Mrs. John Herr was appointed secretary for the group and the meeting closed with prayer. Nine members were present.

HITLER BEWARE! FRIENDS OF STALIN GET LIQUIDATED

Some months ago the Soviet Ambassador in London, Ivan Maisky, said: "We are not sentimentalists like you. We are thinking only of Russia, not of humanity."

The barbaric truth of this statement was shockingly realized by the recent mating of Red Russia and Brown Germany. The marriage, of course, was one of convenience; but it was Josef Stalin, not Hitler, who was the seducer. For years Stalin had cast flirtatious eyes at Hitler,

Texas State Health Officer

AUSTIN. — Children brought up according to the three "R's" of mouth health have a very good chance to escape the discomforts and accompanying ill-health that comes from dental disorders, according to the Texas State Department of Health.

This season of the year, when the children are getting adjusted to school routine, is a particularly appropriate time to give special thought to the physical as well as mental aspects of a child's development. The child who is physically fit makes much better progress in school, than does the boy or girl who is below par. Parents can help to keep their children fit by carefully following the rules of mouth health in bringing up their children.

The three "R's" of course, are not "Reading, Riting, and Rithmetic," but are "Right" foods, "Real" cleansing, and "Regular" office visits, which are as important to mouth health as the old three "R's" are to mental development.

The teeth and other mouth tissues depend for their original structural strength and their continued resistance to ill-health on the quality and quantity of building materials made available in the food one eats. The first set (baby or foundation) of teeth obtain their materials from the mother before the child's birth. The permanent set may depend on the diet of both the mother and the child itself. Consequently, the diets of both should be rich in calcium, phosphorus, and in those vitamins that seem to affect mouth tissues, with special emphasis on vitamin "D" which is found principally in sunshine, cod-liver oil, and fish. That is, there must be the "right" food in the diet for strong, decay-resisting teeth.

"Real" cleansing means twice-a-day thorough brushing of the teeth with effort to reach every tooth surface, and finally, the equally thorough flushing of the mouth with some mild antiseptic liquid or saline solution. The germs that play the part of tooth and gum destroyers in diseases known as dental decay and pyorrhea are more active in unclean mouths. Real cleansing will help to prevent their activity.

But it is unwise to place complete dependence for dental health on the first two "R's." So "Regular" dental office visits should be made if only to assure one's self that the mouth is healthy. These visits permit your family dentist to discover defects when they are small and to correct them before much damage is done. Naturally these corrections are much more easily made than those which have gone unattended.

Children of two and a half years of age are not too young to start dental office visits. From then on "Regular" visits, combined with the other two "R's" will be good insurance of continued dental health.

TEXAS LEADING IN TURKEY PRODUCTION, TRAILING IN QUALITY

COLLEGE STATION. — For the past 30 years Texas has led the nation in total production of turkeys.

At the same time, in 1938 Texas' 3,285,000 turkeys returned $6,866,000 or $2.09 each, while California's sales of 2,625,000 brought $8,348,000 or an average of $3.19. The average 1938 United States price was $2.75 per bird.

On the basis of these figures, recently released by the American Institute of Poultry Industries, A. H. Demke, executive secretary of the Texas Poultry Federation, has estimated that Texas turkeys are penalized from 4 to 6 cents a pound on eastern markets. The aggregate penalty amounts to between two and three and a half million dollars a year.

Texas turkey growers began an improvement campaign in 1930 that is gradually bringing results. Prior to that time little attention was given to feeding and breeding programs.

Turkey demonstrators are following the recommendations of Geo. P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, and are selecting their breeding flocks now.

The most fully developed birds, and those that show the most desirable type, are being separated from the market birds and fed a developing feed rather than a fattening ration.

County agricultural and home demonstration agents have been trained in the selection of breeding flocks and their services are available to turkey growers.

WATCH STALIN—NOT HITLER

Not so many days ago our newspapers carried a statement by Martin Dies charging a most unwholesome interference by Federal officials to the investigations of the Committee on un-American Activities.

In view of the latter circumstance, there is cause for alarm over the American public's disinherited attitude concerning communistic activity over here.

Developments of the past few weeks have proved that Stalin, not Hitler, is the big shot of Europe. He is the real threat to civilization.

Briefly, what has happened during the past few weeks? After Hitler and Stalin signed a non-aggression pact, Germany carried out its rapid conquest of Poland and Russia just marched in to claim its share of the spoils.

And Russia continues that same policy today. While Germany is wearing itself down at the Western Front, Russia strengthens itself by one concession after another.

Communism is proving itself to be the vulture of civilization. It swoops down for its feast after another adversary has slaughtered the victim.

The same system is under way in America. Reds are playing employer against employe and fattening off the victims of the trouble.

These ideas are not pipe dreams. They are openly flaunted by the big shots of Moscow. They have been repeatedly exposed by investigations over here.

After all Stalin is the big threat to civilization, not Hitler. And he needs watching right here in our land of the free.

ARMISTICE

Saturday is Armistice Day. For twenty

Confetti

By CON FETTE

If advance interest has any bearing on the success of an event, Muenster's jubilee celebration is destined to be the crowning glory of a half century of progress.

years it has been regarded as an American holiday. Despite rumblings of discontent in the rest of the world, people of this nation have continued to accept the word at its face value and to assume that the dove of peace born on Nov. 11, 1918 still lived on.

But what of Armistice day this year? It will be observed as usual in many places, but it has certainly lost much of its meaning. Most of the nations affected by the armistice of 1918 have now returned to the grim horror of war, all the others are apprehensive over the prospect of being drawn in. Even our own nation, so fortunately separated from European quarreling by an intervening ocean, is in grave danger.

As if the miserable condition of certain nations were not sufficiently depressing, communistic influences in Eastern States are now reported as fostering a movement to ignore the day on the pretext that business suffers from two holidays in the same month.

Nevertheless, Americans will do well to ponder on the significance of Armistice, whether or not it is officially observed. They can picture in their own minds the hate and misery and death, all so tragically futile, that preceded Nov. 11, 1918.

As far as America is concerned, the armistice is still in effect. May it remain through the disturbing conflict now in progress and for all times to come.

What Others Say

DON'T MAKE EMERGENCY PERMANENT

Dangerous precedents can be established in the name of emergency, when steps may be taken which can never be retraced.

Here in our country we are not at war—but a "limited emergency" has been declared. Plans are being made for extending the powers of government in many directions, for the purpose of avowedly protecting our interests.

No fiat power should ever be placed in the hands of a permanent government bureau or department. If emergency laws must be enacted, they should be administered by purely emergency bureaus, which will automatically dissolve when the emergency is over.

As General Johnson observed recently in a radio address, to give sweeping new powers to the permanent bureaus of government would amount to giving away liberty—and for keeps.

Don't forget that not all the enemies of democracy are abroad—there are plenty of them within our own gates. When it is asked that Congress give the government a tighter check rain on liberty, the lawmakers should make haste exceedingly slowly.

"HELLO, SUCKER"

Losing money is one of the easiest occupations in the world, according to the tenor of two narratives being unfolded currently in New York State.

At Albany, Judge George W. Martin of Kings County Court, facing removal on charges before the State Senate of lending his name to numerous speculative ventures in which investors lost money, made his defense on the ground that he had always had a weakness for ambitious, imaginative projects and had lost $100,000 of his own money that way before he became a Judge.

Without pre-judging these or any other such cases, it is timely to observe that even the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission and the blue-sky laws of various states cannot make investment foolproof or protect the investor against his own recklessness, but that there still is merit in the slogan of the Better Business Bureau: "Before you invest—investigate."

There is no freedom on earth or in any star for those who deny freedom to others.—Elbert Hubbard.

Domestic hint: A lady in Cleveland has the best system yet for careless boys who don't keep their shirt tails tucked inside their trousers. She puts lace and embroidery on the shirt tail. A boy will see to it that the fancy work remains out of sight.

Rain was responsible for a very poor attendance at the closing of the New York World's Fair last week, but it was not responsible for the gigantic event's financial washout. A very good explanation of that angle is brought to light in the current issue of Reader's Digest under the title Labor and the World of Tomorrow.

The fair is a horrible example of the oppressive demands made by labor in some of our industrial centers. The method can best be described as racketeering.

It was not sufficient for labor organizations to get all the regular construction jobs to the exclusion of non-union help. They brought pressure to bear on almost every exhibitor who had any part whatever in the big show. A state, or nation, or industrial concern would rent space for a display and send in men to set it up, but would find their progress blocked by the labor racketeer's demand for a job.

Many was the time that extra help had to be hired for an outrageous price even though it did nothing toward installation. There were intricate scientific jobs that the exhibitors would entrust to none but their picked men still there were "laborers," not competent to do the work, drawing several dollars an hour just sitting around while others finished the job.

One foreign exhibit had its own orchestra to play its typical native music. At the insistence of a musicians' union that orchestra had to add an equal number of American players, who, not being familiar with the music, did more harm than good.

Those same labor troubles are still being imposed upon Eastern industry. Every few days some organization breaks out with new demands —and usually gets its way. Vote seeking politicians, some of them with pinkish tendencies, have made it possible for organized labor to get by with anything short of murder.

Highest Cash Prices Paid for Old Gold Jewelry—White or Yellow. A. R. Porter 104 N. Commerce Gainesville

AVOID EYE STRAIN! DR. H. O. KINNE OPTOMETRIST Gainesville, Texas

And still, what is the condition of the American working man? With his exorbitant wage he is not as well off as ten years ago. Much of his trouble is caused by such things as frequent layoffs due to strikes (which are usually called by swivel-chair labor leaders), high union membership fees, etc.

Just thinkings of such conditions makes us small town people rejoice at our good fortune. We have no labor unions, we have no strikes. We have no swivel chair bosses who say "you get so much or loaf."

Yes, it is easy to diagnose the labor situation. Just start from a spirit of fair play and one promptly finds the trouble. Here an employer tries to run a sweat shop, he isn't fair. The next place labor makes demands that industry cannot meet.

An elementary student of economics can see the trouble, but applying the cure is different. Just like some people cannot undergo an operation until they have a physical build-up, others cannot take this economic cure until they have a spiritual build-up. First they have to get rid of a few moral diseases such as greed and dishonesty.

The trouble now is that the nation is not in condition to take the cure, and, apparently, doesn't seem interested in improving its condition. Just what is the American educational system doing to create a substantial moral background in its citizenship?

YOUR ELECTRIC SERVICE IS ONE NECESSITY THAT HASN'T GONE UP!

When economic upsets cause prices to rise, customers of the Texas Power & Light Company never worry about one item in their budget of living expenses. Through years of experience they have learned that their electric service is one necessity that doesn't go up.

Those who were favored with any type of electric service were paying high rates, some as high as 20 cents per kwh. In 1913 the Company completed and put into service the first transmission line ever built in Texas.

During the years since the T. P. & L. was organized in 1912, this Company has built a reputation for frequent and substantial reductions in its charges for electric service.

Operating economies, and increased volume made possible by our transmission lines, lower the cost of manufacturing and delivering electric service and these savings, when effected, have been passed on to our customers through numerous voluntary rate reductions.

WM. FLUSCHE LOSES BARN, LIVESTOCK IN EARLY MORNING FIRE

Lindsay.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed William Flusche's barn and all its contents early Tuesday morning.

Mr. Flusche's winter supply of hay and grain was lost, his farm machinery burned beyond further use, and several calves and hogs lost their lives.

The fire occurred before the Flusche's rising hour and was seen from town by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Loerwald who were the first persons to arrive at the scene. By that time the blaze was too far advanced to permit saving anything.

The loss, estimated at several thousand dollars, was partly covered by insurance.

Everybody wept at the FMA Store Sunday morning. And for the first time in the history of the place clerks asked patrons to leave rather than invite them in.

A tear gas bomb was responsible. During the usual after-mass shopping period one of the patrons swung the vault door shut—a little too forcibly. The small tube containing tear gas, a precaution against tampering by burglars, broke and its fumes spread over the store.

The gas lingered for more than an hour after doors and windows were thrown open.

LINN H. D. CLUB HAS ACHIEVEMENT DAY PROGRAM

A very interesting meeting of the Linn Home Demonstration Club was that of last Friday, October 3, when the ladies held their Achievement Day program.

Club members gathered at the home of Mrs. Bernard Sicking, kitchen demonstrator, where a brief business session began activities. Mrs. Sicking gave a report on kitchen improvement she had done during the year and other members related about improvements they had made to their homes.

The group then went to the home of Mrs. Jack Biffle, their food demonstrator, and viewed her supply of canned foods. Mrs. Biffle had arranged a number of interesting displays that the women enjoyed seeing. Among them was one showing helpful kitchen aids, another on protective foods, displaying foods necessary for health, and one entitled "Beware of too many," showing such foods as meats, sweets, etc.

Miss Nettie Shultz, county agent, then addressed the group, speaking on the value of growing more beef, better gardens and improved orchards. She also spoke on the proper storage of foods.

Mrs. Bob Steadham was appointed food demonstrator and Mrs. Jack Biffle, kitchen demonstrator, for the coming year.

At the close of business Mrs. Biffle served iced drinks and small cakes to the following: Mesdames Ben Sicking, Selby Fielder, Durrell McCool, Sam McCool, Adolph Walterscheid, Bob Steadham, Bernard Sicking, Misses Rose Sicking, Willie Sowder and Nettie Shultz, Mrs. Hugh Morgan of Mount Pleasant, Mrs. Oscar Sparkman and Mrs. Frank Wylie of Era.

The club's next meeting will be on November 14, at the home of Mrs. Selby Fielder.
