City to pay for strip of paving

Work unauthorized, but OK

by Bob Buckel

The Muenster city council voted unanimously Monday night to pay street contractor Ronnie Jones for a 180-foot section of paving on Maple Street, despite the fact that Jones was not authorized to do the work.

The strip of paving is a nine-foot-wide section along the side of Maple north of the proposed end of the paving at Third St. City administrator Ron Montgomery told the council Jones had asked that morning if the city wanted it paved and both he and street commissioner John Pagel had told him to wait until the council could meet and discuss it.

"He offered to do it for the cost of the materials, but Johnny told him due to the money situation it would be better if we didn't right now," Montgomery said. "In my opinion, the man did what he was told not to do and he shouldn't be paid."

Although he agreed with Montgomery, Pagel recommended a softer line.

"The cost figure is not as big as I thought it was going to be," Pagel said. "It's a matter of about $600 now, and we're getting at least that much added value to the street."

"I don't like it," Pagel continued. "Granted it's a better road, but it was money we didn't need to spend at this time. We told him not to do it, but it's done now and we're better off."

The strip of paving covers a section which was badly worn on the sides and had grass growing through it. The contractor reportedly told Pagel he felt it needed to be paved, and said if he was going to pave it he needed to do it while his equipment was at the location and running.

He apparently even offered to do it free if the council would not approve the payment, in order to

'Fest to get manager

Muenster's Germanfest will likely get a paid coordinator if the Chamber of Commerce approves the recommendations of the long-range planning committee.

The committee held a final public forum Friday night and drew up six recommendations for improving the annual spring festival.

The Chamber's directors discussed the proposal Wednesday and the committee's recommendations will be presented to the membership at the monthly luncheon Tuesday.

One of those items calls for the hiring of a paid coordinator to take over much of the planning and arranging of Germanfest. The committee will recommend the hiring of Louis Stevenson of Gainesville to head up the annual festival, for a salary of $3,600 plus expenses.

Stevenson, a former Gainesville school teacher who has been active in Germanfest since its beginning in 1976, has been contacted and agreed to take the job if it is offered. He would take over much of the work now being done by the Chamber's volunteers to make arrangements for entertainment, booths, events and other activities at Germanfest.

The committee's other recommendations are:

— returning Germanfest to its original German theme and eliminating non-German elements such as country music and tobacco-spitting contests;

— proceeding immediately with the back-to-the-original effort by appointing a committee to review

Sales tax earnings ahead of '83

Muenster's sales tax collections for the period ending July 27 were down considerably from last year, but the city is still running nearly nine percent ahead of last year's sales pace.

The city received $13,684 from the State Comptroller's office in July as a rebate of the one-percent sales tax collected by local merchants and forwarded to Austin. They reflect sales made in June and the second quarter and reported to the comptroller by July 20.

Last year's July check from sales tax receipts totalled $17,237

Scouts explore north lakes by canoe

Bynum, four other scouts, their guide and two adult leaders on a wilderness canoeing trip.

by Bob Buckel

Five Muenster scouts got a taste of the true wilderness this summer, following the route of the French traders through northern Minnesota and into Canada by canoe.

Scoutmaster Waylen Poole and scout executive Byron Von Rosenberg accompanied scouts Drue Bynum, Eric Dankesreiter, Keith Vogel, Mike Walter and Johnny Herr on the 11-day trip which began at Sommers' Canoe Basin at Ely, Minnesota. The group was led by guide Dave Barrett and Bynum served as trek leader.

The adventure started when the group left Muenster July 23. They drove to Fort Leavenworth in Kansas the first night, where they stayed in Army barracks. The second night, they made it all the way to Schellings Air Force Base in St. Paul, Minnesota, and on the third day they made it to the canoe basin by mid-afternoon.

The basin, located on the extreme northern border of Minnesota, is operated by the Boy Scouts of America as part of the Northern Tier High Adventure Program. It includes the Boundary Waters Canoe Area, Atikokan Canoe Trails, Northern Expeditions, Northern Wisconsin and Quetico Provincial Park, and allows scouts to trace the route between Grand Portage on Lake Superior and the Red River Settlement — now Winnipeg, Manitoba — used by early French fur trappers and traders.

After traveling with a group of scouts from Sherman and Durant, the Muenster scouts went their own way by canoe. Three aluminum canoes carried the group into Canada via Sunday Lake, Moose Lake, Louisa Lake, Jeff Lake, Moose Lake, Lost Lake, North Bay, Bailey Bay and Lake Polaris. The lake-hopping required almost daily portages, where the scouts had to carry canoes and equipment between waterways.

The group picked up their food and gear before setting out July 25. They carried just enough food for the number of days they were out, starting with about 40 lbs. and finishing with less than eight.

Several days during the trek, they didn't see another soul all day

City slates hearing

The Muenster city council will hold a public hearing on a possible tax rate increase August 20 at 7:30 at City Hall.

The hearing, which is required by law any time there is the possibility of an increase in the effective tax rate, will be followed by a workshop on the proposed budget for the fiscal year which begins October 1.

That workshop will give council members a chance to look at the proposed budget, which is still in the preliminary stages at this time. Last year's budget was just over $391,000 for the city.

No final action will be taken on the budget or tax rate until the council's first meeting in September, when they are expected to adopt a budget and a tax rate for the coming year.

A recent article by Steven Hayward, editor of Public Research, Syndicated, reveals some currently regrettable views of American church people on conditions in strife torn areas of Central America.

One reference was to a "political pilgrimage" to Nicaragua sponsored by an Episcopal Church of California. Its mission was to observe the latest revolutionary "experiment" in Nicaragua which was initiated by Soviet Marxism and continues operating under that system.

Use of the word experiment here is definitely misleading in that it does not involve any new ways of life but the same old standards of Red oppression that have enslaved millions since the start of Communism in 1917. Nevertheless the political pilgrimage describes the conditions glowingly as peace, harmony and progress.

This fact finding group of four church representatives reported that it found a "new society" in Nicaragua. The poor have "new hope for life", women are liberated and treated as equals and "human rights violations" ... a euphemism for massacre and wholesale burning of villages ... against the Miskito Indians are only the result of "cultural misunderstanding."

The California political pilgrimage is not the only church group approving the Nicaragua government. The World Council of Churches has similar comments. It defends press censorship and denies, despite irrefutable evidence, that there is any religious persecution. Rather it maintains that the revolutionary process embodies basic Christian principles of love, concern for the poor, justice for all, and respect for human dignity.

The four California pilgrims further supported their view by telling of a one hour visit with Tomas Borge, a government minister whom they regard as a very religious man because of an assortment of crucifixes in his office. Borge revealed another side of his personality by describing a pastoral letter from Nicaraguan bishops as a criminal act. The letter, closely following the Pope's teachings, criticized the government's "liberation theology" for its materialistic ideology.

The four pilgrims also visited a resettlement village in the company of an official guide. And like other such pilgrims they believed without question all that they saw and all that they heard.

The situation is similar to that told by Stephen Spender in 1937 following a visit to the USSR. A Soviet worker proudly stated that the factory in which he worked protect adjoining pavement which his company had guaranteed.

"As far as I've been able to determine, they're doing a good job of asphalt work," Pagel said. "It was just his bull-headed nature that he wanted it done and just went ahead and did it."

Councilman Aubrey Tuggle said, "He needs to know that in the future if he does anything without it being authorized, it's going to be up to him to pay for it."

But we're getting the benefit of this."

Mayor Ronnie Felderhoff also voted to pay for the pavement. "I think it's going to improve the streets — I just wish he'd waited for the approval from the council."

City secretary Celine Dittfurth noted the financial crunch the city has been in over the paving is about over, with all money for paving received except for that due from a few property owners on Maple Street.

"I don't foresee any problems," she said. "I've been able to pay all the bills as they've come in without going to another fund."

With Maple Street virtually finished, the city's paving project in nearing completion for this summer. Total cost of the project was more than the original $164,000 estimated, with cost overruns and delays in payment causing a host of financial headaches for the city during the paving.

all aspects of the fest and determine if they fit in with the theme; — postponing the construction of a building at the city park for Germanfest due to high cost and the fact that other locations may someday be considered for the fest;

— extending the surface of the present tennis courts in the park and continuing to use it as a base for the tent pavilion now being used.

The group also recommends that the Chamber make full use of the coordinator, turning most Germanfest arrangements over to him, and then concentrate on regular Chamber activities such as promoting the city and developing industry and commerce.

The Chamber's monthly luncheon meeting Tuesday is open to the public. It is held at noon at the Center restaurant.

Chamber directors will air the committee's recommendations at that time and release more information about plans for Germanfest and other Chamber activities.

The directors in their Wednesday meeting agreed to all the proposals made by the committee and will present them to the members for a final vote Tuesday.

Council appoints two...

Also Monday night, the city council:

- appointed Cooke County Electric Co-op manager Mike Sloan to the Zoning Board, and named Mrs. Mattie Endres to the Park Board;
- took no action on a proposed line extension fee increase by Lone Star Gas Co., thereby allowing the increase from $4.50 to $5.40 per foot to go into effect 30 days after it was filed. It was the first increase in that charge since 1976, and company representatives said the increase will help forestall a rate increase.
- renewed the city's fire contract with the county at the same rate of $2,250 a year, with the new contract effective August 1;
- gave Police Chief Helen Tompkins the go-ahead to order a police car to be delivered after October 1, at a cost of $4,000;
- okayed the annual contribution of $1,000 to the fireman's pension fund, to be matched by the state;
- agreed to write the State Board of Insurance for an extension on the city's 25-year-old pumper truck, which will likely have to be replaced in three to five years;
- discussed the dam washout at the city's landfill, noting operator Art Bayer had done some unauthorized dozer work in repairing the dam and agreeing not to pay for it if the bill is sent to the city.

Screening clinic set here Wednesday

The Texas Department of Health has scheduled a hypertension and diabetes screening clinic to be held in Muenster at Sacred Heart Community Room Wednesday, August 15, from 9:30 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. The screening will be performed by Public Health Nurses at no charge. Public awareness and an increased citizen participation has tended to decrease fatalities due to heart problems.

The so-called "Silent Disease" of Diabetes is receiving increased attention by Public Health Personnel in an effort to discover early warning signs of the disease. "Since each of these diseases can prove to be fatal or cause other health problems, each adult should visit his or her private physician or the Public Health Clinic on a regular basis," said Hal J. Dewlett, M.D., Director, Public Health Region 5.

Heavy trash bags violate ordinance

Overweight trash-garbage bags have become a problem to the city. According to Celine Dittfurth, city secretary, the pick-up crew frequently finds bags which exceed 50 pounds, sometimes needing two persons to load them on the truck. A few days ago they came upon a bag which the two could not handle and had to call upon the driver for help.

Clearly this violates the terms of the city ordinance which was passed when the pick-up service was started. The maximum weight allowed by the ordinance is 50 pounds, Dittfurth said.

She added that the city will cooperate and make allowance for a few pounds of overweight but will not tolerate any more of the unreasonable burdens that have been encountered lately. It's a matter of better working conditions as well as reducing the risk of injury, she added.

Dittfurth also said that the city intends to back up its newly stated policy. The pick up men are authorized not to pick up the unreasonably heavy bags. If necessary they will weigh bags in making decisions.

Scouts

long. They did meet up with a group of girls from Chicago July 30, however, and as good scouts should, helped them with their portage.

The weather during most of the trek was excellent, with highs in the mid-80's during the days and lows down only into the 60's. The scouts quickly learned to get in the tents and zip them up at night, as clouds of mosquitos rose from the waterlogged countryside in search of prey at dusk.

"They would sit there on the outside of the tent and hum, just daring you to come," Poole reports.

Water levels were slightly below normal on most of the lakes, Poole said. There were few waterways open between lakes, making portages a daily routine. The group traveled swiftly on the water, though, and made their way into some breathtakingly beautiful country.

"They said the logging companies had taken out quite a bit of timber around these lakes before they were protected," Poole said. "But we got into some country that had never been logged or even touched."

Fishing was a bonus on the water-oriented trip, as some group members hooked into smallmouth bass and walleye. Poole reports he and Bynum found a small lake where they caught largemouth bass almost every time they threw a line out, letting them all go except for those chosen for the next morning's breakfast.

The scouts saw a bald eagle at close range, canoeing up to within about 30 feet of its nest. They also spotted a moose cow and two calves, one family of beavers and chipmunks and other small game by the score. They tied their food in bags and suspended it between trees every night, but didn't see any of the black bears that are known to inhabit the woods. The 1,224-mile return trip brought them back to Muenster Friday.

Commissioners to meet

The county commissioners will open bids on two pieces of equipment and discuss the budget for the coming fiscal year when they meet Monday at the courthouse in Gainesville.

The commissioners will open bids for a motor grader for precinct two and a lowboy equipment trailer for precinct three. Other items for discussion include the county's policy on indigent funerals, the benefits of the Texas

County and District Retirement System, and a buried cable request from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

The budget hearings are a continuation of the process of arriving at a budget for the new fiscal year, which begins October 1. The budget is expected to be approved, and a new county tax rate fixed, at a meeting in late August or early September.

At Sacred Heart Church Muller, Ardila wed Saturday

Sherri Ann Muller and John Michael Ardila were married in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, August 4 in a Nuptial Mass with double ring ceremony celebrated by Father Victor Gillespie at 5 p.m.

The daughter of Arnold and Theresa Muller of Muenster, the bride is a 1982 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and attended Midwestern State University in Wichita Falls. She is employed as a micro processor by E and J Microfilm Co.

The son of Harvey and Eloise Ward of Wichita Falls, the groom is a graduate of Rider High School and Midwestern State University. He is a mold press operator employed by Sprague Electric Co.

They repeated their vows before an altar decorated with fan-shaped arrangements of white gladioli tied with orchid silk bows. Enhancing the altar space were two tall white floor candelabra holding 30 candles each, in heart-shaped arrangement. Greenery was entwined about the base. The Unity candle was placed on the front altar.

Presented at the altar by her father, Arnold Muller, the bride was wearing a formal white wedding gown with Victorian neckline embroidered with Chantilly lace and small flower designs. Seed pearls traced a floral pattern on the fitted lace bodice. Juliet style sleeves were off-shoulder, with a flower of Chantilly lace, and came to rounded points over her wrists. A cascade of matching lace ruffles floated from the fitted bodice in back, meeting lace ruffles that completely encircled the skirt, and formed a cathedral length train.

To complete her attire, she selected a matching Victorian style headpiece covered with pearls and white iridescents. Attached was a fingertip veil of bridal illusion with appliques of embroidered roses.

She carried her flowers in a cascade of white roses and white phlox with lavender and pink forget me nots and trailing English ivy, and white and lavender streamers. Entwined was a crystal rosary, a treasured gift from her aunt and godmother, Mrs. Regina Pels.

Attendants

Sandy Taylor of Muenster, a friend of the bride was her maid of honor. Monika Blanton of Mineral Wells, bride's cousin and Laura Castillo of Houston, groom's cousin were bridesmaids. They were identically gowned in Victorian style gowns in pastel orchid and pink, trimmed in nylon lace and narrow, stand-up collars with sheer yokes, V-shaped flouncings off-shoulder and satin ribbon trim. The basque-waisted fitted bodices accented the full skirts, with lace flouncing at the hemlines and cascading lace tiers in back.

Each bridesmaid carried a white lace fan with lavender roses and pink forget me nots with greenery and lavender and pink streamers; and each wore a flower comb in her hair.

Valerie Bartush was the flower girl, wearing a pink, multi-ruffled floor length dress, with flowers and ribbons accenting the front bodice.

John Daniel Bartush was the ring bearer, dressed in a navy coat and gray slacks, and carrying a white satin, heart shaped pillow for the rings.

Fernando Martinez, of Houston, a friend of the groom was his best man. David Muller of Muenster, bride's brother, and Carlos Martinez of Wichita Falls were groomsmen.

Dale Muller, Jesse Walterscheid, Kyle Walterscheid and Bert Knabe, all cousins of the bride were ushers.

Mass servers and candlelighters were Stanley Knabe and Ryan Gehrig, cousins of the bride.

The wedding liturgy was chosen by the bride and groom, and the readings were given by John Bartush. The bride presented a flower to her mother before the ceremony and to the groom's mother after the ceremony.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Patsy Henry, organist. A singing group including Lynda and Doug Yosten, Linda Flusche, Christi Klement and Susan Metzler offered selections before Mass, at Offertory and when the couple placed a floral tribute at the Blessed Virgin Mary Shrine.

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Community Center, hosted by the bride's parents.

Angela Hellinger and Rene

Muller, bride's cousins registered guests at a table holding a decoupage wedding invitation and the couple's Unity candle.

Ginny Schneider catered the dinner and Doug Martin, cousin of the bride, and his Ramblers Band played for dancing.

Decorations in the reception area were made by Mrs. Aileen Knabe.

The bride's table was covered in white and held flower trimmed lace fans, a pair of candelabra with votive candles, and an arrangement of orchid and pink flowers on a mirrored base.

A wall decoration with a white background, displayed a net illusion rainbow, with streamers carrying the couple's names. A basket-shaped arrangement of pink, white and lilac flowers was suspended from the ceiling above the dining area.

The three-tiered angel food wedding cake was created and decorated in pink and orchid flowers by Betty Rose Walterscheid, and was placed above a lighted lavender fountain, surrounded with lighted votive candles and tiny angel figurines. Two cakes at each side were joined to the center cake by stairways with figurines dressed as the wedding party.

Assisting as cake servers were bride's cousins Laurie Schilling, Lydia Walterscheid, Jolanda Wimmer, Kim Hess and Kelly Lamkin.

Baptist "Acteens" reorganize

Acteens of First Baptist Church have reorganized and are active again in Muenster. They are teenage girls, grades 7 through 12, "in action for Christ."

Their purpose is to help meet the needs of their community and their world through service and prayer. The local Acteen group reorganized in June. They enjoyed a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Powell of Moss Lake. Activities included a picnic lunch, studying, swimming in the pool, and water activities in the lake. Rita Russell helped with transportation.

Another activity in July by Acteens was preparation and delivery of gifts of fresh fruits to residents of St. Richard's Villa, in boxes decorated by the girls. They also sang a medley of songs in praise of the Lord, then visited with residents. Ann Green accompanied them on the piano.

Acteens entertained their mothers with a prayer brunch on Saturday, July 28. Jennifer Carroll and Sharon Russell gave missionary testimonies, and sentence prayers were voiced for all missionaries having birthdays on that day.

The food committee, including Penny Russell, Stephanie Bynum and Carrie Russell served sausage crescent rolls, blueberry muffins, fruit salad, a cheese tray, celery and carrot sticks and lime punch.

Members of the decorating committee were Michele Huddleston, Meredith McDaniel and Lisa Robison who used Acteen colors of green and blue streamers, candles and flowers on the buffet and guest tables, also with Acteen insignia.

August projects included Play Day on Friday, Aug. 3. The Acteen calendar includes Studiaid Workday on Aug. 13 and Rush Week, Aug. 19-24 to enlist new members.

Large-print books now available at library

Large print books are available for loan from the Muenster Public Library. Every three months the library receives approximately 30 new titles in large print. Included are a variety of books such as biographies, romances, westerns, and current fiction and nonfiction.

Vision problems often accompany advanced age and, in 1980, one in every 10 Texans was over 65 years of age. Large print books can offer ease and comfort in reading for those, both young and old, with vision problems.

This project is sponsored through the Northeast Texas Library System. 51 libraries are participating in the project.

Anyone with vision problems who would enjoy reading books in large print, is invited to call 759-4291 or visit the public library.

Magical mysteries reading project finished

Readers are asked to bring in their completed reading logs and then pick up a certificate and a free paperback. One hundred reading logs were available for children to participate in this summer's Texas Reading Club program cosponsored by the local public library. Staffers are pleased with the number of books read during the 10 week period — over 1500.

New books continue to be added to the library's shelves — Texana, sports, crafts, fiction, careers, and other categories. Of special interest is the life of Father Arthur Hughes by Dr. Anthony Kubek and Vince by Mary Vincent Otto.

Library hours: Tuesday 8:30 to 5:00, Wednesday 2:30 to 5:30, Thursday 8:30 to 5:00.

KYLA HALE AND STEVE HENSCHIED have chosen Saturday, September 15 for their wedding day. Their engagement and approaching marriage have been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hale. Parents of the future groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Henschied, all of Muenster. Father Victor Gillespie will officiate in Sacred Heart Church at 5 p.m. The bride-elect is a 1983 graduate of Muenster High School and is employed at Hamric's in Muenster. Henschied is a 1977 graduate of Sacred Heart High School and is employed by Muenster Milling Company.

Ladies take five-week, 7,360-mile vacation

Mrs. Leo Henschied joined her sister, Sister Berenice Trachta and a friend, Sister Raymond Meng, of San Antonio on a vacation trip by car that covered 7,360 miles during a five week period, beginning on Monday, June 25.

Towards evening of the first day they toured the Oral Roberts University campus and viewed many of the unique buildings.

In succeeding days they visited in Bellville, Illinois, seeing the magnificent shrine of Our Lady of the Snows, the site familiar to many local residents. They saw the St. Louis Arch, Gateway to the West; toured the Missouri Botanical Gardens and found them gorgeous with 2,500 blooming roses and wide vistas of begonias and petunias.

They went through the Climatron Garden where temperature is kept constant all year. That was a tropical paradise of lush greenery and flowers.

After touring the New St. Louis Cathedral they spent the three following days and nights as guests of the Sacred Heart Sisters at St. Charles.

In South Bend, Indiana, Sr. Berenice visited her Alma Maters of Notre Dame University and St. Mary's Universities where she received her doctorate in Theology in the 1950s.

Reaching Niagara Falls, they enjoyed guided tours of both the American and Canadian sides. Tourists crowds were very large at Niagara. Travelers from India were particularly noticeable with their head turbans and ladies in long saris.

In New York they stopped for a tour of the Corning Glass Center and delighted in the displays of treasures in cut glass, and watched men and women at work.

At Riverhead, Long Island, Mrs. Henschied and the two nuns stayed with the Sisters of Mercy for six days and nights. From there they had a number of opportunities for daytime trips of lesser distances.

They drove to Eastport one day to visit the Shrine of Our Lady of the Island. The grounds are being developed by the Monfort Fathers. A special feature is a Rosary prayer walk. A giant cross cut from rich evergreens marks the entrance to the prayer walk. One hundred and fifty junipers, spaced in a quarter mile circle, count off each Hail Mary. Set in the peaceful stillness of a wooded hillside, the Stations of the Cross are connected by a winding footpath. There is a chapel here, gift shop and restaurant.

One day they went by train to New York City and stayed for an eight hour guided bus tour. Highlights for them included Empire State Building, going up to the 84th floor and the observation tower; a boat ride to the Statue of Liberty, seeing its immense scaffolding enclosure for the two-year renovation job; seeing the U.N. building, Radio City, Lincoln Center, Wall St. and China Town, now grown from 15 blocks to 40 blocks.

They also toured the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, largest church in the world. Mrs. Henschied said their guide hastened to explain that St. Peter's in Rome is in fact, the largest Basilica but St. John's is the largest church. The guide also pointed out St. Patrick's Cathedral and the apartment of Jackie Kennedy.

From New York they drove to Washington, D.C. During a tour of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception, they attended Mass in the Crypt. The shrine has many side altars. Much marble is used and mosaics are on the walls and windows.

Nearby is a Franciscan Monastery, with surrounding landscaping, flowers and shrubs that are beautiful.

Another all day guided tour included Arlington National Cemetery; the Changing of the Guard at the Tomb of the Unknowns; a stop at the John Kennedy grave; a tour of Mount Vernon, and a glimpse of the Pentagon where 25,000 persons work.

They had a guided tour of the Capitol and the Museum of Natural History.

In following days, Mrs. Henschied said, their next stop was in Louisville, Kentucky where they were guests of the Ursuline Sisters. They also drove to Getsemani, Kentucky to visit the Trappist Abbey. The 85 Cloistered monks have additional everyday duties besides their religious duties in that they also make cheese and fruit cakes.

When leaving Kentucky, they were joined by Sister Mercia Cavanaugh for the remainder of the trip.

In Lafayette, Louisiana they were guests of Sr. Raymond's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Patout. Mrs. Patout took them to Carville, La. for a guided tour of the government-owned Hansen Disease Center. There are 100 buildings, 300 patients and a staff of 300. Mrs. Patout's doctor son has been on the staff for five years.

They returned to San Antonio and Our Lady of the Lake Convent where Mrs. Henschied visited for three days. She was also a guest of her brothers Harold Trachta and Tom Trachta and wife in San Antonio.

On July 27 she flew from San Antonio to Love Field to be met by her son Jerry Henschied who brought her home.

Workouts start August 13

Area football begins next Monday, August 13, the date which applies statewide, according to UIL regulations.

Physicals Saturday

Actually, it starts Saturday the 11th with physical exams in the Sacred Heart gym starting at 7 a.m. These are the customary physicals for students of both Muenster schools, high school and junior high, and students from all area schools... Saint Jo, Lindsay, Era and any others will be welcome. All students are required to have an OK physical rating to be eligible for participation.

Hornets start Monday

Both Muenster schools will start practice next Monday, August 13. Both will see their first action in scrimmage two weeks later and the second practice encounter will be a week after that.

The MHS Hornets will have their customary head start when they report to Coach Leonard Peters next Monday at 7 a.m. for the start of a 2-a-day schedule that will continue until the first class day on August 27. At their first meeting they will select the starting time for sessions of the next two weeks.

Coach Peters said the boys will be in top physical condition when they report. They have been working out regularly at road work and a weight program. The number expected is about 35. Their first scrimmage will be with Chico, here, on August 24, and the second will be at Southlake Carroll on August 31.

Tigers start Monday

Sacred Heart's coach, Virgil Henscheid is also uncertain about how many to expect, but assumes the squad will be smaller in both size and number. However, those who come will be in condition after a summer of faithful road work and weight program. Their first scrimmage opponent will be Perrin on the Tiger field on August 24 and the next will be Aubrey, there, on the 30th.

Tigers again will be on a one-a-day practice schedule and will include Saturdays. Henscheid said the method has been popular with players in the past and also requires less time.

As regards district competition, the Tigers have only one way to go, and that is up. According to the new Campbell rating they are at the bottom of the 3 member District 3-AA. They have 3 offensive and 7 defensive starters from last year's 3-7 team, and their top performers are Tim Knabe, Bret Walterscheid, Darrell Hess, Keith Hennigan, Tim Bartel, Kevin Switzer, John Nasche and Ken Hesse.

No. 1 of the TCIL district is Gorman of Tyler.

Hornets ranked fifth in tough district 4A

Coach Leonard Peters and his MHS Hornets, with bright prospects for a better football season, are also facing rugged competition. According to Dave Campbell's new edition of Texas Football they rank fifth in District 4-A, which happens to include Paradise and Valley View, which are rated No. 1 and No. 7 respectively in the state.

The district has a membership of 14, divided into zones of six and eight teams. Muenster is rated third in the six member group with Valley View as the favorite and Lindsay as runner up. The other three in order are Era, Saint Jo, and Collinsville.

The team which wins the zone will meet the other zone winner in a showdown for the district trophy. That team will almost certainly be Paradise, rated first in state and in district. Other members of that zone, in the order rated by Campbell, are Santo, Chico, Godley, Perrin, Masonic Home, Alvord and Tolar.

As the Hornets report for first practice next Monday, their outlook will be the brightest in several years. Their loss at graduation was only four leaving 28 from the former roster. Assuming that a few of them have moved away or will not report, there should be at least 25 returners plus freshmen from last year's junior high. The roster is expected to have some 20 seniors and juniors with corresponding gain in weight and experience over last year. As stated in Texas Football, the hold overs from a 4-6 season include 10 on offense and 9 on defense. And key men of the lineup will be Ronnie Fisher, Tim Fleeman, Neal Flusche, Johnny Eldred, Lesley Wells, Ronnie Trubenbach, Craig Monday, Andy Burnette, Keith Klement and Kevin Wolf.

As in '83 Valley View and Lindsay are rated as No. 1 and 2 of the zone. The Eagles defend a season of 8-3 whereas the Knights were 9-3. But Lindsay was hurt more by graduation and retains 4 holdovers each on offense and defense whereas Valley View has 7 holdovers on offense and 7 on defense. Top ranking Eagles will be Ray Sappington, David Tharp, Gary Ward, Mike Montgomery, Mike Alexander, James Bridges, Billy Farrell, Billy Martin, Steve Sparkman, Joe Rauschuber, and Phil Clark. Key men of Lindsay are Steve Corcoran, Jeff Wimmer, Kenneth Fuhrmann, Victor Schmidkofer, Jeff Metzler, Leroy Hermes, Scott Fleitman and Kurt Hermes.

Era, with 8 holdovers on both offense and defense has strong possibilities of bettering its 2-8 season. Rated as its dependables are Mark Knabe, Brad Fenley, Chris Sikes, Jaret Kindiger, Clint Brown, Richard Zanchetta, Nick Mueller, Joe Yarbrough, Randy Huddleston and Norman Dotson.

Saint Jo has a similar situation with 9 starters each was returning from a 3-7 season.

Collinsville is rated last in the zone with 6 offense and 7 defense holdovers from a 4-6 season.

Forestburg News

by Myrt Denham

Mrs. Louise Shults made a business trip to Lewisville on Tues. July 31 and also visited with her son Billy and wife.

Mrs. Reba Morris, Mrs. Pauline Seay and Mr. and Mrs. W.P. Parker all of Nocona spent Wed. afternoon August 1 with Marion and Howard Sockwell.

Chris Carter, Windthorst, spent most of last week visiting with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carter.

There was a little moving around in the Burg last week. Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Adams have moved into the apartment in the rock building owned by the Jack C. Dills. Then the Rick Vannoy's have moved back into their Forestburg home, formerly occupied by the Adams family.

Finding a place to rent or a place to buy in the Forestburg area is almost as rare a finding as Hen's teeth. It is mainly small plots to build on that people are looking for — but getting folks hereabouts to turn loose is NIL.

Ricky Blankenship of Lindsay, Okla. spent Monday night July 30th with his grandmother Louise Shults.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyett Blocker, Melissa and Matt of Senoia, Georgia arrived in the Burg Sat. July 28 to visit with Mrs. Boyett's mother, Mrs. Minnie Sirman. They left for home on Friday August 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Dill, Leann Hays, and Don Farrell left for Quinter, Kansas Wednesday a.m. Aug. 1 to help Leann's parents Mary and Hal Hays move back to Forestburg. The Hays are presently house guests of the Jack C. Dills. Hall entered Westgate Hospital in Denton Mon. Aug. 6 to undergo major surgery on Tues. the 7th.

Chatted with Esther Shears Monday p.m. and learned that she has not been feeling well at all for sometime now.

Marion and Howard Sockwell made it over to Bowie Fri. Aug. 3rd where they visited Marion's cousin, Mrs. Joe Denham at the Bellmire Home.

One day last week Edna Newton, Lake Dallas, Earline Ralston of Denton and their friend Sallem visited with Mrs. Nannie Bonner, they were joined by Mrs. Louise Shults. Louise informed me that Sallem is a gentleman and originally is from India. The group all worked together at the State School in Denton.

Imogene and Elmo Brewer were in Bowie Saturday night the 4th at the home of their son Gary and family. They helped granddaughter Carissa celebrate her 5th birthday. They all enjoyed cake and ice cream.

Mrs. Shirley Lanier and friend Louise Shults made the Muenster and Gainesville scenes Saturday the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Carter and grandson Chris and Mr. and Mrs. John Cowden and Melissa attended the Thompson family reunion at Lake Towakano on Sunday Aug. 5th. Mrs. Carter's mother, Mrs. Charity Boyd was a Thompson before she married.

The Howard Sockwells made it to Argyle Sunday afternoon the 3rd to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kenas where they attended a Barbecue for the Hitch and Pitch Campers Club of which the Kenas are members. Marion says there were about 137 folks present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Frenley of Alvord visited with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woods and John on Monday the 6th.

Mrs. Wanda Monroe and Jan called on the Dude Berrys Sunday p.m. the 5th as did Carvin Moseley.

Stenholm staff to discuss bill

Craig Rosenbaum

County Agent's Report

Congressman Charles Stenholm's agricultural staff will be in Gainesville Thursday, August 16 to discuss the upcoming 1985 Farm Bill.

Dale King, from Stenholm's Stamford office, and Randy Green of the Washington office will hold a workshop at the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce offices on California St. just off I-35 at 7 p.m. Farmers, ranchers and others who are interested in agricultural policy are invited to bring their ideas and suggestions to the meeting for discussion.

Workshops are scheduled throughout Stenholm's sprawling 17th Congressional District beginning August 9 at Big Spring. The Gainesville session will be the last of 11. Others will be held in Snyder, Post, Haskell, Breckenridge, Abilene, Ballinger, De Leon, Stephenville and Weatherford.

"My staff will be there mostly to listen," Stenholm said. "They'll try to give producers some insight into what's going on in Washington, but the main purpose of the workshop is to get people's ideas on what should be in the new farm legislation Congress will write next year."

Every four years, Congress reauthorizes and revises the nation's farm programs. The last overall farm bill was written in 1981, and it is widely believed to be a failure.

"We've got to do a better job this time," Stenholm said. "What's needed is an environment in which profits can return to agriculture."

Stenholm, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, has taken a strong interest in the upcoming farm bill. In addition to his regular trips to his home district to discuss agriculture, the Stamford Democrat has participated in Congressional farm policy hearings in California and North Carolina during the past month. He was a featured speaker on farm policy at the National Conference of State Legislatures in Boston July 23.

People who need information on the farm policy workshop can call Stenholm's Stamford office at 915/773-3623.

This past spring we used various systemic insecticides on grain sorghum in the county. The purpose of the systemics is to provide the early growing grain sorghum with some resistance to soil born insects that attack the seed-like wireworms and to reduce damage from greenbugs and yellow sugarcane aphids. Earlier in the year we took greenbug counts and that information was printed a month or so ago. If you missed that, all insecticides showed excellent control. One field did not have a great population of greenbugs but still control was noted.

The products used were Furidan, Counter, and Timik. All of these were put down as granular banded in the ground near the seed. The chemicals need to be put in the ground whether you use the granular or liquid forms. Some producers in the county use liquid Furidan and apply it with their liquid fertilizer. Whichever method you use, the secret is to get it in the ground. This brings up one other problem. That is most planters are not equipped with box attachments for the incorporation of the insecticide, and they must be purchased. The granulars are fine and will unevenly sift through seed if you try to use them in your planter box.

Friday we harvested plots on the Albert Zimmerer farm at Hood. The check plot by the house was heavily infested with greenbugs and Furidan was used. Results were an increase of 374 pounds where Furidan was used. The check produced 2,092 pounds per acre and the treated area yield was 2,466 pounds.

Yield differences in the comparative plots showed little difference. However, populations of greenbugs and yellow sugarcane aphids were lighter in this particular field. Results of the insecticides as related to yield were:

Treatment	Yield/acre
Check	2,952
Furidan	2,976
Counter	3,125
Timik	2,786

Systemic insecticides do work and work well if we experience infestations of insects early in the growing and development of grain sorghum. Stressed young plants have a definite effect on yield. Systemics may not be needed every year but they are certainly cost effective when we do have large populations of early insects.

Alfalfa production on rebound in area

Alfalfa production is making a comeback in many areas of North Texas. Acreage has dwindled over the past years for several reasons. Those being cotton root rot that reduces stands and the alfalfa weevil and its larvae that attack fields each spring. But with the emergence of the horse industry, there is a greater demand for alfalfa today than in past years.

Research over the past years has made strides in eliminating some of the production problems with alfalfa. An Alfalfa Production Seminar will be held Monday, August 13, at 7:30 p.m. at the Meeting Room in the Cooke County Electric Co-op on Highway 82 East of Muenster. Warren Thompson, a former Researcher and Consultant with North American Plant Breeders, will be the featured speaker. Thompson has spent his years working with alfalfa and other legumes. J.C. Green, with George Warner Seed Company, will also be on the program.

The Seminar is free and open to the public.

FARM & RANCH

Legislation to protect farmer in bankruptcies

Legislation has been signed into law in Washington to give farmers priority claim on their grain when it is stored in an elevator that goes bankrupt.

Passed as part of a broader bankruptcy bill, the legislation will protect farmers who in the past have seen their marketable assets either sold off to pay a bankrupt elevator's debts or held until it went bad in storage during lengthy court proceedings.

In the past, grain stored in an elevator has been treated as an asset of that elevator and been impounded when the elevator went bankrupt. Farmers who had crops stored in the elevator were treated as unsecured creditors, even when they produced receipts specifying the amount of grain they had stored.

"For three years I have joined with several of my Senate colleagues in trying to correct this injustice," Senator Lloyd Bentsen of Texas said in announcing the new law. "Four times we have managed to shepherd legislation through the Senate, only to see it stall in the House of Representatives. This year we prevailed."

Under the new law, farmers will be treated the same as other secured creditors.

DON'T KISS $8,938 GOODBYE

That's how much you could lose just on resale value if you don't buy a John Deere

Looking for a big discount when you buy a tractor? Don't get stuck with an even bigger discount when you want to trade.

Always consider resale value when you price a field tractor. Because the differences among brands may sometimes be bigger than ANY purchase incentive.

Compare John Deere with our two leading competitors. According to the Spring 1984 Official Guide of the National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association, the average 5-year-old John Deere 4440 sells for 106 percent of its 1979 list price. One leading competitor averages 87 percent of its 1979 list price. The other averages 73 percent.

What's that mean in dollars? Add the John Deere gain on original price to the competitor's loss. The John Deere advantage is as much as $8,938!

Is this only true of one model? No. Every 40 Series 90- to 180-hp tractor has an average resale price that's higher than its new price five years ago.

Is resale your only John Deere advantage? No. Don't forget the remarkable fuel efficiency of today's 50 Series John Deere Tractors. And don't forget our unmatched reputation for high quality and high reliability. See your John Deere dealer. He'll be happy to explain the big difference between a low-price tractor and a low-cost John Deere: 100-hp 4050, 120-hp 4250, 140-hp 4450, 165-hp 4650 or 190-hp 4850.

NOTE: Average resale prices taken from Spring 1984 Official Guide of The National Farm and Power Equipment Dealers Association.

Percentages calculated from best currently available information on 1979 list prices.
