VOLUME XXXVIII

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 FEBRUARY 1, 1974

The column takes pleasure this week in extending happy birthday wishes to Muenster Memorial Hospital on the tenth anniversary of its opening. For the sake of the record, there are two dates relative to the official opening. First an open house with dedication ceremonies on January 20, 1964, and the opening for business on February 4.

The dates are of little importance, but what really counts is the fact that this community after 75 years was finally able to give complete care to its sick people — and to invite other communities to come and let us help them. We felt more mature, proud that we were eventually able to take on that very important part of life's pattern.

Probably we were more aware of a deep feeling of pride. A building of such beauty and functional excellence was a great achievement — and even more notable because the facilities were equal to or better than those of many towns much larger than Muenster. That fact still applies. The quality of medical and hospital service here is far out of proportion to the community's population.

Even more, we might say, our feeling was one of confidence and satisfaction. We liked the thought of having the facilities near by, especially in critical cases when time is vital. During the past ten years we feel certain that there have been times when this was the big factor in saving a life.

In our every day experience, however, it is likely that the nearness is appreciated most because of convenience. Coming from another part of town or just a few miles away is so very much better than the long drives our people used to make. We know that practically every family has saved a lot in time and expense just in visiting patients here.

Another salute to the hospital is based on its value as a successful business. It is keeping medical money at home, attracting some from other communities, supporting a sizeable payroll and spending money with other local businesses. The city has always been eager to attract industries and is aware now that the hospital is the equivalent of a very good industry.

For those several reasons congratulations and best wishes are in order. Thanks to everybody at the hospital, from directors to part time workers, for doing a fine job. We appreciate it and we hope their next ten years will be equally praiseworthy.

A week or two ago as Congressmen were returning to their jobs after feeling out the sentiments of folks back home, a number of commentators seemed to think that the Watergate issue was about to fade away. They detected that the hysteria for destroying the president doesn't come from the grass roots but rather from the hate filled minds of political enemies.

Likewise a number of men high in government are saying that there's a lack of evidence to find the president guilty, but the hatchet men keep insisting on impeachment proceedings. It makes a person wonder whether the enemies are expecting the eventual decision to go in their favor, or whether they only intend to keep dishing out the dirt confident that he'll be ruined politically whatever way the decision goes. Or, do they expect that the endless and vicious harassment will ultimately make the man resign?

An interesting observation along that line was offered by a Washington columnist, Kevin Phillips. In his opinion only a third of Americans want Nixon impeached, but there are growing odds that he will be driven from office. Also that the impeachment effort is being intensified by a certain group while public opposition to it is getting weaker. For pressure groups like the AFL-CIO and ACLU the overturn of ideological and partisan malice is unmistakable. Their fanatical determination in the face of a generally lukewarm public attitude may be enough to topple the president.

One point in the impeachment procedure deserves special attention. The judiciary committee, which has responsibility to decide whether the impeachment comes before the House, is heavily stacked (Continued on Page 10)

Open House to Observe Hospital 10th Anniversary

Still new after ten years of outstanding service and progress, Muenster Memorial Hospital will welcome visits next Monday in observance of the tenth anniversary of its opening on February 4, 1964.

David Bright, administrator, said it will not be a big and formal event because of the need to care for the patients as usual. However, the hospital, always open to the public, will be more so on this occasion. Staff and board members will be available all day to persons who would like to have a better understanding of facilities and services.

Bright said the directors and staff enjoy having the visitors notice that the place still has a new look after ten years of use, a fact which has impressed a number of other people. They also want people to know about the hospital's services including the special facilities and care provided for some ailments.

And they will be proud to show a number of improvements which have upgraded service or reduced expense — or both. Total cost of the changes, all possible through earnings of the hospital, have amounted to about $75,000. Besides, there are a number of additions provided by the Hospital Auxiliary through a long series of fund raising promotions. The value of its gifts can be estimated at about $25,000.

The two outstanding additions of the past ten years are the laundry and the sophisticated new X-Ray. The laundry has reduced over-all linen expense by about a half and the X-Ray has brought in a new era of quality in radiological work.

Another observance of the hospital anniversary is also in the plans. It will be a banquet for directors and hospital personnel on February 17.

SH Junior Class Invites Entries To Feb. 10 Tourney

Another one-day volleyball tournament is on schedule in the Sacred Heart gym. It will be sponsored by the junior class of Sacred Heart High on Sunday, February 10.

The tourney will be held in both men's and ladies' divisions and trophies will be awarded to the champ, the runner-up and the consolation winner of each division.

Entries are asked to get their names in early, preferably before next Wednesday to allow plenty of time for drawing up the brackets. The entries may be phoned to Barbie Hess, 759-4443.

David Bright, administrator since 1967, has headed the hospital's program of service and expansion.

Food Stamps Will Be Available at Local Post Office

When food stamps go on sale February 1, they will be available at two places in Cooke County, the Muenster and Gainesville post offices, according to a statement by Mrs. Pat Addison, food stamp program supervisor.

Persons eligible to participate will be able to buy the stamps from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Mondays through Fridays except federal holidays.

To become eligible a person should contact the Cooke County Food Stamp office in the courthouse basement or telephone 665-2021, giving information on income and resources and the number of people in the household. When the eligibility is established the person receives a card identifying him or her as qualified to get the stamps. Post office personnel are authorized to sell the stamps to anyone who has the identifying card.

The arrangement permits one to get a bonus purchasing power. For instance, a four member household with an income of $150 can buy $142 worth of stamps for only $41. In effect this adds $101 to the family income.

Stamps then can be spent at their face value in the purchase of food, just like cash.

People with low monthly income such as retirement benefits, social security, unemployment compensation, and a number of other activities are entitled to the food stamps. More information, if needed, is available at the Cooke County Food Stamp Office.

Service Men Can Receive Help from VA Mobile Unit

An opportunity for veterans of the armed services to receive information and help regarding veteran benefits will be available to service men of this area in Gainesville on February 14.

The occasion is the visit of a DAV mobile Field Service Unit. It is one of six units touring the country and provided by the Disabled American Veterans in its cooperative outreach program with the Veterans Administration. The van will be staffed by two National Service officers who are knowledgeable and experienced in the full range of services offered by the VA.

This includes claims for compensation and pension from the VA, along with educational benefits, home loan benefits, outpatient medical treatment and hospital benefits and insurance benefits. Also generalized information and assistance concerning federal employment and benefits administered by Civil Service and Social Security.

Anyone who has served in the US armed forces is entitled to this assistance free of charge. More information is available at the local VFW post.

'74 License Plates Go on Sale Friday At Tom & Jerry's

Tom and Jerry's Barber Shop, again designated as a branch of the county tax assessor's office for distribution of car license plates, is ready and waiting to go into business Friday.

The community's allotment of plates includes those for passenger cars, commercial pickups, farm pickups, trailers, motorcycles and farm vehicles. As usual, they are available beginning February 1 and the deadline for attaching to the vehicle is April 1.

Vehicle owners are reminded that in buying a plate a person should bring the license plate renewal notice received in the mail during January. And don't tear it; the form should be intact as received. Also, the form tells how much the plate will cost, for convenience of those who want to bring a check.

Plates this year have red letters and figures on background of luminous white.

Passenger car numbers assigned to the local station are the GDS series from 800 to 999 and GDT series from 10 to 599. Commercial plates are the BW series from 8925 to 9199.

Bake Sale Saturday

Sacred Heart Junior class announces a bake sale Saturday, Feb. 2, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. with homemade goodies available at Pagel's, Hofbauers and Ben Franklin Stores. The sale is a class benefit.

NASA to Present Program Tuesday At Public School

Muenster Public School will host the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's mobile lecture-demonstration program at 9:30 a.m., Feb. 8, 1974.

Representing the Johnson Space Center, Houston, the program will be conducted by Thomas J. Hill. A member of the Oklahoma State University faculty, he has served as a space science specialist for five years, in addition to 10 years as a science teacher in public schools.

Mr. Hill received his Master of Science degree from Oklahoma State University. He is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, and is a veteran of two years military service.

The Space Science Education Project is a lecture-demonstration program designed to acquaint the educational community and the general public with the role of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the exploration of air and space.

The lecture-demonstrations are conducted by space science specialists who are teachers authoritatively informed on the space sciences and the activities of NASA. They present assembly programs and work in the classroom with the teachers and students.

A typical assembly program lasts approximately 50 minutes and includes discussions and demonstrations of aeronautics, rocketry, propulsion systems, satellites, probes, orbits, human factors, communications and manned space flight.

The programs are presented without charge to the requesting school or organization.

Following the auditorium program, the lecturer is available for classroom visits for further in-depth discussions of space topics directly related to specific disciplines or to the special interests of the students.

Mrs. Joe Luke, 76 Dies of Coronary

Funeral services with Mass were held Monday at 10 a.m. in Sacred Heart Church for Mrs. Joe Luke, 76, who died suddenly of a heart attack at her home last Friday. She had been afflicted with a heart ailment for several years but continued active in her home and community.

Father Stephen Eckart was celebrant of the Mass and Father Placidus Eckart delivered the funeral sermon and conducted graveside rites in Sacred Heart Cemetery. Nick Miller Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Rosary service at 4 p.m. Sunday and wake services at 8 p.m. were held in the Miller Chapel.

Bearers were Arthur Endes, Wilfred Herr, Val Fuhrmann, Urban Endes, Dan Luke and Loyd Trubench.

The former Bettie Friske was born October 21, 1897, at Paige, Bastrop County, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Friske who moved to Muenster in 1906. She attended Sacred Heart and Muenster Public Schools and was married to Joseph A. Luke on November 15, 1920. He died November 27, 1968.

Mrs. Luke was a long-time member of the parish St. Anne's Society and served for three years as treasurer of the Catholic State League and Women's Union. She was a 35-year member of the local court Catholic Daughters of America and a charter member of the Muenster Civic League and Garden Club.

In 1946 she opened The Blossom Shop which she operated for ten years before her death.

forced her to give up the business. She enjoyed working with flowers and for some time served as a state flower show judge for Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.

In more recent years she was active in volunteer work for Muenster Public Library, joining the staff in 1960 and in 1964 was named librarian, serving in that capacity at the time of her death.

For this and many other contributions to the community she was named Outstanding Citizen of the Year by Muenster Jaycees in 1970. She also was nominated by Sacred Heart Girls Senior 4-H Club for the Gainesville Soroptimist Club's Senior Citizen Award in 1973.

Her many hobbies in addition to flowers, shrubs and garden was her handwork — piecing and quilting bedspreads, crocheting spreads and afghans, table cloths and baby items, and doing needlepoint.

She belonged to and was active in leisure time clubs enjoying bridge, dominoes and canasta. It was during a card game Friday that she began feeling faint, after a usually active morning, and Mrs. R. R. Endres took her to her home. The end came quickly in one massive seizure while Mrs. Endres was with her.

Mother of three, Mrs. Luke is survived by one son, Norman J. Luke of Houston, two granddaughters, Mrs. Richard (Karen) Wampold of New Orleans and Miss Susan Luke of Baton Rouge, La., one grandson Norman J. Luke, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga.; and two brothers, Martin Friske of Lindsay and Arnold Friske of Gainesville. A daughter Gwendolyn died July 24, 1930 at seven weeks of age and a daughter Alma Marie lost her life in a highway accident on June 11, 1945.

Relatives at Rites

Priscilla Brown Enters Race for District Clerk

Mrs. Priscilla Brown, a worker in the office of the Cooke County District Clerk for the past two years, is asking county voters to put her in charge next year. She has authorized The Enterprise to announce her candidacy for district clerk in the coming political campaign.

Her formal statement to the public will be published in a later issue of the Enterprise.

Hospital Thrives after Slow Start

If a person were to ask the average Muenster resident to name the number one asset of his community, he is most likely to name the Muenster Memorial Hospital. That opinion can be based on a number of reasons. First of all its excellence, comparing favorably with many hospitals in larger towns; also the fact that it gives Muenster the bonus benefit of near-by hospitalization and medical care; and its commercial value in attracting people from other communities; plus its value as a going business with a sizeable payroll.

One would have to be lavish in praise to do justice to the hospital for its importance to Muenster. So its tenth anniversary is a proper occasion to note its fine record of service and growth as well as the fact that it has accomplished even more than was predicted for it. The hospital hasn't just held its own. It has grown and improved and established Muenster as the medical center for a large area.

It's success story is especially appealing because of a number of discouragements and problems that had to be overcome. The opening of the hospital on February 4, 1964 followed completion of a sixteen-month building program. But a great deal of work and planning had gone before, and more work was still to come.

First Effort in Forties

First dreams of a Muenster hospital date back to the early forties. Some money was raised then, but the venture was abandoned as impractical, and contributions were returned.

The next effort originated when John Kreitz at his death left a fund for that purpose. With that as a starter the Muenster Hospital Authority in 1953 with J. M. Weinzapfel as president. Its aim was a $500,000 project with $50,000 in reserve to begin operation. The finance plan was to raise half of the construction fund locally and the other half through a Hill-Burton federal grant.

Starting in 1960, the drive for funds advanced sufficiently in several months to qualify for a federal grant application. Then came delays to revise drawings and get approval of state and federal health departments before the Hill-Burton grant was approved.

Thereafter came more delays to revise plans and specifications and meet other federal requirements. By that time additions to plans and rising prices upped the overall cost estimate to $600,000. Hill-Burton responded to the request for increase and upped its share to $300,000.

Building Starts in 1962

Contract for construction was awarded to A. P. Kasch and Sons of Big Spring on June 28, 1962 on a low bid of $539,900. Additional costs for equipment and furnishings were expected to bring the total to about $660,000. Construction started on August 15.

Not long after that it became apparent that local contributions would not keep up with the need for building funds. Actual funds on hand were about $200,000 in local donations and $300,000 in federal grant. A need for $660,000 was in sight and additional costs plus an initial operating fund advanced the estimated need to $800,000. The fund was $300,000 short of its goal.

To attain that amount the authority negotiated for a bond issue through First of Texas Corporation and received the money just in time to permit continued construction. To get the bond approved the hospital board agreed to retire its debt out of hospital earnings, however its intention was to continue soliciting donations to pay off the bond.

Hospital Opens Feb. '64

That was the financial status when the hospital opened its doors on February 4, 1964, and conditions were due to get worse before they got better. The hospital directors at that time were J. H. Bayer, Arthur Hess, J. J. Wieler, Ray Voth, Alphonse Felderhoff, N. Fette, J. W. Fisher, Leo J. Haverkamp, Mrs. John Mosman, Mrs. T. S. Myrick and J. M. Weinzapfel. The administrator was Sister Mildred Felderhoff of Holy Angels Convent, Jonesboro, Ark.

At the start Dr. L. O. Laughlin was the only resident doctor, and a few doctors of Gainesville agreed to attend patients here when asked. With a low average census of patients, the hospital was struggling to make ends meet. Meanwhile contributions were few and small.

The first direct blow came on June 15 when Dr. Laughlin announced he was leaving Muenster for advanced medical study. Dr. John Haynes, by prior agreement, was here for just a few weeks after Dr. Laughlin, and had to leave before another resident doctor was found.

That replacement turned out to be Dr. S. A. Willis who moved from Tulsa to Saint Jo in June. However that turned out to be another disappointment. Because of his wife's health he quit soon after coming and moved to New Mexico. Dr. James Cole of Gainesville then was a prospective resident doctor and practiced here part time succeeding Dr. Willis.

Hejduk and Kralicke

Finally it was time for fate to smile on the hospital. And that's what happened when Dr. B. F. Hejduk arrived on August 15. He was a surgeon of outstanding skill and background and indicated that after his hectic life the local situation was just what he needed.

A month later fate smiled again as Dr. Martin Kralicke decided that the hospital and community at Muenster were just what he was looking for. He too had a fine record as a surgeon. With the two of them on the staff, the word started getting around that Muenster was tops for medical service.

But the other problem remained unsolved. Donations to pay off the old debt were coming too slowly, so the hospital directors initiated proceedings to establish a hospital district with power to levy a tax to retire all of the hospital's indebtedness. Notice of intention to create the district was published in December, 1964. Area proposed for the district was the Muenster, Myra and Era school districts plus the Cooke County portion of the Saint Jo district.

As time approached for the state legislature to authorize the district, strong opposition developed. Delegations pro and con appeared before the lawmakers who reached a compromise on May 28, 1964, eliminating Myra and Era school districts from the proposed hospital district and naming a provisional board of directors representing both sides of the issue. The legislative action authorized qualified voters of the area concerned to settle the issue with a referendum. The provisional directors were Al Trubench, J. H. Bayer, Joe Galloway, Alphonse Felderhoff, Ray Voth, Norbert Felderhoff, Albert Dangelmayr, Tim Stormer and Robert Bayer.

Hospital District Approved

The directors ordered the election whereby the Hospital District was to be approved or rejected, and set the date for September 25, 1965. An estimated three fourths of the area's residents cast their ballots and approved the proposition by a count of 507-198.

Next step was for the directors to organize the district and issue bonds to raise funds for the district to take over the Hospital Authority's obligation, including building debt and operation deficit. The total of bonds issued was $327,000, all of them being purchased by local investors.

Forestburg News

By Myrt Denham
FORESTBURG — Jeff Lanier and Mrs. Rosa Bryant celebrated their birthdays Tuesday Jan. 22 — with quite an age gap — we will not say a generation gap. Although Jeff celebrated his 7th birthday and Rosa her 88th, Jeff and Rosa are good friends and love each other very much and always exchange birthday gifts. Jeff is in his first year of school and although Rosa is getting up in years, she still cooks, keeps house, sews, and she and her husband Jim make the best garden in the country every year. They still drive to church and take part in the activities of the Church of Christ most every Sunday. So we think Jeff and Rosa have bridged the generation gap — at least on their birthdays.

The 4-H club met Wednesday, Jan. 23. Mr. Bumpus, the county agent, met with them and discussed the county project show. This show will be held at Bowie sale barn, March 14 through 16. Mrs. Stevens is their daughter.

Growing old is only a state of mind... brought on by gray hair, false teeth, wrinkles, a big belly, short breath, and an all-over feeling of being constantly and totally pooped.

To err is human, but when the eraser wears out before the pencil, you're overdoing it.

Women, they say, would make better wives if they weren't so busy making better husbands.

Gets MS Degree

Mrs. Jack Fiedler of Duncanville, the former Ann Luke of Muenster, has received her masters degree in Gerontology — science that teaches on the decline of life — from NTSU's Center for Studies on Aging. Problems in lieu of thesis were factors related to the establishment of nursing services in homes for the aged and use of transactional analysis in a home for the aged.

MHS Teams Dump Callisburg in Two Basketball Games

Both of the Muenster High teams were winners Friday night in their pair of basketball games with Callisburg. And both had to come from behind to overcome strong starts by the visitors.

MHS girls seem to have had a harder job doing that than the Hornets did. Ending the first period they were trailing 15-10, and at half time they had closed the gap by only 1 point, a score of 30-26. In the second half, however, they started early and kept going gaining 11 points in the third period and seven in the fourth. Scores ending the periods were 43-36 and 59-45.

Tracy Klement was the game's hot shot with 27 points. Other scorers were Deb Schneider 18, Becky Fields 12, Sandy Dittfurth 2. The teams were tied at 36 each in field goals, so the difference was in free throws. Muenster hit 23 of 34 (68%) and Callisburg made 9 of 22 (41%). Tracy Klement's record was 13 of 16.

The boys contest was a hot one all the way. Visitors led 13-12 ending the first period and the Hornets gained just a little in the other three. After a see saw second quarter Muenster was in front 24-23, then gained 2 in the third and 6 in the fourth for scores of 34-31 and 54-45.

MHS point makers were Ronnie Felderhoff 16, Randy Wolf 11, Tim Felderhoff 10, Lyle Klement 9, Terry Waltercheid 8. Again the difference in free throws was a factor. Muenster made 14 of 25, Callisburg made 7 of 12.

The cottontail does not shed his summer brown coat as does his cousin, the varying hare or snowshoe rabbit, but remains the same color all year long.

Auxiliary a Big Factor in Growth of Local Hospital

One of the many reasons behind the Muenster Hospital's remarkable success in the past ten years is the dedicated service of the Muenster Hospital Auxiliary. This organization has spent hundreds of hours of work to help the hospital and more hundreds of hours to raise funds to buy things for the hospital. Starting shortly after the hospital opened, the auxiliary has bought a long list of items with a combined value of many thousands of dollars.

The latest of these, and perhaps the most expensive, is the alert system. Other important pieces of equipment are a heart machine, bronchoscope, X-Ray equipment, steel surgical cabinets and a recovery room bed. There were also housekeeping items such as a refrigerator, an ice maker, laundry equipment, a planter and flower casts.

To pay for those things the Auxiliary got its money chiefly by promoting gala benefit events. It sponsored fabulous variety shows, fashion shows and dinner dances along with teas, bake sales, white elephant sales, pancake breakfasts, chili suppers, ice cream socials, cosmetic and jewelry parties, plastic ware sales and donations in lieu of Christmas cards.

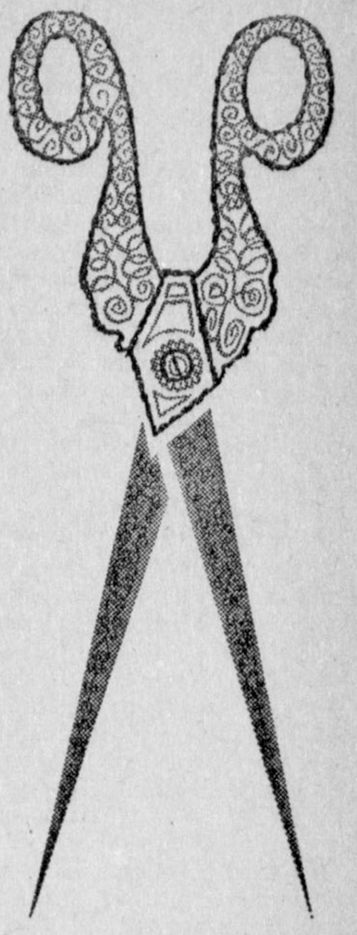

Besides providing hospital items, the auxiliary has participated in a number of hospital related activities. These include helping at the blood bank collection, sponsoring a human parts and eye bank and the stork derby, giving favors of pens and corsages to the patients, stocking the hospital gift shop, assisting the heart fund drive, operating the switchboard and decorating in the hospital at Christmas.

First president of the Auxiliary was Bertha (Mrs. Ervin) Hamric, who held the office for two years. Succeeding in the order listed are Florence (Mrs. Richard) Grewing, Margie (Mrs. Henry) Starke, Bertha Hamric, Betty Rose (Mrs. Jerry) Walterscheid, Carol (Mrs. Walter) Grewing, Frances (Mrs. Arthur) Bayer, and Carol (Mrs. Ted) Henscheid.

The Auxiliary has ninety three members and welcomes more.

Visitor from Iowa
Henry Loerwald of Lu Verne, Iowa, left Sunday after a 14-day visit with his sister Mrs. Al Walterscheid in whose home he was a house guest and visited other relatives from there. The two also visited Lindsay relatives and Gainesville relatives including Mrs. Anna Loerwald and Mrs. Joe Schmitz at Frontier Manor and spent one weekend in Fort Worth with their brother and sister-in-law, the Joe Loerwalds. There were also several family gatherings. Mr. Loerwald left Lu Verne on Dec. 12, spent most of the time with a daughter in California, then visited relatives in Hereford on the way to Muenster.

One of the shortest measurable intervals of time is between the day a man sets a little extra money aside for a sudden emergency and the arrival of a sudden emergency.

Facts do not cease to exist because they are ignored.

First Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Chris Cagle of Dallas came to Muenster for the weekend and celebrated their first wedding anniversary at a dinner party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hoedebeck in their home for family members. Terry Hoedebeck and Chris Cagle were married here in Sacred Heart Church on Jan. 27, 1973. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoedebeck of Gainesville.

Letters Soar to 1300
John Deering of Myra still gets letters, cards and souvenirs from around the world and his collection now stands at over 1300. It all started last July when a relative sent his picture in Indian costume along with a letter asking for pen pals to Woman's Circle magazine. Deering was in Muenster Friday showing some of his interesting foreign mail.

The smallest deed is better than the grandest intention.

MHS Group Attends Banquet at Frisco
Muenster High was well represented Saturday night at the 14-A district banquet in Frisco honoring selections to the past season's all-district football team.

All of the Hornets named on the first and second teams were there. They are Curtis Klement, Terry Huchton, Jim Grewing, Dan Sicking, Randy Wolf, Steve Klement and Terry Walterscheid.

Others there were Messrs. and Mmes. L. B. Bruns, C. O. Cash, Robert McDaniel, Glenn Richardson, Bill Moore and Wayne Klement, and Miss Charlotte Johnson.

Keeping husbands in hot water won't make them tender.

Muenster, Sanger Divide Two Games
The Muenster High teams broke even in their pair of games at Sanger Tuesday night, the girls romping to a 52-21 win and the boys losing 52-47.

For three periods the Hornets kept a short lead in a hot contest, the scores ending each being 12-8, 25-24 and 36-30. But they weren't able to contain the fourth period Indian rally. Outscored 22-11 in that quarter, they lost 52-47. Allen Powers, the game's top scorer, made 14 of his 23 points in the quarter.

Tim Felderhoff, with 20, led the Muenster scoring. Randy Wolf made 12, Lyle Klement 11, Ronnie Felderhoff 4.

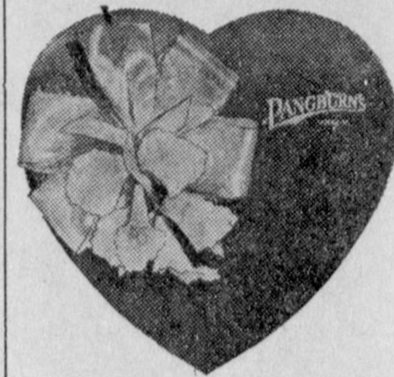

MHS girls had no problem. After an early lead they gained in every period until the final count of 52-21. Debbie Schneider hit 17 points, Tracy Klement 15, Becky Fields 10, Sandy Dittfurth 7, Mary Lou Fleitman 3.

To date the girls standing is 10-12 for the season and 5-6 for the district. Boys have 11-7 for the season and 5-4 for the district.

SH Teams Divide 1-Point Thrillers

Sacred Heart High broke even with two teams from the Metroplex Tuesday night in the local gym. The girls lost 42-41 in a red hot overtime affair with Immaculate Conception and the boys won 61-60 over Tyler Street Christian.

Tigerettes trailed for three quarters by scores of 16-2, 17-11 and 29-21 then hit a hot streak in the fourth and tied the count at 39 as time ran out. However, they failed to keep going in the three minute overtime and lost 42-41.

Mary Hess scored 19 for Sacred Heart. Laura Kralicke added 8, Peg Hoedebeck 7, Sharlene Pagel 5 and Cindy Bartush 2.

The boys game was another sizzler. Overcoming an early 8 point deficit, the Tigers clawed their way to a 14-12 first quarter lead and held it — but just barely — the rest of the way. Scores were 30-26 at half time, 41-40 at the third quarter and 61-59 as the final buzzer sounded. But a foul was called as the game ended, giving the visitors two free throws which could have brought on the evening's second overtime. Fortunately for Sacred Heart, the Big D boys made only one of the two, and the Tigers won by a point.

Roger Endres had a big night for 31 points. Ricky Walterscheid made 16, Phil Endres 8, Kevin Pels 4, John Bartush 2.

Season records to date are 8-12 for the Tigers and 5-15 for the Tigerettes.

An antique.
Because of electricity.

The ice box melted from the scene when electric refrigerators appeared. The kerosene lamp faded into the past when electric lights began brightening every home.

Other electric appliances replaced the wash tub and scrub board, the flatiron and the wood-burning cookstove and eliminated the tiresome chore of hand-washing dishes, pots and pans.

Electricity. A vital part of everyday living in so many ways. And Texas Power and Light Company is doing its utmost to assure an adequate supply for essential needs.

Electricity. Still one of the biggest bargains in your budget.

Eight Days by Air
From N.J. to Texas

"If you have time to spare, go by air," is what Miss Jane Hoehn said on arrival in Muenster after being eight days coming from New Jersey, flying herself in a Piper as part of her cross-country flight training.

She took off on Jan. 13 from McGuire AFB expecting to be with her sister and family, the Ed Clers that afternoon. First weather interfered. She ran into a blinding rain storm and fog and was forced down at Greenwood, Miss., grounded there until Thursday, Jan. 17. Taking off again she flew to Texarkana and was met there by a nephew and his wife the David Hoehns for a visit with them overnight at New Boston.

On leaving Texarkana Friday the oil gage went out on her plane and she had to land again there and await repairs until Sunday, Jan. 20, when she finally got off and landed at Gainesville airport, met there by the Ed Clers. She spent Jan. 21 and 22 at Nocona with the Jack Hoehns and on Jan. 23 she and Mrs. Ed Cler flew to Dumas to visit Mrs. Bill Hoehn and family. They returned on the 24th and Miss Hoehn took family members for rides over the area. The Jack Hoehns were here that day. She left for St. Louis Sunday to visit the Albert Hoehns enroute back to McGuire.

Miss Hoehn is continuing study to get her instrument flying license. She has already finished a mechanical course. Since being retired from military service — she was a nurse — she lives in Willingsboro, N. J.

This January weather has been something else. Can we really get through a winter with no more snow than we have had? Some are predicting a cold February and March but then again those months can be as nice as January. If this keeps up we should promote Muenster as a winter resort area.

The market for ladies ready to wear clothes was in Dallas this past week-end. Buyers report the trend is away from pantsuits back to dresses. Some buyers report ordering 50% fewer pantsuits and many more dresses. The latest fashions show dresses at knee length. Be patient men, the good old days will return.

Altho it was not a championship fight, both Ali and Frazier made over 2½ million each from it. The last time they fought, less than two years ago, each made over 1½ million. Now that each has won one time there is sure to be a rematch. Several professional golfers have made over $50,000 since the first of the year. Consider the number of baseball and football players who are paid over $100,000 per year makes one realize that professional sports are big business.

It's harder to make good in a small town because every one is watching.

A noted French physician maintains that if a man consumes a glass of brandy after dinner each evening for 1,200 months, he will live to be 100 years old.

against the president. Almost all of the members are beneficiaries of campaign funds dished out by AFL-CIO, the very organization which is spearheading the impeachment movement. How does it strike you to have this kind of characters sitting in judgment over the president and his party for accepting political contributions from ITT and AMPPI?

Back to the Kevin Phillips commentary: He observed a comparison between the impeachment demands and the deposing and execution of Charles I of England and Louis XVI of France. Although the majority of people are opposed to impeachment they are doing little to prevent it. In England and France the vast majority favored the kings, but they did nothing to stop the fanatics. If our people are similarly apathetic there may be an impeachment.

If history repeats itself in this regard, the political hatchet men of Washington ought to take warning from sequels to the regicides. There were backlashes that wiped out all the participants of both regicides. It might be smart for the Watergate fanatics to consider the possibility that a day of reckoning also awaits them.

district was set by law at a maximum of 75 cents per $100 of valuation. Eager to dispose of the debt as soon as possible, and more so to avoid years of heavy interest payments, the board decided on a rate of 65 cents. The result is amazing. After eight years the outstanding debt is reduced by $201,000. Total debt now remaining is $126,000.

The original schedule of payments called for retirement of the bonds by 1991. However the 65 cent rate will pay off the entire debt by 1976 and save the district an estimated $115,000 in interest.

Sound Operations

Financial soundness of the hospital's operation has been equally impressive. Not long after the coming of Doctors Hejduk and Kralicke the feeling got around that the medical situation had stabilized. And, along with the general belief that they were here to stay, there was lavish praise of their services and the hospital's services. All of which was reassuring to local people and appealing to others. The number of patients started to grow. The operation that was in the red for considerably more than a year started paying its way and also building a fund for replacements, improvements and expansions. The board early adopted a policy of keeping the facilities in top condition and also reducing expenses by turning the jobs over to hospital personnel rather than to contractors.

Improvements

One of those projects came in 1970 after several years of experience showed that laundry was a sizeable expense item. Directors closed in an area of the north side just beyond the patient rooms, had it tiled and installed equipment. The facility has been in regular use since then, giving good service and paying handsome dividends in several ways. Besides requiring much less for operation than the previous laundry bill this was causing less wear and tear on the hospital linen. Savings in cash and in linen purchase amounted to 50 per cent. The laundry, costing about $17,000, paid for itself in about two years.

Another project was remodeling the front area in 1972. This change made better use of the space originally provided for doctors' offices and outpatient waiting room. Along with the original front office area, the space is used now for administrative personnel.

A related improvement just beginning is conversion of the outside space between the hospital and Dr. Knight's office into additional administrative space. Tom Hesse, hospital maintenance man has charge of the project and will do much of the work.

Sophisticated X-Ray

The biggest undertaking of the hospital's ten year history was modernizing the X-Ray department at a cost of $40,000. The new unit, installed in August and September, 1973, is the last word in sophisticated radiological equipment, a marvelous improvement over the original X-Ray. This machine has an image intensifier which, believe it or not, is said to make an image 50,000 times clearer than old X-Rays did. A part of the process is to take exposures which eliminate certain depths of tissue and bone thereby isolating all but the area which is under special examination. The machine is the ultimate. At this time there are none better, and the same can be said for the quality of local fluoroscopes and pictures. However, it is not a cancer treating unit.

A lesser project, on recommendation of the state health department, was an upgrading of the fire sprinkler system throughout the hospital and the chemical extinguishing system in the kitchen. Another small one was installation of hand rails on both sides of the corridor to patients rooms. Patients strolling the hall are within easy reach of support if and when their steps falter.

Auxiliary Helps

Still more improvements, but not financed out of hospital earnings, are those provided by the dedicated and hard working Hospital Auxiliary. The women of this organization have sponsored a number of fund raising events, particularly variety shows and dinner dances, to finance their ambitious program. Principal items on their gift list to date are a completely equipped recovery room bed, a heart treatment and monitoring machine and endoscopic instruments.

Patient Census Doubles

Progress at the hospital can be conveniently measured by a comparison of records now and earlier. The average daily census of patients was 8.9 back in the opening year of 1964, and it was 18.3 last year. Also during that time the number of employees has increased by one third and the size of payroll has almost doubled. For instance, the hospital in 1966 averaged 30 employees with a monthly payroll of $10,451. Currently there are 55 with a full time equivalent of 42, and their total payroll is $18,225 per month. Change of wage rate accounts for payroll increasing out of proportion to the number of employees.

Of the present 55 hospital employees, ten were on the original list. They are Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Caplinger, Cecilia Haverkamp, Emma Lou Hess, Thomas Hesse, Anna Mae Stofels, Lorena Taylor, Ann Walterscheid, Jo Ann Walterscheid and Agatha Wolf.

Hejduk Tragedy

It can be said that the beginning of Muenster Hospital's success was when Dr. Hejduk and Dr. Kralicke arrived in late 1964. So it's understandable that the tragedy taking Dr. Hejduk's life on May 29, 1967, was the greatest shock of the decade. The doctor was one of four persons killed by carbon monoxide in a Gainesville home.

In slightly less than three years, Hejduk's personal charm and kindness had made him a community favorite and his surgical skill had made him famous. Moreover, he was half of the medical team that made the hospital click. His passing was a calamity to the community and the hospital.

Dr. Antonetti

Efforts to find a successor started shortly after Hejduk's death and ended in March 1968 with the coming of Dr. Alfredo Antonetti, who shared with his predecessor in the distinction of being Communism's unwitting gift to this community. Both had left their homelands, Czechoslovakia and Cuba, to avoid red oppression, and both eventually came to Muenster. Again, fortunately for the community, Dr. Antonetti was a doctor and surgeon of exceptional skill. And Muenster Hospital's staff was headed again by a very capable medical team.

Another factor in the hospital's success dates from October 1967 when David Bright became administrator succeeding Sister Mildred who returned to the Benedictine hospitals of Arkansas. His first important undertaking was his search for a doctor, eventually ending in Dr. Antonetti's move to Muenster. Bright's conservative policy and hard work along with his aim for excellence have a definite bearing on the hospital's very successful operation.

Dr. Knight

Back in 1964 it seems the bad news had a tendency to get worse. By contrast, it seems lately that the good news tends to get better. After getting along fine for several years with Kralicke and Antonetti as resident doctors, the hospital was blessed in January 1972 by the addition of Dr. Marvin Knight, orthopedic surgeon, to its staff. Dr. Knight, well known as team doctor for the Dallas Cowboys, built a farm home between Era and Rosston, about 12 miles from here. Visiting here one day, he liked what he saw and started the plans which led to opening his office.

The doctor's specialty has been his success in mending athletic injuries. His fame has spread far, influencing a number of athletic celebrities like Rodeo Champion Larry Mahan and Dallas Cowboys to become patients of Muenster Hospital. One young man from New England came here for shoulder repairs.

The Medical Staff

Living nearby and with a local office Dr. Knight can be counted with Doctors Kralicke and Antonetti as resident doctors. The same can be said for Dr. Gerald Graham, who has a local dental office. Others on the local hospital staff are Denton radiologists, Dr. Alexander Finley, Dr. Robert Lockwood and Dr. Puig; Wichita Falls urologist, Dr. Wm. Menzies; Wichita Falls pathologists, Dr. John Ramsey and Dr. Eleanor Ervine; and consulting dietitian Ellen Leevy, Ph.D. of Dallas. Dr. Finley has the distinction of being the only present staff member serving on the hospital's original staff.

Fully Accredited

With its highly capable staff of doctors, nurses, technicians and administrators, the hospital maintains a constant high standard in national and state rating. It is approved by Medicare and Medicaid and the State Health Department, and also has the endorsement of the prestigious Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. Members of the Joint Commission are the American Hospital Association, the American Medical Association and the American College of Surgeons.

When all is told the Muenster Hospital story is a happy one, and it seems even more pleasing when one considers the early set-backs. There were painful disappointments when the expected generous response failed to develop in the original fund drive. Also when funds still failed to come after the building was finished, and again when no answer came to appeals for resident doctors.

But the good news finally came. First in two highly qualified doctors whose good work was complemented by the hospital's fine service and exceptional facilities. Together they were convincing many people that illness is more pleasant here. And, in spite of a great sadness, the medical situation here has been tops ever since. In addition, the community can be grateful for an efficient and progressive operations policy. The administrator and directors have done a great job of constantly improving while getting extra value out of the money they spend.
