Centennial logo contest announced, deadline Feb. 19

One of the most important phases of the Centennial Committee's preliminary work is now underway. The Centennial Committee has unveiled a contest whereby the citizens of Muenster can have direct input as to what the official centennial logo will be. But, because it is necessary to finalize the logo before the end of February, the contest deadline will be Feb. 19, only three short weeks ago.

The final design will appear on everything from history books to T-shirts. Whatever the design, it will be a lasting emblem of tribute to our generation. Future generations who inherit our treasures should be able to view the logo with pride as they sort through family heirlooms. The person(s) who win the contest will be presented with a plaque which will bear the official logo, and will denote their contribution to the centennial effort. The design will be copyrighted.

The design should entail what the artist feels best represents our German heritage for the last 100 years, and has staying power to represent the next 100 years. The design should be simple so that when it is reduced in size to fit smaller items the distinguishing characteristics and features are not lost. The design should carry those same features whether reproduced in color, or, black and white. These same features should be able to be reproduced in relief, such as carvings, or sculpture.

It is not necessary to be a professional artist. In fact, it is hoped that the general citizenry will be the major contributor towards the logo. The judges will be looking for a major concept, not details in sketching skill. Once the final concept is identified as the winning entry, then the professional artists will finalize the drawing into a slick, camera-ready proof copy. More than one artist's design may be used to build a final logo. If so, then two plaques will be awarded noting a sharing of the title. All sketches and drawings will become the property of the Centennial Committee, and the Committee will reserve the right to use any and all entries for this or future designs.

In order to assure full objectivity and anonymity, no names will be allowed on the drawings. The only identification will be the last six digits of the participant's Social Security number. Each entry must have a sealed envelope attached which has their name, address and the same number as placed on the drawing. If a minor without a number wishes to enter, the parent's number can be used. After the judging, the envelopes will be opened to match to the winning entries. It is expected that the winner will be announced by March 1. The contest is open to current and past residents of the Muenster area, and their families. Mail or hand deliver all entries to the Muenster City Hall, P.O. Box 208, Muenster, Texas 76252, on, or before Feb. 19, 1988.

Please share your ideas for a logo with the Committee. Your contribution is vital to our Centennial's success.

Car-pedestrian accident occurs in pre-dawn

An ambulance was called to the scene of a car-pedestrian accident that occurred at approximately 6 a.m. Wednesday morning west of Kountry Korner.

Zonell Southard was walking east on Hwy. 82 from St. Richard's Villa where she had finished her work shift, when she was struck by a car driven by Don Hennigan, who did not see her.

According to investigating officers, the accident was unavoidable. Ms. Southard was wearing a long, dark green coat. She told investigating officers she was following the center white line on the highway and was walking toward town to her house.

She was transported by ambulance and admitted to Muenster Memorial Hospital. Her injuries include five broken ribs, a broken left hand and arm, a broken pelvis and numerous cuts and bruises.

City requests help

The City of Muenster has announced that the garbage collectors will no longer pick up trash with fireplace ashes in the containers. A garbage truck caught on fire recently from what was determined to be ashes. This is the second time for this to happen. The cost of garbage pickup will have to be increased due to truck repairs if this continues.

Also, a fine will be imposed on pet owners for allowing their pets to roam the city. The animals rummage in the trash containers and strew trash on the streets. The garbage collectors have to clean up this mess, taking up extra time and preventing them from doing other work.

So, please don't empty fireplace (or woodstove) ashes in your trash and keep your pets confined in your yard.

Austin bridge hearing draws 250 citizens

Approximately 250 people attended the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission public hearing held in Austin on Wednesday, Jan. 27, beginning at 2:15 p.m.

They were there to state their support for a new bridge site across the Red River.

An estimated third of the crowd represented Muenster and Saint Jo, and Wilson, Oklahoma. An estimated two-thirds represented Nocona, Bowie and Ringling, Oklahoma.

The "Nocona Group" was the first to present a statement. Spokesmen supporting the Spanish Fort site included State Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and State Representative Charles Finnell and others. The Nocona delegation was headed by Mildred Nunnely who gave economic, tourism, agriculture, oil, family and social as reasons influencing their stand on the issue.

The Muenster delegation, supporting the Bulcher sites, was assisted by State Representative Ric Williamson. He described the economics of the area and said,

"We will support whatever site the Highway Commission decides on, and we hope that the best use is made of taxpayers' money."

Precinct 4 County Commissioner Rosalee Bayer spoke next at the hearing. She revealed that the rights of way for the connecting roads to the Bulcher sites (both of the potential sites) have been donated. Cooke County Commissioners have received this guarantee.

Gary Fisher also addressed the hearing, saying, "We are not here for a battle. We want to work for the best site."

He also noted economics, agriculture, oil, tourism, family and social impact for the area. Fisher told the Commission, "We completely support you in the feasibility study." He thanked the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission for its support of "Keep Texas Beautiful" and reminded its members that Muenster was the 1986 winner in its division.

The Wilson, Oklahoma group was represented by 10 area residents who indicated their strong support for a bridge.

John R. Butler, one of the State Highway Commissioners who was present, made the point that for approximately the last 30 years, the highway department did not have the money to build the bridge, "but now," he said, "we hope to help."

Robert H. Dedman, chairman of the State Highway Commission, told the assemblage: "You have brought enough people here to impress us with the importance of building a bridge"... Basically, he told them: "Because you've come a long way, and because you are naturally concerned with the future, the Commission has voted and has adopted a minute order to identify the best site and the best ways to build connecting roads."

The Muenster, Saint Jo and Wilson delegation traveled to Austin Wednesday morning, leaving here at 7 a.m. Two other groups traveled in cars and one group flew by private plane later in the morning.

David Fette, publisher of The Muenster Enterprise, attended with the groups and phoned the above information from Austin late Wednesday afternoon to have it included in this week's paper.

Fun, food and frolic Saturday night....

Biergarten in Muenster

The Sacred Heart Community Center took on all the aspects of a German biergarten Saturday night when the Muenster Chamber of Commerce held their annual banquet. The hall, ringing with sounds of German music, was arrayed with tulips, memorabilia from Germany, flags from the U.S.; Germany; Texas; Muenster, TX; and Munster, Germany; and tables with vibrant color motifs. Those in attendance were encouraged to wear German attire and prizes were given for the best costumes. Carol Henscheid won best woman's costume for her own creation of dirndl and vest in burgundy. Alvin Fuhrman won best man's costume with lederhosen from Germany, and Gracie and Alvin Fuhrman won the best couple award.

Memorabilia from Germany was on loan from Celine Dittfurth. She has accumulated an impressive display from correspondence with a friend in Munster, Germany. Of particular interest to many attending was the police officer's uniform.

David Bright, Master of Ceremonies, presented Bertha Hamric who gave the willkommen and Rev. Steve Pearson of the First Baptist Church of Muenster who gave both the invocation and the benediction.

Monica Hess, outgoing president, presented the retiring directors, Gary Christian and Gordon Adair, with plaques for their service. She presented the Outstanding Chairman Award to the Co-Chairmen of the Christmas Parade, Ben Bindel and Ed Griffin. The President's Helper Award to Pat Dennis for her willingness to do whatever needed doing during the two years of Monica's term as president. Monica ended her awards with a personal gift to Maudine Griffin, Chamber secretary, for her help during those two years.

David Fette, president for 1988, then presented Monica with the outgoing President's Award for two years of service to the community and the Chamber of Commerce.

Together Monica and David drew and presented the door prizes won by Bertha Hamric, Janie Hartman and Arthur Felderhoff. All the prizes awarded were of German origin and purchased in Muenster.

Mr. Bright then presented Mayor Ted Henscheid as Burgermeister to introduce the speaker for the evening, Dianne Pehl, formerly coordinator of the Convention and Visitors Bureau for the city of Fredericksburg for a number of years; and this week she transferred to the Texas Dept. of Commerce Tourism Division as Media Tour Coordinator for the State of Texas.

When Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce Director Joe Kammlah was unable to be present, at the last minute, Dianne Pehl quickly volunteered for the assignment. Speaking to the large crowd, she gave her impressions of Muenster and a thumbnail sketch of how Fredericksburg had celebrated its centennial many years ago.

Miss Pehl began her presentation by thanking the Muenster Chamber for inviting her to come and explaining how she felt when given the opportunity to attend. She said, "When I found out tourism was the subject requested to be addressed by the speaker, I just had to do this... I can personally tell you tourism is a terrific industry, and tourists are great people. I should know, I'm a tourist right now in your town."

"You might also want to know that tourists are strange creatures, they 'ooh' and 'ah' at everything. Like your Muenster sign, showing the Texan and German meeting, or the Fischer's German man on the billboard. How about the Exxon station touting a Backerei, and I looked at Hofbauer's sign three times trying to read the name and pronounce it. What better advertising than to have your sign read three times? Your mural downtown is neat! Oh, and my hostess Juanita Bright greeted me with a 'Willkommen' dressed in German attire. What an impression a town can make in a very short while!"

"A tourist gathers an impression quickly, and when you please them, chances are they will come back. "Developing a tourism industry is difficult, but truthfully, everyone's a sucker, and once you've sold them, you've got 'em. I bet I'll be telling at least a dozen people about the German bakery spelling on the Exxon sign, and that is the secret to developing tourism. Selling something, a product, that can continue to sell and establish an industry. "I'd like to think that's why Fredericksburg has been successful. Tourists have come to see something they've somehow heard about. Maybe just one thing, like the quaint German town, or that one unique shop, or the bakery they were told about. They were pleased... then told several others. Some of the others make a visit and before you know it, a tourist trade develops..."

"But, notice, all the tourism industry facets have revolved around basically one theme - our heritage. Our Fredericksburg ads say, 'We celebrate our heritage everyday' and it's true."

Miss Pehl noted at this point several of the activities and ways that Fredericksburg celebrated its centennial and 125th anniversary and concluded with "... keep it authentic and genuine, something from your heart. Because to hometown folk and visitors alike that's what counts, to see and experience the real Muenster and to say they were there."

Tourism is one of the top three industries in Texas, right up there with oil and agriculture and you can have all of it - right here."

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Eric Gray and Pamela Fette. They combined their talents with voice and guitar, singing many authentic German songs including the "Lichtenteiner Polka," "Liebt Einander" and "Auf Wiederseh'n" among others.

In his concluding remarks, David Fette made two requests of the Chamber members and the community. "Do the best you can at what you do. Seek to give the best service, sell the best value and have the best image for your business. Take God to work with you, consulting Him in matters both large and small and being thankful for all He gives." Fette also expressed thanks to past President Monica Hess and board members Gary Christian and Gordon Adair for their service.

Good News!

In everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor,

All the people of Muenster and the surrounding area owe Roger Taylor, the City Council and our Police Force a big "Thank You" for their stand against pornography in our city. They are all to be highly commended for their action and urged to continue to fight against any and all X-rated materials in Muenster.

To the Editor,

Last Saturday evening, my wife and I attended the Chamber of Commerce Banquet. The event was well attended, the Community Center looked great, the meal was delicious, and the program was excellent. During the course of the evening, several people on the program spoke of Muenster and its accomplishments, its industries, its history and its future.

Muenster can definitely be proud of its many fine businesses - we are truly fortunate!! You cannot speak on the history of Muenster, however, without mentioning the oil and dairy industries, two fields that helped Muenster prosper in the early days and put the town on the map. Due to surpluses, imports, economics and several poor government decisions, both of the industries are hurting. The oil industry is basically a world problem with many foreign countries controlling prices and production. The dairy industry, however, could be helped right here at home. Surplus dairy products cause more assessments which have lowered the milk price to that of 1978. Much of this surplus is produced by large corporate dairies, not family dairies. Using more dairy products is the best way to stay healthy and alleviate the problem - substitutes just can't do the job!!

Margarine was served at the same banquet that honored its businesses and industries. It would be great if more people used the real thing and asked for it in their favorite restaurants.

Many people do not know what they're missing, and every little bit helps. Let's use more dairy products - it's the only way your local dairymen can say "Let's Shop at Home!!!"

Enthusiasm shows at town hall meeting Thursday

Juanita Bright, Chairman of the Muenster Centennial Steering Committee, opened the meeting of Jan. 21, 1988 at 7 p.m. at the K.C. Hall. This meeting was a brainstorming of all interested individuals and organizations for the upcoming celebration of the Muenster Centennial. Juanita explained the divisions of the committee and then introduced Jane Monday, Publicity Chairman.

Jane told, with the aid of posters, of Muenster yesterday, today and tomorrow. In this category, ideas were historical book, history video, museum, an antique show, and then activities such as a centennial ball, Mass, parades, etc.

Activities in progress included the history book, calendar, marketing. She also told that Willie and Ray Wimmer were organizing the Centennial dancers. Terri Luke will have material and patterns available for costumes. Jane will be responsible for banners and newspaper releases.

John Fisher, in charge of marketing, then stated that Gary Fisher and Maudine Griffin are members of his committee and will be in control of prices for sales of memorabilia. He said "accounting will be a must." Committee will have final selection and a modest markup will be expected for quality products. He welcomed all ideas. John then announced the logo contest beginning Jan. 28 and ending Feb. 19. Watch The Enterprise for releases of information. The schools will be contacted and urged to participate.

Urban Endres of the Finance Committee told that Pat Dennis and Doris Muller will file for a Tax I.D., and do the accounting free of charge. An account will be opened at the Muenster State Bank. Also a letter will be sent to the City of Muenster requesting $1000.00 for a start-up fund.

To finance this undertaking, advanced sales of the history book will be taken; loans will be considered from businesses and/or organizations or individuals.

Juanita Bright reported that Robert McDaniel is writing and gathering the early history; Alvin Fuhrman is covering the early business history; and each individual family should submit its own family story.

Memorial pages will be sold and no advertising will be published in the book. A brochure was handed out Saturday night at the Chamber of Commerce banquet, to tell how to write a family history and an order form is included.

The video history of Muenster being looked into at this time will require professional help, they all agreed.

Displaying the historical artifacts will require a building and every place of business could have a display. Mid Park could show machinery from the past, Juanita went on to explain.

Bertha Hamric, Activities and Calendar of Events Chairman, showed a calendar book being considered, which had dates and pictures.

The calendar could have birthdays, anniversaries and the activities listed. After discussion, a vote was taken and everyone agreed that two calendars, a book and a wall calendar, were more acceptable.

Father Victor, of Sacred Heart Church, reported that the Parish had planned a Mass for June 2, 1989, to be held on the football field in the evening with clergy and

New law adds sales tax on services

State Comptroller Bob Bullock recently stated that Texas businesses and residents should remember that if their offices and homes are sprayed for fleas, termites and other pests, they'll pay state and local sales tax on the service.

"Same goes for garbage and waste collection. These services and others have been taxable since the first of October," Bullock said.

All pest control services are taxable, including the identification, control and elimination of insects, nuisance birds and animals, and weeds, Bullock said.

The tax applies to the service when performed both indoors and outdoors.

Garbage and waste collection is also taxable, unless the service is funded by local taxes and is provided as a basic service by a city or county, Bullock said.

Fees charged for the use of a landfill are not taxable, unless the fee is included in or billed as a charge for garbage collection.

Bullock said fees for some garbage collection services are exempt from the sales tax. These include removal of hazardous wastes, domestic sewage such as septic tank waste and waste water, and waste materials produced from oil, gas and geothermal exploration or production.

Cities, counties, municipal utility districts and other government agencies are exempt from paying tax on fees charged for waste removal.

Pest control and waste removal service businesses must have a sales tax permit. Applications are available from the Comptroller's Office or by calling 1-800-252-5555, ext. 3-4600. The fee for a permit is $25.

Mini-Bus is now radio equipped

The Muenster Mini-Bus is the proud new owner of a 2-way radio thanks to a $200.00 grant from the Muenster Activity Program (MAP). The $200.00 paid the local share of the radio. The rest of the cost was paid by the regional mini-bus program. Driver Pat Walterscheid and the advisory board expressed their sincere thanks for the help. The radio makes it possible to have direct contact with the dispatcher at Muenster City Hall for quicker and more efficient service.

The advisory board also announced that they need to hire a backup driver. The job would be unpredictable and irregular, an "on-call" situation. However, it could be good for the right person. Applicants should be 26 to 60 years old and must have a very good driving record. Apply at City Hall.

The Muenster mini-bus is steadily increasing its service. Averaging, for example, 11 trips per day in November and December of 1987. Trips are routinely made to Gainesville, Denton and Sherman for medical appointments. There are numerous other trips for business and social reasons.

The bus services the Marysville, Myra and surrounding rural areas as well as Muenster. Riders are encouraged to coordinate out-of-town trips by contacting Traci Stoffels at City Hall for assistance.

The advisory board announced that they are raising funds toward a future major replacement of the vehicle. They would appreciate donation of any major items which could be raffled to help build up the local share of the cost. Muenster raised $2,500.00 last year for the local share to purchase the original vehicle.

Advisory board members are: Al Weisman, Herman Carroll, Traci Stoffels, Tom Flusche, Claude Klement, Pat Walterscheid, Joe Fenton and Mary Alice Bayer.

Gibraltar and First Texas to conduct voter registration

Gibraltar Savings and First Texas Savings are once again conducting a voter registration campaign for persons who have not yet registered to vote in the state of Texas.

Persons who have not registered or persons who have moved to a different county may go to any Gibraltar or First Texas branch in the county in which they reside and fill out a voter registration form. Voter registration will be held during regular lobby hours at each branch. Persons must register in the same county in which they live to be eligible to vote.

Branch personnel at the 97 Gibraltar and First Texas locations have been deputized to register voters. Persons who register at a Gibraltar or First Texas location will be eligible to vote in the Presidential Primary Election on March 8, 1988. The deadline for voter registration before the Primary is Feb. 7, 1988.

EDDIE GRIFFIN and Ben Bindel were awarded plaques in recognition of their work as Outstanding Co-Chairmen of the Christmas Parade. Monica Hess made the presentation at the C of C Banquet.

MONICA HESS, at left, presented retiring C of C Director Gary Christian and President's Helper Pat Dennis with special plaques for their work during the past two years. In turn, Monica received the outgoing president's plaque from David Fette for her two years of service to community and Chamber of Commerce.

Cooke County to be featured

The Capitol Committee and the State Preservation Board are pleased to announce that Cooke

County will be represented among those etched on the Great Walk leading to the Texas State Capitol in Austin and want to thank the Cooke County Commissioners Court for this accomplishment.

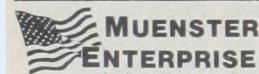

The Texas Association of Counties is sponsoring a project to have all 254 Texas counties' names included in a special section of the walk.

Over the past several years, plans have been underway for the restoration of the state Capitol, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary on May 16, 1988. To complete the first phase of the restoration, the Capitol Committee has enlisted the support of all Texans to share in this historic restoration by means of "A Walk in History" project.

Years of continued use and weather have deteriorated the Capitol's walkways. These approaches to the Capitol will be restored using 28-inch concrete diamond-shaped pavers upon which will be etched the name of each contributor.

Completion of the "Walk in History" is scheduled prior to the May 16, 1988 centennial celebration of the Capitol's completion and dedication.

Anyone interested in participating should contact the Capitol Committee, 1507 West 6th, Austin, Texas 78703, 512/477-6499. Pavers are available on the Great Walk and the names of individuals, families, associations, clubs and businesses may be inscribed on the pavers.

Quite a number of us had a pleasant surprise last Sunday when we unfolded the Star-Telegram to be greeted by an aerial picture of our home town. Accompanying it was a very credible story for which we are deeply indebted, but one little detail was missing. It should have mentioned that Muenster's real history is still in the making, that more than ever before the community is improvement-conscious, and that those "thrifty German farmers" are measuring their strides to really go places. Muenster is almost 50 years old. What will an aerial photo of it look like in its centennial year, 1989? The answer rests on our initiative...

lay people invited. Then on Saturday, June 3, a Fun Day with games, auction, picnic and dress in German costume. On Sunday, June 4, the annual Father's Day Dinner will be held. The traditional anniversary of the First Mass will be held on Dec. 8, for the Parish. A covered dish dinner is planned.

Pam Fette of Beta Kappa announced that the organization will be sponsoring a "100 Years Fashion Show" in conjunction with a tea or luncheon.

Sacred Heart Pre-School parents wish to have the New Year's Dance as they have in the past, using the Centennial Ball theme.

Leo Hess was interested in a Schutzenfeste. Juanita Bright suggested that couples between the ages of 40-50 years be nominated and solicit votes to be King and Queen. After discussion, no one came forward to sponsor and work out details, so no decision was made at this time.

Gary Fisher suggested to sell membership to an "I Support Muenster Committee." Other moneymaking ideas included T-shirt sales, caps, plates, sweat-shirts and many more.

Mary Moster told that the Library Board had agreed to have a Centennial Edition reprint of the "Friends of the Library Cookbook." Everyone present agreed.

A Spring Band Concert in May was introduced as a possibility; and Priscilla Phillips said that she would be interested in this project.

Having the Labor Day Cooke County Antique Tractor Show in Muenster was thought to be a possibility.

Wayne Klement volunteered to research and write an essay on the dairy industry. Other areas needed are the oil, ranching, agriculture, farming and manufacturing industries of the community.

A location for the museum will be needed and suggested locations included the Old Theatre Mall, Tuggle Motor Co., the Library, and A.V. Grant's building. No decision was made.

Another possibility was Muenster having a Sister City in Germany and Celine Dittfurth is checking on this.

Ray Wilde, with the help of Lorena Taylor, is looking for everyone's vignettes (a brief word picture), of three to five paragraphs which could be a tragic or humorous story from each family. John Wimmer and Ed Cler will be working on this as well.

In closing, Juanita reminded everyone of the March 3 meeting to be held at City Hall. All organizations are asked to be represented and bring their projects to the Committee.

Following adjournment, individuals viewed the samples on the tables which will be considered.

16 CCC students named to "Who's Who in America"

The 1988 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges" will include the names of 16 Cooke County College students who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders.

A special campus nominating committee of faculty members and administrators, along with editors of the annual directory, have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

According to Dorreice Leander, CCC counselor and member of the nominating committee, these honorees join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

She reported that outstanding community and junior college students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students named to "Who's Who" from Cooke County College this year are:

Gunilla C. Kall of Gainesville, Mary Sue Lanfear of Decatur, Mary A. Maddox of Saint Jo, Rex B. Page of Gainesville, Lois Anne Page of Gainesville, Raymond E. Kelley of Forestburg, Rhonda R. Brawner of Saint Jo, Michael K. Sidener of Gainesville, Marla Woods of Gainesville, Anita J. Sanders of Bowie, Kenneth W. Luttmier of Gainesville, Kaye Anita Candella of Gainesville, Curtis L. Brown of Dallas, Kelly Wayne Beeler of Henrietta, Pamela Jean Hardin of Gainesville and Jackie C. Bryan of Gainesville.

"This outstanding group of students represents a perfect illustration of what the community college mission is all about," said CCC President Bud Joyner. "It includes not only younger students who came to us straight out of high school but also a large number of older students, some with high school age children of their own, who came to CCC for a second chance at making a better life for themselves and their families through education. I applaud them all for earning this national recognition."

The Muenster Enterprise encourages its subscribers and readers to glance at the address label on the upper righthand side of the front page. With each person's name there is a date (month and year) that indicates when the subscription is due for renewal. Please observe the date and renew promptly to avoid missing copies.

Frequently, subscription renewal cards are overlooked or forgotten. At times, "second notice for renewal" cards bring delayed response, usually with the subscribers feeling very offended.

Therefore, in compliance with a subscription renewal policy established by many newspapers, and beginning in February, subscriptions to The Muenster Enterprise that are due for renewal by the end of the month, will be printed in a special section on the classified ad page. We urge prompt renewal to avoid missing copies. We also urge subscribers to note the date on the address label. And we welcome early renewals.

Couple celebrates nuptials Jan. 8

MRS. CLARENCE HESS
...nee Kellye Klement...

Kellye Klement, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Klement, and Clarence Hess, son of Mrs. Agnes Hess and the late Albert Hess, were married in Sacred Heart Church on Jan. 8 in a 6 p.m. Nuptial Mass with double ring ceremony officiated by Father Victor Gillespie.

Before an altar decorated with poinsettias, candelabras with lighted candles and silk bows, the bride was presented by her father.

For her wedding she chose a gown of ivory taffeta combined with reembrodered Alencon lace. In classic silhouette, the fitted, pearl covered, lace bodice was fashioned with a ball gown neckline and Renaissance sleeves. From an elongated waistline, the full, graceful skirt of tissue taffeta fell to slipper length and swept into a chapel train.

Her ivory hat was delicately traced with bridal pearls and covered with reembrodered Alencon lace.

She carried a bridal bouquet of candlelight gardenias, roses and stephanotis, with red and candlelight forget-me-nots, English ivy and white pearls, and red and white streamers. In the bouquet was a blue rosary, a gift her parents brought from Rome; and a white handkerchief that was her mother's on her wedding day.

The handkerchief was her "something old." "Something borrowed" was a set of pearl earrings belonging to her sister, Karlyn Hermes.

ATTENDANTS

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Karlyn Hermes. Bridesmaids were Donna Klement, a sister-in-law, Betty Lutmer and Joy Schneider, both friends of the bride.

Formal gowns of red tissue taffeta were worn by the bride's attendants. They featured sweetheart necklines and puffed sleeves. From a slightly elongated waistline, the full gathered skirts were worn intermission length.

They carried miniature bouquets matching the bride's; and they wore wreaths in their hair accented with red and white ribbons, pearls and ivy.

The flower girls were Kristin Grewing, daughter of the bride, and Loren Hermes, niece of the bride, carrying white lace baskets of flowers and wearing wreaths in their hair. The ring bearer, Philip Yosten, groom's nephew of Greenville, was unable to attend because of the icy highways that prevented travel.

Henry Bayer of Muenster, a friend of the groom, was best man. Kirk Klement, bride's brother of Gainesville, Tim Hess, groom's brother, and Brian Hess, groom's nephew, were groomsmen. Ushers were Randy Hermes, bride's brother-in-law, Melvin Hess, groom's brother. Brandon Grewing, son of the bride, carried the Unity candle. Mass servers were Jeff Hermes, bride's nephew, and Darrin Hess, groom's nephew.

In the special wedding liturgy, Renate Pagel and Alethea and Jerry Brawner, groom's nieces and nephew, gave Readings and prayers.

Ruth Felderhoff, organist, and Christy Hesse and Wendell Black, soloists, offered traditional wedding music and special selections including "Just You and I," "The Rose," "Turn Around," "One Hand, One Heart," "Beginning Today," "Wedding Song" and "Hail Mary, Mother of God."

RECEPTION

A reception followed at the Sacred Heart Community Center. Two hundred guests were registered by Gina Walterscheid and Donna Biffle, friends of the bride.

The bride's table held the white, three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with white doves, red and white silk flowers and the bride and groom figurine used at the bride's parents' wedding 40 years ago. The bride's cake was made by Mrs. Henry Spaeth. The groom's cake was made by his mother, Agnes Hess. Both were served by Amber Grewing and Jana Stoffels.

Guest tables were decorated with English ivy, red satin bows, red and white candles with silver and matching appointments.

Reception room decorations included a wall ornament of red satin hearts, white and silver garlands and white wedding bells. A central, suspended decoration was made of two glittered hearts and a pair of white doves.

The rehearsal dinner was held at Rohmer's Restaurant for 23 guests. A linen shower was hosted by the matron of honor and the bridesmaids on Dec. 18.

The couple is at home in Muenster where the groom is employed by Monroe Well Service.

New service is offered

Unit Commissioner Lupe Evans is starting a "used" Boy Scout uniform service for Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts.

When a boy outgrows his uniform, it can now be brought to The Hut where inventory will be kept. If there is a uniform that fits him, a trade can be made. If not, it will be recirculated to someone that can use it.

Charges will not be made for these uniforms. The purpose of this service is so that every boy wishing to join the Boy Scout program can be uniformed. New uniforms can be purchased from Bohl's Furniture in Gainesville. Adult Leader uniforms are also welcomed.

Uniforms should be clean and in good condition. All personal patches should be removed.

Catholic School Week slated for Jan. 31-Feb. 5 at SH

by Bronte Gonsalves
Catholic Schools Week this year has the theme, "Catholic Schools Share The Spirit." The people who learn and teach in Catholic Schools share the Spirit with one another and with their parishes, cities and towns. They share the Spirit because they form communities filled with faith, focusing on their religious, cultural and academic heritage.

This year they have chosen to emphasize one particular way to share the Spirit, namely through the arts. The Church has said that "of their nature the arts are directed toward expressing in some way the infinite beauty of God in works made by human hands."

The Church has always been a patron of the arts. Catholic Schools continue the tradition by teaching students an appreciation of ancient, traditional and contemporary art and by encouraging students in their own self-expressions of the Life of the Spirit within them. This year, Catholic Schools Week acknowledges the wonderful talents present in our Catholic School students and invites them to use that talent to create and appreciate the talents of others.

Knightettes outlast Forestburg

Lindsay's girls came away with a narrow three-point, low scoring win at Forestburg Tuesday night, improving their record to 5-3 in district play with a 27-24 victory.

It was 11-8 after one quarter, in favor of the Lady Longhorns, but the Knightettes took a 16-15 lead at halftime. Forestburg tied things up 22-22 going into the final 8 minutes, but Lindsay's ladies outlasted the 'Horns and came home with a much deserved win.

Jolanda Wimmer paced Lindsay's scoring with 10 points followed by Amber Anderson and Connie Hermes with 6 points each. Angela and Julie Fuhrmann hit 2 apiece and Kristy Krebs had 1.

Christa Shults, Tara Romine and V. Covington all hit 6 for the Lady Longhorns.

The Lindsay Knights upset the Longhorns with a 54-46 district win, improving their district record to 4-4.

Hornettes win 2nd dist. championship

Led by a trio of seniors, Melody Klement, Meredith McDaniel, and Staci Walterscheid, the Muenster Hornettes cruised to a 90-25 win over the Prairie Valley Bulldogs and clinched the District Championship for the second straight year with two games remaining. They are 8-0 (16-6 for the year) while second place Lindsay and Era are both 5-3. The title marks the fourth for the girls' program.

The Hornettes put five players in double figures for the first time. Klement scored a career high 27. Junior Jennifer Carroll also hit for a career best 13 points. Walterscheid chipped in 16, Dana Wimmer 14, and McDaniel 10. Shonna Reiter added 4, followed by Melissa Bayer, Peachy Switzer, and Jenny Wimmer all with 2 each. Wimmer paced the Lady Hornettes with 11 rebounds.

"This championship was something the girls really worked for," said Coach Ted Heers, "and being the first to win consecutive championships has been on our minds since the first day of school."

Meredith and Staci have played on three championships, and now they've left Dana and Shonna a chance to play for a possible four in a row.

Last Friday night the girls beat back second place Era at Era 46-28 for their seventh district win. Wimmer scored 18 points, followed by Klement with 11, Bayer and Walterscheid with 6 each, Carroll 3, and McDaniel 2. It was the Hornettes' third win over Era this season.

The girls are presently averaging 55 per game in district while allowing only 26 points per contest.

"We have two more district games that we'd like to win, get to 10-0, and then think playoffs," added Heers. "We think we will probably see Ponder again and maybe the third meeting could be the charmer for us."

The Hornettes meet the Saint Jo Pantherettes at Saint Jo Friday night beginning at 7 p.m. They close out district play against the Forestburg squad here in Muenster Tuesday night beginning at 7 p.m.

Record at 21-3...

Hornets can clinch title Friday night

The Muenster Hornets positioned themselves for a second consecutive district championship Tuesday night as they wore down Prairie Valley for an 83-24 triumph. They broke last year's school record 20 wins, improving to 21-3, and ran their district ledger to 8-0. Forestburg is in second at 6-2 and a Hornet victory at Saint Jo Friday night would give Muenster the championship.

Senior Kevin Anderle came out of a mild shooting slump and connected on 10 of 18 attempts for 22 points, and continued his defensive wizardry by holding 30 ppg. scorer Leslie Useton to only 9 points. The team defense held the Bulldogs to a season low 24 points, only 8 in the second half. Senior co-captain Brian Hess pumped in 23 points and is averaging exactly 20.0 for the season. Mike Pagel added 14 points, J. Shane Wimmer 12, and Dale Reiter 2. Keith Klement came in to haul down a team-high 8 rebounds with 4 points, and Chris Klement hit 3 points as did James Hennigan.

"They scored 32 points on us at their gym and we were trying hard to keep them under that total," commented a very happy Hornet mentor Ted Heers. "They had 16 at the half and holding them to 8 second half points was a tribute to an outstanding team defensive effort."

The boys are currently averaging 65 points per district game and allowing 41 per contest.

Last Friday, Muenster held off the Era Hornets at Era 66-49 behind 27 points from Hess. The Hornets led 31-20 at intermission. They took control with tough pressure defense in the third period to forge a 64-38 lead with 4:23 left in the game. Dale Reiter chipped in with a career best 16 points as he hit 5 of 6 from the field, including two 3-pointers, and 4 of 5 from the charity stripe. Wimmer added 10 points, Pagel 8, K. Klement 3 and Weldon Hermes 2.

"We struggled offensively, and Era's hustle had a lot to do with that," said Heers, "and when we struggle on offense our defensive pressure has to pick up. It did tonight. We had a good run late in the third period and early part of the fourth."

Muenster will tip-off with the Panthers Friday night at approximately 8:30 p.m. at Saint Jo. A strong Panther team led by Johnny Nelms, Marc Teel, Jeremy Lindborn and Chuck Redman will be gunning for the upset. The TABC picked the Panthers to win the district title in their pre-season forecast issue.

"We definitely felt slighted in that poll and the team played well here against Saint Jo (82-54). Playing over there will be much tougher. We're expecting a very exciting game."

Taxidermy taught at CCC now

Hunters and fishermen who want to preserve and display trophies can learn to do so in a special non-credit course that began Jan. 21 at Cooke County College.

Taxidermy is the subject of the course and the teacher is longtime CCC biology instructor Bill Stanley.

The 15-week course will be offered in a unique three session format, with the first five-week session, which will be held from Jan. 21 through Feb. 18, devoted to mammals. The second session, held from Feb. 25 till March 31, will be devoted to birds; and the third session, fish, will be held from April 7 to May 5. Students may sign up for one, two or all three sessions.

Classes will meet on the CCC campus on Thursdays from 6 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. The cost is $25 per session, and students will need to provide some supplies.

"Anyone who's gone to a professional taxidermist to have a trophy mounted knows that it's very expensive," said Stanley. "The good news is that it's not all that difficult to learn to do it yourself." Of course, some animal, bird and fish trophies - especially large, rare or valuable ones - should be trusted only to an experienced, skilled professional.

He adds, however, that learning to mount one's own smaller trophies can add a whole new dimension to a person's love of hunting and fishing as well as for nature in general.

"One very important aspect of taxidermy that isn't emphasized enough is the necessity for knowing about the animal's habitat as well as its habits. Without such knowledge, the end result of mounting can look very artificial."

"I believe very strongly that animals, like people, have dignity and that one of the most important goals of taxidermy should be to preserve that dignity," said Stanley.

This, he explains, is why it's so important for a person learning taxidermy to also develop an awareness of nature and natural history as it relates to the animals with whom we share our environment.

Stanley added, "For persons who are heavily into hunting and fishing, learning basic taxidermy and mounting one's own trophies is a great way to fill slack time between seasons."

Persons may enroll at CCC Continuing Education Office in Room 109 on campus. For more information, call (817) 668-7731, extension 274.

FARM AND RANCH NEWS

Culling open, late calving cows boosts future herd performance

Culling non-bred and late calving cows can improve future pregnancy rates by eliminating sterile and subfertile cows, according to a beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Dr. L.R. Spratt studies relating to cow culling to increase reproductive performance were conducted in the central and Gulf Coast regions of Texas. The studies were used to demonstrate the increase in pregnancy rates after culling non-bred and late calving cows.

In two herds all non-bred cows and a portion of the late calving cows were culled and replaced with early bred heifers, Spratt explained. In a third herd, no culling was done and no replacements were added.

In the two herds where culling and replacing were implemented, pregnancy rates increased by an average of 14 percent in the first year and were maintained at that level during the second year.

In the herd without culling and replacing, pregnancy rates showed no improvement over time and even showed a slight decrease.

Based on these data, it appears that rather rapid improvements in rebreeding rates can be made through culling of non-bred and late calving cows while simultaneously replacing them with early bred replacement heifers, Spratt pointed out.

Fuhrmann Farm Photos

from the Henry Nicholas Fuhrmann Collection

Henry N. Fuhrmann was born in Lindsay in 1904 and lived on his father's farm west of that town for many years. Mr. Fuhrmann had a unique hobby for the 1920's - he enjoyed photography. His sons, Michael, Leon, Jerome and Francis, are sharing his photo albums with The Enterprise. As space allows, more of these photos will be printed in upcoming weeks.

AT RIGHT, Henry N. Fuhrmann poses for a picture in a field of shock grain. Above, the whole family, including the women, work behind the binder in the field north of the house. Usually 10 bundles of cut grain was stood up in shocks, this helped keep out moisture. The grain, at times, stood in the fields for weeks before being hauled, by wagon, to the thresher. The barn on the right side of the photo still stands with Highway 82 now running through the field.

County Agent's Report

by Craig Rosenbaum

The wet fall has delayed several activities in our small grain fields. With the current period of dry windy weather, there has been some drying of fields to where producers can get over them. Producers need to be aware of two very important management practices in the upcoming weeks before jointing begins in small grain. Jointing is a very critical period for plant development.

Ideally, producers need to have topdress fertilizer in the root zone when jointing begins. Plants are making very active growth at this time and have a high need for plant nutrients. Nitrogen will move into the soil and root zone with natural weathering. Therefore, nitrogen needs to have ample time to get from the surface into the ground. Which form of nitrogen is the best? It really doesn't matter in the cool season. Urea, Ammonium Nitrate, Ammonium Sulfate and Liquid all will function about the same during the cooler months. The thing to be more concerned with would be cost per unit of nitrogen. Calibrate the cost per pound of nitrogen unit when deciding your best fertilizer buy. Currently there is as much as three to four cents per pound difference in nitrogen sources. If you were putting out 50 pounds of actual nitrogen per acre, this could be a difference of up to $4 per acre in nitrogen cost.

Some fields have not received their weed control for this year, again due to wet weather. If you plan to use hormone type materials (2,4-D, Banvel, etc.), you must apply them prior to plants jointing. These materials can cause head trapping and blasting of heads if not applied at the proper time. Many other products are available that can be used up until boot. Herbicides have many restrictions, so be sure and read and follow all label directions.

Jointing is a very critical time for producers raising small grain. In our county we expect this plant development process to begin about the middle to end of February. This is the time to remove cattle if you plan to harvest a small grain crop.

Two state leaders appointed

COLLEGE STATION - Appointments of Dr. Chester Fehlis and Miss Meatra Harrison as state leaders for county Extension programs have been announced by Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Fehlis and Harrison assumed their new responsibilities Jan. 1.

"Both Fehlis and Harrison have provided strong leadership and support of Extension programs as District Extension directors in South Central District 10, and in their previous appointments," Carpenter said.

"We are extremely pleased to have two such highly skilled leaders and management officials in key Extension administrative roles," Carpenter noted.

He added that Harrison will have supervisory responsibility and will provide statewide program leadership for district Extension directors in home economics, while Fehlis will have the supervisory responsibility and provide program leadership for district Extension directors in agriculture.

Harrison has worked as district Extension director in District 10 since the fall of 1976, and has been with the Extension since 1950.

Harrison also served as a 4-H and youth specialist with the Expanded Nutrition Program for six years, where she was responsible for training and support of county Extension agents of the ENP youth program in total youth development, understanding the target audience and teaching methodology. Earlier, she served as a county Extension agent in Jefferson and Falls counties.

She has served in many leadership roles, including the Epsilon Sigma Phi Alpha Zeta Chapter state president and has just completed her term of office as Epsilon Sigma Phi national president. She holds the B.S. and M.Ed. degrees in home economics education from Prairie View A&M University, and has received the Alumni Distinguished Service Citation from that university. She also is a recipient of the Texas Superior Service Award given by the Extension Service.

Fehlis began his professional career with the Extension Service in 1969, serving as an agent in Jackson County for four years, in Willacy County for two years and in Victoria County for seven years.

He transferred to the position of district Extension director in District 10 in the fall of 1982. He has provided leadership for the Texas A&M University Plantation Field Day from 1983 through 1986 and for the South Central Texas Beef Herd Improvement Program (BHIP) from 1983 to the present time.

Fehlis has also received wide recognition for his leadership and management skills, and is active in many professional organizations. He holds the Texas Superior Service Award given by the Extension Service and has received recognition from the National Association of County Agricultural Agents on many occasions.

George G. Berry dies in Muenster hospital

GEORGE G. BERRY

George G. Berry, 78, a lifelong resident of Rosston, died on Jan. 22 in Muenster Memorial Hospital. Funeral services were held on Monday, Jan. 25, at 10:30 a.m. in First United Methodist Church of Rosston, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Cary Jensen, and assisted by Rev. Marshall Stewart of Prairie Point Church of the Nazarene. Interment was directed by Geo. J. Carroll and Son Funeral Home.

George Berry was born Nov. 5, 1909 in Rosston to the late Hollis and Zuma Harper Berry. He was married to the former Josephine Elkins on Dec. 24, 1933.

Survivors include his wife, Josephine Berry of Rosston; a son, Lt. Col. (ret.) Joe Frank Berry of Rosston; a daughter, Janice Conkright of Hereford; six grandchildren; one great-grandchild; and one brother, Jack Berry of Rosston.

In his death, Cooke County lost a leader and hundreds of people lost a friend.

George Berry was active in civic and community affairs and served in many capacities. He operated the Rosston General Store for 30 years, until his retirement in 1973. He was a member of the Board of Directors of Muenster Memorial Hospital; a director of the Cooke County Farm Bureau; the Clear Creek Watershed; and he was a member of the Rosston United Methodist Church, serving there as lay leader, Sunday School teacher and Sunday School Superintendent, trustee and steward. He was engaged in farming and ranching until his retirement.

The funeral service Monday paid tribute to the life of George Berry. Participants in the church service, in addition to Rev. Jensen and Rev. Stewart, were soloist Pat Ford and pianist Joyce Richardson. Hymns were "How Great Thou Art," "Ivory Palaces" and "My Saviour's Love." Special prayers included the "Call To Worship," readings from the Old Testament and New Testament and "The Apostles Creed." Following the sermon and prayers, the Ringing of the Bell was a final tribute with the final blessing. Fellow church members recalled that Mr. Berry performed this service for all church gatherings for many years.

Pallbearers were Jimmy Tom Blankenship, Phil Clark, Orin Fortenberry, Owen Davis, Frank Davis, Ben Davis, James Olen Berry and Charlie Haverkamp.

Memorial contributions may be sent to the American Heart Association or to the Rosston Cemetery Association.

Dear Readers:

It is time now to prepare your family histories for the Muenster Centennial Book.

If you wish to have your family represented, we need your material by July 1, 1988.

There will be flyers circulated in the community containing suggestions on how to write your history. If your parents are deceased, please prepare their history for us.

We are doing research on the first families and some of the names are unfamiliar to us; if you can help us identify them, please call 817-759-4664.

If you know of someone who lived in Muenster once but who has moved away, please contact them and invite them to send us their histories.

Remember, if you don't send us your history, it will not be published.

If you have any information you wish to contribute or if you need any help in preparing your history, please call me at 817-759-4664.

Sincerely,
Wanda Fleitman

Get Higher Rates. Not Hot Air.

You may have heard a lot of hot air about so-called bonus CD's and other investments that start off great but end up letting you down.

So come to First Texas Savings instead. Our rate starts high and stays high. Right now, in fact, you can earn our two-year rate on our one-year CD.

That's right. A one-year CD that pays our two-year CD rate.

What's more, we compound your interest quarterly for an even higher yield. Most banks don't do that. In addition, we pay even higher rates for higher balances. And you'll have the assurance of knowing your money is insured up to $100,000 by the FSLIC.

So choose the high rate instead of the hot air. Choose someone who'll stand by you... First Texas Savings.
