THE TWENTIETH CENTURY CRUSADE

THE KNIGHTS' CRUSADE movement, which was begun recently by the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus, deserves the enthusiastic support of every patriotic American. One might say it deserves the support of every civilized person in the world, for it is preparing to defend life, liberty, and religious freedom, the outstanding characteristics of truly civilized society.

Like the gallant crusaders of old, the 20th Century Crusaders being recruited by a 20th Century group of knights, are preparing to defend the cause of their Heavenly Father. This time they are not taking up the sword against those who would desecrate the places made sacred by the life and death of The Redeemer. This time they are preparing to meet a menace that would destroy the memory of The Redeemer in the minds of His favored creatures. They are instituting a definite campaign to fight Communism, the world's greatest curse since the beginning of time.

Make no mistake about it, Communism has as its aim the destruction of the religious and social liberties that you and I now enjoy. If it were ever established in this nation, as it now is in Russia, these are some of the conditions we would have to accept.

Religion of every creed would be unlawful—Communists simply say "there is no God," and that's that.

All private property would be seized by the government. That includes your home, your farm, your tools, your store, or whatever else you have, and you yourself would be given the great privilege of giving the government all fruits of your labor. Self-advancement or enjoying any of life's pleasures would be impossible because the more one makes the more the government takes from him. All that the workman gets is the insufficient supply of coarse food and coarse clothing passed out by government agents.

All speech and writing unfavorable to the ruling faction is considered as treason and punishable by death.

And the ruling faction consists of about 1 per cent of the population—democracy is unknown.

Do you want such conditions here? If not, lend your support to the crusade movement in defense of God and country.

LIGHTS

A GREAT PERCENTAGE of the accidents at night can be charged to faulty lighting. The risk is especially serious if lights are too dim.

In some of the Northern cities streets are being kept lighted all night because it was found by actual practice that accidents are fewer when lights are better.

On the highway a person has less chance to discover trouble ahead if his lights are poor. Lack of good lights has permitted many a driver to rush headlong into the back of some slower moving vehicle or to miss a corner that he could not see at a distance.

An even more severe handicap is being blinded by the glare of oncoming bright lights. Those moments of blind driving may be fatal.

Nowadays almost all cars are being equipped with courtesy lights which permit the light beams to be cast downward when meeting another machine. The advantage of the courtesy lights is two-fold, it casts a brighter beam directly in front of the car and at the same time relieves the glare for the oncoming driver. It is really an important safety feature.

But unfortunately too few people use it. In that respect most of our passenger car drivers could learn a valuable lesson from truck and bus drivers. Passenger car drivers should realize like truck drivers that to drop the beam is an actual help to both drivers. They should realize that if their light is blinding, the oncoming driver may lose control of his machine, perhaps plunge into a head-on collision.

Still there are some who think it wise to throw a bright beam at the other fellow. If those people cannot be courteous it seems they should at least consider their own safety.

OUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

LAST YEAR there was a brief flurry of enthusiasm over Muenster's newly organized Chamber of Commerce. After the first shouting was over interest faded out, and if anything has been accomplished since very few of us know about it.

It is not too late now to take an interest in Chamber of Commerce activities. There are dozens of things that could be accomplished through the influence of such an organization; and the sooner Muenster people begin to do those things the sooner they will harvest the fruits of their efforts.

What can the Chamber of Commerce do? It can be influential in the building of better roads around Muenster, in the installation of rural electrical service, in bringing in special agents to assist in farm programs and to introduce new developments in farming methods, in sponsoring local activities of a nature that individuals could not undertake.

If those activities are worthy of our interest let's try to revive enthusiasm in our Chamber of Commerce.

I AM THE CHISEL

IN THE PAST I was the proud instrument that aided artisans in the building of many improvements for the human race. I was proud of my place in the scheme of human welfare.

Today my reputation is at low ebb, my honor has sunk so low that I am the symbol of all that is vicious in the commercial world. I help employers hold down the wages of their workers; I help retailers keep down the profit of other retailers; I help trim down the price of manufactured merchandise; I help tricky competitors take away business from others who are working for an honest profit.

In every walk of commercial life I am a destroyer and not a builder. Today I am the symbol of cheating, lying, unfair practice, chicanery, hypocrisy, avarice and greed. I am the harbinger of commercial doom, and my enviable reputation of the past is replaced by the contempt of all fair-thinking people.

Woe is me, that I, the chisel, should have fallen to the low estate of being the trademark of viciousness.

Moral: Avoid the stigma of being a chiseler.—Southwestern Retailer.

The hearts of all A. E. F. veterans go out to the warriors of Spain. As shown in the photos, the uniforms still run in two sizes—too large and too small.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

A seer, in introducing a method of fortune telling with beer-suds, says the results are as accurate as those obtained by reading tea-leaves. No doubt.—St. Louis Star-Times.

A poll shows the favored dish at CCC camps to be pork and applesauce. Except for their uniforms, the boys could scarcely be told from Congressman.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The New York police say there are big poker games going on in so-called poker flats, in which the players are all housewives. It's got so that a husband can't go to the horse-races any more without worrying whether his wife will have money to lend him when he returns.—H. I. Phillips in New York Sun.

In a recent letter to his parents, Robert Weinzapfel of St. Mary's University, San Antonio, advises that his foot is healed from the injuries received in a motorcycle crash shortly before Christmas.

Rudy Hellman and Roy Endres spent last Monday afternoon with the Kraft Phenix Cheese Corporation at Denison. Before making their return trip they dropped in for a short visit with Mrs. Regina Sontag at the Bluebonnet Cafe.

John Schilling advises that rabbit hunting with the six grey hounds he bought at Celina recently is a cinch. While the snow was in their favor they bagged 83 rabbits and four owls (the greyhounds seem to be part bird-dog).

L. W. Flusche took time out from his new business relations at the Flusche Brothers Garage, Decatur, to drive over for a visit with his family and other friends last Saturday. He was accompanied by his younger brother, Andrew.

Wednesday afternoon Mr. Armstrong and Mr. Welch of the Gainesville Farm Machinery Co. delivered a new Oliver "70" to Carl Herr. The tractor has a six-cylinder high compression motor and is equipped with starter, lights, and special steel tip toe wheels.

Mrs. Chandler of Lake Dallas is the guest of her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. John Chandler. She expressed her intention of remaining in Muenster for a week or two while Olive and her new baby daughter make sufficient progress to get along unassisted.

Bert Wassenberg of Seneca, Kans., was the guest of the Hoeng family during the past week end. The visitor, who said he was just going through to the Rio Grande Valley, came over to Muenster at the suggestion of Alphonse Hoeng, who has been in Seneca since last Christmas.

M. J. Endres and J. M. Weinzapfel constituted Muenster's guest delegation to a banquet and special meeting of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night. They came back fired with enthusiasm over the prospect of getting a little life in Muenster's Chamber of Commerce.

Elfreda Luke, Agnes Weinzapfel and Emmet Fette were among the old familiar faces seen at the basketball game last Thursday night. All spent the week end at home after completing their mid-term exams. The two girls are students of Victory College, Fort Worth, and Emmet is attending St. Edward's University, Austin.

The truck that ran off a wheel on the bridge south of town last Thursday night could not have picked a better place for his convenience nor a poorer place for the convenience of others. During the time that emergency repairs were being made a total of about 15 cars pulled up to provide a spectacle that is very seldom seen—a traffic jam on a country road.

Muenster car sales during the past week fell off slightly as Joe Wilde and Ben Seyler sold two machines each. Ben sold a 1937 DeLuxe Plymouth 4-door sedan to Joe McClinton at Electra and a '34 DeLuxe Plymouth coupe to Stanny Yosten. Joe Wilde sold a 1930 Ford coupe

Mrs. Joe Bengfort is still confined in the Gainesville Sanitarium; however, she is definitely on the road to recovery. The two special nurses who have been with her constantly since her arrival at the sanitarium two weeks ago, have been released from duty. Her sister, Mrs. Theo. Neu, is attending her at present and the endless days of recuperating are made more pleasant by frequent visits from members of her family and her friends.

Sumac Reserves Pluck Eagle Reserves Before Big Contest Thursday

The Macs showed the Sumacs how it was done last Thursday night when, as a curtain-raiser for the featured game, they defeated Valley View's young Eagles 23-13.

To some of the spectators it seemed to be Herbie Camp on parade. He scored 15 of his team's markers. Other members of the squad, though not in the limelight for consistent scoring, were conspicuous for the cooperation and floorwork that enabled them to hold the ball for considerably more than half the time of the short contest.

"Genie" Lehnertz, playing forward with Herbie, displayed real skill in handling the ball and Pip Fette was consistently on hand to stop the enemy's scoring threats.

Yostens Attend 31st Wedding Anniversary Of Sherman Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yosten and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Yosten and daughter, Josephine, were guests Tuesday to a reception held by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Korloth of Sherman on their 31st wedding anniversary.

The Korloths, who are well known to many of Muenster's citizens, have been close friends of the Yosten family since the days of early settlers here.

For Mrs. Frank Yosten the celebration and trip was well timed; had it been earlier she would have been forced to decline the invitation because of the sick spell that had her confined to bed for a week. She has been up since last Friday.

Bert Fisch and his daughter, Mary Nett, of Fort Worth were in Muenster Saturday evening and Sunday visiting with his father, J. P. Fisch, and his sister, Mrs. M. J. Endres. They were accompanied on their trip by Miss Elizabeth Herr, who spent her time here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herr, Sr.

Ninety Per Cent of Chevrolet Employees Resume Former Jobs

Detroit, Feb. 4.—Approximately 90 per cent of the total number of Chevrolet employes in Detroit Flint, Saginaw, Bay City, Muncie and Indianapolis, who were summoned to work, returned yesterday with the re-opening of the company's plants in these cities, it was stated here today by M. E. Coyle, general manager of the Chevrolet Division, General Motors Corporation.

Fully 95 per cent of the night shift reported for duty yesterday afternoon. Shortness of notice to return to work in the various plant cities was given as the main reason why the small remaining percentage did not return to work yesterday, Mr. Coyle pointed out.

It was further explained that many employes who were forced out of employment several weeks ago, through no fault of their own, had obtained jobs elsewhere while others had left the community to visit with friends and relatives.

No additional workers will be employed to take the place of those who did not report for work, Mr. Coyle said, as the company's purpose in opening the plants is to provide part-time employment for as many regular employes as possible so that they will not be forced to go on relief.

The percentage of workers who reported yesterday is uniform throughout the six cities mentioned above, Coyle said.

The Big Tractor For Big Threshers

Here's the tractor that will handle the largest threshers and silo fillers with ample power for steady operation, and the in-built ability to handle sudden over-loads. It is the Oliver Hart-Parr 28-44—the tractor that's in a class by itself.

The belt pulley and power take-off are easily operated from the driver's seat, and the ability to back into the belt with a "dead belt pulley" is one of its many advantages.

For more profitable threshing, belt an Oliver Hart-Parr 28-44 to an Oliver Red River Special Thresher, or hook it up to an Oliver Nichols & Shepard Combine. We will appreciate your letting us tell you more about this hardy, powerful tractor. It's a big tractor for big farm jobs.

It was pointed out that the merits of the proposed amendment were more than offset by the evils that could follow from its wording which would permit authority over children to be taken from parents and placed in the hands of the government.

After reluctantly accepting the resignation of J. W. Meurer as council treasurer, the knights elected Oscar Walter as the new treasurer. Mr. Meurer resigned his position because of his falling health.

Of especial interest to many of the council's members was the announcement by Grand Knight Hennigan that the council meetings will be held weekly rather than monthly during the season of Lent. He urged all members to be on hand for every meeting and lend their assistance in putting the crusade movement over with a bang.

Clement loomed up as a dark horse for the Eagles to sink three long shots and cop the laurels usually worn by Butts and Grey. The latter had two field goals and two foul shots while Butts, generally regarded as Valley View's greatest threat, was held scoreless by the air tight defensive work of Pat Stelzer. Pat added insult to injury by getting away from his big opponent for one field goal.

On their foul throws both teams were consistently poor. Muenster collected only two points on seven penalties and Valley View took three on 12 penalties.

Sharing honors with the best of the players was Referee "Bogie" Bochart, who paced up and down the floor as hard as any of them and gave an additional dash of color to an already interesting game. Some of the spectators—and the players, too—are still wondering how he can see what's going on at both ends of the court and behind his back.

Officials of the Cooke County Interscholastic League were elated to find the game attended by the largest crowd that has yet been drawn to a single feature basketball game in this county.

feet. The fans will have to decide whose favorite becomes the Cooke County queen.

Assuming that the boys and girls go through their preliminary games undefeated they will play at the following honors: Opening game with Era, girls 3 and boys 4 p.m. Friday; semifinal with Myra, girls 3 and boys 4 p.m. Saturday; final game with winner of first bracket (which is almost certain to be Valley View) girls 7 and boys 8 o'clock Saturday night.

The entire tournament is divided into five periods, Friday morning and afternoon, and Saturday morning, afternoon, and night. Saturday night includes finals in both volley ball and basketball in Class B and Class C divisions. Class C finals are to begin at 5 and Class B at 7 o'clock.

Admission tickets for the final games will cost 10 cents for pupils, 15 cents for ladies and 20 cents for men; tickets for the other four periods will cost 10 cents for children and ladies and 20 cents for men.

In addition to the show being put on by the youngsters, Interscholastic League officials have provided for a dash of color by engaging "Bogie" Bochart at referee.

Dr. Myrick advises that those he now has are laying every day and the hen he formerly had laid for 68 consecutive days. Also that the laying record for hens is now held by an Australop that laid 365 eggs in a year's test—the only blemish on her record being that three of the eggs were soft shelled.

Muenster poultry men are watching Dr. Myrick's Australop flock with considerable interest and should it prove that the birds are as hardy as they are productive there will probably be more of the flocks here within a few years.

return would probably be delayed until after the regular meeting time and suggested that the members carry on as usual. Accordingly Mrs. Wolf assumed the responsibility of hostess and lit gas stoves long enough in advance to have rooms cozy when members arrived.

The group, with Miss Marie Seyler as chairman and 10 members in attendance carried on its regular program of discussion, after the usual roll call and report on assignments.

New Gadget Makes Body Repair Work Easier and Better for Joe Wilde

An instrument that will make body repair, work simpler, faster, and more durable, is Clyde Woods' opinion of the new metal spray gun recently added to the body repair department of Joe Wilde's Garage.

The new gadget is to be used for filling in the low places after the worst wrinkles have been ironed out of a crushed fender or other part of a car. After the layer of metal, which is somewhat similar to solder, is deposited it is dressed down to a smooth surface by an emery wheel and then painted. The process leaves the damaged part actually stronger and the finish as smooth as the original.

An electrical heating element melts the metal in the gun and compressed air is used to blow the liquid out. It works somewhat on the order of a paint spray gun.

Radio sets small enough to be carried in uniform pockets have been supplied to London policemen to enable them to receive orders from headquarters.

The G. O. P. complaint seems to be that it was left at the post and not at the post offices. —Dallas Morning News.
