VOLUME VI

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 6, 1942

NUMBER 50

With Co. C, 835th Engr. Bn. Avn. Camp Young, Indio, California

TUESDAY, Oct. 27—Here's another case of 3 days blended together to form one superduper event. Con spent Saturday, Sunday and Monday on a junior sized tour to the city of the angels. An elegant time, especially in contrast with army routine.

For a while Friday evening prospects for the holiday faded dimly. My uniform had been left at a tailor shop the day before for pressing. When I came to pick it up there was no trace of it. My heart sunk. A guy can't go places without his pants. Neither does he like the idea of buying a new uniform. Well, after some 30 minutes of argument the proprietor agreed to make a thorough search. Another 30 minutes produced the suit—at the bottom of the heap that was due to receive attention several days later. What a relief!

The case is mentioned as an illustration of inconveniences soldiers have to contend with. Many a town cannot accommodate its military population. Laundry or cleaning and pressing usually takes a week or more. A watch repair job requires from 2 to 4 weeks. Stores are too crowded and prices too high.

Nevertheless, after the mental anguish, I was set for the weekend. It started at 4 A.M. when a guard, by pre-arrangement, roused me in time to take an early bus out of camp. From then on, everything clicked along fine until the arrival at Los Angeles.

The only noticeable delay was in the retarded speed of traffic. People don't always stick with the 35 mile limit, but they don't exceed it enough to give enforcement officers a good reason for cracking down. According to comment out here, it's not a good idea to drive fast. "They nab you and throw the key away."

A truck driver was moaning about the regulation. In his opinion, it defeats its own purpose when applied to trucks and busses. "See that speedometer?" he said, "241,000 miles on this wagon and one of the original equipment tires is still rolling. Had to discard the second last only last week. And this thing has been running at about 60 per until only a month or so ago. Does that sound as if speed hurts truck tires?"

Then he started dishing out his theory. In the first place air pressure is so high in truck tires that flexing, the principal cause of damage to passenger car tires, is reduced to a minimum, regardless of speed. Also the wheels, except drivers, simply roll and do not wear fast except when braking. While the truck could roll free down hill, everything was fine. But since the speed regulation, more braking is necessary, after which more pulling is necessary to climb the next hill. It's hard to find a flaw in that line. It's also hard to convince the normal car driver that he should run slower than a 70,000 pound truck and trailer.

Something else along the way was another bit of information on California's scenic roadside. Mt. San Jacinto near Palm Springs towers 10,000 feet above the desert floor. Its 11,000 feet do not compete with other peaks for altitude, but as a single pile of earth it's in a class by itself. It starts from scratch whereas most others start from a level of several thousand feet and actually tower only a few thousand over their surroundings.

High up on the side of that mountain is a bare spot that, at first glance, makes no special impression. But all at once a person discovers the outline of an angel — "the Angel of San Jacinto." Seeing it is somewhat like seeing an image in a cloud formation. Only this is more permanent. Also this is more perfect than cloud formations usually are.

In a few words, Los Angeles is a swell place for a soldier to spend his spare time. Such has been my experience on two occasions. And I can see prospects for new experiences as often as I have an opportunity to return.

The start was questionable, however. Not long after arriving I had to give my undivided attention to a severe gastronomic disturbance. I began to wonder whether I'd have to spend my holidays in a hospital. Fortunately, it did not last long.

I think I know the cause of it. On one occasion I was stranded beside a lovely walnut orchard. Big, bright, ripe nuts were plentiful.

Flower Show Will Be Held Wednesday

Will Feature Flowers, Fancy Work, 4-H Club Achievement and Program

Last minute details are being perfected by officials of the Muenster Garden Club for the annual flower show to be held at the K of C hall on next Wednesday, November 11. These final arrangements are being supervised by Mrs. Ben Hellman, general chairman, with the assistance of Mrs. Joe Luke, president.

The show is anticipated as one of the most colorful yet to be staged by the club. Only a small general admission fee of five and ten cents is to be charged.

The show will offer a profusion of flowers and flower arrangements, autumn leaves and berries, fruits and vegetables, fancy work and quilts, bed spreads and rugs, 4-H club girls achievements, miniature gardens, table arrangements and other features.

Anyone interested, whether or not he or she is a member of the Garden Club, may make, and is urged to make, entries in the show. These entries should be brought to the K of C hall, whenever possible, on the day before, Tuesday afternoon. No entries will be accepted on the day of the show after 10 o'clock a.m. The judging is slated to begin at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and the show will be formally opened at 3 o'clock. The exhibits will remain on display until about 11 p.m. A program of musical selections and other numbers will be presented during the evening hours.

All arrangements of flowers, berries, leaves, fruits and vegetables must be brought in suitable containers for exhibition in order to qualify, it has been stressed.

Committee Heads
Mrs. Hellman's co-workers in preparations for the show include the following ladies:

Mrs. T. S. Myrick, chrysanthemums; Mrs. J. B. Wilde, miscellaneous flowers; Mrs. M. J. Endres, miniature gardens; Mrs. Frank Kaiser, fancy work, quilts, etc.; Mrs. Tony Gremminger, 4-H Club achievements; Mrs. Joe Luke, table arrangements; Mrs. John Ezell, farm yard; Miss Olivia Stock, altar arrangement; Miss Charis Bradshaw, garden insects; Miss Elfreda Luke, garden weeds; Mrs. J. M. Weinzapfel, program and Mrs. Jake Pagel, refreshments.

Awards for winning entries will be blue, red and white ribbons. This is the fifth show of its kind to be held here under the supervision of the Garden Club, but the first to take place in the Fall. The other four shows were held in the Spring.

4-H CLUB ENROLLS NEW MEMBERS AT MEETING TUESDAY

Muenster's 4-H Club girls enjoyed an interesting meeting at the parochial school auditorium Tuesday morning with Mrs. Tony Gremminger, sponsor, in charge. This session was marked by the enrollment of a group of girls from the public school bringing the total membership to 61.

Following the brief business session during which the girls presided, Mrs. Gremminger reminded members to display their achievements at the annual flower show next Wednesday.

Veda Martin read a poem entitled "The 4-H Girl," and Millie Yeakley gave a talk explaining correct posture after which Tressa Walter, Margie Seyler, Ruth Lee Fisher, Bobbie Robertson demonstrated good and bad posture. The social hour featured an amateur program in which Allene Swirczynski was applauded as winner. She recited a parody on "Mary Had a Little Lamb."

Burns Arm
Mrs. Joseph Flusche suffered painful burns on her right arm and hand Saturday when a kettle of hot lard was accidentally turned over. The injury is reported to be healing satisfactorily.

Walton Shoppe Improved
Eunah Lee Walton made extensive improvements in her beauty shop during the weekend. The beauty parlor equipment was moved to the front room and the back room was converted into a lounge. New draperies were hung and several new pieces of furniture were added.

Mrs. Logan Johnson has returned home after spending the past week in a Sherman hospital where she underwent a dental operation.

CAMOUFLAGED U. S. MACHINE GUN NEST

GUADALCANAL SOLOMONS
This official U. S. Marine photo received last Sunday of a machine gun nest manned by a U. S. Marine crew in the front line at Guadalcanal, is just one of the reasons why the invaders failed in his attempt to retake the islands. Thousands of Nipponese soldiers died attempting to storm nests of this type.

Extensive Repairs Transform Kitchen At Parish Hall

Extensive repairs made during the week at the parish hall kitchen have transformed it into a modern, convenient and fully equipped kitchen where henceforth parish mothers and young ladies will enjoy preparing meals and refreshments for community social affairs.

The first step in the rebuilding program was the enlargement of the cooking quarters. It now extends across the entire back of the hall with the exception of two small rooms, one a completely fitted rest room and the other a cloak room.

The ceiling was lowered to normal room height and faced with sheetrock, while the sides, above the rock foundation, are finished with masonite siding.

A new sink and drain boards, built in cabinets, shelves and tables and water heaters have been installed. Extra light connections are placed in several positions so that adequate lighting is possible over work tables, stoves and sinks. The stoves have been repaired and polished and a steam cabinet has been bought.

Another handy and attractive feature is the long service counter over which refreshments can be served. Otherwise the kitchen is compelled to itself, except for the entrance door.

The work, supervised by Father Thomas, pastor, was done by local carpenters. Funds raised at a recent community picnic were used to defray expenses.

MRS. J. HENSCH, JR. DIES IN CALIFORNIA; BURIAL AT NORMAN

Mrs. John Hensch, Jr., 19, died Sunday at Long Beach, Calif., following four days of illness, relatives here learned Tuesday. Infection resulting from the extraction of teeth was the cause of her death.

The body will be taken to Norman, Okla., for burial but funeral arrangements had not been announced Wednesday. Relatives from this city will attend the services.

Mrs. Hensch was a native of Norman and was married to Mr. Hensch last May. Several months ago they moved to California where he was engaged in defense work. John is a former local young man, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hensch of Norman, also former local residents.

Magazines, Hangers Wanted

Mrs. Jim Cooke, chairman of the defense committee of the Civic League and Garden Club, this week wishes to remind local citizens again to save all their magazines for soldiers at Camp Howze. The magazines may be left at her home or at the Enterprise office and officials from the camp will call for them. Also, persons having coat hangers that they no longer need are requested to give them to the camp. They will be picked up the same time the magazines are.

WATER TANK PAINTED

Muenster's city water tank was this week favored with a coat of bright aluminum paint. During the weekend it was drained and cleaned out. There was no shortage of water, however, the consumers received their supply direct from the pump and the reservoir. The cleaning and painting job was done by a service company from Dallas.

To Register For Gasoline Ration Through Schools

Registration Will Be Held Nov. 12, 13, 14; Ration Begins Nov. 22

Registration for mileage rationing in Cooke County will be conducted on November 12, 13 and 14. W. H. McDonald, acting chairman for the Cooke county War Price and Rationing board, has announced, and actual rationing of gasoline will begin on November 22.

Washington headquarters has advised that application blanks should be available by November 7, but added that everyone should watch newspapers for the announcement when these forms are available. They will be distributed to garage tire inspection stations where every passenger car owner can obtain an application form conveniently.

Motorists will fill out the form, listing serial numbers of each tire. Then on one of the registration days the motorist will present this form at the schoolhouse nearest his residence to be issued a basic "A" ration book for gasoline. Any motorist away from home in another county should register wherever he is on one of the three designated days.

School officials have been requested to cooperate in the registration as was done in the sugar registration last May. County Superintendent Randolph O'Brien will tend to details of the registration in county schools.

It was announced that the board has not completed setting up a fuel rationing panel to handle applications and other matters which the mileage rationing program will entail. Those who feel they are entitled to supplemental ration provided by the "B" and "C" books should obtain another application form for this at the place of registration where the "A" card is issued. It was explained.

Meanwhile it is emphasized that every passenger car owner sell to the government before November 12 all tires over five for each vehicle.

This means that a car owner is allowed one tire for each running wheel and one spare for the car. A registrar cannot issue a mileage rationing book for a car if the owner has tires in excess of that number.

For that reason tires should be turned in before November 12 to a Railroad Express agency which will tag the tires, and the seller will receive a check from the government, or if he chooses, the government will pay him in war bonds and stamps for his excess tire or tires.

NOVEMBER 13th IS DATE FOR ELECTION OF AAA COMMITTEE

Farmer-committeemen who will lead Texas farmers in 1943 agricultural wartime production will be elected in all Texas counties, Friday, November 13.

Always a vital part of the AAA organization, next year's committeemen also will help chart the course of farmers in the Food for Freedom program.

One of the first responsibilities of AAA committees elected at the November meeting will be to lead in the production sign-up which gets underway in December after national Food for Freedom goals are announced.

Other responsible wartime jobs appear definitely headed in their direction, the AAA official pointed out.

Although county AAA committeemen have been doing wartime jobs throughout 1942, more responsibility will be placed on community committeemen during 1943. For that reason, the most capable and dependable men of Texas communities are needed as AAA committeemen. Community meeting places at which committeemen will be elected are being scheduled by county AAA offices and will be announced later.

No Hallowe'en Damage

Observance of Hallowe'en in Muenster was comparatively quiet Saturday evening. Young pranksters refrained from any harrumphing or damaging sports. Business houses appeared the next morning with soaped windows and a number of small buildings of the chick sales variety were either turned over or moved. One was placed in front of the Bank and a few old two-wheeler trailers were stationed in front of other business houses.

Cpl. David Trachta, connected with the 50th Armed Infantry, is on desert maneuvers in California. Inducted in the army on February 2, Cpl. Trachta received his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and then spent several months at Camp Chaffee, Ark. He is the youngest of a trio of sons of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trachta. His brothers, Cpl. Richard Trachta is with the army in Alaska, and Warrant Officer Christopher Fette is stationed at Godman Field, Fort Knox, Ky.

CYO Hallowe'en Party Was Delightful Affair

One of the nicest social affairs of the Hallowe'en season was the party and dance given by the Youth Societies of this community in the parish hall Wednesday evening.

It was a costume affair and guests registered fictitious names, suitable for their attire, in an attractive guest book. The hall was gaily decorated with corn stalks, owls, ghosts and goblins, witches, pumpkins and balloons. Novelty games and dances furnished diversion for the large attendance until eleven o'clock when the judging took place, after which all unmasked.

Prizes for individuals went to Miss Evelyn Wiesman, a gypsy, as the prettiest and Tony Hess as Uncle Rastus, as the funniest. Prizes for couples were awarded to Misses Clara Hensch and Rose Marie Endres, a society couple, as the prettiest; Miss Lucille Winner and Leo Haverkamp as the tackiest, and Misses Mildred and Celia Walterscheid, clowns, as the funniest. The latter couple entertained throughout the evening with humorous antics and stunts and side-splitting sign language. They did not speak and their identity remained a secret until they unmasked.

Judges were C. M. Walterscheid, Rev. Father Richard and Miss Olivia Stock. Music for the evening was provided by J. W. Fisher and his recording machine.

Refreshments of cookies, apples and punch were served at the close. Hostesses in charge of arrangements were Misses Rose Hensch, Geneva Gremminger and Mildred Walterscheid.

MUENSTER DONATES $100 TO FURNISH DAY ROOM AT CAMP

Citizens of Muenster have contributed $100 to furnish a day room for the 86th Infantry division at Camp Howze. The Civic League and Garden Club which raised the money by soliciting contributions from local societies, clubs and oil companies is now working toward the collection of a second $100 to furnish another room, Mrs. Joe Luke, president, announced Saturday.

Muenster's quota has been set at four rooms.

COMMERCIAL VEHICLE OWNERS CAN GET BLANKS

Commercial vehicle operators who did not receive their application blanks for certificates of necessity by mail may obtain the blanks from district offices of ODT, officials announced. All commercial motor vehicles must carry certificates by November 15.

ODT districts are located in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, El Paso, Lubbock, Amarillo, San Angelo, Austin and Waco in Texas. Oklahoma City and Tulsa, in Oklahoma.

Muenster Polls About One Third Normal Vote In General Election

Consistent with the general ratio of the county, Muenster polled only about a third of its usual strength in the general election Tuesday. Taking it for granted that a straight Democratic ticket would carry anyway, most of the qualified declined to take the trouble of going to the polls and some forgot because of the apparent lack of interest.

As was anticipated, both Muenster boxes voted overwhelmingly in favor of the Democratic nominees and opposed the amendments listed on the ballot.

We are proud of the P-TA and their excellent work in sponsoring the Halloween Carnival last Saturday night and many of us enjoyed going fishing, seeing the green monkey and the World's Smallest Dancers. The House of Horrors made our hair stand on end especially when we saw the murdered man on the floor. But the dear old Fortune-tellers soothed us all by telling us of our bright futures. The Carnival cleared a little over one hundred dollars, which is being put to use on the Hot Lunch Program.

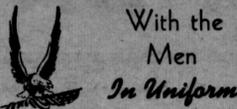

Hot lunches were started on Tuesday and without cost. The mothers have been helping to cook and serve the lunches this week, for we do not have our other cooks.

The Safety Club met on Wednesday, which was their last meeting. They were served refreshments of cookies, gum drops, and lemonade. After their meeting the organization of their next club was started.

Every Farm Machine Is Vital To VICTORY

This war presents a challenge to your resourcefulness. Production goals under the Food for Freedom program are high, and may go higher. On the other hand there are growing shortages of both farm labor and new labor-saving equipment.

The solution to this dilemma is plain: Make maximum use of every piece of equipment and machinery you now have. Every farm machine is vital to victory. Each farm machine, in a very real sense, is a war machine.

Have you made plans to overhaul, repair and utilize your machinery and equipment? You may be able to coax extra months of service out of discarded, broken-down tools, machines, attachments and other items.

Repair and maintenance of farm machinery and equipment are sound purposes for farm credit, for which we are glad to make loans. We invite you to come in and talk over your entire credit problem with us, now. Remember that credit, too, is a farm tool and we can show you how to use it efficiently. Let's work together for victory.

Interview With A Draftee

I fought and fought and I fought—but I had to go anyway. I was called in Class A. The next time I want to be in Class B. (Be here when they go and be here when they come back.) I remember when I registered—I went up to a desk and the man in charge was my milkman. He said, "What's your name?" I said, "Oh, you know my name." "What's your name," he barked. So I told him. He said "Are you an alien?" I said, "No, I feel fine." He asked me where I was born and I said, "Pittsburg." Then he said, "When did you first see the light of day?" I said, "When we moved to Oklahoma." He asked me how old I was, so I told him "Twenty-three the first day of September." He said "The first day of September you'll be in China, and that will be the last day of August."

Then I went to camp and I guess they didn't think I'd live long—the first fellow I saw wrote on my card "Flying Corpse." I went a little further and the same fellow said, "Look what the wind's blowing in." I said "Wind nothing—the draft's doing it." On the second morning they put these clothes on me. What an outfit! As soon as you're in it, you think you could fight anybody. They have two sizes—too small and too large. The pants were so tight I couldn't sit down. The shoes so big I turned around three times and they didn't even move. What a raincoat they gave me! It strained the rain. I passed an Officer all dressed up with a funny belt and all that stuff. He said, calling after me, "Didn't you notice my uniform when you passed?" "Yes," I said, "what are you kicking about look what they gave me."

One morning when it was 5 degrees below they called us out for an underwear inspection. Talk about scenery! Red flannels, BVD's all kinds. The unionists I had on would fit Tony Galento. The Lt. lined us up and told me to stand up. I said, "Sir, I am up but my underwear makes you think I'm sitting down." He got so mad he put me out digging a ditch. A little while later he passed me and said, "Don't throw that dirt up here." I said, "Where am I going to put it?" He said, "Dig another hole and put it there."

Three days later we sailed for Australia. Marching down the Pier, I had the worst luck. I had a sergeant who stuttered, and it took him so long to say "Halt" that 27 of us marched overboard. They pulled us out and lined us up on the pier. The Captain came by and said, "Fall in." I said, "I have just been in, Sir."

I was on the boat 12 days—seasick 12 days. Nothing going down and everything coming up. I leaned over the railing all the time. In the middle of one of my best leans, the Captain rushed up and said, "What company are you in?" I said, "I'm all by myself." He asked me if the Brigadier was up yet. I said, "If I swallowed it, it's up." Talk about your dumb people. I said to one of the fellows—"I guess we dropped the anchor."

Party At Swingler Home
 Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swingler entertained with a dinner and stag party in their home Tuesday evening honoring their nephew, Cpl. William Knabe of Camp Barkeley, the Norbert Temple who entered the army Thursday. The evening was enjoyed by a group of relatives and friends of the hosts.

A bowlegged man can always be thankful he wasn't born a girl.

"I knew they'd lose it," he replied. "It's been hanging out ever since we left New York."

Well, we landed and were immediately sent to the trenches. After three nights there the cannons started to roar and the shells started to pop. I was shaking with patriotism, I tried to hide behind a tree, but there weren't enough for the Officers. The Captain came around and said, "We go over the top at 5 o'clock." I said, "Captain, I'd like to have a word with you." He said, "Well, what is it?" I said, "I'd like to have a furlough." He said, "Havn't you any red blood in you?" I said, "Yes, but I don't want to see it." At 5 o'clock we went over the top and 10,000 Japs came at us. The way they looked at me you'd think I started the war. Our Captain yelled, "Fire at will," but I don't know anyone named Will, I guess the fellow behind me thought I was Will because he fired his gun and shot me in the excitement!

ful. So I helped myself to a double hand full, figuring that the owner would be only too glad to make this trifling contribution to army morale. They were delicious. Perfect for munching while waiting for a lift. But what a wallop they carried! This must be another case to support the old saying "you pay for everything you do."

My recovery was not only prompt, but so complete that I felt able to tackle a Chinese dinner later that evening. The experience has given me an appreciation of Oriental culinary art. Those dishes were tasty, not to be considered in a class with chop suey I have tried on other occasions. After the first taste a guy settles down to serious eating. He becomes a gourmet—which, I understand, is the two-by word for glutton. Incidentally, such a meal cannot be described simply as chop suey. That's only one of the dishes. There are as many varieties of food as you would find at a Bohemian wedding. Of course, I don't remember the names.

Sightseeing in Chinatown came next. The neighborhood is crowded with shops, all bubbling over with the Oriental spirit. Insects, dragons, Chinese dolls, red curtains, jade, and all that. Also a couple of wishing wells with a bushel of pennies scattered over the bottom.

Your Health

BY GEO. W. COX, M. D.
Texas State Health Officer

Austin, Texas—Because of the fact that a venereal disease is no respecter of persons, people of every class and color, rich and poor, educated and ignorant are numbered among the victims, asserts Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Venereal diseases, of which syphilis and gonorrhoea are the most common-place, are among the most vital health programs in the State of Texas today," Dr. Cox said. "This state has been chosen as the location for dozens of army camps, training fields, naval bases, shipbuilding yards, airplane construction plants, and other major defense industries. The resulting influx of workers and armed forces has emphasized the need for exerting every known means in the control of venereal diseases."

The State Health Officer pointed out that self-diagnosis and self-treatment are extremely dangerous and advised consulting a physician for determining definitely whether or not a venereal disease is present.

"Only a reputable physician can properly diagnose such a disease. The presence of gonorrhoea is not disclosed by a routine blood test, and the diagnosis of syphilis requires more than a blood examination," declared Dr. Cox. "Both syphilis and gonorrhoea are almost 100-per cent curable if discovered and treated in their very earliest stages. Thousands of death annually could be prevented," Dr. Cox said. "If sufficient attention were given to the early diagnosis and thorough treatment of syphilis. Delay reduces the chance of cure and in many cases is the direct cause of death."

NINE WAYS TO GET MORE "MILEAGE" OUT OF COFFEE

OPA officials have pointed out several ways in which consumers can get greater "mileage" out of their coffee.

- Here are some of the suggestions:
(1) Use fresh coffee, buy less each time, and more frequently. (2) Keep coffee in a tightly covered container. (3) Keep it in the refrigerator or some other cool place. It deteriorates less rapidly when cool. (4) Keep your coffee pot immaculately clean. (5) Have your coffee ground as fine as possible for the pot you intend to use. (6) Use accurate measurements instead of "heaping tablespoons." (7) Don't boil coffee. (8) Serve the coffee as soon as it is made. (9) Make only the exact amount you want to use.

Sightseeing in Chinatown came next. The neighborhood is crowded with shops, all bubbling over with the Oriental spirit. Insects, dragons, Chinese dolls, red curtains, jade, and all that. Also a couple of wishing wells with a bushel of pennies scattered over the bottom.

Another quaint district is the Mexican village on both sides of L.A.'s oldest street. The chief difference is that it had a distinct south of the border atmosphere and probably had the other bested in its variety of trinkets, arts, handicrafts, etc. A visit to either of the places is better than a carnival.

Of course I mustn't overlook a return visit to the rifle range. An afternoon leisurely spent at burning ammunition and watching for the mark on the target. It's fascinating, especially with guns that shoot exactly where they point. To a normal civilian this may seem to be queer past time for a soldier. The fact is that few soldiers, when in training, get all the shooting they want. Uncle Sam can't afford such luxuries.

The rest of the holiday can best be described by a simple phrase—a reunion with lots of feasting. As for most such events, words are superfluous. It's enough to say it leaves a vivid, pleasant memory.

Returning home was a rather poor finale. Thumbing luck was poor—even though it was better than the bus schedule. During the intervals between many short rides, I had occasion to learn that many a driver still doesn't help a stranded soldier. How can these guys pass up the men who are taking the rough end of their war? Are they ignorant or selfish?

THURSDAY, Oct. 29—More notable than anything else around here the past few days is the weather. Winter has paid us a visit. Desert or no desert, it can get cold out here. They say the thermometer was down to 39 this morning. Boy, that's chilly when you live in a tent and have no heater. Several of the men started the day in their overcoats. Which doesn't mean they dug them from the bottoms of barracks bags and shook out the moth balls. Lately overcoats have been quite extensively used as extra bed covers.

Even the extra cover doesn't seem to be adequate. Perhaps the trouble is due to the difficulty in keeping covers in place. Most of us double our blankets for greater warmth. Then the covers are too narrow and we are confronted with a problem of skidding them off to the side. Keeping covered is almost a balancing feat. If a person rolls over he has to manage just right or he'll soon discover a blast of chilly air moving in. Regardless of a few discomforts, Con enthusiastically recommends this desert climate. The boys thrive on it. Far as I have been able to discover, not a single cold in the outfit.
