

HIGHWAY MEN FINISH WORK ON ROCK BASE

Crusher, Shovel, Trucks and Crews Moved to Job At Muleshoe

Highway 5 in Cooke County now awaits its finishing touches. At 4:30 Monday afternoon the giant crusher at the quarry behind the Bright Gable Inn threw its last stone and workmen promptly went into action with their wrenches to dismember it for transportation to the next road job at Muleshoe.

That same evening the entire machine and the power shovel were moved to the Katy tracks where five flat cars awaited and were loaded the following day. The office building, several trucks and other equipment had been sent out before.

The greater number of the McKinney workers are being transferred with the bulk of the equipment but several will remain here to continue grader work and other jobs included in the contract. Such tasks are constructing the subdrains in some places and grass retrains in others to keep drainage under control. At the same time traffic must be permitted to pack the road for a specified time so that any imperfections can be discovered and remedied before applying the topping.

No date was mentioned for the topping but according to previous reports all the base must be subjected to a traffic test of from four to six weeks before the final course can be applied. With a small section just completed, present indications are that topping will not begin before April 1.

After the road is in proper condition the top can be applied any time the temperature is above 50 degrees.

CHARLES P. PRIDDY ASKS RE-ELECTION AS COUNTY CLERK

County Clerk Charles P. Priddy has authorized The Enterprise to announce his candidacy for re-election in the Democratic primary next July 23, and he solicits the votes and support of the citizens of Cooke county.

Mr. Priddy has an enviable record for his service as county clerk in the past and his many friends feel that this record entitles him to re-election. He has always served in that capacity with efficiency, and in making his campaign for re-election, Mr. Priddy pledges himself to continue to serve the people to the best of his ability.

Mr. Priddy is one of Cooke county's pioneer citizens and is held in high esteem by all who know him. For 40 years he was engaged in the dry goods business and during that time he made the acquaintance and subsequent friendship of thousands of Cooke county citizens.

Friends of Mr. Priddy point out that he is always on the job and ready to give prompt and courteous assistance to any person who has occasion to visit his office. He has surrounded himself with a competent and able office force who work under his direct supervision and the affairs of his office are conducted in an economical manner.

Mr. Priddy has resided here for 50 years and has reared and educated a splendid family.

He feels that he cannot administer the duties of his office this year and spend much time campaigning for re-election, but he hopes to see as many of the voters as possible and asks all of them to give him consideration and support him at the polls next July.

LATIN LETTER FROM UNKNOWN RECEIVED BY PAROCHIAL GIRL

Miss Dorothy Mae Luke wasn't baffled but she was somewhat perplexed last week when she received an all Latin letter from an unknown friend who happens to be a friend of her uncle, Rev. Meinrad Koester of Collegeville, Ind. Although reading the missive was very much like a homework assignment, Miss Luke enjoyed the adventure of interpreting it—with a little assistance, it is suspected, from an enclosed translation.

Sister Terrecina explains that the letter was inspired, or provoked, by the recent appearance of an excerpt from Miss Luke's letter of appreciation to "Auxilium Latinum" in that publication.

Most distressing to Miss Luke now is the fact that the letter is a challenge to her to reply in the same lingo.

FUNERAL FOR MRS. BENGFORT HELD IN LINDSAY TUESDAY

Lindsay, March 2—Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Bengfort who died at her home in Lindsay early Monday morning were held from St. Peter's Church, Tuesday morning following a high mass of requiem at 8:30 o'clock.

The Rev. Father Bonaventure officiated at the services and the Geo. Carroll and Son Funeral Home of Gainesville directed the burial in St. Peter's cemetery.

Six grandsons of the deceased, Joe Fleitman, John F. Zimmerman, Hugo Bengfort, Raymond Bengfort, Lawrence Zimmerman and Florence J. Bengfort were the pall bearers.

Mrs. Bengfort was born at Attendorf Westphalen in Germany on May 8, 1860. At the age of eight she came to America with her parents, who settled at Estina, Iowa in 1868. In 1889 she left Iowa and came to Texas with her husband, John Bengfort, whom she had married in June 1878. The young couple, imbued with the pioneer spirit of their parents, followed them and scores of families who migrated to the newly opened colony of Lindsay just six years after it was founded by the Flusche Brothers and settled on the Gery farm about 5 miles north of Lindsay. Here their children were born and reared and here the couple prospered. After the death of her husband, Mrs. Bengfort continued to live on the old homestead now operated by her son Joe.

Because of her advanced age Mrs. Bengfort left the old home several years ago and built a small home in Lindsay just one block from St. Peter's church where daily she made her visits, until 2-12 months ago when an attack of flu sent her to bed. Complications set in and Mother Bengfort became gradually weaker until Monday when, surrounded by her children, she died at 12:30 a. m.

She is mourned by four children: John, Joe, and Ben Bengfort and Mrs. Katie Zimmerman all of Lindsay; one sister, Mrs. Joe Pulte of Gainesville; three brothers, Barney and Joe Hundt of Lindsay and Ferdinand Hundt of Valley View; twenty-six grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Out of town people attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rauschuber of Valley View, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Flusche, Joe Fischer and daughter, Ida, and John Bayer of Muenster.

MUENSTER KNIGHTS INVITED TO ATTEND EVENT AT DENISON

The Muenster Knights of Columbus council is one of the several invited to attend Founder's Day Celebration at Denison on Sunday March 13. The event is sponsored by the Denison Council for the entire district, a message from District Deputy Francis J. Mooney advises.

J. M. Weinzapfel as state treasurer of the order has been invited to appear as one of the principal speakers. State Deputy C. K. Walsh is another state officer invited to speak.

The official program begins with Mass and Communion at 8 o'clock in St. Patrick's church followed by a group breakfast in the K of C hall at 8:45 o'clock. At 9:30 addresses will be given by outstanding K of C officers. The program at that time will be broadcast over the Denison radio station.

CITY'S POPULATION FALLS IN PRESENT SERIES OF CHANGES

A general tendency to move has been evident this week. Along with the many R. W. McKinney Company employees who departed for their new job at Muleshoe were several others who, by odd co-incidence, decided to move at the same time.

Mrs. L. W. Flusche left Monday to join Mr. Flusche at Decatur. Their home has since been occupied by Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Frost, and their former home was rented by a Mr. Conrad, an employe of Kewanee Oil Company at Bulcher.

Going to Pilot Point J. P. Flusche and Frank Herr both created vacancies but no occupant has yet been named for either of their homes. Neither has an occupant been named for the house vacated by Mrs. John Fuhrbach when moving to Amarillo.

100,000 POUNDS OF CHEESE

The Muenster Cheese factory started this month with 100,000 pounds of cheese on hand and shipped out almost half of it the first two days. Denison and Fort Worth each received two capacity loads of regular cheese and Vernon received one. Denison received also a capacity load of Cheddar cheese. The daily production at the plant now averages about 4,000 pounds.

ARRESTED IN ALLEGED SPY PLOT

NEW YORK CITY.—Gunther Gustave Rumrich (left), former United States Army Sergeant and an alleged army deserter; and Johanna Hoffmann of Dresden, Germany, a hair-dresser on the transatlantic liner Europa, whom J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced were under arrest in alleged plot to sell United States Army and Navy secrets.

MUENSTER BOWS TO PLAINVIEW IN AAU TOURNEY SEMIFINAL

The Sumacs returned from the A. A. U. state tournament at Munday after having made a credible showing by defeating their first opponent, Sunset, Knox County champions, 26-17 and advance to the second round of play.

Plainview, which established itself by winning the Big 5 championship, eliminated Muenster by using their excessive weight and height to out score the Sumacs, 31-22.

Since Sunset won the consolation and Plainview advanced to the finals, coaches and spectators conceded that the Blue and Gold warriors rated third among the selected teams.

The Quail team, representing the largest consolidated school in Texas, won the State A. A. U. championship. It entered the tournament a favorite because of its fine record winning 105 out of 118 games played the past two seasons; and 10 out of 13 tournaments entered.

Bud Hoehn established himself at the A. A. U. meet by winning one of 6 medals awarded. Bud got the largest ovation of the evening when he was awarded the best all-around sportsmanship medal.

PARISH WILL HELP CITY BEAR COST OF WATERING CEMETERY

The success of the cemetery improvement project was practically assured Monday when Father Frowin Koardt pastor of the parish, and M. J. Endres, mayor and city water commissioner, agreed that the expense of watering the cemetery would be shared equally by the parish and the city.

The proposal was carried to the Rev. pastor in accordance with a decision in the February city council meeting that the city would meet the parish half way in this community undertaking. The proposal originated with the cemetery committee of the Ladies Civic League which was not financially able to care for maintenance after spending its funds on trees and shrubs.

KRAFT ENGINEER TO SUBMIT PLANS FOR DRYING EQUIPMENT

Preparing for a whey condensing system in the cheese factory officials of the Farmers' Marketing Association consulted last Friday and Saturday with an engineer of Kraft Phenix Corporation of Chicago, relative to plant changes necessary to carry on the new process here. The man is a specialist on the subject of whey drying.

Most of the visitor's time was spent in inspecting the plant. His recommendations for changes will be submitted in the form of a report soon after his return to Chicago.

According to a statement from R. J. Hellman, plant manager, efforts are being made to hasten the installation of equipment. It is hoped that very little if any whey will be discarded in the future. The approaching warm weather, which will cause stronger odors from the whey, is another inducement to hurry.

The plant's new, large capacity boiler will be brought in about March 15. Installing it and other equipment will begin as soon as possible.

AUCTION INTEREST REACHES NEW HIGH IN SATURDAY EVENT

After last Saturday's sale, John Bayer is more confident than ever that his community auction will develop into an outstanding trading event that will bring greater profit to himself and increased business to the merchants. People from places as far distant as Ringgold and Forestburg were there to join a larger crowd of patrons from Muenster and neighboring communities.

R. W. Rogers, veteran auctioneer of Ardmore, again served as master of ceremonies while livestock, implements, household goods, and an array of other items were sold to the highest bidders. As in the previous sale several things were taken from the stock of local merchants.

JOHN ATCHISON ENTERS RACE FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

From John Atchison, well known attorney of Gainesville, the Enterprise receives authority to announce his candidacy for Cooke county attorney subject to the action of the Democratic primary on July 23.

Mr. Atchison has been well known in Gainesville since his childhood. He was reared there and, after completing a law course at the University of Texas, returned to open his office. Since that time he has won the respect of an ever increasing number of friends both in Gainesville and the county at large through a creditable practice of his profession.

These friends are confident that Mr. Atchison will make Cooke county a capable, aggressive and efficient county attorney, and recommend him to every citizen of the county.

Mr. Atchison's statement to voters is as follows:

Citizens of Cooke County: On July 23rd you will again select a man to act as your county attorney for a two year term. I am again applying for that job. My legal training and experience qualifies me to do the work. If elected, I will never forget that the county attorney is a servant of the people. I will try cases that should be tried. I will be honest. I will not be burdened down with obligations and will not have any outside connections. I am grateful for the vote I received two years ago, and I assure you that I will deeply appreciate your confidence and your support in the coming election.

JOHN ATCHISON.

MORE CURBS BEING BUILT ON CHURCH AND MAIN STREETS

With the curbs completed on the west side of Rudy Hellman's and John Bayer's property, the curb constructing crew, under the direction of Paul and C. M. Walterscheid turned their attention Tuesday to a curb in front of the hatchery.

At that time Mr. Walterscheid stated that the next jobs would be along the north side of John Bayer's and Mrs. Lena Streng's lots, then the south side of the church lot.

PLAN OPENING DAY

To introduce themselves in their newly chosen community J. P. Flusche and Frank Herr are planning an opening day celebration at Pilot Point. Baby chicks will be the featured items of the event. Special attractions will be prizes for guessing contests, etc.

End of Week Set as Dead Line For Applications In Electrification Survey

KNIGHTS WILL HAVE MEETING EACH WEEK
DURING HOLY SEASON

Every Wednesday during Lent will be meeting night for the Knights of Columbus, members of the council decided at the regular meeting Wednesday night, March 2. Father Francis Zimmerman, program director of all meetings, which, according to present plans will be conducted as round table discussions, contests, lectures, debates, questions and answers, or any other way considered an interesting and effective means of imparting general information on religious subjects. The meetings are to serve as a Knight's study club course.

Another subject discussed was the construction of wash rooms and the installation of toilets in the K of C hall. A committee appointed by Grand Knight Hennigan is expected to consider the problem at an early special meeting.

TWO BUY INTEREST IN MUENSTER MILL, NEW STORE OPENED

Frank Herr, J. P. Flusche At Pilot Point, Roy
Endres Here

R. R. Endres, Frank Herr and J. P. Flusche are the joint owners of the Muenster Milling Company. On Friday of last week the trio completed negotiations whereby J. P. Flusche accepted the other two as partners in the business which was expanded to include a store at Pilot Point.

Mr. Endres will remain in Muenster as manager of the local mill and the other two will be in charge of the Pilot Point business. Early Tuesday Frank Herr was preparing for a trip to Pilot Point in order to find a satisfactory location. At that time he expressed his intention of moving as soon as possible. Locating a satisfactory place during the week-end, Mr. Flusche moved Monday.

The business at Pilot Point, which will be known as the "Red Chain Feed Company," will, for the time being, consist of only an office and warehouse. Its stock will include ground feeds from the Muenster Mill until it is found practicable to install grinding equipment. Besides selling feed retail and wholesale it will buy grain and produce. During the hatching season it also sells baby chicks, which are to be supplied by the Muenster Hatchery. Since Pilot Point now has no hatchery the partners expect a good chick business.

At Muenster the mill will continue its feed and flour dealership, custom grinding and grain buying and will add a produce department.

A new Ford one ton pickup truck delivered Tuesday by Herr Motor Company, is to be used for delivery service at Pilot Point as well as to transport merchandise between the two stores.

WILDCAT WELL ON VOTH FARM DRAWS NEW OIL INTEREST

The eyes of property owners south of Muenster, and of lease buyers also, are diverted to the new wildcat begun Monday on Barney Voth's place. It is being drilled with a spudder and the agreed depth is 1800 feet. Whitfield, Pearson and Grimes of Oklahoma City are the contractors.

Out at the busy corner activity continues at a steady fast gait as Kingery and Frost are working on their number 5 Johnson. Also in progress there is the construction of a home to be used by Kingery and Frost's pumper, a Mr. Dunn, and his family.

Across the property line but in the same pool Kingery is drilling a contract well for Eirdwell on the Flusche lease. At the same time Pace and McClure are drilling their No. 4 Winstead and Mudge is drilling No. 22 Johnson, its third well in the pool. To-date ten producers have been struck, all of them on a par with the Kingery and Frost discovery well.

On Friday of last week Couch and the Texas Company both started offsets, on the Andress and Treubench leases respectively, to the 120 barrel well struck by Texas on Treubench a short time ago.

MORE THAN 400 NAMES

Work on Map of Revised
Project to Begin
Next Week

More than 400 names are now included on Muenster's rural electrification survey, J. W. Hess, chairman of the Muenster project stated Wednesday, and a last hard drive is now in force to bring in as many additional prospects as possible by the end of this week.

Saturday has been set as the deadline for soliciting consumers on the proposed line, Mr. Hess and Raymond Hampel, assistant State REA Engineer decided early this week. At that time all applications must be in so that work on the revised map can begin.

Early next week Mr. Hampel stated, it is his intention to begin driving over the project and marking each prospect on the map. The farmer whose name is not submitted at that time cannot be shown on the map.

Activity of the local REA committee continued intensively and extensively during the past week. After call meetings at Bulcher and Marysville a group spent last Thursday night with people in the Valley Creek school, Friday night at Hood and Saturday at Forstburg. Returning from Forestburg the delegation called on people in Prairie Point and Rosston. Group meetings this week have been held in the Downard and Spring creek schools between Valley View and Gainesville and a general community meeting for Muenster is scheduled for Thursday night.

The purpose of Thursday's meeting, Mr. Hess explained, is to begin a final intensive drive to get a signature from every possible prospect. Since the construction of any particular line will depend upon its number of consumers every effort is being made to reach every home. The minimum requirement is an average of 3 consumers per mile of line.

Encouraging response from the people of Hood, Forstburg and Bulcher seems to point toward approval in those localities. Many of the applications, however, will have to be rejected because a line reaching them would not have a sufficiently large number of consumers. No estimate has been given as to the total number of miles needed to reach all applicants now on file.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN AT BOWIE FOUND ON HIGHWAY NEAR HERE

An old model Roosevelt sedan which had been stolen at Bowie early on the morning of February 15 was turned back to the owner last Friday, February 25 by Constable Frank Hoedebeck. Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bowden received the car and drove it back for E. W. Whitley, the owner.

According to a statement from Mr. Hoedebeck no clue as to the identity of the thief, or thieves, had been uncovered during his inquiry of more than a week. The car was discovered abandoned on the Highway 5 detour near Joseph Flusche's home on February 16 with one flat tire and an empty gasoline tank. Apparently Mr. Hoedebeck said, the culprits drove it as far as possible and then left it.

Reports from Bowie are that the machine had been stolen between midnight and sunup. The same night and only a few doors away a key had been broken in the ignition switch of a Chevrolet, an offense thought to be the work of the same thieves.

14 ENTER NATIONAL LATIN CONTEST AT PAROCHIAL SCHOOL

Fourteen students of Sacred Heart High School, six in the 9th grade and eight in the 10th grade are entered in a national Latin contest, Sister Terrecina, Latin instructor of the school revealed this week. The contest is being sponsored by Dr. Albert E. Wordley of New York, publisher of "Auxilium Latinum," a magazine published partly in the Latin language.

Sister Terrecina and her charges are working feverishly in an effort to duplicate her success of last year when one of her girl pupils at Jonesboro, Ark., won first award for first year students.

The contest has four divisions, one for each of the four years of high school Latin.

IT TAKES CO-OPERATION

A remark overheard a few days ago: "The only thing that will keep Muenster from getting rural electrification is an official decision to discontinue REA loans."

That is the kind of confidence that leads to success and apparently it is to be found in every one of the dozen or so men who have been working feverishly to take this community and several others out of the dark.

Still there is one idea that must be thoroughly impressed on every mind. This project requires more than the hard work of a few, it requires the co-operation and encouragement of every person desiring electricity.

Almost everyone now understands that the REA committee had been requested to revise its application because the 178 signers constituted a project not considered likely to pay itself out. No official action was taken because no allotments were available, but it is thought that an approval would not have been forthcoming under existing conditions. Before July 1, when more REA funds will be available, Muenster's revised project will await approval.

Almost everyone is hopeful of receiving the loan which will permit constructing the line. On those people we wish to impress the importance of seeing that no possible customer is overlooked. To have men here and there decline can result in having an entire branch of the line eliminated, and to have several branches eliminated may jeopardize the chance of the entire project.

It must be remembered that the Federal Government requires an average of three consumers per mile. A hundred per cent acceptance would not exceed that average by a great deal. Hence it is extremely important that every prospect be included on the survey. While ten or twelve men are working day after day for no compensation whatever, surely others should be willing to spend a few minutes in persuading friends and neighbors to "get in line." The proposed company is a co-operative. By co-operation it can be put over in a big way.

There is every reasonable assurance that there will be a line at Muenster but whether it will extend to more remote homes depends entirely upon the feasibility of building lines to them. The solution of that problem will be favorable in localities where people co-operate.

LENTEN REGULATIONS

In keeping with an ecclesiastical custom that has been in effect for centuries, a large percentage of Muenster's population was at church Wednesday morning to begin the penitential season of Lent with the words "Remember, man, that thou art dust, and to dust thou shalt return."

Representing the short span of sorrowful incidents leading up to the Savior's death, the time in which He atoned for the sins of mankind, Lent should be to Christians also a time for atonement and penance so that when death comes to them, they will be worthy of the salvation merited by Divine Sacrifice. Proper observance of Lent is, moreover, a mark of respectful gratitude to Christ for his generous kindness in returning man to his Divine heritage.

To assist men in observing Lent properly the Church issues a regulation that every adult not engaged in strenuous work fast on all days except Sunday. A lax interpretation giving people the benefit of a doubt has led to a quite general disregard of the regulation. Certainly there is nothing to accuse those people but their own conscience, they can do as they please and apparently "get by with it," but they bring on themselves effects detrimental to both spiritual and physical welfare.

The wisdom of the ages is contained in the ecclesiastical regulations for Lent. Ancient philosophers advised that an effective method of developing will power and personality is to "do something every day you do not like to do." People who have tried it will agree that forcing one's self to do unpleasant things will strengthen the will. Under the circumstances it is undeniable that refraining from eating has a desirable effect—few exercises of will power could be more rigid.

Medical men agree with philosophers on the subject of fasting. They tell us that over-nourishment causes far more physical ailments than under-nourishment. Some go so far as to say that after eating a person should still be hungry enough to enjoy a crust of bread—without butter or jam, if you please.

The Church begins Lent with a reminder of death and at the same time prescribes a system to make life longer and more useful. As far as we mortals are concerned, the season could well be extended to include the full year. To be mindful of the last day and at the same time derive spiritual and physical benefit would be good for us all.

HOW "BUCKET SHOP" SELLS PHONY STOCK

WASHINGTON.—Do you know what the salesman of worthless securities calls his customers?

If you are a woman separated from her money, for example, the salesman would tell his colleagues he had succeeded in "making a shawl touch."

This was among several expressions unearthed by the Securities and Exchange Commission in its efforts to stamp out sales of "cat and dog" securities through "bucket shops."

The bucket shop, itself, from which high-pressure sales of worthless stocks and bonds are sold, has branch offices known as "wipe-out joints."

"A mooch" is the prospective customer. A new salesman is known as a "coxeey" and wins his laurels by working on prospects who did fall for the "openers line."

"The opener" is the man who makes the first telephone call and builds good faith by selling a few shares of a good security.

Then the "loader" enters the picture. His job is to switch the "mooch" to another good stock.

Enter the "reloader" whose task is to close in on the prospect by switching the "mooch" from the good stock into a "dog" or worthless stock on a part-payment basis.

The price of the "dog" is then artificially raised. When enough people have bought the issue at high prices, the operators "pull the plug" and the securities drop until the customer's stake has been wiped out.

On January 16, 1936 a switch exploded in the New York Edison Company of New York City and paralyzed traffic. 60,000 persons were unable to go home. The farmer of tomorrow will be as dependent on Electricity as the city man of today.

What Others Have to Say--

TRAFFIC DEATHS GO ON UP

The death toll from highway accidents continues to mount, according to figures just released by the National Safety Council. Last year 33,700 persons were killed in car accidents, a gain of four per cent over 1936.

Although the death list continues to mount, there is some slight reassurance in that deaths did not climb as much as traffic. There was an increase of nine per cent in traffic while the death toll was mounting four per cent.

It is further reassuring that the toll and the percentage of increase in November and December were materially less than during other months of the year, signifying, we hope that the safety campaigns being waged by organizations and publications throughout the country is having some effect.

But regardless of "campaigns," the problem of reducing accidents is left up to the individual car driver. It all gets down to individual cases—to you and your next-door neighbor. If you and your neighbor and his neighbor will exercise due caution and thus prevent accidents, then the rate for the nation will have been reduced and this terrible annual slaughter can be curbed.—Menard News.

FARMERS' INITIATIVE

Encouraging beginnings are being made in efforts to shift soil conservation from the demonstration stage to the hands of local groups of farmers. Soil conservation work done by the Department of Agriculture in the last few years has been for demonstration purposes. But obviously the government would not be justified in using taxpayers' money for improving every farm in the country with reference to combating erosion.

It is to the farmers' own interest to check as far as practicable, the inroads of wind and water erosion that take an annual toll of nearly half a billion dollars in the productive value of American farm land. Farmers can do something of this work individually, by such methods as contour plowing, terracing, strip cultivation, crop rotation and early attention to small gullies. They can do still more through the formation of local soil conservation districts.

Two years ago the conservation service drew up a model state conservation law, which the president recommended to the governors last year. Twenty-two states have adopted this law in one form or another, but thus far only fourteen conservation districts have been formed. Four of these are in Arkansas, three in North Dakota, two each in Georgia and North Carolina and one each in South Carolina, South Dakota and Utah.

The present difficulty comes not from opposition but from indifference. Texas is among the states that now have soil conservation laws, but organization of conservation districts here is still in a formative stage. With Texas top soil already thin, compared with that of the corn belt, it is essential that no more time be lost in conserving this basic resource.—Dallas News.

Confetti

By CON FETTE

While not assured, the prospect of receiving rural electrification in the west end of this county is becoming so probable that many are beginning to take it for granted. Confidence such as that is encouraging up to a certain point, then it becomes a discouraging cock-sureness. An example of this attitude and its devastating effect is only too well known to sports fans who have seen their favorites begin with an assumption that they can win without an effort, and in the end fall short of overcoming the opponents' early lead.

Our rural electrification project is another game and far too important to permit any dilly dallying. Some of our cock sure enthusiasts may discover themselves left in the dark unless they get into the game heart and soul in the opening plays. The team in this case consists of everyone who wants current, the way of scoring is to get the signature of every prospect. The success or failure of this venture is determined not by the enthusiasm of a few but by the co-operative teamwork of all. The greatest benefit in the history of Muenster and its neighbors is within grasp. We cannot afford to spare effort in acquiring it.

Wanted: A new staff of good will ambassadors to carry this REA message to outlying communities. The effectiveness of last Saturday's group seemed very questionable when their appeal failed to disturb the lethargy of a cross timber Rip Van Winkle, who calmly fell asleep on a sack of spuds while the orators were going through their lines.

The above is a mere episode, however, and we hasten to explain that it is not characteristic of the several REA meetings held last week. Some of the confabs were lively indeed, and stand out as substantial encouragement that a dandy project will be worked out.

At Forestburg there was one thing which could not escape notice. In the center of their "poor but friendly community" is a new school building (not yet complete but to be ready next fall) which would do ample justice to a city like Muenster. It has twelve rooms and a gymnasium. Looking at some of the "surrounding soil" one is reminded of the gag about "using fertilizer to raise the dead on judgment day," but people there find a way to build a first class school. That trivial fact should be food for thought to the America's champion pie maker for 1938! people who say it can't be done here—in spite of rich, black land farms, and oil wells, and railroad, gas and electric property, and a volume of business greater in a day than Forestburg's is in a week.

Isn't it about time that something is done here to readjust the scholastic situation and at last try to put up a gymnasium? Doesn't it seem that the boys and girls of Muenster are entitled to a little more consideration than they have received? Let's think a little about the hundreds of parochial students who cannot enjoy even a small athletic schedule or of the public school teams that play now and then in someone else's gym. We claim that the Muenster Orphans, or Nomads (pick the name you like better) have made a record that no other school of the nation can duplicate. If this statement is wrong please mention the name of a 12-boy-school that has survived to the finals of a district tournament, or even won a county title.

Those homeless chaps have earned a home. After being guests of other clubs for years they deserve the privilege of acting as hosts. They are entitled to this because they are Muenster's outstanding ambassadors of good will. Wherever they go they create a favorable impression. It is no accident that Bud Hoehn was given a sportsmanship award in the State AAU tourney at Monday, and that Genie Lehnertz received a similar award at Ringgold.

The time for encouraging Muenster's gymnasium should really be over. By now we should be agreed that it will be done, and should be getting our heads together to decide how.

CAGED DRUNKS WILL BE PUT ON DISPLAY

WOBURN, Mass.—Public display of intoxicated folks in a lion's cage was offered Friday by Mayor William E. Kane as a way of handling drunkenness, if not curing it, in his city.

"I'm determined to clean up the city and stop this drunkenness among our people," the Mayor said grimly.

He will borrow the cage from an animal dealer, mount it on a trailer and have it towed about the city, illuminated at night.

"We'll have the drunks kept in the cage until they sober up and then we'll turn them loose," he said. "This will work I'm sure."

SHELF AND COUNTER POSITIONS AT FMA STORE RE-ARRANGED

Andy Hoffbauer's first move when assuming his new duty as manager of the Farmers' Store was to change its arrangement.

During the latter part of last week the main counter was moved from the center to the south wall of the store and the meat counter was moved from the northwest to the southwest corner. At the same time merchandise was more conveniently arranged encouraging customers to begin a helpy-selvy system, which may enable the store to operate without engaging help to fill the vacancy created by Roy Endres' and Frank Herr's resignation.

Additional shelf room is procured by closing a doorway which led to the bookkeeping office. By removing a partition the manager's and bookkeepers offices were combined. Minor changes at the store are still in progress.

THIRD NEW RECORD FOR EGG SETTINGS MADE BY HATCHERY

Business at the Muenster hatchery continues to get better as the season advances, according to a statement Tuesday from Felix Becker, manager of the business.

Three weeks ago the setting record shattered the best enjoyed by the hatchery during the previous year, and new records were created in each of the two following weeks.

The greater part of the business consists of custom hatching, Mr. Becker said, but there is a strong interest in baby chick business also. The heavy breeds, apparently to be raised for the broiler market, continue to be favored while the season is young.

WHERE NATIONAL GAME OF BASEBALL HAD ITS BEGINNING

While baseball as we know it is a sport of comparatively recent development, a game in which a tossed ball was batted with a rube club has been traced back to the 14th century in Europe. The present American game was phobably an outgrowth of that of "town ball," played in New England from about 1830 in which the runs were made around posts set in the ground instead of bases.

The first code of baseball rules was formulated by the Knickerbocker Club of New York in 1845, the first match game was played the following year, and the first gate money series of games took place at Hoboken in 1858. The development of the game was checked by the Civil War, but was revived in 1865, when a convention was held at which representatives of thirty clubs were present.

A Rockford, Ill., team first employed regularly salaried players, but the Cincinnati Red Stockings organized in 1868 is considered the first professional club. It made a tour in 1869, winning sixty-nine games without meeting a single defeat. In 1870 it won twenty-nine straight games, being defeated by the Athletics of Brooklyn.
