ROSABELL MILLER AND STANEY YOSTEN WED IN TUESDAY CEREMONY

Beautiful and impressive wedding rites in Sacred Heart Church Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock united in marriage Miss Rosabell Miller and Staney Yosten, both of this city. Rev. Frowin Koerd, pastor, was celebrant of the Nuptial High Mass and read the marriage vows in the presence of a large assemblage of relatives and friends.

The traditional wedding marches from Wagner's "Lohengrin" and Mendelssohn announced the approach and departure of the bridal party. Anthony Luke at the pipe organ assisted the church choir in rendering the Mass "Missa Tertina."

The bride wore a princess-styled white net frock over satin. Full sleeves were tied above the elbows with tiny white ribbon bows. A silver tiara held the long bridal veil of net. White carnations, calla lilies and fern were fashioned in an arm bouquet and were tied with white tulle bow. Her only ornament was a large gold cross suspended from her neck by a white satin ribbon. It was a wedding gift from the bridegroom's aunt, Sister Ladislous, of Saint Francis convent in Columbus, Nebraska.

Miss Bernice Miller, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress of Nile green net over satin was full skirted, made with a square neck and old-fashioned puffed sleeves. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and fern and wore a spray of the flowers in her hair.

Leonard Yosten, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Acolytes for the Mass were five cousins of the bridegroom, Richard Bernard and George Swirczynski, Tony and Herbert Yosten.

Following the wedding, breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Miller, to members of the bridal party. Garden flowers were used throughout the dining and reception rooms. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with the figures of a bride and bridegroom, centered the dining table.

At noon dinner was served to the immediate relatives of the couple and their godparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Herr, Sr., Joe Swirczynski and Gus Knabe and their families.

During the afternoon open house was held for relatives and a delicious supper was served. In the evening a dance was given in the K. of C. hall.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Yosten were born in Muenster and attended Sacred Heart School. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yosten and is employed by Herr Motor Company in this city.

SMALL TOWN EDITORS GO TO HEAVEN, SAYS WRITER IN ROTARIAN

The small town paper is glorified by W. Earl Dye in a recent issue of the Rotarian, who writes an article: "The Home Town Editor Speaks."

The article follows: When you married "the finest girl in the country," where did you look for that notice that meant so much to you—and so little to nearly everybody else? In your home town newspaper.

When your home was invaded by a blue eyed girl, or a bouncing boy, to whom did you immediately give details about the time of arrival, sex and weight? The editor of the home paper.

In after years, when some young fellow took the blue eyed girl to a home of his own, or the boy, now a man, was given a partnership in your business, to whom did you tell the news—which once more meant much to you and so little to everybody else? To this same editor of that same home town paper.

And when trouble invades your home, and you add to your earthly possessions that desolate bit of real estate in the cemetery, and somehow the sun doesn't seem to shine as brightly as it did, and there is a flutter of crepe on the front door, and the chair that has been aside for years is vacant—when this happens, who is it that makes it his business to "write up" the obituary? Again—it's the editor of the home paper.

Did you ever stop to count the times you begin conversation with the words, "I see by the paper?" Staying at home you may not appreciate your home town paper; but just take a trip, and be away from your intimate friends for several months and then pick up a copy. You will welcome it as you would your closest friend.

I have always disliked publishing about misdeeds or misfortunes of others. When I could do so, I left such matters out, or have given the main facts, without going into details. To my way of thinking, there is something wrong with a journalist that brings tears to the eyes of an old man, or causes a mother to feel stabbed to the heart by publicity given to an erring son or wayward daughter.

DEATH STILL LURKS — DRIVE CAREFULLY

ASHLEY, III.—L. L. McIntire, 50, salesman, was instantly killed near here recently when his new car crashed head on at high speed with a big double-trailer driven by Frank Gepner, 41, of Champaign, who was hurt critically. McIntire's body was thrown clear of his car, and buried so deep in the muck that for a time searchers couldn't locate it. The crash occurred when he rounded a double curve, and skidded on wet pavement.

I do not, however, mean that a newspaper should entirely suppress crime news. A hard and fast line between what news to print and what to omit cannot be drawn. The mitigating circumstances, and the far-reaching effect, must be studied and decided upon.

In the main, it is the province of a newspaper to print the so-called crime news as it occurs. In so doing it provides a safeguard to the community at large, which is invaluable. Men are deterred from criminal actions by fear of publicity. Judicious use of printer's ink can do more toward law enforcement than a dozen peace officers.

Newspapers, like all human agencies, make mistakes, but such errors are generally traceable to misinformation given the newsmen.

I am confident that all newspaper editors will go to heaven. No matter how eloquently the editor may boast for the development and progress of his community, no matter how diligently he may labor to build up his home county, no matter how loyally he supports a friend in politics, extolls the virtues of a famous native son, stretches the truth to praise a local prima donna-to-be or gently lays a metaphorical wreath on the grave of the departed, he seldom hears a "Thank You." Rarely does anyone say "Well done." Almost never does he hear, "We appreciated that."

But let him make a slip. Let him say that Sam Jones did something he didn't do, or Mrs. Smith Brown said something she didn't say; Everyone in town then takes a whack at him. And that is why I believe that all newspaper men go to heaven—they get their share of hell on earth.

NEW MEXICO SWELLS CHEST FOR FIGHT IN WORST HOPPER PLAGUE

SPRINGER, N. M. — Emergency donations swelled the war chest Sunday of five counties hard hit for funds to fight the worst grasshopper plague in history.

A Colfax County finance committee achieved its $15,000 goal, Albert K. Mitchell, co-ordinator of citizen's forces for five counties, announced.

The five production credit associations of New Mexico chipped in $2,750. The New Mexico Bankers' Association contributed $500.

Private subscriptions were reported by Mitchell as pouring in fast in Harding, Quay, Union and Mora Counties where the infestation threatens to leap out of control.

Mitchell said the new funds would assure an extension of the immunization work that has been carried out on an emergency basis for weeks. Thousands of acres have been treated in the rush to cut off the insects before they take wing and migrate.

In Union County, perhaps the worst stricken, one official expressed confidence the pest was under control. But some ranchers, pointing out the infestation in some places was 100 per cent, expressed belief that only some act of nature would save the region.

A poisoning campaign will begin in earnest out of Albuquerque next week, officials announced. The situation there, however, is not considered as serious as in the north.

PROPOSES COMMITTEES TO STUDY 7 SORES OF ECONOMIC SITUATION

WASHINGTON. — Bruce Barton proposed Sunday that Congress create seven special committees to study what he called the seven deadly sores of the economic situation.

The New York advertising man, suggested that each committee be given $50,000 for expenses and ordered to report to Congress by Jan. 3.

"All we are doing now is sprinkling legislative talcum powder on the running sore of unemployment," Barton said. "We have passed a trainload of laws, many of which ought to be repealed. We are not getting anywhere, and the people want Congress to become again an independent body and do something."

He proposed investigation of these subjects:

The farm problem; unemployment and relief; social security; a tax program designed to stimulate instead of to strangle industry; the reciprocal trade agreement policy; Government competition with private industry, particularly in the field of public utilities; the railroad problem.

Barton said members of the investigation committees should not limit their sessions to Washington.

"They should visit the different sections of the country and see and hear for themselves," he added. "To be effective their work should be done in quiet, and with no thought of the front page."

TARANTULA CAUGHT TRYING TO KIDNAP YOUNG TURKEY

Ed Hash blew into town last week with a wild tale. Considering the fact that Mrs. Hash observed it, however, we really believe it. It seems Mrs. Hash heard one of her little turkeys crying (or whatever a turkey does). Going to the rescue she discovered it sitting on the ground but when she tried to pick it up, she couldn't. She finally pulled

One of the signs of a good farmer, is a good bank account. It is a sign that his financial affairs are well managed and in good shape.

It is, therefore, especially desirable to the farmer to build up a good checking account, both as a reserve and to meet current expenses.

"BEFORE" AND "AFTER" PICTURES OF MUENSTER WANTED FOR RECORD

In connection with the better town movement sponsored by the Kessler Plan Association of Dallas and now receiving nation-wide attention, J. M. Weinzapfel, secretary of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, requests citizens of Muenster to submit "before" and "after" pictures depicting progress made in carrying out features of the Kessler program.

Mr. Weinzapfel states that his request is based on a suggestion from John E. Surratt, secretary of the Kessler Plan Association. Magazines of national circulation have for some time been asking for facts about towns that have adopted Kessler programs and now request the facts in pictures.

Submitting such "before" and "after" pictures is seen by Mr. Weinzapfel as an opportunity for national publicity for Muenster. They would also form part of an attractive display for all towns of the Dallas area as well as a local exhibit that would soon become a picture history of Muenster's progress in carrying out the Kessler program.

Mr. Weinzapfel urges Muenster citizens to make pictures before starting any improvement so that the picture record can be kept.

THRESHERMEN ON THE MARK AND SET FOR GO SIGNAL NEXT WEEK

This week-end finds threshermen of the community getting their machines oiled in preparation for another season. A few are definitely known to be threshing off their first loads of bundles in order to be certain that everything is in shape to begin running full force the beginning of next week.

As in years past the several dozen threshers will be entrusted with the job of separating by far the greater part of the grain. Tendencies to favor the combine harvester seem to have receded rather than progressed especially in view of the rains that were falling this week. It is doubtful whether Muenster has ever had more favorable weather for binder work, but combine harvesters, with much of their crops still in the fields, have had cause for worry during the past few days.

Predictions are that crop yields this year, except in areas visited by hail or army worms, will be the best of several seasons. There is a possibility that the community yield will be above the average in spite of those handicaps.

YOUTHFUL DEVOTION

NOTRE DAME, Ind. Devotions to the Blessed Virgin draw hundreds of Notre Dame students and visitors regularly to the replica of the Grotto of Lourdes on the university campus, where prayers are offered and hymns chanted.

HALT STREET REPAIR TO PERMIT WORK ON MELTING EQUIPMENT

Street repair work begun last Thursday was interrupted on the following day because of the inconvenience of moving the tar melting pot from one location to another. The work will be resumed, Mayor Endres said, as soon as some sort of transport truck suitable to move the pot and also permit heating can be devised.

A vast improvement is apparent where patchwork has been completed. The low ground near Shamburger's formerly the worst spot on Main Street, now matches favorably with any other parts of the pavement.

The repair work is done by tamping gravel in the chopped out places almost to the level then applying a course of tar and crushed rock as in the original construction.

It is feared however that no pavement repair job can be made completely substantial because of the tendency all along Main Street to give way over the water main. Seepage along the line during wet weather seems to soften the base and sub-base and bring disastrous effects on the entire road.

NEW PRIESTS HONORED AT PROGRAM SUNDAY IN COMMUNITY HALL

Lindsay.—As a compliment to Rev. Fathers Laux and Schad, a program was given in the community hall Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The program was a musicale consisting of selections by the parish band, a specially arranged choir and the Glee Club. Dignifying intermissions Rev. Father John delivered a congratulatory message, Elfrieda Zimmerer and Beatrice Block presented the honorees with a spiritual bouquet from the school children. The Mothers' Society presented each with a Ritual and the Young Ladies' and Young Men's Societies gave a cash present.

Fathers Schad and Laux then spoke briefly, expressing their thanks and appreciation to the parish, and the program closed with an inspiring address given by Very Rev. Ignatius Bodmayr, in behalf of Subiaco Abbey.

The stage was attractively decorated with cut flowers and pot plants and the hall was filled to capacity.
