The feast of the resurrection is a proper occasion to remember that the economical and political problems receiving most of the country's attention are not the important things after all. As President Reagan stated a short time ago in his speech at a convention of the National Association of Evangelicals, the crisis we face today is a spiritual one.

The president was optimistic on the subject. He not only stated that Communism is declining as an influence on civilization, but a great spiritual awakening has begun in America... "a renewal of the traditional values that have been the bedrock of America's goodness and greatness." He said a recent survey by a Washington-based research council concluded that Americans are far more religious than the people of other nations; 95 percent of those surveyed expressed a belief in God, and a huge majority believed the 10 commandments had real meaning in their lives.

Another study found that an overwhelming majority of Americans disapprove of adultery, teen-age sex, pornography, abortion and hard drugs. And the same study indicated a deep reverence for the importance of family ties and religious belief. The president said that these subjects must be a key part of the nation's political agenda, adding that for the first time Congress is openly and seriously debating and dealing with the prayer and abortion issues. This is definite progress. It points the way to the principles and standards that prevailed in the nation's early history, "grounded on a deep realization that freedom prospers only where the blessings of God are avidly sought and humbly accepted."

Awareness of this truth led to the great triumph of our founding fathers. As told by William Penn, "if we will not be governed by God we must be governed by tyrants." On the related subject of inalienable rights Jefferson said "The God who gave us life gave us liberty at the same time." And it was George Washington who said that "of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity, religion and morality are indispensable supports."

Along the same line Alexis de Tocqueville stated eloquently after he had gone on a search for the secret of America's greatness and genius; "Not until I went into the churches of America, and heard her pulpits aflame with righteousness, did I understand the greatness and genius of America. America is good. And if American ever ceases to be good, it will cease to be great."

His statement points directly at the source of trouble our country faces today. It is well known that the nation has been drifting away from God, indulging in the humanistic notion that our worldly-wise leaders have the answers, even while they see human principles and habits deteriorating daily.

The president related his subject to the issue of military strength, which he regards as important in dealings with other nations. Nevertheless, he adds that the struggle now going on

New council members take oaths of office

The Muenster city council organized for the coming year's activity by swearing in its newly elected members and assigning commissions. Celine Dittfurth, city secretary, administered the oath of office and Mayor Ronnie Felderhoff made the assignments.

Ted Henschel was named the mayor-pro-tem and water commissioner, John Pagel is the street commissioner, Willie Wimmer the sanitation commissioner, A.T. Tuggle the police commissioner, and Bertha Hamric the park commissioner. Dr. Enrique Juarez is the city health officer.

The council also made its regular contribution of $1850 to the city library, accepted the bid of Jim Vogel for a contract to mow the baseball park and city yards, and approved a cross walk for the intersection of Oak and Seventh streets. It will be a north-south walk from the public school corner to the community center.

Regarding bids for roofing the library and a part of the city hall, final action awaits preparation of a contract and maintenance bond, which is expected to be ready Monday night, April 18. Four bids were received on the roofing, two are being considered.

And a request to re-zone Block 63 was denied by the council.

City officials OK temporary rate relief program

A "temporary rate relief" arrangement whereby gas rates in the city are increased 16.37 percent was approved by the city council at its Monday meeting following the third reading of a request by Lone Star Gas Co.

Originally the city decided to suspend action until the third reading but agreed to let the increase apply as of the February billing on condition that retroactive refunds will be allowed if the increase is finally set at less than 16.37%. Monday's action does not change the arrangement which now applies. The rate is still temporary and it may be less in the final settlement.

When presenting the request originally, Don Abney of Lone Star Gas Co. pointed out that the relief was intended for his company rather than the consumers because of its rising costs for fuel. And it was asking for prompt relief rather than await the delay of clearing city council. That was the reason for requesting the immediate effective date with agreement to refund if a lower figure is finally established.

To help clarify possible misunderstandings on the subject, the gas company will conduct a special workshop in the city hall council chamber on Monday, April 18, 7:30 p.m. Any interested person is welcome.

Lee Wolf, Leon Klement represent local dairymen at San Antonio AMPI meeting

Lee Wolf, Gainesville; and Leon Klement, Muenster, represented local dairymen at the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. (AMPI) annual meeting in San Antonio March 28-31.

AMPI is the nation's largest dairy cooperative with 33,000 dairy farm families in 20 central states. Owned and operated by the dairymen it serves, AMPI collects raw milk from dairy farmers and markets it to dairy processors. Its members produce approximately 12 percent of the milk marketed in the United States. One-third of AMPI's total supply is produced by the 4,900 dairymen who make up the cooperative's Southern Region.

The 1200 elected officials at the San Antonio meeting reviewed AMPI operations and policy. Key sessions were devoted to examining economic challenges facing the dairy industry.

At the forefront of discussion was the need for legislation to replace the USDA 50 cents per hundred weight assessment on all milk marketed. AMPI has actively opposed the assessment and stressed the need for "individual producers incentives" that would encourage dairymen to reduce production without jeopardizing their capacity to meet consumer needs.

Dairy Compliance Plan Representatives Tom Harkin, (D-Iowa), chairman of the House of Livestock, Dairy and Poultry Subcommittee, and James Jeffords (R-Vermont), ranking minority member, were on hand to discuss details of the "Dairy Compliance Plan" introduced in the House last week.

The proposal centers on diversion payments to encourage dairy farmers to idle a portion of their milk productive capacity; plus a two-tier pricing system for those increasing production that would support the price

Routine election has light turnout

The only action in last Saturday's voting at Muenster was in the Water District's referendum, which resulted in a 55 to 38 decision favoring a tax on annexed area to the district since 1981. Prior to '81 all of the district was subject to a tax, but the area added since then was not subject to a tax unless authorized by a special referendum in which all of the district rather than just the new area was eligible to vote.

The outcome of the referendum was taken for granted because it was assumed that those from the old area would choose to have newcomers share the water district tax with them, and the comparatively close count came as a surprise.

In other respects, Saturday's three-in-one election was a routine event, with unopposed candidates on all of the ballots.

In the city election Ronnie Felderhoff received 82 votes for mayor succeeding Leo Hess; William Wimmer received 90 votes succeeding Ronnie Felderhoff in place 3; and Ted Henschel received 81 votes for reelection to place 5. Other members on the council are John Pagel, place 1, A.T. Tuggle, place 2, and Bertha Hamric, place 4.

In the school district election Gerald Walterscheid received 103 votes for reelection to place 1 and Dennis Hess received 104 as successor to Eddie Fleitman in place 2. Other board members are Joe Hellman, Harold Bindel, Richard Pagel, Dale Klement and Leon Klement.

Votes received in the hospital direct election were as follows. Ollie Trubebach 102, Al Felderhoff 108, and Paul Fetsch 108, all incumbents; and Dr. Marvin Knight 111, to succeed Jimmy Jack Biffle. Also on the hospital board are C. Wm. Hermes, Dan Luke, George Berry, Rufus Henschel and Albert Dangelmayr.

Gainesville project gets $80,000 boost

The Main Street Project in Gainesville received an extra financial stimulus Tuesday when four lending institutions there combined to make available $80,000 at an 8 percent interest rate as an incentive for redevelopment of the city's downtown area in conjunction with the Main Street Project.

Fifteen cities in Texas are participating in the Main Street Program, which is open to towns and cities with less than 50,000 population. The largest city participating is Harlingen, with a population of some 43,000 and the smallest is Stamford — hometown of 17th District Representative Charles Stenholm — population 4,500.

Gainesville is in the second year of the three-year program.

The low interest loans will be available for exterior improvements to historic commercial property in the Central Business District of Gainesville. Loans will be limited to a $10,000 maximum per building rehabilitation project with a five-year maximum payback period.

Since the beginning of the Main Street Project in Gainesville in 1982, one of the most obvious changes brought on by the program has been the rehabilitation of several downtown buildings such as the James R. Bell Building and Mademoiselle Dress Shop and T&L Shoes. Even in a difficult economic year, Gainesville saw over $416,000 reinvestment in the downtown area in the forms of building acquisition, rehabilitation, and new construction. In 1983, with the formation of the Main Street Low Interest Loan Program, the Gainesville Main Street Project and the participating lending institutions aim to inspire quality private reinvestment in the Central Business District and to demonstrate their faith in the future of Gainesville's downtown area and the entire community.

Good News

Psalm 12: 2-5
Help, O Lord! for no one now is dutiful; faithfulness has vanished from among men.
Everyone speaks falsehood to his neighbor; with smooth lips they speak, and double heart.
May the Lord destroy all smooth lips, every boastful tongue,
Those who say, "We are heroes with our tongues; our lips are our own; who is lord over us?"

Beware the peddlers

Beware! peddlers have made an initial haul in Muenster and residents are alerted to be on guard in case of future visits.

City Secretary Celine Dittfurth said Wednesday that the city has had a number of complaints of magazine salesmen making calls, and a number of sales, without permits to sell. Some have acted suspiciously and all are suspected from the fact that they ask for checks to be payable to them personally rather than to a publisher.

Mrs. Dittfurth suggests that anyone who questions the qualifications of a door-to-door salesman ask to see a permit issued by the city. And in case someone objects to the person's behavior, to notify the city police.

Chill-factor cold

While weather is moderating according to the thermometer it still has a chill factor suggesting winter. Jackets have been in order and a track meet was postponed. And in spite of two recent freezes fruit trees and gardens are in fine condition. Low and high readings of the week were recorded as follows.

March 31	44 and 79
April 1	60 and 65
April 2	39 and 64
	plus .25 in. rain
April 3	36 and 75
April 4	60 and 74
April 5	39 and 54
	plus .08 in. rain
April 6	37 and 61
	Moisture measures are .33 for the month and 6.85 for the year.

The Owner's Manual

ALTHOUGH EASTER is over, in actuality every Sunday is Easter Sunday. We celebrate His resurrection every time God's people come together to worship Him.

There are some fourteen appearances of Jesus after his resurrection. All the apostles saw Him. More than five-hundred brethren saw Him at one-time. Could they all have been mistaken? Was it a figment of their imagination? No. The demonstrable facts were too self-evident; the persons involved too many and too reliable to entertain such a concept. The simple fact is, "He is risen."

On one occasion after His resurrection, Jesus appeared to the eleven apostles who were gathered together. As they talked with one another, suddenly our risen Lord stood in their midst. They were terrified; they were troubled. They supposed that they had seen a spirit. Our risen Lord dispelled their doubts and fears with a challenge: "Behold my hands and my feet, that I am myself; touch me and see, for a spirit does not have flesh and bones as you see that I have," (Luke 24:39).

Thomas, one of the apostles, was not present on this occasion but eight days later he was with this company when Jesus again came and stood in their midst. Previously, when Thomas had been told that the Lord was risen he said that he would not believe that the Lord had been raised from the dead without some visible, physical evidence. Now Jesus addressed him and said, "Thomas, reach here your finger and behold the print of the nails in my hands and reach here your hand; thrust it into my side," (John 20:27). Staggered by this revelation — by this visible, tangible evidence of our Lord's resurrection — he could only cry out in utter amazement, "My Lord and my God," (John 20:28).

I think many of us today who once strayed far away from God's plan for our life can identify with Thomas when he doubted. It is said that his doubting is the most remembered thing about Thomas. So much so, that even today when someone doubts we refer to them as a "doubting Thomas." No one seems to remember his profession of faith. Thomas turned his life over completely to Christ to be his Lord and Saviour when he said "My Lord and my God." History tells us that after Pentecost Thomas became a fearless evangelist and a great builder of churches in the Middle East and India and that thousands and thousands of people came to know Christ because of his ministry, and yet the main thing people remember about Thomas today is that once he doubted.

Today many Christians share a similar fate when some individuals want only to look at the kind of life the Christian once lived before turning his life over to Christ. These individuals say, "Why he proclaims to be a Christian, but I can remember when he used to do such and such." What they don't seem to understand is that God has forgiven and forgotten all the sins of the Christian who has repented. Wouldn't it be wonderful if all men could do likewise?

Looking Ahead

RECESIONS SUCH as we are experiencing for the eighth time since the end of World War II are caused by maladjustments among prices, costs and wages. The only way we can end this recession and get our millions of unemployed back to work, is to bring about adjustment of all individual prices, costs and wages — to supplant maladjustment with coordination. That is how Japan keeps her unemployment rate down to 1 percent. All that is necessary in America is to return to freedom in the marketplace.

It is not enough to simply talk about a commitment to freedom and free enterprise: We have to practice what we preach; we have to remove all unnecessary impediments to free prices, free costs, and free wages.

We have a choice: We can dodge the issue by saying the task is too difficult; that there are too many powerful special interest groups whose members benefit from subsidies, controls and regulations — which have too much political clout — to permit a return to a truly free market: we can say, "It's too late." — Give up and wait for the collapse. If we take this course the recession and unemployment will get worse and ultimately the economy will collapse as have many others throughout history over similar loose fiscal and monetary policies.

Or, we can recognize the seriousness of the situation and every one of us can demand of our representatives in Washington and in our State Legislatures a commitment to the process of unshackling the free market!

If we can make this choice, the free competitive forces in the market will return coordination among prices, costs and wages. As a consequence, American business and industry will once more be able to accumulate capital, invest in new processes, new tools, new plants and put Americans back to work.

Dr. F.A. Harper, said: "I would define unemployment as involuntary leisure of a person who is willing to work at the free market price."

If we used this definition as a guide to implement or not implement various economic fallacies in America, there would be no unemployment — Ever.

Millions of Americans are voluntarily out of work because:

— They can draw about as much in food stamps, and welfare payments, and unemployment compensation as they can earn by working for a living. They choose not to work.

— They consider themselves worth more than the market values of their services.

— Their unemployment compensation is nearly equal to what they could earn working. Millions of Americans are involuntarily out of work because: Yes —

— Minimum wages required by law are higher than the value they can contribute to production.

— Union agreements and cooperating government regulations prohibit them from competing as taxi drivers, truckers, laborers, electricians, plumbers — you name it!

— Of laws prohibiting "cottage industries," where people work in their homes.

The solution to the unemployment problem is to return to a free price for labor: for all wages.

Perspectives

THE CONTROVERSIAL issue of prayer in public schools resurfaces periodically and although it hasn't been a hot issue recently, the recent passing of the most important day on the Christian calendar should bring it to mind for a lot of us.

A couple of months ago, Paul Harvey was telling of a visit by a Russian diplomat, one of any number of such visits made from time to time by representatives of most countries. The visit apparently included various tours of facilities and briefings of customs, including our school system. Sometime during one of the conversations, the Soviet mentioned something about the amount of time spent on prayer in our public schools.

"Oh no," the American explained. "Our Supreme Court has ruled that prayer in public schools is an unconstitutional violation of the separation of church and state." To which the Soviet replied, "I thought you guys had religious freedom!"

Chalk one up for the comrade. That zinger ought to do a lot to drive home a rather serious point. This nation doesn't possess the religious freedom it deserves. Even worse, this nation doesn't possess the religious freedom it needs.

And this need remains unfulfilled because of the misdirected efforts of the nation's highest court, a court which has taken a well-intentioned concept and foundation of the Constitution and completely distorted it.

Those who drafted our constitution arranged for a number of freedoms and conditions; among them, the separation of church and state. But by separating these two entities, the founding fathers never intended to completely separate the religious from the secular. Such a complete separation, as they knew then and we should know now, is not only wrong, but also unattainable to a great degree. The intention was to establish an atmosphere that was most conducive to a citizen's freedom to worship.

If these wise men intend for a complete separation of church and state, should they not remove the words "under God" from the pledge of allegiance? And would they not advocate the removal of the phrase "In God We Trust" from our coins and paper currency? And would they deem it unconstitutional for the president to lead a crowd in the singing of "God Bless America" as all presidents have been known to do on occasion?

Sure, maybe such suggestions are a bit absurd, but it's every bit as absurd to disallow the right of school-age children to devote a few voluntary minutes to the worship of their choice.

For this court to preach individual rights at the same time these most basic and personal rights are being denied is pure hypocrisy. The court's actions in the past few years would suggest that they have not only neglected these rights, but have sought to undermine them as well.

The separation of church and state was never intended to mean isolationism, although that's what it's come to mean. Something's not right there. Isolationism has essentially nothing to do with Christianity. One of the main ideas behind this separation concept is to guard against the formation of a national church. It's supposed to prevent governmental influence and control in the spiritual lives of American citizens.

What's so ironic is, American citizens have never been closer to such influence and control as they are right now.

Letter to the Editor

My very dear friends,

It used to be such a long time - the time of penance, known as Lent before the glorious Feast of the Resurrection. But nowadays acceleration is in vogue and the arrival of Easter makes no exception.

All of a sudden therefore, I realized that a very short time was left to write this message for you. In the first place then, I wish each and everyone of you, my very dear friends, as joyfully as I can a very "Happy Easter."

As always I have weekly checked through the Muenster Enterprise and the Sacred Heart Church Bulletin what is happening in my beloved Muenster. As usual there have been both types of events - joyful and sorrowful. Such is life!

The news about the Sacred Heart High School's Tigerettes, winning the State Championship in basketball, was of course an outstanding bit of news for me.

There are many new things I could tell you about my doings here, under February 20, my diary says that I began reading "Times to Remember" by Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy. It is a very beautifully written autobiography of over 500 pages with numerous family photos. On the 24th of the same month the Olivetan Benedictine Delegate from Monte Oliveto Maggiore Abbey in Italy visited us. He is a monk who has traveled widely and has accomplished very much as founder, teacher, writer and Superior. He is a Belgian by birth.

An event of very recent date, namely March 12 was a visit in company of Mother Mary John to St. Mary's Catholic Church in Batesville and to St. Cecilia's in Newport. The purpose of the trip was to remind the parishioners of their involvement in vocations to the Religious life. The first Mass was in the evening at 5:30. The parishioners participated whole-heartedly in the Divine Service.

After the Services Mother Mary John and I stood at the church door and offered the people a prayer card for vocations and a brochure giving information on the Oblates of Saint Benedict.

The parishioners received them in a friendly, grateful manner.

The people with whom we got to stay over night took us and the Pastor to a Chinese Restaurant. This was a first in my life, but I certainly enjoyed the Chinese food.

Next we drove about 20 minutes to the home of our host. It was a delight to me to meet 3 dogs and several cats. All of them were well kept pets. Among the dogs a specialty was a very beautiful small Shetland Shepherd dog and the specialties among the cats were 2 very beautiful Siamese cats. I had a lot of fun with these animals especially the Shetland dog.

The hosts were extremely interesting people. The husband was an outstanding metallist. He must have made fabulous wages as he was sent by his companies to many foreign lands to establish contacts. Finally he decided to start an Aluminum Plant of his own. But times were hard and he lost all he had. For months now he was out of work. But he made heroic efforts to get a good job again. It cost him $800. to get it in a telephone bill of that amount besides the cost, inconvenience and heartbreak of moving from Batesville to Nashville, Tennessee.

The wife fared no better. She owned and operated a greenery and had several people working for her. But as depression set in people could not afford to buy trees and shrubs, etc. But she too has found work along her line.

On Sunday we attended the 8:30 Mass at Batesville. Then we said good-bye to our dear friends and rode to New Port. This was a short trip. St. Cecilia's parish is, if I am not mistaken, the oldest one in the diocese of Little Rock. Soon after the Mass Mother Mary John and I left for Jonesboro. We arrived there around two o'clock.

That concluded a memorable day stuffed with memories of events and lots of new friends.

Now I must say good-bye to my very dear friends. God bless each one of you.

Always your friend,
Sister M. Theresina, O.S.B.

for the world will never be decided by bombs or rockets, by armies or military might. "The real crisis we face today is a spiritual one; at root, it is a test of moral will and faith."

In this connection he referred to Whittaker Chambers remembered for his involvement with Alger

Hiss, in a historical Soviet spy case. After becoming thoroughly disillusioned with Marxism Chambers saw the light and turned his loyalty back to the U.S. He wrote that the crisis of the Western world exists to the degree in which the West is indifferent to God, the degree to which it collaborates in communism's attempt to stand alone without God. He also explained that Marxism-Leninism is actually the second oldest faith, first proclaimed in the Garden of Eden with the words of temptation: "Ye shall be as gods." Then he added "the Western World can answer this challenge, but only provided that its faith in God and the freedom He enjoins is as great as Communist's faith in mind."

This thought gives us reason for optimism. After decades of human misery and economic failure, USSR is ready for a decline.

However, a less pleasing thought applies to the U.S. Godlessness has increased here since Chambers expressed his opinion, and the question is when it will run its course. Maybe Russia's solution is nearer than ours.

Nevertheless, there's encouragement in the president's reference to recent surveys. The opinion at this stage may be principally wishful thinking, however reasonable people and reasonable government should know by now that we need a change.

An escalating interest rate.
With the First Texas IRA, the more you invest over the years, the higher your interest rate. That can really help you build a bundle for a great retirement. And, whatever your rate, all your interest is tax-deferred until you decide to withdraw the money.

The escalating rate increases at each of these deposit increments:
$2,000 $4,000 $6,000 $10,000 $25,000 $50,000+

A choice of investment terms.
You can invest with a choice of First Texas IRA Certificates: from 18 months, 2 1/2, 4, 6, 8 or even 10 years. And after a minimum opening deposit of only $50, you can add to these certificates at any time without extending their maturities.

Or with a payroll deduction plan, you can open an IRA with as little as $25 per month.

And the longer the term the higher your interest rate.

A safe investment.
The First Texas IRA is also a safe way to build for your future. Every account is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. This protection is separate from any other insured First Texas account.

Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open your IRA. Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll open it over the phone. Because April 15th will be here sooner than you think.

Subiaco boys chorus makes stop here

The Subiaco Academy Boys Chorus will use its Easter vacation for a concert tour of Texas and Oklahoma and will present a program here on Friday, April 8 at 8 p.m. in the Community Center.

By offering a wide variety of popular music and several classics, the program is designed to appeal to all ages and many personal preferences in music.

Also included are folk songs and popular spirituals; songs by modern day composers; rollicking sea chanteys and a medley of barbershop quartet arrangements; and a medley of "Songs of pretty girls". Highlighting the program will be sacred music, specifically "Confirma Hoc" by Gallus, "Sacerdotes Domini" by William Byrd and "Third Mode Melody" by Thomas Tallis.

The 36 members of the chorus are all high school students at Subiaco Academy of Subiaco, Arkansas, coming from many states. They are directed by Father Gregory Pilcher, O.S.B. The group has a record of very fine, polished performances.

Included on the tour, following the concert in Muenster, will be a program presented at the University of Dallas on Saturday; singing for the Mass in St. Monica's Church on Sunday morning and a program at St. Gregory's College in Shawnee, Oklahoma Sunday night. The young men will return to classes on Monday morning.

The public is invited to the program; everyone is welcome, and there is no admission charge.

Lindsay PTO plans stage show

The Lindsay Parent-Teacher Organization will present "Rest Assured", a comedy in three acts, April 15 and 16 at 8 p.m. in the Lindsay School Cafetorium.

Nell Hess and Kenny Bezner are directors of the play which displays talents of local actors and actresses and contains all the elements of good comedy.

The comedy centers around Mr. Morlock, an old grouch who doesn't care about much but money. He won't allow his family to do anything on their own and feuds with everyone. He won't even allow his daughter, Mary, to become engaged to the man she loves, Joe Lanconi, because Joe's father is poor and is not considered good enough for Mary.

Joe's papa, Luigi, visits Mr. Morlock to plead his son's case and is practically booted out of the house. It's at this point the feud between the Morlocks and the Lanconis begins, putting the Hatfield-McCoy fracas to shame.

Old Morlock informs Luigi, if Mary weds Joe, it will be over his dead body. Conversely, if they don't marry, it will be over Luigi's dead body. So around and around they go until Luigi's bad heart can take no more. He suffers a heart attack and dies.

With Luigi's death it would seem that the feud would end, but not so. The Almighty gives Luigi permission to come back to earth and haunt Mr. Morlock. He continues to do so until Morlock breaks down and gives his permission for the wedding to take place. Mr. Morlock by now is frantic as his family thinks he has lost his few remaining marbles because they see him speaking, seemingly to no one. They can't see Luigi because he's invisible to all but Mr. Morlock.

The Morlock-Lanconi Feud begins in this scene from "Rest Assured," a three act comedy presented April 15-16 by the Lindsay Parent-Teacher Organization. Intensity of the bitter disagreement puts the Hatfield-McCoy Feud into the shadows. Carrying the lead is Tim Wimmer as P.W. Morlock, shown here fighting with Robert Walterscheid as Luigi Lanconi. Edna Hermes, as Mrs. Morlock attempts to calm them; Judy Hoberer as Jessica Morlock enjoys the excitement and Martha Fuhrmann, (Mary Morlock) and Kenny Bezner (Joe Lanconi) watch in apprehension.

Tim Wimmer plays Mr. Morlock, the main character in the play. Edna Hermes is his wife, Mrs. Morlock, with Martha Fuhrmann as Mary Morlock and Judy Hoberer as Jessica Morlock.

Kathy Zimmerer plays Mildred the maid, Kenny Bezner is Joe Lanconi;

Robert Walterscheid is Luigi Lanconi; Pam Hoberer is Martha Laconi; Red Eberhart is Lucifer, Toots Sandman plays Miss Akers; Marty Bartlett is George Plew; Debbie Walterscheid is Mrs. Schmalz; Albert Zimmerer is Dr. Brown; Kenny Laux is Mr. Black and Nell Hess plays Mrs. Frinck.

Admission for the play will be $3 for adults and $1 for children.

Gainesville police, A&A Travel sponsor Greek journey

The Gainesville Police Association, along with A&A Travelworld, Inc., will sponsor a comprehensive study of Greece entitled "Greece, Mountains to the Islands" Sat. April 16 in the Gainesville High School Auditorium at 7 p.m.

The program is designed to be a comprehensive study of all regions of Greece from the islands punctuating Homer's "wine-dark sea" to the cloud-covered peak of Mount Olympus. It is described as a visit to a land as ancient as the temples at Delphi and as modern as the skyscrapers of Athens, and describes the Greeks themselves as a hospitable people whose word for "stranger" also means "guest."

The program will be presented by Sheryllyn and Mathew Mentes of San Clemente, California. The two, combined, have extensive experience in various forms of writing, photography, and filming of full-length travel documentaries.

Admission for the program will be 13 for adults and $2 for children under 12 and senior citizens. One night for two at Dallas' Summit Hotel, compliments of A&A Travelworld, will be awarded as a door prize.

Powers Boothe as Philip Marlowe

HBO schedules private eye series

Raymond Chandler's fictional detective Philip Marlowe, last seen around these parts as a foil to Steve Martin in film-noir spoof "Dead Men Don't Wear Plaid," is back, and playing it straight in HBO's limited-run series, "Philip Marlowe — Private Eye."

The Pay-cable network is airing five one-hour Chandler classics, beginning with "The Smart-Aleck Kill" on Saturday, April 16. To its credit HBO will be featuring previously unadapted Chandler works, adapted by two writers — Jesse Lasky Jr. and Jo Eisinger — who knew Chandler personally.

Powers Boothe, best-known for his role as cult leader Jim Jones in "The Guyana Tragedy," is cast as Marlowe, the cynical, but noble gumshoe. Unfortunately,

Boothe operates under an automatic handicap — being compared to Humphrey Bogart, who created the classic Marlowe film role in "The Big Sleep."

Indeed, Boothe ain't Bogie. He's a little too healthy for Marlowe, as we've come to know him and isn't strong enough to make a deep impression on his own. He doesn't have that lean-and-hungry look to give the role its proper cutting edge. Despite the fedora and wide-labeled jacket, he belongs more to the Los Angeles of sprouts and granola than of cheap rotgut. Besides, his diction is too clear — even with a cigarette pasted on his lower lip.

But once you accept Boothe as Marlowe, the drama succeeds on its own merits.

"The Smart — Aleck Kill," about the mysteries surrounding the death of a Hollywood idol, has particular relevance to the underbelly of today's Tinseltown. To give plot details would spoil it for viewers, but suffice to say, life was just as high in the 1930s.

The drama faithfully captures Chandler's pungent dialogue ("That's like taking a trip down a sewer in a glass-bottom boat," Marlowe explains at one point) and his plot line, which has more twists and bends than a plate of linguini.

The scenery and props excellently reproduce the Los Angeles of the 1930s — even if the shows were filmed in London.

No. 18 is Susan Saint James, host of the April 16 edition of NBC's "Saturday Night Live."

The Center Restaurant and Tavern in Muenster presents a wide variety in menu selection, a choice in beverages, and special features, offering hometown elegance in comfortable surroundings, appealing to local tastes, as well as friends from a distance who return regularly, remaining attracted to their favorites.

Among the proudest features is the salad bar, tempting both gourmet and weight-watcher, open noon and evening every week day and on Sundays, sufficiently to be a meal in itself.

The Sunday breakfast buffet, increasingly popular, offers variety in breakfast favorites and is open from 7:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. The bountiful Sunday noon buffet satisfies the hungriest family, and is open after 11 a.m.

kebobs to teriyaki chicken, shrimp and chicken strips and catfish dinners.

Also of pride to K-Bob's are the banquet facilities and catering services for private parties. An innovation is the availability of new VIP Senior Citizen 10 percent Discount Cards for those over 60 years of age. K-Bob's is located in the Gainesville Shopping Center on Hwy. 82.

family dining is foremost.

Emil Rohmer, who recently observed his 30th anniversary in his restaurant career, opened in the present location in 1953 in a native stone, remodeled, former home, emphasizing a comfortable, home-like atmosphere, with home cooking: wholesome, hearty, well balanced and in good variety, reflecting German heritage of love of well seasoned, good food.

Fine seafood, fine steaks, distinctive specials "dinners for two" on designated nights, an ample salad bar, a buffet in the main dining room, an exceptional wine list and variety of mixed drinks — were enhanced by the grand opening introduction of a salad bar luncheon buffet and a New Orleans style Poor Boy Sandwich and a grand opening special on drinks during the happy hour 3:30 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.

Newly introduced into the varied menus is Rex Chicken (marinated chicken breast, deep-fried;) also introduced is a calorie-watcher plate; and soon to be introduced is a Specialty of the House, Poached Red Snapper topped with a sauce of shrimp, mushrooms and wine, as described by Joe Schully, owner. He said: "We are extremely proud of Bon Appetit in Lindsay and Delta Queen in Gainesville, where we also offer fine seafood."

Personal observation leans to description of a pleasing salad bar, and an outstanding Sunday night full Seafood buffet.

Reservations for large groups may be made with Jodi Schully, mgr. or Robyn Swain, mgr.

Fireside Dining

A delicious break, a truly unique dining experience, are phrases descriptive of Fireside Dining near Lake Murray, Oklahoma. It is a delightful way to dine and a delightful place to dine... In winter near the comfort of several fireplaces, still able to enjoy scenic views through wide expanses of glass window-walls ... in summer enjoying garden-side dining with dozens of beautiful indoor green plants and the same scenic outdoor view. In addition to the relaxing comfort of Fireside Dining, decor lends its own unique quality.

Gary Jackson, manager of Fireside Dining said the recently redecorated restaurant now includes five dining rooms. A separate, private club is available.

Dinner menus specialize in Prime Rib Steaks and Seafood everyday; with lobster added on Thursday, Friday and Saturday; with a choice of KC strip, filet mignon and ribeye; fried shrimp, savory baked fresh water trout; fried or baked catfish whole; breast of chicken Kiev, shore dinner; chopped sirloin and Fireside fried chicken, etc. etc. Hors d' oeuvres and specialties include deep fried cheese squares; fried zucchini strips or mushrooms, escargot; marinated beef kabobs; baskets of big, buttered hot croutons; etc.

Dessert choices listed are beautiful, throwing calorie counting to the winds. Fireside Dining is closed on Sunday and Monday.

Color the theme for secretarial workshop

Persons attending this year's ninth annual Secretarial Workshop at Cooke County College are in for a colorful time.

Theme of the workshop this year is color, which featured speaker Lenore Bransford says can make a very big difference in whether a person makes the right or wrong choice in clothing, makeup, even jewelry.

It's very common, she points out, for women to have a closet full of clothes and yet feel that they never have the right thing to wear. Others frequently buy things they think look great in the store but find they just don't work out as expected when they get them home.

"Such people should be glad to learn that the problem may not be one of taste at all," she says, "but rather the way they select and combine colors. It may come as a surprise, but most people see color before they even notice style."

Bransford is from Hurst and represents COLOR 1, the only color service in the U.S. offering individual consultations on a national scale.

"A person's natural body colors are what counts most when selecting clothes," she explains, "and yet this is what many people ignore. The primary color in your wardrobe is yours, and the COLOR 1 concept is one of self-enhancement through color."

During the workshop, scheduled for April 27 (Wednesday) from noon to 4 p.m. Bransford will be more fully explaining the COLOR 1 concept as well as describing in detail the four basic color types.

"We believe people usually fall into one of these four basic color types, or are a combination of two color types," she points out. "These are gentle, muted, contrast and light-bright. Knowing all of your best colors makes the difference between just looking good and looking great."

During consultations, Bransford helps clients identify their best colors by selecting them from among some 600 color chips. Colors best suited to the individual client are determined by the natural colors of hair, skin, eyes and lips.

"Everyone can wear virtually every color in the spectrum," Bransford asserts, "but every color has different shades. It is the shade and clarity of various colors that's important, as well as the way these colors are combined."

In explaining the color selection process, Bransford will work with various models from the audience. She also will explore such topics as choosing the best pattern sizes and determining the most appropriate textures and weights of fabrics.

Much attention will be focused also on the importance of considering color not only in regard to clothing and makeup but also in regard to hair color changes, jewelry and other accessories and even eyeglass frames.

"This promises to be one of the most informative and interesting programs we've had for the workshop in some time," says Dr. Eddie Hadlock, dean of CCC's Division of continuing Education which is sponsoring the affair in conjuntion with the Division of Business Administration and CCC Secretarial Association.

"For this reason," he says, "we're expecting a large turnout, and we urge all interested secretaries to register soon."

Fee for the participating in the workshop this year will be $10 per person, which includes a salad luncheon beginning at noon.

"We think every secretary deserves an occasional afternoon away from the boss, so no bosses will be invited to the luncheon this year," Dr. Hadlock says. "We want everyone to come out and relax, have a good time and gain some valuable information as well."

Persons wishing to attend the workshop should call the Division of Continuing Education at 668-7731, extension 220, to reserve a place and then come by the office in Room 120 on campus to sign up. Persons not able to register in person may also call this number to have a registration form mailed to them.

PTO hears talk on bio-feedback

The Muenster Public School PTO heard a program on Stress and Bio-Feedback, presented by Charles Scherzer, director of the Mental Health Service in Gainesville, when he spoke at the meeting on March 21. He demonstrated three machines used for detection of stress, and was assisted by Bernice Sicking, Lupe Evans and Edgar Dyer. In his very informative program Scherzer said that people can be taught to control their reactions to stress. Mr. Scherzer was introduced by Bernice

Sicking, program chairman. President of the PTO Lupe Evans conducted the business meeting; Carol Dyer led the opening prayer and pledge to the Flag; Kathy Vogel read minutes and Sharon Walterscheid gave the treasurer's report. Mrs. Evans thanked Kay Pagel and Ann Perkins, chairmen of the Arts and Crafts Show, for excellent work and conduction of the annual school project. Announcement was made that the Junior Olympics will be held on May 6 for grades 1 to 6. Mmes. Charlotte Klement, Doris Klement and Betty Gene Bindel were appointed to a nominating committee which will report at the April meeting. Principal Eddie Green told PTO members that pre-enrollment for grades 7 to 12 will begin on April 11. Notes were received from the students of Florence Williams and Gwen Trubebach, thanking the PTO for furnishing and gifting them with certain supplies.

IF IT'S TIME TO REPLACE YOUR CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONER, DON'T WASTE YOUR ENERGY.

Not all central air conditioners are energy efficient. Some are just as inefficient as the ones built twenty years ago. But if you buy a high efficiency air conditioner, you'll save money in the long run on operating costs.

And buying an energy efficient air conditioner could also earn you a bonus from Texas Power & Light. Just buy a central air conditioner with the qualifying SEER*, and we'll send you a check worth at least $40 per ton of capacity.

So now, buying an energy efficient unit will save you money in two ways. First, with lower operating costs. And second, with TP&L's bonus check.

For more information about our Bonus Program, give the energy experts at TP&L a call. The sooner you do, the sooner you'll enjoy lower cooling costs and get a bonus check on top of it.

Magazine drive - Our magazine drive this year was very successful. Our goal was $6000.00. We exceeded our goal by a slight amount. Thank you for your support.

Home and School meeting - The Home and School Association will have its next meeting on April 19th. The meeting will consist of a social for all HSA members. The social will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the community center.

Marathon - We have been invited to participate in the 5th annual Texas Marathon for Non-Public Education. The event, sponsored by the Catholic Education Center for the Fort Worth diocese, will be held on Saturday, April 16, 1983.

Several thousand adults and children will be on hand to walk, run or jog around the one kilometer track between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 a.m. on Our Lady of Victory School grounds, 3300 Hemphill, Fort Worth. Basically, the Marathon is set up in this manner: The participants either you or your child or both, are given pledge sheets in advance. Then, you or your child will need to solicit individuals to pledge a certain amount of money for each kilometer (3/3 mi.) that you complete. At the Marathon you walk as many kilometers as you wish. Then, you collect the pledges by April 29th. The more pledges you sign up or the more times you walk the prescribed kilometer, the more money you earn for Sacred Heart.

The annual event will be both a fun and purposeful activity, with 85% of the pledged monies going to Sacred Heart. The remaining 15% goes to the Diocese. There will be transportation available to the Marathon or you may choose to drive yourself.

All of us in this area have to dispose of our trash and there are several areas available for this, and some of us just find a place somewhere. I, for one, do think that when we dump out trash we could at least make a sincere effort to get it into the dump-site and not strew half of it out on the roads and grass. It makes a very un-sightly mess. Let us all just try to have a little more pride in the up-keep of our surroundings. Nothing detracts more from the area than to have trash, empty cans and bottles littering our country roads. This is pretty country we live in — so lets not ruin it's beauty with our careless dumping, etc.

Our April birthdays are as follows: Tracy Lanier, April 9; Melinda Smith 10th; Micki Moore 10th; Jewell Dill 12th; Jack Carter 13th; Ted Jackson 13th; Charles Dill 18th; Faith Sandusky 19th; Lucille Littell 21st; Vatori Dill 25th; J.W. White 26th.

Texas agricultural production estimated down $1 billion

Total cash receipts from farm and ranch products in Texas were down about $1 billion-or 9 percent-last year compared to 1981.

Cash receipts from agricultural production last year are estimated at almost $9.6 billion on figures compiled by Dr. Carl Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"This total figure is based on input from county Extension agents and Extension economists from the various regions of the state," says Anderson. The total estimate does not include government payments.

"1982 was obviously a tough year for Texas farmers and ranchers due to the general downturn in economic conditions and poor farm prices that resulted from huge stockpiles of agricultural commodities," notes Anderson. "Weather losses also were heavy in some areas, particularly in the South Plains where hail destroyed more than half the cotton crop."

Cotton led the decline in cash receipts from crops, which totaled almost $3.8 billion compared to the previous year's $4.6 billion. Cotton receipts dropped from $1.4 billion in '81 to $875 million last year.

Sale of food grain crops, mainly rice and wheat, were down almost $300 million at $739 million. Feed crops — corn, grain sorghum, oats, barley, hay and ensilage — sold for just over $1 billion, down only slightly from 1981 levels.

Oil crops — soybeans, peanuts, sunflowers, guar and flax — contributed $228 million to last year's receipts — up moderately from the previous year.

Receipts from vegetables were at $364 million while sales of fruits and nuts added another $83 million; both of these categories of crops had reduced sales last year.

Sales of all other crops totaled $412 million, up from $339 million in 1981.

Sales of livestock products contributed most to the overall agricultural receipts in Texas last year — more than $5.1 billion although the total was down $300 million from '81. This included the sale of meat animals, dairy products, poultry and eggs, and various other livestock products, such as wool and mohair.

Cash receipts from cattle and calves alone totaled $3.8 billion or 40 percent of the state's agricultural sales. Hog sales totaled $113 million while sheep and goats contributed another $65 million.

Sales of dairy products amounted to some $545 million while poultry and eggs kicked in another $514 million.

The sharpest increase in cash receipts came from farm-based timber, horses, fish farming, hunting leases, farm pond leases and recreation. Receipts in these areas jumped from $581 million in 1981 to $724 million last year.

"Despite the economic woes in agriculture in 1982, Texas continues to rank third in the nation, behind California and Iowa, in total cash receipts," says Anderson. "The $9.6 billion in agricultural receipts has a tremendous effect on the Texas economy to the tune of about $35 billion in economic activity."

Looking to the future, the economist sees some encouraging signs for farmers and ranchers. "Farm prices and incomes will improve as supplies decrease and demand increases," says Anderson. "Hopefully, the PIK program will be successful in reducing the level of surplus commodities. In addition, production costs should be fairly stable through 1983, and reduced interest and inflation rates should also help the farm economy."

It pays to topdress pastures.

Pastures are too often overlooked in an otherwise comprehensive fertility program.
The fact is, proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity. It can also dramatically increase your milk production.
Begin with a soil test. Then apply the fertilizer shown to be needed. Add lime, if your soil is found high in acidity.
Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.

County Agent's Report

With the various government programs in effect this year, there will be an increase in the amount of wheat and other grain hays being cut. As always the biggest problem faced is drying. Properly cut wheat or oat hay must be harvested during the wet season. Rains, high humidity, and general wet conditions prevent getting in the field and hinder curing. Keeping these problems in mind, early harvest is important. Winter annuals have the potential of producing many pounds of protein through hay. At this year's State Hay Show many winter annuals had protein levels of 14 percent to 19 percent crude protein making them comparable to many legume hays. Maturity was the key factor for these high protein contents.

The forage testing lab at Texas A&M has processed many samples over the years, and results indicate that the quality differences in forage are largely due to management practices, which are summarized as follows:

1. Protein percentage is largely affected by (a) the fertility level of the soil, and especially the amount and timing of nitrogen applications, and (b) the stage of maturity or age of plant when harvested.

2. High energy values in grasses and legumes are associated with low cell wall content, which is largely affected by the stage of maturity when harvested. Percentage cell wall increases with age.

3. The energy values of silage crops will increase to about the dough stage of maturity provided the crop produces a considerable amount of grain (example: grain sorghum, corn and certain forage sorghums with high grain content).

4. Forage sorghums grown for hay should be harvested before seedheads appear. This includes varieties such as Red Top, Hegari and numerous forage sorghum hybrids. Earlier recommendations indicated that these should be harvested at the bloom to soft-dough stages for maximum energy values, especially in those producing grain. This is no longer suggested, as (a) the protein percentage is greatly reduced, (b) there is a lower percentage of leaves with greater leaf loss from shattering and (c) considerable loss of grain from shattering and low digestibility of the dry whole grain when fed as such.

As in forage sorghums, the same concept of maturity can be applied to winter annuals.

of milk at the current level of $13.10 for production for which there is a commercial demand and give a lower price on the surplus. The difference between the two levels would be paid into a dairy stabilization fund and be used to finance the set-aside payments. The plan also includes a national advertising and promotion effort financed by a uniform 15 cents/hundredweight checkoff, allowing credit for producer participation in qualified local programs.

AMPI: The Balanced Cooperative

AMPI President Irvin Elkin, a dairy farmer from Amery, Wisconsin, focused attention on the cooperative's day-to-day marketing efforts when he said, "The basic strength of AMPI lies in its total approach in addressing the needs and interests of dairy farmers. While some cooperatives might emphasize one particular area at the expense of another, AMPI is dedicated to making a total commitment to each of the cooperative's vital functions—marketing, membership services and national policy formulation."

In 1982, AMPI members delivered 15.7 billion pounds of milk to market. Production was up 100 million pounds over 1981, with the Southern Region reporting substantial increases.

E.L. (Jiggs) Wise, southern region manager, Arlington, Texas, said that the region's production was five percent over the previous year. Seventy-seven percent of this supply was sold to Grade A milk processors in the area. The balance was processed into butter, dry milk powder and cheese, primarily in AMPI owned plants.

"AMPI plants played a key role in allowing our marketing programs to continue to function as production increased," Wise said. A new plant in El Paso, and butter packaging equipment in the AMPI plant in Sulphur Springs, were added during 1982. The Region also purchased a warehouse in Arlington, Texas to use in distributing AMPI butter and cheese to the wholesale and retail trade in Texas and other southern states.

Lee Wolf, Gainesville, Texas, AMPI Southern Region President, credited these and other AMPI marketing efforts for the stable prices members had received during 1982. He cited the 5.7 million dollar advertising and sales promotion program as "an avenue in developing a balance between production and sales."

Elkin summed up the sentiment that prevailed among those attending, "Dairy farmers and all of agriculture face serious challenges in 1983, but we believe that by working together in a cooperative framework like AMPI, these challenges can and will be met."

Native plants provide pretty, economical landscaping options

COLLEGE STATION — Most of the ornamental plants and shrubs Texans use to decorate their homes and parks are not native to Texas, and that bothers agricultural experts at Texas A&M University.

Benny Simpson, a plant specialist with the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Dallas, says using native plants is more than a matter of regional pride.

The advantages, says Simpson and a host of experts who are looking into the issue, are that Texas plants need less care, less fertilizer and most importantly, less water.

Native plants include mesquite, prickly pear, mountain laurel, cenizo or Texas sage and a small, blue holly-leaf bush called agarito. Ground cover includes tubetongue, snapdragon vine and buffalo grass.

Researchers recover corn protein before alcohol production

COLLEGE STATION — Research at Texas A&M University on removing food proteins from corn before it is processed into ethanol may do much to silence critics who say food is being sacrificed for fuel.

"Our concept is to take the food protein out before the fuel production process and we don't believe it will impair the efficiency of alcohol production," said J. T. Lawhon, co-investigator on the project with Dr. John Sweeten, an agricultural engineer.

"Controversy and increasing concern are being expressed over the use of corn and other food crops to produce fuel-grade alcohol," he said.

Presently, Lawhon said, corn is fermented to make ethanol and the residue, called stillage, goes for animal feed. Proteins aren't used in producing ethanol, but are damaged in the process, making them less beneficial for food use.

Golf ASSN. sponsors tournament

The Muenster Golf Association will hold its monthly scrambles tournament next Sunday morning, April 10, 9:30 a.m., at the Nocona Hills golf course.

The association, with its recent addition of 13 members, now has a total of 59, and 44 were present for the March tourney.

At that time the winning foursome, with a team score of 64, included Mark Hess, Kim Hale, Don Eckart and Johnny Pegg. Three foursomes shared the honors for second, third and fourth places with scores of 66. They were Bill Reed, Phil Wolf, Steve Taylor and Carl Walterscheid; Jim Endres, Angelo Nasche, Danny Voth and Ed Schneider; Urban Endres, Bobby Hermes, Dale Swirczynski, Danny Walterscheid and Buster Herr.

Hornets are tennis co-champs

Muenster Hornets share the district tennis title with Poolville, the standings being determined Monday in a tournament at Mineral Wells. MHS scored first in doubles and third in singles whereas Poolville was No. 1 and No. 2 in singles.

The doubles division had four entries: Muenster, Peaster and two from Perrin. Wayne Carroll and Jeff Fisher started with a win over Terrin Two then defeated Peaster for the top trophy.

The singles division had entries from Muenster, Grafrod, Poolville, Peaster, Perrin, Forestburg and Alvord. Cory Klement started with a bye, beat Grafrod in the second game and lost to Poolville in the semifinal. Meanwhile Forestburg lost its semifinal to the other Poolville entry after which muenster defeated Forestburg for the third place honor. Jay Mollenkopf, also entered for Muenster was eliminated in his opener.

Hornets baseball

MHS Hornets chose the correct time to make a switch in their baseball performance. After going winless through their three game pre-district schedule, they won their district opener Monday at Byers. The 16-6 triumph is explained principally by a big 11-run second inning.

Another factor, which caused misery to both sides, was a strong, bone-chilling wind in which Kevin Felderhoff allowed 15 walks and the Byers pitcher gave up 10. However, with the bunch of walks Kevin gets credit for a no-hitter and 11 strikeouts. The opposing hurler gave up 15 hits with his 10 walks and fanned 7.

Muenster hitters were Kevin Felderhoff, a homer, a double and a single; Craig Stoffels 4 singles; Greg Luke and Joe Hennigan, each two singles; Johnny Eldred, Kevin Switzer, Ronnie Trubenbach and Neal Flusche, each one single.

While Muenster won, Alvord beat Midway and Saint Jo was idle with a bye. Present standings are Muenster 1-0, Alvord 1-0, Saint Jo 0-0, Byers 0-1, Midway 0-1.

Restrooms on plan for baseball park

A Jaycee project to build public restrooms at the city baseball park got the blessing of the Muenster City Council Monday night. The structure will be located south of the grandstand, will measure 15x20 feet and will have heydite tile walls and a metal roof.

The City and Jaycees are co-operating in the project. City will provide the water and sewer connections, the Jaycees will provide materials and labor.

The plan is to have the facility ready for use at the opening of the local softball and baseball seasons.

Pictured are Stephanie Richey and Sara Walterscheid in front and Lisa Martinez, Sherrie Boydston and Nancy Walterscheid in the back. Kyla Hale is not pictured. Richey and Hale along with Sara and Nancy Walterscheid won their doubles prelims and opposed each other in the finals resulting in first for Richey and Hale and second for Sara and Nancy. Lisa Martinez won third in singles by winning the contest of semifinals losers, Sherrie Boydston, the other MHS singles entry, won her opener and was eliminated in the second game.
