An eye opener on the subject of lobbying in Washington was presented in the last issue of Human Events by Senator Steve Symms of Idaho. After reminding us that the nation generally accepts the old line about special interest groups spending lots of money to influence Congress he surprises us by saying it's time to revise the list.

No sir, the big spenders are not the banks or oil companies or other big corporations, or the military-industrial complex or conservative organizations striving for limited government and traditional Americanism. They are the unions, the environmentalists, the gun controllers and lots of other liberals promoting big government at the expense of private enterprise and personal freedom.

This is a matter of public record. The amazing fact is that the record has not only been ignored but the truth has been so completely twisted. Ironically, the liberals who have been lobbying Congress most intensely have also managed to convince the public that lobbying is an evil practiced only by people who oppose their views and special interests.

The facts about lobbying are available to anyone. Every organization or individual who tries to influence passage or defeat of legislation, directly or indirectly, is required by law to register with the secretary of the Senate and clerk of the House and submit quarterly income and expense statements which are published in the Congressional Record.

According to the most recent published report, some 6500 registered spent more than a million dollars a month trying to influence legislation during the last half of 1982. Details of the report are revealing. The biggest spender of all is Common Cause, which is not only a strong supporter of liberal causes but noted for complaints about the amount of money spent by opposite interests. In the last three months of '82 Common Cause spent $442,537 lobbying Congress.

The next biggest lobbyist is a big surprise. It is Handgun Control, Inc., which spent $356,443 in promoting gun control legislation. People have been led to believe that the National Rifle Association and the Citizens Committee for the Right to Keep and Bear Arms — the best known groups opposed to gun control — are the biggest lobbyists. But they are far down the list. Their combined expenditure was far less than that of the pro-control group.

The third biggest lobbyist is the American Petroleum Institute, $222,413, which rates as a conservative, but Numbers 4 and 5 are the Sierra Club, $212,052 and the American Postal Workers Union of AFL-CIO, $176,927. There you have it. Four of the five biggest lobbyists are liberal organizations promoting the liberal causes. Furthermore, those four spent more than $1 million or nearly 15 percent of all the money spent by 6500 lobbyists.

These disclosures make us wonder whether the liberals

These youngsters found it easier to cross the creek surrounding the city park in their own way when most others relied on the narrow bridges. More than 50,000 attended the 1983 celebration, making the bridges crowded from time to time. While this may not have been the easiest method, it was probably the quickest.

School renovation outlined

Trustees of Muenster ISD were concerned principally with a summer maintenance program at their regular meeting Thursday, May 5.

First on the schedule and already under way is a re-roofing project on the four-room wing including grades 5 and 6. Workmen started Monday removing the old tar and gravel surface exposing the felt base for application of a poly-urethane surface, an increasingly popular material which insulates as well as waterproofs and has an attractive warranty. The contractor is Specified Urethane Systems, Inc., of Fort Worth. More improvement on the wing is installation of central heat and air conditioning. Tom Hesse will do the job and also install window units in the band room and principal's office. Air conditioning in several high school classrooms will await more funds.

Other work includes gutters and down-spouts at the band, woodworking and ag departments and the cafeteria, installing a 2 inch line from the school's water well to the baseball field and a submerged drip irrigation line around the track, paint for the visitor bleachers at the football field and re-seed lawns. Also buses, typewriters and other equipment will be renovated.

The board also named Superintendent Coffey as the school's representative to the joint committee of Region 11 Education Service Center, and it set May 21 as the date of the annual employees banquet. It will be in the KC hall, 6:30 p.m. and Florence Williams will be honored with a 10 year award.

Next meeting of the board will be on June 9.

The city of Muenster has received a check of $847.06 from Comptroller Bob Bullock as a 15 percent rebate of the 10 percent tax on mixed drinks sold here during the first quarter of 1983. Also Cooke County has received $6,649.02 as its rebate of the tax collected in the county.

Muenster gets $847.06 drink rebate; county gets $6,649.02

In an accompanying statement Bullock points out that Texas cities and counties each receive a 15 percent rebate of the tax collected on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries under the law that legalized the sale of mixed drinks in the state. Rebate checks have been sent to 220 counties and 415 cities in the state for a total of $10.5 million, a gain of 2.7 percent over the first quarter of 1982. After rebating to counties and cities, the state retains $25.6 million of the tax. A report on the rebates in Cooke County indicates that the county received $6,649.02 on a total tax of $44,326.81; Muenster received $847.06 on a total tax of $5,647.09; Lindsay received $3,888.58 on a total tax of $25,923.89; Gainesville received $1,323.61 on a total tax of $8,824.06.

Stenholm measure to strengthen committees

The House of Representatives today passed a measure by Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford) to strengthen and expand the Farmers Home Administration county committee system.

The Stenholm measure was part of the Emergency Agricultural Credit Act of 1983, which passed the House by a bipartisan 378-35 margin.

FmHA county committees, currently appointed by agency officials, would include some locally elected members under the changes Stenholm designed. In addition, some appointed members would have to have agricultural lending experience so as to bring greater expertise to the committee's decisions.

"The House of Representatives has taken a positive step toward allowing the FmHA county committee to function as a 'loan committee' and provide peer review for FmHA borrowers," Stenholm said. "It will strengthen the present system, give farmers a voice in the FmHA loan process and help out hard-pressed county offices."

Under the Stenholm plan, the FmHA would set up three or five-member committees, depending on the needs of the county. On three-member committees, two members would be elected by farmers voting in conjunction with regular ASCS community committee elections. The third member would be appointed, and would represent the rest of the farm lending community (production credit associations, federal land bank associations and private lenders) or present or past FmHA borrowers.

On five-member committees, three members would be elected. Two would be appointed, and one of these would represent the private and cooperative lenders such as banks, PCAs and FLBAs.

Stenholm said the changes were needed for several reasons:

To provide for a stronger, more independent county committee system.

To enable the committee to move toward functioning as a "loan committee" which provides peer review of loan decisions, thus making the system function more equitably and smoothly.

To increase the confidence of farmers in the system by giving them a voice in the selection of the committee.

Functions of county committees in present law include certifying the eligibility of applicants for farmer program loans, reviewing problem borrowers and reviewing accounts when liquidation is contemplated.

The Emergency Agricultural Credit Act itself includes a number of provisions relating to FmHA, including reauthorizing several lending programs and clarifying eligibility for some emergency loans.

Malachi 3: 10-12

Bring the whole tithe into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house, and try me in this, says the Lord of hosts:

Shall I not open for you the floodgates of heaven, to pour down blessing upon you without measure? For your sake I will forbid the locust to destroy your crops;

And the vine in the field will not be barren, says the Lord of hosts.

Then all nations will call you blessed, for you will be a delightful land, says the Lord of hosts.

Benefit burger supper

Burger lovers will be able to eat and enjoy to their heart's content Friday night when the Cooke County A&M Club hosts its annual hamburger supper to benefit its scholarship fund for Cooke County students.

The organization, which consists of more than 200 former students of Texas A&M University, sponsors the event each year to benefit its scholarship fund which provides financial assistance to a student attending Texas A&M from Cooke County.

This year's event will be held at the Gainesville Community Center from 5:30 to 8 p.m. Cost for the all-you-can-eat special is $3.25; tickets can be purchased in advance at the Muenster Enterprise.

Grain crop looks good

Skippy rainfall apparently is being offset by moderate temperature in maintaining a favorable crop condition in the community. At this time the grain crops are pointing to a good harvest. Rainfall of the week was .21 inch, upping the May measure to .24 and the year's measure to 7.74.

Low and high readings of the week were recorded as follows by Steve Moster.

May 5	54 and 85
May 6	60 and 87

The Owner's Manual

ALL OF us who are parents have a tremendous responsibility to endeavor to teach our children to fear the Lord and to obey His commandments. Even if we fail in this endeavor, we need to know that we have tried to the best of our ability to teach our children to walk in the paths of righteousness, or we will have to answer to God for our failure to do so.

Eli is an example of a man who, although himself a righteous person, failed to give proper instruction and discipline to his own sons, who like himself were priests. We read in 1 Samuel 2:12, "Now the sons of Eli were worthless men; they did not know the Lord." Yet they were priests and teachers of others. Sad was it for the people to have such ministers. Let our hearts go up to God in gratitude for the great blessing of holy teachers, who practice what they preach. Eli's sons were worse than the worst, when they ought to have been better than the best of common men. Godly people were shocked by their actions and greediness, and were grieved by the rudeness of those who ought to have acted with holy courtesy. If ministers become haughty, domineering, and self-seeking, the people will soon loathe the worship. All this involved Eli's sons in great sin. As time went on, Eli's sons went from bad to worse. Finally, they had gone so far that the Lord had resolved to destroy them, and therefore would not grant them grace to repent.

Eli finally tried mildly rebuking them, a rebuke which came so late in their lives as to be of no use whatsoever. Had he chastened his sons much earlier, he might have saved their character and their lives. Children should be grateful for parents who will not let their sins go unpunished. It would be a dreadful thing for a curse to come upon a family, because the sons and daughters were not restrained from sin. Children sometimes think their parents needlessly severe, but when they grow up they will bless them for not indulging them in sin.

God revealed the coming judgment of Eli's family to the child, Samuel, who was a student under Eli. In 1 Samuel 3:11-13 we read, "And the Lord said to Samuel, 'Behold, I am about to do a thing in Israel at which both ears of everyone who hears it will tingle. In that day I will carry out against Eli all that I have spoken concerning his house, from beginning to end. For I have told him that I am about to judge his house forever for the iniquity which he knew, because his sons brought a curse on themselves and he did not rebuke them.' Now Eli, having known that God had spoken to Samuel, insisted that Samuel tell him everything that God had said. In verse 18 of this chapter we read, "So Samuel told him everything and hid nothing from him. And he said, 'It is the Lord; let Him do what seems good to Him.'" Eli was wrong with his sons, but he was right with God. We must admire the aged man's acceptance of God's plan for his life and his holy submission, and imitate it.

In the following chapter we read how Eli's sons were slain in battle and the ark of the covenant of God was taken by the enemy. When this news reached Eli, he fell in a swoon of grief and died.

This sad story of the destruction of Eli's family is a special warning to all parents not to suffer sin to go unpunished in their households. Want of discipline is want of love.

Perspectives

FEW ISSUES ever faced by this state have been the source of more disagreement than its prison system. The only point which would gain universal agreement is that the prisons are overcrowded and something needs to be done about it.

The problem has needed careful attention for some time now. But still, no one has come up with a solution to this problem that now promises only to become worse in the years ahead.

So far, the only proposals have involved using a band-aid to mend a fractured arm. Small-scale repairs may work on other states' prison problems, but not this one; Texas has the largest and fastest-growing prison population in the entire nation. The head count in Texas prisons today is about 37,000 and that number grows by more than 300 each month.

Now, in light of the Texas Department of Corrections' budget request of $1.3 billion for the 1984-85 biennium, it's about time someone found some answers to some questions that become more pressing every day.

The first question is: Can the state afford this (now and in the future)?

Actually, that seems more doubtful every day — especially this year after the state's revenue estimate has been lowered twice and a state accustomed to budget surpluses is now facing the possibility of a budget deficit.

Another reason we can't afford it is that we have a governor who seems interested in only a few pet projects, none of which have anything to do with solving prison problems.

Are there alternatives to our prison system as it is today? Certainly; there are always alternatives. The problem is we haven't been hearing much about any alternatives because it would seem no one has been trying that hard to find any. That keeps us from finding out whether the alternatives are cheaper, which is pretty likely.

But perhaps the most important question of all doesn't even concern the prisoners directly. Can an alternative to the present system be found which would be as effective or more effective in protecting members of our society? That's the tough one. Surely, someone can come up with an alternative to incarceration that's cheaper for the taxpayers, but whether it will be as effective in protecting those taxpayers is another question.

A lot of questions surround the Texas prison system and what will happen to it in the immediate future. But amid all those questions, there are a few concrete points. Among them, the fact that reform is needed; and that the reform should make a fair balance between cost and effectiveness.

The first step to solving any problem, of course, is recognizing that a problem exists. At least that's been done in this case. But it's really a shame no one in Austin can make it beyond step one.

Germanfest compliments

To The Editor:

My son, his friend and I were in your Germanfest bike rally on 4-30-83. We rode the twenty-two mile loop and enjoyed the scenery, hills, wind, fresh air and the good roads. After the ride we went to the fair grounds for the food and drink. The food was good!! From registration until we left we were impressed with the courteous and friendly "we want to please" attitude. The sausage - kraut sandwiches and apple streudel we brought home were delicious, so my wife enjoyed the Germanfest also. Please show this to your committee chairman for "a job well done." I would like to be put on your mailing list for next year's literature on all the activities for the Germanfest.

Wildlife conservation act

To The Editor:

Congratulations are in order for Gov. Mark White, Sen. Ted Lyon of Rockwall and Rep. Fred Agnich for their successful efforts in passage of the Texas Wildlife Conservation Act of 1983.

Not to be forgotten is Texans for Wildlife Conservation, whose members include the more than 800 sportsmen's clubs in Texas. The group was formed to promote passage of the act, which would not have been possible without their devotion and sacrifice of time and energy.

The act gives the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department statewide authority for wildlife management and eliminates locally specialized wildlife laws previously in effect in 116 Texas counties. The Texas Wildlife Conservation Act at last enables the Parks and Wildlife Department to manage our state's wildlife resources on a scientific basis statewide.

In my opinion, it is the most far reaching wildlife conservation legislation ever passed in the state.

Generations to come of outdoor enthusiasts and sportsmen truly owe Governor White, Senator Lyon, Representative Agnich and Texans for Wildlife Conservation a debt of thanks.

Congressional Comment

ABILENE, TEXAS, is as close to the capital of El Salvador as it is to our own nation's capital, Washington, D.C. No fact can make clearer the importance of the grave situation in that Central American country to the security of the United States.

The question currently before the U.S. Congress, and the entire nation, is just what role the U.S. should play in this extremely critical — and politically sensitive — area.

It is difficult to discuss our involvement in another country's internal affairs without raising the ghost of our painful involvement in Vietnam a decade ago and reexamining the "domino theory" that was central to our country's position in southeast Asia. One need only view that tragic area of the world today under the Communist Vietnamese regime and its spreading tentacles of misery and destruction in Cambodia, Laos and now the shelling of Thailand, to say, sadly, yes, there is validity to the domino theory.

And the last domino in Central America is Mexico — a country that shares 1,933 miles of border with the U.S., almost half of it with the state of Texas. Think for just a moment: Thousands of refugees from Southeast Asia flooded into this country following the downfall of Vietnam, and, along with multitudes of refugees into Florida from Cuba, placing severe strains on this country's financial ability to absorb entire cultures. Those economic and related social problems cannot be ignored.

If you question the ultimate inclusion of Mexico in current plans of leftist Central American guerrillas, consider the open statement by the Sandinistas in Nicaragua, as reported recently by The Wall Street Journal, that they are a part of a "revolution without frontiers," or the statement by a former Communist leader in El Salvador, "the revolutionary process in Central America is a single process. The triumphs of one are the triumphs of the other. Guatemala will have its hour. Honduras its. Costa Rica, too, will have its hour of glory. The first note was heard in Nicaragua." Can Mexico, long simmering with social unrest, possibly be excluded from Communist plans? I think not.

If we accept then, that the U.S. does indeed have an important interest in El Salvador and other Central American countries, how can that interest best be protected?

Elements of U.S. policy in that area must include the recognition of social unrest and work to strengthen reforming elements in these governments must continue, as well as the establishment of verifiable checks to stop human rights violations.

Few U.S. citizens watched televised news accounts last year of thousands and thousands of El Salvadorans pouring from mountains and villages to the polls, despite the violent guerrilla attacks on voting sites, to elect the present government of that country without marveling at the incredible will of the people of that country to achieve a democratic solution. How long can that will hold out, however, when faced with relentless armed attack? It would be naive to suggest that a totally non-military solution (or a simple one of any means) is waiting down the road for El Salvador.

Any U.S. policy that depends solely on a military answer, likewise, is also unwise. Negotiation, economic development, internal reform and human rights are all elements of ultimate policy segments as well.

We must also recognize that there are other countries whose interests are as valid as those of this country and who experience and efforts toward a negotiated solution cannot be ignored by the U.S. — the Contadora group, made up of Mexico, Venezuela, Columbia and Panama, immediately comes to mind.

As debate on this issue gets underway in the U.S. House of Representatives, I strongly support a policy that includes economic development, increased military aid, regional negotiations, internal reform and human right assurances in El Salvador. This crisis is just too close to home for comfort.

are actually spending the big money to influence Congress, or is some of it used in a propaganda campaign to convince the public that conservatives are out of line.

A good example of this situation was the meanmousing directed at banks for opposing the 10 percent withholding on interest and dividends. Well, the American Bankers Association spent only $36,033 in 6 months for the cause. But during the same 6 months the GAY Rights National Lobby spent $89,281 trying to impose itself on respectable society.

As regards gun control legislation, President Reagan did the country a favor last week by stating that the problem is criminal control, not gun control.

The answer is to crack down on all who use guns in crime but allow freedom of possession and use to all who do not misuse the guns. It's as simple as that, and legislators should have the common sense to understand.

CCD classes present liturgies on Wednesdays

During the past several weeks, students of various grades in the CCD program of Sacred Heart Parish have participated in special liturgies during the Wednesday evening Masses.

On April 27 participation by the Junior Class highlighted the blessing of their senior rings.

On April 20, fifteen students of the Kindergarten CCD class took part in the liturgy. Near the altar a banner was displayed, carrying the theme: "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands." The banner was made especially for the kindergartners' use.

Over the picture of the world globe were handprints of the kindergartners' hands (pink for girls, blue for boys,) and each print carried the name of a child. The children also wore special name tags for their Mass.

Father Denis Soerries was celebrant and Travis Klement, Rodney Knabe, Steve Fisher and Rex

Huchton were Mass servers. Mrs. Betty Gene Bindel, kindergarten aide, read the introduction. Mrs. Joan Walterscheid gave the reading and Mrs. Dorothy Fleitman responded. Mrs. Lynn Hacker presented Offertory petitions and Mrs. Linda Knabe, kindergarten aide gave the Offertory narration.

Participants in the Offertory procession were a special guest, Mrs. Florence Williams, kindergarten teacher; Mrs. Charlotte Klement and Mrs. Jo Ann Pagel CCD kindergarten teachers; and Maurus Hacker, Cody Klement, Sabrina Truebenbach, Lisa Lippe, Cindy Reiter, Jeffrey Walterscheid, Julie Walterscheid, Bradley Fisher, Ashley Hartman, Rae Ann Walterscheid, Jason Huchton, Jennifer Peters, Becky Fleitman and Jill Reiter who carried Bible, world globe, ball of clay, picture of Jesus, a stuffed animal and assorted flowers, respectively. Also David, Linda and Laura Vogel who presented water, wine and chalice at the altar.

At Communion, the mediation, read by Mrs. Irene Hartman was a poem: "Thank You, God."

Music before, during and after Mass, was provided by Ruth Felderhoff organist and Eileen Fisher song leader. Selections included "He's Got The Whole World In His Hands," "God Is My Sunshine," "God Loves Me Just The Way I Am" and "Oh, How I Love Jesus."

On April 13, pupils of the second grade CCD class planned the liturgy. The teachers are Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Walterscheid, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Vogel and Mrs. Donna Graham, aide.

Father Victor Gillespie was celebrant, and Mass servers were Weldon Hermes, Bryan Kleiss, Troy Pagel, Keith Klement and Mike Gobble. Sister Cecilia Marie was the song leader.

The theme about "Fishermen" and "Tell The Good News" was narrated by Harvey Hubbard. A fish net prepared by the teachers with names of second graders was displayed on the pulpit. A banner noted "Fishermen" in bright orange and blue was made by Betty Rose Walterscheid.

Readings and responsorial psalms were given by Justin Hartman, Marlene Hess, Michelle Hennigan and Brian Knabe.

Offertory petitions were given by Lori Klement, Kody Truebenbach, Da Lana Walterscheid, Melissa Fisher, Brandon Reiter, Lisa Russell and Darlene Hess.

Susan Fleitman carried the Bible in the Offertory procession and Dianne Pagel, Lori Graham and Bria Miller presented bread, water, wine and the Chalice.

A week earlier, the 7th grade CCD class of Sacred Heart Parish, taught by Sister Cecilia Marie, planned the liturgy. Their banner referred to their study of the Seven Sacraments; to Christ's sufferings and death on the Cross as the source of grace for all Sacraments; to the Holy Spirit who infuses grace into souls. The Sacraments of Penance (Reconciliation) the Holy Eucharist and Baptism were symbolized.

Sister Cecilia Marie gave the introduction. Melody Klement and Michelle Kleiss gave the readings and response. Judy Pagel and Charlene Switzer gave Offertory petitions and Stacie Walterscheid and Dale Reiter presented Offertory gifts.

Father Denis Soerries was celebrant and Mass servers were 7th graders: Ronnie Walterscheid, Kevin Anderle and Russell Simmons. Eileen Fisher and Ruth Felderhoff led music for the Mass.

Mrs. Jacob Wolf, 95, dies

Funeral service for Mrs. Jacob (Elizabeth) Wolf, 95, was held Tuesday morning at 10 in Sacred Heart Church with Father Denis Soerries officiating at a Mass of Christian Burial and interment was in Sacred Heart Cemetery directed by McCoy-Miller Funeral Home. Pallbearers were John Klement, Earle Otto, Clifford Otto, David Hoening, Harvey Schmitt and Tom Flusche.

Preceding the funeral a rosary service was held in the funeral home chapel Sunday at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Wolf died Saturday, May 7 in North Plains Hospital, Borger. She had lived in Borger for about five years and her remains were brought to Muenster for burial beside her husband.

She was born in Des Moines, Iowa, on March 28, 1888, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Otto, who came to Muenster with the family when she was about 10 years old. About 1910 the family moved to Scotland where she was married to Jacob Wolf in 1917. The couple continued living at Scotland and later at Electra and Lawton until moving to Muenster in 1966. Jake Wolf died here on December 22, 1969. Some 5 years ago Mrs. Wolf moved to Borger to live with a son.

Survivors are one daughter, Mrs. John McKenna of Tulsa; three sons, Jim of Borger, Bill of Midwest City, Okla., and John of San Diego, Calif.; twelve grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren; and one brother, Bill Otto of Gainesville.

Screening clinic scheduled

The Screenings will be performed by Public Health Nurses at no charge. Public awareness and an increased citizen participation has tended to decrease fatalities due to heart problems. "Since each of these diseases can prove to be fatal or cause other health problems, each adult should visit his or her private physician or the Public Health Clinic on a regular basis," said Hal J. Dewlett, M.D., Director, Public Health Region 5.

Lori Elliott weds Doug Walterscheid

The marriage of Lori Lee Elliott and Douglas Mark Walterscheid was solemnized by a double ring ceremony in St. Thomas Catholic Church in Amarillo on May 7 at 8 p.m. with Father Joe Tash, pastor, officiating. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mel Bachman of Dalhart and Roy Elliott of Neosho, Missouri. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Walterscheid of Hereford, and the grandson of Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Walterscheid, all former Muenster residents.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin and silk organza designed with a high, sheer portrait neckline and an empire bodice overlaid with Alencon and Schiffler lace, accented with tiny seed pearls and dainty lace appliques. Long fitted sleeves of sheer silk organza had delicate, lace accents, and tapered to pointed cuffs of Alencon lace over her hands.

The skirt, delicately adorned with lace and tiny seed pearls, cascaded into an elegant cathedral train, bordered with a ten inch flounce of Rachell lace. Extending over the train, to full length, was the cathedral veil of hand-rolled silk illusion, attached to a Juliet cap of Alencon lace and seed pearls, edged and accented by a wide band of Alencon lace to frame her face.

The bride carried a bouquet of cascading white silk rose buds, stephanotis, wild prunus, miniature carnations, dogwood and azalea blossoms, with touches of mint green, surrounded by ruffles of white lace, and accented by a shower of matching lace and picot satin ribbons, with stephanotis tied into the love knots.

For sentiment the bride wore a diamond ring that had belonged to her great-grandmother, for "something old". A lace handkerchief embroidered with names of the bride and groom and their wedding date was "something new", a gift from her mother. Pearl earrings were "borrowed" from her sister, Kim Elliott, who also provided the penny minted the year of her birth. The groom wore a "prisoner of love" sleeve garter with a miniature ball and chain, gift from the bride.

Attendants
Kim Elliott of Dalhart was her sister's maid of honor. Brenda Melugin, groom's sister of Amarillo and Deloris Baker of Amarillo were bridesmaids. They wore identical formal gowns of sheer mint green dotted Swiss over taffeta, featuring high, double-ruffled necklines and pleated bodices, belted with long sashes. Long sleeves were edged with double ruffled cuffs. Each attendant carried a long stemmed white silk rosebud, and each wore a halo of baby's breath and tiny white appleblossoms in her hair.

Kasi Reinart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Walterscheid of Hereford was flower girl, wearing a long dress of white organza over taffeta, featuring a skirt made of three tiers of lace ruffles. She carried a white tulle basket of silk rose petals and wore a halo of baby's breath and white apple blossoms.

James Warner Lawson III of Plainview was best man. Greg Vrana of College Station and Mark Elliott, bride's brother of Canyon were groomsmen.

Shawn Elliott, son of Kim Elliott and nephew of the bride was ringbearer. Tony Melugin, groom's brother-in-law of Amarillo, David and Danny Walterscheid, groom's cousins of Hereford and Gregg Yosten of Hereford were ushers.

Kari and Lori Walterscheid, groom's sisters of Hereford were candlelighters for the ceremony. Mrs. Jim Cramer of Canyon was organist and Karen Zinser and Ralph Detten of Hereford were soloists before and during the ceremony.

Special guests of the bride and groom were their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F.J. Walterscheid of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Edmon Elliott and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chandler of Seymour. The bride chose her maternal grandparents' 55th anniversary for her own wedding day and presented a long stemmed white silk rose to her grandmother during the reception.

Altar decorations included brass urns of schefflera and arrangements of white gladioli on pedestals. Archway candelabra with garlands of boxwood greenery framed the nuptial scene, where the bride and groom knelt on a prie dieu and pledged their vows, sealed with the lighting of the Unity Candle. Aisles in church were draped with white satin ribbon and clusters of lily of the valley.

Reception
A reception and dance followed in the parish hall. Mrs. Michael Briggs of Vega registered guests.

The white, four tiered wedding cake was decorated with tiny wedding bells, hearts and flowers of mint green and white, with ribbons flowing from the entwined hearts on the top tier to candles on either side of the cake. The bridal bouquet was displayed on the bride's table which was covered in white lace and appointments were in silver and crystal. A white lattice wall piece was entwined with greenery, blanked by schefflera. Serving at the bride's table were Liz Clem and Jennifer Marshall of Amarillo.

Draping the groom's table were his school colors of maroon and white. The Amaretto cake displayed his Corps of Cadets insignia. The silver coffee service, flowers and a picture of the couple graced the table. Serving at the groom's table were his sisters, Lindy Walterscheid and Donna Tidmore of Hereford.

The buffet table held an array of foods prepared by the bride's brother, Mark Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schilling of Hereford led the Grand Wedding March.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on May 6 in the home of the groom's uncle, Edmon Raef in Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of Dalhart High School and attended West Texas State University for two years. She is employed by First National Bank of Amarillo.

The groom is a graduate of Hereford High School and Texas A&M University. He was an executive officer of the Ross Volunteers an elite military organization in the Corps of Cadets at A&M, which participates in a number of official functions at the university, and, particularly for purposes outside of A&M, is the personal honor guard to the Governor of Texas. The groom was a member of 1st Regiment, Company D-1. He is employed by Jake Diel as a cost estimator.

When the couple returns from a wedding trip to Florida, they will reside in Amarillo.

IF IT'S TIME TO REPLACE YOUR CENTRAL AIR CONDITIONER, DON'T WASTE YOUR ENERGY.

Not all central air conditioners are energy efficient. Some are just as inefficient as the ones built twenty years ago. But if you buy a high efficiency air conditioner, you'll save money in the long run on operating costs.

And buying an energy efficient air conditioner could also earn you a bonus from Texas Power & Light. Just buy a central air conditioner with the qualifying SEER,* and we'll send you a check worth at least $40 per ton of capacity.

So now, buying an energy efficient unit will save you money in two ways. First, with lower operating costs. And second, with TP&L's bonus check.

For more information about our Bonus Program, give the energy experts at TP&L a call. The sooner you do, the sooner you'll enjoy lower cooling costs and get a bonus check on top of it.

Pressure canner gauges checked

Food preservation time is just around the corner. In preparation, homemakers may have their pressure canner gauges checked on Wednesday, May 18, from 8:30 to 11:30 in the morning in the County Extension Office. It takes only a few moments to check the gauge using a Master Gauge Tester, so homemakers may bring their canner lids at anytime during the scheduled check time. The lid is all that needs to be brought to the Extension Office. If this time is not convenient, homemakers may bring their lids by and leave them and pick them up at their convenience.

If gauges need to be replaced, or if an adjusted temperature is needed, the check will give this information. For more information, call 665-4931.

A pressure canner in safe working order is the key to "get-ready" plans for all home canning. The pressure canner is a must for canning low-acid vegetables.

A checklist for safe working pressure canners follows.

- Take off removable petcock and safety valves, wash and dry thoroughly.
- Use a toothpick or pipe cleaner to clean openings in lid of canner.
- Use fine steel wool and soap to wash bottom part of pressure canner.

- To remove any odors and stains, combine juice of one lemon — or two tablespoons vinegar — with two quarts of water. Process at five pounds pressure for five minutes.
- Grease (using vegetable oil) the closing surfaces of metal-to-metal sealing pressure canners if lid is difficult to remove or steam escapes.
- Replace rubber gasket if hardened.

Sesame Place
Mostly, but not only, for the kids

Sesame Place a corporate project

Sesame Place, Inc., is a joint venture of two unique leaders in their industries: Busch Entertainment Corp., a major family entertainment organization; and Children's Television Workshop, a pacesetter in communications corporation.

The talents of these two independent companies merged in the late 1970s to create the Sesame Place parks. The prototype opened in the Philadelphia area in July 1980, and a second Sesame Place made its debut in June 1982 in the Dallas/Fort Worth Metroplex.

Busch Entertainment Corp. (BEC) is the family entertainment subsidiary of Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc. The company owns and operates two of the most successful theme parks, The Dark Continent, Busch Gardens in Tampa, Fla.; and The Old Country, Busch Gardens in Williamsburg, Va.

Together, the two parks host more than 5 million visitors annually and rank among the top attendance-producing attractions in their respective states.

In 1980, Busch Entertainment embarked upon a major expansion program based on development of mini-parks including the first Sesame Place and Adventure Island, a water theme park in Tampa. These smaller parks enable Busch Entertainment Corp. to target these special growing segments of the entertainment.

W. Randolph Baker, president of Busch Entertainment Corp., also serves as chairman of Sesame Place, Inc.

Children's Television Workshop (CTW) operates worldwide, producing non-profit educational TV programming for children and revenue generating ventures in a variety of businesses including Children's Computer Workshop which produced the computer games for Sesame Place and is now producing games for the home consumer and school use.

The for-profit ventures such as the Sesame Place parks and Children's Computer Workshop, and revenue generating activities such as publication of educational materials, licensing of products, production of records and international educational TV programs all produce funds which are used to finance the creation, development and production of the non-profit educational TV programming.

Now in its 14th year, CTW's award-winning "Sesame Street" is the most successful children's educational series in the history of television. It is seen in more than 50 countries around the world, teaching intellectual, social and emotional skills and concepts to preschool children.

CTW also produces "The Electric Company" and "3-2-1 Contact" for older children which also air regularly on public TV stations as well as a number of countries abroad.

Joan Ganz Cooney is president and founder of Children's Television Workshop which is headquartered in New York.

Children play safely 3 stories up

"Look at me!" is the most commonly heard cry from children as they go from one outdoor play activity to another at Sesame Place in Irving, Texas.

This cry of delight in discovering new things and mastering new skills is what the Sesame Place experience is all about for families with children ages 3 to 13.

This year, families also can discover new live entertainment at Sesame Place as Bert and Ernie, popular Muppet characters, take up residence in the park along with another Muppet creation called "The Honker."

Bert and Ernie will perform a song and dance show at regular intervals during the day in the outdoor play area near the "Nets and Climbs."

Both adults and children also will enjoy a new outdoor live animal show produced by Ray Berwick who has trained animals for the movies for many years. The Sesame Place animals will include performing dogs, cats and birds.

The outdoor activities at Sesame Place draw on a variety of physical skills from climbing, jumping and sliding to crawling, gliding and spinning. And, there are play things for children of different age and skill levels.

New in 1983 is the "Sesame 500," a specially created race track for "big wheel" type bikes. The three-wheeled vehicles travel a 500-foot course which includes hairpin turns and spin-out areas.

Bikers on the four lanes of the Sesame 500 track take off when a flashing electronic starter similar to those found at most drag strips gives the "go" sign. The laps are electronically timed so that pedalers can try to beat their personal best times as well as their friends.

Activities that get kids wet continue to be the most popular with young Sesame Place visitors. Moms and dads are encouraged to pack a change of clothes and bring their children in swim suits, especially during hot summer days.

Favorites are the "Amazing Mumford's Water Maze" where children crawl through colorful metal chambers and net tubes as water sprays from all directions, and "Herry's Hands Over Water" where youngsters use a rope ladder with a series of rings to pull themselves across a water-covered surface.

Coming in June will be more water-oriented activities including a 120-foot-long "Zoom Flume" which has an ice-slick spongy vinyl surface sprayed with water.

Sliders come out of the "Zoom Flume" tube into a spin-out basin made of the same super slick material, and drop another six feet into a splash pool at the bottom.

Next to the "Zoom Flume" will be the "Slippery Slope" which also opens in June. This wet slide has eight lanes and drops nine feet on a 45-foot course.

The Sesame Place Play Court, as the outdoor area is known, features more than 30 active play activities. One of the most popular "old favorites" is the "Count's Ballroom" which features a sea of 180,000 plastic colored balls on a water bed type of surface. Children can hide in the balls, sink through them or bounce around in the slippery surface.

Climbing can be just as much fun as crawling and sliding. A slippery vinyl structure called "Cookie Mountain" invited kids to climb to the top and slide down.

Gainesville air show will feature skydiving team

The Anheuser-Busch Flying Eagles skydiving team will drop into the Gainesville Municipal Airport to open the second annual Gainesville Air Show at 2 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, May 14-15.

Equipped with highly maneuverable, ram-air parachutes, the skydivers will also perform a variety of aerial feats after tumbling from a B-17 World War II bomber at 8,000 feet during each afternoon's show.

The Flying Eagles are expert skydivers accomplished in both showmanship and safety. Combined team members have performed more than 16,000 jumps at special events, into stadiums and other shows throughout the nation.

The team captured the 1980 world skydiving championship and the 1982 national championship, and established a new world record by linking 14 members in a parachute stacking formation in 1981.

The Gainesville Air Show is a display of military and civilian aerial maneuvers as well as on-ground exhibits. The show benefits the Optimist Club and the city of Gainesville. Admission to the show is $6; children 11 and under are admitted free.

For more information about the Gainesville Air Show, contact the Municipal Airport at 817-665-1556.

Big Bird features games plus

For today's kids, walking through the giant Big Bird entrance into Sesame Place's indoor play area is like Alice of fairy-tale fame finding herself in wonderland.

The first discovery is one of the largest collections of computer games under one roof. The Sesame Place Computer Gallery is one of several attractions in the 40,000 square-foot air-conditioned atrium which houses 50 specially designed stand-alone micro-computers with simplified keyboards that arrange letters in alphabetical order to make them easier for youngsters to use.

An innovative assortment of 60 games has been designed to challenge the skills of children of different age levels. Created for Sesame Place by Children's Computer Workshop, a subsidiary of Children's Television Workshop, the games invite players to solve puzzles, form patterns, make words and letters, create musical compositions and test hand-eye coordination.

For younger children, there are more simple games like "Mup-O-Matic" in which players guess the Muppet characters emerging on the screen. Older players are challenged by a game called "Lemonade" which demonstrates how to use the computer to solve the economical problems of running a profitable lemonade stand.

Visitors can purchase four plays for $1 and are assisted by trained Sesame Place employees who work with families and first-time users.

In addition to the Computer Gallery, there are a number of other indoor activities designed to challenge both the mind and the body.

New indoor attractions in 1983 are the "Sesame Dream Network," regular science demonstrations by the "zany professor," and the "Rainbow Room" which features a show of lights and two other new science exhibits.

In the "Sesame Dream Network," members of the audience become stars of their own TV production. A master storyteller weaves a plot and choreographs the park guests who play different roles. The performance, which incorporates prerecorded segments with the actions of the "actors" and "actresses" from the audience, is played live for all to see.

A 150-seat theater becomes the stage for a "zany professor" who demonstrates his version of scientific principles. When the professor is not entertaining visitors with his zany experiments, the theater provides a viewing area for families to watch specially produced Muppet videotapes only shown at Sesame Place.

The "Rainbow Room" is another new experience which combines fun and scientific principles. Families perform different motions before a screen and then see their actions projected in a rainbow of colored lights.

Two other new science exhibits also demonstrate the principles of light. "Foot Notes" allows visitors to "make music" by moving from one colored light to another as the light is beamed into the floor. As they step on colors, a sensing device is triggered which plays different tones.

"Everyone Is You and Me" is a new science activity which allows visitors to see their own features reflected on their partner's face. Partners sit on opposite sides of polarized glass. By slowly adjusting the light on the one-way mirror, they can create a special reflection.

There also are many of the original indoor attractions which delight children and their parents as they make new discoveries about sight, sound and motion.

The Sesame Studio, a replica of the "Sesame Street" TV set, encourages active participation with video equipment used in TV productions, including cameras and a switcher station.

Two cameras are in front of the set. One is in a fixed position overhead and the other is movable. Families can operate the movable camera and see themselves on TV via the closed-circuit system. At the switcher station, they can operate a control panel which selects and changes the picture image on the TV monitor.

Another favorite is the "Shadow Room." Youngsters pose against phosphorescent panels as a strobe light pulses on and off. Their image is left on the wall like a frozen shadow.

Images also are reflected and refracted by the "Anti-Gravity Mirror" and "Telescope Temple." Through different reflections, the "Anti-Gravity Mirror" lets children see themselves "floating" in air.

The mirrors in the "Telescope Temple" are placed at 60-degree angles with visitors standing in the center of the three-way reflection which makes their image appear to go into infinity.

Visitors also can see images they create turn into "motion pictures" by experimenting with the "Zoetrope." Children see how movies are made by looking at images of Oscar the Grouch being spun rapidly in a drum which turns still drawings into motion pictures.

IN THE BALLROOM — A youngster is tossed into a giant "pool" of 180,000 colorful plastic balls at Sesame Place in the Dalla/Fort Worth Metroplex. "The count's Ballroom" is just one of the more than 30 outdoor play elements featured at the innovative play park for families with children ages 3 to 13.

feet above the Play Court also are made for climbing and cavorting while suspended in space.

Other challenges are presented by "Ernie's Bed Bounce," a giant vinyl air mattress-type surface. Made just for bouncing, jumping and flipping out, it makes walking and standing a challenge for anyone who ventures onto its wobbly surface.

Older children also are challenged by "Grover's Cable Glide" which this year swings them through a gully of spring-powered padded obstacles which they can kick aside as they make their crossing.

There also are a lot of activities for the preschool set including climbing through "Twiddlebug Tunnel," playing in "Rubber Duckie Pond" and making things with giant building blocks at the "Sesame Construction Company."

Parents who don't wish to join in the active outdoor play with their children can still be part of the experience as they watch all of the activities from a heavily landscaped shaded oasis where adult-style frozen juice bar drinks are served.

Parents also can join in the play and try out the different equipment and activities with their children.

Forestburg News

By Kyura Orrell

At the May meeting of the Parents-Teachers Organization, new officers were elected for the following year. Stephanie Baucher was elected as the president for the 83-84 school year. Other officers are Fay Hamric, vice-president; Linda Hudspeth, treasurer; secretary, Claudia Wilson.

The program was presented by grades 3 and 4. The past presidents were recognized in the program "A bit of history of the PTA-PTO Program".

It's time for field trips again, the 5th grade has just returned from a skating trip in Gainesville. Future field trips for the 5th and 6th grades will be this Wednesday over to Sandy Lake. Then on the following Friday, grades 7 and 8 will also take a trip to Sandy Lake. Oh boy, summer is just around the corner now.

The FFA Banquet has been planned for Thursday night in the school gym.

The song may say "Mommies, don't let your babies grow up to be cowboys", but there was a difference of opinion Friday and Saturday nights in the Burg. The Forestburg FFA Chapter Junior Rodeo was held on the two consecutive nights. Hats off to Dale Lively, the only home-town boy to place in the rodeo.

All-around cowboy was Brad Bryson of Saginaw, who came in first in the calf roping 18-20 age group and also first in the ribbon roping event. Bareback-riding event was won by Ricky Woolver of Springtown.

Butch Matthews of Era, Shawn Davis of Era, Ronnie Parker of Alvord and Dale Lively of Forestburg all received belt buckles for their participation in the steer riding event.

Celeste Clark of Mansfield was first and Sherry Medley of Bowie came in second in barrel racing. In calf roping 17 and under category, Keith Hudson of Paradise was the winner. There were no qualified riders in the 14-16 age group of bull-riding. In the 17-20 category, Jeffrey Kuykendall of Gainesville came out of shute 3 to win bull riding event. Second went to Jeff Nichols of Gainesville.

Ted Jackson brought home the catch of the week when he caught a 24-lb. catfish; but he won't tell anyone where his 'little fishin' hole is located.

Verna Sparkman & Bill King

We would like to express our deepest appreciation to all of you for the expressions of kindness, sympathy, and love extended to us during the recent illness and death of Albert. Words cannot tell how thankful we are for the abundance of food, flowers, masses, and cards which we received at a time when they were so needed. A special thanks to all of you who visited with Albert at home and on his many stays at the hospital. God bless the staff and doctors of Muenster Memorial. We are indeed lucky to have this organization so close by. Our prayers go out for Fathers Denis, Victor, and Jerry of Denton for their visits and their participation at Albert's funeral. Since it would be nearly impossible to personally contact each and every person, since there were so many who gave so much, a donation will be made in the name of all to Muenster Memorial Hospital.

God bless all of you.

Surplus solution sought

"We're delighted that Judge Perry has issued a temporary restraining order stopping the 50-cent assessment as he prepares his final decision. This action gives the dairy industry much-needed time to enact in Congress a more sensible solution to milk surpluses."

This is how Irvin Elkin, President of Associated Milk Producers, Inc., reacted to Columbia, South Carolina Federal Judge Matthew Perry's decision May 5 to "enjoin" collection of the 50 cents/hundredweight assessment on all milk marketed for the next 20 days. AMPI ranks as the nation's largest dairy farmer cooperative with 33,000 members from 20 states located throughout the midwest, south and southwest, who produce about 12 percent of the nation's milk supply.

"It's a long, hard fight and we're still not out of it yet, but this definitely is a very encouraging development," Elkin, a dairy farmer from Amery, Wisconsin. "The Judge has halted the assessment at an extremely pivotal moment — giving dairy farmers new hope that the assessment can be ended once and for all through the courts."

AMPI joined several other dairy cooperatives in April, 1983 to oppose the assessment. Judge Perry's initial decision from the bench favored the government on the administrative procedure issue.

"We've said from the beginning that the assessment was a serious mistake," continued Elkin. "It would be unfair to dairy farm families and not be effective in reducing milk surpluses. This temporary restraining order is an important step in correcting this mistake. Our work won't be finished until the assessment is removed permanently."

Farm & Ranch

Craig Rosenbaum

County Agent's Report

It's a beautiful time of the year. Pastures are greening, cattle are making weight gains, and the majority of our wheat crops look excellent. However, several varieties are showing characteristics we were told would happen with a late frost. Some farmers with NK 812 are seeing some blasted heads and trapped heads due to the late frosts this spring.

812 is not day length sensitive but heat sensitive when it comes to stem elongation. The early warm weather encouraged growth of 812. So, when heads emerge they become twisted due to heads being trapped. Most heads will straighten out though and produce grain.

We evaluated two NK varieties (812 and 835) in variety demonstration plots this past week. The 812 variety showed approximately 10 percent loss due to freeze. The 835 showed little or no damage. The reason being 835 is about ten days to two weeks later in stem elongation and apparently missed the last freeze. Forage production was about the same on both varieties. It is recommended that wheat planted for grain production only should be planted late in the fall to prevent early and lush growth.

ferences and select several varieties to plant each year. Don't put all your eggs in one basket as the old saying so aptly goes.

One other problem we're seeing this year is a fungal disease on peach trees called Peach Leaf Curl. Peach leaf curl is a fungal disease of peaches and is found in all areas of Texas. It affects leaves, flowers, tender shoots, and fruit. You can identify the disease by the characteristic puckering, thickening, and curling of the leaves. Air temperature causes the disease to develop. Optimum temperature for development is 68 degrees. Chemical control is not possible now, but should be done in the fall after leaves shed. Fungicides of Kocide or Bordeaux mixture should be used.

Spring weather brings on danger of insect bites

Spring weather can mean danger for Texans who get bitten or stung by insects. Insects cause a number of injuries to people each year when outdoor activities increase. The worst offenders are bees, wasps and yellow-jackets. The greatest peril from insect-people encounters is allergic reactions, says Dr. Phil Hamman, entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. He notes that insect bites kill at least nine times more Americans than do snake bites.

People have different reactions to insect venoms, and allergic reactions are classified by the severity of one's body reaction, says Hamman.

venoms produced by insects are these:

- Those producing blisters, caused by certain stinging caterpillars, centipedes and blister beetles.
- Those attacking the central nervous system, produced by scorpions, black widow spiders, bees, wasps, yellow-jackets and hornets.
- Those destroying skin tissue, produced by fire ants, wheel bugs, brown recluse spiders, mites, scorpions, chiggers, bees, wasps, yellow-jackets and hornets.
- Those preventing blood from clotting, caused by fleas, lice, mites, ticks, biting flies and true bugs.

He cites at least three levels of reactions insect bites and stings can cause:

- Slight reactions, including itching, inflammation of the skin or anxiety.
- Moderate reactions, including swelling, abdominal pain or nausea.
- Severe reactions, including difficulty in breathing or swelling, hoarseness or confusion.

Most severe would probably be a shock reaction that causes a drop in blood pressure, collapse or unconsciousness, says Hamman. Moderate and severe reactions from an insect bite or sting are enough cause to see a doctor. Capture the offending insect if possible to help the doctor in providing treatment.

To reduce contacts with venomous insects, Hamman advises people not to walk around in the yard barefooted; to avoid wearing sweet smelling colognes or perfumes; to keep ripened fruits, watermelons, soft drink cans or other sweet smelling materials covered when outdoors; and to avoid mowing lawns or working in flower beds when bees or wasps are active. Insects are less active in the early morning hours.

Remain still if stinging insect is near, says the entomologist. Brush it off if it attacks but don't slap it to prevent a sting. If attacked by a swarm of wasps, yellow-jackets, hornets or bees, leave the area immediately while protecting the face with hands and arms.

It pays to topdress pastures.

Pastures are too often overlooked in an otherwise comprehensive fertility program.

The fact is, proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity. It can also dramatically increase your milk production.

Begin with a soil test. Then apply the fertilizer shown to be needed. Add lime, if your soil is found high in acidity.

Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.

Rosston News...

The Rosston Volunteer Fire Department were hosts to a barbecue dinner Monday evening May 2 for the North Texas Trail Riders Association of Denton. Barbecue with all the trimmings was served to some one hundred and ninety-one riders. The oldest rider was a gentleman seventy-six and the youngest was a young baby in a cradle. They started out with five hundred riders but due to rain and Monday being work day, some had to return home for work. They averaged 19 miles a day, with only one mishap during the ride - a young lady's horse fell with her and broke her arm. Hamie Boyd of Denton is president of the Association.

Folks be thinking and getting ready for Sam Bass Day in Rosston, Saturday July 16, starting with a parade at 10 a.m. All entries should register at 9 a.m. There will be lots of attractions with a barbecue, so plan now to attend.

SH awards banquet scheduled May, 19

Students of Sacred Heart High in their annual awards banquet next Thursday night, May 19, will be recognized and rewarded for accomplishments of the past year. The event will be in the Sacred Heart Community Center, starting at 7:30.

The program includes both sports and studies. On the scholastic side the three top students of each subject are listed as nominees, after which one of them is named as the award winner.

Relative to sports, each of the coaches will introduce the members of their respective teams along with a summary of individual and team records.

82 percent of the ninth grade students mastered reading.

MHS awards banquet to honor '83 grads

Academic and athletic achievement of the past year at Muenster High School will be acknowledged Friday 7 p.m. at the school's annual recognition and awards banquet.

The event, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Organization, will be headed by Doris Felderhoff, a former student, as mistress of ceremonies and by several faculty members identifying students of sports and organizations which they direct. Others on the program are PTO President Lupe Evans, Superintendent Charles Coffey, Principal Eddie Green, Board President D.J. Hellman, the Hornet band and Students Brent McElreath, Greg Luke, and Shelly Zimmerman. Recognition of the several sports will be by their coaches identifying team members and individual as well as team records along with an over-all summary of the school year.

Likewise heads of organizations such as band, FFA, FHA, honor societies, student council and cheerleaders will identify members and review activities of the year. And sponsors of UIL literary will identify participating students and their subjects.

The most eagerly awaited part of the program is the Who's Who which names the award winner in each subject on the school curriculum. The procedure is to list three nominees for each subject and then name one of the three as outstanding for the year.

The winners are Kelly Guerin of Saint Jo High School, Karla Jo Hartman of Sacred Heart High School, and Lisa Martinez of Muenster High School. Track season ends at MHS

The 1983 track season at Muenster High ended last weekend at Austin and Abilene as the Hornets failed to place in state final of the 800 m relay and Joe Hennigan took 5th in shot put at the regional level.

Girls running the relay were Shelly Zimmerer, LeAnn Sicking, Carmen Sicking and Rita Walterscheid. Their time of 1:49:02 was their best of the season but not good enough in the state meet.

Hennigan's distance of 48'3" did not equal his district throw but earned the team's only 2 points. MHS qualifiers for regional were Wayne Carroll, Keith Klement, Ronnie Fisher, Kevin Wolf, Kevin Felderhoff, Greg Luke, and Joe Hennigan. They were entered in the shot put, 300 m hurdles, 1600 m relay, 800 m run and 100 m hurdles.

Lindsay wins track regional Lindsay's Knights during the past weekend marked up their second regional triumph of the school year by winning the regional track meet at Abilene. Their former achievement was in advancing beyond regional in football.

At Abilene they were the high scoring team of the meet with 44 points while Roby was next with 38 and Santo was third with 28. Their win includes a first place and two seconds all of which qualify them for the state meet in Austin Friday and Saturday.

Lindsay's regional record was as follows. 1600 m relay, 1st place, 3:31.52, run by Gary Weems, John Dieter, Doug Anderle and Leonard Fuhrmann. Santo was one one hundredth of a second behind.

400 m relay, 2nd place, 44.37, run by the same four Knights. Roby won the race with 44.34.

200 m dash, Fuhrmann 2nd place, 22.99. Midway won with 22.96.

Hornets wallopp Midway High

In an explosive second inning of 13 runs, the MHS Hornets topped their district baseball standing here Monday. They clobbered Midway 17-7 claiming the win by a 10 run lead in the fifth inning.

Kevin Felderhoff went all the way for the Hornets allowing 7 hits and 7 walks while fanning five. Meanwhile two Midway hurlers gave up 18 hits and 7 walks and struck out 4.

The Muenster sluggers were Wayne Carroll 2 doubles and 2 singles, Joe Hennigan 1 double and 3 singles, Cory Klement and Neal Flusche each 3 singles, Kevin Felderhoff 2 singles, Kevin Switzer and Ronnie Fisher each 1 single.

Two games remain on the Hornet schedule. Saint Jo is playing here Thursday, the 12th; Alvord will be here Monday.

JoAnn Pagel ties legs together for Jimmy Hacker and Jay Hennigan, first graders, in the junior track meet's 3-legged race.

A pair of pairs are having obvious troubles in the three legged race for fifth graders in Monday's junior track meet. They are Shonna Reiter and Jerry Brawner, Billy Covington and Lisa Robison.

Kay Grewing and Charlie Luttmner cross the finish line in a 3-legged race of first graders in the grade school track meet.

Golf tournament scheduled Sunday

The next golf tournament sponsored by the Muenster Golf Association will be held next Sunday, May 15, at Nocona Hills Golf Course starting at 9:30.

John Schneider, president, this week urges the membership to come out and top last month's attendance of 47. With the recent addition of 12, he said this membership is 71.

Winners of last month's scrambles tourney with a score of 64, were Dale Klement, Brent Hess, Mike Hesse and Doyle Klement.

Next, with a score of 66, were Jim Endres, Terry Walterscheid, Gene Hermes and Darren Walterscheid.

Two teams tied for third with a count of 67. They were Glenn Aguilar, Angelo Nasche, Ray Voth and Buster Herr; also Frankie Hess, Ernie Page, Ruth Hess, D.J. Hellman and Danny Walterscheid.

Sis Theresina visits at Lake Kiowa

A trip by Sister Theresina, planned to visit friends at Lake Kiowa, coinciding fortunately with Germanfest in Muesnter was delayed by illness of the hosts, therefore they are having a delayed holiday this week.

Sister Theresina, a favorite while teaching here at SHHS for several generations, and a favorite when she returns for infrequent visits, is also a favorite when she sends Letters to the Editor, reaching many old friends this way.

She arrived from Holy Angels Convent in Jonesboro, Ark. last weekend to be a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ondrovick at Lake Kiowa, their daughter and family, Nancy and P.K. Williams and 16 month old Jenny, and the grandmother Mrs. Hilda Ondrovick, whose houseguest is her sister Maria of Vienna, Austria. The elde ladies and Sister Theresina are having a ball, conversing in German.

Sister Theresina visited the local benedictine sisters Saturday evening and Sunday. She saw a number of friends after Masses on Sunday. A delightful surprise was receiving a long stemmed carnation from Father Denis Soerries when he greeted special guests from St. Richard's Villa.

The round trip flight by American Airlines was a gift from the Ondrovicks who have been her friends since meeting her at SNAP luncheons. She returned to Jonesboro on May 11.

Plus, there's one big difference: it offers an escalating interest rate, so the more you invest, the higher your interest rate.

Under

Deposits:	$2,500	$2,500	$5,000	$10,000	$50,000
Rates:	5.25%	9.00%	9.25%	9.50%	9.75%

These sample rates illustrate the increments of this investment. Actual interest rates will probably differ and may vary daily.

There are more pluses with this account: Your principal and interest are insured safe up to $100,000 by the FSLIC. There's a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500. You can write checks and make deposits of $500 or more. You also have no activity or management fees. Plus, you can receive a free First Texas regular checking account for one year.

Plan Two:
Lock in a current interest rate with Money Market Certificates.

If you think interest rates will fall in the future, First Texas has a choice of long-term Money Market Certificates.* These investments are a safe way to lock in a current money market interest rate for either two and a half, four, six, eight or even ten years.

You can start with an opening deposit as small as $500. And your investment is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

Also, there's an insured, 6-month Certificate with a minimum opening deposit of only $2,500.

Long or short term. The choice is yours.

The fact is, no matter what you think interest rates will do, First Texas has a plan that's right for you, right now.
