VOLUME XLVIII MAY 18, 1984 MUENSTER COOKE COUNTY TEXAS 76252 USPS 367-660 TWENTY CENTS NUMBER 26

Since the Soviets announced their boycott of the summer olympics they have made a lot more progress than most of us expected, and it's beginning to seem they will recruit more dissenters before the registration deadline in early June.

If there was a doubt about motives, there can't be any more. It's obvious now that this is political, not just a matter of individual athletic groups deciding that they were likely to find our country objectionable to them. This has become an obvious case of power persuasion by Moscow in seeking the largest possible endorsement of Russia's ugly attitude to America.

If that's the case, we can be quite sure that the number of refusals will increase. After all, this is a sample of regular procedure in the UN. Russia gets powerful support every time it opposes U.S. in the organization and it can be expected to get comparable backing on this issue.

Up to Sunday, seven countries have rejected the invitation to attend. It's reached the point where Third World nations can hardly afford to do otherwise. They know it's safer in this red-dominated world to keep in step with the big red. Their number up to now includes USSR, Laos, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Bulgaria, Vietnam and Mongolia.

The absurdity about this whole farce is the silly reasons of those who decline. They, who live in constant exposure to the Red slave state, wail that they could not bear to send their athletes into such dangerous conditions. What a switch! But their attitude is explainable. They get their ideas from the endless red propaganda campaigns they hear. It's well known that average people there hear only the disinformation... glowing fiction about themselves and nothing but vice and failure about us. More of the official Soviet line criticizes high expense and commercialism and discrimination in U.S., plus extreme danger of exposure to American crime.

The last gripe seems particularly out of line because of Russia's involvement with global terrorism. Evidence is abundant on all sides that Moscow has ties with most of the world's terrorists. A reasonable guess is that it can usually give the order to kill or not to kill and actually would have more control over killing in America than our nation does.

Instead of the pretended concern for the welfare of Red athletes over here, the Russians likely are more worried about defections. Knowing the facts of human nature, they must realize that the athletes will observe and compare the life they left over there with our standards of freedom and comfort. The thought of the vast difference must have occurred to practical politicians. Attending as originally agreed could have been embarrassing.

Regardless of the motives this incident presents another occasion to wonder what is really happening and what more can be expected. Up to now the procedure is a replay from the UN. Satellites and emerging nations get the word from Moscow and dutifully fall in line. What they do and what they think do not mean as much as being in tune with Russia and eventually support it in another version of world power grabbing.

News of the day tells us that the Kremlin will not budge in its refusal to come to the '84 Olympics, however it has no intention to organize Olympics of its own. That's believable, because it does not have the time to put together a competing show. However this is not assurance that the Reds will refrain in future years. And if it does, we can be sure it will recruit the kind of allies it has in UN as members of its rebel Olympic group. Regardless of the political details it will be dominated by Moscow, as the UN is today.

President Reagan's attitude since the day he came to office is that U.S. is at the losing end of a power struggle with Russia, and it's high time to draw our line of defense. He learned long ago that detente is

Who's who at MHS. These are the students who received the number 1 awards in academic subjects at Muenster High's 1984 all awards banquet. MHS has annual awards banquet

Academic and athletic achievements at Muenster High School during the present school year were summarized and rewarded Friday at the school's annual year end banquet.

The event was different this time in that two students rather than one were named for the prestigious Hornet Hustler award. They were Kevin Owen and Paula Russell. Coach Peters said that the hard work, dedication and improvement on which candidates were judged applied to boys and girls alike, and especially to those chosen.

Other eagerly awaited choices were those of who's who, which concerned the leaders in academics. In each of seventeen categories three leading students were listed as nominees, after which one was named as the award winner. Superintendent Charles Coffey and Principal Eddie Green combined in the announcement and presentation.

In this listing the winners are named in capital letters and the two other nominees in lower case.

Advanced swim class booked

Muenster's annual swim classes in basic rescue and advanced life saving will be available for two weeks starting May 28 at the municipal pool. Both classes are sponsored by American Red Cross, the first to be taught by Serena Wright and the next by Kathy Hartman.

Basic Rescue is open to strong swimmers 11 years of age or older. It provides the individual with knowledge and skill enabling him to save his own life, to respond correctly in aquatic emergency, and to assist lifeguards in search and rescue procedures. It is a 5 day course taught by Serena Wright, May 28 - June 1, with 3 hours classes 9-12. Parental permission is required along with a $2.00 fee for handbooks. Advance registration is not necessary.

The advanced lifesaving class, taught by Kathy Hartman, is for 15 year or older swimmers. Its purpose is to impart knowledge and skill for one's own safety or to save lives. The course follows that of basic rescue, June 4 - 9, 9 to 12 a.m. Students who complete either of the courses will receive Red Cross certificates and badges. More information is available at 759-4497.

KC council shines at convention

Muenster's K of C council gave a good account of itself at the annual KC Convention in Waco, May 5-8.

It merited three awards on its records and a golf trophy to boot by its chaplain, Father Denis Soerries.

The principal prize was a community activity award to Dan Hamric and Ronnie Hess for promotion and management of the German Fun Run. This remarkable event of more than 4000 runners, conducted efficiently and rated outstanding in the state is regarded as a wonderful achievement. And it is also deserving, in that it is a benefit project with proceeds going to local charities and a youth program.

The report of this activity has been submitted to the state council for possible consideration by the supreme council for international honor.

The media award was for exceptional coverage of local council news in local newspaper and radio and occasionally in the Texas Knight.

Another award was for topping its quota of $5.00 per member to the Texas Deaf Fund. The council has surpassed this quota for several years.

Regarding the top golf prize, Father Denis was a member of the flight which finished No. 1 with a score of 6 under par. Father Denis was second in the convention tournament last year.

The Muenster KC Council returned with prizes from their recent attendance at the order's state convention. Chaplain Father Denis was one of the winning flight at a golf tournament. Rumpy Hess and Dan Hamric received an outstanding project plaque on the German Fun Run. Gilbert Hess and Ben Fleitman were recognized for media response to council activity and for topping the council's deaf fund quota.

Don't pooh-pooh Salvadorans

YES, EL Salvador is in the midst of a revolution, not in the Communist sense, but in the sense of the word — a dramatic transition from one form of government to another.

The large turnout for the recent elections is proof that the Salvadoran people want a democratic government which protects their rights and guarantees them the right to elect their own leaders. It would be naive, of course, to think this Latin American backwater will have U.S.-style democracy anytime soon. But still, the Salvadoran people know what it means to have a choice — and they're willing to die for that right.

At the same time, there is a massive amount of misinformation pouring into this country about the situation in El Salvador. Much of it is a result of the activities of the Committee in Support of the People of El Salvador (to which few, if any, Salvadorans belong), the World Peace Council, an arm of the Kremlin's propaganda machine, and a potpourri of leftist banner-carriers relieving the Vietnam era.

In reality, only about 10,000 people out of Salvador's population of five million are thought to be involved in the guerrilla movement. However, what makes this small group of guerrillas dangerous is the fact that their political terror activities are supported — directly and indirectly — by Cuba, Nicaragua and the Soviet Union. And the one thing most Salvadorans don't want is to become another Nicaragua — where a militantly Marxist revolutionary government runs a Latin police state that must be the envy of Moscow.

Some Americans, unfortunately, hold the Salvadoran people in contempt. There are those among us who feel one needs a Harvard Ph.D. to really appreciate democracy and the rule of law (and there aren't too many Harvard grads toiling over the land in El Salvador). To them the struggle in Salvador is a mere peasant uprising, as the leftist guerrillas attempt to "liberate" the country from its oppressive past. It's similar to Vietnam, they say.

Unfortunately, if we cut off U.S. aid as some in Congress are advocating, El Salvador probably will become another Vietnam. The Communists will take over; dissidents will be killed or driven out; and the U.S. will have another flood of unwilling refugees on its hands.

President Reagan is right, of course. Continued U.S. aid is vital in stemming the spread of communism in Central America.

A group of Salvadoran students recently in Washington told us that many of the horror stories repeated in the U.S. media about their country are simply not true. They said most of the voters in El Salvador understand the dilemma facing their country and cast ballots because not voting would be a vote for the guerrillas.

Certainly the Salvadoran political system and its institutions and people are not a sophisticated as those here at home. After all, the Salvadoran people by and large are peasants. They are struggling to survive — as people, as a nation.

Which probably makes it all the more important that we don't turn our backs on them. It's easy to feel morally superior; it's more difficult to help.

Low road to China

THE UNITED States appears headed for a much cozier relationship with the Peking government and another sellout of our longtime ally, the Republic of China (Taiwan). The prospect of an alliance with mainland Chinese warms the hearts of Republican politicians (who want the President to score a foreign policy "triumph" before the election) and big international corporations (who look forward to more trade with the mainland.)

But all the rice wine served at all the state banquets ever held in Peking cannot wash away the blood of the 34 to 64 million people killed by the communist Chinese. All the alliances ever made cannot ease the suffering of the Chinese people as long as they must live under one of the most repressive regimes the world has ever seen.

As many as 100,000 prisoners have been summarily executed in the recent "anti-crime" crackdown. The authorities use psychological torture to force confessions from criminal suspects and political prisoners.

When President Carter repudiated Taiwan and recognized the government of mainland China, Reagan said, "I've talked of our betrayal of the 17 million Chinese on Taiwan. Haven't we also betrayed millions and millions Chinese on the mainland who lived with a dream of one day regaining freedom? We have legitimized the denial of their human rights."

In 1979, he said it is "foolish to pretend that the regime in Peking is the actual government of Taiwan." In 1980, as a candidate, he said, "One of the things I look forward to most if I am successful in this election is to re-establish official relations between the United States government and Taiwan." Since taking office, however, the President has acknowledged the communists' claim that there is "one China," not two. He has made no effort to restore official relations with Taiwan and he has promised to abandon our ally by stopping all arms sales to Taiwan at some point in the future.

He can help the Chinese by encouraging their government to expand its experiments in free enterprise and to allow a diversity of opinion to be expressed. Aid from the United States — financial, military, or otherwise — should depend on how far China moves toward a free society.

The Red Chinese ask us to overlook their battles with American forces during the Korean War, in which 54,000 Americans were killed. They ask us to overlook the Chinese supplies that enabled Ho Chi Minh to fight the Vietnam War, in which 58,000 Americans were killed; their support (for many years) of the Soviet empire; and their huge recent sales of weapons to the Ayatollah Khomeini, who threatens to cut off our supply of oil from the Middle East.

If they want any help from us, we should expect a lot of return — not just for us, but for their own people.

Otherwise, it will be obvious that Washington's foreign policy establishment is selling out a loyal ally in order to forge an alliance with one of the cruelest gangs of cutthroats in history. And we will again show Taiwan — and the rest of the world — just how dangerous it is to be a friend of the United States.

Praise the Lord, Part 1

SOMEONE HAS said the way we learn is to worship God, walk with God, work for God, or work with God. This message, taken from a sermon by T.D. Hall, tells about something God wants you to do, created you to do, told you to do, and when you do it you get blessed. You always get blessed when you obey Him, and God's word teaches that we should praise Him. Wherever you are, you can praise God, because He's the same yesterday, today, and forever. If you can praise Him now you can praise Him tomorrow because He's the same in the valley as He is on a mountain top. In fact, you cannot go anywhere that He is not there. Go to the highest mountain, He's there; go into the darkness, He's there. So you can praise the Lord anywhere. "By him therefore let us offer the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, the fruit of our lips giving thanks to his name" (Hebrews 13:15). This verse tells us a lot of things. "By him," that's Jesus, "offer the sacrifice of praise to God." How? "Continually." And it says we do it with our lips. It's not any of that silent stuff.

You just go ahead and say it, out loud, and praise the Lord continually. Look at Psalm 150. This whole Psalm is talking about praising the Lord. The first five verses say: "Praise ye the Lord. Praise God in his sanctuary: praise him in the firmament of his power. Praise him for his mighty acts: praise him according to his excellent greatness. Praise him with the sound of trumpet: praise him with the psaltery and harp. Praise him with the timbrel and dance: Praise him with stringed instruments and organs. Praise him upon the loud cymbals: praise him upon the high sounding cymbals." If you have anything around the house, you can praise Him. I guess you could beat tin cans together and praise Him.

Some of you say, "Well, I'm just not an extrovert. That may be alright for some people, but that's not my gift." Frankly, friend, it is everybody's gift. I'm going to tell you right now whether or not you ought to praise God. If you have any doubts about who should praise God, verse 6 says, "Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord." All you have to do is just feel your pulse. If it's beating, you ought to be praising God.

Why does the Lord want us to praise Him? Well, He created us to praise Him and God wants approval. It's alright to get approval, because God Himself wants approval. He made us to praise Him. He made us for His own glory. How much glory is God getting out of your life? God wants every creature to praise Him. It says, "Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord." You say, "Well, I don't feel like it." You can choose to do it because God told you to do it. He told you to do it with your lips. He told you to do it out loud. He told you to do it continually. He told you to do it through Jesus. Just because He is alive we ought to do it. Why praise the Lord? Because it glorifies Him.

Dear Editor,
Where is Gary Lantz? I have missed his excellent writing the last two weeks and trust that his essays will appear again. I want to congratulate your paper on the addition of his articles with style, sensitivity and literary flair. Each one gives a new slant for reflection and appreciation of our surroundings and heritage. Thank you for the new COMMENT column.
Sincerely,
Barbara Pybas

Editor's Note:
We at The Enterprise appreciate the compliment on Gary's skillful writing, and we're proud to add that we have received similar comments. However, we regret that he left us to join the staff of a nature magazine in Arkansas, a position that is more suited to his talent. He made the change in early April.

From the Publisher:
Did I do that?
It's no good excuse, but I claim real absent-mindedness in thinking of one word last week and writing down a completely different word. Therefore I sincerely apologize to Susan Walterscheid, Craig Felderhoff and Muenster State Bank for incorrectly naming Susan and Craig Saluatorians in the Bank's congratulatory ad. They are this year's Valedictorians!
Congratulations!

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor,
President Reagan has declared May 13-19 National Police Week. During this time, we honor those men and women who daily risk their lives to protect us from violent crime. The Congress should show its gratitude to these officers by passing the Law Enforcement Officers Protection Act. This legislation, sponsored by Senator Daniel Patrick Moynihan and Congressman Mario Biaggi (a 23-year veteran of the New York City Police Department who was wounded 10 times in the line of duty), would ban the manufacture and sale of cop-killer bullets — ammunition designed to penetrate the bulletproof vests worn by police. The bill would also require a mandatory jail sentence for using cop-killer bullets in a crime. Handgun Control has joined the nation's police in urging Congress to pass this common-sense measure. Already 200 Senators and Representatives have endorsed the bill. But the National Rifle Association has launched a multi-million dollar campaign to defeat the measure. We urge citizens across America to contact their legislators during Police Week and ask them to support the cop-killer bullet ban. It's time the Congress stood up to the misguided NRA.
Sincerely,
Barbara Lautman

the Russian formula of giving Russia its way in the global struggle, so he has sought free world cooperation in a bid for free world survival. It's possible that Russia's Olympic caper could be its way of sending a more forceful kind of statement. If so, this is high time for us of the U.S. to learn what the score really is in the global game. And it's also time for the remaining free countries to stand up and choose their destiny.

Rohmer, Larkin exchange vows

Mr. and Mrs. Gary W. Rohmer are on a wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec City, Canada following their marriage in Sacred Heart Church on Saturday, May 12. When they return they will be at home in Dallas.

The bride is the former Robin Lynn Larkin, daughter of Lt. Col. (ret.) and Mrs. Lawrence G. Larkin of Fort Worth and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban W. Rohmer of Muenster. Father Victor Gillespie O.S.B.

officiated for the traditional exchange of vows with double ring ceremony and Nuptial Mass at 5 p.m.

In a setting created by arrangements of white gladioli tied with lavender bows; heart-shaped, tall floor candelabra entwined with ivy and holding dozens of lighted slim white tapers; with baskets of Boston fern at the steps leading to the altar, and also placed at the sides of the altar, the bride was presented by her father.

For her wedding she chose a gown of candlelight silked organza and Alencon lace designed for Bianchi. The molded bodice was fashioned of Alencon lace over organza and re-embroidered with clusters of seed pearls. A yoke of English net was outlined in scallops of lace, and featured scattered pearls and a wedding-band collar of lace. Long, tapered sleeves were fashioned of English net with scattered appliques of beaded lace, and closed at the wrist with a border of lace. The organza skirt fell from a natural waistline to carpet length and swept into a cathedral train with an irregular border of lace enhancing the hemline.

Her veil of sheer illusion fell from a coil covered with beaded lace matching her gown, and extending beyond the train of the gown.

She carried her flowers in a bridal spray of white lilies of the valley, white stephanotis, purple forget-me-nots and English ivy. For "something old" she wore her Aunt Dorothy's graduated pearls and "borrowed" a ruby ring from her mother.

Attendants

Carol Hancock of Fort Worth, a friend of the bride was maid of honor; and bridesmaids were Nancy Brown of Las Vegas and Susan Johnson of Denver, both sisters of the bride and Barbara Buchanan of Quantico, Virginia a friend.

They were gowned alike in the bride's chosen color, a lovely soft shade of aubergine chiffon fashioned with a double flounce neckline draping into a back low cut effect. The fitted bodice was attached to a graceful skirt sweeping to floor length. They each wore a delicate pink flower wreath in their hair and carried cream colored roses with deep lavender forget-me-nots and ivy.

Brian Rohmer, groom's brother was ring bearer.

Alan Rohmer was his brother's best man and Curtis Rohmer, a brother, Lloyd Reiter and Jeff Dickey, friends, were groomsmen.

David Reel, Hector Quintanilla, Blake Smith and Robert Ricketts all friends of the groom were ushers.

Wayne Becker, groom's cousin and Keith Klement a friend were Mass servers.

The wedding liturgy included the bride's chosen readings, given by Sharon Rohmer and Kathy Rohmer, sisters of the groom.

The couple lit their unity candle after recitation of vows. The bride also presented roses to her mother and the groom's mother.

Providing wedding music were organist Russ Huetie of Dallas; and singers Grant Williams and Mary Brandesjky both of Denton; and Mary Beth Crouch and Kathy Rohmer of Dallas and Pat Brewer of Houston, all friends of the bride.

The preludes, as guests were seated, included "Follow Me", "My Cup Runneth Over" and "Sunrise, Sunset."

The processional, for entrance of the attendants and bride, were Bach's "Wachet Auf" and Mouret's "Rondeau."

Preceding the Nuptial Blessing, the "Lord's Prayer," by Malotte, was sung by Grant Williams. As the couple placed a rose in tribute to the Blessed Mother, Schubert's "Ave Maria" was sung. The recessional by organist Russ Huetie was "God of Grace" by Manz.

Reception

A reception, dinner and dance followed in the Sacred Heart Community Center.

Cindy Cendric and Lisa Ratliff friends of the couple secured guests signatures in the bride's book.

The white wedding cake, by Della Rose Voth was three tiered, with a ceramic bridal figurine in pillars between the top and middle layers, and with fresh lavender carnations on top. Additional heart shaped cakes at each side held fresh flowers within the centers of the hearts.

The groom's cake was German sweet chocolate. Reception assistants and cake servers were Sharon Luke, Lisa Ratliff, Pat Brewer and Mary Crouch.

Decorations were by Mrs. Arnold Knabe. The bride's white covered table held lotus bowls with white candles and flowers in the bride's chosen colors of white and shades of lavenders and purples. A floral centerpiece repeated the colors. White lace caught into scallops with bows, draped the table. Large white wicker baskets of matching flowers stood on the floor. A beautiful wall decoration above the bride's table featured an Austrian pouf curtain over a simulated window, with swags of orchid tulle on either side, caught up by purple bows. White wicker disks with two hearts and flowers were "window" highlights.

Suspended from the ceiling over the guest tables was a white wicker bird cage with a wide ring of flowers in the bride's chosen colors. A simulated white net bridal veil floated from the center decoration to the east wall. A white lace umbrella filled with flowers centered the gift table. Guest tables covered in white, with center band of the bride's chosen color, also held white lace baskets of flowers in three colors of lavender and purple, and hurricane globes, candles and flower rings.

Rohmer's Restaurant catered the dinner and guests danced to music by Mike Otts.

Rehearsal Dinner

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner at The Center. A display shower was held on Sunday May 6.

Among wedding guests from out of town were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald G. Larkin and the groom's grandfather Jake Kuhn. Also the groom's uncle and aunt Al and Marianne Kuhn of Houston and George and Sharon Luke of Corpus Christi. Also relatives and friends of the couple from Shreveport, Ft. Worth, Houston, Dallas and Denton.

The bride is a graduate of Western Hills High School and North Texas State University with a B.B.A. in Finance and is studying for a Master of Science degree in Accounting at NTSU. She is employed by Interfirst Corp. in Dallas and is an Internal Auditor, CMA.

The groom is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School and holds both, Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Accounting from NTSU. He is a tax accountant for Coopers and Lybrand, Dallas office.

Both spouses need to drive

After many years of being a two-car family, older couples often settle for one car.

And who drives? Mile after mile, short trip or long, the husband does the driving. Seldom does the wife get behind the wheel except to run to the grocery store or to a club meeting, says Texas

A&M University Agricultural Extension Aging Specialist Dr. Judith Warren.

Some wives simply stop driving and fail to renew their driver's license. During those years driving skills and confidence are lost, along with competence to maneuver in freeway traffic.

Fleitman baptism

Paul Joseph Fleitman, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fleitman, was baptized in Sacred Heart Church by Father Victor Gillespie, OSB on Sunday, May 13, 1984 at 12:30 p.m.

Baptismal sponsors were an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Yosten. The infant wore a christening robe made by his mother and godmother.

Special gifts blessed at the ceremony were a baby bead rosary and crucifix, gifts from the godparents.

When their husbands become ill or they are widowed, these wives may become stranded and dependent, although they may remain in good health and have a car in the garage.

Typically, these isolated widows do not venture out very much unless someone providing transportation insists," Warren observes.

"Neither do they see their physician, hairdresser or friends as often as they should, because they no longer drive."

Preceding the ceremony, the baby's parents hosted dinner in their home. Attending were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Fleitman and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Knabe, Sr., uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Knabe and cousins Jeff and Jeremy Yosten, and Allen, Lonnie and Jason Knabe.

"Maintaining driving skills may be essential to the wife's independence after a husband dies. Thoughtful husbands will help their wives keep up their driving skills and keep them informed on auto maintenance routines," she believes.

"Knowing how to check the oil level, tire pressure, battery fluid level, and mileage between routine servicing may not convert wives or widows to do-it-yourself minor maintenance. It will, however, help them know what has to be done and how often, says the specialist.

Friday May 18 is Country Music night

The public is invited to attend a Country Music Concert in the Community Center on Friday, May 18 at 8 p.m. starring, in person, Radio and TV Star Joe Paul Nichols and His Five Pennies, plus Dale Lay, in the best of entertainment. The concert is sponsored by the Senior Citizens of Muenster. Young and old are invited. Tickets are, adults, in advance $2.00, and at the door, $2.50. Also children $1.50 in advance, at the door $2.00.

The thoughtful husband will insist that his wife drive at least half the time, even in freeway traffic, so that, if necessary, she can become a competent widow, Warren says.

"And who knows? She may need those driving skills to rush him to the hospital in a medical emergency and thereby save his life," she notes.

Immunization clinic scheduled May 23

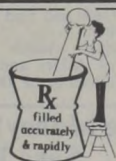

The Texas Department of Health Region 5 Office in Arlington announces an immunization clinic to be held at Sacred Heart Community Center on Wednesday, May 23, 1984 from 10:00 to 12:00 noon. The clinic will provide immunization against Diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis (DTP), Polio, Rubella (red measles) and Rubella (German measles), for infants 2 months through 18 year.

Medical fund opens for Sicking twins

A fund has been opened at Muenster State Bank, for Travis Joseph Sicking, infant son of Shawna and Bill Sicking. The fund is known as the "Sicking Twins Fund." Anyone wishing to participate is invited to place deposits at Muenster State Bank.

All children under 18 years must have an informed consent form read and signed by the parent or legal guardian. If possible, the parent should accompany the child to the clinic. Immunization records should accompany the child to the clinic and be examined by the Public Health Nurse who will answer any questions.

The Department makes no charge for the immunizations. Since these diseases can be quite harmful, each parent or guardian is encouraged to protect their children from them. "Persons who have private physicians should consult with them for advice," stated Hal J. Dewlett, M.D., Director, Public Health Region 5.

3 Mothers honored at party

Three special mothers were honored Saturday afternoon along with all the mothers at Frontier Manor Nursing Home. A Mother's Day party was held to honor the oldest mother, the youngest mother and the mother with the most children.

He related that Mrs. Jarvis gave a carnation to everyone who attended a memorial service for her mother. The present-day custom of wearing either a red or white carnation on Mother's Day is probably related to that incident.

Vickie Helton presented a corsage to Granny Henry, who, at 106 years is the oldest; Kari Kaiser presented a corsage to Mary Grundy as the mother with the most children, twelve; and to Frances Sollers for being the youngest, at 60 years of age.

Following the program Saturday afternoon, refreshments were served to family, friends, residents and staff.

The Youth Group from Hillcrest Church of Christ presented a Mother's Day program. Pat Sharp read a short history of Mother's Day, referring to Anna M. Jarvis who spent many years encouraging the national observance of the day.

On Mother's Day, Sunday, May 13, Open House was held at Frontier Manor. Many mothers were out for the day, visiting family members. Those unable to go, enjoyed more than 100 visitors. Refreshments were served.

Louise Leaton, activity director invites everyone to visit. She said "Don't wait for open house. You are always welcome."

Brownies visit Frontier Manor

Brownie Troop 113 of Whitesboro visited residents of Frontier Manor in Gainesville on Thursday, May 10. The Brownies came to sing and entertain with songs they learned in scouting, under the leadership of Mrs. April Green, an employee of Frontier Manor, an LVN on the day shift.

Those who came to sing were Teresa Simms, Shelly Gimbell, Marcie Haddock, Erin Bannister, April Nelson, Terry Richards, Donna Mastin, Deborah Martin, Willie Warford, Kelly Case, Stacy Neek, and Amanda Jane Green.

The girls visited with residents who enjoyed it very much. To conclude their visit, the girls gave their day camp cheer.

On Tuesday, May 8, the gentlemen from "The Nora Stanley Mission Group" of the First Baptist Church in Gainesville visited with residents, and brought fresh bananas to all here at Frontier Manor. Everyone enjoyed them very much. "These men do many good things around our town" said Louise Leaton, social activities director. "Mr. Doyce Cook is the group leader."

They will be participating in the junior and senior Olympics to be held at Gainesville Convalescent Center on May 19. ARA National Living Centers are sponsoring the event.

track, and also looked forward eagerly and confidently following this year's improvement.

Your outlook is brightened by marvelous possibilities, he said; don't foul them up.

A number of organizations and their offices, along with this year's records were likewise recognized. Included were the FHA, FFA, band, cheerleaders, student council, national honor society, national junior honor society, Los Jovenes club, and the class officers.

Speaking in behalf of the school board, Dennis Hess congratulated students who received the awards and praised those who tried but got no prizes. He assured them that their efforts were not wasted. He also asked for involvement in and support of the school...a good school with excellent curriculum, wholesome atmosphere and cooperative parents.

David Fette of the class of '70 was the master of ceremonies. The program opened with an invocation by JoEll Hellman, remarks and welcome by Jane Monday and response by Renate Hess. Superintendent Charles Coffey and Principal Eddie Green presented awards after which Mr. Coffey expressed the school's appreciation to the PTO, the band parents and quarterback club, individuals who have been particularly helpful during the years, as well as the school's official family: principals, teachers, maintenance personnel and trustees.

David Fette ended his appearance with praise to all who merited the awards and encouraged to put more and more effort into their student careers. He further suggested adding a subject where possible, or an extra hour of work to one's course. The effort will be rewarded by added knowledge and skill and very likely by added opportunity.

Texas Greco-Roman fest set for May 26

The Third Annual Texas Greco-Roman Festival will open on Saturday, May 26, for six weekends and Memorial Day through July 1, in a beautiful oak forest just 30 miles northeast of Dallas between Rockwall and Terrell. Last year's favorite entertainment events will return, plus many new attractions for this year's fun.

Festival visitors to ride.

The Festival will have exciting chariot racing on the Circus Maximus racing track. Caesar has commanded camel racing on the Circus Maximus. Each day of the Festival there will be two camel races using Bactrian (2 humped) camels. Also there will be two dromedary camels (1 hump) for

The Texas Greco-Roman Festival features over 100 shows each day, everything from a magician, Harvey the Druid, escaping from a padlocked, water-filled barrel to comic gods and goddesses to classical Greek theatre. New for this year will be a very funny original Roman melodrama starring Cleopatra. "Love Among The Pyramids, or Everything you always wanted to know about Antony and Cleopatra but were afraid to ASP" will be performed at the new tree canopied amphitheatre stage. Delicious Greek and Italian food is also an important part of the Festival. This year the Festival's Greek pastry chef is adding a new baklava. He has taken the traditional baklava (thin layers of filo pastry, honey, and nuts) and made it even more delightful by lacing chocolate through the layers of filo.

which provides a lot of shade and plenty of cool places to sit. "Everyone is invited to join the fun in our oak forest," says Caesar.

Quality artists from all over the country will again show their work at the Texas Greco-Roman Festival. Some of the new art includes "Wee Peeple", (18 inch tall, free-standing soft sculpture caricatures), beautiful weavings, lace-making, sculptures of mythology and fantasy characters and quality leather clothing.

Attends teacher convention

Climbing the towering 21 foot tall Trojan Horse and fighting in the Trojan War are very popular features of the Festival. Water jousting, the Troy Town Maze and the Olympic Training Course will be just some of the fun new games at this year's Festival.

Phyllis Coffey of the Muenster Public School and Jean Roberg of the Gainesville school system were delegates Friday and Saturday of the Association of Texas Professional Educators (ATPE) at a state convention in McAllen. The meeting was featured by speeches of all eight candidates for the US Senate. Mrs. Coffey is county president of ATPE during this and the next school year.

The Texas Greco-Roman Festival is the perfect summer holiday for the entire family. A very enjoyable aspect of the Festival is the beautiful oak forest,

Muenster-Gainesville ex-gridders battle

Football exes of Muenster and Gainesville had a big time last Saturday night bumping heads and making bruises in a hot encounter on Sacred Heart's field. Some fifty players were here for the two teams and spectators too made up a sizeable crowd.

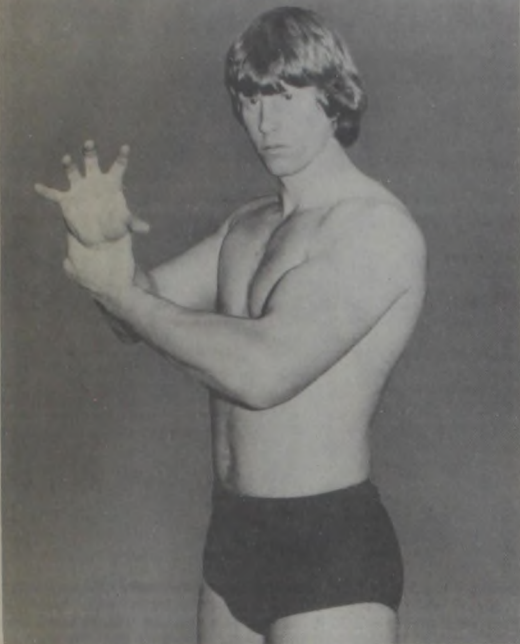

The bad news for Muenster, however, was being at the short end of a 14-0 score. Both touchdowns were made in the first quarter. The first one came on Gainesville's first offensive play, a pass completion of about 40 yards. The next one was good for about 20 yards. A 2 point conversion failed after the first TD and was good after the second.

Another Big G effort failed in the fourth when Muenster defense stood pat at the 4 yard line. Otherwise the game was mostly defensive.

Gainesville had 22 men in uniform, Muenster had 29, about a dozen reporting on the day of the game without practice.

Virgil Henscheid as coach directed the efforts of this group of Muenster exes in their Saturday night tussle with football exes of Gainesville, who triumphed by a 14-0 count.

Three Tigerettes play in Dr. Pepper all-star contest

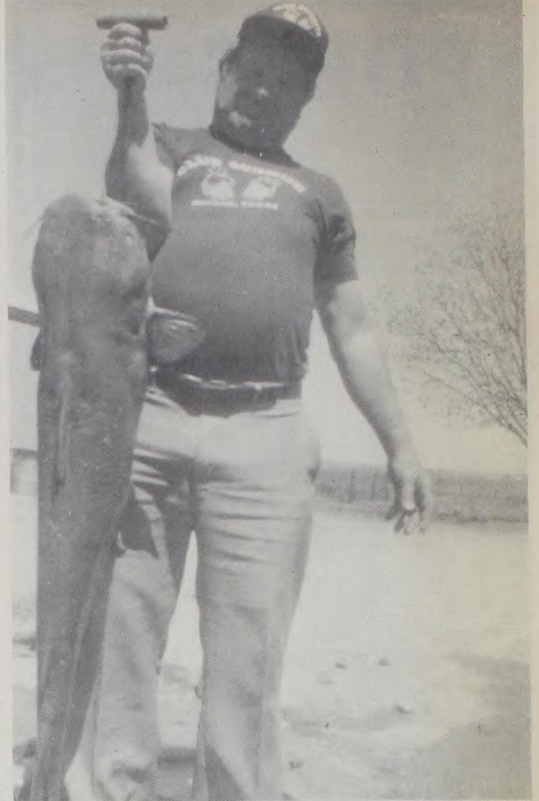

Three Sacred Heart girls associated with the top high school talent of North Texas in an all-star game sponsored by Dr. Pepper at Sherman last week Thursday. Though the experience was pleasing the score was not. Susan Walterscheid, Marilyn Hartman and Anne Felderhoff played on the West team, losing 76-58.

Individual stats for the SH girls were: Walterscheid 4 points, 1 steal, 7 rebounds, 4 blocks; Hartman 4 points, 2 steals, 3 rebounds; Felderhoff 3 points, 1 steal.

Other schools represented on the West team are Denison, Howe, Celina, Honey Grove, Plano, Frisco, Savoy. East players were from Whitesboro, Plano, Farmersville, Frisco, Sherman, Van Alstyne, McKinney and Tom Bean.

Three Tigerettes participate in the Dr. Pepper all-star game as the final action in their high school basketball careers. They are Marilyn Hartman, Anne Felderhoff and Susan Walterscheid.

During a reunion of Fuhrmann families, traditionally held on Easter Monday, when fishing is the main preoccupation, Father Nicholas Fuhrmann caught this 35 lb. catfish on a rod and reel, to mark the 1984 reunion. He delighted in reminding nephews that this record-breaker was almost five lbs. heavier than any previously caught on Easter Monday reunions. This picture is shared by Mrs. Joe Fuhrmann of Rt. 2 Gainesville.

New TCIL rule permits varsity attendance at summer camp

The following changes in TCIL summer camp regulations are submitted by Coach Jon LeBrasseur to athletes and parents of Sacred Heart School concerning attendance camp.

At the Spring Executive Board meeting the Texas Christian Inter-scholastic League adopted the UIL regulations governing summer athletic participation with exceptions which govern summer camps in volleyball, football, and basketball for varsity participants.

mer leagues with the following changes.

II. Summer Camp Regulation Exception for T.C.I.L. - Previous Varsity Participants - Volleyball, Football and Basketball.

A. A student who has participated in varsity athletic competition in football, basketball or volleyball may attend a summer camp for no more than 14 days in the same sport.

B. A coach may not directly or indirectly work with any student from his school at a summer camp.

C. No more than 7 previous varsity competitors from one school may attend the same football camp at the same time.

No more than 4 previous varsity competitors from one school may attend the same volleyball camp at the same time.

No more than 3 previous varsity competitors from one school may attend the same basketball camp at the same time.

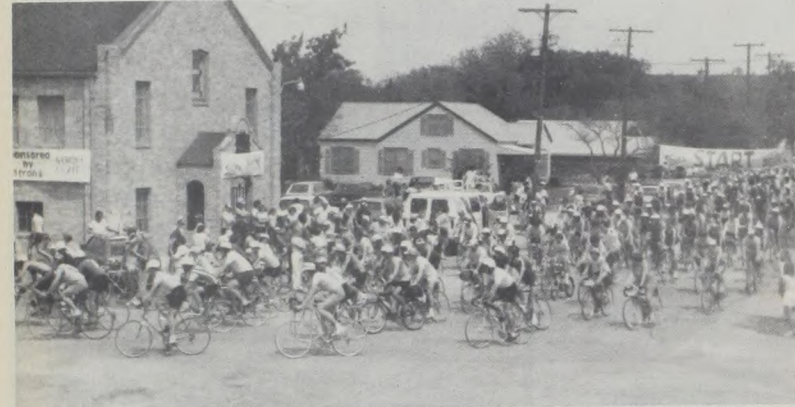

D. The penalty for violation of this rule may include ineligibility in designated sports for athletes for one year, and/or disqualification of a team in a sport for one year from date of executive board action.

Coaches should:

1. Appraise varsity athletes of regulations.
2. Warn varsity athletes that the UIL does not allow varsity athletes to attend camps. Athletes considering transferring to a public school should follow the UIL restriction.

This is a great step for the T.C.I.L. as it will allow our athletes the opportunity to expose themselves to college coaches and campuses throughout the United States.

Banquet ends junior high year

Junior high students of Muenster Public School ended the year in style Friday night at a recognition and awards banquet rewarding athletic and academic achievements.

It was held in the MHS gymnasium with Andy Cherry as the master of ceremonies and opened with an invocation by Brian Hess and a welcome by Principal Eddie Green in the absence of PTO president Lupe Evans. Darla Bindel responded and the junior high band presented three of its popular numbers while the PTO served a burger supper. Then Eddie Green introduced the administration and junior high faculty.

Next on the program were introductions of teams by coaches Charles Meurer and Alan Gustine, both especially pleased with the records and proud to promote the youngsters to next year's high school teams. Meurer was in charge of football and boys' track, Gustine in charge of boys' and girls' basketball. JoAnn Pagel introduced cheerleaders and the pep squad.

Other introductions involved UIL literary participation. Phyllis Coffey did the honors for spelling and oral reading entries. Eddie Green for ready writing and number sense entries. And Jon Ward named the band members. Bob Gross and Theresa Walterscheid presented class favorites and officers of eighth and seventh grades respectively. Finally, Nancy Perryman named members of the National Junior Honor Society, and Michael Pagel recited the benediction.

During the program Andy Cherry delighted the crowd with humorous references to events of the school year and closed with an inspirational message "living with a purpose."

Hornet Hustlers

Paula Russell and Kevin Owen share the honor of the 1984 Hornet Hustler title at Muenster High. The double selection is a departure from custom at MHS. Previously the choice was an individual, either boy or girl.

Trustees retain Hellman as president

Trustees of Muenster ISD, in their first meeting since the school board election, canvassed ballots and declared the re-election of Leon Klement to Position No. 3 and Dale Klement to Position No. 4, then administered oaths of office and re-elected officers to their previous positions. Those on D.J. Hellman, president; Harold Bindel, vice-president; Dennis Hess, secretary, Richard Pagel and Gerald Walterscheid, trustees.

First action of the board was to appoint Superintendent Coffey as Muenster ISD representative serving on Region XI Education Service Center Joint Committee for the 84-85 school year.

Next the board recommended approval of a contract with the Region service center for film-media services next year. This is the service which weekly provides films, slides, tapes and various other educational aids to the area at a cost of $1.50 per student.

Further concerning Region XI, the board recommended approval of a long range plan for gifted education and participation of local students in the program. Currently the local program has 11 students in grades 3-4-5, and the goal is to add all grades through high school in five years. Gerri Colwell is the teacher, and the student's work is additional to that of regular classes.

In keeping with a statewide upgrading program that has been developing for two years, the Muenster board adopted several curriculum changes to become effective as soon as possible. Details of the entire program will be published at an early date.

Finally the trustees turned their attention to the annual summer maintenance program, which includes fix-ups and additions. Some of those are a copying machine in high school, air conditioning in additional classrooms, an suspended ceiling with fluorescent fixtures in the main corridor, and 282 feet of curb on Seventh from existing curb to the football parking lot. This is to get the street in condition for a later paving project.

Those projects are in the planning stage. Others, already approved, are paint at the football concessions stand, also at two elementary restrooms and a hall adjoining the kindergarten; plus curb for the track's broadjump and triple jump and a retaining wall followed by dirt fill and sodding to control erosion south of the football field. Other maintenance on buildings and grounds are to be added where needed.

Baccalaureate urges God's way

It's difficult to be a Christian nowadays, but it pays.

That was the essence of the message conveyed to Muenster High graduates by Father Victor Gillespie at their baccalaureate service in MHS auditorium Sunday night.

He presented a word picture of modern materialistic standards which seek self gratification and feel cheated when they don't get what they want; in which a car is regarded a status symbol rather than a means of transportation, in which many judge the other person by what he has instead of what he is, who live by peer pressure...doing things because everybody does them...who disregard morality and accept the way of the majority as a guide in their lives.

Such are the ways of empty lives, without the satisfaction and self respect of living God's way. Father Victor asserted that doing something because it's right has a reward for greater than is to be found in gratifying selfish desires; also that one finds immense peace in the belief that God is the summation of all good and cares more for us than we can imagine. There is still more satisfaction in the thought that we get a definite uplift from worshipping God.

Father Victor's suggestion to attain the better life is to forget about the worldly ways and seek God's way. Seek a complete understanding of His goodness and go with Him in bringing comfort to others. Keep in mind that "whatever you do for the least of these you do for me."

That vision apparently was the inspiration for Father's parting thought: "Parents, don't give up."

Others on the baccalaureate program were Renate Hess and Jill Wimmer in the invocation and benediction, and Mrs. Ann Green in the processional and recessional.

WITH AVERAGE BILLING, YOUR ELECTRIC BILL WILL BE ABOUT THE SAME EACH MONTH.

Everyone knows electric bills go up and down throughout the year. Some months they're low. Some months they're higher, depending on how much electricity you use.

But for most of us there aren't any highs and lows in our monthly income. It's pretty much the same from month to month. So, balancing the monthly budget can be a problem.

Well, Texas Power and Light Company has an answer. It's the Average Billing Plan. And each month after you join, you'll pay an average of your monthly electric bills over the past twelve months. No more ups and downs.

Of course, you're still paying for all the electricity you use. But with average billing, your electric bills will be about the same each month. So budgeting will be that much easier.

If you want to know more about our Average Billing Plan, call your local TP&L office today.

Lindsay council rejects gas rate hike

Lindsay's city council at its meeting Monday declined to approve Lone Star Gas Company's request for a 10.2 percent rate increase. Instead it offered an 8.5 percent increase, which the company took under consideration.

avored an early start on drainage problems especially a difficult project on 4th street for which it expects to apply for a state grant.

The council also appointed Richard Hundt to the planning and zoning commission, succeeding Bill Dulock. And it approved a raise for the chief of police following completion of six months of duty, which becomes effective May 16.

And duties to the council members were assigned as follows by Mayor Joe Bezner: Street repair, David Arendt; Park upkeep, Earl Cunningham; Sewage and meter reading, Wilbert Block; Police commissioner, Ronnie Krebs.

Do you have an investment that can

Double in 6 years
Triple in 9½ years
Quadruple in 11 years

Zero Coupon Bonds from Prudential-Bache Securities can. How? Zeros are purchased for a fraction of their face value. And instead of paying interest periodically, the interest is automatically reinvested and compounded over the life of the bond. The effects of this compounding are quite dramatic. For example, a $350 initial investment would grow to $1,000 in as little as 9½ years.

Lorch Company adds new high style dress line

The Lorch Co. has added a new dress line under the name of Barboglio by Christina and Jan, a line of high style dresses for the young, tall American woman.

Barboglio sales are growing astronomically at this time. The Company has made the decision to increase their employees at the Gainesville Plant to help handle the growth of the new line.

Founded in 1909 by August Lorch, the company is easily the oldest privately owned manufacturer of women's apparel in Dallas, as well as in the Southwest. Its history is colorful and is based on a philosophy of quality and service.

Today, operations have expanded to many regions within the state. Everything is designed and cut in Dallas and is shipped and sewn in four Texas factories located in Cleburne, West, Gainesville, and Decatur.

BUSINESS

Comanche Peak is near ready

Construction of the Comanche Peak nuclear plant's first unit is virtually completed and the Nuclear Regulatory Commission considers September a possible time for fuel loading at the plant, a Texas Power & Light Co. executive said today.

Mike Murphy, manager of the TP&L district office at Gainesville, noted that a key NRC official said plant operation might be closer in time than previous estimates by the agency had indicated.

Thomas Ippolito, director of a special NRC team reviewing regulation of plant construction, said Texas Utilities Co. had persuaded the NRC team to modify its previous prediction that fuel would be loaded in April, 1985.

Ippolito said the NRC will continue close monitoring of construction progress at the plant.

"Unit 1 of Comanche Peak is 97 percent complete at the moment," Murphy said. He said the vast majority of work at the plant has been accomplished and no remaining work items required for fuel load entail major construction efforts.

He said that 313 of the plant's 332 systems and subsystems have been turned over to a "startup" team for testing. More than 70 percent of startup tests have been completed, he said.

Murphy noted that factors beyond the control of the company, which is the primary owner of the Comanche Peak facility, still could affect the fuel load date.

Murphy said that the utility has estimated that $23 million a month would be spent unnecessarily if the Comanche Peak plant is completed and sitting idle without producing electricity.

Unit 1 of Comanche peak is one of two 1,150-megawatt generating units being built near Glen Rose in Somervell County.

Startup testing and final construction work required for fuel load are scheduled for completion by mid-August and September, respectively. The containment building for Unit 1 is essentially complete, with some detail work yet to be done and final painting of its interior under way.

Murphy said that the remaining work to be completed at Unit 1 consists primarily of items that are architectural or those that have no relation to the actual system that will generate power.

He said that an earlier NRC estimate that the plant would not load fuel until April, 1985, was based on a quick study of the Comanche Peak construction program. He said additional information provided the NRC had answered many of the federal agency's concerns about construction progress at the plant.

"The people and businesses of our service area need assurance that Comanche Peak's capacity will come on line," Murphy said. He noted that the year 1986 would see projected reserve capacity for the Texas Utilities System fall below an adequate level for reliable service without Comanche Peak or some other plants of similar capacity.

Second quarter tax is due June 15

Some wage earners and other individuals who have income other than wages may be required to make estimated tax payments, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Generally, if you have income, with no tax withheld, of more than $500 and you expect to owe at least $400 on this year's return, you are liable for filing a declaration of estimated tax and for making payments.

Just like withholding by employers, the IRS says, estimated taxes are paid in advance of the actual tax return, Form 1040, due for the year. Estimated taxes are normally paid in four installments.

For 1984, the four estimated tax installment dates are: April 16, 1984; June 15, 1984; September 17, 1984; and January 16, 1985.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Bagworms are those small worms that we generally don't pay too much attention to until we see the characteristic bag on a tree. When we see the bag it's too late for effective control with an insecticide. The bag will serve as a protective cover for the developing insect and also the egg.

Now is the time to begin watching for these tiny worms. They will be about 1/2 of an inch long or much smaller if just hatched. They will feed on the foliage of most trees, especially junipers. As they feed they develop a bag from silk and leaves of trees they attack.

If you had bagworms last year, chances are you will have them again. Their eggs are laid in the bag and hatch in the early summer. Hand picking and destroying the bag is very effective in control but we don't always find time to do this. Check now for the feeding larvae and use a spray containing malathion, Sevin, Dylox or Dipel (Bacillus thuringiensis). Bacillusthuringiensis or BT is a biological insect control that works well on many types of worms in gardens and ornamentals.

Homeowners should be planning now for spraying of pecan nut casebearers. Best predictions indicate two sprays will be needed and the first should be applied June 1 with second spray cover of trees on June 7. Use Malathion, Sevin, or Zolone. When spraying your insecticide it would be a good idea to go ahead and add a fungicide and an application of zinc to the trees.

The following information on agriculture marketing is submitted by Extension Economists Machel Paggi and Edward Smith.

Japan Agrees to Increased Beef and Citrus Imports
The U.S. and Japan made a step forward on the international trade front earlier this month. Japan agreed to a new set of import quotas for U.S. beef and citrus, replacing the previous five-year agreement which expired March 31. The old accord provided Japan 30,800 tons a year of high-grade beef imports and 82,000 tons of citrus imports annually from the U.S. The new accord will increase the existing quotas by 6,900 tons a year for high-grade beef and 11,000 tons a year for citrus. This is about double the annual increase provided in the old agreement. The new agreement is to run 4 years.

While the new agreement is a step in the right direction, a sobering perspective on the magnitude of the quota increases is offered by Knight-Ridder News Service's Nickie McWhirter. According to his calculations, the annual increases amount to ".64 of one Big Mac and .45 of one orange per Japanese citizen per year."

Feed Grain Market-Weather Nervous
USDA estimates 3.3 billion bushels of corn and 465 million bushels of sorghum were in storage as of April 1, 1984. Although this volume was greater than the industry expected, September and December corn futures held levels in the $3.20 and $3.03 range, respectively. The reason for this price resilience is weather related. While Texas producers need rain, the Corn Belt region is suffering from cold/wet weather that is delaying planting. With carryover stocks at their lowest level since the mid 70's, the market is nervous. Look for the December Corn contract to fluctuate in the $3.00 - $3.10 per bushel range until the weather breaks in the Corn Belt. If they get the crop in before May 10-15 look for December futures in the 2.80/bu. range. If the weather doesn't break, the December futures price appreciation will depend on the severity of the delay.

Wheat Market
Watching Feed Grains
The wheat market is being somewhat supported by the tightness in feed grain supplies and the weather problems in the Midwest. USDA estimates 1.8 billion bushels of wheat were in storage as of April 1 and expected carryover stocks were increased to 1.4 billion bushels. This market appears to be over-bought and Kansas City July futures could drop to the $3.40 range with a weather break.

Soil Stewardship Week

High winds have kicked up dust storms this spring throughout much of Texas, and heavy rains that are sure to come sooner or later will rob more lands of precious topsoil. All this points to a greater need for soil conservation.

And calling greater attention to soil conservation is what Soil Stewardship Week is all about.

The annual nationwide observance will be May 27 - June 3 this year, with the theme "Conservation: A Common Commitment."

"Commitment is what is needed from everyone to reduce the loss of our valuable soil and water resources," says Dr. B.L. Harris, a soils specialist.

"We must all make a commitment to work toward this common objective, for it is from these natural resources that we reap the food and fiber that enables our very existence," emphasizes Harris, who is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The Extension Service is joining the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the Senate Board plus the Soil Conservation Service and others in this weeklong observance.

"We must accept primary responsibility as caretakers of God's earth," adds the specialist. "We are prepared to eat the fruit, but often we leave the task of caring for the land to a handful of people who sincerely care about perpetuating our forests, preserving our rivers and renewing the topsoil." Harris emphasizes that there is no time like the present to join the common commitment to soil and water conservation. "Our long-range food supply may depend on it. Our farmland is under a lot of pressure — from erosion, urbanization and pollution. Everyone can help conserve our natural resources.

"Let's keep America, the beautiful, and America, the greatest agricultural country on this earth," says Harris. "Join in local conservation efforts to protect our soil and water resources."

Panel OKs Stenholm farm bill

Agricultural groups testified favorably today on a bill to simplify and standardize federal farm programs.

The House Agriculture Committee heard testimony from more than a dozen witnesses who praised the concept of the bill, introduced by Congressman Charles W. Stenholm (D-Stamford).

The National Association of Wheat Growers said Stenholm's bill "lays important groundwork for the design of new farm program authority." The Texas-headquartered Grain Sorghum Producers Association said the bill "would free both farmers and administrators from much of the year-to-year uncertainty which accompanies the present system."

The legislation will simplify and standardize the way acreage bases and yields are assigned to producers.

An acreage base is assigned to farmers who wish to take part in federal farm programs. A yield measure how many bushels or pounds per acre the farmer produces. Both bases and yields are important when farmers decide whether to participate in the programs.

"Almost all the witnesses agreed with the concept behind the bill," Stenholm said. "They agreed that an improved base and yield system should be put into permanent law, not four-year farm bills. We'll work on the specifics of the bill now, so the Agriculture Committee can vote on it soon."

Stenholm said Committee action on the bill is likely in the near future.

Pastures are too often overlooked in an otherwise comprehensive fertility program. The fact is, proper fertilization of pasture will greatly increase meat and milk production. You'll see faster weight gain, more pounds of gain per acre, a longer grazing season and greater carrying capacity. It can also dramatically increase your milk production.

Begin with a soil test. Then apply the fertilizer shown to be needed. Add lime, if your soil is found high in acidity. Let our Fertilizer Specialist help you. He has the know-how and we have the materials. Come see us soon. We're ready when you are.
