Drive Begins for New Parish Hall

This is the architect's sketch of the proposed new community center for Sacred Heart Parish.

Another big step in the physical development of Sacred Heart Parish is getting under way this week with a drive to raise funds for a community center replacing the old time hall which has been in service for 67 years.

The project was introduced to the parish last Sunday by Father Placidus Eckart. He recalled that a survey conducted in March indicated that 80 per cent of the parish favors a new building to replace the ancient Parish Hall and that the overwhelming preference is for a large, roomy, well furnished building adequate for any kind of event ranging from small meetings to community wide gatherings.

Since then committees have met frequently to select an architect and discuss floor plans as well as financing plans, and the fruit of their effort is shown in a brochure mailed Tuesday to all families of the parish.

The building is a handsome masonry structure of modern design measuring 136x130 feet. It will face west with entrance about 20 feet east of the present hall's east end. After it is finished the old hall will be removed and the entire area of 160x200 feet will be used for a parking lot.

Principal rooms are the activity room, 88x60, and the cafeteria, 40x50. They will be separated by a folding door which can be opened to combine the two areas for large functions. Others are a large and a small kitchen, three meeting rooms, game room, weight room, TV studio and three rest rooms each for men and ladies. And all will have year round temperature control.

The event was well patronized by the Hesses of Muenster. There were three others of the Ray Hess family, Ronnie, Jeff and Barby, and two sons of Mrs. Arnold Hess, Larry and Karl. Ronnie, a member of Eastern New Mexico University track team, came in fourth, just missing one of the trophies. And Larry came in seventh.

Tom is a senior at North Texas State University and won a number of marathon races for the NTSU track team. His present ambition is to qualify for the 1976 Olympics.

Tom Hess Repeats As Number 1 in Dallas Turkey Trot

For the second consecutive year Tom Hess was the winner of the annual Thanksgiving Turkey Trot at White Rock Lake in Dallas. He was Number 1 of 231 entries, running the 8 mile course in slightly more than 39 minutes.

Lots of his local friends, watching TV Sunday evening, were surprised to see Tom along with his mother, Mrs. Ray Hess, and his sister, Darlene, on a TV interview after the race.

Attend Brother's Funeral
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher were in Umbarger Saturday to attend the funeral of her brother, A. C. Evers, 57 who died there on Thanksgiving Day. Evers, a farmer and rancher was a member of St. Mary's Church in Umbarger and was buried in St. Mary's Cemetery with the pastor Rt. Rev. Mathew Schafie officiating. He is survived by his wife, eight children, twelve grandchildren and three sisters and his mother, Mrs. E. J. Evers.

Scouts Continue Organizing Troop

Reorganization of the Muenster Boy Scout Troop continued through Monday night's meeting when patrol leaders and record keepers were elected by the boys.

Scoutmaster Jack Davis and his assistant Wilfred Reiter were assisted in the organizational work by W. H. Artusy, executive of the Butterfield Trail District, who also gave the boys a demonstration on starting a fire with flint rock and steel.

The troop now consists of 34 members who elected Thomas Bright as their senior patrol leader. Also Ray Luke was elected as the troop's scribe and Brent Hess the quartermaster. The troop was divided into four patrols, each of which elected its own leader. They are Ronnie Weinzapfel, Terry Walterscheid, Paul Reiter and Joe Bright.

Home For Thanksgiving

Jerry Cash was home to spend Thanksgiving and the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cash, on leave from Arlington, Virginia. They met him Wednesday night at Love Field. He returned to duty Sunday morning. His address is: Pvt. Gerald Cash; H.H.C. U.S.A.G.; Arlington Hall Station; Arlington, Virginia 22212.

St. Joseph-St. Anne Meeting

After the 7:00 p.m. Mass, Sunday, the St. Joseph's Society will meet in the Club and St. Anne's Society will hold its meeting in Sacred Heart High Library.

Holiday Lighting Features "Noel" Display on Tower

Dominating the local Christmas lighting scheme, the NOEL sign burns again on the Muenster water tower a hundred feet above the ground. It was turned on Tuesday night while display lights for the streets were delayed a day by a faulty switch.

As before the NOEL, spelled out in yellow lights at the side of the water tank, is visible for miles to the south, east and west, whereas the tank does not show up. It appears as a light in the sky, a reminder of the original Christmas light over Bethlehem. As one comes closer the lights take shape and the spelling stands out. Also a part of the display are two rows of red and green lights around the water tank and single strings of lights at three levels of the tank tower.

The rest of the city decoration scheme consists of five strings of lights across Main Street and six across the highway. Each third light has a flasher in the socket.

Half Inch Snow Melts as It Falls

Muenster's second snowfall of the season arrived at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon following a light drizzle and continued for about an hour. Though it fell heavy at times it could not survive the moderate temperature. It melted as it drifted down. However, estimated measure of the amount that fell was a half inch. Moisture measure of combined rain and snow on the city's gauge was .11 inch.

Elm-Red District Invites Entries For Essay Contest

The thirteenth annual essay contest on conservation sponsored by the Upper Elm Red Soil and Water Conservation District has been announced by J. H. Bayer, chairman of the board of directors. Entries will be accepted through January 31, 1973.

Contest rules are the same as they have been in the past. Any boy or girl living in the Upper Elm Red District, who is not more than 18 years old, in or out of school, but not a high school graduate, may compete in the contest.

This year's subject is, "Natural Resources — Meeting the Needs of People." It is suggested that contestants write a technical paper on how to conserve soil, plants and water, but rather be original and use their imagination — for instance, how soil, water and plants provide the key to our survival.

The District will give incentive awards of $15 for first prize, $10 for second prize and $5 for third prize. Directors said they hope to have more than 750 entries this year. Some districts have more than 1000 entries each year.

All essays will be locally judged. The champ essay of the district will be entered in a state wide contest sponsored by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. Winner of that contest will receive $100 and a beautiful trophy. In addition, the state contest will award trophies to fifteen regional winners.

Bayer urges agriculture and English instructors throughout the three-county district to encourage participation both as an exercise in composition and to attain a better understanding of soil, water and plant conservation.

Entries, not to exceed 300 words, should be addressed to: J. H. Bayer, Rt. 2, Muenster, Tex 76252, on or before Jan. 31, 1973. The essay must have the contestant's name, address and name of school plainly written on the front page or attached there to.

Participation in this contest does not jeopardize a student's eligibility in the Texas Inter-scholastic League.

Local Seed Store Buys Gainesville Cleaning Plant

Tony's Seed and Feed of Muenster is the new owner of Moore's Seed Cleaning plant on North Dixon in Gainesville. The deal becomes effective on December 1, when Gene Hoening takes charge as manager and the firm's name will change to Tony's Seed and Feed. All employees, including Jimmy Don Robison of Muenster, will remain on the job.

The firm's services are very similar to those of the local store. Along with sales of seed, feed, liquid feed supplement and fertilizer it cleans seed, does custom feed grinding and mixing, also custom spreading of fertilizer.

The environmental brain storm referred to on page 2 of this paper under the title "The Crisis Makers" gives us an idea of the absurdity that can be concocted by irresponsible bureaucrats and, far more disgusting, the mischief that can be done to us defenseless citizens. It makes us wonder why the know-it-all federal judges, who hand down all kinds of decisions on human rights, don't wise up the public's right not to be pushed around by misguided busy-bodies.

The important thing is that the GLOBS (meaning "Get the Lead Out Boys") have no real evidence that the lead in exhaust is harmful anyway. Everybody knows about deaths that have been caused by carbon monoxide, but who has ever heard of a death, or even a slight discomfort, caused by the lead in a car's exhaust?

This hazard is strictly imaginary, nevertheless the American auto business is ordered to eliminate the hazard at great increase in the cost of the vehicle and a big decrease in its efficiency. If this sort of foolishness is allowed to continue it means that we have come to the end of the era of car improvement. From now on we can expect less economy, less performance, and more original cost just to satisfy the whims of environmental nuts who have been empowered to push us around.

Our natural reaction is that there ought to be a law to protect the public from this kind of dictator. But then we realize that the common sense solution is to withdraw the dictatorial power that some of our bureaucrats have assumed. We're getting tired of these government hired hands with the high and mighty attitude that they have the right to boss us peons who pay their salary. And that applies especially when they don't know what they're talking about.

To this column's way of thinking the wild talk about getting out the lead is the wrong approach to the environmental problem anyway. The smart thing, it seems, is to eliminate the carbon monoxide, which is definitely known to be a killer, rather than the lead, which is only charged by some crackpots but still not proved guilty.

We wonder why the bureaucrats haven't taken up that very real problem and ordered car makers to work on a motor that will do a better job of burning fuel. Having been told in elementary science that monoxide results from incomplete combustion, we can assume that environmental excellence is directly proportional to a car's efficiency. The engine that will get the most power out of its fuel will also have the cleanest exhaust.

There's still more merit to this idea. Getting more complete combustion also means more miles to the gallon, less expense of operation, more prudent use of our fuel which, though amazingly abundant, is not inexhaustible. We may see the day when we'll regret our present waste.

But notice, the "Get Out the Lead Boys" aren't thinking of eventual fuel shortage any more than the real exhaust villain. They're demanding poorer efficiency in order to eliminate the imaginary lead threat — thereby creating more waste and more monoxide.

In principle everybody likes the environmental proposals. Nobody objects to cleaner air and water, cleaner streets and countryside. But there are practical limits to the degree of cleanliness. Industry lately has done a fine job of cleaning its smoke, but it has reached the point at which expense becomes prohibitive. The same is true of water. Sewer plant efficiency has made big progress and is approaching its limit. We have improvement and more is coming, but we also need to realize that we can't afford environmental perfection even if we had the know-how. Also, fortunately, we do not need it. The Good Lord provided us with physical characteristics to overcome a certain degree of contamination. With reasonable effort and reasonable expense this generation is able to maintain an adequate degree of cleanliness.

2 Hornets on 14-A All-District Team

Two of the Muenster Hornets, Alan Miller and Roy Klement, were selected for the past season's all-district team in a meeting of the 14-A coaches in Gainesville Wednesday night. Miller is on the offensive team, Klement on defense, and each is also an honorable mention for the other team.

The voting resulted in 12 selections for the offensive team and 16 for the defensive, also 14 honorable mentions for offense and 8 for defense. Nocona, district champ, dominated the selections with 5 on offense and 6 on defense. Frisco, the runner-up, was next with 4 and 5. Sanger had 2 and 3, Muenster 1 and 1, and Callisburg had 1 on defense.

Nocona received four honorable mentions for the two teams, Frisco 6, Pilot Point 6, Muenster 2, Callisburg 3 and Sanger 1.

Final team standings were Nocona 5-0, Frisco 4-1, Sanger 3-2, Muenster 2-3, Pilot Point 0-4-1, Callisburg 0-4-1. Invaluable giving life to the entire display.

The proposed goal for financing this building is a half million dollars, the kickoff for which has already been made in a number of special contacts for large donations. That will be followed by a general parish drive next Sunday afternoon when people are asked to stay home awaiting visits from about 100 workers who will contact every home of the parish. Several solicitors have indicated that they intend to make their first calls before noon.

The campaign committee is headed by William J. Miller, assisted by Urban Endres and Charles Bartush as big gifts co-chairmen, and the general solicitation committee headed by Herbert Miller, Eddie Fleitman, Ray Klement and Arthur Endres. Each of them is assisted by five team captains and each of them is helped by five workers.

The captains are Carl Walterscheid, Ed Endres, Leo Hess, Robert Walterscheid, Gene Gieb, Dan Haverkamp, Dale Klement, Tommy Herr, Jerry Wimmer, Alvin Hartman, Dickie Pagel, Ed Schneider, John Pagel, Ricky Stewart, Dan Luke, Alfred Bayer, Charles Bayer, Clyde Fisher, Don Flusche and B. J. Swirczynski.

The campaign emphasizes pledges for the years 1973-75, which can be applied to the tax years 1972-76. Each parishioner will be asked to give a portion in cash Sunday and pledge for the balance. After the day's cash and pledges are counted the building and finance committees will announce the results and if sufficient to justify starting, will proceed toward completing detail plans and selecting a contractor.

Members of the building committee are Al Schmitt, chairman, Ted Henscheld, Larry Hennigan, John Pagel and Walter Klement. Finance committee members are Eddie Fleitman, chairman, Herbert Miller, Ray Klement, Arthur Endres and Charles Bartush.

Electric Motors Business Opened By Chris Muller

A new business firm for Muenster is United Electric Service on Highway 82 about a mile east of town. It is owned and operated by Chris Muller, a community native who operated an electric repair shop here for a short time after World War II and has since specialized in electric motors sales and service in Gainesville. He recently sold his interest to his partners there in order to return to Muenster.

Here, too, his main line is the electric motors business, but he will also contract for residential or oil field wiring. He is located in a new building with brick front and heydite tile sides and back. It has a small display room in front and a well equipped shop in the back with a rack for re-winding, and a cleaning vat and paint drying oven to restore the like new look to an overhauled motor.

Muller is assisted by his son-in-law, Harold Alexander. Both of them live in Valley View and drive here daily.

Muenster K of Cs Add 12 Members

Admission ceremonies had been conferred on Saturday, the 18th, in the Denton Council's hall.

Following Sunday's degree the initiates were received socially into the order at a cocktail hour and supper.

The Crisis Makers

When is a crisis not a crisis? When it is contrived by some over-enthusiastic, highly emotional, un-informed Environmentalists who declare that in order to make the air safe for breathing, all lead must be eliminated from gasoline.

You must remember the "Mercury in Swordfish" scare, the "Contaminated Cranberries," the "Cyclamates" in Pop, and Cesar Chavez with his famous four pounds of "Poisoned Grapes." Well, here they come again — the "GET OUT THE LEAD BOYS." They now claim that the small amount of lead contained in the fumes from your automobile "might" cause illness and "could" constitute a serious threat to health. They go so far as to suggest that even unborn babies "might" be effected through the umbilical cord, which, of course, gets a great deal of sympathy and sounds very dramatic but really doesn't make any sense.

Well, the fact of the matter is, these claims are just not true, and there is no scientific basis to support their wild statements. To the contrary, leading experts agree there is no health hazard or any possible danger from the small amount of lead contained in the normal automobile exhaust.

Nevertheless, at the crack of the slogan "Get The Lead Out" the Crisis Kids, aided by a few ultra liberal politicians, are off and running with a new project. Before you could fill your gas tank they got some friends in the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) to propose arbitrary and unrealistic standards to restrict the amount of lead allowed in gasoline, and also suggested a requirement that lead-free gasoline be made available for sale at all gasoline stations whether there was a demand for it or not. This would be the first time in history that a government agency would force the availability and the manufacture of a product whether it was needed or not.

- In light of official testimony, points which are important to you as a consumer are:
- 1 — Gasoline would cost more
  - 2 — You would get less mileage
  - 3 — Your engine would not perform as well
  - 4 — It would take more crude oil to produce gasoline, and crude oil is in critical shortage
  - 5 — Many independent refineries would be forced to close their plants
  - 6 — Many refinery workers would lose their jobs, and,
  - 7 — All of this nonsense would accomplish nothing.

The elements in gasoline which cause air pollution are carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxide, and unburned hydrocarbons — not lead. It would make better sense if the EPA would concentrate its efforts on the real cause of the crisis, rather than a contrived one.

The Forgotten Minority Group

While the radical chic crowd throws fund-raising parties for this or that oppressed minority, they ignore the most brutalized group in the country. This minority group comprises the children still in the womb. Because their existence is sometimes inconvenient, they may be slain in our nation's abortion mills. Hardly a word is spoken in their defense. In fact, there is an organized effort promoting murder of the unborn as part of the myth that they are not humans.

Professor Charles Rice testified before the Indiana State Senate that "modern science has established that the life of every human being begins at conception." Yet the rights of this minority group are regularly trampled. Their right to life, guaranteed by the First and Fourteenth Constitutional Amendments, is often denied, but the right to life of a convicted murdered is upheld by the Supreme Court.

Many slogans cloud the central fact that life does begin at conception. Expectant mothers, one argument goes, have a right to choose whether they want to have the baby or not. They believe that it is only a life after it is born. Scientific proof supporting this claim is notoriously lacking. As professor Rice stated, life begins at conception. Taking the unborn's life is a moral crime.

Since it is not fashionable to support this minority group, the unborn have few spokesmen. One who is trying to defend them is Congressman John Schmitz (R-Calif.). He recently introduced a Constitutional Amendment guaranteeing the right to life of every child from the moment of conception.

Mother Goose For Street Gangs

Somewhat the best-laid plans of mice, men and the Federal bureaucracy often go astray. It is no simple matter to say which of the three has the best-laid plans furthest astray, but the Federal Government is surely not last.

Perhaps you read the news story reporting that the Federal Model Cities Program, financed by your tax dollars, is buying and distributing children's literature that encourages and incites violence. The book in question, called "The Inner City Mother Goose," is in the form of nursery rhymes which glorify attacks on the police, honest citizens and judges. The so-called "modern" Mother Goose, authored by someone named Eve Merriam, purports to be a satire designed for adults. It was published in 1969 by Simon & Shuster.

Over 60,000 copies have been sold, largely to public school libraries who buy them with Federal funds. The City of Buffalo was so alarmed at the book that it took the matter to court. Judge William G. Heffron, with good reason, has asked a grand jury to investigate.

Leafing through the Merriam-Simon & Shuster Mother Goose, one finds an unusual version of "Jack Be Nimble;" Jack be Nimble, Jack be quick; Snap the blade, and give it a flick; Grab the purse, it's easily done; Then just for kicks, just for fun, Plunge the knife and cut and run.

Satire? Or encouragement to steal and murder? Should this be taught to children, particularly in the "inner city" where moral training and church attendance is often sadly lacking? Responsible people in Buffalo and other cities receiving the books strongly think not.

Giving impressionable youth such literature is supported, however, by the School Library Journal, the American Library Association and the New York Public Library. The publisher and author allege that the book is an "adult" satire. Yet the fact remains that those in control are steering the controversial book to school children, in school libraries, at taxpayers' expense.

Finding decent, inspiring fiction for children is difficult enough without anonymous Federal bureaucrats flooding our libraries with a homicidal Mother Goose.

Stay Away From Chicago

Chicago Daily News reporters Bill Clements and Terry Shaffer have uncovered an altogether terrifying policy on the part of the Chicago rapid transit system, known as the CTA. That policy, as reported in the News, is that CTA guards are under orders by CTA management NOT to go to the aid of any person being moisted or attacked by criminals.

Clements and Shaffer reported the story of one CTA rider, Kathy Powell, 27, who was attacked by a thug on the platform of a CTA station. In the nick of time, a train pulled into the station. Mrs. Powell then told the NEWS reporters what happened next:

"The train door opened, and the conductor looked right at me. I asked — begged — him to help me. He looked right at me and said, 'Sorry, lady, I can't help you.'"

Then the train pulled away. Fortunately, the woman's screams attracted the attention of several passengers, and the thug fled.

The NEWS reports that when George Boness, 22, a new CTA security guard, went to the aid of a victim and arrested the offender, he was bawled out by a CTA boss and warned that if he ever did it again, he would be suspended five days without pay.

In another instance, a Loyola University student, shot behind the right ear by a gun-wielding punk and with blood dripping from his head, pounded on the door of a CTA train. There was no response from the motorman. Only after the youth collapsed did a CTA employee call the police. The youth died later in a hospital.

With this kind of inhuman disregard for civil rights, it would seem wise to avoid Chicago in any of your travel or convention plans. Better to visit a city that has more respect for human life!

Let Someone Else Pay for It

"Industrial waste (and my wife's washing machine) foul rivers and lakes, but I refuse to pay higher prices for everything, just to have elaborate treatment plants.

"They say strip-mining defaces the countryside and therefore should be stopped. But don't try raising the price I pay for coal.

"I hate smoke-stack smog, but I won't have one of those nuclear power plants in my city!

"If they raise the price of my automobile to install some anti-pollution device, I'll get one of those cheaper foreign makes, and let Detroit's jobs go hang.

"Military service? ME? Get a volunteer army — but don't raise my taxes to pay those fellows any civilian pay scale.

Haven't they got any patriotism?

"No, sir! Let the government pay for it!"

But — who is the government? Why, we taxpayers, of course.

Mrs. J. B. Schmitz Birthday Honoree

A truly surprised and happy honoree was Mrs. J. B. Schmitz of Gainesville when her son Frank E. Schmitz was host at dinner Sunday noon at River Valley Country Club, to observe his mother's 85th birthday. Helping to plan the event was her granddaughter Mrs. Rody Klement.

A birthday cake, surrounded by candles and trimmed with a cascade of pink roses and birthday greetings made a lovely table centerpiece. Gathered around the table were Mr. and Mrs. Rody Klement and family, J. J. Wimmer and daughter Kay, Mrs. Clytie Sample of Decatur, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Dean and Mrs. Charles Terry all of Gainesville, and the host, Mrs. F. E. Schmitz was visiting their daughter, Brenda in Kansas and unable to attend.

There were gifts for the honoree and a special treat was the Happy Birthday song led by her two youngest great grandsons, children of the Rody Klements.

Veterans Invited To Visit Van for Benefits Advice

A mobile van manned by veteran services and benefits specialists touring Texas as part of President Nixon's National Assistance for Veterans program will be in Gainesville December 6 from 1 to 5 p.m. and December 7 from 8 to 5 at the east side of the courthouse, according to Jack Coker, Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office Director.

The National Assistance for Veterans program has been a multi-federal agency concept joining the services of the VA; Health, Education, and Welfare; Housing and Urban Development; Office of Economic Opportunity; and Texas Employment Commission.

Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, is national coordinator of the program.

During the month of December the van will visit Denton, Gainesville, Mineral Wells, Stephenville, and Cleburne, bringing assistance to veterans who have not made full use of benefits and services available to them.

Traveling with the van will be a team of two VA benefits specialists and a representative of the Texas Employment Commission from the local office of the TEC.

Information and counseling in various veterans benefits areas will be offered. These include education, home loans, medical benefits, disability compensation and pensions, employment, and job training.

Veterans desiring information and assistance in connection with employment or benefits and services available to them, should make it a point to visit the van for complete one-stop service.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Yule Party For Pre-Schoolers

District I Ladies Auxiliary President Marge Tillman of Denton made an official visit to the local V.F.W. Auxiliary meeting last Monday night.

During the business session members made plans for their annual Christmas party for pre-school children in the Post Home on December 15. Chairmen of the event were appointed including Mrs. Don Flusche who will arrange for Santa's visit. Mrs. Al Walter is in charge of toys and Mrs. Leo Hesse and Mrs. Wilfred Bindel will arrange for refreshments. Tree decorators are Mrs. Arthur Bayer, Mrs. Ray Voth, Mrs. Raymond Walterscheid and Mrs. Norbert Walterscheid.

Members were reminded that next month's meeting will be on December 11 one week earlier than usual, so that they can join in a V.F.W. meeting to see a film on Communism. Mention was made that 1973 dues are now payable.

In her address to the group, Mrs. Tillman urged them to sponsor a program on Drug Abuse open to the public, with Dr. Gilbert of Denton as speaker. A date for this will be announced later. The district president also made suggestions for participation in a Youth Program.

Mrs. Wilfred Bindel and Mrs. Leo Hesse served refreshments to sixteen members. Mrs. Arthur Bayer won the door prize.

Average American Eats 634 Pounds Of Meat a Year

People today have an almost unquenchable hunger for meat and other high protein foods.

The average American consumes 634 pounds of meat a year, according to Marshall M. Miller, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

Yet, per capita food consumption as a whole is declining in the United States. In 1940, per capita consumption was 1,548 pounds of food — today it is 100 pounds less. Per capita consumption of crop products has dropped from 948 pounds in 1940 to 814 pounds today.

Most of the overall drop in consumption has come in flour, cereal, potatoes and even eggs. One of the reasons for this is that more housewives are returning to work and are making use of time-saving convenience foods. However, egg consumption is now back at the 1940 level — 319.

"Even as per capita food consumption has declined, the rate at which we are eating animal products has risen," says Miller. Beef and veal consumption has nearly doubled (116 pounds today) while broiler consumption went from two pounds in 1940 to 37 pounds today. The amount of turkey eaten nearly tripled in the same period and now stands at eight pounds per capita.

What are people going to eat in the future? "That's anybody's guess," contends Miller. "Earnings and disposable income are at an all-time high in this country. Americans do have an unquenchable hunger for meats, an appetite which poultry, especially broilers and turkeys, could satisfy. Poultry products are economical and efficient both in production and preparation."

"It seems logical that so long as the economy remains at or near its present level, Americans will continue to consume more meat and poultry products," adds Miller.

The commercial fish catch in the Gulf of Mexico has increased from 571 million pounds in 1950 to 2.1 billion pounds in 1971.

High Spots, a California-Pacific Utilities Company publication, notes that, "Hunters have traditionally worn red clothing for protection. But new tests prove that red does not show up as well as either yellow or fluorescent orange.

Red appears as black at dawn or dusk and can't be distinguished by color blind hunters. Yellow can be seen a little better, but still does not show up as the sun is going down. Best of all is fluorescent orange which stays visible longer after sunset than all other colors, and is easier to see by persons with abnormal vision. Many state laws still demand red or yellow for hunters, but if you have a choice in your state, choose fluorescent orange clothing."

Tips Offered on Being an Obnoxious Grocery Shopper

In these days of sure-fire products — instant mashed potatoes, ready-mix biscuits and no-bake pies — what could be more fitting than a fail-proof list of how to be a completely obnoxious grocery shopper.

According to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the first of several points to practice in being an obnoxious shopper begins in the parking lot.

"Take up two spaces in the parking lot on a busy shopping day," she said, quoting the "advice" of Michigan State University's consumer marketing program.

"Next, even if you can shop anytime during any day of the week, wait until 5 p.m. to do your week's shopping — business people returning from work will just have to wait until you're through.

"And my all means, let the kids race freely all over the store," she added.

"Fourth, if you happen to meet friends and decide to chat, don't move to one side. Stand right in the middle of the aisle.

"Don't bother to move over from in front of a shelf or showcase to let someone else look. After all, you got there first.

"Be sure to leave your cart in the middle of the aisle and run off to get something you need. Let someone else move it out of the way," the Texas A&M University specialist quipped.

"Once the cart is full, don't go to the end of the checkout waiting line — if you're aggressive enough you can push ahead of someone else.

"Eighth and even better, take your overflowing cart to the fast checkout line. Others do it, so why should you be bashful? Just barge right in.

"At the cash register, don't put your cart out of the way of others and don't have your billfold ready. Take it slow and easy and make others wait," Mrs. Clyatt continued.

"Consistently practicing these points is absolutely guaranteed to make a person the most completely objectionable shopper in the store," the specialist concluded.

PREVENT FIRES ...it's your job, too!

Permit Needed for Advertising Signs On Main Highways

Owners of advertising signs along Interstate, US and major State-numbered highways have until December 31, 1972 to apply for permits required under the Texas Highway Beautification Act.

The act controls all outdoor advertising signs from the largest signboard to the smallest sign hanging from a fence along the right of way line.

The Texas Highway Commission established the deadline under the legislation which became effective on June 23, 1972. The act requires that no person may erect or maintain a sign within 660 feet of an Interstate or federal-aid primary highway in Texas without a license to engage in outdoor advertising.

On-premise signs — Those advertising activities conducted on the premises and those offering the property for sale — are exempt.

The act will be implemented in stages. The first stage requires the owner of the sign to obtain a State license and post a bond. The license fee is $25 and the license is valid for an indefinite period.

The license application must be accompanied by a bond in the amount of $2,500 for each county in which signs are located, or a maximum bond of $10,000 for owners with signs in more than three counties.

Privately owned signs maintained or owned by Churches, restaurants, motels, auto dealers and land owners are our main interest since they have not responded to the regulations governing outdoor advertising signs. Sign companies who sell advertising copy to customers are aware of the new law. The sign owner who has only one or more signs located on a friend's property or leased site must have a license and permit.

National Finals Rodeo Will Be on TV Saturday Night

Texans can again view a live telecast of the National Finals Rodeo, the World Series of rodeos, Saturday, December 2 at 8-10:30 p.m. The event will be seen on Channel 11 in this area.

The NFR climaxes another year of rough riding for cowboys and cowgirls alike as the top finalists in each event compete for prizes totalling over $127,500, rodeo spokesmen say. The 1972 NFR will be highlighted by competition for the title of "All-Around Cowboy" between Phil Lyne of George West, Texas; Bob Ragsdale of Chowchilla, California; and Larry Mahan of Frisco, Texas. With Phil Lyne competing in bull riding and calf roping, and going into the finals with total winnings of $53,955, it does not appear that Ragsdale, with winnings of $34,308 or Mahan, with winnings of $32,872, can overtake leading money winner Lyne.

Other Texans competing in the National Finals this year are: Bobby Brown of Adrian, in the saddle bronc event; Rusty Riddle of Mineral Wells, in the bareback event; as well as Myrtis Dightman of Crockett, Ron and Pete Gay of Mesquite, and Stanley Kirby from Greenville, competing in the bull riding event.

English Pair Will Head Rug Concert In Gainesville

by Margaret Lawson Brown, co-ordinator

England's Malcolm and Alwyn, on their first tour in America, will appear at the Gainesville Community Center, Monday, Dec. 4 at 8 p.m. The Jesus rock performance, sponsored by Johnson Motor Co., will be free to the public.

St. Marys Catholic Youth Organization and Cooke County Junior College's Baptist Student Union are helping to defray the costs of hand bills and Community Center rental. Members from both groups will help to host the presentation. Everyone coming to the "rug" concert is asked to come prepared to sit on the floor.

Malcolm Wild and Alwyn Wall were discovered by David Payne after two years of impressive audience reaction firmly established in their own area, the Midlands of England and England's Southern Television.

Both in their mid-twenties, the singers have been getting an impressive reaction everywhere they appear in Great Britain. Playing guitar and auto-harp, they share their life and Jesus through self-penned songs.

"Jesus gives us all we need and more," the singers say and that's what they want to share with others. In speaking about their lives, they say it was much more complicated "before we knew Jesus." They are more committed to message than music.

Malcolm and Alwyn are working on their first album, "Fool's Wisdom" to be released in England on Key Records.

They will appear Dec. 2 in concert at Hollywood High School in California with Larry Norman and Randy Stonehill. Norman, who recently gave a performance in Gainesville, will go to England as special guest artist for Cliff Richards at an already sold out concert in London's Royal Albert Hall.

Alcoholism is known as industry's $15 billion hangover, according to an industrial physician. This represents: $2 billion cost for health and welfare services, $3 billion in property damage, medical expense, workmen's compensation claims and insurance, and a $10 billion drain on the economy in lost work time — in addition to tens of thousands of personal tragedies.

MHS Teams Have Double Wins over Saint Jo, Lindsay

Both MHS basketball teams did all right for themselves in their twin bill with Saint Jo Monday night and the 3-game affair with Lindsay Tuesday night. The one loss out of five games was 26-19 by the B team girls at Lindsay. The others were Muenster wins: boys 47-42 and girls 72-43 at Saint Jo; boys 58-43, girls 61-59 at Lindsay.

Playing on their home court Muenster girls had a tough one with Lindsay, finally edging ahead in overtime. They trailed the visitors 16-11 and 28-27 in the first two periods, led 39-35 in the third and tied 55-55 at the fourth — then took the all important lead in overtime. Their scorers were Doris Felderhoff 44, Debbie Schneider 11, Becky Fields 6.

The boys game was close most of the way as the Hornets led 10-8, 23-16 and 37-33 at the first three quarters then made a big gain to 58-43 in the last period. Robert Johnson led MHS scoring with 18 and 14. Lyle Klement added 10, Joe Bright 8, Mark Lippe 3, Tom Hennigan and Gary Barnhill 2, Ronnie Felderhoff 1.

Progress was somewhat similar in the girls B game as Lindsay kept barely ahead by counts of 6-4, 14-11 and 18-15 for 3 periods, then gained to 26-19 in the final quarter. MHS scorers were Sandy Dittfurth 11, Mary Lou Fleitman 4, Margie Wolf 4.

The Hornets had a thriller diller in their contest with the Panthers. They caught their hosts cold and ran up a comfortable 22-8 lead in the first quarter. But then Saint Jo rallied and narrowed the gap to 26-23 at the half. From there on the tussle was red hot, for a 37-37 count at the third quarter and Muenster's eventual 47-42 win.

Tommy Otto led the Hornet scoring with 27. Ronnie Felderhoff and Joe Bright got 6 each, Robert Johnson and Mark Lippe had 4 each.

MHS girls had no problems in the first game. They surged to a big 27-5 first quarter lead, gained to 46-19 and 64-29 in the next two periods and coasted to the 72-43 final score. Veteran Doris Felderhoff made 36 points and Freshman Debbie Schneider was close behind with 34. Janet Swirczynski accounted for the other 2.

MHS teams will be at the Callisburg tournament this weekend.

The oil and natural gas field at Prudhoe Bay on Alaska's North Slope, 250 miles above the Arctic Circle, is believed to be the largest field so far located in the Western Hemisphere.

SH Teams Start Basketball with Intra-squad Tilts

The scheduled start of the basketball season at Sacred Heart High fizzled out Tuesday night as a result of a conflict on the schedule of the visiting S&S team.

Making the most of the situation, Coach Bob Steele divided the personnel into two groups for intra-squad games.

The boys had a hotly contested 36-31 event that was gratifying to Steele, especially in defense. However the girls indicated a need for considerable practice.

Next on the SH schedule is the invitational tournament at Whitesboro this weekend. First opponent for both teams is Sanger.

The average adult, with all his wisdom, rarely understands how much the average child understands.

Guests during the Thanksgiving holidays in the Wilfred Bindel home were their daughter Phyllis, a freshman at St. Edward's University, Austin and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Dennis of San Antonio. Cynthia (Mrs. Dennis) is a senior at Our Lady of the Lake College. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joe J. Neu were hosts for dinner for the Wilfred Bindel family.

Confetti . . .

ested in a recent quote by Postmaster Elmer Klassen in He estimates that only one half of the postal service workers are putting in an honest day's work for a day's pay. The others, he said are merely going through the motions of an 8 hour day, goldbricking or actively engaged in sabotaging attempts to improve the postal system.

James Rademacker, head of the Letter Carriers Union, does not dispute the charge that half of the employees are loafing, but explains it away by saying that the post office is a service rather than a business — apparently distinguishing between private business and a government operation. To which we reply that lots of private enterprises are services and they are subject to the same economic laws as manufacturing, retailing, etc. A firm just can't keep going with half of its personnel goofing off. Neither can the post office — unless it is subsidized by tax payers. But getting back to the original statement. Now you know at least one reason why postal service is not up to par.
