Jim Hightower speaks to Red River Farm Co-op

More than 300 members attended the annual Red River Farm Copop meeting and dinner held in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville on Thursday night, March 26, when Jim Hightower, Texas Agriculture Commissioner, was the speaker.

They heard Gene Deckard, president, conduct the meeting and give the financial report presented by Charles Whittington, Jr., manager.

The financial report related partly good news, partly not so good. Whittington said that the good news is, "We are debt-free; we don't owe a bank or anyone else a dime. The co-op is ours"... "The bad news is that profits are down."

He sid, in part, "To generate a new age of economic growth, Texas has got to go wildcatting again, and one of the most promising fields for striking it rich is that old reliable-agriculture."

He highlighted an 81-page indepth analysis of the multibillion-dollar growth potential that Texans can achieve through agricultural diversification, processing and direct marketing. Entitled "Economic Growth Through diversification, processing and direct marketing. Entitled "Economic Growth Through agricultural Development: A Blueprint for Action," the study by the Texas Department of Agriculture concludes with a series of specific legislative proposals that can help Texas farmers, ranchers, cooperatives and food businesses produce $15 billion-a-year in new income for the state and create 165,000 new jobs for Texans. That comprehensive package of agricultural development legislation was introduced earlier this month by key members of both the Texas House and Senate.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir,
In your front page article about the Muenster Relays (March 27, 1987), I was happy to read that the
Muenster Hornets and Lady
Hornets made a "strong showing" in the event, with the Hornets nearly winning their division. However, I was surprised to see little or no recognition given to the other home-town team.

the other home-town team.

The Sacred Heart Tigerettes took first place in the girls division of this same track event by winning with a total of 178 points (73 points ahead of their nearest compoints ahead of their nearest com-petitor). They also won five in-dividual first place titles. In fairness of reporting shouldn't the Tigerettes be recognized for their "strong showing" and their "strong finish?"

Sincerely, Angelo Nasche P.O. Box 427 Muenster, TX 76252

Thanks for reading our newspaper.

In response to the above letter and several other readers who called to constructively question the way I handled last week's track story on the front page. I offer apologies for the obvious omission of the SH Tigerettes, who won their division, from the story. The chain of events leading to the omission was innocent, especially considering a hectic Wednesday deadline, but was nevertheless my bad mistake.

But I'm glad you responded. I'm glad you're concerned about the contents. I'm glad you need and read the paper. We will try harder.

My very dear friends,

"The early A proverb has it: "The early bird catches the worm." Applica-tion: An early letter to The Muenster Enterprise assures a nice place at the proper time. In this connection, I remember my Christmas letter to you. And already it is time for the Easter message. Time has assumed a jet-message. Time has assumed a jet-like speed in our time. Agreed?

"First things first," says another proverb, and therefore I wish you all from the bottom of my heart a most joyful Easter. For us poor mortals, it is so much easier to sing Allelujas than the Lamentations of the prophet Jeremias, although they used to be sung most beautifully in decades past by the Sacred Heart men's choir during the Fridays of the Lenten Season.

As far as I am concerned, there is nothing particularly exciting to be published. The highlight of my life has already shone eight months ago. I refer to my Diamond Jubilee of my first Profession on July 11, 1986.

So, I'll chat a bit with you about So, I'll chat a bit with you about minor items. First on the agenda is a pair of parakeets in a pretty green cage. One of our nurses brought them a few months ago to St. Joseph's infirmary. As I pass them many times a day, I visit them and they respond delightfully either in song or flittering of wings. I call them "little sweethearts."

Besides, the parakeets I have

Besides, the parakeets I have eight beautiful fish friends. They eight beautiful fish friends. They are in an enormous aquarium in the library in charge of Sister M. Louise. There are five goldfish, two angel fish and a? fighting fish. All are exceptionally beautiful. But, sad to say, the? fighting fish cannot enjoy the aquarium, and it lives by itself in a little tank in the aquarium. To me it seems to be pouting. I have never seen it swim around in its prison.

As I approach the aquarium after dinner, on the way to the mail box, they express such delight that they just about come through the glass wall which separates us.

Thanks a million and then some!

Thanks for the coverage during the '86-87 season. We will try to represent Muenster well next year. Sincerely, Sacred Heart Tigerettes:

Leaving the Convent in the afternoon for my daily walk, I have now a lovely shrine of our Lady to visit. The Lady is artistically and magnificently done in stained glass. There are four stone benches and magnificent plants in the shrine. Sidewalks lead to and from the shrine and beautiful landscaping surrounds it. And, I just about forgot. A bell, cast in 1890 in St. Louis, is also in the shrine. It has a very beautiful tone. It was the bell which I heard when I came to the Convent in 1924 in Maria Stein, Pocahontas. I, with 11 companions, made my Postulancy and Novitate there. The message is drawing to its close, but not before I say to the Tigers, Tigerettes, their head coach Mr. Jon LeBrasseur and all the coaches that I am still 100 percent interested in you. Congratulations, a thousandfold, to your achievements. And to each and everyone of you, my dear friends, I can only repeat that I share your joys and sorrows, your successes and failures, in short, your every sentiment. Think of me as being happy as alark and busy as a bee.

Lots and lots of love and prayers from your friend forever, Sister M. Theresina, O.S.B.

To patrons of the Muenster Cheese Factory:

We take pride in announcing to you that our cheese factory was highly praised for the accuracy of its milk tests by a milk and cream testing inapector of the State of Texas during his recent visit with us. J. D. Walker, working for the Texas Department of Agriculture and according to the standards of that department, stated after his inspection that tests here are more accurate than at any other place within his territory.

According to his calculations from specimens taken at random our tests for March 12 of this year have been in error only seven-eighths of 1 percent, and in that case the error favors the customer.

It has always been our policy to draw patronage by fair dealing rather than by baiting customers with extra points on their tests. That we follow our policy as closely as possible the following figures will testify.

In making his test Mr. Walker picked at random 24 specimens from our test of March 12. After his test was completed he took our tests from our records and compared them. It will be noted that in many cases the tests agree and in no case is the variation more than two-tenths of 1 per cent.

BAD WEATHER FAILS TO HALT SUCCESS OF PARISH PICNIC

In spite of the bad weather on Easter Monday, the annual benefit plenic of the Muenster parish proved to be a greater financial success than that of the previous year, Father Frowin stated Wednesday. The crowd seemed to be smaller, but the added revenue was the result, it is thought, of the advance work done by Sister Bertha and her assistants in selling numerous chances for the raffles held at the picnic.

As usual all proceeds of the picnic were placed in one of the parish funds, in this case the newly opened church fund.

All activities were under the direction of the local St. Anne's Society, and they were assisted by the Sisters as well as by a number of volunteers from other local groups. Holders of lucky numbers in the raffles Monday and their prizes are as follows: John Kathman, electric floor lamp; Alois Walter, mandolin, Henry Trachta, inlaid bracket with drawer; William Becker, table cloth; Mrs. Percy Frost, embroidered scarf; Edward (Buddy) Fette, tricycle. It has come to my knowledge that it is rumored about that if I am elected to Alderman I would advocate legalizing the Slot Machines in Muenster. THIS STATEMENT IS TOTALLY FALSE AND UNTRUE!

Nother is it possible for the City of Muenster to legalize these machines because, according to the existing laws of this State, such machines are not permitted to operate within this State.

I have entered this race upon my own accord and as stated in my announcement, will do my best to carry out the wishes of the citizens of Muenster as well as the City Council.

As to this UNTRUE rumor and LIBELOUS statement made against me, I will offer $50.00 reward for the conviction of the person responsible for making this false statement,

Now to do it.

According to a Library of Congress study I requested, big energy companies are still investing in short-term research to make current drilling techniques more efficient and economical in order to keep up their quarterly earnings. But they have cut back on their long-term research into new technologies for tapping the vast oil reserves we cannot yet touch.

Furthermore, they have slashed exploration for new oil. The number of seismic crews at work in the United States has plummeted from 750 in mid-1981 to 158 in late 1986.

The Administration has proposed a huge 45 percent cut in the Department of Energy's budget for research and development into oil, natural gas and coal secondaries.

All of these cutbacks have left large numbers of geologists and petroleum engineers unemployed -a fact not lost on students deciding their career paths. Four years ago, there were more than 7,000 students majoring in geology, geophysics and petroleum engineering. Last fall, there were

That same day, Kristen also celebrated with friends at Tender Loving Care Day Care Center. The children enjoyed cupcakes and punch along with other birth-day activities.

Showers honor Lisa Hess

Three showers honored Lisa Hess, bride-elect of Terry Rohmer. The first, on March 7, was given by Janie and Beth Thurman who were hostesses in the Thurman home from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Wine and brunch were served from a table decorated with the bride's chosen wedding colors, royal blue and white. Special guests were the attendants for the wedding: Sharion Reed, matron of honor; Donna Hess, Cindy Rohmer, Laurie Rohmer, Kim Rohmer and Renee Schniederjan, bridesmaids;

Schniederjan, bridesmaids; Virginia Hess and Margie Rohmer, mothers of the couple; Frances Zimmerer and Edith Hess, gran-

'Walk for Catholic Education' set for April 11

April 11 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. is the time set for the second an nual SHS Walk for Catholic Education.

In previous years, SHS students and adult participants traveled to Fort Worth to take part in the Texas Marathon for Nonpublic Education. Last year, conflicting events prevented SHS from participating at Fort Worth and ticipating at Fort Worth and a local fundraising walk-a-thon was held. Due to its success, the event is being held again.

The walk is not a speed race. Parents, students and friends of SHS may participate; the goal being to collect as many pledges as possible. Pledge sheets are going out to students this week, via homeroom teachers. The participant then solicits individuals to pledge a certain amount of money for each lap he/she runs, walks or jogs. A lap is equal to the perimeter of the SHS football field, where, weather permitting, the event will be held. If it rains, the walk-athon will move to the SHS gymnasium.

The participant collecting and turning in the largest amount of money in donations will receive his/her grand prize choice of either a $100 savings bond or a 5-inch television with digital clock and AM/FM radio. The participant collecting the second largest amount will receive either of the amount will receive either of prizes not claimed by the first place winner. It should also be noted that the winner of the television may exchange it for a bicycle of equal value.

Other grand prizes include a dual cassette player AM/FM radio with headphones, a walkie talkie set, and his/her watches. Any participant turning in $50 in pledges or donations will be eligible for a chance in a drawing held April 22 for the six grand prizes.

Hornets capture Era Golden Hornet Relays

The Muenster Hornets captured the Golden Hornet Relays Satur-day afternoon behind hurdler Andy Burnette and weightman Stuart Hess. The two remained unbeaten in their specialties, the 110 and 300 meter hurdles for Burnette and the shot and discus for Hess. Muenster turned back the Valley View Eagles for the first time in four years and put themselves in the driver's seat for a possible district champion

Senior distance man Dan Klement narrowly missed a double win as he finished first in the two mile and second in the mile. Sophomore J. Shane Wimmer claimed second place in the long jump, Bubba Klement took third in the pole yould be meters and running a leg on the third place mile relay team with Shonna Reiter, Melody Klement and LaNell Sicking.

Both the Hornets and Lady Hornets will face very stiff competition this weekend here at the petition this weekend here at the Sacred Heart Relays. Coach Jon LeBrasseur expects at least 25 teams to compete for the single division championship. Running finals get underway at 2:30 p.m.

Gainesville Jaycees set rattlesnake roundup

The 19th annual rattlesnake roundup will be held April 10-12, sponsored by Gainesville Jaycees, at the National Guard Armory.

An added attraction will be a giant community flea market. Gainesville residents are invited to set up tables to sell "whatever" and area residents are invited to "come see."

Gainesville Jaycees will give away a number of prizes. Tickets for drawings will be $1.00 each and proceeds help offset the cost of the roundup, which is an educational program teaching safety, first aid and characteristics of rattlesnakes. The rattlesnake roundup helps raise funds to sponsor many of the Jaycee community projects.

Longer spring turkey season set for 1988

AUSTIN - The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department has proposed extending the state's spring turkey gobbler hunting season from its present 16 days to a 23-day season beginning in 1988.

The proposal is one of several regulation changes to be aired in public hearings across the state during the week of March 23-27. The changes will be considered for adoption by the Parks and Wildlife Commission on May 7.

Officials said the extended season would have no biological impact on turkey populations, and would offer additional hunting opportunity. It also might help hunters get into the field during the period of peak gobbling activity, which varies from year to year.

Under the proposal, the season would open the Saturday nearest April 1, which in 1988 would be April 2, and continue for 23 con-

April 2, and continue for 23 consecutive days. This would allow hunting on four weekends.

The department staff also proposed to open the spring turkey season in Colorado and Lavaca Counties because of expanding turkey populations in those areas.

Other upland game proposals are to allow pheasant hunting for the first time in Crosby and Lub-

the first time in Crosby and Lub-bock Counties; close the prairie chicken season in Collingsworth, Donley, Gray and Roberts Counties; and eliminate check stations but require a free permit to hunt

Junior High Lady Hornets win Muenster Relays

The Junior High Lady Hornets held off the Lindsay Knights for first place in their own relays 120 to 11742. The Hornettes received some climactic support in the evening's final event when the Valley View Eaglettes edged the Knights for first place in the mile relay. The boys' team captured second place behind a strong Gunter team 124-122 despite four first place finishes.

Both squads travel to Saint Jo Friday afternoon for their final tune-up before next week's district meet. The Saint Jo Relays are scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m.

Record harvest seen on state records

AUSTIN - Public hunts on Texas Parks and Wildlife Department wildlife management areas (WMAs) continued to grow in both participation and harvest during the 1986-87 hunting season.

the 1986-87 hunting season.

Herb Kothmann, public hunt coordinator, said the gun deer hunts conducted on 20 WMAs were especially successful. "We had 4,643 hunters reporting to hunt, which was a 22 percent increase over the previous year's total of 3,805 hunters," Kothmann said. "Also, we were able to conduct gun deer hunts on 270,000 acres of land deer hunts on 270,000 acres of land during 1986, compared to 213,000 in 1985."

Gun hunters harvested 1,647 deer during the hunts, a 58 percent increase over the 1,045 taken in 1985.

The total deer harvest includes The total deer narvest includes 161 antierless deer taken during a special antierless-only hunt on the Tomas Ranch in Duval County, which was the second year that public hunting was administered by which was the second year that public hunting was administered by the department on a private ranch. Archery deer hunts were held on a more limited scale than gun hunts, but the number of archery hunters increased from 407 in 1985 to 719 this year, while the harvest jumped from eight deer to 40. A new standby system installed for the 1986-87 hunts allowed participation by an extra 815 hunters, taking the place of individuals who were drawn to hunt but failed to accept the hunt being offered. An additional 455 standby applicants found no hunt vacancy available, Kothmann said.

Kothmann noted that he was especially pleased with the deer

In addition to deer, public hunts on WMAs were conducted for chachalaca, javelina, quail, turkey (spring gobbler only), alligators, pheasant, pronghorn antelope, feral hog, waterfowl and mourning and white-winged doves.

County Agent's Report

Disease pressure is beginning to show up in area wheat fields. The first of the week we made many field investigations to check for rust and other diseases present on small grain. Some varieties of wheat are showing heavy in-festations of both stripe and leaf rust.

The Coker varieties, especially the 916 and 983, are beginning to show heavy infestations. The Golden Acres 5221 also has stripe rust with some severity. Those wheats showing less infestations but still warranting close observation by producers include Siouxland, Magnum, Mit, Pioner 2157 and Pioner 2172. Traces of rust were found on Thunderbird, Collin and Milburn. Producers should observe fields for rust buildup. Those fields for rust buildup. Those fields for rust buildup. We have been receiving quite a few questions as to what the freeze will do to the various wheat varieties. I guess right now we are at a "wait and see" position. We do feel that those varieties that are our early maturing and were close to heading may be damaged somewhat. In visiting with some of the area agronomists, they feel the temperature must remain in the 25-28-degree range for several hours before damage occurs. You will be before damage occurs. For school-age children and teenagers in particular, the instudy shows that the percentage of fluence of people outside the family plays an important role in what

Those were among the conclusions of a U.S. Department of Agriculture survey of 9000 children and teenagers between the ages of 6 and 18.

"Parents can often control the food choices of children, and to a lesser extent, those of younger teenagers," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

increasing age through the teen years, and the percentage eaten alone increases."

"The survey also indicates that "The survey also indicates that youngsters are getting more and more of their nutrients from snacks rather than meals," Cooksey remarks. "On the average, children aged 6 to 11 get about 18 percent of their calories from snacks, for teenagers this figure rises to 21 percent."

According to the nutritionist, the snacks preferred by 6 to 11 year olds in the study were bakery products, including cookies, cakes and pies, soft drinks, milk, ice cream, puddings, candy, fruit and salty snacks.

cream, puddings, candy, fruit and salty snacks.

The most popular snacks among teenage boys were soft drinks, milk, bakery products, bread, milk desserts, salty snacks, meats and fruits. Teenage girls preferred soft drinks, bakery products, milk desserts, salty snacks, fruit, milk, candy and bread.

"Several of the snacks, such as milk, bread and fruit are good sources of one or more essential nutrients," the nutritionist says.

"But snacks such as soft drinks and candy provide few nutrients in relation to calories."

"If adults want their children to set a good example for them and guide their food choices early in life, since they'll have less influence once they're teenagers," Cooksey advises.

Farm Bureau reports on relief ruling

WACO-S.M. True, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, said he had been assured by USDA officials that a new directive on payment limitation would give relief to farm operators.

Under the 1985 farm bill, there is a $50,000 payment limit per farm. Stricter interpretations this year by USDA had jeopardized some farmers who have certain business ties with close relatives.

True and Vernie Glasson, TFB director of public affairs, met Wednesday, March 25, in Washington with USDA officials to request that the interpretations be softened to give relief.

They met with Milton Hertz, administrator of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Services, and two key associates; and separately with Peter Myers, USDA deputy secretary.

True said both Hertz and Myers promised that USDA would issue a new directive "within a few days" to all state ASCS offices, clarifying the matter.
