VOLUME VII

MUENSTER, TEXAS, COOKE COUNTY, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1943

NUMBER 52

Tucked away in an inconspicuous spot of a recent paper was a little item revealing that the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce had endorsed the "world calendar" idea. Also that fourteen foreign nations are on record as favoring it.

The item went on to explain that the proposed calendar is a moderate change from the one currently in use. The year would still have 12 months but February would become one of the eight 30 day months. Figuring four 31 day months we'd still have a day left over to tag on at the end of the year. The extra day for leap year could be added to June each fourth year.

In all probability this is the calendar that came to my notice in some promotional dope several months ago. That system proposed four equal quarters of 91 days, two 30 day months followed by a 31 day month, and the above mentioned arrangement to take care of the extra day and leap year. Obviously those days have to be plugged in somewhere or our successors about two centuries hence would have to celebrate Christmas in mid summer. Skip leap year day only and the same thing would happen in about seven centuries.

Except for those two days the calendar is little different from what we have. But what a radical change those two call for. They aren't even to be identified as days of the week, cause if they were they'd mess up one of the principal objectives of the new calendar — uniformly specified dates falling on the same day of the week year after year.

To get an idea, start figuring the year. First quarter, January, 30 days, February, 30 days, March 31. A total of 91 days, exactly 13 weeks. Second quarter, another 13 weeks and you'll notice it began on the same day of the week as the first. Incidentally, the plan is to start each quarter on Sunday. Obviously it would be convenient and simple if all quarters did that, but, assuming this is leap year, we have that extra day to contend with. June 31 falls on Saturday, and, with the extra day added on, how can July 1 fall on Sunday? The solution is not to count a week day for it. For that matter don't even figure it as a day of the month. In other words, it's not Sunday June 32, just Leap Year Day, 1948, or whatever the year happens to be. Then go on with the regular year. Next day is Sunday, July 1.

Same applies to the annual extra day. Instead of Sunday, December 32, it will be World Holiday 1948. Then over again with Sunday Jan. 1, just like you did last year. And don't worry about throwing the old calendar away. It's still correct.

On the other hand, maybe you'll want to throw the calendar away. As simple as it is, you probably won't need it. At any rate you won't need all of it. One quarter will be enough. All the others will be just like it. Gee, will that be a relief to lots of business men who have been giving calendars every year. But what a headache to the firms who used to make a living printing 'em.

If you're like me you've wondered already what day Christmas will fall on. And you're disappointed to learn it will be Sunday. That's bad. Cheated out of a holiday. Unless we continue to observe Sunday holidays on the following day. Or maybe we can correct the difficulty by starting quarters on Monday. In which case New Year's would really be an event, December 31 on Sunday, then the World Holiday, then New Year's. Anyway something should be done about it. As regards other holidays figure them out yourself. Maybe some of them will fall on Saturday or Monday to give you double holidays.

And of course, special dates will always fall on the same day. People born on Tuesday will always have birthdays on Tuesday. Same for wedding anniversaries or any other dates people want to observe. In fact there's even some talk of setting a date for Easter and the other movable feasts. Imagine knowing the date for Ash Wednesday, Pentecost or Ascension without looking at a calendar.

Probably you've also heard of another calendar that has been proposed. Thirteen months of 28 days each. That's all I've heard about it. Don't know what would

PATRIOTIC PROGRAM GIVEN AT P-T MEET ON ARMISTICE DAY

For the program at their regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon members of the Parent-Teachers Association enjoyed a delightful patriotic presentation, given in observance of Armistice Day by pupils of Mrs. Daisy Thompson's room.

A playlet, "We Are Americans" included Patsy Ezell, Murlin Joe Evans, Jo Jones, La Dell King, Frances Branch and Maynard Williams. A short skit, "The Queen and the Gentlemen", featured Murlin Jo Evans as Sir Walter Raleigh, Jeannie Marie Reeves as Queen Elizabeth, Mary Alice Hollars as Lady Jane and Jackie Roberson as Sir Robert Terry.

Two readings, "Flanders' Field" and "Our Flag", were given by Murlin Jo Evans and Ava Lee Bales, respectively, and the singing of America by the ensemble closed the program.

Mrs. Enlow Teague, president, was in charge of the business session during which Mrs. Ray Evans was named vice president to replace Mrs. Harper Monroe. Plans were made for a Christmas party for the children and Mrs. Evans was appointed as chairman in charge. Tentative plans for a benefit pie supper were also announced.

Mrs. Thompson's room won the monthly prize for having the most mothers present.

Hundreds of guests were shown through the buildings by hostesses gowning in formal frocks, and refreshments were served.

FRANK SCHILLING IS IMPROVING AFTER BLOOD TRANSFUSION

Frank Schilling, who is a patient at St. Vincent's Hospital in Sherman, is reported improved this week following a blood transfusion Monday. He has been seriously ill with stomach ulcers and was in a weakened condition due to hemorrhages.

Five local men, Albert Fleitman, Andy Hofbauer, Frank Hess, Albert Henschel and Albert Schilling, volunteered as blood donors, but the only two with the right type of blood were Fleitman and Hofbauer. Fleitman gave blood for the first transfusion, and if another is needed Hofbauer will be called.

REV. FATHER FROWIN SENDS GREETINGS TO MUENSTER FRIENDS

A recent letter from Rev. Father Frowin, former Muenster pastor, to the Enterprise, revealed that he is still thinking of his old parsonage. He recalled that on Nov. 4, 1930, a public reception honored him in the parish hall to welcome him home, following his European trip, and that he spoke for more than an hour, telling the large audience of his travels and his experiences during his six months abroad. He is still grateful for the handsome purse parishioners gave him for this purpose, he stated.

He mentioned that he visited in St. Louis, October 1 to 8, and made a trip to his oculist there. While his eyesight is no worse than it has been, he is still not permitted to read Mass. He mentioned getting the best of care at Subiaco Abbey, and that he occupies his time mostly with prayer, and oftentimes the students read to him, the Muenster Enterprise, Southern Messenger and Southwest Courier. (Oklahoma Diocesan paper) being his favorite sources of news.

He concludes with "Please remember me to all my friends and assure them of my prayers. God's blessings and graces in abundant manner with kindest regards and my personal blessing to all my former parishioners and all my friends."

GIRLS' SODALITY TO OBSERVE FEAST DAY OF PATRON ON DEC. 8

Members of the Young Ladies' Sodality enjoyed an interesting meeting Monday evening, when they made plans for the observance of the feast of their patron on December 8.

The day will be marked by group attendance at Mass, reception of the Eucharist in a body, a Communion breakfast in the parish hall, reception of new members and the formal installation of new officers, to be elected on Dec. 8. Committees to take charge were appointed.

A class of 20 candidates is now receiving instructions every Sunday afternoon, preparatory to the reception ceremonies, from Father Richard, spiritual director of the organization.

Members were asked to offer spiritual bouquets for Pope Pius as a Christmas gift, and Juanita Weinzapfel displayed an attractive scrap book she is in charge of for the sodality of Our Lady.

Highlighting the brief recreational period following business was the reading of the "Sodality News". This is a new feature introduced recently. The column, which concerns members, is written by someone unknown to the membership, who has three guesses to identify the writer. In failing to do so the same writer prepares the next month's column, and so on until she is recognized. The writer of the column for Monday's meeting was not identified.

MRS. COOK'S FATHER BURIED IN OKLAHOMA

M.E. Hair, 69, father of Mrs. Jim Cook of this city, died in Bristow, Okla., on November 7 following a three-month illness. Mrs. Cook and her sister, Mrs. Joe Harris, who is making her home here while her husband is overseas with the army, returned to Muenster Thursday after spending 2 weeks at his bedside and attending the funeral services.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday from the Church of God, with burial in Bristow. Mr. Hair was a native of Tennessee and had lived in Oklahoma for 50 years. He is survived by his wife, four sons, four daughters and 10 grand children.

"Knives" Is His Hobby

Bob Ryle, superintendent for Shell Oil Co., who resides north of the city, has made quite a name for himself for the excellent work he has been doing as a hobby during the past few months, and as a result a number of Muenster servicemen, stationed in the jungles of the Pacific war theatre, will have much better protection against the enemy than they had before.

Ryle has made dozens of long-bladed knives from pieces of scrap picked up on the oil lease. The knives are attractive, sharp, durable and strong, far superior to those offered on the market for similar purposes. He has made them for friends in the community, who have sent them to their sons and brothers in the service, and did not take any remuneration for his efforts. "It's just a hobby," he said.

Garden Club Has Flower Show And Officer Election

Muenster Civic League and Garden Club held its annual flower show Wednesday afternoon, November 10, from 3 to 5 in the home of Mrs. J.B. Wilde. Members displayed floral arrangements suitable for mantel, radio, coffee table, piano, dinner and breakfast tables and dressing table. These arrangements were interchanged and friendly criticism of each offered. Mrs. T.S. Myrick, flower show chairman, led the discussion. No prizes were awarded. Flowers exhibited included chrysanthemums, roses, marigolds, ageratum, calendulas, carnations and autumn leaves and berries.

A short musical program was presented by Misses Gladys and Laura Lee Wilde, Alma Marie Luke and Juanita Weinzapfel.

Officers Elected
During the business session, Mrs. Joe Luke, president, presided, and after committee reports were heard and routine business matters disposed of the annual election of officers was held.

Miss Olivia Stock was elected president, Mrs. Herbert Meurer, vice-president; Mrs. Tony Greminger, secretary; Mrs. Lou Wolf, treasurer, and Rosa Driever, reporter.

Committee chairmen were elected as follows: Mrs. T.S. Myrick, program and year book; Mrs. Joe Luke, cemetery; Mrs. Frank Kaiser, pilgrimages and flower show; Mrs. Nick Miller, highway; Mrs. J.M. Weinzapfel, Girls 4-H Club; Mrs. Jim Cook, Red Cross, and Mrs. J.B. Wilde, sanitation.

The new executive committee will take office in January.

Committee reports revealed that a city cleanup will be held before the Christmas holidays, and that 33 dozen home made cookies were baked by members and other ladies of the community recently as a special treat for soldiers of Camp Howze. A report on 4-H club activity was given and it was advised that the annual cemetery donations, taken in a recent collection, had not yet been announced by Father Thomas.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served buffet style at the close of the afternoon. The table was centered with a large, attractive arrangement of chrysanthemums.

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR GALA OBSERVANCE OF THANKSGIVING DAY

Everything is in order for a gala observance of Thanksgiving in this community, Mrs. Felix Becker, president of the Mothers' Society, the sponsor group, announced this week.

Traditional picnic and bazaar attractions will get underway shortly after noon on Thursday and continue during the evening hours. A program of games and entertainment for young and old has been arranged, and there will be a plentiful supply of refreshments, cold drinks, sandwiches, ice cream, candy and so forth. Assisting the Mothers will be members of the other parish societies.

Beginning at 8:30 in the evening the bazaar will be supplemented with a dance on the main floor. Gordon Shay and his Orchestra from Wichita Falls will provide the music.

Everybody is invited to attend.

VISIT SICK CHILD

Mrs. Frank Hess and Albert Hess, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans of Pilot Point, went to Dallas Sunday for a visit with the latter's little daughter, Maurine Evans, who is confined to a hospital in that city on account of infantile paralysis. The little girl was overjoyed to see her parents and grandmother and the group had a pleasant short visit. Maurine will be at the hospital for several months, according to the doctor's report. While no definite improvement can be seen, the child's condition has not grown worse since treatment began about a month ago.

Fund For War Chest Passes Half-way Mark

Hope To End Campaign This Week; Many Have Not Been Contacted

Muenster's War Chest fund had slightly passed the half-way mark Wednesday morning, according to figures tabulated by Mayor J. M. Weinzapfel, local chairman. He is hopeful that solicitations will be completed within the next few days so that the campaign may be concluded this week.

All solicitors, who have completed their work, are asked to turn in their reports at once, and those who have not done so, are asked to complete their solicitations this week.

Scores of local citizens have not yet been called on, it was noted, and those who find it convenient are asked not to wait until they are contacted, but to leave their donation at the bank.

In Cooke county the War Chest fund had reached a total of $16,505 at the time of Monday's tabulation.

LINDSAY PARISH TO HAVE CELEBRATION ON THANKSGIVING

LINDSAY.— Plans and arrangements are complete for the annual observance of Thanksgiving day in the Lindsay parish. Members of the local Mothers' Society are sponsoring the affair which includes a dance on the evening of Tuesday, Nov. 23, and a picnic and carnival on Thursday, the 25th. The dance is being held earlier in the week so as not to conflict with a dance at Muenster on Thursday.

The community hall will be the scene of the dance, and the Victory Five from Muenster will furnish the music. It is scheduled to start at 8:30.

The general picnic will be held on the parish grounds beginning Thursday at 2 o'clock and continuing during the afternoon and evening hours.

Committees in charge have planned a program that includes games, and other entertainment, chicken and barbecue sandwiches, along with other refreshments and cold drinks. A special attraction for the children will be a carnival, consisting of fun and frolic suitable for youngsters.

Everybody is invited to attend the affairs.

SWAT THE RAT

Control of the common rat is of the highest importance to public welfare. The rat is a menace to human health and its destructiveness of property is almost unlimited. It is capable of transmitting seven diseases to man, including typhus fever of which it is the only known carrier. Rats steal twenty million dollars worth of food and feed crops — eat numerous eggs — and kill many baby chicks. One farmer reports rats killing fifty baby chicks in one night.

There are three proved methods of control. These are: Excluding the rodents from food and shelter, poisoning, and community rat hunts.

The first method, called rat-proofing, consists of stopping all holes in buildings, containing feed with tin, and screening windows and vents with hardware cloth. In open type barns a covering of quarter-inch hardware cloth outside of the inner sheathing of the ceiling, walls and floor of bins and cribs is more practical.

In poisoning, small pieces of bait should be placed in runways, around the wall line of buildings, and in attics and basements, as well as near rat holes and other places where presence of rats is indicated. Fresh attractive baits should be chosen. Ground fresh beef, chopped carrots and apples, nut meats, corn on the cob and tomatoes appeal to a rat's appetite.

Community rat hunts are effective when used in conjunction with other proved control measures. But each one should be continued until all rat dens and harboring places are torn up. Then finish the job by removing permanently as many as possible of the conditions which offer the rodents an invitation to move back.

Your Health

BY GEO. W. COX, M. D.

AUSTIN, TEXAS.— Seasonal health hazards for young children are to be guarded against in the wintertime just as carefully as they are in the summertime in the opinion of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Every mother is familiar with so-called summer complaints which affect small children but certain winter diseases can be just as harmful and are just as likely to make their appearance unless proper precautions are used," Dr. Cox said.

In the group of winter diseases Dr. Cox included influenza, tonsillitis, pneumonia, bronchitis, asthma, and even diphtheria when a child has not been immunized. Any such disease affecting a child's respiratory or breathing system is apt to be very serious and only too often fatal. Pneumonia often develops from a neglected cold or may follow a severe case of measles or whooping cough. Bronchitis condition may also prove to be an after effect of these diseases and these respiratory ailments are much more difficult to combat successfully than the digestive ailments which are prevalent in the summer time and known as summer complaints.

"These winter diseases are especially dangerous to babies and very young children," Dr. Cox stated. "Nearly all of them are spread from the secretions of the nose and mouth. Children not in vigorous health are naturally more susceptible to these complaints and the first line of defense against them is to strengthen the child's power of resistance against disease," Dr. Cox advised. "The second step is to keep them under medical supervision and the third is to make sure that they avoid contact with those who have coughs, colds, or fevers."

October 3 — The Volley Ball girls played a good game with Lindsay Hi last Friday. Opposition was tough. Lindsay took the winnings. There were a few scoring spurges for the youthful Muenster girls, however, hearing the finish Lindsay girls took to the air and got enough scores to win. They did show a great defense, not allowing a point that could have been stopped. The Muenster girls entered the game with only 2 defeats this season. They will face another challenge in the near future. Good luck girls.

Last Monday the following pupils were issued their new nick names for the year. They originated from coincidents and mishaps.
Lorene Knabe — Puny 4F
Cornelia — Whistle
Dorothy Nell — Smuggles
Paul — Happy Bottom
Florentine — Glamore's
Lorene Lutkenhaus — Chita
It's all in fun, kids. Don't mind.

Here is some of the gossip flying around the school room:
Emmett has a new occupation—cleaning sewers, and clothes.

Julius missed several days of school this week — who wouldn't with a sailor around?
Corsey is a tornado in the saddle — "Hi Ho Silver, Away".
Charles is important around here, he is mentioned in the song "Paper Doll" you know, that flirty flirty guy with those flirty flirty eyes.

Dorothy Nell carries the Dallas Morning news with her now when she is high on a windy hill, for any information she is well read up.
P.S. Seniors do your Christmas shopping early while stocks are complete and you have a wider range to choose from. Ditto—Shortage of man-power.

October 10 — Another game was played with Sacred Heart Hi and we were victorious with the scores being 15-3, 15-9. This was the most exciting game of the season, we enjoyed it very much and hope to continue doing so well.

Pat Calls A Halt

An Irishman entered a barber's shop for a shave. After he was seated and the lather applied, the barber was called to the adjoining room, where he was detained. The barber had in the shop a pet monkey which caused amusement by imitating its master. As soon as the barber had quitted the room the monkey seized the shaving brush, dipped it in the lather and proceeded to apply it to the Irishman's face. When the operation was finished to the monkey's satisfaction, the little animal picked up a razor, and after stropping it, turned to Pat to shave him. "Stop that!" cried Pat firmly, sitting erect. "Ye can tuck the towel in me neck, and put the soap on me face, but, begorrah, yer father's got to shave me."

LINDSAY.—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Berend of Era entertained here in the community hall Sunday evening with a party for a large number of relatives and friends in observance of their 10th wedding anniversary.

The honor couple received a large assortment of lovely and useful gifts and during the evening informal diversion and refreshments were enjoyed by 100 persons from Lindsay, Muenster, Windthorst, Pilot Point, Era and Gainesville.

Mrs. Berend is the former Miss Cecilia Mages of this city. They were married here in Saint Peter's church and resided northwest of Gainesville until a year ago when they moved to a farm at Era. They have one daughter, Annette.

"Bobby In-Between" Sunday

Come! See! and Hear! Bobby In-Between, which is to be presented at Lindsay Community Hall next Sunday evening, November 21, at eight o'clock. The play cast has been working hard to offer a delightful entertainment to the people of Lindsay and surrounding communities.

The following is the cast with a short description of each character: Bobby Bezner, who plays the title role, the in-between, is a serious-minded young boy of sixteen, who at times seems to have the weight of the world on his shoulders; Luella Arendt, as Carol Fry, is an extremely serious and agreeable miss of about sixteen, her innocent appealing way making her especially attractive to the young boys; Margaret (Marcella Schmitz) is a pretty girl of about nineteen who has been getting a college education; Alice Sandmann plays the role of Mae, a quiet-mannered and even-tempered woman of thirty-five; Mary Louise Bezner is the self-assured, sophisticated, and autocratic Cynthia, the baby of the Cooper household; Leonard Bengfort, as Robert Cooper, is the father of the Cooper family, whose enforced idleness has left a certain amount of bitterness in his soul; Barbara (Lucille Bezner), his wife is a handsome woman of about forty with an endless amount of vitality, who instantly dominates any situation she comes upon; Johnnie Arendt, as Vance Donahue, the writer, is a sincere, likeable chap without much sense of humor; William Arendt plays the roll of a Utility Magnate, John Niday; and Weldon Bezner is the "little boy", Dwight Hanson, who "falls for" Cynthia.

Don't forget to meet the Coopers and their friends next Sunday evening at eight in the Lindsay Community Hall.

An Excerpt from Dorothy Dieter's Essay on What Kind of Education — Getting an education is the most important business of our life. Of course, it must be a complete education; a process of training not only the mind and body but also man's spiritual faculties of heart and will. When I look at the ragged world conditions today, I wonder whether much of this injustice, hatred, and immorality is not a natural consequence of a one-sided education, one which overemphasizes the physical training that is perhaps responsible for the criminal idea "that might makes right", or over-be done about the extra day and leap year. It would make a swell arrangement for days of the week, but how about the odd number of months? Not so good for dividing into quarters. Furthermore the change over from present system would be more difficult. This column casts its vote for the revised 12 month calendar.

All of which is interesting to talk about. But when we start thinking about the actual change we run into complications. Such as dates on contracts and other legal papers. More so, plain inertia on the part of the people who don't want to bother about changing. Those are things that have to be worked out not by one nation or a few. The whole world has to agree. And it's going to be a job to get them all in agreement.

You can expect some publicity along that line before long. Changes are that the proponents will try to incorporate the scheme in world reconstruction plans after the war. Certainly there could be no more appropriate time. Nations starting from scratch in so many respects may as well mark their new era with a new calendar system. Besides, so many changes have to be made, and while people are in the habit they can take this change in their stride.

Another change to expect is in our time system. That's the 24 hour designation instead of 12 hours each for AM and PM. Our service forces like it. Little by little we'll find others adopting it. Watches with a double set of numerals on the dial are already in stresses the intellectual, neglector trifling with the religious and moral training of man. Since the future of America is our responsibility and we are intent to do all that lies in our power to make our country a truly Christian nation, would it not be wise to prepare ourselves now for the tremendous job that lies ahead of us by making the most of the golden opportunity which is ours of getting a Christian education.

"FAMILY NIGHT" SET FOR NEXT TUESDAY AT RELAX THEATRE

Next Tuesday has been designated as Family Night at the Relax Theatre and any two members of the same family will be admitted to the show for the price of 31 cents, the management announced this week. Thus for the price of one admission, plus one cent, two members of any family will be admitted.

The attraction showing on Tuesday is "What's Bugging Cousin". It's a comedy with Ann Miller, John Hubbard and Rochester, and is classified by the National Council of the Legion of Decency in Class A-Section 1 — suitable for adults and children.

About the easiest way to get in training for the latest dance motion is to turn over a bee hive.

One Example
Teacher in Latin class — "What is the meaning of alter ego?"
Student — "It means 'other I'."
Teacher — "Can you give me an example of its use?"
Student — "He winked his alter ego."

The Procedure
Voter: "Senator, you promised me a job."
Senator: "But there are no jobs."
Voter: "Well, you said you'd give me one."
Senator: "Tell you what I'll do. I'll get a commission appointed to investigate why there aren't any jobs, and you can work on the commission."

Sergeant: "Have you any preference?"
Draftee: "Yes sir."
Sergeant: "What would you like to be?"
Draftee: "An ex-service man with a pension."

use. Decalcomania of the second set of numerals for transferring to watch crystals are also available.

For that matter, we can look for a few other specific changes and developments. There's talk of going to the decimal system of weights and measures. And of adopting Basic English as an international language.

Obviously the purpose behind all this is to set world standards. Modern communications has brought continents as close together as nations or states used to be. To aid us in speaking to one another and dealing with one another we'll want common systems. In some cases we'll adopt those of others. In some they'll adopt ours, in other cases we'll all adopt systems entirely new and different.

And let's hope all of it will accomplish one outstanding purpose. Better understanding to the end that the peace we're now waiting for will be permanent.
