Brand Plans Sports Award

In an effort to promote athletics and competitiveness in District 1-AAA, the Hereford Brand has initiated the plan to award an "All-Sports" trophy to one of the six teams in this district.

The trophy, which is hoped to become an annual presentation, will be awarded to one of the six district teams for overall standings in each of the six sports — golf, basketball, volleyball, football, baseball and track.

The awarding of the trophy will be decided by a point system that has a maximum total that can be gained as 33 and a minimum of six. The system will allow each school a certain number of points in accordance with the place in which they finish the season.

Though not all of the schools will be presented in all of the six sports, it was decided that these were the most important ones and should be included.

For example, all of the district schools have teams in each of the six sports with the exception of baseball in which there will be only three teams, Dumas, Canyon and Hereford.

The school that wins first place in a certain sport, will receive six points toward the trophy with the exception of the baseball teams in which case, the number one finisher will receive three points. Each of the other events will give six points to the first place winner in the district, with the second place finisher getting five, the third placer four and so on down the line.

In case there is a tie, the team with the most number of top or near top finishes will be awarded the trophy. Meaning that if two teams tie for the total, the one that has the most number of first place finishes will be awarded the trophy. In case there is a tie there, it will be decided upon by the number of second place finishes.

Due to the rules of the University Interscholastic League, the trophy will not be allowed to be taken from the school and must remain there at all times. Each year, a new trophy will be awarded to the winning school.

The award will be presented to the school each year at their final athletic banquet.

Student Total Up

Enrollment figures for Hereford schools are up from enrollment figures at the end of the first day of school last year. Total for all schools Friday afternoon before the official end of registration was 4,489, as compared to last year's 4,469.

Registration for elementary schools is 2,614 students. Northwest has the greatest number enrolled at 700, with Bluebonnet's registration figure at 600. Enrollment for Shirley is 468, for Aikman, 457, and for Central, 389.

Over 1,000 are registered at the two junior high schools, with La Plata at 570 and Stanton at 547.

Students enrolled in Hereford High School number 758. The senior class has 181; the junior class, 274; and sophomore class, 303.

School officials are expecting the enrollment figure to jump as more students enroll during the first weeks of school.

Milo Center To Have Barbecue

Milo Center residents will hold their fifth annual barbecue supper Monday, Labor Day, beginning at 6 p. m. at the Pitman Grain Company's elevators north of Hereford on U. S. 385.

Virgil Marsh, general foreman for this year, will serve as "Mayor of Milo Center" for the day, with the public invited to attend the event. There is no cost for the barbecue, which is sponsored by the residents of Milo Center.

TOP WINNER — Shown is the Grand Champion Stallion at the Easter Quarter Horse Show held Saturday. Skip-A-Son is owned by Pat Dunning of Carrizozo, N. M., who also had the Grand Champion Mare, Skips-Juliet. Dunning received his awards from David Hutchins and Kathy Shannon. Other award winners will be published Thursday in the Hereford Brand, listing those who received the trophies shown below. Photos by Earl Moseley.

PD Investigates Three Burglaries

Three burglaries and one theft were reported to Hereford police last week, with three men being charged with the theft about one hour after its occurrence.

Charles Danley reported to police that someone had broken into Boyd's Machine Shop sometime Wednesday. Officers found that entrance had been gained by throwing a metal object through a window. A money box was broken into, but no money taken.

Troy Rhodes, manager of A-Z Tire Co., 128 W. First, told police Tuesday that he and a salesman had been in the front of the store, had heard some noises from the rear and saw three males leaving. The license number of the car was taken down and given to police when it was found that eight batteries were missing.

About an hour after the theft was reported, officers stopped the car containing three men and began questioning them. Investigation turned up the batteries in two local wrecking yards, where they had been sold by men fitting the description of those in custody.

Charged were Jimmy DeLuna, Raymond Villa and Anselmo Ramirez. They were fined $42 and court costs and sentenced to 15 days in jail each after appearing in Deaf Smith County Court.

Two burglaries were reported to have occurred during the night Thursday, the first being at Continental Grain Co. Dennis Wasnitzky, manager, told police that someone had been at the company until about 11 p. m. Thursday, and the burglary occurred after that.

Entry was gained when someone broke a small glass panel out of a door, reached in and unlocked the door. About $1.50 to $2 was taken from the "coffee kitty," and desk drawers were searched but nothing taken from them.

At the County Club golf shop, entry was gained by knocking out the door glass on the north side of the shop. The door to the office was kicked open and about $100 in change was taken from a desk. Also taken was $2 in change from the office cash register and about $6 in bills. Damage to the door was estimated at about $20.

Working People To Be Honored

Labor Day is a holiday honoring working people.

But not all the working people of Hereford — or throughout the United States, for that matter — will find it a holiday. For them it will be another "labor day."

There will be a number of cafes, the theatres, the law enforcement agencies, etc., who will go about Monday as they do on all other Mondays — employees simply showing up for toil at the specified time.

Longtime employees in such interests, it has been revealed, have resigned themselves to holiday work and think little about the matter. Usually these same people work almost all the other annual holidays — some even Christmas — and make their plans accordingly. Labor Day is just another day.

Labor Day has become the symbol of the end of summer. School usually begins on the following day throughout the nation (as it does here in Hereford).

In 1882, Peter J. McGuire, founder of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters, suggested a national holiday to honor the country's working people. In September 1882, workers staged the first Labor Day parade in New York City. Organized labor then campaigned to make the day a national holiday.

In 1887, Oregon became the first state to make Labor Day a legal holiday. President Grover Cleveland signed a bill in 1894 making Labor Day a legal holiday.

English Student Leaving London

Margaret Sharon Watson — who wishes to be called Sharon — will leave London, England, today bound for Hereford.

The 18-year-old girl, a native of Sale, Cheshire, England, will stay in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Hanna of Rt. 4 upon her arrival at the Amarillo Municipal Airport on Continental flight 199 at 3:35 Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Watson is here on an American Field Service International Scholarship Award. She will be the "new sister" of Joette and Cynthia Hanna while she attends Hereford High. Cynthia is now in college, but Joette continues as a senior student.

She will arrive in New York tonight, but will be reviewed there all day Monday.

Grant Hanna reported that she may miss a few days of school, but from her past scholastic record in English schools she should have no problem picking up immediately. She will be a senior.

United Fund Supported

Red Cross Is Always Ready In Time Of Need, Disaster

By VICKIE INMAN
Staff Writer

Kickoff date for the United Fund is Oct. 7. Money raised from the drive goes to various worthy organizations in the county. The biggest participant moneywise is the Deaf Smith County Red Cross which is slated to receive $11,000 quota this year.

Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter is rated by the National Red Cross in St. Louis as one of the outstanding chapters in the United States.

Approximately one-third of the funds allocated by the United Fund to the county chapter of Red Cross goes to the American National Red Cross. The rest is retained by the county chapter.

Red Cross provides several county services, two of which are mandatory. Regulations require that Red Cross provides services to the military and aid to county residents during disasters.

Mrs. Genevieve Miller, executive secretary of the county chapter, said the Red Cross has the responsibility for taking care of one to five families who need aid because of some natural disaster. "Fortunately we haven't had any of this," Mrs. Miller said. If the number of families affected is over five, then the area office of Red Cross provides aid.

When 19 Hereford families were affected by the flood along Tierra Blanca Creek in 1965, National Red Cross spent $3,300 for food, clothing, shelter and medical care for these families, she said.

Another type of natural disaster would be one-family fires. Mrs. Miller said the local chapter's responsibility is to fill the gap between what the family is able to do for itself and what the needs of the family are.

Families needing such aid are See DISASTER, Page 2

2nd "Pigeon Drop" Also Unsuccessful

Charges of conspiracy to commit a theft were filed against three Houston Negro men Wednesday by Deaf Smith County Sheriff's officers following the quick break-up of the second "pigeon drop" attempted in Hereford in less than a week.

Two of the men were arrested at the intersection of Whittier and Mable — the identical spot where three Lubbock Negroes were arrested Aug. 22 — and the third was picked up by a Highway Patrolman at Umbarger.

Charged were Sidney Lee Walker, 28; Gerald Russell McCarter, 26; and Lionel Stephen Taylor, 26. Bond was set by Justice of the Peace Ernest Wade at $7,500 each, and Walker and McCarter were released after posting bond Friday. Taylor remained in jail Saturday.

Albert Drager, 812 Knight St., told officers that just before 2 p. m. Wednesday he was approached by a Negro man asking direction to "Mary's Rooming House."

While Drager was driving the man around, attempting to locate the rooming house, the Negro man showed him a roll of bills which he said totaled $10,000. He said he planned to send $4,000 of this amount to Stokely Carmichael and didn't really care what happened to the rest. He asked Drager if he had any money during the conversation.

At about Whittier and Mable streets, Drager explained to officers, they spotted another Negro man walking and stopped to ask him if he might know where "Mary's Rooming House" was. (Officers theorized that the other two Negro men had been following Drager in a car, had cut in front and got out so Drager would spot him).

A resident of the neighborhood saw Drager talking to the two men and, being suspicious, called the officers. Drager, meanwhile, had become leery, and had suggested that perhaps the police would like to know about a slip of paper the Negro man was carrying which had the name of "Mary's Rooming House" on it.

Sheriff's deputies, police officers, highway patrolmen and the local Liquor Control Board agent quickly converged on Whittier and Mable streets when the call came in.

Officers said the same woman who had supplied vital information in the "pigeon drop" last week also was the one who tipped them off to Wednesday's action. The cooperation of local residents "makes cases like this real easy," one officer said.

In last week's alleged "pigeon drop," the three Negro men from Lubbock were charged with strong-armed robbery after taking $12,000 from Dave Broadwell of 349 W. 3rd. The men are William Lewis Jr., 25; James Hodges, 28; and Finner Lee Younger, 28.

Rain Welcomed Over County

Rainfall amounts over Deaf Smith County Wednesday through Friday were welcomed with cheerfulness, it was indicated by reports to the Brand. It ran from less than an inch within Hereford to approaching 1.50 in some county regions.

On the Bill Ellis farm 12 1/2 miles north of Hereford, it was reported that it had been received twice during the week, with a 1.9 total as of last Sunday.

The Leo Witkowski farm southeast of town registered a 1.35 total. And the J. E. McCabe place east of Dawn registered 1.3 — while on the first night Umbarger reportedly had 4 inches of rain!

H. L. Hershey, approximately 13 miles northeast of the city, received 1.1 for two days. Community Grain reported "about a half-inch on each of the two nights."

Sims Community reported 1 received 1 inch on Thursday night.

For the City of Hereford itself, Radio Station KPAN reported a .03 for Wednesday and an .80 for Thursday.

HEAVY SMOKERS — Residents of Deaf Smith County are spending thousands of dollars a year smoking cigarettes, a recent survey disclosed. Last year, some 1,744,000 packs of cigarettes were smoked in this county alone, resulting in around $609,000 spent for them. Photo by Tyler Vance.

County Had $609,000 In Cigarette Sales Last Year

(Special to the Brand) NEW YORK — The campaign against cigarette smoking, which has taken on a new intensity in recent weeks, brings up the question of cigarette consumption in Deaf Smith County.

How much are local residents smoking these days compared with people in other communities? What effect have previous health warnings had on their smoking habits?

Judging from the latest figures on cigarette sales in the area, there has been no apparent cutback. The average user is smoking just about as much as he did in previous years.

He has paid little or no heed to the warning issued by the U. S. Surgeon General in 1964 linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer and other ailments.

Nor has the caution "cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health," which is printed on each pack of cigarettes, made any noticeable difference.

The net result is that Deaf Smith County residents smoked some 1,744,000 packs of cigarettes in the past year, according to a breakdown of regional statistics, released by the tobacco industry.

This was equivalent to 174 packs a year for every local resident over the age of 18.

It was greater than in some portions of the country and less than in others. The average for this age group, nationally, was 215 packs. In the West South Central States it was 179 packs.

Now the Public Health Service has come out with a new warning. For the first time it has stated that there is a cause-and-effect connection between cigarette smoking and heart disease.

Specifically, it declares that the average young smoker in the 25 to 35 age bracket faces a shortening of his life by about eight years if he smokes more than two packs a day. Even the light smoker can expect a reduction of his life expectancy, it finds.

Smoking is becoming a more costly habit in another way, too. Because of tax boosts in many parts of the country, the price of a pack of cigarettes has been mounting.

In Deaf Smith County, last year, an estimated $609,000 was spent by local residents for cigarettes. It was at the rate of $61 per smoker.

Building Permits Lag In August

Construction in Hereford hit a snag during August as only $172,700 in building permits were issued at City Hall by Friday afternoon.

Of those permits, five were for new residences, four were for additions or improvements to residences and one permit was issued to the school district for erection of seven portable classrooms. Valued at a total of $49,000, the classrooms are 900-square feet each.

For the first eight months of 1968, Hereford has had building permits issued totaling $2,245,625. Last month, permits totaled $367,800.

Large Crowd Hears NFO Speaker Here

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Bob Spears, a member of the National Farmers Organization since 1962, spoke to a crowd of nearly 200 persons in a meeting held in the Community Center Friday night.

Spears, who farms about 1,000 acres of land near Wichita, Kansas, spoke to persons from almost every business in town ranging from bankers to grain company owners. He explained the purpose of NFO and how it was organized in 1955.

"In 1955 farmers started thinking and wondering about what they would have to do in order to get better prices," Spears explained, "through their efforts, the National Farmers Organization was formed.

"There are three objectives of NFO," he added, "one is that it is the only organization of its kind in this field; two, is that it is the only group working to get a fair price through collective bargaining and three, it is working to give the farmers a better price for their agricultural commodities."

Explaining that the farm commodities are the farmers bargaining power, Spears emphasized the fact that the principle used by the organization is collective bargaining. In order for the farmers to get a better price for their products, the farmers must get enough production together in a group to meet the demand, he said.

"If you work together and put your production together, you will get the prices that you deserve. This is collective bargaining," he stated.

Whenever something is formed it is because of a need, Spears pointed out to the group, and that is what has been done in the case of the National Farmers Organization. He emphasized the fact that rural America is dying because of lost production to the farmers in this area, and the farmers have one of two choices to make: either to bring the prices up, or to cut the cost of production. When the farmers were faced with this situation some years ago, they established collective bargaining.

"Think," Spears said, "What the politicians can give you, the politicians can take away from you. We can no longer continue as individuals so we are going to have to organize."

The organization was drawn up in 1958 by farmers and so that everything would be done in a rightful manner, they pinpointed the limitation and responsibilities of the organization. The organization began with a minute number of 15 members in 1958 and has grown from 29 states to 49 in less than one year in membership, Spears pointed out. Some of the limitations set upon the organization from the initial stage was that all the NFO could do would be to bargain for better prices. It was also limited to being controlled by the farmers while only one vote per member could be allowed.

In explaining the organization more, Spears said that at the end of three years, which is the minimum which a farmer may join, a member can discontinue his membership if he so desires. There is nothing the organization can do to stop him. If he does not notify the NFO of discontinuation of his membership, it is automatically renewed within a certain number of days after expiration.

In no way can a farmer's membership be taken away unless the farmer sells his land, Spears explained, and a farmer vote in his power in NFO. It takes a two-thirds vote of product representatives to ratify an amendment to the organization's policy and all it takes to halt ratification of an amendment is one vote over the needed one-third it was explained.

"Things have changed and happened to our markets in the past 15 years and we have lost them," the speaker said. "If we, the farmers, are in a position to put the incentive price on our commodities, we will be able to get the prices we deserve," he ended.

The next meeting of the organization is to be held Sept. 21 where all area persons are invited and there will be a free barbecue. The meeting will be held at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn and will begin at 6 p. m.

In other business at the meeting, the Hereford State Bank donated $250 to aid in the free barbecue and 41 new members were signed up, bringing the total to well over 100 at the present time.

Club Adopts Project

A three-year project of landscaping the new Camp Fire Girls building will be started by Hereford Garden Club this fall, members voted at a called meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. Ben Childers, vice president who presided in the absence of Mrs. Ray L. Johnson.

This project will be entered by the club in nationwide competition for a community improvement award from the Sears Foundation. Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., Mrs. Tom Sawyer and Mrs. W. C. Hromas were named to the committee which will direct it. Mrs. Hromas presented a report from National Garden Club magazine on the 1968 national convention of garden clubs, held last April at Biloxi, Miss., with some 1300 persons attending.

Lately Wed Couple Lives At Portales

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Shirley are at home in Portales, N.M., after their marriage August 24. Mrs. Shirley is the former Miss Gloria June Greenwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Greenwood, 228 Avenue C.

The marriage took place in a double ring ceremony at the home of the bridegroom's sister in Portales. Miss Missie Garlitz and Sam Kennedy were the honor attendants.

Families of the couple and a few close friends attended the wedding and a reception which followed.

Miss Covington History Teacher

Gloria Covington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Covington of 202 Western, will be teaching 7th grade Texas History at Krueger Junior High in San Antonio beginning this week.

Miss Covington, a 1964 graduate of Hereford High School, graduated from North Texas State University last May.

Kindergarten Is Ready To Start

San Pablo Methodist Kindergarten, for children from 5 to 6 years-old, will begin classes Monday, Sept. 9, at its location at 218 Kibbe.

Teachers for the school will be Mrs. Fidel Alcalá and Miss Lupe Gonzales. Mrs. Laura Gibson, a nurse, will come to the school two days a week.

Mrs. Alcalá has had one year of teaching experience, while Miss Gonzales has taught for two years previously. Both recently took a two-weeks training course in San Antonio.

Classes at the school will be held from 9 to 11:30 a. m. Monday through Friday. Parents are asked to bring records of baptism or a birth certificate to show age.

Disaster ...

frequently referred to Red Cross by a minister because they are usually the first to be aware of a family's needs, Mrs. Miller said. Red Cross may hear about a case from a family next door or firemen.

Many services are provided by Red Cross for servicemen and their families. Mrs. Miller sends messages to servicemen concerning their family's health through the national Am-Cross communications system or by air mail letters.

"Families should write frequently to servicemen," Mrs. Miller said. "Otherwise, the men start worrying and wondering if something is wrong." Mrs. Miller has sent health and welfare reports frequently concerning a serviceman's family when the serviceman requests a report. "It is bad for a serviceman's morale not to know his family is all right," Mrs. Miller said.

Red Cross acts as a verification agency for the military in cases when someone in the serviceman's family dies or becomes ill. If a death occurs in the family, the county Red Cross calls the undertaker or doctor, then verifies the report to the military branch. Would the serviceman believe someone in his family is sick, he can tell his field director who will request verification from the Red Cross.

Mrs. Miller handles from 5 to 15 cases a month involving servicemen. Each case may require as many as 15 services and calls.

Red Cross provides forms and explains procedures servicemen must follow to receive discharge, but the burden of proof rests on the serviceman. All decisions rest with the military. If a serviceman's wife is not receiving her allotment, the Red Cross makes certain she receives it.

Mrs. Miller works on Red Cross at home and has a 24-hour, 7-day work week as executive secretary of the county chapter. She is the only paid worker in the chapter. All other workers are volunteers. "That is why Red Cross administration is very low," Mrs. Miller explained. "We are probably the largest volunteer organization."

"When people contribute to Red Cross, they are just making it possible for volunteers to do all these services," she said.

Other services provided by Red Cross are not mandatory. Safety service programs, such as First Aid and Water Safety, are strong. The active First Aid Committee is headed by Curtis Trawick, 6 Cheyenne Road. Mrs. C. E. Rush, 309 Lawton, is chairman of Water Safety.

Nursing service program is headed by Mrs. Nolan Grady, 116 Ave. J. Others cited by Mrs. Miller for outstanding work are Mrs. Wayne Phillips, 108 Ave. I; Mrs. Esther Springer and Mrs. James Durham, 147 Ranger.

Red Cross youth council at Hereford High School is a strong supplement to the county chapter. Mrs. Miller said. They contribute in various ways to provide food, clothing and fuel and make other contributions to the community. Mrs. Miller said.

J. R. Johnson, 116 Greenwood, is chairman of the Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter and Mrs. Eugene Sparks, 218 Ave. B, is treasurer.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — My wife and I were recently divorced. Our child will live with her. Will I lose my III-A deferment as a father because of this?

A — Probably so, but all aspects of your case will be considered. Regulations provide that you must maintain a bona fide family relationship in your home with your child or children for a III-A deferment based on fatherhood. However, if your induction into the armed forces would result in extreme hardship to your divorced wife, children, or dependents, your draft board may continue you in class III-A even though you and your wife are divorced.

Q — Recently my local board reopened my classification because of new evidence that was submitted. I believe the new classification they gave me is incorrect. May I appeal from that decision?

A — Yes. When a draft board reopens a man's classification and classifies him anew, the man has the same right of appeal before his local board and the same right of appeal to the appeal board as in the case of an original classification.

Q — Can a man be assured that he will be deferred to complete the requirements for his baccalaureate degree?

A — No. Such assurances cannot be given. A student must satisfy requirements for the regulations. The facts and the merits of each case must be considered by the local board.

George T. Jones Funeral Service Held Saturday

Funeral services for George Thomas Jones, 74 of Route 3, were conducted Saturday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home. Gene Fooks, minister of Central Church of Christ, officiated and burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Jones, a farmer, was found dead in his parked vehicle in the 500 block of Main Street early Wednesday afternoon, and had apparently suffered a heart attack.

He had lived in Deaf Smith County since 1962, when he came from Albuquerque. Born March 9, 1894 in Alabama, he married Etta Robison at Huntsville, Ala., March 31, 1916. They moved to Texas in 1931.

Texas Highway Department Given Tourists Assistance

AUSTIN — More people than ever before want to know what to see and do in Texas.

Most of them ask — and get the answer from — the Texas Highway Department.

In fact, 46 per cent more visitors were helped by the Department in the first six months of this year than in the same period of 1967.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall reported today that travel services rendered to visitors from January through June this year were 502,326. In the first six months of last year, the total was 342,115.

This includes assistance to travelers given at Tourist Information Bureaus as well as inquiries answered by the Highway Department's Austin offices.

Altogether, nearly a million persons have requested and received travel services during the first half-year from the Texas Highway Department.

Comparatively, services rendered by the seven State-line Tourist Information Bureaus which were in operation in 1967 are up 30.4 per cent for the first half of 1968. Included are bureaus at Anthony, Denison, Gainesville, Orange, Texarkana, Waskom and Wichita Falls.

Two new bureaus opened this year at highway gateways in Amarillo and Laredo. The Highway Department also operates the Capitol Information Center in Austin and a special HemisFair center in the Institute of Texas Cultures.

"Each of the Department's 11 centers are operating at near-capacity now during the peak of the recreational travel season," Dingwall said.

"Trained travel counselors greet and assist visitors with their travels in Texas," he said. "Our travel counselors strive to encourage people to see more of our State."

Dingwall said the centers are an important part of the Highway Department's wide range of services and facilities for the highway traveler.

Most of the descriptive literature distributed in response to mail inquiries and by the Tourist Information Bureaus is produced by the Department. An estimated five million pieces of literature have been distributed this year.

Other services also emphasize that "highways are for people." For example, approximately 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turnouts are maintained on the State's 69-thousand-mile highway network.

New safety rest areas on Interstate Highways include comfort stations, drinking water and special info-sites which call attention to historical, recreational and cultural resources nearby. Each info-site also has a dispenser offering free maps to the visitor.

Tourist Information Bureau supervisors also note increasing numbers of visitors are interest-

Whiteface Band Begins Work

Workouts began last week for Hereford High School Whiteface Marching Band and will continue on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m.

With more than 100 band students enrolled, the group began work on the march music for the first rehearsals.

The Pampa-Hereford game in Hereford will be the band's first performance. The game is scheduled for Sept. 13th.

ed in Texas' recreational waterways.

Growing popularity of water sports underlies the Highway Department's boat ramp program with some 170 boat ramps completed, under construction or programmed for construction along Texas waterways.

"All these services are important adjuncts to the prime mission of the Texas Highway Department — providing the safest most convenient highway facilities possible," Dingwall said.

Corn is the top farm crop in this country.

Housing Credit Is Provided Locally

There are many low and moderate income rural families living in sub-standard housing in Deaf Smith and Oldham counties. This need not be the case as housing credit is available from the Farmers Home Administration according to James Gouldy, County Supervisor.

The FHA office in Hereford has been able to provide varied assistance to rural families through the RH loan program. The following examples show the wide range of this loan program for rural people:

A young rural family purchased a house located miles from their farm. Moved it to their land and developed it into a comfortable house with a loan of $4,000 and annual payments of $385. An elderly couple suffered financial losses and were without a home and forced to go back to work. They were able to start a new life with a loan of less than $6,000 and monthly payments within their ability to pay.

A tenant farmer without needed service buildings on land he rents secured a loan to purchase a nearby building for use as a farm shop and storage facility. He figures the facility saves him much more than the annual principal and interest payment of $602.

Farmers Home Administration housing loans are made to families unable to obtain credit from private sources at reasonable rates and terms and are tailored to individual needs. They can be made in the rural countryside or in towns up to 5,500 population.

For further information, contact James Gouldy, County Supervisor at 313 W. 3rd Street, Hereford, Texas.

Collision Occurs On Moreman St.

A collision that occurred Wednesday around 11:30 a.m. on Moreman St. resulted in approximately $800 damages to the two cars involved.

According to police reports, both cars were traveling in opposite directions on Moreman St. when one of the drivers, apparently not looking, got on the wrong side of the road and struck the other oncoming vehicle in the left rear.

A 1965 Buick, driven by Helen Tucker Lee sustained about $300 while the 1967 Pontiac, driven by Delia E. Garlitz received about $500 damages.

Citations were issued by investigating officers for no valid drivers license and driving on the wrong side of the road.

By Marshall Day

Well, with the beginning of school Tuesday, there will be a "few" more additions to the number of players out on the gridiron competing for football recognition. Tuesday marks the beginning of school and the first official day that junior high boys are to be eligible for working out for the coming season.

Those "few" that are to be added to the high school's already near-100 group, number around 310 for both Stanton and La Plata Junior Highs, making the total number of boys out this year slightly over 400. These 400 boys will make the varsity, junior varsity, B-team and the four junior high teams.

All of a sudden, there are going to be enough footballs filling the atmosphere that people are going to think that it is Hiroshima all over again. Grunts and groans will echo around town so often that residents will think that they are back B. C., and enough sweat will roll off those boys to keep the grass green through the long, cold winter ahead. There will be enough skin scrapped off one group of boys alone to make another work hardened team.

But, that is not going to be all, that just makes up for the practices, not what happens on that proving-grounds, that long 100-yard course known as a football field. Games will bring out the animal in all of the boys as they use every trick in and out of the book to leave the opposition reeling for months to come. It will be "Grab 'is face mask when da ref ain't lookin'." "Hold da back 'a 'is pants so 's he can't trow anuther block'." "Wipe sum sweat on ya hand and rub it in da clod's eye, okay?" and even some illegal maneuverers.

Like they always say, "it's not important if you win or lose, it's how you play the game that counts." Whitefaces, won't be the ones using these tactics unless it comes right down to it (maybe). Coaches do not stress this kind of procedures (we think). So, it will be clean football if the locals have an edge-wise word to say about it. (we hope). Of course, you never know what kind of thought will race through a players head when he is faced with a 300-pound plus foul mouthed, dog-biscuit breathed, dirty-playing opponent. All coaches, fans, and the opposition can do is hope for the best if things come to this point.

Of course, in all seriousness, things are looking pretty good this year. With a coach that has a knack and a desire for winning, as can be evidenced by his long record, Hereford is going to make sure that Dumas, Perryton, Muleshoe, Canyon and Tulia have their hands full for about two hours each, at least once this season. Perryton has been fingered as the crown favorite over Dumas this year, with the Whitefaces being placed third on the finishing list. Well, they shouldn't have ought to have counted their fine feathered friends before they hatched, me thinks.

But, give the teams a little time and we will see who is right and who is wrong. You never can tell, we might have an instant re-play of the Democratic convention on the district fields this year.

Adding a little variety to the football season, will be something to take the mind off of that district crown read, if that can be done. The Hereford Raceway will begin putting the finishing touches on the season as the season championship nears.

Bill Byers, manager of the raceway, announced that the championship races will be conducted sometime around the middle of September before the cars and drivers garage their vehicles for the winter, following the big event.

Also, the men's softball teams, after taking the Labor Day week off, they will finish their season during the week of Sept. 9-12. At the present time, three of the four league teams are battling it out for the number one spot with not one of the three more than one game out of first place.

Bowling Leagues Are Added At Sunset Lanes For Coming Year

Coy Radney, manager of Sunset Lanes, has announced that the American Machine Federation is going to completely renovate all 16 of the machines located at the Lanes in preparation for the upcoming bowling season. He said that this is being done to offer the public the service that it deserves.

Numerous new leagues forming for the fall season include the Monday Women's Keglers, which begins at 7 p. m. every Monday; Men's Major League, which is played every Tuesday night beginning at 7:30; the Women's Leagues which are played on Thursday beginning at 6:30 and followed by the Mixed League which plays on the same day beginning at 8:30 p. m.

Others include the Kings and Queens Mixed Couples League which will play on Friday nights while on Saturday, the Bantams and Juniors will play. Also on Saturday, the Church League, with members of all churches invited to bring a team, will meet at 6:30.

Radney invited all newcomers to Hereford, ones from Friona, Dimmitt and Vega and other surrounding towns, to join in one of the night's leagues. If anyone is interested in joining any league, they are asked to call Sunset Lanes.

The Lanes are also offering Ladies Beginners Classes with free instruction and free coffee provided. Also, the Women's Morning classes will begin Sept. 4 at 10:00 and anyone interested in joining this segment of the fall season are urged to contact Sunset Lanes at 364-9004.

Awesome Backfield Is Key To Hopes Of WT Buffaloes

CANYON — Led by All-American prospect Eugene "Mercury" Morris, the West Texas State Buffaloes will bid for national prominence this year following a second consecutive 7-3 season and a 35-13 victory over San Fernando Valley State in the Junior Rose Bowl. With eight offensive and four defensive regulars returning and a potent running game at full strength, the Buffs of head mentor Joe Kerbel are anticipating their greatest season in West Texas State's 58-year football history.

Morris, the second leading rusher in the nation last year with 1,274 yards in 191 carries, heads an offense that should equal or surpass the 1967 team that ranked fifth nationally in total offense and second nationally in rushing. The entire starting backfield and four offensive line regulars will return.

In senior halfback Morris (5-10, 190), the Buffaloes have a genuine threat to capture the 1968 rushing championship and All-American honors. The 9.7 speedster from Pittsburgh, Pa., waged a game-by-game duel with Southern California's O. J. Simpson for the 1967 rushing title. Morris had 1,274 yards to Simpson's 1,415, but O. J. had 75 more carries in which to pad the margin.

An awesome fullback combination is back to boost the ground game. Duane Thomas and Albie "Double D" Owens together rushed for a total of 1,081 yards last season. In senior Roy Winters, the Buffs have one of the ablest quarterbacks in the Southwest. Winters ranked 12th nationally in total offense last fall, passing for 1,552 yards and nine touchdowns and rushing for 114 yards more. Backing up Winters at quarterback will be junior college transfer Eric Roanhaus and sophomore blue-hipper Clarence Redic.

Running depth is plentiful and explosive with such speedsters as Aaron Banks, Curley Watters (who ranked 9th nationally in kickoff returns last season), 9.7 sprinter Olan Thompson, and fullback Willie Walker.

The offensive line averages over 235 pounds with veteran tackles A. Z. Drones (6-4, 250) and Larry Brazon (6-4, 255), guards Eddie Golecki (6-6, 240) and Dag Azam (6-2, 235) up front providing plenty of running room for the fleet-footed backs.

Vying for the starting job at center will be Joe Kerbel, Jr. and Jerry Cryer.

Flankers Charles Henderson and Gary Clark will be prime targets of quarterback Winters, as well as ends Byron Jones, Dick Flynn, and Don Moon.

Veteran linebackers Jesse Powell (6-2, 200) and Carl Heilman (6-0, 220) head up a defense that will count heavily upon junior college transfers and sophomores to fill defensive line and backfield vacancies created by the graduation of six starters. At defensive guard will be veteran Willie Brown (6-3, 240) and Don Fate (6-4, 240), who was redshirted last season.

Cornerback Billy Lantow is the only other returning defensive regular, leaving all other defensive positions except safety up for grabs among the transfers and sophomores.

Depth will be evident at safety with flanker Raymond Brown being shifted to that position, and backed up by Ralph Anderson, a speedy sophomore, and Troy Anderson.

The kicking will be dependable with veteran Tommy Fambrough back to handle punting, extra-point, and field goal chores. Last season Fambrough averaged 35.1 yards punting, kicked three field goals and 31 extra points.

Despite the heavy dependence upon transfers and sophomores, and the lack of overall depth, the defense looks much stronger than last season when the Buffs gave up an average of three touchdowns each Saturday.

New Coaches Bring High Expectations

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

Expectations are high this year with the addition of five new coaches to the Hereford system, all of whom are young and not lacking in experience. One of the new additions, Danny Smith, will be the only junior high coach with the remaining four to be connected with the high school.

Bowling Group Plans Meeting

The Hereford Bowling Association will hold its first meeting of the new season at 8 p. m. Wednesday at Sunset Lanes.

Following the meeting, said L. J. Clark, association president, the Major League bowling league will be formed for the winter. All team captains and other individuals wanting to form a team are urged to be present.

The first league game will be Tuesday, Sept. 10.

more footballers is David Bornstein, 22, who is a graduate of West Texas State University this past January.

After his graduation from WT, Bornstein coached at Borger for the remainder of the past school year and then accepted the position here. He is well known in this area through his friends he gained at school.

He and his wife Belinda, reside at 129-A Centre Street.

"He is just beginning to get started with coaching," commented Wartes, "but we think he is going to be a real asset to the staff."

On one of the Phillip's teams that defeated the Hereford Whitefaces a few years back, was Bill Briscoe who is now coaching here also. Briscoe will work with the sophomore footballers while later on in the year the track. Wartes stated that there was the possibility of his also working with the basketballers if it is necessary.

A 1967 graduate of West Texas State University, Briscoe, 24 and also single, coached for one year at Sunray.

As he stated about Bornstein, Wartes said that Briscoe, though just beginning, was a good asset to the staff.

Pat Hughes, 35, will be the new head, track mentor this year along with working with the varsity line during football.

Hughes, who attended Oklahoma State University after graduating from Denison High School in 1949, graduated from Texas Christian University in 1958. He received his master's from Abilene Christian College and his wife Evelyn, received her's from Southern Methodist University.

He has a long list of coaching experience as he has seen field generaling at Morton, San Saba, Hamlin and Hamilton before coming to Hereford. In his last season as coach at Hamlin, Hughes' team won eight and lost two on the gridiron.

"Pat did an excellent job of building up the athletic system at Hamilton," Wartes said.

Hughes and his wife and two children, Shari, 12 and Jim, 7, live at 204 Aspen.

Danny Smith, is the fifth addition to the coaching staff here as he will be connected with La Plata Junior High athletic system as he takes the position vacated by Pat Privett.

Smith, prior to coming to Hereford coached at Springlake- Earth school for eight years with the final few years there as head coach.

Concerning Veterans

Veterans with service-connected disabilities serious enough to qualify for vocational rehabilitation training through the Veterans Administration are now eligible for a part-time training allowance under a new law signed recently by President Johnson, Jack Coker, Manager of the Waco VA Regional Office, said today.

Before the President signed Public Law 90-431, which went into effect July 26, 1968, only veterans taking full-time vocational rehabilitation training were entitled to a training allowance, Coker explained.

He noted that President Johnson, in his special message to Congress on servicemen and veterans last January 30, called for enactment of the part-time vocational rehabilitation legislation.

At that time the President pointed out that a "disabled veteran can take Vocational Rehabilitation and receive a training allowance only if he trains full time. This restriction may present him with a hard choice: leave his job for training, or forego the training itself.

"Clearly, that choice is unfair," the President said.

PL 90-431 continues the requirement that the veteran generally be rated at least 30 percent service-disabled in order to be eligible for vocational rehabilitation but establishes a pro-rata schedule of training allowances based upon three-quarters and half-time training, Coker said.

The VA Regional Office Manager explained that the full-time vocational rehabilitation training allowance remains at $110 monthly for veterans with no dependents, $150 for veterans with one dependent, and $175 for veterans with two or more dependents.

Permitted for the first time under PL 90-431 are three-quarters time training allowances of $90, $110 and $130 monthly, respectively, for veterans with no dependents, one dependent, and two or more dependents, Coker said.

The newly authorized half-time training allowances are $55 and $85 monthly.

Under the part-time vocational rehabilitation program, the VA will pay all tuition, fees and other training costs in addition to the training allowance, as it has done under the established full-time program, Coker said.

He emphasized that in addition to the training allowance and costs, the eligible service-disabled veteran, whether receiving full-time or part-time vocational rehabilitation training, is also paid a service-connected disability compensation from VA based on his degree of disability.

Veterans rated 50 percent or more disabled also received an added dependents allowance as part of their compensation benefits.

Coker said that detailed information on the liberalized vocational rehabilitation training program can be obtained from the Waco VA Regional Office handling the claims for eligible disabled veterans in this area.

The service-connected disability compensation increase signed into law August 29, by President Johnson will mean approximately $13,300,000 in higher payments in 1969 to more than 103,000 Texas disabled veterans, Jack Coker, Manager of the Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

Beginning January 1, 1969, VA payments to Texas veterans with 100 percent service-connected disabilities will be raised from $300 to $400 a month, Coker said.

The increase for veterans with service-connected disabilities rated 10 to 90 percent will average 8 percent and will also be effective the first of the year, the VA Regional Office Manager explained.

Currently some 106,000 Texas service-disabled veterans are receiving $111,000,000 annually in VA compensation payments.

Nationally, the new law, which passed both the Senate and House unanimously, will provide an estimated $234.7 million in additional benefits the first year to approximately 112,000 totally disabled veterans, and 1,840,000 veterans with service-connected disabilities rated 10 to 90 percent, Coker said.

In the fiscal year ending last June 30, the VA paid $1,954,000,000 in basic compensation benefits to 2,011,000 service-disabled veterans.

Congressman Is Impressed With The Young Generation

By PEGGY SIMPSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jim Wright, once a "terribly frustrated young politician" and now aged 45, says he is impressed with today's young generation.

"The breadth and scope of the questions that young people ask me when I'm on college campuses is far superior to that customarily asked by people my age at similar gatherings," the Fort Worth Democrat said. "I don't despair of the young," he said in an interview.

"And I do think they can work within the system. I think there is considerable evidence these young people are doing that, judging by the number going into the Peace Corps and into various volunteer programs in the poverty field," he said.

"I think these kids are really doing something constructive. They have far more opportunities to do things — or they create those opportunities than when I was young," Wright said.

"I went to the Texas legislature when I was 22. I can look back 20 years and take great pride in all the progress in those years.

"But I can't expect those persons who now are 20 or 22 to take pride in those same accomplishments. They're preoccupied with how far we have to go."

Wright said he's not sure he ever could have been categorized as an angry young man. "But I was terribly frustrated at the inability of society to solve all its problems."

The Young Democrats two decades ago frightened the Texas establishment, he said, by proposing abolition of the poll tax, a fair employment practice law, medical care for the elderly, federal aid to education and an anti-lynching law.

"These were thought to be terribly radical ideas at the time," he said. "Now they're all in effect. So things do become a matter of perspective."

Middle-aged persons can become complacent about the progress made and not see the problems remaining, he said.

"I hope I can maintain enough flexibility of mind and openness of outlook that I'm never sealed off from the questioning spirit of the young," he said. "I accept a lot of invitations to speak at colleges. After every speech, I throw it open to questions." Young people put him on the spot about broad questions such as the direction of the country, the morality of war or the problems of poverty.

Middle-aged listeners, in contrast, more often are curious to know about specific legislation affecting their own profession or income, he said.

New Program Puts Driver Education In "Front Seat"

AUSTIN — Driver education — long a step-child in the Texas school curriculum — is coming into "its own," the Texas Safety Association noted in reporting on the state's new master plan for making driver education instruction available to all Texas teens.

"This new comprehensive program, featuring advanced techniques in instruction, promises to make driver education one of the most 'sophisticated' courses in our school system," E. E.

Edmondson, Jr., Houston, President Texas Safety Association, said and added: "It offers new hope that all Texas teens will receive the type of driving instruction that will keep them safe on our streets and highways."

Texas' master plan for driver education will be implemented this fall when a group of highly-trained teaching assistants and their supervisors fan out across the state to inaugurate the state's new multi-phase program. The new program will not be available in all schools this year, but in the regions where it will be operating, driver education will be made available to more students than ever before.

Teaching assistants are a new concept in driver education — and one that many Texas educators feel will accelerate driver education instruction in the state. Texas' teaching assistants will work under the supervision of certified driver education teachers. Their primary job will be to assist in the laboratory phase of the program.

Both the new teaching assistants and their teacher supervisors have just completed an extensive summer training program co-sponsored by the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University at College Station.

The University's project instructors are enthusiastic about the pilot training program and especially encouraged by the high calibre of applicants for teaching assistants that the program has attracted.

Each teaching assistant was hand-picked. Applicants were carefully screened and accepted on the recommendation of either an executive director of an education service center, a superintendent of an accredited school district, or a supervisory training instructor of a commercial driving training school licensed by the Texas Department of Public Safety. All have good driving records and none have had any corrective action taken by the Department in the past three years.

Among the teaching assistants are a former secretary, a truck driver, former policeman, clerk bus drivers and retired military personnel. They range in age from 21 to 50. Of the 55 teaching assistants, 21 are women.

During the five-week summer study program, teaching assistants received classroom instruction in driver education, were given courses in the latest teaching techniques, schooled in the operation of driving simulators and taught how to conduct a driving range and give in-car instruction. In addition, they were given driver training courses to improve their basic driving skills. Patrolmen from the Texas Department of Public Safety assisted in the in-car training program.

The state's 20 new driver education supervisors are certified driver education teachers in good standing. Most have been teaching driver education courses in the state's public schools. The new supervisors have been receiving instruction similar to that given the teaching assistants at A&M, with additional courses in supervisory training, program development and administration.

The summer study program for teaching assistants and teacher supervisors has been described as the most comprehensive driver education program ever presented. It was designed not only to provide the additional personnel so greatly needed to make driver education courses available to all Texas teens, but also to serve as a medium for upgrading the quality of the courses presented.

The use of teaching assistants, plus new teaching aids, such as the driving simulator, is expected to double the number of students receiving driver education in the public schools in the next two years.

Changes in the Texas driver education curriculum came about with the enactment last year of the Texas Traffic Safety Act, which made the Governor responsible for administering a driver education and training program for all eligible Texas youths. The Governor's new program for driver education, including the use of teaching assistants, was approved by the State Board of Education last November.

Linguist Training Is Offered Under New U. S. Army Program

The best way for one man to communicate with another man is by talking to him face to face. Through the ages, men who could speak and understand several languages have been held in great esteem.

Today, individuals possessing such talents, or those willing to learn, are needed by the U. S. Army. According to Sgt. Bert Pinales, local Army recruiter, qualified young men can enlist for linguist training and be guaranteed in writing that they will receive schooling in one of approximately 30 foreign languages.

Selection of a language depends on the existence of a vacancy in the class schedule for that particular language.

Among the various tongues being taught are Arabic, German, Korean, Spanish, and Vietnamese. Training lasts from 24 to 47 weeks, depending upon the difficulty of the language.

Individuals interested in foreign language training can also select their date of entry into the Army through the 120-day delayed entry program.

Following language training, specially talented men will be offered advanced intelligence schooling to prepare them as interrogator-linguists.

This specialized training includes studying history, political science, communication arts, military doctrine and geography.

Through the techniques of communication and personal psychology, this language specialist gains valuable intelligence data which can aid the military strategists and planners.

For further information about either language school or intelligence training, contact SFC Bert Pinales. His office is located at Post Office Bldg. Room 322 in Amarillo, Texas.

SFC Pinales can be contacted at the Local Board in Hereford every Tuesday.

True-life Stories Can Be Found In County Library

Two new additions have been made to the growing list of books in the Deaf Smith County Library, librarians have reported. One book deals with the true-life adventure of canoeing in the Canadian wilderness while the other depicts the tragic march of thousands of Anglo-Burmese refugees through the jungles following the Japanese invasion of Burma.

One of the consequences of the Japanese invasion of Burma was the tragic 500-mile march of thousands of Anglo-Burmese refugees through the jungles in the monsoon rains. Their goal: Kumlao, a clay mountain with 1,000 steps (the deadly golden stairs) cut into its steep side and leading to India and safety. Few survived the ordeal.

For many, the base of the mountain was the end of hope, a graveyard that claimed the lives of thousands of exhausted, diseased and despairing men, women, and children. Here, Monica Wadley's diary was found, an extraordinary document, the lonely outpourings of a desperate woman who schemed for love and marriage, and lost; who sought revenge, and found it. And lost again.

How the diary came to fall into another's hands, and the extraordinary tale it tells, is the subject of this distinguished and exciting novel. THE GOLDEN STAIRS, by CECILIE LESLIE, evokes the lovely and mysterious land of Burma: the manifold beauties of its countryside, the serenity of the life lived there a short time ago, and the enchanting Burmese people themselves. It is all reminiscent of the novels of Rudyard Kipling.

In these pages, the reader is taken into another world, a paradise soon to be destroyed. When Monica Wadley left England on her fateful voyage, she arrived in Burma as the first Japanese bombs began to fall. She was to know and to cause another kind of destruction. The attention of the man who had found her diary was riveted on the final entry: Look for my body. Mibs, Gemma, Ken. It seemed to accuse three teenage children of murder.

DOWN THE WILD RIVER NORTH, by CONSTANCE HELMERICKS, tells the true story of two summers' canoeing through the last great wilderness in North America, Canada's northwest.

Armed with maps, a tent, and a twenty-foot freight canoe, Constance Helmericks and her two daughters, Jean, fourteen, and Ann, twelve, set out to follow the route of the great explorers through that enormous and largely uninhabited territory, down the Peace and Mackenzie Rivers. This is the greatest river system in Canada: a vast chain of rivers and lakes, rapids and swamps, whose tortuous course rambles northward down the northern watershed of this continent, from the middle of Alberta to the Arctic Coast just east of Alaska.

The three voyagers' adventures along their way ranged from the terrifying danger of a storm on Great Slave Lake, to the beauty of the virgin Great Bear Lake at dawn, to the earthy details of life aboard a river-dredging barge. Among the most extraordinary of their experiences were the people they met; and each meeting is recounted in all its humor or strangeness or — sometimes — pathos. What makes an old Norwegian trapper stay in his lonely cabin on the Peace River, miles from anyone except a renegade Indian who robs his traps, through winters of unremitting cold and darkness and summers of flood and mosquitoes? What kind of people are a newly married couple, barely twenty years old, from Cleveland, who go into the northern wilderness to promote Christianity among the Indians and Eskimos? For all their rich diversity, all these people share one thing: all have the North and the wilderness in their blood. All have chosen, for any number of reasons, to leave civilization and pit themselves against a hostile land.

That land itself plays a major part in the story. From the mud and mosquito-infested jungle of the Alberta forest, to the Precambrian rock shores of Great Slave Lake, to the rugged Mackenzie Mountains where the river tumbles down chilly gorges, to the weird flat expanse of the Barrens, the land Constance Helmericks describes is true wilderness. Its air — unlike any air anywhere in the United States — is utterly clean.

Its people are still mostly Indians and Eskimos who subsist by trapping. Much of this land has been explored once, mapped and then forgotten. Some of it has never even been explored. Down the Wild River North is a unique chronicle of adventure in one of the few vast untouched places left on earth. And the book has another special quality. It offers deep personal, often amusing, sometimes inspiring insights into what happens when you put two teenage girls in a big canoe on an almost unmanageable river for two successive summers, and give them the chance to come to grips with something bigger and older than the society that bred them, much cleaner, stronger and more beautiful than anything they have ever seen.

"Long" Speaking Aid In Hearing

Persons losing their hearing often say, "Don't make it louder, make it longer." Minnie Bell, Extension specialist in aging, reports there is something to this.

Dr. Jay Melrose of the University of Iowa Speech and Hearing Center says elderly people with hearing problems want you to speak more slowly to increase the time it takes to say each word.

Research showed the elderly people did not need the extra time to understand what was said, but they needed the sounds to last longer.

This idea can be used in processing tapes of music, talks, news digests and other spoken words prepared for those with limited hearing. It could be most helpful on intercoms in nursing homes where prepared tapes are used for the residents says the Texas A&M University specialist.

Special radio programs for senior citizens could benefit from this area.

Dr. Melrose says more research is needed to determine the degree of such speech expansion and to build the recording equipment and develop special materials to be used for the hard-of-hearing so they will have "more time to hear."

A powerful new computer can perform up to 16.6 million additions per second.

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., their daughter, Darlene, and Debbie Ogan returned home Sunday night from a two-week trip which took them several hundred miles into Canada. On the way, they visited the Bob Lawrences, former Hereford residents, at Rapid City, S.D., and visited Mount Rushmore and other interesting points in that area. In the area of Eckville, Alberta, Canada, they visited the Delbert Phelps, the Max Bott, and the Eddie Bott families and the Bill Siebolds at Red Deer. The Sparkmans met these people 20 years ago while on vacation in the Northern Rockies and have visited their home once before. The Canadians also visited the Sparkman home in 1962.

They attended the Apostolic Church in Eckville with their friends on Sunday morning. The Sparkman vacation included Jasper National Park which extends also into British Columbia and Yellowstone Park and at Denver, Darlene and Debbie spent Saturday night with Marlene Speck, a friend of Debbie's. The trip covered about 4500 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Cipriano Vigil, Vince and Lorenzo were visiting relatives at Tucumcari, Las Vegas, N.M., and Espanola, N.M. all the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Vigil and family were visiting relatives at Las Vegas, N.M., recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber and Virgil, and Mr. and Mrs. David Yandell were in Denver the past week. Virgil was attending the last week of a Floral Design School there while the others were fishing and enjoying the scenery in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Smith, Marvin, Sue, Jana and Curtis returned Wednesday from a visit with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martin and other relatives in Mansfield Ind. Mrs. Smith and the children had gone two weeks earlier for the visit, making the trip by themselves, and Smith joined them for the last few days and the trip home. While there they visited the Indiana State Fair at Indianapolis. They were particularly interested in the 4H Dress Review and the boys watched 4H Swine judging also.

Roland Livesay was visiting his sister, Mrs. Tommy Sparkman, Thursday. He has spent the summer with relatives, the Ray Livesays and working for Dwayne Walker near Pasco, Wash. Roland and his brother, Howard, who spent the summer with the Sparkmans here, will be with their grandparents, the N. W. Livesays near Springlake and attend school at Olton.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Richie and children, who have lived in El Paso, are back to Hereford now. He and Tommy Sparkman are boyhood friends and visit often. Curtis is employed by ICX as he was also at El Paso.

Poverty Commission Seeking To Enforce 160-acre Limitation Law

By CLIF CHAMBERLAIN
Executive Chairman of Water, Inc.

The so called 160 acre limitation law has been discussed extensively. The President's National Advisory Commission on Rural Poverty has advised, "that the Department of the Interior enforce the 160 acre limitation on ownership units in current irrigation project areas by expending the sale of excess lands in viable farm units, where enforcement, as administratively interpreted, would not result in farms too small to sustain families above the poverty level."

Reclamation law specifies limiting the delivery of water for irrigation to land in single ownerships of not more than 160 acres, unless the owners have signed contracts agreeing to sell the excess lands at prices approved by the Secretary of the Interior. Many modifications of this policy have been made. Over the years Congress has made a number of exceptions to this acreage limitation and administrative interpretation has permitted farm size on project lands to be more than 160 acres. A husband and wife may each have 160 acres, parents may make irrevocable transfers of lands to trusts for minor children. Also, one owner can lease project lands from another to increase the size of his farm operations.

There are about 250,000 acres of land mostly in the Central Valley Project in Arizona being irrigated in excess of this 160 acre limitation. This "excess land" arises from establishment of irrigation projects on privately owned lands in ownership units larger than permissible under the law. The Secretary of the Interior has authority to fix the time limit to dispose of excess acreage and this time limit ranging up to 10 years following project completion is specified in the contracts

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — Are widows of World War II servicemen who died on active duty or from service-connected disabilities still eligible to file applications for G. I. home loans?

A — Yes. Entitlement for these widows will not expire until July 25, 1970.

Q — I was recently discharged from military service and want to enter the state university this fall. Should I inform the Veterans Administration now or merely tell the university registrar of my veteran status when I enroll?

A — Inform the VA regional office where your records are on file as soon as possible of your intention to enroll in school this fall. By applying early for the VA Certificate of Eligibility which you must have you will be assured of no delay in receiving your monthly educational assistance allowance check from the VA once school starts.

Q — I have designated my wife as principal beneficiary of my National Service Life Insurance policy, and selected the lump sum mode of settlement. Suppose that each of us was fatally injured in an accident and she survived me by a few hours. What would happen to the proceeds of the policy in this kind of situation?

A — Since your wife survived you, even for a short time, she becomes the beneficiary under the policy. Since she did not live long enough to be paid these proceeds, the VA must pay the proceeds to her estate, and not to the designated contingent beneficiaries. Paying the proceeds to the estate subjects these funds to the delays and expenses incident to probate proceedings. This can be avoided through the use of a "common disaster clause." An example of such a clause is: "I designate my wife, Helen, as the principal beneficiary if living 30 days after the death of the insured; otherwise the proceeds should be paid to the named contingent beneficiaries."

Thus, in the event such beneficiary fails to survive the specified period, payment of the proceeds of your NSLI policy will be made as if the beneficiary had died before the insured.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I got married several months ago. If I keep on working should my husband claim my exemption or should I continue to take it?

A — If you plan to file a joint return at the end of the year as most married couples do, it won't make too much difference who claims your exemption for income tax withholding purposes. However, if you think separate returns would be to your advantage then you should continue to claim your own exemption.

Whichever you decide, remember if your husband claims your withholding exemption then you will no longer be entitled to claim it. To make a change in the number of exemption claimed, a new withholding certificate, Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Exemption Certificate, should be filed with your employer.

Q — I have a fellowship that will help pay my way through graduate school. Will I have to pay tax on it?

A — Income from a fellowship is usually tax exempt. If you are a candidate for a degree there is no limit on the amount of tax free income you may receive from a fellowship or scholarship grant.

However, if you teach or perform other services in connection with the award, you may not exclude that portion of the award that represents payment for this work. The exception to this rule would be if all candidates for the degree, whether they have a fellowship or not, are also required to perform these services.

Q — I have a little antique shop that I operate part-time. Can I put what I make from this business into a tax-free retirement plan?

A — Up to 10 percent of your net earnings from the shop, up to a maximum of $2,500, may be invested in a self-employed retirement plan. Your contributions to such a plan can be deducted.

For details on retirement plans for self-employed individuals, send a post card to your district office and ask for Document No. 5592, Retirement Plans for Self-Employed Individuals.

Q — I finally got my refund. Shouldn't I get interest on it? I have to pay interest to the government when I'm late in paying.

A — The government does not pay interest on refunds that are not issued within 45 days of the due date of the return or the date the return is filed, whichever is later. The interest rate is 6 percent per annum, the same rate taxpayers are charged who are late in paying their taxes.

Q — We sold some of our furniture for practically nothing when we moved. Is that a tax loss?

A — No. The law does not allow a deduction for losses on the sale of personal property.

Q — How far can IRS go back in checking a person's tax return?

A — The basic statute of limitations is three years from the date the return was filed or the date it was due, whichever is later. In fraud cases or where no return is filed there is no limitation.

Q — I read where a retired policeman gets an extra $1,200 deduction on his federal income tax. Is that right?

A — There is no special tax exemption for policemen. However, there are provisions for all retired persons who receive pensions that retired policemen may benefit from.

A pension may or may not be taxable depending on whether a person has contributed to its cost. If the pension plan is of a type where the pensioner's cost is recoverable in the first three years, the pension is tax-free until this cost is fully recovered. After that, the pension is taxable income.

Another provision benefiting policemen and other retired persons is the retirement income credit. When certain conditions are met, this provision allows a taxpayer to reduce his income tax by up to 15 percent of his retirement income.

Details on these provisions are given in IRS Document No. 5018, Retirement Income and Credit. Send a post card to your District Director for a free copy.

Q — I'm being called in for an audit of my return. Do I have to bring the persons who helped me fill it out?

A — No, this is not necessary. A major concern in any examination of a return is that the items listed can be supported by the necessary records. A tax advisor is not needed to help a taxpayer provide this substantiation. However, there is no reason why you can't bring your advisor if you wish.

Q — I've been told that there is a tax advantage in having shares of stock registered in both the husband's and the wife's name. Is that right?

A — No. The community property law in Texas makes dividend income community income regardless of which spouse owns the stock. Therefore, each could receive up to $100 in dividends tax free, instead of only $100 to the spouse owning the stock as in other states.

Local GI On Leave Is Vietnam Bound

Army Pvt. E-2 Manuel Garcia of 121 Kibbe, Hereford, who is now on a 15-day leave from Ft. Ord, California, prior to being shipped to Vietnam, said that it was "kind of hard for me to explain right now" how he felt about going to southeast Asia. He explained that since he had never been there before, he didn't "know what was going on over there. It's all new to me."

Garcia, who is 24 years old

and married and was previously employed here by the Carl McCaslin Lumber Company, had no comment to make in regard to the recent Hippie disturbances with the Chicago police during the Democrat Party convention. He said that he had been too busy visiting friends and relatives to keep up with it.

But he did say that there have been no such problems at Ft. Ord. "Besides, we stay too busy to notice such things. However, there was a question — We all felt that being sent to Vietnam we deserved 30-days leave instead of fifteen. Especially the married men."

But Garcia pointed out that "there are just so many kids being sent over there — 18 and 19 years old. Some will make it back, some won't. And I think it takes a little training before we are shipped — we have a 9-week phase — all so fast. We ought to have a little more time."

Garcia and his wife have been married one year and 4 months. His wife Gloria is a meter maid for the City of Hereford. Garcia had been chosen Soldier of the Month at Ft. Ord in July — after being in the Army since April (with basic training at Fort Bliss, Texas.) He had been drafted.

And he said, "I think the country is standing behind the servicemen. I have had several (civilians) come up and talk, that they appreciate what we are doing."

"We are fighting for what is right — got a duty to perform. All we can do is give it all we've got. Good Lord willing, we will make it back."

Tips Are Given For The Student

COLLEGE STATION — With school season comes study time. Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, stresses the importance of good lighting in study centers. A well-lighted desk makes it easier to concentrate and avoid eyestrain and physical tension.

To study, use a lamp correctly placed and fitted with a 200-watt bulb. If you do not have a diffuser on the lamp, use a white bulb to reduce glare, suggests the Texas A&M University specialist.

Place the lamp so the center of the lampshade is about 15 inches to the left of the work center and the lamp about 12 inches back of the front edge of the table for a right handed person.

Several lamp manufacturers now are making specially designed higher-wattage study lamps which produce nearly twice as much light as other lamps and spread light over a wider area. They also reduce glare, says Miss Lay.

Tags attached to these lamps say, "This is a Better Light Better Sight Bureau Study Lamp."

Miss Lay gives some other suggestions to improve light in a study center:

- Choose a desk with a light-colored, nonglossy finish.
- Use a light-colored blotter or desk pad.
- Make sure that the desk does not face a window.

Auto Inspections Begin For 1969

AUSTIN — The 1969 vehicle inspection period began today in Texas according to Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

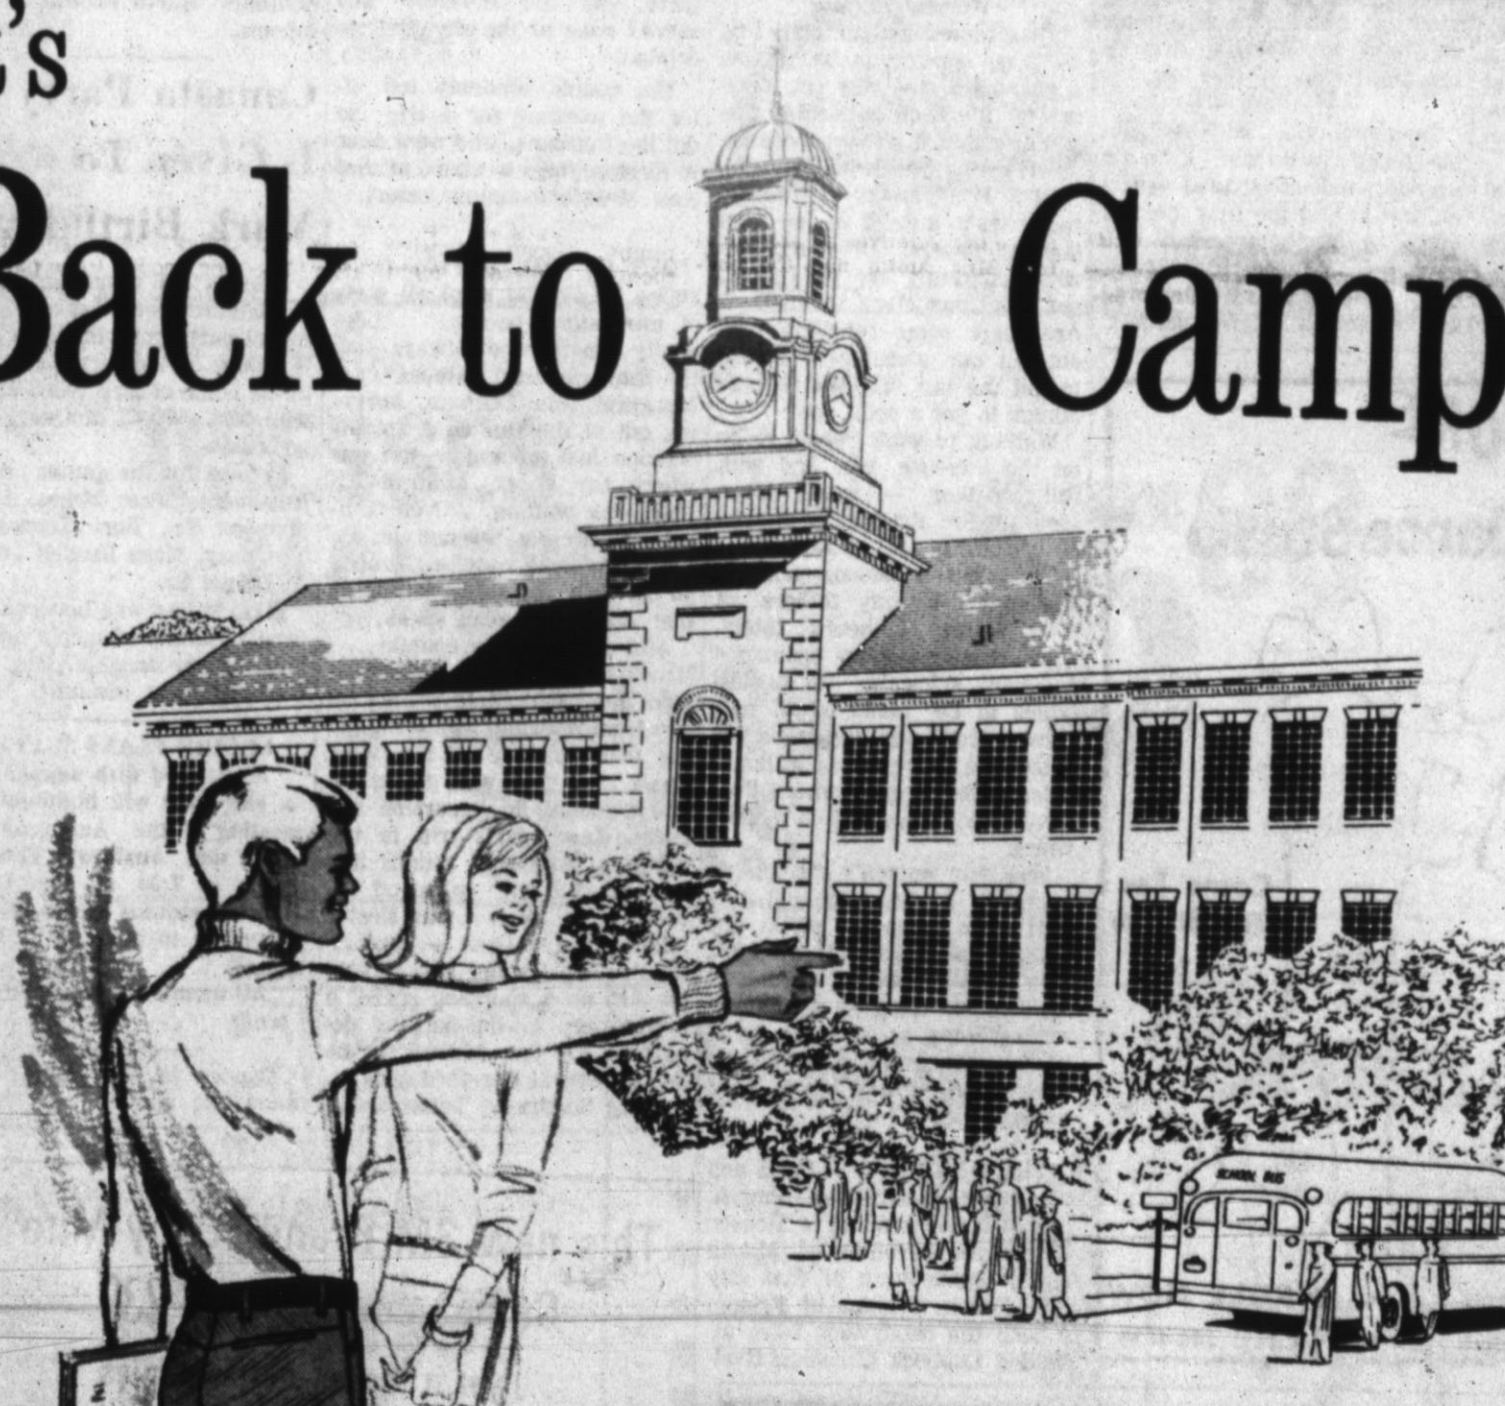

"More than six-million vehicles are expected to receive the compulsory inspection prior to the April 15, 1969 deadline," Speir said. Inspections may be performed at any of the almost 5,500 vehicle inspection stations in Texas, each of which displays the official vehicle inspection station sign. Texas law requires inspection of the brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorage were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle, steering (including power steering) and wheels and rims (not to include removal of the wheel from the vehicle) on all motor vehicles registered in the state. Special inspection provisions apply to trailers, semi-trailers, pole trailers or mobile homes having a loaded gross weight in excess of 4,000 pounds.

The minimum fee is $1.75. This does not include the cost of repairs or adjustments necessary to enable the vehicle to pass inspection.

Speir said the new vehicle inspection sticker will be a two and one-half inch square replica of a DPS patrolman's badge with red background. Motorists are urged to have the 1969 inspection performed as soon as possible to insure that their vehicles are mechanically safe for fall and winter driving.

Tucker Brings His Campaign To City

Jerry R. Tucker, the Republican candidate for District Attorney of the 69th Judicial District Court of Texas, made a short appearance in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom Thursday morning as a part of his election campaign.

Tucker, who is opposing Democratic candidate Andrew Shuval of Hereford in the race, was introduced by his Deaf Smith County campaign chairman, Don Zimmerman, who told the audience that they were "not invited as Democrats or Republicans, but as citizens of this county."

Zimmerman described his candidate as a native Georgian who had moved to Amarillo in 1963, as research law clerk for the late Federal District Judge Joseph P. Dooley, before moving to Dumas — his present home — to enter general law practice in 1964.

Zimmerman said that Tucker has been valedictorian of his class in high school, was on the debate team, a youth candidate for president of the YMCA, an Eagle Scout, prior to majoring in Political Science at Emory College in Atlanta. Tucker is now a Sunday school teacher at the Methodist Church in Dumas, with much experience as a choir director.

Tucker stated that his law experience was "far beyond the other candidate for the office — seven years." He also explained that he was not the youngest man in the race for district attorney, and that he was not seeking the post because of a non-sufficient private law practice at this time.

He said that a district attorney was something of a director of the grand jury in Texas, which he had found to be most important in this state. He believed that grand juries have a great effect on the population growth in its present structure.

"I believe in fairness and justice," he said. "But I think that some lawyers have bent over backward to defend the criminal and are afraid to come out for the law in justice." His pledge as district attorney, he said, was to vigorously prosecute and enforce the law.

"We need to be careful and we need to be firm. I would have an obligation as District Attorney to enforce the law. I would have been hired by the public to do the best I can."

Tucker explained that a district attorney was like a lawyer who had been hired by the public.

He offered his platform with three points: Responsibility toward the citizen, qualifications, and to do something to firm up law and order.

Savannah, Ga., with its cobble-stoned river front, broad avenues and oak-shaded squares, was one of the first planned cities in North America. The port was founded in 1733 by Gen. James Edward Oglethorpe and a band of English settlers.

BSP Leads-Off New Club Year

Days of Beginning traditional social meetings to begin a new season in Beta Sigma Phi, were held by two Hereford Chapters recently, and initial programs are scheduled for both at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Community Center.

Heralding the fall club season, these meetings are the forerunners of numerous others as women's organizations of the county begin to announce activities which will end the summer vacation and grow into a rush after the start of school returns most families to a stay-at-home routine.

One of the earliest meetings scheduled is that of La Plata Study Club, a supper at the Flame Room of Pioneer Gas Company at 6 p.m. Tuesday.

Other study clubs are due to follow suit soon, and home demonstration clubs of the county are also beginning programs after a two-month recess.

Xi Epsilon Alpha, the exemplar chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, had its end-of-summer meeting in the backyard of Mrs. J. D. Greeson's home, with executive board members as hostesses. Members of the preceptor chapter, Alpha Alpha, were invited as guests.

Board members are Mrs. Deibert Bainum, president; Mrs. Greeson, vice president; Mrs. Pat Parker, secretary; Mrs. Harold Kids, treasurer; Mrs. Dean Hacker, correspondent, and Mrs. Larry Summers, extension officer.

Other members present were Mmes. Howard Gore, John Gilliland, C. D. Fitzgerald Jr., John Schneider, James Shearer and Ollene Williams. From the preceptor chapter guests were Mmes. Harold Beauchamp, R. J. Cramer, Bob Huddleston, Bill Kendall, Charles Laing and Max Stipe.

Kappa Iota Chapter was entertained by the social committee, Mrs. Bob Pugh and Mrs. Bob Spangler, at First National Community Room Thursday

Hereford Tops In "Gliding"

By PENNY YOUNG
Staff Writer

If you have ever looked up and have watched a large bird gracefully soaring through the clouds with such ease and delicacy, more than likely you think — what an attractive creature. Birds are beautiful and nothing man-made can soar so near like a bird than a glider.

The glider is built with a slim body and large wings that enable it to "glide" over the clouds its soft colors melting with the blue sky.

Charles Frye, experienced pilot, described it as "beauty in air" because it's so graceful. Riding in a glider can be an evening.

Events of the coming year were discussed and games followed an informal refreshment period. Mrs. John Claypool is Kappa Iota president for the 1968-69 season.

experience and a frightening one at that if you are a person to be scared of heights.

An airplane towed the big "bird" up 1,000 feet before the release was pulled and the rope let go with a big bang.

One thing that is surprising is that the glider is in the air almost as soon as it begins to move — much sooner than the airplane.

When you finally reach an air current that feels strong — you free the glider from the rope and soar in the air minus an engine and free from all of the ground noises.

Around and around the plane goes, getting higher and higher on one air current. The astonishment comes after the plane is gone and the quiet seems to surround you. The only thing you can hear is the wind whistling around the windows. Flying with the windows open can be a diversion for a while.

A glass hatch gives an adequate view of the outdoors and brings you up to the sky.

It has been noticed by several of the pilots at the airport that Hereford has a few "fanatics" in the gliding field. In fact, Hereford happens to be one of the few small towns in the Panhandle with the enthusiasm pointed toward this field as much as it is and has the only two-seater glider in the Panhandle.

THE LARGE SKY-BLUE AND SEA-GREEN GLIDER at the Hereford Airport doesn't stay situated on the ground very much as it seems to be the goal of every pilot to be able to fly one. The large "bird" travels on air currents without an engine or any type of machine to support it in the air.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

That almost-extinct activity, walking, appears to be staging a comeback that may get somewhere. It's been noticeable this summer that there are more pedestrians on residential streets.

NOT JUST adults who sometimes walk instead of jog on doctors' orders, but youngsters who apparently are walking to get from one place to another. Are there some rebellious parents in our midst, who refuse to get the car out just to take Junior to get a soda pop?

Walking to work seems to be on the increase, too, and with fall weather — much more pleasant for strollers — maybe its popularity will grow.

This isn't a phenomenon in Hereford. The city fathers at Fort Worth, I heard lately, were considering an ordinance requiring sidewalks for pedestrians in the plans of all new construction, and maybe a requirement for repair of walks in older parts of town where they have been neglected in recent years.

Now that women's shoes have past that toothpick-toe-and-still-heel stage, even the styles are friendly to walkers. If we don't balk simply because walking is the sensible thing to do, human nature being as contrary as it is, we may all improve our health and figures afoot. Save money, too.

THE DENZIL PULLIAMS and daughters, Linda and Sharon, attended the wedding in Denver City Friday evening of Miss Libby Bastleberry of that city and Ronnie Proctor of Friona. Both the newlyweds have attended Lubbock Christian Col-

going over his campaign plans with his Deaf Smith County chairmen Arnie Husmann, Jerry Don George and Dean Stallings.

Ford Begins Drive For Legislature

Frank Ford has opened his campaign for State Representative in the 72nd District this week in 14 area towns (six area counties) with the pledge that "the people of this district are going to be represented in the Texas Legislature."

Ford is a Hereford businessman. He is now president of Arrowhead Mills.

He said, "It is very evident that the voters of this area are dissatisfied with the recent 50 per cent increase in the state sales tax which will go into effect October 1. This tax bill did little or nothing toward funding the impending pay raise for Texas teachers, nor did it provide much needed tax sharing with local government."

He continued, "The fact that it did provide, with an appropriation item which was slipped into the spending bill during a secret meeting of the House-Senate Conference Committee, for $500,000 in state spending for development of the LBJ State Park is evidence enough that we need a two-party system in Austin. Texans have had enough of seeing their hard-earned tax money squandered on special privilege legislation."

Ford pointed out that "our state ranks 33rd among the states in teacher's salaries, 44th in literacy rate, 48th in agricultural research with relation to agricultural production, and yet the members of the one-party legislature have voted to double their own salaries every two years for the past several sessions of the legislature. I think this is a very questionable assignment of priorities and I intend to vote against any increases in legislative salaries until we begin to solve some of these most pressing problems."

He also stated that "the voters of the 72nd District were going to be heard on the issue of Daylight Saving Time, which was sponsored and passed against their known wishes, and which has been a real hardship on school children, mothers, farmers, and many businesses."

Ford stated that he will have more to say on this issue in the near future.

"But turning to the international issues for a moment," he said, "I think that recent events in Czechoslovakia could turn into one of the most important developments of this decade. The Czech people have shown magnificent courage in their desire for freedom, which should serve as an inspiration to all of us."

"As for Vietnam, whether we should have gotten into it or not is beside the point because we have 600,000 American soldiers there. Our main task now is to bring the war to an honorable conclusion as soon as possible, and meanwhile back up our boys to the fullest extent. We owe these fine young men our total

Letter To The Editor

Dear editor,
I am writing this letter in regard to some of the questions that I have been asked about the NAACP.

A lot of people say they have never heard of this organization. I will try to explain it in a short form and with few words.

NAACP means the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. It was formed in 1909 when sixty Americans with a deep devotion to decency and humane race relations banded together to right some of the shocking wrongs being inflicted upon a group of fellow citizens. Since that time, the association has expanded as Americans increasingly have joined this force striving for racial justice.

The NAACP has won victory after victory in the courts, in legislative halls and in the arena of public opinion. Accomplishing the seemingly impossible support."

in its unflinching struggle against race hate, bigotry and violence.

The strength of this association lies in its membership: Over 450,000 strong in all 50 states and the District of Columbia.

It consists of members of all races and religions. And they are organized into more than 1,800 branches, youth councils, etc.

I have been asked what are the reasons for a branch here? I feel that it will help the people here to advance themselves in many ways. I feel like if an individual qualifies for a job or office, fill out an application regardless of his color.

Education means a lot now — that is something else this organization backs, all the way. Education would help a lot of us if we were able to go back to school.

The goal of the NAACP is "The Fight For Freedom" and to make sure it is won speedily and successfully. The NAACP will continue to use its time-tested methods of legal redress, negotiations, political action, peaceful protest, demonstrations and a public information program.

The ultimate goal is the establishment of full equal rights

Comenzando cerca del quince de septiembre habra clase de ingles en la high school. Las horas de clase seran de las siete y media a nueve y media los martes y los jueves. Terminara la clase cerca del primero de febrero. Costara diez dolares. Esta clase sera hecha especialmente para aquellos que tienen experiencia limitada en el ingles, pero ensenara la escuela a todos niveles. Si bastante gente quiere asistir, sera posible establecer tres clases para niveles exactos de experiencia en ingles.

Serán grados zero a dos, tres a cuatro, y cinco en adelante. Para aquellos que estan en turno de noche, pueden asistir a la clase cuando hay tiempo, pero es necesario estudiar en casa durante el día cuando trabajen de noche. Si una persona quiere aprender el ingles, es posible arreglarlo en este programa a pesar de este inconveniente. La cosa mas importante es que una persona tenga deseo para avanzar su futuro personal y de la familia con el ingles.

McClain-Montgomery Marriage Solemnized

In Palo Duro Baptist Church at her home community near Wildorado, Miss Kathryn Ann McClain was married to W. Charles Montgomery of Dallas at mid-afternoon Saturday. The Rev. Davis Harrell of Littlelake Baptist Church, Norwalk, Calif., her brother-in-law, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Vinita McClain, Route 1, Wildorado, and the late J. T. McClain; the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Anne P. Montgomery of Dallas and the late William Charles Montgomery Sr.

A kneeling bench at the altar was centered between pairs of candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladiolas on tall stands, as a setting for the exchange of vows.

Miss Alyce McClain, sister of the bride, was her maid of honor. Mrs. Gene Meacham of Fort Worth the matron of honor and Miss Linda Garner of Dallas bridesmaid. L. M. York Jr. of Arlington acted as his cousin's best man and his small daughter, Susan York, was the flower girl.

Groomsmen were Jim Porter and Dick Anderson of Dallas, Steven Harrell of Norwalk and Joe Dean Moore, ushers, Al Kent Moore and Troy Harrell of Norwalk, who lighted candles, are all nephews of the bride.

Mrs. Wade Crist played piano selections and accompanied Jim Porter of Dallas as he sang solos, "The Greatest Of These and O Perfect Love."

Her brother, Harold Dean Moore, gave Miss McClain in marriage. Rose-patterned lace made the empire bodice and scalloped bell sleeves of the bride's gown which she fashioned.

Lace roses were applied on the curving chapel train and in a border around the train and at the toe-tip hemline for the A-line peau de soie skirt. Her veil of bridal illusion floated below the waistline from a seed pearl tiara.

Complimenting the cameo neckline of her dress was a lavalliere with white sterling rose drop, gift of the bridegroom. Her cascade bouquet of white roses added a touch of color in blue-tinted feathered carnations.

Feminine attendants wore Montego blue peau de soie, styled with the same empire bodice, bell sleeves and A-line skirt of the bride's gown, but in street length. Their headpieces were matching bows and each carried a long-stemmed white rose.

Home of the Harold Dean Moores, Wildorado, was the scene of the wedding reception. Miss Wynette Hartsell of Garland served cake and Mrs. Shelby Lewis of Dallas ladled punch for guests who registered at a table where Miss Darleen Moore of Amarillo presided.

Montego blue ribbons connected the separated three tiers of the wedding cake, each tier decorated with sugar roses and the top with miniature bride and groom. The bride's bouquet centered the table.

After the reception the couple started a trip which will end Sept. 10 at Minneapolis, Minn., where they will be at home while both attend the graduate school of University of Minnesota. Mrs. Montgomery exchanged her wedding gown for a two-piece red dress of imported Thai silk, white costume accents and a rose corsage from her bouquet.

She was graduated from the Baylor University School of Nursing at Dallas after graduation with honors from Hereford High School, and has completed two years as a missionary journeyman in Tanzania, East Africa, under the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. As a student in Dallas she was a member of Sigma Tau Lambda and an officer in the Baptist Student Union.

Mr. Montgomery earned a place on the Dean's List four years at Southern Methodist University, from which he was graduated, and was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He held offices in Kappa Mu Epsilon, SMU Chemical Society, BSU and the State BSU President's Council.

Other than wedding party members, out-of-town guests included Mrs. C. A. Montgomery Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Collins of Garland; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. York Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Worden of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood of Addison, Miss Bertha Garrison, Miss Flora Sweat and George Truitt of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Steckline of Amarillo.

South Africa's gold mines produce about two-thirds of the world's annual output of the metal.

The New York Public Library's central research library can seat 1,658 researchers at one time in its 16 reading rooms.

TOYEI BOARDING SCHOOL — Bob Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson of Hereford, will teach third grade this year at Toyei Board School in Ganado, Ariz., for children from Navajo Indian Reservations. He is a 1961 Hereford High School graduate.

Frio Baptists Plan Crusade

Beginning Wednesday evening, a Crusade for Christ will be conducted in Frio Baptist Church with services at 8 p.m. daily through next Sunday. Jim Burkett, a senior at Oklahoma Baptist University, is the evangelist and Leonard Morris will lead song services.

Although the crusade is youth-led, messages are intended for adults as well and the public is invited to the services, the Rev. Sam Ogan, pastor, announced. A fellowship hour for youth will follow each evening meeting.

The student evangelistic team has led similar crusades in some 50 cities of Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and midwestern states. Burkett is an honor student at OBU, majoring in religion with minors in philosophy and sociology.

"Very real issues faced by everyone living in this age will be discussed in the messages, offering answers to doubt and frustration", the evangelist announces.

Couple On Trip After Houston Church Wedding

Steven Graham Elliott and his bride, the former Miss Beverlynn Burnett, are on a wedding trip to New Orleans and points beyond that Gulf Coast City after their marriage in Houston Saturday evening, and will be at home later this month at 3402 Timmons Lane, Houston.

Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Burnett of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Cooper, 121 Centre, Hereford.

Magnolia Christian Church was the place of the wedding with the Rev. Don Root, pastor, officiating. A brass arch, white gladiola bouquets, spiral and tree candelabra were used in church decoration.

The vocal soloist was Mrs. James Bicketts and the organist Mrs. Jack Cleveland.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She selected a gown of candlelight silk organza applied with Alencon lace, embellished with seed pearls and crystals for an elegant look. The train swept to court length and her short illusion veil was gathered fully to a coil of lace and pearls.

She carried a nosegay of pink and blue carnations and yellow roses with stephanotis, lily-of-the-valley and English ivy.

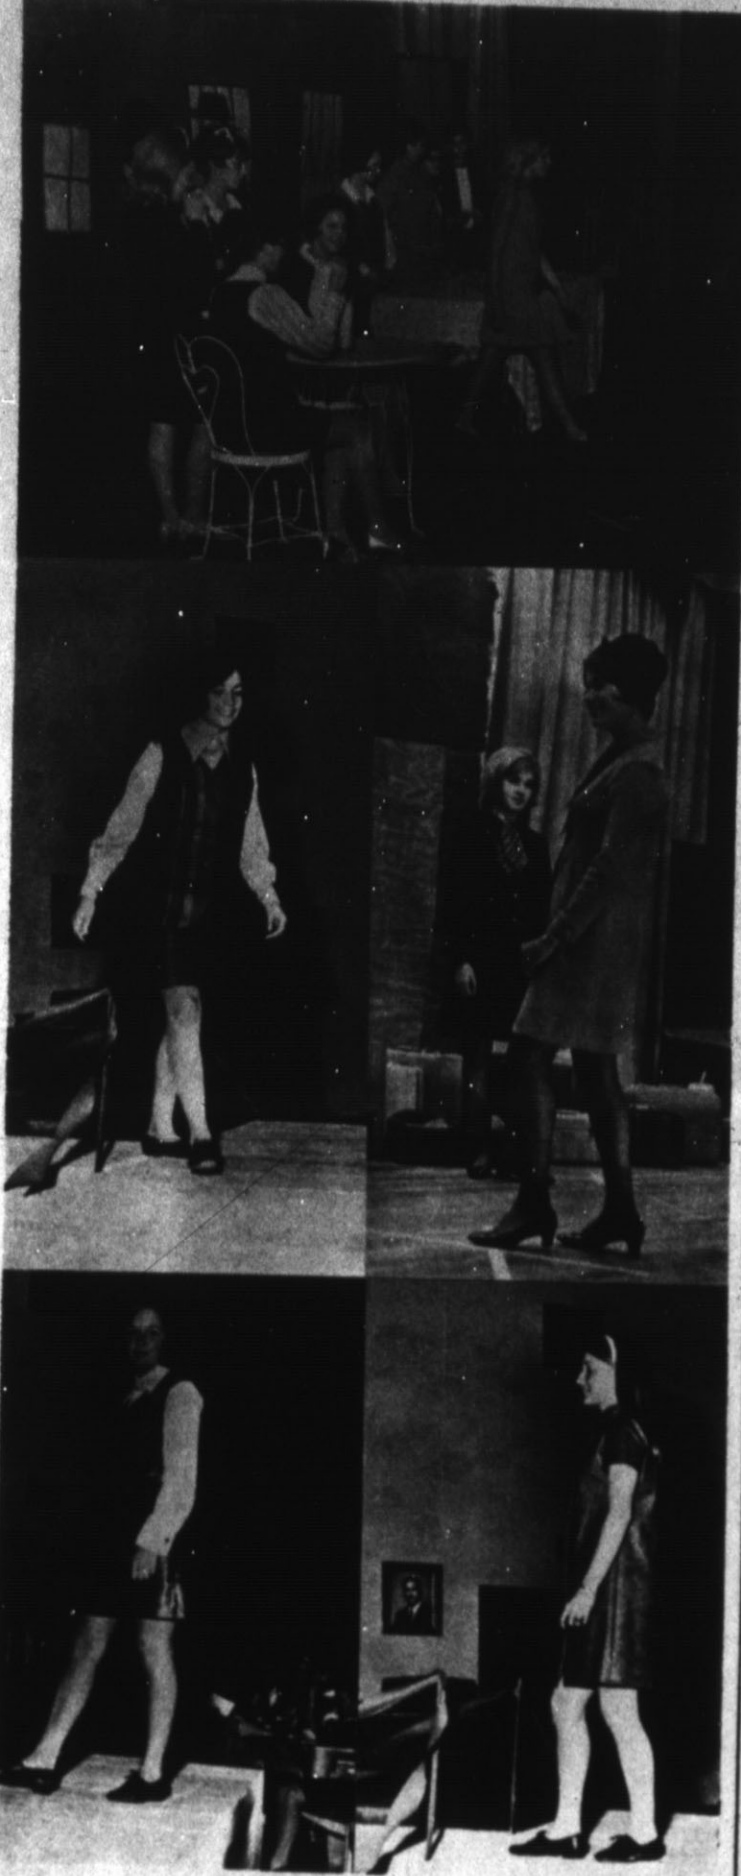

Miss Julia Ann Burnett of Fort Worth was maid of honor, Mrs. John Pool of Lubbock, Mrs. Jim Barron of Houston and Miss Darlene Hutchison of Odessa the bridesmaids.

They all wore gowns of lemon yellow dotted linen with bateau neckline, brief sleeves and A-line skirts to the floor. Matching pouf hats completed their ensembles and their flowers were cascades of white gladiolas with yellow trim.

Honor attendant to the bridegroom was his brother, Larry Cooper of Hereford. His groomsmen were John Pool, Bill Jones of Laramie, Wyo., and Tom Parker of Fort Arthur. Ushers were Joe Coffman of Fort Worth and Randy Fink of Houston.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church after the marriage ceremony.

Marriage Vows Spoken In Candlelight Service

The marriage of Miss Nancy Nell Gripp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spicer Gripp, and John Joseph Stokes of Mt. Vernon, Washington, son of Mrs. John Stokes of Amherst, was solemnized at the candlelight altar of First Presbyterian Church here Thursday evening.

A reception followed in the church fellowship hall, then Mr. and Mrs. Stokes left for a honeymoon in Victoria, British Columbia, before going to their home in Mt. Vernon next week.

Green foliage was massed as a background for spiral candelabra and baskets of white chrysanthemums at the altar where the Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor, read the nuptial service. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Sorority sisters in Phi Mu at Texas Tech were her attendants. Miss Mary Sue Alkire of Lubbock as maid of honor and Miss Lou Ann Zeigler of Fort Worth as bridesmaid.

Jim Young of Abilene was best man, Charles Woodward of Midland groomsmen, and ushers were the bride's brother, Kim Gripp, and her cousin, Monte Gripp.

A white lace handkerchief carried by her mother as a bride was an heirloom piece in Miss Gripp's costume, carried with her bouquet, a white orchid surrounded by stephanotis on a Phi Mu Bible.

Chalk white chiffon and re-embroidered Alencon lace over peau de soie made her gown, with its high oval neckline and short sleeves edged in lace scallops and its pyramid skirt given fullness by unpressed pleats as it swept into a wide chapel train.

Orange blossoms of peau de soie trimmed with seed pearls and aurora borealis crystals clustered above her brow to hold the pouf of illusion veiling which fell to her waistline.

Of shocking pink faille and lace, the bridesmaids' dresses were designed with lace wedding ring collar, short sleeves and back panel floating to the hem. Matching Dior bows were their headpieces and nosegays of pink carnations their flowers.

Wedding music was by the bride's cousin, Miss Diana Franklin, who sang as a solo, "The Greatest Of These." Mrs. Bill Devers was organ accompanist and also played a background medley and the bridal marches.

The bride's parents were reception hosts. Miss Patti Nobles was at the guest registry, Miss Linda London served the wedding cake and Miss Betty Hodges the punch. Also assisting were Miss Kandy Franklin of Panhandle, cousin of the bride, Miss Gayle Gripp, Miss Jan Miller and Mrs. Gilbert Sims.

On the table was an airy pink net cloth over satin, with the cake as the principal decoration. It was a tiered confection topped with three pink satin bells, ornamented with white roses, silver leaves and pearlized swan figurines between the tiers.

For travel the bride changed to a grey costume, the dress trimmed in velvet. The orchid from her bridal bouquet was her corsage.

She has been a summer student at Texas Tech as a senior, has served as vice president of the Student Education Association and president of Chitwood Hall. During her years in Hereford High School, from which she was graduated, she was a member of the Rainbow Order and active in Campfire Girls.

The bridegroom received a BS degree in chemical engineering from Tech, was on the Dean's List, held membership in Alpha Phi Omega and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. He was graduated from high school in Amherst.

In addition to his mother, out-of-city wedding guests included Mrs. A. G. Gripp of Conway, Messrs. and Mmes. George Franklin, John Franklin, Ralph Metcalf, Douglas Smith and Mrs. Earl Cox, all of Panhandle.

The sunlight streaming through a window left the surface of the sun only eight minutes earlier.

Rome's famed Fountain of Trevi was completed in 1762 and is fed by an aqueduct constructed nearly 2,000 years ago.

Gold had been hammered into sheets as thin as 1-250,000 of an inch.

Parties Before Wedding Honor Engaged Couple

Honoring Miss Nancy Gripp and her fiancé, John J. Stokes of Mt. Vernon, Wash., before their marriage Thursday evening courtesies included a bridesmaids luncheon at noon that day and the rehearsal dinner Wednesday evening.

The final round of entertaining began Tuesday evening when the Floyd Cole family played host at their country home with an informal steak supper.

Cheryl, Beverly and Bill Cole assisted their parents as hosts. Guests were the honored couple; her parents, the Spicer Gripps; Miss Mary Sue Alkire of Lubbock, Mrs. Betty Bruns of Muleshoe, Kim Gripp and Jack Streun.

Miss Alkire and Miss Lu Ann

Zeigler of Fort Worth, who were bridesmaids, and Miss Diana Franklin of Panhandle, soloist at her cousin's wedding, were house guests in the Gripp home several days and were among guests at the parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hodges entertained them with Miss Gripp, her mother and Miss Linda London, who presided with Miss Betty Hodges at the wedding reception table, at the bridesmaids luncheon Thursday noon in Hereford Country Club.

Pink and white carnations centered the pink-covered table and miniature three-tiered cakes were served for the dessert course.

Feminine members of the bridal party were guests after the rehearsal Wednesday evening at a spinster party given by Miss Flo Dickinson. Refreshments of canapés, hors d'oeuvres, cake and soft drinks were in keeping with the casual atmosphere.

Mrs. John Stokes of Amherst, mother of the bridegroom, was hostess for the rehearsal dinner in the Caison House. Pink roses in a crystal vase and pink tapers decked the table.

In addition to the honorees, their parents and the house guests, places were laid for Mrs. A. G. Gripp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frye, Mrs. Bill Devers, Jim Young, Kim Gripp and Monte Gripp.

The Jefferson nickel was designed by Felix Schlag of Chicago in the first nationwide artists' competition ever sponsored by the U. S. Mint.

Cake Club To Hold Meeting

An organizational meeting has been scheduled by the Sweet and Fancy Decorating Club, a new club involving cake decorating.

The meeting is set to begin at 9 a.m. Sept. 6 in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas building.

All persons interested in a club of this type are urged to attend the meeting.

Dimmitt Church Is Fryar-Daniel Wedding Setting

Miss Janet Doriene Fryar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Fryar, and Frank Richard Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Ellis, all of Dimmitt, were married in a twilight ceremony at First Baptist Church of that city Saturday. The Fryar family formerly lived in Hereford.

The Rev. Charles Harris of Plainview, a friend of the bride's family, conducted marriage vows as the couple stood before an altar lighted by tapers in seven-branched candelabra set in central greenery, and spiral candelabra on either side flanking baskets of white gladiolus and chrysanthemums.

The couple joined in lighting a symbolic candle of union. Miss Fryar was attended by Miss Beth Sheffy as maid of honor, Miss Carla Ward and Miss Joe Ann Ferguson of Hereford, bridesmaids, while Carl Moore served as best man, Harley Daniel, brother of the bridegroom, and Donny George of Plainview as groomsmen.

Dewayne Fryar of Earth, the bride's brother, and Gene Johnston were ushers. Kim Angeley, daughter of the Tracey Angeleys, was flower girl and Gary Don Malone, son of the Kenneth Malones, ring bearer. Candles were lighted by Virginia Sherry and Jim Bob Ellis, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Candy Bulla of Phillips presented solos and Miss Deanna Harris of Plainview was the organist.

As her father escorted the bride to the altar, she was dressed in empire styled peau de soie with Alencon lace bodice and lace appliques across the shoulder line, down the front of the slim skirt and around the edge of the circular chapel train.

Carried on a white Bible, her bouquet was a yellow-throated white orchid surrounded by French mums and stephanotis. Her illusion veil extended over the shoulders from a cluster of pearl-trimmed lace petals.

Bridesmaids wore green satin crepe empire dresses, floor length, with bell sleeves of chiffon. Headpieces were avocado green veils with satin buds. Each carried a large yellow mum circled with pompoms in a nosegay tied with avocado and yellow ribbons.

Mrs. Fryar chose a moss green knit suit and Mrs. Ellis a pink knit, both with beige accessories and cymbidium orchid corsages as they received guests with the couple at a reception in the church fellowship hall.

Miss Donna-Fryar served the cake at one end of an oval table laid in white, with the net skirt caught by satin streamers in swag style. Miss Kay Culpepper poured punch on the other side of a central arrangement of silver candelabra with the bridesmaids' bouquets. The colonnaded cake was surrounded with heart-shaped layers and ornamented with yellow sugar flowers, cupid figurines between tiers and miniature bridal pair atop.

Starting a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., Mrs. Daniel wore a knit suit and accessories all in avocado shade, with the orchid from her bouquet. After the trip the couple will be at home at 204 Front Street, Dimmitt.

The bride attended West Texas State University after graduation from Dimmitt High, and is employed at Dimmitt State Bank. The bridegroom attended Dimmitt schools and after four years U. S. Navy service is an employe of Dimmitt Feed Yards.

Among guests from other cities were the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Oma Fryar, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Pierson, all of Clovis; Mrs. Edith Sheppard of Hereford and relatives from Wisconsin, Arizona and several Texas and New Mexico cities.

Chicago Police Set Example For Keeping Law And Order

Mayor Richard Daley's Chicago police force faced a monumental, and certainly thankless task this past week in keeping order during the 35th Annual Democratic National Convention. For the most part they did a wonderful job.

It may be normal for those of us who are not charged with the responsibility of keeping order to sympathize with those who have been roughed up during the past week and to voice opposition to so called "police brutality." But without the muscle demonstrated by the Chicago police force, termed by Mayor Daley as the best in the nation, we doubt seriously if the Democrats could have held a convention in that city.

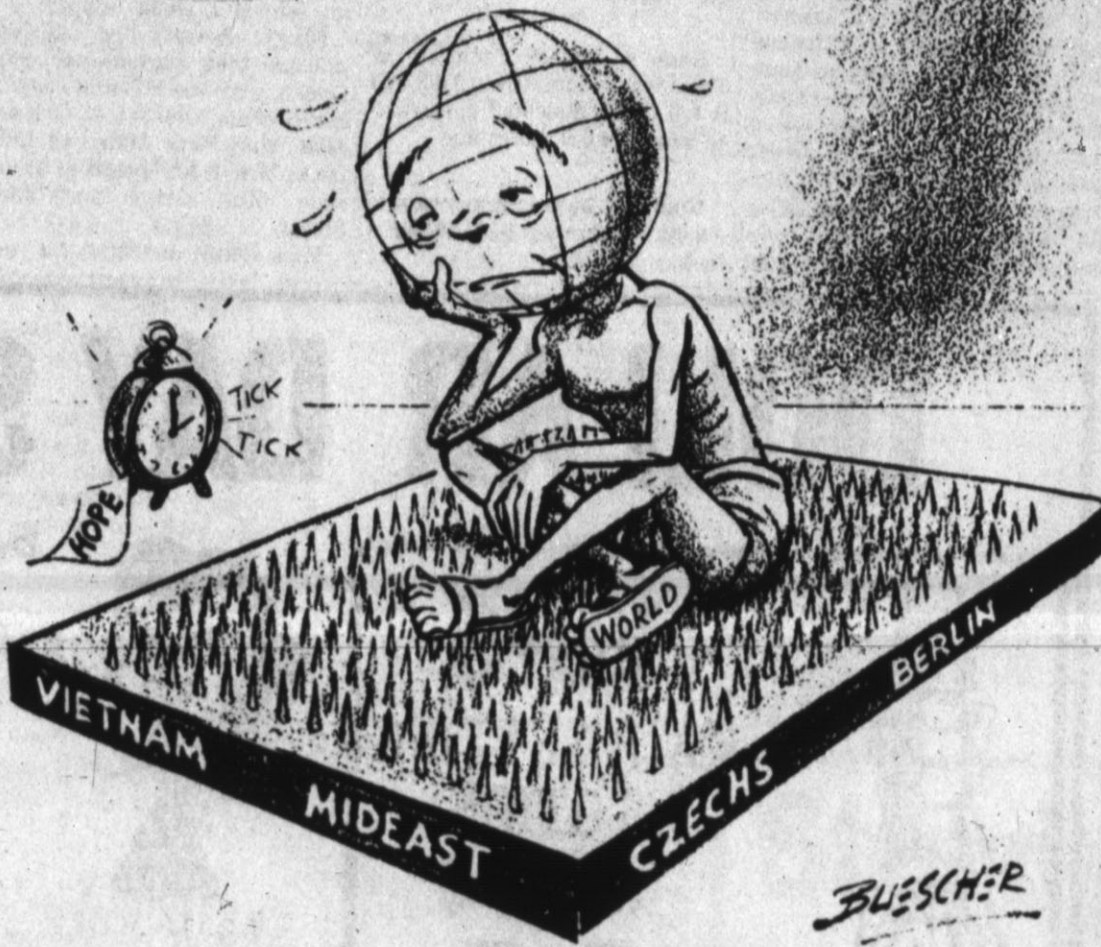

Hippies and yuppies and others with an axe to grind filed into Chicago on the eve of the convention and have remained to demonstrate, riot and otherwise create havoc aimed primarily at disrupting the proceedings of the Democratic convention. Had Mayor Daley's police been less forceful, the dissenters would likely have been successful in their efforts.

Newsmen on the scene also felt the heavy hand of the police and National Guardsmen and we'll probably be hearing television commentators belaboring the matter for many months to come. In the news profession however, the risk of injury is just slightly less than that of police and firemen and the seasoned reporters and camermen are accustomed to being in the danger zone. If an occasional newsman is injured, then that is simply a part of the game; he takes the risks to get the best story and he should be able to live with the consequences. Police cannot possibly be expected to recognize all newsmen in a riot situation, nor should they be charged with the responsibility of special protection for these people.

Although we recognize that peaceful demonstrations are an inherent right of the American people, the wanton destruction of personal property and the disruption of an orderly assembly by others is not right. Still, the Chicago demonstration is probably a prelude to what's to come in future months. The activities of the peaceniks during the Chicago convention were not spontaneous, but well planned, well executed maneuvers carried out by left wing youth organizations to create strife and chaos. These groups also manage to excite and use to their advantage, many young people who innocently become a part of the conspiracy through their genuine concern for their fellow man. Unless the situation is brought under control however, we will be faced with anarchy in this nation.

The Chicago police may have been a little tough, but weigh the consequences of the alternative and you will agree that it's going to take some strong arm methods to maintain law and order in these trouble times.

Weather Bureau Relies On Rural Volunteer Observers

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D.C. — Satellites, computers, and other automatic equipment play an important role in our improved weather forecasts today but the Weather Bureau still relies heavily on more than 12,000 volunteer observers located in small towns and rural areas.

Making weather observations is one of America's oldest traditions, predating the Revolution.

A Lutheran minister named John Companius Holm made the first systematic records of the climate in 1644 and 1645, near what is now Wilmington, Del. Annual awards in his honor are made to a handful of veteran observers, most of whom are unpaid and otherwise unsung.

1968 winners of Holm Awards live in these communities: Amistad and McIntosh, N. Mex.; Dilley, Ore.; Mapleton Depot and Newport, Pa.; Hollis, Okla. Puerto Real, P.R.; Mackinaw City, Mich.; Chestertown, Md.; Greenbrier, Ark.; Xenia, Oh.; Montpelier, N.C.; Rockland Md. Liberty, Tex.; La Porte, Ind.; Mays Mills, Va.; Buchanan, Va. Bradford, N. H.; Wainwright, Alaska; Pioche, Nev.; Allison, Ia.; Woodruff and Timpanogos Cave, Utah; and Harrisburg, Neb.

Thomas Jefferson, third President of the U. S., was a weather watcher as well as a statesman. He kept an almost unbroken series of meteorological records from 1776 to 1816. Another Weather Bureau award for volunteers honors his pioneering. The five 1968 Jefferson Award winners hail from Ashwood, Tenn.; Nogales, Ariz.;

Los Banos, Calif.; Woodstock, Va.; and Merrill, Miss.

Long Service Rewarded
No Johnny-come-latelies win prizes for helping the Weather Bureau. Length of service awards start at 10 years and end at a half century. Two 1968 Jefferson Award winners have served over 50 years, and the others have made daily observations and reports for 43, 39, and 37 years.

Being a weather observer involves more than a daily check of the thermometer. Any precipitation must also be measured. And accurate records must be kept and reports submitted on forms which go to a records center in Asheville, N. C. It is estimated the volunteers contribute about 1 million hours of work each year.

What sort of people observe the weather for Uncle Sam? All kinds. Award winners this year included seven housewives or widows, six farmers or ranchers, four businessmen, two county officials, a park ranger, and a minister.

They have only one thing in common and that is dedication. There are instances on record where unpaid observers actually paid substitutes to take readings in the absence of the regular observer. One 75-year-old lady, Mrs. Francis K. Fry, of Newport, Pa., can no longer climb the ladder leading to a river gauge that must be read daily. She hires a substitute to do this chore, while still tending to the temperature and precipitation records herself.

Newspapers Often Served
Some volunteers are used as news sources by local newspapers. Mrs. Iva I. Burns, whose husband ran the weather station in Hollis, Okla., for six years until she took over 28 years ago, keeps continuously updated weather tabulations by her telephone and disseminates data to papers in Hollis and Altus, plus answering questions from other interested persons in her community.

Some observers are editors themselves. A 1964 Holm Award winner is Thomas C. Merchant, Publisher of the Madison (Fla.) Enterprise-Recorder. He has served the Weather Bureau for more than 50 years, a record for Florida. When he travels, he arranges for a substitute to take the readings.

Many of the weather watchers have interesting tales to tell. A 1968 winner, Thomas E. Lewis, of Liberty, Tex., once rescued a neighbor and his furniture by boat during a flood. Upon unloading on land, he found a three-pound bass flopping around in the drawer of a chest.

In Congress, July 4, 1776. . . . —We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government. . . .

These dramatic lines were brought to mind this week as national television coverage displayed in living violence the split which has torn the country.

Human rights is a touchy subject; it is something not to be resolved by quiet, easy-chair logic. For this reason emotions run high from every side. Just as some people are ready to protest, others are ready to billyclub them into submission. Human rights is not an academic issue that is settled by logical argument.

Protestors overly believe that government in the United States has ceased to function in the context of the rights outlined in the Declaration of Independence; when they protest, when they fight, they are showing all Americans that they refuse to submit to establish authority.

The Declaration of Independence and the Revolutionary War were protests, violent ones, directed at established authority. History books glorify our revolutionary forefathers; today we often scorn those rights for which they fought.

Attempts to influence government policy through demonstrations, marches, and protests are nothing new in this nation. To begin with, the colonies had radical revolutionaries long before there was a Declaration of Independence; people fought with righteousness on both sides during the civil war; demonstrators attempted to keep the United States out of World War I. Labor had to fight bloody battles before it was given the right to organize in its own defense. Civil rights and peace movements are but today's version of the people's right to meaningful free speech, to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

Before condemning protestors, we need to remember that this nation would not have been so gloriously born if dissatisfied people didn't have the guts to lash out against traditional, established authority.

This right to criticize cannot be found in many nations. We should recognize it as one of democracy's greatest assets.

—Larry Fuhrmann

Demonstrators Absent?

Where were the indignant breast beating demonstrators this week when iron booted Soviet troops and tanks moved in to crush freedom minded Czechs?

Where were the picket lines in front of the Soviet embassy in Washington protesting this aggression against peace loving people?

Where were the intellectuals, the rebellious students and the clergymen who have been so quick to criticize and castigate this country for its involvement in Vietnam?

Where were the demonstrators in Japan, Sweden, France, Germany and other countries who have trampled or burned our flag, stoned our embassies and burned our libraries in protest of our interference in Vietnam?

No group of picketers has yet showed up to protest at the Soviet embassy, yet the provocation surely is as great for those who so loudly proclaim they are for peace, peace, peace at any price.

This group of left wing liberals have condemned the United States for supporting the South Vietnamese in seeking right of self determination, but not a whimper is heard against Russia's ruthless oppression against a sovereign nation.

Czechoslovakia was a sovereign nation prior to World War II, with its population made up of people with a proud national heritage. It was a pawn in international horse trading and wound up being put under the iron fist of Communist Russia after the war. The people have been virtual prisoners of Russia since then.

Recently, however, the Czech Community party has drifted toward nationalism and away from Russia. The Soviets tolerated this for a while, and let the Czech elections be held. When things appeared to be taking the wrong turn, in came the troops and the tanks and the leaders of the Czech government have been spirited away to isolation.

Where are the champions of peace who have been maligning their own country for so long? Why do their hearts bleed and tears flow so profusely when the U. S. seeks to aid the South Vietnamese against their Communist enemy, but not a peep from them when Communist Russia crushed the peace loving Czechs?

Why is it that these people, including some top elected officials such as presidential hopefuls McCarthy and McGovern, take such a hard line on U. S. involvement in the Vietnam conflict, but have nothing to say about the crushing of Czechoslovakian moves toward peaceful self determination at the ballot box.

A curious double standard exists when Communist Russia is involved —Ochiltree County Herald

An airplane weighing 248 tons has been tested in flight, which puts aviation into almost the same weight class as the family car headed for a two-weeks vacation.

In most families balance of payments is not a government term but refers to the bills that can't be paid out of this week's salary.

You can't refuse to give a man a job because of age, a fact wives have known for many a year.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm reviews the drawbacks of the Presidency this week.

Dear editor:

There are times, like when my tractor has a flat and my car battery is dead and a neighbor calls and says my cows are in his field and ruining his crops and it's the hottest day of the year and we're four weeks overdue on a rain and the kitchen faucet is leaking and the dog tore a hole in the screen door and insurance rates have gone up and farm prices have come down, when I half-way wish I was doing something else besides farming, but after reading the newspapers for the past few months, especially the last few weeks, I have decided if I ever make a change, it will not be to the Presidency of the United States.

The job has been misrepresented.

In farming, when you go to bed at night you can generally count on sleeping pretty good till you wake up the next morning, but in the Presidency you never know when the phone will ring at 2 A. M. telling you Russia has invaded Czechoslovakia or Saigon has been shelled again or some nation has stolen another one of our ships.

If you do get to sleep the whole night, you wake up to find out Congress has rebelled or some Senator you had to supper last night has thrown a monkey wrench into your plans or 2,000 letters have arrived telling you to get lost and offering to show you the way.

When George Washington was elected the first President, he had 13 states to look after and figured he had his hands full. Now we've got 50 states and a large part of the 200 other nations on earth, and as if that wasn't enough, we're taking on space to boot, not to mention the people who want to colonize the bottom of the ocean.

On second thought, this farm is not for sale.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

50 YEARS AGO — 1918

Lt. Cliff C. Acker arrived Thursday from Camp Pike, Arkansas, to spend a short furlough with his uncle, G. A. F. Parker and family. Lt. Acker was one of the first boys from Deaf Smith County to enlist. He went to Camp Bowie in Fort Worth just about a year ago as a private. Cliff did not stay "just a private" very long. He entered Officers Training School at Camp Pike and has just been commissioned Second Lieutenant.

35 YEARS AGO — 1933

First action for obtaining Deaf Smith County's allotment in the national wheat acreage reduction plan will be a mass meeting of farmers and citizens Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the high school auditorium. . . . With almost 250 high school pupils enrolled and everything in readiness for handling grade children, Hereford's schools are ready to get off to a flying start at their opening Monday. Such was the announcement made by Superintendent C. H. Dillehay last night.

25 YEARS AGO — 1943

One case of poliomyelitis was reported in Hereford this week, and although the danger of spread of the disease from this case is past, so far as physicians can tell, it was deemed wise to postpone the opening of school for one week, according to Knox Kinard, superintendent of the Hereford schools. The six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Ford, who live in the northeast part of Hereford, is now recovering from initial phases of the disease.

Transactions were completed this week by the Hereford State Bank for the purchase of the lot at the intersection of Third and Sampson streets. The corner location, 100 feet by 150 feet, was purchased from Dr. L. B. Barnett for the purpose of building a future home for the bank.

10 YEARS AGO — 1958

The total school enrollment climbed sharply to 2,450 Tuesday afternoon. Superintendent Fred Cunningham said that the enrollment figure would increase by the end of the week. . . . An explosive meeting of the City Commission resulted in the passing of a motion to close the Hereford dump grounds to wholesale and commercial dumping of vegetables Tuesday evening. . . . It was announced that the Jim Hill Estate would commit as much as $60,000 toward the building of the proposed Youth and Civic Center. . . . Enrollment at Parkview Negro Elementary School showed an enormous decline this week, as parents continued to hold their children out while protesting some conditions at the school.

5 YEARS AGO — 1963

Heavy rainstorms moving across the Deaf Smith County area Friday deluged Hereford. Up to two inches of moisture was reported unofficially in some sections of the city. Hereford Lions Club made the largest single donation by a civic group to King's Manor, as a check was presented in behalf of the club for $7,500 to Hereford Area Foundation.

Laura Higgins Repeats Vows With T. S. Geiser

A pyramid of 14 candles centering the chancel of First Presbyterian Church, with a line of greenery below studded with marguerite daisies, was the background for the exchange of rings and wedding vows by Miss Laura Louise Higgins and Thomas Scott Geiser of El Paso Saturday evening.

The Rev. R. A. Wingert read the service as Jack Higgins gave his daughter in marriage. Her parents reside on Route 1, Wildorado, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Geiser, 4127 Van Buren, Amarillo.

After a trip the couple will be at home September 1 at 1209 North Virginia, El Paso, where the bride will attend the University of Texas at El Paso and the bridegroom is employed.

Miss Nancy Smith, maid of honor, and Steve Clark of Amarillo, best man, were the couple's only attendants. Kimberly Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Moore and niece of the bride, carried blue daisy petals in a white basket. Mr. Moore ushered guests to their pews.

Traditional wedding songs were played in a prelude by Mrs. John Thames, organist, blending into the "Lohengrin" processional. She also played the recessional march.

A charming picture in a summer gown of sheer cotton embroidery and lace, the bride wore a matching caplet, without veil, and carried a bouquet of blue daisies with flowing blue and violet ribbons tied in loveknots.

The high-waisted dress, ankle length with square neckline and short puffed sleeves was made of alternate rows of the lace and embroidery, and so was the headress. Her white gloves were trimmed with narrow ruffles of embroidery at the wrists. Mexican tuck fabric in a soft blue shade was fashioned in A-line style for Miss Smith's dress. Fullness was controlled by simulated pleats, sleeves were short and the round neckline cut low. A belt of violet added color contrast, and her bouquet was a small replica of the bride's.

The flower girl wore a floor-length violet frock with a blue bow in the center of the front yoke.

A reception after the wedding ceremony was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Gunther of the Easter community. In the houseparty were Miss Carla Hanshu of Darroutzet, Miss Gwen Cargo, Miss Pam Wingel and the bride's cousin, Miss Ky-la Higgins.

A circular white linen cloth with a four-inch hand crocheted edge which had belonged to the bride's maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Carl Frye, covered the bride's table, which was centered with an arrangement of violet pompoms.

The wedding cake was set on a footed cutglass cake plate, the corners of the square plate heaped with sugar flowers of blue and violet.

Another table on the opposite side of the room was laid with a Swedish embroidered cloth, white on white, made by Mrs. Laura Higgins, grandmother of the bride. Violet pompoms on this table, where coffee and pastries were served, were in a cutglass vase which is an heirloom in the Frye family.

For travel, Mrs. Geiser changed to a semi-fitted dress of soft blue homespun, styled with a mock side closing forming a pleat with button trim, short sleeves and jewel neckline.

She has been a student at Texas Tech, Lubbock, and Mr. Geiser attended Amarillo College and the University of Texas at El Paso. He is a lance corporal in the United States Marine Corps Reserve.

Out-of-city guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Geiser of Pampa, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Clark, Mrs. Steve Clark and Mrs. J. Robert Geiser, all of Amarillo.

Miss Wiman Married In Former Home City

Miss Judith Kay Wiman returned to Hereford, her former home, from Clovis, N. M., for her marriage to Jay Gurley of Roswell, N. M., Friday evening in First Christian Church. The Rev. Gerald Mann, pastor of First Baptist Church, conducted the service.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wiman of Clovis, who moved to that city a few years ago from Hereford. Mr. Gurley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Gurley of Tahoka.

Attendants of the bride were her sisters, Mrs. Jim Steadman of Garland as matron of honor and Mrs. Jon Cranford of this city as bridesmatron. Bob Henry of Clovis served as best man, Jon Cranford as groomsmen-usher and Bobby Wiman, the bride's brother, as usher.

A background for the wedding party as Mr. Wiman gave his daughter in marriage was formed of andelabra twined with greenery at the altar.

Gwen Morris of Plainview sang the solos, Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee and The Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Hacker, organist. She played a medley of traditional wedding music and the marches.

Candlelight peau de soie made the bride's gown in semi-fitted A-line style, floor length. The long-sleeves were trimmed with lace and pearl embroidery. Her short veil was gathered to a three-part bow of peau de soie. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of daisy mums.

Touches of gold in the bouquet repeated the color of her attendants' dresses, designed similarly to the bride's but in street length. The same flowers were used in their nosegays.

The couple received good wishes from wedding guests at a reception after the ceremony in the church fellowship hall. Miss Rebecca Gracey of West Lafayette, Ind., was at the registry and Miss Jode McClung of Dallas at the refreshment table.

For the wedding trip to Red River, New Mexico, Mrs. Gurley changed to a coat dress in barberry red, worn with grey accessories. After September 2 the couple will be at home at No. 217, 111 East 22nd, Roswell.

The bride will teach fourth grade in Berrendo Elementary School at Roswell next term and the bridegroom, assistant project director for Upward Bound at Eastern New Mexico University, will be on the faculty of the junior college in Roswell.

She received the BS degree in education at Texas Tech last spring, and has also attended the University of Denver and the University of Texas after graduation from Hereford High School in 1964. Her sorority is Delta Delta Delta.

The bridegroom holds BA, M Ed and Education Specialist degrees from ENMU at Portales. His high school studies were completed in Tahoka.

Rose Memorial Garden Has Added New Beauty To Main

By MRS. GLADYS MANJEOT
Brand Garden Columnist

There is a new light shining in our town. It is a spot-light, and its radiant rays are shining down from its height upon a beautiful Rose Memorial Garden, which is located at the First Baptist Church, on Main Street, between the main building and the Conkwright Building.

The rays of the light glisten in the splashing waters of the fountain which is the axis of the garden.

Several years ago a Landscape committee was appointed to study the over-all grounds and to make suggestions for their improvement and beautification. The following were appointed: Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., Mrs. R. L. Ethridge, Mrs. A. O. Thompson, Mrs. Bill Lankford, and Mr. Zack Pannell. The committee was to work with the properties committee, composed of Cecil Oglesby, Hershel Black, and Mrs. Rex Lee.

A master Landscape Plan or Design was presented and adopted by the church. This included three major projects, which were to be completed in three years.

The establishing of The Rose Memorial Garden marks the completion of the second project. In so doing it was the desire of the committee to share in the creation of a place of beauty. There are few places in the world where magic is still to be found — the magic of beauty so poignant that it fills the heart with awe, and remembrances. It is the hope that this garden will be just such a place.

The design of the garden is a 'Sunburst', with the fountain and bench featured as the center. Radiating from this are the roses which were planted in a graduation of color, starting with the deep red tones at the center and ending with the bi-colored Peace Rose. Only named varieties were planted, and some of these are Mr. Lincoln, Mirandy, Pink Peace, Chicago Peace, Queen Elizabeth, San Antonio, Miss America, Moja v a, Tropicana, Chrysler Imperial, and others. Since this is to be a continuous project and other roses will be planted, other varieties will be used. Floribundas, Grandifloras, Polyanthas, and Climbers.

The background planting consists of various types of ivies, which will be trained to create interesting patterns on the brick walls. Evergreens such as English Boxwood, Hollies, and Eucalyptus were used as basic plantings, and Japanese Maple and Ornamental Apricot trees were used for accent plantings, and to create height and patterns of interest and beauty.

A bronze Memorial Plaque will be placed underneath the arched breezeway. It will consist of individual name plates, on which the names of those honored by friends or loved ones will be engraved.

The garden is very interesting from many angles, one of which is when looked down upon, from the upstairs breezeway.

Especially beautiful at night-time when the falling water glistens in the light, and the blossoms are colorful and fragrant. Dorothy Francis Carney, expresses this in the following poem:

"The Lord God planted a garden
In the first white days of the world
And set there an angel warden
In a garment of light enraptured.

So near to the peace of Heaven
The hawk might nest with the wren
For there is the cool of the eve'n
God walked with the first of men.

And I dream that these garden closes
With their shade and their sun-flecked sod
And their lillies and boswers of roses
Were laid by the hand of God.

The kiss of the sun for pardon
The song of the birds for mirth
One is nearer God's heart in a garden
Than anywhere else on earth."

Prairie dogs, squirrel-like animals with a barking cry, are gregarious and usually live in colonies.

Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, created in 1872, was the world's first national park.

Twin Brothers Return For Visit

Donnie and Ronnie Hardman, 22-year-old twins who were born in Hereford, have been visitors in the home of their aunt, Mrs. Victor Zinn of 111-B Avenue F, Hereford.

The young men, in separate branches of the Armed Services came through Hereford on furlough after serving a hitch in Vietnam.

Donnie Hardman is a corporal in the Air Force and Ronnie is a Spec. 4 in the Army.

Both of them are scheduled to serve another tour of duty in Vietnam, according to their aunt.

They have now gone to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Hardman Sr., who live at Gooding, Idaho. The family left Hereford in 1961.

Ernest Hardman Jr. and his wife Jill died on May 19 along with another couple, when the plane piloted by Hardman crashed into a mountain just outside of Seattle, Washington. They were survived by four young daughters.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
The industrial and business growth of Hereford seemed to have surpassed the population growth; thanks to those progressive minded leaders who contributed so much of their time and effort towards this goal.

Now it is time that we face up to the inherent problems of any growing city such as ours, namely, housing, personnel, financing, etc.

The main problem that appears to plague our community is the drastic shortage of low rent housing which in turn is creating a drastic shortage of personnel to meet the present demand. The law of supply and demand seems to work even in Hereford — unreasonably high rent makes it prohibitive for the average person has a job waiting for him.

Unless this situation is remedied fast, I would venture to say that this town is not likely to continue growing at the same rate as it has in the past. In other words we have reached a point of saturation. Furthermore it is my belief that this very same problem could be sufficient cause to discourage Wilson Co. and its related industry from locating here in Hereford despite all the hard work and effort that was put in by the city leaders.

The essence of any business relies on two factors: Personnel and Financing.

While Wilson Co. might be over-loaded with cash, they will need the people that would be willing to work and frankly, the town of Hereford is not quite ready to match the needs to business and industry, obviously.

As long as private enterprise is not interested in investing in low rent housing and as long as the city maintains its present stand against federal housing projects, then I have every reason to believe that the city is defeating its purpose. (Note: even though the Federal Housing Project will not qualify Wilson employees to rent those apartments, there are many others who would qualify, thus relieving the pressure sources.)

While too much attention is given to golf courses, parks and other recreational activities, very little has been devoted to improving living conditions for the labor force, the very foundation of our continued progress.

It behooves every citizen to share in the task of creating a more pleasant atmosphere for all people of all walks of life if we are to create and maintain a healthy economy. We seem to discover, everyday, that we all depend on each other, it's a chain reaction, and unless we face up to our responsibility of promoting better relations with the transient worker and improve housing facilities, we are not going to succeed in attracting any more people or industry.

It is about time that local people would wake up to the FACT that our economy and continued growth is dependent on these workers; without whom, let me assure you, Hereford would not be what it is today.

Name withheld by request. On file at Brand.

Lady Traffic Court Judge Hears All Types Of Alibis

COLLEGE STATION Tex. (AP) — "It is fantastic," says Mrs. Cliff Guillet, "the number of people who run out of gas in forbidden parking areas."

That is not a particularly difficult conclusion for her to reach. She hears it until it has become a daily sickening.

And it turns out, she is told, that the owner of the car rarely drives it. With tongue in cheek, she says it is pretty incredible "the number of relatives and

Students Need To Notify SS

School will be starting soon, and young people receiving social security benefits based on full time attendance are reminded to notify their social security office if there will be any change in their student status.

Travis C. Briggs, manager of the Amarillo social security office, stated that benefits may be paid to the unmarried child of a retired, deceased or disabled worker if the child is between 18 and 22 and a full time student at an accredited school, college or vocational institution.

Students continue to receive their checks during breaks such as the summer vacation period, as long as the break is not longer than 4 months, and the student has indicated a firm intent to continue schooling when the break ends, Briggs said.

If the student's intent to resume school changes in any way or if his attendance will be less than full time, he should notify his social security office immediately. In this way, he can avoid receiving any incorrect payments which would have to be refunded, Briggs commented.

For further information regarding their current or potential benefits under social security, students are advised to visit or write the Amarillo social security office at 1006 Adams Street or call 376-5151, Extension 234.

wives who were driving the cars at the time they were ticketed."

Sandra Guillet is traffic court judge at Texas A&M University. She accepts fines and listens to alibis for 40 hours a week.

Students, faculty members and visitors alike come trembling before her desk. Mostly they are so angry at getting a ticket.

Like most college campuses in these days of student affluence and the motorcar, finding a place to park is harder than mathematics or philosophy.

The legislature recently helped schools solve the problem by giving campus security officers the powers of police. A&M has 11 such officers.

"Anyone who gets a ticket on campus and feels there are extenuating circumstances is welcome to voice his problem in this office," says the 1964 psychology graduate from the University of Southwestern Louisiana.

"Students like to be able to come in and talk even if they have to pay the ticket," she said, which is not surprising since Mrs. Guillet is an attractive, auburn-haired young woman with blue eyes. She looks more like a co-ed than a judge.

Mrs. Guillet explains to unhappy ticket holders that they can appeal her decision to a student appeals panel which meets each week. It's her duty to be the prosecutor at these appeals, for no member of the campus security office is permitted to be present.

Often she deals with 100 traffic tickets a day. "I try to treat each person as I would want to be treated," she said recently. "And I try to give the feeling that they have a chance — that they are not battering against a brick wall. When they huff, I try not to huff back. If you stay calm, they usually settle down again quickly." But there are bad customers, too. "Some are very antagonistic,"

Tuesday Musical Is "Good News"

A musical drama titled Good News will be presented by Hereford youth at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the high school auditorium.

The production is based on the same idea as the national patriotic youth group called "Up With People." The rhythmical drama set Tuesday night is described as a Christian folk musical with today's music set to Christian words.

As the drama unfolds, the narrator questions the basis of religion. Answering with songs, the chorus and soloists illustrate the young person's way of expressing his feeling about Christianity.

The musical is an original work first presented last summer at a Baptist youth camp at Glorieta, N. M. Young people from various churches, including some from neighboring towns, make up the local cast.

Narrators will be Jerry Sublett, Steve Robbins and Percy Mays. Accompaniment is by Andrea Axe, piano; Gwen Davis and Chip Formby, electric guitars, and Rick Lee, electric bass.

Choral songs are featured as well as solos by Rosie Rogers, Sherry White, Larry Kuper, Randy Martin, Janet Frye, Terri Beth Line, Laurel Davis, Mona Gal Gibson and Jeanette Perry, also Carolyn Brown and Larry Smith of Friona.

Directing the production will be Bill Devers, choir director at Hereford High School, with Bob Reed, radio announcer at KPAN assisting.

Writers of the musical are Bob Oldenburg of the Texas Baptist Music Department and Eddie Lunn, a student at Baylor University.

Mrs. Smith said that representatives from the Texas TB Association in Austin will give an orientation program for the directors, including the nature of tuberculosis and its control in the community, the relationship between smoking and emphysema, and responsibilities of the TB-RD Association.

Executive director Charles McIntosh now has plans to buy a home and move to Hereford. He is a former newspaperman.

McIntosh said, "Just over a year ago, an unusual episode in a midwest nursery school suddenly placed 20 children on the sick list. A tuberculosis epidemic had broken out. In addition to the 20 with active disease, many others had acquired TB infection but were not actually ill.

"The incident is worth recalling for a couple of strange reasons. For one thing, such epidemics have been comparatively rare; evidently they still happen. Another thing: it all began with a case of arthritis. "The arthritis sufferer, a member of the school's adult staff, was being treated with steroid drugs. Some years before she had had tuberculosis, but it had long since retreated to an inactive stage. Now it was found active again.

"Coincidence? Not a bit. It has been known for some time that steroid drugs such as cortisone, often prescribed for arthritis, can cause TB to change from an inactive to an active phase. It can also activate TB in a person who has tuberculosis infection but has never had the active disease.

"The American Thoracic Society, medical section of the National Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association, wrapped up the situation in a comment published in its magazine, Clinical Notes on Respiratory Diseases: "It needs to be emphasized again and again that no patient should be treated with adrenal corticosteroids without a careful investigation for the presence of tuberculosis. The ATS also recommends the anti-TB drug isoniazid for any patient with a history of TB while he is receiving steroid treatment and for six weeks after.

"The patient, needless to say, shares the responsibility. Any person who has ever had TB infection or active disease should make sure his doctor knows about it — particularly if present treatment involves a steroid drug."

Grape Juice, Jelly Recipes

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Making Grape Juice at Home: For a small quantity of juice made at home you need an enamel or aluminum dishpan; a thermometer (dairy or candy), a clean cloth, 1/2 yard of cotton flannel for filtering, bottles or jars and lids; a bottle capper and caps.

IF GRAPES OF improved varieties are ripe when used for grape juice no sugar is needed. If you prefer a sweeter juice add 1/2 to 2 cups of sugar.

A blend of different varieties makes for better flavor and a more attractive color. A bushel of grapes will yield approximately only 1 1/2 gallons.

Steps in making grape juice:

(1) Wash grapes on the stem thoroughly.

(2) Crush grapes in aluminate 3 gallons juice; some varnum, wooden or earthenware vessel. Do not use tin, zinc, iron or steel vessels.

(3) Heat the crushed grapes, stirring constantly to 145 degrees. Hold at this temperature for 5 minutes. No water is added. Most of the color of the juice comes from the inner skin. Heating the crushed grapes and pressing while hot will produce a rich wine color. A higher temperature than 145 degrees will extract tannin from the stems and tartaric acid from the seeds giving the juice an undesirable flavor.

(4) After heating, extract the juice by pressing, or hang up in a bag and squeeze.

(5) Filter the juice through cloth or jelly bag. Heat again.

(6) Pour into bottles or jars, filling to neck of bottle or jar.

(7) Cap bottles. Seal jars.
(8) Place in water bath. Cover completely with warm water. Heat and hold water at 185 degrees: Pint bottles or jars — 5 minutes, quarts — 10 minutes, 1/2 gallon bottles or jars — 15 minutes, gallon — 20 minutes.

GRAPE JELLY

Wash and stem grapes. Crush and heat, stirring constantly, to 145 degrees. Cook for 15 minutes. Press through a jelly bag and strain. Measure juice and heat to boiling point. For each cup of juice add 3/4 cup sugar. Boil rapidly to jelly stage. Pour into sterilized glasses of jars. Seal.

Crystals often form in grape jelly. To prevent this allow extracted juice to stand overnight in a cool place. Next morning carefully pour juice off sediment in bottom of pan.

Mrs. Sue White answered our call for Green Pepper Jelly.

GREEN PEPPER JELLY

3/4 cup ground bell peppers
6 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 cup red pepper
1 1/2 apple cider vinegar
Cook all ingredients to rapid boil. Remove from heat and let set 5 minutes. Add 8 ounce bottle of liquid pectin to mixture. Pour into jars immediately. Delicious with meats.

SWEET PICKLES

4 quarts cucumbers
1 quart vinegar
3 T. salt
3 T. mustard seed
5 T. sugar
Simmer cucumbers in above mixture for 10 minutes. Drain. Place in jars. Drain again. Pour the following mixture boiling hot over the cucumbers:
3 1/3 Cup vinegar
5 3/4 Cup sugar
1 T. pickling spice
Seal at once.

Clinton Christman... small arms training.

Christman Has Ended Training

FT. SILL, OKLA. — Clinton P. Christman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Christman, 114 A. Hereford, cleans the M-14 rifle during Army small arms training.

A student at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, Cadet Christman has completed Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps summer camp. The course ended July 23 at Ft. Sill, Okla.

During the encampment, he received six weeks of training in leadership, rifle marksmanship physical conditioning and other military subjects.

Upon successful completion of summer camp and graduation from college, he is eligible to be commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army.

Former Cowpoke Recalls Friendship Of Will Rogers

JACKSBORO, Tex. (AP) — Arthur Whitsitt of Jacksboro remembers the time that the late entertainer Will Rogers committed the worst sin of the old West — he ate his own beef.

Whitsitt is an 86-year-old former cowpoke who likes to recall the days when ranching was a much less formal and mechanized business than today.

He still wears a cowboy hat and boots, but his cowpunching chores now are mainly whittling while sitting at the Jack County Courthouse here.

"We had a rodeo every morning," he said in an interview, adding that the horses of that era needed taming every day before they could be used for work.

Whitsitt was 14 or 15 years old before he saw a wire fence. And he recalls the large cattle herds that were driven north to railheads in Kansas.

"The largest herd I ever saw started passing about 2 o'clock in the afternoon and didn't get by until sunset," he said.

"I know why the herds were so big. They were stealing cattle as they went. It was all open country and they ran everything on hooves in together."

Whitsitt, born at Robert Prairie, 10 miles north of Jacksboro, worked cattle at various spots in Texas and New Mexico.

He said that two men once slaughtered a heifer belonging to Rogers and came to the place Whitsitt was working and asked permission to hang part of the carcass on the windmill while they went back for the remainder.

A short time later, Rogers rode in, said Whitsitt. He asked if he could stay for supper. The group dined on his beef and Rogers spent the night. The next morning, he rode on. Whitsitt says he is sure Rogers knew the slaughtered animal was his heifer.

On another occasion, Whitsitt's twin brother, Oscar "Blondy" Whitsitt, loaned Rogers $125 so he could make a trip to Claremore, Okla. Rogers returned six or eight months later, herding about 25 mustangs. He repaid the loan and said he was going west to start a wild west show.

"That's the last we saw of him," said Whitsitt. Rogers went on to fame in entertainment.

"Will was the best roper and rider in the West," Whitsitt declared.

Pay for cowboys in those days was $25 a month and room and board.

On one cattle drive north, "huge displays of lightning and thunder" stampeded the herd. "We were until 3 a.m. rounding them up. I finally went back to the wagon. The bedding was soaked, but I slept anyway," said the ex-cowpoke.

He also told of a freeze that killed a large number of cattle. The cowboys were sent out to skin the carcasses for the hides.

Asked if he regretted not joining a wild west show, Whitsitt said, "I did my rodeoing on the ranch."

Indiana. Pinning the new major is Col. Kone and Mrs. Ashley. Mrs. Ashley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Young of 306 W. Seventh, Hereford.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — Texas got its first railroad 115 years ago this summer, thanks to a hero of San Jacinto and the gift of a fine horse from the Governor of the state.

On August 22, 1853, the two day coaches and one baggage car that made up the first train arrived in Stafford's Point (now Stafford) in Fort Bend County. The train had come from Harrisburg, all of 26 miles away. Pulling it was the "General Sherman," named for General Sidney Sherman, the War of Independence hero who had raised most of the capital for the Buffalo Bayou, Brazos and Colorado Railroad.

Financing the new railroad wasn't easy, and Sherman took any kind of capital that he could get. Governor Francis R. Lubbock, who was sold on the idea of a railroad but lacked ready cash, helped out by giving Sherman one of his finest horses.

Eventually the BBB&C became a part of the Southern Pacific. About the only physical trace still to be found of Texas' first railroad is the bell from one of its locomotives. It is on display at the high school in Milby.

IT WAS MOUNTAIN GROWN, TOO — Coffee was one of the first deodorizers used in early Texas. The beans were roasted to a dark brown, pulverized and then sprinkled in cesspools or other areas that gave off bad smells.

TRAVELING TEXAS — Vacationers who prefer the byways to the highways are getting away from it all this summer on the Lone Star Hundred-Mile Hiking Trail. Beginning where Highway 149 enters the Sam Houston National Forest in Walker County, the first 30 miles of the trail have been completed through the pines. The trail, which follows the abandoned grades of old logging railroads, pipelines and wood roads, has campsites located about every 10 miles.

The present trail ends just east of Farm Road 1374, but the entire 100 miles will be open in 1969 — providing Texas with the first marked hiking trail of this length in history.

"HE JUST KEEPS ROLLING" — If Jules Bledsoe could see the stone that marks his grave in Waco's Greenwood Cemetery, he would be pleased, indeed.

Bledsoe was a Negro who began his career as a soloist in Waco churches. He went on to New York to star as the original "Joe" in Jerome Kern's musical, "Showboat." Legend has it that Kern wrote the song, "O! Man River," only because he wanted Bledsoe to sing it.

In 1943, when he was only 44, Jules Bledsoe died and his body was returned to Waco for burial. On the stone above his grave is carved the opening bars of "O! Man River" and these final words of the song: "He just keeps rollin' a-long."

BREED THAT WULDN'T DI — In 1927, there were less than 100 Longhorn cattle left in the U. S. Today there are 3,500 registered Longhorns in 35 states and the number grows each year.

Farm Bureau To Start Big Tour

WACO — The Texas Farm Bureau-sponsored 1968 "market-builder" tour leaves Friday for a 31-day world tour with sight-seeing and goodwill stops in nine countries around the globe. Included also on the itinerary are visits to farms and agricultural marketing facilities, meetings with buyers and briefings at U. S. embassies.

The 64 tour participants, comprised mostly of farmers and ranchers and their wives, are paying their own way to learn more about potential markets in the Far East and Europe. The trip is also intended to build goodwill and give the Texans a better understanding of farmer's problems in the lesser-developed nations.

Up until 1880 the U. S. Patent Office required inventors seeking patents to submit models of their inventions.

Hundreds of jumps are to be made during the two-day meet, which will include free falls and specialty acts. Airplane rides will also be available for those in attendance. EasterLions report that there is also a strong possibility of a helicopter demonstration. The Easter Airport is located 11 miles south of Hereford at Farm Road 1955 and Farm Road 1057 intersection.

Jumping will begin at 9 a. m. and last until 7 p. m. Saturday. On Sunday, they will begin at 1 p. m. The admission price has been set at $1 per car on each of the two days.

State Crime Rate Up 15 Per Cent

AUSTIN — Colonel Wilson E. (Pat) Speir, acting director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said today the Texas crime rate for the first six months of 1968 is running about 15 percent over the rate recorded for the same period in 1967. Speir said information provided by sheriffs and chiefs of police and compiled by the DPS indicates an increase in each of the seven major crime categories. For example, murders and homicides were up nearly 9 percent; rape, up nearly 14 percent; robbery, up about 14 percent; burglary, up nearly 22 percent; aggravated assault, up nearly 6 percent; theft up about 12 percent; and auto theft, up nearly 24 percent.

"In the January through June period, major crimes occurred in Texas on the average of one every 1 1/2 minutes," Speir noted. "This generally figures out to be a murder every 7 1/2 hours, a rape every 4 1/2 hours, a robbery every 1 1/2 hours, a burglary every 5 1/2 minutes, an aggravated assault every 20 minutes, a theft every 2 1/2 minutes, and an auto theft every 18 1/2 minutes," he added. The overall crime rate increased about 15 percent in the state's urban areas and almost 11 percent in rural areas. It was up about 17 percent in cities over 100,000 population, up about 7 percent in cities between 50,000 and 100,000 up almost 9 percent in cities between 25,000 and 50,000 up almost 15 percent in cities between 10,000 and 25,000, up 25 percent in cities between 5,000 and 10,000, but up only about 1 percent in cities between 2,500 and 5,000 population.

The largest rural increase came in counties with over 50 rural population per square mile and was tabulated at almost 34 percent. The overall crime rate decreased by almost 20 percent in counties with from 20 to 35 rural population per square mile, and decreased about 3 percent in counties with under five rural population per square mile.

Cheap American Wheat Creates Many Problems, Price Reports

2x24 cheap american wheat "Cheap American wheat is no answer to this country's desire to increase our exports," said the House Republican Task Force on Agriculture in a report today. "In fact, it is our cheap wheat that has frightened foreign countries into a system of prohibitive variable levies which keeps our wheat from entering their markets," said Task Force Member, Bob Price.

In a study just completed by the Task Force, and substantiated by USDA statistics, Panhandle-Congressman Price used prices received by Panhandle farmers and the cost of wheat to Dutch processors between April 1963 and April 1968 as an example of what has happened. "The Panhandle farmer now gets 86 cents a bushel less than he did in 1963," Price said, "but the Dutch processor pays 28 cents a bushel more. Obviously, the falling price of wheat in the United States was not passed on to the Dutch buyer. Much of the foreign price increase was due to the variable levies on wheat imposed by the Common Market countries. This levy increased 36 cents between 1963 and 1968. Falling prices on the American commodity markets do not stimulate exports, but instead force other nations to freeze our efforts to protect their own producers."

INTERNATIONAL WHEAT AGREEMENT The Task Force report used the International Wheat Agreement as another example of the failure of U. S. policies and programs to grasp the significance of low American prices in the world market.

"This agreement simply acknowledges that our U. S. wheat prices are so depressed that they have to be artificially raised to that of the world market," Price said. "An exporter who wants to buy American hard red winter wheat at the Gulf Coast, for instance, now pays our government up to 22 cents a bushel so that our wheat prices reach levels set under the International Agreement. Both this, and the foreign import levies, constitute sheer folly."

"The truth of the matter is that the United States wheat farmer could receive a full parity price of $2.62 a bushel and we could still supply wheat to the Netherlands for less than the Dutch processor now pays. To remove the foreign levies and our export fees would contribute much toward establishing a realistic world market and be in the best interests of free world trade. "In the process," Price concluded, "our own farmers would welcome the increased income so badly needed to revitalize rural America."

Voting Rules Are Outlined For New Texas Residents

Voters who have lived in Texas less than a year must apply for a ballot during a 15-day period beginning Friday, September 6, if they want to vote for President and Vice President in the coming general election. Deaf Smith County Clerk B. F. Cain announced today. Applicants must appear in person at the county clerk's office

This will be the first time that persons having less than a year's residence in the state will be able to vote in a presidential election, Cain said. A law passed by the Texas Legislature last year permits a voter who moved to Texas from some other state less than a year before general election day to vote for President and Vice President but for no other offices, if he will have lived in Texas at least 60 days on election day. In order to vote, he must possess all the qualifications required of electors under Texas law except the ordinary residence requirements, and it must also be shown that he was either a qualified elector in another state immediately before his removal to Texas or that he would have been eligible to vote in the presidential election in the state where he formerly lived if he had remained there until election day.

Cain said that a person who had been issued a voter registration certificate, voter identification card, or other document showing that he was a registered voter in the state from which he moved should take this document with him when he goes to the county clerk's office to apply for a ballot. If he does not have written proof of his registration, it will be necessary for the clerk to obtain verification of his voting eligibility from the voter registrar or other appropriate election official at the place of his former residence before he will be accepted for voting.

Applications must be filed with the clerk by 5 p. m. (closing hour) on Friday, September 20. However, the voters will not actually vote until the period of October 21-November 1, when they will return to the clerk's office and cast their ballots. Cain said that each applicant will be given written notice informing him whether his application has been accepted after the clerk receives a reply from the voter registrar in the state of former residence.

Persons voting in the presidential election under this special procedure need not be registered as voters in the county where they now live.

Cain emphasized that the voting procedure applies only to persons who will have lived in

YES Has Ended Program

Youth Employment Service has ended its program for the year, Lester Rape, manager of Texas Employment Commission told members of the Technical Action Panel Monday afternoon.

The scheduled meeting to discuss hunger in Deaf Smith County was not held at Monday's meeting. TAP chairman, James Gouldy, 111 Ranger, said no definite plans have been made to follow up the study because of lack of interest in the county.

Members also discussed the tour and luncheon barbecue set

Texas less than a year on election day. If a person moved to Texas before November 5, 1967 he must be registered with the county tax assessor-collector in order to vote in the general election on November 5, and he will vote in the regular manner on election day. However, only those persons who became residents of Texas after October 1, 1967, may register at this time, and they must register by next October 5 in order to vote in the election on November 5. Registration for persons who became residents on or before October 1, 1967, closed last January 31.

for Sept. 20 in Hereford. TAP will be assisting the Deaf Smith County Crops and Conservation Committee that is sponsoring the all day event.

YES closed its summer activities with twice as many placements as recorded last year. Three hundred persons applied for work and 75 placed on jobs not in agriculture were specifically requested by employers for the YES program. Placements in farm work were 30.

Rape said 450 placements were made for people under 22 and that many of these placements were for the YES program, although not specifically designated as such.

Rape thanked businessmen, homeowners, the radio and newspaper for participating in the program. He is expecting an even better record for YES next summer as it goes into its third year in Hereford.

Sales of U. S. Savings Bonds and Freedom Shares in Texas for the first seven months were $106,830,122 — an increase of 8.9 percent over sales during the

NATURE'S SECRET OF BEEF TENDERNESS

Furr's PROTEN beef offers you the enjoyment of tenderness in every flavorful cut! The new found tenderness in Furr's Proten Beef is directly related to delicious tropical fruits, such as pineapple, papaya and figs. Nature's original tendering agents, already present in beef, are supplemented by pure food protein derivatives of some of these fruits. Minute quantities are used to create new tenderness never before possible. This process is so natural it assures full beef flavor and nutrition as well as added tenderness.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Wallace, State Conventions Are Big Topics At Capital

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association AUSTIN — Traditionally Austin has been the headquarters site for Texas campaigns of residential candidates. But George Wallace's official campaign headquarters (American Independent Party) now is located 49 miles to the south, in New Braunfels.

It was moved from the capital city to within 30 minutes' drive of the office of the party's state chairman, Bard Logan of San Antonio. This move is significant — especially to those 600,000 Texans who are expected to vote for Wallace in November. When the state executive committee of the American Party decided to replace Miss Jane Summer of Austin with Jack Zengler of New Braunfels; named Sam Rains of Austin as treasurer, replacing Mrs. Margaret Bacon of Austin; and removed Mrs. Jewell Lemons of San Antonio from the committee, charges of "Birch-ism" were hurled. Miss Summer ran for Congress on the Republican ticket in 1966 and Mrs. Bacon had served as secretary to Liberal Democrat Franklin Spears of San Antonio during Spears' 1966 bid for State Attorney General. "It's not the Birch people that are causing the trouble," Chairman Logan says. "It's the anti-Birch people. They were all looking for Birchers when they were getting signatures to get Wallace on the ballot. Now that the job has been done, they seem to want to fight."

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE IT STARTED IN TEXAS — In 1929, a Baylor University official trying to find a way to keep his medical school hospital from closing its doors during the Great Depression, came up with an idea that was to revolutionize health insurance. He was Dr. John Ford Kimball, executive vice president of Baylor and the man responsible for solving the financial problems of the college's Dallas hospital. Money was tight and many patients couldn't pay for hospital care. Believing that some kind of group insurance was the answer, Dr. Kimball offered a startling plan to Dallas teachers: If 75 percent of them would agree to pay $6 a year into a common fund, they would be furnished hospital services by Baylor for up to 21 days without any additional charge. The plan was an instant success. Later, a similar plan was started to help defray doctor bills. Today as Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Dr. Kimball's idea has grown into 77 independent plans providing hospitalization and medical insurance to millions all over the U. S.

STRANGE, BUT TRUE — Have you ever wondered why most larger towns in Texas are invariably spaced between 25 and 30 miles apart? This is about the maximum distance that a horseback rider or a wagon and team could travel in one day. Settlements sprang up along the well-traveled roads as a convenience to wayfarers.

INDIAN CAPITAL — Three Indian mounds in Cherokee County, last monuments to the Tejas tribe that gave Texas its name, also were the seat of government for one of the oldest civilizations in America.

Two of the mounds, all located five miles southwest of Alto on historic State Highway 21 (the King's Highway), are on private property. The other is on the land of a state-owned nursery. East Texas citizens are leading an effort to preserve the sites by creating an Indian Mound State Park.

Historically, Mount Prairie (as the site is known) is well worth saving. Here the Tejas Indians formed a confederacy, thus making it the capital of one of America's oldest governments. De Soto camped there in 1542, as did LaSalle in 1686. Spanish missions also were located there.

IT'S THE LAW — In Texas even the amount of alcohol consumed by the lowly bean is unlawful.

When Newell Kane opened a restaurant in Dallas featuring legumes laced with liquor, he decided to call the place "The Drunk Bean."

The Liquor Control Board, however, said no. It ruled that such a name "may be offensive to the public." So Kane, who still adds three quarts of beer to every pot of beans cooked, now calls the place "The... Bean."

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY — One of the first labor unions in Texas — that of the journeymen printers — also conducted the first organized strike. In 1838, Houston printers organized as the Texas Typographical Association and struck their employers that fall. They demanded — and got — a 25 percent increase in pay.

second term by the governor). *Constitutional change that would also give the governor power to remove and replace appointees to boards and commissions. *A requirement that state senate closed-door sessions on appointments by the governor be abolished. *Authority for the legislature to instruct courts as to how they will handle appeals from State administrative agency actions. *Provisions for county home rule and optional plans for consolidation of political subdivisions and functions within a county. *Appointment of Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals judges by the governor from a nominating commission slate of three. *Easier access to courts for taxpayers protesting assessments. Recommendations agreed on by the revision commission must go to the legislature next year. Legislature then can submit all or any part of the recommendations to the voters — or reject them entirely. Aside from its recommendations of minor controversial nature, commission has made a good-faith effort to tighten and streamline the constitution and chop out long-recognized dead wood. APPOINTMENTS — Governor Connally reappointed three members of the Pan American College Board of Regents to terms expiring in 1973. They are Lou Hassell of Houston, Leonel Garza of Brownsville, and McAllen Attorney Morris Atlas. Then the Governor named Dan Eddy of Dallas to the Good Neighbor Commission to serve out the term of the late Walter McBee of Dallas. Eddy, a Salvation Army official, has been credited with establishing the Salvation Army in Mexico, and served there previously as Army field representative. House Speaker Barnes named these committees: *To study election laws — Reps. Ronald Bridges of Corpus Christi, James D. Cole of Greenville, Russell Cummings of Houston, Rayford Price of Palestine and J. W. Stroud of Dallas. *To study recreational water safety — Reps. Ben Atwell of Dallas, J. D. Weldon of Port Arthur, Gerhardt A. Schulle of San Marcos, Bill T. Swanson of Houston and Leroy Wieting of Portland. *To assist in a study to determine the feasibility of creating a Texas stock exchange — Reps. David Finney of Fort Worth, Don Cavness of Austin and Dick McKissack of Dallas. — C. R. Baskin will be new acting chief engineer of the Texas Water Development Board, succeeding John J. Vandertulip, who is joining the International Boundary and Water Commission in El Paso as principal engineer. Texas Department of Mental Health-Mental Retardation has transferred Wichita Falls State Hospital Superintendent Dr. Willard Segerson to that post at Austin State Hospital. WILDLIFE PLANS — Parks and Wildlife Commission adopted $17.5 million operating budget for the next fiscal year. Commission will ask the 1969 Legislature to appropriate money to reopen the fish and water-exchange pass between Corpus Christi Bay and the Gulf across Mustang Island. Commission also set Texas Duck season for December 14-January 1. Daily bag limit was set at four and possession limit at eight. Goose season will be October 20-January 12, with daily bag and possession limit of five. Studies of the ecology of prairie chickens and ways to increase their population — perhaps enough to hunt them someday — have been authorized by the Commission for the year beginning Sept. 1. Open season was set for November 16-November 21 for deer in Devil's pocket unit, Angelina Management area. CITY WATER PRICES VARY — "Water Service in Texas Cities," new publication by the Texas Municipal League, indicates a wide spread in water prices throughout Texas. Lowest city rate is Uvalde's $2.50 per 10,000 gallons; highest is Terrell's $10.25. League said average water prices charged by 61 cities of populations between 10,000 and 25,000 is $6.00 per 10,000 gallons. TIDELANDS ARGUMENTS AGAIN — U. S. Supreme Court has granted Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin an Oct. 14 requested hearing on location of Texas shoreline or the point from which Texas measures its submerged land boundaries. Last December a decision granting Texas ownership of tide lands to 10.3 miles into Gulf of Mexico held that where shorelines have receded, Texas cannot claim the 1845 historic boundary (which would give Texas more acreage). Federal government also would deny Texas its 10.3-mile area where the shore has built out into the Gulf. At stake is about 36,000 acres. Since 1950 the undisputed acreage has yielded more than $100 million in oil-gas leasing for permanent school fund. SHORT SNORTS Texas Education agency estimates 123,855 professional educators will be needed to instruct 2,661,454 pupils who will be reporting to classes in September; and concludes that language improvement is the most important educational need to serve children from low income families. State Banking Commission rejected an application for new American Bank of Commerce, Harlingen. Attorney General Martin has been in Washington studying how Texas can administer its portion of more than $100 million appropriated by Congress for Crime fighting in 1968. In spite of increased income taxes and inflation, retail sales in Texas made a three per cent gain in July over June sales, reports UT's Bureau of Business Research.
