffles. White lace and seed pearls enhanced the cuffs of the full sleeves and marked the empire bodice. They wore white picture hats of nylon and illusion and carried baskets of daisies.

David Hess, twin brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were William Flusche Jr., Larry and Steve

Mrs. Dennis John Hess

Hess, brothers of the couple, and Virgil Hess, a cousin. William Flusche V, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. Ushers were Jimmy Flusche and Donny Hess, brothers of the couple, and Francis Fuhrmann.

Immediately after the ceremony, gifts were on display in the home of the bride's parents where Mrs. Ray Sicking, bride's aunt, served punch and cookies.

A catered dinner and wedding dance were held in Gainesville KC Hall. Misses Debbie Zimmerer and Cindy Eberhart, niece and cousin of the bride, registered 400 guests.

The bride's cake was served by Mrs. Mary Ann Brawner, cousin of the bride. Miss Frances Rice of Alvord presided at the groom's table.

When they return from their wedding trip they will be at home in Gainesville. The bride is a graduate of Lindsay High and Cooke County Junior College. She attended North Texas State University and Texas Womans University in Denton and is employed at CCJC as assistant to the president.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sacred Heart High and attended CCJC. He is employed in the parts division of General Motors in Dallas.

tion favoring oil and mining people, but they don't realize that it works for them and the entire country. The fact is that prospecting is risky business. There has to be a way of compensating for the loss on dry holes and poor mines or production property that just runs out. Otherwise more people than now would go broke. Exploration would slow down, reserves and supplies would dwindle, and prices would necessarily go up. National security too could suffer from it.

As regards other deductions, it's true that tax dodgers can find ways of exploiting them but, in general the laws are reasonable and most of us would suffer from the loss of them.

At times we are inclined to think that the tax regulations are too involved and cause too many headaches. It might be better to set a lower tax rate and forget about deductions. But then, how about the fellow who has more than the normal expenses?

Our guess is that a few improvements can be made here and there, but few if any of the so called big reforms. The best thing to hope for is a return of fiscal sanity which requires a lower tax bite on all of us.

Cancer Week Is Sponsored Here by Local CYO Group

Münster Catholic Youth Organization sponsored a Cancer Week September 11-18. Members accepted donations after all Masses Sunday and had earlier placed boxes for contributions, along with pamphlets and posters, in both local schools and in local business houses.

Money collected will go to the Cancer Society for use in cancer research and for patients.

At the organization's September meeting five new members were enrolled: Peggy Hoedebeck, Carla Yosten, Estelle Martin, Vicky Haverkamp and Janet Sicking.

The group planned to sponsor a youth dance in the near future. The local CYO scrapbook that won first place in the state competing at the Catholic State League convention was on display.

The Youth Bulletin published this year by the Münster organization was distributed.

Opening prayer was led by Peggy Hoedebeck. Father Leonard Wangler, spiritual adviser, closed the meeting with prayer.

New employees at Dr. Gerald Graham's dental clinic are Mrs. Barbara Lee of Forestburg and Mrs. Gayle Stein of Montague. They join Miss Judy Klement, dental assistant, and Miss Cheryl Otto.
