Athletic Director To Be Named

School Board Says Head Football Coach To Fill Position

A called meeting of the School Board Tuesday morning defined athletic needs for Hereford schools and prepared a letter for The Hereford Brand.

Initiated by the resignation of football coach Jack Meredith, the action taken by the board establishes the position of Athletic Director, naming the head football coach to the position.

The board said in discussing the decision, that a better football coach could probably be hired if he had the position of athletic director. Hereford has been the only school of any size in the area that has operated without an athletic director.

In establishing criteria for the hiring of a director, the board said that the man needed would have to be interested in all sports, not just football. The board has not established the teaching load that will be required of the coach. They did say that being athletic director, that he could not carry as heavy a teaching load as coaches or ordinarily do in Hereford schools. The coach hired will have to show as a strong teacher as well as coach, the board agreed.

Meredith asked that his resignation be effective Friday, February 24. He indicated that other coaches, Joe Brooks and Willie Williams would be leaving also. (See story this paper).

The board mentioned that the school might be needing an additional coach on the staff for next year since two teams will be moving from junior highs into high school, necessitating the enlargement of the second team.

Other criteria established by the board would indicate that someone who had been holding the position of head coach in a school would be considered first, that he must have high moral strength and high classroom ability. The board had some long discussion on the advisability of requiring the man to be a head coach where now em-

Board Of Equalization Tenders Resignation

Three men who have served several terms on the board of equalization for Hereford Independent School District said this week that they had requested that they be relieved of their responsibilities. In a letter addressed to the board, the men, Palmer Norton, Oliver Streu and Don Zimmerman, indicated that they were unable to continue in working with the tax equalization board because of the lack of cooperation among the various taxing bodies. The problem area is in establishing and maintaining a complete and equal evaluation on various properties being taxed by each of the three agencies. Carbons of the letter were mailed to Judge H. C. Williams and city manager Dudley Bayne, as representatives of the two other local taxing agencies.

Zimmerman who has formerly been a school board member, served on the city commission and was county judge at the time of the complete re-evaluation in 1961, said that he has seen all phases of Hereford's government and can see no reason why a central agency for this town would not work. He said that it might not be the answer for all communities but that for Hereford and Deaf Smith County, that a great savings in money as well as time and housing could be effected. With all agencies working through a central taxing office, property values would of necessity be listed for each agency as the same. The only difference would be the tax rate of the individual agencies.

Taxpayers would have an easier time paying and rendering their taxes if all were in one office, working with one major set of books. The separate agencies would not be ham-

Norton, in discussing his decision said that the board "had attempted to have equalization by getting the three taxing bodies together at meetings. I don't think the meetings were successful because the boards and commissions issued orders that have not been carried out."

The equalization board initiated a dinner meeting of all persons involved in county, city and school taxation, including collectors and board and commission members. The group met and stated that at that time, early fall, that equalization as established in 1961 after a complete overhaul of the local tax picture had not been maintained.

During two other meetings, the group invited Jim McMories, professional tax consultant to meet with them. McMories stated that he would work in any capacity that the various agencies needed him. All groups later renewed contracts with his firm to do their appraising.

Norton stated that he did not want to go through this (equalization) again, saying, "I don't want to be part of the apathy that exists in this situation."

Streu said that the big problem was a lack of cooperation,

Holly Sugar Plans Merger

Officials of Holly Sugar Corporation and Western Nuclear, Inc. have announced plans to consolidate the two companies on the following principal terms subject to approval of their respective Boards of Directors and Stockholders:

Each share of Holly Common Stock will be reclassified into one share of new voting Convertible Preferred Stock with an annual cumulative dividend of $1.50. The current annual dividend rate on Holly Common Stock is $1.20 per share.

As of January 31, 1967 Holly had outstanding 1,342,000 shares of Common Stock and $9,928,000 principal amount of Debentures convertible into 484,000 shares of Holly Common Stock and Western Nuclear had outstanding 2,306,000 shares of Common Stock.

Holly Sugar Corporation, listed on the New York Stock Exchange, is headquartered in Colorado Springs, Colorado. The nation's second largest producer of beet sugar, Holly operates eleven factories in California, Colorado, Montana, Texas and Wyoming.

Western Nuclear, Inc., listed on the American Stock Exchange, is headquartered in Denver, Colorado. Western Nuclear has plants located in the United States and Canada as well as exploration operations underway in Australia.

Tuesday's Wall Street Journal stated that Houston Oil Field Material Co., which claims to be the largest holder of Holly Sugar equity securities, labeled the proposed consolidation "incredible," and indicated it would vigorously oppose such a step.

Houston Oil Field Material had previously advertised for Holly common stock and in the Journal article, the company was quoted as saying that they are continuing their offer to purchase Holly common stock "and may in the light of . . . announcement increase the number of shares for which it is tendering."

The Journal reported that the Houston Oil Field Material statement said its directors haven't yet met to decide the matter but that it's the present view of the company's management to oppose the proposed consolidation. It says that the belief of HOMCO that Holly's management has proposed an ill-considered undesirable transaction contrary to the best interest of Holly shareholders.

Holly and Western Nuclear, jointly announced the proposed consolidation and noted it is subject to approval of directors and stockholders. The companies said that attorneys are still discussing terms. The Journal quoted Robert W. Adams, president of Western Nuclear as saying "I don't think you could call this an acquisition in any way."

According to the Journal, the initial terms, stated by the companies, the proposal would call for each common share of Holly Sugar to be reclassified into one share of a new voting convertible preferred stock of the consolidated company, with an annual cumulative dividend of $1.50. Each share of the new preferred then would be convertible into one share of a new common stock of the combined companies. Each preferred share would also have an asset preference of $33 per share and would be noncallable for five years and callable at $33 a share thereafter.

Each share of Western Nuclear common would be reclassified into one common share of the new company, the Journal article said.

Dennis O'Rourke, President and Chief Executive officer, was elected Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer at a meeting of the Corporation's Board of Directors held this week.

John B. Bunker, formerly President of The Great Western Sugar Company, was elected President, a Director and a member of the Executive Committee of Holly Sugar Corporation. Bunker resigned his position with Great Western Sugar effective this week.

Russell T. Tutt will continue in his capacity of Chairman of See HOLLY SUGAR Page 2

City Postpones Airport And Property Action

Hereford City Commissioners postponed action on two important items of business Monday night and made decisions on three others in a brief meeting.

After short discussion, commissioners passed over annexation of industrial property along Progressive Road owned by Charlie Seeds. The action was postponed because the petition for annexation from Seeds also contained a request for rezoning.

The zoning board met Tuesday night and resulting action on the petition by Seeds will be presented to commissioners. The annexation petition will be acted upon in the next commission meeting March 6.

Commissioners also postponed action on appointing a new manager for the Hereford Municipal Airport, until they talk this week with one prospect. Olin Parris resigned as manager at the commission meeting Feb. 6 but has said he will stay on until a replacement is found. Two persons had stated they would manage the airport, but later withdrew the offers.

A request from the Santa Fe Railroad for right-of-way to lay a spur track across Progressive Road was approved by commissioners. The railroad said they needed the spur track to serve new industries on the property.

Commissioner Lloyd Sharp asked if the spur track would affect widening of the road in the future by the city. He was assured that the road could be widened if necessary.

Renewal of contracts on billboard advertising on U. S. 60 west will be refused as the contracts expire, commissioners decided. The action came after City Manager Dudley Bayne said all of the contracts will expire by next month and he felt they should not be renewed. One commissioner said all of the signs except one "are in pretty bad shape."

The signs are located along the city property on U. S. 60 near the city well field. As the contracts expire, the signs will be torn down, said Bayne.

The 1967-68 city budget will be reviewed during an open hearing at the commission's next meeting March 6.

Fire Destroys House

A fire, believed to have been started by a small boy playing near an open fire, destroyed a five-room house at Second and Roosevelt streets Tuesday afternoon.

Hereford firemen, who answered the call at 2:37 p. m. with all units, were hampered by a strong wind. However, they controlled the blaze in about 30 minutes and were able to leave the scene by 4:30 p. m.

Firemen said the house was "old and dry" and burned quite rapidly, putting out an intense heat. It was contained, however, to the immediate area.

A Latin American family lived in the home, which was owned by Elmer Patterson. The mother told one fireman that an 8-year-old retarded boy had been playing with paper in front of an open stove just before the fire began. The boy suffered slight burns on his hands and arms.

Henry Alizondo, a garage employe, said that about five minutes before the fire, he thought he heard an explosion, but could not be sure. He said that he looked out of the garage where he works, about a half-block south of the burned house, and saw the fire. He rushed to the scene, and helped the woman there to get her two children from the burning structure.

An automobile parked near the house would not start and Alizondo said that he had to pull it into the street.

At 2:46 a. m. Monday, firemen were called to a truck fire 5 miles south of Hereford on U. S. 385. The cab of a large truck owned by Burke Inman of Hereford was badly damaged by the blaze.

The driver said he was driving down the road when the dash board of the truck began burning. The truck was hauling cotton seed.

Gas Users To Meet

Irrigation farmers are invited to attend a meeting of Deaf Smith County Gas Users Association tonight at the Bull Barn. Time is 8 p. m.

The Gas Users Association was formed about 1961 by area farmers who were working together to keep an equitable price for natural gas for their irrigation wells.

The association meets every four weeks in Plainview and discusses problems and area irrigation fuel costs.

The meeting slated for tonight will discuss the prospect offered by Peoples Natural Gas Company. This company has indicated that they would like to purchase some of the lines now serving farmers. In this area, farmers own their own lines to their wells and many of the artery lines are owned by a group of farmers.

One member mentioned that Northern Natural Gas Company is also discussing supplying of natural gas to farmers for their wells.

This member said that service by Pioneer Natural Gas Company, the one presently supplying gas for area farmers has been unusually good. He pointed out that the group is not dissatisfied with service, but that it meets to keep itself informed on prices, opportunities, etc.

Homemakers Plan Meet Here Saturday Morning

Approximately 145 homemaking teachers from schools over the Panhandle area will attend an Area I meeting here this weekend. Sessions will be held in La Plata Junior High School with Hereford homemaking teachers as hosts.

Beginning Friday evening, when Mrs. Joe Bradley will preside, the program will feature a panel discussion and group work periods. The first meeting will be devoted to discussion of the homemaking program, now in effect in Hereford, Plainview, and two Amarillo schools.

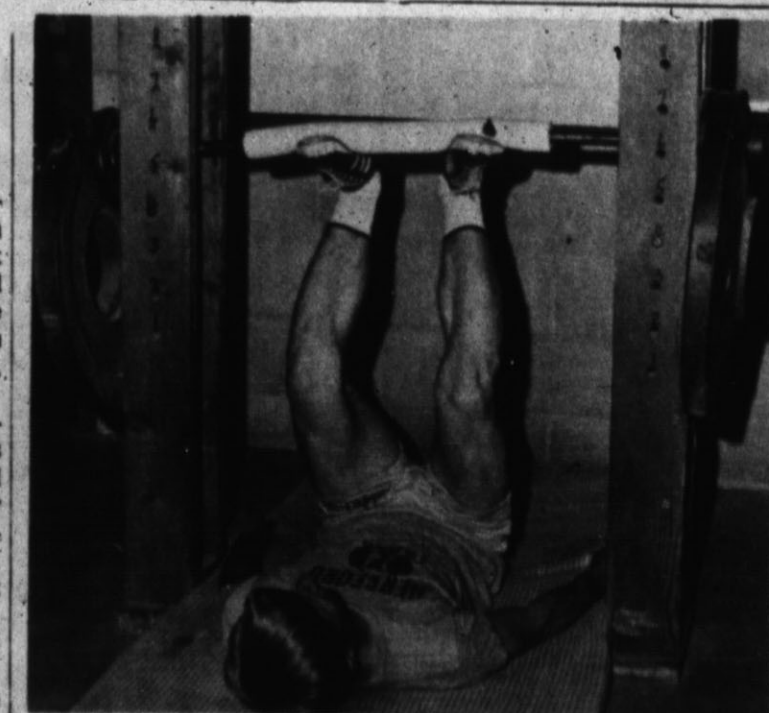

Viewpoints of teacher, principal, school counselor and others will be presented in a panel Saturday morning with Johnny Clark, Hereford school superintendent, as moderator. Mrs. Frank Prowell will preside at this session.

The work groups will follow, and continue in the afternoon. Area officers of the Future Homemakers of America, student organization, will convene here concurrently with the teachers. They will make final plans for their area meeting set for March 17-18 in Lubbock.

"We had information that they were using citizen band radios to spot our location," added Wells. He explained that use of the radios for that purpose is a "violation of the Federal Communications Commission. If we ever catch a vehicle with a citizen band radio in operation as a lookout for drag racing, or such, we are going to do everything in our power to see that the FCC removes that radio."

The biggest danger in such a situation as Sunday's, Wells continued, is that "the cars racing could bump together, go out of control and hit the crowd. It is our contention that everyone of the people at the scene should be picked up and fined on because they have just as big a responsibility as those participating."

Wells said such an incident also can bring a variety of charges. The participants can be charged for being stopped See DRAG RACE Page 2

Grain Bins Show Marketing Trend

A check with local elevators here this week shows that farmers have marketed their grain, obtaining few government loans on either wheat or milo. Some farmers attribute the good market to increased local use of milo in feed yards. Others voice their fear that government shipment of grain will actually create a shortage in this area, particularly of milo which is a major part of most cattle feeding operations.

Tax Saving Can Be Realized On House Sale

DALLAS — If you sold your home, the tax on any gain realized from this sale is postponed if certain tests are met, said Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for northern Texas.

Further if you are 65 years of age or older, you may be able to sell your home tax-free. Campbell added that if within the 2-year period commencing one year before and ending one year after the sale, you buy and occupy another residence, the gain is not taxed at the time of sale if the cost of the new residence equals or exceeds the adjusted sale price of the old residence. You are allowed additional time if you construct a new residence or if you were on active duty in the U. S. armed forces after you sold the residence.

For those 65 years of age or older, if you sold or exchanged your principal residence you may generally elect to exclude from your gross income part or all of the gain on the sale or exchange if (1) you were 65 years of age or older before the date of the sale or exchange and (2) you owned and used the property sold or exchanged as your principal residence for a period, whether continuous or interrupted, of time totaling at least 5 years within the 8-year period ending on the date of such sale or exchange.

Document No. 5017, which furnishes more detailed information on this subject and Form 2119 may be obtained by dropping a post card to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 1600 Patterson Street, Dallas, Texas 75201.

Until the last few years, Collier explained, CCC became owners of large quantities of grain. With prices below the loan amount, farmers tended to let the grain go to the government instead of paying off loans to sell grain. Recent sales of large quantities of grain for countries like India through government programs have depleted surplus reserves, Collier indicated.

One grain elevator operator contacted Wednesday said that in the Hereford area grain for which Commodity Credit Corporation loans have been granted would run from 0% to 10% of storage capacity.

A storage capacity of 1 million bushels would then have only 190,000 bushels of grain that is collateral for CCC loans. Another grain storage firm spokesman indicated that they had only 25 million pounds (approximately 517,857 bushels) of CCC grain sorghum left — "a small pile in the corner" — according to the spokesman.

He explained that in past years the firm stored between 100 and 150 million pounds of CCC grain. Only one man storing grain there put his crop in the CCC program in 1966, the spokesman stated.

Another elevator operator said that the government still has grain all over West Texas, but he added that the amount of grain in storage now is lower than in the past.

Figures from the local USDA Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service office indicate that grain crop loans have decreased between 1964 and 1966.

Wheat loans granted by Commodity Credit Corporation, administered through the ASCS office totaled 122 in 1964 but only 44 in 1966. The 1964 figure represents 688,779 bushels of wheat as compared to 364,714 bushels in 1966.

Loans on grain sorghum totaled 38 in 1966 and 304 in 1964. These figures represent approximately 5,056,570 bushels in 1966 compared with an approximate 37,943,100 in 1964.

F. G. Collier, ASCS office manager, said that grain growers use an approved warehouse receipt for grain storage as collateral for CCC loans.

Until the last few years, Collier explained, CCC became

Company Offers Industry Query

Community interests will be promoted in an all-out push by Southwestern Public Service. Efforts are being made to give citizens a chance to mention any industry that they have heard about that might want to locate in this community.

Melvin Jayroe, manager of the local office of the utility company said that all company employees will receive a yellow slip with their paycheck this week. This slip is asking for the name of any company that is looking for a new location. The slips will later be mailed with all electric bills that are sent from this office, Jayroe said.

A "Prosperity Through You" program is being launched by the Company to enlist the aid of the electric company's customers and employees to attract new industries to the communities in which they live.

The customers and employees are requested to fill in the blanks on the card and bring it to the Deaf Smith County chamber of Commerce office or Hereford office of Southwestern Public Service Company.

Industrial development has many times resulted from the actions of one individual. Just the slightest rumor has led, on many occasions, to the establishment of an industry which was economically important to a community. This type of approach will obviously lead to some blind alleys, but it is equally obvious that, with the cooperation of all of us, it can also produce some valuable industrial prospects.

Plans for following up on the leads provided by the "Prosperity Through You" program call for an evaluation of the tip by local business leaders and then some type of contact with the prospect suggested by the local resident.

Southwestern Public Service Company announced establishment of a new industrial development last fall. Since that time, the department has been accumulating economic information about communities in its service area in order that it will be able to provide industrial prospects with factual information. "Prosperity Through You" is the first program in what will be an expanded industrial development effort.

Flying Saucers Or What Was It?

This area's second sighting of an "Unidentified Flying Object" in four days was spotted over north Hereford Monday night by at least three teenage boys. One youth who identified himself as Gary Slaton called the Hereford Police Department at 8:01 p. m. to report that he had seen a "ball of fire" in the north part of the city heading toward the south. There was no further information obtained on the caller so he could not be contacted for details of the incident.

Steve Sigman, a high school junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Sigman of 127 Ave. F. said he was walking in the vicinity of Star Street when he spotted the UFO on the outskirts of the city. Sigman explained that he had been carrying binoculars and was thinking what he would do if he did see a flying saucer.

He had focused the binoculars on the moon, and when the UFO came into sight he couldn't get it in focus. He finally gave up on the binoculars and began watching the object intently.

Sigman said the object was moving east, then turned to the south and appeared to "break up." A large chunk, he continued, burned about half way to the ground and the rest seemed to break up and disappear.

Sigman then hurried to get a friend, Charlie Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stone of 407 Ave. J, and the two drove to the outskirts of the city to look for the UFO again.

Students Attend State FTA Meet

Four future teachers and their sponsor will leave this afternoon for San Antonio to attend the 18th annual state convention of Texas Future Teachers of America.

Nancy Smith, Sherri Marsh, Billie Jo Witherspoon, and Johnny Clark, III will attend workshops on different phases of teaching and local club operation. Ann Warrick, Hereford High teacher is sponsor for the group.

Billie Jo and Johnny won the trip with earned points. Points are given for grading papers, being in clubs, and working for FTA. Billie Jo had over 700, and Johnny and over 600. "The closest to Johnny was 50 or 60 points away," Miss Warrick said. Nancy is president of the local FTA Chapter, and Sherri is current vice-president and newly elected president for next year.

Expenses for the trip are paid by the club and the students making the trip. An annual sale of candy provides trip finances. Lasting February 24th and 25th, the state convention will draw some 5,000 high school students.

This year's theme is "Education: World's Torch for Peace."

Carol Conroy of Amarillo is FTA president, and Robert Ashworth, Amarillo schools superintendent will be keynote speaker at the first general session.

Council Elects New Officers

Election of officers and a program speaker's ideas on the Christian's relationship to the world filled the agenda of Wednesday morning's meeting of the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism.

Elected to a second term as Chairman was Mrs. O. G. Hill, Sr. Gene Fooks, Church of Christ minister, was chosen Vice-Chairman. Chosen Secretary-Treasurer for a third term was Mrs. Hazel Rayburn.

Board of Directors selected were Francis Hardwick, the Reverend B. L. Davis, the Reverend Eunan Walsh, and Mrs. Chris Brooks.

Speaker for the meeting was pastor of the 1st Baptist Church in Dimmitt.

Reverend Pollard spoke on three philosophies — self-assertion, self-negation, and using the power of God within us. Using the analogy found in the Bible, James 3:3, Reverend Pollard said that we must "bridle the wild horses within us."

Every perversion that drives us away from God — drinking and gambling — is a misused drive that would otherwise lead us to God, Reverend Pollard stated.

Easter Pilot Praises Flying

An Easter farmer who flies sail planes spoke on private aviation to Rotarians Monday.

Charles Frye said that he has been flying airplanes since he was fifteen, and except for four years in the Air Force, he has flown his own plane.

"I am one of these nuts that gets the bug," he said about his longtime interest in flying. Frye stated that he soloed shortly after his 16th birthday.

Private aviation, according to Frye, boomed just after the end of World War II. Former service pilots began flying private small, light, economical aircraft.

Then by 1950 the private aircraft market was saturated, and manufacturing firms reduced production or went out of business.

However, in the last few years a new boom has hit the industry. In 1966 the private plane industry grew 33%. "This means three or four thousand more airplanes," Frye stated.

Four companies have built 475 planes recently just for the new field of crop spraying. These planes are one-seaters designed just for spraying crops.

Frye also mentioned the relatively small, light twin-jet private planes. They cost between $500,000 and $600,000 and fly about 500-600 miles per hour.

Besides the new interest in private aviation, these advances have been made possible by space engineering progress. New materials and advances in electronics have taken much of the guesswork out of flying. Navigation is simpler and more accurate, and weather information is accessible.

Statistically speaking per mile traveled traveling in a private airplane is 3.2 times safer than traveling in an automobile, according to Frye.

In addition, instrument flying has increased by 50% in two years time. Pilot training now includes instrument flying.

Frye explained that the pilot's license is similar to a driver's license. However, the commercial pilot must pass a flight physical each year, and the primate pilot must pass the physical ever two years.

"We have some of the best flying in the United States," Frye said as he noted that the weather was a limiting factor in deciding when to fly.

Flying sail planes is a new sport, Frye explained. With the skill of flying involved, Frye said that "Flying without an engine is a fabulous experience."

The sail plane is flown by utilizing the updraft currents in whirlwinds that abound on the plains. The pilot must turn the craft in corkscrew fashion to "ride" the thermals as high as 10,000 feet.

Troubles

Neighbors and streets seemed to have an affinity for each other in accidents reported to police here within the last few days. Saturday, if you live in the first block of Star, was the day to beware of your neighbors. Donald French, who lives at 109 Star and Michael Justice, who lives at 130 Star met — in collision halfway across town.

Both drivers would allow that the collision was purely accidental — being caused by a car slowing in front of the both of them.

Sunday, the dangerous street was Ave. B. Dangerous for parked cars and nerves of some drivers: Two cars, at two separate times crashed into parked vehicles. Both drivers lost control of their cars because of some minor distraction.

Some days, it just doesn't pay to get up — ask French, Justice or Emilio Fuentes, Jr. driver of one of the Ave. B enigmas or Elizabeth Martin — the other driver who was involved on that hexed street.

The effect of unfavorable weather earlier in the season and reduction on cotton acreage to reduce burdensome surpluses probably cut total production more than the losses from curtailment of the growing season by freezes in the states of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

en hours, the world's record holder flew a sail plane from Odessa to "some place in Nebraska," Frye indicated. He gave the cost of some of the better sail planes as $15,000.

A flying club at the Easter community south of Hereford was also mentioned. Starting with John and Donna Smith Frye has interested six families. The group has purchased a 20-year-old Cessna for $2,700.

Paying $3.00 per hour of flying time, a member of the club can get his license for about $150. Frye noted that the cost at a commercial airport would be around $500.

"Flying has had a bad name for years," Frye stated, adding he hoped the time was coming to an end.

Lynn Pittard was in charge of the program.

First Track Meet Slated

The Hereford Whiteface track team, 26 strong, will enter their first meet of the year Friday and Saturday when they travel to Fort Stockton.

The Herd cindermen, under direction of Joe Brooks, will be led by 11 returning lettermen from the team which finished third in District 1-AAA last season. All but three of the 11 qualified for the regional meet.

Practice began for most of the team when the new semester began in mid-January. Some of the members, however, were playing basketball and began workouts in earnest this week. "They're beginning to shape up pretty well now," said Brooks.

He added that "We have a definite handicap in this part of the state because the weather doesn't get warm enough to let you work like you should. It's too easy to pull a muscle when you can't get warmed up properly."

Returning lettermen for the Herd and their district finish last season are Larry Champ, second, 440-yard dash; Mark Hicks, second, high jump; Tony Malouf, member of the mile relay team which finished third in district; Jim Childers, hurdler; Gary Goodin, hurdler; Bob Gentry, shot put; Billy Frank, member of both the sprint relay and mile relay teams which won second and third, respectively; Roger Suttle, pole vaulter; Charles Inman, mile run, Rick Fangman, discus, second, and David Kelley, 880-yard dash.

Champ, Hicks, Frank and Fangman are seeking their third letters in track.

Willie Williams is coaching the hurdlers and Bill Narrell is working with the weight men. Brooks coaches the rest of the squad.

This season's schedule calls for the track team to enter eight meets, including this week's action in Fort Stockton.

The team travels to Brownfield on March 4; Denver City, March 11; Levelland, March 18; hosts a meet March 23; Seminole, April 1; Borger, April 8, and competes in the District 1-AAA meet at Dumas April 15. Most of the meets, said Brooks, will begin at 9 a. m.

The Hereford meet will be a two-day affair with the finals to be held at night.

Church Basketball

The First Methodist Church team and the First Baptist Church No. 2 stayed tied for the lead in the Church Basketball League Monday night as they picked up victories.

The two teams have identical 8-1 records, with only one game remaining for the season. They will play Monday night in the high school gymnasium.

The First Baptist Church No. 2 team stayed in contention by defeating the First Baptist Church No. 1 team 54-34. Jerry Avery scored 27 points to lead the No. 2 team, while Jerry Curtsinger got 10 for the No. 1 squad.

The First Methodist Church team beat the First Christian Church team 66-41, with Ronnie Welty getting 12 for the Methodists and Clyde Coleman 14 for the losers.

First Presbyterian Church trounced St. Anthony's Catholic 56-43 to remain in third place, with W. C. Russell tallying 17 for the winners and Ronnie Rai ney 23 for the losers.

For the season, the First Presbyterian Church team has a 6-3 record, First Baptist No. 1 is 3-4, and St. Anthony's and the First Christian teams are tied at 1-8.

Two Coaches Say They Will Go With Meredith

Two more Hereford High School coaches — Joe Brooks and James (Willie) Williams — announced this week that they will be leaving this summer to join Head Football Coach Jack Meredith in Belton.

Brooks, who was backfield coach last season, and Williams, line coach, both have been at Hereford High School for six seasons. Meredith announced recently that he had resigned to accept a three-year contract as head football coach and athletic director at Belton High School.

Reared in Silverton, Brooks graduated from there in 1953 and entered West Texas State University. He was a guard on the WT team and was All-American two years in that position.

Brooks graduated from WT in 1957 and coached at Canyon High School one year before returning to the college as freshman line coach. He was varsity coach one year and then moved to Hereford in 1960.

At Hereford High School, he has been line and backfield coach, "B" team basketball coach and track coach for the past three years. He and his wife, Donna, have two sons attending Northwest Elementary

The same two teams will meet again at 4 p. m. Friday on the high school diamonds. Season play begins for the Herd on March 3 when they host Borger.

Bobcats Cop AA Tourney Chance

The Dimmitt Bobcats battled their way into the Class AA regional basketball tournament with a big victory Tuesday night, but Class B Adrian lost in its bi-district battle.

The strong Bobcats, who are now 31-4 for the season, built up a big lead in the second half in Lubbock to defeat the Post Antelopes 80-67. John Howell led the Bobcats with 38 points. Dimmitt will play the Coleman Bluecats at 1 p. m. Saturday in the regional tournament.

The Booker T. Washington Dragons experienced little difficulty in downing Adrian 73-37 to advance to the Class B regional tournament in Canyon Friday. The game was played in LaPlata Gymnasium.

Tulia, winner of District 1-AAA is scheduled to play Seminole in Lubbock Friday. Winner of that contest will play the winner of the Lamesa-Brownwood game Saturday for the right to enter the state tournament.

Medics Will Be Featured Here

A Tag team match featuring four of the area's top wrestling stars will highlight action Friday night at the Hereford Bull Barn.

In the featured event, The Medics will be pitted against Dandy Dan Miller and Terry Funk. The Brute will battle Silento Rodriguez in another big match. There will be two other matches.

Sponsored by the Hereford Lions Club, the matches will begin at 8:30 p. m. General admission will be $1 and ringside seats $1.75.

Trap Shoot Is Slated Today

A registered trap shoot and "Hunter's Special" will be sponsored by the Hereford Gun Club beginning at 1 p. m. today at the Municipal Airport.

Joe Lyons, club president, said about 50 shooters are expected to enter the meet.

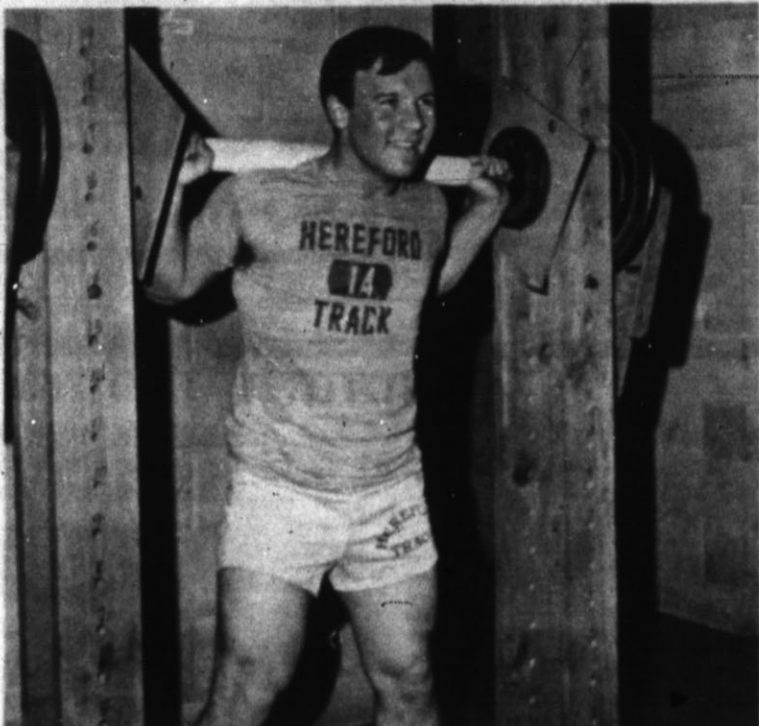

The Hunter's Special, to be held for those persons not wishing to enter the registered matches, will include shooting at 25, 16-yard targets. There will be entry fees in both the registered matches and Hunter's Special.

Lyons said the club plans to have a shoot each month.

Amarillo College Wipes Out Herd

Amarillo College wasted little time with the Hereford Whiteface baseball team Tuesday afternoon and rolled to a 12-2 win in a five-inning scrimmage game.

Bill Watts was the Herd star as he hit a two-run homer to account for the team's only runs.

NEW TRACK EVENT? — Lane Hallows tries to add overall strength to his body as he lifts weights in the Hereford High School Field House. A portion of each day is spent on the weights by the track men, who enter their first meet Friday. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Brooks said the team will be facing some of the toughest competition in the state at the meets and "probably will score more points in the district meet than any of the others."

Now, from American Motors, the car that wasn't there.

This may well be the most important news to come out of Detroit this year.

A major gap has developed in today's automobile market—a gap that no American-built car is filling. Because this gap exists, over 1,000,000 car buyers a year have not been able to get the car they wanted: a car for the American motorist at a list price competitive to foreign imports.

Today, American Motors' new management and nearly 2,500 American Motors/Rambler Dealers are filling that gap.

As of today, we are limiting future changes in our Rambler American line to essential changes that will further enhance the safety and reliability of these cars.

This will save us millions of dollars—and we and our dealers are passing the savings along to you now.

This means that the Rambler American 220 two-door sedan that yesterday listed at $2,073 now lists at $1,839. It means that today, your American Motors/Rambler Dealer has put new price stickers on all nine Rambler American models.

For years, Rambler American has been the best value in an American automobile. Today, priced competitive to imported cars, it is the best automobile value in the world.

This week on television, we promised you exciting news from American Motors.

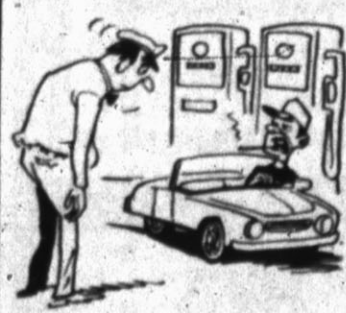

This is only the beginning.

Affairs Committee Bans Sunday Law

Government Affairs Committee members decided Tuesday to support legislation designed to abolish Sunday closing laws. This decision of the chamber committee was approved by the of Commerce Board of Directors early Wednesday.

The Chamber committee acted in contrast to the Senate Affairs Committee in Austin which gave approval Monday to Senate Bill No. 5.

Chairman Dr. Joe B. Whitley explained that Senate Bill No. 5 would abolish Section 1a of the present closing law. Passage of this bill would result in mandatory closing on either Saturday or Sunday.

Senate Bill No. 11, which gained the local Government Affairs Committee support, would abolish Saturday or Sunday closing. This bill would repeal Texas Penal Code Articles 283, 284, 285, 286, and 287.

Reddells — 4, Hereford Bakery — 0, Gault and Son — 3, Sunset Lanes — 3, Thrif-T-Burger — 1, Matthews Ditching — 3, Beefmaster — 1, Farmers Supply — 3, Hays Implement — 1, Hereford Insurance — 2, Owens and Hollingsworth — 2, Hereford Fruit Market — 2, Hereford Welding — 2.

High Ind. Series — Betty Kelley — 521.
High Ind. Game Jo Ann Wilso — 194.
Bowler of the Week — Molly Schofield — 75 pins.

Discussion among those present centered around religious, economic, and criminal aspects of the bills.

Committee visitors Elder J. H. Turner, pastor of the Hereford Seventh Day Adventist Church, stated that the bill to make closing mandatory pertained to a day of rest.

"We believe that one should have the free moral right to choose which day he worships," Elder Turner said. He added that his church would not agree with any religious type of legislation.

Another member of the Seventh Day Adventist Church, Phil Dieter, said that he felt the mandatory closing bill would infringe on religious freedom.

Roy Faubion, committee member, stated he would be against the mandatory bill on grounds that burden of proof was not with authorities. He felt the individual would have to prove his innocence.

Bill Thompson, Chamber Manager, gave views of the Texas Retailers Association. He said retailers were after a bill that would result in a six-day work week regardless of religious considerations.

Chairman Whitley indicated he had read reports that the bill was aimed against discount houses because they could sell the 42 "emergency" items, now a part of present law, on Sunday.

Other comments from those present included reference to voluntary closing and cooperative group efforts to close on Sunday.

Jim Hale, also a committee member, stated he saw "no place for such a law."

Bill Davis indicated that the people should decide for themselves.

Charlie Bell said people should be allowed to work if they want to.

Government Affairs Committee members present were Chairman Whitley, Bruce Miller, Pauline Howard, Naomi Hopson, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Sr., Bell, Les Combs, Davis, Hale, and W. C. Russell and Manager Thompson.

CABBAGE: The early fall cabbage crop is estimated at 7,528,000 cwt., 17 percent less than last year and 9 percent below the 1960-64 average. In New England, limited supplies should be available until mid-November. In Upstate New York, the kraut harvest was about three-fourths completed by November 1 with most packers expected to finish about mid-month. In the storage area of Monroe and Orleans Counties, harvest started in late October and is expected to finish around mid-November. Volume supplies are available from all fresh market areas.

Three Are Fined In County Court

Three persons were tried in Deaf Smith County court early this week before Judge H. C. Williams.

Robert G. Wilson was fined $1 and costs on a charge of swindle with a worthless check, and Willie Lee Glass received the same fine on a similar charge. Restitution was made in both cases.

Arthur Sanchez was sentenced to one day in the county jail and fined court costs on a charge of child desertion.

The oncoming Valencia crop is making good progress and picking is expected to begin about mid-February.

Souffles usually have most staying power when they are baked (with or without a water-bath) in a slow oven.

Ford Club's Nominee Is Sixth For H. D. Woman of Year Award

A sixth nominee for the award as Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year is announced by Ford H. D. Club, which has selected Mrs. John A. Smith as its honoree for the year and a candidate for the county title.

Vote of H. D. Club members from over the county will choose the 1967 Woman of the Year who will be honored at the annual appreciation luncheon Monday in the County Bull Barn. She will be presented an award given by The Hereford Brand.

Each H. D. Club in the county has the privilege of nominating a member to be considered for this award. Those previously announced for this year are Mrs. Elton Sorrells of Messenger Club, Mr. J. D. Gilbert Jr. of Progressive Club, Mrs. O. L. Williams of North Hereford Club, Mrs. Charles Brown of Young Homemakers Club and Mrs. Jimmie D. Bradley of Bippus Club.

Mrs. Smith is currently president of Ford H. D. Club, chosen in 1966 elections. She was its delegate to County H. D. Council last year for a second term, and served as Council recreation chairman after a term as a committee member.

Last fall she was elected Council treasurer, and in that office is chairman of the finance committee.

With other members of the recreation committee, she organized a recreation workshop

Mrs. John A. Smith title candidate for county H. D. Club women. She attended a two-day workshop conducted by a leader from the state Extension Service last April. For the third year, she attended Rural Homemakers Day at Amarillo.

Mrs. Smith has been an H. D. Club member in this county since she moved here in 1959. She has served her club as treasurer, secretary-reporter and alternate Council delegate.

She and her husband have two sons, aged 6 and almost 4. The family attends the Church of Christ. Mrs. Smith claims reading as her hobby, and counts 55 books as well as most of the monthly household magazines on her reading list for the past year. She likes to travel also, and to cook such specialty foods as Mexican and Italian dishes.

"Texas" Honored By Foundation

Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation has been recognized by the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge.

The award will be the George Washington Honor Medal Award for 1966 Community Programs category. It is being presented in recognition of an outstanding accomplishment in helping to achieve a better understanding of the American way of life.

This award was granted on the basis of a scrapbook of the production "TEXAS" which was submitted to the Foundation in Valley Forge. This production written by Paul Green which plays in the Palo Duro Canyon each summer was entered in the competition because it is a cross section of life in the Panhandle in the days when many of the concepts of the American Way of Life were being forged, and is a demonstration of many of the sections of the Credo emphasized at the Freedom's Foundation.

Each year the Freedoms Foundation selects the outstanding contribution to better understanding of the points in its Credo which have been made during the previous year and honors the people and programs which made these contributions. This is the third great outdoor musical drama of Paul Green's which has been so recognized. The other two were "Wilderness Road" which played in Berea, Kentucky for several years and "Faith of our Fathers" which played in Washington, D. C.

Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge is dedicated to the fundamental principle that freedom belongs to all the people and that only by thoughts and acts in their everyday lives can the American people preserve and extend their liberty under law. It was established in March 1949.

Material for the presentation was gathered by the staff of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and was illustrated by pictures from the 1966 production of "TEXAS." It was assembled into a beautiful scrapbook by Mr. Earl Clifford who played Aunt Anna in the production. The cover was hand tooled leather picture of the Canyon done by Mrs. Royal Brantley who was also the supervisor of the construction of the County Design Plaques which decorate the entrance to the Pioneer Amphitheatre in the Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Mason Rudolph shot 290 in both the 1965 and 1966 U. S. Open golf championships. He tied for 11th last year to earn $1,650. This year in San Francisco he tied for 8th and won $2,800.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fowler
... partners in gourmet cookery

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Two Cooks Are Better

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

When the Melvin Fowlers invite you for a Chinese dinner, the preparation is a partnership affair. Both Virginia and Melvin Fowler like to try their hands at cooking unusual foods, especially those characteristic of other lands.

ORIENTAL DISHES are a specialty of Fowler's; he learned to like the food while he was in Japan and Hong Kong in U. S. Army service, and learned some of the tricks of far eastern cookery.

He has adapted methods to suit materials that can be purchased in local grocery stores, although he says it is difficult to give recipes because he never measures many of the ingredients.

Mrs. Fowler, the former Virginia Isbell, is of German descent and has a cooking repertoire, learned from her mother's family, of the traditionally good food of that nation.

IN ADDITION, the couple has experimented with Spanish, Italian and Polynesian cookery. They frequently work together in the kitchen which they have designed and built at their home 405 Jewell.

Cabinets paneled with wood are on one side of the rectangular room, rounding into a counter separating it from the dining room. The brick wall on the other side has a recess for the refrigerator and forms a space for the stove.

Fowler laid the brick, but decided his amateur job wasn't of a caliber befitting work on the living room fireplace, so they hired that done, one of the few phases of home renovation they haven't done themselves.

THEY BOUGHT AN older house because they liked the location and its plentiful floor-space and basement. Their work on it is not completed, but they have paneled walls, installed recessed lighting, built cabinets, covered floors and added numerous touches to give the house a custom-built interior.

Problems have been solved with imagination, like that used to expand the tiny, crowded bathroom. They took the tub out, leaving space for a built-in dressing table with two lavatories, then made a doorspace for the window and built on outside to make room for a sunken tub.

Their menu for a delicious Chinese dinner lists egg petal soup, roast lamb with a spicy coating, sweet and sour pork and shrimp foo yung.

Here are their recipes, as exactly as they can estimate measurements, along with their advice. "Taste it and see if you would like more of anything."

EGG PETAL SOUP

1 tsp. peanut oil for cooking (the Fowlers like peanut oil for all Chinese dishes)
1 scallion (green onion) chopped
1 tsp. salt
4 cups chicken stock or broth
1 tsp. soy sauce
Dash of pepper
1/4 tsp. monosodium glutamate

2 tb. cornstarch
2 tb. cold water
1 egg slightly beaten
Heat oil, add half of chopped scallion and salt, stir. Add stock bring to a boil and simmer 2 minutes, then add soy sauce, pepper and monosodium glutamate.
Mix cornstarch and cold water and stir into the soup. Cook until slightly thickened. Dribble the beaten egg into the soup while stirring soup around gently. Remove from heat and let egg petals float to surface. Do not overcook.

SHRIMP FOO YUNG

1/4 lb. shrimp
1 cup mushrooms
6 eggs
3 tb. cornstarch
1 tsp. salt
1/8 tsp. monosodium glutamate
1/8 tsp. pepper
1 dry onion, diced
6 tb. peanut oil for frying

Beat eggs, add cornstarch slowly and beat well, then add other ingredients and mix well. Heat oil to 300 degrees in skillet. Drop mixture into hot oil in small pancakes, about 3 inches in diameter. Cook until set, or as you would cook a pancake. Turn and cook other side. SWEET AND SOUR PORK

(Shrimp may be substituted for pork)

1 1/2 to 2 lbs. pork ribs or roast, cut into strips.

1 No. 2 can pineapple chunks (save liquid)

1/2 cup water
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 cup brown sugar
2 tb. cornstarch
1/2 cup sliced onion
1/3 cup vinegar
1 tb. soy sauce
3/4 cup sliced green pepper
Brown meat (or boil shrimp)

Physical Fitness Tests Are Made

Aikman boys, fourth through sixth grade, have been taking tests for the past two weeks — tests that are part of the President's Youth Physical Fitness Program.

Assistant Principal Roy Harris has been conducting the fitness tests to help him spot group and individual weaknesses. Harris stated that after the tests were completed, he could determine better what to include in the physical education program.

"We can incorporate games and activities designed to remedy weak points," he said. The boys are being rated on performance in seven items. Also included, girls are to be tested during the next six weeks.

Harris explained that each student competes against national norms for each age group. Norms are given for groups ages 10 years to seventeen.

For example a ten-year-old youngster who did 100 situps, 6 pullups, a 5'8" broad jump, a 7.4 second 50-yd dash a 2 min. 12 second 600-yd. run, a 12' soft ball throw, and a 10.4 second shuttle run would be in the 85th percentile of his age group across the nation.

He would also be eligible for the President's Award, which includes a certificate from the President and a patch.

"This test is pretty rough," Harris said. He stated that the boys tested were having difficulty in some areas.

Performance in situps has been average or above average, but performance has been weak in pullups, soft ball throw, and shuttle run.

To correct weakness in arm and shoulder muscles, an adjustable chinning bar has been installed, courtesy of the Aikman Parent-Teachers Organization. A peg board for climbing, a track, and a broad jump pit are being used, also.

Next week, parents of each Aikman boy tested will receive a paper comparing their son's performance with the national norm for his age group, Harris added.

Sore Throats Common Ailment

Does your throat hurt? If so, you may console yourself with the knowledge that you have plenty of company.

Sore throat is one of the more common physical discomforts that plague most of us from time to time.

Sore throat is nature's warning system that something in your body is out of order.

Often a sore throat accompanies a common cold and the soreness passes in a few days. But, says Today's Health, the family magazine of the American Medical Association, sore throat also can be the symptom of any of a wide range of diseases, from diphtheria to leukemia, that require your physician's skill, not your guessing, to diagnose.

Sometimes tonsils and adenoids are involved in causing a sore throat, and when these organs repeatedly cause trouble they frequently are removed. Tonsil-adenoid removals account for half of all surgery performed on children. Today's Health reports: Sometimes the removal helps prevent sore throat, sometimes it doesn't.

Allergies can cause sore throats. Cold, dry winter air can trigger it. So can extreme thirst, excessive smoking or mouth breathing. Anything that dries out the throat and cuts off secretions that normally wash dust away.

Virus infections of many types also are a cause of sore throat, and everyone who has had "flu" knows that this particular virus disease often causes the throat to hurt.

"Strep throat" is a serious infection that occasionally leads to rheumatic fever and possible heart damage. It can be knocked out with penicillin, if it is diagnosed in time.

The crucial diagnostic test in sore throats is the swab test through which the germs causing the trouble can be identified. There is little or nothing you can do to cure a sore throat at home. There are medications which bring temporary easing of the discomfort but the cure must be launched by your physician. Read The Classified Ads Today.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

A recent editorial in the Sunday Brand vividly revealed that our school public relations program is very definitely inoperative. May we hurriedly assure you that we concur 100% with the thought that taxpayers and patrons of the school have a "right to know." In our zeal for progress and better schools, it is possible that many actions of the Board have not been clearly understood by some who have had only limited information. A lack of understanding is certainly fertile soil for unrest, misconceptions, and false conclusions. The Board would like to present an overview of the thinking that has resulted in the recent re-defining of administrative duties. Perhaps it should be noted here that often a re-naming is all that is involved since the duties are unchanged.

If one is to fully understand the actions of the Board, it is imperative that the paramount objective of the Board be known. This objective is very frequently heard during the course of a meeting — namely, "The Best Public School Possible for All the Youth of the District at the Least Possible Cost." Early last fall the Board was plagued with the problem of re-defining, reorganizing, or in some manner changing the role of the business manager. The thought of adding an assistant business manager was frequently suggested. The Board was very slow to move lest a mistake be made that would prove unwise financially or functionally. Yet, something had to be done. With the growth of the school and even education itself, because of the federal impact on education, the job had become too sizeable for one person as the position was then defined. It was humanly impossible for the capable person assigned to this position to adequately administer the duties without confusion, inefficiencies, neglect of responsibilities to both school personnel and patrons, and many other complications. While the Board was pondering, weighing possibilities and attempting to determine the proper action, the Business Manager resigned.

Soon thereafter, it was apparent that the head bus mechanic, who also doubled as director of transportation, would be leaving his position with the schools. About the same time, one of the two persons who had been assigned to certain maintenance duties was offered a higher salaried position and left the schools. Before long range plans could be slowly and deliberately worked out, it was now necessary that an interim plan be provided.

This interim plan will not only be of interest to you but should interest all taxpayers. Those services which normally should and were costing the district approximately $1800 per month for a business manager, transportation director, and maintenance employee are now costing the district an amount that has varied from $375 to $500 per month. This savings has not been because of reduced services, or even less efficient service, but rather because of the willingness of administrators to assume excessive and time-demanding responsibilities during this interim period.

In developing long range plans the Board very carefully studied the responsibilities of all vacant positions and at the same time spent considerable time and study in identifying school weaknesses, discovering strengths, and determining needs. The Board was of the opinion that greater curriculum leadership was one of the most pressing needs — a need for someone or for those with strong leadership qualities that could very closely work with teachers in assuring that every teacher provided the best program possible for students. This leadership was thought to be a necessity for developing new programs and better teaching methods, for discovering new materials and the use of new media, and correlating the total school program. Changes in education are occurring at a rate never before known. The school that is not moving forward is behind and is getting further behind. These considerations soon led to an evaluation of the merits in being a part of the PESO program. While PESO had been of tremendous value to this point, it was soon agreed that perhaps PESO had served its place and the district could operate independently just as effectively at less cost. Someone, however, would still have to be responsible for these duties performed by the PESO coordinator and even additional duties. This, the only new administrative position created in the last two years other than principals where new facilities were occupied, is one that will be extremely demanding in time, competency, and a knowledge of reporting and evaluating. Because of federal legislation, the school district has begun to receive from $300,000 to $500,000 annually in additional funds. These funds have provided more than thirty new teaching positions; provided large sums for equipment, supplies, and a variety of new educational experiences; and even supplemented building costs. A wise expenditure of these funds demands additional administrative assistance. After several months of study and a search for qualified people to fill positions if duties were to be re-defined, the Board arrived at a unanimous conclusion. The new plan was one that would cost the district less money; and, in the opinion of the Board, be of tremendous academic value.

The new organization merely takes the position of the business manager, which was so often far removed from, and cold to, the needs of teachers, and links it with the PESO program. Without an organizational change this would have been a cost of $32,000 as a minimum to the district. By employing two who are perhaps among the best informed on the functions of PESO, they can not only carry this load jointly and easily, but they can double as curriculum leaders. Serving in their new rolls they have responsibilities in the areas of budget and finance as well as curriculum. The cost of these two positions, which are now being termed assistant superintendent for lack of a better name, will cost considerably less than $32,000. These two people will be wholly responsible to the district where, under the former organization the business manager was full time and the PESO coordinator only part time assigned to the district. In order to devote more time to and strengthen the academic program, many duties formerly assigned to the business manager will not now be direct responsibilities of the assistant superintendents.

With the head mechanic serving as director of transportation it was necessary that nearly 75% of his time be spent in clerical and office duties. The drafting of route descriptions; hiring of bus drivers; arranging substitutes; planning extra-curricular use of buses; keeping a daily log on each bus for audit purposes — number riding (morning and evening) mileage, route changes, operating expense, maintenance expense, etc.; and the receiving and solving of complaints from both drivers and patrons, is often out of the area of preparation for a mechanic. To assume these responsibilities, one who has been serving as half-time assistant principal and half-time assigned to truancy and a multiplicity of other duties, is being relieved of his assistant principal duties. Not only will he pick up as additional assignment these transportation duties, but he will become the coordinator of many other programs including the custodial. It is hoped that by having a coordinator of many programs now having no director, there will be an achievement of greater cooperation and more efficiency in operation, purchasing and in the assignment of personnel. Since the head mechanic will not be burdened with office duties, the personnel can be reduced from three to two and one-half with more available time for actual repairs. This coordinator of special programs in an aid to maintenance, custodial, cafeteria, and all non-teaching assignments which were initially a part of the duties assigned the business manager. This new organization which is now in operation on a limited basis during this interim period has permitted the reduction of one from the maintenance staff without a loss in efficiency. Again, the new organization not only provides for economy but for strength in operation.

The Board is most anxious to emphasize that while the reorganization represents a financial savings to the district, the new arrangement was also designed to strengthen the curriculum and give greater assistance to teachers. Those assigned to budget and finance become partners with teachers and not computers of figures. The new organization will allow for a more rapid processing of purchase orders — an asset to teachers.

The Board has continually made an effort to evaluate and compare our schools with those of surrounding districts. Surveys and research projects are regularly made. For the past several weeks, we have been working on a survey that will reveal perhaps all the information that was suggested should be sought. When all data is collected and the summary compiled, the Board will be most happy to send The Brand a copy.

In conclusion, again let the Board assure you that you are justified in criticizing if you are in doubt or disagreement. This Board is of the opinion that the education of our youth is of such importance that our best is the least we can afford. We want and need not only yours, but the suggestions of all those interested in good schools, and you can be assured that this Board is dedicated to better schools. This Board and its administrators join you in your interest of school economy, but only, if quality is not sacrificed. It is our intention to explore every avenue of economy and pass these savings on to our youth in the form of improved schools and to our teachers in the form of supplies, equipment, and better salaries.

Unanimously approved by Board of Trustees Hereford Independent School District February 20, 1967

THE CHURCH I LOVE . . . IS NOT RULED BY PRIVATE OPINION

Highly opinionated people, who try to force their private opinions upon the people of God, have plagued the church since its beginning. God's called out people, which make up the church of the Lord, have been divided many times over the centuries because a self-willed individual or group has attempted to bind opinions upon the church.

Those of us who love the truth which makes us free in Christ Jesus (John 8:31, 32), simply refuse to become slaves bound by the opinions of men. Because we refuse to allow opinions to bring us under subjection of self-willed men, the battle is joined for the freedom which Christ gives.

In the Third Letter of John verses 9 and 10 the apostle stated, "I have written something to the church; but Diotrephes, who likes to put himself first does not acknowledge my authority. So if I come, I will bring up what he is doing, prating against me with evil words. And not content with that, he refuses himself to welcome the brethren, and also stops those who want to welcome them and puts them out of the church."

Often times, if we do not knuckle under to the opinions of the self-willed we are threatened, and accused of being unscriptural. Such people equate their opinions to the Scriptures which God gave. If these highly opinionated men cannot capture the hearts of Christians by threats, accusations and intimidations. They divide the body of Christ; build a church building of their own where they can work and worship according to the dictates of their own opinions. With pharisaical pride they boast that they are the only Christians doing the will of God.

As Christians we know that, "All Scripture is inspired by God and profitable for teaching, for reproof, for correction, and for training in righteousness, that the man of God may be complete, equipped for every good work." (2 Timothy 3:16, 17).

Every man has a right to his own opinion; but the man who tries to force his opinion upon others and bind it upon men as if it were the gospel of Christ, shall be judged by the Lord in the last day.

Farm Feed Yard Developed Early By Berend

READING MAIL — The C. J. Berends relax for a moment while they look over the mail and some news items. One of their favorite hobbies is to play cards with the neighbors on Sundays. (Hereford Brand Photo)

By JOE BRAN
Staff Writer

Possibly the first feed lot to have sprung up in Deaf Smith County belonged to C. J. Berend. He first came to Hereford in 1951 and at that time, there were no operations such as this, he stated.

At present, he has a feedlot with about 800 head of cattle. He even raises a few hogs along with the cattle, feeding on a minor scale.

In order for any person to have a feed lot operation, it takes a good climate and an abundant feed supply, Berends reflects. One important factor also is that a person must like his work and know what he is doing. Berend does that and proudly states that he raises his own feed for his operation.

About the only thing that he buys to feed his cattle is feed supplements.

He feeds about 500 head first in one lot and then later finishes them in another. His cattle do not go for sale unless they have been fed for at least 18 months. He is sure of what he sells, for he guarantees the buyer that they will dress at least 62 percent when slaughtered.

His feed lot is unlike commercial feed lots because he doesn't feed other people's cattle. All animals fed belong to him.

Berend first came to Hereford from Gainesville, Texas, located in Cook County, in 1951. He was born in March 10, 1909 on a farm and later married.

In a comparison of modern times to the old days, he says, "we used to drive our cattle about 14 miles to ship them by rail and we had to pay about 76 cents per hundred pounds. And then, we only received about $9 per hundred pounds at the market. Now we probably pay only about half for the shipping and get much more for our cattle," he continued. The early times he recalls were in 1928.

Berend married Cecilia in 1933 in that county. He and Cecilia had three children. She passed away in 1961. The children still living at home with him are Ray, 26 years old, and Phillip, 15.

Ray is presently stationed with the Army in Viet Nam. He has been there for the last 7 months and expects to be there for the next 5. He will probably be home about 6 months from then.

Phillip is an 8th grader at La Plata Jr. High.

After Mrs. Berend's death, he married again in 1962 to Patty Riter. Two of her children are now married, and the ones living with her are Tommy and Ronnie. Tommy is 19 and works for the American Dusting Co. while Ronnie, 15, is a sophomore at Hereford High.

As for the couple's entertainment, they play cards most generally with some of their neighbors on Sunday. Berend is one of those persons that likes to dance and they occasionally go

Furniture Store Handles Wide Range Of Furnishings

"We can outfit a complete home from carpet to all appliances and furniture in all price differentials," says H and H Furniture and Appliances owner Jack Johnson.

His goal is complete sales and service for furnishing a home. The new and used furniture store is well on its way.

Purchased by Johnson about December 1st, the store was formerly owned by Otis Hall. Johnson was a traveling salesman representing a firm selling furniture to Hall. The sale grew out of a friendship and a business relationship between the two men.

The new owner explained that he plans to have the largest carpet display of Hereford. In keeping with his goal, plans are to offer television service on Philco television sets and all appliances.

According to Johnson, his store is one of the largest furniture stores between Hereford and Fort Worth — as far as floor space is concerned.

Located west on U. S. Highway 60, the store is divided between two buildings. New furniture is stored and sold in a building with 14,000 square feet of floor space. Used furniture is stored and sold from the Big Red Barn, which has 10,000 square feet of floor space.

Johnson, who said that he loves children and wanted to entertain the kids, had Fluffy the Clown from Amarillo at his Grand Opening last Sunday.

Philco is the store's main line for appliances and television sets. Furniture lines include many name brands.

A future addition to the store will be Shumber Land, featuring mattresses and box springs. Shumber Land will be the "headquarters for king size beds," Johnson added.

Four employees besides Johnson operate the store. James Edmonson is floor salesman in the new furniture store. D. C. Allmon is in charge of sales at the used furniture building. Trinidad Gomez works with sales and delivery and Chester Gonzales works with delivery.

Yardstick Will Sell Piece Goods

One of Hereford's newest stores opens its doors to the public today in Sugarland Mall Shopping Center. The store goes by the name, "Yardstick" and it is a fabric shop.

The store will be operated by Bob Hamman and has 2,700 square feet of selling space. Hamman will be assisted by his brother, Bill, for the next few days. Bill has had about 20 years experience in the fabric business and Bob only one. Bob previously was a farmer, but nevertheless, he has had experience in the business a salesman.

The store opens with a limited supply of merchandise but will carry more in the future. Along with all kinds of fabrics, they will feature trimmings and notions.

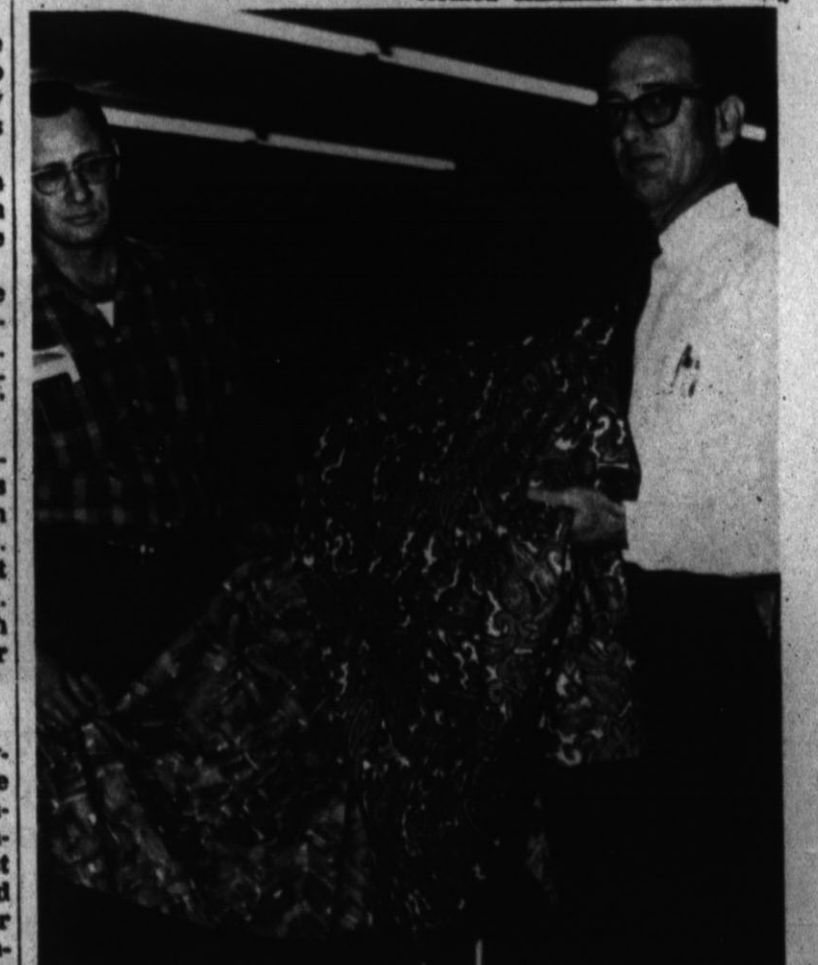

Assisting Bob will be two ladies, Mrs. Joe Ed Cupell and Mrs. Johnny Bupnik.

All lines of fabrics that will be featured will be from the top textile companies along with some imported fabrics from all over the world.

Hamman will not move his family to Hereford until during the summer because his wife, Mary Jo, teaches school. They have one child, Craig, who is 18 months old.

The store hours will be from 9:00 a. m. to 6:00 p. m. for the present time. One may shop in comfort and quietness while in the store. The store also features a quiet clean look with its ancient birch paneling.

The store in Hereford is the first to be under the newly formed Hamman Fabric Store.

BY THE YARD — Bob Hamman, left, shows some of the fabrics that he will feature at the new fabric shop he opened today in the Sugarland Mall. Assisting him temporarily will be his brother, Bill, who owns a fabric store in Plainview that goes by the same name. (Hereford Brand Photo)

Picking of Hass, Jaina, Fuerte and other varieties of fall and winter avocados is in progress and harvest operations are well ahead of last season. The fruit set in most districts is very heavy and the quality of the crop is good. The California fall and winter avocado production is forecast at 40,000 tons, some 28 percent above last season's crop and 53 percent above the last 5-year average.

Washington Report

From Congressman

BOB PRICE 10TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

1323 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 225-3706

On February 20 I introduced two measures to give our veterans of the war in Viet Nam the same benefits as earlier Congresses gave those of us who fought in Korea and in World Wars I and II.

One of these bills would add pilot training to the list of educational benefits available to these Viet Nam veterans. The other would extend full wartime benefits to veterans of Viet Nam, expand educational allowances under the GI bill, and give a cost-of-living increase to aged veterans and their survivors who are receiving pensions.

The members of our armed forces are again fighting and giving their lives in the defense of freedom. This is one way in which we can convey our gratitude for their service in Viet Nam.

In other Viet Nam related activities, I have joined several other members of Congress in introducing a resolution asking the President to halt trade, educational, and cultural exchanges, and other related agreements with Russia and its East European satellites until they stop aiding North Viet Nam.

I have also asked Secretary of State Dean Rusk to reconsider a planned sale of government-subsidized vegetable oil to Communist Yugoslavia. This is clearly illegal in view of the Findley Amendment to the last agriculture appropriations act. This amendment, passed by Congress, prohibits government-subsidized sales to countries who are trading with North Viet Nam or who allow ships and planes under their registry to carry goods to that country.

In other activities since my last report to you, I have had the pleasure of attending a briefing at the U. S. Naval Academy in nearby Annapolis, Maryland. I joined a group of high school guidance counselors from our Panhandle area who were flown here by the Navy to tour the academy and attend these very informative meetings.

During the Lincoln Day recess I was honored to be invited to Houston to address a group of Harris County residents, while there I was shown through the Manned Spacecraft Center by astronaut "Buzz" Aldrin who was in the same fighter squadron with me during the Korean Conflict. As you may remember, I was a "walk in space."

Recent visitors to our Washington office include: Robert De Olite, Charles Bacon, Joe Willoughby, Mrs. E. A. Kimmins, Elmore Jackson, Margaret Hale Jane Williams, Bill Prather, Mrs. Nan Gibbs, Ester Boulware, Gladys Davis, Rex Vaughn, M. D. Colman, Lee Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones, R.

to dances. Berend farms about 733 acres of land with about 700 of this being irrigated by 6 wells. He raises wheat, milo and some cotton. All the work on the farm is done by him and one hired hand.

He owns his own cattle trucks and has one feed wagon. This wagon is fairly new and it has a scale that weighs the feed as it is loaded or unloaded.

He is also proud in the fact that most items in his feed lot operation have been "home-made." He has a good knowledge of welding along with that of cattle raising.

After Ray comes out of the Army, he is planning to expand his operation to about 2,000 head of cattle.

His feeding consists mainly of corn silage, sugar beet pulp, milo and supplements. They are all mixed together in a mixer he owns.

Until next week, best regards from your Congressman,

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

It's refreshing to read in the current issue of a popular magazine an article by a school principal who says that much worry over the younger generation is due to new names that psychologists are applying to old situations.

WHEN WRITERS hold forth about "youth's search for identity," he says, most parents don't know they are only talking about "the kids' growing pains" and so parents panic and figure that children are facing brand-new problems today and something must be done to ease the poor little dears' hard lives.

It's about time an "authority" came out with some common sense on the subject; quite a few voices have spoken up in the last few months and the trend seems to be growing. Guess it's time for the pendulum to swing back, and parents start bossing their children again instead of the vice versa system we have been plagued with.

MAIN PURPOSE of Mrs. Ed Loerwald's visit last week to her daughter's home at Webster Grove, Mo., was to get acquainted with a new granddaughter, born Feb. 6. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sinnacher are the parents of the baby, who has been named Danielle Marie and who weighed 5 pounds 11 ounces at birth. Mrs. Sinnacher is the former Pat-sy Loerwald.

ANOTHER PROUD grandmother was showing off her grandchild during a downtown shopping trip the other morning. Mrs. Carl Wimberley of Dawn and her pretty red-haired daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ted Wimberley, were doing the shopping and the latter's baby was napping.

You may have one guess who was carrying the blanket-bundled baby and beaming happily when friends admired his red hair and general cuteness.

OPEN HOUSE at 127 Star Sunday afternoon gave First Methodist Church members a chance to inspect the new parsonage to which the Rev. Clifford Trotter's family lately moved. The Trotters as hosts were assisted by assorted members of the church board and Women's Society.

Visitors streamed through the house, formerly the Floyd McGee home, for three hours, and were cordially greeted by Irene and Clifford Trotter. Marcia was in her bedroom to help show it, or carrying plates from table to kitchen, and Johnny was being called upon for various host chores.

Even the family dachshund came up to be friendly with a group of visitors on the back porch, then trotted back to the dog house beside the storage room at the back of the yard.

OCCASIONALLY we like to remind people whose pictures we use in The Brand, that pictures taken by our photographers are available on a first come, first served basis to whoever calls for them after they have been published and are in our files.

We must know the date of the paper in which the picture appeared, because filing is done by dates. If you call for a picture and don't know the date, we ask you to look it up in our file of newspaper copies. Besides pictures taken by Brand photographers we have many studio prints, mostly of brides or engaged girls, which belong to the subjects and we would be glad to return if they are only called for.

State Charter Is Received By LVN League

A charter from the Texas League of Vocational Nurses was received by the Deaf Smith County organization at its recent meeting, marking its formal recognition by the state body. Members and guests met in the dining room of Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Azalee Hodges, who has been president of the Professional Nurses Organization here the past year, was guest speaker. She discussed technical points of preparing a patient for a tracheotomy and care afterward. A question and answer period followed her talk.

Virginia Sutter presided for the business session. Announcement was made that the next meeting will be March 16 at a dinner in the Hickory Log Restaurant, with County Attorney Bruce Miller as speaker on some legal aspects of the nursing profession.

Guests for the program were Betty Davis, Carol Lohr, Emiline Watson, Sonja Schultz and Reba Watson.

Wreck Causes Slight Injuries

Minor injuries resulted from a collision with a parked car Sunday. Joe Galan, a passenger, in a 1962 vehicle, was treated for a laceration on his forehead in the Deaf Smith County Hospital emergency room.

Galan was riding with Emilio Fuentes, Jr., 331 Ave. E. the driver of the 1962 car traveling south on Ave. B.

Fuentes said that he was adjusting his rear view mirror and lost control of the car, which was owned by Emilio Fuentes, Sr., 331 Ave. E. A.

The parked car, a 1958 automobile was owned by Richard Albracht, 321 Avenue B. Repair costs for the Albracht vehicle were estimated at $200. Damages to the Fuentes car were estimated at $500.

FOR GOD SO LOVED THE WORLD

An angel's food cake may be a work of perfection. An athlete may have a perfect golf swing. But, generally speaking, our lives are quite imperfect. About the most perfect thing one could ever find is a little girl just turned five.

"Be ye perfect as your Father in heaven is perfect."

That's a big order. No man has perfectly kept God's commandments...we all break them in thought and word and deed. Yet the order stands — "perfection!" "Be perfect!"

Then, make perfection the constant aim of your life. Be dissatisfied with your accomplishments and unremittingly and everlastingly strive toward the highest and the best which is found only in Jesus. "Be ye perfect!"

Traveling the perfect way one needs all the help he can muster. We suggest regular church attendance as your greatest aid.

Reflexed Tulips

Glad's Garden

TULIP ARRANGEMENTS The stately beauty of potted tulips, single blooms, and double blooms, when cut and brought into the house, brings a breath of spring and enjoyment.

When cut for arrangements, this most showy of blooms is often used in solo splendor. One single, lovely bloom with self foliage, placed in a bud vase is a suggested gift for a shut-in or a sick friend. Again an uneven number of cut tulip blossoms can be arranged effectively in a finger vase to good advantage. The stems are cut in varied lengths and inserted in the five openings of the finger vase. Each flower being so placed that they can be individually enjoyed. Do not crowd, as the blossoms should be enjoyed for themselves, and be seen in their entirety.

Self foliage or other foliage is added to repeat the sweep of the fan-shaped design of the finger container. To hold the stems securely in place, the openings in the container are plugged with short pieces of soaked oasis or short lengths of stems.

Tulips combine beautifully with spring shrub blossoming branches. For a container use a woven basket with or without a handle which picks up the color and texture of the branches. A mass design is suggested, but use care that blossoms are not crowded. Use the branches for the line, and then fill in with the tulip blossoms. Such an arrangement could be used in the den or for a brunch.

The distinction of the tulip can dramatically be displayed in a Western adaptation of the dynamic triangular Oriental style, using a stemmed metal or wooden container. Place a full pinholder in the container, using floral clay or tape, to securely hold the pin holder. Establish the primary grouping with two tall tulips that are three and one-half times the height of the container (or a change position, and face the sunlight. In flower shows, often a complete new arrangement has been created by response to light exposure and to temperature changes.

When filling the container with water, do not completely submerge the stems with water, two to three inches of the stem, for drinking, is sufficient. If too much water is used the stems will deteriorate, and the lasting quality of the arrangement will be shortened. Check each day and add a bit of water, rather than too much at the beginning.

Pussy willow, fruits, and jonquils combine nicely with tulips. Have fun, and added pleasure by using your tulips this spring for arranging. Then share them with others. This is a gardeners extra portion of happiness. Grow, and share. Glad.

blossoms from bulbous plants. 1. Remove the tough, white fibrous portion of the stems, cutting off one to two inches from the ends. This is to be done so the maximum supply of water will penetrate to the blooms.

2. Since the stems have a high water content, it is advised to use the pin point holders, because if oasis is used it causes the stems to soften more readily, therefore the blossoms will not last.

3. When using more than one blossom in a certain placement, as mentioned in the later arrangement above mentioned, it is good to use floral tape, or soft yarn, to fasten the grouping together, then add this to the arrangement design.

4. In selecting blossoms for reflexing, choose the older blossoms. Let them stay out of water for a time. They will be less brittle, therefore reflex more easily.

5. Remember that tulip blossoms react to change in temperature, if the room temperature is warm, they will open, and they when it changes at night to a cooler temperature they will close. They also follow light, and of the arrangement is placed in a room where there is sun exposure they will change position, and face the sunlight. In flower shows, often a complete new arrangement has been created by response to light exposure and to temperature changes.

6. When filling the container with water, do not completely submerge the stems with water, two to three inches of the stem, for drinking, is sufficient. If too much water is used the stems will deteriorate, and the lasting quality of the arrangement will be shortened. Check each day and add a bit of water, rather than too much at the beginning.

FROM OUR AUSTIN BUREAU

Problem Of Migrants Still Concerns Student Groups

By LARRY FUHRMANN Hereford Brand Austin Bureau Chief

Ivory towers — towers of wealth, of affluence, of apathy and unconcern for those whose lives are concentrated on a mere eking out an existence — are separating the middle classes (and the academic community) from the frustrations and real troubles of the Latin American migrant workers in Texas. This is the thesis of one historian, Michael Hall, who has become involved in the work of "La Huelga," the strike being carried on in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Dr. Hall is a professor of history at the University of Texas.

"There is something intrinsic about scholarship that makes people postpone decision-making and action," Dr. Hall notes. "But action must perhaps be instigated before all the answers are in." The academic community should be an instigator of social justice in Texas, he believes.

And the same goes for the entire middle and upper classes of the Texas citizenry, according to his explanations. There is a time for observation, but there is also a time for action. La Huelga is "where the action is," bringing to a head a problem that has been simmering, sometimes with bitterness, among the migrant farm laborers of the Southwest.

As Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "Life is action and passion;" those who have not lived in the passion and action of their own times have perhaps not even lived, Dr. Hall agrees. In seeking out "the good life" the life of automobiles and new dresses, the life of economic and scholastic self advancement, members of the middle class create their own ivory towers; they do not always see the realities of the world surrounding them, Hall asserts.

They can live in the world of the United Fund, the world of contributing volunteer hours to the local hospital, the numerous charities, and yet miss the enrichment of becoming emotionally involved in the action at hand. There is not really any emotional contact when a person contributes to the United Fund or to some other such charitable cause. Working for some cause — any cause — in an active sense enriches a person's life in that it lets him become involved actively and emotionally. Dr. Hall distinguishes a "cause" as being separate from a "charity."

A person devoting hours to "La Huelga" is concerned not simply in the sense of understanding, Dr. Hall says, but is concerned actively in that he is working for the immediate success of the strike.

The strike of the Latin American laborers in the Rio Grande Valley is not a "charity" that will demand time and money of the citizenry year after year; it is a movement, a fight, that will either be won — or lost — within the next two years.

Ernest Cortez, a Latin American student who dropped out of school in order to further the cause of "La Huelga," claims that scholarship and economic advancement among the members of the middle class are "good things." But this self advancement from its ideologies the fact that there are some people in this state who simply don't have time to think of scholarship and advancement. They are the people who have to work from 10 to 16 hours a day in order to simply keep a shirt on their back and food in the mouths of their many children.

A lack of enlightened social and economic thinking precludes the Latin American from any awareness of different alternatives to his way of life, Cortez believes. The group of Rio Grande workers are creating a "search for community," a uniting force to make them an effectively organized minority group.

The migrant workers need to join together to solve the problems that have plagued their fellow laborers for the past 40 years in the great Southwest. Members of the middle and upper classes are able to let the so-called "laws of economics" solve their problems of existence; the migrant workers are going to have to solve their problems in different ways, Cortez suggests, if they desire to live in better situations.

"I would hate to see San Antonio and other cities with substantial Latin American populations faced with the same problems that are now plaguing Chicago and other Northern cities," Cortez asserted, saying aroused Negro agitation could move into the Southwest and find expression through the Latin American groups, especially as agriculture becomes more and more "industrialized" in the sense of increased automation.

"It makes my blood boil to see their class being taken advantage of," Cortez said. "It is time for the Latin Americans to organize themselves into an effective minority group so that they can participate in decisions that affect each of their lives. They are going to have to utilize their freedom."

Another voice can be heard in the discussion, the voice of the Latin American who himself has been in the laboring group. Gilbert Padilla, who helped organize the workers, argues that the Latin American migrant minorities in general are not represented anywhere in government of the State of Texas.

"Legislators don't care about us because we don't vote, because we are not really a part of the communities where we live at various times throughout the year. Employers prefer to hire us because we have no protection — there are no national labor law or state laws that give us any guarantees."

One way to bring the migrant workers and his family out of their economic rut is to bring their employer to the bargaining table, to convince him that better pay will be in the best interests of the minority group.

Farm laborers do not necessarily need to change their occupations, he asserts. Laborers are not even considered workers, but rather domestics. "There is nothing to be ashamed of in being a laborer in the field."

"We have to live by the law of the jungle," Padilla said. "You live by the law of the books. We are not represented by the lawmakers of this state and nation because we are not organized."

The middle classes of Texas are going to have to put the laws on the books, Padilla says because migrant laborers are uneducated, they are not represented; they are totally incapable of doing it themselves. As Dr. Hall says, perhaps the "time for action" has arrived. The ivory towers don't appear to be shaking — but has someone already started chiseling at the foundations while no one was looking?

Parked Car Is Damaged Sunday

A collision involving a parked car on Avenue B resulted in approximately $350 damage to two cars Sunday.

Collision occurred when Elizabeth Joye Martin, driver of a 1959 automobile, lost control of her car. She stated that she was trying to dodge a cat that ran across the street. Damage to the 1959 car, owned by Mary Payne, amounted to $80. Driver and owner live at 341 Avenue A.

The parked vehicle, a 1964 automobile, suffered about $300 damage. Owner of the parked car was Matthew L. Brown, Box 407, Vega, Texas.

Texas Cities U F Goals Short

Of the 206 United Fund campaigns held in Texas last year, less than one-half are over the top and about one-fourth are incomplete.

According to a news release from the Texas United Funds, Inc., in Dallas, Hereford was one of the few who topped its goal. Hereford's goal for this past year was set at $30,400 and when completed $31,134 had been raised. This figures about 102.4% of its goal.

Hereford also had the fastest United Fund campaign in Texas, reaching its goal more quickly than any other community.

Girlstown Aid Sale Continues

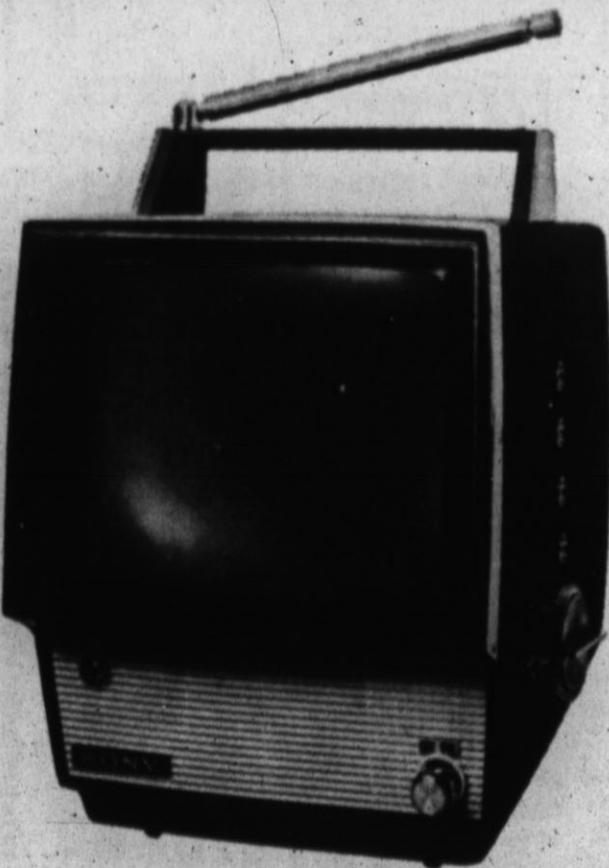

Hereford Joyce-Eltes are continuing this week a sale of kitchenware to raise funds for a gift to Girlstown U. S. A., and will take telephone orders through Saturday, Mrs. Don Haynes, president, announces.

Started at a sales party last week, the project is being continued in the hope of making a substantial cash gift to the girls' residence home at Whiteface.

Telephone inquiries and orders for the plastic kitchenware may be made to Mrs. Melvin Fowler, Mrs. Wayne Houlette or Mrs. Haynes.
