Water, Inc. Plans Being Finalized

LUBBOCK — Officers of the newly formed Water Inc., were elected Wednesday afternoon, soon after the historic organization received the stamp of approval by an estimated 1,600 persons.

President of the association will be John J. Kendrick, president of the First National Bank of Brownfield. Other officers are K. B. Watson of Amarillo, first vice president; Gaston Wells of Dumas, second vice president; J. M. Collins of Plainview, secretary, and Jim Ed Waller of Lubbock, treasurer.

In the general meeting with Texas and New Mexico farmers and agricultural leaders, directors were elected for 23 districts in Water, Inc. Each director will handle at least two counties and some have as many as six.

There also were 19 directors at large elected by the general membership and two directors elected to serve four counties in Eastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle. Six men were named as advisory directors.

Deaf Smith and Oldham counties will be in District 6, with R. C. (Dick) Godwin of Hereford to be director. A. L. Black of Friona was named director of District 7, to include Farmer and Bailey counties, and Ray Joe Riley of Dimmitt will be director of District 8, Castro and Lamb counties.

Black also was named to serve on a seven-member executive committee of Water, Inc., which will be headquartered in Lubbock.

Policies and by-laws as approved by those present include the study and research, collection and dissemination among the people and public agencies information showing the immediate need for the extra fresh water.

Other objectives are to promote the economic and social well being of the inhabitants of the area now or hereafter served.

Camp Fire Camp Deadline Set

Camp Fire girls in Hereford who are making plans to attend the annual Hereford Council summer camp are advised that preliminary registration must be turned in to the Camp Fire Hut by June 2nd.

Payment of $5 with registration is required. The remainder of the $21 cost of the 5-day camp is to be turned in to the office by July 15th. Mrs. Nita Lea, executive secretary, announced today.

Dates of the camp this year will be August 6-12, and will again be held at Camp Summer Life in Tres Ritos Canyon, N. M.

Summer Band Classes To Start June 5

Directors of the Hereford school bands, Ben Gollehon, Lynn McLarty, LaPlata Jr. High and Jim Priest, Stanton Jr. High, have announced that a summer band program for students who will begin band next year will be conducted next week.

"Students are not required to attend," they stated, "but they are encouraged to do so that they may obtain a 'head start' in band before the coming year."

The program will begin Monday, June 5 and will be climaxed with a concert in Dam-by the non-profit corporation through support of programs for the acquisition of a sufficient water supply for present and future needs of agriculture, ranching industry and municipalities, and to promote, conduct and participate in studies, surveys and research programs for the importation, distribution and storage of water.

Boundaries of Water, Inc., will be established and governed by the board of directors. Five additional districts were set up without boundaries, and will include the Midland-Odessa, and San Angelo area; El Paso to Abilene and up to Wichita Falls.

Financing of Water, Inc. will be by voluntary dues, of which there will be several classifications. The exact level will be determined after a study by a special committee, it was announced.

Joe Moore, executive director of the Texas Water Development Board, estimated that 60 to 70 per cent of the cost of the project will be that of pumping energy to lift the water westward.

Marvin Nichols, a Fort Worth engineer who was also placed on the advisory committee, said "farmers are going to be paying and people in specific areas are going to be paying. The state as a whole will be paying because it will benefit. The federal government already recognizes the importance of the project."

Also speaking of financing, A. C. Verner, president of the First National Bank in Lubbock, said "We do not know how much the individual will have to pay at this time. No matter how much, however, he can expect state and federal assistance."

"We have to care enough to try, and we have to give up enough to succeed," declared Verner.

Brig. Gen. W. T. Bradley, of Dallas, Southwest division engineer with the U. S. Corps of Engineers, said the total storage capacity of all reservoirs in the United States is about 360 million acre-feet of water.

"This seems like a lot," he said, "but it is only a little over one-fourth of the average annual runoff to the oceans. Within the next 30 years, it will be necessary to double or perhaps even triple present storage capacity."

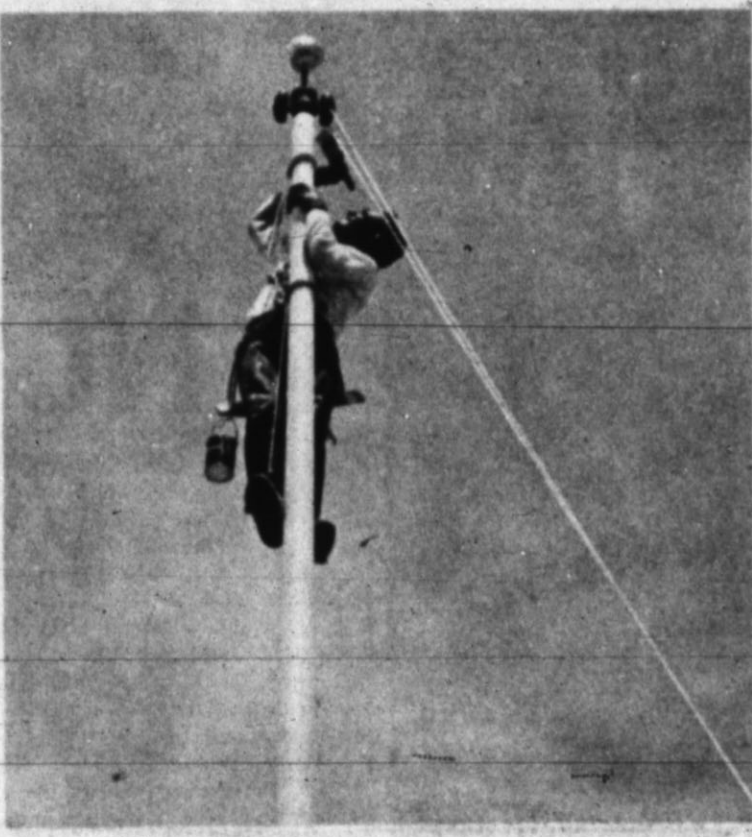

John Thompson of the Bureau of Reclamation said several generalized routes of importation are being studied. "By the end of the calendar year 1967, we are scheduled to have completed a preliminary appraisal of the potential routes of water from the Mississippi River system. We will select from this preliminary appraisal those routes indicated to be the most."

Instruments for the band students are available through many area music dealers and are available through a rental-purchase plan. More information about the instruments may be obtained from calling either director.

Telephone numbers for the directors are Gollehon, 364-3670; McLarty, 364-4064 and Priest, 364-4476.

Memorial Day Closings

Hereford will join the rest of the nation in observing Memorial Day on Tuesday, as all state and local offices plan to close for the occasion.

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary will be selling poppies throughout the day with headquarters in the lobby of the Jim Hill Hotel. The memorial flowers are made by hospitalized United States war veterans and are a symbol of the fighting men in France during World War I.

Flags again will be made available by the American Legion to put on the graves of servicemen, Gold Star Mothers and others who participated in some way during battles by the U. S.

The flags may be picked up at the gate of West Park Cemetery between 9 and 11 a. m. on Tuesday and will be picked up in the cemetery later by Legion members.

The Legion also will put out flags for businessmen who have contacted them about raising and lowering their flags. Anyone wishing to get their flags may find them at Cecil Wilkins Barber Shop.

City Hall, Deaf Smith County Courthouse, Post Office, the city's two banks and all other state and federal offices will be closed in observance of Memorial Day.

KPAN and the Hereford Brand have flags suitable for home display for sale. These are offered at cost as a public service.

Swimming Classes Slated

Registration for all swimming classes sponsored by the Red Cross will be held at the City Pool from 9 a. m. until 12 noon Thursday, June 1.

Mrs. C. E. Rush, water safety chairman of the Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter, said the registration will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

The first two-week session of classes will begin Friday for all beginner and intermediate swimmers. Open to all children who have completed the first grade of school, the classes will be held in two periods — the first from 10 to 11 a. m. and the second from 11 a. m. to noon.

There also will be a class in junior life saving beginning Friday for boys and girls between ages 13 and 15. The classes will run from 10 to 11:30 a. m. Adult swimming and senior life saving classes will begin Friday and will be held from 6 to 7 p. m. Registration for the classes will be held at the time they begin.

Each person is charged a pool fee of $2.25 per session.

Local Beet Growers Attend Denver Confab

A meeting of the representatives of sugar beet growers associations throughout the country was held in Denver, Colorado, Thursday with several area farmers attending.

Earlier in the year, a Mr. Murphy of the United States Department of Agriculture had appointed a grower task force to study and make recommendations concerning the 1968 grower beet contract. The grower task force as appointed is composed of Richard W. Blake, Executive Vice-President of the National Sugar Beet Growers Federation; Malcolm Young, Executive manager of the California Beet Growers Association; Al Bloomquist, executive vice-president of the Red River Valley Sugarbeet Growers Association; Loren Armbruster, Director of growers affairs of the farmers and manufacturers beet sugar association and W. Witherspoon, Executive Secretary and Legal Counsel of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, together with six growers, namely: Howard Hart of Wyoming, Bob Hart of California, Elmer Haines of Michigan, Weinleader of North Dakota, Melton of Minnesota and Jay Boston of Hereford.

A preliminary report of the results, findings and recommendations of the grower task force was presented at this meeting and a general discussion was held concerning the need of grower public relations, grower industry policy committee and acreage allotments for the year 1968.

The grower task force was complimented for the work which they had done up to this date and the matter of public relations, policy committee and acreage allotments were to be given further study by the grower members of the grower groups in the various beet producing states.

Witherspoon and Boston attended the meeting as members of the grower task force. Virgil Marsh, Shirley Garrison, Don Shipley and Don Kimball, members of the Board of Directors of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, also attended the meeting in Denver.

All Citizens Are Invited To Bull Barn

Pioneers from several counties will gather in Hereford Tuesday, Memorial Day, for the annual Mid-Plains Pioneer Day celebration.

The group will meet for business, lunch and visiting at the Bull Barn.

Museum hours have been charged so that visitors can view the recently opened Deaf Smith County Museum.

Hereford Pioneers feel that items and displays in the museum are particularly of interest to the people who will be gathering for the celebration day. Many of those coming have a direct relationship to people and events commemorated in the museum. Many actually contributed time and effort for the displays, as well as locating objects needed to carry out the theme of the turn of the century on the plains of Texas.

Registration will begin at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday for the Mid-Plains celebration under the direction of Pioneer Study Club, being in celebration headquarters, the Bull Barn. The Study Club will also be on hand to supply information and welcome guests.

Mrs. Jessie Ann Davis will have a table in the Bull Barn to collect dues for membership. Anyone desiring membership may acquire this by payment of the annual dues of $1.

Mrs. Cecil Gilliland Williams will call the business meeting to order at 10:30 a. m. She is president of the organization for this year and has supervised arrangements. Planning for the affair has been going on for about five months.

A. J. Schroeter will give the invocation and pioneers will be formally welcomed by Mayor Ray Cowser.

Caldwell Hicks, Garden City, Kansas will respond to the welcome.

Mrs. Jennie Carter Buckner, secretary-treasurer will read minutes and give a treasurer's report.

Other business slated for the day will be recognition of senior citizens, naming of the Senior Citizen of the Year and election of officers. The group will be asked to consider a slate of by-laws drawn up by the executive committee.

Mrs. Corrine Neely is arranging a pageant.

Special awards will be presented to lucky people who have registered, including the oldest man, the oldest woman present and the man and woman who have come the furthest distance.

After the business session, guests and area pioneers will share baskets prepared by local citizens. Pioneers from other parts of the area will be guests of the Hereford citizen pioneers who are to bring lunches. The association will provide plates, and drinks for all who attend.

Tables will be arranged to mark periods of residence. People who have been in the area 30 years will be seated in one area, 40 years next, and so on through 70 years. Last year over 500 people gathered for the celebration.

This year, Kings Manor residents will be special guest and lunches will be taken to pioneers who are not able to travel to the Bull Barn for lunch.

Officers of the organization are Mrs. Williams, president; Mrs. Buckner secretary; and Frank Ball, vice president.

Members of the steering committee include the officers and Mrs. Lucille Olson, Baker Womble, Mrs. Art Manjeot, Frank Bezner, Mrs. Marie Sears, Ezra Norton and Mrs. Carl Williams.

Mrs. Manjeot, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Sears, Mrs. Olson and Womble are serving on the foods committee.

Norton, Bezner and Ball are on the publicity committee and Mrs. Olson, and Mrs. Manjeot are on the program committee.

Mrs. Ann McCullough and Mrs. Delmar Sigle, of the Pioneer Study Club are in charge of refreshments and registration. Homemaing girls will assist the Pioneer Study Club with serving.

Serving on the nominating committee are Frank Bezner, Mrs. Frank Ball, Womble and Mrs. Sears.

Anyone who wishes to attend any or part of the celebration is welcome to attend. There are no residence requirements.

Later that same day, members of the Overstreet class will have their reunion in the form of a dinner at the Caison House. About 15 members of the classes that attended school in Hereford during any or all of 1898, 1899 and 1900 will meet for this event. Norton is in charge of arrangements for this event.

Group Studies Junior College

The education committee of the Chamber of Commerce decided Thursday to keep a finger on the pulse of the needs or likelihood of acquiring a junior college for this immediate area, but felt that a formal study of the situation is not called for at this time.

The committee set August 24 as date for the annual new teacher welcome dinner. The dinner is sponsored by merchants and the chamber. Members meeting at Ward's for a luncheon heard Mrs. Naomi Hopson, news editor of The Hereford Brand, and Johnny Clark Jr., superintendent of public schools, discuss the need and requirements for a junior college.

ing a college at this time would be a tactical error. Clayton has promised Clark that he will keep his eye on the situation and inform local citizens when the time seems propitious. Restrictions as to number of graduates who could be served and population requirements for the city are prohibitive at this time, Clark pointed out. Chairman Leo Forrest appointed Hazen Woods chairman of a committee to keep the project in view and to keep the group abreast of developments toward feasibility of an all-out drive to get a college for the community. Mrs. Jimmie Gillentine and Roy Hartman were named to the committee.

Local Attorney Attends Confab

Wayne Thomas, local well-known lawyer at the Wither- spoon, Aikin, Thomas and Lang- ley law offices here, has just re- turned from attending a three-day legal seminar at the Southern Methodist University Campus in Dallas, Texas. The event, the Southwest Legal Foun- dation, dealt with Trusts and Estates and various Nation- al authorities were on hand to present the various programs. Over 500 persons from a 19- state area were on hand to participate in the seminar.

The Baltimore Orioles led the American League in hitting and fielding last season. They also led in pinch hitting. Their .258 mark beat Kansas City and New York by 20 points.

feasible both from the stand- point of staging of construction work to meet the delivery of water as it is needed and for providing water for the ultimate development."

Thompson also stated that "another key assignment will be the designation of lands that are to be included in the project area. The final important step will be the determination of who will participate in the repayment of the project cost and the extent of that partici- pation."

Charges Filed Against Owners

Dale Lippert, owner of the Hickory Log, was charged with swindle with a worthless check by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office Thursday and a warrant issued for his arrest. Sheriff's deputies said the charge stems from a check written by Lippert for about $60. Also, a government official talked with about 17 employes of the Hickory Log Thursday about back wages allegedly owed them by Lippert. The man told the employes that he could not get the money for them, but could only prosecute if the claims held true.

It was believed that Lippert closed the restaurant in Sugar- land Mall earlier this week and left town.

Rape Is Filed Against Youths

Three Latin American youths, charged with the Thursday night rape of a 14-year-old girl, were released from the Deaf Smith County jail on $3,000 bond each.

The youths, ages 16, 17 and 18, allegedly attacked the Latin American girl about four miles west of Hereford Thursday night in the presence of two other boys.

FROM OUR AUSTIN BUREAU

The Changing Tax-Eaters To Tax-Payers Studied

By LARRY FUHRMANN
Hereford Brand
Austin Bureau Chief

The proposed Texas Fair Labor Standards Act of 1967, authored by Rep. Honore Ligarde, set up a high goal for itself — one that the Texas Legislature apparently thinks can't be attained: "The purpose of the Act is to eliminate the conditions detrimental to the maintenance of minimum standards of living necessary for health and general well-being of workers not covered by the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act without curtailing opportunity for employment."

It just can't be done, lobbyists say. It can't be done because those paying the wages can't afford higher rates. It can't be done because raising wages will put people out of jobs as automation steps in to take their place.

The Texas Fair Labor Standards Act, which would have had a considerable but not a majority) number of supporters in the House of Representatives, called for a $1.25 minimum hourly wage (plus time-and-a-half for overtime) and defined an employer as "any individual or any type of organization which has in its employment five or more employees in its employ at any time during any work week." Provision was made for apprentices, students, and workers with mental and/or physical handicaps; their minimum rate is set at 80 per cent of the regular minimum.

Farmers would have a special clause for employees whose work cannot easily be determined in hours; for the ones whose living quarters are furnished, an employer will just have to pay $25 weekly in cash wages.

This proposed act, blessed by organized labor and cursed by the Texas farmer and small businessman, is bound to slip through the hands of the Texas legislature and be lost among the other dead bills of similar nature. It won't work, they say. But the fact that a minimum wage "might not work" doesn't eliminate the problem of poverty, a problem which not only drains tax dollars in welfare payments (both public and private, direct and indirect) but also keeps a tremendous source of needed manpower submerged. Texas can't do great things unless she has the people to do them. Latin Americans have as long a history, and as rich a culture in the State of Texas as any other group of citizens. What has happened to them?

From the last census, figures show that some 23 per cent of the Latin American population in Texas has had no formal education whatsoever (compared to 1.2 per cent for the Anglo); 57 per cent have attained only a grade school education (31 per cent for the Anglo), and only 16 percent (47 per cent for the Anglo) have received high school diplomas. Latin Americans make up some 15 per cent of the population of the State of Texas; they would be the most significantly affected by a minimum wage law. But would the affect be positive or negative? Some claim that a minimum wage, by reducing the amount of labor wanted by employers, would harm the migrants; others claim that a minimum wage just might help Mom and Dad bring home enough money to keep the kids in school until they have a decent education.

Two maps of Texas — one depicting median family income according to counties, the other showing educational levels — could be laid one on top of the other and the areas of low education and low income would almost exactly coincide. This is almost common knowledge but what steps can be taken to change the situation? Some counties have taken the initiative in cracking down on school attendance rules; the results are yet to be seen. Just making a child attend school does not educate him, especially when he is a part of a migrant family that does not remain in a locale permanently. But it can instill in him the idea that education — whether of the liberal arts or vocational variety — is important; this idea is obviously lacking in his parents.

One Texas legislator is in favor of bypassing the minimum wage and getting right at the root of the problem: the overly abundant supply of agricultural labor. Leave government out of the picture, and of course wages will be depressed in such a situation. The answer could be found in a massive retraining program. It is indeed ironic that employers in good times can't find decent labor while an entire group of people can starve. The want ads are filled with job opportunities — opportunities that don't require a college education, sometimes not even a high school education. They don't always pay terrific wages; but surely when paid steadily throughout the year they would beat agriculture's handout.

MEXICO VISITOR — Dr. George Barrientos of Cosamaloapan, Mexico, left, was in Hereford Wednesday and Thursday visiting feed yards and studying cattle feeding procedures. Dr. Barrientos is manager of four ranches in his home state and is studying methods of feed lot operations in the United States. By MELVIN YOUNG

"The bells ring out; the band strikes up lively tunes; voices of the Community Choir sing of freedom and liberty; leading citizens read from the historical speeches and documents that united the people of America; and hearts join in a prayer of thanksgiving when Hereford, Texas, celebrates the Fourth of July each year on the courthouse lawn."

That's the message on the beautiful color post card showing the crowd of people who gathered on the south lawn of the courthouse last July 4th to observe Independence Day.

The whole thing started when Gene Fooks, local Church of Christ minister, read an article in the Reader's Digest which suggested that all communities should have some type of patriotic celebration or observance on July 4th, and that the bells should ring out all over the nation at high noon.

We have no idea how many communities followed the suggestions of the Reader's Digest, but Hereford, Texas, led by Fooks and other community leaders, did. And it was a great success.

Again in 1967 the Fourth will be observed with a patriotic program on the courthouse lawn. Indeed, advocates of the program have suggested that we do everything within our power to see that the program is carried out in every county of the 18th Congressional District.

Copies of last year's program, the picture post card and a letter of explanation will be mailed this week to every county judge in this Congressional District. This will be followed by regional publicity if possible, and the suggestion has also been made that the citizens of Hereford might help by sending a post card to a friend in one of these counties suggesting a similar program.

Certainly, we think it would be a wonderful gesture if every county in this district participated.

There was a time when almost every community in this part of the county observed the Fourth with picnics, parades, etc., but the trend in the past few years has been away from this practice.

We attribute this in part at least, to the fine automobiles of today, the good roads, and the availability of lakes and other recreational centers. The courthouse is no longer the center of activity and perhaps never will be again.

Certainly fishing and boating have taken the spot light with our young people, and perhaps that is as it should be. But we're thinking that there is still a place for the patriotic observance on the Fourth, and perhaps, with the right sponsorship, we could even revive the community picnic.

Perhaps that's a good project for the Kiwanis Club!

By the way, Tuesday is Memorial Day, and a proper day to fly the American flag.

And if you don't have a flag, drop by the Brand office. They are available here.

Let's make Hereford the "City of Flags" Tuesday as well as on the Fourth. Show your colors — display Old Glory proudly at your home.

One nice thing about an egotist, says the Chicago Tribune, is that he doesn't talk about other people.

If you think we aren't living in a prosperous era, just notice the number of golfers out on weekends who don't walk around the course.

Plans for the rededication of the post office are still in the making. However, you should be able to get your mail in the newly remodeled building sometime around the middle of June.

And that's not far away.

Now that school is out, and most colleges too, we should see a mass exodus out of town for the favorite vacation spots.

Don't know which direction most people will go this year, but the mountains have always been a favorite. By the way, Urrin and Jean Streu have left for their resort at Crested Butte, Colo. and should be ready for the vacationers soon.

With fashion being so much of you... what do you do when a short skirt reveals nothing but a long pale leg? ... And how do you live through those early summer days in a revealing bikini? ... And how do you avoid the bright display of shoulders strap-marked by the sun?

"Bare Allusion" is Frances Denney's answer to all that fashion dares to bare. An exquisite cream make-up for legs and body, the sleek sheath of color covers exposed beauty with a satiny beauty.

In four sun-gold colors, "Bare Allusion" is an absolute dream to apply. You simply smooth it over the area you wish to cover, let it dry for a moment, and there you are! Freckles seem to get lost, tiny veins are hidden. Imperfections and discolorations apparently disappear.

It will not rub off. Does not stain. Waterproof, yet it rinses away easily with a gentle soaping.

Frances Denney "Bare Allusion" Make-Up for Legs & Body is $5.00 in our Cosmetic Department.

Conference Sees Pastor Changes

Two changes in Hereford's Methodist churches resulted from the reading of appointments at the annual conference of the Northwest Texas Conference in Abilene Thursday.

A post for an associate minister was added to the First Methodist Church and the Rev. C.E. Matthews of Lubbock who has been serving as conference youth director, will assist the Rev. Clifford Trotter, present pastor.

The Rev. Noah Arnpriester, who plans to attend St. Paul School of Theology in Kansas City, Mo., will be replaced as pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church by the Rev. Joe Lukonic. The Rev. Mr. Lukonic has been associate pastor of the Polk Street Methodist Church.

Rev. Arnpriester will be leaving Thursday and his replacement is expected this week. Rev. Matthews is expected to move to Hereford July 20.

The Rev. Ross Dunn, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Vega, will become pastor in Fallett, and will be replaced in Vega by the Rev. Al Jennings of the Quitaque Methodist Church.

The event was made possible through funds raised from projects which the organization held throughout the year and it was in honor of the graduating seniors of high school. It was sponsored by underclassmen of the CYO.

The theme for the event was "Old South" as settings created a feeling of the theme. Dinner was served buffet style and it was sponsored by mothers of the parish.

Music to dance by was supplied by a well-known group, "The Tiaras."

Wreck Results Are Minor

H.D. CHATTER New Fabric Has Many Fibers

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Many new clothing fabrics, weaves and processes appear on the market. One of the newest is Malimo, which is actually the construction of the fabric and can be made from all fibers. The fabrics are just beginning to appear on the market and we will be seeing more of them in the future. This release from an Extension Specialist will give a good explanation of it.

A fabric that is genuinely new in the eyes of the consumer has been recently developed. The tradename of the fabric construction is Malimo. Malimo produces a new breed of fabric — neither woven nor knit nor what is commonly considered a non-woven group.

As in woven fabrics, two layers of yarn are normally used to make Malimo cloth — a sheet of warp or lengthwise yarns and a sheet of filling or crosswise yarns. Rather than being woven together, the two layers of yarn are merely placed one on top of the other and passed beneath a needle bar. The needle bar which stitches or sews the two layers together. Malimo fabric can be sewn either with lock stitch or a tricot knit stitch. Malimo can be made to look like a knit or woven fabric.

Malimo fabrics have many desirable characteristics. Due to its ability to produce cloth 20 times faster than conventional looms, has the potential for reducing the cost of fabrics. Evidence indicates that many of the Malimo fabrics can be made fully machine washable and dryable. The home laundry can look forward to handling Malimo fabric with no more than the normal number of problems. Malimo fabrics are wrinkle-resistant and have a high tear strength when compared with an equivalent woven structure. The fabrics have a potential for long wear. Malimo fabrics have the drapability and elasticity of knit while offering the stability and tailorability of woven fabrics. Malimo may fill a need between knit and woven fabrics. There are no limitations as to the fiber content of Malimo fabrics.

It appears that this fabric has a definite place to fill in American textiles. It will not replace all or, perhaps, not many woven or knit fabrics, but on the basis of cost reduction and its desirable characteristics, widespread use seems assured. Costs have increased this year at many colleges, much of the total college expense can be found in a girl's closet.

According to Rheba Boyles, Extension clothing specialist at Texas A&M University, wardrobe costs for women were estimated by a survey to range from $200 to $500. Incoming freshmen generally bought more than the returning upperclassmen, according to the Fairchild News Service study.

Most of the freshmen shopped at home using the family charge accounts, and left fill-ins and fad items to be purchased in local college shops, upper-class women tended to wait until their return to campus because they were familiar with the local stores.

The survey further revealed that the longer a woman is in college, the less she buys. As she approaches graduation, wardrobe content decreases and types of garments tend to be less campus-oriented in favor of clothing which can be used for a job.

The last few weeks, we have had to review geography to remember the rivers and river basins. The Lubbock meeting on Water, Inc. had much information presented in three and a half hours. A few ideas: The water will need to be brought 800 miles and raised 3800 to 4000 feet. Where Bud and Rene Morrison live in northwest Deaf Smith County, the elevation is 4200 feet. So, if they want irrigation-water, it will be raised 4200 feet. Land in Deaf Smith County, I presume average price has advanced from $15 in 1939 to $202 in 1967. The cost of moving the water to West Texas will be great and the cost of the energy will be 60 to 70 percent of the total cost. To bring water to the arable land, it is estimated that income would be increased by 100 million dollars.

The white chocolate may need explaining. It contains no cocoa fiber, so it is probably safe if you are allergic to chocolate. Actually, this ivory colored coating is not chocolate at all, but the name "white chocolate" has become the popular and accepted term for it. It is made with cocoa butter which gives it a mild "chocolate" taste.

Eggs are cheaper and more plentiful than they have been for a long time. This has prompted some to freeze eggs for later use. Usually the summer month have greater egg production than cooler months. Eggs freeze well if a few rules are followed.

Frozen eggs will keep in good condition from 9 to 12 months. Freeze fresh clean, chilled eggs. Freeze in quantities in which eggs are likely to be used at one time. Eggs are broken out of the shell for freezing.

Add sugar, salt or syrup in recommended proportions according to the kind of recipe which the eggs are likely to be used. For example, add salt to eggs for scrambling, sugar or syrup to those to be used in desserts.

WHOLE EGGS
Break eggs into bowl; stir with a fork enough to break yolks and mix them well with the whites. Do not beat. Strain through a sieve. To 1 cup whole

The Sunday Brand, Hereford, Texas, Sunday, May 28, 1967 eggs (about 5 medium-sized eggs) add one of the following: 1/2 tablespoon sugar 1/2 tablespoon corn cyrup and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

EGG YOLKS
Separate eggs. Stir yolks with a fork to break them. Strain through a sieve. To 1 cup of egg yolks (about 16 eggs) add one of the following: 1 tablespoon sugar 1 tablespoon corn syrup and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

EGG WHITES
Strain through a sieve. Freeze without stirring and do not add anything. Package and freeze immediately.

Place containers in cold running water, in refrigerator or thaw at room temperature. Mix contents of package thoroughly before using. Plan to use thawed eggs within 24 hours. Do not refreeze.

TABLE FOR CORRECT MEASUREMENT
One tablespoon yolk is equal to one egg yolk.
Two tablespoons whites are equal to one egg white.
Three tablespoons yolks and whites are equal to one whole egg.

Serve a soft custard that's smooth-as-satin, over warmed canned apple slices. You might heat them with a few drops of maraschino cherry liquid.

To tell if steak is the right doneness, cut a slit in the steak with a sharp knife. Cut near the bone, if there is one. Look at the color inside. If it's red, the steaks are rare; pink is medium and brown is well done.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

Price Picks Off Prize Position

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Texas' two Republican U. S. representatives are making themselves well known among their colleagues although they are minority party freshmen.

Houston's Rep. George Bush got off to a flying start with an appointment to the House Ways and Means Committee, a coveted assignment.

Rep. Robert Price of Pampa got a far-better-than usual assignment, the House Agriculture Committee. With a background in ranching and representing a area, no committee could have suited him better.

Both Texans assumed leadership roles — to the maximum extent possible for first term legislators.

Creation on April 13 of a House bi-partisan Committee on Standards of Official Conduct — often referred to as an ethics committee, resulted in part from efforts of the new Houston congressman.

On Feb. 27, with the Adam Clayton Powell and Sen. Thomas Dodd cases making almost daily headlines, Bush got time on the House floor. He acted as leader of 44 freshmen Republicans in calling for a new approach to controlling the conduct of House members.

Price is in the midst of a campaign to curb imports of cheap foreign meats. He is getting bi-partisan support, especially from lawmakers throughout the West.

In April he wrote to a number of colleagues from livestock-growing states, about the increasing rate of meat imports. He enclosed the draft of a bill for closer controls, and invited them to introduce an identical or similar measure.

Just after he sent out the letter, the House adopted a rule which would permit members to co-sponsor legislation — as has been done for years in the Senate.

Prior to that, all House bills had to be individually introduced, with a result that scores of measures often were offered and formally processed with their separate number but different only in the name of the sponsor.

Eleven congressmen promptly told Price they would like to join him. The bill was introduced by the Texan with his name listed first and that of the others as co-sponsors. Among the co-sponsors was one Democrat, Bush was among others. Ten states were represented.

Within days, similar or identical bills were introduced by 13 individuals — the new rule did not bar this practice. Among them was one by Chairman Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee, to which measures relating to import regulations are referred.

The Price bill was introduced April 27 and bore the number H. R. 9375; that by Mills was dropped in the hopper the next day and, by coincidence the 100th subsequent measure (involving varied subjects) introduced. It bore the number

H. R. 9475.

As a member of the House Agriculture Committee, Price in his public addresses is taking a leaf from his fellow Texan who is chairman of the group — Rep. W. R. Poage, Waco, Democrat.

He is pointing to the decline in farm prices in the past 15 years when incomes in every other segment of the economy have been going up.

Stressing the increased prices farmers and ranchers have to pay for machinery and other supplies and nothing that the farm population is

Gibson-Dziuk Vows Are Exchanged In Eldorado

Miss Eldra Rose Gibson and Mr. James Joseph Dziuk exchanged nuptial vows yesterday evening, May 27 in a double ring ceremony.

Rev. Cecil Kleber read the ceremony in Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church in Eldorado, Texas.

Mrs. Dziuk is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Gibson of Eldorado. Mr. Dziuk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dziuk Sr. of Hereford and is a resident of Canyon.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father was attired in a white floor length chantilly lace gown with neckline and sleeves beaded with pearls and sequins. The white floor length peau-de-soul coat was sleeveless, the lace dress sleeves being accented by the mantilla of matching lace. The mantilla hung from beaded flowers. She wore white peau de soul shoes and carried a white handkerchief belonging to her grandmother. Her jewelry was the same as was worn by her mother in her wedding — pearl earrings and pearl necklace. The bride's mother designed and made the bridal gown.

The bridal bouquet was white roses. The bride's attendants were Miss Ann Dziuk, San Antonio, maid of honor, Miss Jan Cook, Pampa and Mrs. Clyde Thackerston Jr., Odessa. Their floor length gowns were of royal blue peau de soul with royal blue chiffon bows trailing to the floor in a train effect. Each carried a long stemmed pink rose. Mr. Bob Dziuk Hereford was best man with other attendants being Mr. David Dziuk, Scyracuse, Kansas and Mr. Conrad Urbanczyk Jr., Hereford.

Ushers were Mr. Artis Cansler, Christoval, Mr. Sidney Urbanczyk, Hereford, Mr. Jody Wadley and Mr. Gordon Schrank Eldorado.

Traditional nuptial music was supplied by the A Capella Choir of St. Ann's Church of Sonora, Mass., a commentary was given by Mr. Edward Dziuk Jr.

Servers assisting Rev. Kleber during the Mass were Mr. Steven Dziuk and Chris Dziuk, Hereford.

Following the ceremony, a garden reception was given by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Parker, 211 Gillis Ave., Eldorado.

The bride's table carried out colors of royal blue and white and had as a center of interest a layered cake with gold trim, symbolizing the marriage in Christ (intertwined rings and Christ's name in Greek letters formed into a cross). The cake was on a crystal cake stand belonging to the bride's late great-grandmother.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Artis Cansler, Christoval, Misses June Deaton, Jan Wagley and Paula Mace, Eldorado and Mrs. Ronnie Williams, San Angelo, registered guests.

For traveling, the bride chose a white linen dress trimmed with blue lace with a blue and white matching coat. She wore a white straw hat and had white shoes and bag. Mrs. Dziuk is a graduate of Eldorado High School and attended West Texas State University where she was majoring in drama. Mr. Dziuk is a senior student at WTSU and is a graduate of Hereford High School. He is member of Phi Mu Alpha Music Fraternity and business.

The couple will be at home in Canyon after June 6.

Out of town guests included Lonnie Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Northcutt and Mrs. Joe Everidge, Comanche, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Frazier, Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Bill German, Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hubbard and Bruce, Amarillo, Mrs. David Dziuk, Scyracuse, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. John Katara Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. John Echols, White Deer, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Reinart and family, Mrs. Edward Dziuk and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dziuk and Jan, Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Dziuk and family, San Antonio, Stanley Maczygamba and family San Marcus and Mrs. Lancaster and Bobby Lancaster Lubbock.

Seniors End Year With Traditional Party

All night affair featured dancing to the Tiaras and games
With Snoopy and Peanuts

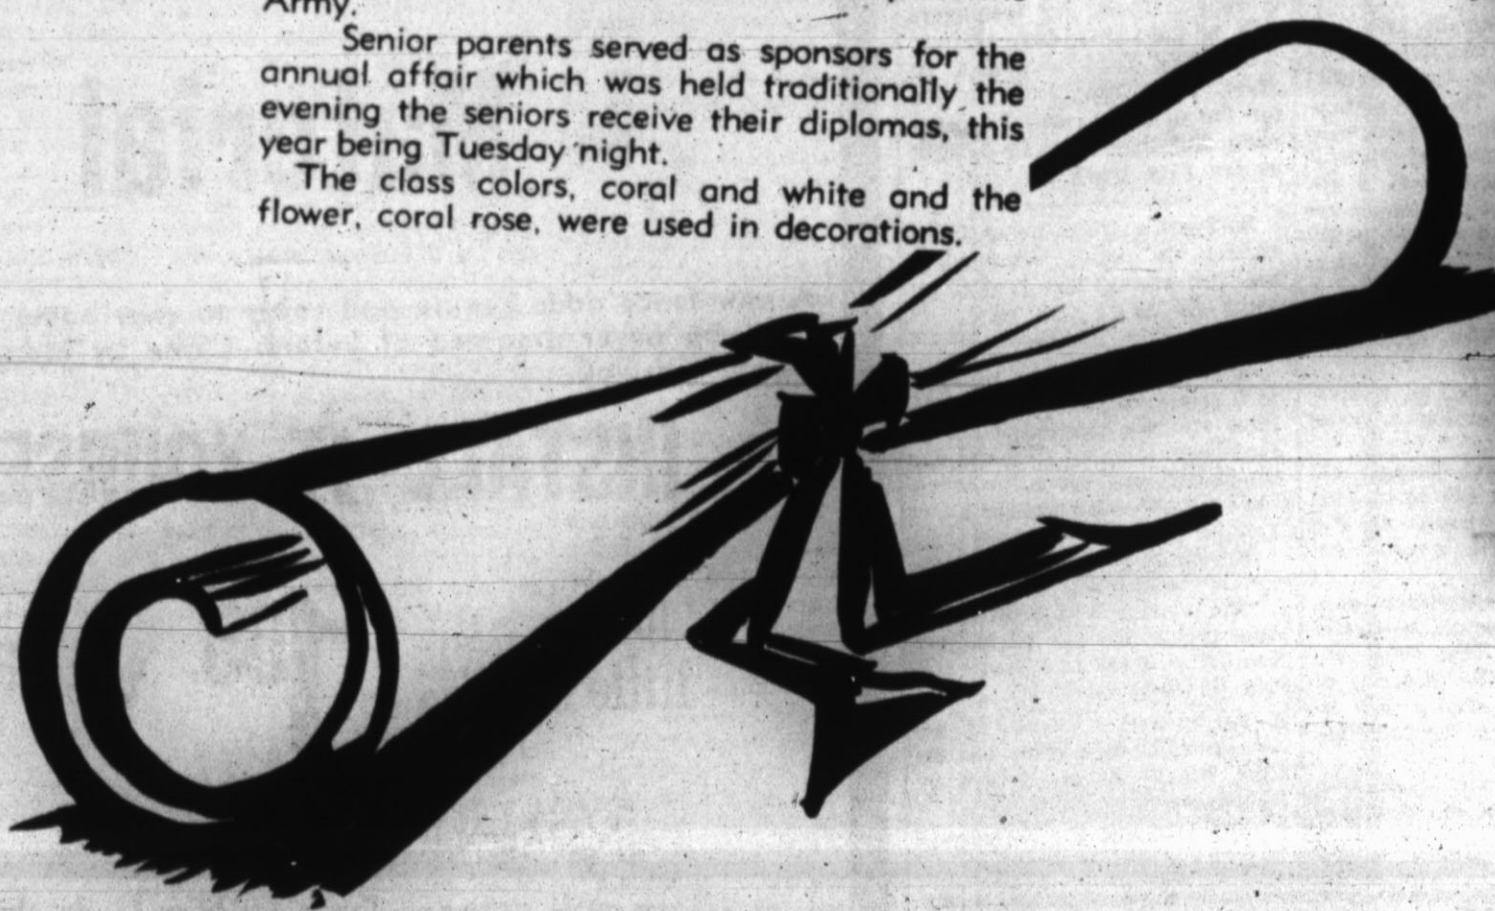

Diplomas in miniature gave the schedule of events for the evening. To get into the party, held at Hereford Country Club, seniors and guests walked through a huge "gold senior ring" and moved into an evening of fun — an evening beginning long before midnight and lasting for many hours after midnight.

The Tiaras supplied music for dancing from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. With games of ping-pong, bingo and giving a break and relaxation from a strenuous evening. Breakfast was served buffet style from 2 a.m. until 2:30 a.m. and the party lasted until 4:30 a.m. with the showing of a movie "The Wackiest Ship in the Army."

Senior parents served as sponsors for the annual affair which was held traditionally the evening the seniors receive their diplomas, this year being Tuesday night.

The class colors, coral and white and the flower, coral rose, were used in decorations.

Wax Train Is Big Bend Sight

ALPINE, Tex. (AP) — "There they came, down that mountain-side. About 300 burros all in a line, snaking down the side of the mountain.

"It was about dawn and the sun was hitting them full-on. One of the pretties sights you could ever see."

The rancher was describing the approach of a large "wax train" in the Southwest Texas mountains.

The wax, extracted in the bush by a crude process from the candellilla weed, was bought by the rancher for 26 cents a pound. A buyer in the Big Bend would pay him 30 or 31 cents. If he took the load to Marfa or Alpine, he would get 33 or 34 cents, depending on the market.

This curious industry is carried on mainly in the Big Bend country of Texas and in Mexico. It has been going on for many years but the candellilla is becoming harder and harder to find.

"Wax camps" nowadays are often 40 to 50 miles from civilization. There is no electricity, no juke boxes, no T. V. access is by horseback and transport is by burro.

Wax from the candellilla is one of the best of the vegetable waxes. It is said to be second in quality only to the carnauba, a species of palm found in South America.

When refined, candellilla is mixed with carnauba for the final product. The result is high-quality wax, much harder than beeswax, for example.

The process starts in a wax camp. Most of the workers are wetbacks, Mexican nationals who have crossed the Rio Grande without visa or permit.

Usually a couple of men, depending on the size of the operation, stay in the camp to handle the chemistry end of the business. Anywhere from 5 to 100 of their fellows comb the rugged area, pulling up the candellilla weed and loading it on to burros.

The men at camp build wood

WORK AROUND farms continued at a fast pace as farmers from around this area prepare for harvest season on various crops. Harvested from July until the end of the year. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Onions, potatoes, cabbage, lettuce, cucumbers and many other vegetables are fires under large vats filled with water. When the candellilla-laden burros come in, the weed is dumped into a boiling vat. A wooden or metal frame is pressed hard on the weed, squeezing it to the bottom of the vat.

After the weed is boiled under this pressure for about 15 minutes, a small amount of acid is poured into the solution. This breaks the wax loose from the plant and its roots, and it rises to the top of the vat.

A worker skims the wax off the top and dumps it into a large barrel of clean boiling water. It is then boiled for hours. When the head man figures the wax has boiled long enough, he knocks out a peg about 18 inches from the bottom of the barrel. Most of the impurities, such as ashes and wood chips, have by this time settled to the bottom.

Workers using cans and buckets catch the wax spewing from the hole, and pour it into small trenches dug in the ground. Hours later, when the wax hardens, they take large rocks and break it into chunks three or four inches square.

These chunks are stuffed into burlap sacks and loaded onto the backs of the burros. The wax train then moves out of the mountains and to a ranch. The American buyer weighs each sack, tallies up the bill, and pays the Mexicans, who return to the mountains.

The rancher loads the wax into a truck and re-sells it.

Most of the Mexicans involved live in caves they have dug in the side of a mountain. Sometimes they splice together a lean-to.

But nothing is permanent, because once an area has been stripped completely of candellilla the camp moves elsewhere.

The U. S. Border Patrol apparently is not too concerned about these men who have entered the country illegally. They seem to be pretty much left alone as long as they stay in the Big Bend region.

But the officers are alert to possible narcotics shipments, with the dope perhaps packed in with the wax.

Ranchers, too, are aware of the danger, and many check each sack to make sure they are not being implicated in a crime.

Strange stories accompany this strange business. One account tells of an 80-year-old wetback working in the Castolon area who was picked up by the Border Patrol.

Officers drove him the 100 miles to Presidio, then deported him to Ojinaga. They later found that he had walked all the way back to Castolon and resumed his occupation in the wax camp.

KAYE BACK IN A PLAY

LONDON (AP) — Comedian Danny Kaye is to appear at the Chichester Drama Festival during August in "The Servant of Two Masters."

The Carlo Goldoni 18th Century comedy returns Kaye to stage theatricals for the first time since 1941 when he appeared on Broadway in "Let's Face It." If successful, the production directed by Peter Coe is here in the West End and then in New York.

Local Speedway Is Thrill Filled

Hereford Speedway was again filled with stock car racing excitement last Sunday and more of the same is expected for today's races.

Jim Culpepper's hot running car, number 58C, was rolled three times while running the trophy dash as the car lost a wheel while on the final lap of the race. Culpepper, however, was not hurt, as safety devices and a well-built car protected him from any injury. Culpepper stated that he will be back with his car in running form again today, though.

The trophy dash was won by Bobby Byers as C. B. Lunsford came in second and David Watson third.

In the first heat, Don Scott took top honors as he bested Bill Byers and Bill Paetzold, second and third respectively. Bobby Byers took first place in the second heat and he was followed close behind by George Heard and Lunsford.

The first semi saw Frank Easton take the winning spot as he was followed by Harold Sergeant and Junior Polk.

Lunsford again placed in the winning circle as he took first place this time in the second semi. Scott and David Watson followed close behind, second and third respectively.

The main event of the day was won by Sam Morgan as he bested Lunsford, Easton, Heard and Sergeant for top honors.

Trophy girl Sunday was Miss Marilyn Tice.

Today's races will see all cars shuffled around and moved into different starting positions. Some slower cars will be moved into faster positions and faster cars will be moved back.

Starting time for the race is 2:00 p. m. and admission is $2 per person. Children under 12 years of age accompanied by their parents are admitted free.

Races previously called for Memorial Day have been put off until the following Sunday. A special event for teen-agers will be run that day.

The 1966 Ford will also be given away June 4th. Tickets for the drawing are 50 cents each and they may be bought at the race track.

Michigan's Rick Sygar set a kicking 24 points after touch-down record last season by down. He didn't miss once.

In one case, involving an injury to a young woman's knee, the defense attorney objected to an inspection by the jury. He noted that the plaintiff was young, charming, and beautiful—and that the jurors were all men.

But the court overruled his objection, commenting: "She is entitled to resort to the same proofs that she might have resorted to if she had been aged, ugly, and repulsive."

CLAREMONT — Van E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe H. Smith, Jr., 216 Avenue B, Hereford, is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree at Claremont Men's College, which will hold its 20th Annual Commencement Sunday, June 11. Speaker will be Sen. Charles Percy (R. Ill.).

Claremont Men's College, the intermediate-sized college of the six Claremont Colleges, offers its students a broad liberal arts curriculum, with special emphasis in public affairs. Over two-thirds of this year's graduating class plan to go on to graduate study.

Van Smith is a graduate of Shattuck School, majored in history at CMC. His senior thesis was entitled "Two Aspects of the Decay of English Feudalism." He served as student body president 1966-67; will attend Yale Divinity School.

Christian Church Moves Confab

FORT WORTH — Site of the 81st annual assembly of the Texas Association of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ), scheduled to be held in Dallas May 14, 1968, has been shifted to Municipal Auditorium, Austin, on the same dates.

The announcement was made today by Dr. T. T. Swearingen, TACC executive director, here, sary because of conflicting dates between the Texas Christian Churches' annual meeting and The General Conference of The Methodist Church which will begin next year in late April and run through May 5.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

What Price Beauty?

Skin deep or not, beauty is precious to most people. Both men and women, as a rule, are acutely conscious of their physical attractiveness—or lack of it.

So it is not surprising that people hurt in accidents often seek damages not just for injury to their limbs but also for injury to their looks.

Should that kind of compensation be awarded at all? The law's answer is yes. Even though a scar is not disabling in the same way as a limp or an ache, disfigurement can be a real and serious handicap.

The biggest problem lies in deciding how much the damages should be. How do you put a price on the harm done by a scar?

The courts generally take into account both the characteristics of the victim and the characteristics of the scar itself. Thus, in particular cases, the following facts have lent weight to a damage claim:

- 1) that the victim was a girl ("scars on the face of a female are ordinarily regarded as more objectionable than on the face of a male");
- 2) that the victim had a job (as an actor) in which appearance mattered a great deal;
- 3) that the scar had an unpleasant side effect (distorted a young man's smile).

On the other hand, damages will be less if the scar can be mended by simple plastic surgery—or if it is in a place where it would not ordinarily be seen.

What if the mere display of a scar to the jury would be shocking or indecent? That could improperly inflame the emotions of the jury. Such a display may be forbidden, usually at the discretion of the trial judge.

However, in most cases, the judge will rely on the jurors to draw fair conclusions from what they see.

Common Sense Needed By Home Gardeners

The home gardening season is in full sway across the nation again this month. After long months of winter, followed by spring rains, millions of American householders are back at the annual battle with crab grass and insects in the perennial effort to add a touch of natural color and beauty to the American scene. The American Medical Association recommends gardening as good therapy and good exercise for almost everyone. Gardening also entails some hazards of health and safety, most of which can be avoided. If you have done nothing more strenuous than sit by the fire most of the winter, by all means take it easy for the first few weekends of gardening. Give your muscles a chance to regain strength gradually, rather than trying to do too much on the first day out. Gardening often brings cuts, thorns, sharp tools. First aid usually consists of washing the scratch with soap and water and applying an adhesive bandage. Let it bleed a little to wash away impurities. Deeper cuts may require medical attention. Tetanus germs are harbored in the soil, particularly if barnyard fertilizer is used. The home gardener who fails to protect himself with tetanus immunization is courting lockjaw. Power tools, particularly lawn mowers, are standard equipment for the modern home gardener. They save many an aching back, but they are potentially dangerous. Your power lawn mower comes with instructions on its safe use. Study them carefully. If you're in doubt, check with a mechanic as to potential hazards of power tools. Insect sprays and powders, plus poisons that kill weeds, are useful adjuncts to gardening. These, also, have inherent hazards if improperly or carelessly used. Once again, read the directions, especially the warnings. Bees, wasps and spiders are out for the spring season, too, and now and then one of them may sting you. For most of us, a sting is painful and causes swelling, but it isn't serious. If you are one of those individuals with an allergy to insect bites, ask your doctor about the desensitizing injections. Penn State will face Army and Navy on its 1968 football schedule.

Six Flags Opens To Full Schedule

ARLINGTON: Beginning Saturday, May 27 Six Flags Over Texas commences its summer schedule of operating seven days a week from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. through Labor Day, September 4. The popular historical-theme entertainment center located midway between Dallas and Fort Worth has been operating on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays only. Angus G. Wayne, Jr., founder of Six Flags and President of Great Southwest Corporation, owner/operator of the Park, called the 1967 Spring operations "the best ever. In 1966 we opened on April 18 and drew 162,468 visitors through May 22. This year we opened on April 29 and, despite six days of rain and six less operating days, we still drew 158,315 visitors through May 21." "We also broke the all-time, single-day attendance record, with 28,822 visitors on May 8, topping the previous high of 27,856 set June 2, 1964," Wayne added.

Three of Penn State's 1971 football games will be against Navy, Air Force and Army.

TEXANS IN SPORTS Coaches Deserve To Be Recognized

By HAROLD RATLIFF Associated Press Sports Writer

Boody Johnson, a little man with powerful legs who flamed across the football horizon in the first years of the Texas Interscholastic League, died at Waco the other day. It pointed up the failure of the state in paying tribute to one deserving of its accolade. This is a criticism particularly of the Texas High School Coaches Association, a fine organization that is assiduous in honoring its members but pays little attention to those who helped make those members great. The coaches association has what it calls a Hall of Honor. Coaches are rewarded for their service, not on how many games and championships they have won so much as their contributions to the association. This is well and good but what of the legends of great players? Nothing has been done to honor the greats of schoolboy sports. The answer is that there is a Texas Sports Hall of Fame that pays tribute to those who won the games and the glory. So let it do it. But the Texas Sports Hall of Fame does not honor schoolboy athletes. Only a coach has gotten into the Hall of Fame — the late Paul Tyson, who won so many titles and produced so many great athletes at Waco, and who gained national note because he was rated by such great coaches as Knute Rockne and Pop Warner as one of the finest gridiron tutors of all time.

Robinson Attains Membership In Round Table

Chicago, Ill. — Local life insurance salesmen who have attained membership in the 1967 Million Dollar Round Table, the life insurance industry's international organization of top salesmen, have been announced, and include J. W. Robinson, Hereford.

Round Table membership, each year it is attained, is an important career milestone. The organization provides an outstanding idea exchange forum for top life insurance agents who are dedicated to the furthering of their knowledge and the sharpening of their ability to serve the insuring public.

To be a member, a person must have written one million dollars of new life insurance, paid for in 1966 in accordance with the strict rules of the organization, although Life Members may have earned the honor by fulfilling previous qualifications. Less than two per cent of all life insurance agents qualify for the Round Table in any given year.

A Town Needs To Keep Investments At Home —Including Its Youth

What makes Hereford different from other West Texas towns? Why does our community grow while the national average is on the decline?

These are two questions we run across from day to day, from place to place and; needless to say, we cannot provide an honest answer any more than can the bureaucrats who are spending so much time and so much money in their drive to cure America's ills which appear to stem from a tremendous mad dash into the nation's cities.

We were tremendously impressed, though, with the article in last Sunday's Brand which reported the activities of a grandmother helping her daughter prepare for graduation from Hereford High school. The grandmother graduated from Hereford High in 1914, her daughter graduated from Hereford High in 1946, and now her granddaughter followed suit in 1967.

The remarkable thing about the situation is the fact so many other Hereford

Living Enriched By Appreciation

Around newspaper offices for 10, these many years, there has been a general understanding that people will complain when they are unhappy. This, in turn, leads most editors and publishers to presume that a lack of wholesale complaints pretty well provides endorsement. Recently, however, we had a letter from a wonderful woman, who has meant much at Hereford and Deaf Smith County, which turned the tables. This lady was complimenting us, and even indicated that she thought we might occasionally do something to help the community along its way.

Truly, it was a wonderful letter, and it arrived at a time when we needed encouragement most. It is being placed in our personal files as a permanent record. We even hope, some day, to achieve some of the things of which this lady believes us capable.

Most striking of all about the letter, though, was the fact that the lady took time from her busy schedule to pay a compliment where she honestly felt one was due. How many of us, when we appreciate something, fail to even tell the person responsible — much less sit down and write a letter? Inconsistency along this line appears to be a general American failing. If things go wrong, we scream to high heaven, but when they go right we take them for granted.

How much better would this world be if we took the time to offset our complaints with "equal time" in offering words of appreciation — where those words are deserved?

The idea is basic, and probably reached a climax under the title of "Pollyanna" long before Dale Carnegie built a fortune with much the same gospel. It is something all of us well know, but too often forget to practice.

Yes, we appreciate this letter from a fine and gracious lady but, even more, we thank her for once again awakening within us that basic feeling of appreciation and friendship which has contributed so much toward making this community and this nation much better and finer places in which to live.

youngsters have followed the same pattern of making their homes in the community in which they were reared. The circumstance dates back 50 years, and is to be encountered in the business world as well as area farms and ranches. Today, you will find these "home-grown" citizens in all walks of life in the community, including our schools, Chamber of Commerce committees, our city commission, county commissioners, and other posts of importance. What's more, many of these young people hold college degrees and have often turned down excellent offers in other parts of the country.

It just happens that they like Hereford, and they feel that the pastures grow a little greener here than in other places. The fact that we have found jobs for them, that we have accepted them as "doers", and that we are proud of them speaks well indeed for the entire community.

This factor undoubtedly contributes much to the community and may, in fact, provide one of the big reasons Hereford has continued to grow in the face of declining national population averages of most other small cities.

While parents view their children in one light, they are often prone to overlook the tremendous investment which their neighbors have made in our children. This is especially true of education. It costs, in our district, approximately $6,000 for each youngster who graduates from high school. With 180 graduates, this means that we have $1 million, eighty thousand dollars invested in the 1967 graduating class, plus what the parents have individually invested.

Seen objectively, raising children is very much like any other crop. If we pay all expenses until the crop is mature, then let some of our neighbors harvest it for us, as a community, are the losers. On the other hand, if these young men and young women are attracted back here to make their homes, our investment constitutes the best money we can spend, because we will continue to boast well educated, well trained citizens capable of competing with other areas.

Because those who live in a community know it best, including shortcomings along with assets, the fact that so many of our youngsters choose to come back home to live is undoubtedly the finest compliment any community can receive.

So far, we have been most fortunate in this field — and we hope the trend never changes.

Where Can A Kid Ride His Horse

Horses, despite their magnificent and glorious contribution to the West, are animals which most of us can take or leave. Since use of the automobile has become so widespread, the horse is no longer our chief mode of transportation, and for a while it seemed that the animal was destined to follow the buffalo into extinction.

In recent years, however, the horse has been on the comeback trail, thanks to Riders' Club enthusiasts, interested breeders and thousands of youngsters who seem to most appreciate the animal.

The horse still faces handicaps, even in the sporting or hobby field, however, and prima among the list of complaints from modern equestrians is that of "nowhere to ride".

One lady told us recently that took a group of young people out to Buffalo Lake on a riding junket, only to find that the area is prohibited to horses as a federal park. Veterans Park, she reports, is so filled with beer cans that horseback riding in the area is unpleasant as well as dangerous. Unless you own a ranch or farm, says the lady, you can seldom find a convenient location in which to enjoy the sport.

All of which sounds to us like a challenge to at least one or more of our enthusiastic Chamber of Commerce committees. With the tremendous growth of rider clubs in this area fast spreading into a national sport, it does appear that some alert West Texas community might well become a focal point of equestrian activities. In addition to providing recreation for our own residents, we might easily attract interest of riders in other communities, large and small.

We have almost as many riding enthusiasts around here as golfers and, although both groups are probably the world's worst complainers, it does seem that we may have neglected the "horse set" a bit in the rush of things.

Probably no other place in the nation owes more to the horses than does this particular area, and should we as a community see fit to lend his kind a helping hand at this crucial time it would definitely seem to be in line.

Big Computers Produce Varied National Figures

By BERT MILLS
WASHINGTON, D. C. — Uncle Sam uses about 2,600 computers at an annual cost for purchase, rental and operation of about $1.2 billion, excluding military and other classified activities. Here are some of the facts and figures these monsters have produced recently:

Three industries which did not exist on a commercial basis in 1945 — computers, television, and jet transport, now contribute about $20 billion to the gross national product and supply about 1 million jobs.

An average family of four persons consumes over two and one half tons of food per year. It would take eight freight trains stretching all the way from New York to San Francisco to carry these groceries.

Three out of four Americans today are too young to remember World War I, and nearly two out of three had not yet been born when the stock market crash occurred in 1929.

The dollar lost 6.3 percent of its buying power between 1964 and 1966. The cost-of-living increase since the base period of 1957-59 has been 15 percent, which means it takes $600 now to buy what cost only $510 eight years ago.

There are more than four times as many widows as widowers; in 1966 the figures were 8.9 million women who had lost their husbands and 2 million men whose wives had died.

23 Million Get Social Security
More than 11 percent of Americans receive Social Security benefit payments each month. Not all are elderly pensioners. Of 23 million recipients, more than 10 percent are young widowed mothers and their children who may receive as much as $368 a month and as much as $75,000 in a lifetime.

Farm population of the U. S. has declined an average of 5 percent a year since 1960. Rural residents now number only about 11.5 million or one American out of every 17.

Gap between the ages of brides and bridegrooms is narrowing. Between 1962 and 1966, the age by which three out of four women marry rose from 22.2 to 22.8, while that of men fell from 26.4 to 25.8. There are more women than men in the age bracket which accounts for most marriages.

Two states allow 3-year-olds to hold restricted driving licenses and 15 others issue permits at age 14. In 19 states, persons illiterate in English can obtain a license to drive. Federal standards have been proposed to encourage states to toughen their auto license laws. Included would be reexamination at least every four years.

School enrollment has risen 19 percent in the past six years. There are now over 55 million students registered in U. S. schools and colleges. That is 30 percent of the population between ages 5 and 34.

MARCH OF EVENTS

BIG U. S. PROBLEMS ARE NOW THREE-FOLD VIETNAM WAR, RIGHTS, AND ALSO URBAN DECAY

By HENRY CATHCART
Central Press Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Has the United States unknowingly entered a protracted period of troubles which defy solution? This question, while completely contrary to the national character, is being asked with increasing frequency, by thinking people who make it their business to observe the current American scene.

The troubles, or problems they have in mind concern the cities, the races, and the war in Vietnam. While none bears directly on the others, they combine to form an indefinable feeling of pessimism among the American people, who throughout their history have been noted for unbounded optimism and faith in the future.

Regardless of one's views on Vietnam, the intensive press and television coverage being given the fighting cannot help but depress Americans. Not since the Civil War has the American public been brought so close to the horrors of war. If the United States was conducting a military effort that held promise of a conclusion, the public attitude probably would be different. However, the bleak outlook for an end to the fighting is a major contributing force to the divisiveness that exists in the nation over the necessity of the military undertaking.

The difficult struggle of the Negro to achieve a better status in the white man's social and economic time, here again, the promise of a solution at any foreseeable time, here again, the forces of aggression and resistance to aggression, promise nothing but clashes, disturbances, bitterness and deadlock. Integration of the races into the social and economic fabric is far from a reality, and while slow progress is being made, there is impatience on one side and determination to resist on the other.

Finally, there are the cluttered, frustrating, shabby cities. Urban conditions are deteriorating, and again there is no plan that promises a solution. How can a city dweller, viewing the problems around him, be anything but pessimistic about what lies ahead for him and his children?

NEWSLETTER MANIA—Anyone remotely connected with the handling of news is aware of the proliferation of specialized newsletters. It all began many years ago when an enterprising journalist worked out a weekly letter format that carried "inside" news of interest to a particular business-oriented group.

Since then, newsletters have mushroomed until now one can be found on virtually any subject that comes to mind. Recently, the newsletter idea was adapted to politics. A Midwest firm launched the "Kennedy Newsletter," devoted to recording the activities of that noted political family.

On the apparent theory that what's good for the North is good for the South, another political newsletter is about to make its appearance—the George Wallace Newsletter, to record the political activities of the former governor of Alabama, as he goes about his chosen task of seeking the 1968 presidential nomination on a third party ticket.

50 YEARS AGO

From 7 o'clock Tuesday morning until the last name was registered in the evening, Hereford was a scene of interested activity underneath which ran a very evident current of the deepest solemnity. As "our boys" began to appear on the streets wearing a single red rose, the badge, chosen by their wives and sweethearts to signify that they had registered their names in loyal response to the call of country, the meaning of the day began to assume to the families and friends of these young men, something of its real significance. Even in the hurry of preparation for the ceremonies of the afternoon there was about all the proceedings a quietness and dignity of the spirit of consecration which means sacrifice and service.

Mrs. Homer Wilkinson and Mrs. D. F. Ashbrook have raised by public subscriptions, a fund sufficient to purchase a piano to be placed in the courthouse. The piano has already been purchased and will be in charge of the Chorus Study Club. According to the terms upon which the money was contributed, the instrument can not be taken from the building and is for the free use of all public entertainments held in the courthouse. Those wishing to use the piano are requested to see the committee which is composed of Mrs. Homer Wilkinson, Chairman, Mrs. Ashbrook, Mrs. C. C. Ferguson and Mrs. Parker.

Deaf Smith County showed herself to be loyal to the core Tuesday when the men of registration age came cheerfully and readily to place their names on the rolls and there indicated their willingness to serve their country in the ranks of the army, and navy if the call should include them. The tabulation from all of the precincts in the county makes a total of three hundred and fifty-five men with the ages of 21 and 30, who are white American citizens. Only five aliens were enrolled. Those were Mexican laborers on the railroad. There were no alien enemies to apply.

25 YEARS AGO

Thirty-five tons of scrap materials were collected in Deaf Smith County in the drive held last Friday and Saturday. A. J. Schroeter, member of the salvage committee reported today.

This was about one-third of the amount expected to be collected, Schroeter says, and asks that all persons who have not yet done so get all scrap on their premises collected and piled where it can be picked up. No definite date has been set for any future drive, Schroeter says, but the chances are that another one will be held soon, as the scrap materials are vitally needed.

Mrs. J. W. Beene, grandmother of four men in the U.S. armed services received the only four-star service flag at the flag presentation program sponsored last week by the American Legion and Auxiliary. Mrs. Beene's grandsons, all of whom made their home with her after the death of their parents several years ago, are Weldon Beene, Seaman 2nd Class, Seattle, Wash.; O. J. Beene, pharmacist, Coast Guard, and Douglas and Billy Beene, both of whom are in the army, stationed at Camp Barkley, Abilene.

The Deaf Smith County Selective Service Board this week announced that Jack W. Wilshire, Robert Spencer Barrett, Jessie Wayne Steele, Chester Elery Dunlap, Carlos Alvin Vaughn, Roy Malcolm Sheppard, Ralph P. Biggs, and Clyde R. McBride will leave soon for army service. McBride will be inducted for the Holdenville, Okla., board.

Congregations of the Methodist, Christian and Presbyterian Churches will join for union services on the Sunday night worship hours during June, July and August, ministers of the three churches announced this week, stating that the first meeting under the plan will be held Sunday night, June 7 at the Methodist Church. Age-group meetings will be at 8 o'clock with the preaching service starting at 8:30.

Kiwanians See BCA Film

Some of the functions of Boys' Clubs of America were explained in a film which was shown the Kiwanis Club of Hereford during their regular noon meeting Thursday.

The film was presented by Gene L. Lehnen, assistant Regional Director of Boys' Clubs of America from Dallas.

It dealt with the development of a youngster into accepting better ways of living and also keeping him out of trouble.

A brief history of the club was also presented. With the purpose of promoting the social, educational, vocational, health and character of boys throughout the United States, the club is now in its second century of service to boys.

The Boys' Club movement was founded in Hartford, Conn., in 1886 by a group of ladies who recognized the need for a non-sectarian organization providing leading guidance and after-school activities for less privileged youngsters. The club they founded, "The Dashaway Boys' Club," was the forerunner of today's nationwide association of Boys' Clubs.

Today, Boys' Clubs are located in the crowded areas of more than 415 cities and communities throughout the country. These clubs serve all boys.

The national organization, Boys' Clubs of America, was incorporated in 1906 by existing Boys' Clubs for their mutual benefit and for the further expansion of their work. In 1956, BCA was granted a U. S. Congressional Charter, the only boy-guidance organization so recognized in more than 40 years.

There are now more than 750 Boys' Clubs affiliated with BCA in over 45 states with a total membership of well over 600,000 boys ranging in age from 7 to 18. Buildings, equipment and camps have a value exceeding $130,000,000.

The policy-making body of Boys' Clubs of America is the National Council, made up of one layman and one professional representative of each local Boys' Club.

Support of the national operation of BCA comes chiefly from contributions by corporations, foundations and individuals raised in large part by "National Associates" — prominent individuals from various parts of the country.

Local clubs pay small membership dues, and income from investments provides a portion of the annual expenses.

Dues to each member of the club ranges from 25 cents to $1 but if a child does not have the money, he is not refused membership. He may do some work, such as picking up papers, sweeping floors or other small types of work to make up for his dues.

It was noted that whenever a club of such is formed, juvenile delinquency is greatly reduced.

When the first club opened in Wichita Falls, cases of juvenile delinquents fell about 63 per cent in the first year.

National headquarters of BCA are in a modest five-story building on First Avenue in mid-town New York City. Named in honor of late President Herbert Hoover, who actively served as a board chairman of the national youth-guidance organization for 28 years, the structure houses the national administrative and clerical staffs. Funds for its construction, completed in 1960, were provided by private foundations, corporations, friend of Hoover and other interested individuals.

Only about 1 per cent of the local club's dues go to the national headquarters. The rest stays in the club for its own use.

Other business which was taken up by the Kiwanis Club Thursday was the naming of the Kiwanian of the Month. This month's honor went to Charles Duvall.

Also, one more new member was inducted into the club. Bringing the membership total to 62 was Dale Barkley.

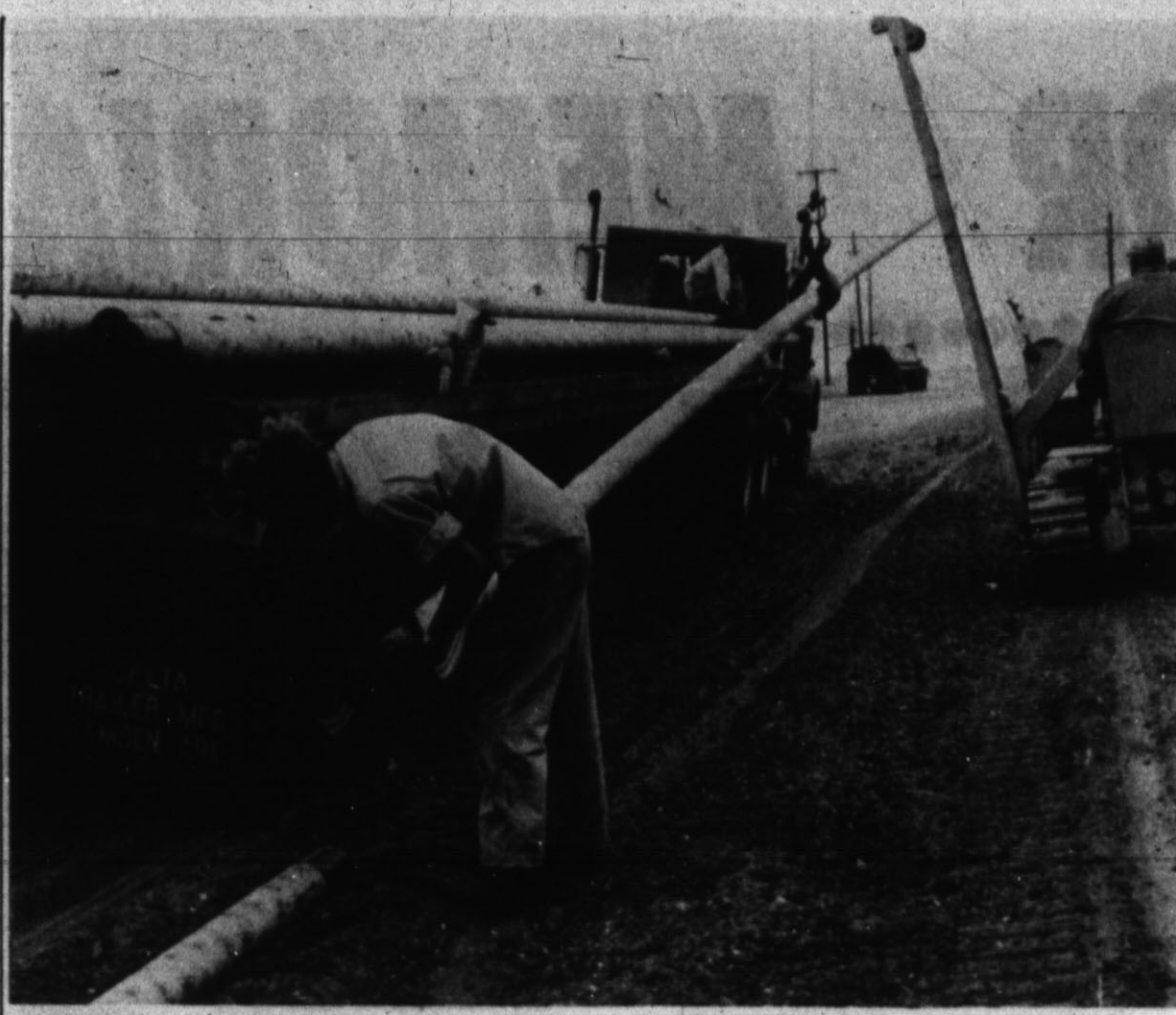

Lt. Governor of Texas-Oklahoma District of Kiwanis Club, George Blackwell, was guest of the club Thursday. He presented the club with a membership award for having acquired a large number of members last year.

Several visitors from the Canyon and Amarillo Kiwanis Clubs were other persons visiting the local organization.

SENATOR YARBOROUGH REPORTS

Big Thicket Park To Be Monument

Deaf Fellow Texan:

In January I introduced my Big Thicket National Park bill to create a national park in southeast Texas in Liberty Polk Hardin, Tyler, and Jasper counties centered about 35 miles northwest of Beaumont.

Last week my Big Thicket National Park bill Received the biggest boost possible: The recommendation by the National Park Advisory Board for the creation of a 35,500 acre park to be called the Big Thicket National Monument.

No national park or monument in the nature of a park can be created without the approval of this National Park Advisory Board. This Board is a group of private citizens of great distinction who receive no salary from the government. These are people who are interested in conserving a portion of America for future generations; they are completely removed from politics and gain nothing personally from their services.

This National Park Advisory Board was so impressed with the studies and surveys of the Big Thicket that they decided that portions of it should be saved as a national area. My Big Thicket bill recommended an area of 50,000 to 75,000 acres. The Park Advisory Board recommended the acreage of 35,

300. That is about 70% of the my bill.

The Report of this Board marks a victory in conserving this area. The National Park Advisory Board in announcing its approval has given the green light to the creation of a national park monument in the Big Thicket area.

The National Park Service Report recommending this park says: "Such a mingling of animals and plants is found nowhere else. The many interesting animals include the rare ivory-billed woodpecker, mountain lion, armadillo, and alligator. Among the larger mammals are the Texas whitetail deer, both red and gray fox, raccoon, ringtail, mink, otter, skunks, possum, bobcat, black bear. . . . Rare birds include the red-capped woodpecker, Bachman's sparrow, brown headed nuthatch. . . . Common trees of the Big Thicket include red maple, eastern hophornbeam, American hornbeam, American Holly, flowering dogwood, Carolina laurel cherry, riverflat hawthorn, Mexican plum, and laurel oak."

Other plants that I have seen personally in my trips there flowering into the tops of the high jungle, the bay beech whose leaves are used as flavoring, and wild peach trees. Among these giant trees are palmetto flats, and palmettos and ferns taller than a man. Spanish moss hangs from the trees, swaying like nature's curtains to hang and beautify the rooms of nature under the trees. All of this is perfumed by orchids, jasmine, honeysuckle, and other fragrant vines and flowers. There are giant wading birds such as the herons and snowy egrets, with exotic butterflies and moths flying through the forests. Scenes such as this must be experienced and seen to be appreciated.

The House of Representatives of the state of Texas, on January 18, 1967, unanimously endorsed my Big Thicket National Park bill by a vote of 139-0 on a resolution praising my bill. This is the strongest state-wide support I have ever received on a conservation measure.

The National Park Service warns that "Although much of the area has been altered by man's activities, sufficient samples still exist" to set aside in a recreation and conservation area.

It is my hope that with such local, state and national support the details can be worked out so that this beautiful and unique Big Thicket, or a portion of it — unmatched in all this part of the world for wildlife and plantlife variety — will be saved.

Senator Yarborough.

Wayland Slates Band Clinic

PLAINVIEW — J. R. McEntyre, director of Odessa public school bands the past 16 years, will head the second annual Wayland College Band Clinic set for June 19-23 on the college campus.

R. C. Davidson, director of the Wayland College Band and who will serve on the clinic staff, said around 150 young musicians are expected to attend.

"We are most fortunate to get the services of a band director of McEntyre's caliber," Davidson commented in announcing the clinic plans. "He has a record second to none in his field."

McEntyre's Odessa bands have rated first division in all University Interscholastic League competition. For the past 8 years he has directed the nationally recognized Permian High School Band which has won all categories in the Tri-State Music Festival at Enid, Okla. and has been awarded sweepstakes honors the past three years in the Buccaneer Music Festival at Corpus Christi, rating first division in all categories.

McEntyre's Odessa organization was selected as honor band in AAAA in 1963, and has appeared on a nationally televised broadcast. The Odessa director has served as conductor-clinician-adjudicator throughout the Southwest and next year will conduct the Nebraska All-State Band in rehearsal at Lincoln, Neb.

The clinic staff, in addition to McEntyre and Davidson, includes some of the region's most outstanding band instructors. Don Baird, West Texas State University Band director, will instruct in the brass section.

Bill Woods, Levelland High School Band director, a former pupil of Davidson, who has clinics will teach that department.

times as common as among the population generally.

On an average of once a day, a person appears at the White House gate and insists on seeing the President. Some of them claim they are the President and have come to move in. The Secret Service interviews all such visitors and those found mentally disturbed are sent to a hospital.

Every year 100,000 boxcars are retired from railroad service. Burning them and salvaging scrap metal and reusable parts causes air pollution, so the Public Health Service has awarded a $50,000 research contract to seek a better way to eliminate pollution problems and still allow salvage of useful materials.

President Johnson reported recently that his 1968 budget includes $25.6 billion in social welfare programs to aid the poor. The sum is two and one-half times the cost in 1960.

About one-fifth of all the residents of Mississippi are being fed under the various Federal Programs.

Women are more susceptible to dental decay than men, the Public Health Service learned by examining 6,700 people of all adult ages, in 42 geographic areas. It was discovered that only one adult out of 100 has a full complement of 32 teeth, without a filling or decay.

THE CHURCH I LOVE . . . IS NON-DENOMINATIONAL

This does not mean the church embraces every denominational doctrine, name, philosophy, practice and worship. Nor does it naively close its eyes to differences. Rather, the church I love seeks for truth. "You will know the truth, and the truth will make you free." (John 8:32). Realizing that no denomination has a corner on the truth; in seeking for the truth, where ever it may be found, we must keep our minds open and our hearts receptive. It is necessary for us to sift truth from error. This takes wisdom from above. (James 1:5-8 and 3:13-18); and a willingness to reject error and accept new found truth revealed in the Holy Scriptures.

Webster's definition of denomination is "Act of denominating, or naming . . . a category . . . a class, or society of individuals, called by the same name; a sect." Webster defines sect, "A group holding similar views; a party. In religion: A party dissenting from an established or parent church." In short a denomination, as I understand it, is a part of the whole body of believers organized as a separate entity that has been given a name, and holding differing views and convictions concerning the faith.

For centuries believers have been carving the "body of Christ, the church" into sects or denominations. G. C. Brewer a Gospel preacher for half a century cried, "I repeat, the church is nowhere named in the New Testament. All our talk about scriptural names for the church is simply unscriptural jargon."

In our eagerness to form sects and give them distinctive names and doctrines, we believers have reduced the broad, comprehensive, all encompassing meaning of the church to the narrow confines of denominationalism. The church is world-wide in scope and includes all the saved. Peter opened his lesson to Cornelius and his household. "Truly I perceive that God shows no partiality, but in every nation any one who fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him." (Act 10:34, 35).

The Deaf Smith Co. Highway Development Assoc. Says

THANKS

TO THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN OF HEREFORD LISTED BELOW FOR THEIR CONTINUED SUPPORT:

This Association was formed six years ago to coordinate the efforts of the U.S. Highway 60 Association and the International Parks Highway Association (serving U.S. 385). These two associations, both working for the interests of Hereford in their efforts to attract vacation travel over the highways that serve this city, have had continuous leadership from Hereford on both the State and National levels. The funds raised by the Deaf Smith County Development Association have, each year, been used to give financial support to the two highway associations and to pay the expenses of those local businessmen who took time from their businesses to attend the state and national conventions of those associations representing the interests of all Hereford business. The balance of the funds was used for local advertising and promotion of the travel industry in our county, an industry which produces $1,500,000 to add to our economy.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Legislature Sees Term End With Unfinished Jobs

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Final minutes are ticking away in the biennial legislative game of "beat the clock."

Obviously, the wind-up of the 60th session will be a cliff-hanger.

As lawmakers move toward the May 29 finish line, the major jobs they came to Austin to accomplish remain unfinished.

THE BUDGET — It went to conference committee, following an unsuccessful attempt by Gov. John Connally and Speaker Ben Barnes to sell the Senate on actions bill without the traditional conference to adjust differences. House Bill calls for $448,300,000 in general revenue; Senate Bill, $437,700,000.

REDISTRICTING — A Senate Congressional Redistricting Bill would save all incumbent congressmen the agony of having to run against a colleague. But the House Judicial Districts Committee has drawn different lines. So this issue must go to conference committee for an 11th hour compromise. State House of Representatives districts also must be redrawn. But the Senate has little interest in that. Judicial redistricting appears to be impossibly snarled once more.

SCHOOL TEACHER PAY — Both houses agree there must be a raise. Major problem is to determine the amount. Although revenue in sight from the Comptroller's last official estimate won't cover the budgets drawn by either house, plus a teacher pay raise of the magnitude sought, legislative leaders still insist adjustments will make the money possible without a tax bill.

Speculation is widespread that the lawmakers can't finish the job on schedule but top leaders are hopeful they can avoid a special session by covering the clock for a few days.

DRIVERS LICENSING CHANGE DUE — Major changes in Texas drivers license laws have been approved by both houses.

Bill increases minimum age for license from 15 to 16 for those who complete approved driver training courses and to 18 for those without such training. Hardship licenses are permitted for 15-year-olds where there is a licensed adult driver in the front seat. Motor scooter and motorcycle operators must be at least 15, and for commercial licenses, 17.

Present licenses will be replaced by a plastic card with a color photograph of the driver. New ones will be good for four instead of two years and will cost $6 instead of $3. Drivers may be required to take a new competency examination when they apply for a new license. However, re-examination is not compulsory, as proposed in the original bill.

License suspension period for violations was increased from six to 12 months for the first offense and from 12 to 18 months for repeat offenses, subject to the court's discretion. Driving while license is suspended will be punishable by fines up to $500 and a maximum of six months in jail.

HORSE RACING — Voters will be given an opportunity to express their opinion on whether Texas should legalize horse-race betting, if the House agrees with the Senate to put the question on the ballot in the Democratic and Republican primaries next May.

Senate passed the bill by Sen. V. E. Berry of San Antonio, long an advocate of horse-race betting, and sent it to the House for its concurrence. Actually the bill, as passed by the Senate, would not require the parties to put the question on the ballot but would permit and encourage them to.

AIR BASE PURCHASE O. K. D. — Both houses have agreed that James Connally Air Force Base at Waco should be purchased by the state for $5,200,000. The 12,000-acre base with 1,141 buildings now is under lease for a state vocational and technical training institute.

Money for its purchase is expected to be written into the final version of the 1968 appropriations bill.

ELECTION CODE CLEANED UP — Although the Legislature approved general terms of a major election code overhaul, the two houses differed over provision to permit counties to employ low-cost electronic vote recording-counting devices.

Senate struck the electronic machine section from the original bill, but the House put it back in and returned amended measures to the Senate.

Major features of the redrawn code will standardize the ballot form; change city election dates to the first Saturday in April; raise maximum pay for election judges and clerks to $1.25 an hour; permit new state residents to vote in presidential elections before they have resided in Texas a year; allow consolidation of election precincts for minor elections; and substitute senatorial district conventions for county conventions in counties having multiple districts extending beyond their own boundaries.

PROPERTY TAX VOTE SET — State of Texas will wipe out 37 cents of the 47 cents per $100 property tax by 1977 if Texas voters give their approval at a constitutional amendment election in November, 1968.

Proposed amendment received the necessary two-thirds vote of both houses for submission. This even though opponents warned that the $48,000,000 in lost revenue will have to be made up from other tax sources — and that local governmental units will snap up the additional leeway on property taxes.

State levy on property would begin declining in 1969. Remaining 10 cents of the present tax would be retained for college building purposes.

OIL PRODUCTION — Railroad Commission set June oil production allowable at 33.8 per cent. This is the same as May although demand for Texas crude is expected to increase next month.

June allowable factor will permit a maximum production of 3,046,218 barrels daily. Factor dropped four straight months before last week's hold-the-line order. Prior to the January peak of 37.5 per cent, it was increased four successive months. U. S. Bureau of Mines predicts that the June demand for Texas crude oil will increase 50,000 barrels. But the Commission feels that stocks throughout the U. S. are excessive now.

ATTORNEY GENERAL RULES — Legislation providing for cancellation of permits on dredge shell or mudshell in certain areas is constitutional, says Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin in a recent opinion.

Other opinions issued by Martin include the following: Calhoun County is not prohibited by law from withdrawing surplus funds from the county depository and investing the money in authorized U. S. government bonds and securities.

A district clerk in Cass County may accept an appointment as a receiver in a civil case pending in the court which he serves as a clerk without vacating his elective office.

COURTS SPEAK — State Supreme Court refused to hear the insurance claim of a Dallas man found to have caused the fire in his restaurant where four firemen were killed.

High court has held that restrictions on competition of the Neiman-Marcus store in Northpark, Dallas, do not violate Texas anti-trust laws as maintained by developers of Preston Center.

A Travis County district court overruling State Savings and Loan Commissioner James O. Gerst, ordered granting of application of Mission Savings and Loan Association of San Antonio for state approval. Gerst gave notice of appeal to Third Court of Civil Appeals.

SHORT SNORTS — House has passed and sent to the Senate for its concurrence a bill to allow privileged communications between a clergyman and his parishioner and between a doctor and his patient.

Senate Education Committee has approved the bill by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton which would direct the Texas Education Agency to embark on a program of recruitment of well-trained and mature persons into the teacher profession.

Borger Slates Bridge Tourney

The Magic Plains Bridge Tournament, which is slated to be held in Borger June 8-11, will be held at the Borger Hotel, an air-conditioned modern complex.

The tournament is sanctioned by the American Contract Bridge League and is sponsored by the Borger Duplicate Bridge Club.

Membership is required for participation in all events and it may be purchased at the tournament.

Borger's fourth Magic Plains Sectional will once again provide refreshments and a cocktail hour will follow the Friday, Saturday and Sunday sessions. Food will be served during evening sessions and on Sunday, the hotel will serve a buffet dinner between sessions. Free coffee and donuts will be served the Saturday morning players. Entry fees for the event will be: Open Pairs — $3 per person per session (includes the Sunday buffet dinner); Thursday's events — $1.50 per player; All Other Events — $2.50 per player per session. Reservations are to be made directly with the Borger Hotel.

TWAS A DISASTER — A hapless husband poured his wife's diamond ring down the sink when it fell into the grinding clutches of a garbage disposal unit.

He claimed the $1,010 loss on his income tax return, and the Tax Court held he suffered — among other things — a casualty loss.

The ruling likened it to a shipwreck, landslide, accidental car damage, fire or storm.

After the trip through the disposal the ring was valued at $30, Commerce Clearing House reported.

has received the National Safety Council's top 1966 industrial safety award — for its on-the-job safety record among its employees throughout the state.

Attorney General Martin reports that the state has recovered $90,000 from an auction sale of 80,000 barrels of contraband East Texas oil confiscated by the state 30 years ago.

Fleetway Commuter Airline of Tyler has asked permit for daily round-trip service from Kilgore to San Antonio; and Davis Airline of Bryan seeks a commuter permit between College Station and Houston.

Texas Water Development Board has authorized a study to be made of the feasibility of installing water desalting plants in seven areas of West Texas.

Senator Tower Speaks

Memorial Day Is Solemn Time

SENATOR TOWER SPEAKS

As you all know, our state and nation will be observing Memorial Day this coming week. It's a day lots of Americans look forward to as an opportunity to go fishing, wind up spring housecleaning, watch an auto race, or do something else that's just fun.

Of course, fun is not what Memorial Day is all about. And, our nation especially remembers this, in years such as 1967, when our fighting forces are enemy aggressors.

Because, when we fight, men die. And honoring the dead is what Memorial Day really is about.

This is the 99th anniversary of Memorial Day. It was in 1868 that the holiday was first proclaimed to honor Civil War dead. Since that time the lives of thousands more Americans have been added to the rolls of free men who fought to keep their homeland free.

There is no pause in the Vietnam fighting for this holiday. The enemy cares nothing about freedom's heroes. If the enemy had his way there would be no free nations, nor free peoples left to honor heroes.

This holiday is just another day in the struggle to defeat communism in Southeast Asia, to help a small nation aspire to self-determination and to remind our enemies again that America will not allow force and violence to dominate the world.

It always is difficult for those of us here at home to come to grips with what Memorial Day symbolizes. Our nation by nature looks more to the future than to the past. While our memory is not callously short, our anticipation of a better future sometimes clouds our appreciation of time and men past.

Sometimes, we do raise a physical memorial to jog our memories.

In Arlington National Cemetery — only a few miles from my Washington office — is a memorial to all those Americans who died for their country. It's the grave of the Unknown Soldier. As we observe Memorial Day this year, I would like to share with you some thoughts on what this symbol means to all Americans.

The grave of the Unknown Soldier does not represent only the nameless dead. He is every soldier who faced the last reality — every sailor who faced the last storm — every marine who battled to his last landing — every airman who soared into his last beyond.

The grave of the Unknown Soldier is no vast and pillard tomb. It is as simple and honest as the average American it represents. And it is right that it should be so.

Because, there is another vastly elaborate memorial to those who died — the mightiest, the most beautiful monument in all the world — America herself. Every green and fertile field, every busy city street, every tall building, every home, every factory, every store, every school, every church are, in themselves, monuments to those who died.

Because these men and women faced and defeated aggression, there is still a free nation, called America, rich and vibrant and alive.

And there is something greater still, if not as tangible. It is the freedom . . . the liberty . . . Americans still enjoy. Look out your window at the people passing by. Take note of the free-swinging stride of the average American as he walks down the street; the children chasing each other and laughing; the smiling talk of the women as they go shopping together. These are the face of citizens with a rich heritage, free to say what they like, without fear or reprisal — and all because of the Americans who died in battle to make it so.

Today we are at war again — although some choose to call it something else. Americans are again risking life and limb for their beliefs — in faraway Vietnam.

Let us not forget that Americans are once again facing death — to protect those personal freedoms — communism would destroy.

This year — Memorial Day, 1967, let us pause for a moment of prayer for an early conclusion to these struggles and for the quick return of these valiant Americans. Let us remember that some of them will never see this country again. Let us make this Memorial Day a day of more than remembrance. Let us also make it a day of prayer.

THAT WILL CUT AND POLISH INTO SEVERAL BIG STONES... EACH WORTH A FORTUNE!

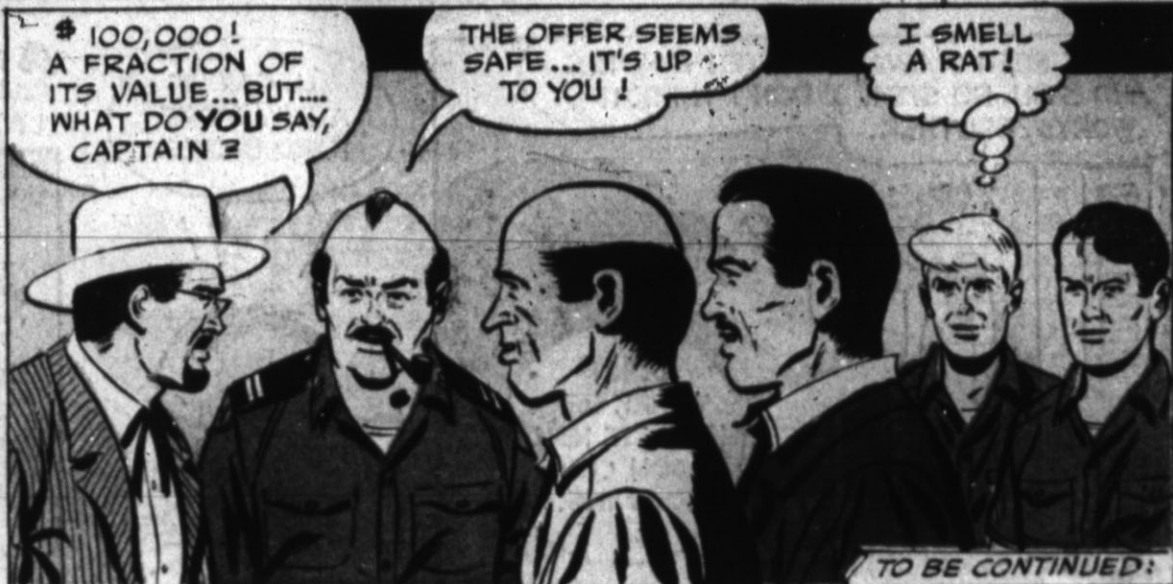

FRANKLY, I DON'T WANT TO GO TO PORT AGANA TO SELL IT—I WANT TO RETURN TO MY WORK!

THAT'S WHY WE ASKED TO SEE IT, DOCTOR—

WE'LL GIVE A CHECK FOR $100,000 AND NOT TAKE POSSESSION UNTIL YOU KNOW THAT OUR MONEY IS GOOD—

$100,000! A FRACTION OF ITS VALUE... BUT... WHAT DO YOU SAY, CAPTAIN?

THE OFFER SEEMS SAFE... IT'S UP TO YOU!

I SMELL A RAT!
