GOVERNOR APPOINTS COMMITTEE TO TAKE FUNDS FOR MEMORIAL

Announcement was made this week by Governor James V. Allred of the formation of the New London School Memorial Committee composed of Mrs. M. A. Taylor of Benham, President of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers; Drury M. Phillips, of Huntsville, Commander of the American Legion of Texas; George Clarke of Austin, to represent the Governor; Mrs. Fay Beidleman, President, New London Parent-Teachers Association; and Mrs. H. R. Whittington, President, Rusk County Council of Parent-Teachers Association.

Contributions may be mailed directly to the New London Memorial Committee in care of the Governor's Office in Austin. The committee appointed by the Governor will handle funds received for this memorial.

Mr. Phillips has already asked commanders of the legion posts throughout the state to begin their activities immediately.

"Hundreds of letters and telegrams have been sent to me," the governor said, "asking information as to where contributions might be made for the purpose of erecting a suitable memorial to the memory of the school children and their teachers. I have determined upon this state committee as the proper central organization for the handling of these funds. I appreciate deeply and the American Legion in this connection."

"I think it only proper that the voluntary contributions from the citizens of a stricken state and nation be accepted for this purpose. The horrible catastrophe touched not only the families and immediate friends of the victims, but has reached out and shocked every home in America. Everyone has felt a sense of personal grief and has mourned with the bereaved parents."

"The State Memorial Committee will not conduct a drive for funds but will have an organization set up in every town through the Parent-Teacher Councils and the American Legion posts. These organizations will be available to those who wish to contribute any donation, small or large, as their expression of sympathy."

"The memorial will serve a twofold purpose as a tribute to the passing of these boys and girls in the full flesh of inspirational youth and as a perpetual resolve that no such disaster shall ever again be visited upon any community in Texas."

Engineers Needed By U. S. Government

The United States Civil Service Commission announces open competitive examinations for the positions of Junior Civil Engineering Aid at $1440 a year, and Under Civil Engineering Aid at $1260 a year, for employment throughout the Tenth Civil Service District, comprising the states of Louisiana, and Texas, for which the receipt of applications will close on April 5.

Applicants for Under Civil Engineering Aid must have had high school education except that civil engineering experience may be substituted for the years lacking of high school graduation. In addition, applicants for Junior Civil Engineering Aid must show one year of experience in civil engineering lines, or have completed one year of a college course in engineering. A written examination will be given.

Additional information may be obtained from the Secretary, U. S. Civil Service Board, post office, Brownwood, Texas; or from the Manager, Tenth Civil Service District, Customhouse, New Orleans, Louisiana.

"BUSINESS AS USUAL' DURING ALTERCATION"

On this side of the counter, a sit-down strike, behind the counter, clerks ready to do business as usual. That is the unusual situation that developed in New York city when the sit-down strikes by 5 and 10-cent store clerks spread to the shop above. It looks as though the sit-downers were successfully keeping customers away from the counters.

Thompson Points To Improved Gas System For City

Representing an investment of $36,809.49, the system and lines of the Brownwood municipal gas plant are steadily being improved, according to a recent statement by Mayor W. H. Thompson.

"The people are vitally concerned and interested in their gas system and are entitled to know all about it and to keep in touch with what is going on," stated Mayor Thompson.

"In the beginning the city bought the Bruce system, paying $11,500 for it. He was given a note for $5,376.66 and the balance was paid in cash," he continued.

Lines Extended "Since the city took over the Bruce System we have gradually extended the lines and repaired the Bruce lines and now the city has a total investment of $36,809.49. All of this has been paid except the $22,766.66 note referred to above. It has been and still is the policy of the city to make the extensions gradually as the funds are available and to use the income from gas to make extensions to serve our citizens as they desire. We pay 60 for the gas delivered at the city gate and sell it at 35 cents. The expense of operation is practically nil except what we pay for gas, as the water office force handles the clerical end without additional expense and the employees are paid for laying new lines which is an investment and not properly charged as expense."

All Net Profit

"In the past three months we have paid for gas $933.10 and collected $2,719.72 showing a profit of $1,784.62.

"We put in 89 meters for the customers we took over from Bruce and now have slightly more than 300 meters, an increase of about 225 new customers. We could easily have ten times this number if we had the lines to serve them and while the people get nervous when bond issues are mentioned we might be thinking of issuing revenue bonds that would not add one cent to taxes to cover the whole town and let the income from the system pay it out.

"Our water works was put in this year ago and now we have a system worth $500,000 paid out of debt. This is just something for us to be thinking about.

"Brownwood has not all the money in the world but our financial condition is such now that we could get all of it or at least all we want to put in a complete gas system.

Following issuance of the statement, representatives of the Community Natural Gas Company began examination of the records of the municipal gas system. Mayor Thompson closed the records to the gas company and barred any examination of the condition of the municipal system. His position was challenged by J. Edward Johnson, attorney for the company, at a meeting of the city council Monday night, but was upheld by the council.

POULTRY, EGG INDUSTRY SUGGESTED TO FARMERS AS POSSIBLE REMEDY FOR LOSSES SUSTAINED IN COTTON MARKETS

The question of what farm enterprises can be expanded in Texas to help fill the gap in farm income resulting from the loss of a substantial part of her cotton market, is discussed by Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director and statistician of the Bureau of Business Research, at the University of Texas.

"Among the possibilities which have been mentioned is the poultry and egg industry," Dr. Buechel said. "The trend of production in this industry, will be watched with growing interest by close students of agricultural development in Texas."

"The Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas in conjunction with the United States Department of Agriculture and the management of the railway systems of the State have for a number of years assembled and compiled detailed information concerning the poultry and egg industry of the State so far as it is reflected in railway shipments. These data are nearly 100 per cent accurate so far as interstate shipments are concerned.

"It is assumed that interstate shipments, moreover, reflect with considerable accuracy the increase or decrease in production since the amount of local consumption probably does not change appreciably from year to year. Hence these interstate shipments should be a good index of changes in production."

"Combined shipments of Texas poultry, turkeys, and eggs, to interstate points fell off sharply each year from 1921 to 1935. An increase in 1936 over the preceding year may have marked the reversal of this downward trend, but this it is not at all certain, for poultry and egg production at present is relatively unprofitable on account of the unfavorable feed-egg ratio. That is to say, it takes a considerably larger number of eggs to equal in value 100 pounds of poultry feed now than it did a year ago. Under these circumstances there is a tendency to reduce the size of flocks, thus temporarily increasing shipments of poultry; and to use fewer eggs for hatching purposes, and thus to put a larger proportion of eggs on the market for current consumption."

YOUNG FARMERS IN COUNTY, WORKING ON COTTON IMPROVEMENT PROJECT TO USE BAGLEY SEED; BUSINESS MEN COOPERATE

Acting upon farm leaders' warnings to improve quality of cotton in Texas or lose much of their trade to other sections of the nation and foreign countries, as well as lower the prices on that which they market, Brown county farmers have turned their attention to a program of cotton staple and grade improvement.

Under the supervision of County Agent C. W. Lehmburg, the 4-H Club boys of the county have taken the first steps in inaugurating the improvement plan, with the interested co-operation of ginners, cotton buyers, cotton oil men, and all business men in general.

At a meeting of the agricultural committee held in the county agent's office, it was decided to...

DISTRICT COURT DOCKET IS LIGHT; TERM NEARS END

With the disposal of eleven cases, the 35th district court docket was comparatively clear late this week, with only a few cases remaining to be heard before the present term closes on Saturday. The jury was dismissed on Tuesday.

Cases disposed of included that of Arthur Williams, charged with burglary and receiving stolen property. Williams was judged guilty and denied a new trial by the present court. He has appealed his case to the Court of Criminal Appeals at Austin, and his bond has been set at $1,200.

R. L. Armstrong, charged with theft of over $50, was found guilty in 1935 and assessed a two year sentence which he appealed to the higher courts at Austin. The court reversed the judgment and allowed Armstrong a new trial during the present term of district court. He was tried again on March 1 and found not guilty.

Charged with burning a truck in May, 1935, F. Skiles was tried in district court on February 8, 1937, and given a three-year suspended sentence.

Norris Crawford, indicted this term of court for drunken driving, was found guilty and fined $50 and costs.

Allan Bell was found guilty of burglary and given two years in the penitentiary. Stephen Tapp was convicted on a drunken driving charge and given a one-year suspended sentence.

Upon the plea of guilty by Bill Idol, charged with forgery in two cases, District Judge E. J. Miller pronounced a sentence of two years in the penitentiary.

Curtis McBride, charged with burglary, pleaded guilty and waived a jury hearing. He was tried before the court and given a two-year sentence.

April 1 Is Deadline For Registering Of Vehicles in County

Approximately 3,000 cars must be registered in Tax Collector Winston Palmer's office before the close of business on April 1—less than a week.

A tabulation made late Thursday this week showed 2,139 sets of licenses had been issued, a total of less than half of the number officials estimate must be issued in this county before the deadline. Approximately 5,000 vehicles were registered in Brown county last year.

Of the number issued to date, 165 are commercial vehicles; 63 farm; 7 busses; 14 trailers; 7 dealers; 4 motorcycles, and 1,879 passenger cars.

Palmer is urging that car owners bring their 1936 license receipts with them to facilitate handling their registration for 1937. Licenses must be paid for with cash as a state law forbids collectors accepting checks.

The United States Bureau of Public Roads and the Texas State Highway Department are cooperating in a planning survey of interest to all highway users. As owners of vehicles register their cars, they are asked to assist in filling out a questionnaire compiled by the Highway Department, giving information that will assist the department greatly in planning for future highways in the state of Texas.

According to Mrs. Belva Sneed, allocation representative for Brown county, 97 per cent of all vehicle owners have cooperated by giving the information when they registered their cars.

The 46 steers averaged 1,101 pounds and sold for $18.50 per hundred. Barrett had fed out and marketed so far this season between three and four hundred steers, and now has about 350 on feed.

French Women May Compete With American Sisters If Proposed Bills Are Passed in Parliament

By HELEN WELSHIMER

American women have been known to envy their French cousins the mystery and charm and chic which they bring to marriage as part of their dowry. Few of our number have been able to compete. Something about our equal rights and privileges platform defeats us before we have a chance to drop our eyes or shrug our shoulders.

Now, at last, we may have a chance to meet the French magic-weavers on an equal ground. Maybe we will discover that they have cooked up glamor like we can.

pickles and blackberries because it has been the only rate of exchange in the cities along the Seine.

Be that as it may, the presentation to the French parliament the other day of a bill which accedes women civil rights equal to those of men has tremendous potential.

Under the Code Napoleon, which became effective in 1803 and which is still the law of the realm, a married woman in France has no more rights than a child or an insane person.

She can't own property or sign a contract unless her husband and the courts say she can. Whatever finances she has are strictly under her husband's jurisdiction. From the pay check of Ninon the hat-check girl, to the revenue of Mistinguette and her followers woman's money is subject to her husband's jurisdiction. That was the sum of the code, and it still prevails.

No Longer Needs to Act

Now, at last, the reform bill suggests making wives people, not appendages. Under this bill, they may earn and spend their own money, inherit, plead before the courts, and insist in the family management. They will be accorded the full privileges of human beings.

French women, thus permitted to use their brains for something more than perfecting the arts of pleasing a man and establishing a comfortable home, may develop the companionable, comfortable, practical relationship which exists between so many American men and women.

When a wife no longer needs to ask her husband for the franc which will purchase a pair of gloves, she may not put on an act to beguile him. The chances are that she will greet him cordially but heartily, spend the money, and say nothing about it. After all, why should she? Some things are a woman's right as well as a man's. Food, stockings and gloves are among them.

On the other hand, the French women, trained for years in the one-hundred per cent chivalry glamor school, may still obtain from men even while they share their rights. They may make their husbands feel that women are most kind in permitting such rights to be extended them.

Equality an Asset

More and more, in the economic and emotional complexes of today women have wondered if the new independence is worth the lost chivalry and protection. Because a wife becomes an equal wage-earner with a man never has meant that he should become an equal home-maker with her. No, they may toil side by side in the General Store or at office desks, from nine until half-past five. Then his work is done while she is confronted with dinner to get, the mending, the dusting, ironing, the sweeping and a few dozens of other sundry little things. That is, unless she has a husband who takes a comprehensive view of the situation and either aids or purchases aid.

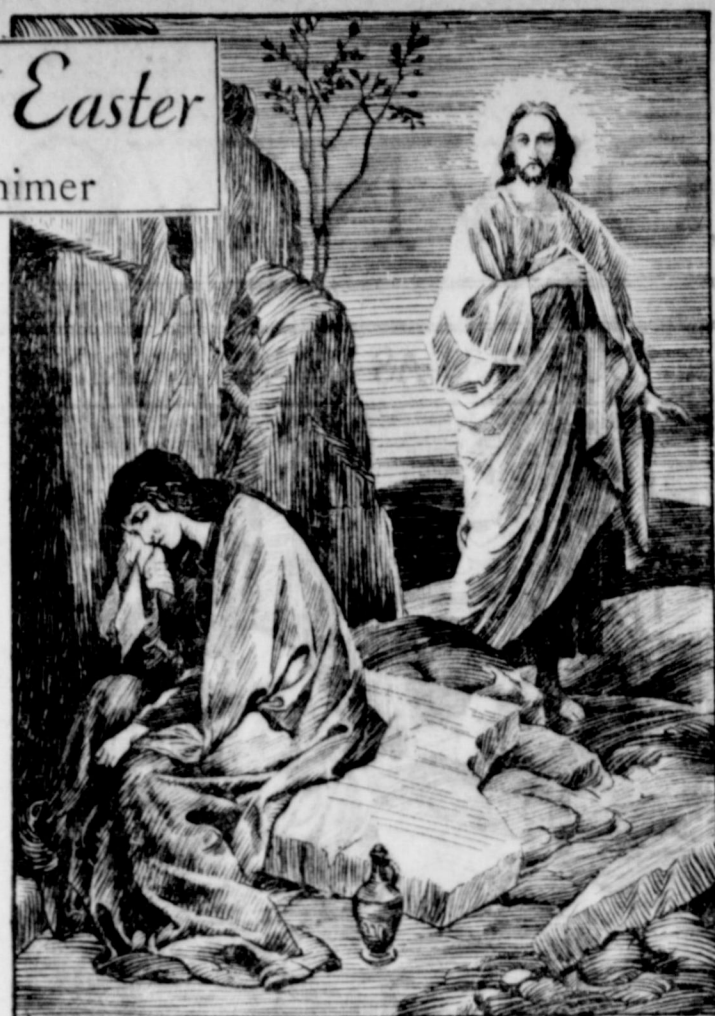

She can spend her own money though! However, the new economic scale of living leaves little left for luxuries.

We welcome the French women to the great combine of the free

Prayer for Easter

By Helen Welshimer

THE crosses of Golgotha No longer wound the sky With skeleton reminders Of three who had to die One afternoon in spring-time . . . Long years have wiped away The marks of blackened anguish Upon a hill one day. FOR there was no retaining The Christ within a tomb. He broke the weary fetters, And now the lilies bloom Triumphant on each altar, To show death leads to life . . . Oh, we who walk the tired ways Of sacrifice and strife. WE ask Thee, God, this Easter, To break the binding clothes That hold our hearts imprisoned, And as the Christ arose, May we stand on Golgotha, And find the crosses gone, While lilies spread white carpets To greet a fresh, sweet dawn.

MANY FIRMS MAKING CONTRIBUTIONS TO BUDGET OF C. OF C.

Unusually good response has marked the drive for funds for the 1937 budget of the Brownwood chamber of commerce, members of the finance committee reported to John Blake, president, this week. The committee began solicitation of funds for the budget Wednesday, and by Thursday afternoon a number of Brownwood business houses had signed pledge cards.

The chamber of commerce, in addition to being responsible for the entertainment of several major conventions during the coming months, has outlined a program of civic development which is meeting approval of the members and is responsible for an increased interest in the civic body.

Thursday afternoon the finance committee reported the following subscriptions, all received in the early hours of the drive:

Holley-Langford, Southwestern Poultry Ass'n., Southwestern States Telephone Co., Garner-Alvis, Mollie W. Armstrong, W. D. Armstrong, Gilmore's, Gus Rosenberg, Sullivan's, Hopper & Stanley, Central Cafe, Knobler's, Bettis & Gibbs, Lyric, Gem, Dr. W. B. Cain, Swift & Co., Community Natural Gas, Stewart Radio Co., Mrs. R. B. Rogers, Dr. Jno. Power, Austin-Morris Co., Southern Hotel Dry Cleaners, Dr. H. A. Hoy, Dr. C. F. Achor, Shelton Bros. Dairy, The Leader, Chas. Ratliff, Dr. B. E. Bell, Texas Cafe, Safety Tire & Battery Co.

"The response to our drive has been wonderful," John Blake, president, said today. "Only two of the firms we approached turned us down. The total of $1149 was realized at the end of the first day's work."

manure for the foundation plantings, then the following shrubs were planted: Two nandinas, 2 euonymus, 2 ligustrums, several coral berries, jasmine humales, elder berry bushes, bridal wreath, California privets, snow berry and forsythia.

Three box elder trees were planted on the west side of the house to provide much needed shade. These trees make a very large tree and grow rapidly.

A rose garden of 23 roses had been planted and a screen planting of lilacs, crepe myrtle, pomegranates and privets were also planted at this time. Red bud, buck eyes and haw will be added to the screen plantings in the fall. The expense was $3.20.

A lovely home of native stones was recently built by Mr. and Mrs. Newton, and provides what a farm home may be. A garage will be built of native stone soon.

Clothes Closet Papered

"I have papered my clothes closet to make it dust proof," said Mary Joe Coffee at the 4-H club meeting in Zephyr. Mary Joe also reported an equipped sewing box of scissors, thimble, tape measure, needle book, pins, cushion, pencil and note book. She has completed her cup towel which is one of the club goals for this year.

Brooksmith 4-H club enjoyed a picnic Thursday. After a business session, lunch was spread by Miss Mayesie Malone, county demonstration agent; Mrs. Low, club sponsor; Mrs. May and Mrs. Sewall. Several games were played. Reports on garden work and sewing.

MORE LIGHT in the Kitchen MORE LIGHT in the Living Room MORE LIGHT in the Bedroom

LIGHT today is CHEAP

Ample light beautifies the home while it saves the eyes!

You use paint to beautify the home—why not use light for the same purpose, especially now that light is so cheap! Thanks to lighting rates which were never as low as now, you can use light to attract as well as rest the eye. Get a few light bulbs of higher wattage than you have been using. Screw them into your sockets. Turn them on. Notice how much brighter and more cheerful they make your rooms look. Chances are, you'll never notice any material difference in your lighting bill.

Go over your entire home and remove all darkened bulbs, all lamps which give a dim light. Replace with new lamps. You'll find your home a more pleasant place evenings, and you'll not feel tired and sleepy so early in the evening, either.

SPECIAL STAG DINNER HELPS ESTABLISH MAN'S SELF-ESTEEM, SAYS HOME EXPERT

By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox
A Stag Dinner will re-establish a man's self-esteem. Sturdy fare, some of his old friends, no women of the family visible—and it's always fair weather when good fellows get together. Funny, more well-intentioned wives don't understand the uses of the stag dinner. Music may charm the savage breast but such a womanless feast will do even better.

What do the "brutes" want? Wait—let's ask a Beverly Hills bachelor. Nelson Eddy is famous for his stag dinners. In fact, an invitation to one of Mr. Eddy's "dinner at eight" is rated among the male stars of Hollywood almost as highly as a bid to dinner at the White House.

Listen to this—not Nelson Eddy's music, but the melody of his skillet.

Cream of Mushroom Soup (For 12 Men)

One pound of fresh mushrooms, 2 quarts beef or chicken stock, 1-2 cup butter, 1-4 cup of flour, 2 cups cream and milk, half and half, 1 wine glass sauterne (white wine), salt, pepper and onion to taste.

Chop mushrooms and onion, add to meat or chicken stock and simmer half an hour. Strain, place stock back on fire. Combine butter and flour, salt and pepper. Thicken stock with this. Simmer until slightly thickened, then reduce heat and add milk and cream. Heat but do not allow to boil. After cream is added add wine and remove from fire at once. Dinner has begun.

LUNCHEON Tomato juice, hot corn bread, bacon, maple syrup, tea, milk.

DINNER (A Stag Dinner): Cream of mushroom soup, fillets of sole on water cress, broiled tenderloin steaks, French fried onions, cream whipped potatoes, strawberry shortcake, black coffee and no women in the house.

Honest Fillets of Sole on Watercress

(For 12, but men only) Six pounds of fillet of sole, 1 quart cooking oil, 3-4 pound butter, juice of four lemons, finely chopped parsley, salt and pepper, watercress. Season fillets with salt and pepper. Plunge fillets in large pot at least half filled with broiling oil. Turn fish until both sides are golden brown. Remove and drain on blotting paper. Line large wooden bowl with lark watercress. Place the cooked fillets on the watercress. Sprinkle with melted butter, lemon juice parsley and garnish with lemon slices.

And of course there is steak—broiled bachelor style. Use 8 pounds for 12 men, tenderloin or sirloin, cut 1 1/2 inches thick. Leave on some fat. Cut steaks into separate portions. Rub each lightly with a clove of garlic, season with salt and pepper. Broil on rack under very hot flame, turning frequently until done to the king's taste. Slightly underdone, warns Mr. Eddy, is the masculine preference. Serve on a scrubbed white plank, dot with butter and minced parsley.

With steak, go French fried onions and cream whipped potatoes. Dessert is sweet but not rich—old-fashioned strawberry shortcake. After that, there should be coffee in the living room, cigars and cigarettes and fishing stories or any other kind of a story they like. Let the women of the house go to bed early or else go out to the movies. This is father's night and morning comes soon enough.

Dero D. Cowley Is Named Secretary To Gov. Allred

Visitors to Governor James V. Allred's office under the big dome at Austin this week were greeted by modest, smiling Dero D. Cowley, above, 27-year-old former member of the legislature from Hillsboro, who is the new First Secretary to the Governor.

Cowley, a lank six-footer, succeeded stocky Pat D. Moreland, genial poet-preacher in presiding over the Governor's front office on St. Patrick's day. Cowley's birthday and the day Governor Allred's third son, Sam Houston Allred, was born in the Executive Mansion.

As a legislator, Cowley made a reputation for getting things done with no hallyho, few speeches and fewer bitter fights. He supported the Allred program and the present Speaker, Bob Calvert, also from Hillsboro. The son of a retired Hillsboro merchant, Cowley worked his way through the local high school and two years of the University of Texas, and as a hardware clerk made many friends, who twice elected him representative. He declined to seek a third term. His warm personality and friendship with old colleagues in the legislature slate him to be a popular secretary.

Serving with Cowley are George Clarke and Alma Mullins; Albert as second and third secretaries. Governor Allred appointed Moreland to the Unemployment Compensation Commission.

consumption. As a consequence of these influences there will be a tendency for shipments of poultry and eggs to decline when the results of this spring's hatchings are ready for market late next fall and in the winter of 1938.

"Although the volume of eggs shipped from Texas to interstate points exceeds by a wide receipt of eggs from out of State points (virtually no poultry is brought in from other states), the fact that Texas brings in eggs from other states at all is a peculiar situation. Undoubtedly Texas has natural advantages for egg production that are excelled in only a few states. The winters are mild and the spring and fall climates are favorable, yet in each year for which we have the records, considerable quantities of eggs have been brought into the state. In 1935 receipts from other states totaled 225 cars.

"A number of egg processing plants already exist in Texas and no doubt these are even now contributing toward more favorable egg prices and helping to stabilize the egg market of this state.

"In Austin, Minn., a substantial industry has been developed by the Hormel Packing Company for candling poultry. So far as I am aware, there are no plants similar to this in Texas. Yet it would seem, for reasons already given in reference to the egg industry, such an industry here for poultry candling should contribute toward lowering the costs of shipping poultry and thus aid in expanding the market for poultry in Texas. Moreover, such an industry should contribute toward stabilizing poultry prices on a higher level than would otherwise exist."

THE HOME DECORATOR

Watch Your Windows

Windows are fun to dress. Of course, you'll probably drag your husband from his paper long enough to hang them for you, but the fun is yours... the planning, the shopping for material, and the draping itself. There are so many things you can do to them, and they are conspicuous places in your home where you can really let yourself go as to originality. For rooms that are really Victorian nothing is more charming against light walls than deep moiré curtains with tasseled fringe, draped to the side and with a fairly deep valance. Beneath these, sheer net glass curtains and a plain shade, wall color. For narrow windows in a simple room, particularly a low room, it's well to have perfectly straight drapes, floor length, no valance. Pull them over just as far as you can beyond the window width. It'll make the window appear much larger than it really is.

It depends upon the material you use, of course, just how you'll treat your drapes. Homespun material and heavy cotton or linen really call for box-pleating. Silks are grand and lend themselves to accordion pleating, shirring and gathers. Chintz is always nice, simply gathered on the pole and draped to the sides. And your furnishings, of course, condition the type of material for your windows. The man's den would naturally call for a heavy material and perfectly plain treatment. The daughter's room for frilly curtains and gay chintz. The formal livingroom, heavy silks, damask or the like. Cottons for the very informal dining room, or chintz, perhaps. And here's something new. Plain striped bed ticking is being used a great deal in simple bedroom settings. Perhaps if you have too many windows in your bedroom you could use one as a background for your dressing table. Soft net curtains, a quilted satin drapery and valance, floor length and pulled to the side, the same quilted material for the dressing table skirt and you've really a most charming effect. But whatever you do, make your windows more than mere spaces from which to view the street. Make them the pleasant framework they should be for the pictures you see through those windows.

CLOSEUP and COMEDY

In this column answers will be given to inquiries as to Texas history and other matters pertaining to the State and its people. Address inquiries to Will H. Mayes, Austin, Texas.

Q. What was the immediate cause for David Crockett to come to Texas? A. When he was defeated for reelection to Congress from Tennessee in 1835, largely because of his opposition to some of the policies of President Jackson, he became disgusted with Tennessee politics, and in a farewell speech to his constituents, told them that he was going to Texas, and they could "all go to hell."

Q. Where was the last Indian fight in Brown County and when? A. According to M. R. Cheatham, then in the Ranger company which engaged in the fight, the last Indian fight in that section was in 1874 at the point where Highway 7 crosses Clear Creek on land owned by Cheatham. The Indians, having stolen some horses, were pursued and overtaken, and in the fight three were killed and taken to Brownwood, where two were hung from a pecan tree on the banks of the slough, and one was fastened upright on a mule that was led around the public square.

RANGE CONSERVATION

West Texas ranchmen are manifesting considerable interest in the range conservation plan of the agricultural conservation program and county agricultural agents report that many meetings have been held to discuss points in the program.

Two meetings in Real county attracted approximately 150 men and women and of this number 95 signed applications for range inspection.

Blanco county ranchmen are enthusiastic over the provisions in the range program which applies to rescuing land from cedar, and 54 have signed applications totaling 91,165 acres.

A meeting in Sutton county attracted 80 ranchmen, of which 65 signed applications covering 67 ranches.

Applications covering a million and a half acres of range land in Pecos county have been signed, and indications are that practically all of the three million acres of eligible land will be included in the range conservation program.

Ranchmen in Kerr county have elected their committeemen and more than 100 were present at a meeting at which the program was explained and discussed.

At the conclusion of a meeting on the range conservation program in San Saba county, 46 of the 125 ranchmen present signed applications covering 71,108 acres of land.

It carries a salary of $5,000 a year. He has published several volumes of poetry which have attracted wide spread and favorable comment.

In 1931 Moreland won the award of the Texas Poetry society for book publication with his "Arrow Unspent." Another collection of poems, "Slumber at Noon," won an award in a national contest.

Evading Taxation

One of the major causes of the burdensome tax problem which ever confronts Texans is the millions of dollars that is escaping taxation each year. Vigilant as tax assessors and collectors are, under the present system it has been possible for thousands of citizens to avoid paying their just tax.

Every time a tax is not paid it places a heavier burden upon the taxpayer. The burden is just as heavy when a piece of property escapes assessment as when assessed property does not yield the anticipated tax.

Much to correct the evil of unassessed property has been done by the State-wide Tax Survey, which has been conducted by the State Tax Commissioners office, and carried out as a PWA project. If the findings of the survey are taken advantage of by assessing and collecting agencies, it will have justified itself.

From the report of Albert K. Daniel, state tax commissioner, we learn that the survey thus far has determined that there are 739,094 acres of land that do not appear on any tax roll. The value of such acreage is estimated at approximately $8,300,000. A total of 30,000 unknown ownerships have been corrected, and approximately 5,000 double renditions have been eliminated. An analysis of the permanent improvements on property disclosed the startling fact that improvements approximating $60,000,000 have been lost to the State in taxes. One of the unusual developments is that more than 66,000 acres which were shown on the records to be in certain counties actually were in adjoining counties, with a result that neither county secured this acreage for rendition purposes.

Commissioner Daniel states that the comparative few who availed themselves of the opportunities for adding to their tax rolls, were able to boost tax values by $3,989,158. He estimates that if all the taxable property in Texas were placed on the tax rolls, with a normal collection thereof, the State tax rate could be reduced from the present 62 1/2 cents to approximately 12 cents.

It might be well for the Legislature to devote some of the time now given to consideration of new sources of tax revenue to providing means for seeing that such a great amount of property is not escaping the tax now levied.

Ever alert to challenge a position untenable to the economic advancement of Texas, the able editor of The Texas Weekly calls Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul to task for a statement made at the planning conference in Austin last week. Mr. Woodul was quoted as saying, "I believe Texas as must stop growing cotton. We certainly do not want to see our farmers competing with low-wage producers of South America."

Cotton Will Stay

The Weekly points out that nearly one-third of our people live on cotton farms, and that normally 800,000 persons are employed directly in the production of cotton in Texas. The fallacy of Governor Woodul's position that "we must stop growing cotton" and completely industrialize Texas is apparent, when, as The Weekly reminds, only two states, New York and Pennsylvania, ever had as many as 800,000 people employed in manufacturing. It is hardly to be expected that any amount of planning, no matter how skillfully executed, would be able to effect the transfer of 800,000 Texas farmers into efficient industrial employes, should sufficient industrial enterprises be attracted to Texas to absorb this number.

Cotton is here to stay, and while other agricultural pursuits may draw from its number to their advantage, it is unlikely that the present generation will see it fall from its present eminence as the major Texas agricultural crop. The problem, then, is to meet world competition as best we may, and, to further quote The Weekly, "with less burdensome handicaps imposed by the American government." That journal further points out that competition with South American labor is not such a hardship as might be assumed, since the American farmer produces an average of five bales per worker each season, while in South America the average is one bale per worker, and in India, another major competitor, it requires three workers to produce a single bale. Would it not be better to take active and effective steps to protect the world market, which is being taken from the Texas cotton farmer through the American tariff, rather than try to make an industrial worker of him? The Texas Weekly thinks it would.

Out of the half hundred proposals to amend the Texas Constitution which are being given consideration by the Legislature during the present session, it is safe to assume that about a dozen will be approved and submitted to Texas voters during the coming months. Of major importance among these is an amendment which would nullify one which placed county officials upon a salary basis. Texas counties, struggling under the load placed on their backs by this amendment, are leaders in the movement to go back to the fee system of paying certain county officials.

Back to Fees

The Banner was among the advocates of the salary amendment, honest in the belief that it would result in savings to Texas counties. A majority of Texas voters felt the same way, but time has shown that this was a mistake. With the Legislature prone to increase salaries of county officials, considering these matters under the light of "local bills" and county officials not so vigilant in collecting fees which must be turned over to the State, the situation, now bad, gives promise of growing worse. It should be corrected through the adoption of the amendment.

Welfare Buildings For Brown County

All that remains to be done on the completion of two large buildings on Walnut street, in North Brownwood, to be used as welfare headquarters for Brown county, is clean-up work and improvement on the grounds.

Constructed as a joint WPA-county project, the buildings are of brick and tile with stucco finish. Approximate cost of the project was $8,000, $5,000 of which was furnished by the WPA and $3,000 by the county. An average of 35 persons have been employed on the project since it was started on December 7.

The county welfare office, the WPA commodities storeroom, the county canning plant and the WPA sewing room will be housed in the new buildings. Although the buildings will be used exclusively as offices now, they were designed so they may be converted into living quarters for destitute persons if needed at any time, County Judge Nabors said today.

Removal of the welfare units from buildings in the business district to the county-owned buildings will afford a tremendous reduction in rental payments by the county, according to county officials.

WPA PROJECTS CENTER ON IMPROVEMENTS OF FARM-MARKET ROADS

Construction of 8.1 miles of road, topping it with all-weather select material surface, has just been completed on several stretches of farm-to-market roads in Coleman county, Precinct No. 1.

The Burkett southwest road has been improved for a distance of 3.9 miles; the East Loop road for a distance of 1.3 miles, and the road leading east from Highway 206 east to Echo for a distance of 2.9 miles. The construction of this eight-mile stretch with an 8 inch select material topping 18 feet wide and including the drainage structures amounts to a total cost of $12,332.93. Works Progress Administration furnished $9,732.93 of this amount while the sponsor contracted approximately $2,600.00.

An average of sixty persons were employed on this project during the five-months construction period.

A crew of 71 workers and 8 trucks has been assigned to the construction of six miles of County roads on the Fry Field road in Precinct No. 1, Coleman county. This project will start on Monday, March 22.

In addition to the six miles of all-weather construction with select material 9 inches deep and 18 feet wide, this project also includes widening of the road and rebuilding the fences.

This project will start approximately eight miles east of Coleman and extend to the Brown county line.

A grant of $7,104.00 has been set aside for this work by the Works Progress Administration while the Coleman county Commissioners' Court has agreed to spend approximately $3,180.00 on this improvement. The Works Progress Administration will supply 65 workers and six trucks while the Commissioners' Court will put on two trucks and two drivers.

W. T. Ferguson will be WPA project superintendent and Don Gideon will be WPA timekeeper.

June 22 has been set as the completion date for this project.

Construction of a 175 acre foot reservoir near Talpa will be started Monday, March 22, by a crew of approximately 120 WPA workers and 16 trucks.

This reservoir is being constructed under the sponsorship of the Central Colorado River Authority and under the supervision of the 14th District of Works Progress Administration. It will cost approximately $21,000.00 when completed. The Works Progress Administration has allowed a grant of $14,100.00 and the Central Colorado River Authority has agreed to contribute the balance of approximately $7,000.00.

This construction consists of an earthen dam on Grape Creek with spillway and outlet structure. The upstream face of the dam is to be paved with rip rap stone while the downstream face will be sodded with Bermuda grass.

This water conservation project is badly needed to supply the farmers and ranchmen of the Talpa community with the necessary water supply.

This project is to be completed by June 30, 1937.

A project to construct masonry curbs and gutters on certain blocks on Ballinger streets to prevent further erosion will be started by Works Progress Administration workers Monday, March 22.

The project will include a total of 12 blocks on Hamilton, Snapp, Harris, Murrell, Phillips, Fourth, Fifth and Seventh streets. This construction is to be completed by June 22 at an expenditure of approximately $6,500.00. Works Progress Administration will furnish approximately $5,000.00 and the sponsor the balance of $1,500.00.

A crew of 50 workers and 2 trucks have been assigned to do this work.

Lee Hamilton and Bill T. Walker will supervise this job as WPA project superintendent and timekeeper, respectively.

Grading and surfacing of 10 miles of road in precinct 2, San Saba county, with 8-inch caliche, 18 feet wide, will be completed early in June.

The entire project will cost the WPA $5,541 and the Commissioners' Court of San Saba county approximately $3,421. Fifty-nine men and trucks are employed. All labor is furnished by WPA. Superintendent of the work is David Chadwick. Foreman for the county is Luther Brown.

A flood control project, started in San Saba county in January 1936, was completed, March 26. The work on this project consisted of rebuilding washed-out roads and constructing various drainage structures. The work, which steadily employed an average of 40 men throughout operations, cost approximately $26,888. Most of the workmen on this project were transferred to the road project in the same county.

Spring Demands Natural Beauty

By ALICIA HART

This is the spring to avoid bright bright nail lacquer unless it accents a specific costume, the pale, wan looking which is accomplished by leaving off rouge and applying powder and lipstick generously; too fluffy, helter-skelter coiffures.

It's a season to look glowingly healthy with just the right amount of makeup; epic and span neckwear crisp and scrupulously white; to soften your tailored suits and dresses with frilly blouses and lingerie touches.

Make up your mind to be less set in your ways as far as cosmetics are concerned. You may like the lipstick you have been wearing for years and years, but unless you at least experiment with the new shades now and then, how do you know that some of them aren't even more flattering?

On general principles, if for no other reason, see how you look with your hair brushed away from your face and upward from ears and neck. If you have been wearing it this way, try a Page Boy coiffure—just for variety.

If you are very large or your proportions seem to be wrong, don't be tempted to forsake your old loves, navy and black, for splashy, flamboyant tropical prints or gay, gay monotonous you have been hearing about. Nothing is smarter than black or navy and they make you look slimmer than you actually are. Enliven them with touches of white, shell pink or pale yellow, and you don't have to worry about looking too conservative or prim.

Make up your mind to buy one type of cosmetic you never have used before. This can be a jar of mask preparation or a skin tonic or mascara—anything at all just so long as it is new to you.

Late With Dinner? Lamb Saves the Day

Only fifteen minutes until dinnertime, and no dinner started! What a predicament!

Perhaps when the club meeting lasted longer than usual or when unthinking callers stayed the afternoon through, you have been left only a few minutes for preparing dinner. If so, don't throw up your hands in despair! Instead, dash to the market for lamb chops. When cut no thicker than one inch, these can be broiled in no more than a split second over fifteen minutes, says Inez S. Wilson, home economist, and they are the last word in palate-pleasers. You can be sure that Friend Husband will be delighted when such emergencies arise, if lamb chops are the answer.

Moderate Heat Best

Even though lamb chops are cooked in only a quarter of a turn by the minute hand, they are not cooked at an extremely high temperature, and lest you be tempted to turn the heat on full force, here is a word of warning. Lamb chops present a very, very hot furnace, and they show their resentment by dark, almost blackened, scowls over their faces; whereas if given gentler treatment at a lower temperature, their faces become a delicious brown. The temperature can be regulated for chops, either by the oven regulator, or by the source of heat. Turn the regulator to "high" if you wish, but place the chops about three inches from the flame or element. This distance means you need not stand by the every few seconds. Only one turnover constantly, turning the chops is necessary, so while the broiling is being done, go ahead with the rest of the dinner. Just keep one weather eye on the chops to see when they are browned on one side, ready to be turned. Season with salt and pepper, turn, and by the time the second side is browned, the chops will be done.

If you must place the chops closer than three inches to the flame, be sure to reduce the temperature. As to the amount, let your conscience be your guide. A higher temperature, means too rapid browning, more frequent turning, constant watching, and more bother. Leave the broiler door open, and a hasty glance now and then will instantly tell you when the temperature is too high.

Another Tip on Quick Meal

You may want to prepare your entire fifteen minute meal in the broiling oven. Many a clever housewife has done it. Here is a suggestion. Use the canned and already cooked potato balls. These are a new-comer to many pantry shelves, and are splendid "pinch-hitters" when it comes to quick meals. Or if luck is with you and have some already cooked potatoes on hand, use them by all means. Dip in melted butter and arrange with lamb chops on a fireproof platter. Place these under the broiler for just long enough to heat the potatoes through. Broiled tomato halves or broiled fruits such as pineapple slices, peach halves stuck with cloves, apricots, and spiced apples are other foods which come to the aid of the clever house wife for emergency meals.

But lamb chops need not necessarily be saved for an emergency! There is a certain satisfaction about having meals which are prepared in a jiffy, even though such speed is not essential. So give your self a vacation from the longer methods of cooking, and serve lamb chops frequently, broiled while the coffee perks and the table is being set.

MODERN MAGIC

When a person with a boil or carbuncle anywhere on the body can lie on a couch and take a treatment one can not even feel and this treatment stop the spread of the infection, relieve most of the pain, and cause the boil or carbuncle to open and drain without the use of the knife, this is surely MODERN MAGIC. This is what one treatment with X-Rays will do. The same can be said about the treatment of erysipelas with X-Rays. One such treatment will stop the disease.

New "Super-Chief" for Western Run

THIS gleaming train, of light weight, stainless steel will become the famous "Super Chief" of the Santa Fe railroad when it goes into service early in the spring.

The train, nine cars in length, now is under construction by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia.

Traversing the picturesque lands of the Navajo, it will take over the weekly run between Chicago and Los Angeles—a distance of 2,225 miles—and will cover the route on a schedule of 39 hours, 45 minutes.

Through use of light-weight construction principles, the new train will weigh only half as much as the train it will supersede and will be a radical departure from the conventional design of railway equipment.

The train will be Diesel powered. New features for comfort and convenience have been built into it and it will have a striking decorative design. The nine cars include five sleepers, cocktail and lounge car, baggage and postoffice car, dining car and an observation car.

YOUNG FARMERS—

ent's office Wednesday afternoon. It was decided to use Bagley Registered Mebane seed for the 40 4-H Club boys who will carry out this project in the county in 1937. The seed will be donated to the boys who sign up for the project by business men and interested farmers of Brown county.

The following committee was appointed to raise the money to buy the seed for the boys: Ben Fain, Walter Emison, O. W. McDonald and J. P. Holman.

One important phase of the cotton staple improvement work will be the control of the cotton weevil and the coon flea hopper. Provisions for carrying out this phase of the work have been made. Each boy will be provided with the necessary amount of calcium arsenate and sulphur dust to properly dust his cotton during the growing season.

The rules governing this project provide that each boy must use registered seed, that he must plant his cotton isolated from all other cotton on the farm, that the cotton must be picked and stored in such a manner that it will not get mixed with other cotton, that it must be ginned on cleaned gins and that it must be sold in a special pool. A premium of $5 per bale will be paid for the seed and this seed will be used for foundation stock for the 1938 planting. The boys will also be paid a premium for the staple they produce in 1937. The 4-H Club boys are very enthusiastic about this work and have promised to put the program over in a manner that will be a credit to them and to the business men who are backing them in the work.

The following business men already have subscribed $5 each toward putting over the cotton improvement program: O. W. McDonald, Ed C. Moore, Jr., J. P. Holman, R. E. Ellis, W. L. Trout, M. W. Terry, E. H. Lake, W. L. Ellis, Ben Fain, Walter Emison, C. M. Kilgore, L. M. Hayes, superintendent of Indian Creek School.

The agricultural committee hopes to finish raising the necessary funds for the program by the middle of next week. Mr. Lehmburg said today he feels confident this fine piece of cotton improvement work sponsored by the business men will go over in as successful a manner as the livestock improvement work which was carried out by the 4-H Club boys in 1936-37.

ASSOCIATION TO BE COUNTY DISTRIBUTOR FOR PURINA FEEDS

Southwestern Poultry Association has secured the agency in Brown county for Purina feeds, it was announced this week by Mrs. Lila Salyer, manager. The association will distribute these well known feeds from the plant in Brownwood.

Purina chows are known wherever livestock is raised. The Ralston Purina mills is one of the oldest and most successful millers of stock feeds in the United States, and its various "chows" are favorites.

In addition to a complete line of feeds for poultry, including starting, growing and laying mash, Purina also mills feed for cattle, horses, hogs and has a line of dog feed.

COUNTY AGENT CALLS MEETING OF FARMERS, RANCHMEN SATURDAY

Because of the large number of ranchmen and stock farmers in Brown county who are directly interested in the new government Range Program, County Agent C. W. Lehmburg is calling a meeting of all ranchmen and stockmen interested in the plan on Saturday, March 27, in district court room at 2 p. m. All members of the Brown County Livestock Improvement Association also are invited to attend the meeting.

At the session, new officers for the Association will be elected, the new range program will be fully explained, and ranchmen and stock farmers will be asked to recommend one or several persons for the office of County Range Inspector.
