NO STATEMENT FROM TALLEY ON BANK SPLIT

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—(P)—Lynn P. Talley, governor of the Dallas Federal Reserve Bank, declined to comment today on resolutions adopted at Lubbock yesterday at a meeting of 27 Texas bankers demanding his removal on alleged grounds that stringent policies of the bank caused huge losses to cotton growers in the eleventh reserve district.

"I have not prepared a statement and do not intend to," Mr. Talley said. He refused to comment further.

R. R. Gilbert, deputy governor of the bank, could not be reached for a statement. The bankers also asked for his removal.

Colonel C. C. Walsh, Federal Reserve agent and chairman of the bank's board of directors, said he had no statement to make.

The bankers meeting at Lubbock asserted that a large part of the cotton planters would have been carried over by their bankers for eight months and would have been unable to sell their product for twenty cents a pound had reserve bank members been given the co-operation they should have had last year. The Dallas bank retired its loans to members, causing planters to liquidate to pay their local bankers, and as result were forced to sell cotton for six cents, it was charged.

COTTON LETTER

Some one has remarked very recently, referring to the situation as regards the price of cotton, that "everything is bullish except the market." And it has seemed even more so for in-crease of bullish news and statistics, which would ordinarily influence the market toward higher levels, the cotton market has continued to show a downward tendency during most of the last September and October days. On September the United States Government issued a surprisingly bullish crop forecast indicating a crop of only 12,692,000 bales while nearly everyone was looking for a considerably larger forecast. As a result of that forecast, the market jumped, the limit of 200 points of ten dollars a bale, immediately following the report.

Then it began to decline and continued to decline until it was around 300 points down from the high figures, when the Government issued its September 22nd ginning report. This report, also bullish, caused the market to advance around 100 points quickly, but again it began to decline and continued to decline with periodic reactions until on October 8th the Government issued its latest ginning report and crop forecast.

On October 8th, despite the fact that the crop nearly always shows an improvement during the September period, the Government reduced its Sept. 8th forecast and indicated a total production of 12,678,000. As a result of this report the market showed a net gain on October 8th. Then again it began to sag and has shown a sagging tendency since that time, with some slight upward reactions up until Thursday, (today) when the market displayed a firmer undertone and recorded a net gain for the day of around 40 points or $2.00 per bale.

Reports from all over the belt are to the effect that a great percent of the crop is already gathered. Gins are idle in many places where they are ordinarily running at top speed at this time of year, and there is no doubt that the crop is coming like 5,000,000 bales less than last year. And while exports necessarily are running behind last season, still consumption is good and there are many in the cotton trade who feel confident that the market has turned or is near the turning point and that higher prices will be seen in the very near future.

In our next letter we will give a more detailed account of crop conditions, etc. Middling cotton in Brownwood Thursday was quoted at 20.50.

Deported

FELIX P. PALAVICINI, founder and former publisher of the Mexico City newspaper El Universal, who with another newspaper man was deported Wednesday, after being jailed by the Calles government on a charge of lending editorial advice and support to the revolutionary anti-second-electionists.

OBREGON WILL BE ELECTED, EDITOR SAYS

NOGALES, Ariz., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The editor of the Mexican Herald, says that General Hector Almadá, alleged instigator of the recent Mexican revolution and aide to Arnulfo Gomez, fugitive presidential candidate, has been captured by government troops in the state of Vera Cruz.

LAREDO, Oct. 13.—(P)—General Alvaro Obregon will be the next president of Mexico, and upon his election the country will be thrown into a state of chaos, in the opinion of Felix P. Palavicini, founder and former publisher of El Universal of Mexico City, and who was deported here last night.

"The people of Mexico are opposed to Obregon, but President Elias Calles will impose Obregon on them even against their will," Mr. Palavicini said in a signed statement. "Although Obregon will be re-elected and the revolution will fail, the civilian element of Mexico will continue to struggle to bring about a government of tolerance, capable of giving Mexico peace."

"General Arnulfo Gomez is doomed to fail in his revolutionary movement, for the Mexican government is too strong," the statement continued.

Mr. Palavicini denied that he was deported because of his connection with the attempted revolution. He was forced to leave the country because of his anti-election views, the noted publisher said.

Gomez Has But Few Followers

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13.—(P)—General Arnulfo Gomez, rebel leader sought by the government in Vera Cruz state, is accompanied only by mountaineers, according to officers heading the 600 surrendered soldiers of General Hector Almadá's column who have arrived at Jalapa, capital of the state.

No soldiers remained with Gomez after the defeat of his followers by federal forces in Western Vera Cruz on Sunday, they declared. The officers are Captain Julian Castrajón, and Lieutenants Jose Prado, Angel Ibanez, Oscar Aguilar and Refugio Aizama.

Ordered to Leave
They claim they were ordered to leave the Mexico City garrison by General Almadá, who told them General Roberto Cejudo had revolted in Vera Cruz state and should be fought. Almadá's deceit was not revealed, they asserted, until airplanes flying over the mountain region near Perote where they were intruded dropped printed sheets reminding the soldiers of their duty. Thereupon they decided to surrender.

The rebel forces at that time were composed of soldiers and Vera Cruz mountaineers who had been in the field sometime under various chieftains.

OIL REFINERY TAKEN OVER BY NEW CONCERN

Brownwood is to have an oil refinery in operation in the next thirty days.

E. T. Green and John S. Owens, Brownwood oil operators, in association with the Kent-Middleton Refining Company of Corsicana, the strongest independent refinery interests in Texas, have taken over the Patterson refinery, 1901-4 Fisk Avenue, which has been shut down for the last two or three years, and have begun work toward thoroughly reconditioning and modernizing the plant and putting it in operation again. The preparations will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

An order was placed yesterday for 80,000 feet of pipe, approximately 15 miles, to be used in laying a line to Byler and Fry field connections. Making the survey for the line was today morning by J. F. (Ah) Schlueter. The pipe is expected to arrive in about ten days and work of laying the line will begin immediately.

Work is also beginning on rebuilding and reconditioning the plant, erecting towers and making the necessary repairs, changes and additions to put it in first class shape. When the over-hauling is completed it will be entirely modern in every respect, and will be equipped to turn out the highest grade of gasoline. The plant has a capacity of 750 to 1,000 barrels a day.

Mr. Owens, who is president of the Owens Oil Company, which has production in this county, has for the last two years devoted himself principally to the production end of the oil business, but for many years before that was in the refinery business, being a very successful operator, and is thoroughly familiar with every phase of refinery operation.

Mr. Green is also a very thorough oil man and is one of the pioneers in the present development of Brown County. His company, the Charter Oil Company, has some good production on the Byler tract, which is high in gasoline content, and which will be part of the product run by the local refinery.

The present owner of the Patterson refinery is E. B. Tatum of Long Island, N. Y., and the negotiations with those taking it over have been carried on through the firm of Harrison & Woodruff, his representatives here.

J. H. Edwards, secretary-treasurer of the Owens Oil Company, left today for Corsicana, the home of the Kent-Middleton company, on business connected with the refinery transactions.

RECALL OF GENERAL PUZZLES DEPARTMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(P)—The indicated return of Major General Summerall, chief of staff of the army from an interrupted tour of inspection on the Pacific coast left the department officials completely puzzled today, both Acting Secretary MacNider and the acting chief of staff asserting that they had no knowledge of any orders recalling him to Washington.

It was said that no message from General Summerall telling of any change in his plans had been received. The only source of possible orders recalling him from his trip other than from the war department would be either Secretary Davis, who is in Columbus, Ohio, today, and was at Dayton yesterday, or the White House.

With President Coolidge in Pittsburgh today, no information regarding Summerall was available at the White House.

The possibility was suggested in dispatches from the Pacific coast that General Summerall had been recalled because of a speech delivered Tuesday in San Diego, in which he is said to have criticized severely government policy in connection with the housing of troops created widespread interest among army officers and officials.

Sixty Miners Are Trapped; Are in No Danger Now

SCRANTON, Pa., Oct. 13.—(P)—Sixty mine workers were reported trapped today in the Peck shaft of the Glendale Coal Company at Jessup, near here, after the breaking of a sheave wheel on a hoisting apparatus.

The men are said to be in no danger, but cannot get out of the underground because there is no other opening.

STUDENT DIES SUDDENLY IN COLLEGE CLASS

Lloyd Weldon Perkins, 19 years old, died suddenly in a Sociology class room at Howard Payne college where he was a student. Physicians who were hurriedly summoned declared death was due to heart failure. Every possible means of restoration was employed, without avail, the physicians declaring that death was instantaneous. The youth fell to the floor as if in a faint and never revived.

A funeral service was held in Howard Payne chapel at 2 p. m. Wednesday, followed by shipment of the body to Dallas for interment. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. R. Hornburg, pastor of Cogin Avenue Baptist church, and the pall bearers were taken from Miss McChristy's Sunday school class of which young Perkins was a member. Howard Payne faculty, students and friends arranged for the funeral and burial and taking care of the expense.

O. C. Reid, vice president of the Howard Payne student body, together with Dr. Hornburg accompanied the body to Dallas.

Young Perkins was born in Delta County and reared in the Buckner Orphan Home and came to Howard Payne to enter the summer term on June 6, last, earning his expenses while here. His older brother, J. T. Perkins, is a sophomore in Howard Payne. He also has two sisters, Lorene and Sammie Perkins, who are in the Buckner home, and one younger brother, Jesse, who is in Hightower, Texas. Three older brothers, Carl, Eunis and Joe, were in the American overseas army during the world war and all three were lost.

The sudden death of young Perkins disrupted all class work in Howard Payne Wednesday, causing a pall of sorrow over the institution, where the student had been popular and active in student affairs.

SWITCHMAN IS KILLED WHEN CAR DERAILED

Charles H. Sholte, 35 years old, was killed Tuesday evening in the Frisco yards at Fort Worth, where he was on a switchman, according to a message received here Tuesday by his wife, who was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Davis, 205 East Chandler. Mrs. Sholte was formerly Miss Alva Davis. She and her parents went to Fort Worth last night. The funeral of Mr. Sholte will be held at his former home in Big Spring, probably this afternoon.

According to the information reaching Brownwood Tuesday night, Mr. Sholte was on a box car in the Fort Worth yards while engaged in switching operations, and the car jumped the track, crashing against another car and crushing the switchman to death. Mr. Sholte returned to his work only a week ago after an illness which had kept him at his home for some time. He was married to Miss Alva Davis two years ago, their wedding anniversary being Friday of this week.

Sholte's accidental death is the third in his family, two of his brothers having been killed, one by the accidental discharge of a gun and another by accidental poisoning.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 12.—(P)—Mrs. Lou Taliferro Carter, 70, wife of Robert Carter, wool, mohair and grain dealer here, died early Wednesday morning in the house in which she had lived thirty-six years. Mrs. Carter came from Elmwood, Virginia, her birthplace, in March, 1888, less than a year after a flood in the South Concho river had destroyed Ben Ficklin, Tom Green county's first seat of government.

TESTIMONY FINISHED IN COLEMAN MURDER TRIAL

COLEMAN, Oct. 13.—(Sp.)—The jury which will decide the fate of C. W. Watson, charged with the slaying of Jack McMath here in September of last year will be given the case Thursday night, it was indicated.

Testimony was ended Thursday morning and Judge J. O. Woodward charged the jury at 1:30 p. m. Attorneys began argument immediately after the charge was read.

Watson again occupied the stand Thursday morning, after testifying Wednesday afternoon.

Watson On Stand
Wednesday afternoon's session was taken up with the testimony of Mrs. McMath and with the testimony of Watson. Mrs. McMath's testimony was along similar lines to that in the first trial of the case, although she added to it by giving the names of those present at a bridge party attended by her a short time before the killing.

This testimony was admitted after objection by state attorneys, which objection was overruled by Judge J. O. Woodward. Mrs. McMath was cross-examined by District Attorney Walter U. Early after her defense testimony was given under the questioning of Senator Walter C. Woodward. She was on the stand about two hours.

Watson took the stand in his own defense at 3 o'clock and was still being questioned when court adjourned at 5 o'clock. He said he shot McMath because he thought his own life was in danger. He said he held this belief because alleged threats had been made against him by McMath. Watson said the pistol he used was carried in a door pocket of the automobile from which he shot McMath.

Previous testimony showed that McMath was in his shirt sleeves and unarmed.

Watson's fate rests with the following twelve men: J. D. Barnett, P. H. Williams, Amos Taylor John G. Simms, Sam McDonald, E. E. Avant, Raymond McElrath, Sam I. Lowe, E. F. Brown, E. W. Gill, Jr., M. M. Williams and J. T. Henderson.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 13.—(P)—Dr. F. F. Blair, former state physician, and Mrs. Blair, were found shot to death early this morning, lying on the floor of their burning residence. Firemen, breaking in to extinguish the fire discovered the bodies.

Dr. Blair was shot through the neck. Mrs. Blair had a wound that apparently pierced her heart. Between them lay a .38 calibre revolver with two empty chambers. In another room was discovered a similar weapon, also with two chambers discharged.

County Coroner Rasmus early today was undecided whether the deaths were due to murder or suicide.

AMBASSADOR AT POST
CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 13.—(P)—Joseph Clark Grew, first American ambassador to Turkey since the days of the world war, presented his credentials to President Mustafa Kemal today.

ATTEMPTED RECONCILIATION ENDS IN SHOOTING, SUICIDE

CHICAGO, Oct. 13.—(P)—An attempted reconciliation of a husband and his estranged wife whom he loved "better than life," ended last night in the suicide of the husband, and the possibly fatal shooting of the wife.

Bert W. Horning, of Terre Haute, Indiana, died early today with a bullet in his brain, and his wife, Ethel, was near death with two bullets in her side. The wife is 26, the husband was 35.

Horning was hidden in the room of a hotel where his wife was staying, and when she entered pleaded with her to return to him. When she refused and attempted to call the police, he shot her, and then turned the gun on himself.

The daily production of the lease was said yesterday to be around 1,400 barrels.

COULDN'T GO TO SEE BIG FIGHT SO MOVIE COMPANIES STAGE WAR

BY DAN THOMAS CEDAR CITY, (NEA)—This city was very much in the news a few weeks ago because of some kind of a war between two movie companies. It seems that Edwin Carewe and Al Rosel arrived here about the same time and both claimed the same location spots about 12,000 feet up in the mountains. The cause of the whole thing might well be laid at the feet of Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney. Everyone in both companies was sore because there was no chance of them getting back to Chicago to donate some forty dollars each to Tex Rickard. So they decided to stage their own private scrap. They even decided to stage their own private scrap. They even pulled the sheriff into it. At least press reports stated that the sheriff had to exercise his official authority to bring about peace between the movie warriors. I couldn't learn of any casualties upon arriving here, however.

Much has been written about how the movie folk make snow pictures in sweltering weather. But up here it is just the opposite. Al Rosel is shooting drouth scenes for "The Shepherd of the Hills." Just as he was in the middle of a scene where everything was supposed to be dying from the heat a few days ago, snow started to fall.

Hollywood directors could learn a lot about "location lunches" up here. I say "up" because we are up in the mountains. The usual meal served on location trips consists of a box lunch. Both Carewe and Rosel are serving their commies hot lunches every day. The meal I just finished at Carewe's "Ramona" camp was better than anything the cinema village has to offer.

There's a red cap porter here who is the chief entertainer for the entire film aggregation. I have never seen a porter one-tenth as industrious. He just about runs the train—which goes from here to the main line—single handed. He handles all of the baggage and the mail, sells tickets, gives the engineer the starting signal, keeps the cases both of them clean, and looks after the comfort of the passengers. Whenever things get dull, all we have to do is to drop down to the railroad station and watch that porter work.

If there ever was a game trouper, Rita Carewe is it. One of the sequences in "Ramona" was shot on a high cliff which could be reached only by a narrow trail. Eddie Carewe had arranged to have Rita and Dolores Del Rio carried up the hillside while the rest of the company rode horses. "I don't want to be carried up there, dad," declared Rita. "Save that hundred dollars and I'll take a chance on a horse."

FUN MUST BE SINCERE IN COMEDIES, AVERS YOUNG CHARLEY CHASE

BY DAN THOMAS HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(NEA)—"Is it burlesque?" seems to be the thought uppermost in the minds of film producers these days, with the trend toward bigger and funnier pictures. Charley Chase is one comedian who doesn't always agree with his boss, Hal Roach, however. And when there's a difference of opinion as to what should be done, Charley usually has his way. The comedian is one of the few comedy stars who insist upon sincerity in their stories and characterizations. Chase will not work in a story with impossible angles and he also taboos freaky make-ups. "My dominating idea in comedy work is to make everything believable," he declares. "I like to think that every man in an audience could imagine himself in my character—and also in the same situations. "As soon as a character is burlesqued or dressed in an impossible manner, the sincerity of the story is lost. For example, if we are using an Indian in a film, I want him to be an Indian. The idea of making him up with a set of impossible whiskers because some persons might consider the make-up funny is all wrong. "Many comedies in my opinion are ruined by this tendency to exaggerate stories and appearances of the characters. I don't mean that there should be no exaggeration; whatever because sometimes situations must be stretched a little. But the burlesque stuff is out as far as my films are concerned. Chase has followed his ideas pretty closely himself and Charley is what Hollywood terms a success. He has just completed a two-reeler based on aviation, it being one of the down flying "quokies" made since Lundberg's sensational achievement.

GAS FLAME SPLITS STEEL FOOT THICK

CHICAGO—The cleanest and best cutting flame in the industrial world has been developed from manufactured gas, Alexander B. Green of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company of Chicago told the American Gas Association. Staging a demonstration of such a flame cutting a steel billet a foot thick, Green declared that the newly developed apparatus makes possible a flame which "literally melts its way through a huge steel structure and splits it into two parts much as a blade would do." The apparatus enables easier cutting of metal and makes a sharper cut, he said.

WOMAN OIL OPERATOR ATTAINS SUCCESS IN REAL ESTATE FIELD

MRS. MABEL ROWAN IN OVERALLS AT ONE OF HER OIL WELLS

WICHITA FALLS, Texas, Oct. 8.—(AP)—One of the few women oil operators in the country, Mrs. Mabel Rowan of Wichita Falls, is also a successful real estate operator. Beginning as a real estate broker in Fort Worth, Texas, several years ago, Mrs. Rowan entered the oil business in the natural course of affairs. Among the properties listed with her for sale was a large block of acreage in Reeves county. That was in the days before that section of Texas became oil producing land. She acquired a large block of the Reeves county land for herself, subdivided and sold it for farming land. About the time she was ready to place the land on the market, the first oil well in that section "came in." As a result oil leases on Mrs. Rowan's land were sought by large oil companies. It was not long before she formed her own company and started drilling wells. She went out in the oil fields, dealt with hard-boiled drilling crews, pipe-liners and others, and directed her work personally. Donning overalls, she climbed derricks and sometimes assisted in pulling casing. Not long ago she made a "location" for an oil well in Texas. The territory was "condemned" by geologists, but Mrs. Rowan's well proved to be a producer. Recently she invested a large part of her money in Fort Worth real estate. One lot for which she paid $20,000 brought her an offer of $100,000 a few weeks later. Despite her achievements, Mrs. Rowan is still unsatisfied. "I am working every day and sometimes nights," she says, "and expect to be doing the same thing for several years before I call myself a success."

SOME MEN ARE BORN LIARS, OTHERS JUST GET THAT WAY

SOME men are born liars, and others get that way. Here is a sample of barber shop gossip that will interest both men and women, since the latter are barber shop customers in these bobbed-hair days. A customer came in and gruffly demanded, "Gimme a real, rough shave." "I wanta know I've been shaved," the barber accommodated him, and he suffered in silence; but the boss barber broke out with this one: "Reminds me of one day when an old boy came in here from Brady, or somewhere, and got into one of the chairs and the barber started shaving him. "Say!" he says, "Ain't you got no razor duller'n that'n?" "Sure," says the barber, and reached for another razor; but the feller, he squawked again for a duller razor, so I reached into the drawer there—the second one from the end—and took out an old corn razor, and handed it to the barber. Well, he began sawing away on that bird's face, and the feller, he just says, "Now, that's what I call shavin'." Shaved With Knife "But he wasn't the worst one I ever saw," the boss barber said, getting warmed up to his work. "A feller came in here one day and said he wanted a shave, and explained that he had been shaving himself until he broke his jaw. I ask him if he used a safety razor, and he said, 'No, I shave with my pocket knife.' And he pulled his old knife out of his pocket, and I hit 'er a few licks on the strip, and you know that old pocket knife just shaved as slick as cream."

This aroused a little competition, for another barber came into the argument with his favorite hair-storm story. He said it hailed up in Erath county one time, the biggest hail stones he ever saw. "The hail was piled up in drifts fifteen or twenty feet deep," he declared, with much enthusiasm. "Some of it stayed there for three months."

The friends and lodge members and acquaintance of Mrs. McMurry and son, met in the I. O. O. F. hall Saturday night and surprised them by giving them a real nice collection of very useful gifts, besides these, were blankets, sheets, pillow cases, towels, tea towels, glass and aluminum ware, apron, dress, purse and other things the writer can not call to mind. Mrs. McMurry in her own sweet way thanked the people for their tokens of love and kindness at this time. They now have an apartment in the A. A. Seale home.

As had been previously announced the Bangs Baptist church held its dedication service Sunday morning. There were eight charter members present. Rev. Sidney Martin preached the sermon to a large and appreciative audience. The pastor of the church read the account of the dedication service of Solomon's Temple from the eighth chapter of 1st Kings. Rev. Martin used three other scriptures and delivered a masterful sermon, giving reasons why people go to church. Some for teaching, some for music, some for fellowship. The last thought was that it was God's house and if there was a God, we should worship Him. Referred to statistics of how many criminals had ever gone to Sunday school. Rev. Martin has greatly endeared himself to the people of Bangs, the few times they have been permitted to hear him. The building is an honor to any village of this size, is now out of debt and the membership is now giving God the glory for the privileges of such a building in which to work for Him.

Mrs. C. B. Guyger and H. O. Dalton visited in Brownwood Tuesday afternoon.

titled "Aladdin and the Parade of the big professional display numbers nearly 1,000 persons, headed by the Chinese beauty "Lola Lee Chong," whose picture is shown above. The procession at the opening of the spectacle, entitled "The Parade of features have been added to the cir-

They Like the Feature

Two editors who use "Texas and Texans" regularly, prompted perhaps by a recent paragraph headed
"Make Them Feel Good," wrote me this week to say that they and their readers like the column and that it is doing much to keep Texas people appreciative of our great State and its wonderful resources, or words to that effect. Two citizens of Austin stopped me on the street and said they were regular readers of the articles and liked them. One said he saw them in the Jasper News-Boy and the other was a reader of the Hereford Brand, widely separated publications. The most encouraging statement made to me in a long while came from a Brazos county citizen who wrote me that he had the newspapers in Texas would run the articles regularly they would do Texas more good than any publicity that could be bought, whatever the price. Words like these make a fellow want to do his level best at whatever he is doing. Editors need such encouragement, too. Help them along.

Temple Making Desks Temple seems determined to become a manufacturing city. For years one of the largest candy and chewing gum factories in the State has been in operation there. Not long ago a Temple Company began building airplanes, the first of the kind in Texas. A building is now being constructed there to house a school desk factory and in a short time it expects to be turning out 10,000 desks annually, with facilities for increasing the output to meet the demand. That is the spirit that has built up a lively city on the prairies of Bell county, with no other advantages noticeable than good railroad shipping facilities. The same kind of enterprise can build a city anywhere. All depends on the people, and Temple has the right kind.

Big Basket Plant
Speaking of factories and people, reminds me that I saw a statement recently that Pittsburg, in Camp county, a place that has never tried especially to extol itself, has a factory that has been manufacturing baskets, crates and hampers for 25 years, and that it is now turning them out at the rate 3,000,000 a year. Most of its product is fruit and berry crates, potato crates and uses no small part of them in its them are sold in Texas. Pittsburg vegetable baskets, and nearly all of sweet potato business, and the Big Grande Valley draws heavily on the output. The plant employs 160 workmen. It is easy to see that Pittsburg is steadily prosperous.

Junction's Attractiveness
Some pictures of the town and surrounding country have made me want to see Junction, the prosperous and beautiful county site of Kimble county. The pictures tell just why so many Texans now go to the Junction country for rest and recreation instead of to Colorado and other far-away places. There are beauties in Texas of which Texans have not yet learned. The pictures also partly account for the prosperous appearance of the Junction Eagle, one of the best small town weekly papers in Texas. Such a country furnishes the inspiration that makes a fellow want to do his best in whatever he is doing.

Uvalde Builds Parks
The small cities in Texas—at least some of them—are taking the right steps to insure the future attractivness as well as the comforts necessary to growing places. Uvalde is among the number that has a park commission with which the citizenship is closely co-operating. The city park is to be improved by a memorial arch in suitable honor of the young men who served in the World War. Another park has been secured in the outskirts of the city, and that is also to be improved.
The city that neglects to provide and care for parks shows that it is not interested in its appearance, and this at once becomes obvious to all visitors.

Zapata's Court Record
If you have been thinking of the border counties of Texas as sections where crime runs rampant, you have "another thought coming." For the second time in 20 years the district court of the county has had a felony case on its docket and such a thing is so unusual that on the institution of the district judge, the public school children attended court in a body as an object in civil government. Can you beat it?

College Spreading Out
The West Texas State Teachers' College at Canyon has acquired 200 acres of land adjoining the present campus to be used for "farm and stock demonstration purposes and otherwise to relieve the congested campus." The constant spreading out of the grounds of Texas schools in keeping with the increase in interest in education throughout the State. When the Canyon school was established there were some pessimists who argued that it would never have any students "way up ponder on the edge of nowher."

TEXAS AND TEXANS

By WILL H. MATES
County Hospitals
Scurry county, of which Snyder is the county site, is to hold an election soon to determine whether the county shall vote an $80,000 bond issue to build a county sanitarium.
Indications as they should be, are that the bonds will be voted by a large majority. Every county owes it to its people to provide adequate hospital facilities at a reasonable charge. In our enthusiasm for providing schools and roads, we are too much inclined to overlook the needs of the sick.

Hill Country Roads
Real county, in the Texas Hill country, has started a movement for better roads. Edwards county, which is adjacent to it, has also started a similar movement.

Milkelo feed is a properly balanced ration, built

Results both as to increased milk production and the proper physical condition of the COW.
Cows fed on Milkelo feeds will maintain their milk production under weather conditions that would decrease production to a great extent in cows that have been fed on ordinary feeds.

That part of Texas is one of the most beautiful sections of the State, but thousands of tourists avoid it every year because the roads are bad and at times almost impassable. However attractive a country may be, automobilists will pass it up for the less desirable spots that have good roads. This is as true of the hilly sections of West Texas as of the sandy lands of East Texas. More than 1,500 acres will be planted to vegetables close around Fairlaurias, the growers having gotten together for co-operative plant- ing and marketing. Those who produce from the soil are gradual learning the advantages of co-op- erative effort.

THAT trim, smartness which

By its emphasis at the shoulders

MORTUARY

MRS. IDA JANE THORNLEY
Mrs. Ida Jane Thornley, 59 wife of Joe B. Thornley of 203 West Chandler, died at the family home Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Thornley was born in Leavenworth, Kansas, April 12, 1868. She was a member of the Methodist Church and of the Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Thornley spent 30 years of her life in doing missionary work among the Indians of Oklahoma and other states in the United States. She began this work when she was only 17 years of age, her first station being at Pohnuska, Oklahoma. Her entire life has been spent in the service of her Master and her passing marks the end of a colorful career and well spent life. The body was sent Wednesday to Caney, Kansas, where funeral services will be held and burial made. She is survived by her husband, one brother, T. A. Gray, of Clayton, New Mexico, and three sisters, Mrs. Ella Rose, of Trinidad, Colorado, Mrs. Allie Redder, of El Reno, Oklahoma and Mrs. Frank Pocock, of Caney, Kansas.

MRS. VERNER L. GRADY
Mrs. Verner L. Grady died this morning at 9:40 in Santa Anna following an illness of several days. The funeral was held at 2:30 p. m. on Thursday afternoon in Santa Anna. Mrs. Grady is a member of one of the oldest and most prominent pioneer families. Several relatives from Brownwood attended the funeral.

MRS. ELLA PATTERSON HARRELL
Mrs. Ella Patterson Harrell, 66, died at the family home, 1903 Avenue E, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock following an illness of nine weeks. A short funeral service was held at the home Monday afternoon at one o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. R. Hornburg. The remains were then taken to Goldthwaite where following funeral services the body was laid to rest under a mound of flowers.

Reverses Ruling
A man caught a few minutes after he has robbed a bank is "caught" in the undertaking" despite the Texas civil appeals court's opposite ruling, the supreme court ruled today. The case was one in which W. C. Henderson and others of Ore City, presumably connected with the Ore City Security State Bank, sued the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company for a $1,000 reward the company had posted for arrest of any person engaged in robbing a bank.

BORDEN D. MCCLISH
Borden McClish, 30, of 1300 Main, died at his home Friday afternoon, following a short illness. McClish was born in Smithwick, Texas, April 20, 1897, and his body was sent there over the Santa Fe Friday night for funeral and burial services Saturday. McClish and his family had been living in Brownwood for several months and he had been employed in the Brown county oil fields as a driller. Funeral services will be held in Smithwick this afternoon at 3:30. Deceased leaves a wife and one child, Borden D. Jr. In addition to his immediate family he is survived by five sisters, Mrs. D. S. Jackson of Smithwick, Mrs. H. E. Mahan of Fort Worth, Mrs. M. A. Finsley of Mansfield, Mrs. L. V. Ferrell of Princeton and Mrs. J. R. Laforge of Breckenridge.

JOHN G. KRYDER
John G. Kryder, 43, died at his family home at 311 Melwood Avenue late Friday afternoon. Kryder is alleged to have taken poison and to have died from effects of same. Relatives attribute his action to despondency. Kryder and his family had been living in Brownwood for the past two years. He has been employed in Brown county oil fields as a tool dresser. Kryder was born September 9, 1884, in Pennsylvania but had been living in Texas several years prior to his death. Funeral services were held at four o'clock Sunday afternoon in the funeral chapel of the Melminis Funeral Home, Rev. W. B. Gray conducting the services. Burial was in Greenleaf.

WILL ALLGOOD
Will Allgood, 56, died in a local hospital Monday night after having been there for treatment the past two weeks. Mr. Allgood lived in the Anderson community about 6 miles northeast of Brownwood. He had been living in Brown county between 30 and 40 years. Mr. Allgood was born in Kentucky, Sept. 22, 1871. Funeral services were held at three o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the Salt Creek Baptist Church, with Revs. W. D. Watkins and Moore in charge. Burial was made in the Salt Creek cemetery. Mr. Allgood is survived by his wife and six children, three sons, Noble, Billie and Earl Allgood, and three daughters, Mrs. Mattie Busby, Misses Leila and Grace Allgood.

Two Are Injured in Auto Crash at Dallas on Sunday

Hodges Schroeder, companion of Jim Mann Bevans when the latter's car crashed into a large passenger bus in Dallas Sunday night, was brought to Brownwood in bandages late Tuesday afternoon and is now in a local hospital until he recuperates from his injuries. He sustained a broken collar bone, in two places, a broken shoulder blade and other minor injuries about the face and body. Bevans was also painfully injured. Schroeder stated Wednesday that the car in which he and Bevans were riding, a high powered roadster, was completely demolished and that the bus into which their car crashed was also wrecked. According to Schroeder's statement of the accident, the bus swerved in front of them at a street intersection and that they plowed right into the heavy machine. He was of the opinion that both were to blame as the Bevans car was speeding.

REHEARING IN HASSELL CASE DENIED TODAY

AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Only small hope of further court action remained today to shield George J. Hassell of Farwell, Texas, alleged slayer of 13 persons from the electric chair to which he was sentenced. The court of criminal appeals today denied Hassell's motion for rehearing of its action in affirming the death sentence. Further clemency for him is regarded as unlikely since he already has obtained reprieves to give the appeals court time to act on the case. Denying the rehearing motion, the court held that the trial was unprejudiced and that Hassell was not proved insane. Hassell got into the courts on murder charges in connection with the killing of his wife and nine step children on a ranch near Farwell, Texas. Their bodies were found partly buried in a dump. In confessing this crime, officers also said he admitted killing a woman in California, with whom he had lived, and her two children. A sixty-five year sentence imposed on Osborn Melton in Taylor county for the slaying of Robert Lamar in September, 1926, will stand in as much as Melton was allowed to withdraw his appeal. The only case reversed, that of Dug Hunter, given a one year and nine months liquor sentence from Hopkins county was remanded when Hunter's contention that the indictment should have been quashed because the grand jury was not assembled properly, was upheld. Paul Tomlin, Eastland county minor, was ordered released from the Gatesville state boys training school when it was held that his commitment was without formal written charge and notice of hearing. Proceedings in the court of criminal appeals today include: Affirmed: A. G. Raines, Potter, Cleveland Dailon, Freestone; ex parte Fay Karrant, Stephens; John Young, Grimes; R. H. Long, Wilbarger. Appeal dismissed: Dan Albidrez, Lubbock; R. L. Mayes, Jefferson.

Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 13. (AP)—The cotton market opened easy today at a decline of 7 to 11 points under selling which appeared to include considerable hedging by some of Tuesday's buyers who may have been influenced by indications that the cold wave over the holiday had not been accompanied by killing frosts in the southwest.

December advanced to 20.83, net gains of 14 to 17 points on active months, but demand tapered off at these figures, with reactions of 10 to 12 points from the best under selling. The Friday market was within five or six points of last Tuesday's closing quotations.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 13.—The cotton market opened easy, although Liverpool came in better than due. The failure of frost to materialize to any extent caused selling at the start which carried December down to 20.58 and March to 20.65 or 12 to 16 points under Tuesday's close. This dip attracted trade buying and covering and prices soon recovered all the opening loss and a little more besides. December rallied to 20.75 and March to 21.00, or 15 to 18 points above the early lows and one to three points above previous close.

The market rallied moderately later in the morning on prospects for frost in the eastern belt and expectation of bullish September consumption totals tomorrow. December sold up to 20.94, January 20.98 and March 21.20, 35 to 37 points above the lows. The advance attracted realizing by recent buyers on the failure of frost to materialize and an official prediction for fair and warmer weather. At noon prices were unchanged to 3 points up compared with the previous close and approximately $1 a bale under the morning highs.

Cotton futures closed steady at net advance of 18 to 43 points.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

To the home of Prof and Mollie Elwell in Camdenville, Indiana, one night in October of 1898, is brought a woman who had fainted on a train. That night twin girls are born to her and she dies without revealing her name.

The story then moves forward 18 years. The twins have been adopted and named Margaret and Elizabeth. They are called Rusty and Betty.

Jim Elwell, the son, enlists in the World War. He then discovers that one of the twins loves him.

He is shell-shocked at Sedan and reported dead. Much later he is identified in a New York hospital, where his parents find him with his speech and memory gone. He is like a living dead man.

The day before his parents are to take him home, Jim wanders away from his nurse, Nellie Downing. Late that night he is found in Bellevue hospital with his skull fractured, expected to die.

The twins are in Indianapolis at the home of their uncle, John Clayton, the mystery of their identity having been cleared while Jim was away. Some time later Mollie writes to them that Jim will live but his memory is forever gone.

The day before the Elwells are expected back, the twins have an unpleasant encounter with FREDDIE LAWRENCE, a society nuisance and Rusty hits him with her shoe. John Clayton comes in with a telegram shortly after, saying it is from Mike Hennegan, the soldier who had identified Jim.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY

CHAPTER XLII

"YOU mean," Rusty asked, "Mike Hennegan is coming here?"

"Precisely. But before I go into detailed explanations, suppose you enlighten me as to what has taken place in here. Freddie, I see, has gone, and both of you wear gaudy looks. I am suspicious. Has Freddie been acting up again?"

Freddie, Betty explained, has met the enemy and has been vanquished. "The enemy," he smiled, "seems fond of doing just that to Freddie. Come, now, what happened?"

"Well," began Rusty, "he had an awful nerve. There I was sitting at the piano, playing for his benefit—"

Hardly for his benefit, her uncle contradicted. "I heard, myself, the atrocities you were committing."

"Well, you know I don't play very well."

"I am interrupting you," he acknowledged. "Tell your story in your own way. I beg your pardon."

"As I said," she went on, gathering confidence, "he had an awful nerve. What do you suppose he tried to do to Betty?"

"Are you inviting me to guess?"

"Yes, sir?"

"He probably tried to kiss her."

"Exactly. And after what she had done to him the time he tried it before. You remember that?"

John Clayton did. He nodded, smiling, but his eyes held something of a resentful glint. Freddie Lawrence would hear more from this.

Betty picked up the story. "I never expected it, of course. The first thing I knew he was trying to hold my face up to his. He grabbed me and held me so tightly that he hurt me. And—and he had been drinking. I'm sure of it."

"Yes, her sister supplemented, he had smelled like a distillery."

"And I don't know what would have happened if it hadn't been for Rusty and her shoe."

"Eh? Her shoe? You surprise me, my dears."

"Rusty was sitting at the other end of the room. She turned around and saw us and then she slipped her shoe off her foot and threw it at Freddie."

"And Freddie got hit," said the young pitcher.

"Oh, he did?"

"Yes, sir," Betty informed him, "rather hard. He sat down all of a sudden."

"Let me get this straight," said Clayton. "You, Margaret, were over on this side of the room and Elizabeth was over there with Freddie?"

"Yes, that was true."

"And you threw all that way and hit him?"

"Yes."

"Weren't you afraid of hitting your sister? Their heads must have been fairly close together."

"I took good aim," said Rusty.

"Oh, I see," John Clayton could maintain his gravity no longer. He threw back his head and laughed long and loudly. The twins, perceiving all danger of calling down had vanished, joined him.

"Well," he said finally, "you did exactly right under the circumstances. I congratulate you. And now about Mike Hennegan."

To go back to Mike Hennegan and his elevator job at the hospital on Long Island, Mike, as Nellie Downing well knew when he had been given his job, had a great failing. That was his weakness for the game known as craps.

In several of his letters Prof had mentioned Mike's kindnesses to John Clayton and the twins and Clayton had made up his mind that here was another person who had done something that entitled him to some kind of a reward.

On one morning when he should have been running his elevator, Mike was down in the basement shooting craps with some of the engineer's best assistants. It was not the first time since he had been on his new job, and the superintendent reflected sadly when he came upon them. It was not likely to be the last, and that was why he would have to fire him.

Mike was in the midst of an eloquent appeal to the dice to turn over and be good and to show eight spots for him.

"Eighty from Decatur!" he coaxed. "Is I shoot the four dollars."

"Man," came from one of his "faders," stop crating so much. You is talking all the spots off 'n'em."

"I am," announced Mike, "about to throw an eleven. Come on, little dice, rise up and—"

Confronting him was the superintendent. The other offenders had fled.

The superintendent shook his head sadly. "I am afraid, Mike," he said, "that you've had your last chance. A week from today we get a new man for the elevator."

"Yes, sir," and Mike saluted. "Don't blame you."

That evening he was in Bellevue hospital, talking to Prof and Mollie Elwell. He had plenty of time cheerfully, and they could call on him at any time if they wanted him to do something.

Prof began to think. "Mike," he said, "Mr. Clayton of Indianapolis—that's the uncle of the twin girls we raised, you know—has written to me and told me that if there's anything he could do for you he'd like to do it. He suggested that you come home with Jim and act as a sort of male nurse and bodyguard for a while. Now, since you're out of a job, would you like to do it?"

"When?" asked Mike, "do we leave?"

"Tomorrow."

"I'll be right there, Captain. Any further orders?"

"Oh, just pack up your things and be ready, Mike, that's all."

Mollie ventured, a little timidly: "Perhaps it will be very tiresome for Mike."

"If it is," said Prof, "Mr. Clayton has a job down in Indianapolis that would fit Mike like a glove."

"Yes, sir," said Mike, "and now I want to see Jim. It's been a week since I've had a good look at him."

"So that's why Mike's coming along with Jim," John Clayton was explaining to his nieces. "I wired the young man myself and this is his reply."

He exhibited it. The twins read: "Absolutely and much obliged, Mike Hennegan."

"And nok," said John Clayton, "that Freddie has been disposed of so nicely and you're already to go tomorrow. I want you to kiss me good night. I must go out and I shall be late. Remember now," he added hastily, "don't throw any shoes."

They kissed him and he moved on. The butler helped him on with his coat, handed him his hat and closed the door behind him.

"Now," said Rusty, "we'll tell Martha Dalton and then forget all about Freddie. Perhaps she'll get a laugh out of it."

Martha Dalton most certainly did. "How well I remember," she said, "the night you two and Jim sneaked into my house for supper because you didn't want to exhibit Jim's black eye with the best steak on it to Miss Mary Allison, Brownwood High School senior."

Miss Johnson gave a piano selection and Miss Allison sang a couple of songs, with Miss Johnson as accompanist. The Lions showed themselves very much pleased with the musical offerings. The young ladies were introduced to the club by Judge C. H. Jenkins, who, with County Judge E. M. Davis, had been delegates to arrange the program for the day.

J. J. Timmins and Bluford Adams were the principal speakers on the subject of fire prevention, and after their talks there was a round table discussion in which a number of the Lions joined, among them being Rev. L. L. Felder, Dr. J. M. Horn, D. D. McInroe, J. R. Stalcup, Judge Davis and others.

Mr. Timmins showed that the difference in a good fire record and a bad one means $45,000 a year to the buyers of fire insurance in Brownwood. The city saves $18,000 a year by a good record, he stated, and the amount will be increased 15 per cent this year. On the other hand, he stated, a bad record would penalize the town to the extent of $22,500.

Mr. Stalcup, principal of Brownwood High School, told of work being done there to teach the students the lessons of fire prevention, and on motion of Judge Davis a resolution was passed commending the school for its work in that respect. Speaking of the fire drills at the school, Mr. Stalcup stated that there was a fire alarm Tuesday and the building was cleared in fifty

FIRE PREVENTION IS DISCUSSED BY LIONS AT WEEKLY LUNCHEON

The time allotted to the program of the Lions Club at its noon luncheon at Hotel Southern Tuesday was devoted principally to a discussion of fire prevention, in line with the purposes of Fire Prevention Week, which is now being observed, after the program had been opened with musical numbers by Miss Martha Johnson, Daniel Baker student, and Miss Mary Allison, Brownwood High School senior.

Miss Johnson gave a piano selection and Miss Allison sang a couple of songs, with Miss Johnson as accompanist. The Lions showed themselves very much pleased with the musical offerings. The young ladies were introduced to the club by Judge C. H. Jenkins, who, with County Judge E. M. Davis, had been delegates to arrange the program for the day.

C. of C. Meeting

D. D. McInroe called attention to of Commerce banquet to be held on October 20th, and said that he hoped and expected to see the Lions Club sell more tickets for the banquet than any other organization in town. He said that R. L. McGaugh was given twelve tickets for sale the other day at 2 o'clock and had sold them at 2:10.

Tom Denman told of the meeting of a board of directors of the club, and said that while he wanted everybody to buy tickets for the C. of C. banquet, he wanted them also to be ready to get their tickets for the annual Halloween banquet of the Lions club, which, all might feel sure, would be a great event. The district governor will be a guest of the local club at that time, he stated.

High School Football

President Galloway told of discussions of the board of directors relative to projects for the year, and said that they had decided to bring before the club the question of securing a practice field for the High School football team. The subject was discussed by a number of the Lions, and Lions Talbot and Wagner were appointed as a committee to go further into the matter. Talbot urged that all the Lions attend the football game Friday afternoon at 3:30.

Lion Tamer McInnis again directed a parade in which several members contributed to the treasury for various delinquencies.

Judge Jenkins and Judge Davis were warmly congratulated by many members as the session ended on the interesting program arranged for the day. Dr. Jewell Daugherty was appointed to arrange the program for next Tuesday.

Mrs. Truly, Son, Victims of Auto Wreck Are Better

BALLINGER, Oct. 11.—(SP)—Mrs. R. E. Truly and son, Ted, age about 7, of Coleman, who were seriously injured in an automobile wreck near Talpa last Thursday night, were reported to be some better with the boy now having a chance to recover.

The boy sustained severe scalds about his waist and lower limbs and for some time he was expected not to recover but hospital attendants Monday morning said he had a chance to recover. However, the boy still remains in a critical condition.

Mrs. Truly, who suffered several bad breaks in the pelvic bone, is better, and was reported to be resting very well Monday.

Mrs. John Gotscher of Byrds, Brown county, who was in the other car which collided with the Truly car, was taken to a Coleman hospital, and later removed to her home. She was not seriously hurt.

Neither Mr. Truly nor either of his two daughters, Misses Marguerite and Mary Elizabeth, were hurt in the wreck.

Man is Slain by Wife Because of "Another Woman"

FAIRBURY, Neb., Oct. 11. (AP)—Mrs. Alice Harvey, 46, because of jealousy and fear that "another woman would get him," slew her husband, J. B. Harvey, last Wednesday. She confessed today before County Attorney Arthur J. Denny, the latter informed the Associated Press.

Harvey's body was found by neighbors Wednesday morning after his widow's screams had attracted their attention.

A bullet hole through the head was explained as suicide by Mrs. Harvey immediately after the shooting.

MITCHELL IS COMMANDER LEGION POST

J. F. Mitchell was elected commander of the Itham A. Smith post of the American Legion at the meeting of the post Thursday night. Mr. Mitchell succeeds J. Claude Smith, commander for the past year. In making his speech of acceptance the new post commander briefly outlined some of the things that he hoped to do within the next twelve months and asked all of the Legionnaires to co-operate with him in putting over the things that needed to be done.

Commander Smith closed a year that was most successful in many respects. The Legion has managed to get out of debt during his tenure of office and it is stated that the local post now has a tidy sum laid away for future use.

Z. C. Ingram was elected post adjutant to succeed T. R. Scott. Other officers elected were: G. O. Stewart, finance officer; John Shockley, serving officer; Orville Turner, first vice-commander; W. A. Hooper, second vice-commander; and Carl Odell, third vice-commander. J. Claude Smith, Harry Jones, E. M. Davis and Earl Stewart, together with the post commander, will constitute the executive committee for the next year.

A large number of the members were present and all entered enthusiastically into the work of the evening. J. Claude Smith, retires to all, as well as other refreshments.

Youth is Injured When Hit by Auto Monday Afternoon

Perry Daughtry, an employee of The Bulletin, sustained painful but not serious injuries Monday afternoon about 5:30 when he was struck by a Dyke Ward service car at the intersection of Avenue C and Third street. Daughtry was riding a bicycle and came into Third from Avenue C from behind a wagon and was hit by the car, the impact of the collision throwing him into the ground and the rear wheel of the car across his body. Daughtry sustained several gashes on the head and bruises about the body. Other than being bruised Daughtry seems to be none the worse for his experience. The accident is said to have been unavoidable.

Paul takes his golf game seriously even now. Our photographer shows him practicing on the front lawn. He wants to play like Uncle "Gix" and Bobby Jones and he thinks he is good enough now to beat all comers his age. If there's anything in blood, you will hear of this Von Elm along about in 1942.

SANTA ANNA TO HAVE NEW CITY BUILDING. PLANS ARE APPROVED

SANTA ANNA, Oct. 6.—(Sp.)—Plans submitted by Elmer G. Withers, Fort Worth architect, for a municipal building for Santa Anna have been approved by the city commission and bids will be received and contract let next Monday. The building is to be a two-story structure of face brick and modern in every particular.

The plans provide for offices to be used by the city clerk, assessor and collector. A spacious lobby, ladies' rest room, fire-proof vault, fire apparatus room and the waterworks plumbing shop on the ground floor. The second floor will accommodate the corporation court room, mayor's office, chief of police headquarters, recreation room, dormitory for city firemen, wash rooms, storage closets and showers.

The commission demands a wider right-of-way and the elimination of bad corners between Coleman and Novice. The county has no funds with which to purchase land necessary and the precinct through which the paved highway will be built has never voted bonds. # BROWN'S LEAD IN THE STATE IS INCREASED

There were 68 drilling permits issued in Brown county by the Oil and Gas Division of the Texas Railroad Commission in September, this county continuing to lead the state in drilling operations.

This is a slight increase over August, the number for that month being 66. Callahan is again second county in the state in permits, as it was in August, but its number decreased from 49 in August to 35 in September. The number in Brown county, therefore, lacks but two of being double the next highest county in the September records.

Brown county reported 58 producers completed during the month. The next highest county was Crane with 20.

3 HURT BADLY IN CAR CRASH ON TALPA ROAD

Three persons were injured, one of them probably fatally, in an automobile crash near Talpa Thursday night.

Ted Trully, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Trully of Coleman, is not expected to live as a result of scalds received when the automobile in which he was riding with his parents collided with another car. He was caught under the car, and hot water from the radiator poured over the lower part of his body. The boy is in a Balingier hospital with his mother, also seriously injured.

Mrs. Trully's condition was improved Saturday, according to hospital attendants. She sustained several broken bones and numerous cuts and bruises.

Mr. Trully and two daughters escaped with but minor injuries.

Mrs. John Gocher of Brown county was also badly hurt, but able to be removed Friday to her home from the Overall Hospital in Coleman, where she was taken following the accident.

The cause of the accident could not be learned.

LEGION IS IMPRESSED WITH FRIENDSHIP OF EUROPE, SAVAGE SAYS

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Howard P. Savage, retiring national commander of the American Legion, in a statement written for the Associated Press, said: "With the departure today of 1,800 Legionnaires on the Leviathan from the hospitable shores of England and the continent, the American Legion pilgrimage abroad became history.

"We who have had the privilege of participating will never forget the kindness and the sincerity of welcome which was greeted us everywhere. We are deeply impressed, impressed not alone by the gestures of friendship extended to us, but also by the evidence of the plucky effort being made by all the allied nations to rehabilitate themselves and to solve the post-war problem.

"Two thousand Legionnaires, drawn from every quarter of the 48 states of the union, are taking back with them the strongest evidences that the allied nations have remembered most kindly the doughboys of ten years ago.

TAX REDUCTION IN NEXT SESSION LESS THAN 400 MILLION

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—President Coolidge feels that tax reduction in the next session of Congress should be considerably less than $400,000,000.

The $400,000,000 figure has been suggested by the chamber of commerce of the United States.

Although no definite estimate could be obtained today at the White House as to how far the president thinks tax reduction can go, it was said he was convinced that because of increased governmental expenses and the need for reduction of the national debt, the figures should be considerably short of $400,000,000.

The war is over but it is only half paid for, it was said on behalf of the president, who, it was added, feels that organizations seeking tax relief should bend their efforts towards reducing governmental expenses, as, in his opinion, tax reduction can be had only by the strictest economy.

In the president's opinion, it was reiterated, the debt should continue to be paid off as quickly as possible. It is now $18,000,000,000 and, the president holds it necessary as a great burden on the country on account of the interest charges.
