VOLUME XLI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252

JANUARY 27, 1978

NUMBER 10

Just two days after President Carter delivered his State of the Union address to a joint session of Congress and a nation-wide TV audience, a contrasting message was delivered before a conference of the Texas Medical Association. The speaker was James N. Sites, senior vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers and president of the Foundation for Economic Freedom.

The president apparently has no serious worries, as indicated by proposals of small adjustments in the economy rather than significant changes to completely reverse the present trend. He asks for a $25 billion tax cut in spite of admitting that a balanced federal budget has to be delayed to an unspecified time when the economy reaches full strength. He tells of a goal to reduce the inflation rate one half of one percent and the jobless rate to 5.5 per cent. He wants a national health program calculated to add $168 billion to the federal deficit. And he still wants an energy program based on scarcity rather than production, in spite of increasing dependence on import oil.

Over-all the president's speech was equivalent to saying that the economy is generally stable but a few measures are recommended to sort of apply brakes to our national decline. In other words, the nation is going down hill, but that really isn't anything to worry about.

Well, opinions vary. James Sikes told the doctors that the "day before yesterday was a Red Letter in Washington: the first day of the second session of the 95th Congress. Or perhaps we should call it a Red Ink Day. Or a Red Tape Day. Or, best of all, a Red Light Day, one flashing warning signal, clear harbingers of future shock, for all to see on the consequences of explosive government growth."

The balance of this column is a continuation of the talk by Mr. Sites.

As early as 1949, Britain's George Orwell looked down the corridors of time and wrote "1984." This crystallized threats of government takeovers of private functions — of Big Brother domination of the ways we think, work and live. But thank goodness, people could say, 1984 was all of 35 years away — and, besides, wasn't Orwell's dreadful picture way too overdrawn, literally too "far out"?

Well, was it? Is it? Six years remain before we reach Orwell's target year, but trends are underway that appear to be carrying us with increasing speed toward the world he foresaw. The world's islands of freedom have so shrunk that two-thirds of people now live under various forms of totalitarianism. And while Great Britain's plight most vividly portrays what happen when political excesses ravage a national economy in a free society, our own democracy is not far behind. For example:

—Total Federal outlays in 1949 stood at $38.8 billion, and government was running a budget surplus. By contrast, the projected budget for 1978 is $460 billion — 12 times that of 1949. Just this year's deficit of almost $60 billion is far larger than our entire budget of 1949.

—Interest payments alone on the federal debt this year — $48 billion — are also far above all Federal spending in 1949. As Washington voted more programs that everyone seems to want but no one wants to pay for, we piled up a sorry record of 24 budget deficits in 29 years. The result: The Federal debt tripled to more than $700 billion.

—The number of government employees has likewise soared. In 1949, 6.2 million worked for government, or close to 1 out of every 10 workers. Today, nearly 15 million highly paid people are on public payrolls, or almost 1 in 6.

—Most serious of all, government is growing much faster than the economy that supports it, like a giant tree shooting up beyond its root structure. Government spending at all levels — local, state and Federal — amounted to 22.5 per cent of our Gross National Product in 1949. It is now over 35 per cent and is well on the way toward the 50 per cent mark, which it

City Hall Proposal to Be Aired at Public Hearing

People of Muenster who are interested in a sort of preview of their future city hall, especially those who might like to offer suggestions, are invited to a hearing on the subject at the city council's next regular meeting, Monday, February 6, starting at 7:30 p.m. in the city hall.

The agenda then calls for a discussion on whether to proceed with a suggested plan of enlarging and improving. Visitors will be urged to air their opinions regarding the type of building that is both adequate and a credit to the city, and whether the proposed project measures up to the standards. Also anticipated is the possible suggestion features that can be included with present plans.

As now planned, the remodeled building is to have a completely new look dominated by a Mansard roof and brick veneer. The planned addition extends 16 feet to the south and the space at the east end, formerly used for the water and sewer shop and warehouse, is to be removed. That area is not needed since construction of a new building for the purpose last year. Dimensions of the remodeled building are to be 50x70, and it will be centrally heated and cooled.

All of that involves extensive interior changes. The present front room will remain the business office and the addition south of it will be the council chamber and municipal court room. Adjoining that room will be the police department's office and next to it a two cell jail. Remaining space, besides rest rooms, is taken up by the fire department and the firemen's meeting room. The fire trucks will be in the south part of the building, leaving and entering from the south, as now.

It is estimated that this kind of structure will cost much less than a new building of the same size. It could be financed by current revenue, which includes taxes, revenue sharing and sales tax rebates, whereas a new project would require a bond issue.

Mary M. Rohmer Wins DAR Award

Sister Mary John Seyler, principal of Sacred Heart High, has announced the DAR Award for 1977. The winner is Mary Margaret Rohmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Rohmer.

In addition to Miss Rohmer, nominees were Monica Gehrig, Mary Luke and Gary Rohmer, all SHHS seniors. This is the first time competition was open to boys. All High School seniors across the country are eligible; they are judged on Patriotism, Loyalty and Scholarship. In each high school, the senior class elects four nominees and the faculty chooses the winner.

Purpose of the DAR Award is to promote patriotism, to give recognition to a deserving student, and to present an opportunity of compete for scholarship money.

SH Juniors Lose 2 at Notre Dame

Sacred Heart's junior varsity boys were nosed out and the junior high boys were wiped out in a pair of games at Notre Dame Tuesday night.

The score of the first game was 46-6, and the scorers for SH were Brian Herr 4, T. J. Walterscheid 2.

The following game was a hot contest with the Tigers trailing closely all the way. Scores ending three quarters were 14-9, 22-21 and 35-31 before SH started closing the gap in the fourth. They managed to tie it at 44-44 shortly before the end and appeared to be going into overtime when a last second long shot beat them 46-44. Tiger scorers were Ken Hartman 15, Mark Nasche 11, Mel Walterscheid 10, Monte Endres 6, Brian Bindel 2.

Hospital Notes

The following patients were dismissed during the past week at Muenster Memorial Hospital.

Attend Workshop On Filing Ideas

Mrs. Prue Selby, Mrs. Florence Williams, Mrs. Carol Dyer, Mrs. Sandy Klement and Mrs. Gwen Trubenbach attended a recent workshop at Callisburg. Designed for elementary teachers, it was a make-and-take workshop entitled "File Folder Ideas".

All subject areas were included in the file folder ideas which were presented to aid teachers in providing a variety of activities without using a great deal of classroom space. The workshop was conducted by Barry Calhoun, Consultant in Curriculum and Staff Development, Region XI, Education Service Center.

MHS Teams Lose Two to Lindsay

A pair of games with Lindsay on the MHS court Tuesday night was a continuation of hard times for the teams of Muenster High. Hornets lost theirs convincingly by a score of 58-39 whereas the Hornets barely lost by a count of 42-41.

The boys started with a hot performance on their floor game, but they were ice cold at the goal, such as ten misses on easy lay up shots. As a result Lindsay led 16-9 at the quarter and 28-15 at the half. The Hornets improved in the third and broke even, ending the period at 36-23. Finally they got organized and played a strong fourth period, tying the score at 41-41 as the clock showed 21 seconds. Lindsay gained 1 with a free shot after which Muenster missed the lay-up that could have won. It was the second close loss in the district race. The Hornets lost by 3 to Petrolia.

MHS scorers were Todd Richey 18, Lenzy Dyer 10, David Felderhoff 7, Neil Walterscheid 4, Nick Walterscheid 2, Larry Hermes hit 17 for Lindsay and Danny Norman 16.

Likewise a cold start was tragic for the MHS girls. They fell behind by 16-8 and 34-15 in the first two periods and were already out of contention when they matched their visitors point for point in the second half. Final score was 58-39 leaving the team with an 0-3 district standing.

Robin Walterscheid led Muenster scoring with 27, Lou Dyer and Linda Endres each added 6. Nancy Hundt made 29 for Lindsay and Joyce Hermes 14.

Hospital Auxiliary Meeting Muenster Hospital Auxiliary will meet tonight Thursday, January 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the hospital meeting room.

Rugged Winter Weather Continues

Winter in Muenster has never been more beautiful than Monday when nature used a foggy mist in creating a delicate lacy frosting on trees and other vegetation. It was like a landscape scene of a Christmas card, but more so. The snowy whiteness was enhanced by a crystalline effect.

This winter wonderland was a fringe benefit of the severe weather which continued from last week. Monday morning brought the fog which built up the lacy stuff and rising temperature later laid everything bare again. Fortunately, that is what came when dreaded freezing rain was expected.

Temperature has continued to feature round the clock sub freezing and lows in the teens. The low has been below 20 from the 17th through the 23rd, and the high every day through the 22nd has been 32 or under.

Though cold remained, much of last week's snow and sleet disappeared. Driving was better, allowing the community to recover to near normal from its paralysis. Schools reopened and business activity improved.

As if taking a final swing at the area, a bit of freezing rain followed by snow came in Wednesday. The combination was estimated at .8 inch by Steve Mosler and measured at .11 inch of moisture. However the weather cleared and warmed about mid morning. A high of 46 removed most of the remaining ice and snow from the streets. The area feels relief, but also some anxiety about another predicted cold front at the end of the week.

Moisture of the week has amounted to only .14 inch. Total for the month to now is 1.70 inches.

Low and high temperatures were recorded as follows by Steve Mosler: 19th, 19 & 24; 20th, 11 & 31; 21st, 19 & 28; 22nd, 13 & 22; 23rd, 17 & 34; 24th, 31 & 40; 25th, 29 & 46.

Emmett Curtis of Gainesville Dies

Emmett Curtis, 68, a long time restaurant and motel operator and civic worker, died early Sunday in Gainesville Memorial Hospital after an extended illness.

Funeral service, held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in First Christian Church of Gainesville, was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Harry Roark and the Rev. Messrs. Arthur Hunt and Wilbur Mix. Burial in Fairview Cemetery was directed by Geo. J. Carroll & Son.

Emmett Curtis was a native of Frederick, Okla., born July 4, 1909. He came to Gainesville in 1936 and started in the restaurant business. When IH-35 was opened he established the Cutwood Restaurant and Motel in partnership with W. E. Woods, and continued it until several months ago.

Also, Curtis was active in Gainesville civic affairs. He was a president of the Chamber of Commerce, a director of the Community Circus, and member of the Gainesville school board, a board member of the Texas Restaurant Association, and worshipful master of the Gainesville Masonic Lodge. He was a graduate of Oklahoma State University.

Survivors are his wife, two daughters, five grandchildren and one brother.

Society Completes Mardi Gras Plans

Members of the SHS Home-School Society were entertained preceding the January meeting by Theresa Walterscheid's Aerobic Dance Class, songs of the Junior High classes and Mary Margaret Rohmer's prize winning speech on Conservation.

Werner Becker Jr. presided for the business meeting. Father Placidus led the open and closing prayers.

Frank Luke requested hosts for members of the Young Men's Choir of Subiaco who will present a program in March.

Members completed plans for the Mardi Gras on February 5, 1-6 p.m.

Plans were also made to include Teacher Appreciation gifts for 5, 10, 15 & 20 years service, during Catholic Education Week.

The Germanfest committee announced plans to engage a carnival group who will provide rides for children. Mothers will also conduct a Bake Sale.

The door prize was won by Charles Bayer. It was a gift certificate from Modern Floors.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dan Bayer, Mrs. Chris Walter and Mrs. Leon Fuhrmann.

SNAP to Sponsor Valentine Ball for Senior Citizens

All Senior Citizens age 55 and over of the area are invited to attend a Valentine Ball on February 14, 1978, 8-11 p.m. in the Sacred Heart Community Center, 730 North Main St. in Muenster.

Music will be provided by the Ben Beemo 8 piece orchestra of Dallas, which includes members of past great bands. The evening's entertainment will be sponsored by the Muenster Activity Program, the City of Muenster and the Senior Activity Program. Admission will be $1.50 per person, $3.00 per couple.

Anyone under 55, wishing to attend this dance will be admitted at the same price.

Robert Bayer Asks For Re-election

Robert Bayer, commissioner of Precinct 4 of Cooke County, has authorized the Enterprise to announce that he is a candidate for re-election subject to action of the Democratic Primary.

His formal statement to voters of the precinct will appear in a later issue of the Enterprise.

Germanfest Location Transferred to Park

A change of site for the principal activity of this year's Germanfest was announced during the past weekend. Johnny Pagel, president of the Muenster Chamber of Commerce, said that the big tent will be at the city park and dances will be in the Community Center.

Details as to where certain facilities of the event will be located remain to be worked out by Chairman W. J. Miller and his committee, who expect to have most if not all of the answers ready for next Monday's meeting with persons and organizations that intend to operate the concessions. The get-together will be held in the Electric Co-op Building, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Pagel said the purpose is to determine who will operate what, as well as to assign space under the big top. Last year's occupants will have the first opportunity to lease their former locations, and spaces remaining after that will become available on a first come first served basis. Also at that time the Chamber of Commerce will charge a deposit fee of $4 per foot of front, which is the minimum fee for a concession. The standard charge will be 10 per cent of a booth's gross revenue. If that amounts to more than the deposit the occupant will be expected to pay the balance when the festival closes. If the deposit is equal to or more than the 10% there will be no other charge. The reason behind this method is to discourage persons from reserving space and failing later to use it.

An exception to the method is the beer concession, which is the most lucrative. Assignment there is to be determined by competitive bidding starting at 30 per cent. Interested persons are asked to submit sealed bids to W. J. Miller for opening at next Monday's meeting.

Actually there will be two beer concessions, one at the Germanfest main location in the city park, the other in the Community Center for the dances.

Entertainment features likewise are expected to get attention at the Monday meeting. And promotions are under way for the German Fun Run, the biggest single event of the festival.

A change of conducting the race has already been decided because of the change of location. Instead of starting at the park, as planned, the runners will start elsewhere and finish at the park.

Undersea Oil Line Monitor

One of the more fascinating oceanic views of our time is the giant drilling and production platform standing firm against the sea's wind and waves. It is an amazing complex from which up to 25 wells may be drilled, which also has a refinery or pumping station to dispose of oil production, plus a residential center complete with restaurant and movies.

As they say about icebergs, the system is almost completely under water, hence one of the vital chores thereabouts is to see that the vast network of pipe and other equipment is kept in good condition. This calls for bottom piping, principally of the bottom pipe lines that run from rigs to loading stages or to shore installations as far as 150 miles away. Average working depth is about 500 feet.

Ronnie Fette, 40 year old son of Kate Wilson Hudson and the late Edward (Buddy) Fette, does this kind of work, as recently related by Wally Trabling of the Santa Cruz Sentinel who interviewed Ron while he was on leave from his dangerous work. Ron is a pilot on a deep diving sub, working for International Submarine Services in an area generally between Scotland and Norway.

The subs on that job are described as rather ugly, 20 to 30 feet long, 8 to 15 tons, with protruding motors, bars, legs, portholes and turrets. They can withstand tremendous pressure, to a depth of 3000 feet. They are slow, traveling not much more than one knot an hour, illuminating the sea bottom with powerful lights and scanning the area through sensitive television cameras.

On the small subs Ron has one companion operating the camera. On the larger subs there are also divers who work outside, attached to a 75 foot air hose.

Ron's foundation for this job goes back to his scuba diving, when he acquired a feeling for underwater work, which led to a position with Lockheed and research with Deep Quest. He once dove to 6,000 feet in that program.

Regarding hazards, Ron said that the situation a pilot fears most is having his sub become entangled and trapped. On his previous trip his sub caught on an undersea line. Fortunately, divers were along and one of them went out and cut the line. Sometimes subs must nose into enclosed areas. It's risky.

The mini-subs, which have definitely proved their value, are experimenting now with long arms and claws for hands. They are useful for turning on valves or removing debris from the bottom. Ron has caught fish with the claws. Sometimes a school of fish will engulf the sub, halting operation.

He said mini-subs are also supervising experiments in burying pipe so as not to snarl fish nets. A giant plow is pulled across the bottom by a tugboat and the pipe is pushed into the trench.

An average work day of sub piloting is 8 to 10 hours. In an emergency the sub can stay down 72 hours in 48 degree water.

Junior Hi Teams Lose at Callisburg

By identical scores of 21-14, Muenster junior high teams lost a pair of basketball games at Callisburg Monday night.

After a miserable first half the girls trailed 17-2, which was too much to overcome in the improved second half when they outscored the Callisburg kids 12-4. Charlotte Fleitman made 4 points and Leslie Reiter, Kyla Hale, Stephanie Richey, Renee Wimmer and Peggy Winn each scored 2.

Muenster boys apparently had it made but blew it in a bad third quarter and terrible fourth. They led 10-4 at the half and 14-12 ending the third, then went into a scoreless slump while Callisburg added 9 points. Gary Klement made 6 points, Kevin Felderhoff and David Flusche each hit 4.

Forestburg News

By Myrt
Denham

The day of the Super Bowl Football game a church in a nearby town cancelled its evening worship service so the members could watch the game. A relative of ours, a member of the church, remarked to a friend that she felt like she were living in the days of Sodom and Gomorrah with all this football mania and hero worship of people like Elvis Presley. The friend asked, in all seriousness, if Sodom and Gomorrah lived at Forestburg. We chuckle — BUT perhaps "they" do dwell here.

Mrs. Decie Ellzey received word Monday Jan. 16 that her brother Keith Oliver of Hereford had passed away. Mrs. Ellzey was accompanied to Hereford by her daughter Mrs. Jerry Boelter of Arlington. Funeral services for Mr. Oliver were held Thurs. Jan. 19 at 3 p.m. in the Hereford Baptist Church.

Perryman and I spent Monday, Jan. 16, in Bowie visiting his mother Mrs. Joe Denham. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Perryman who were on their way home from Wichita Falls. We all broke bread together at noon. Then Tuesday the 17 found us Denhams on our way to Sheppard AFB Tuesday night the 16 we were in Gainesville attending the Litton Microwave cooking school.

C. G. Greenwood of Park Springs, Bob Greenwood and son of Chico visited their father and grandfather — Calvin Greenwood, Sunday, Jan. 15.

Woodrow and Minnie Sirman ventured out past Dewey way to visit with Myrtle McMillion, Sat., Jan. 14.

Mrs. Glen Romines honored her mother Mrs. T. J. Vann of Montague with a birthday party Wed., Jan. 11, in the Romine home in Dewey. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Vann and children of Dewey and T. J. Vann of Montague.

The big topic of conversation hereabouts has been the very cold weather along with the ice and snow storm. Most everyone is ready for the colds to depart and for the sun to shine so as to warm us up and thaw us out.

Hear tell that Mr. and Mrs. Donald Steadham have purchased the home of the late Meb and Roxie Dunn and have moved in.

Saw the nicest looking young man on TV the other nite — a high school student. He had a decent haircut and no beard or moustache. It was a refreshing sight and made us feel good just to look at him.

Understood that Glen Lynch is still having to heat up Chickie Noodle Soup when he isn't hitting the Longhorn Cafe at mealtime.

Jim McMillion of Denton visited his parents the A. B. McMillion of Dewey Sunday, Jan. 15.

Laton Scott of Buffalo Springs spent Sunday the 15 visiting her grandmother Mrs. Linnie Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Poteet have returned home to Newport, Calif., after an extended visit here with her mother, Mrs. Bessie Greenwood and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams of the Mallard area visited with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Taylor and Verna Mae recently. Mrs. Taylor is still on the sick list — but hear she is some better.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holt and son Lynn and Burl Travelstead of Gainesville visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meyer Sunday, Jan. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Parsons and Tony of Wichita Falls were Jan. 14 weekend visitors of her parents the Buford Greenwoods and other kin in the Uz Community.

Elmer Hunt of Alvord visited his parents the Joe Hunts of New Harp Friday, Jan. 20.

Mrs. Johnny Moseley and twins along with Becky Putnam — all of New Harp were Gainesville shoppers recently.

Charles Edwards filled the pulpit of the Forestburg United Methodist Church on Sunday a.m. Jan. 22 in the absence of Rev. Clay Yeager who was ill with the flu. As always Charles did a marvelous job.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Vann and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wells all of Montague were guests in the Glenn Romine home Wed. nite, Jan. 18. They all enjoyed an evening of dominoes.

Fuhrmann Baptism

Mr. and Mrs. Michael G. Fuhrmann's infant daughter, Christine was baptized Sunday, January 15 in St. Peter's Church of Lindsay. Father Damian Wewers officiated at 11:30 a.m. Christine's baptismal sponsors were Jerome P. Fuhrmann of Muenster and Sister Mary Helen Fuhrmann of Wichita Falls.

Others attending were H. N. Fuhrmann of Muenster; Mrs. James E. Floyd and Juanita and Robert of Durant, Oklahoma and the baby's sisters Ashley, Angela and Cassandra. She wore the same christening gown as Cassandra wore on her baptism.

Following the church service, the group gathered in the parents' home for dinner.

Gas Consumption Reaches New High

During the five-day period of January 9 through January 13, Lone Star Gas Company delivered a record volume of gas averaging more than 24 billion cubic feet (Bcf) of gas per day, compared with a normal daily average of some 1.4 Bcf.

Doug Williams, vice president of Lone Star's Transmission Division, noted that the five-day total exceeded 12 Bcf of gas sold, including an all-time 24-hour record on Tuesday, January 10 of nearly 2.7 Bcf. The previous daily high of nearly 2.4 Bcf occurred January 9, 1977.

"When the peak-demand situation occurred on our system," Williams explained, "all our physical facilities such as pipelines and compressor stations performed at high efficiency. Our key operating employees were on a continuous standby all week."

Williams pointed out that even on Tuesday when the record volume was being set, curtailment of industrial and electric generation customers was moderate, with electric generation users curtailed 55 to 65 percent and 40 percent for lowest priority industrial customers. During this period these users, whose contract with the utility provides for curtailment during peak-demand periods, used a standby fuel.

If we looked at today's world with only 100 people: there would be 70 who would be able to read, one who would have a college education, 50 who would be suffering from malnutrition, and 80 would be living in what we call substandard housing. If we also looked at this global village of 100 people, we would find that 6 would be Americans who have half the village's entire income and 94 people would exist on the other half.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

You know, we're people in a hurry, needing to be somewhere to do something that needs doing right then. And in our rush, small details often are overlooked.

For example, it's surprising how many people fail to sign their checks. Most companies will return them, of course, asking for your signature, but a little attention to check writing would save that small embarrassment.

Learn to write a check properly - and with care. Fill in the date, the payee, the figure for the amount. Then write out the amount in words, beginning at the far left of the line so no one can add "One hundred" or "One thousand" to the amount. This line is known as the "filling," and if there is a disparity between the figures and the amount written, we will pay the amount shown on the filling.

Then, sign the check. And don't forget to enter the amount of the check in your records, subtract it from your balance and put down when and to whom the check was written.

It only takes a moment, and handling your check-book properly will be a great help in keeping your check balance correct.

Members of Bluebonnet Home Demonstration Club heard a program presented by Evelyn Yeatts, County Extension Agent, during their January meeting in the home of Jo Ann Pagel. Mrs. Yeatts presented "If You Like It, Frame It". She showed ways to frame needlepoint, paintings, family portraits and treasured items such as a quilt piece, a crocheted piece or even an old heirloom gun, any thing that the family treasures and seeks to display. She discussed the economy of buying supplies at a frame shop and constructing frames to suit individual tastes or needs, always at considerable savings. Mrs. Yeatts also showed how to dramatize pictures for framing through the use of mats.

Linda Vogel, president, conducted the business meeting and Monica Hess gave the devotional. Members were asked to donate baked foods to be sold in Gainesville and Muenster on March 11 as a benefit for the 4-H Scholarship Fund.

Germanfest planning began and Linda Vogel and Monica Hess will attend the planning meetings. Members will host a Valentine party for residents of St. Richard's Villa with Judy McDaniel as chairman.

The hostess served a dessert plate to 13 members and one guest, Mrs. Rita Russell.

Confetti - - -

long since passed in the inflation - and - unemployment-ridden United Kingdom.

While this explosive growth in government has been going on, more and more controls have been piled on the nation's businesses - making it ever more difficult for the private sector to produce new wealth for government's ravenous appetite. The cost burden of present controls on the American economy is estimated as high as $130 billion - equal to about $2,000 per family per year.

And by no coincidence whatever, consumer prices since 1949 have risen 113%, with three quarters of this jump coming in the past decade.

This raises the central economic issue of our time:

How much government can the economy take and still function effectively? When does an effort to correct abuses become an abuse in itself? At what point do we reach the point of no return?

This gets to the nation's foremost political issue:

How much government can we take - how much concentration of power on the Potomac - and still preserve our priceless personal freedoms? These are central issues that we hope Washington will address itself to in no uncertain terms in 1978. Our entire future depends on sound, solid answers.
