Paul Harvey summed up Russia's murder of 269 persons rather simply last week in saying they are different. As Communists, he said, they are different from civilized people everywhere, even from the most primitive people.

They simply have no respect for human life. After some two and a half hours of ground to air contact, they knew that the plane they were tracking was a commercial airliner loaded with passengers, and that by international law as well as basic humanity they had no right to destroy it.

Nevertheless they shot down the ship and have been busy since then first denying that they shot it, then trying to concoct a justification for their action. They claim to have mistaken it for a US spy plane, and later came out with another version saying the Korean plane was actually combining its flight with a spy mission for this country.

The really important fact about the whole affair is that it was deliberate. After the two and a half hours of discussion, the word had to reach Soviet high command and the man at the trigger was acting on orders. And that's how the civilized world sees the incident. Heads of other nations world-wide have joined with this country and Korea in condemning Russia for its barbaric murder of innocent civilians.

Well, such procedure is par for Communists. We've heard many accounts of their slave labor camps made up of persons whose only offense was disagreeing with the head men. That has happened in Russia, China, Vietnam, Cambodia and other countries taken over by the Reds. And stories of murder are even more extensive. In war their standard practice is to dispose of prisoners by mass murder, as in Poland, Vietnam, Afghanistan. Nor do they spare women and children. It's going on now. In Nicaragua a genocide campaign has been launched against an Indian tribe defending its homes and lands. Russia has wiped out thousands of its own people trying to continue their traditional way of life, and in Afghanistan they use poisonous gas to wipe out towns and villages which resist the invaders.

Most of the world has had ample occasion to learn that atrocity is a part of Communist policy, and now it is reminded of the fact all the more emphatically by Russia's dramatic display of savagery and deceit.

If any good can come of this tragedy, let's hope it will help believers in God throughout the world understand that the atheistic Communists are not only their enemies but completely devoid of human principle. Knowing that, they might realize that the only hope of civilization is to form a solid alliance of defense and call a halt to the Red conquest.

It's especially urgent that this spirit will first take hold in our own country. We desperately need a turnaround of liberal leaders and media who have done so much to assist the Red effort and hinder the Christian effort. They complain constantly about our security efforts but never about Russia's arms build-up.

Governor praises fair association

"People in agriculture are the backbone of this country," Governor Mark White told some 250 people gathered for the groundbreaking ceremony of the new Cooke County fairgrounds Tuesday. "And what you're doing here today I believe sets the tone for growth in agriculture in Cooke County."

White praised the actions of the Cooke County Fair Association, saying such a venture is not only important to agriculture, but also to the state's young people. He said he sees the beginning of a revitalization of rural Texas, where agriculture is the second biggest industry, just behind petroleum.

White also took the opportunity to comment on the plight of the modern-day farmer in Texas, where many areas of the state are experiencing some of the worst drought problems in history. "Maybe we're going to have to go hungry before we realize what they (farmers) are doing for us," he said. "I hope not."

The governor attended the event at the request of District Judge Larry Sullivant, who attended Baylor University with White. Parker Yarbrough, fair association president, explained that the fair association has been in existence since the early 1900s, was then revived in the early 1930s, and with the purchase of land and beginning construction for a new permanent site, has taken a considerable step forward. He also stressed the benefit to be seen by area youths who will utilize the fairgrounds facilities in the future.

The complex, which will be located on U.S. Highway 82 one mile west of the Gainesville 1-35 intersection, will include:

- an 8,400-square foot general exhibit building with a concrete floor for events ranging from seminars to art shows;
- a 32,000-square foot livestock building containing a show arena, seating facilities and stalls primarily for livestock shows and judging contests;
- a 16,000-square foot horse barn primarily for shows and sales;
- a 72,000-square foot coliseum which will include seating for 3,500 to 4,000 people, intended to be a multi-purpose structure.

Local United Way sets $6,000 goal

The United Way drive of 1983 got under way last week when officers of the organization considered the needs of eleven participating agencies and set their goal at $115,000. The officers likewise voted to start the campaign with an advanced gifts drive on September 12 headed by Mike Murphree as chairman. The county wide kickoff with a luncheon is scheduled for September 26 at Cooke County College. The county chairman is Margaret Plumlee.

Muenster's community drive will be headed again by Sharon Wolf and the quota is $6000, which was calculated as the area's share of the county wide quota. Last year's community drive raised $4461. Officers of the United Way are Ben Hatcher, president, Larry Kinard, first VP, Whit Williams, second VP, Sandy Jordon, treasurer and Marsha Day, secretary. Agencies participating in the program and the amounts they are budgeted to receive are: Red Cross, $12,500, Boy Scouts $7,000, Camp Fire Girls $20,000, 4-H and FFA $2,000, Gaines. Boys Club $41,500, Muenster Youth $4,500, Salvation Army $8,000, Diabetic Foundation $5,000, Radio Reading Serv. $225, Voluntary Action $1000, Community Service $1,000, Texas United Way $310, Administration $8,600.

ISD adopts $1,125,420 spending plan

A budget of $1,125,420 was adopted by trustees of Muenster ISD at their regular meeting Thursday night.

Principal expense items accounting for that total are $611,667 for instruction, $169,100 for plant maintenance and operation, $82,388 for general administration, $61,600 for pupil transportation, $29,308 for library and media, $59,300 for food service, $38,177 for instruction administration and $45,000 for debt service.

Revenue to finance the budget is expected to total $1,127,247.56 and to come from four separate sources.

Local tax is estimated to provide $568,551.56; state revenues is to provide $522,856.00 and federal revenue is to provide $26,340. The final item of $9,500 is estimated sale price of a driver ed car. The principal local revenue is the local tax which is estimated at a rate of 55 cents per $100 of assessed valuation on the total district valuation of $90,245,560, which should yield $496,350. Allowing for delinquency the amount estimated is $476,496.56. Also lunch room and athletics are expected to provide $65,000, and special education salaries $11,900. The tax rate this year is 2 cents per $100 higher than last year's 53 cents, however this year's total valuation is lower than last year's $91,314,605. As usual, tax collections are expected to be 96 percent complete. 49 cents of the 55 cent rate is assigned to operation and maintenance, the other 6 cents to debt service.

The committee also voted to buy a new 48 passenger school bus. The provider is the central purchasing department of Texas Education Agency.

Council Oks new budget of $390,560

Members of the Muenster City Council Tuesday night adopted a budget of $390,560 for the new fiscal year, topping last year's budget of $364,628. Inflation is being credited for the $25,932 increase. The council also set the new tax rate at 43 cents per $100 valuation; last year's rate was 35 cents.

The council heard a request from Fire Chief Herbie Knabe to raise the compensation for attendance at the Firemen's Training School because of the rising tuition cost. The council voted to raise the compensation from $375 to $425.

Also, the council adopted a resolution from Sacred Heart Parish to close Hickory Street from Sixth Street to Seventh Street. Members of the council agreed to allow the placing of a fence for that purpose, but would not allow a permanent structure of any kind.

In other action, the council:

- gave its blessing to the Library Board, which is about to begin a fund-raising drive to help pay for the remodeling of the Muenster Public Library;
- extended the city sewer main to block 13 for the purpose of servicing a new home;
- approved a request from Police Chief Helen Tompkins for the Muenster Police Department to host the next monthly meeting of the Criminal Investigators;
- agreed to turn off the street light near 82 Liquor because the light was attracting an unusually large number of crickets.

MHS ready for '83 Homecoming

Everything is set for homecoming ceremonies and festivities this week at Muenster High School. The program includes events on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, and the feature is a football game with the Hornets hosting their old-time rivals, the Panthers of Saint Jo.

First on schedule was a special homecoming liturgy at Wednesday night's CCD mass and a homecoming bonfire followed.

All day Friday will be Hornet Spirit Day at which students and faculty will wear the school colors, red and white.

Friday night's program begins with the Hornet Band show directed by Jon Ward. It will be held at 7:40 instead of half time, leaving the intermission time free for the formalities of announcing and crowning the homecoming queen.

Candidates for queen are four seniors: Diane Gibson, daughter of Mrs. Leonard Reiter and Joe Gibson; Renate Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hess;

Paula Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Russell; and Cindy Tisdale, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Larry Tisdale. They were chosen by popular vote of the students and the queen will have been chosen by the football team.

When she is identified the remaining three will join princesses of the three lower classes as members of the queen's court. The princesses were selected by popular vote in their own classes. They are JoEll Hellman, junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dolphy Hellman; Dolle Pagel, sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Pagel; and Judy Biffle, freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jack Biffle.

All of the royal court will be escorted by 1982 grads of Muenster High: Greg Luke, Kevin Felderhoff, Jeff Fisher, Steven Fisher, Joe Hennigan, Chris Rohmer and Carl Sicking.

At the crowning ceremony Ginny Fisher, the 1982

COMMENT

Larry Tisdale

The Owner's Manual

OUR INTERACTIONS with our fellow Christians can be both frustrating and rewarding because of their (and our) weaknesses, failures, and demands; rewarding because we can see them grow as Christians as well as human beings, gaining peace and joy and victory in this otherwise hectic, unsure life on earth.

Too many times, I fear, the following poem describes our feelings towards our fellow brothers and sisters in Christ:

To dwell above with the saints we love
O that will be glory;
To dwell below with the saints we know
Well, that's another story!

How can we make our relationships with one another a success? The main ingredient, of course, is prayer and a close walk with the Lord. This is where our strength lies. God will give us a loving and caring heart and attitude. Romans 12:10 says, "Be kindly affectioned one to another with brotherly love, in honor preferring one another."

However, despite striving to have an attitude of love, there are times when disagreements arise, and we feel an attitude of resentment building within. There are some principles we can apply to help change our attitudes so that we can see people through the eyes of love again:

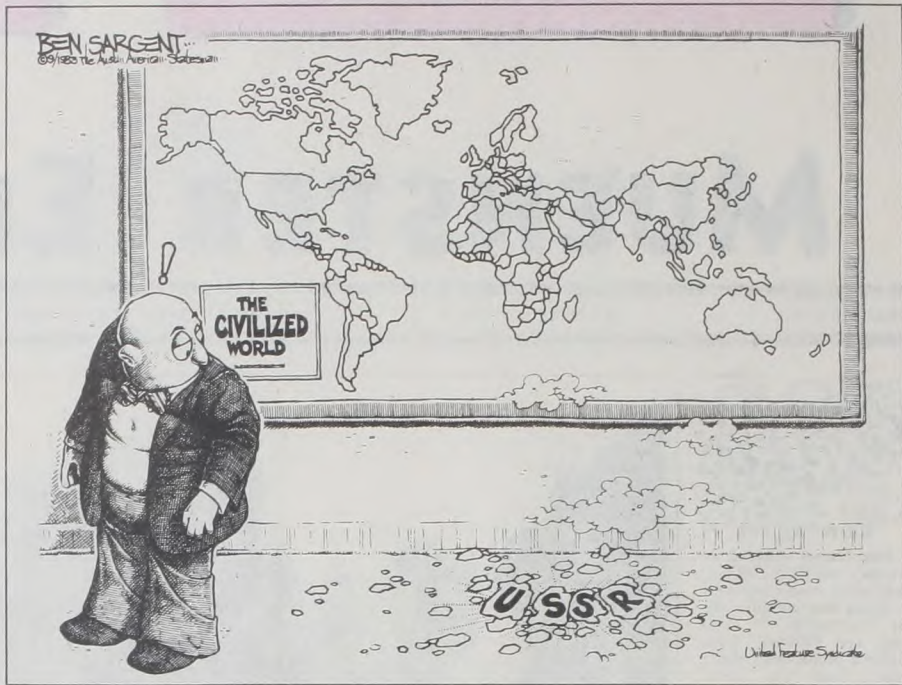

1. Examine the situation (your part). What could you have done differently? What did you do possibly to cause the situation?
2. Examine your heart. Is there bitterness or resentment there? Take a minute right now and as the Holy Spirit reveals any negative feelings, ask for forgiveness and strength to overcome them.
3. Be willing to admit your mistake — sometimes this is hard to do. It is a lot easier to admit the other party's fault.
4. Be willing to make the final move. Make apologies where necessary. Even if you are definitely in the right, you can say you are sorry for the misunderstandings that occurred. Never, never say, "I'm sorry but..." This little three letter word usually only adds fuel to the fire that is already sizzling.

5. Break the ice by initiating a conversation or issuing an invitation to get together for coffee or tea. There will be a little stiffness in the atmosphere at first but as God warms your heart and theirs, this stiffness will pass.

6. Look at people on their spiritual level, not where you think they should be. Accept them where they are. Christ accepts us and loves us just as we are. This doesn't mean you approve of their errors — just that you love and care for them.

- The Six Most Important Words:
"I admit I made a mistake!"
The five most important words: "You did a good job!"
The four most important words: "What is your opinion?"
The three most important words: "If you please."
The least important word: "I"

Perspectives

IN THE wake of John Tower's recent announcement that he will not seek another term as senator and in the wake of the less-recent defeat of Bill Clements in the governor's race, Texas republicans would really do well to have a winner on their team again.

When Phil Gramm made his decision to abandon the Democratic ship in disgust, he may not have anticipated Tower's decision, but then, maybe he did. But no matter, Gramm looks to be the odds-on favorite to win that vacated seat — at least for now, he does. There are several reasons why.

Gramm may have lost a lot of Democratic support when he made his decision to leave that party, but he was welcomed with open arms by the GOP. He was seen by the GOP as one who probably should have been a Republican long before — one who, politically, had seen the light and, appropriately, converted. Also, he hasn't been a Republican long enough to offend anyone on that side. He has a clean slate.

A recent poll determined that Gramm had solid name recognition by 67 percent of the voting populus — more than any other contender at this time.

Phil Gramm has proven his loyalty to the current Washington administration through his support of the president's economic policies.

One factor sure to be significant is who receives Tower's own endorsement, if anyone does, that is. If he does decide to make an endorsement, it's going to have impact — just how much is hard to say. But Tower has been where he is for quite a long time and has something of a following.

There will be at least some people who listen to his endorsement, and if Gramm gets it, there wouldn't be many who would see Tower as going out on a limb.

Actually, Gramm isn't doing poorly at all for someone who hasn't been in the thick of Republican things for all that long.

As soon as Gramm lost his position on the House budget committee, the grapevine began to hum with words of an impending party switch. Although a lot of people didn't really think he'd go through with it, he did. You could almost imagine him with that controlled cockiness saying: "I'll show ya, I'll just switch parties and win again, I'll show ya."

And show'em, he did.

No, switching parties didn't seem to hurt him at all. Quite the contrary. In fact, he might have started something.

Looking Ahead

THERE ARE two aspects of the national dialogue with respect to unemployment and productivity which deserve considerable attention. These are the effect of taxes on the making of jobs and the desire of the government to get into the job making business.

All taxes adversely affect employment, because they raise prices. As far as a business is concerned, the expense of taxes is one of the costs of operating. If a firm is to stay in business it must cover all these costs with its revenues.

Because taxes are part of these operating costs, and because such costs must be recovered in the selling price of all goods and services in the market, the higher taxes become, the higher prices must rise.

But the higher prices rise, the lower will be the volume of business, because, in accordance with the laws of supply and demand, demand will decrease as prices increase, other things remaining the same.

There are other job-decreasing effects of taxes. Corporate income taxes and so-called "excess or windfall profits" taxes siphon off still more earnings which businesses need for plant improvement and expansion. We lose in two ways: We lose the jobs that would have been created and we lose the chance to have better products at lower prices.

The progressive income tax is most destructive to jobs, because it falls most heavily on those who would do most of the saving. People with low incomes can't save; they need every cent they earn to cover living expenses. People with higher incomes are able to save and invest, creating new productive capacity and new jobs, providing their potential investment funds are not taxed away from them.

Taxing away potential investment funds is a sure way to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs. Capitalism cannot survive if it cannot accumulate capital.

When government attempts to create jobs, you can bet on increased unemployment overall.

The reason: all jobs require investment — but government has nothing to invest — except what it takes away from the private citizens.

There are only three ways for government to get the money necessary to create its jobs: through higher taxes, by borrowing, or by inflation. In point of fact, all three of these means are taxation in the end.

Each of these will adversely affect private enterprise. Higher taxes decrease savings; government borrowing reduces funds available to business; inflation increases prices and causes extensive maladjustments in the economy.

In the end, government jobs — for which, it must be remembered, there is no demand — are created at the expense of real jobs which would have been provided by private enterprise in response to consumer demand.

The Right to Work

ON LABOR Day, our nation celebrates the achievements of America's working men and women. Unfortunately, in the eyes of many people, "labor" and "labor union" mean the same thing.

The fact is the vast majority of workers are not members of labor unions, and the interests of workers and those of union bosses are not always the same. Of the 20% of the American work force who are unionized, many are forced to pay money to union officials in order to keep their jobs. The abuses of workers' rights spawned by this system of federally authorized compulsory unionism are legion.

On a day set aside for the observance of workers' rights, it is these forgotten Americans who deserve the highest praise. We honor these compulsory unionism victims, many of whom have demonstrated great courage and dedication in standing up for their individual Right to Work.

Time and again, they have braved the loss of employment, blacklisting, harassment, beatings, even violent death, to secure for themselves and their families the basic right to earn a living.

The source of their problems is the federally authorized system of special privileges and legal immunities afforded union bosses — and union bosses only. The abuses of workers' rights spawned by this system are all too familiar. However, for every abuse of union power, there seems to be at least one brave American worker willing to stand up and fight for the right to be free.

Telephone workers in Maryland who objected to the use of their compulsory union dues for political causes they abhor sued CWA-union bosses to recover their money. Powerful, well-financed union attorneys, desperate to protect Big Labor's unique power to compel support of its political agenda, dragged the case on for years. Finally, however, the workers triumphed when a Federal Court Master found the CWA-union bosses spent 80% of the compulsory dues on political, nonbargaining purposes.

An even more disturbing form of compulsory unionism is the so-called "pick-handle" closed shop — the practice of compelling workers to support unions through the use of force and violence. Most Americans agree with us that every person must have the right, but not be compelled — either by contract or threats of violence — to support an unwanted union.

But union officials enjoy a unique immunity from federal laws which prohibit crimes of extortion and violence in interstate commerce. Federal law has been interpreted to exempt union officials from federal prosecution for beatings, bombings, burnings, and other violence so long as that violence is used in pursuit of "legitimate union objectives."

Just in the past few weeks, news reports have disclosed that:

In Arizona, a sleeping child was shot in the head after her father dared to exercise his Right to Work and stepped across union picket lines.

Thousands of miles away a contractor in Hawaii recently refused to force his employees to belong to the union. Now, to prevent his murder, he has been swept away from his family and forced to adopt a new identity under the Federal Witness Protection Program.

It would be a sham to celebrate Labor Day without honoring the Right to Work of these and other brave victims of compulsory unionism.

The basic principles of justice have been subverted wherever workers are forced to join or pay fees to union bosses in order to earn a living. Can workers' rights have any meaning on Labor Day when union bosses and their political henchmen exact such a tribute?

Let us not lose sight of the millions of Americans today who are being forced to pay dues to an unwanted union as the price for keeping their jobs.

It is for these struggling American workers that the National Right to Work Committee was formed in 1955. And it is to these brave men and women that we and millions of Right to Work supporters across the country dedicate ourselves anew on this Labor Day, 1983.

They oppose our nuclear program but not Russia's. They join the red trouble makers in creating social unrest in our country and constantly find fault with the President's economic, social and security policies. During this plane destruction outrage, indignation has been boiling all over the world not only among governments but among the millions of individuals. More than ever before, people are awakening to the real nature of the master criminals who have conducted a satanic campaign of undermining other nations' interest while faking their own image of respectability.

Well, this stupid and savage incident has served to tear off the mask and expose the evil Red face. Now more of us will see through the propaganda claim that arms build-up and nuclear power is all wrong over here but all right over there. And they will realize that racial friction here, mostly initiated by the Red agents, is a mere trifle compared with human rights violations in all the Red countries; that atrocities so often falsely charged by the Reds are standard procedure with them.

And perhaps people will be more inclined to understand the extensive social sabotage carried on by the Soviets in this country. They are always a part of planning and demonstrating such evils as promiscuity, pornography, abortion, gay rights, drug abuse and softness to crime, all of which tend to cause moral and social decay. They encourage many such problems over here but rigidly oppose them in their country. They are striving to destroy us from within while working equally hard to defeat us in war.

The Reds told us long ago that their ultimate goal is to crush us. We and many others chose to ignore the warning, but now are motivated by their ruthless crime to take a closer look at their evil nature and give more thought to their intended conquest.

President Reagan has been aware of the situation for many years, believing the Reds' announced intention to take over the world.

Coming into the presidency, he had no doubts that the conquest was making alarming progress and free countries need to organize their defense without delay.

World opinion was never more in agreement than now. The time was never more proper or more urgent to get together than it is now.

President Reagan is sincerely begging his country and all its institutions to stand up and be counted. This means the leaders of politics, business, religion and the media, that they take their guidance from wisdom, conscience and prayer, and reject at long last the subversive influence of their enemies.

At this time we do not know how the US and the rest of civilization will meet the crisis. But a few things we do know. We have seen the depraved nature of the enemy and we realize that it's time for free people to work together for their survival.

Hogan reunion draws 200

An intriguing program and clever presentations were highlights of the annual Hogan Family Reunion on Sunday, September 4, in Muenster.

About 200 relatives attended, to honor especially Mrs. J.S. Hogan, 94, who was crowned "Queen of the Day" and "Greatest Grandmother in the Whole World," and her late husband, James Spencer Hogan. Edna McDonald Hogan, at 94, was the oldest member present. Two-week-old great-grandson Chisam Cain was the youngest present. James McDonald, now serving in the U.S. Navy came the greatest distance, from Chula Vista, California. Other relatives came from Ardmore, Ft. Worth, Waco, Valley View, Sherman, Hurst, Wichita Falls, Bryan, Katy, Euless, Houston, Lubbock, Amarillo, Nocona, Saint Jo, Denton, Longview, Dallas, Bellevue, Gainesville and Muenster.

Covered dishes were shared and demonstrated of the best and favorite foods, for a noon meal and evening meal.

An after-dinner program was produced and directed by Judy Hartman. A Hogan Hoedown presented instrumental, group and vocal musical selections, representing every member of the family, each having its own style and group.

Included were the following groups: Donna Volkman and kids; Opal's Bunch; Lori Jones Symnastics; Jamie and Scott Hogan on the piano; Steve Hogan and Friends; Frank Hogan and Friends; his Sisters, and his Family; The Cherry-Rhone Band; Bob-bye Hogan; Pam, Shawna and Stephanie's Comedy Song; Jeanna, Tracey and Kelly's Song; Johnnie Sue Jones "A Seminar;" "Amazing Grace" and "Bile Them Cabbage Down", both by the Group; Chris, Rita, Zane and Judy "The Surprise;" Columbus' Gang; Jerry's Crew; and again The Cherry-Rhone.

A special note of comedy and fun were added, when Judy Hartman, after crowning her grandmother, made one more presentation. She listed Lucille McFarland of Lubbock also as a queen in the family. To show appreciation, Judy referred to 14 carat and quickly placed a 14 carat necklace around her neck, litterally fourteen fresh carrots on a cord.

Everyone attending received a keepsake Hogan Hoedown Program, designed by Bobby Heffner of Amarillo.

Sharon Fangman, William Hoenig exchange vows at Lindsay nuptial

Mr. and Mrs. William Joseph Hoenig are at home in Whitesboro since returning from a wedding trip to Missouri. They were married in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay on August 27. Father Cletus Post, OSB pastor, celebrated the Nuptial Mass with double ring ceremony at 5 p.m.

The bride is the former Sharon Rose Fangman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Fangman of Rt. 2 Gainesville; and parents of the groom are Jerry Hoenig of Panama City, Florida and Mrs. Lucy Wilson of Shawnee, Kansas.

Presented at the altar by her father, the bride was wearing a formal gown of white bridal satin and Alencon lace. The fitted satin bodice was covered with the lace and featured a sweetheart neckline and long, full lace sleeves gathered to fitted, wide cuffs. The full length, gored skirt of lace over satin fell to a graceful chapel length train enhanced with a scalloped lace ruffle completely surrounding the edge of the skirt and train.

Two tiers of sheerest bridal illusion, edged in scalloped Alencon lace, reached elbow length, and were held to a chapel cap headpiece. She carried her bridal flowers in a nosegay of mauve roses, white roses, and white stephanotis and babies breath with accents of lace and a treasured rosary. For sentiment she wore the same pearls worn by her mother and her Grandmother Hess on their wedding days.

WHY WOULD A COMPANY THAT DOESN'T EVEN SELL HEAT PUMPS OFFER A CASH BONUS FOR BUYING ONE?

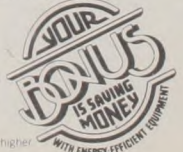

When you replace your home's old, worn out heating and cooling system with a new energy efficient heat pump, Texas Power & Light will pay you a cash bonus for buying it. Based on the tonnage capacity of the unit.

But the cash bonus is just the first benefit of installing a new electric heat pump. You also save money on your operating costs. You help save energy all year 'round. And by using less energy, you help level our peak load demand. (That's the time when more people are using more electricity.)

So you can see why even though we don't sell or install heat pumps, we want to give you all the information you need to save energy and money when you do buy one.

*Heat pumps must have an EER (Energy Efficiency Ratio) of 8.0 or higher.

Jake Robert Bezner was baptized in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, September 3 with Father Victor Gillespie officiating for the sacrament. Jake is the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Bezner of Amarillo. His baptismal sponsors were an uncle, Stan Endres and an aunt, Laurie Endres. The infant wore a treasured baptismal gown worn first by his father and then by his sisters, Leslie and Julie. And he was wrapped in a blanket made by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ed Endres.

Following the church service, a luncheon was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Endres. Special guests were the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Ed Endres of Muenster and James Bezner of Lindsay; and the great-grandmothers Mrs. Albert Henseid and Mrs. Joe Wilde.

Forestburg News

By Kyura Orrell

The good life, country style...Forestburg, Texas just one more mile. Our town may be small but the folks are well represented. The Old West Gunfighters of Forestburg, the gunfighters who have performed at the Watermelon Festival, Sam Bass Days and next week over in Decatur at the Chisholm Trails Days, have just returned from the First Annual Fort Worth Stockyards' National Gunfight/Stunt Competition and Old West Celebration. Fifteen different clubs, some as far away as Dodge City, Kansas and Los Angeles, Calif. competed in the two-day event. The groups that won were professionals and been together for awhile. Not taking anything away from their glory, the other groups were all amateurs of a year or less. This competition gave these Burgers an opportunity to meet Buck (Newly of Gunsmoke) Taylor, Clint Walker, Sunset 'Kit' Carson and Walt Garrison. Several of these men were judging the competition. After the smoke had settled, I heard that one of the gunfighters and 'Newly' Taylor kept spirits up by entertaining the other gunfighters to all hours. Next year, the group needs to collect some funds to stay in the same league with the other gunfight clubs, who brought props, rented costumes and explosive devices to add to their skits. Members in the Old West Gunfighters are Ricky and Linda Huckabay, Herbert Richardson, Tom Richardson, Doyle Gates, the late Frankie Griggs, Wassie and Wesley Reynolds, Bill Orrell, Bill White and Benny Pomeroy. At this time, his buddies and co-gunfighters wish happy trails to Skipper 'Vern' Griggs who rode off into the sunset the day before the competition. This reporter doesn't mean to be trite with the farewell, the feelings are genuine and would have been in Skip's style.

here years ago when her father taught school here, and her two daughters dropped off for a visit Tuesday. Also, Brenda Poyntor Sutton and her daughter came for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. H.E. Shears and son, Michael of Nocona visited with Ester Shears on Labor Day.

Cheerleading tryouts are scheduled for this week. Good luck to all those in the competition and congrats to the winning squad!

The Harris family reunion was held last Sunday, August 28 in the Forestburg Community Center. The 54 descendants of the late Isaac and Fanny Harris gathered in the community center to visit with old friends and family members from afar. Ester Shears said that they were proud to have Stan and Lorene Menbrick of Pueblo, Colo. who used to live in the Burg attend the reunion. The event was a success even though the air conditioner pump was out on that sunny afternoon.

Happy birthday September children - Dusty Gordon, Sept. 13; Lujane Morrison, Sept. 14; Danna Hamric, Jennifer Scott and Betty Hardy who will be cutting their own birthday cake on the 15th.

SEPTEMBER NEWSLETTER
BY SISTER M. CABRINI ARAMI O.S.B.

Enrollment: We now have 224 students enrolled at Sacred Heart School. The elementary school has 150 students in K-8. The high school has 74 students in grades 9-12.

Change in Faculty: Nellwyn Hess has asked to be relieved of her contract to accept a position in Gainesville. We were able to hire a capable replacement immediately. We welcome Danna Johnson as special reading-special education teacher.

Fun and Fitness labels: Please save the proof of purchase seals from all Post's cereal boxes. We will be able to obtain free balls and other items for the children. The offer expires in December, so save now.

School pictures: Individual pictures will be taken on September 15, 1983. Students should wear their uniforms for the pictures. Notices will be sent to remind parents and students.

August school days: The temperature has reached 100 degrees almost every day since school started. Teachers and students alike have worked hard in spite of the heat. Let us pray for cooler weather.

Recovery: Marilyn Smith, our second grade teacher, will be back on Tuesday, September 6. We are grateful that she has bounced back so quickly. Her class has been in the capable hands of Jeanne Greathouse.

Homework: Students should conscientiously do their homework. With the emphasis on education nationwide, we should do all we can to improve our school at the local level. Perhaps we are spending too much time in athletic practices and not enough time on academics. We shall strive to reach a balance so that homework does not suffer a defeat!

Early dismissal: On Friday, September 30, we will dismiss at 2:00 p.m. for teachers' meeting. Please mark this on your calendar.

First Penance program: There will be a meeting for the parents of the second graders who are preparing for the sacrament of reconciliation in the meeting room of the community center at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, September 8.

SCHOOL NEWS

Computer Science expanded at CCC

Cooke County College's rapidly expanding computer science program has still another new addition this fall, and it's the most sophisticated kind of data processing machine on earth - the human kind.

He is Roy F. Bonnett Jr., who has joined the CCC faculty to teach classes in an instructional area that has shown dramatic growth in recent years on campus.

"This growth is hardly surprising, really," says Troy Miller, CCC data processing instructor who has handled most of the teaching duties in the department until now. "Computers are already exerting a profound influence in many areas of our lives and, as the old saying goes, we ain't seen nothin' yet."

Miller adds that CCC has made great strides forward recently in acquiring the latest and most modern computer hardware, including both micro- and mini-computer systems. He points out, however, that such equipment is of little use in an instructional program unless there are qualified teachers to go with it.

"That's why we're so pleased to welcome Mr. Bonnett to our faculty," says Maxine Stille, director of CCC's Division of Business Administration.

"He is an experienced and qualified teacher," she says, "and his presence will enable us to significantly improve our capacity to accommodate the growing number of students enrolling in data processing courses here."

"In Mr. Bonnett and Mr. Miller, we also feel strongly that we can offer students an exceptionally high quality of instruction in basic computer science technology."

Bonnet this fall will be teaching classes in basic computer concepts, an introductory level course, as well as in the basic computer programming languages.

Bonnet, who holds a bachelor's degree, with honors, in business administration management, recently completed his master's in computer science at North Texas State University where he was also a teaching fellow.

Currently a major in the U.S. Army Reserve, he also has completed extensive armed services training in several areas related to his teaching specialty.

Both Ms. Stille and Miller encourage all persons who may be interested in finding out more about career opportunities in data processing and about the computer science program at Cooke County College to contact them at 817/668-7731, Ext. 263.

Muenster Elementary organizes local enrichment program

A program of local enrichment is currently being organized at Muenster Elementary school, with Gerry Colwell, teacher of combined grades five and six, as teacher and also as coordinator of a committee to select children for the special instruction.

The special class, consisting of pupils from grades 3, 4 and 5, will be funded by the Fort Worth Regional Service Center of Texas Education Agency and will meet three class periods a week starting October 17 and continuing through the remainder of the school year. Also involved are eight in-service meetings with the teachers. The subject is social studies.

Student selection begins with screening by a committee representing administration, teachers and parents. They will present nominees for final committee selection. Some of the criteria applied to the selection are achievement test score, student grades, parent inventories and behavioral characteristics in learning and motivation.

Teeny Weeny Fitness program starts

A new concept in a unique parent-participation, children's physical education development program is being introduced in this area, namely, the Teeny Weeny Fitness program for infants aged through four years, and more specifically, one of its facets, the "Bambinos" class, offered for ages three months to walking or two years.

Already more familiar are other segments of the "I Can Do" School of Gymnastics: Tots to two years; Minikins, two-year-olds; Kinderkins, three-year-olds; and Kindermites, four-year-olds.

If enough interest is expressed, classes for the youngest children will be offered in the Community Center Main Hall. Cut-off date for registrations is September 14. Tentatively, sessions will be on Wednesday mornings, for eight weeks, beginning on September 21. More information may be obtained from Emily Klement, 759-4554. The schedule is announced as follows: 9 a.m. - 4:40 9:50; 10:30 a.m. Crawlers; 10:40-11:20 walking to 2 years; 11:30 a.m. - 12:10 p.m. two-year-olds.

The announced schedule for ages three to five begins on Thursday, September 15 2 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. at the Young Children's Learning Center.

Wildcats wallop Hornets 42-0

Several factors combined to make it a long and miserable night when the Hornets were clobbered 42-0 by Callisburg's Wildcats. The big problem was too much Callisburg, a Class AA outfit with lost of experience in 13 returning seniors plus good speed and size.

On the other hand there was too little Muenster with two key backs, Ronnie Fisher and Leslye Wells out with injuries for most of the game and the whole team not quite organized after lots of lost time due to illness in pre-season. Regarding experience, they have only three seniors.

Nevertheless the performance was not as one-sided as the score. The teams broke even 10-10 in first downs and Callisburg led 252 to 192 in total yardage. With almost all of the game in Muenster's end of the field, Callisburg was able to score mostly on short yardage.

The trouble started with the first offensive play. After a Hornet fumble Callisburg was 40 yards away and gained to the 6 before losing possession on Jeff McAden's interception. On second series after that Muenster punted and Tetmeyer returned it to the 19. Four plays later Quarterback Hollandsworth scooted into the end zone. A pass to Strickland upped the count to 8-0.

Next Wilson's interception stopped Muenster on the first series at the 34. Two passes went incomplete and Hollandsworth scored on runs of 32 and 2. Pethtel's place kick made it 15-0.

Muenster replied with a pair of first downs and the teams then exchanged punts. On the series that followed Muenster's attempted punt turned sour as Crowsey blocked it and rumbled some 10 yards to pay dirt with it. A PAT attempt missed leaving the score at 22-0.

The Hornets resumed the fumbleitis on the next play after kickoff and Callisburg was only 17 yards away. Two tries were enough, Hollandsworth sneaking over from the 7 and Pethtel's kick adding a bonus point.

Just before half time there were two more fumbles. Kevin Wolf recovered for the Hornets and three plays later Callisburg recovered.

After intermission Muenster lost possession by interception and the Wildcats promptly cashed in the opportunity with a 58 yard drive in 7 plays. Hollandsworth scored on a 26 yard romp and Tetmeyer upped the score to 35.

Finally the Hornets started clicking. In their best performance of the game they gained 72 yards in 14 plays before fumbling a pitch-out on the first play of the last quarter.

That seemed to start the real rash of fumbleitis. For more than half of the last period the ball was turning over constantly, Muenster losing it four times and Callisburg three times. Finally Muenster booted it back to the 37 and Smith got loose there for a scoot to the goal.

Jeff McAden led the Hornet yardage with 86 yards and also made the team's only interception. Neal Flusche was next with 68 yards and Ronnie Fisher made 33.

Panthers at Homecoming

An uphill struggle awaits the Hornets Friday night when they host their ancient rivals, the Saint Jo Panthers at homecoming.

According to Coach Leonard Peters they have a long way to go this week to get up to par for the contest. First of all he was concerned with their 42-0 loss to Callisburg, but even more so by the fact that prospects for this one do not look any better. As of Monday it seemed that backfield chores may be turned over to Neal Flusche with help from the JV boys.

Starting last week Anderle and Russell were absent and Fisher and Wells were injured in the first quarter. Since then Fisher and Wells appear destined to sit one out and the doubtfuls include McAden, Anderle, Russell, Ryan Klement and Darren Walterscheid.

Fortunately the line looks better. All of the boys seem to be in good condition after a good showing offensively and defensively in the opener.

Saint Jo, on the other hand comes up with a better starting record. The Panthers beat Savoy 27-0 with a team that's rated about the equal of last year which lost 41-16 to the Hornets. They lost size and experience in the line by graduation but retained most of the backs for a gain in size and experience. Something in Muenster's favor is that the Panthers will not be the equal of Class AA Callisburg last week, but that fact appears to be offset by the rash of Hornet troubles.

Kickoff time will be 8 p.m.

Neil Flusche strains for more yardage as a pair of Callisburg Wildcats resist. Also in the action are Mark Hennigan 42 and Bryan Klement 52.

JV Hornets lose to Callisburg kids

Muenster High's junior varsity ventured slightly out of their class last week in meeting the youngsters of Callisburg. As seen by Coach Charles Meurer, MHS had 2 sophomores and the others were freshmen. The other side had 2 juniors and the others were sophomores. And squad sizes were 26 and 12.

Considering the odds, the coach has no apologies for a 33-0 loss. Rather he's proud, praising the youngsters for a fine effort. Actually, they held their own very well on both offense and defense. They moved the ball consistently, just failed to finish a drive. On the other hand they were steady at defense but allowed their foes to get loose on five big plays. Two of those were on interceptions and one on a kick return.

Everything considered the coaches were pleased with the JV.

TIA wiener roast

There will be a TIA wiener roast on Monday, September 12 at the home of John Walterscheid. It is planned as a welcome for all new members of TIA.

All high school students, especially freshmen, are invited to participate in the fun. The party starts at 7 p.m. Members will meet at the Dairy Inn to ride together to the Walterscheid home. All who attend are asked to bring an item to be served, for instance, a bag of chips, a package of wieners, or some other snack food.

MHS volley ball teams split 2 matches

Muenster High's volley ball girls were winners and losers in their trip to Paradise Tuesday. Junior varsity won two of their three games and the varsity lost in two straight.

They are in UIL competition with Midway and Windthorst, the district title. The varsity now has a record of a win over Midway and losses to Callisburg and Paradise.

to be determined in a tournament on October 27. Members of the team are Debbie Bindel, Jill Wimmer, Carmen Sicking, Kim Eldred, Amy Reiter, JoEll Hellman, Rita Walterscheid and Deann Walterscheid.

Lindsay nudges S&S 14-13 in thrill finish

Lindsay High Knights started their new football season with a story book performance, snatching a 14-13 win from Sadler-Southmayd with only 14 seconds left on the clock.

The win came on a 2-point conversion following a one yard plunge by John Dieter climaxing a determined 77 yard drive by Lindsay in the final minutes. That TD left Lindsay still at the short end of a 13-12 count, so Coach Grady Roller called for a 2-point try rather than the usual 1 point PAT kick. It worked perfectly on a pass from Steve Corcoran to Leroy Hermes.

The teams started their contest with a scoreless standoff in the first period. After that the visitors broke the ice with a drive of some 60 yards starting with recovery of Lindsay's fumble. The payoff was a 33 yard run by Wesley Hutson and a bonus point was kicked by Robby Wilson.

Still in the same quarter, the Knights responded with a scoring drive of their own. They gained some 70 yards on the trip and ended it with John Dieter's 23 yard sprint to the end zone. A kick for extra point failed leaving Lindsay with a 7-6 deficit.

S&S used a few Lindsay infractions, including a pass interference, to put together a 67 yard drive ending in Darrell Mitchell's two yard plunge.

S&S missed the PAT kick, leaving their lead at 13-6.

During the last period Lindsay tried frantically to take up the slack and mounted one long drive which stalled near the 20. The effort to salvage a 3-point place kick was unsuccessful.

Finally, with about 5 minutes to go, Lindsay got its final drive in motion. Big gainers were passes from Steve Corcoran to Ken Fuhrmann for 9 and 10 and Fuhrmann's sprint of 38 yards. And finally, with the ball at the 3 John Dieter crashed the line three times to reach pay dirt.

Trailing by a point, Lindsay could tie with a kick or win by going over with a run or pass. They chose to go for broke and came out at the happy end of 14-13.

Hutson of the visitors was the game's leading rusher with 74 yards and Dieter was a close second with 71. In other areas Lindsay claimed the honors, leading in total yardage, first downs and pass completions.

Callisburg next
The game this week likewise has possibilities of a real dandy. The Knights will be at Callisburg to take on the fellows who started by mauling Muenster 42-0. The Wildcats, classed as AA, are almost identically the same as last year plus a year's gain in experience and size and a speedy backfield to boot.

PIK means income... and taxes!

Let Edward D. Jones & Co. show you the right tax-free investments to protect your PIK dollars.

This year, the federal government has taken some of the guesswork out of farming with its Payment-in-Kind program. They've guaranteed a certain amount of commodity you'll have available to sell. Sounds good, doesn't it?

But here's something else they've guaranteed - you'll still have to pay taxes on that PIK income.

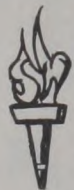

So, this year, while your production costs are down and while you've got some guaranteed income, let Edward D. Jones & Co. show you how to keep those PIK dollars in your pocket with careful, conservative, tax-free and tax-advantaged investments.

Tigers edged 20-15 by Nocona Indians

The Tigers of Sacred Heart started their grid season at Nocona with a great performance that barely fell short of overcoming a 20-0 half-time deficit. Their final count was 20-15, the happy ending finally being denied them by the Indians' tough goal line stand less than a minute before the end.

Coach Virgil Henscheid was proud in spite of the loss, saying the boys showed admirable character in fighting their way back after trailing by three TDs, and the achievement was especially pleasing considering Nocona's AA classification. The principal problem, he said, was mental mistakes.

Following a near even first period during which the Tigers made three first downs and the Indians two, Nocona got its game together as the second period opened and had almost everything their way until the half.

They started with a 69 yard drive in 15 plays for five first downs, the leading gains being runs by Keck for 12 and 15 yards. The latter sprint was good for the score which remained at 6-0 after a PAT kick failed.

The next TD was not long in coming. Sacred Heart fell short by a yard on a fourth down gamble and the Indians took over with 45 to go. Three plays later Keck got loose again and scooted 38 yards to pay dirt. Another PAT attempt went astray leaving the score at 12-0.

The third score was another quickie. Sacred Heart had to kick on first series and Nocona was 80 yards away. On the next play Weathered passed to McChesney who went all the way. After failing twice on PAT kicks, the Indians tried a 2-pointer for bonus. Keck ran with it.

The Tiger comeback stated with the second half kickoff. It was fumbled by the Nocona receiver and Mark Hesse pounced on it giving Sacred Heart a great field position on the 18. Ron Dangelmayr gained to the 12 and a penalty gave free yardage to the 6. From there Hesse stepped off 3 and another 3 to pay dirt and went over again for two bonus points.

Nocona replied with a 65 yard drive in seven plays and a pass interference penalty. It reached the 1 and ended in a big break for SH as a fumble tumbled into the end zone and was recovered by Kevin Switzer.

Shortly after that fortune smiled on the Tigers again when Duane Haverkamp recovered an Indian fumble on the 25. Seven plays later Dangelmayr went over from the 4. Two other key gains along the way were Neil Hesse's passes to Jim Bartush for 11 and 7. Bartush kicked the PAT upping the score to 20-15.

The Tigers final opportunity to pull their game out of the fire came in the closing minutes, starting from the Indian 30. A roughing penalty gave them free yardage to the 14 and four more plays advanced to a first down on the 2. However the next four tries went backward instead of forward, and they lost possession at the 8 with 55 seconds remaining on the clock.

Neil Hesse was the Tigers leading ball totter with 102 yards on 13 carries. Keck was the game's leading gainer with 145 on 25 carries. SH defensive standouts were Kevin Switzer, Bret Walterscheid, Tim Bartel and Troy Yosten.

Tigers expect Eagles to be tough

Sacred Heart Tigers and their coaches, Virgil Henscheid and Julian Walterscheid, are cautiously optimistic as they prepare to take on Valley View's Eagles Friday night on Tiger field at 8 p.m.

Both teams are looking for their first win. Eagles lost their opener 29-20 to Paradise and the Tigers 20-15 to Nocona.

Henscheid has lots of respect for the visitors, saying they have size and speed and gave Paradise a good contest.

At the same time he has confidence in his boys, who played a great second half to make up for a 20 point half time deficit. They were not mentally ready in the first half, he said, but hopefully are overcoming the problem this week.

He also pointed out that the strong come-back almost paid off with a win as the Tigers got close in the final minutes but failed to overcome the tough Indian goal line defense. On the other hand he recalls that Nocona likewise failed to increase its score. What looked like a sure TD in the third quarter failed when the ball was fumbled over the goal line and recovered by Sacred Heart.

Following 4-H...

On Sept. 6 at 7 p.m. the officers of the Muenster Community 4-H met to discuss the plans for the new year. The first meeting will be held Tuesday, Sept. 13 in the Public School Cafeteria at 3:30 p.m. The meeting will be to discuss the Family Fun Night and to learn about using CPR.

Adler makes word processing as low-cost and easy as typing.

Introducing the ADLER TEXTRITER

If you thought you couldn't afford word processing, think again. Adler's new Textriter gives it to you at less than half what you'd expect to pay.

Simply plug the new Textriter into any Adler electronic typewriter, touch a key, and you're on your way to increasing typing productivity with word processing.

Your secretary will learn how to produce error-free letters and documents quickly and easily. Since the typist can preview errors on the 12-inch display before they're printed, you'll never see them at all. And it's as easy to revise and edit on the display as it is to proofread a typewritten page. In seconds, you can insert, delete and move words, phrases and whole paragraphs which can then be printed out automatically on the typewriter.

Since the Textriter stores documents, frequently used phrases, form outlines and address lists in its memory, changes can be made without retyping the complete document. It's a great time-saver. There's also virtually unlimited storage with optional floppy disks, each of which stores up to 80 pages of text.

Add easy-to-use word processing to any Adler electronic typewriter. Textriter is the remarkably economical way to do it.

Statistics that shape Agriculture, from the Texas Dept. of Agriculture

"It is a bitter fact of economic life that American farmers are being hurt by their own productivity," says Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower. "Current government policies have forced commodity prices down, so farmers have no choice but to produce even more to make up for the lower prices. But the extra production forces prices even lower. As a result, net farm income has fallen every time total production has risen, punishing our farmers for their productivity. That's why it is essential to build effective production controls into American farm policy."

Farm & Ranch

Craig Rosenbaum

County Agent's Report

Legumes are unique in the fact that they have the ability to fix nitrogen and add a limited amount of nitrogen to the soil. This is a plus factor for legumes in times when nitrogen fertilizer costs are high. Legumes get their nitrogen from the air. When we say 'their nitrogen' we are referring to nitrogen needs of legumes. Legumes, like grasses, require nitrogen for growth. Producers must take advantage of the nitrogen fixation to have an effective and productive legume program.

Legumes have a specific strain of rhizobia bacteria required for nitrogen fixation. For example, the rhizobia that fixes nodules on roots of madrid sweet-clover will not work on Yuchi arrowleaf clover. And to make things even more complicated, not all nodules on the roots will fix nitrogen if the wrong bacteria is used. So selection of the correct rhizobia becomes very important. Care of bacteria is a must. If the inoculant has been stored for several weeks at 80 degrees to 100 degrees F, it will contain mostly dead bacteria that will not work. Keep the inoculant in a refrigerator until it is to be used. Use only enough to be inoculated on seed for several hours of planting. One of the worst storage sites for inoculant is on the dash of a pickup.

We mentioned using the correct inoculant — so what happens if we don't?

The first thing is there will be no or very little nitrogen fixation. Or second and most severe the plant will die after soil nitrogen is used. You should also inoculate seed that will be planted in existing stands of legumes because the rhizobia in the soil take up valuable space on the roots that are needed for your newly seeded legumes.

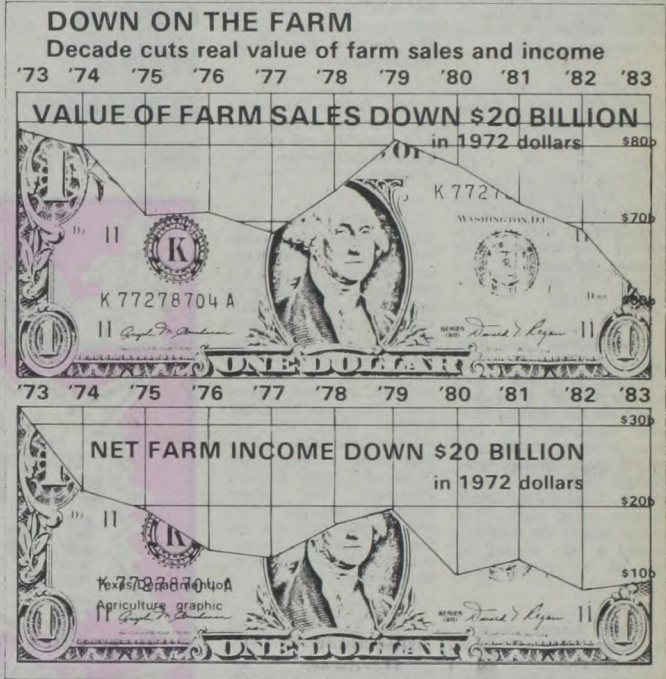

Several additives are needed for proper in-noculation. Many producers have their own favorite from milk to Coca Cola, to Seven-Up or a whole variety of others. A simple one is water, lime, and a 5 to 10 percent solution of sticking agents on the market too. Add the inoculum to the sticking agent and mix your seed in this solution. Use just enough water to make a paste. After the seeds are coated, then add the lime. Lime coats the seed and absorbs all the excess moisture. The lime also keeps the seed from sticking together.

With proper inoculation we stand a greater chance of having a productive legume program to increase pounds of beef or milk per acre and offset additional nitrogen costs. Nitrogen costs are reduced but we still need phosphorus and potassium for good legume production.

Statistics that shape Agriculture, from the Texas Dept. of Agriculture

"Even though the past few years have been the most productive in U.S. farm history, the real value of U.S. farm sales has declined 25 percent since 1973," says Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower. "It is clear that the falling value of farm sales is directly responsible for the crisis in net farm income, and that nothing is going to improve farm income except a fair price for farm products."

'Cole' crop planting time

It's anything but cold in Texas during September, but that's the time to plant and transplant "cole" crops.

"Cole" refers to any of various plants belonging to the Cruciferae or mustard family, including such cool-season crops as brussels sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, collards, chard, kale, kohlrabi, mustard, broccoli, turnips and watercress.

Cole crops have a common ancestry of wild cabbage originating in the Mediterranean and Asia Minor area, and this close kinship enables wide usage of plant parts, says Dr. Sam Cotner, horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

For instance, brussels sprout plants are grown by most gardeners for miniature heads (sprouts) which develop in the axils of leaves. However, some consider brussels sprout leaves to be milder and sweeter than those of collards, which are especially grown for their leaves. Most gardeners are familiar with the fact that turnips can be grown for greens (leaves) or for roots. In other words, when growing a member of the Cruciferae family, the saying "what you see is what you get (to eat)" truly applies.

This group of cole crops enjoys cool seasons and is somewhat cold tolerant, says Cotner. Cabbage, for instance, can withstand cold down to 20 degrees or even 15 degrees F. Broccoli, collards, kale, kohlrabi or mustard can also withstand fairly low temperatures while cauliflower and chard are more sensitive to cold.

The conditioning of plants as influenced by weather conditions prior to exposure to cold temperatures determines plant survival, he says. Plant maturity also has much to do with the amount of cold which cole crops can survive. When broccoli plants have produced buds, even a light frost may cause considerable damage since clusters freeze, turn brown and ultimately rot.

Cole crops grow best at a monthly mean temperature of 60 to 70 degrees F.

Fall is the best time to plant cole crops since they thrive in cold temperatures. Planting now can assure some fresh cole crops for Thanksgiving dinner.

TDA to cancel herbicide

The Texas Department of Agriculture intends to cancel the registration of a herbicide suspected of causing the death of a farmworker near Bryan, Texas. The herbicide, known as Dinitro-3 and other similar herbicides are suspected of causing a number of serious illnesses in several states, including California, Michigan and Wisconsin as well as Texas.

TDA began investigating Dinitro-3 after Sacaris Ruiz died August 5 in a Bryan hospital after applying the herbicide to a cotton field earlier in the day. An autopsy determined that Ruiz died from acute poisoning, and the Texas Tech laboratory in San Benito is performing further tests to learn whether Dinitro-3 did in fact cause the death.

"Our investigation has revealed that deficient labeling renders this product very dangerous to human beings, especially to farmers and other agricultural workers who use it," said Texas Agriculture Commissioner Jim Hightower. "We're taking immediate action because this stuff is dangerous. The label is not clear about the serious results of failing to wear protective clothing, nor is it clear about medical treatment for those who have come into contact with the chemical. We need to do something before anyone else is hurt or killed."

Hightower said the action chemical from general use to limited or restricted use. "A general-use registration does not convey to the user just how dangerous Dinitro-3 apparently is," Hightower said. The users need to know that this product is dangerous and must be used with great care."

You may be looking for ways to cut costs. Who isn't? But one thing all agronomists tell us is: "Don't cut back in areas that cause yields to decrease!"

They are talking about fertilizer. They encourage the wheat farmer to select varieties and apply fertilizer for optimum yields — that's your most profitable yield.

Base your fertilizer applications on soil test results and yield goals. Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you.
