

Well, so far, so good. Maybe. At the close of the second week of Gunnery Con's name still appears on the class roll. But will it stay there? That's the haunting question. As the headlong rush through statistical and technical data continues, confusion also continues. If the next three weeks do not throw a lot of additional light on yours truly, he's certainly going to be too much in the dark to rate a final "S."

Nevertheless, the subject is fascinating. The farther a fellow goes along the more he realizes that artillery is an exact application of lots of science. So completely different from the principles of small arms which require only a good aim and a trigger squeeze. The rifle bullet is directed at a target only a few hundred yards away and reaches its mark at near maximum speed, whereas artillery range runs into the thousands of yards and the projectile reaches its mark after traveling through a long arc. In deciding just how much of an arc that will be, the artilleryman has to consider distance, comparative elevation of gun and target, wind, powder charges, drift and various other factors. That's to get the projectile to the right place. In addition he has to see that the projectile explodes at the right time.

Further complication arises from the necessity of directing fire from a point away from the guns, of computing correct angles, and especially from round-about surveys to determine the correct direction and elevation of an unseen target.

To date we've had only the elementary stuff as far as theory is concerned, and the simplest methods of actual firing. Seated a couple of hundred yards behind the guns we directed fire at targets from 3 to 4 thousand yards away.

Instructors told us it would be simple. Nothing to it whatever. It seemed simple too—until we got to the actual shooting. Then it wasn't easy anymore.

In our system a target was pointed out—one that could be spotted through field glasses. When the target was found someone was called upon to "come up shooting." Meaning to bark out the sequence of commands to get the projectile on its way. The first command is supposed to be a good guess, after that come commands to get the shells in closer and finally, to blaze away at the immediate target area. Actually, it is simple, but considering shifts and changes in elevation, plus the exact procedure of giving commands, it can easily get a fellow excited. A reaction that is a lot like "buck fever."

So far we've had three sessions of that. And, according to reports, we're due to have many more, each one getting a little tougher than the one before. Eventually, we may learn to get those shells off quickly and accurately. That's what it takes when we get to the hot zone.

Since the firing started, the class Horseshoe Club has enjoyed a swell increase of membership. By way of explanation, the name Horseshoe was chosen because of its resemblance to the letter U.

There is no connection with the lucky emblem. Con is a charter member, having received his U on the very first writ. However, a predominance of S's since offers some hope that the average to date is slightly above the mark.

Along with the class work we've had a few lectures by persons who returned from the war zone. Of special interest was that of a Marine officer from Guadalcanal. He left no doubt that the Pacific fighting is a return to the most primitive and savage stages of warfare. The Japs are setting the standard and we have to beat them at their own game. So it's a smearing, dirty brand of war in which no quarter is asked or given. When a Jap and a Yank meet one dies. Or both. Prisoners are seldom taken.

Our speaker did his bit toward exploding the myth of Jap invincibility. Says he, the average Jap is a stupid yellow runt. The American is a better man than he in every respect. A better marksman, a better close in fighter, a more resourceful.

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, March 5, 1943

NUMBER 15

1700 Register For War Ration Book 2 Here Last Week

Some 25 Persons Fail To Receive Books As Supply Was Exhausted

Exactly 1,700 Muenster residents received war Ration Book No. 2 during the three-day registration here last Thursday, Friday and Saturday, according to Miss Mary Weidemann, chief clerk on duty at the school.

Heavy registration exhausted supplies of necessary forms Saturday at 5:30 in the afternoon and as no more were available in the county, some 25 consumers were left without War Ration Book No. 2. Cooke county was one of six counties in the state that ran out of supplies and left disappointed a number of persons.

Arrangements are being made to supply the lacking books this week-end, Miss Weidemann said. Present plans are to distribute the books from here instead of having consumers make a trip to the county ration board. Nothing definite had been announced Wednesday, however.

Last May, 1,663 persons registered for Book 1. Assisting Miss Weidemann with the three-day task of registration were Mesdames L. Burchiel, D. C. Kline, Jim Cook, Joe Luke, J. B. Wilde, E. O. Teague, John Ezell, Tony Gremminger, Ben Hellman, and Misses Elfreda Luke, Barbara and Cornelia Harrison and Dorothy Fletcher.

Miss Weidemann this week expressed her thanks to local citizens for their cooperation in registering alphabetically. She added that one outstanding feature of the registration was the fact that very few persons had more than their allowable amount of food on hand, and consequently only a very small amount of points had to be surrendered from the books before they were issued.

SUGAR STAMP 12 TO BE WORTH 5 POUNDS

Sugar Ration Stamp No. 12, which becomes valid on March 16, is worth five pounds, but it must last through the end of May, a period of eleven weeks. Stamp 11, good for three pounds, and now valid, will be good until March 15.

Other notes on the ration calendar are:

Gasoline—A Book coupons No. 4 expire March 21.

Coffee—Stamp No. 25 (1 lb.) expires March 21.

Tires—Class A. First inspection deadline March 31.

Any person who did not register for War Ration Book One before January 15, 1943, may get it from his local war price and ration board after the necessary application has been examined and approved.

Rice is not rationed, the OPA has assured consumers. Another announcement by OPA stated that prices for used bicycles will be substantially reduced in the near future.

MARCH BRINGS COLD WAVE TO MUENSTER

March blew into Muenster with a brisk norther and citizens donned their overcoats Tuesday and surveyed damaged victory gardens as the cold wave brought flurries of snow flakes and sleet. The norther struck Monday afternoon and the following morning the temperature was 23 degrees. Cold continued so that by Wednesday morning thermometers stood at 6 above zero.

Last year March roared in with the heaviest snow in 16 years. This year's snow and sleet disappeared almost as fast as it fell.

Rural Roll Call

All rural women will be visited between March 1 and 20 and asked to pledge to produce as much of their home food supply as possible. The roll call will be launched under the leadership of county home demonstration agents of the Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Felderhoff disclosed that he was fine and feeling fit, that he had gained some weight, being just past the 200-pound mark, that he enjoys swimming on the beach, and that mail call the day the letter was written was most welcome. He included regards and best wishes to all his Muenster friends and urged them to write V-Mail letters, as they are the only ones sent air mail. He added that he is looking forward to meeting other Muenster men in that sector, but up until that time had not been so fortunate.

FUNDS FOR UPKEEP OF CEMETERY TO BE COLLECTED SUNDAY

The collection for funds to be applied to the upkeep of Sacred Heart cemetery will take place next Sunday, it has been announced.

During the week, Miss Mary Becker, chairman of the cemetery committee of the Civic League and Garden Club, and her assistants, mailed to every family of the parish an envelope to be used for this special collection.

Members of the League will be stationed at the church door following the three masses Sunday to receive the donations. Persons have been asked to affix their names to the envelopes so that they may receive credit in the annual parish statement.

This is the first collection for the cemetery in two years. The annual drive was omitted last year due to the fact that at that time there were numerous other drives in progress, and funds at that time were sufficient to carry on until this year. Generous contributions are asked, since there was no collection last year.

Jos. M. Tempel, 81 Succumbs Monday After Long Illness

BUSINESS GOOD AT MUENSTER HATCHERY; BOOK ORDERS EARLY

Business is unusually good at the Muenster Hatchery this year, Felix Becker, manager, has disclosed. The settings this season are the heaviest in the history of the business, he added.

Mr. Becker asked that persons who intend to get chickens in the next three or four weeks please book their orders, if they do not wish to be disappointed.

The incubators have been set to capacity so far this season. The demand for chicks is attributed to the cooperation with the war program. Persons are endeavoring to increase their flocks for greater egg production, and in preparation for meat rationing, for food.

Persons desiring custom hatching are asked to make arrangements for trays within the next two or three weeks. Bookings for March are heavy, but there is no need for anyone to be disappointed if orders are turned in promptly, Mr. Becker said.

There are fewer hatcheries operating in Cooke county this year, which accounts for some of the rush, it was stated.

In line with its usual good records of the past the hatchings this season are very good.

SOIL CONSERVATION PROGRAM IN PARISH HALL ON MARCH 6th

J. W. Hess, community leader of the Southeast Muenster Priority area, announced Monday that a soil conservation practice program will be held Saturday afternoon, March 6, at 1 o'clock in the parish hall here.

An interesting and instructive program to be presented at that time will include: Opening address by Mr. Hess followed by "The Widespread Use of Simple Conservation Practices," and lantern slides showing accomplishments, by Mack McConnell, district conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Paul Dunkle, superintendent, Denton Experiment Station, will discuss, "Sweet Clover as an Erosion Control Legume," and Oscar Aldridge, district supervisor, Upper Elm-Red District, will talk on "The District Approach to the Conservation Problem," which will include the voluntary program, cooperative program, self-help program, and what the farmer gains by it.

Some basic technical features will be discussed by soil conservation services representatives, and J. M. Weinzapfel will have an address on "Doing the Job," after which Rev. Thomas Buegler, Muenster pastor, will give an inspirational address.

After the session a field demonstration will take place. The farm and other details will be announced at the meeting.

Farmers interested in conservation work are invited to attend.

GAINESVILLE AIR BASE IS NAMED WOODRUFF FIELD

Gainesville's army air base, west of that city, has been named Woodruff Field, in honor of First Lieut. Dennis H. Woodruff of Gainesville, who lost his life last April 24, in a ground collision of two army planes at Fort Richardson, Alaska.

Announcement of official approval of the name was made last Wednesday by Lt. William T. Eastes, commanding officer of the base, after receiving the final OK from Washington, D. C.

Lt. Woodruff was the older son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Woodruff of Gainesville. He was reared and educated there. His widow, the former Miss Dorothy Jane Newton, also of Gainesville, is now residing with her parents, in that city.

Training as an airman at Tulsa, Okla., and Kelly and Randolph Fields in Texas, Lt. Woodruff received his wings at Randolph where he was commissioned an officer in the U. S. Army Air Corps reserve. He had been in the service about two years at the time of his death.

Funeral Services Are Held At Sacred Heart Church Here Thursday

Joseph M. Tempel, 81, succumbed to a six-year illness at his home Monday evening at 5:40. He had been a resident of Muenster for 39 years.

Funeral services, with high mass of requiem, were held from Sacred Heart church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, with the pastor, Rev. Father Thomas, officiating, and burial was in the local cemetery, under the direction of Nick Miller.

Pallbearers were P. J. Rollman, Al Bayer, Henry Schmitz, Frank Yosten, Ed Schmitt and Albert Henschel.

Mr. Tempel, who had been confined to his home, most of the time in a wheel chair, for the past six years, following a stroke of paralysis in April, 1937, became steadily worse during the past two months and since February 19 was unable to leave his bed. On February 23 he fell into a coma from which he recovered only at intervals.

The deceased was a native of Ferdinand, Indiana, where he was born September 5, 1861. In 1885 he was married to Miss Kate Leow in Colfax, Ill., and he came to Texas with his family, settling in Muenster, in October 1904. He engaged in farming and well drilling. He was also a veterinarian. He retired from active work in 1913.

Surviving are his widow, who is 77 years of age, and six children, John A. Tempel, Mrs. Tony Trumbach, and Mrs. Ed Eberhart of Muenster; Peter J. Tempel of Minnesota; Jacob C. Tempel of Fort Worth and Mrs. Ben Otto of Gainesville. Two other children preceded him in death, Louis Tempel, who died in 1938 and Katie Tempel, who died in infancy. Also surviving are four brothers, Jake of Montana; Will, Minnesota; John and Frank Tempel, Ohio; 28 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

In 1935 Mr. and Mrs. Tempel celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a reunion of relatives and friends.

Mr. Tempel took active part in civic and religious enterprises as long as his health permitted.

LOAD SHRUBBERY AND ITEMS FOR HOSPITAL SENT TO CAMP HOWZE

Muenster citizens responded wholeheartedly during the week-end to the call for shrubbery to beautify Camp Howze and also in helping supply needed items to the hospital at that post. Mrs. Jim Cook, defense chairman of the Civic League and Garden Club, who was in charge of the shipment, announced Monday.

This community contributed a half army truck load of greenery, bulbs and other plants and 200 water glasses, 100 coat hangers, two dozen ash trays, one dozen vases, 6 pictures, 9 pot holders, a set of curtains for a lounge in the hospital, 7 assorted games, one large smoking stand and numerous books and magazines.

A truck from the camp called for the load Saturday. In behalf of the League, Mrs. Cook expressed her thanks for the splendid cooperation and assistance from local citizens. Officials at the camp, likewise, offered their thanks.

COUNTY RED CROSS WAR FUND DRIVE WILL BEGIN MONDAY

Cooke county's Red Cross war fund drive will get underway next Monday, March 8th, Mrs. G. H. Hellman, local chairman, wishes to remind Muenster citizens. She will be assisted in the work of soliciting funds by her husband and by Mrs. Jim Cook. A thorough canvass will be made of Muenster and vicinity, it has been announced, and persons are asked to respond most generously.

Muenster's quota is $500. In all other Red Cross drives this community has topped its prorated quota by a substantial amount and this year will be no exception. Mrs. Hellman hopes.

Moved to Virginia

Pvt. Joe Henry Walterscheid of Fort Sill, Okla., spent the weekend here with his parents, Sunday evening he was driven back to camp by Alfred and Robert Bayer and Dennis Walterscheid.

THE RED CROSS DRIVE

Let's talk a little while about the Red Cross war fund drive.

Back in 1941 as customary, Cooke county had its annual Red Cross roll call. The quota was $2,400 and the solicitors centered on $1 annual memberships, although there were some larger pledges.

Almost on the heels of this annual roll call came Pearl Harbor and Red Cross began immediately the task of raising a war fund. This was subscribed late in December, 1941, and Cooke county's quota was $4,000.

Cooke county, like most other counties the country over, contributed considerably more than her quota, and as a result the fund was oversubscribed to the tune of $20,000-000.

This surplus made unnecessary any kind of financial campaign in 1942.

When there are disasters, the Red Cross usually solicits money to help finance aid in the territory where such disasters occur. But last year, in spite of handling aid to the victims of 172 disasters, no money was asked of the public.

Now comes the 1943 war fund drive. Since the first such drive, the war has spread over the globe and the United States is involved on every front and in every corner of the earth.

Likewise, the armed forces have grown tremendously, increasing the responsibility of the Red Cross in a like measure.

And so, as we come to the 1943 Red Cross war fund drive, we have a quota of $10,000 to meet.

That is some $3,600 more than the roll call and war fund drives combined in 1941.

To raise this fund, as we must do, means citizens must contribute more than a dollar, as they have been accustomed to doing when the Red Cross solicitor comes around. And the person who gave $5 to the war fund drive in 1941, must double that amount this year to assure the amount required being raised.

Therefore, it behooves us all to make plans now to set aside our contributions so we will be prepared to give our part when the drive starts.

Your Health

BY GEO. W. COX, M. D.
 Texas State Health Officer

Austin, Texas.—According to an announcement issued this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, some type of treatment for venereal diseases is now available to every citizen of Texas.

In view of the startling number of selective service draftees who were found unfit for military service because of venereal diseases, increased effort is being exerted by health authorities all over the nation to control the spread of these diseases.

"War time conditions favor the increase of prostitution, which leads immediately to an alarming increase in the incidence of syphilis and gonorrhea," Dr. Cox stated.

According to figures compiled by the State Health Department in a six month's comparative report, public clinics in Texas between July 1 and December 31, 1942, treated a total of 15,870 new cases of syphilis in addition to a patient load of 156,924. New cases of gonorrhea treated numbered 6,996. At the present rate of new cases admitted, plus the regular patient load, approximately 465,621 treatments are being administered in a six month's period. During the last year, over one-half million tests for syphilis were made by the State Department of Health.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Livingston returned Saturday from Channel View, Texas, where they had been visiting her mother, Mrs. Lucy Boles.

300 Enjoy Band Concert

Some 300 persons enjoyed the concert by the Youth Band and antics of Happy Jack, the clown, in the parish hall Friday evening. Under the direction of Father Richard the band offered a variety of well rendered selections. Miss Mildred Walterscheid also appeared on the program presenting two vocal selections for which she played her own accordion accompaniment. Happy Jack entertained with a round of tricks and jokes, the outstanding feat being the balancing of objects, ranging from a check blank to a chair, on his nose. The affair was a benefit for the band.

MUENSTER PUBLIC SCHOOL.

(Delayed from Last Week)
Students at the Public School have been busy these past two weeks with another six weeks' test, special themes and book reports. General science themes are all in, and it's surprising at the interesting information reported.

The seventh and eighth grade scrap books on health were quite a job, but they look so nice, Mrs. Burchiel says, that they are well worth the time spent on them. This health class enjoyed a demonstration by the high school First Aid class during the week. There was so much interest, the students forgot to take notes.

The school was pleased and honored to have a guest speaker last week Staff Sgt. Anthony Luke who was home on furlough. His discussion centered on the Air-Borne Division and was most interesting. It's nice that Anthony is from Muenster, it's something to be proud of. It speaks well for the training in our school.

Patriotic pins are on sale at the school. The students are endeavoring to earn an emblem. They would appreciate the aid of the Muenster people in this cause.

The tots of Miss Luke's room have received their rhythm band instruments and the students are all anxious to hear their first program.

Did you hear about our basketball boys beating Hays 30 to 14? And it's proud of them that we are. And though the girls lost to Valley Creek in a volleyball game the same night, we think they did mighty well, because they've had little practice and are unaccustomed to a lined court.
