

Early Building Of Park Highway Is In Prospect

Commissioners To Construct Cross Cut-Park Road If Board Pays Indebtedness.

Construction of a road from the Cross Cut-Brownwood road to State Highway will be started immediately, as decided by commissioners Monday.

The amount is due the county, as said as a balance of an indebtedness of $15,000 that the disbursement of the county as damages covering and changing of boundaries in and near lake Brownwood in the district. A total of $15,000 has been paid the county.

It has been estimated that a road of good caliche top and propionate structures can be constructed for $10,000 and it will give entrance to the park. The road would add much to the approach to the park as it has shortened the distance from Brownwood to that place by 15 miles.

At present the route to the park is approximately 35 miles and lateral roads that in many places are in bad repair. The new road, known as the Cross Cut road, is constructed to give shorter connections over a far shorter road. The new route will be from the Cross Cut-Brownwood road near the Jim Ned bridge.

The resolution agreeing to construct the road as passed by the commissioners is as follows: Whereas, Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1, is indebted to Brown county in the amount of $15,000.00 by reason of the county roads by said district, and further by reason of routing Brownwood - Cross Cut road in Brownwood by Belle Avenue, and;

Whereas, there now exists an emergency for the construction of a new county road from a point about two and one-half miles from the Jim Ned bridge on the Brownwood-Cross Cut road, to the junction with the State Park Lake Brownwood, said road to be known as the Weedon road;

Whereas, it is the desire of the commissioners' court of Brown County to construct said road immediately and to use for such purpose the sum of $10,000.00 if and when collected on said road, which has been allocated to same, and, therefore, upon motion of Commissioner Phillips, seconded by Commissioner Palmer and unanimously adopted by the court, it is resolved that we request Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 to make immediate payment to Brown county of said indebtedness to the end that the construction of said road be not delayed.

Resolved, that the commissioners' court of Brown County do hereby request the Board of Commissioners of Brown County to construct said road immediately and to use for such purpose the sum of $10,000.00 if and when collected on said road, which has been allocated to same, and, therefore, upon motion of Commissioner Phillips, seconded by Commissioner Palmer and unanimously adopted by the court, it is resolved that we request Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 to make immediate payment to Brown county of said indebtedness to the end that the construction of said road be not delayed.

COUNTY RALLIES TO SUPPORT OF DAVIS AT MEETING MONDAY

The largest and most enthusiastic political meeting held in Brown County so far this year was the political rally Monday night at the court house, Brownwood, in the interest of the candidacy of Judge E. M. Davis. Judge Davis is a candidate for State Senator from the 25th district, and the rally was sponsored by friends and supporters of the candidate in this county. There are 16 counties in the senatorial district.

Judge Davis was present and presented his views on a number of important state matters, briefly outlining his platform, and elaborating on local matters that he wished to bring before the Brown County voters.

The speaker stressed his plan for a simplified and unified state law enforcing organization, pointing out the savings to taxpayers of a single enforcement agency to have charge of enforcement of all laws and regulations. He also favored non-severance of criminal cases a procedure followed by Federal courts, which would save the state, Judge Davis estimated, some two and a half million dollars in court costs each year. He also advocated a law permitting the district attorney to amend an indictment at any stage of a trial.

The state and county should be required, the speaker stated, to furnish equipment for terracing work, discarded road building machinery being suitable for this, he stated. While pledging his support to anti-lobbying legislation, Judge Davis pointed out that the best way to prevent lobbying is to send legislators to Austin who will not be influenced by lobbyists.

Judge Davis discussed a number of local problems which he stated need attention at Austin. Among these were highway construction in counties adjoining Brown, connecting the Brown county highway system with those of other parts of the state. He would recommend the placing of a state fish hatchery at Lake Brownwood, and promised to work for remission of state taxes for Brown county in consideration for the heavy burden of taxation this county has assumed in construction of the Lake Brownwood dam, which he considers as important as the storm control work of the Gulf Coast counties, which has been rewarded by tax remission in the past.

Judge Davis received an ovation from the crowd of several hundred people as he mounted the rostrum after being introduced by Chester Harrison of Brownwood. Those present had just adopted by a rising vote a resolution submitted by Mr. Harrison pledging support of Judge Davis in his candidacy and recommending him to the voters in other counties in the district.

Mr. Harrison outlined Judge Davis' work in behalf of Brown county, as county judge and as a member of the legislature. He pointed out that Judge Davis, his parents and his children were natives of this section, where the candidate's interests always have been. He praised his service during the World War, and later as a leader in scout work, church and civic work during his 15 years residence in Brownwood.

Gus J. Rosenberg presided at the meeting, and introduced a half a hundred candidates for various offices. The large crowd heard the candidates patiently and with some enthusiasm throughout the hot evening. The appearance of District Attorney Chas. L. South, candidate for congress, to make a brief talk was the occasion for a spontaneous outburst of applause, and "Uncle Charlie" Boren, candidate for public weigher, caught the fancy of the crowd with his vigorous statement, "I need that job and I don't mean maybe".

Most of the county and precinct candidates were present for short announcements. Among these were

Senator Hornsby Is Brownwood Visitor

State Senator John W. Hornsby of Austin, candidate for lieutenant governor, visited Brownwood Tuesday, en route to Stamford, where he was one of the principal speakers at the Cowboy's Roundup on the Fourth of July.

Senator Hornsby is one of the five candidates for lieutenant governor. He has been in the state senate for six years, and previously served his home county as county clerk, county judge and county attorney. During his legislative service, Senator Hornsby has the unique record of having never missed a session of the legislature.

He has issued a statement to the voters outlining his platform, which briefly includes: reorganization of law enforcement agencies of the state; relieving unjust taxation; support of public health work; reducing cost of government; reduction of number of legislators; aid and encouragement to stockraisers and farmers and "Keeping Texas jobs for Texas people."

STERNE TRIAL IN ROBBERY CASE TO START HERE MONDAY

Lester Sterne, 27, of Abilene, indicted last week by the Brown county grand jury on a robbery with firearms charge, will go to trial in 35th judicial district court next Monday, July 9th. Judge E. J. Miller, presiding officer of the court, has ordered a special venire of sixty men for Sterne's trial.

Sterne's arrest and indictment followed the robbery and brutal clubbing of two aged women near Cross Cut on the night of June 19. The victims, Mrs. Lise DeBusk and Mrs. Addie Houshelt, both past eighty years of age, were sleeping peacefully in their modest little home near Cross Cut when a man armed with a pistol, the state says, entered their home, clubbed them over the head with the butt of his pistol and fled with about $10 in money. The two aged women were in a serious condition following the wanton attacks and their lives were despaired of. However, both have partially recovered and are expected to be in the courtroom next Monday as witnesses for the state.

Sterne was arrested in Abilene on Saturday night following the attacks and robbery. He at first pleaded his innocence but later made and signed a complete confession, officers state. His wife was arrested a few hours after he was taken into custody. Mrs. Sterne was indicted as an accomplice.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterne are being held in an undesignated jail and will remain there until the day of their trial here, Sheriff Jack Hallmark states.

SENATOR SMALL TO BE HERE THURSDAY

Brownwood voters will hear Senator Clint Small, candidate for governor, scheduled to speak here Thursday night, July 5, at 8:00 o'clock as he renews his West Texas campaign in what his friends say is the "cleanest race ever run for governor in Texas."

The need of electing a governor who can cooperate with the legislature has been stressed by Senator Small in recent campaign addresses. He has cited his six years in the State Senate as giving him the understanding and experience necessary for a successful administration with the legislators.

"No governor can be successful without the cooperation of the legislative branch," said Senator Small. "I have been under three administrations and I have always appreciated the need of legislative cooperation and understanding."

"So many governors fail to appreciate the fact that legislators have their own problems and fail to give them cooperation in local legislative matters. "I think my six years in the senate enable me to understand the viewpoint of the legislators and that I can get along with them. That is one of the substantial reasons why I believe my candidacy should be given the strongest consideration."

"I will not attempt to drive the legislature, but I will get in there and work with it. There will be no friction and I am confident we'll have an administration which will function smoothly and efficiently."

From Brownwood Senator Small goes to Hamilton for an address at 2:30 Friday afternoon.

'MARCH OF TIME' TO BE PRESENTED HERE BY SERVICE LEAGUE

Citizens of the rural communities and section of Brown County will be especially interested in "The March of Time," a pageant of progress to be presented by the Junior Service League of Brownwood at the Howard-Payne football field Friday night, July 13, at 8 o'clock.

This pageant which is presented in 18 episodes will show the progress of the American nation from the time the land we now hold was held by the Indians, on through the advent of the White Man, Colonial Days, Frontier Days, Stage Coach Days, Pony Express Days, Civil War Days, Reconstruction War Days, World War Days and down to President Roosevelt and the "New Deal."

The pageant will be put on with a cast of about 300 Brown county people and whenever it can be done citizens from the rural communities of the county will be used in the pageant so that the entire county will be represented in this mammoth spectacle.

Among those communities that will be asked to take part in the pageant are: Bangs, Blanket, Zephyr, Brooksmith, Ebony, Grosvenor, Indian Creek, Mullin, Owens, Thrifty, Winchell.

The pageant has been shown to large crowds in Electra, Quanah, Vernon, Breckenridge and Ranger, and comes to Brown county highly recommended.

Brownwood commercial, civic and service clubs will be asked to co-operate in putting on this pageant by sponsoring certain episodes and getting the people from the various rural communities to make up the cast.

Any cowboy, horseback rider or person from any of the above communities who wishes to take part in the pageant are asked to send their names in to the Brownwood Banner immediately so it can be turned over to Messrs. F. C. McClung and Bob Martin, director and producer of the pageant.

Features of the pageant will be an ox-drawn team as in the old emigrant days, a real stage coach, firewrags, old plantation and spiritual songs by the colored church choirs in Brownwood and many other thrilling episodes that go to make up a two-hour show showing the advancement of the American nation from 1700 to 1934.

ERWIN GETS 7 YEARS IN ROBBERY CASE

Tom Bird Erwin was found guilty and given seven years in the state penitentiary by a jury in district court this week on an indictment charging him with robbery with firearms in connection with the holdup of a gasoline service station in Brownwood last February. Erwin offered an alibi defense, witnesses testifying that he was at a picture show in Brownwood at the time of the alleged burglary.

The state presented only one witness, Robert Taylor, attendant at the service station which was hijacked. Taylor told of the hold-up and of going to the county attorney's office where he identified Erwin as the man who pulled the job. On rebuttal the state presented three more witnesses, these being Fay Lockhart, rooming house operator, Sheriff Jack Hallmark and Cy Thippen, city policeman.

Defense witnesses were Howard Reed, machine operator at the Lyric theater, Ernest Baker, doorman at the Lyric, Robert D. Sparks, manager of the Lyric, and A. P. Erwin, father of the defendant. Their testimony was to the effect that Erwin was at the Lyric at the time the state said he was holding up a filling station.

Erwin is an ex-convict, having served part of a five year term given him for the robbery of the First National Bank in Brownwood. Erwin confessed the First National Bank robbery and gave testimony that led to the conviction of his accomplices, one of whom was Capt. C. A. McNeil, given forty years for the First National robbery.

Jurors in the Erwin trial were: J. L. Turner, Blanket, foreman; J. T. Wood, May; J. C. Horton, Bangs; Homer Dozier, city; J. R. Greer, Bangs; R. F. Childress, Bangs; M. H. Hill, Bangs; Lee Sherrod, Indian Creek route; S. E. Spurlock, Zephyr; Mark Mosley, Blanket; Henry Martin, Cross Cut; J. D. Nabors, Indian Creek route.

$31,000 GRANT MADE TO CITY FOR WATER SYSTEM IMPROVEMENT

Of much interest to Brownwood citizens was official word from Washington the past week that the city of Brownwood had been given a grant and loan of $31,000 for water system improvement in the city, this allotment being made as the result of an application made by the city several months ago. At the same time the request for the water system loan was filed, the city asked for $70,000 to be used in street paving projects. Feasible action on this allotment is anticipated at an early date.

City officials began immediately after notification of the $31,000 allotment was received to complete plans for receiving the money. They believe that the first step necessary will be the voting of bonds to secure that part of the allotment that is a loan. Seventy per cent of the $31,000 will be a loan, the remaining thirty per cent being a direct grant. An election to vote bonds for about $70,000 will likely be called within a short time.

City officials have pointed out the many benefits to result from the carrying out of the water system improvement project, as well as the street paving program. Work to be done on the water system will provide work for 200 men for at least three months, with work being given 150 men for another three month period. They would work under NRA requirements of thirty hours a week and thirty cents an hour. Most of the work would be done by hand.

Under the water program the city proposes to lay some new mains and replace obsolete mains in the business section. This calls for the laying of 5,820 feet of 8-inch mains and 4,780 feet of 6-inch mains. In addition to this, 33 fire hydrants would be put in, 21 in new places where there are no hydrants and 12 to replace obsolete hydrants now in use.

Installation of the mains would be on streets where the State Fire Insurance Board has ruled that the lines are insufficient and has assessed a fire insurance penalty against all property owners of 5 per cent for deficiency of size of mains and 2 per cent for deficiency in number of hydrants. Placing of the new mains and hydrants would not only materially cut the insurance rate, but would give better fire protection in the mercantile district. Assurance was given the city that the rate would be cut

ADDITIONAL SALE OF WATER FROM LAKE IS UNDER NEGOTIATION

Officials of Brown County Water Improvement District No. 1 were negotiating Thursday with South Texas interests for the sale of an additional 4,000 acre feet of water from Lake Brownwood, following the sale last week of 14,000 acre feet to the Gulf Coast Water Company of Bay City. The last offer was received Tuesday of this week but details had not been worked out Thursday.

Meanwhile employees of the water district were experiencing some difficulty in closing one of the big flood gates at the Lake Brownwood dam, and the flow of water from the lake had not been checked completely Thursday, although delivery of the water involved in the original sale was said to have been completed. It is expected, however, that the gate will be closed completely before Friday, and water board officials stated they would be in position to deliver the 4,000 acre feet without difficulty.

The amount of the last offer was not disclosed but it is presumed that it was made on about the same basis as the first sale. The Brownwood district received $10,000 for the 14,000 acre feet of water sold to the Bay City company.

None of the 14,000 acre feet of water had reached the pumps of the Gulf Coast Water Company Thursday morning but was due there late Thursday or early Friday. The flood gates at Lake Brownwood were opened on Wednesday, June 27. At that time engineers estimated that the water would not reach Matagorda and Wharton counties for ten days or more. The water was loosed in Pecan Bayou, followed the Bayou channel to the Colorado river and flowed down the Colorado to the Bay City purchasers, a total distance of 480 miles.

The sale and delivery of the 14,000 acre feet of water was of statewide interest and was given front page space in almost every newspaper of the state. The results of this novel experiment may lead to similar transactions in the future.

CCC CAMP OPENING SET FOR AUGUST 1; MAY STAY FOR YEAR

The Civilian Conservation Corps camp to be located at the State Park on Lake Brownwood, now is scheduled to move to the site August 1, and may be ordered here for a full year, according to word received this week by David Henley, president of the Pecan Valley Chapter, Izaak Walton League, from D. E. Colp of Austin, chairman of the State Park Board.

Mr. Colp wrote that the camp would be moved from Buffalo Gap about August 1. Additional work at the Buffalo Gap camp has necessitated keeping the camp located there through the month of July, but will have completed its assigned work there by the first of August and will be moved here, it is stated.

A new policy, of locating the camps for one year at a time, rather than for six months only is indicated by Mr. Colp. It has been found that the camps have been unable to do the assigned work in six months, and almost invariably have had to be held over for another six-month period. It was anticipated here that the camp would be located at the Lake Brownwood site for at least a year, but it was expected that the original assignment would be for six months only, with an extension of time later.

Mr. Colp also stated that the local camp probably would be garrisoned with 250 men, instead of the 200 originally designated for Brownwood. New policies of the CCC have increased the number to 250.

The camp originally was scheduled to move to Brownwood on June 10, and preparations for receiving the camp on that date were made. Lieut. Noble Daugherty of Fort Sam Houston came to Brownwood shortly before June 1, and erected 24 camp structures to house the detachment. Early in June, however, it was announced that the camp would not move to Brownwood until July 1. No definite advice as to the time of moving was obtained until receipt of Mr. Colp's letter.

The letter seems to dispel persistent rumors that plans to move a camp to Brownwood had been abandoned.

TEXAS FARM NEWS

SAN JUAN—While most of the dairy farmers of Hidalgo county are short on pasture, G. E. Alcott reports pastures in abundance. In a demonstration with the county agent he has 20 acres in Sudan grass and 20 in Johnson grass sod. He irrigated the Johnson grass sod and irrigated and planted the Sudan grass. The result now is 40 acres of pasture growing faster than 53 head of good dairy cows can eat it.

will furnish enough seed for one acre. Experiments in the culture of wild dewberries have proven profitable to Mrs. J. A. Turner, Barker Home Demonstration Club member in Harris county. She planted one row of wild berries in her garden last year, and gathered enough in early season to can six gallons. She is putting out two more rows.

Hillsboro—Seed oats treated for smut with the formalin method made 15 bushels per acre more than those not treated on the farm of Harvey Mackay of Hill county. Mr. Mackay was a bank clerk until his bank closed in 1932, but now he is devoting his entire time to farming. Although fitted for office work, he is proving a most successful farmer, according to the county agent.

With over 50 hogs in cure in the vaults of the ice plant in Colorado, Mitchell county farmers are again stepping to the front in the summer curing of pork. As last year, they are using "The A. and M. Way" to kill, cure and cure. Gilmer—With a budget which calls for 640 containers of food and 182 pounds of dried and cured products to be placed on her pantry shelf, Mrs. John Duffey, farm food supply demonstrator in the Stamps Home Demonstration Club of Upshur county, has made preparation by filling her garden with 21 different varieties of vegetables. Other than the vegetables she plants in her garden every year, Mrs. Duffey has added an asparagus bed, carrots, pimiento, sage, Boston pickling cucumbers, and surcreeper corn.

Levelland—That it pays to have purebred hogs and then finish them well has been demonstrated again—this time by Rex Hardin of Hockley county. Last fall he purchased seven purebred Hampshire pigs to use for a 4-H club demonstration and fit them for the spring shows. They were placed on feed the first of November weighing 60 pounds and they averaged 214 at the Lubbock show. They were well fitted as shown by the fact that Rex won first in the light class, reserve champion, and fourth on a litter of five.

Because Mrs. Duffey follows the budget plan she knows just how many feet of vegetables she needs to plant and how many containers of food to can to supply her family with the necessary amount for the year.

They were fed threshed grain and a protein supplement composed of cottonseed meal and tankage half-and-half by weight in a self-feeder. Four pounds of grain and the protein supplement were required to produce a pound of pork. Water was kept before the pigs at all times.

Stinnett—Three hundred feet of garden tile laid last year convinced Mrs. Willis Lackey, garden demonstrator for the Hold Home Demonstration Club in Hutchinson county, that a tile garden is just what she wants. Her husband is adding 750 feet of tile to the garden this year which will tile the remainder of the garden.

Robstown—Pouring concrete on a hot day isn't the most pleasant task in the world according to Mr. and Mrs. Kelley Soward, of Nueces county, but it is one way to make progress on a yard demonstration where the plan has been made for a pool in an outdoor living room. Mrs. Soward is yard demonstrator for the Robstown Home Demonstration Club.

In addition to tiling his own garden, Mr. Lackey has assisted three neighbors in tiling their gardens this spring and is making 50 feet of tile for his mother's garden.

This living room has been arranged under the shade of several trees using a background of athel and a rose garden of 24 blooming roses. Benches and a table are being made from concrete posts formerly used in an old gin.

Cousins "Once Removed" The meaning of the designation "once removed" in the relationship of cousins means a difference of a generation. For example, the offspring of cousins bear the relationship of first cousin once removed to the cousin of their parent.

Mrs. Soward has planted her yard with only native shrubs brought from the river. There are 64 in all, including 5 varieties, and her only cost has been the gas used and 25 cents spent for pruning shears.

Dallas—One hundred pounds of American cheese has been made for home use by Mrs. Bernard Doelle of the Christian Valley Home Demonstration Club of Dallas county up until the hot weather of 1934. Mrs. Doelle allows the cheese to cure as long as possible before use. Sometimes this is as long as six or seven months.

Mr. Doelle says that cheese making is one of the most worthwhile things his wife has learned as a club member. Last year she was pantry demonstrator for her club and canned a food supply sufficient for the needs of a family of five.

Many people think it funny that farmers and county agents work for bigger yields per acre or per animal at the very time that the government seeks to remove surpluses through reduction programs. Yet this is very logical, because big yields usually go hand in hand with efficient farming and profits. Low production per acre or per animal is unprofitable at all price levels except abnormally high ones. Acreage reduction is the cheapest way to reduce production. Poor farming is the most expensive method. Drouth is the most cruel method.

Six or more trench silos are to be dug in Waller county this year because Roy Chapman fed 392 head of cattle for market last season using for roughness 120 tons of seeded ribbon cane buried in a trench 120 feet long according to A. and M. College plans.

If you have extra good tomatoes it will be cheaper to save seed from your own crop than to buy it next spring, says J. F. Rosborough, extension horticulturist. Cut the best specimens in half, place in a barrel half full of water, and when the pulp separates, sours and comes to the top, skim off the pulp and scoop out the seed from the bottom of the barrel. Rinse and dry in the shade. Store in tight containers. One bushel of tomatoes

The enthusiastic response accorded Judge E. M. Davis' appearance at a Brown county rally in his behalf Monday night indicates that this county is awake to its opportunity to secure the services of a resident representative of this capacity in the State Senate. For thirty years this county has suffered through lack of direct resident representation in the upper house at Austin.

And, while those who have served doubtless have been capable and efficient, Brown county has been at a disadvantage through the fact that they have not had the interest in the affairs of this county that a resident would have shown.

Judge Davis has a background of service that makes him an outstanding candidate for any office, and particularly suited to serve as a member of the State Senate. He has served as city attorney, as county attorney, as county judge and as a member of the house of representatives.

Judge Davis is a native of the district he seeks to serve, as were his parents and as are his children. His interests are here and all of his many talents for service have been expended in behalf of the people of this section of the state.

But his candidacy is based on more than his place of residence and his record of achievement. He has proposed definite reforms in state and county government that merit the careful consideration of every voter in the district, regardless of residence.

Two important court reforms suggested by Judge Davis would save the taxpayers of Texas millions of dollars annually. Briefly, they call for a law to permit the district attorney to amend an indictment at any stage of the trial of a criminal case, and for non-severance, at the discretion of the presiding judge, of criminal cases where defendants are jointly charged. The first of these would almost stop reversal of cases on technicalities; the second would result in increased number of convictions and the saving of millions of dollars in court costs.

Other praiseworthy measures advocated by Judge Davis include simplifying and unifying law enforcement agencies of the state; definite measures to stop soil erosion in West Texas; a state system of rural credits and reduction in the number of state bureaus and commissions. Favoring anti-lobbying legislation, he wisely points out that the best way to prevent lobbying is to send to Austin men with honesty and integrity sufficient to withstand the influence of lobbyists.

Judge Davis has spent a lifetime of study of the problems of government. In the administration of these problems, and for a time as a maker of the laws under which they are administered, he has been of singular service to his people. The Banner feels that Brown county will be particularly fortunate when he is elected State Senator.

While the enthusiasm of a year ago did not mark the first "birthday" of the NRA, recently observed, the impartial observer must never the less admit that this most extraordinary bureau ever created by the Federal government has done many fine things in the one year of its existence. In spite of the onslaught of critics who insist that it represents the downfall of democracy and abrogates the major provisions of the Constitution, the progress of business during the year of NRA's existence indicates that its establishment at least was a step in the right direction.

Most commentators are of the opinion that the main trouble with the NRA is that it grew too fast and tried to cover too much territory. In the beginning, it was principally an arbiter of working conditions—it laid down minimum wage and maximum hours of work. Then it began to branch out into different fields. It made rulings concerning such routine matters as size and time of credits.

It fixed prices in most industries, and, according to such critics as the Darrow committee, did so at the expense of the consumer. By the very nature of things, a reaction was bound to set in. First came the announcement that the Administration does not look with favor on the price fixing provisions of many of the codes, which was followed by abandonment of this feature in many codes, and practical elimination of price-fixing in most of the codes.

Other modifications of the first provisions that were thrown up hastily and administered arbitrarily through the necessity of getting the many codes into operation, are bound to come. The gradual softening of the provisions of the codes does not indicate that the NRA in itself is not a good thing for industry. Rather, that its provisions in the main are wise, but that time has indicated that, in order to operate successfully it must operate to the advantage of all.

Business and industry, as well as the individual, as suggested by President Roosevelt in his recent radio address, are in much better position today than a year ago, due largely to the wise provisions of the present Administration, chief factor of which is the year-old NRA.

Much has been said during the recent months of agricultural reduction programs regarding the future of the Cotton South. Interesting is the following editorial comment from The Saturday Evening Post: "We have had seven fat years—years of extremely favorable conditions for big yields of cotton. Sooner or later, and probably sooner by the laws of averages, we shall have lean growing years in the South, and Nature, as is her invariable custom, will cut the crop. Meanwhile, for every bale that we refuse to raise, rugged individualists in other countries will raise two. Then, though we can still write mammy songs about the old plantation and cotton-picking time, someone else may be picking the cotton and singing the songs. A good many kings have recently lost their thrones, and King Cotton's domain is not immune from invasion."

"Original Leather Stocking"

THE author has often been asked if he had any original in his mind for the character of Leather-Stocking. In a physical sense, different individuals known to the writer in early life certainly presented themselves as models thru his recollections; but in a moral sense this man of the forest is purely a creation.

Thus wrote J. Fenimore Cooper in the preface to his immortal "Leather-Stocking Tale" and that statement should pretty well dispose of various historical characters whose claims to being "the original Leather-Stocking" have been advanced from time to time. One of them is Tim Murphy, the famous Morgan Rifleman and Scout of the Schoharie.

But if you would look upon a faithful likeness of the man who probably was most in Cooper's mind as he created the character "Leather-Stocking" in "The Pioneers" (the first published of the Leather-Stocking Tales) or "Deerslayer" in the book of that name, go to the town of Caroga, N. Y., and gaze upon the heroic bronze statue of Nicholas Stoner near there.

The son of old Henry Stoner, a pioneer settler of Broadalbin, N. Y., young Nick became a crack shot with the long rifle almost as soon as he was big enough to carry one. At the age of fifteen he enlisted in the Continental army with his father and brother and fought at Saratoga, Oriskany, in the Rhode Island campaign, at Valley Forge and at Yorktown.

Toward the close of the Revolution old Henry Stoner returned home only to be killed and scalped by the Indians and leave to his sons a heritage of hatred for the red men. After the war Nick Stoner became the most celebrated hunter and trapper in New York and his fame was spread by Simms in his book, "The Trappers of New York."

At the outbreak of the War of 1812 he marched away to battle again, serving for three years, most of the time as chief of scouts for General Dodge of the New York militia. When the war was over he went back to his hunting and trapping, and his friendship with Cooper during this period adds plausibility to the theory that he was the principal "original" of Cooper's famous frontier character. Although he served in many county offices until his death in 1853, the statue which stands at Caroga is the best symbol of his place in history; as a hunter, a trapper, an Indian fighter and as nearly the personification of "Leather Stocking" as any man ever was.

THE BANNER'S SCRAB BOOK

Our Nation's Birthday, July 4, 1776

OUR second president, John Adams, poured out his very soul in support of the Declaration of Independence before the document was signed. We quote herewith: "But whatever may be our fate, be assured that this Declaration will stand. It may cost treasure, and it may cost blood, but it will stand, and it will richly compensate for both. Through the thick gloom of the present, I see the brightness of the future, as the sun in heaven. We shall make this a glorious, an immortal day. When we are in our graves, our children will honor it. They will celebrate it with thanksgiving, with festivity, with bonfires and illuminations. On its annual return, they will shed tears, copious, gushing tears, not of subjection and slavery, not of agony and distress, but of exultation, of gratitude and joy. Sir, before God, I believe the hour is come. My judgment approves this measure, and my whole heart is in it. All that I have, and all that I am, and all that I hope, in this life, I am now ready here to stake upon it. And I leave off as I began, that, live or die, survive or perish, I am for the Declaration. It is my living sentiment, and by the blessing of God it shall be my dying sentiment.

MAKING Smart CLOTHES

No matter what the summer wardrobe or where it must travel it isn't really complete without at least one cool short-sleeved printed or pastel crepe dress. That's why we've pictured the dress above which you can make for yourself. It was inspired by Schiaparelli, one of the cleverest of the Parisian designers, and its chic is obvious. The sleeves that just cover the shoulders and the deep square neckline make it exceptionally cool.

Made of a white background print or a cool light color it will be a dress to stand by and "do you proud" all summer long. This is a Butterick Pattern and may be bought at your favorite department store.

WINNER OF WARDROBE CONTEST TELLS OF IMPROVEMENT WORK

By MRS. EARL W. BYRD
I-C Route, Brownwood
Winner of First Place, Class I, Brown County Wardrobe Contest.

It is truly a responsibility and an obligation to be a demonstrator. Acting as wardrobe demonstrator for my club this year has made me realize more than ever before my obligation to my club and to my "Home Demonstration Work." I feel that the life of a club, the interest of the members in club work, and worth while results of club work depends, in a large measure, upon the demonstrators, the ones who are the leaders in that phase of work, fail to reach their goals or in other words fall down on the job, it is not encouraging to other club members to carry on and to do more.

In some way, I hope that I have made a demonstration. I have tried to reach the goals, and to do the work required of a Class I demonstrator.

To be well dressed is one ambition of every woman. To realize this ambition is often a problem, especially to one whose income is small. This is where a demonstration proves that one can be well dressed even on a small amount of money. A complete wardrobe does not mean a large expenditure of money, but it does mean a wise expenditure of money.

One may ask what is considered a wise expenditure of money along this line. Home demonstration work teaches us the answer to this question. We are taught to plan our clothes according to our needs, to purchase intelligently, to properly care for our clothing, and to keep an accurate record of our expenditures. If every woman would do these things, she would be surprised at the amazing results.

Many women wonder if it is worth while or even economical to do their own sewing. I think this is due to the fact that it is often so hard for one to make a garment that fits properly, and thus big help to me. In fact, the cutting of sleeve patterns from the foundation pattern was a revelation to me. The more one learns about sewing (the trick in the trade) the more interesting and fascinating it becomes to one. I tried to give to my club members every bit of the information that Mrs. Barnes gave at the school. My club gave me a vote of thanks for the report and illustrations that I gave upon my return.

Adequate storage, a clothes closet, can every woman have one. My answer is "yes." I almost despaired, but at last I have a good substitute. Miss Malone, my home demonstration agent, gave me the idea, and the encouragement that brought it to pass. My closet is made of two orange boxes, two boxing planks, a scrap of one by two board, and a cretonne curtain. It did not cost anything for the materials were already about the place, except the orange boxes which were given to me. It will probably be hard to visualize these as making a clothes closet, but really it is keen, and more than you could ever expect unless you see one like it. It surely serves the purpose of caring for and protecting my clothes, and it is not unsightly.

My experience as a demonstrator has been a gainful and a profitable one to me. I do not feel that my demonstration is ended, but that it has just begun. Many times during the year I have become discouraged. I did not feel that I could possibly reach the goals set for a first year demonstrator. Although I am sure others have done better than I, I just could not be a quitter. There is thrill in easy sailing, there is no joy in merely doing things which any one can do. But there is some satisfaction that is mighty sweet to take, when you reach a destination that you believed you couldn't make.

A pantry with 49 feet of shelf put in at a cost of $1 is large enough to store a year's supply of canned food. It has been found by Mrs. E. L. Collins, pantry demonstrator for the Grange Hall Home Demonstration Club, Cherokee county.

Individual farmers may protest quotas allotted them and if their protests are justified, their allotment will be increased. There are four ways in which an increase can be gotten.

They are: First, all farms that have had less than one-third of the land in cotton during the past three years are allowed an increase; farms not previously planted in cotton; farms that have had abnormal yields during the past year because of drought, floods, insects or other reasons not controllable and farms that have shown voluntary reductions during the past three years.

Explained at Last
Economics is simply the Greek for "housekeeping."

Official Quota In Cotton Reduction Program Announced

Brown county's cotton allotment under the Bankhead bill, as announced recently, has been officially set at 6,900 bales, according to information received the past week by C. W. Lehmburg, county farm demonstration agent. Although the allotment is fixed at 6,900 bales, the county's quota will be increased ten per cent which will give the county a total of 7,590 bales.

This allotment could be changed if the proper protest were registered with Washington but it is most unlikely that any effort will be made to change the allotment.

WHERE A Slip MEANS DEATH

Most Amazing Proof Ever Known OF EXTRA TRACTION AND NON-SKID SAFETY

Up... UP... UP... to 14,000 feet above sea-level. Skirting yawning chasms, tearing around 181 treacherous turns at breath-taking speeds—daredevil drivers fight their way up... grinding, pounding, swaying, over more than twelve miles of tread-torturing granite gravel. What a terrific test of tire stamina!

Firestone High Speed Tires with the tougher, wear-resisting tread were used on the winning car in the Annual Pike's Peak Race, where a slip means death! This gruelling grind is the most amazing proof ever known of Extra Traction, Non-Skid Safety, and Dependability.

This same Extra Quality and Reserve Safety are built into the new Firestone High Speed Tire for 1934, to protect you and your family. These new tires are Safety-Protected on the outside with a wider tread of flatter contour, deeper non-skid and more and tougher rubber—Safety-Protected on the inside by eight additional pounds of pure rubber absorbed by every 100 pounds of cords. This additional rubber surrounds every cotton fiber inside every cord in every ply, counteracting damaging frictional heat, the enemy of tire life.

This is accomplished by Gum-Dipping, the ingenious process developed and patented by Firestone. Through its exclusive use only Firestone is able to give you a tire of such cohesive strength and safety, giving more than 50% longer non-skid mileage.

Vacation Protection!

Protect yourself and family on your vacation trip—let the nearest Firestone Service Dealer or Service Store equip your car today with new Firestone High Speed Tires for 1934. REMEMBER, you will save money at present prices, because crude rubber has advanced more than 442% and cotton 190%—tire prices cannot possibly remain at their present low levels.

Grain Threshing Is Nearing Completion

Threshing in Brown county grain raising is nearing completion and although this year's crop is not a record breaker as far as total production is concerned, a number of unusually large yields per acre have been reported.

What is believed to be a record was established this year by Brooks, of the Clear Creek community. A 12-acre patch on Brooks place threshed 1,272 bushels, an average of 106 bushels to the acre.

According to reports from various parts of the county, this year's oat crop will average close to 10 bushels an acre. The wheat yield was also good in most sections. And with better than average prices prevailing, the 1934 grain crop will prove of great value to the farmers of the county.

The Principal Burden of This Ad Is to Bring to You a Flour Message.
AS A TEST about two months ago, we sold to the best trade a sack each of "LIGHT HOUSE FLOUR" and as a special favor requested that a test be made to their entire satisfaction, and a report of the results.
These results were so overwhelmingly satisfactory that a lot of our trade has been clamoring for more "LIGHT HOUSE."
Today we received a shipment and we believe that we are prepared to give you the biggest Flour value in Brownwood in "LIGHT HOUSE," made by Collin County Mill and Elevator, located in the heart of the best wheat belt in Texas.
