Dr. Tisdale's Letter to the Editor in last week's Enterprise was a distinct service for which the community, the Chamber of Commerce and thousands of Germanfest visitors can be grateful. The letter was correct in saying that a number of vulgar characters disgraced the event, and Germanfest was at fault for permitting it to happen.

The writer's opinion is shared by others, including workers who resented the blemish on their achievement by the undesirables. After all, their aim was to make the festival a friendly, cheerful event that would be pleasantly remembered. In that they succeeded, but they resented the presence of persons whose disgraceful appearance and language did not belong there. The comments admit that a problem exists and a solution needs to be worked out to avoid any more offense to our wanted visitors.

However, the suggested complete shut down of Germanfest does not appear to be the solution. This means of dealing with the intruders seems like burning the barn to get rid of rats. A more desirable way is to continue the festival and add appealing features wherever possible. And by all means take measures to eliminate the incidents that Muenster is ashamed of.

Probably this would require careful crowd supervision...more law and order personnel with attention directed to any who are obviously drunk and offensive in talk action or attire. Characters like that need to be escorted from the grounds and confined for the good of the public and themselves.

Before hastily deciding to abolish Germanfest we ought to consider that it has developed into a community institution and has become popular with thousands of people. An attendance like this year's 50,000 should not and can not be ignored. These visitors come to enjoy the hospitality that Muenster proudly provides for them. Furthermore the festival has a special appeal as a homecoming attraction. More than ever before, native sons and daughters, along with lots of other old-time friends, have a definite date to combine a trip home with seeing many whom they seldom have a chance to contact.

It can be stated also that the big majority of these thousands of visitors are not attracted by an abundance of beer. On the contrary, the reference to the event as one of the biggest beer busts of the state seems to be over stated when considering total servings and total attendance. A crowd of more than 50,000 received some 57,000 tumblers of beer, an average of slightly more than one per person. This means moderate drinking on the part of a big majority who enjoyed their drinks and behaved, and certainly do not deserve to be deprived because the small minority got out of line.

Regarding a bad example to children, it is more likely that most of them never noticed the undesirables, but if they did, they probably were turned off by the repulsive characters.

This column believes that last week's letter was a distinct service to Germanfest and the community in that it points to a fault that needs correcting. However, the column is convinced that

Jill Walterscheid shows surprise and others show delight at the announcement that she has been named the Hornet Hustler of 1982. This is the first time the most wanted MHS award has been received by a girl. Below: Emotionally overcome by the award and her second standing ovation of the evening, Jill leans on Coach Peters during presentation of the plaque.

Jill Walterscheid is darling of MHS awards program

Jill Walterscheid was everybody's sweetheart at the Muenster High recognition and awards banquet in the MHS gym Monday night. She was honored with a standing ovation when identified with the dual title as Class A state champion in discus and Class A state runner up in shot put. She earned both titles last weekend in the state meet at Austin.

Next she received another standing ovation on being awarded the school's most prestigious athletic award, the Hornet Hustler placard. It's the prize traditionally given to the outstanding boy athlete. But this time was different, as pointed out by Coach Peters in his presentation. Jill deserves hearty congratulations for earning the champ and runner-up prizes, but far more praise for years of dedicated effort while struggling with a physical handicap, plus the leadership and support to inspire a successful team effort. Jill applied her spirit in volleyball and basketball as well as track.

Concerning other athletics, Coach Leonard Peters was generous in his praise. He said he started the season with sagging enthusiasm in sports and discovered soon that he was receiving inspiration from the students. The result was a great football season that missed the top honor only by failing to match the top performance with the top score. Basketball and track likewise enjoyed gratifying improvement over previous years, and track teams came out No. 1 and No. 2 in the district races.

Next in audience interest was the annual Who's Who presentation identifying the leading scholastic students. In the process, Principal Winn identified the three nominees for department award and Superintendent Coffee named the award winners. Nominees and winners were named as follows.

Agriculture: Matt Sicking, Karl Trubenbach, Stephen Vogel, Winner, Matt Sicking.

34 states, 15 foreign countries represented at Germanfest

In keeping with custom, visitors by the thousands did not bother to register at this year's Germanfest. Presiding at the guest book, Mr. and Mrs. Al Wiesman had an average of some 35 names on 67 pages, a total of some 2450 entries representing less than 5 per cent of the crowd.

However, those who signed were almost all from out of town and indicated that the crowd came from many areas of the globe. Most numerous, of course, were those from Texas, in which every major city and area was represented, and Oklahoma which had more than 130 signatures. In addition there were 32 other states including the most distant Hawaii and Alaska. And sixteen foreign countries were represented, Germany taking the lead with 11 visitors. Other countries listed were Brazil, Netherlands, Norway, England, Hungary, Rhodesia, Indonesia, Mexico, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Egypt, Guam, Ontario, Ottawa, Manitoba. A number of the signatures were accompanied by complimentary comment, such as "Great",

"Amazing" and "Excellent," but the real eye catcher was "Margaret Thatcher, Buenos Aires. The good words came from many visitors. They were generous with praises.

Injured pedestrian reported improving

Ray Devall of Bridgeport was reported in stable condition in Harris Hospital of Fort Worth last Friday as a result of injuries received here almost a week earlier.

As told by Officer Bob Stovall, Devall, a pedestrian on Highway 82, walked into the left side of a westbound Chevrolet pickup traveling at about 25 mph. The time was about 11:15 p.m., Saturday.

A doctor visiting at Germanfest and the EMS ambulance on display there responded immediately and sent the patient to Gainesville Hospital, from where he was transferred by Care-Flite to Harris

Hospital. His injury consisted principally of a crushed left leg and a chest injury, apparently from the rear view mirror.

The pickup driver stopped immediately, reported to Officer Stovall and helped care for the injured person.

Terry Huchton receives degree at Texas A&M

Terry Huchton received his degree in Petroleum Engineering from Texas A&M University in graduation ceremonies on May 7 at 7:30 p.m. He will be employed by Superior Oil Co. in The Woodlands, Texas. He and his wife, the former Julie Sicking, and their baby son Jacob will live in Spring, Texas.

At Texas A&M, Huchton was a member of the Society of Petroleum Engineers; the National Petroleum Engineering Honor Society; the National Engineering Honor Society; and the Ear

Ambulance service for west Cooke County considered

An established ambulance service in the western part of Cooke County is a possibility within a month if present planning can be successfully developed.

Don Rice of Cooke County's Emergency Medical Service (EMS) said Tuesday that the program involves a deal by the commissioner's court and the city of Muenster whereby the county will support a 24 hour operation with a crew of 2, if Muenster will provide a house for the workers and a building for the vehicle. He added that EMS will cooperate by providing labor for building construction or repair if the city will provide materials.

If established, the ambulance will serve all of the west side of the county, thereby saving critical time in emergencies.

Being nearby, it can reach a patient much sooner than a vehicle sent from the east part of the county.

Another proposed service is supplemental service, a prepayment plan for members, costing $35 per family. Rice said the usual charge for service is $95 per trip but the service is free to members. Membership extends

Good News

Matthew 22:36-40

"Teacher," he asked, "which is the greatest commandment in the Law?" Jesus answered, "Love the Lord your God with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind." This is the greatest and the most important commandment. The second most important commandment is like it: 'Love your neighbor as you love yourself.' The whole Law of Moses and the teachings of the prophets depend on these two commandments."

In answer to a question asked by one of our readers ref. Good News of April 30, 1982 in The Enterprise.

The Wisdom of Jesus, Son of Sirach, also known as Ecclesiasticus, was written in Hebrew by a man named Joshua (or Jesus) and was later translated into Greek by his grandson. The book includes traditional Jewish wisdom material and makes a defense of Judaism by showing that God has given true wisdom to his people. Many subjects of a religious, moral, and practical nature are presented, sometimes at length and sometimes in short proverbial sayings.

The book is not part of the recognized Old Testament but is a book in the Deuterocanonicals/Apocrypha included in some Bibles.

Winn will head Bremond school

After five years as principal of Muenster Public School, Alford Winn announced this week that he has accepted a new assignment for the next school year. He will be the superintendent in the Bremond school system, which is very similar to Muenster's.

Winn said the school is rated as Class A. It has an average daily attendance of 270, which is somewhat smaller than Muenster's and currently enjoys a good athletic program with district basketball championship in '81 and football championship last year.

A similarity also applies to the community. Bremond is predominantly Catholic, like Muenster, and has a parochial school as well as a public school.

Pleasantly Moderate

Muenster weather has been moderate, with regard to both moisture and temperature during the past week. While the mercury ranged from a low of 46 to a high of 80, the community has pulled through storm and hail threats and escaped with only 1.90 inch of rain.

Steve Mosler's readings were 1.32 and .02 at 7 a.m. Thursday and Friday, and also .56 since 7 a.m. Wednesday. It ups the month's reading to 1.94 and the year's to 10.83 inches.

Pleasantly moderate temperature readings were recorded as follows. May 5, 60 and 64; May 7, 46 and 74; May 8, 50 and 79; May 9, 56 and 80; May 10, 62 and 80; May 11, 67 and 78; May 12, 68 and 70.

COMMENT

Letters...Letters...

My very dear friends,

A long time has passed since I have used the above letter heading. I realize that lack of communication with friends is an effective way of losing them. To avoid that disaster I picked up my pen.

I am very often with you, my dear friends, visiting in thought the places where we met, sharing with each other joys and sorrows. But there is a world of difference between sharing in person and in thought.

Since I wrote to you the last time so many of my dear friends of Muenster have left its midst through death that I wish to express my condolence to all who grieve over the departure of a dear one.

On the other hand I wish to extend my heartiest congratulations to all those who are due them for whatever the occasions. The latter would be far too numerous to be listed and there is always the danger of somebody being overlooked.

You can imagine how I relived the Germanfest I had enjoyed so much when I was with you. With immense interest I followed the accounts of it before it took place and will read next week's Muenster Enterprise when the Germanfest of 1982 is a past event. At this time I would like to let you know how very much I enjoy Photos of the Past. After all, Muenster was only 37 years old when I came on its scene the first time. Between 1926 and 1980 I had the pleasure of being with you on and off. The largest part of my life, up to date, was spent with you.

My life here goes on about the same. There is still my letter writing business which has somewhat suffered through the death of some of my best customers.

To my great delight a Sister asked me to teach her Latin. Although I have not taught it over a considerable length of time it is well established in my mind. You may remember, my dear students, that I often said that something a person really knew thoroughly during one period of life can readily be recalled in another. I have just returned from my daily walk. It was very warm. I protected my eyes and my brains with my beautiful Mexican strawhat. Most of the time my walks are a delight, but often too they are a strict "must" I set myself. There is that ever present tendency as one grows older or the weather does not suit to give up. Due to the rains we had the woods present a fairyland. Since I visit them throughout the year, you can well imagine the different panoramas I witness with the change of seasons. Autumn and spring are the most beautiful; followed by a snowy winter scene. Summer presents the heat problem.

Lately Sister Helen saw the tracks of a deer and her fawn not very distant from the Convent and she heard coyotes howl. No wonder our 2 watch dogs carried on so terribly almost all night long to my chagrin. That was Sunday night.

Personally I have not seen anything out of the ordinary in my wanderings in the outdoors. I see and hear many kinds of birds; I saw one snake; I see a very great variety of beautiful butterflies. Trees, flowers and shrubs of all kinds abound.

On May second I heard the liveliest band I ever listened to in my life. Its name was Scrap Iron Band and was composed of 19 members of Aspen Garden's Senior Citizens Old Age Home. It was a delightful concert which took us back over decades, presenting popular songs as they had come and gone. The enthusiastic performance had a reaction on the audience which was composed of us Sisters. We participated by clapping our hands. The refreshments, served after the performance gave us a chance to meet these people. I mingled generously as I used to do when I was with you.

Now, my very dear friends, I will not tire you any longer with my letter to you. Be happy and stay young at heart and remember you are always in my heart, my thoughts and my prayers. Sister M. Theresina, O.S.B.

Dear Sponsors:

I would like to express my warmest and sincere thanks to all of you for sponsoring me in the Miss Texas Teen-World Pageant.

In the five years I have lived here, all of you have not only offered your immense generosity to me through your sponsorships and support, but also truly-felt friendships that will never lessen in sincerity. This generosity extends to all regions of community life in Muenster, and so gives every citizen a gift they could never repay. This gift is opportunity.

Opportunity lies waiting to be taken by the citizen who seeks variety of choice and price when he shops here. This only further proves that the free enterprise system of this great country works for everyone. The abundance of opportunity you provide is present when you make it possible for improvements in our public facilities. Our streets, our parks, and our entire community blossom under the supportive wings of your generosity, enabling us to fly to even greater heights on our own. Through your fine examples of leadership, care, generosity, and courtesy, you teach us the importance of these virtues in becoming finer citizens ourselves.

Last, but certainly not least, your undaunting support enables the young women in pageants such as this to strive for improvement, learn from others, and gain knowledge from new experiences, and make friends—and surely these are the most lasting of all.

Once again I must say "thank you" for all that you have done in giving me this opportunity to fulfill the motto of this pageant organization—to "Reach for a New World." Sincerely yours, Peggy Winn

Dear Editor

I am writing concerning last week's letter to the editor. Although I was not affected by any drunk driving from the Germanfest I would like to share some information on what alcohol does to your brain, taken from these Times Magazine (Feb. 75). It states that one bloody Mary, a single beer, whatever - the very first drink a person takes permanently damages his brain. So states Dr. Melvin H. Knisley, professor at South Carolina Medical College. (Even one drink is enough to cause permanent brain damage!)

The bubbly champagne you drank from those long-stemmed goblets to help wish your best friend a long life of happiness after a picture perfect wedding permanently damaged your brain. Wine the so-called perfect compliment to any meal, kills your brain cells.

The red blood cells of a normal, healthy person carry oxygen to all the tissues of the body. Dr. Knisley states that when a person drinks alcohol in any form, these cells become agglutinated. Which means the red blood cells clump together into sticky wads that doctors call sludge. Healthy red blood cells don't have any trouble flowing through the veins and capillaries.

Take a "drink" though, and your red blood cells are among the first to know. As the amount of alcohol in your blood increases so does the number of sludged red blood cells. And the slow-moving sludge simply can't carry oxygen through the capillaries.

The tiny thinking cells of your brain continually require large amounts of oxygen. Depriving them of oxygen for even three minutes seriously damages them. Take away their oxygen supply for fifteen to twenty minutes, and they will die.

While you are raising your foaming mug or sipping your martini, sludge forms in your blood, which is then unable to carry oxygen to all parts of your brain. As the level of alcohol in the blood rises, many small vessels become plugged. An enormous number of small areas of brain tissue don't get oxygen - these areas of your brain die.

The trouble is, dead brain cells are lost forever. Live brain cells don't multiply like the other cells in your body do. They are irreplaceable. The Times magazine state that you were born with 17 billion brain cells and by natural process you lose about 50,000 every day. That is one reason a person who lives long enough finally suffers from a failing memory, why his awareness is reduced, and why he sometimes can't reason clearly.

These symptoms of old age occur much sooner in an alcoholic because of the large number of brain cells destroyed by alcohol. And every time you take a drink, you speed up the process by prematurely killing more brain cells.

I Corinthians Chapter 3 Verse 16& 17 says know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you? If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

So now you know. How will your brain use this information? (Wish some one would have told me when I was a teen ager!)

Sincerely
Paula M. Reiter Era, Texas

For the second time in hardly more than a month, Representative Charles Stenholm will address Muenster friends on Friday, May 21. The popular legislator of the 17th congression district will honor Muenster High graduates from the same stage on which he spoke to the April 19 general membership meeting of Cooke County Electric Co-op.

Nor is Stenholm's county appearance limited to Muenster. He will be at Gainesville Sunday, May 16 speaking at the Cooke County College commencement ceremony. The content of the speeches has not been disclosed but it is assumed that Stenholm will find opportunities to include good, solid conservation as a means of supporting the traditional way of American Life.

"Parents' Night" at Cooke County College

When, where, what, how much? All are mighty important questions on the minds of graduating seniors with college on their minds, but answers to these questions can be just as important to their parents.

Supplying this information is the purpose of a special "Parent's Night" to be presented by Cooke County College in the Muenster High School Auditorium on May 17 (Monday) beginning at 7 p.m.

The program is being presented by the college's Counseling Center in cooperation with the Muenster Parents and Teachers Organization (PTO) which has extended an invitation to all area high school seniors and their parents to attend.

Linda Mast, outreach counselor at CCC, explains that many questions are going through the minds of college-bound seniors and their parents, among them: how to select a career and establish educational goals that match this career decision, how to maximize educational opportunities and how to apply for financial aid.

Ms. Mast adds that representatives of the Cooke County College counseling staff and faculty will be there on Parents' Night to provide just this kind of information.

CCC counseling director Bill Caver explains that although there will be some emphasis placed on the programs available at Cooke County College, parents should be aware that the information will be valuable also to those persons whose children are planning to attend other schools.

"Of course, we are eager to recruit as many local and area students to our institution as possible," says Caver, "but, at the same time, we feel it is our obligation to supply this important information as a public service to all parents and students in our service area."

"Experience has shown that a large number of students who do go off to school eventually return to CCC for selected courses in which they need or want more individualized instruction or to ease the transition into a different field of study from the one originally chosen."

Caver says also that many students return to CCC expressing the feeling that going would have been much easier had they chosen to attend the local college a year or two before going on to a senior college or university.

"They tell us that the solid academic foundation they would have gotten here would have made a real difference in adjusting to the demanding, impersonal academic atmosphere they found at these larger schools," Caver explains. "Also, they find that beginning their college careers at CCC would have made a considerable difference economically."

In addition, the study showed that a higher percentage of junior college transfers, including those from CCC, went on to actually graduate than those who started out at the university as freshmen.

Persons wishing to obtain more information about the Parents' Night program should contact Ms. Mast at 688-7731, extension 215.

THE FORD FOUNDATION

How many times have you asked yourself such questions as "Why are we as a nation doing these irrational things? Why are we building up the Communist nations of the world with trade, loans and foreign aid, while doing everything else we can to hamstring our anti-Communist friends?"

We have in our files a copy of a letter dated January 2, 1963, from Norman Dodd - long time friend and colleague, Dr. Howard E. Kershner. The contents of this letter are extremely important and enlightening. Following are pertinent extracts from the letter which may answer those "Why?" questions.

"In December 1953, I was invited to call upon the executives of the Ford Foundation in New York - ostensibly to discuss with its President and his assistant - ways and means by which they could cooperate with the Reece Committee (the Special Committee of the House of Representatives - 83rd Congress - to Investigate Tax-Exempt Foundations) - of which Committee I was Research Director. On this occasion, I found myself in conversation with the late Rowan Gaither who, at that time, was the Foundation's President. During this conversation, Mr. Gaither asked me to explain, if possible, just why the Congress was so concerned over the activities of the Foundations. And, in addition, Mr. Gaither asked me if I could account for the 'bad press' to which the Ford Foundation had recently been subjected. Before I could answer either question, Mr. Gaither explained to me that:

"Most of us here were, at one time or another, active either the O.S.S., the State Department, or the European Economic Administration. During those times, and without exception, we operated under directives issued by the White House, the substance of which was to the effect that we should make every effort to alter life in the United States as to make possible a comfortable merger with the Soviet Union.

"We are continuing to be guided by just such directives."

"To these extraordinary bits of information I replied as follows:

"Mr. Gaither, in the light of what you have just told me, the grants of the Foundation become understandable."

"I then suggested to him that the Ford Foundation inform the American public of the directives by which it was being motivated in the making of at least some of its grants. Mr. Gaither met this suggestion with this remark:

"This, we would not think of doing."

For several decades the Ford Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation and the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, plus a few other super-foundations, have funded subversive and revolutionary groups and causes throughout the U.S. It is quite safe to say that much of the strife and revolutionary activity we have experienced over the last twenty years or so would never have occurred without funding from these foundations.

It should be axiomatic that an organization granted a tax-exemption is expected to promote the traditions, values and fundamental principles of that nation. Why should a foundation be granted a tax-free status when it uses its funds trying to alter our form of government and our way of life?

We need another "Reece Committee" to investigate the continued destructive efforts of these foundations - and the sooner the better!

the fault applies to just a few and surely does not justify penalizing the many.

Muenster does not deserve a decline of social and commercial good will along with the loss of business now associated with the occasion. While it's true that making money is not the first goal of life, occasions like these are welcome aids to community prosperity and improvement, to charities and scholarships.

The issue boils down to this. Should the community discontinue an established and valued institution because a few unwanted characters have imposed their ugly ways on us? Or should it work out an effective policy of dealing with trouble makers, and continue trying to please the thousands?

To The Editor

Dear Editor,

I am writing in response to the letter that Dr. Larry Tisdale submitted in last week's Muenster Enterprise. I have worked in several booths for civic clubs in every Germanfest we have had, and I would like to speak out about the subject.

First of all, I have heard many local people say that they dreaded Germanfest and wished it were over before it even arrived. To these people I say -- "STAY HOME!!!" People don't have to show up if they dread it that much, but usually they are there and have just as good a time as the next person.

Next I would like to comment on the fact that "drunks" drove across the lawns of several people and that certain acts of delinquency were committed with the Germanfest in mind. First, it would seem unjustifiable for any man that can quote the Bible in an article turn right around and name a man a drunk without knowing for certain that he is actually "suffering" from such a disease. As far as destruction of property is concerned, how many thousands of dollars are wasted each year in the Muenster area due to property damage, both public and private. This is where emphasis should be placed. Maybe the "lawn wreckers" were not even at the Germanfest. The other 51 weeks of the year they weren't there!!

Of course, when entertainment is offered such as is offered during Germanfest, people will be people. Some can control all aspects, some cannot. It is entirely up to each individual how he acts, and to know his responsibilities. We cannot judge our fellow man ruthlessly, but try to help him if he does get in a bind.

I worked in the Jaycees van every year that they were in charge of beer concessions, and even chaired it twice, and I feel great about it. Last year we made about $15,000. We had to borrow money to get through the year. Because we had little league baseball, punt-pass-kick, Santa Clause at Christmas, gifts to needy families at Christmas, baseball park improvement, drilled a water well for the park, conducted a relief fund program for needy people in the Muenster area, improved the park area, built a general meeting room in the park, and donated to every charitable function that arose, and many, many, many more. We made a little more than that this year and you just watch -- we'll do even more.

I helped with the Knights of Columbus Fun Run every year also. This year we made approximately $10,000 on a very professional race. This money is spent entirely in our youth program. Everything from sending our kids through the Basketball Freethrow Contests all the way to state competition to the kids Christmas Party in December. Of course, there are many more programs. All goes to charity!!

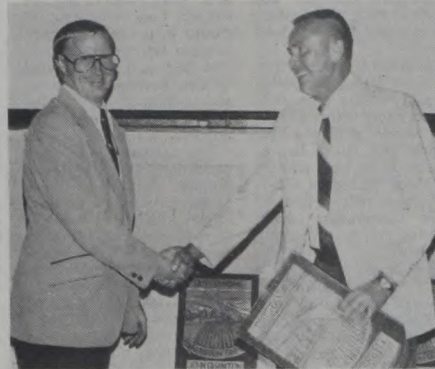

Without the Germanfest, not nearly all of this would be possible. The 'fest, just as anything else, has its drawbacks, but when you can do so much for your fellowman with one hard weekend of work, it's all worth while.

Germanfest is a troublesome weekend, but is a time when Muenster people can bind together for a good cause and enjoy themselves, if they want to. It is a happy time, a time for homecomings, a time for reunions. It is a time to not condemn our brother, but to enjoy brotherhood. I am for the Germanfest. I will encourage the Germanfest, and I'm looking forward to next year.

Thank you for this opportunity to express my views.
Sincerely,
Wayne Klement

Two of seven wooden plaques presented at last week's awards banquet sponsored by the Upper Elm Red Soil and Water Conservation District were received by champion farmers of this area. Tony Trubenbach above of Muenster is the winner in Zone 3, Don Farrell below of Forestburg is the winner of Zone 1. Both presentations were made by Henry Weinzapfel of Muenster State Bank.

Chamber moves to former SCS office

Muenster Chamber of Commerce members at their regular meeting Tuesday chose to move their headquarters from the T&J Building on Main Street to the space occupied for many years by the Soil Conservation Service.

Principal reasons for the change are an increase of floor space with separate rooms allowing better arrangement of facilities, along with accessibility and parking convenience.

Chamber comment touched on Germanfest, stating generally that crowd opinions have been gratifying but improvements are suggested. Reports on crowds and finances will await summaries still to be finished.

Members recalled that a substantial part of Chamber proceeds is intended to meet Chamber obligations, but the next aim is to assist industrial and commercial development, specifically to contact firms that are interested in becoming a part of Muenster's future.

A definite project under that heading was the ambulance service now under consideration for the community. Members voted to support the project with a substantial one time donation to the city to help provide facilities for the technicians and the vehicle. They did not, however, obligate themselves to a continuing support program.

Valley View nudges MHS

Valley View High was the sweepstakes winner in District 11-A of University Interscholastic League competition for 1982. It claimed the honor with the top score of 305 points, nudging ahead of Muenster's close second of 285.

Other schools of the district and their scores were listed as follows: Alvord 153, Era 89, Krum 62, Forestburg 59, Ponder 55, Slidell 6.

Scores are determined by adding points acquired in the various literary and athletic categories of the UIL spring competition, including drama, writing, spelling, math, science, etc., along with track and field, tennis and golf.

Muenster, winner of the sweepstakes last year, won 5 of 8 category trophies this year but fell short for the big prize.

Only high school competition counts toward the over-all trophy. Muenster swept the elementary division winning all of the category trophies but receiving no over-all trophy.

Hood celebrates 100th birthday

A nostalgic buggy and a fine horse! The drivers are Babe Felker and Frank Solomon. The picture is owned by Mildred Berry.

The Hood cotton gin in 1923 was a hub of activity and the center of business, as indicated by the number of wagon loads of cotton waiting their turn.

Hood, Texas, situated on the highest hill in Cooke County, celebrated its centennial with a full day's observance in the form of a birthday party, on Sunday, May 2, 1982. However, preparation for and anticipation of the event, planning and preliminary work occupied most of its homelinks for almost a year.

The first sizeable undertaking was compiling a history, arranging for printing and providing it in ample time for sales at the 100th birthday party.

Family members and descendants of first generation or original settlers were urged to collect old pictures, interviews and historical data, all of which was intended for the Hood History.

The result is an attractive, 124 page book, measuring 8 1/2 x 11, printed on a slick, enamel paper with a kromecote cover depicting the original old Hood Baptist Church on the back and the old Hood Methodist Church, now a vastly remodeled Hood Community Center Building, on its front, in brown ink.

The book contains a wealth of family memories, treasured old pictures and descriptions of individuals, families, customs and life style. Also included are congratulatory messages and advertising from friends and supporters. The book was printed by the Gainesville Printing Co., Roger Fleitman owner. Copies are available for $5.00 from several Hood residents and from Mary Lou Osborne at First State Bank and from Omie Sherrill at Gainesville National Bank.

Another project that required early planning and construction was a handsome quilt of original design, sponsored by the Hood Extension Homemakers Club and quilted by several area residents. Each block of the quilt had a different pattern or picture relating to an incident or area of the Hood Community or Centennial. Each block was signed by its designer. Drawing for the quilt was one of the highlights of the afternoon. Mrs. Mary Schmitz was the winner. Two quilts were included in the project, both benefits for the centennial. The first quilt was donated by Mrs. Raymond Zimmerman and auctioned off at the Thanksgiving Homecoming Supper.

The actual party and community gathering began Sunday morning with a program presided by J.T. Barker, Hood Community Club president. Bill Fenley a former resident, now of Gainesville gave the welcome. His son, Ray Fenley offered the invocation.

Hood chose not one Queen but four honored ladies as Hood Centennial Queens. They were Mrs. Mildred Berry, Mrs. Eva Chanslor Thomason, Mrs. Julia Morris and Mrs. Joanna Purcell. They were presented to the assembled guests by Mrs. Raymond Zimmerman, who gave each a bouquet of silk roses and informed them that they were the honored royalty selected to ride "in style" in the parade of antique cars Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Zimmerman gave a brief history of each, telling that Mrs. Eva Thomason was the youngest daughter of pioneers Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Chanslor, and lived at Hood all her life. "Because she knows and remembers everyone here, she has been of great help in compiling the Centennial History." Her husband was the late Milton Thomason.

Mrs. Mildred Berry helped with every project leading to the centennial, said Mrs. Zimmerman. She collected all the information and all the pictures for the history, making innumerable phone calls and urging the cooperation of everyone. When the book was finished she helped make souvenirs for the celebration.

Mrs. Joanna Purcell lived at Hood since age 16 and says she wants to stay in Hood until "I get old." She remembers the history of Hood as it was being made and, said Mrs. Zimmerman, probably knew everyone in this part of Cooke County and is able to tell most interesting stories of early day life and work.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morris (Zula) came to Hood in 1948. They farmed for several years before retiring and have lived in the town of Hood for the past 16 years.

Mrs. Morris works with the Hood Community Club whenever time permits and cares for an invalid daughter at home. Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Morris are parents of nine children and are the grandparents of three Morris Brothers, Dale, Kenneth and Terry, famous in country musical circles, television, radio and recordings as champion fiddlers, guitarists and singers. Their grandmother wrote the detailed accounts of their achievements, for the Hood History.

Following the program, a bountiful covered dish meal was served at noon.

In the afternoon the Gainesville Antique Car Club conducted the parade of antique cars, carrying the four honored Queens of the Hood Centennial. Included in the parade were some old tractors owned by Lanny Lewter of Hood and Don Moody of Valley View.

Souvenirs, old photographs and histories were available throughout the day.

Cooke County new tax appraisal nears completion

The following article has been released by the Cooke County Tax Appraisal District, concerning the tax appraisal statements which are expected to be mailed about the first of June. LeRoy Johnson is the Chief Appraiser. Board Members are: Chester Calhoun, Chairman; Al Felderhoff, D.J. Murphy, Al Simmons, and Hal Dick, members.

With the rapid approach of the completion of the appraisal of all properties in Cooke County by the Central Appraisal District, all taxpayers are urged to consider the following facts:

The new State law was not passed to raise taxes. The legislature wanted all property in each county to be uniformly and fairly evaluated, which was not the case prior to the enactment of the law. Under the new law, your property is to be appraised at its fair market value as compared to similar properties within the county. No property is to be assessed at more than its fair market value.

If, for example, the total value of all the property in the county after reappraisal is three times its prior assessment, then the tax rates for each taxing entity should be reduced to one-third of its prior rate. Your taxes should change either up or down due to the reappraisal only if your prior value was out of line with that of your neighbors.

Your appraisers are not vicious outsiders intent on ruining you! They are all tax-paying citizens of Cooke County working "in house" to do a State-ordered job.

The task of reappraising thousands of pieces of property in a short period of time is monumental. Such "mass appraisal" is sure to have some mistakes in it due to size alone.

When you receive your notice of the new appraisal of your property, probably around June 1, you should examine it to see if you feel the value assessed is what you feel your property is worth if you wanted to sell it. In other words, check it to see if it has been given a "fair market value".

If you disagree with the value set, contact the Cooke County Central Appraisal District office and ask for a conference. The way your property was classified and depreciated will be explained to you.

If you are still dissatisfied, you will have an opportunity to have your value reviewed by a committee of your neighbors to see if they agree with you.

Remember, fair and equal is the object-not additional taxes.

Without a doubt, the total values within the county are going to go up-and just as surely tax rates will go down. And you can be certain that you will have an opportunity to be heard if you feel you have not been appraised fairly.

On Monday afternoon we were delighted to have the Senior Adult Choir of The First Baptist Church of Gainesville present a program of Gospel Songs. It's always such a treat to have this group, and appreciate so much their giving their time and talents to sing for us.

We want to offer our special thanks to the ladies of St. Anne's Society, who give so freely of their time to come out each Wednesday and have Bingo for us. We always look forward to your coming. These ladies are truly a VERY SPECIAL GROUP, and we appreciate you more than words can ever tell.

Which costs more, food or package

Consumers, the package your food comes in may be as expensive as the food in it, says Dr. Cass Ryan-Crowe, a food and nutrition specialist.

Ryan-Crowe is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, the Texas A & M University System.

Ready-to-eat items like desserts, chips, syrups, gums and soft drinks have a packaging value twice that of the ingredient, the specialist explains.

Raw meat, produce, cheese and sugar packaging value may be as low as three to seven percent of the food ingredients, she points out.

On the average, consumers spend $1 out of every $11 on packages and containers, Ryan-Crowe says.

THINK ABOUT ALL THE THINGS ELECTRICITY DID FOR YOU TODAY...

HERE'S HOW TO FIGURE WHAT IT COST YOU.

When you look at the amount you spend on electricity each day and then look at all the things electricity does for you, it's easier to see just what a good value electricity really is.

On your monthly electric bill, first look at the date your meter was last read (Prev. KWH Read DATE) and then the date it was read previously (Prev. KWH Read DATE) and count the number of days between the two. Divide that number into your total charges for the month (TOTAL CURRENT MO. BILL). The result is the small amount you spend each day to enjoy all the things dependable electricity makes possible in your home. Electricity... one of today's best energy values.

First Texas Savings expands to Houston

First Texas Savings Association has announced the regulatory approval of a major expansion into the Houston marketplace. During a time when many financial institutions are consolidating facilities, the Dallas-based organization continues its aggressive expansion of service outlets in Texas by planning to open 11 additional outlets in Houston in late 1982 or early 1983. "Our new Houston service outlets, all of which will include a Money Maker ATM Center, will bring our total outlets in Texas to over 100 by late this year or early next year," said Robin Glackin, President and Chief Operating Officer for First Texas. "Our Houston entry plan typifies our strategy for growth and profitability in the 80's. We are focusing on expanding our present customer base of 225,000 households and businesses in two new market segments, the immigrating customers coming to the Sunbelt and the newly formed households within our markets. By providing the best package of full financial services to our customers and by the cost-effective delivery of these services through the largest Texas network of branch offices and electronic delivery systems, we feel a tremendous potential exists for both growth and profitability for First Texas. "Houston was chosen," Glackin continued, "because the strengths of First Texas match the dynamics of the Houston market, which is one of the fastest growing metropolitan markets in the country. Houston has the size, income characteristics and business climate capable of meeting our growth and profit objectives. We believe First Texas will offer Houston a unique package of convenient consumer financial services and Houston will offer First Texas a unique opportunity for significant economies-of-scale in our operations, marketing and management functions." First Texas Savings Association, with assets of over $2 billion and 72 branch offices in 40 Texas cities, is one of the largest financial institutions in Texas. First Texas is currently completing the installation of 25 ATM's in Money Maker Centers in participating Kroger Superstores in the Dallas/Fort Worth area. First Texas is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Beneficial Corporation.

1st Savings of Bowie merges with Continental Savings

The merger of First Savings of Bowie, with Continental Savings of Freeport was completed May 1, 1982, according to Carroll Kelly, Jr., Chairman of the Board/CEO of Continental Savings. Kelly stated both Bowie and Gainesville First Savings locations became Continental Savings offices. No change in the management of these offices has taken place. Continental Savings' Bowie and Gainesville offices are the twelfth and thirteenth locations. Continental's other offices are in Freeport, Lake Jackson, West Columbia, Alvin, Angleton, Houston (2), Plainview, Dallas, Corsicana, and Malakoff. "Continental," said Kelly, "offers our savings customers a variety of high yield savings investment plans. Also, the ability to service Bowie's lending requirements will be greatly enhanced, since our combined assets are in excess of 263 million dollars and our total net worth is in excess of 13 million dollars. Continental is ranked third in Texas, First Savings & Loan Association of Bowie is ranked second, among high performance savings & loans, for return on assets." Continental Savings is a member of the Federal Savings & Loan Insurance Corporation (FSLIC) and all Continental accounts are insured against loss up to $100,000. Investment seminars on IRA/KEOGH Tax-Sheltered Retirement Plans and a wide range of services reflect Continental's desire to provide customers with timely, factual information, and to be of real value to the community we service. Continental's CheckPlus Checking Account allows customers to use the convenience of checking while they earn 5 1/4% interest on their checking balance. Our new Tax-Exempt CD allows Continental savers an exemption from federal income taxes on savings interest for a full year -- up to $2,000 on joint returns ($1,000 on individual returns). Recent changes in the tax law allow IRA/KEOGH Tax-Sheltered Retirement participants to increase the maximum amount they can deposit, and expand IRS (Individual Retirement Account) eligibility. Continental Savings is in its 29th year of service.

Koch-Britton Low Voltage Electric Stimulation
... for tenderness gains in every beef carcass you process!

Typical carcass during stimulation

2 second rest period 2 second pulse period

When a carcass is stimulated, a lot of body heat is dissipated in a hurry. Extra bleeding occurs and reduces chances of spoilage and excessive trim loss. Once in the cooler, proper chill can be reached hours earlier, saving money and energy.

Next day a brighter cherry red color appears. At grading time, about 6% of the carcasses move up to a higher grade. Heat ring and cold shortening are negligible. Aging time is far less (3 days instead of 7, or 7 instead of 21).

Checklist of Benefits

- Energy savings: Reach chill temperature 1-4 hours sooner.
- Less dripping
- Less spoilage
- Less shrink and trim loss
- Shorten aging times up to 56% less time in cooler
- Improved quality and flavor
- 25% increased tenderness
- About 6% move up a grade: better color, more visible marbling, less heat ring, reduced regrade
- Lower the Ph level
- Eliminate cold shortening and dark cutters

April 30 was both a happy and a sad day for Carl Ellison, husband of the former Katy Mae Walterscheid. After driving a bus for Trailways for 38 years and almost 3 million miles without an accident, he retired on this date. His last run was from Big Spring, Tx. to El Paso, Tx. He was honored with a police escort from the downtown exit to El Paso Bus Depot. At the depot the news media from 2 TV stations were there to take pictures of the bus and driver arriving and to interview him. This was shown on both TV stations on the 6 o'clock news. Also to meet Carl on his last run was his wife Katy, his daughter Carla and granddaughter Katie and all of his fellow drivers and friends. They had a giant cake decorated with a bus and his name. Also he was surprised when he arrived in Big Spring on his last run April 29 at the Ramada Inn, where the drivers stay. His name was on the marquee with "Congratulations Carl Ellison". The Ellisons plan to remain in El Paso for the present time.

Canner gauges to be checked

Homemakers may have their pressure canner gauges checked on Wednesday, May 19, from 8:30 to 11:30 in the morning in the County Extension Office. It takes only a few moments to check the gauge using a Master Gauge Tester, so homemakers may bring their canner lids at anytime during the scheduled check time. The lid is all that needs to be brought to the Extension Office. If this time is convenient, homemakers may bring their lids by and leave them and pick them up at their convenience. If gauges need to be replaced, or if an adjusted temperature is needed, the check will give this information. For more information, call 665-4931. A pressure canner in safe working order is the key to "get-ready" plans for all home canning. The pressure canner is a must for canning low-acid vegetables. A checklist for safe working pressure canners follows. Take off removable petcock and safety valves, wash and dry thoroughly. Use a toothpick or pipe cleaner to clean openings in lid of canner. Use fine steel wool and soap to wash bottom part of pressure canner. To remove any ordors and stains, combine juice of one lemon--or two tablespoons vinegar--with two quarts of water. process at five pounds pressure for five minutes. Grease (using vegetable oil) the closing surfaces of metal-to-metal sealing pressure canners if lid is difficult to remove or steam escapes. Replace rubber gasket if hardened.

Andy Arendt, Jr. of Oklahoma City, shown at right, was presented a "Service Above Self Award", by the Rotary Club of Oklahoma City. Presenting the award was Harold Armstrong, president of Rotary Club 29 of that city.

Marking only the fourth time that this award, for valor, was granted, it was given to Arendt in recognition of the day in 1981 he saved the lives of two people, rescuing them from their burning home. Flames had already engulfed the house when Arendt rushed in, pulled a man who was bedfast and unable to walk, and his wife, a Mr. and Mrs. Greene, to safety. The award stated: "Arendt risked his life without consideration of consequences." Mr. Greene died later of cancer and Mrs. Greene now lives in the rebuilt home.

Four spend four days in 2 Panhandles

A weekend spent with relatives in Amarillo and Kenton, Oklahoma, with a lot of sightseeing, going and coming, was a special treat for Mr. and Mrs. Al (Lee) Haverkamp, who accompanied their daughter and son-in-law, Florence and Richard Schumacher of Gainesville.

They drove to Amarillo, on Friday to visit the Schumachers, daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Mike Holder, and on Saturday all went together to Hereford to view the huge feed lots; after that, driving to Canyon, Texas they went to visit Chuck Schumacher, a student at West Texas State University. Another treat was sightseeing in the

Palo Duro Canyon. On Sunday they drove to Kenton, Oklahoma to visit Mr. and Mrs. John Schumacher and 10 day old infant, Stormie Dee. John took his parents and grandparents sightseeing in the Oklahoma Panhandle, and drove into New Mexico and Colorado. On Monday the four returned to Amarillo, near where severe hail and storm damage occurred in Bushland. Enroute home they returned a different route, through Dalhart.

Dairy leader responds to milk program proposals

"We're disappointed that Agriculture Secretary Block has chosen not to accept an industry proposal to solve current milk surpluses and instead seems tied to price reduction as the principal remedy," He added, "We're encouraged by the Secretary's plan to reactivate the P.L. 480 Food Distribution programs and domestic feeding efforts."
This was the reaction of Irvin Elkin, President of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., to Secretary Block's May 5 request for total discretionary authority to reduce the government support level for milk after January 1, 1983. AMPI ranks as the nation's leading dairy farmer cooperative with nearly 33,000 members in 20 states throughout the Midwest, south and southwest.
"Our abundant food supply is one of America's greatest national assets, and it should be shared with needy people both at home and abroad", Elkin said.
"A price cut would serve no constructive purpose. In the short-run it would aggravate surplus conditions by forcing many dairy farmers to increase production to meet heavy cash-flow requirements. In the long-run, it would drive many dairy families out of business — which would push the cost of milk up for consumers."

Elkin noted that milk support prices have already been frozen for more than two years, while most production costs have increased continuously with inflation.
"We're disappointed that Secretary Block is trying to solve the dairy surplus situation through price rather than addressing the source of the problem", Elkin continued.
"Depression conditions throughout the rest of agriculture have forced farm resources into dairying. Adjusted for inflation, net farm income for 1982 is sinking to its lowest levels since the Depression —

AMPI approves self help plan to aid dairy industry

Delegates representing 5,000 dairy farm families in the Southern Region of Associated Milk Producers, Inc. (AMPI), approved two related "self-help" efforts to balance dairy production with consumption.
The action was taken at the Annual Meeting of the cooperative. Some 2,500 cooperative members participated in two days of symposiums on various proposals to manage current milk production.
The first approved plan centers on a "base" concept that gives individual dairy farmers a positive incentive to reduce milk production, and places a low limitation on government costs for operating the dairy price support program. The other measure, the National Dairy Products Promotion Program" developed by the National Milk Producers Federation, provides a coordinated plan to increase consumption.

worst years in U.S. agriculture history."
Elkin noted that the dairy industry, working through the National Milk Producers Federation, approved a "self-help" program April 27 that would immediately transfer the excessive cost of managing current dairy surpluses from the federal government to dairy farmers. A key feature of this "Dairy Stabilization Plan" gives dairy farmers a positive incentive to cut back production.
The "Dairy Stabilization Plan" would limit government funding for the dairy program in fiscal 1983 to a projected $792 million — a

"The question has arisen in the past several days about the possibility that I would be a candidate on the Republican ticket for the office of Texas Commissioner of Agriculture. I am totally

Summer registration at CCC, May 28

Summer's coming on and so is the first session of summer classes at Cooke County College where registration is scheduled for May 28 (Thursday).

The first summer term will run from June 1 to July 9.

CCC registrar Dr. Don Stafford says that local and area residents planning to enroll for summer classes still have plenty of time to satisfy all requirements for admission.

"Graduating high school seniors and others who'll be enrolling at CCC for the first time should come by as soon as possible and complete the application for admission form," he explains. "These forms can be picked up and should be turned back in here in the Registrar's Office on campus."

Also required of new students is an official transcript of high school grades, if they graduated within the last five years, or GED certification.

"Adult students who have not graduated high school or obtained GED certification may also apply for admission," Dr. Stafford points out. "Such students are frequently admitted on an individual basis, particularly in our various vocational programs."

"Incidentally, these students should be aware also that Cooke County College offers free classes to persons wishing to prepare for the GED examination. Persons wishing additional information about this program should contact the CCC Counseling Center."

Students transferring from another college to CCC this summer should submit an official transcript from the last college attended.

New, returning and transfer students all are required to schedule an appointment with a college counselor prior to registration to work out course schedules.

Counselors will be on duty in the Counseling Center from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Wednesday; from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Thursday; and 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Fridays.

Although students registering for summer classes are not required to obtain a registration time permit, they still will be required to present a trail schedule form signed by a counselor before they will be permitted to enter the registration area in the Activities Center on campus.

Registration for the first summer session at CCC will begin on May 28 at 8:30 a.m. and run through 2 p.m.

Two days of late registration also have been scheduled: on June 1 (Tuesday) from 10 a.m. to noon and 4:30 to 6:30 p.m. and on June 2 from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Students enrolling late, however, will be assessed a $5 late fee.

Classes for the first summer session will begin on June 1.

Persons wishing to obtain additional information about summer classes, admission requirements, tuition costs or programs of study should contact the CCC Counseling Center or Registrar's Office at 817-668-7731.

To the members of Sacred Heart Parish
From Holly Koch, Candidate for SH School Board

This Sunday you will find my name on the SH ballot for School Board, and I ask for your vote and support.

We have lived here for the past seven years, and our four daughters have all attended and graduated from Sacred Heart. We have supported and assisted the school in all its endeavors.

During the 1976 and 1977 school years I served on SH's Board, and I now represent the school on the Diocesan Board of Education. My experience at the local level and my knowledge of, and connections with other systems in the Diocese will provide beneficial feedback.

I'm 100% committed to this community, to all of our children, and to Catholic education. I would welcome the opportunity to be back as a working member of SH's Board.

Thank you. Holly Koch
