A foreign affairs development which deserves the country's cheers is the proposed repeal of the five year old Clark Amendment which prohibits US aid to opposition forces in Marxist Angola. In effect, our country has been supporting the Soviet and Cuban backed government which has been trying for undisputed control of Angola as well as to establish Soviet influence in all of the southern part of the continent.

The US Senate has voted its disapproval of the amendment which was southern to the continent. A foreign affairs develop

The US Senate has voted its disapproval of the amendment by a lop sided vote of 66 to 29 and the House of Representatives still needs to turn down the amendment before freedom will have an opportunity to operate in that distressed country.

The present situation there is that Dr. Jonas Savimbi, the pro-Western leader of the guerrilla forces in Angola, is edging closer and closer to a possible victory over the Communist-controlled central government.

And that development would have related good effects. It would not only deal a major set-back to Soviet a major 'set-back to Soviet aims in Angola, but it would also severely damage the efforts of the pro-Communist SWAPO guerrillas who are using Angola as a base for trying to bring about a Communist takeover of Namibia. Savimbi in power, moreover, would be in a position to rid his country of the Soviets, East Germans and Cubans who, besides propping up the unwanted Angolan government, are also supporting the Soviet effort to take over the mineral rich areas of South Africa.

We hear so much nowadays about providing weapons to the free world to counter the weapons buildup by the Soviets, but we should remember that we can inflict serious and long lasting damage to the Soviet Cuban empire by furnishing Cuban empire by furnishing conventional aid to those who conventional aid to those who are willing to physically challenge the Reds. Preliminary estimates indicate the dams held back about 22,000 acre-feet of floodwater from tributaries draining into Upper Elm Fork of the Trinity River.

"Our engineers believe the rain could have been of the intensity that you can theoretically expect to occur on an average of once every 500 years," George C. Marks, state conservationist for the USDA-Soil Conservation Service (SCS) said.
"The rain, which fell on soil already saturated by six inches of rain the previous week, caused extensive erosion and flood damages in the watershed; but the damage would have been much more severe without those dams."

The upstream dams, built in the 1950's and 1960's, were designed and installed by the SCS. When this pilgrim read

When this pilgrim read these words of Jesus, thoughts of confusion began to run deep. Why would Jesus seemingly curse one of his very own creations. Further reading revealed that Jesus wasn't interested in cursing the tree as much as showing us what power faith in God possessed. He later consoled his bewildered followers saying "I tell you solemnly, if you have faith and do not doublt at all, not only will you do what I have done to the fig tree, but even if you say to this mountain, "Get up and throw yourself into the sea, it will be done. And if you have faith, everything you ask for in prayer you will receive."

Insight from a wise man and an understanding which came while pondering these scriptures caused me to make two deductions. The first was, we should pray more expectantly knowing that the Lord is hoping and waiting for us to call upon Him for aid even in the simplest functions of our daily living. The famous quote "God helps those who help themselves" is one of the greatest counterfeits that ever came down the pike and can cause nothing but stiffneck, psuedo-self reliant people. Our God is anxious to work miracles in our behalf even if what we ask for may seem petty. Jesus is not interested in the caliber of miracles He's asked to work, but the amount of glory we give to His Father in return. Why not start with a small thing? The rest will come later. Go ahead ask!

The second deduction acknowledges that we should use positive, faith-

GOVERNOR'S REPORT by William P. Clements Jr.

Texans will vote on seven more proposed changes in their State Constitution November 3.

As Governor, I support them. Space does not permit detailed arguments here in favor of all seven, but at least three are of such commanding importance as to warrant elaboration.

Amendment A creates a State Water Trust Fund

Amendment 4 creates a State Water Trust Fund. Contrary to some deliberately misleading propaganda, this is not a proposal designed to benefit some part of the State over others. Neither is it hastily-planned or ill-conceived, as opponents have implied falsely.

Within less than two decades, nearly all parts of this great State must have additional sources of water to in-

within less than two decades, nearly all parts of this great State must have additional sources of water to insure our continued growth and prosperity and expanded opportunities for future generations of Texans.

Amendment 4 will set aside half of surplus State revenues, which otherwise would be eaten up by current spending demands, to build the kind of water projects adequate to needs of a population exceeding 22 million people within just two decades. The amendment also allows use of the State's credit to guarantee local water project bonds, creates a state bond retirement program and increases interest rates to make authorized, but unissued, state bonds marketable.

This, in effect, is goal-oriented planning at its best and a positive form of tax relief. It assures excess public revenues are set aside and saved for a known, identifiable need instead of 'squandered in the usual spendeverything-now-cry-later budget cycle.

In an effort to curb residential tax increases and head off so-called homeowners' "tax revolts," Amendment 6 would authorize local jurisdictions to exempt a percentage of the market value of residence homesteads. The amendment would also allow the Legislature to change some current property tax administrative procedures, including the "truth in taxation" notice requirement. I believe the amendment would make it easier for those on low or fixed incomes to buy and keep a home.

It is worth mentioning that other amendments to be voted on November 3 would authorize an additional $250 million in Veterans Land Bonds at marketable interest rates; authorize issuing patents for school lands held in good faith for a half century; make property tax relief available to encourage redevelopment or improvement of blighted areas; and include livestock and poultry with farm products exempt from taxation.

Among the most important of all, Amendment 3 provides significant budget execution authority subject to limitations imposed by law. I campaigned for a similar measure two years ago, but misunderstanding due

One of the most pervasive problems facing American society today is crime. It takes an enormous toll on its victims, of course. But it affects all of us indirectly.

When you buy an item in the store, you pay more to make up for the cost of shoplifting and security. When you pay your taxes, you pay for your city's best effort to prevent crime. Worse, you pay a price for crime in fear.

Crime has become an increasing problem. Staffstics indicate that within any given 30-minute period, one person will be murdered, nine women will be raped, 67 will be robbed. 97 assaulted, and 390 families the victim of

But the American people have had enough. A recent poll showed almost half of the respondents named crime as the most important problem confronting their area. This was true both in a large eastern state and in a booming Sun Belt city. Even a relatively trouble-free college community found 55 percent of its voters declaring that establishing law and order was the single-most important issue facing their local government. their local government.

Solving the growing crime problem won't be easy or quick. But there are some steps we can take.

A bipartisan U.S. Attorney General's Task Force has made a number of recommendations to curb the rate of crime and to address some of the problems we have in prosecuting successfully those guilty of crime.

For instance, one recommendation would allow courts to deny bail to a defendant who, after careful safesying to prevent abuse had been determined to be judges to order criminals to make financial restitution to their victims

Criminal procedure would be modified to protect rights of citizens charged with crimes, but to keep these rules from shielding the guilty.

Since space shortages in correctional facilities are one or inhibiting efforts to keep criminals off the streets, the task force recommended a number of steps to assist state and local governments to provide adequate facilities. Exchange of criminal history information among jurisdictions also should be improved, the task force

The task force also dealt with narcotics, guns, arson, tax cases, sentencing and parole, apprehension of fugitives, training of state and local personnel and juvenile

Together, the task force recommendations represent a comprehensive and thoughtful package which will be considered carefully in Congress. The American people are going to insist that their representatives take steps to make their cities, their streets, and their homes safe. Government -- national, state and local -- must have no responsibility more important than that.

OPEC AND LIVING STANDARDS There can be little doubt that the OPEC oil cartel has played a very important part in the lowering of living standards of the American people. This same effect has been felt by all nations not self-sufficient in petroleum.

nations not self-sufficient in petroleum.

As Dr. Hans Sennholz wrote: "The net effect was a massive shift of income and wealth from the industrial countries to oil-producing countries."

For quite some time it has been the practice of politicians in Washington to blame high oil prices, caused by the OPEC cartel, for our escalating inflation. On the surface that may appear to be correct.

For an eight-year period prior to the 1973-74 Arab oil embargo, which launched price escalation, the U.S. inflation rate was an average 3.9 percent a year. For the eight-year period since, 1973-1980, the inflation rate has averaged 9.3 percent annually.

Dr. Sennholz points out, "the ultimate impact of the oil price increase depends on the reaction of individual governments. In countries that refrain from deficit spending and monetary expansion, there is little or no inflationary impact at all. Increased spending by consumers on petroleum products necessarily leads, because of limited incomes, to reduced spending on other goods and to lower prices. "He points out that people in other countries which did not inflate "suffered losses in income and wealth as a result of rising petroleum prices. But many other prices fell as other spending declined."

On the other hand, here in the U.S. the general price level escalated. The consumer and producer price indexs which measure this level, of course provide us with the measurement of the inflation rate.

The cause of this was a series of massive annual federal budget deficits brought about by the huge increases in spending required to finance the so-called "Great Society" welfare state and not offset by increased taxation. Dr. Sennholz explains:

"... massive federal deficits were monetized, that is, the federal debt was used to increase currency in circulation. This was carried out essentially by the purchase of Treasury obligations by the Federal Reserve System, thus releasing Federal Reserve notes into

"The new photo ID system is principally designed to prevent the issuing of duplicate benefits," Block said. "For example, if a food stamp authorization card is stolen from the mail, the photo ID requirement can prevent an ineligible person from using the authorization card to obtain food stamps illegally. By recording and cross-checking ID numbers, the new system will discourage individuals from attempting to get a double allotment of food stamps by reporting their first authorization card lost or stolen and requesting a second."

"Individuals caught defrauding the government in this program are subject to both criminal and civil penalties. Further, under new legislation recently passed, individuals would be required to pay back any fraudulent benefits received by having future benefits reduced," Block said.

The DPS director predicted that more Texans will obtain the required liability coverage when the new law goes into effect.

"Current figures show that approximately 74 percent of the drivers involved in accidents carry liability insurance," Adams said. "This indicates that a substantial number of people must secure the required coverage or face the possibility of heavy fines and loss of driving privileges."

Out-of-state, government-owned and self-insured vehicles are exempt from the insurance requirements of the new law. However, drivers of self-insured vehicles will be asked by DPS officers to produce evidence of self-insurance at accident scenes and traffic stops.

In case blood remains on hand longer than the recommended storage period, the surplus is processed into plasma and other useful products. In case of extra heavy demand because of disaster or other emergency, the shortage is made up by dealing with commercial blood banks.

The quota of a blood collection is usually about equal to the quantity used from one collection to another. However goals are set on capability rather than use. The normal collection here is about 100 pints. In a specially good response in March, 1981, the community went over the top in a big way for a total of 140 pints. This was in response to an abnormally high need of blood for several weeks before the collection.

Donors are reminded that the collection schedule has both rush and slack periods. Normally a person can arrange for less delay by calling 759-2271 for an appointment.

PSYCHOLOGY

Thank You

How do we adequately say "Thank You?" How can mere words convey our family's feeling of appreciation. How do we repay your many favors in the past and now this overwhelming offering of help and concern shown to us during the dark flood hours and all day Tuesday and the days following? How could anyone live without friends and relatives?

All of you will be in our daily prayers as we try to repay you and say "Thank You." May God reward you and carry you in the palm of His Hand.

When thanking large numbers, there is always the risk or possibility of missing someone who truly deserves mention. It is our intention to thank each of you as soon as we can, and to thank the groups, teams, crews, civic organizations and service clubs and the many, many individuals who came to help. How do we adequately say "Thank You?"

Dan Luke and children Ramon, Damian, Cheryl, Benji and Gregg.

Muchster's game at tragedy of the season. The Hornets lost it 7-6 after dominating the statistics with lop sided figures, such as 272 to 76 in total yardage and 14 to 5 in first downs.

But another stat reveals the sad fact that Muenster had 7 turnovers while their hosts had only 2. That's right, the Hornets lost possession 5 times on fumbles and twice on interceptions whereas the Panthers lost on 2 fumbles.

As regards the 8-A North Zone race, the win puts Paradise in front with 2-0 whereas Alvord is 1-0-1, Muenster's 1-1 and Era is 0-1-1. Alvord and Era tied at 22-22 last week. Others of the loop are Saint Jo and Perrin, each at 0-2.

Muenster fumbleitis started with the opening kickoff, giving Paradise a setup on the 23, and five plays later Lowery cashed in the opportunity with a 1 yard plunge. Holt's kick upped the score to 7-0 with the clock reading 9:53.

For moments it seemed there was more to come. Promptly after kickoff MHS fumbled again and the Panthers were in charge on the 35. Next play a pass interference ruling gave them the ball at the 4. But then it was Muenster's turn to get a break. Paradise fumbled and Muenster recovered on on the Panther 29.

Four plays later the hosts had to punt, and after a good run back and a late hit penalty the Hornets had another chance from 30 yards out. David Flusche made half the distance in one run and three plays later the opportunity fizzled in another turn-over. Landers intercepted on the 1 yard line.

Another futile effort came shortly after. Eight plays gained 33 to the Panther 18, but the next series fell short by 2 yards and Paradise took possession on the 10.

Though time was running out of the first half, the Hornets still had time to miss another opportunity. After a Paradise punt they gained 14 to the 21 where Dale Swirczynski tried a field goal as the last play of the first half. It was blocked. During the first half Muenster made 8 first downs but failed to score. Paradise made two as the game opened and had 7 points.

The hosts started the second half with another first down and kicked on the next series. And three plays later David Flusche broke away and barely won a 53 yard foot race with a Paradise defender. Flusche easily rates as the MVP of the contest. His total yardage was 202 on 37 carries, including the TD.

Shortly after the Hornets score they started moving again but lost possession at midfield on another fumble. Then came a defensive struggle in which each team had to kick twice and each lost once on a fourth down try.

And finally Muenster And finally Muenster missed another opportunity just before the game ended. Following a Panther punt it had 88 yards to go in 1:33 minutes. Four runs and two passes advanced to midfield where time was down to I deconds and an intercentian seconds and an interception put an end to the contest on

Hornets host Perrin Friday Era and Alvord were tying 22-22 and Saint Jo was nudging Perrin 10-7. So standings are Paradise 2-0-0, Alvord 1-0-1, Muenster 1-1-0, Saint Jo 1-1-0 Era 0-1-1, Perrin 0-2-0.

The game will be different Friday night as the Muenster Hornets take on the Perrin Pirates on the MHS field, and that's a promise. Coach Peters and his boys are determined that there will not be another fiasco of turnovers spoiling a lot of good solid football.

This was the kind of freak situation that happens sometimes to every team, according to Coach Peters. "The team played hard and well, but the turnovers demolished them."

Friday night Peters is counting on another good effort, but without the frustrations. And, considering Perrin's record to date, he expects to dominate to the extent of being able to let youngsters have a good part of the action. Since Junior Varsity will not have a game this week all of them will be on the sideline itching to get in.

Last Friday's 8-A action put Paradise in the lead for the north zone title. While it was winning 7-6 over MHS,

WHAT TO DO WHEN THE STORM ENDS

A loss, even minor, caused by a fire or storm is shocking. You'll need to depend on friends and relatives to help you clean up and adjust emotionally, says Dorothy Blackwell, oSU extension home management specialist.

During a "Little Britches Rodeo" sponsored by the Whitesboro Riding Club on October 9-10, Dalas won the title of "All Around cowboy." In competition with over 100, he placed first in goat tying (time 18 seconds); second in barrel racing and third in the flag race and placed in brone riding, to qualify for the title. Several months ago he was second place winner in a similar rodeo, when he won a belt buckle.

Dalas started riding his horse, a Shetland named Foxy, this past summer when he became active in the play days sponsored by the Gainesville Riding Club on Friday nights. He won one trophy in the summer events. He is seven years old and a second grader in the Whitesboro School.

Next score was delayed only as long as needed for SH to make three plays and kick on the fourth. The punt was returned 5 yards to the Tiger 30, and one play from there did it. Hood passed to Claybrook who tossed a lateral to Joiner, who went all the way. So the score was 18-0 at 5:26.

The outlook is better for the Tigers this week. After meeting with powerhouses through most of the season they feel like Friday night's opponents should be more of their caliber.
