VOLUME VII

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1943

NUMBER 47

If you've read this one chances are you smiled just like I did "Inasmuch as we have plenty of wool again, Canada is allowing clothing manufacturers to make two-pants suits again, and there are rumors that WPB may permit a revival of the custom in the United States". We have more wool, so we can start using it more economically. That good old American efficiency.

Of course you knew all along, even if WPB did not, that the one-pants law is the real waster of material. Since way back in grandpappy's day, maybe a few generations farther back, men have been buying two-pants suits for one reason only — thrift. Ask the man who wears one. He'll tell you the coat will last as long as both pants. But the bureaucrats did not bother about such fundamental facts. They simply decreed he'd have to save by taking two coats with each two pants.

To make the ridiculous even more ridiculous, WPB permitted the zoot suit craze to run its course right through the shortage period. If the clothing industry ever saw a waste of wool that was it. Enough surplus material in every one of those suits to make an extra pair of pants. If the nation has succeeded in getting back to an adequate supply of wool it has done so in spite of WPB, not because of it.

One chilly day last week, about the time I was wondering whether my newly acquired case of sniffling would develop into my customary winter-long cold, I came upon somebody's estimate of what our colds are worth to the doppers. A hundred million dollars. Think of it. That's what we coughers and sneezers and sniffers spend every year on pills, drops, salves, and syrups. And, the average expenditure on every cold is only two bits. The nation has 400 million colds every year.

Of course that represents only a fraction of what colds actually cost. Figure in the time lost from jobs or inefficient work, the doctors' fees and some hospital bills, plus lots of extra aspirins and handkerchiefs and you start to get a notion of what we have to pay through the nose — for our misery.

Call it poetic justice, an odd coincidence, or what you like, but to an intuition specialist like Hitler there must be a sinister significance in our high command's choice of a man named Eisenhower to lead the European campaign. There's a Prussian proverb that says "he who attacks Germany bites on iron." Apparently Eisenhower is the very man for the job. His name, in German, means "hewer of iron."

The longer this war goes on and the longer Congress continues to fix up the soldiers, the less trouble we will have keeping the army up to full strength afterward. If there's going to be any trouble at all, it will be in keeping the figure down to the authorized strength. Instead of studying up intriguing speeches to coax 'em in, recruiting officers of the future will have to think up excuses to keep 'em out.

A soldier's pay nowadays is far from hay. And lately there's talk of another boost to the allotments for dependents. Wave that kind of money under the noses of Deep-South share-croppers with big families and there won't be anyone left to raise cotton and peanuts. For that matter, thousands of men now in uniform, men who never received such wages before the war, will be trying to stay in the army the rest of their lives. Unless somebody plugs in a little clause reading "for the duration only".

Just now, nobody is likely to squawk about the raise. Any man who exposes himself to the hazards of war is entitled to adequate provision for his dependents, especially when millions who remain at home are making more money. Considering the financial possibilities he leaves and the necessity of breaking up his family the soldier is still underpaid.

Just the same, it is plenty of lettuce according to the standards we used to know. A lot more than soldiers got before the war, also more than civilians got. It's nice now while we're receiving the money. But it's going to be different a few years hence when the time of reckoning comes.

Will the country ever be able to get out of the red again? According to statisticians who juggled figures during the New Deal spending spree, the answer is no. At (Continued on page 5)

Originally we asked for 10 percent in bonds; now we need considerably more.

He invites citizens of this and neighboring communities to visit the store during the gigantic sale. Nothing is reserved, everything must go. Also, there will be no exchanges or refunds. An advertisement, listing some of the bargains, appears on another page in this newspaper.

3 Events Mark Observance Of Columbus Day

The observance of Columbus Day in this community was marked by three separate events by the local Knights of Columbus council.

First on the program was group attendance at mass and the reception of the Eucharist at 9 o'clock Sunday. The second event, a council breakfast, in the parish hall, followed immediately thereafter.

Both were favored by a remarkably fine attendance of the council's membership. 110 persons were present at the breakfast and it was estimated that at least 20 more, whose personal schedules conflicted with the time, were among the group at church.

Past Grand Knight J.W. Fisher was toastmaster at the breakfast. The principal address was brought by Lt. Chaplain Francis Zimmmer, visiting in the county on leave from Camp Gordon, Ga. Other speakers were Mayor J. M. Weinzapfel, Herbert Meurer, state treasurer, and John Wieber, deputy grand knight. The local court of the Catholic Daughters of America prepared and served the meal which featured fresh country sausage.

Before the addresses, Rev. Richard Evedl led the opening prayer after which a brief "Get-Acquainted" program was held. Some 25 visiting soldiers, including soldiers from Camp Howze, were special guests. Each rose to tell his name his home town and his present station. Muenster boys present were Sgt. Paul and Cpl. Norbert Tempel, Lt. Pat Stelzer, S. Sgt. Wilmer Luke and Pfc. John Durbin.

The tables were arranged in T formation and were laid with white linen and silver and decorated with arrangements of yellow zinnias and marigolds. Musical selections were presented by Miss Mildred Walterscheid on her accordion during the meal.

Wives and lady friends joined the Knights in the final observance which took place in the form of a social Tuesday evening in the K of C hall. Dominoes, cards, bowling and refreshments were enjoyed by a large assemblage.

Lack of electric lights did not dim the festive spirit of the group. When the power failed, due to an electric storm, the party continued by candle light.

Wednesday Meeting
At the regular meeting of the council last Wednesday evening Dr. E.W. Laake of Dallas, master of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus of the Northern District of Texas, was a guest speaker. He brought an interesting message on the fourth degree. An unusually large attendance marked the meeting.

Dr. Laake was accompanied to Muenster by George Nicoud and Lee Lerner, both of Dallas. Nicoud also gave a short address. He is state secretary of the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Klement are the parents of a son, Ronald Bernard, born at the local clinic last Friday. The infant was baptized by Father Thomas Saturday, assisted by Ben Sandmann of Lindsay and Mrs. John Klement, grandparents, as sponsors. Mrs. Klement is the former Miss Rose Sandmann of Lindsay.

Garden Club Flower Show Date Nov. 10

Show Is Limited To Members This Year

Plans for the annual flower show were announced at the Friday meeting of the Civic League and Garden Club. This year's show will be held in connection with the annual social affair of the organization and will be for members only it was disclosed.

Mrs. T.S. Myrick is chairman and arrangements were made previously during the week when her committee met for this purpose. The affair will take place on November 10 from 3 to 5 in the afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. B. Wilde. Each member will display one or more arrangements of flowers, berries or leaves suitable for coffee table, piano, mantel, dining room, breakfast room and radio. These will be discussed by members during the show as to merit and suitability. A musical program has been planned and refreshments will be served.

Cemetery Report
Other business of Friday's meeting consisted of a detailed report on cemetery work by Chairman Miss Mary Becker. She stated that during the year donations for the cemetery amounted to $280.24, and that $214.49 had been expended for upkeep during the period. Trees and shrubbery are in good condition and a recent thorough clean-up and erection of 24 crosses to mark forsaken graves leave the cemetery looking well kept, she added.

Defense Work

Mrs. Jim Cook, defense committee chairman, asked members to donate and solicit books in German to be given to war prisoners at Camp Howze. Mrs. G.H. Hellman, community Red Cross chairman, had last week collected quite a number of volumes and delivered them for this purpose, she stated. Mrs. Hellman having German books of any description and wishing to aid in this work is asked to leave them at the Cook home or at the Enterprise office and they will be delivered to camp. The club voted to make a four dollar donation from its treasury to be applied to the Christmas fund for soldiers confined to Camp Howze station hospital. Neighboring communities were given a quota, this city's quota being ten dollars. Six dollars were subscribed by Father Thomas for the parish. Garden Club members will spend one afternoon before Christmas wrapping these gifts.

Have Wool For Knitters
Mrs. Cook reported that at this time the Red Cross sewing room is overflowing with woolen materials are available, but added that plenty of woolen yarns are on hand and anyone wishing to knit for the Red Cross may receive supplies by calling at her home.

To Make Cookies

Cookies for men at Camp Howze hospital will be made on October 20, next Wednesday, it was decided. For this purpose sugar and shortening are available free of charge through the courtesy of the League and anyone wishing to engage in this activity may receive these ingredients at the Cook home. Non-members, as well as members, wishing to bake are welcome to sugar and shortening without charge. The baked products, which include cakes, should be left at the Cook home on the afternoon of the 20th.

A report on the 4-H Club was given by Miss Olivia Stock and Mrs. John Ezell read the treasurer's report.

To Plant Memorial Trees

Members decided to plant a memorial tree for each local young man who gives his life for his country during the present war and a committee composed of Messdames Joe Luke, T.S. Myrick and Herbert Meurer was appointed to make plans for the planting of the first two trees, in memory of Ens. Robert Weinzapfel and Lt. M.J. Endres, Jr. A suitable program, to which the public is invited to attend, is being planned and a further announcement is to be made concerning it. The trees are to be marked with appropriately inscribed plaques.

Afternoon Speakers

For the afternoon's program hour Mrs. Joe Luke was the first speaker, her subject being "What to do in the Garden in October". Miss Mary Becker, as the other speaker gave an interesting talk on "The Cottage Herb Garden".

Miss Anselma Pangel has received a promotion and is now secretary, Board of U.S. Civil Service Examiners at Camp Howze. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Pangel of this city.

Red Cross Not To Solicit 'Til Spring Of '44

County Chairman Warns Against Fake Solicitors; Drive Set For Spring

If anyone rings your doorbell and says he is soliciting for the American Red Cross, the Cooke County Red Cross chapter knows nothing about it.

The Red Cross is not soliciting funds now. It is not sponsoring the collection of materials from door to door. Anyone who claims to be a Red Cross representative in behalf of such a solicitation or collection lacks the authority of the organization.

These statements come directly from chapter headquarters, J. L. Leazer, chapter chairman, speaking.

"Our attention has been called of late to instances in some communities where persons said they were collecting money to send cablegrams to war prisoners," Leazer said. "Such a collection would be without Red Cross authorization here. Expenditures in behalf of prisoners are from the organization treasury."

Leazer pointed out that no American Red Cross campaign for funds is contemplated before next spring.

National War Fund Separate

"By national agreement, he explained, "times have been designated for the two campaigns by those organizations raising funds the county over for war assistance activity. The funds campaign of National War Fund, Inc., which comprises 17 organizations will be during October and November. The Red Cross has no part in this. But the Red Cross is allotted a month in the spring of 1944 for its great nation-wide appeal."

We all wish to show our love and respect to our beloved departed ones. What then could be a more fitting deed than to erect to their memory a monument? This is the last tribute we can pay to their memory.

The custom is perhaps centuries old and no doubt will go on for centuries more. That it is sentimental is true, but without the sentimental things of life, our lives would indeed be barren. A monument is a symbol of love and respect. If you desire to have a monument erected at the resting place of your departed loved one, call The Gainesville Granite Works. They will be able to assist you in selecting a suitable marker.

They carry a large stock of monuments.

These monuments cannot help but inspire respect in all who see them. They are silent sentinels of reverence. Have your monuments erected by the Gainesville Granite Works.

Initiation

On Wednesday, October 6, the Freshmen were officially admitted to the student body of Sacred Heart High. That afternoon the Freshman Class, trembling with fear and anxiety, marched into the auditorium to take their grueling tests. They were asked to display their brilliance (?) and endurance. This they did according to the instructions of their noble Seniors. We learned that many are geniuses in their fields. One even seemed to be inclined to the study of Algebra; another had mastered the great Shakespearean character — Romeo. Others seemed to be great animal lovers. These and many other things were discovered, much to the amusement of the spectators.

The Freshmen were permitted (?) to wear a large green bow and a green fish for a week as a reminder of this great day.

After the ordeal, delicious refreshments of home-made ice cream, cake and coffee were prepared and served by the Juniors under the supervision of Sr. M. Georgia. The coffee was prepared by Fr. Thomas and it was good to the last drop. The long U-shaped tables were artistically decorated in yellow and green. Miniature freshies made of green crepe paper served as place cards. Yellow garden flowers and evergreens were gracefully arranged on the tables.

Father Thomas and Father Richard were special guests for the afternoon.

We must say that the Freshmen took it all with a smile. We are glad they did for it was given in a spirit of fun and comradeship.

The Freshman Class now numbers 22, the new student being Tony Rohmer. It's nice having you, Tony, good luck in your school work.

ALSO NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schmitz, accompanied by J.C. Trachta and Miss Isabel Walterscheid of Muenster, spent one evening last week at Dallas visiting the former's son Richard Schmitz and family. They had a house warming party in the new home they bought recently.

Mrs. Julius F. Loerwald has returned to her home in Galveston after a visit with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Loerwald east of Gainesville, and relatives and friends in this community. Her husband is stationed at Galveston on shore patrol with the Coast Guard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bezner have received word that their son, Ralph Bezner, is confined to the station hospital at Brigham City, Utah. The nature of his illness was not stated but he is not in a serious condition. Ralph has been stationed at Logan, Utah, taking his primary training for a pilot with the army air corps.

Paul Zimmerer, son of Mr. and Mrs. I.A. Zimmerer, in the Navy, was recently promoted to Chief Commissary Steward, he has written his parents. Previously he was a baker first class. He has been on duty somewhere in the Pacific war theatre for the past several months.

Cpl. Joseph J. Bezner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bezner, is a member of the 36th division serving overseas with Gen. Mark Clark's fifth army. As a member of this division he probably took active part in the battle of Salerno and other fighting in Italy. His parents had a cable from him this week advising that he is well and safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sandmann were in Muenster Saturday to make the acquaintance of their new grandson, Ronald Bernard Klement, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Klement, born at the Muenster clinic Friday. Mrs. Klement is the former Miss Rose Sandmann. The grandfather and Mrs. John Klement, paternal grandmother, were sponsors at the infant's baptism Saturday afternoon.

A letter this week from Mrs. Bruno Zimmerer discloses that she and her young son are now comfortably settled at 2245 Vine St. Paso Robles, Calif. Pvt. Zimmerer is stationed at near-by Camp Roberts training with an infantry battalion. She added that they are well, and like California in spite of the fact that where they are living is more crowded than Cooke county, and included regards to all the folks in this community.

Lieut. Chaplain Francis A. Zimmerer left Tuesday after spending one week of his two weeks' leave here and at Muenster with relatives and friends. While in this community he was the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. A. Zimmerer. He went from here to Subiaco, Ark., where he will spend a week before returning to Camp Gordon, Ga. Sunday he was the principal speaker at the Knights of Columbus breakfast held in the parish hall at Muenster.

that time we were told that 65 or 70 billion was all the debt we could handle. Today we're approaching a debt of three times that amount and still show little or no inclination to slack up.

Where debts are concerned war has a queer psychological effect. Any other time there would be thousands of people yelling their heads off for government economy. Now either nobody cares or those concerned don't listen. The first objective is to win. We can worry about the cost later. If one group gets more money than another, don't cut. Raise the other. Keep everybody in a good humor, whether they are overpaid or not. When the public kicked about workmen getting so much more than soldiers, Congress did not attempt to revise wage levels. It gave the soldiers more. Since then wages have gone up some more, so Congress is considering more for the soldier. That vicious circle.

The net result is that everything the army uses, barracks, trucks, planes, rifles, clothes, and what not, cost the taxpayer about twice as much as comparable items used to cost. For instance, $1200 for a ange and brown autumn leaves, we wondered what they were up to. The job completed, the freshies and sophs boast of the most attractive classroom in the building. The artistic blackboard border is the work of Dorothy Beyer, Florence Zimmerer, and Gertrude Bengfort.

FRESHIES RECEIVE AND WRITE SURPRISE LETTER

Linus Fuhrmann surprised his old classmates with a very interesting letter last week. Spiced with his good old-time humor, the letter afforded many a smile and chuckle. We'd like to see Linus when he gets that big letter from the freshies with its nine-cent stamp. He's at Subiaco Academy this year.

Relatives and friends surprised Mrs. Al Bayer with a gift shower and a party on October 7 in observance of her birthday. Informal diversion and refreshments, brought by the guests, were enjoyed. Among those in attendance were the honoree's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Loerwald of Lindsay.

Miss Elsie Fuhrmann has returned from a several week's visit with relatives and friends in Fort Wayne, Ind., and Chicago, Ill.

A REPUTATION TO LIVE UP TO

Muenster's many accomplishments — in both war and peace — symbolize the old Texas tradition of "do" and "get done". Even such institutions as ours, which have grown steadily with Muenster through the years, are sometimes surprised at this community's lusty disregard of obstacles, her affinity for victory.

Muenster went over the top for her part of the 3rd War Loan, giving all her people and businesses something worth living up to.
