NUMBER 35

A number of comparisons in this column last week indicated that a big variety of foods and other every day needs and wants require considerably less work time in this country than in England or Russia, also that the gross national product per capita is more than twice as much here as in those two countries. Those facts and a few others bear out our long standing opinion that we Americans enjoy a higher standard of living, and probably the highest to be found anywhere.

Figures supporting this claim were recently released in a brochure by the National Federation of Independent Business presenting a number of interesting facts in addition to those presented here last week.

A significant fact is US has 215 million persons on 3,615,102 square miles, Britain has 56 million on 94,226 square miles and USSR has 256,700,000 on 8,649,489 square miles, also the ratio of labor force is about the same: US, 82.9 million; England, 22.75 million; and USSR, 115.02 million. In manufacturing the three respective work forces are 18.77 million, 7.68 million and 29.6 million. Russia leads US in total civilian and factory laborers but the GNP ratio indicates that we lead the Soviets in total products and service.

The really stunning comparison is in agricultural production. The figures show that the farm labor force is 4.38 million in the US and 34.35 million in the USSR. However an American farm worker feeds 49 persons whereas a Russian farm worker feeds 7.

In rail transportation, both passenger and freight, Russia leads US by big margins, whereas US has the big lead in air passenger and freight. And as regards motor vehicles in use, America showed 131.55 million whereas Russia was blank (no figure available). Incidentally this fact is related to Russia's big lead in rail transportation. Its hauling has to be done by rail because of a poor road system and a small number of trucks. Over here trucks rival the railroads in volume.

Comparison in communications likewise leans in America's favor, which has 695 telephones per 100 persons whereas Britain has 379 and Russia only 66. Likewise the count of radios per 100 persons is 1930 in US...believe it or not, an average of almost 2 per person...whereas USSR has 235 per 1000. Also in TV sets US has 587 per 1000, Britain has 309 and Russia has 217. On the other hand US has only 293 daily newspapers per 1000 persons whereas England has 443 and USSR has 388...a fact which can be expected since Americans have so many more radios and TVs to receive their news.

The report on health shows Russia with a surprising lead over both US and Britain in availability of hospital beds. We have 149 persons per bed, England has 117 and Russia has 86. Also we have a ratio of 600 persons per doctor. England has 800 and Russia 400. But we lead in dental care with one dentist for 1974 persons. In England it's 1 to 3951, in Russia 1 to 2481.

The comparisons reveal that America is not leading in every aspect of material goods and services, but it is a strong leader in most of them, and it is No. 1 by a big margin when we combine all of the factors. This is a fact which is known in many countries besides our own, and a big reason why United States is still first choice to people who are seeking a new home.

Of course, we need to remember that personal freedom and dignity have as much appeal as the material goodies. Probably even more. Millions of persons who had the material comforts in their native country chose to come here where they were free to speak and go and do as they please.

We think about these things with pride and gratitude. We are proud that our country more than any other is based on the Christian principles

Two MHS Teachers Critique in State Nutrition Workshop

Two MHS teachers, Mmes. Nancy Perryman and Gwen Trubenbach were members of a nine-teacher group from Region XI who critiqued a recent Nutrition Education Workshop prior to regular use with teachers statewide. Mrs. Perryman and Mrs. Trubenbach assisted in the development of the Nutrition Workshop at the Education Service Center in Fort Worth.

Seven concepts were developed and curriculum guides were written to assist teachers in relating the nutrition concepts to the subject matter they are teaching.

SH School Launches Upgrading Program

Extensive changes in policy and personnel will become effective at Sacred Heart School when it resumes operation on August 24. Daniel K. Morse, the new principal, who has been on the job since July 1, said that intensive efforts are under way to upgrade Sacred Heart and make it a progressive school of high standards for commercial students and future college students.

Morse, who succeeds Sister Mary John Seyler and Sister Georgia Felderhoff, said that the upgrading will apply in elementary as well as high school. Principal addition in the grades is the kindergarten taught in the former reading lab room by Sister Genevieve, a former teacher at Sacred Heart. The reading lab has been moved to another room.

Sister Genevieve will also be superior of the local convent, which will be available to other orders of nuns who may join the faculty.

The high school program features two courses of college study stressing pre college academic and college prep allowing more flexibility choice of subjects.

165 Enroll in Second Week of Swim Class

The second and final week of the community's annual swimming class for beginners hit the jackpot. The number originally enrolled at the registration on July 7 was 113 but late enrollers came Monday and Tuesday raising the week's total to 165...of which 156 are children and 9 are adult ladies. Along with last week's enrollment of 151 the addition ups this year's total to 316.

Although proud of the big turnout, the staff was not happy with its many late registrations which disrupted the order planned originally. Children coming late needed to be tested and assigned during instruction time, and a number of changes had to be made.

This week's class is headed

Brazilian Students Visit in Muenster

Twenty one visitors from Brazil, all of them attending summer school at Cooke County College, saw a bit of Muenster last Monday. They were given guided tours of Fischer's meat processing plant and the AMPI milk plant, then stopped for hospitality and a brief review of community history at the home of Arthur Endres.

The group is at CCC for three weeks of quickie study in grammar, composition, history, humanities and arts plus a number of field trips. Their special interest here was the national background of Muenster people and the customs and traditions which have become a part of the community.

The visitors ranged from 14 to 65 years of age and were residents of three cities in Sao Paulo and two cities in Sao Carlos.

Attending them on the trip were Dr. Ona Wright, humanities teacher, Mrs. Linda Coolen, grammar and composition teacher, and Dr. Eduardo Scheel German and Spanish teacher, all from CCC.

Appointment of the head coach of the Tigers switched from satisfaction to disappointment this week. Morse said an agreement was reached Monday with a South Texan who phoned Tuesday that he changed his mind.

Others on the faculty are mostly teachers from last year, and a few still need to be added. The complete list and their assignments will be published soon.

IT'S TIME TO CHANGE DIRECTION
 For many years one of the most common comments I would hear after a lecture on the seriousness of our economic problem was, "What are you so worked up about? We've never had it so good!" But you know, I never hear that comment today. The American people it appears have finally come to realize that we are not as well off as we have been; we have had it better.

Our people are confused and definitely know something is wrong. They're concerned about relatively high unemployment, double digit inflation, high prices for life's necessities and high taxes. And well they should be; it's about time they became concerned.

But we should look at this as a positive sign because now people will be actively seeking understanding, they will be more apt to listen to discussions of our problems to learn about solutions. In most cases, those who are attempting to promote an understanding of freedom will be met with open rather than closed minds. We should feel encouraged for such a change in attitude is basic to a turnaround from the direction our nation has been traveling.

One manifestation of this change in attitude has been the long-overdue tax rebellion. The rebellion has been simmering just underneath the surface for many years. It in turn has spawned numerous tax rebellion groups and individual protest leaders. But the movement which has crystallized the tax rebellion was the famous "Proposition 13" in California, which limited the amount of taxes on property

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

AUSTIN—Energy—how to produce more of it—remained the topic of state officials in Austin, as well as at Camp David where President Jimmy Carter was meeting with his staff to draw a new energy policy for America.

Texas Governor Bill Clements fired more criticism at Carter last week while attending a National Governors' Association meeting in Louisville, Kentucky. A governor's panel there rejected a recommendation backed by Clements for a Carter-supported plan for a windfall profits tax on higher-priced oil at 50 percent.

Clements had proposed a 100 percent tax on windfall profits that would not be re-invested in some form of energy development. Clements told the group even the oil companies are against his version because it is too restrictive.

Earlier on "Issues and Answers" television interview, Clements said he favored production of synthetic fuels, including gasohol, but would do all in his power to defeat Carter in 1980.

In The Same Boat
 Meanwhile, back home in Texas Sen. Jack Ogg, D-Houston, rapped Clements for his constant criticism of Carter, saying both men share similar energy policies. "As far as I'm concerned, there's not a bit of difference between the president's ineffectual leadership and Gov. Clements' actions," Ogg said. Clements' recent statements that fuel would be channeled to the cities and also saying that rural areas would not suffer were "as inadequate and confusing as the president's."

"First, he (Clements) vetoes a gasohol program for Texas. Then, on national television, he calls for production of alternative energy sources."

Ogg said in reality no solutions have been offered by either of the two leaders.

showed up to testify. The absence of a witness to testify for the oil industry prompted Consumer Affairs subcommittee chairman Sen. Ron Clower of Garland to blast the industry's invited spokesman for "not showing the people of Texas the courtesy to come here and present the oil industry's side of the story."

Clower was referring to Bill Abington, general counsel for Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Those who did testify included representatives from the U.S. Department of Energy, the governor's office, service station operators, tourist development groups, businessmen, labor, consumer groups, farmers and truckers.

All testified the gasoline shortage is having serious and adverse effects on the state.

English Inevitable
 Secretary of State George Strake said Wednesday he would like to see a "serious, honest" debate on bilingual voting and bilingual education in Texas.

The Republican's remarks were made in response to a Federal Election Commission report that said Spanish-speaking Texans are poorly served by state and local election officials. The report's data "are old and on a fairly small sample" and ignored other facts about Texas voting, he said.

Strake said he does not favor immediate repeal of a federal law requiring bilingual ballots, but "if the Mexican people come to the conclusion that they don't want it, I would be in favor of dropping it."

"It seems to me the longer you continue bilingual training the more you're continuing the inevitable. The sooner you get (Mexican-Americans) into an English world, the better it will be for them," Strake said. He stressed he would do all he could to involve all Texans in the political process.

Death Penalty Upheld
 Texas Supreme Court rejected convicted murderer David Lee Powell's arguments that the state's execution procedures were illegally adopted and should be overturned.

The Court upheld without comment lower court decisions on Powell's appeal. Prison rules set injection with sodium thiopental as the method of execution. Powell was convicted of killing an Austin policeman with an AK-47 assault rifle.

Congressman
Charles W. Stenholm
 Congressional Comment

Washington, D.C. — In ancient Greece the messenger of bad news was often beaten and sometimes even killed. In 5000 years of civilization human nature has changed very little and we still often accuse the messenger instead of the culprit.

For many years now energy experts have been telling us that if we continue the current regulatory policy of allowing cheap energy, we will eventually face a large shortage of hydrocarbon fuels. This is what is happening today. We are consuming fossil fuels at a rate that is one million times faster than it took nature to produce them and nothing will change the reality of the shortage — no matter who we blame or how much the issue becomes a victim to demagoguery.

The decisions on how to deal with the current shortage now rest with our elected officials. President Carter recently proposed a plan to decontrol oil prices which I support. This proposal will save thousands of marginal wells which only produce 35 barrels a day or less. These wells have been abandoned in past years because they were losing money. Federal pricing policies only allow them to receive $5.86 a barrel while we were paying many times that for foreign oil. This new policy will allow domestic producers to recover billions of barrels of oil that otherwise would not have been retrieved. There will be a small inflationary effect but this will be offset by a reduction in import costs and a strengthening of the dollar. When President Carter announced his decontrol decision it was hailed by most leaders of industrialized countries and confidence in the dollar was increased. Our energy goals should be conservation, increased production, less reliance on imported oil, and development of alternative sources of energy — all of these aims would be enhanced by decontrol.

Most of the increased production will be done by the independents. These people are usually small businessmen who take great risks, often with borrowed money. 90% of all exploratory wells have been drilled by the independents. Eight of nine holes they drill are dry and those that are successful pay over half of their profits in taxes. It is my belief we should encourage these people to find more hydrocarbon fuels. If we continue to restrain the rate of return it will force many companies out of the market and we will have a centralized industry with little competition, very high prices, and longer gas lines.

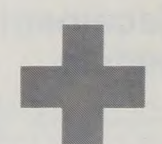

The Congress is currently considering a windfall profits tax. This tax is not, in fact, based on profits but is a permanent federal severance tax on domestic oil. This proposal will increase the price to the consumer and also take away needed revenues for domestic production. According to the U.S. Census Bureau, independent producers have been investing on the average, more than 100% of their wellhead revenues in finding and producing domestic oil and natural gas. It is my opinion that our resources would be more efficiently allocated if we allowed these funds to be spent for production instead of higher government taxes.

If America is going to remain the dominant power in the world, we must become economically independent of foreign suppliers. Whether we can solve our energy needs will be one of our greatest tests as a Nation. If we do not, our defense, economy, way of life, and even our freedom will be in the hands of forces beyond our control.

"Dad, I've got my first part in a play," said the young would-be actor. "I play a man who's been married 20 years."
 "That's fine, son," replied the father. "Next time you might even get a speaking part."

A citizen wrote to the Internal Revenue Service: "I have not been able to sleep at night because I cheated on last year's income tax. Enclosed find my check for $500. If I find I still cannot sleep, I will send you the balance."

Lignite coal...

Last year, it saved
 the average TP&L customer
 $55.00

The price of electricity supplied by Texas Power & Light has gone up in recent years, but lignite coal has kept the increase from being much greater. In the 1960's, natural gas, for many years the only fuel used to produce electricity at TP&L generating plants, began to rise drastically in price and supplies became uncertain. TP&L and two affiliated companies began a massive program to reduce their dependency on gas by building plants which use lower-cost lignite as fuel.

Since 1971, eight lignite-fueled generating units have been placed in operation. In 1978, about 47 per cent of TP&L's fuel requirements was supplied by lignite. For the average TP&L residential customer who used 12,435 kilowatt-hours of electricity in 1978, use of lignite to produce that electricity meant a saving of $55.00.

Melinda Bezner and Jeffrey Dieter Say Vows in Lindsay Nuptial

Melinda Kathleen Bezner and Jeffrey Dieter exchanged wedding vows in a Nuptial Mass with double ring ceremony on June 23 at 5 p.m. in Saint Peter's Church of Lindsay, officiated by Father Cletus Post.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Bezner of Lindsay. She is a graduate of Lindsay High School and Cooke County College and is employed by Sullivant, Meurer and Harris Attorneys.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick J. Dieter of Woodbine, is a graduate of Lindsay High and is employed by National Supply.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a formal, original gown of diamond white organza and chantilly lace over taffeta, designed with arched waistline, Queen Anne neckline, long bishop sleeves held by a banding of lace. A scattering of pearls accented the gown. The full skirt veil over taffeta, fell in lace edged tiers releasing in back to a full chapel train.

The fingertip illusion veil was attached to a lace caplet. She carried her mother's wedding prayer book and crystal rosary with her bridal bouquet of silk white roses, lilies, daisies, stephanotis and gypsophila with white satin ribbons.

Attendants

The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Cindy Klement of Houston; bridesmaids were Mrs. Becky Bezner of Lindsay, and Mmes. Connie Goldsmith and Lee Ann Brown; also Maquita Gossett and Cheryl Sutton of Gainesville. They were dressed identically in pink organza gowns with bustle effect, scooped necklines and double capes. They wore pink straw hats and carried white baskets of pink, coral and Gigi carnations with white daisy poms.

The best man was Doug Gossett and groomsmen were Dale Bezner, Tommy Goldsmith, Jerry Brown, Darrell Dieter and Brad Dieter.

Suzanne Goldsmith was flower girl, dressed as the bridesmaids. Steve Schmitz was ring bearer. Joey Schmitz, Doug Schmitz, Keith Grewing and Curtis Grewing were ushers. Stan Dieter gave the Readings; Jeff Grewing, Pat Bezner and Dave Reiter were Mass servers.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Grewing presented Offertory gifts and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Schmitz presented the wedding candle.

Mrs. Susie Phillips, Kenny Bezner and Robbie Arendt provided wedding music.

Church decorations included an arch at the sanctuary entrance entwined with ivy, pink carnations and pink ribbon; arrangements of pink and white flowers on the main altar; tall floor baskets of pink and white flowers at the sides of the altar; and low floral pieces, pink candles and ivy on the Communion rail.

Reception

Following the church service, a dinner dance was held in the Knights of Columbus Hall. Rosewood provided music. Mary Felderhoff and Kathy Felderhoff presided at the registration table.

Members of the houseparty were Karen Hoberer, Lisa Bezner, Mrs. A. J. Felderhoff, Mrs. Johann Bezner and Mrs. Dorothy Grewing.

Special guests were the bride's grandparents Mrs. Al Geray and Mrs. and Mrs. Jake Bezner and the groom's grandmother Mrs. Mike Dieter.

Decorations carried out the bride's chosen colors of pink and white. The wedding cake held pink and white flowers between tiers and columns, and was encircled with greenery and pixie carnations.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Goldsmith.

Jim Pentons Have Wyoming Vacation

AMPI employee Jim Penton and Mrs. Penton of Rosston flew to Casper, Wyoming recently for vacationing and to attend a golden wedding and family reunion.

They left by Frontier Airlines on June 29, rented a car upon arrival and have been telling about the 695 miles of driving through magnificent scenery. They visited friends in Cody, Wyoming, who took "Rosston's Mayor" to see Buffalo Bill's hometown.

Purpose of their trip was to attend a golden wedding celebration of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allen of Lost Cabin, Wyoming. It was held at their ranch at the south end of Big Horn Mountains. The celebration was attended by several hundred relatives, neighbors and close friends from nearby and far away.

Jim Penton felt fortunate to see and become acquainted with relatives he didn't know existed. A time span of 51 years had passed since some uncles, aunts and cousins were last seen.

The Pentons also visited his aunt, Zuma Ford Whittaker who formerly resided in the Rosston area, now lives in Riverton, Wyoming and tells proudly that she is the same age "as the Gainesville Daily Register."

In conversations with various local business men in Riverton and reading newspapers of the area, Penton was impressed to hear that they expect the population of Wyoming to increase by 800,000 in 2 years, because of exploration, test drilling for copper, iron, uranium, oil, gas and coal. Penton said the present population is 300,000. He also said that test drilling has reached to within two miles of his land in Fremont County, Wyoming, in the Copper Mountain area.

The Pentons feel that the trip was a treasure of Christian experience, meeting relatives and living in a semi-wilderness area. There were 350 names on the guest register and many more failed to register. The crowd was fed for the three day reunion by joint cooperation of local ranchers. The final gathering was a picnic in the State Park of Thermopolis, Wyoming and a swim in the hot water springs, largest in the world. The Pentons returned home on July 7.

Winners Named in SH Golf Tourney

Mark Hess and Larry Bayer were double winners for individual honors at the golf tournament sponsored by Sacred Heart seniors Sunday at the Gainesville course.

Hess claimed the prizes for longest drive and nearest the pin in Division B and Bayer did likewise in Division.

Completing a perfect day, Mark Hess was also a member of the first place pair in Division A of the tournament. His partner was Terry Walterscheid.

Second place honors went to Willie Walterscheid and Mark Lippe, and third place were shared by a pair of ties: John Schneider and Dale Swirczynski on one team, Rody Klement and Kenny Hartman on the other.

Winners of the B Division were Virgil Henschel and Angelo Nasche Jr. Next were Alcuin Schilling and John Bartush. Another tie resulted in the contact for third: Mel Walterscheid and Steve Hess on one team, Adam Wolf and Joe Hellman on the other.

All prizes were golf balls. Coach Eddie Stock directed the tournament. Paul Bartush and Stewart Wolf were his assistants.

FOOD for THOUGHT

An Agricultural Concern Of Interest to Everyone

Fifty years ago, the typical small grocery store handled 850 different items, mostly food.

Twenty-five years ago, a store's inventory increased to 3750 items, including quite a few in the non-food category.

Today, the number of different items in a modern supermarket totals more than 11,000, featuring a wide variety of non-food merchandise.

Such a large inventory helps increase food costs in two ways. Handling such a variety of items increases a market's costs and the price of food. Also, shoppers tend to consider all purchases as part of their food budget.

Presented by this publication and Sperry New Holland to promote a better understanding of the modern farm to family food supply system.

State Oil Reserves In Sharp Decline

Increased values for Texas oil and natural gas last year resulted in a substantial boost to the state's economy, but a sharp drop in Texas reserves marks a disturbing trend, according to report published by Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

In the new edition of its annual facts series, 79 Facts About Texas Oil and Gas, which is distributed free to the public, the Association points out that Texas oil and gas reserves dropped significantly in one year. The 1977-78 decline for natural gas was 12.3 percent; for crude oil, 9.2 percent.

Reversal of this trend would require additional drilling, application of sophisticated and expensive recovery techniques to older fields, economic incentive, and the productive forces of free enterprise, the report says.

According to 79 Facts, all Texans last year shared in rising values for Texas crude oil and natural gas, which pumped $1 billion in tax revenues into the state's treasury, provided more income for royalty owners—including state government—and resulted in additional jobs and $5.2 billion in wages for industry employees.

Spotlighting key elements of Texas oil and gas industry operation, 79 Facts offers facts and figures covering several performance categories, including production, refining, offshore, drilling, employment, economics, and taxation.

79 Facts may be obtained free on request to the Association, 1341 W. Mockingbird Lane, Dallas 75247.

Mel Fisch Family Visits Local Kin

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fisch of Chicago, and their grandson, Mike Fisch, son of Don Fisch of Milwaukee, arrived in Iowa Park, on June 28 to visit their other son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Fisch and Crystal and Bobby. They especially enjoyed getting acquainted with Bobby who was born on May 22.

They all came to Muenster on Saturday, June 30 to visit relatives and in the afternoon attended the baptism of infant Robert Steven Fisch in Sacred Heart Church officiated by Father Stephen Eckart. Godparents were Chuck Koessler and Diane Grewing. Bobby wore the family baptismal gown worn by all the Mel Fisch children and grandchildren. Afterwards, a christening party was held in the Tony Koessler home, attended by a large group of relatives.

The visitors from Chicago remained in Muenster as house guests of her father, Henry Wiesman. During the next week they were guests of her sisters and their husbands, the Tony Koesslers, the Leonard Yostens, and the Henry Yostens for visiting, dinners, card parties, cook-outs, boating, swimming and fishing on Lake Texoma.

On July 4 a family reunion and all day picnic was held at Voth Lake, attended by the Mel Fisches and Mike, the Steven Fisches, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Skasick and family of Leavenworth, Kansas, Henry Wiesman, the Tony Koesslers, Chuck Koessler, the Rick Stewarts and Rhonda, Raymond and Kimberly, the Henry Yostens and Carol and Janette Yosten, Mrs. Kathy Bonner and Amy and E.T., the Leonard Yostens, the John Yostens and Paula and Christi and Doris Clark.

The Mel Fisches flew home to Chicago on Saturday, July 7th.

Imagination was given to man to compensate him for what he is not, and a sense of humor was provided to console him for what he is.

Nasches Attend Summer Market

Angelo and LaVerna Nasches attended the Home Furnishings and Floor Coverings Summer Market at the Dallas Market Center for three days, July 6-9. They found it to be an interesting learning experience, an opportunity to meet with manufacturers' representatives, and to be the time to view newest styles, developments and products in carpets, resilient flooring, ceiling fans and lighting fixtures.

Rev. Eugene Luke Ends Vacation Here

Father Eugene Luke O.S.B. left Saturday from DFW to attend a short course at Notre Dame University, and the following week, to conduct a Retreat in Beech Grove, Indiana. He will return to Subiaco about the end of July, to spend the next year teaching.

All About Egg Cookery

Good things, they say, come in small packages, and that's certainly true of the egg. That beautiful little sphere contains a food that's high in protein, rich in vitamins and minerals, and surprisingly low in calories. What's more, eggs are wonderfully versatile — they make superb dishes for every meal.

And for fixing fast meals, eggs have few rivals. In fact, most egg dishes are best when cooked quickly, over moderate to low heat. When eggs are cooked at too high a temperature or for too long at a low temperature, the whites shrink and become rubbery, and the yolks toughen.

That's why electric utensils — skillets, buffet frypans and griddles — work so well for cooking eggs. Most of these appliances feature controls that maintain the desired temperature until the dish has finished cooking. And many also have a setting that allows food to be kept warm until serving time.

Small electrics are now available in a wide range of sizes and shapes to suit family size and lifestyle. And some of the newest have surfaces of metallic brown "SilverStone" — a feature that permits easy and complete release of food and makes cleaning a snap.

Sure to intrigue egg fanciers is a unique appliance called the Eggory that turns out perfect omelets in just four minutes. A compact unit that takes up little room, the utensil has two hinged pans, surfaced with non-stick

"Teflon." The egg batter is poured into both pans, cooked for two minutes, then one pan is flipped over the other. Another two minutes of cooking, and the tender, moist omelet is ready to slide out onto the plate.

Another appliance that's growing in popularity is the electric wok, a splendid utensil for preparing Oriental stir fried dishes. This same quick cooking method works equally well for fixing many egg dishes from the Chinese egg foo yung to the Spanish Piperado. Many of these new woks now come with premium non-stick surfaces, so they require little or no fat for cooking, a boon for calorie counters.

Portability and temperature control make small electrics useful utensils for cooking eggs as well as many other dishes. But the basic appliance for all cooking is, of course, the kitchen range. The wide variety of egg dishes calls for pots and pans of various sizes. But for fixing eggs sunnyside up, fried, scrambled or in omelets, the indispensable utensil is the eight or ten-inch aluminum skillet with a non-stick surface of "Teflon" or "SilverStone" that allows the dish to slide out intact.

Eggs are enjoyed throughout the world, so there's a wealth of international recipes to try. And whether cooked on top of the range or in an electric utensil, eggs make easy, economical meals that are good tasting and nutritious, too.

NOTICE

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record.

The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as an extra safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

Sister Agnes Endres was honored in observance of her 50th anniversary as a Sister of St. Mary of Namur, by several events planned by her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Endres.

On Sunday, July 8, Sister Agnes and Sister Mary Irma accompanied them to Nazareth, Texas. There they were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brockman, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. Endres. In the evening, an outdoor Mass was celebrated in a tree-shaded area at the Brockman home, with Father Stanley, pastor of Holy Family Church as celebrant, to commemorate Sister Agnes' golden jubilee. Also attending were Mrs. Endres' four brothers and their wives.

On Monday evening, the sisters attended the barbecue and historical drama "Texas!" in the Palo Duro Canyon and returned to Muenster Tuesday to spend three days. Sister Agnes went to Wichita Falls Friday, to teach again this year and Sister Mary Irma went to Fort Worth to visit at OLV, accompanied by Leonard and Mattie Endres. She will return to Huntsville to teach again this year.

Sister Imelda Pels Honored by Family

Sister Imelda Pels was honored by her brothers and sisters, nieces and nephews, cousins, friends and former students on Sunday, July 15, when a reception and open house observed her 50th jubilee.

Earlier in the day, a Mass of Thanksgiving was offered in Sacred Heart Church by Father Leonard Wangler. Dennis Hess, a nephew was lecturer. At Offertory, Frank Luke sang a favorite of Sister Imelda: "How Great Thou Art!" At the conclusion, Doug Martin, a nephew read a poem, "A bandonment to God's Will."

In the afternoon, open house in the Community Center was an enjoyable event attended by a large number of relatives and friends. A corsage of gold tinted roses and an almond-scented memory candle inscribed with a gold "50" numeral were presented to Sister Imelda.

The refreshment table, covered with gold lace, was centered with an anniversary cake decorated with a miniature Bible and praying hands. Punch and cake were served and family and group portraits were made. Among guests from out-of-town were cousins Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pels, Mrs. Christine Sturm and Mrs. Agnes Speed of Pilot Point.

Ceremony at Saint Jo Unites Shelta Qualls and Jim Ivins

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ivins are at home in Saint Jo, since they returned from a wedding trip to Galveston. They were married on May 26 in a candlelight ceremony at First Baptist Church of Saint Jo, officiated by Rev. Wesley Johnson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Noble Coker of Saint Jo, Bill Qualls of Lafayette, La. and Mr. and Mrs. James W. Ivins of Fort Worth.

The bride was presented at the altar by her stepfather. She wore a formal sheer candlelight gown of Venice lace over taffeta, designed by her mother and made by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Lorene Ivins. It was designed with a pleated bodice, high Victorian neckline over a sheer yoke, full gathered sleeves, satin bows at the neckband and wristbands and a full gathered skirt that swept into a chapel train.

She wore a candlelight straw hat covered with embroidered matching lace, to which three lace roses were attached on a chiffon band.

Her bridal flowers were silk spring blossoms tied with pink satin bows. She wore her great-great grandmother's wedding ring and carried a small white Bible and lace handkerchief knitted by the groom's great-grandmother.

Attendants

Bridal attendants were Deanna Cook, maid of honor; Karen Ford and Sherri Qualls bridesmaids. They were identically dressed in gowns of pink floral print chiffon over taffeta with full skirts—a cascading ruffle in back attached at the waist with a silk rose. Each carried a lace covered wicker fan accented with a pink silk flower cluster and long yellow streamers.

Sara Flippo was the flower girl, wearing a long sheer yellow dress, trimmed with white lace ruffles and accents of green embroidered medallion roses. She carried a white wicker basket of spring flowers. Heath Johnson was the ring bearer.

John Ivins was best man and Randy Hobbs and Brad Hutson were groomsmen. Wayne Gaston, Don Miller and Wayne Moore were ushers. Michael Golf, Amy Lee and Noble F. Coker were candlelighters.

Wedding music was given by Dana Johnson, Mrs. Wayne Gaston and Steve Qualls. Pastel spring flowers, greenery and pastel candles decorated the church altar space. Family pews were marked with nosegays of silk spring flowers and pink bows.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Roy L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Gail Johnson and Dana, Mrs.

Shelly Long and Mel, Mrs. Lloyd Ford and Karen, Randy Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, Mrs. Dale Flippo and Susan, Annette and Sara and Bruce Jones.

The four tiered wedding cake was decorated with pastel roses, cherubs, doves and a bridal figurine. The bride's table, covered with lace over pink satin, held a floral centerpiece, silver candelabra and a cut glass punch bowl belonging to the bride's great-grandmother.

The rehearsal dinner on May 25 was hosted by the groom's parents at Katy Lake for the wedding party, family members and close friends. The hosts were assisted by Lisa and Don Miller and John Ivins.

The bride is a 1978 graduate of Sacred Heart High School in Muenster and attends Cooke County College. The groom is a 1976 graduate of Saint Jo High School, attended Cooke County and Tarrant County Colleges and owns and operates Jim's Grocery and Locker.

News Notes From the Library

If you saw the recipe for the Lehnertz Brothers Longhorn Barbecue in an issue of Ford Times Magazine but have misplaced the issue, you need not worry. Endres Motor Company presented the Muenster Public Library with a Ford Times Cookbook. This is a travelers' guide to good things to eat at home and on the road. The Lehnertz Brothers recipe is one of the delicious recipes in this cookbook. Our thanks to Endres Motor Company for this addition to the Library.

Many more new books are being shelved. "The Texas Senator," "The Texas Governor," "Going Great in the Lone Star State," and "People and Places in Texas Past," are all written by June R. Welch, Academic Dean at the University of Dallas and chairman of the Department of History.

For the craft lover, books added are "Tissue Paper Craft," "Egg Art," and "Don't Throw It Away," which shows you how to turn household throwaways into objects of lasting beauty. "Don't Panic" tells what to do and what not to do in all kinds of family emergencies. "Rodeo-America's Western Sport," by Bernice Parker should be very popular in our area. "Purple Martin" by Layton is a complete guide to one of America's favorite birds.

Stop in at the Library and take time to browse. Staffers will be glad to help you in any way they can. Hours: Tuesdays and Thursdays 8:30 to 5:00; Wednesdays 2:30-5:30

PLENTY OF PEPPERS—A worker at a dehydration plant starts to unload thousands of red chilies to be processed as spice. Even though the pods are field dried, they still contain up to 85 percent moisture before dehydration.

A baseball manager sought out his regular third baseman in the locker room. "Joe," he said, putting his arm around the player's shoulder, "it's perfectly O.K. for you to forget all those batting tips I've given you. We just traded you to the Houston Astros."

Pepper Industry Sizzling; But Growers Think It's Cool

AUSTIN—If Peter Piper had come to Texas to pick his peck of peppers, he would have had a big choice, advises the Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA).

From mild, sweet bell peppers to sizzling jalapenos or spicy green or red chilies, Texas grows them all. This spicy cornucopia includes all sizes, shapes and flavors.

Granted, they are not yet grown in great numbers, but the pepper industry is hoping that up to 30,000 acres of these delicious, sometimes incendiary, tidbits could be grown here each year. That is about double the current annual harvest.

The bell is undoubtedly the queen of Texas peppers, but a couple of newcomers to Texas fields—but old favorites with Mexican food lovers—the jalapeno and New Mexico chile, are hot items at present.

In the El Paso area, growers are snubbing both the jalapeno and bell pepper in favor of the long, tapering New Mexico chile. Harvested when it is a brilliant red, the pepper is dehydrated, rough milled and ground into spice and sold as chili powder.

Between 1977-79, growers jumped from practically no acreage of red chiles to around 850 acres. Chili enthusiasts believe the area has the best potential for the development of the chile pepper industry in Texas. It is part of the same valley as the New Mexico growing area, where 11,000 acres are harvested each year.

The high elevation, low humidity and low rainfall are particularly suitable for this type of pepper.

Part of this enthusiasm stems from a dehydrating plant built by three El Paso growers near Anthony, Texas. Constructed in partnership with Baltimore Spice-Texas, this plant expects to process 500,000 tons of chiles this year. Another modern dehydrating plant is currently being built, with an eye on the export market.

Bulcher Homecoming

Bulcher residents are urging friends and former residents to remember the Bulcher Homecoming at the Community Building on the Sunday before Labor Day, September 2. An invitation to come spread lunch and visit has been extended to all who are interested. They are urged to spread the word.

A pious and venerable man, having lived a long and useful life, died and went to his reward. Years later his old friend also died and upon arriving in the other side went searching for his old friend. To his delight, he found him sitting on a large fluffy cloud with a beautiful blonde on his lap.

"Wow!" shouted the friend, "you sure have been given your reward!"

"Reward, nothing," replied the old man, "I'm her punishment."

Scholarship Offer Announced at CCC

The current economic crunch doesn't have to be a serious obstacle in the way of students seeking to continue their education at the college level this fall.

So says Estelle Martin, vice president of the Cooke County College Secretarial Association in announcing the availability of special scholarship being offered by the organization.

Applications for the scholarships are now being accepted and should be returned prior to August 1 for consideration for the coming fall semester.

Ms. Martin explains that scholarship awards are granted on the basis of special competency or talent in a given field, either academic or vocational-technical. Applicants must also demonstrate a special need for scholarship assistance and be enrolled as a full-time student carrying and maintaining at least 12 semester credit hours.

Scholarships are awarded for one full academic year, $100 for the Fall semester and $100 for the Spring semester, provided the student continues to meet the eligibility requirements.

If the student finds it necessary to withdraw, the policy stated in the college catalog will go into effect.

Applications may be obtained in the Financial Aid Office in Room 109 on campus. For additional information contact Ms. Martin at 817/668-7731.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bullion and Lesley of Austin were weekend guests of her parents, the Leonard Yostens. They came especially to see her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fisch and to attend the baptism of the Fisches grandson Bobby. Mrs. David Bullion is the former Susan Yosten.

FOOD for THOUGHT

An Agricultural Concern Of Interest to Everyone

Surveys among food shoppers show that only one in five regularly takes advantage of the best food buys and compares prices between items and stores.

The greatest majority of shoppers buy food according to its appeal and convenience or attempt to get the shopping done in the least amount of time.

Both of these can have a significant bearing on the overall cost of food and are entirely within control of the individual shopper.

which allow the individual to live up to the dignity that God intended for him. We are personally thankful to have enjoyed the blessings of this good life.

But we've certainly not in a position to take things for granted. Our good life is being threatened from inside and outside. As our worldly wise people get farther away from God they are reaping more of the consequence of moral decay. Disregard of the ten commandments in crime and gutter morality is undermining the foundations of government while the curse of communism keeps advancing in its program of world domination.

Considering these present hazards we have to wonder how long the good life in our country can continue. As of now the prospects certainly are not bright. There is encouragement in an old saying, "While there's life there's hope, but the sad fact is that so little is done to sustain life."

While President Carter is scrambling to pull through the energy crisis he needs to give some attention to the moral and economic crisis. And he needs to realize that he has picked the wrong side in his foreign policy. Why do we keep supporting our enemy and betraying our friends in world politics?

THANKS

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce thanks all who worked and cooperated in making the 1979 Germanfest a grand success. The various sponsoring organizations and business firms that manned the booths and merchandised their goods did an outstanding job.

Special thanks to the many steering committee members responsible for the planning and organizing that enabled the "fest" to operate smoothly and efficiently.

And most of all, thanks to the people of Muenster who served as gracious hosts to the many visitors during the short but impressive weekend.

The following statement of revenues and expenses for the Chamber of Commerce reflect the success of the 1979 Germanfest...the proceeds of which are destined to be re-invested in the community to make it an even better place to call home.

Gross Revenue	$17,915.84
Expenses	$10,996.57
Net Profit	$6,919.27
