VOLUME VII

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1943

NUMBER 45

Almost simultaneously we get reports from both the United States and Germany on new secret weapons. For us it's the bazooka, a rocket propelled projectile that the Nazis have learned to respect. For Germany it's the remote control glider that sails directly into its target with a load of bombs. Germany also tells about a super-duper rocket projectile of its own. A tool more terrible than allied minds can imagine.

There's something strange about the announcements of these weapons. On the one hand America turns out a flood of ballyhoo on the bazooka many months after it had been tried and proven in battle. Why the information was held back is a mystery that only OWI can explain. For the enemy has certainly had ample opportunity to learn about it. Ever since the early days of the African campaign when it completely flabbergasted him with its deadly effect on tanks. Apparently the purpose is to let the American public know nothing about our weapons until the enemy knows all about them. A precaution to prevent us from unwittingly giving away any vital details. Let the enemy learn the hard way.

In direct contrast we have the terrifying German accounts of what their new weapons will do but no report as to what they are doing. Could it be that the master race is trying another psychological attack on Allied nerves? Or could it be a psychological sedative for the shattered nerves of its own people?

Whatever the answer, one thing is certain. Americans are not going to worry about Hitler's mythical weapons until they meet 'em. And then they'll deal with 'em just like they have dealt with every thing else he has offered so far. As regards the remote control bomb-loaded glider, our airmen will probably find it excellent for target practice. To say the least, they will be somewhat relieved to rush in and blast something that can't shoot back. Or, if they don't care for such dull action, they may prefer to knock off the parent plane and let the glider go on out of control.

According to some standards the bazooka is America's wonder weapon of World War II. It's a combination of several desirable features. In the first place it delivers a blow deadly enough to wreck tanks, pill boxes or lesser fortifications. It can be operated by two men, one to aim, the other to feed the rockets. Finally, the tube, or launcher, weighs approximately the same as a regulation rifle while the rocket weighs only a few pounds. In other words here is a weapon that, at short range, is the equivalent of an artillery piece but requires only a fourth of the personnel for its operation, no equipment whatever to move it around, and very little equipment to keep it supplied. A jeep can carry its ammunition as easily as a 2½ ton truck can carry that of the regular cannon.

The bazooka's operation is very similar to that of an ordinary rocket used in fireworks displays. Once set off it furnishes its own propelling power. The tube, open at both ends, serves only to guide it in the take-off and to furnish the electric spark for firing. In action one man rests the tube on his shoulder with the rear end extending some 12 or 18 inches behind him. His assistant puts a rocket in the open end, then steps aside to avoid the back blast as the propelling charge pushes off. Meanwhile he picks up another rocket for the reload as soon as the tube is clear.

Whether the bazooka will ever have the range and accuracy of artillery is doubtful. Nevertheless, though it may never replace the big guns, it has already won for itself a place in modern warfare. A sort of close range artillery to cover any distance from the reach of a hand grenade to the shortest limits of mortar and cannon fire.

If this war lasts as long as some predict we can expect quite a few more ingenious tools of mass destruction. Such as a gain plane capable of carrying twice the present loads twice as far. And rocket boosted bombs capable of penetrating any of today's fortifications then blasting with a shock that is little short of an earthquake.

It's depressing to think that so much inventive genius and effort are being spent solely for the purpose of destruction. However, as always, there is a brighter side. So many of the weapons can later be turned into constructive use. (Continued on page 6)

NAUTICAL NAMESAKE

AN ATLANTIC PORT—Sculptor Joseph Kratina inspects his latest work, a plaque designed for the saloon of the recently launched SS Francis Asbury. It commemorates the pioneer bishop for whom this Liberty ship was named. Fifty scattered Methodist churches, fellow namesakes of Asbury, are the donors.

Captain Myers W. Jay, USMS, master of the ship, received the gift while in port here, the presentation being made by Dr. James R. Joy, noted church historian. The tablet bears a portrait of its subject in bas relief and the words: "Bishop Francis Asbury—1745-1816—Apostle of the Long Trail. When Jesus is in the ship, all is well"—Asbury Journal. Presented by the Asbury Methodist Churches—1943.

Registration Days For Ration Book 4 Are Announced

Citizens To Register At Schools Oct. 21 To 23 For New Books

War ration book No. 4 will be issued in Texas during a three day period of registration, Oct. 21, 22, 23. It was announced by the office of price administration in Gainesville Friday.

The new books will be distributed at schools instead of being mailed from sectional centers as was done with Book 3. Registrants will be required to present Book 3 at the school in order to obtain No. 4.

Application forms will be provided at the local public school and will be filled in by volunteer workers. The registrant will be required only to sign an application.

Names of all members of the family represented at the registration must be furnished for application purposes, including their ages, sexes, addresses and a certification that all are of the same family, defined by OPA, as a family relationship by blood, marriage, or adoption, and who regularly live in the same household.

Persons temporarily away from home—for a period not to exceed 60 days—may be included in a family group application. Others will be required to file individual applications. Members of the armed forces or those who intend to reside in this country not more than 60 days, may not make application for Book 4, which will probably be put into use, along with plastic tokens, the latter part of November.

FIRE AT MIDNIGHT MONDAY DESTROYS SCHMITT GARAGE

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the garage at the Ed Schmitt home in this city at midnight Monday. The building and automobile along with chicken feed, stored in one partition, are a total loss. Damage was estimated at $1,500 and was not protected by insurance.

When discovered the blaze was too far advanced to save anything but the local volunteer fire department rushed to the scene and did splendid work in keeping nearby dwellings and other buildings from igniting.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmitt and neighbors were not aware that the garage was aflame and the alarm was given by Tech. Sgt. Charlie Wimmer who passed by ten minutes to twelve. The fire department and scores of citizens sped to the scene immediately, but the fire was so far advanced that no help could be rendered, other than protection of buildings close by.

Muenster Beauty Shop Re-Opened Wednesday Under New Management

Muenster's Beauty Shop was re-opened Wednesday under new management after being closed for a month. The operator in charge is Mrs. Shalle Banning of Saint Jo. She is thoroughly experienced in all lines of beauty work and extends an invitation to Muenster ladies to visit her. She maintained a shop in Olney for 12 years before leaving that city, and for a time had a shop in Saint Jo.

Until living quarters are available here Mrs. Banning is making the trip back and forth daily. Her husband is employed by an oil company and works in both Cooke and Montague county fields. They will move to this city in the near future.

NOTICE OF ELECTION

All land owners of Cooke county are reminded of, and requested to attend, a meeting next Tuesday, Oct. 5, in the Gainesville court house for the purpose of electing two district supervisors for the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation District. The meeting is scheduled to begin at 2:30, and at this time land owners will also have an opportunity to learn more about soil conservation.

Among new families moving to Muenster during the past week are Mr. and Mrs. Ira Bowers and son, who occupy the L.A. Bernauer house south of church; Sgt. and Mrs. H. Scott and baby son, who have an apartment at the Aug. Friske home; Pvt. and Mrs. Horsemann and son, who have an apartment at Mrs. Katy Roberg's; and Cpl. and Mrs. Calvin Strickland, who have a room at the W. L. Stock home. All the men are stationed at Camp Howze, the soldiers with the third army.

Drivers' Licenses Begin Expiring On October First

Renewal Applications Must Be Filled Out To Avoid Examinations

Drivers' licenses issued to thousands of Texas motorists two years ago will begin expiring October 1, and operators who do not fill out renewal applications will be obliged to stand the ordeal of a complete driver's examination before again being licensed to drive.

Everyone's license will not expire the early part of October. Motorists will remember that two years ago, under the 1941 drivers' license law, licenses were renewed in brackets, according to serial numbers over a period of 13 months.

These licenses bear the notation that they expire two years from the issuance date, which is stamped on each certificate. Therefore drivers should look at the date stamped on their license and determine when, within the 13 months following Oct. 1, renewal should be made.

Application forms can now be obtained at the Gainesville police station and will later be available in this city. A.H. Fleming, state highway officer who conducts driver examinations for the county, at Gainesville, urges all motorists to make renewal application before the deadline to avoid the inconvenience of having to appear in person for a formal examination.

Renewals, along with a small fee are to be mailed to the State Department of Public Safety, Austin, Texas.

SHOE STAMPS MUST COVER SIX MONTHS SAYS NEW OPA ORDER

The new shoe stamp, No. 1 on the "Airplane" sheet in War Ration Book 3, which becomes valid October 1, will probably have to last six months, OPA has announced.

At the same time OPA said that Stamp 18, originally scheduled to expire October 31, is extended indefinitely and will overlap the new stamp. The present plan is to eliminate expiration dates on shoe stamps and to make new stamps valid as soon as supplies warrant. This enables a person to save the stamp until shoes are needed.

Heretofore, it's been four months between coupons. Principal cause for the six month's period, it is explained, is a critical shortage of leather due to heavy demands for military and industrial uses and for shoe repairs.

Present production estimates indicate, OPA said, that the new stamp will have to last until May 1, but should the outlook improve, the period will be shortened. A definite announcement will be made as soon as studies on the subject are complete. Meanwhile the stamp has no expiration date.

GIFTLess CHRISTMAS? MAIL PACKAGES NOW!

Thousands of America's fighting men overseas face the prospect of a giftless Christmas because their relatives back home are neglecting to mail early.

This word came Monday from Postmaster Walker who said reports show a surprisingly small volume of early mailing.

He reminded: "The mailing period began Sept. 15. It closes Oct. 15 for Army overseas personnel, and Nov. 1 for Navy personnel overseas."

Thursday Card Party Draws Good Attendance

The card party sponsored by the Catholic Daughters of America in the K of C Hall Thursday evening was a delightful affair attended by approximately 125 persons. Tables were arranged in the ball room for progressive 42, bridge, bingo, sheep head and other games.

In the 42 series Mrs. Jake Pagel received the high score award and Andrew Schoech the consolation favor. In the bridge games prizes were awarded to Mrs. Bruce Orr and Miss Anna Hellman, respectively, while in tango awards went to Mrs. Joe Walterscheid and Louie Lutkenhaus. Miss Anna Hellman drew the door prize.

Refreshments of chicken salad sandwiches and coffee were served by the committee in charge.

Members of the court this week expressed thanks and appreciation to all who attended and helped make the affair a success.

Local Bond Sales Climb To $80,000

This Drive Based On Cost Value; Still Need $22,500 To Get Quota

Muenster's war bond purchases in the Third War Loan Drive hovered slightly below the $80,000 mark Wednesday afternoon, according to figures released by Mayor J. M. Weinzapfel, chairman for this community. That figure, however, must rise to $90,000 by the close of the campaign for Muenster to meet its quota.

It was explained this week, Thursday, that unlike former drives this campaign quota is figured on cost value, instead of maturity value of the bonds. Muenster's $90,000 cost value quota is $120,000 of maturity value. Therefore this community has actually purchased $67,500 worth of bonds at cost value, and $22,500 cost value bonds still remain to be purchased to meet the quota.

County Chairman, Felix McCurdy said Tuesday that the bond sale in Cooke county would officially end Saturday night, October 2, and report on that day would indicate whether the goal was reached or the county had failed to meet the quota. Last figures available on the county total were those of Monday evening, $90,148 leaving nearly half million to be sold during the remainder of the drive.

No special activity was scheduled for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday this week, but Monday night's bond rally in the new Fair Park USO building was an interesting and colorful event, which aided the campaign to the amount of $108,000.

Gainesville and Cooke county citizens were given a preview of the handsome $80,000 structure which was opened to soldiers of Camp Howze and Gainesville army air base Tuesday. Several hundred persons gathered to inspect the spacious auditorium, lobby-library, reading rooms and other attractive features, and the 86th division band played a concert after which Frank Morris presided as master of ceremonies for the bond rally. Spirited bidding took place for articles donated by Gainesville merchants with Mr. Morris, Roy Brazleton and Pete Briscoe as auctioneers.

In Muenster the bond committee has been active, calling on local residents. "We're going to sell a lot more in the coming few days," Mr. Weinzapfel said. "In fact there are a good many citizens who haven't bought bonds yet, because committeemen haven't had time to see them."

The chairman urged a wide buying of bonds in the few days left before the drive closes. He pointed out that Muenster has never failed to reach any quota assigned her in war work, either in World War I or during the present war, and if every one will do his best in this drive Muenster will not fail.

Citizens are asked not to wait until a committeeman calls at their home, but to go to the bank or postoffice and place the order for the amount of bonds they feel they should buy.

"If this is done, Muenster's quota can easily be raised by next Saturday night, when the campaign comes to a close," Mayor Weinzapfel said.

AL HORNS LEAVE TO WORK IN WAR PLANT

Mr. and Mrs. Alois Horn left Muenster Sunday to make their home in Dallas. Both will be employed at North American as riveters.

Al sold his Magnolia Station before his departure and in leaving expressed his regret at no longer being able to serve his any customers in that business. "Dealtins with citizens of this and surrounding communities have always been most pleasant," he stated, "and I wish to thank each and every one for the patronage and support given me. I feel, however, that I can do more for my country by being employed in a war plant," he added. He had charge of the station for a year and 8 months.

Management of the station has been taken over by Ervin Hamric. He is being assisted by his wife as bookkeeper, and by John Mosler and Walter Yosten. He is continuing with his job at Camp Howze.

CONCRETE FLOORS FOR GRAIN STORAGE

Concrete floors in grain storage structures have the advantage of being rat proof and of providing a plentiful substitute for scarce building materials.

According to Albert Brient, County Agricultural Agent, concrete simplifies construction, solves the heavy load problem in grain storage, and makes it possible to keep the whole building lower since wooden floors for permanence should be at least two feet above the ground.

Many farmers have hesitated to use concrete flooring in a grain bin or crib on account of the danger of it becoming damp and causing grain spoilage. There is reason for such fear, because if the floor touches water or damp soil the top will be damp.

In most locations, he explains, there is no difficulty in building a concrete floor which will remain dry. The essential factors in constructing a dry floor of concrete are to build it so that the underside will be at least four or five inches above the surrounding ground, and place a layer of gravel or crushed rock at least four or five inches thick beneath the concrete. Moisture from the soil will not move up through gravel, crushed rock, or similar material as it will through soil. However, in a few locations water may rise and come in contact with the concrete. In such cases some method of water proofing the floor would be needed.

If desired, concrete floors may be built high above the ground by using higher concrete foundation walls and a dirt fill.

Health is one thing usually taken for granted. It seems never to be appreciated until we find we are losing it—yet without health all other gifts of life are worthless.

These all mean poisons in your body which must be eliminated, for this there is nothing like steam or electric baths. They bring into play every possible means of casting out the poisons.

The next time you are feeling "low" just try the baths at the E. S. Norris Vapor Bath House. You will be surprised at the benefit you receive and at the small cost, for all they are within the reach of all.

Gainesville Oil Mill

QUALITY GINNERS

Located at 1504 N. Dixon in Gainesville. Phone 220

— SUPPORT HOME INDUSTRY —

The history of progress in any community or city in the United States that has made any progress of note invariably shows that their growth and expansion can be attributed to manufacturing industries. Those towns and cities which have forged to the front as leaders have had alert and progressive business men who pioneered in various manufacturing industries.

The payroll of this firm are a great help for the economic life of the community. For these reasons the Gainesville Oil Mill is an institution of real value to this community.

While only a very small percentage of their output is purchased in this county, yet the manufacturing cost of the entire output is represented to a great extent by wages paid to employees, and ultimately distributed with local people.

The firm itself is a heavy contributor to county and municipal expenses through taxes on their property.

The above are some of the reasons why this institution is an important asset to this section and why you should always support, patronize and boost this concern.

S. L. Bennett & Sons

Located at 315 W. Elm in Gainesville. Phone 781

Any successful farmer will tell you that you can't raise stock on cheap feeds and expect them to be a profitable item, but they will admit that you don't have to use expensive feed either. Ask farmers who buy from S. L. Bennett and Sons. They will tell you they buy there because they can save money and at the same time get the quality of feed they prefer. If you are having any difficulties with feeding, drop in and talk over your feeding problems with S. L. Bennett and Sons. In all probability they have just what you need.

Having been in the feed and seed business for many years, they are well able to advise in these matters.

In this Review we recommend S. L. Bennett and Sons to our readers. If you are a large or small raiser of poultry or livestock, you will find their feeds just what you need. Quality feeds at reasonable prices leading to more profits on your farm.

The girls marched back to school last Wednesday with a victory up their sleeves and feeling much better than they have for a long time. It was the first game of the season between the two local schools and SHHS emerged victorious. We won the first and third games, while the Public School won the second. The scores of the respective games were 15-8, 5-15, 15-11.

The third and fourth teams have a reason to celebrate for the boys have nearly completed the new Volley Ball court. They will soon be able to have regular practice and thereby improve their game.

The Glee Club has been fully organized and is now in full swing for the year 1943-44. The membership has been greatly increased.

Christen New Court
The new Volley Ball court was formally dedicated Tuesday afternoon. For the ceremony the poles were decorated with flowing blue ribbons and a large bow was placed in the center of the net. Our coach, Miss Juanita Weinzapfel, gave the dedication address. The text of her speech is as follows: "On this great day of joy and happiness we are gathered here to officially and publicly open this our new Volley Ball court, for the purpose of allowing our High School athletes to practice their art and skill so that in time they may bring honor and fame to their dear Alma Mater."

Because the blue ribbon is the award for the highest achievements we have rightfully chosen it for the name of this court. Let us never in our athletic career allow it to bluish with shame over our defeat.

express our most sincere appreciation to Rev. Father Thomas for granting us this tract of land and also to the masculine members of this Institution for erecting the poles upon which we have draped the net.

"And now for the most touching scene of this year to be forgotten ceremony, the christening of our Blue Ribbon court by the girl with the lucky number, Miss Helen Walterscheid."

During the course of her address, Coach Weinzapfel was often interrupted by the cheering of the student body. Immediately following the dedication Miss Walterscheid christened the court by breaking a bottle of Palmolive Champagne on the poles. The scheduled game between the first and second teams was postponed because of inclement weather.

IS IT TRUE:

That Laura Lee thought she was a girl when she was supposed to be a boy in a story during English Class?

That the Modern History students think Columbus discovered America in 1942?

That some of the Sophomores were sleeping during Religion Class last Wednesday morning?

That Tommy Otto's thinking cap has disappeared?

That a certain Sophomore boy had to move his desk?

That a pencil caused Herbie Yosten to fall over, desk and all?

LINDSAY SCHOOL TATLER
Marcella Schmitz, Reporter

The first week of school is over, and it seems as if we have done the work of a month. Perhaps the teachers have made a resolution, too, of teaching hard, just as we have made one of studying hard. We feel confident that if things continue to run as smoothly as they have begun, we will spend a happy and successful year at school.

According to a student poll which was conducted at the end of the week, typewriting leads with a big margin as the most fascinating course in high school. Twenty-one students have registered for the course. With Sister Alphonsine as typing instructor there is very little danger that students acquire incorrect typing habits. She seems to be everywhere all the time, and there is no getting by with watching the keyboard. Mary Louise Bezner can tell you that. General Science is the freshmen and sophomores' favorite. Latin seems to be the least popular in spite of the numerous 90's made in that course on last year's state tests.

Physical education classes have been organized; captains of the various teams will be elected next week. Volley Ball for the girls and football for the boys constitute the backbone of the P.E. program until the basketball season in November.

The high school Sodality of the Blessed Virgin had its initial meeting on Friday morning. Election of officers was held with the following results: Johnnie Arendt, Prefect; Marcella Schmitz, Vice-Prefect; Lucille Bezner, Secretary; Leonard Benkfert, Treasurer. It was decided that freshmen members will be received into the Sodality on the feast of the Immaculate Conception, after a period of two month's probation. The officers will hold a meeting next week to draw up plans for an interesting spiritual and social program for the year.

Mickey, the new mascot of the senior class, is very quick and alert. The frequent visits of the little terrier are stimulating!

Para-Ski Troopers

When will this war end? Nobody knows, so the Army is continuing its training of Para-Ski Troopers. They're parachute troops who know their way about on skis or any other place in snow covered mountainous country.

A great measure of the success of Russia's victories last winter is attributed to these troops who move with the silence of a snowflake. Our work on the home front is not so hazardous as that of the Para-Ski Troopers but it is important that we perform our daily tasks and make every effort to increase our regular purchase of War Bonds.

GET IN THE SCRAP!

Aboard ship the men fall in at the order of "Pipe muster." On land the bugler sounds "Assembly!" But no matter where the bugle is used thousands must be bought out of the money we are investing in War Bonds. Back the attack with an extra $100 Bond in the 3rd War Loan.

Confetti---

Super bombers, less bomb racks and armament, can be converted into tomorrow's transport and cargo planes. Jeeps will be in demand for dozens of peace time jobs. Victory ships will ply the trade routes. Tractors, bull-dozers, trucks and other equipment will go into industrial use. New fire-arms will become sportsmen's favorites. Radar will guide planes and ships clear of natural hazards. Newly developed alloys, plastics, and drugs will enrich every home.

War is hell, but it has a few compensations. It awakens dormant humanity to a fuller appreciation of its heritage. Through necessity it forces decades of scientific progress into a few short years. Seeds that are sown in misery can yield a bountiful harvest of comfort.

Even more important, the mutual burden of toil, sacrifice and suffering should bring mankind together in a spirit of better understanding.
