lambasted daily for his determination to help the anti-Reds turn back the Marxist tide, and no matter how we sympathize with his views we have to admit that the critics have history on their side. We experienced bitter failure in Korea and Vietnam, so it's understan-dable now to hear this is another case of pouring our funds down a rathole. The ridicule could be regarded as justifiable ex-cept for a few very meaningful facts. First of all, the US had no cooperation, as when MacArthur and our Viet-nam forces were compelled to submit to a no-win war, and secondly when the media sabotaged the national effort by aiding the enemy and carrying on a campaign of hostility toward US policies and fighting men. Wel, it's happening again.

ampaign of nostility toward US policies and fighting men. Well, it's happening again. President Reagan is convin-ced that Reds are getting dangerously close to their goal of global take-over, and it's high time to do things in defense of freedom. In the jargon of gamblers, this may be a case of sending good money after bad money, but another consideration is that it may be the only chance to come out as a winner. Certainly the odds seem better than simply submitting to Red success, knowing very well that we are targeted for take-over.

that we are targeted for take-over. Another justification for the Reagan viewpoint was presented lately by Human Events in an article entilled "Golden Opportunity for US in Nicaragua." The report explains that the Marxist Sandinistas, who took charge when Somoza was overthrown in 1979, are reaping the harvest of their ruthless rule while an-tagonizing neighbor coun-tries of Central America by assisting in the Soviet-Cuban plot to take over their governments.

Cuban plot to take over their governments. The situation is viewed by HE as a time to come to the aid of people who are on our side. People now in rebellion against the ruling Sandinista have a chance to save their country and at the same time to shut off the evil help that Nicaragua is sending to the Red rebels in the other coun-tries.

tries. Certain elements of this country can be depended upon again to ridicule any helpful effort by the US government. And it is possible that they are correct again, considering the vast momentum of the Red conquest and the nat sucmomentum of the Red conquest, and the past suc-cesses of Red diplomatic and propaganda campaigns, along with the sympathetic attitude of some of our own influential people. But we have to admit the hour is late and the free world really needs to act not only to stop the menace but if possible to turn it around.

turn it around. From the optimistic viewpoint this idea makes sense, regardless of ridicule of the pinks and Reds. We frequently hear that Marxism is an economic disaster. Ever since the evil system originated it has sur-vived on what it could beg, borrow and steal from the free world, and it continues Please see Confetti, page 2

Co-op will have 45th annual meet Monday

Hundreds of mem-ber/consumers of Cooke County Electric Cooperative Association and their guests are expected to assemble at the Muenster High School additorium, Monday night, April 18, for the 45th annual general meeting of the organization. The purpose is to hear a report on last year's business, elect three direc-tors and transact other business that comes before the membership. This years speaker will be fixed Yaws, farm director of WBAP. His comments will be generously spiced with humor. A bonus is the traditional drawing for at-tendance prizes at which about thirty lucky members will receive valuable elec-trical appliances. Registration for the meeting begins at 8:00. Beginning at 7:15, the crowd will be entertained by the Billy Curtis Band of Wichita Falls. Billy Curtis is a young man who has received numerous awards and ap-peared on stage with Roy Acuff, Lester Flatt, Tony Doglas, Tammy Wynetts will be an enjoyable part of the program.

Chamber of Commerce ponders Muenster's industrial future

The main topic of discussion at Tuesday's Muenster Chamber of Commerce Luncheon cen-tered on the possible for-mation of an industrial development committee within the chamber for the purpose of assisting with further industrial develop-ment in the city. The com-mittee would serve much the same purpose as the existing Muenster Industrial Foun-dation whose majority stockholders recently voted to withdraw both their in-terest and investments from the organization.

terest and investments from the organization. A few members of the chamber suggested a close working relationship bet-ween the old foundation and the new chamber committee would best serve the in-terests of the community as a whole. But Henry Wein-zapfel, one of the organization's more than 100 stockholders, told the Chamber of Commerce that the majority of the foun-dation's members were primarilly interested in pulling out of the organization altogether, and taking their initial invest. organization altogether, and taking their initial invest-ments plus the added value with them. He said that would leave room for another similar organization to sprout up. "Personally, I would rather let the horse die and start over," Wein-zapfel said. "no matter how hard you beat it, that horse just isn't going to run." He also said that if the stockholders were faced with the choice of leaving their investments intact or pulling out altogether, as few as 20 percent are likely to stay.

COMMENT

I NAATTHEW 23:27 & 28, Jesus says "Woe to you scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like whitewashed tombs which on the outside appear beautiful, but inside they are full of dead men's bones and all uncleanliness. Even so you too outwardly appear righteous to men, but inwardly you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness."

Matthew recorded that the whitened tombs looked pure and beautiful on the outside, but inside they were putrid and loathesome just like the Pharisees. There is no doubt that the whitewashing of tombs in preparation for the Passover gave the tombs a beautiful appearance. Yet no matter how ornate a tomb might be, it is clearly evident that it houses nothing but "dead men's bones."

Some scribes and Pharisees made a bold and brave display of piety and goodness, but behind this facade was iniquity and hypocrisy. They were leading the people astray by their pious poping.

their pious posing. Many Jewish scholars today object to the un-favorable report given about the Pharisees in the New Testament. They question whether the vices critized by Jesus were typical of all Pharisees Jesus were typical of an Pharisees. They point out that seven types of Pharisees were mentioned in the Babylonian Talmud (fifth century A.D.). Five of these fit the description given by Jesus. The other two were the God-fearing and God-loving Pharises. I find a remarkable similarity bet-were the types of Pharises in Jesus' day and the types of Christians in the world today. Below I have listed the Talmudic classification of the Pharisees, followed then, following in paren-thesis, a comparison to a similar type Christian.

1. Shoulder Pharisee -Obeyed the law but did so for the wrong reason - to be seen of men. He wore his be seen of men. He wore his good actions on his shoulder. (Similar to the Christian who goes to chur-ch to be seem by his fellow man because it is supposed to be good for his business, prestige, etc.)

Wait-a-Little Pharisee
 — Could always find an ex-cuse for not doing what he should. Actions fell short of creed. (Little explaination is needed for this type of Christian who can always put off until tomorrow, or next week, or forever what should be done today).

should be done today). 3. Bruised Pharisee — Had a reputation for ex-ceeding piety. Pharisee would not talk to a woman in public. These shut their eyes, thus bumping into walls and buildings, to avoid looking at a woman in public. (Compare these to a Christian who shut his eyes to the needs of others all around him and refuses to give of his time or material possessions to help those less fortunate than himself).

4. Pestle Pharisee — Walked with bowed head, like a pestle in a motor. Their humility was self-advertising. (This would be similar to a Christian who maintains a pious "holier than thou attitude").

5. Ever-Reckoning Phar-Ever-Reckoning Phar-isee — Religion seen as a profit-loss account. Good deeds put God in his debt. Kept a balance sheet – good deeds offset bad ones. (Similar to a Christian who thinks he can earn his salvation by good works).

6. Fearing Pharisee — Lived in dread of divine punishment. Religion seen in terms of judgment. (Would be the same as a Christian who believes that an eternal life in hell will be the abode of the non-believer). believer).

 God-Loving Pharisee

 Truly loved God and delighted in obeying God's law. (Even today, a Christian who does likewise can look forward to someday hearing those beautiful words, "Well done thy good and faithful ser-vant, enter into the kingdom of heaven").

Evidently, from the teaching of Jesus, it would appear that the majority of the Pharisees fit in the first five classifications. I can only hope that the majority of Christians today will fit the last two classifications.

visitors like these and thousands of others each year who spend time and money here, pumping revenue into the co-mmunity — revenue that helps improve the economic health of the community. And when you improve a com-munity's economic health, you automatically improve the health of the community's residents as well. There are a lot of ways this community could become a cleaner one, though some methods are better than others.

Law enforcement officials could become more strict in the area of littering, even to the point of charging high fines for violations of clean community standards. But this is more of a negative motivation than anything else. What is more of a negative motivation than anything else. What is needed is positive encouragement. Another way is urging certain civic groups to volunteer their time for cleaning up certain areas of the city (which a lot of them already do). But these civic groups are doing the work that is the responsibility of everyone in the com-munity. The job of keeping things clean doesn't belong to the civic groups, it belongs to everyone living here. No, the best way to insure a clean community for all who live here or visit here is through the mutual cooperation that comes only through mutual pride. The most appropriate time of the year for such cooperation is just about here. And if things work out like they should, the attitudes fostered by this mutual cooperation and pride should persist through the next Germanfest. And the next

A NEW immigration bill, which passed the Senate in August last year but did not make it through the 97th Congress, contained a provision which would make it "unlawful for employers to knowingly hire illegal foreign workers" ...It was anticipated by sponsors that this provision would free as many as two million jobs for unemployed Americans. Americans.

Our immigration laws, controls and records are so poor we don't have any idea, even approximately how many illegal aliens are in the U.S.

We are permitting nearly one million immigrants into the country each year legally, but it is estimated an additional half-million to one million come in illegally every year, most from Mexico.

We may be forced by facts to revise our thinking about the relationship between aliens, legal and illegal, and unemployment in this coun-

Based on the theory that illegal aliens were holding jobs which should be held by Americans, the Immigration and Naturalization Service launched "Project Jobs" in 1982. Agents in nine major cities arrested nearly 5500 illegals at 500 different job locations. No attempt was made to round up aliens in menial jobs such as busboys and agricultural workers on the assumption that most unemployed Americans would not take such jobs if they were available. The average wage of those arrested in the alien raids was $4.91 an hour, nearly $40 a day. What were the results of "Project Jobs" which began in April, 1982?

By the end of the summer nearly all the Americans hired to replace the aliens had quit their jobs — and the illegals or others just like them had reoccupied the positions. While growing up I learned to pull broomcorn, hoe cotton, pick water-melons, and plow corn. Later 1 worked just as hard during 29 years as President of a good college — now a university.

The Daily Oklahoma of August 31, 1982, carried a similar story. On a farm near Straford, Oklahoma, officers of the Immigration Service arrested for depor-tation 20 illegal aliens. They were picking and piling were picking and piling watermelons. The farmer protested bitterly saying the arrest of his field hands would cause the loss of $12,000 because he could not attract labor from the nearby communities of Ada, Pauls Valley or Ardmore to harvest his crop. The fact that unemployment offices of each of those towns had long lists of idle men made no difference. The idle men preferred their unem-ployment checks to working picking watermelons. picking watermelons.

As a result of the contributions of these im-migrants the economy of Florida has grown much faster than that of the nation as a whole. The percentage of Cubans on welfare or unemployed is far lower than that for the general population of the country. All over America we find Whether fishing for shrimp in South Texas, ser-ving meals in a fast food restaurant in Los Angeles, or providing janitorial ser-vices in Portland, Oregon, there seem to be plenty of jobs available for Viet-namese. Why not for Americans? 1 am just proving there is work for people who want to work.

A IDES TO Secretary of State George Shultz have called his recent trip to Mainland China a case of diplomacy "half full, half empty," with Peking China is half empty, and Washington insisting the "cup" is half full. So what else is new? So what else is new?

While Secretary Shultz' good intentions are beyond question, it appears that nothing concrete was accom-plished. Maybe that's for the better — since the Shultz State Department seems bent on continuing the policies of the Carter, Nixon and Ford administrations; giving in to the demands of the People's Republic of China, inch by inch, and receiving little in return.

Shultz' visit, in this regard, seems reminiscent of Cyrus Vance's visit in 1977 and Alexander Haig's 1981 pilgrimage. More of the old rhetoric about 'soothing ten-sions,' and 'building mutual trust,' a few more slaps at our allies on Taiwan, and on to the next leg of the trip. But still, the very basic questions, 'What do we really want from the Chinese?' and 'How can we get it?' remain unan-swered.

swered. The Heritage foundation's new Asian Studies Center in Washington, headed by President Reagan's former national security advisor, Richard V. Allen, has published a study which takes a very hard look at Sino-American relations — the kind of analysis that should have been done long ago at the State Department. and not based on romantic misconceptions and myths. U.S. relations to date with the PRC have been based on misunderstandings that are "not only foolhardy, but potentially dangerous," they say. Tilting U.S. policy toward the PRC does not necessarily strengthen the U.S., nor inhibit Soviet advances in Asia. First, the Chinese army is not as effective a counterweight to Soviet forces in the Far East as some have argued. And there is no reason to believe the PRC is an ally of the U.S. in the struggle against the Soviets. "As a Communist state, the PRC is fundamentally and ideologically opposed to America's basic principles and values. Though China has, on occasion, opted to act in cooperation with the U.S., it has never claimed common interest with Washington," the Asian Studies Center study asserts. It is also incorrect to filrt with the notion that the PRC is a force for stability in the Far East, the study says. In fact, the U.S. really has no guarantee that the PRC

In fact, the U.S. really has no guarantee that the PRC and the Soviets won't fall back into each others arms, no matter what concessions the U.S. makes, if it serves their interests to do so.

The bottom line is that Communist China has a long history of erratic and unstable political behavior — inter-nally and internationally. What gives us any reason to believe that the PRC has any desire to help further U.S. in-terests in the Far East or anywhere else? And why in heaven's name do we insist on playing the China card, when our "friends" on the mainland keep raising the ante on us?

"April 15th is the time and First Texas is the place to start planning for a great retirement?"

Introducing the First Texas IRA.

Retirement can be great, if you have the right plan. Any IRA can give you a tax break. But to take full advantage, you should open a First Texas IRA account, now.

An April 15 deadline for 1982 tax savings. If you open your IRA by April 15, the money can come straight off your 1982 taxable federal income. Or if you've fulfilled your 1982 contribution, start er up to $2,000 for a single person; $2.250 for married couples when one person works; or $4,000 for married couples when both people work.

An escalating interest rate. With the First Texas IRA, the more you invest over the years, the higher your interest rate. That can really help you build a bundle for a great retirement. And, whatever your rate, all your interest is tax-deferred until you decide to withdraw the money.

The escalating rate increases at each of these deposit increments: $2,000 $4,000 $6,000 $10,000 $25,000 $50,000 -

A choice of investment terms.

You can invest with a choice of First Texas IRA Certificates: from 18 months, 21/2, 4, 6, 8 or even 10 years. And after a minimum opening deposit of only $50, you can add to these certificates at any time without extending their maturities.

Or with a payroll deduction plan, you can open an IRA with as little as $25 per month.

Beat the 80's with

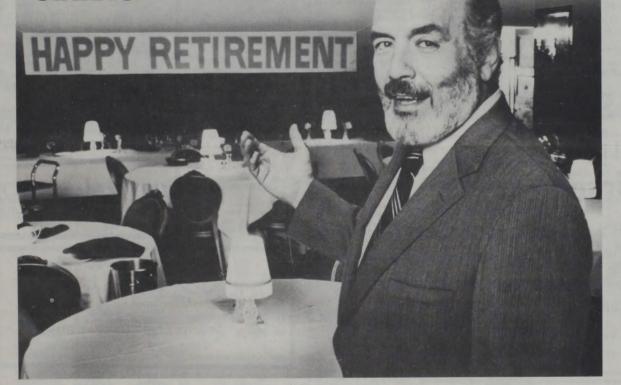

The First Texas IRA is also a safe way to build for your future. Every account is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. This protection is separate from any other insured First Texas account. Come into the First Texas office nearest you today to open your IRA. Or call this toll-free number: (800) 442-1256; or in Dallas, call 458-4790 and they'll April 15th will be here sooner than you think.

Symphony, Chorale will perform Sunday

The Cooke County Symphony and Chorale will make its final performance of the season this Sunday at 8 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church in Muenster, bringing an end to the Chorale's fifth full season of performances.

The performance will include two chorus and orchestra works, each some thirty minutes in length; "The Requiem" by Faure and "Gloria by Vivaldi.

Three soloists will exhibit individual performances during the evening. Roberta Arendt Coffman, a Gainesville native and frequent performer with the Continued on page 3

"I like that period," says Wolper. "In 1941 there was a clear morality, a lot of idealism, and it was easy to know good from evil.

ABC's attempt to bring "Casablan-ca" to television in 1955 was unsuccessful, mainly because where do you find the person to play Rick, the role made famous by Bogart? It was im-possible to find a Bogart clone, so Wolper took the opposite route.

"An NBC executive had other ideas," says Wolper, "but I was casting Rick, not Bogart. David Soul is a good actor and he's perfect for the role. He's not the guy on 'Starsky and Hutch.' He's Rick, a private, mysterious person

The series' five-show run takes place before the United States entered World War II when "Casablanca was the crossroads of the world," says Wolper. "It was filled with romance, intrigue and mystery.'

Wolper says the series will be also. He gets an A for authenticity after acquiring the original "Casablanca" set plans and rebuilding "Rick's Cafe American," with the film's original doors and the chandelier. Wolper also hired an 80-year-old cameraman and a 70-year-old makeup artist to help recreate the era.

"We're not using conventional TV photography," says Wolper. "It's more like a film because we use lots of shadows and muted colors."

But why would someone who has had incredible television successes, such as "Roots" and "The Thorn Birds," want to take a barrier through the sub-to take a chance on "Casablanca"? "When I decided to do 'Roots,' I took a chance," says Wolper. "If this is a hit, I'm a hero again. If I fail at least I took a chance. If I go down in flames with this show, at least it was classy. Besides, I'll be back next year with another series.

and requires skill and strength to accomplish the winning goals. Chili judging begins at 2:30 p.m. Out-of-town judges selected by the Dallas have been mailed out to prospective runners. Williams said, and he expects a large number to converge on the Montague runners' route at race time. A par-Chili Pot will sample wares and declare ty will be held for the runners, following winners. Some twenty-five teams vied for honors last year and local sponsors are expecting some 50 chili heads to show up for this year's contest. Two other events of interest scheduled are, horseshow pitching and tobacco spitting contests. The current tobacco spitting state champion, Edgar Coffman of Nocona, is expected to return and defend his title.

Pinkerton Tobacco Company is sponsoring the event and will furnish tobacco and prizes. Prizes will be awarded to the top six finishers. This third annual event is billed as a "fun for everyone" event, but it has its serious side, too. Proceeds are to go toward fulfilling the needs of the local volunteer fire department. Last year net proceeds were $5,000. Officials are hopeful that this year's take will far exceed that amount.

Local firemen applied last year's proceeds toward three objectives. Partial payment for a much needed fire truck, securing more efficient fire fighting equipment, and replacing a roof on the fire hall

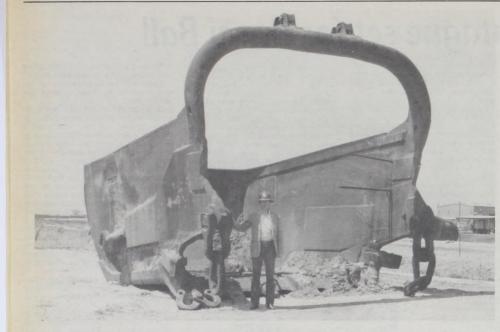

Firemen would like to use this year's proceeds to purchase a smaller, lighter truck for use in fighting rural fires and also to purchase electronic devices for individual firefighters in order to cut their response time, thus insuring better fire protection for local citizens

Last year a new implant was introduced making three implants available to producers. Implants are marketed as pellets. These pellets are implanted at the base of the ear. The three available are Ralgro, Synovex, and Compudose. Ralgro is produced by IMC Company. Zeranol, a compound produced by a mold that grows on corn is the active ingredient in Ralgro. Zeranol stimulates the pituitary gland. When stimulated this gland secretes several hormones, one of which is a growth hormone which causes an increase in size and weight. increase in size and weight. Ralgro can be used on

Stocking fish from SCS ready in May "We are now taking or-ders for fish", states Clyde Hale, chairman of the board of Upper Elm-Red Soil & Water Conservation District. The District has again made it possible for anyone in the District to purchase fish for stocking ponds and lakes. Arrangements have been made to deliver the fish to Nocona and Bowie on May 11, and to Gainesville and Sherman on May 12. Orders will be taken at the SCS of-tices at these locations. Deadline for placing orders is May 4, 1983. "The District is offering av-variety of fish", Hale said. "We will have Florida and Native Bass, Blue-Gill, and two sizes of Channel Cat-fish, as well as Fathead Minnows for a food sour-ce". Prices are: 2 to 4 inch Bass, 60cents each; 2 to 4 in-ch Blud-Gill, 30 cents each, 3 to 5 inch Channel Catfish, 3 to 5 inch Channe each. Fathead Minnows are

S6.50 per pound. Hale emphasized that while payment is not to be made until the time of delivery, orders must be placed by May 4. Tish will be placed in 18 by 32 inch plastic bags with oxygenated water. It is recommended that a car-doard box, for carrying the plastic bags, be brought to the pickup point. Ray Svacina, SCS District Conservationist in an office will be available to offer assistance in deter-mining the number and species of fish to stock.

District track set for Tuesday The high school division of the district meet will in-clude the 12 member schools of the district, namely Muenster, Lindsay, Era, Forestburg, Alvord, Slidell, Paradise, Peaster, Brock, Graford, Poolville and Perrin. Lindsay is a strong favorite to take the meet. The junior high division will include the six month zone members of the district, namely Muenster, Lindsay, Era, Forestburg, Alvord and Slidell.

Two track meets are on schedule at Muenster Public School during the coming week. The big one, which will go into the UIL record, is the boys district meet for high school and junior high next week Tuesday. The other is a junior high meet for boys and girls to which some 20 area schools are in-vited.
