Shut out Crosbyton, 27 - 0 ... Lynx win second playoff game

The "iron men" of the Spearman Lynx varsity football team moved into the third round of the state playoffs with a 27-0 shutout of the Crosbyton Chiefs at Kimbrough Stadium Friday night, Nov. 22.

The term "iron man" is used by Lynx coach Don Mullins to refer to a player who plays both offense and defense during a game. Almost the whole Lynx team is made up of "iron men," who showed their mettle Friday night by first stopping the Chiefs' running game on defense and then scoring 27 points on offense.

The Lynx defense served notice on te Chiefs by stopping Crosbyton's opening drive on the Lynx 14 yard line. They tried a field goal that miss-yard line only two other times the rest of the night, once in the second quarter and again in the third quarter. In the second quarter the Lynx forced the Chiefs to give up the ball by stopping them from getting a first down in four plays from the Lynx 13 yard line.

In the third quarter Lynx tackle Tim Kizziar sacked the Chiefs' quarterback for a 14 yard loss on a fourth down and 7 pass play on the Lynx 27 yard line.

On defense Kizziar did a good job. His defensive performance rated highest of all the Lynx defensive players, according to Mullins' player rating system. Tim Dooley rated second highest on the defensive rating

Dooley added to his defensive rating when he intercepted a Crosbyton pass and returned it 63 yards for a Lynx touchdown. This came on the Chiefs' first possession of The Chiefs got inside the Lynx 30 the second half.

Also intercepting a Chief pass was Chris Strawn, in the second quarter. He picked the pass off on the Lynx 33 yard line and returned it to the Chiefs' 49 yard line. This eventually led to the Lynx' second TD.

Brian Beck picked off an errant Crosbyton pass late in the fourth quarter. The Chiefs had recovered a Lynx fumble on the Lynx 43 yard line, and moved the ball on the ground to the 33 yard line. They then tried two passes toward the Lynx goal line.

Beck got the second one by jump ing up in front of the intended receiver and stretching out and pulling the ball in. The Crosbyton player tried to knock the ball loose by pulling down on Beck's shoulders, causing him to land hard on his back and shoulders. He held on to the ball, however, and the Lynx had the ball on their own 3 yard line.

The Lynx' first TD resulted from a drive that started in the first quarter and ended in the second. Dooley ended an 11-play drive covering 80 yards, when he ran the ball the last 11 yards for the TD. Brandon Rex kicked the first of three straight good point-after attempts to make the score 7-0.

On the Chiefs' next possession, Strawn picked off the Chief pass and returned it to the Cheifs' 49 yard line. From there the Lynx started a drive that ended eight plays later, with Lynx running back Brian Beck bowling over the goal line from the 2 yard

It was only fitting that Beck get the TD, as he accounted for most of the vardage in the drive. The drive started with a pass completion to Lynx tight end Cody Pipkin from Khris Kelp. Then it was Beck twice for a first down plus two yards, and Dooley for eight more and another first on the Cheifs' 23 yard line. Then it was Beck four times in a row, and

It was team defense, such as that shown here, that shut down the Crosbyton Chiefs' offense. In this photo, two unidentified Lynx players are on the ground hitting the Chief ball carrier low. At the same time Tim Dooley (40) is

In a related matter, Brown said that the commissioners were scheduled make an appointment to the Palo Duro River Authority Board, but postponed the appointment until their next meeting.

Brown said that commissioners

Anyone interested in serving on the board should contact a county commissioner or Judge Brown at the courthouse.

a trade-in for a 1988 Chevrolet. In other business, commissioners granted a road easement to Phillips 66 in Precinct 1. They also heard the first reading of the county's Emergency Management Progam.

The comissioners set the county employees' holidays for 1992. Holidays next year will include Jan. 1, New Year's Day; April 17, Good Friday; May 25, Memorial Day; July 3, Independence Day; Sept. 7, Labor Day; Nov. 11, Veterans' Day; Nov. 26-27, Thanksgiving Day; and Dec. 24-25, Christmas.

Cooking Nutritious and Delicious For the Holidays

Nowadays, most people know to cook with less fat, but a few guidelines are needed. Cooking nutritious and delicious meals requires learning small, but significant changes in food selection and preparation.

Misconceptions are that delicious foods cannot be low in fat, cholesterol, sodium, sugar or calories. However, tasty, family meals that are low in calories and fat and high in nutrition can be prepared. Plus, good eating habits and better health are the results.

Learn to recognize rich and heavy foods and to modify and balance the meal with lighter ones. Reducing fat doesn't have to involve abrupt changes in eating patterns.

These simple cooking tips can help you modify your favorite recipes: Whenever possible, cook with little or no added fat.

· When roasting or broiling, use a rack in the pan to drain off excess · Avoid high fat cream sauces, mayonnaise and dressings. Fat can be reduced by a third in gravies, sauces, puddings and quick breads. Cut back on fatty meat products.

Always choose the leanest cuts of meat. Remove skin from poultry. · Trim off excess fat from fatty meat products. Use skim milk or low-fat milk in soups and gravies. Substitute low-fat yogurt when recipes call for cream. · Use whipped low-fat cottage cheese in place of sour cream or mayonnaise. Yogurt or cottage cheese may be substituted for sour cream in some recipes for sauces, dips, dressings and main dishes. Substitute vinegar, wine or broth for oil-based marinades. Try lemon juice on salads instead of heavy dressings.

 Avoid adding salt or reduce it by half. Instead, add more herbs and spices to increase flavor.

· Substitute two egg whites for one whole egg when recipes call for eggs. Avoid deep-fat frying.

Skim off fat from soups, sauces

· Use generous amounts of fresh vegetables and fruits. Fruits and berries can replace desserts and can satisfy your need for sweets.

· Omit sugar and other sweet products as much as possible. Sugar can be reduced by a third in many holiday desserts. If a recipe calls for 1 cup sugar, for example, use two-thirds cup. This works best in fruitbased recipes and in making puddings and custards. The sugar in cookies and cakes can also be reduced, but requires some experimenting to find an appropriate level.

· To increase fiber intake, substitute whole grain flour for one-fourth to one-half of the refined flour in holiday baking. If a recipe calls for 3 cups of all-purpose flour, use threefourths whole grain flour and 2 1/4 cups all-purpose flour. Read labels when buying canned and packaged food products. Look for ingredients that add fat, sodium and calories.

Now is a good time to try modifying favorite holiday recipes for healthier alternatives to hand down as part of your family tradition.

Parents and Teachers Must Be In Touch

All across the country, parents are playing a significant role in improving the quality of schools. Membership in Parent Teachers Associations declined from its high in 1963, but has now rebounded. The change is due partly to increased school enrollment, but the bigger reason, researchers say, is that parents have decided that their children's schooling is too important to leave solely to professionals and politicians.

Parent-teacher relationships need to be nurtured. Teachers need training in parent education, and parents need guidance in learning the best ways to cooperate with the school.

The key to success is not radically shifting power from professionals and school boards to parents. Rather, it is finding ways to share power.

Building a parent-teacher alliance takes mutual respect, good communication and an understanding that you're on the same side. Sometimes conflict between parents and teachers arises when parents carry unconscious baggage about their own childhood into their child's

As in all relationships, communication is of enormous importance. Both parents and teachers need to talk - to attempt to share with each other conflicts, problems and vulnerabilities that are part of all our lives. If parents feel as though they are returning to a not-always-joyful childhood when they walk into a school as an adult, they need to face these feelings. If a teacher goes into conference distracted and depressed, she may need to share her problem, for example, if her mother is dying of Dealing with differences, having respect as a common goal and developing creative solutions to problems together help strengthen parent-teacher relationships. There are far more examples of excellent parent-teacher relationships than there are of failures. Positive interaction and empowerment is beneficial for parents, teachers and children.

Pumpkin Time Pumpkin isn't only for pies. It can be prepared by steaming, blanching, sauteing, baking and even stirfrying. Once cooked, pumpkin can be pureed for use in soups and stews. You can stuff baked pumpkin halves with meat, rice and vegetable mixtures. You can add grated pumpkin to poultry stuffings for added color and taste. In most any recipe calling for pumpkin, you can substitute winter squash such as acorn, butternut or Hubbard.

Family Ties and Celebrations Even though other families seem happier or less complicated than your own family, it's never too late to create good memories together.

As the holiday season nears, traditions from our past, present and future begin to surface. Traditions can have a stabilizing influence, even during periods of great change.

Traditions are normally things that happen on some cycle because they are important. They usually evolve from an already established event. Holidays and special family anniversaries are peak times for starting or continuing family traditions.

May we so live that it does not appear that we believe the spiritual resources of our lives have gone bankrupt. May we pray for our community, our state, our nation and the world, that we will be thankful for what we are given, and learn better to be good stewards of what God has given us and done so lovingly for all the world. May the sweet music of God bless the world, through us.

Among the Neighbors

Christian Cadegg of Worb, Switzerland, is a guest of Pat and Cathy Patterson. Christian was a classmate of Clint's during the time Clint was an exchange student in Switzerland and they have been friends since.

He plans to be here a month, and upon his return he will serve his 17 weeks of compulsory military training which is required of all youths. Then he will enter the University as he has qualified to be a student, which is very difficult.

Christian is making his first trip to the United States and finding it very interesting and different. He believes the greatest contrast is the flat prairies of this area compared to the hills and mountains of his native country. The food here requires a little adjustment but so far he has enjoyed it. He speaks of the friendliness of the people. He is somewhat skep-tical about becoming a cowboy but Pat may have him ready for the rodeo circuit in no time at all.

Mr. and Mrs. Murl Pearson, who are still expressing appreciation to all who honored them with a retirement party last April at their church, have made several short trips.

Their first long trip began on Oct. 5 and ended on Nov. 20. They drove east to Ohio and Pennsylvania, where Mrs. Pearson's 11 brothers and sisters, ranging in age from 55 to 76, reside. Their reunions were many and delightful.

In Pennsylvania they especially enjoyed touring the Hershey Candy Factory in Hershey and the Gettysburg area.

They went on to Virginia to be with their grandsons, formerly of Spearman, Roman and Justin Arnold. From there Washington, D.C., was a source of great interest

They went south to Florida to visit a number of nieces and nephews. They reached Spearman Nov. 9, only to be notified of the passing of one of her sisters, so they immediately returned to Pennsylvania for the ser-

On the 20th they again came home after being in 21 states and driving 8,300 miles. Mrs. Pearson states that so much of the scenery and the beautiful foliage exemplifies God's handiwork in nature and they are very thankful for God's traveling Nica Wilbanks Cunningham has been visiting her aunt, Lois Nollner, and other relatives in Spearman and the area. She was accompanied by a daughter, Eda Smart, of Andrews.

Nica grew up in Spearman and attended school here, and now lives in Houston, but doesn't return often as her health is not good.

They went from here to California to visit another daughter.

Mary Dixon returned Friday from Dallas in much better spirits than she had going down. She had gone to Dallas to be with Carlee during some ominous biopsy tests, but all reports were negative.

Carlee is with Horizon Technology Company as a Sales Associate.

Martha and Orville Latham have been in Kingfisher, Okla., from last Monday until Friday with their grandchildren, Megan and Mathew

Latham. Their son Terry and his wife were in Dallas where Terry was undergoing tests. He learned that he will have to have corrective surgery on his arm to correct damage left by previous surgery.

Ruth Burch is at home improving after having surgery in St. Anthony's Hospital and a week's stay there. She wants all wo visited her, brought food, sent cards or in other ways showed concern, to know they are most appreciated.

A recent issue of the Amarillo newspaper carried a picture of the new officers of the Texas Retired Teachers Association, District XVI. Among the officers was Spearman's debonair James Cunningham. He was elected first vice president. He had been serving as treasurer and apparently invested their funds so wisely they promoted him. Congratulations!

Martha is employed at the Mirage. one of the most fabulous casinos in Las Vegas. Her work is in a "carosal," a sort of booth where there are several machines for which Las Vegas is noted. Her duties revolve around making change, so the title of the book is aptly "The Casino Business through the Eyes of Change."

It presents some of the inside operations of casino, which is not familiar here. Martha writes with a light, humorous style and has become a student of human nature, watching the casino clients, and points out fascinating characteristics of the types. She has developed a philosophy from her observations and insights.

There are more than 6,000 employees of this establishment and they represent every state in the Union and many, many foreign countries. The book is amusing, mincing no words, but with a clarity that leaves no vagueness

Martha, the daughter of an Air Force officer, has lived in Japan and Hawaii so works well with people from any country.

Virginia and John Trindle spent a week at Granbury with Connie and Doug Steger and children. They attended a concert performance of the junior high school All Region Choir. Their granddaughter, Abbe, was qualified enough to be accepted in the choir.

The Trindles report a slow, but steady, improvement in Connie's physical condition.

Late word from E.E. Sanders is that he is still undergoing tests in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. Results are not known as of this writing but it was not a heart attack which caused his collapse in the bank here Friday. He was rushed by ambulance to the hospital. His wife Velma is with him.

Peggy and Alton Ellsworth spent several days in San Antonio recently attending a convention of theater owners. The drive to and from is always interesting as well as the many historical places in San An-

Upon their return they were pleased to have guests for several days. Judy and Gerald Bullard who lived in Spearman many years ago were also visiting in Oklahoma. They now live in Alliance, Neb.

Cervical cancer declines

HOUSTON - An abnormal Pap smear used to mean one terrifying diagnosis: cancer. But a gynecologic cancer specialist at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston says that is not necessarily true any more.

Thanks to advances in pathology, we have improved our ability to diagnose and treat pre-cancerous conditions in the cervix," said Dr. Alan L. Kaplan, Baylor professor of obstetrics and gynecology. "As a result, we are seeing cervical cancer rates decline.'

Physicians can now detect abnormal cells in the cervical lining before cancer has time to develop, Kaplan

Instead of hearing the dreaded diagnosis of "cancer" when a Pap smear is judged abnormal, women are hearing doctors say "dysplasia," a term describing cell abnormalities identified with pre-cancerous conditions in the cervical lining.

Once diagnosed, most pre-cancers are easily treated in the doctor's office using a laser or a freezing pro-cedure called cryotherapy.

However, Kaplan said, occasionally it is necessary to perform a minor surgical procedure called a cone biopsy. Most doctors do this as outpatient surgery.

'The cure rate for these precancers is 100 percent and we see only a 5 to 10 percent recurrence rate," Kaplan said. "The key to keeping cervical cancer rates on the decline is making sure we get the opportunity to detect cell abnormalities early."

Most gynecologists recommend annual Pap smears for women under age 35. Older women and those whose medical histories put them at high risk for cervical cancer should see their doctors every six to 12 months.

"A Pap smear is so simple, ac-curate and easy to perform," Kaplan said. "With regular Pap smears and gynecologic exams, a woman today has much less reason to worry about developing cancer than her mother

Childhood screening schedule announced

The Early Childhood Intervention program at Region XVI Education Service Center in Amarillo is seeking area children who are eligible to receive its free services.

'Any child with a significant developmental delay or who has a biological condition that places him/her at risk for developmental delay is eligible for ECI services," Judith Pepper, Region SVI ECI program coordinator, said.

ECI services are for children at birth through 2 years of age. The Early Childhood program is for 3- to 5-year-olds.

More than 260,000 families in Texas have children under 6 who have a developmental delay or a biological condition that places them at risk of developmental delay, Pepper said. "These families often face enormous challenges in finding services, meeting medical expenses and caring for their children," she said.

ECI/ECE services, provided at no cost, include screening and evalua-tions, physical, occupational, speech and language therapy, activities to improve cognitive social skills and training in self-help skills for children. Families are also provided training in how to help their children, support through parent groups and counseling as needed.

To help determine if a child qualifies for services, free developmental screenings have been scheduled at Dalhart, Perryton, Pampa, Dumas and Borger. Screening schedule includes:

Dec. 4, 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Perryton National Bank Community Room:

Dec. 18, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Pampa Lovett Memorial Library, Communi-

Jan 22, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Moore County Health Annex, 804 NE 4th, Dumas;

Jan. 29, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Mesquite Room of the Fine Arts Building at Frank Phillips College, Borger.

Referrals to the program may also be made by parents, physicians or other interested individuals and agencies by calling Region XVI.

Residents of Armstrong, Carson, Childress, Collingsworth, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Gray, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lipscomb, Moore, Ochiltree, Oldham, Roberts, Sherman and Wheeler Counties are served by Region XVI.

Anyone interested in more information about the screenings or the ECI program may call Pepper at (806) 376-5521. Collect calls from parents will be accepted, Pepper

Farmers to report wages

by Virginia DeWitt

SSA branch manager PAMPA - Farmers and anyone who works in farm jobs during the harvest season should be aware of the special rules that affect reporting of farm wages. Farm workers get Social Security credit for their cash wages, regardless of how many days they work or how much they earn, if their employer pays $2,500 or more a year for agricultural labor. However, there are two instances when the farmhand must earn at least $150 in order to be covered: • If the employer spends less than $2,500 for agricultural labor, the worker is still covered as long as he or she was paid at least $150 during the reporting year.

• When a farmhand is a seasonal worker, commutes to work from home, is paid on a piecerate basis, and was employed as an agricultural worker for less than 13 weeks during the preceding calendar year, the employer must report his or her wages only if the employer pays him or her at least $150 during the year, regardless of the total amount of wages the employer pays.

Reporting wages is essential to the worker's long-range financial planning. It is the only way he or she can earn Social Security credits. With enough credits, usually 40, the worker and his or her family will be eligible for Social Security benefits when he or she retires, dies or

Workers can get a report of earning credited to their records just by sending Form SSA-7004, "Request for Earnings and Benefit Estuna Statement." The forms can be obtained at any Social Security office or by calling toll-free 1-800-772-1213.

The Pampa office is located at 125 S. Gillespie. Office hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday except on national holidays.

On The Go With Loy by Joy Henderson

Forty-three years ago this week, Lewis and I embarked on our journey through life together. We began to share our Thanksgivings, Christmas wishes, birthdays, New Years, Valentines, Easters, Independence Days, Labor Days with a few other holidays thrown in. Oh! Goody! We will really have a good time celebrating and he will get me all kinds of neat gifts. Right? -

For about 10-15 years, I tried my best to get him to observe these special days of love and giving, but I finally gave up. You see, he was a product of a big family during the Depression and other "hard times." You didn't celebrate these special days by going out and spending money or "charge it" purchases. Mainly you did not do this because there just wasn't any money.

It took me several years of showing him something I wanted from a store window and then walking on down the street while he went into the store, purchased the item, had it wrapped and then hid it somewhere and when brought out for birthday, Christmas or Valentines, I'd act real surprised and pleased. Yep! It tok me several long years before I learned to leave him be. I also learned that to him, every day he lived was a special day to show his wife and children that he loved us. A lot of times he worked 25 hours a day, 8 days a week to provide a nice home, warm clothing and plenty of food on the table and all we ever did was yell 'More! More!" Most of the time, we then complained about "how come it took so long."

So what makes a husband and wife stay together through thick and thin? What is it that causes us to say

Community Thanksgiving service held

A community-wide Thanksgiving worship service was held Sunday, Nov. 24 at Gruver United Methodist

Welcoming music was provided by Del and Barbara Cluck, with the welcome and opening prayer given by Lewis Holland

Following a hymn sung by the congregation, a reading of scripture was given by Bob Setliff. He was followed by a song from a quartet of men representing the First Baptist Church. In the quartet were Les and Barry Barkley, Rodney Dale Clawson and Kermit McKee

A treasurer's report was given by Zane Grey, followed by a song from Gloria Carlson, soloist, accompanied by her husband David Carlson.

Larry Miller gave the prayer of thanks and offering, which was followed by another song from the Baptist Church quartet.

The message for the evening was delivered by Zane Grey, and the closing prayer was offered by Gary Gumfory. The service ended with a closing song, sung by the congrega-

"Love - the one thing no one can take from us ... the one thing we can give constantly and become increasingly rich in the giving. Love can take no offense, for it does not know that which it does not of itself conceive. It can not hurt or be hurt, for it is the purest reflection of God, Good. It is the one eternal, indestructable force for Good. It is the will of God, preparing, planning, proposing, always what is best for all the universe." - Writer unknown.

Ora Mae and C.C. Heath went to Arizona to be with their son Gary while he had surgery for complica-tions because of infection on his lung. He is doing better and I understand he will be released soon from the hospital.

Josephine Ayers underwent back surgery last week at St. Anthony's to correct som problems with her vertabrae. She is progressing even bet-ter than her doctor hoped for. No definite plans for returning home yet, but I understand Flavil is inquiring about a hospital bed for her.

Speaking of hospital beds, Hugh

Dr. Nina Kunkels, a medical missionary to Bolivia, was a speaker at the United methodist Church recently. She was guest in the home of Archie and Margarite Nelson.

Carolynn and Richie Fletcher have had Sam Griffin from Phoenix, Ariz., as guest in their home.

Gary and Danita Jackson are spending several weeks in the United States during the holidays. They are missionaries to Yugoslavia and sup-ported by various Churches of Christ in this area and other locations. Gary presented movies and slides of the work being done to present God's word in that region. He also gave a short history lesson as to the cause of the wars going on in some of the dif-ferent territories.

Cathy Potts and family were enjoying having her parents from Col-

Sunday was a day for "kicking off" the 1991 Winter holiday season. After a bountiful dinner, we all had a chance to attend "Open House" given by Downtown Gruver merchants. Having refreshments, it was good to visit with our friends and see the beautiful displays and have an opportunity to do some early Christmas shopping.

A new business, the Gruver

The Gruver Lady Hounds junior varsity basketball team defeated the Spearman JV Lynxettes last Saturday to win the Perryton Lions Club JV Girls Tournament.

The score was 49-28, with Julie Meyer leading the Gruver team with 18 points. She was followed by Sara Jones with 14. Meyer scored the most points over all three games of the tournament for the Lady Hounds, with a total of 45 points. To get to the finals the Lady Hounds had to play Guymon for their first game on Thursday. Guymon did not prove to be much of an obstecle, as the Lady Hounds defeated them

On Friday the Lady Hounds played Dalhart in their toughest game of the tournament. The Lady Hounds just edged Dalhart, 58-55

The freshman Lady Hounds won the consolation bracket of the Perryton Tournament. They lost their first game to Guymon on Friday, but won their other two.

The Gruver Lady Hounds varsity basketball team pushed its record to 2-0 last Friday night, crushing White

According to Lady Hounds coach Steve Myatt, the girls did it by woking their inside-outside half-court offense. points. She was 100 percent from the free throw line, going four for four. Following her was Wynn Maupin with 17 points. Maupin alternates at low post and wing positions.

Outside shooting was supplied by the Lady Hounds' point guard, Anissa Ryan. She was third leading scorer with 12 points, six of which came on two 3-point shots.

The Lady Hounds' next game will be at Sunray on Tuesday, Dec. 3 at 6:30 p.m. The following weekend, the girls will play in the Lake Meredith Classic tournament in Fritch. Their first game will be on Thursday, Dec.

Thanksgiving is more than just great food, a day off work, and football. It's time to give thanks as we enjoy the great outdoors.

The hunters give thanks because it's open season for quail, turkey, fleer, duck, goose, crane, and aoudad. The economic downturn has reduced the cost of many 1991 hunting leases. Now may be a great time to tie up some choice hunting property at bargain prices.

The anglers in Texas give thanks because, with the possible exception of Lake Meredith, fishing has never been better. The three major factors that have caused this outstanding fishing are: 1. the anglers who now practice catch-and-release (during our 1991 tournaments, I have witnessed fishermen release walleye and bass up to 10 lbs.).; 2. the vigorous stocking of Florida bass (the late Bob Kemp, of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, had the courage to explore uncharted waters and defy the experts who smugly proclaimed that Florida bass would die in our cold water lakes); 3. and finally, learning how to catch fish is easier because of the many articles that share accurate 'how-to' information from the winners of fishing tour-

Yes, in America we have many reasons to give thanks and one need only watch the horrors in Croatia, Russia, China or Laos in order to appreciate our many freedoms.

When we relax and enjoy Thanksgiving let us not forget that our liberties came from the sacrifices of all those who fought to win and preserve our freedom.

As I stand on the soapbox of lofty ideals, it is fitting to remember that our rights are guaranteed in a written Constitution and Bill of Rights. And it is a free press that scares both tyrants and bureaucrats from the Kremlin all the way to the local cour-

Warning: The Lyme Disease bacterium, normally carried by an infected deer tick, remains in the blood of an infected animal. Hunters, in addition to avoiding ticks, need to exercise caution when field dressing wild animals. A company called Impact Agency, 105 Blossom Drawer A, Carterville, Il., 62918, is offering 5 latex gloves and a pair of long sleeve latex gloves for the bargain price of $1.50.

No locally contracted cases of Lyme disease have been reported, but health officials note that this threat is moving our direction. It just makes sense to use long sleeved plastic gloves when field dressing big game animals.

This was the game to attend

by Mike Simpson

Whatdaya mean you weren't there? If you picked just one football game to attend all year, that should have been the one - the bi-district game in Borger when Spearman ended the season for Panhandle.

Surely you remember Panhandle? The team that has made a career of beating Spearman since 1974?

It was a miserably cold night. I was dressed in long johns, an insulated, hooded pullover sweatshirt, thermal socks, thermal coveralls, a rain coat to break the wind, and gloves, and I was still freezing, until about half way through the third quarter. It was about then that it became evident that it was still within the realm of possibility for the Spearman team to pull it off. I'll not go over the play-by-play. There have been other, more capable sports writers cover that aspect very thoroughly. But the excitement! Good grief, it was fantastic.

All night we watched our defense hold up against a determined, headon attack from their offense, dig in when they had to, and hold. Our offense chipped away at a strong defensive front line and secondary, and ground out the yards, only to be denied a score.

I really hesitate to mention any player's name. It might seem that I'm giving more credit to some than others. Not so. The entire team played premier footbali. But when Tim Kizziar knocked the opposing quarterback loose from the ball the second time, pure pandemonium cut loose in the Lynx stands. The crowd came to their feet, and I don't believe anyone sat down again all through the game. I was in the back, up above the rest of the fans, so I had a good view of the carryings-on. Larry Butler was literally jumping up and down, pounding someone on the back. Beckee Baker was about to hyperventilate, people were hugging and handing out high fives. When Brian Beck broke for a run that was stopped just short of the goal line, it was more of the same.

Then Tim Dooley crashed through for the score and all the excitement that had gone on before was nothing. The excitement, the emotion, the joy and happiness was a palpable thing. If one could bottle that kind of stuff, he would be a billionaire in short

When the final horn sounded I burned a trail to the bottom of the bleachers and climbed over the side, running to congratulate the glorious guys who had just fought their guts out and won. A crowd of frenzied fans followed on my heels. There was back-slapping, hugging, tears, shouts; people who were supposed to be adults screaming and jumping up and down; it was wonderful. I realized somewhere in that mess that I wasn't cold any more and hadn't been for some time.

I want you to know, those of you who missed seeing it in person, it was not any easy game. Panhandle dien't hand it to us all wrapped up in pretty paper and ribbons. Our guys took it away from them. Those glorious varriors we call the Spearman Lynx had engaged the enemy in a very hard-fought conflict and came away victorious. That night I quit thinking of those guys as boys. These are men! Young men, for certain, but folks, these are men. Be proud of them, individually and as a team.

I am sitting here writing this just at kickoff time for the area game against Crosbyton. Let's hope there is reason for more of the same happiness at the final gun tonight. But, if not, we still have a team to be proud

Lynx tackle Brian Kidder (70) fell on the ball when the Chiefs fumbled on their first play from scrimmage after the Lynx kickoff. From there Kelp ran the ball to the 8 yard line. This gave the Lynx a first and goal-got a glimpse of the future for the team as Jason Varnon came in and took over the quarterback duties from senior Kelp. Freshman running back Radar Garcia replaced senior Dooley, and Beck was replaced by Brandon Vanderburg. This backfield moved the ball from the Lynx 3 yard line to the 47, when time ran out. Garcia accounted for 46 of those yards.

When they get there they will find a tough Albany team waiting. Mullins says they are big and fast, and ranked number five in the state by the Harris poll.

According to news sources in Albany, the team went undefeated in winning the District 7-2A champion-ship. They defeated DeLeon 35-18 in the first round of the playoffs, and defeated Van Horn 27-8 last week, for their second playoff win.

Albany made it to this round of the playoffs two years ago, in 1989. They lost to the West Texas Comanches that year on the same Lowry field in

Lynx fans traveling to the game can get to the stadium by getting on the 289 loop and following it to the Highway 87 south exit, getting off the loop at that exit but staying on the loop access road. Any northbound road will lead to the stadium after it is sighted. Greg Vaughn of the Lub-bock Chamber of Commerce warns drivers not to get off the loop access road until they see the stadium to the north of the road.

UIL council passes proposals

AUSTIN - Adding a vocabulary component to the high school spelling contest and placing an amendment on a referendum ballot to member schools that would eliminate the age rule for academic, music, and fine arts competition, highlighted the recent annual University Interscholastic League's Legislative Council meeting.

All proposals passed by the 24-member Legislative Council, must have Texas State Board of Education approval before going into effect.

"The vocabulary component is designed to help students learn more about words and their correct usage," thus enriching a student's word power," said Janet Wiman, UIL academic director. "We are just adding a new dimension to the event and renaming it the Spelling and Vocabulary.'

If the referendum ballot on the age rule returns to the UIL with a favorable recommendation and if approved by the State Board of Education, the amendment would no longer prohibit a 19-year old from participating in academic, music and fine arts competition in league ac-

The Texas Education Agency initially asked the UIL to study the elimination of the age rule. The UIL staff determined that the justification for keeping the age limit in athletics - safety of participants - does not apply to academic, music and fine arts competitors.

"The Legislative Council, along with the Texas Education Agency, believes that the benefits to be gained by these students from participation in UIL events outweighs the negative effects, such as displacing other students who are following a normal four year progression," said

Other proposals passed by the Legislative Council were to:

· allow critiques for disqualified one-act play entries and remove from the contest manager the responsibility of determining the moral acceptability of a play.

• allow the same range of penalities for one-act play contest currently in force for most other UIL events, if directors solicit or accept professional aid.

· place the responsibility for interpretation of one-act play language and community standards rule in the hands of the administration of the producing school.

eliminate the requirement to use a blind draw to determine places when unbreakable ties occur in individual speech contests in state meet finals only.

• establish a team competition for high school accounting.

 establish a team competition for high school literary criticism.
• allow for Sunday participation in UIL academic competition at regional and state level because of bad weather or if facilities are not operational.

 allow students on a ninth grade campus to be combined with students in grades 10-12 for UIL music competition.

 specify that a student must earn a Division I rating at a current UIL region solo and ensemble contest to be eligible for the Texas State Solo and Ensemble Contest.

The Legislative Council also instructed the UIL staff to release the Conference A basketball realignment in late January with all the other conferences rather than delaying the release until summer.

In other action dealing with athletics, the Legislative Council

· delay issuing football shoes and socks by one day in August, 1992.

 conferences 4A and 5A baseball playoff games can not be played before Wednesday of that week unless by mutual consent.

require schools to get UIL approval if they plan to use non-SSOA certified soccer referees.

· prohibit coaches from organizing or administering non-school baseball, basketball, football, soccer or volleyball teams during the school

· limit tennis and golf invitational tournaments to a maximum of one school day per tournament.

 permit a student to return money as well as other valuable considera-tion to regain eligibility. · change the beginning date for soccer season to Jan. 2.

• allow volleyball coaches to issue, or place in lockers, practice uniforms for students prior to the first practice

UIL staff was also instructed by the Legislative Council to study and survey charging admission for all scrimmages, permit (but not re-quire) schools to charge admission for scrimmages and a central site for the football championships.

Wreckers were tearing down a house on a corner, and a neighbor asked, "What's the big idea?" "The street must be widened," answered the boss.

"But," said the man, "it will work a hardship on the owner." "Yes," came the answer, "but the city has the right of eminent domain." That means the government has the right to take private property for public use, but the owner must be paid.

The principle of "eminent domain" runs through the Bible. It says, "Your own body doesn't belong to you. God has bought you with a great price. So use every part of your body to give glory back to God, because He owns it."

I've given the Lord the right of eminent domain. Have you?

The Little Guy Just Came Up With A Better Idea.

They say, if you build a better mousetrap, the world will beat a path to your door.

Well, that's just what the folks at Texas New Mexico Power Company have done.

We've built what Power magazine is calling one of the most technologically advanced power plants in America. TNP One.

With TNP One, you'll pay lower rates in the long run than if we continued to purchase 100% of our electricity from outside utility companies.

And thanks to our environmentally superior technology, we won't have the costly modifications many plants will have to meet the new higher air-quality standards established by the Clean Air Act. It's just one more way we plan to keep rates stable, now and in the future.

Maybe that's why Power magazine gave us their 1991 Power Plant Award.

It just goes to show you don't have to be a giant in the industry to come up with a big idea.

We've been good neighbors for more than 50 years.

Farm symposium set

AMARILLO - December 4 marks the date of the seventh annual Panhandle Farm Management Symposium, scheduled again this year in conjunction with the Amarillo Farm and Ranch Show in the Civic Center.

This year's program features special segments of interest to grain producers, farm and ranch families, and chemical applicators.

The morning's concurrent sessions offer grain producers a chance to focus on the 1992 farm program, conservation compliance, feed grain outlook and marketing strategies. Beginning at 9 a.m., Robert Boyles and Kelly Adkins, Potter and Randall county ASCS directors, will address 1992 farm program issues.

At 9:45 a.m., David Webster, SCS regional soil conservationist, will discuss conservation compliance and the penalties associated with noncompliance. The feed grain outlook, with an emphasis on marketing and risk management alternatives, will be addressed by Mark Waller and Steve Amosson, Extension Service marketing and management specialists.

A program highlighting issues of interest to farm and ranch women begins with registration at 8:45 a.m. followed by Gilda Bryant's discussion of a Biblical history as told through quilt design. Jeff Goodwin, Extension specialist, will present a discussion of the animal welfare movement and its implications for agriculture. Mary Blinderman of Southwestern Public Service Co. will provide timely information on festive foods for the holiday season. The program will conclude at 11:45 a.m.

Registration for the afternoon program begins at 1 p.m. when commercial and non-commercial applicators have an opportunity to earn three CEU credits toward qualifying or renewing pesticide applicator certification. Topics include a review of application records and new laws for transporting fertilizers and other chemicals.

A session at 2:30 p.m. begins with a turf and bare ground management discussion featuring information on herbicide post-emergence treatments for turf grass and a review of bare ground management strategies.

A concurrent program will highlight crop diseases, advances in biological control and control methods for pesticide drift. Both sessions conclude by 4:30 p.m.

The Panhandle Farm Management Symposium is coordinated by the Potter County Extension Committees and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service

Panhandle Crisis Center

by Mary Frances Ellzey

You readers familiar with us may skip this paragraph, and start with the next one. The PCC offers services to men or women who are victims of domestic violence, whether verbal or physical. We give counseling, support, and information to these victims, plus a shelter to those who feel themselves to be in danger at home. These services are free of charge. If you want information only, call us at the office from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. We are available for help at any time, 24 hours a day. Our number is 435-5008. For those of you who must call us long distance, we have a toll-free number: 1-800-753-5308.

Our Executive-Director has recently attended a seminar under the guidance of the Texas Commission on Family Violence and has returned with a full armor of information and ideas. Among the statistics was the statement that 250 women are up for clemency in Texas for killing their intimate "other" in self defense. This is a new and landmark fact. Up to this point, no woman who had so killed was allowed to state or describe the horrors to which she had been subjected as mitigating circumstances. So we've gained that much.

On the other hand, in Texas 4,000 men are imprisoned for killing women. Have we gained much?

Several years ago women were excluded from the Hate Crimes Statistics Act because: 1) If women were included, the bill would be defeated; 2) Crimes against women are too numerous to document; 3) The seriousness of hate crimes would be diluted if women are included; 4) Violence against women is so much a part of our culture that no one pays any attention to it.

How about that?

When I first heard of Shelters for battered women, I wondered what good would thirty days in a Safe House do the situation? Did I have a lot to learn! It is a monumental service. And not only that, the workers in such organizations are focusing attention on the need for stringent measures. If we stay on our toes we will truly improve the situation.

Speaking of Shelters: I am very proud of the improvements being made on our own shelter, through the funding from the Meadows Foundation and financial help from the Texas Department of Human Services. The main benefit of these improvements is that it is truly a place where clients can comfortably stay until their problems have been mitigated, even resolved. Would you believe that many of the violent men truly do not realize that they are violent? Especially verbal abusers. This is frequently their first opportunity to realize that they have a genuine problem that only they can change. And it is heartening to know that the PCC does have that effect on some abusers.

To return to the Shelter: Some of you will be buying new furniture for Christmas. How about giving your discarded furniture to the Shelter? For you, it seems old and in need of replacement. For the Shelter, it'll give us a face lift. Please think of us when you are experiencing "off with the old and on with the new!

We of the PCC thank all of you for your support. Have a splendid holiday this Thanksgiving!

Traveling with kids

HOUSTON - Over the river and through the woods to Grandma's house for the holidays can seem like a trip through the Twilight Zone if you are traveling with a child.

However, a nutritionist at the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center in Houston believes happy trails are in store for resourceful parents who know how to occupy antsy passengers.

Traveling as a family can be a lot of fun," said Dr. Corinne Montandon, assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine. "There are lots of things to do while traveling, and eating is one of them."

Mobile munchers can wile away the miles while cruncing on fresh fruit, nuts, popcorn, dry cereal, celery sticks, and carrot sticks. (Nuts or popcorn should not be given to tots younger than 5.) String cheese, packaged fruit snacks, a variety of breads, spreads, small boxes of raisins, oatmeal cookies, quick breads, crackers, lowsalt pretzels, and peanut butter and jelly sandwiches also appease carbound critics.

For heartier fare, serve sandwiches made with barbecue or lean luncheon meats. (Montandon does not recommend mayonnaise-based offerings, which are susceptible to bacterial growth). A cooler or a styrofoam container and commercial ice pack allows the traveler to pack a range of foods. Montandon encourages parents to ice down plenty of single-serve cartons of fruit jucie, a quart of milk and a bottle of water.

Next to "I'm hungry," parents most often hear "I'm bored." Montandon suggests games that focus on family participation. Counting cows or billboards, map reading, alphabet games, singalongs, and riddles provide hours of entertainment. Children also enjoy a travel bag filled with books, hand-held videos, a deck of cards, and mini-puzzles. Tod-dlers and preschoolers like dolls, books, plastic cartoon figures, and coloring books. Montandon reminds parents to make frequent stops so children can stretch their legs and use the

Even if parents opt to travel via air, they can take steps to ensure a smooth flight.

Many airlines have limited meal service so it is a good idea to pack a variety of foods that can be kept for a short period without refrigeration, Montandon said.

If formula is required, pack several plastic bottles with premeasured amounts of water. "Add powdered formula and shake.'

Whether traveling by car, bus, train or plane, parents must allow for a child's special needs. With a bit of planning, patience and plenty of 'cruisin' cuisine," families can make holiday travels a memorable ex-
