Mayor's torch to pass

by Bob Buckel

Muenster's new mayor will be a battle-scarred veteran of 20 years on the city council — but the scars are the work of doctors, not irate citizens.

Richard Grewing was first elected to the council in 1958, and served with only one term off until health problems forced him to step down in 1980. His last few months on the council were spent filling the duties of mayor after the resignation of the late Leonard Endres.

Grewing's position as the only mayoral candidate on the April 6 ballot makes him the heir apparent to the job he once held, but was never elected to.

"I just want to see our town keep on improving," he said. "I'd love to see us get some industry in here — that's probably my top priority. I have eight children and 19 grandchildren, and I'd like for them to be able to stay in town and find a job if that's what they want."

Grewing was born and raised in Muenster, and operated a well-servicing business with his two brothers until 1982. After selling the rigs, he stayed active in oil production and remains involved in that end of the business.

In 1982 Grewing underwent surgery for cancer of the colon — an operation that was apparently successful. Then less than a year-and-a-half ago, he was back on the operating table for heart bypass surgery.

"Just to be around is the main thing," he laughs. "I don't think the mayor's job will be too strenuous for me to handle."

Grewing was in charge of the water department for the first 10 years of his council tenure, and he has watched the development of the lake project from the beginning. He feels it is one of the town's most important undertakings.

"I'm much concerned about the future water supply. Lots of people think this Trinity water we've got will last forever, but it won't. We've got to have some sort of backup water supply."

"I think we're on the right track with the lake project," he continued. "There's been some opposition, but the majority voted for it back when it was passed, and no one's come up with a better solution."

No one hurt in Sunday a.m. collision

One Muenster resident was slightly injured early Sunday morning after he was involved in a collision on FM 373 north of town.

Douglas John Fleitman, 19, was driving a 1979 Pontiac Firebird when he slowed to make a left turn and was hit in the rear by a 1980 GMC pickup driven by Todd Andrew Fisher, 19, also of Muenster.

Both vehicles were northbound on 373 at the time. The report by the Highway Patrol said Fisher was following too closely to be able to stop in time, but no citations were issued.

The accident occurred at 12:15 a.m. Fleitman was slightly injured, but neither driver required medical treatment.

An Era woman was not so lucky early Saturday morning when her car ran off the pavement east of Era and went into a creek.

Sue Cloise Renner, 30, suffered a broken jaw in the accident, which occurred at 1:30 a.m. nine-tenths of a mile east of Era.

According to the report, she was westbound on FM 922 when her 1973 Plymouth Fury crossed the center line, ran off the highway and went into a small creek. She was taken to Gainesville Memorial Hospital by private vehicle, where it was reported her jaw was broken.

No citations were on the report, but alcohol was listed as a contributing factor in the accident.

County, AT&T agree on price, not principle

by Bob Buckel

Who decides when a county bid contract is binding?

In most cases, the commissioners do, when they vote on the matter. Apparently, however, American Telephone & Telegraph Co. has different ideas.

The Cooke County commissioners in January approved a contract with AT&T to install a new phone system in the courthouse for $32,077. The system was to be in place by April 14.

Monday, an AT&T representative explained to the commissioners that his company had rejected that contract.

"My home office has sent the contract back," Robert Smith, an AT&T account executive, said. "There were some discounts that were greater on some items than the ones we quoted — that's in your favor. There was also some supplemental equipment that was not on my initial recommendation that the system needs to have in order to function. That's going to cost more."

Smith, who dealt with the commissioners in designing the system, has since been transferred to another division of AT&T. He said he returned to Gainesville voluntarily, on his own time, to "take the shots" for his mistake on the original bid.

When the shooting was over and the smoke had cleared, the new price turned out to be lower than the original price. But it was principle, not price, that sparked Monday's lengthy discussion.

Jim Robertson, county judge: "We advertised

"I'm not mad at you. We all make mistakes. I'm just not happy with AT&T's bid procedures."

Jim Robertson, County Judge and bid this out, and we awarded a contract for that price."

Smith: "AT&T has not accepted the bid. An account executive cannot accept a bid for AT&T. There is an additional step when the order is transmitted to the factory, and the contract was kicked back because I had left out this equipment, and because of the new discounts."

Robert Bayer, precinct four commissioner: "In other words, the figures we accepted are no longer acceptable to your company?"

Smith: "The system needs that equipment to function. I made a mistake."

Robertson: "The question is, who pays for that mistake?"

Smith: "If I was empowered to accept contracts on behalf of AT&T, then we would. As it is, AT&T never accepted the contract."

While Smith's presentation showed the new contract carried a higher pricetag than was originally approved, a review of the old agreement showed the new price was actually lower. The commissioners had decided not to purchase a $1,644 maintenance contract on the system, but Smith had included the item in his new prices. When it was deleted, the new price came in $166 lower than the old one.

But the argument on principles continued.

"To me, a contract is something that's entered into in good faith," Robertson said. "The commissioners court can reject a bid, but once the bid's accepted, that's it."

"I'm a salesman," Smith said, "not a lawyer. I did the best job I could configuring the system, and I made a mistake. I'm just here to present these new numbers and see what you want to do. I'm not saying you're bound by this — you can throw it all out and take new bids if you want."

Robertson countered, "I'm saying there's a good possibility AT&T is bound by the original contract. I'm not mad at you; I'm mad at AT&T for submitting a bid that apparently was not a bid."

Kenneth Alexander, precinct two commissioner, added, "There's no assurance they won't kick this thing back again. Seems like it should have been submitted as an iron-clad contract from the beginning."

"I don't think AT&T can back out," Robertson noted, "but as long as we're under the original amount and can get it by the date we asked for, I don't see any problem."

"I'm not mad at you," he told Smith. "We all make mistakes. I'm just not happy with AT&T's bid procedures."

The commissioners wound up taking no action on the matter, with Robertson simply signing the new contract and Smith promising to try and get the system installed as close to the original date as possible.

He also promised to send the commissioners a signed contract within five business days.

Robertson pointed out that it is not uncommon for contractors to change individual items within a bid after it has been accepted, with county approval, as long as the bottom-line price remains the same. In essence, that is what AT&T did, although company policy required them to reject the whole contract until it was straightened out.

In the end, AT&T left the room saying they had a new contract, and the commissioners left saying they had stuck to their original deal.

It was just a matter of words.

"I'm a salesman, not a lawyer. I'm just trying to find out what you want to do."

Robert Smith, AT&T

TMA president to speak in Gainesville

The president of the Texas Medical Association will address the Cooke County Medical Society Monday in Gainesville.

Dr. George G. Alexander of Houston will speak after a 7:30 p.m. dinner at the Gourmet II restaurant on North I-35.

Alexander, a longtime family physician in Pasadena, is chairman of the HEI Corporation, a Houston firm that owns and operates hospitals and a variety of health care publications.

A past president of the Harris County Medical Society, Alexander is a member of the Texas delegation to the American Medical Association and is on the Harris County Hospital District board of governors. He served five years on the TMA board of trustees.

TMA is a 24,000-member professional organization of physicians and medical students.

PROBLEM SOLVING...

Furthermore a major issue in Reagan's campaign had been the star wars defense system which the Reds strongly opposed. Though the system was only in the planning stage the Soviets realistically had to assume that US had the advantage in being first to complete it because of technological lead.

Under the circumstances Moscow had a problem, to select a presentable successor while waiting for Chernenko to die or hastening his departure with an icepick — as Trotsky was said to have been liquidated.

A few weeks ago the Kremlin had its solution. Chernenko was dead and his successor as the new USSR leader was already determined. He was a young man who could smile and hopefully match Reagan in making a good impression. In addition he was assisted by an attractive wife — or perhaps a presentable phony wife as Andropov and Chernenko were reported to have had, perhaps a specially talented selection from the KGB. Also, she's reported to be stylish, English speaking, witty, charming and refreshingly open. There can be no doubt that Russia is eager for acceptance socially and politically.

However, when it comes to realities, US and the world will remember that Russia's younger and more presentable representative is still a devotee of the Marxist dynasty. He has the approval of the tough party gang, possibly because he is a former KGB assistant under Andropov who also started office with flowery introductions — a nice guy sympathetic to dissidents, who spoke English, drank scotch, listened to jazz records. But he later became known as the Butcher of Budapest and became involved in the KGB attempt to assassinate the Pope.

It remains to be seen whether Gorbachev will turn out like Andropov. At this time he's said to be "not so much interested in burying the West as in learning from it," but the odds are that his indoctrination in the Red goals of world conquest will soon assert itself.

Contrasting with this kind of opinion we can still find reason to indulge in wishful thinking. One is a high hope that President Reagan's concept of the sky wars defense system will become a reality and the nuclear weapons can be neutralized and civilization can survive.

Another high hope is just taking hold in China where rulers are realizing that socialism is a mistake. It's great to hear that people are urged to adopt capitalist and free enterprise methods. They're learning that the Marxist motto, "from each according to his ability and to each according to his need" is only an idealistic theory that does not work out in practice. They are looking to our country as a model of economic and social success.

This development is especially encouraging in that it holds out a possibility of world reform which has appeared remote. Heretofore the world showdown has been conducted by major powers flexing their military muscle. The new idea is for individual nations to seek their goals through internal change by adopting the proven ways of the free world. As enough nations take up this program the curse of communism can simply fade away.

State Capitol Highlights

AUSTIN—It was bad news for college students but good news for state colleges and universities when the Texas House passed legislation that would more than quadruple tuition rates by the end of this decade.

Students at all public colleges and universities, including medical and dental schools, will be shocked with tuition rates this fall that are at least double the current rates, if the bill clears the Senate and is signed into law by Gov. Mark White.

New revenue generated by the proposed tuition increase would go to offset proposed cuts in college funding now being considered by legislative budget writers. Those cuts probably will range from 4 percent to 6 percent.

Under the bill passed by the House, which was sponsored by House Committee on Higher Education Chairman Wilhelmina Delco, Texas residents enrolled in undergraduate and most graduate programs at state universities would see a tuition increase from $4 to $8 per semester hour beginning this fall, with an additional increase to $12 per semester hour for the 1986-87 school year.

Tuition would then increase $2 per year until it reaches $20 per semester hour.

Non-residents and foreign students would get even a bigger hike, from $40 to $120 per semester hour for 1985-86 and to $180 per hour for 1986-87.

Their rates would then go to 100 percent of cost. The bill also calls for law students and graduate students in architecture and engineering to pay twice the undergraduate rate.

Medical and dental students also would see the cost of their education increase, with resident students eventually paying $6,000 per semester, compared to the current rate of $400. Non-residents would pay roughly twice that rate.

Some 25 percent of all new tuition revenue would be set aside for need-based scholarships and emergency loans so the increased fees would not price low income students out of a college education.

Open Containers

While the House was socking it to the pocketbooks of college students, the Senate was striking a blow against Texans who enjoy sipping a cold brew while driving down the highway.

The Senate gave quick approval to legislation that would outlaw drinking while driving.

Mothers Against Drunk Driving and other supporters of the driving while intoxicated crackdown had pushed for a ban on drinking while driving in 1983 when the Legislature adopted tough new laws of DWI.

However, the Senate did not give those groups the strict open containers ban they wanted.

The bill approved by the Senate applies only to the driver of an automobile. Passengers still can "pop a top" in the car, and drivers caught with an open container would be subject only to a Class C misdemeanor.

Critics of the new language say it will do little to prevent a driver from simply passing his drink to a passenger if stopped by a police officer.

Mattox Acquittal

Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox was reveling in his acquittal on charges of commercial bribery, and putting forth a very diplomatic front for a man who has rarely spared harsh words on his enemies.

Being very conciliatory, Mattox sent a letter to the Fulbright & Jaworski law firm assuring their attorneys that they will get fair treatment from the Attorney General's Office despite the charges leveled against Mattox.

It was that Houston law firm that claimed Mattox threatened to destroy their bond business if they did not stop attempts to question his sister in connection with the state's lawsuit against Mobil Oil Corp.

Fulbright & Jaworski was representing Mobil in that case. Austin politicians said Mattox's conciliatory attitude was an astute political move on the part of the attorney general.

Vindictiveness might have been perceived poorly by the voters, compounding the damage already done by the trial and publicity that surrounded the case, those politicians said.

Blue Law Repealed

Lawmakers may finally lay the perennial debate over the so-called Texas "blue law" to rest this session.

The House Committee of Business and Commerce has given its approval to legislation repealing the 1961 law that prohibits the sale of some 42 different items on consecutive Saturdays and Sundays.

The repeal bill still would require car dealers to close on Sundays, a provision put in the bill at the car dealers' request.

Other provisions of the bill include protections to ensure that employees cannot be forced to work on Sundays if they do not want to and to guarantee each worker one day off each week.

Small retailers located in shopping malls also would be protected from being forced to open on Sundays if major department stores in those malls opt to do so.

Many mall leases require all stores in the mall to maintain the same hours as the so-called "anchor stores."

Corpus Christi Rep. Hugo Berlanga, sponsor of the bill, said his polling of House members is running about two to one in favor of the repeal.

In step with the times ...

Some birthdays are milestones, and some just lie there like soggy corn flakes in a bowl. You're not quite sure what to do with them.

Some are natural causes for celebration. At 10, for instance, you're in double figures. At 13, you're a teenager. At 16 you're old enough to drive and at 18 you can get drafted. Twenty-one comes around and you can pretty well do anything you're gutsy enough to attempt.

From then on, it seems like the real big birthdays are the decades: when you turn 30, 40, 50 and so on. On those days, you're allowed to kick back and think all kinds of significant thoughts about life, death, mortality, the passing of time, etc.

But the one right before a decade lacks its own identity. You're teetering on the brink of something, but you're not there yet. You don't know whether to celebrate or mourn, look forward or reminisce.

You only know you're another year older and still not grown up.

That's what turning 29 was like last week. My first thought was, "Wow, that's nearly 30." I never thought about being 30. It was like a disease I was supposed to have a natural immunity to. Now it seems inevitable. All I can do is look around and notice with relief that many of my friends seem to have survived and even prospered.

But why did my back have to hurt this morning when I got up? And why did the radio have to play that song from the 60's that I remember every word of? Why did the talk show have to take up the effects of aging on men?

To make matters worse, I watched the Oscars the other night. Was this their first live broadcast from Mars?

By the time I got through the Barbara Walters special interview with Boy George, I was primed and ready for Prince and Gregory Whathisname and all the other earringed dandies who pranced onto the stage to accept their accolades. I know the expression lacks literary punch, but what a bunch of weirdos!

If that's the way things are heading, I'm doomed to live in the past. Call me hopelessly traditional, but I came along in a simpler time when most people didn't question God's choice of a sex for them. I felt more in common with Jimmy Stewart than any of the others who took the stage.

As if that weren't enough, we went to a high-class Dallas shopping mall last night and I saw, with my own eyes, many people of the same type that attended the Oscars. Women with square shoulders and exotic sunglasses, leather pants and those tee-shirts that come down to their knees, orange hair cut 10 different lengths. Men in balloon pants, with perfume on and little earrings dangling from their lobes.

That was really shattering. I thought those people only lived in California. They're everywhere!

Then I went into a stereo shop. Not only could I not afford any of the stuff they had on sale there — I couldn't even recognize most of it.

They had laser discs and digital recordings, remote-control quadrophonic speakers and shelves of other high-tech wizardry that I had only seen in science-fiction movies. I felt like I'd gone through a time warp.

All this would prompt deep philosophical conclusions about life, except that I'm not 30 yet. All I know is I'm on the way, sans earrings, to the big three-oh. The conclusions will have to wait a year, until society allows me to kick back and pontificate.

At 29, I'm just confused. But not as confused as some of those guys.

Letter to the Editor

My very dear friends,

It would be a novel beginning of my chat with you, to make an apology for forgetting Sacred Heart Convent in the list of places I was musing about in my memory in my Christmas letter. Sacred Heart Convent, which I witnessed being built, dedicated and in which I lived for so many years. The two dearest places were of course the chapel and my private room "Our Lady of Perpetual Help."

Well, that is over and I am sure I am forgiven. Now I have to see what I could write about. The weather! At the moment I am very warm. It is a typical March day — wild winds, clouds foreboding something I cannot decipher. I hear no birds at all — but I am informed that the snowbirds are still around, and they are sure signs of snow.

Several Sisters have planted their gardens and now they are hoping that a beneficial rain will awaken the sleeping seeds. Mother Mary John has planted many different kinds of trees, among them several pecan trees. The latter are guaranteed to have been made to grow in the type of clay soil we have and, together with the prayers we were asked to say for their growth, we hope that at last we shall have some pecan trees on our land. Reading Holy Angels Echo at the bulletin board I found more specific information about the pecan trees, planted by Mother Mary John.

The pecan trees of which I wrote above were developed by the Department of Horticulture of the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville. There is evidence that the property we live on was once upon a time the happy hunting, fishing and living grounds of Indians, as they moved through this area. And so, Mother Mary John planted four trees at the end of February and named them: Kiowa, Chetenne, Chikasaw and Shoshoni. Besides our prayers she solicited the help of Saint Katherine Tekakwitha the Indian maid. 200 white mulberry trees were also planted and two cutleaf birch trees will be planted in memory of our former art teacher, Sister M. Bernadine Gruninger, O.S.B. I think she was in charge of decorating Sacred Heart Church for the Golden Jubilee of the Parish.

I have read and heard much about the Parish Renewal. I have also prayed for its success. Only God knows how much good has been accomplished. I am very optimistic about it. At the end of this week we have here a Spiritual Evaluation Day. We have several during the year.

In fact the month of March is brimful of Feasts. Right before me is a Schedule for Liturgies and Celebrations, starting with St. Patrick and ending with Easter Monday. There is not an item on the Schedule which will not also be celebrated by you, and my thoughts very often make comparisons.

Let I forget, I wish each and everyone reading my letter a very, very Happy Easter.

And now, I think the very best thing for me to do is to say good bye to you, my very dear friends because everybody is so busy at this time. God permitting, I will write another time between this letter and my Christmas letter. Hopefully it will be better than this one.

Be assured my very dear friends, that you are in my daily prayers and thoughts.

Forever yours,
Sister M. Theresina,
O.S.B.

Dear Editor:

In 1979, the Sixty-sixth Legislature created the Local Park Fund (LPF) with the enactment of House Bill 233. Funding is derived from the dedication of 1 cent of the state tax on each pack of cigarettes which generates approximately $18 million annually for the program. The program assists the Parks and Wildlife Department and local political subdivisions in purchasing and improving state and local park land.

The Department has allocated over $57,000,000 of the monies appropriated since 1979. Some 108 projects for 60 local governments ranging from small communities such as Clute to large metropolitan area communities such as Houston have been completed or begun. The approved projects provide new parkland and a wide variety of facilities for all age groups. Swimming pools, tennis courts, children's playgrounds, little league fields, junior soccer fields, jogging-walking hiking-nature trails, fishing piers, softball and soccer fields, picnic facilities, and campsites are only a few of the facilities that have been provided.

Some 59 local government projects requesting over $11 million are currently being reviewed. Franklin Mountains State Park, Gateway State Park, and Trinity River State Park have been mandated by the Legislature and the LPF funds available could be used for these purposes. With state government currently facing a fiscal crisis, consideration is being given by the Legislature to abolishing the dedication of the 1 cent state tax on each pack of cigarettes to the Local Park Fund and using these revenues for other state government purposes.

There is strong local government official acceptance and support for the Local Park Fund. For example, as a part of current legislative priorities, the Texas Municipal League supports continuing this dedicated fund.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is addressing the quality of life issues so important to all Texans. Your support of these efforts is very much appreciated.

Sincerely,
Ed Cox, Jr.
Chairman, Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission

Commissioners hear from microfilm expert

The Cooke County commissioners got a crash course in microfilming from an expert at their meeting Monday afternoon.

Sam Sizer, assistant director for field operations in the local records division of the Texas State Library, went over the basics of transferring records to microfilm, spending about an hour relating the technical requirements for "archival quality" microfilm records.

The county has appointed a committee to study microfilming as an alternative to maintaining and storing mountains of paper records in the shrinking courthouse. District Clerk Bobbie Calhoun, a member of the committee, brought Sizer to the meeting.

The state archivist said many local governments do not understand the requirements before they get into the microfilming business, and thus do not get the right equipment to fit their needs.

"I have no particular preferences in brand names," Sizer told the commissioners. "My suggestion is not that people buy a Chevrolet or a Ford, but that they buy a half-ton pickup if that's what they need, rather than a convertible."

He said standards for "archival quality" microfilm records — records which would stand up in court — are set by the American National Standards Institute. They designate the type of film to be used and the method of exposure, processing and storage. Records that are properly made should last at least 100 years, Sizer said.

"You have to meet archival standards before you can destroy the original paper records," he said. "If your goal is to replace paper records with microfilm, you need to look carefully at these standards and purchase equipment that will enable you to meet them."

Sizer was asked to meet with the district and county clerks and help them draw up specifications so that the county may seek bids on a microfilming system.

Grant applied for
The commissioners voted to apply for $8,000 in grant funds through the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's office, administered through the Texoma Regional Planning Commission.

County Judge Jim Robertson said about $30,000 was left over last year in the program in the Texoma region. The money is available to help pay for judges' travel, books, etc.

The grant Cooke County is applying for will help pay for travel for Robertson, District Judge Larry Sullivant, the justices of the peace, District Attorney and his investigator. If Cooke County does not apply for the money, Robertson said, other cities in the region will.

"All these are things the county has been paying for," he noted. "Even if it's a matching type grant, at least we'll have something to match."

Surplus sale set
The commissioners will open bids April 22 on surplus county property which is being sold in a massive spring cleaning effort at the courthouse and precinct barns.

The property, which has been catalogued and tagged, will be available for inspection April 17, 18 and 19 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the barns and the courthouse. A list of all the items will be published and made available prior to the viewing dates.

Everyone interested will be asked to submit a sealed bid. At their meeting on the 22nd the commissioners will likely open the bids and table them for inspection.

The surplus funds will go into the county's operating fund, but the main objective of the sale is to get rid of a large amount of unused and unneeded equipment.

Stonework studied
The commissioners also heard from a restoration expert about problem areas on the courthouse in Gainesville and how those problems might be corrected.

Ted Sivadon told the commissioners his firm could repair the existing stone trim, cover watermarks on the concrete and bottom row of stones and re-work the mortar joints in the courthouse for about $50,000.

Sivadon's firm has restored courthouses all over the state, including Jacksboro and Henrietta, and comes highly recommended by county officials. He suggested the commissioners seek bids on the job and give his company a chance to look at the structure more closely.

"You could advertise for a bid to do the whole building, with a separate bid deleting the steeple and another one just doing the base of the second floor down to the ground," he said. "Most of the bad repair work was done on the lower portion of the building."

He stressed that his company was not in a hurry. In fact, he said, it would be late summer or possibly next spring before they could get to the job if the commissioners awarded the bid now.

They thanked him for his presentation and said they would consider the matter.

Other action
The commissioners also: — reappointed R.A. Schaff, Frank Morris and Charles Wilson to the board of directors of the Cooke County Development Authority;

— authorized the issuance of $1,900,000 in industrial development bonds for Oak Creek Homes, Inc. to build a new plant on Highway 82 west of Gainesville;

— approved a bond for adult probation officer Don Pettigrew and purchased a notary bond for Sharon Tate, new secretary in the county judge's office;

— approved a $344 purchase of furniture for the probation office;

— discussed benefits for county employees during a closed session.

Eagle Scout candidate works on Myra Park

Eric Dankesreiter is nearing his Eagle rank in the Boy Scouts of America. A member of Muenster Troop 664, he has recently completed an outstanding project as one of the requirements toward that goal.

That project was a general improvement and repair job in the Myra City Park. Among items included were making a WELCOME sign facing Main Street; a large sign inside the park, indicating Myra City Park; repairing and repainting the swings; building and painting new see-saws which first were securely cemented into the ground; painting basketball goals, posts and backs; sanding and repainting a picnic table.

Prior to initiating his project, Eric Dankesreiter obtained approval from the Myra Community Club and acquired financial assistance from the club. He also secured the approval of his Scoutmaster and Troop Committee and the District Advancement Chairman.

He secured volunteer help from several boy scouts, set work dates and gathered materials. He spent a total of six hours in planning and 23 additional hours carrying out the project. Under his supervision, seventeen hours were spent by his volunteer helpers, John Herr, Jim Herr, Keith Vogel, Ryan Bayer, Jason Gehrig, and Joe Weinzapfel.

Myra youngsters and adults are enjoying a better recreational area and the entire community is benefiting because of the general improvements.

An Eagle project is a service project helpful to a religious institution, a school or a town. The scout must plan, develop and give leadership and follow through to its successful completion.

15 receive first communion

Editor's Note:

We have not received the picture of First Communicants from the photographer. We hope to use it next week. Please continue to send in news of your family gatherings honoring your children, to be included next week.

Sharing for the first time at the Table of the Lord, on their First Communion Day, Sunday, March 17, 1985 were fifteen children of the CCD class of Sacred Heart Parish.

They are Jason Britain, Coy Fisher, Rebecca Fleitman, Maurus Hacker, Jr. Ashley Hartman, Jason Huchton, Cody Klement, Lisa Lippe, Cindy Reiter, Jill Reiter, Sabrina Truebenbach, Laura Vogel, Jeffrey Walterscheid, Julie Walterscheid and Rae Ann Walterscheid.

The solemn Eucharistic Celebration of First Holy Communion was officiated by Father Victor Gillespie during the 11 a.m. Mass.

He led the entrance procession into the church, accompanied by the First Communicants, their parents; Sister Romana Rohmer and the Catechists, Larry and Kathy Vogel, Sharon Walterscheid and Donna Graham who instructed them in their preparation for reception of the Sacrament. Also in the procession were the Mass servers Keith Klement, Jason Walterscheid, Kody Truebenbach, Justin Hartman and Michael Hacker, all brothers of the Communicants.

Sister Romana Rohmer, CCD Coordinator for Sacred Heart Parish gave the introduction to the liturgy, noting in part, the words of Jesus "Where ever two or three are gathered in my name, I am there with them."

The Sacred Heart Choral Group sang the entrance hymn "Here I Am, Lord" accompanied by Ruth Felderhoff organist and Tina and Ronnie Weinzapfel on their trumpets.

Dorothy Fleitman gave the first reading; Lynn Hacker gave the second reading and Father Victor Gillespie delivered the homily.

In preparation for renewal of baptismal promises, Kathy Vogel summoned each child by name to approach the sanctuary and a parent assisted in a candle lighting ceremony. Father Gillespie led them in renewal of baptismal promises as the children stood in a circle about the altar.

Joan Walterscheid led prayers of the faithful and Dale and Charlotte Klement and children Tina and Cody presented Offeratory gifts at the altar.

The First Communicants and their parents approached the altar together to receive Holy Communion.

Eucharistic Ministers assisting Father Victor were Paul and Dorothy Fisher, Jerry and Betty Rose Walterscheid, Clinton and Debbie Endres and Sister Romana.

During reception of the Eucharist by the parish community, Eileen Fisher and Clyde Fisher sang "How Great Thou Art." The fifteen little First Communicants sang "My Hands Belong to You, Lord" as the Communion Meditation. Sacred Heart Choral group, joined by the congregation, sang "On Eagle's Wings" as the closing song.

Chapter promotes YHT week

The State motto of YHT in Texas, "Young Homemakers are The Heart of The Home" introduces YHT Week, March 24-30. To help promote the special week, the Muenster chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas are spreading the good news about YHT.

It is a way to meet new people, to exchange ideas, to improve personal family and community life, or just to have a night out "with the girls."

The State Association of Young Homemakers of Texas is a chartered organization for young adults interested in homemaking. YHT is formed exclusively for educational purposes with emphasis on homemaking.

Active membership is open to women not enrolled in high school. Eligible members may be single or married. They may be homemakers in town or on the farm. Members may also be employed in wage earning occupations.

Members learn new skills and gain information contributing to home, family and community. Programs preceding the business meeting reflect child care and guidance, home and furniture beautification, consumer buyer, family finance management, self improvement and nutritious meals.

The 1984-85 year's schedule included the following: Sept. 10 Installation of officers; Oct. 8 Home Interior Display; Nov. 12 Dr. David Johnson, Pediatrician speaking on Parenting; Dec. 14 Christmas party; Jan. 14 Candlewicking by Marlene Fisher; Feb. 11 Exercise program by Lori Mollenkopf; March 18 Picture Perfect Entertaining by Mary Casteel; April 12 Ladies Night Out at the Capital Restaurant in Montague; May 13 Cross Stitch by Tina Bindel; June 10 Stenciling by Joni Sturm - Officer Election; July Summer Social; August Organizational meeting by newly-elected officers and present officers to plan installation for September.

Community projects undertaken by the Muenster YHT during the current year include Toys For Tots, Medi-Stickers, a donation to a baby warmer for Muenster Memorial Hospital, the FHA Luncheon and Award for the Outstanding FHA member.

Current officers of YHT include Janet Felderhoff president; Pam Felderhoff vice president; June Bartush secretary; Marlene Fisher treasurer; Janie Hartman reporter and Shirley Knabe historian.

Activities marking YHT Week included presentation of a fresh, long stemmed red carnation to all Muenster YHT members, in appreciation; presenting a gift to Muenster High and Sacred Heart High Home Ec departments; and publishing a proclamation from Mayor Ronnie Felderhoff.

Bartush baptized on St. Patrick's day

Daniel Herman Bartush was baptized in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday, March 17, 1985 at 10:15 a.m. with Father Victor Gillespie administering the Sacrament. The infant is the son of Chuck and June Bartush.

Godparents for their nephew were Cindy Del Olmo of Plano and James Bartush of San Marcos. For the ceremony Daniel wore a christening gown and robe worn by his father and all children of Mary and Charles Bartush, Sr.

Following the ceremony Daniel's parents hosted a luncheon at the Sacred Heart Community Center for family members and other relatives. The decorated christening cake was made by his Aunt Pam Dangelmayr.

Joining in the celebration with Daniel and his parents were his brother and sister Stephen and Jacqueline; their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Herman Stoffels and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartush, Sr.

Also uncles, aunts and cousins Paul and Beth Bartush of Huntsville, Virginia Bartush of Nacogdoches, James Bartush of San Marcos, Connie Stoffels and Kaye Thorsby of Dallas, the Rick Del Olmo family of Plano, Mary Beth Bartush, Cathy Bartush, Tom Otto, Sally Stoffels, Chris Gillespie administering the Sacrament. The infant is the son of Chuck and June Bartush.

Miller family gathers to observe birthdays

The family of Herb Miller was together for a weekend visit and a celebration on Sunday, March 24 to observe his birthday.

His wife, Dolores planned the event and hosted a special birthday dinner on Sunday.

Spending the weekend were Gayle Miller of Dallas, Bert Miller of San Antonio and Elaine Buckley of San Antonio. Joining them here were Dave and Kathy Berres and children Troy, Aaron, Neil and Jessica, and Glenn and Stacie Miller and daughter Dana.

Dana Miller's second birthday was celebrated Friday evening with a party in the home of her grandparents.

Daughters visit here with Mattie Endres

Two daughters of Mrs. Mattie Endres and two grandchildren were her guests last week. It was a special treat for all of them. In addition to visiting, Mrs. Mary Beth Hertach of Hutchison, Kansas, who spent a week and Mrs. Jean DeLano of Ardmore, who was here for four days, came to help Mattie with "spring work." Mrs. DeLano was accompanied by her children Teresa and Tom. On Sunday they all went to Fort Worth to spend the day with a son and brother and family, Dick and Rosie Endres and children.

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the Young Homemakers of Texas strive for development and a deeper understanding of the home and its influence upon the community, and

WHEREAS they undertake activities designed to improve the home and community, and

WHEREAS they seek to strengthen the bond of the family, maintain spiritual values, and encourage democracy in home and community life.

THEREFORE I, Ronnie Felderhoff, as Mayor of this City proclaim the week of March 24 to 30 as Young Homemakers' Week in Muenster.

McDonald baptized here

The baptism of James Lester McDonald III was held in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday, March 24, 1985 with Father Victor Gillespie officiating. Parents of the infant are Pam and Jimmy McDonald of Farmers Branch.

The baptismal sponsors were Donna Jarvis of Gainesville and Claude Klement of Muenster.

A treasured family heirloom dress was worn by the baby and before him by his grandmother, Ginny Schneider and all of her children. A special baptismal stole was made by the baby's great-aunt Sister Helen Schneider of Fort Smith, Arkansas.

Following the church service, dinner was hosted by the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schneider in their home.

Guests included Sherry and James Stidham and children Cheryl, Danny and Nick of Wolfe City, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, Sr. of Wolfe City; Donna Jarvis of Gainesville; Mrs. Catherine Walterscheid, John and Joy Schneider and children Jenny Lynn and Jonna, Deb and Claude Klement and children Aaron and Ashley all of Muenster; Sandy Pegg and daughter Jessica of Wichita Falls, David Roetsch of Wichita Falls; Wanda and Ricky Cloud of Denton and the hosts.

Osteoporosis program set

by Joan Walterscheid

Osteoporosis is a painful and crippling bone disease which develops slowly. More and more Americans have some degree of osteoporosis. This is tragic because osteoporosis may be prevented.

If you are age 20, your bones are about as long and wide as they will ever be. However, you can make them stronger.

If you're over 40, your bones are starting to become thinner because they are losing calcium faster than they gain it. But you can slow down the rate of calcium loss!

"Osteoporosis and You!" an informative, 15 minute slide program is being offered to the public free of charge, on Tuesday, April 9 at 2:30 p.m. at Muenster Memorial Hospital. The program takes a close look at this bone disease. Educational materials will be distributed and Dr. Ellen Cleevy, nutrition consultant for Muenster Memorial Hospital, will be present to answer questions.

Age limit lowered for "55-alive"

All senior Citizens, age 50 years and older are eligible to attend a "55 and Alive" Defensive Driving Course to be offered on Monday and Tuesday April 15-16 at the Cooke County Electric Co-op Building. Hours will be announced.

Membership in the AARP, American Association of Retired Persons, is not necessary. Only requirement is being 50 years old, or over.

Those completing the two day course will qualify for a 10% reduction on insurance. Mrs. Alice Hellman has announced that persons who work during the day may inquire about a possible nighttime class by phoning 759-4966.

News of the Sick

Bobby Joe Rohmer, the 22 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rohmer and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Rohmer entered Flow Hospital in Denton last week Wednesday, March 20. He was transferred to Cooke Children's Hospital in Fort Worth on Friday as a medical patient. He spent several days in ICU and has now been moved to his own room, improving nicely. Parents and grandparents have been at his bedside. Get Well cards will reach them addressed to Bobby Joe Rohmer, Room 330, Cooke Children's Hospital, 1212 West Lancaster, Fort Worth, Texas 76102.

Norbert Koesler looks forward to dismissal this weekend from Harris Hospital in Fort Worth. He is making a normal recovery following surgery performed on March 20.

A roundup of area sports happenings

Tracksters to Saint Jo ...

Both the Muenster and Sacred Heart track squads will run at Saint Jo this Saturday as the spring track season heats up. Look for results in next week's Enterprise.

Stripers in the coves ...

Lake Texoma reports water muddy, 49 degrees, normal level; black bass fair to four lbs. on chartreuse Bushog spinner; striped slow on main lake, good in clear water coves trolling Hellbenders; crappie slow; white bass slow; catfish good on jug and trotline with live bait.
Moss Lake northeast of Muenster reports water clear, 48 degrees, normal level; black bass fair to one-and-a-half lbs. in shallow water on Marabou jigs; crappie slow; white bass fair to 12 fish per stringer; catfish slow.

Deer season one of best ...

Final tabulations indicate the white-tailed deer season in Texas ranked as one of the best ever.
Hunters made the highest total harvest since statewide surveys were begun in 1972. It was also the largest harvest of antlerless deer on record, had the best hunter success rate and the most hunter-days.
The pre-season deer population estimate of nearly four million was the highest in history as well. The total estimated harvest of 372,262 exceeded the previous year by 17 percent and included 108,000 antlerless deer — about 10,000 more than in any previous hunting season.
An estimated 552,000 hunters took part in the hunt, achieving a 54 percent success rate.

Home teams fifth, seventh

In Hornet Relays Saturday

Muenster's boys and girls track teams both finished fifth in Saturday's Hornet Relays here while Sacred Heart's team both placed seventh in a strong field.

Tammy Reiter led Muenster's girls with a first-place trophy in the shot put. She tossed the shot 32'1 1/2" to outdistance Forestburg's Nancy Trayler by nearly a foot-and-a-half. Hers was the only first place earned by a Muenster girl.

Sacred Heart's Bret Walterscheid carried the torch for the boys, as he won the discus with a throw of 135'1 1/2". Stuart Hess of Muenster High was next with a 126'4 1/2" toss, and Hornet Shawn Flusche took third at 123'11".

Callisburg won the girl's division of the meet. Kelli Tuck won the high jump and discus events while Lynn Evans captured the 800-meter run and the Wildcat ladies took first in the 800 relay.

Callisburg's girls compiled 109 points enroute to their win. Aubrey was second with 76 points, followed by Windthorst with 70, Chico with 58, Muenster with 51, Southlake Carroll with 40 and Sacred Heart with 38. There were 25 teams in the girls' division.

On the boys' side, Chico captured first place in the class A division while Southlake Carroll took top honors in the AA and AAA division.

The top finishers looked like this: Chico 90.9; Valley View 77.3; Springtown JV 77.3; Era 74; Muenster 44; Collinsville 34.3; Sacred Heart 32, etc. There were 17 teams in division II.

Carroll amassed 117 points to win division III, with S&S second at 89, Aubrey third with 84, Whitesboro fourth with 63, Nocona fifth with 60 and Callisburg sixth with 25 1/2 points. There were 11 teams in that division.

Highlights of the meet included:
Girls Division
Callisburg's Lynn Evans captured the 800-meter run in 2:32.77

Aubrey's Deean Welch won first place in the 3200, 1600, 800, 400 and 100-meter races to capture high-point individual honors for the meet. Schreiber of Windthorst won the long jump and the triple jump, and Lanham of Southlake Carroll took both the 100-meter low hurdles and the 200-meter dash.

Boys Division
Walterscheid's first place in the discus and a second-place finish in the shot put paced Sacred Heart. Bret heaved the shot 48'1" to finish second behind Era's Richard Zanchetta, the winner at 52'3 1/2".

The Hornets mopped up the rest of the competition, as Rodney Hess was third at 46'5", Stuart Hess took fourth at 45'9-1/4" and Ronnie Trubenbach was fifth at 45'5-1/4".

Mark Knabe of Era finished first in the pole vault with a leap

CCC invites exes to use gym

"Let's get physical!" is the latest rallying cry being issued by the Cooke County College Ex-Students Association.

According to Rodger Boyce, executive director, the CCC gymnasium will be open to college alumni from 6:30 to 9 p.m. every Thursday beginning March 28.

Set up in cooperation with the CCC Division of Student Services, the special activity night at the gym will also be open to currently enrolled students who will be admitted free upon showing their student I.D. Alumni will be asked to pay a minimal fee of $1 to help offset costs of utilities and supervisory personnel who will be on hand to check out and set up equipment for volleyball, basketball, badminton and other activities.

"Those who prefer less team-oriented fitness and recreational activities may also use the college's weight machines and other weight training equipment," Boyce reports, "and there are mats for calisthenics and aerobic exercises. For joggers, the perimeter of the playing floor is marked off to allow gauging of distances run."

In addition, persons taking advantage of the activity night at the CCC gym will also have access to changing rooms and showers, and lockers will be provided on a per-night basis. Individuals must provide their own locks and towels.

Dr. Eddie Hadiock, student services dean at CCC, says that the activity night will be continued as long as there is sufficient participation. In fact, he adds, there is a possibility that additional nights could be added if enough interest is shown.

"We're especially eager to see a large number of ex-students come out," he says. "For one thing, we think the resulting interaction between alumni and current students would be very productive and healthy for both groups. Also, it's possible we could get some competition going between the two, and that would be just plain fun."

Boyce says that any persons who have ever completed at least one credit course at CCC are considered "alumni" and are therefore welcome not only to become a member of the Ex-Students Association but also to participate in the activity night at the CCC gym. Membership cards will be available at the gym.

Boyce says that the activity night at the CCC gym is the beginning of what he hopes will develop into an extensive program of recreational and sports activities for alumni.

"We're hoping to organize city league teams in the various sports, offer structured classes in weight training and exercise and related areas and even sponsor events like golf and tennis tournaments," he explains. "In addition, we're also planning for events like a 10K distance race for runners."

CCC alumni who are interested in helping organize any of these activities or who have questions about the activity night at the gym are urged to contact Boyce at 668-7731, Ext. 255.

Softball applications sought

Applications are due by April 25 for those interested in playing tee-ball or softball in the Muenster Knights of Columbus league this year.

Tee-ball, for boys and girls in kindergarten through the third grade, and softball, for girls in the third grade through senior high, will begin a six-week season in May. Last year about 150 youngsters took part on five tee-ball teams, four junior league softball teams and three senior league softball teams.

The applications will be used to assign teams. Once they are all in, league officials will determine how many teams there will be and release a schedule by about the first of May.

As last year, all games will be on Tuesday and Thursday nights at the Muenster city ballpark. The league is sponsored by the Knights of Columbus.

League officials have also issued a call for coaches. Anyone interested in coaching one of the teams should call Deb Klement at 759-2540 or Robin Hess at 668-7811 for more information.

Co-ed softball tourney set

A one day co-ed softball tournament is in the making if sufficient interest can be generated. Hopefully it will be held on Sunday, May 12, with four teams entered to play a pair of elimination games and the two winners meeting in a champ final.

Teams will be made up of boys and girls aged 18 and over, and the entry deadline date is April 20. Debbie Klement is available for more information at 759-2540 or 759-4579.

P&W official explains fish cleaning proposal

One of the proposed changes in fishing regulations for 1985-86 regarding cleaning or filleting of fish in fresh water may be causing some concern among Texas anglers.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department proposes to extend the "final destination" rule now in effect for saltwater to include all waters of the state.

"The proposal simply means it would be illegal for a fisherman to remove the head or tail, or to fillet, any finfish while still in his boat," Ernest Simmons, inland fisheries chief, said. "This does not mean they have to keep the fish whole until arriving back home."

The proposal, if adopted after public hearings, would still allow fishermen to process fish at fish-cleaning stations or other shoreline facilities. They would be prohibited from cleaning fish on jetties or piers, however.

The rule is designed to assist game wardens in enforcing length limits and other regulations, since cleaned or filleted fish are difficult or impossible to identify by length and species.

A hearing was held Wednesday evening at the Cooke County courthouse on regulations.

Relays draw huge crowd of athletes here Saturday

of 11 feet — far better than the second-place mark of 9'6".

Valley View's John Grussell won the 200-meter dash in a swift 23.52, well ahead of the second-place finisher from Windthorst who ran a 24.17.

Keith Klement of Muenster and Chris Dangelmayr of Sacred Heart finished second and fourth in the 1600-meter run. Klement ran a 4:48.86 and Dangelmayr clocked in at 4:57.07. Klement also ran a 10:39.62 in the 3200 meters for second place.

Valley View swept the 400 and 1600 relays with times of 45.43 and 3:39.76.

Keith Hennigan of Muenster took fifth in the 800-meter run with a 2:10.77 clocking, and Craig Voth of Sacred Heart was fifth in the 400-meter dash at 56.32.

In the big-school division, Callisburg had several athletes who made good showings.

Jeff Sanders took the school's only first-place trophy with a 4:43.64 in the metric mile. He nosed out Jimmy Jones of S&S by a scant third of a second.

Monty Gilbreath took third in the shot with a 41-foot toss, and Clint Hollandsworth was third in the 300-meter intermediate hurdles at 42.80.

Hollandsworth also earned points in the 100-meter high hurdles, clocking a 16.01 for a sixth-place finish.

Richard Edwards high-jumped 5'10" to tie for fourth place with Skeeter Akre of Aubrey and Doug Warren of Springtown. They each got 2½ points for their efforts.

Complete results of the meet looked like this:

Five Steps To A Quality Steak Dinner.

Step #1. Start with steak, USDA "choice" steak. Fresh cut everyday. Never frozen.

Step #2. Next you need potatoes. Fresh Idaho potatoes. Big potatoes, 12 oz. or more. Or fresh-cut French fries. (You did start with a USDA "choice" steak? Right?)

Step #3. Then you must have a superb salad bar. Fresh and generous... filled with all the good things you expect. And more. (And your steak is USDA "choice"? You did make sure of that?)

Step #4. And you should enjoy service that's fast, attentive and courteous, (Excuse me, with a USDA "choice" steak, remember?)

Step #5. Enjoy all of the above, (including only USDA "choice" steaks) at a price that's reasonable, and family-affordable.

New police chief on duty in Lindsay

On March 4, Charlie J. Reynolds began his duty as the new Lindsay police chief. He is currently working a 40 hour week, and will be available in case of an emergency.

Chief Reynolds comes to Lindsay from Fort Worth where he worked as a security supervisor for the Fort Worth Colonial Country Club. Prior to this he served as Chief of Police at the Pelican Bay Police Department in 1984, and from 1980-84, Chief Reynolds served as Chief of Police for the Savoy Police Department in Savoy, Texas.

Chief Reynolds is retired from the United States Army where he served as a Military Policeman from 1948 to 1969. In 1976 he received his Associates Degree in Law Enforcement from the Tarrant County Junior College.

Chief Reynolds is presently affiliated with the American Federation of Police where he is currently serving as National Chairman. The new police chief is married and has two children. He and his wife Shirley are presently making their home in Lindsay.

St. Anne's Society hosts 28 at meeting

Members of the Saint Annes met on Wednesday evening March 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lindsay Parish Hall. Marie Zimmerer, President presided. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and a treasurers report given.

The up-coming dinner and raffle were discussed and it was decided to keep dinner prices the same as the year before. It was also decided that the Saint Annes would pay for the refreshments provided at the FFA sponsored CPR classes that were held earlier this year.

President, Marie Zimmerer asked for volunteers to telephone ladies A through J, for Easter cleaning of the Church. Pam Hoberer, Evelyn Fuhrmann and Kathy Lutkenhaus volunteered. Ladies to head the Easter decorating committee include Juanita Bengfort and Rachel Schmidkofer.

The Northern Deanery meeting will be held in Lindsay at the Parish Hall on Thursday April 11. Registration will be held before Mass in the Parish Hall. Installation of officers will take place at this meeting. It was decided that St. Annes members would bring a covered dish or salad and the club would supply the ham.

Confirmation will be held on May 8. It was decided that the St. Annes would serve refreshments following the event.

Peggy Lutkenhaus volunteered to head the sick committee.

Winner of the door prize was Dorothy Bengfort. Serving refreshments were Rita Sandmann, Rosalee Sandmann, Donna Schad and Rachel Schmidkofer. Twenty-eight members were in attendance.

YHT club schedules activities

The Lindsay Young Homemakers held their monthly meeting on Tuesday, March 19 at 7:00 p.m. in the homemaking room.

During the business meeting, the members volunteered to collect for the American Cancer Society after Masses on March 23 and 24.

The club decided to have a bake sale after 8:00 Mass on March 31. Remaining items will be sold after 10:00 Mass. The proceeds of the bake sale will go to the family of Kelly Keeling who died of cystic fibrosis.

Easter baskets for the members of the community were discussed. Charlotte Sicking is chairman for the project. Members will meet at 9:00 a.m. on Saturday April 6 to assemble the baskets and deliver them.

At the April Meeting, we will nominate officers for next year. The election of officers will be at the May meeting.

A video tape on cystic fibrosis was shown for the program.

The next meeting will be April 16. Betty Rose Walterscheid will have the program in her home on cake decorating.

Booster Club sets tourney

The Lindsay Booster Club will sponsor another one-day volleyball tournament on Sunday, April 21. All Lindsay high school students, ex-students or any persons in the Lindsay community are invited to sign up. Deadline for entering will be Wednesday, April 17.

The teams will then be drawn at random by team captains appointed by Coach Roller and Coach Thomason. The tournament will be co-ed, and played by co-ed rules. Players will be notified by their team captains prior to their game time.

To sign up, call the Lindsay School at 668-8923, Edna Hermes 665-0432 or notify any high school student.

PTC works on new play

The Lindsay PTC members have been hard at work on their latest play "Quit Your Kidding", which is their fourth annual production, a farce-comedy in three acts by Felecia Metcalfe.

Two performances will be given, April 12 and 13 beginning at 8:00 p.m. each night. Proceeds will go to the PTC funds.

Everyone is invited to attend either performance in the Lindsay Cafetorium for an evening of great entertainment. So, mark those dates on your calendar!

Ladies visit Subiaco Abbey

Mrs. Amy Rhodes of Gainesville and Mrs. Tony Hermes of Lindsay spent several days recently in Subiaco, Arkansas and also visited in the surrounding area.

They attended the solemn celebration of the feast of St. Benedict on March 21 at Subiaco Abbey.

Abbot Raphael De Salvo celebrated Holy Mass with priests of the monastery and others from the area. Father Robert Wilson of Fort Worth gave the homily for the impressive ceremony.

Mmes. Rhodes and Hermes were guests at Cory House and also visited former pastors. They accompanied Father Leo Koesler, brother of Mrs. Hermes, to Booneville, Ark. where he is pastor of Immaculate Conception Church and they attended Bible study class with him on Thursday.

Returning to Cory House for the night, they left Subiaco Friday morning after Mass, to begin the long drive home.

Tommie Sandmann is head LHS cheerleader

The Lindsay High School student body elected its cheerleaders for the 1985-86 school year on March 13.

Eleven girls tried out for the six positions with the following being chosen: Jolanda Wimmer, Sophomore, Sonya Eberhart, Junior, Katrinka Griffin, Senior, Christy Hellman, Sr., Minnie Hundt, Senior and Tommie Sandmann, Senior and Head Cheerleader.

Drill team tryouts will be held on April 10th.

Am told that Mrs. Catherine Putnam of New Harp was admitted to the Decatur Hospital over the weekend after some meat, she was eating, became lodged in her throat. It is our understanding that if the condition still remained the same on Mon. 25th, that surgery is a possibility, if the meat cannot be removed by other methods. We hope by the time you read this that the problem will have been taken care of without surgery.

Mrs. Bill Jackson of Decatur underwent surgery on her left hand Monday March 25th at the Medical Plaza in Fort Worth. She is the daughter-in-law of the Ted Jacksons of the Burg.

Visiting with Louise Shults on Monday the 25th, was her friend Mrs. Venus Raue of Sunset.

Mrs. Carol Harris of Saint Jo returned to her teaching duties Monday the 25th — after a six weeks leave of absence. During that time she became the mother of a baby son. Mrs. Harris teaches English at the Forestburg School.

With the approaching Ex-Student Banquet my side-kick is having many memories of his school days here. He remembers one teacher in the school system that used Castor-Oil as a disciplinary measure. If her students misbehaved or failed to have up their lessons, they were given a dose of Castor-oil. Perryman said due to his not being in the lower grades — he was never on the receiving end of this punishment. Methinks if he had been her student he would have spent more time out of his classroom than in it.

Mrs. Jack C. Dill attended funeral services at 10 p.m. Mon. the 25th for Mrs. Dorothy Meyers in Gainesville. Mrs. Meyers lived in the Burg for several years and was the Dill's neighbor.

The Forestburg School Board election will be Sat. April 6th at the school. Candidates this year are Ricky Huckabay and Ben Metcalf.

W.T. Reynolds sporting a brand new Ford Pickup. Tis one of those double-seater types.

Saturday April 27th, a bike-athon will assemble about 10 a.m., at the Community Center and proceed to Rosston (approximately 11.8 mi.) It will be a benefit ride for St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

Get your bike in shape, get a sponsor, they may pay so much per mile, or give a donation. The ride will be supervised with flag riders in front and back of the riders, to slow traffic. We will not be responsible for accidents, but with careful planning and supervision, we think there will be small danger of accidents.

We plan to eat a picnic lunch at Rosston. There will be pickups available for those who fall out.

We need adult helpers, riders and sponsors.

It will be a fun trip. If you will help in any way, please call Cleo Lanier 964-2216.

by Myrt Denham

First of all, my sincere apologies to the Tolbert Fannings, of the Stoney Point area, for the foul-up on the article in last week's column about the shooting incident that took place in their area about 2 weeks ago. The most important part was deleted from the item — that being the bullet entered their home through a window in Tolbert's office — shattering glass all over the room. The Fannings were asleep in another area of the house. This is why the Fannings wished to stress the danger of people shooting guns — not realizing where the bullets will end up.

It was a mighty happy Tuesday March 19 for Diann Huckabay with the arrival of her mother Mrs. LaRue Scarbrough of Houston. Accompanying Mrs. Scarbrough was Diann's cousin Mrs. Pam Lawson also of Houston. Diann says she hadn't seen her cousin Pam in seven years. The two visitors returned home on Friday the 22nd.

Mrs. Millie Reynolds spent nearly all day Wednesday the 20th with her sister Mrs. Joe Denham, Bellmire Home, Bowie. Millie reports they enjoyed a "ole-fashioned" singing in the a.m. and after lunch they attended a "concert" put on by the Bowie "Kitchen-Band." It was a most enjoyable day for Millie and Joe.

Recent visitors with Marion and Howard Sockwell were Mr. and Mrs. Kib Hundley of Denton. The Hundleys own a farm in the Mallard area.

Ted and Laura Belle Jackson were "grazing" over in Muenster Wednesday a.m. the 20th.

Kyura Orrell spent her recent spring-break in Denton visiting with a friend of hers that recently moved there. Kyura also helped her brother, Bill, move into a new apartment while in Denton.

The Forestburg United Methodist Women met at 2 p.m. Wed., Mar. 20th at their Church. Mrs. Laura Belle Jackson, president, called the meeting to order and opened with a devotional "What Does Nice Mean." Esther Shears had the program titled "Strangers, Immigrants, Angels Unaware." The program was followed by a fellowship period with refreshments after which Mmes. Laura Belle Jackson, Vera Mae McGee and Lucille Littell called on Mrs. Sybel Miller.

Cecil and Dorothy Foster took off Thursday a.m. Mar. 21st for River Run Camp on the Brazos River near Grandbury — where they met 13 other folks for a weekend of fun and visiting. Dorothy says Cecil went up and down the river and really dug in the fish. So it was big fish fry Sat. night for everyone. The Fosters made it home late Sunday the 24th.

Master Brian Huckabay, son of the Mr. and Mrs. Don Huckabay, celebrated his 9th birthday Friday the 22nd.

It was shopping time in Denton on Friday the 22nd for Mmes. Wanda Perryman and Minnie Sirman.

Mrs. Vera Mae McGee made it over to Bowie Friday the 22nd where she met her daughter and husband — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilkison of Wichita Falls and returned home with them. On Saturday they all went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Griffin to meet with Mr. and Mrs. Mayo McGee of Amarillo and have a big family dinner with all the Wichita Falls relatives attending. On Sunday a.m. Edna Merle Hill, Bowie, drove up to join everyone — and that p.m. Vera Mae returned home with daughter Edna Merle where she spent the night. It was home on Monday a.m. the 25th for Vera Mae.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Howland, Iowa Park, were Forestburg visitors, Friday March 22nd. They especially visited the school where Mrs. Howland attended school in 1938. She is the former Vanita Luther, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Luther. The Luthers used to reside in the Uz Community.

Mrs. Howland is a cook in the Iowa Park School System now and that her parents are residents of Bellmire Home in Bowie.

Garrett and Lance Johnson, sons of the Gary Johnsons, made it over to Jacksboro Friday the 22nd to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gunter. On Saturday Garrett and Lance, Mr. and Mrs. Gunter and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Johnson all met at the home of Mrs. Johnson's grandparents, the C.W. Cougers of Possum Kingdom. It was a big fish fry Saturday night for everyone and home for all on Sunday.

Many Forestburg folks attended the project show in Nocona on Thursday the 20th — two of which were Mmes. Cleo Lanier and Marion Sockwell.

Mrs. Virginia Lynch over in Bowie Saturday p.m. March 23 visiting her grandmother Mrs. Dave (Nellie) Ray at the Bellmire Home.

Mmes. Jewell McGregor, Shirley Lanier and Louise Shults spending all day Saturday 23rd in Gainesville shopping.

Wanda Perryman and Millie Reynolds ending up in Wichita Falls Saturday 23rd to do some shopping and then visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Perryman and Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Perryman.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parson and children, Mrs. Darlene Johnston and Terrell of Wichita Falls and Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn and children of Gainesville all in the Uz Community helping Mmes. Parsons, Johnston and Dunn's mother — Hazel Greenwood, celebrated her birthday Saturday the 23rd with a big dinner followed with cake and ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Embry and family of Newark in Dyemound spending the March 23-24th weekend with his parents, J.P. and Ora Embry.

Mrs. Elaine Truitt of Argyle visiting her friend Marion Sockwell on Saturday p.m. the 23rd.

If recipients exceeded income limits Social Security taxable

People who receive at least one Social Security check in 1984 and who earned more than the annual exempt amount last year have until April 15 to file an annual report of their 1984 earnings, according to Gus Jones, Social Security district manager in Sherman.

The 1984 annual exempt amount was $6960 for people 65 or over and $5160 for people under 65 all of 1984. A person who was 70 or older all of 1984 does not have to make a report. Neither do people who receive benefits because of disability, since different rules apply.

A person who did not receive any checks in 1984 because of expected earnings does not have to make a report of his or her earnings. But, Jones said, if those earnings were less than expected, it would be in that person's best interest to make a report.

This is because just $1 in benefits is withheld for every $2 of earnings above the annual exempt amount. It could be that some benefits may be due. If they are, they will be paid after the annual report is reviewed.

Most people who have to make a report of their 1984 earnings have already received a form for this purpose in the mail. Those who did not receive an annual report form or those who misplaced the one they did receive can get a copy at any Social Security office.

The people there will answer any questions about the annual report of earnings. The Sherman Social Security office is located at 810 N. Travis and the telephone number is 893-4654.

Those in Gainesville can use the toll free number by dialing 665-7104.

ASCS extends signup deadline

For wheat, feed grain, cotton programs

Program signup has been extended through Monday for the 1985 wheat, feed grain and cotton programs, according to Tim Gilbert, county executive director for the ASCS.

Those who participate will be allowed to hay and graze their own set-aside acreage — a change just announced last week.

"If you have existing small grains on ACR (set-aside) land, you can bale or graze it out and then establish another approved cover and bale or graze it," Gilbert said. "If you don't have a crop on ACR land, you can still establish an approved cover and bale or graze it."

Some approved covers include sudan, red top cane, millet and haygrazer. Hegari and soybeans are not approved.

Although farmers may bale or graze ACR land under the program, they may not charge another person for grazing the land, or sell hay produced on it. "This is basically for your own livestock," Gilbert explained.

Those who plan to continue grazing ACR land after May 31 must file a request to do so before June 1. Those planning to bale must file a request before doing so, and those who plan to bale small grain on ACR land must file a request by May 1.

There is a charge of $10 per farm to pay the cost of a visit to verify that the cover crop was harvested by haying or grazing and adequate cover for erosion protection is maintained.

All other program provisions remain the same, Gilbert said.

"If you've already signed up on all the farms you're going to, this could change your intentions," Gilbert said. "Your intention changes do not have to be made by April — however, you do need to be sure you are signed up for all crops on all farms on which you intend to participate."

Farmers may withdraw from the program before April 1. After that date, the contract is mandatory.

March 31 is also the final date to insure 1985 cotton, corn, grain sorghum and peanuts. Proven yields must be filed with the ASCS office for these crops for FCIC purposes.

The office is located at 321 E. California St. in Gainesville, telephone 665-4397.

County Agent's Report

About this time of the year home lawns need a boost to get them in shape for the spring season just around the corner. Three operations that can get a lawn off to a good start are scalping, fertilizing and applying a weed killer.

Scalping a lawn in early spring serves to revitalize it and promote early spring green-up.

Begin the operation by lowering the blade of your lawnmower 1/2 to 1 inch below the normal setting. Then mow the lawn in two directions that are at right angles to each other. Remove the clippings after each mowing.

You should also keep the lawnmower blade lowered until mid-summer.

After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer (one containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium) to promote leaf and root growth. Use 1 pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 12 pounds of an 8-8-8 fertilizer or 8 pounds of a 12-4-8 fertilizer. Repeat the application in the early summer and fall.

For a dark green lawn, apply nitrogen every 50 days at the rate of one pound to 1,000 square feet. Monthly applications of iron chelate or iron sulfate during the spring and summer promote a healthy color in St. Augustine lawns.

Broadleaf herbicides are useful in bermuda turf. Again these contain 2,4-D or Banvel in most cases and should be used according to label directions. Combinations of herbicides with fertilizers are available and convenient to use but, as with all herbicides, should only be used according to instructions on the label. Read those labels and be sure of susceptible plants that may be growing in the area.

Proper maintenance is essential for a healthy lawn, and these practices will give new life to a dormant, weedy lawn.

To keep crabgrass or other unsightly weeds from becoming a problem, apply a preemergence herbicide (weed killer) containing benefin, dacthal or bensulide in early spring, after the grass has recovered from winter. We are a little late now for most preemergence use. If asters have been a problem you may want to try a preemergence even now. Applying a preemergence herbicide too early this year could further weaken turfgrasses injured by winter conditions.

Extension Service sets estate planning seminar

An economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service says a properly drawn estate plan may save many farm and ranch families up to $200,000 in estate taxes.

That is, assuming the married couple like each other, have a farm or ranch worth $1 million or more, and want to pass it on to their children.

"For families with smaller operations the estate tax savings are not as large," economist Wayne A. Hayenga says. "In fact, for many farm and ranch families, the income tax savings of a properly prepared estate plan can be greater than the estate tax savings."

A two-day seminar on these complicated tax topics will be held in Denton April 23-4. The program is structured to help farmers and ranchers learn how to lower their tax burden and ease administrative burdens that affect passing their estates to their loved ones.

In addition to discussing estate planning systems, Hayenga will also discuss tax savings possibilities for corporations, partnerships and trusts when family members are involved in the business.

Making gifts to avoid estate taxes will be discussed as well.

"There are two problems with making excessive gifts," Hayenga says. "The first is dying poor; the second is the adverse income tax consequences the gift can cause the recipient. A properly planned estate can save many dollars in income taxes for the heirs also."

Two problems that affect family operations — planning for inflation, and planning for the growth of the business — will also be discussed. The dilemma of fairness among all children, when one child is interested in the family business and the others are not, will also be addressed.

The seminar will be held at the Holiday Inn on the Dallas Highway in Denton. There is a $60 registration fee. More information is available at the Cooke County Extension Office, or can be obtained by calling Alfred Croix in Denton, 566-3607, or Hayenga in College Station, (409) 845-2226.

President seeks input from area Congressman

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm offered his views on the troubled farm and health care industries to President Ronald Reagan during a private meeting at the White House last week.

The 17th District Representative said the one-on-one discussion proved to be very positive and constructive.

"I was very pleased to have the opportunity to present our President with some views he had not been exposed to," Stenholm said. "He was surprised by some of the assertions. We agreed that our goal is to cut overall spending. We just disagree on how to do it."

On the farm issues, the Stamford Democrat told President Reagan he was not asking for more money.

"What I said was that Agriculture will work with fewer dollars, but the funds that are there must be provided in a more productive manner."

He said the administration's proposals were not productive, and quite possibly very destructive. "I told him the administration's bill will have a devastating affect on agriculture if it is implemented in its current form. That program would actually cost more than the proposal we're designing in the House."

During the 30-minute meeting, Congressman Stenholm also said he used figures provided by the administration to make his point to the President.

"Secretary John Block admitted last week, and again this week to me in direct questioning at a House Ag Committee Hearing, that the administration's program would cause a 20 percent drop in income over two years. It would cause more than 20 to 30 percent of our producing farmers to go bankrupt in the next three years. This is quite a blow to an industry already on its knees. I further said that the strong U.S. dollar is hurting our markets abroad. I don't think he understood that, I think he does now."

Stenholm offered a plan that would freeze spending at Fiscal 1985 current services baseline, make significant reductions from that level, but still maintain an adequate safety net.

The day after the meeting, White House officials requested that Stenholm return for another meeting with President Reagan and five other invited congressmen, all of whom had agricultural backgrounds. Reagan asked them to make further suggestions utilizing their agriculture expertise.

Congressman Stenholm said the main reason he requested the initial meeting was to insure positive communication between the administration and the Ag Committee. He said he had a fear that, after the veto of the emergency farm credit bill, a "confrontation attitude" was developing.

The fourth-term congressman said he had that fear allayed at the meeting.

AMPI meeting ...

The 16th annual convention of the Associated Milk Producers, Inc. concludes Sunday in Chicago.

Some 2,000 AMPI delegates, elected officials and management staff are reviewing the cooperative's progress and charting the future, discussing the dairy provisions of the 1985 Farm Bill as well as the farm credit situation, promotion and advertising.

AMPI, the nation's leading dairy farmer cooperative with more than 30,000 members, produces about 12 percent of the nation's milk supply. The cheese plant in Muenster is owned and operated by AMPI.
