

Local school bells ring!

Sacred Heart to begin Aug. 24

Over the summer months, the S.H.S. Board, at the recommendation of the Parish Council, voted to add the preschool, formerly the Young Children's Learning Center, as an integral part of Sacred Heart School. All administrative matters will be handled by the principal, and the school board is now the policy making body. Chairman of the SH School Board Werner Becker, Jr. welcomed new members Billie Friday Fleitman, Leon Fuhrmann, Virgil Henscheid, who joined Debbie Hess, Denis Walterscheid and Ronnie Hess.

As of July 1, 1987, Ms. Bronte B. Gonsalves has accepted a one-year contract to be principal of the Sacred Heart School. Ms. Gonsalves is not new to Sacred Heart as last year she served as preschool director and curriculum coordinator for K-Grade 3. She had previously taught grades 5 and 6 during 1978-79. She has had positions at numerous administrative levels. Ms. Gonsalves is now in the process of updating and developing several needed areas of the school's curriculum, all at the recommendation of the accreditation team. A major focus of development in the prekindergarten through twelfth grade will be the establishment of subject departments with the aim of cohesion and sequence of all subjects.

The Science department is the first to be organized. Patti Bayer heads this department with Dorothy Bengfort as Junior High Coordinator, and Steve Kohler as Grade School Coordinator. A "Summerfest," scheduled for Aug. 23, 1987 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the city park, is planned to support this department. Many thanks to the dedicated parents who are committed to a quality education.

Preschool teachers this year are Pam Dangelmayr, former Home Economics teacher trained in the Montessori method of education; and Marilyn Smith, a former teacher at Sacred Heart School. Mary Whittington returns as a teacher aide.

Kindergarten students will see the familiar face of Christy Hesse.

MPS hallways fill Sept. 1

Several new faculty members as well as improvements to the campus grounds will greet Muenster Public School students as they begin the 1987-88 school year Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Coming in at the helm of the football program is Bill Jump. He received his B.S. degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University with major teaching fields in both physical education and science. Coach Jump has nine years of teaching experience, the last six years of which he served at Tuttle, Oklahoma High School as head football/track coach and science teacher. In addition to his football responsibilities, he will coach boys' track and teach Seventh Grade Life Science and Introduction to Biology.

Coach Jump's wife, Marionette, will be teaching the combination Third/Fourth Grade class in the elementary level this year. Mrs. Jump holds a B.A. degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University and another B.A. Degree from the University of Science and Arts in Chickasha, Oklahoma. The last six years of her eight years in teaching were in Tuttle, Oklahoma. Bill and Marionette Jump have two sons who are enrolled in the kindergarten and third grade at Muenster Elementary this fall.

Another new elementary teacher this year is Muenster native Lou Heers. Mrs. Heers has both a B.S. degree and a Masters of Education degree from Stephen F. Austin University. Backed by three years' teaching experience at the elementary school level in Bryan, Texas, she will take over the position of First Grade teacher at M.P.S.

Priscilla Phillips is the school's new Band Director and Vocal Music instructor. Having graduated last December from Midwestern State University with a B.M.E. degree, this year in Muenster marks her first teaching position.

The position of part-time counselor will be filled by Vernon Austin. He holds both a B.A. degree and a Masters degree from North Texas State University and has done work at other universities as well. Mr. Austin has many years of teaching experience in the Gainesville School District.

In addition to routine summer maintenance and clean-up, added improvements have been made on the grounds of the school. All

SH drill team prepares for season

Captains Shawna Grewing and Vicki Walterscheid, along with Lieutenants Angela Endres and Misty McCoy, will be leading Sacred Heart Drill Team for the 1987-88 school year. Thirty Tigerettes turned out for the practices which began this week.

At these practices, the members learn new dance routines and go over the routines they were taught at camp held July 21-24 at Texas Women's University in Denton. As a group, the drill team received an excellent rating, while Robin Greathouse, Shawna Grewing and Vicki Walterscheid each received the honor of a Super Sensational Ribbon.

Robin and Shawna advanced to the semifinals for the honor of Miss Drill Team USA.

SH School Trust Fund to hold dinner

Mr. Bob Allen, Development Officer of the Diocese of Fort Worth, will be the guest speaker at the Annual Sacred Heart School Trust Fund Dinner on Saturday, Aug. 15, in the Community Center. He will speak on the topic of developing funds for education. Also on hand will be Edward Doherty, Division Director of Education. The cost is $25 per plate, and everyone is welcome to attend the event in support of Catholic education, beginning at 6 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to review the 10-year history of the fund's growth, and to present goals for the future.

Anyone interested in attending should contact Angelo Nasche at 759-4949 day; or 759-4386 evening.

Band puts new foot forward

MHS Band will receive its leadership this year from a new director, Priscilla Phillips. And when 42 students reported to the first band practice on Monday morning, Miss Phillips was "real pleased."

"The band has pretty good instrumentation," she noted, "but there aren't enough low brass." She stated that along with the traditional favorites, the band will perform new music this year including "Louie, Louie" and "Somewhere Out There."

A native of Burkburnett, Texas, Miss Phillips recently graduated from Midwestern State University with a Bachelors of Music Education degree. Since her graduation, she has done both student and substitute teaching. Her major instruments are the euphonium and the trombone.

Band practice time next week will be from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

Looking back on 45th anniversary...

Camp Howze remembered

by Jean Pagel

By Aug. 17, 1942, the United States was deeply involved in a war which was devastating the world. Cooke County men were joined with other American soldiers in battles in far-off lands. But the realities of the combat came closer to home for the residents of this area with the activation of Camp Howze on this August day.

Camp Howze was a military facility established on more than 59,000 acres of Cooke County's best farmland. Stretching north of Highway 82 in the area between Marysville and Interstate 35, the gigantic camp trained ground forces for combat during World War II and had a resulting incredible impact upon all phases of life in the county.

The beginnings of Camp Howze stemmed from a letter written to the War Department in 1940 by Clifford McHahon of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce proposing Cooke County as a possible location for a military establishment. On Dec. 18, 1941, only 11 days after the bombing of Pearl Harbor, the War Department chose Cooke County as the site of a camp. However, the announcement of the selection wasn't made until March 20, 1942 when Congressman Ed Gossett informed the Gainesville Daily Register.

Camp Howze was named after Major General Robert E. Lee Howze, a native Texan and the recipient of two Congressional Medal of Honor awards for distinguished service. One suggestion for the camp's name was after Ensign Robert Weinzapfel of Muenster, the county's first World War II casualty.

Over 300 farming families were displaced when the government began purchasing land. Alvin Fuhrman, a youth at this time, recalled that his family was given two weeks to move off their property near where the airfield was built. "We had to move our house, our fences, even our underground pipes," he said. "They wouldn't let us get our planted crops. We didn't feel like we were treated right."

A notary public, Marcella Pagel Janicki worked for the Corps of Engineers which procured the land beginning in the spring of 1942.

Forestburg rolls out red carpet for watermelon

Another celebration coming soon in the area is the Forestburg Watermelon Festival and Homecoming, approaching its seventh annual observance on Saturday, Aug. 22.

For those people who like to plan in advance, sponsors of the festival are issuing this invitation to attend and enjoy a day of old fashioned fun and frolic. Details of the celebration will be announced further in next week's paper, as more special features are completed.

The first event is a Fun Run at 7:30 a.m., preceded by registration at 7 a.m. A parade and Old West Gunfighters show will occur at 10 a.m.

A lunch of brisket, ham, meat loaf, red beans, potato salad, cole slaw, vegetables, salad, onions, pickles, tea, coffee, bread and cobbler will be served, beginning at 11:30 a.m. in the Community Center. Prices are $4.00 for adults and $2.00 for children under 12.

Letters to the Editor

Dearest Muenster,

Howdy! I hope this letter finds each of you in good spirits. I just thought I would let the people of Muenster know how I'm doing and what is going on.

First of all, West Point is very tough. I have two more weeks of Cadet Basic Training. Those of you who have been in the Services know all about basic training. For those of you who haven't been, let me tell you it's rough. We usually run four to five miles in the morning, do exercises, relays, and hundreds of push-ups and sit-ups. My body is like a rock! I only thought football practice was hard. We also have numerous road marches. We had one eight-mile march, several four miles, and next week we have to march 14 miles through the creeks, over the mountains and through the woods to a combat training area. They tell us it is 14 miles uphill going there. Then we take a new route back home. It is 14 miles uphill too!

West Point is very beautiful. This place has a majestic beauty that fills one's soul with awe and wonder. Many of the buildings are original. Some were built in the 1820s and before. West Point is nestled along the Hudson River in a valley surrounded by heroic looking mountains. I highly encourage any of you who could, to see this place. It is a piece of living history! There is a sign here that reads, "Much of the history we teach is about those we taught."

Businessman's trip to Fredericksburg set for Sept. 18

The Muenster Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday, Aug. 11, at the Center for the monthly luncheon. The video program, "This is a Tourist," sparked discussion about various ideas for attracting tourists to the Muenster area. An Agricultural Tour including a feed lot, mill, auction, etc. was suggested. Another idea was a farm vacation or overnight stay to provide city dwellers an opportunity to see rural life on a first hand basis.

Monica Hess, president, announced an upcoming trip to Fredericksburg, Texas, to see how that community began attracting tourists. There will be an opportunity to talk with businessmen and women to share ideas on increasing commerce through tourism. Anyone in the business community is invited to make the trip to see how Fredericksburg has improved the economy of its area and increased the number of dollars spent in its town. Anyone interested should contact the chamber office for more information. The date for the trip is Sept. 18-19.

This place will send chill bumps down your back!

This place has instilled in me a deep sense of pride. I have accomplished so much since I've been here. I am truly proud to be an American. The Lord has been especially good to me also. He has given me the strength to continue on; even when I do not feel like I can. He has shown me that West Point is for me. That I can have a successful life, but I have to work for it.

No matter where I end up or what I'll do, I will always remember Muenster and the good people in it who have helped me in so many ways. When I throw a grenade or load and load a round through my M-16, I always think back to Muenster. Y'all have been so gracious and helpful to me. Please keep me in your prayers daily.

Once again, I would like to say that I am surviving and even doing very well in many areas. Thanks for your concern. God bless you!

P.S. My address is: P.O. Box 2508 CL 1991, West Point, N.Y. 10997. Please write!

Takes It on The Tongue

Imagine John Schilling unable to talk!

Such was the case Sunday night after a hectic evening robbing his bees at his home here in Muenster.

It all came about when Mr. Schilling was taking the honey from his bees and was just finishing the job when the temptation became too great—he just couldn't resist tasting of the delicious golden liquid. He did, and was very, very sorry afterward, for in this bite there was hidden a bee that resented being disturbed—and took revenge on Mr. Schilling's tongue.

Mr. Schilling paid very little attention to the sting until a while later when it began to swell and pain him. He then began to think of ways and means of easing the sting. His first thoughts were of Dr. T. S. Myrick and he made ready to use the telephone—but imagine his embarrassment when he realized he couldn't talk, his tongue was so large. The only thing left to do was wait for Mrs. Schilling to arrive home from church.

By midnight the swelling and pain had eased considerably, and by morning his tongue was back to normal, all but the soreness, which was still very much in evidence and he had considerable difficulty in partaking of breakfast. For a man 65 years of age this was a new experience, and Mr. Schilling is convinced now more than ever that a person never gets too old to learn. And the moral to this story is: "Look Before You Bite."

Confetti

By CON FETTE

THE CROWD cheered last Thursday night at the Texaco stag picnic when Joe Wilde drank a bottle of beer out in the deep water. For a one-armed man that is quite an achievement according to the group of fellows who enjoyed the act. A lot of two-armed fellows wouldn't have been able to do as well.

And while we mention beer it might not be amiss to offer our sympathy to the fellows who were caught in a recent raid. Every one of those affairs stirs up the same old indignation on the part of regular citizens as well as beer vendors. In Muenster there is one predominant viewpoint—that 95 per cent of her citizens want an occasional stein and never lose control of themselves; and it isn't fair to penalize that number of sensible people just because a few cannot be gentlemen. They also feel that the rowdies can be made to behave if beer comes out into the open and the beer parlors can call on the law for co-operation, instead of dodging the law as is necessary now. Not long ago Muenster voters submitted a petition for a local option election in this precinct. Recent developments serve as an excellent inducement to get behind that petition and push it to a successful conclusion.

Windmill Installed in 1914 Dismantled Monday

One of Muenster's landmarks went the way of common clay last Monday morning when four men took down the windmill behind Haverkamp's Hotel. That windmill had served its purpose nobly ever since its installation by C.L.S. Stelzer, Sr., while he had charge of the hotel back in 1914, until about a year ago when it was abandoned in favor of city water.

Taking down the mechanism required a minor engineering feat. The four men spent a great deal of their time erecting a support of two-inch pipe and then proceeded to let down the fan, rudder, and motor.

A farmer in the Bulcher community is said to have purchased the windmill.

We doubt whether there's a man around who can move as much farm equipment over the road as Frank Bayer. A normal picture of the Bayer parade would be a team pulling Frank's Chevy hoople followed by another team pulling a wagon and cultivator and behind that is another team or two, each pulling a similar load. The length of the parade usually varies from 100 to 150 feet.

We would suggest a hearty kick in the pants for the man who has so little dexterity as to spit tobacco juice on merchants' show windows. Whoever he is, that filthy specimen of degenerate manhood would do well to change his ways, because some of the decent people are beginning to clench their fists.

counter in battle. Also, the Gainesville Army Airfield, which later became the Gainesville Municipal Airport, was built at this time. Camp Howze cost the government $20.3 million.

In addition to all of the soldiers housed at the camp were German prisoners. At its height, Camp Howze held 2,976 German soldiers, most having served under the Third Reich in the North African campaign. Many of these prisoners were conscripted by local farmers to do the work vacated by young Cooke County men who were serving in the war.

All of the activity created by Camp Howze caused massive growth for area towns. Businesses boomed, and with many soldiers' wives and children moving in, the tremendous population explosion led to a scarcity in housing. Another sign of the growth was in the railroad - in 1944 Gainesville ranked ahead of cities such as Denver, Fort Worth and Houston in passenger ticket sales on the Santa Fe Railroad Lines.

Along with growth came a demand for workers at the camp. By 1945, the various services of over 1,450 civilians had been employed. As one of the first employees - the only female employee for a while - Marcella Pagel was a secretary in the several months later when Mary's job ended and Howzeville was shut down.

Many types of recreation were provided for soldiers at Camp Howze. Bus loads of local girls often came for dances and social events on the camp grounds, and heavyweight boxing champion Joe Louis even visited once. In addition to the entertainment at the camp, several USO's were built in Gainesville, one of which later became Gainesville's Community Center. The GIs reportedly favored coming to area towns for entertainment over the recreation facilities on the military grounds, however.

"The soldiers were hungry for home," Mrs. Janicki remembered. "They were scared, and had every right to be. They had no money, no transportation, and were unsure of what was going to happen next. They weren't like the independent soldiers of today."

She explained Muenster's reaction to the arrival of Camp Howze and the soldiers when she remarked that "Muenster had mixed feelings at first. But Muenster and Lindsay were very good to the soldiers, receiving them with open arms."

Advises caution when burning...

Fire department keeps things in good shape

A controlled burning of brush and grass east of the cemetery was conducted by the Muenster Fire Department Tuesday evening. Volunteer fireman John Yosten said that two large brush piles and long dry grass were burned in the 300 foot by 300 foot area.

"We were asked to do it because the area looked shabby and was a fire hazard," Yosten explained, adding also that rats were breeding in the long grass.

"We burned it off in three sections to keep the amount of soot to a minimum. Since the wind was from the southeast, most of the smoke went away from homes."

Because the weather has been so dry, Yosten suggested that people be extra careful. "Take precautions. Be ready," he said. "The first couple minutes of a fire are the most important."

Advice also came from Fire Chief Herbie Knabe, "Most of the fires we've had lately were from equipment bearings going out. People also need to watch burning trash."

News from St. Richard's Villa

by Rosa Driever and Rosina Kubis

A review of happenings at St. Richard's Villa during June and July:

Birthday parties brought out relatives and friends to share music, conversation and refreshments with residents on the first Thursdays of the months. Honorees in June were Theresa Vogel, Bess Barr and Carl Smith. July honorees were Barney Barnett and Mildred Fulton. The birthday ladies wore corsages courtesy of Lora's Flowers and Gifts.

On June 11 Theresa Vogel had another celebration. Her family came with birthday cake and other refreshments to mark her special day.

A special delight for residents was a puppet show presented by Debbie Nortmann of Lindsay. Everyone is looking forward to a return performance of the enchanting "creatures."

On Father's Day all the men residents looked sharp wearing boutonnières supplied by the Villa.

On June 24 a group of Gina's School of Dance students gave a performance. Another afternoon Juanita Bright brought her music pupils out to entertain residents.

A group from Muenster Baptist Church visited all the residents one afternoon. They brought flowers and balloons.

On July Fourth everyone enjoyed an ice cream party. Rosina Kubis, employee, filled and refilled dishes with the homemade treat.

Carl Smith had a holiday weekend lake outing with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith of Valley View.

Anna Herr took Lois Kermichael and Buck Ware out for a hamburger supper one evening.

On July 31, all the ladies looked pretty after being treated to facials by Jan Cain who demonstrated Mary Kay cosmetics. Rosina Kubis helped with makeup and was hostess afterwards for a punch and cake party for all residents.

Father Denis celebrated First Friday Masses in the lobby. In June Joe Hoenig was altar boy and read from Scripture. Relatives and friends join residents in these services.

The Rev. Steve Pearson of First Baptist Church conducts Sunday morning services in the lobby. Chris Cain and Eddie Ramsey are regular assistants and song leaders. Rita Richey is pianist.

Each Tuesday morning Louise Fisher comes out to play the piano for group singing. Each Thursday morning Joe Hoenig spends time with residents playing the piano and leading songs. Juanita Bright is another volunteer piano player.

Every Tuesday afternoon residents gather in the dining room for a movie shown by Muenster Public Library personnel. Popcorn and soft drinks are provided by the Villa.

Residents look forward to Wednesday each week with its Bingo time with prizes. Hosting the games were Lu Vogel, Julia Cunningham, Augusta Walterscheid, Dorothy Yosten, Catherine Hermes, Margaret Kupper, Leona Eberhart, Margaret Reiter, Amanda Fuhrmann, Romana Bayer, Marie Henscheid, Thelma and Ed Dill. Each group has its special days as callers and helpers.

Every afternoon at 2:30 residents get together to recite the rosary led by Caroline Hess.

The "cookie ladies," Millie Voth and Lucille Hess, made their regular monthly appearance bringing homemade cookies for all who can tolerate sweets and bananas for those on restricted diets.

Visitors from out of town during June and July included Judy Hartman of Denton, Lloyd and Bobbye Hefner of Amarillo, Frank and Katie Hogan of Saint Jo with Edna Hogan, Sister Aloysia Kleiss of Jonesboro, Ark., and Mildred Lawson of Gainesville with Rosie Walterscheid, Margie Fuhrmann of Lindsay with Theresa Vogel, Lois Bewley of Rosston with Bertha Bewley. San Antonio is site for nuptial vows

MRS. SAMUEL LOUIS BRIGHT
... nee Elaine Miller ...

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Louis Bright are on a Windjammer cruise to the Caribbean following their wedding and upon their return will be at home in Houston.

The bride is the former Elaine Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Knox Miller, Jr. of San Antonio. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David M. Bright of Muenster.

The groom's uncle, Father Joseph Weinzapfel of St. Cecilia's Church in Dallas, and Rev. Clyde Byrd, pastor, officiated the double ring ceremony in Alamo Heights United Methodist Church of San Antonio on Saturday, Aug. 8, at 11 a.m.

Vows were exchanged before an altar decorated with large silver urns of peach gladioli and Gerber daisies, with banks of tropical fern and greenery behind the altar rail. Mrs. Madoline Fallis, church organist, presented traditional wedding music. "Trumpet Voltaire" was presented as processional and recessional.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. For her wedding, she chose a rich ivory taffeta gown designed by Priscilla of Boston with a snug fitting bodice and portrait neckline. Imported re-embroidered Alencon lace edged her off-the-shoulder neckline and puffed sleeves. The skirt was softly gathered to the basque waistline, and flowed gently to a chapel-length train.

She wore a treasured veil that two of her cousins had also worn for their weddings. It was waltz length, of silk illusion and richly appliqued with Alencon lace motifs, and was attached to a wreath of silk flowers.

She carried a cascade of white roses and gardenias with baby's breath and English ivy.

Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. David R. Johnson of San Antonio, wearing a waltz length dress of peach cotton lace and tissue linen, with matching shoes.

Lt. James Michael Bright, U.S.M.C., Quantico, Virginia was his brother's best man.

Ushers were Jack Endres of Dallas, a friend of the groom; David Morgan Bright, Jr. of Idaho Falls, Idaho, Capt. R. Thomas Bright, U.S.M.C., Camp Pendleton, California, both brothers of the groom, and Frank E. Rust of Houston, groom's brother-in-law.

Following the church service, a reception was held at The Bright Shawl in San Antonio, a Texas historic landmark owned by the Junior League, where a seated brunch was served to 200 guests, with the bride's parents as hosts. Fresh flowers graced the 20 guest tables.

The traditional three-tiered bridal cake was complemented by fresh orchids.

The rehearsal dinner was held at The Petroleum Club of San Antonio with the groom's parents as hosts.

Following the reception, an open house and informal party for out-of-town relatives and friends was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David R. Johnson, the bride's sister and brother-in-law.

The bride is a graduate of Alamo Heights High School in San Antonio and holds Bachelor of Business Administration and Master of Business Administration degrees from the University of Texas in Austin.

The groom is a graduate of classrooms are now air conditioned, leaving only the gym and auditorium as the only rooms on campus without air conditioning units. The ceiling in the High School Lobby was lowered and new lights and insulation added. The 35-year-old gym roof, struck by lightning during the July 2 storm, was replaced, and patching was done on roofs of other buildings. A drain and sinks in the cafeteria were also replaced, and trim and touch-up painting has been done on the exterior of buildings.

Much work has also been done at the football stadium. The inside of the concession stand was painted, and the Quarterback Club financed the building of a sidewalk to the visitors' stands. Also, Asphalt Maintenance & Sealcoating Company has been hired to resurface the all-weather track. Work on the track began this week and is scheduled to complete before school starts.

Another project in the works is a gazebo in the area between the high school building and the middle school wing. Funded by the PTO and constructed by industrial arts students, the gazebo will be available for the enjoyment of all students. So far, the foundation has been laid.

Michelle Knaf will continue as an aide this year and will teach first grade Spanish.

Second grade continues under the able direction of Sister Genevieve. Mr. Kohler anxiously anticipates his new third grade; the new fourth graders know what to expect of stalwart Anna Hermes. Debbie Endres continues to challenge the fifth grade.

Sacred Heart School and community friends welcome academician Eric Gray, a Fulbright scholar, who joins us after a year in Europe. Fulbright scholarships are awarded to exceptional students by the U.S. government for study abroad. We are proud of having a reputation which has attracted someone of such high credentials. Mr. Gray will be teaching German, Religion II and some math courses in the secondary level. Mr. Gray was born and raised in Denison, Texas. He is a graduate of Subiaco Academy and the University of Dallas.

The school is in desperate need of a few bus drivers, both morning and evening routes. Please contact the school as soon as possible at 759-4121.

Lindsay school system: looking to the future

With a new building under construction, the Lindsay school system is growing rapidly and looking to the future.

Superintendent Henry Schroeder told that the new building contains five classrooms and will be mainly for sixth, seventh and eighth grades. Because the material for the roof didn't arrive until Aug. 12, he predicted that the building wouldn't be completed until mid-

October.

Other improvements to the campus this summer were more routine. "We did some painting, and landscaping outside," Secretary Marilyn Cox said.

Also, the Lindsay school district has been selected as the receiving district for Sivells Bend high school students beginning in 1988.

Lindsay Superintendent Henry Schroeder has announced the faculty list and calendar for the Guests at both baptisms attended a covered dish dinner at the Arnold Fuhrmann home, following the church service. Gifts, pictures and visiting added to the wonderful day.

Hermes Baptism

The baptism of Nathan John Hermes in St. Peter's Church on Sunday, Aug. 9, was held with a cousin's, Crystal Mae Fuhrmann, as a memorable family celebration. Nathan John is the infant son of John and Diane Hermes of Lindsay. His godparents at baptism are an aunt Betty Fuhrmann and an uncle Ted Fuhrmann.

Nathan wore a white cotton embroidered christening gown made by his maternal Grandmother Fuhrmann, and also worn by his godfather at his baptism.

Lacking size, but not heart

Although the Sacred Heart Tigers will have just five seniors on the team this year, Coaches Joe Pasqua and Roddy Clack expect them to give the squad good leadership this '87 season. Twenty-six boys signed up after the first day of practice Monday.

Eight lettermen are gone from last year's team, which finished 4-2 in TAPS Division 2, District 2. "After losing district by 4 points, one to Oakridge and 3 at Liberty," Head Coach Pasqua has high hopes for this year's Tigers. Six starters returning are seniors Deano Bayer and Wayne Becker, and juniors Curt Bayer, Tommy Bonner, Darrell Dangelmayr and Donnie Knabe, starters on both offense and defense.

Lacking size, Nathan Bayer at 198 lbs. with Donnie Knabe and Randy Miller, both at 185 lbs., will help make up the Tiger line. The Tigers' biggest player will be freshman Darrell Mullins at 205 lbs. Ryan Bayer will be the smallest starter at 128 lbs.

After a slow start last season with a 5-5 record, Coach Pasqua figures "the first 11 players will be as tough as last year's, after them, we'll need some help from the younger kids."

Starters and positions were not assigned, after less than a week of practice, but students on the team include: Seniors - Deano Bayer, Nathan Bayer, Wayne Becker, Darrell Knabe and Scott Taylor; Juniors - Curt Bayer, Ryan Bayer, Tommy Bonner, Darrell Dangelmayr, Chad Fleitman, Max Hastings, Donnie Knabe, Stanley Knabe and Glen Swirczynski; Sophomores - Jared Bayer, Troy Berres, Tony Grewing, Steven Koelzer, Randy Miller, Phil Reiter and David Rohmer; Freshmen - Shawn Dangelmayr, Jason Endres, Arnie Hess, Josh McCoy and Darrell Mullins.

Changes made for Hornets

Bill Jump, head football coach at MHS, started two-a-days this week with a relatively young but enthusiastic group of 34 guys. Coach Jump brought to his team new ideas, a new offense, and, according to assistant coach Ted Heers, "a real positive attitude."

But Jump gave credit to his players. "Their attitudes and work habits are extremely good. They've worked hard these first practices. And they're in pretty good condition."

"Our offense is the main concern right now," he continued. "They'll have to relearn the offense completely." And as far as the defense goes - "We'll use basically the same thing as last year. The defense is pretty far along."

Claiming that having the large number of younger players on the Hornet team is an advantage, the head coach said "for me coming into a new program, us starting new is positive. The kids will have a couple of years to learn then."

With the first scrimmage only one week away, Jump is anxious. "Scrimmages will tell a lot," he stated. "We'll play everybody and see where we are. Right now everyone's got an equal chance."

He predicted stiff competition among district teams. "Valley View is traditionally strong. They've always been in the playoff picture. Lindsay's strong, and Era's strong, too.

"But our preseason schedule is tough," he remarked. "We'll come out ready."

Coach Bob Gross and Coach Ted Heers have been working with the team also. Jump feels "very blessed with good assistant coaches. The first practices have gone well. I can count on them."

From observations so far, Jump cites preseason standouts as tackle Travis Klement; tight ends Brian Hess and Mike Pagel; center Eric Dankesreiter; Jeff Hellman at guard; backs Keith Klement and James Hennigan; and wide receiver J. Shane Wimmer.

In addition, "all three quarterbacks - Chris Klement, Donnie Boydston and Jerry Brawner - are doing well," Jump noted.

Defensive standouts are tackles Travis Klement and Bobby Don Thornhill; ends Mike Pagel and Brian Hess; linebackers Weldon Hermes and Donnie Boydston and back James Hennigan.

Senior team members include Mike Armstrong, Kevin Bell, Brian Hess, Stuart Hess, Russell Simmons and Billy Youngblood.

Sophomores on the squad are Michael Bierschenk, Donnie Boydston, Jerry Brawner, Yancy Culp, Jeff Hellman, James Hennigan, Marshall Smith, Keith Vogel and Scott Vogel.

Rounding out the roster are Freshmen Paul Black, Kelly Colwell, Terry Felderhoff, Scott Hudspeth, Spencer McAden, Brad McDaniel and Troy Pagel.

Miss Rodeo Texas to appear in parade Thursday

Miss Rodeo Texas, Stacy Woods of El Paso, will be among the attractions of the Gainesville Chamber of Commerce Rodeo Parade, and will appear in the Grand Entry at the rodeo performance Thursday evening.

The thrills and chills of bucking broncs, dangerous bulls and scrambling calves will be only part of the excitement to be generated during the first annual Gainesville Chamber of Commerce Professional Championship Rodeo to be held Thursday through Saturday, Aug. 20-22.

Beginning at 8 p.m. each evening in the Riding Club Arena, on Old North Highway 77, one mile north of Highway 82, the rodeo will be announced by Johnny Jackson of Woodlake, Calif., a nationally-known figure on the rodeo circuit. He has announced more than 150 rodeos in 22 states. Prizes will be awarded in between the rough-and-tumble events to lucky ticket and program holders.

Couldn't see to tee!

Playing golf during daylight hours is a big enough challenge for most people, but four Muenster golfers really put their skills to the test recently when they teed off - in the dark.

Earl Fisher and Glenn Fisher played as partners with Joe Hoedebeck and Doyle Hess in a night golf tournament held at Nocona Municipal Golf Course. Sixty players participated in the unusual tournament which began at 5:45 p.m. with nine holes. Following a hot dog cookout, the golfers played the same nine holes again, but the second time it was dark.

Earl Fisher told that the night play was possible because special balls were used. The balls were plastic and had holes in which "Glow Sticks" were inserted. "Lighted balls don't fly too far," Earl noted.

One of the rules of the tournament was that although flashlights could be used for aid in walking, the flashlights could not be used when the golfers shot. The game ended around midnight.

"It was just a fun tournament and a good experience," Earl remarked.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Get garden pesticides out of clothing

When you're dusting the roses or spraying the trees, it's easy to get pesticides on your body as well as the plants. Taking a shower removes the pesticides from you - but what about your clothes?

"Spills and spray from common garden pesticides contaminate clothing, so it must be specially treated to avoid potential health hazards," says clothing specialist Dr. Ann Beard.

"It's best to change clothes in the garage, if possible, and put contaminated clothes aside before going inside to shower," advises the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist.

"Don't put the clothes in the hamper with the family laundry," she cautions. "Research shows that pesticide residues are transferred from contaminated clothing to other clothing, especially when laundered together."

Pre-washing will help remove pesticide particles from the fabric, advises the specialist. You can pre-wash clothes outdoors by hosing them down or soaking them in a bucket, or bring them inside to machine wash on the pre-wash cycle.

She emphasizes that pre-washing is highly recommended when a wettable powder-type pesticide concentrate spills on clothing, because it clings to clothing fibers.

"Pesticide residues from less toxic or dilute pesticides can usually be washed out in one machine washing," says Beard. "However, use both pre-washing and several machine washings on spills from wettable powder or concentrated liquid pesticides."

According to the specialist, how you machine wash the clothes is important, too. Washing them in hot water will remove more pesticide than washing in warm or cold temperatures. Cold temperature, in particular, are relatively ineffective in removing pesticides from fibers.

Use either a liquid or powder heavy-duty detergent containing phosphate carbonate to wash clothes. Laundry additives such as bleach can be added, but they don't help remove the pesticide residues.

Beard also advises using a full water level on your machine, even if you have only one or two contaminated garments. That will allow the water to thoroughly flush the fabric.

The heat from either line-drying or machine-drying will provide further chemical breakdown of pesticide residues, she adds.

"After you've washed the clothes, a pesticide carry-over to other laundry loads is possible," notes the specialist. "Rinse the washing machine with an empty load using hot water and detergent, just as you did the contaminated clothes."

"Exposure to garden pesticides can cause skin rashes, headaches, nausea and a number of other problems," says Beard. "It just makes good sense to adequately wash gardening clothes so these hazards are minimized."

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

Although grazing conditions have gotten a big boost from recent rains, producers need to look at long-range forage production. That means giving attention to winter pastures, and now is the time to start planning.

Small grain winter pastures planted on clean seedbed are most productive when planted early. This means late August in West Texas and the Panhandle, early September in Central Texas, and late September in South Texas.

For winter pastures to be productive, they must make good growth in the fall. Fall growth results from early planting, heavy fertilization and insect control.

Winter pastures overseeded into perennial sod grasses, such as bermudagrass and bahiagrass, can provide high-quality forage. Since the sod provides competition for moisture and nutrients, seeds should be planted somewhat later than small grain seed on prepared seedbed. Abundant forage growth occurs later in the season, but sod seeded pastures can be an economical way to provide high quality forage.

Be sure to test the soil from the area to be planted to winter pastures. Get the soil sample early so that there will be adequate time to make arrangements with the fertilizer dealer.

Wintertime may seem like a long time off, but Sept. 1 and winter pasture planting are "just around the corner."

Farm and Ranch Expo set for March 5-7, 1988

The dates for the 17th Southwest Farm & Ranch Exposition have been set for March 5, 6, and 7, 1988. The exposition will be held at the Will Rogers Memorial Complex in the Amon Carter Exhibit Hall.

There is free admission to dealers and the general public and free parking at ground level. Special programs and seminars are being developed to aid the dealers with business management and to present new ideas for a more profitable business.

Texas A&M scientists produce lean beef through genetic research

COLLEGE STATION — Just when you've come to grips with the idea that eating red meat might not be too good for you, science has found a way to produce cattle that have less fat.

No longer does a healthful meat choice boil down to chicken or fish, since the new lean beef even falls within American Heart Association guidelines for limiting total fat and cholesterol.

The new beef product has been in development the past few years through genetic research, said Dr. H. Russell Cross, a Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) animal scientist specializing in lean beef studies at Texas A&M University.

Cross, Dr. Jeff W. Savell, Dr. Gary Smith and other TAES researchers recently conducted a National Consumer Retail Beef Study with the assistance of the Beef Industry Council and The National Cattlemen's Associations.

Results of the study were presented in a paper released at an American Heart Association symposium for science writers. The presentation, entitled "Where's the Beef? A Light Approach," included a special meal featuring lean-beef steaks provided by Houston-based Granada Corporation, a leader in producing the genetically improved meat.

Upstream flood damages to double

Monetary damaged caused by flooding in the upstream areas will double in the next 50 years. In the year 2030, USDA projects that upstream flood damage will be nearly $10 billion (in 1980 dollars). In 1985, flood damage amounted to $5 billion.

The estimates of flood damage and monetary costs are contained in the second RCA appraisal compiled by USDA. The Resources Conservation Act of 1977 (RCA), as amended, requires that USDA appraise soil, water and related resources on the nonfederal lands of the United States.

Sixty million acres, or 14 percent, of America's cropland is on flood-prone land. Because of the high agricultural productivity of this land, it is expected to remain devoted to crop production. Additionally, some crop production can be expected to shift to flood-prone land from areas of high erosion and short water supply. Because of this shift to flood-prone lands, flood damages are expected to increase. Damage to urban and other land in upstream areas will increase even faster than damages to cropland.

Ray Svacina, SCS District Conservationist in Gainesville, says SCS is involved in flood prevention programs authorized by the Flood Control Act of 1944 and the Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act of 1954 (PL-83-566). The programs are unique in that SCS provides federal assistance to local communities to solve flooding problems. A recent study of the Watershed Protection Program estimates that economic benefits accruing to local communities are about $76 million per year.
