Hunter To Leave D. A. Post

Hometown Becomes Seasoned Courtroom Battler; Enters Private Practice

From a fledgling practicing attorney to a seasoned courtroom battler in eight busy years, which included work on more than 2,500 criminal cases.

That is one way to describe the career of William A. Hunter of Dalhart, who will be making his last appearance in the Deaf Smith County Court House this week as prosecuting attorney for the 69th District Court.

Better known as "Bill," Hunter was no stranger to this area when he began his duties as district attorney. He was born in Hereford and grew up on a farm in Castro County, attending school in Dimmitt.

Upon graduation from Dimmitt High School in 1952, Hunter entered West Texas State University. He received his bachelor's degree in 1956, and began law school at Tulane University. The LL.B. bachelor of law degree, was awarded Hunter in 1959.

Hunter's family had moved to Dalhart in 1955, while he was in school, and he settled in Dalhart after receiving his law degree and began practicing his profession.

Hunter was persuaded to enter the political race for the district attorney's post in 1960. He was victorious and went into office on Jan. 1, 1961. He was re-elected to the second four-year term in 1964.

According to Hunter, and others who work throughout the six counties making up the 69th District, there is no comparison to the office held by Hunter today and what it was eight years ago.

The primary difference, said Hunter, is that the volume of business in Deaf Smith County has more than tripled, while the other counties have shown sizeable increases.

Another big difference in the office today is that new procedures brought on by changes in the law involve more work and time for Hunter and the court in general.

Continuing, Hunter stated, "I have doubts that one man can handle the job in the immediate future." He discussed some possible solutions to the problem, sincerely seeking to help the next prosecuting attorney.

Of primary importance, pointed out Hunter, is the need for an investigator to work with the district attorney throughout the district. The investigator would be responsible for collecting sufficient evidence to get a person indicted for a crime and then convicted in court. At present, authorities in each county do much of the investigative type work which should be done by the district attorney's office, Hunter said.

He stressed that the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's office has worked closely with his office and "we've had a good record here because of their fine work. But they shouldn't have to do this."

Other alternatives for solving the problem are that the district have an assistant prosecuting attorney or the district be divided. "These are important, but priority is for the investigator," said Hunter.

Hunter has kept no records as such, but he estimated that he has worked on from 200 to 250 jury cases in the eight years. There also have been approximately 2,500 indictments returned by grand juries in the six counties. For various reasons, however, all of the indictments weren't heard in the court room.

During several of the years he has been district attorney, there have been more jury cases heard in the 69th District Court than other districts much larger, Hunter pointed out.

Now able to look back when he first began as district attorney, Hunter recalls that he was one of the youngest district attorneys in Texas at the time, a fact he didn't mention during the campaign, because his opponents would be able to use it to their advantage. Hunter is now 34.

During his two terms in office, Hunter has worked with two judges — Harry Schultz and Archie McDonald. He has been a member of the firm Fike, Hunter, and Schultz in Dalhart for some time, but has not had time to contribute much to the partnership.

Hunter stated that he "would not give anything for the experience of the past eight years." He had high praise for the people of Deaf Smith County, emphasizing that "the prosecuting attorney in this area has something going for him. You find good conscientious juries which are fair to the state and the defendant alike. They are the finest juries anywhere."

Judge McDonald and Court Reporter Ray Quilan, who work constantly with Hunter throughout the district, had nothing but praise for the prosecuting attorney, the praise not being confined to his actions in court, but outside as well. Judge McDonald especially lauded Hunter for working so diligently right up to the time he leaves office.

Quilan summed up the feelings of many when he stated, "They're going to miss Bill Hunter."

Hunter and his wife, Jeanette, have two daughters, Paula, 9, and Janet, 6.

In Criminal Appeals Court

Sentence Reversed

Joe Floyd Umsted, convicted and sentenced to nine years in the state penitentiary in connection with the Feb. 5, 1967 burning of the Butcher Boy Market in Hereford, has had his sentence and charge reversed by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals and will be retried.

"Pinocchio" To Be Presented Here Thursday

A Christmastime performance of a popular children's story, Pinocchio, will be presented here at 4 p. m. next Thursday by student actors from Alpha Psi Omega, the speech fraternity at West Texas State University.

Children of grade school and kindergarten age as well as those older, in junior high, are in the age group to especially enjoy this play. It has already been staged in Canyon and at the Amarillo Little Theater.

The appearance here is sponsored by Hereford Community Players, which is in charge of advance ticket sales. Tickets are priced at the low cost of 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults.

Tickets are on sale at Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce Office, Mrs. John Gilliland, president of the Community Players, announces.

The WTSU fraternity presents a children's production each year for the holiday season, to benefit its scholarship fund.

Also involved in the arson charge with Umsted were Edward Wesley Hartsfield, who received a ten-year probated sentence, and Floyd Lebow who received a five-year probated sentence. Lebow served as chief witness for the prosecution in both Umsted case and the Hartsfield case.

On the basis that the only testimony in the case against Umsted was that of Lebow, an accomplice, the high court ruled that the decision of the trial was not valid and was subject to reconsideration. The state penal code states that a person can not be convicted upon the testimony of an accomplice without additional evidence "tending to connect the defendant with the offense."

Testimony in the Hartsfield and Umsted cases by Lebow stated that the two men had arranged to pay him $200 to set fire to the local market. Hartsfield and Umsted, co-owners in two other Butcher Boy Markets in Amarillo, according to the testimony of Lebow, were losing money with the business here and decided to collect the insurance money from the burning of the building.

In the opinion of the Court of Criminal Appeals, it stated that the record of the case revealed no evidence "excluding that given by Lebow, that Umsted and Hartsfield were at any time, seen together or communicated with each other in any manner; or that Lebow needed money and afterwards had money or paid any bills about the time of the fire."

New Feed Lot Is Announced Here

Plans for construction of a large feed lot between the Black and Summerfield communities in Parmer County were revealed in a press conference Friday by stockholders of a new corporation — Cattle Town, Inc.

The feed lot, which will have a capacity of 20,000 to begin in, will be located 9 miles west of Hereford on a 230-acre site owned by the 13 stockholders from Deaf Smith and Parmer counties.

Officers of the corporation — Bobby Owens of Hereford, president; Bobby Veigel of Hereford, vice president, and James Higgins of Hereford, secretary — treasurer — explained that plans are to have the feed lot in operation for custom cattle feeding by June 1.

Other members of the corporation include Ellis Tatum, Tommy Tatum, Fern Barnett and Wesley Barnett, all of Parmer County, and Kenneth Christie, Chester Wiggains, A. R. Dillard, Walter London, Floyd Cole, Rocky Lee and the three officers, all from Deaf Smith County.

All of the stockholders are farmers and will produce 60 to 70 percent of the milk used in the cattle feed, it was pointed out.

Manager for the feed lot will be Hank Winter of Bakersfield, Calif. It is expected that from 20 to 25 persons will be employed there.

Constructing the mill at the feed lot will be Thompson — Gill of Madera, Calif., better known as Teco. Carl Gill, a member of the construction company, explained that the mill will be of the latest design, having the new weight belt continuous flow. It will be capable of producing from 50 to 60 tons of feed an hour.

Teco, it was announced, constructed the mill for the Holly Sugar feed lot (now known as Sugarland Feed Yards) and recently completed the weight belt continuous flow mill for Circle Feed Yards, first in this area.

Redi-Mix Concrete Co. of Muleshoe will construct the pens and bunkers for the feed lot, and the Parmer County Pump Co. began work Friday in putting down water wells on the site.

Investment by the 13 stockholders will be $1 million, they said. Over half of the stockholders are under 40 years of age.

Winter explained that he was born and raised in Bakersfield, Calif., and his family has been involved in the cattle business all of his life. He said he has been in management positions in feed lots for the past 10 years and felt there is no phase of the operation he hasn't worked at directly.

Officers of Cattle Town, Inc., in making their announcement, stated that "we are very happy to add to the economy of the area." They urged area residents to come by and look at the facilities as they develop.

Deadline Near For Project Christmas Card

Area residents have until Tuesday to assure that their name will be listed on the community greeting card sponsored by Hereford Medical Auxiliary, by making a contribution to the Auxiliary's annual Project Christmas Card.

Hereford residents are familiar with the project, which in the past decade has raised more than $20,000 to buy needed equipment for Deaf Smith County Hospital and to give scholarships to high school graduates for study of nursing.

The Auxiliary asks each resident to give the amount he would spend to send holiday greetings to local friends. To replace the cards, greetings are conveyed by the community greeting in the Christmas edition of the Hereford Brand, where names of all contributors are listed.

Mrs. Howard R. Johnson is president this year of the Auxiliary, which is made up of wives of Hereford physicians and dentists. Contributions to Project Christmas Card may be made to any member, placed in decorated and labeled canisters set up in business houses over the city, or deposited in accounts which have been opened in both banks here.

HHS Seniors Have Named Colleges

Post graduate plans of the 1968-69 Hereford High School seniors have been compiled by Robert Thompson and William Braddy, counselors. Their report shows that only 37 students here have not made plans to further their education.

Superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. pointed out that these plans are not binding on any of the seniors at this time, but it does present a strong view to the importance of future education and the choices of "halls of learning" by the students.

Green To Leave Local SCS Office

Wilton Green, who has been in charge of the local Soil Conservation Service office for the past 2 1/2 years, will leave Hereford this week to begin work for Gifford-Hill Western in Hugoton, Kan.

A native of Floydada, where he grew up and graduated from high school in 1954, Green completed his schooling at Texas Tech in 1958, and began work with the SCS in Muleshoe soon after.

He moved to Levelland in November, 1959, to Morton in November, 1960, and then to Bell City, near El Paso, in September, 1964. Green came to Hereford in May, 1966 from Dell City to be work unit conservationist.

In Hereford, Green has been a member of the Rotary Club, Masonic Lodge, and has worked on several agriculture committees for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce and Water Association. He has been active in the Methodist Church.

Green and his wife, Betty, have two children — Mark, 8, a student at Northwest Elementary School, and Dee Ann, 4. The family now lives at 219 Elm Street.

Murder With Malice

Partain Sentenced To Six Years In Hickman Shooting

By MARSHALL DAY Staff Writer

James Monroe Partain, charged in the 1967 shooting death of Jack Hickman, was convicted of murder with malice aforethought and sentenced to six years in the state penitentiary by a jury panel of one woman and 11 men Friday after a day-and-one-half testimony.

The shooting, which occurred Aug. 5, 1967 outside a local cafe on East Highway 60, resulted in the death of Hickman who was found with five .22 calibre bullet wounds in him. He was shot twice in the head, once in the chest, once in the side and once in the hip, with the second shot in the head considered to have been the fatal one.

Witnesses at the cafe at the time of the shooting testified at the trial that Partain had entered the cafe, went to the counter to get a cup of coffee then, before the coffee arrived, asked Hickman to go with him outside to help him start his pickup. Several persons heard that they thought to be shots, and said that moments after hearing the sounds, Partain returned to the cafe and told the waitress to call the police.

Bill Hunter, District Attorney for the state, began the trial Thursday by calling Bill Stephens to the stand. Stephens, who presently lives at Earth, but was a patrolman with the Hereford department at the time of the shooting, told the court that on the night of the shooting he had received a call about 11 p. m. which directed him to the Green Hedge Cafe. Upon his arrival, he testified, he started to enter the cafe when Partain, who was sitting outside the cafe, stopped him and told him he was the man and handed Stephens a .22 calibre pistol.

Stephens testified that the revolver, presented as State's exhibit one, was the same as the one handed him by Partain the night of the shooting. When questioned by defense attorney Andrew Shuval as to how he knew it to be the same weapon, Stephens showed markings he had etched on the butt of the gun at the time it was placed in the police evidence room. The cylinder, which the prosecution desired to be entered as exhibit two, but was rejected by the defense due to its having been removed from the pistol, contained nine .22 calibre bullets of which six had been discharged.

Dr. Ralph Zientek, Amarillo physician who examined Hickman's body the morning after the shooting, was called on by the prosecution to verify the cause of death, the number of bullet wounds and their points of entry into the body. Zientek examined the deceased's head directly above the right eye while the other head wound, behind the right ear, resulted in death. He said a-

Red Cross Asks Nigerian Aid

Mrs. Genevieve Miller, executive secretary of the American Red Cross in Deaf Smith County, issued a report on the Nigeria-Biafra Appeal and how the Red Cross is supporting it.

Mrs. Miller also reported that $200 of the $211.84 contributed by Stanton Junior High School students was earmarked for Nigeria-Biafra relief.

She said that a lack of funds now threatens the international relief effort for victims of the Nigerian civil war. The International Committee of the Red Cross, which is coordinating the huge assistance program, reports it lacks the means to pay the mounting cost of transporting the food and medical supplies. The tragic circumstances of a curtailment or suspension of the assistance program are magnified by government reports that famine conditions are spreading on both sides of the fighting lines.

How many have died from disease and starvation since fighting erupted in mid-1967 is now known by the Red Cross. But their estimates run into the hundreds of thousands. Currently, the ICRC is providing food and medical assistance to 800,000 in secessionist Biafra and 600,000 in territory under control of the Nigerian Federal Government.

This number, however, is but a quarter of the 4.5 million people in the ICRC believes will eventually be dependent upon the relief program for survival.

ICRC has appealed to the 111 Red Cross societies around the world for donations to meet the cost of chartering and leasing planes, boats, trucks, and other forms to transport supplies where they are needed. It estimates that $8-million will be required for this purpose between now and February.

When hostilities began in 1967, the Nigerian Red Cross began providing relief to the large number of victims, but the enormity of the task soon outstripped its resources.

Working with the Nigerian and Biafran Red Cross societies, the ICRC organized relief programs on both sides of the fighting lines. The workers have set up some 400 distribution centers in Biafra which feeds 650,000 women and children. They also provide supplies for a food center that cares for approximately 250,000 other children.

Motor Accident Report Made

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 11 accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of November, according to Sergeant W. E. Wells, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed, two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $7,195.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first eleven months of 1968 shows a total of 101 accidents resulting in one person killed, 41 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $74,518.

In order to help make this a happy holiday season the Patrol Supervisor lists some holiday driving rules:

1. Allow plenty of time for your travel.
2. Check your car, be sure it's in safe driving condition.
3. Use seat belts to safeguard your family and yourself.
4. Be alert to road, weather and traffic hazards.
5. Do not overdrive for the conditions.
6. Make courtesy your code of the road, it pays.

Investigation Is Continuing In Accident Friday

An accident at the intersection of U. S. 60 and Lawton Street Friday afternoon is still under investigation by Hereford Police.

Involved in the accident, which occurred at 3:05 p.m., was a 1959 Plymouth driven by Archie Dobbins of Kings Manor and a 1968 Chevrolet pickup driven by Noah Tyler of 108 Northwest Drive.

There was an estimated $100 damage to the car and $200 damage to the pickup. Preliminary investigation by officers revealed that Dobbins had stopped for a stop sign and proceeded into the intersection, and Tyler was going east on U.S. 60 when the accident occurred.

Of the 180,000 law books housed in the library of the New York County Lawyer's Association, only some 7,500 involve criminal law.

The Open Door Policy Hits Hereford

Drive by 615 South 25 Mile Avenue in Hereford these days. You'll find an open door. The sign on that door says "interstate financial house. That explains why the door's open.

Step inside and you'll get a warm welcome from Leon Richards, the manager. Ask him to explain this open door policy. He'll tell you what financial house is all about.

LEON RICHARDS, Manager, offers money for the things you want... with loans, financing and budgeting, all under one roof.

"We here at financial house open the door to money for the things people want... holiday gifts, entertaining, trips. Or we'll combine and pay off your bills. Leave you with one sensible monthly payment. We can even show you how to avoid money problems before they begin. Because we've put all these services under one roof, our company is known throughout the world as financial house."

They call Leon the Understanding Man... and understand he does. He's a family man, too, who understands your reasons for wanting a new car... or new bed room furniture, or a new refrigerator.

"To be an Understanding Man," Leon Richards says, "you also have to have the training and experience to help people the fastest, most sensible way."

Does it cost more to borrow from financial house? Quite the contrary, according to Leon. He points out that total financing costs are always competitive at financial house. "Because we concentrate on those who treat their credit well, we can offer the best possible terms."

As you drive away from financial house, you can't help thinking that here's a nice place to do business. Discover for yourself that you step up to better living when you step through the financial house door. Interstate financial house is open Saturday, 9 to 1, for your holiday money convenience at 615 South 25 Mile Avenue in Hereford. Or phone 364-4632.

Tuberculosis Area Meet Planned Here

An area meeting has been arranged for Hereford to include Top of Texas Tuberculosis Association representatives from 26 area counties, and two prior speaking engagements have been set by TOT executive director Charles McIntosh.

Dr. Clyde E. Rush and Mrs. Jewel Smith, both members of the association's board of directors, have been delegated to make arrangements for the area meeting, which is to be held in March. However, no definite date or location has been set.

McIntosh will speak on the tuberculosis problem Wednesday at Stanton Junior High School. On January 13, he is scheduled to speak to the Hereford Paisano Lions Club at 8 p. m. in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom.

Increased TOT activity has been centered upon Hereford, it was announced, because Deaf Smith County has had more positive cases of tuberculosis — now under treatment — than any of the area counties.

McIntosh also announced that the Texas State Department of Public Health has agreed to furnish Tine test units to Hereford for skin testing. And, a plan is under consideration by which x-rays of positive tuberculin reactors will be sent to McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital for interpretation by radiologists there.

Dr. John H. McCrary is slated to perform the skin testing here. McIntosh added that Dr. Albe Randall, head of the state's tuberculosis Control Division, is planning to be in the area in January to help formulate tuberculosis control plans.

Skit Given At Cultural Club Lunch

A skit by a group of high school students, The Night Before Christmas, was presented for Cultural Home Demonstration Club and guests at a holiday luncheon Friday in the home of Mrs. Ira Scott.

Actors in the skit were Allen Hardin, Jim O'Hair, Susan Rudd, Donald Benefield and Dean. Also on program were the Nativity story told by Mrs. D. C. Allmon and another Christmas story, The Red and the Green, by Mrs. J. D. Love.

A covered dish luncheon was served to members and guests, Mrs. Howard Houck of Delia, Kan., Mrs. M. W. Summers' mother; Mrs. John Myhre of Arlington, Va., the guest of Mrs. Paul Corbett; Mrs. Thurman Deas and the county H. D. Agent, Mrs. Tom Draper.

Other members present were Mmes. P. M. Houser, George Parker, Packard, Earl DeHart, Grady Parsons, J. G. Gandy, Louise Olson, and Roy Thompson.

Vietnam Xmas For Rickman

VIETNAM —Marine Lance Corporal Richard L. Rickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rickman Jr. of Route 3, Hereford, Tex., is celebrating Christmas in Vietnam this year as a member of the First Marine Division.

Since 1966, First Division Marines have been serving in Vietnam during the Christmas holidays. Their mission then was the same as it is now: train the South Vietnamese armed forces, conduct operations against the communist guerilla infrastructure and help the people of South Vietnam build a strong, democratic nation.

While Americans are giving thanks for the blessings of the ebbing year, more than 25,000 men of the First Marine Division will be standing guard, conducting patrols and engaging the enemy, bringing the people of South Vietnam one step closer to realizing the true meaning of Christ's birth: "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Fire Rating System Good

Texas' Fire Record Credit and Debit System will probably come in for some overhauling in the near future. Hearings are now being held over the state concerning this rating system.

Actually, Texas is unique in its fire rating system. If we understand the system right, there is one basic rate that applies to every city and town in the state. Beginning with this rate, an evaluation is made of the local fire department, the water system in each city, fire alarm systems, structural conditions within the city, etc. with points being given for each of these items. From this point system is determined what class a city will be in. A city may have one of the best fire departments in the state however, and without proper water system within the city or perhaps highly hazardous building conditions, the city will not rate in the No. 1 class. In other words, each item is classified and the fire department may be in Class 1, but the total fire insurance class of the city may be 2, 3, or even poorer because of greater deficiency charges against items in the grading schedule. Most fire departments and cities agree that this method of determining the 'Key Rate' for a city is fine. However, there is more to it than this.

Cities who have an excellent fire loss record may find that they receive from 5 to 25 per cent credit on their fire insurance rate due to the good record, while cities which have had tremendous losses throughout the years find that they are penalized on the same ratio due to the heavy losses.

And here's where the rub comes. Some of the larger cities in Texas have requested that this credit and debit system be dropped from the fire insurance rating system. They feel that they should not be penalized due to the heavy losses in their area, while the smaller town and cities, like Hereford, who have a fine record feel that the credit and debit system is great. And we'll have to agree.

Hereford has one of the finest volunteer fire departments in the state, and probably rate in efficiency far above most of the paid departments in the state. One reason for the efficiency of the department is the pride that the men take in keeping the insurance rate on the credit side rather than in the debit columns. Hereford now receives 10 per cent fire record credit on the insurance rate.

The actual savings in dollars and cents to the citizens of Hereford is not astronomical (probably less than $10,000) but the fact remains that our department is more efficient because of the effort being made to keep the insurance premiums down. The local volunteers train regularly and the spirit of competition among the volunteer fire departments throughout the state is tremendous — each department wanting to be the best.

We like the system like it is and although we believe the overall rating may need some revision, we believe that the fire loss credit and debit system should remain "as is."

'World's Meanest Mother'

She recalled the painful years when she was growing up.

"I had the meanest mother in the whole world," this anonymous person wrote. "While other kids ate candy for breakfast, I had to have cereal, eggs and toast. When others had Coke and candy for lunch, I had to eat a sandwich. As you can guess, my dinner was different from other kids."

"My mother insisted on knowing where we were at all times. You'd think we were on a chain gang. She had to know who our friends were and what we were doing. She insisted that if we said we'd be gone for an hour, that we would be gone one hour or less."

"I am ashamed to admit it, but she actually had the nerve to break the child labor law. She made us work! We had to wash all the dishes, make beds, learn to cook and all sorts of cruel things. I believe she lay awake nights thinking up mean things to do to us."

"She always insisted on us telling the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth: By the time we were teenagers she was much wiser and our life became even worse."

"None of this tooting the horn of a car for us to come running. She embarrassed us no end by making our dates and friends come to the door to get us. I forgot to mention, while my friends were dating at the mature age of 12 and 13, my old-fashioned mother refused to let me date until I was 15 and 16."

"My mother was a complete failure as a mother. None of us has even been arrested, or beaten a mate. Each of my brothers served his time in the service of his country. And whom do we have to blame for this terrible way we turned out? You're right, our mean mother."

"Look at all the things we missed. We never got to take part in a riot, burn draft cards, and a million and one things that our friends did. She made us grow up into God-fearing, educated, honest adults."

"Using this as a background, I am trying to raise my children. I stand a little taller and I am filled with pride when my children call me mean. You see, I thank God He gave me the meanest mother in the whole world."

From this, I would say the country doesn't need a 5-cent cigar; it needs more 'mean' mothers... and Dads.

Powerless?

"IS THE STATE without power to regulate the use of its streets?" Such was the question posed rhetorically by Associate Justice Hugo Black while the Supreme Court was grappling with the complex issues of freedom of speech, right of assembly and maintenance of order.

Justice Black's question grew out of a case appealed to the high court by Dick Gregory, Negro comedian. In the summer of 1965 he led 65 or 70 people to picket the home of Mayor Richard Daley. They wanted the superintendent of schools fired.

A crowd gathered, and the picketing protesters soon were outnumbered 10 to 1 by those hostile to the demonstration. Rocks and eggs flew, but Gregory and 39 others refused to take the advice of police and go home. Eventually they succeeded in getting arrested for disorderly conduct. Most were fined and convicted, and subsequent appeals got the matter to the Supreme Court. Round One ended in a draw this week, when the high court only took the case under advisement.

The court is badly split on the question of whether authors of the Constitution meant 'freedom of expression' when they wrote 'freedom of speech.'

Justice Black says they didn't. He maintains that the right to think, speak and write without interference from government does not carry with it a companion right to trespass in the process.

The other side holds that picketing and demonstrating are forms of speech because they are employed to communicate ideas. Gregory, by this definition, had the right to keep Mayor Da-

Nixon To Solicit Citizen Help With Community Woes

By BERT MILLS

Washington, D. C. — Voluntary activities by citizens to solve community problems will be encouraged as never before during the Administration of Richard M. Nixon.

The President-elect has a task force studying the subject but he is already committed to establishment of a computerized data bank — "a national clearinghouse for information on voluntary activities, on what's been tried, what the difficulties have been and what the solutions are."

Nixon said during the camaign that for almost every community problem, solutions have been found somewhere. Examples he cited are rehabilitation of slums, jobs for the unemployed, beautification of both urban and rural areas, pollution control, and even channeling of student activism into productive service.

The trouble has been that few are aware of these local success stories, and there has been no ready access to the blueprints. The clearinghouse will be established to remedy that lack. It will tell any group where to seek more information and where experts can be found. Nixon's theory is that there are millions of Americans willing to volunteer their services in the public good, if they only know what to do and how.

Wants U. S. to Lead, Not Push

The Nixon plan calls for the Federal government "to winnow out its own programs, and determine those for which primary reliance can be placed on voluntary efforts. He wants Uncle Sam to "lead, not push; encourage, not coerce."

The President-to-be has complained that Washington has tried to run everything, subordinating voluntary efforts to Federal planning, and eroding initiative. He said: "We cannot afford to let volunteers become mere foot-soldiers in a battle directed from Washington."

Who are these prospective volunteers? Well, there are more than 1 million independent, voluntary, and almost everybody belongs to one or more. For example, there are 320,000 churches, with more than 100 million members. Fraternal and service organizations boast a total membership of 36 million.

A Gallup poll showed an even greater potential — 61 million Americans willing to contribute an average of four hours per week to voluntary activities. If that force could be marshalled, it would be more than double all the work done by all the civilian employees of the Federal government.

85 percent Placed in Detroit Nixon told the nation in a radio speech last October about a young Negro school teacher in Detroit, Mrs. Carole Williams. She was shocked to learn that only 10 percent of the graduates of Detroit ghetto high schools were finding jobs or going on to college.

Mrs. Williams decided to act. She founded Volunteer Placement Corps and within a year had nearly 500 volunteers helping her. Of 2,000 graduates reached by this program, jobs or college scholarships were found for 85 percent, and 500 are enrolled in college.

The moral drawn by Nixon is that impersonal bureaucracy is no substitute for personal concern. He plans to give those who care their head, and to make government programs a last resort and to rely as much as possible on voluntary efforts at the grass roots.

THE BOOTLEG

—Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his blindweed farm takes a look this week at the airplane hijacking business.

Dear editor:

I've forgotten where I found it, what the name of the paper was or what date it was, but it doesn't matter, any newspaper you pick up nowadays will have the same story in it: Another Plane Hijacked To Cuba.

At last count the number was up to 30 or 40, or somewhere along there, I leave details to others, and while I may have missed some, I haven't read a single report on anything being done to the men who do the hijacking. It's the safest crime on earth today, outside maybe wrecking a college president's office. They just come on board with the rest of the passengers who think they're headed for Miami or Dallas or New York, wait till the plane is airborne, pull a gun on the crew, and direct it to Cuba, where they get off and the passengers eventually get to return.

The airlines say they don't know what to do about this, the same as college presidents; they can't afford to insult all their passengers by searching them before they come aboard, but I have a notion, although I'm not planning on being a passenger — by the time I get from this blindweed farm to Hereford I've had all the traveling I want and all the risks I want to run — that I'd rather be searched than flown to Cuba.

At any rate, I've been thinking about this hijacking business and it just occurred to me: what if these hijackers got organized? What if 1000 of them boarded 1000 planes the same day, forced them to fly to Cuba, and kept them?

If each plane had 100 passengers, that'd be 100,000 Americans stranded in Cuba. Keep it up every day for a few months, especially after planes start carrying 500 instead of 100, and you can see it wouldn't be long before the United States not only didn't have any planes left but very few citizens.

I'd be opposed to this. It takes all the people we've got now to keep up with the tax load, even when they let us do it on the installment plan.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

As student demonstrators have continually broken down walls of the status quo, they have been brought under attack by critics who prefer order over disruption. The criticism has been enacted in ways direct or indirect, mercenary or sympathetic.

As likely as not, those persons involved in demonstrations will be college students, or at least members of minority groups. The generation before may wonder why young people would take to the streets in protest, when they should be taking advantage of their college education, i. e., not knocking the system that has given them the opportunity to go to school on Dad's hard earned money. The thesis of critics evidently is that there is really nothing for students to be protesting about.

The spirit of the United States Constitution allows a free discussion of ideas as a guarantee to the right of self-government. It is embodied in the first amendment which includes the freedom of speech. The issue is always alive, and bound never to be settled. A case considering the rights of demonstrators is currently under study of the Supreme Court.

Freedom of speech, as a fundamental of self-government, is hardly to be toyed with, to be discarded when it makes someone uncomfortable. It was not intended to be subservient to order, lest a cornerstone of democracy be eroded.

Granted, freedom of speech presents interruptions in some instances. What some people forget, however, is that just because the press plays up an event doesn't mean that the event has an equal significance. As a student on a campus where demonstration, boycott, and interruption is popular, I can vouch that interruptions in the form of pep rallies beneath library windows, student politicians yelling just outside the classrooms, forms of speech never criticized do more day to day interrupting of the educational process than any serious political movement has ever done.

Where demonstrators have physically taken over buildings, to the extent that the educational process is brought to a standstill, other questions may be involved. But students, including the SDS variety, seldom take over, seldom get control, and seldom can be construed to be "interrupting."

More important than a person's acquiescing silence, would be his expressed ideas. Allowing a person the right to express an idea, just as long as he doesn't criticize the existing status quo, would make freedom of speech an empty right. Whether or not a person agrees with an idea is beside the point; at least he will be able to hear it.

If people don't have the guts to use their rights effectively, they cannot implement self-government. The factory worker, the Negro, have entered the mainstream of citizenship because people insisted on self-government.

Maxwell House Announces Freeze-Dried Coffee

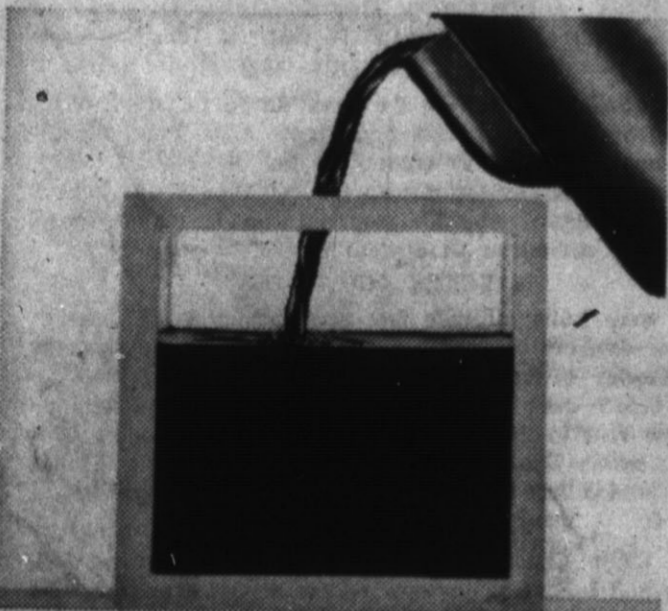

Now, an entirely new process called freeze-drying actually makes it possible for you to brew real percolated coffee...without a percolator!

Maxim® is an entirely new form of coffee.

Maxim is crystals of real percolated coffee. Concentrated crystals with the power to turn every cup in your house into a percolator!

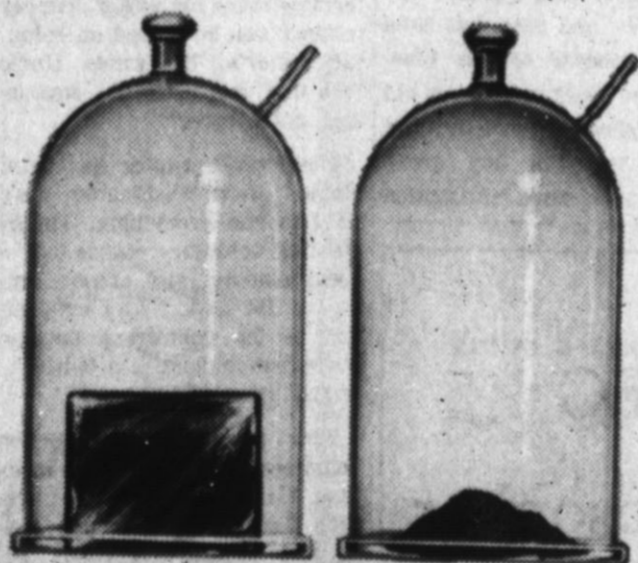

Maxim is an amazing breakthrough in coffee-making. It is entirely different from any instant coffee. It is entirely different from any ground coffee. Maxim is, in fact, concentrated crystals of real percolated coffee.

Maxim's secret—freeze-drying—is the result of years of coffee research at Maxwell House. A way has been discovered to transform actual pot-brewed coffee into concentrated crystals. Here's how it is done.

Freshly percolated coffee is poured into freezing containers.

Maxim begins with pots and pots of dark, strong, percolated coffee. This freshly brewed coffee is poured into special freezing containers. Here it is flash-frozen at the peak of perfection, when coffee flavor and aroma are at their break-fast-time best.

Vacuum chamber turns block of frozen coffee into crystals.

After the coffee has been frozen, the ice is drawn off—not by heat which destroys flavor—but by an amazing new vacuum process. It spirits the ice away without losing any of the honest flavor and body of freshly-percolated coffee.

Freeze-Dried crystals that need no refrigeration!

This "ice removal" leaves concentrated crystals of real percolated coffee. And that's exactly what Maxim freeze-dried coffee is—fresh-brewed coffee without the water. These waterless crystals stay fresh until you're ready to use them. They need absolutely no refrigeration and can be kept right in your kitchen cupboard.

Different from any other form of coffee.

You can tell at once that Maxim is unlike any other coffee you have ever used. Take a spoonful, and you see golden brown crystals that actually sparkle. Smell them, and you smell the rich, roasted aroma of freshly percolated coffee.

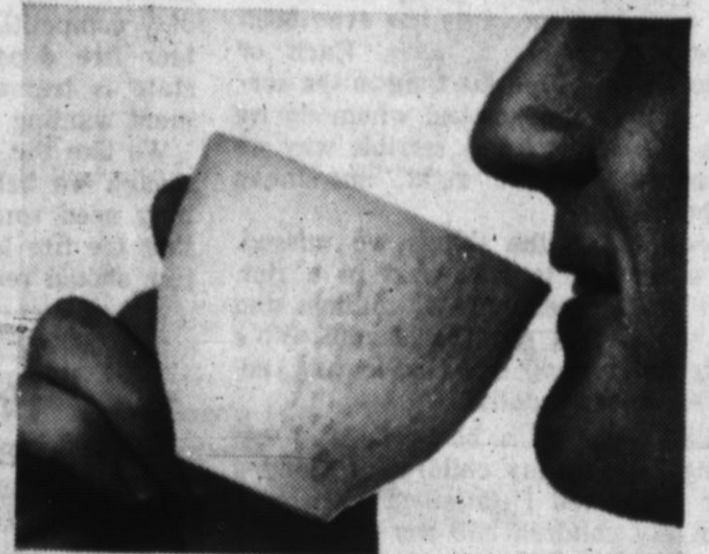

Turns your cup into a percolator!

The real miracle happens in your cup. The moment you add hot water—Maxim's concentrated crystals explode into real percolated coffee. Maxim actually turns every cup in your house into a percolator! No pots. No grounds. No instant taste!

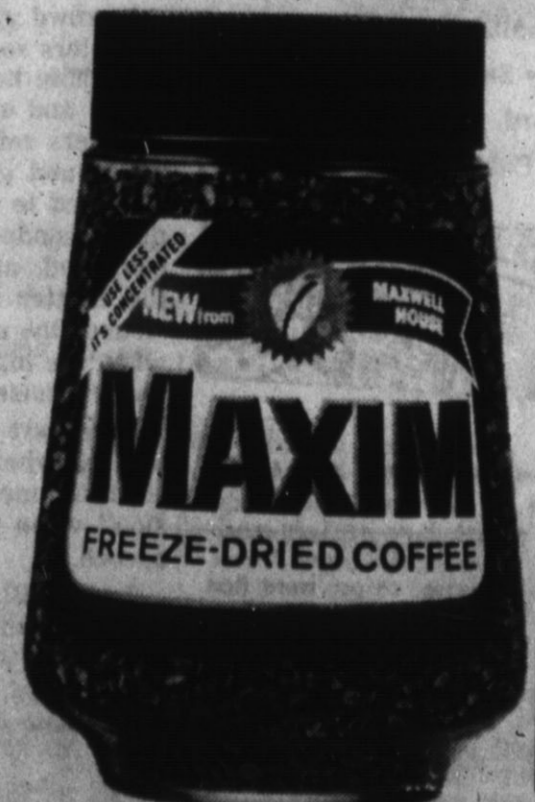

Important—you need less per cup!

Because Maxim's crystals are concentrated, you use less per cup than you do with any other form of coffee. For each cup, just use a level teaspoon (more or less to taste). You'll find it's surprisingly thrifty to use Maxim!

Discover Maxim—America's first Freeze-Dried coffee.

Get Maxim soon. Try it and see if you can detect a difference between Maxim and the good coffee you've been brewing in your percolator! You'll get the surprise of your coffee-loving life! Discover Maxim—America's first Freeze-Dried coffee—new from Maxwell House.

One 4-oz. jar of Maxim makes as many cups as one pound of ground coffee.

nother bullet was found in the chest above the right breast and another in the back side of the right rib cage. A fifth bullet was found lodged in the hip.

Hunter then called Evelyn Trotter, who was with Hickman the night of the shooting, to the stand. Mrs. Trotter testified that she had, on occasion, dated Partain and sometime around the latter part of February of 1967, when they had come to a disagreement, he had threatened to kill her and anyone he caught her with. She also said that he told her if he ever caught her out with another man, he was going to "splatter her red hair all over the street."

Mrs. Trotter told the court that on the night of the shooting, she and Hickman had gone to the cafe when Partain came in afterwards, went to the counter and ordered a cup of coffee, then, acting very nervous, got up and ask Hickman to help him start his pickup. She said that just moments after Hickman had gone out the door, she heard a shot then a jar against the side of the building, then several more shots.

Following the shots, Mrs. Trotter explained, Partain came back to the front of the cafe, passed the door, then returned and told the waitress "Rose, call the law, I got him." He then turned and went back outside, she said.

Rose Carlton, waitress at the Green Hedge Cafe for a number of years, was called as the next witness by the prosecution.

Mrs. Carlton testified that she had noticed Partain enter the cafe, but she was very busy that night and had paid little attention to him or his actions. She said that she had heard him ask Hickman to help him start his pickup and when they had gone outside she heard several shots. She immediately locked the cafe door and just moments later, Partain came to the door and told her to "Call the police," which she did.

Dean Allen, who was eating dinner at the cafe with his family at the time of the shooting, was called as the prosecution's next witness. Allen told the court that Partain, when he entered the cafe, had attracted his attention by his continuous movement and nervousness while at the counter.

"I heard three or four 'popping' sounds after Hickman went outside with Partain," Allen testified, "but I could not tell exactly what they were and just passed them off as something besides shots."

Partain, who had spent most of the evening of the shooting at a service station adjoining the cafe, had supposedly went to the cafe to get Archie Webb, the service station attendant, a cup of coffee. Webb, the state's next witness, claimed that he had noticed nothing out of the ordinary about Partain's action's during the time he was at the station that evening. He said that Partain had offered to go get him a cup of coffee as he was too busy to do it himself. Webb testified that Partain was gone a considerable length of time and when he returned he (Partain) told him to call the police, that he had shot a man.

On behalf of his own defense, Partain took the witness stand following the testimony of Webb.

Partain told the court that he had known Hickman some 30 years and during that time Hickman had threatened him on one occasion with a gun. He then said that he had not seen Hickman but five or six times since that incident and nothing else had been mentioned about it.

On the night of the shooting, Partain said that he had been having difficulty with the transmission in his pickup and when he saw Hickman in the cafe he had asked him to help him get it started. He testified that while they were walking to the pickup, Hickman had said "I have told you about messing around like this," and had stuck his hand in his pocket as if to extract something.

Partain, stating that he then thought Hickman was about to do him harm, dived between his pickup and parked car, reached into the bed of the pickup, grabbed a gun he had hidden there, and came up shooting. When questioned as to why he had a gun in the bed of his pickup, Partain stated that, on an earlier date, someone had stolen some money from his house and he had decided to hide in the back of the pickup with the gun and catch them if they came back. He said no one returned so he left the gun there, in the bed of the vehicle.

Following Partain's testimony, Don Bush, captain of the Hereford police department, was entered as the last witness in the case. Bush entered testimony as to the position of Hickman's body when he arrived to investigate, which did not coincide with the testimony given by Partain.

The defense's only other witness in the case was Mrs. Carl Forbus, owner of the Green Hedge Cafe.

Offset Opens Plant In Dallas

Officers of Southwest Offset, Inc., a Hereford-based corporation, have announced beginning of operations at a branch office in Dallas.

Jimmie Gillentine of Hereford, president of the corporation, said the Dallas plant had opened recently in the Baptist Standard Building in downtown Dallas and printing of the Baptist Standard begun. The publication has one of the largest circulations in Texas, sending out some 371,000 copies each week.

Southwest Offset, Inc., which began operations with the Hereford plant in 1961, also has a branch plant at 106 South Taylor in Amarillo.

About 40 Panhandle newspapers, high school newspapers, books, programs and other such publications as the Farm Bureau tabloid Texas Agriculture and Texas Power, the rural electric publication, are printed by the corporation. Texas Power also has one of the highest circulations in the state.

From 10 to 12 persons are employed in each of the three plants. Jack Allmon, who had been manager of the Hereford plant since it began, is now in charge of the Dallas plant. Bill McKinney has taken over as manager here, while Lee Bural is plant manager in Amarillo.

Officers of Southwest Offset, Inc. include Gillentine, president; O. L. Taylor of Fort Worth and Littlefield, vice president, and Dick Reavis of Dallas, secretary. It is expected that the company will gross approximately $1 million next year.

Twelfth Annual Holiday Dinner Given By Class

For the twelfth year, the Open Door Class of First United Methodist Church had its Christmas party in the home of the teacher, Mrs. Charles Bell, Friday evening. A covered dish dinner with a menu featuring turkey was served to approximately 30 persons.

Mrs. Fred Mulkey headed the hostess committee. The evening was spent in informal conversation and the toys will now be given to needy children in the Hereford area.

The boys had been repairing and painting the toys, which they brought from home, at the last several meetings. The presentation was made in Mrs. Smith's office in the court house and the toys will now be given to needy children in the Hereford area.

The boys making the presentation were Joe Don Ray, Terri Dedyne, John Warren, Chis Paetzold, Tommy Clark, Gary Gallagher, Greg Hacker, Benny Moore and Doug Reinart.

After the presentation of the toys, the boys enjoyed a Christmas party in the home of their den mother, Mrs. Jim Clarke. Refreshments were served, and charades and a balloon game were played.

Each cub scout gave his mother a Christmas gift and Mrs. Clarke presented each boy with a flashlight as his present.

The hostesses for the party were Mrs. Martin Reed Moore and Mrs. Bill Paetzold.

Mothers present were Mmes. John Warren, Morris Hacker, David Beavers, Perry Ray, Doyle Turner, A. H. Reinart and Jim Clarke.

Local C Of C One Of Nation's Best

How does the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce compare to others in the same population category across the nation? Very well, indeed.

According to the "1968 Survey of Local Chambers of Commerce" from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, the local Chamber is far above average in most categories. Figures in the report are based on 1966, and cities ranging in population from 10,000 to 15,000.

Under total income, the average of the top 10 was $36,977, the average of all chambers reporting was $24,698 and the local Chamber had an income of $44,381.39. Average for the top 10 on membership income was $28,508, the average for all those reporting was $16,126, and the membership income for the chamber here was $28,925.67.

The number of member accounts averaged 367 for the top 10 chambers, 237 for all chambers reporting and was 376 for the local chamber. There are now 407 member accounts in the local chamber.

The number of members averaged 400 for the top 10 chambers over the nation, averaged 300 in all chambers reporting, and the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce had 496 members. There are now over 500.

The report also shows that of all reporting chambers, an average of 51.6 percent of the money spent was for administration, 23.3 percent was spent for operation of the chamber, and 25.2 percent went for projects. The local chamber spent 46 percent for administration, 19 percent for operation and 35 percent for projects.

Total income from special projects averaged $4,865 to the chambers reporting, while the local chamber took in $3,794.18 for special projects. Income from tax-government sources averaged $4,796 to all the chambers reporting, and the local chamber received no income from such sources. Under other income, the average for all chambers was $2,595, while the local chamber totaled $11,661.54.

COMMITTEE ACTIVITIES
The Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce had 20 committees in 1966, while the average number for all chambers reporting was 16. The top 10 chambers averaged 67.4 percent of membership on committees, the average for all chambers reporting was 35.7 percent and the local chamber had 20 percent of membership on committees.

A total of 84 percent attendance at meetings was recorded by the top 10 chambers, 67.4 percent by all chambers reporting and 75 percent attendance by the local chamber.

The average number of business firms reported in cities by the chambers was 195, while

Deaf Smith County had 306. Of that number the average percent of membership was 82 for all chambers reporting, and also 82 for the local chamber. The number of firms represented by committee membership was 97 percent for all chambers reporting and 83 percent by the local chamber.

Plans Continue For Dam To Be Constructed In Camporee Area

More plans for the Tierra Blanca Boy Scout Camporee area in Veterans Park were made during a special meeting of the Conservation Committee of the Deaf Smith County Water Association Friday morning.

The meeting had been called by Chairman Andrew Kershen to gather all information on projects which Wilton Green of the Soil Conservation Service had been working on. Green will be moving to Hugoton, Kan., this week. (See separate story in this issue.)

Green reported that he had received a visit from a Soil Conservation Service engineer recently and had taken him over the 18.9 acres now owned by the Boy Scouts of Hereford. The acreage was donated to the scouts by the local Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion in late June.

The engineer, said Green, had several ideas on the dam which the committee plans to build along Tierra Blanca Creek, on the southwest corner of the property.

Kershen reported that several companies have offered to donate supplies and labor for construction of the dam, and are only waiting on the committee. Help also will come from Deaf Smith County Commissioners.

Plans call for the dam to be constructed in early February, at a time when the creek is usually at a low water level. Kershen said the dam could be completed in one day and two at the most, with all the help that has been offered.

The dam, which will provide good clean water for the scout's camping grounds, also is expected to become a "good fishing hole" for the scouts, said Kershen. It is hoped that the dam will be designed so that the fresh water continues to flow on down the creek.

The dam will be built so that vehicles cannot go across it. City Manager Dudley Bayne reported to the committee, that the City of Hereford will be setting up faucets for the scouts at the site.

A. J. "Doc" Bezner has told committee members he will plant Bermuda grass on the scout grounds, and Green pointed out that there already are several varieties of native grasses which will be beneficial if they can be kept.

Kershen said committee members hope that when there is a big rain, the bottom land in the scout grounds will be flooded. In that way, there will be little or no irrigating of the grasses.

RETENTION DAMS
Kershen also reported that some 20 persons are interested putting in small retention dams along the Tierra Blanca Creek for conservation purposes.

Persons putting up such dams, said Kershen, would pump water only when it is going over the dams. "In this way, a man could save his own water and not be hurting the supply going into Buffalo Lake either," he pointed out. Such dams also would keep water in the channel, make for good fishing conditions and some of the water would seep into the underground supply and be returned through wells, he added.

Work will continue on the project, Kershen said.

BACKED-UP SEWERS

Backed-up sewers - resulting in flooded basements - can leave infectious germs on basement walls and flooring, in addition to the always-present danger from electricity in the floodwater. Reduce the hazards of germs to your family by washing the basement with a solution containing hot water, a strong detergent and disinfectant. Also, destroy food or food containers exposed to contamination, including fresh fruits and vegetables, foods in cardboard containers, bags, screw top containers and bottles, and meats. Canned food in sealed containers may be salvaged if they are thoroughly washed and disinfected.

ly awake all night tramping around his house.
Caught in the middle are the police, who are assigned the task of maintaining order. In their judgment, Gregory's promenade amounted to a gang fight just waiting to happen. They implored him to call it off before blood was spilled.
The advice apparently was sound, because Gregory's subsequent conviction bore out the police's judgment that he was disturbing the peace by refusing to leave.
Gregory's lawyer maintains that one responsibility of the police was to protect the protesters from the gathered crowd. Nobody seems to argue with that point. The police believed that Gregory could best be protected from possible harm if he beat a prompt retreat. When he balked, it amounted to refusing the best kind of protection, in the opinion of those charged with providing it.
The fact that Gregory & Co. later were pelted with eggs and rocks is employed as evidence that the police somehow failed. By this same line of reasoning, if the horse won't drink, it is the fault of the man who led him to water.
This reasoning doesn't wash with those who believe the state should have the power to maintain order — in the streets and elsewhere. Along with chaos, another alternative would be complete lack of personal safety. — The Dallas Morning News

CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS MUSIC will resound in joyful notes in Hereford High School auditorium Thursday evening, when school choirs and Whiteface Band present their annual holiday concert in a joint program beginning at 7 p.m. The public is invited. Ben Gollehon is director of the band; the choral music will be presented under the baton of Bill Devers. Choir and band members will be in full dress for the performance.

GAY SELECTIONS will be alternated with traditional and modern carols in the evening of music. The Mixed Choir will offer songs as varied as Silent Night and Calypso Noel, including the folk carol, Do You Hear What I Hear?; O Come All Ye Faithful, and lively English songs, God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen and We Wish You a Merry Christmas. The Girls Choir will sing popular numbers, Winter Wonderland, White Christmas, Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer and Ring Those Christmas Bells.

REHEARSAL SCENE for the mixed choir shows Director Bill Devers and a section of the singers intent on mastering a difficult phrase in one of the carols.

NEW CHOIR DRESSES for the girls, in royal blue and white, are modeled by a trio of members posing in front of a line of boys wearing their white uniform jackets.

Lynda Kuper Is Bride Of Nicholas Milburn

Miss Lynda Katherine Kuper and Nicholas Lee Milburn exchanged marriage vows in a late afternoon ceremony Saturday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church. The nuptial mass was conducted by the Rev. Lawrence P. Lange of Owasso, Okla., a cousin of the bridegroom, and the Rev. John Van der Kulk.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuper of Summerfield and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Milburn of 138 Avenue B. The bride's parents gave her in marriage in the double ring ceremony.

Red poinsettias were on the main altar, before which was an archway of greenery at the top of the steps. Side altars were decorated with gladioli arrangements.

Her sister, Mrs. Allen Evers, attended Miss Kuper as matron of honor and Jack Rogers acted as Mr. Milburn's best man. Other bridal attendants were the bride's cousin, Mrs. David Davis of Amarillo; her sister-in-law, Mrs. Marvin Kuper of Summerfield, and Mrs. Jack Rogers.

Johnny and Marvin Kuper, her brothers, and Allen Evers were groomsmen. Two cousins, Roy and Richard Kuper, Donnie Skelton and Rommie Nunley showed guests to their seats.

Young members of the wedding were Sandra Evers as flower girl and Debra Rogers, ring bearer. The bride's cousin,

Gifts Exchanged At West H.D. Club's Party

Exchange of gifts was the feature of West Hereford Home Demonstration Club's Christmas party Tuesday afternoon in the home of Miss Mary Brady.

Mrs. John Jacobsen Sr. read a Bible passage and gave the prayer to begin the program. Mrs. Ulys Pierce played piano selections and Mrs. Blanche Hardin recited a poem in Christmas theme.

Refreshments were served to them and to Miss Evelyn Bell, Misses Wes Brady, Robert Boyd N. D. Hood, Belle Grimes, Carl Schroeder, Doc Roberson, W.H. Awtrey, and the County H. D. Agent, Argen Draper.

Joe Ralph Kuper, and Wayne Schilling of Friona served as altar boys.

Wedding music was by Larry Kuper, brother of the bride, and Randy Martin, vocal soloists, and Mrs. Jim Cramer, who played organ accompaniments and the traditional marches by Rossini. Solos included The Lord's Prayer, sung by Martin, and Ave Maria, by Kuper. Other selections were O Promise Me, Beautiful Isle, and Mother at Your Feet.

The bride's gown was of snowdrift peau de soie, the fitted bodice with circle neckline and long sleeves, the skirt with slight fullness held by unpressed pleats. Lace motifs re-embroidered with aurora borealis sequins and seed pearls were appliqued across the bodice front and repeated above the skirt hem. Similar re-embroidery traced petals of the lace which edged each of four tiers of nylon organza forming the wide circular train. It was attached at mid-back with a butterfly bow and long streamers of satin.

A bouffant illusion veil floated over her shoulders from a headpiece of lace petals ornamented with teardrop pearls. She wore a locket which her mother had worn as a bride, and tiny pearl earrings, the bridegroom's gift. Her bouquet was a white cymbidium orchid surrounded with white carnations.

Aquamarine peau de soie made the attendants' dresses, styled on princess lines with belts of darker brocade at the waistline in back, raised to empire height with a center-front point marked by small roses of the aquamarine fabric. Bows and streamers of the brocade were fastened at center back.

Large double bows, using the two fabrics of the dresses, were their headpieces. They wore single strands of pearls, gifts of the bride, and each carried a white poinsettia with white ribbon streamers.

The couple and their parents greeted guests after the wedding service at a reception in St. Anthony's Hall. Mrs. Grover Fleming, the bride's sister, and Miss Evelyn Kuper, her cousin, were at the registry table.

Mrs. Walter Kuper, and Mrs. Edward Schilling of Friona served punch and Mrs. A. C. Stengel of Friona the wedding cake, at opposite ends of the bride's table which was centered with silver candelabra holding white tapers, the bridal bouquet laid at the base.

White net edged with lace overlaid satin on that table, and the groom's table was covered with leaf green satin. Red tapers burned in candelabra twined with red carnations and ivy. As the couple left on a wedding trip to the Gulf coast, Mrs. Milburn was wearing a tweed suit in sandalwood color with brown accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. After the trip they will be at home at 508-B Avenue G.

The bride was graduated in 1967 from the Dallas Fashion Merchandising College, after completing high school studies in Hereford the previous year. The bridegroom, a 1965 graduate of Hereford High School attended West Texas State University. He is employed at Milburn Motor Company.

Mr. Inman greeted callers at the door and the receiving line included the bride; her mother, Mrs. Charles Stayton; her grandmother, Mrs. L. F. Stayton; her husband's mother, Mrs. Elmer Carlson, and his grandmother, Mrs. Glenn Hetzler.

Misses Sally Ann Scott and Ellen Bridges served refreshments from a table decorated in Christmas colors. Other room decorations were in holiday motif also. Mrs. Don Grossarth was at the guest registry.

HOUSEHOLD SCRIPTURE
SHAUGH PRIOR, England — Helping his wife wash the dishes, the Rev. John Byrnell protested, "This isn't a man's job." "Oh yes it is," his wife retorted, quoting II Kings 21:13, "And I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." Describing the incident in his parish magazine, the minister said he was so surprised he dropped the plate.

MRS. T. J. PRESLEY shows one of the numerous rag dolls she makes, as she stands by one of her collection of trunk, open to show her work of relining its unusually elaborate compartments.

Owned 11 At Once

Old Trunks Restored, Decorated As Hobby

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Old-fashioned trunks, once the standard luggage for travelers and a useful household adjunct for storage, have become collectors' treasures in recent years; many have been rescued from cellars or garages, refinished and lined in velvet to hold costume jewelry and such wardrobe items as sweaters in lady's bedroom.

NOT SATISFIED with restoring two she owned, Mrs. T. J. Presley of Black has bought other trunks from antique and second-hand shops and at one time had 11, some of which have been given to members of her family and some sold.

She still has several, which are practical pieces of furniture used for storage in her home just across the railroad south of the postoffice-store at Black, in the shadow of the big grain elevators there.

Mr. and Mrs. Presley have made a hobby of restoring the old trunks, some badly in need of repair with locks, hinges or trays missing.

He has done the cabinet work, even to the extent of inserting a piece of plywood under the top of a worn-out lid to brace it, and refurbished or replaced hardware. She has polished up brass trim, reglued or replaced fabric cover, varnished the trunks and lined them with colorful velvet or brocade edged with gold braid for an effect more elegant than the original.

TWO OF THE trunks she rescued from her own garage. A large one which the Presleys bought at the time of their marriage was being used to store tools and auto parts when she decided to clean it up and return it to the house. The other is a small trunk which was hers as a child.

"My sisters were older than I and each had a trunk," she relates. "I wanted one of my own, and my father said he would get me one if I would pick 100 pounds of cotton in a day. I'd picked a little cotton, using a tow-sack for my cotton sack, but I went to work in earnest then, and soon earned my trunk. I was so proud of it!"

Of the trunks she has bought, a number from Hereford second-hand stores, she most prizes one which bore the makers name and the date 1825. It required a great deal of work, but is now a handsome piece of furniture in the Presleys' living room.

WORK ON THE OLD trunks interested the couple so much, they have made miniature replicas, also other storage boxes of various sizes, using much ingenuity in finding materials. Ornamental wood carvings have been glued to some, plastic imitations to others, covered with gilt paint. Handles have been made from a variety of drawer pulls, and in one instance, leather shoelaces were braided for unique handles.

Mrs. Presley often uses the boxes and little trunks for gifts, and although she makes no effort to sell them, she has sold some to people who have heard of the Presleys' work, saw it and liked it.

The same is true of rag dolls which she makes by the dozens. She began making them for children in her family, then for friends, then for small residents of Girlstown. She embroiders faces which she traces or draws, makes hair of cotton rug thread and dresses the dolls elaborately.

THEY ARE ONLY a small part of her work for Girlstown, since she and other members of the Black Social and Study Club became interested in girls there as they heard Viola Williams of Hereford speak four years ago.

Since then they have made, given and collected numerous loads of food, clothing and other things needed by the girls. Mrs. Presley has solicited gifts for Girlstown from over the community, and in 1957 received the Woman of the Year Award from the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture chiefly for her work for the girls' residence home.

Her interest in making and giving articles to children in need began, she says, during 15 years when teachers in her community boarded in her home.

"THEY WERE ALWAYS coming in and telling of feeling sorry for some child in school who did not have adequate clothes, and I began sewing for those children," Mrs. Presley says. "I like to help children; I feel that has value for the future. Sometimes I'm not so sure about the help given to adults!"

The Presleys have lived in the Black community since 1931. He is a retired farmer and they previously lived near Elk City, Okla. Mrs. Presley was born in Rush Springs, Okla., then Indian Territory.

They have two children, Mrs. Woodrow Whitaker, who lives east of Black, and a son in Maricopa, Calif., whom they have recently visited. They boast a great-grandson as well as four grandchildren, two girls and two boys.

MRS. PRESLEY works in other crafts besides sewing and restoring trunks, and says she has "always liked to do anything with my hands."

She likes antiques and has numerous handsome, ornate picture and mirror frames which she has restored and mended. Some of the pictures in them are old, others are copies of old pictures.

She makes many varieties of the popular paper and plastic flowers which are much used in home decoration today, does china painting, and has an unusual quilted bedspread she made with more than 30 yards of material "and no telling how many hours of work; if I'd known when I started it that it would be such a tedious job I'd probably never have made it!"

One "antique" which served its practical purpose for many years is her old crockery churn which she covered with a flower-

CACTUS CHRISTMAS TREE — Among unusual trees decorated for Christmas in Hereford this year is this branch of a giant cactus which was brought from Arizona. It is in the home of Mrs. Betty Wilcox, just outside the city at the east end of 16th Street. She and Mrs. Charles Critchlow, left, who brought the cactus here, decorated it with tinsel and glitter balls and set it up in tree fashion, heaping gift packages around it. —Staff Photo

Winning Speeches In VFW Contest

Editors note: Printed below are speeches of the second and third place winners in the VFW's "Voice of Democracy" contest which was held Monday night. The speech of John Cocke, first place winner, was printed in Thursday's paper.

Second place honors in the "Voice of Democracy" contest, sponsored by Hereford VFW Post No. 4818, was Rita Schumacher. The family lives two miles north of Summerfield where Schumacher is engaged in farming.

Miss Schumacher is a 16-year-old junior at Hereford High School and is one of seven children. Although Miss Schumacher was born in Hereford, she lived in Dimmitt for seven years and moved back to Hereford two years ago.

FREEDOM'S CHALLENGE

By RITA SCHUMACHER
Freedom? What is freedom? It is a privilege bestowed upon each of us at birth. God gave us the free will to make up our own minds and be responsible for our decisions. He meant for all people to live and work under this same freedom. So freedom is not just a privilege, but a right as well. We, as citizens, should meet the challenge and defend this right.

Our forefathers were faced with a great challenge. It took courage and a great love of freedom and country to meet that challenge and die for the cause.

Today we are facing many problems which challenge our freedom. Problems with other nations as well as those within our own. Sometimes we would like to forget about them, or pretend they are not there. But if we are going to keep our nation strong for other generations, we must meet the challenge and keep our country free.

How can we meet this challenge? First of all, as students we can help strengthen the nation by practicing good citizenship. Just by showing respect for our own school and city, as well as the government officials and the country, we might have improved the status of our nation — even though only a little. Through our own good citizenship, we have set an example for following generations. This good example, in itself helps to strengthen our country. Also, our schools and colleges need much improving; we students can do much to help. Bringing the faults of our school systems to light through peaceful means can help a great deal. With better ways of educating, we can get rid of most of the causes of unrest among students.

Even though we are still too young to make major changes in our national system, we students can learn a lot from watching how our country is being run today as well as knowing how it was started. Some of us will go on to be great leaders of the future and will have to be mature enough to run our country wisely. By learning we can now, we may pick up a few pointers and learn from current mistakes.

As citizens we can help our country meet the challenge of freedom by obeying the laws and serving our country when called. In this way, our nation will be able to grow and become more unified. A more unified country will bring about a feeling of nationalism and loyalty. We should each strive to develop and increase our feeling of nationalism. If we younger citizens develop this feeling, we can greatly strengthen our country. Since our armed forces are made up greatly of young men, a loyal feeling among them will help them realize why they are fighting. They will know they are defending freedom — not just in our own country, but in those that cannot defend themselves. Freedom is a great challenge for any free country. There are those who are still trying to gain this great right which we enjoy today. We should thank God for the privilege and continue to fight for the right of freedom.

Dianna Golden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Golden, was presented a medal for third place in the "Voice of Democracy" contest.

Miss Golden was born in Dimmitt but has lived in Hereford all her life. She is a 16-year-old junior at Hereford High School and is the eldest of three children.

The Golden's live 21 miles northeast of Hereford.

FREEDOM'S CHALLENGE

By DIANNA GOLDEN
What exactly is freedom? The right to do as you like? To some extent perhaps, but not all together, for people extend the boundaries of freedom into a license, which is simply an excess, or abuse of freedom. For instance, hippies argue the fact that it is their freedom which allows them to behave as they do; it's the way they feel, the way they think, and they are entitled to this privilege. But does it not interfere with our thoughts, our feelings, our privileges?

How many times have you heard the statement, "It's my life, isn't it? I'll do as I wish. What business is it of yours anyway?" This is the manner in which people think; they do not realize that they are dispelling one of our most precious bequests. And why not think this way? It's only logical. If the smoke doesn't offend you, then I'll smoke; after all, it's my lungs, my health, my life. If I feel like driving dangerously at one hundred miles per hour down an empty road, with no passenger, then I'll do it. I shall certainly be of no harm to you.

However, it does harm me and everyone else, whether a stranger, friend, or loved one. We are all part of each other; I help to shape your life, you help to mold mine. It is impossible to live alone, for no man is an island. Your perfume fills the air I breathe, and your automobile fumes contaminate it. Your smile lifts my spirits, and your cursing vexes me. I Corinthians 8:19 says, "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? Therefore, how can people say that it harms no one but themselves if they wish to take the freedom of drinking too much whisky, taking marijuana, or LSD? Do they not realize that such things could make it difficult to provide for a family? They will also be running the risk of suffering permanent brain damage, which will require hospitalization, and which in return, must be paid for by other mem-

2nd Shop-Show Matinee A Comedy

Comedy moments are pointed out by Star Theatre manager Francis Hardwick from the feature which has been booked as the second Shop and Show free matinee on Saturday morning here, sponsored by the First National Bank in Hereford so that mothers who wish to continue their Christmas shopping in the local stores will have a place to safely (and without expense, Hardwick also pointed out) leave their children.

Hardwick said Richard Haydn will be seen as a stuffy British school teacher in Africa who has a dread fear of all animals — who wakes up to find himself in bed with a 550-lb. lion and, on another occasion, sharing the limb of a tree with a ten-foot python. These things happen in "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion."

Like the first Shop and Show free movie last month, "Namu, the Killer Whale," the second one is also produced by Ivan Tors.

Tors, who made a movie and television star out of the almost human dolphin, Flipper, has introduced another fascinating and endearing animal actor in Clarence, the cock-eyed king of beasts who shares adventures and comic tribulations — as well as thrills — with Marshall Thompson, Betsy Drake, Cheryl Miller and Haydn in this unusual and lively picture, filmed in Metrocolor.

Thompson is seen as Dr. Marsh Tracy who, with his attractive teen-age daughter, Paula (Cheryl Miller), is in charge of a study center for animal behavior in Africa. A frequent visitor is Julie Harper (Betsy Drake), an anthropologist who is observing a group of gorillas in the wilds nearby.

When they befriend a cross-eyed lion who has trouble in surviving in the jungle, everyone is happy with Clarence excepting Rupert Rowbotham (Haydn), who comes to the study center to give lessons to Paula.

It is when a local terrorist, Gregory (Maurice Marsac), and his rebel band arrive on the scene in a plot to round up the gorillas in order to raise money for guns and ammunition that trouble begins.

When Gregory leaves to ransack Julie's camp, his men are captured by a regiment of government askaris and Marsh and Julie are freed. It remains for Clarence, who has broken free from his compound at the study center, to capture Gregory in a unique and unpredictable climax to the story in which a chase through the jungle in a model T Ford affords not only suspense but added comedy moments.

RICHARD HAYDN is going to get the surprise of his life when he wakes up to find a lion as his bedmate in "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion," a comedy in color which will be shown free at the Star Theatre Saturday, sponsored by the First National Bank in Hereford. It is booked as the second Shop and Show matinee here.

Hardwick related.

Although Clarence is the leading animal star of "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion," two others do their best to steal scenes in the picture. One is Marylou, a python; the other Doris, a chimp, and Hardwick said youngsters will take both to their hearts. (A lot of them already have since this 1 hour 38 minute picture was the forerunner of the "Daktari" television series.)

The feature will begin at 10 and 11:50 a. m. at the Star Theatre on Saturday.

OTHER KID SHOWS

On Monday, Dec. 23, Hardwick announced that the last Shop and Show free matinee will be presented, so that mothers can complete their local Christmas shopping. He announced the title of this feature as "Battle Beyond the Sun," a science-fiction adventure in color with Edd Perry and Aria Powell. This film will present special effects scenes of incredible meteorites from Mars, an escape from the mysterious molten Sun, the Space station run amok the Stars, and space cruisers in the last war of the Worlds. It begins at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. During the holidays, "The

ARMY PAY RAISED AGAIN
Remember when the newly inducted private in the Army made $21 a month?

Most of the World War II veterans will remember that figure since that's what they were paid in the early 1940's.

Well, hold your hats, folks. Army pay has been raised again. Today's newly enlisted private is making $109.50 a month plus free room and board and free medical and dental care. Promotion opportunities being what they are today, it is possible for this new recruit to be earning as much as $261.90 a month (plus free room and board) within eight months after he is sworn into the service.

As one World War II veteran recently remarked to us, "The Army isn't what it used to be!"

A LADY GENERAL?
Don't be surprised if you pick up the newspaper one fine day real soon and read about the Army's first female general.

President Johnson signed legislation some months ago making women eligible for general rank.

Though we don't have our first female general, I have already volunteered to be her chauffeur.

ARMY RESERVE ANNIVERSARY

Dip, Amarillo.

The Texas Restaurant Association is made up of more than 3,000 leading Texas food service industry members, including 1,024 new members within the past year. It has 21 chapters located in every section of Texas. Executive Vice President W. Price Jr., heads the home office in Austin.

Today food service is the fourth largest industry in Texas with separate eating and drinking places now ranking as the number one type of retail outlet, providing employment for more people than any other retail business. The State Comptroller reports that the industry has surpassed the $ Billion mark in sales in Texas for the second straight year.

Washington in 1782 and was originally known as the Badge of Military Merit.

—That there are approximately 1,549,626 men and women in the Army today? Out of the total 164,584 are officers and 1,385,042 are enlisted personnel.

VISITORS

Among those who dropped in to see us while on leave, were Sgt. Cox from Hereford and SP-4 Kenneth Mitchell from Canyon. Both men have just returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam. Welcome home, men, and a Job Well Done from your recruiting sergeant.

WHO SERVED THE LONGEST???

We're looking for the local resident who has served the longest on active duty in the Army. Drop us a line if you think you served longer than anyone else in the community. Our address is U. S. Army Recruiting Station, U. S. Post Office Bldg. 207 East 5th Avenue, Amarillo, Texas 79101.

See you next week.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — My wife and I support our daughter who is a senior in college. If she gets married before the end of this year will we lose our exemption for her?

A — You will if she files a joint return with her husband. However, if she files a separate return or if she has no income and does not file jointly with her husband, you may claim an exemption for her if she otherwise qualifies as your dependent. In that case, you, not her husband, get the exemption.

Q — I've been taking depreciation on my dairy herd. How do I deduct several cows that froze to death last winter?

A — Claim a casualty loss for the undepreciated value of this livestock less the value of any salvage. If your loss was covered by insurance, you might have a gain rather than a loss to report depending on the amount of your insurance reimbursement.

A — Check the Farmer's Tax Guide, Publication 225, for details. A free copy may be obtained from your local IRS office or from the County Extension Agent.

Q — I was audited and had to pay more tax on my 1966 return. I paid it and now I get another bill for the same amount. What should I do?

A — Return the bill along with a copy of your cancelled check or money order. Frequently IRS receives payments that cannot be identified and this might have happened in your case. A-another possibility is that your payment was received too late in our processing cycle to make the necessary adjustment in the billing notices.

A — A good practice to follow when paying a tax bill, is to put your Social Security number on the check or money order and return the notice with your payment.

Q — I inherited some property last year. Do I have to report this on my income tax return?

A — No, this does not have to be reported. However, if the property is sold later for more than its value when you inherited it then the gain has to be reported.

Q — I just started working. Do I have to file an estimated tax return?

A — The tax withheld by your employer will probably satisfy most, if not all, of your tax liability. However, you should review your withholding situation next year when you file your return for 1968. At that time, you may find it desirable to file an estimated tax return for your 1969 income.

Q — I had to buy a car when I took a job as a traveling salesman. Can I deduct the purchase price as well as my operating expenses?

A — No. However, a car used for business purposes may be depreciated over its useful life and you may deduct the actual operating costs of your car for the year. This would include depreciation, gas and oil, insurance, repairs and other operating costs. If the car is used for both personal and business purposes, you must apportion your expenses between business travel and personal travel.

A — Instead of deducting your actual operating expenses, you may deduct 10 cents for every mile you used the car on your job up to 15,000 miles. If your mileage exceeds that, additional business miles may be deducted at 7 cents a mile. In addition, tolls, parking and similar items are also deductible.

Q — I no longer have a maid help me with my housework now that my children are all away at school. What should I do with the quarterly report on household help I've been getting?

A — If you do not expect to be paying any taxable wages to household help in the future, write "final return" on the bottom of the Form 942 received in the mail and send it back. Your

SS Provides For Disabled Widow

"Most people know that a widow may be entitled to social security benefits on her husband's record at age 60," says Travis C. Briggs, manager of the social security office in Amarillo.

"A very important change in the social security law now permits payments to many widows who are between 50 and 60 years old and who are unable to work because of disability."

Since the Social Security Administration has not expected as many claims as expected from disabled widows, some may not know about this new type of benefit payable under social security. A widow may even lose benefits unless she files an application.

Like other benefits under social security, there are certain requirements which must be met before a disabled widow can qualify for these new benefits. One of the requirements is that she must be between 50 and 60 years old.

Since these are disability benefits, she must be disabled. A widow is disabled if she has a mental or physical impairment which keeps her from doing any gainful work. She must submit medical evidence from her doctor or hospital to show the severity of her disability. The Social Security Administration will make a determination of her disability on the basis of medical evidence only.

Another requirement is that the disabled widow must have become disabled during a specified period. Her disability must have started before her husband's death, or within 7 years after his death. If she received mother's benefits because she had minor children in her care at his death, her disability must have started within 7 years after these benefits ended.

A widow who becomes entitled to a disability benefit under this new provision is paid a reduced rate. If she becomes entitled at age 50, she will get 50 percent of her deceased husband's amount. If she is over 50 when she becomes entitled, she gets a greater percentage amount. The amount of the reduction depends on the number of months she receives benefits before age 62. Totally disabled widows should contact the social security office right away. Remember, no benefits can be paid unless an application is filed.

The Amarillo District Office is located at 1006 Adams Street.

Legal Notice

Notice is hereby given that the Zoning Commission of the City of Hereford, Texas will convene at the City Hall at 7:30 P.M. on the 31st day of December, 1968, to consider rezoning the following property:

Along The Frio

By MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Brand Correspondent

Frio Homemakers Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Tommy Sparkman for the Christmas party. Gifts were exchanged revealing secret pals of the past year and new ones were drawn for the coming year. Some plans were discussed for programs for the coming year. The year books will be ready at the first meeting in January, on the 14th, in the home of Mrs. Henry Andrews.

Attending Tuesday's meeting were Mes. Dee Taylor, Carlton Dobbins, E. F. Vogler, Chesley Johnston, Eugene Baldwin, Harlan Barber, T. L. Sparkman Jr., Henry Andrews, Herbert Bruns, Laura Littrell, Owen Andrews and Miss Alma Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson observed their 50th anniversary Saturday, Dec. 7. To celebrate, they accompanied their granddaughter, Mrs. Bill Cotton and Annette and Denise, and her mother Mrs. Robert Simpson to Friona, where the group ate at the Farmer House. The restaurant is operated by the Simpsons' daughter, Mrs. Sam Lindley, and Mr. Lindley, since they came to Friona a few weeks ago.

Recent visitors of the Simpsons and Lindleys were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Lindley of Irving and Lloyd Lindley of Brownwood. The H.E. Lindleys have been helping the Sam Lindleys in their business at the restaurant at Friona.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynton Allred and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr. were guests of the Ray Stewarts at their home at Dawn, Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Harder visited their relatives, the Fred Janzens, at Lubbock, Sunday.

Jerry Blackburn arrived home Saturday to spend a leave from the Army with his parents, the Arthur Blackburns. He has been stationed at Ft. Hood the past six months and expects to report to Ft. Lewis, Wash. on Jan. 14 for overseas assignment.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dobbins attended the wedding of her nephew, Scotty Blew to Miss Peggy Corley at First Baptist Church in Bronte Saturday evening. They visited the Belew home at Wingers before the Wedding and then spent Saturday night with Dobbins' sister, Mrs. Alma Daniel at Winters.

Mrs. Carlton Dobbins and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scott attended funeral services at Comanche Nov. 30 for an uncle, R. R. Powers, 90 years of age. The service was at the Comanche Baptist Church.

The Arthur Blackburns and Jerry Blackburn were entertained for dinner in the Charles Danley home Sunday.

Mrs. Sandra Houston and daughters, Sharon, Renee and Teena of Kansas, City, Mo. are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Onstead, Gail and Kathy. Her husband, a Ford Co. employee in Kansas City, expects to join his family here for the Christmas holidays and they also plan to visit his parents and other relatives at Littlefield.

The Onsteads are newcomers to the community, having moved into Mrs. Verna Frye's house in September, when she and the children moved to Lubbock. Mrs. Onstead has been employed with the office force at Easter Gin and Onstead works at TIDE.

Mrs. Fritz Smith underwent minor surgery at a Plainview hospital. She was able to come home Thursday. Her mother, Mrs. Raymond Martin of Mansfield, Ind., is here to visit for several weeks.

A Christmas party-supper was held for the two older Sunday school classes of Frio Baptist church at the Caison House Thursday evening. Attending were Messrs. and Meses. David Yandell, T. L. Sparkman Jr., Sam Ogan, Olin Parris, Harlan Barber, Lloyd Schultz, Bill Struve, Floyd Cole, Gary Mason, D. C. Miller, Bill Warrick, Earnest Harder; Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, Mrs. Bob Doughman, Mrs. Laura Littrell and Miss Alma Andrews.

Farmers Union In Conference, Plans

AUSTIN, TEX. — The Texas Farmers Union is asking that a bill be introduced in the state legislature to outlaw conglomerate corporation farming in Texas, and the organization seeks the support of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House.

This was the first item on the statewide farm organization's "target program" adopted at its 65th annual convention here. Jay Naman of Waco, the president, characterized the interest in the threat of corporation farming as extremely high.

Following are seven other items listed in the "target program":

"We urge members of the Texas Congressional delegation to support legislation proposed to close tax loopholes in the Internal Revenue statutes that permit hobby farmers and ranchers and corporations to write off losses sustained in their agricultural ventures against non-farm profits.

"We strongly support the Mondale Bill for the establishment of a national bargaining system to make it possible for farmers to negotiate prices with the processors on a commodity by commodity basis.

"We urge the support of the Texas Congressional delegation for an export wheat certificate program to assist in bridging the gap between world market prices and a parity price for the wheat which is used to implement our foreign relations program.

"We strongly urge immediate passage of a strategic reserve program permitting the insulating stocks of wheat, feed grains, rice, peanuts, and cotton for use only under emergency condition.

"We urge passage of the Young Farmers Investment Act to provide necessary credit to young farmers to strengthen their economic position in agriculture.

"We urge that the National Farmers Union launch a cotton belt wide campaign to encourage farmers to confine their planted acreage in 1969 to their domestic allotment.

"We urge the Secretary of Agriculture to release more details of the 1969 Cotton Program and include 25 percent of the production payment as an advance payment."

The 500 delegates and members who participated in the convention at the Terrace Motor Hotel heard from National Farmers Union President Tony T. Dechant of Denver, U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, Congressman Jake Pickle of Austin and Wisconsin Farmers Union president Gil Rohde.

Dechant told the convention that Farmers Union is "fighting for advance payments in the 1969 cotton program" and said Farmers Union is giving priority emphasis next year to a national agricultural bargaining act.

Senator Yarborough said that "if we are to have a healthy America, we must have a healthy rural America." He pledged his support for the Mondale Bargaining Bill which he said would be considered in the coming Congress.

Congressman Jake Pickle told the audience of farmers and ranchers that the consumer benefits the most from federal farm programs. He challenged the group to tell the farm story like it should be told — "an outstanding success." Wisconsin Farmers Union President Gil Rohde, Greenwood, Wisconsin, stated that the framework of a general farm organization affords farmers the best means to exercise concerted bargaining power. He said that farm cooperatives are "too splintered by commodity considerations" to succeed in crystallizing farmers' action to obtain needed legislation.

Other prominent speakers who addressed the convention were Victor Ray, Information Director for National Farmers Union, L. J. Cappleman, State Director of Farmers Home Administration, and William E. Black, Economist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

The convention reelected Jay Naman of Waco the organization's president and elected Joe Rankin of Ralls, vice president.

Delegates and alternates to represent Texas at the National Farmers Union convention in Hot Springs, Arkansas, in March are: Delegates Joe Rankin of Ralls, Jack Norman of Howe and David Samuelson of Manor; Alternates F. A. Lollar of Anson, James E. (Pete) Laney of Hale Center and J. B. Kirklind of Pecos.

The Board of Directors composed of county presidents elected Foy Mitchell of Roby as District 3 Director, Jo replace retiring Director Forest Creamer of Paducah, Beryl Long of Silverton was elected District 2 Director to replace Joe Rankin of Ralls who was promoted to state vice president. Other directors are W. R. (Buck) Breeding of Samnorwood, District 1; Robert Cathey of Dublin, District 4; Donald Meek of Inez, District 5; Jack Norman of Howe, District 6; Charles E. Hensley of Cameron, District 7; Doris Blissard of Garden City, District 8; and David Samuelson of Manor, District 9.

Dean Harman of Tulia was presented the "Outstanding Service To Agriculture Award" at the convention banquet. Harman, vice president of the state organization since 1967, chose not to be a candidate this year. Farmers Union delegates (with their wives acting as alternates) attending the convention from Deaf Smith County were S. A. McCathern, Alfred Smith, A. J. Bezner, Robert Strain, Edgar Vinson, Leo Witkowski, Ralph Mitchell, Louis Woodford, and Andrew Kershen.

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

A good deal of entertaining, among all the holiday parties of the past week or so, has been for the Bill Dameron, who moved this weekend to their home at Salida, Colo.

THEIR LEAVING was not sudden; they have been in the process of moving her several months, since Dameron Ranch properties in this county were sold last year.

Bill has spent most of his time at the Colorado ranch and getting their new home built, ready for the final move. Nicki and the children have continued to live here, with frequent visits to Colorado.

The family will be missed in Hereford, although some of the Dameron's still reside here and their friends expect the Coloradans to come back often. After all, they are a part of a family long associated with the history of Hereford.

SAYING "GOODBYE" to the friends and the activities they are leaving couldn't have been easy. Nicki says Hereford will still be her hometown — growing up as an "Army brat" with a memory of constant moves, she calls this her first really settled home.

The Dameron's take with them the best wishes of many residents for happiness in the new location, which as described sounds like a pleasant place to live — mountains in view from the front of the house and more from the back of the house, ski areas near, etc.

The Camp Fire Girls program here is one activity where Mrs.

Martin's charming grandmother who refuses to tell her age and well she may, since she doesn't seem that old!

She has visited the Martins a number of times and has a lot of friends in Hereford. Mrs. Brooks suffered a broken hip in a fall at the family place at Possum Kingdom Lake several weeks ago, and illness has complicated the effects of the accident so that her condition is serious.

Her daughter, Mrs. Roberta Martin, has been a visitor in the Gerald Martin home but left Friday to be with her mother. She will stay in Mrs. Brooks' home, 3009 — 47th Street in Lubbock.

INVITATIONS are out for a Christmas coffee Tuesday, when Gladys Manjeot and Mary Kay McQuigg will be hostesses at the Manjeot home. Another one of the parties, big and little, which are filling these pre-Christmas weeks and will probably go right on through New Years!

SORRY TO HEAR of the serious illness of Mr. Retta Brooks at Lubbock; she's back in Methodist Hospital after spending some time in a convalescent home. She is Gerald

THRIFTY WHISKY

CAPE TOWN, South Africa — The whisky makers of Scotland probably have nothing to worry about, but South African whisky, a blend of malt whisky and cane and wine spirits, costs much less than Scotch.

This thrifty note was struck by the distiller who said South African whisky introduced about two years ago is selling so well that a new plant is planned for Rhodesia.

CUB SCOUT ACTIVITIES — Cub Scout Pack 51 presented toys to Mrs. Jewel Smith, bottom left and top right, County Welfare Agent, to be distributed to needy children in the area. After the presentation of the toys, the boys went to the home of their den mother, Mrs. Jim Clarke, and had a Christmas party. Refreshments were served, games were played and the boys presented their mothers

Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, recently brought by an envelope received at his office addressed to the "Beef" Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

Apparently they've heard about our feedlot operations.

Back during the summer while carrying the right arm in a sling, I took a lot of kidding from friends around town about crippling myself on the golf course. But have you ever heard of a man injuring himself jogging?

It can happen. And did. To the master of the joggers, Wayne Thomas.

Wayne came to the office Wednesday morning, down in the back from jogging. All his associates at the office suggested that all he needed was a little more jogging and it would get him straightened out pronto. So, the next morning he jogged a little harder. Thursday, he could hardly move. We understand however, that he's going to keep at it until he either gets well or has to go to bed and call the doctor.

I'm going to suggest to Wayne that he might consider golf. It's dangerous too, but lots of fun.

And Bob Spangler was honored at the Lions' Club party Thursday night with the gift of a stuffed coon. Guaranteed not to bite.

Worried about Friday the 13th? The ancient Egyptians believed 13 was a lucky number. For them there were 12 steps to be climbed during a lifetime. The 13th led to everlasting life.

The world owes us nothing — it was here first!

Another $1 million feeding operation Cattle Town, Inc., will begin construction next week, and we know of at least one other and probably more that will begin construction in the near future. This group, made up of 13 stockholders (all farmers) plan to grow about 60 per cent of the feed that they will use in the 20,000 capacity operation. The feedlot will be located between Summerfield and Black in Parmer County. Bobby Owen, owner-manager of Pioneer Fertilizer Co. and a farmer in the Milo Center area will serve as president of the organization, Bobby Veige, who also farms in the Milo Center area will be vice-president and James Ellis Higgins, secretary-treasurer. Hank Winters, formerly of Bakersfield, Calif. is the manager. The stockholders are all Deaf Smith and Parmer County farmers.

Record Turnout For Symphony

Mrs. Lindsey Taylor of Amarillo, representing the Christmas Festival Concert of the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra held Saturday at Civic Center, reported that Hereford was to be represented with about 451 young people between the ages of 6 and 12.

Mrs. Taylor said this was the largest number in the history of the concerts to attend from Hereford.

She pointed out that — in view of the large turnout — Hereford young people had to re-arrange their schedule to hear the concert at 1:30 p. m. instead of 3:30. An extra performance was added by the symphony.

Mrs. Taylor wishes to credit Mrs. Joe Reinauer of Westway and Ben Gollehon, band director at Hereford High School, whom she said helped to coordinate plans for attendance at the concert.

Carl Gill, of Thompson & Gill of Madera, Calif. will construct the mill while the feed bunkers will be built by Redi-Mix Concrete Company of Muleshoe. Gill has been quite active in the Hereford area for the past few years constructing feedlot mills. He first came here in 1964 to build the mill at the old Holly feedyard, now Sugarland Feeders, Inc.

More and more farmers are going into the feedlot business, and that's as it should be. That's one way to beat the low price of milk.

Just a few more shopping days until Christmas. The stores still have wide selections to choose from but better hurry. We'd like to see the stores empty.

Newcomer Club Schedules Party

A Christmas party for members and their husbands is planned by the recently-organized Welcome Wagon Newcomers Club. It is scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Thursday evening in Community Center.

Each member is to bring sandwiches, chips and dips to be served as refreshments. Games and other entertainment is planned for the evening. Mrs. Jim Hamilton is chairman of arrangements.

Remember last spring?

Don't gamble next spring. Apply Treflan this fall.

Remember last spring? Hundreds of cotton and soybean growers do. Many were as much as a month late in planting. Weather was so bad they couldn't get into the fields. But those growers who applied their Treflan last fall at least didn't have to worry about grass and weed problems. Weatherproof Treflan stood fast... allowing growers to plant quickly, making up for lost time as soon as fields dried. Don't gamble on another wet spring. See your Treflan dealer about applying Treflan this fall.

Buying Gift For Child?

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Buying for children can be rewarding when educational gifts are enjoyed by the receiver. Here are suggestions for buying books for the young child and for buying children's toys.

HOW OLD WILL A child be before he is interested in books? A six-month old child listens to the sound of voices and looks at objects. By the time he is a year old he takes delight in recognizing the familiar things shown in books and will often point to them.

Select books for a child less than two years old with color and pictures. A picture of a single familiar object on each page is all that is needed for baby's first book. The name of the object might also be included on the page.

Pictures should be simple, colorful and easily recognized by the child. Colors should be bright and the lines clear.

Avoid extremes in sizes. Small hands have trouble handling either very small books or those that are oversized or awkward. Square or slightly oblong shapes are more manageable than long and narrow ones. The pages should lie flat when turned, and the book should have only a few pages. Pages of firm cardboard or sturdy fabric will take the unskilled handling of the little child.

CHILDREN NEED A variety of toys — but not too many. Different play things are important, because they can fit into a child's needs as he grows and develops abilities, skills and interests.

Four types of play materials are needed for each to satisfy a child's growing interests.

Active, physical play: Balls, tricycles, gym equipment and wagons aid in physical development.

Manipulative, constructive, creative play: Blocks, construction toys, clay, drawing and painting equipment give children a chance to express ideas and develop initiative and resourcefulness.

Imitative, imaginative, dramatic play: Dolls, housekeeping equipment, farms and farm equipment, animals, trains and dress-up clothes help children understand the world around them by imitating and dramatizing adult activities.

Social play: Doll equipment, blocks, seesaws and a wagon are more usable and more fun when two play together. Learning to share play materials and activities helps a child learn about sharing and how to get along with others.

THE "FREEDOM'S CHOICE" speeches given by the local young people have been quite good. There are so many opportunities to help citizens in our area develop their potential.

THE COUNTY MAP is about finished and almost ready for the printer. The Family Living Committee has tried very hard to make the map usable and hopes it will be of help to many people. One of the next projects will probably be on Buying a Mobile Home.

MARJORIE THOMAS shared this Crazy Crunch recipe with us.

CRAZY CRUNCH
4 cups salted popcorn
2-3 cups toasted pecans
1-3 cups toasted almonds
2-3 cups sugar
½ cup margarine
¼ cup corn syrup — light or dark
¼ t. vanilla
Mix pecans, popcorn and almonds together and spread on cookie sheet. Cook sugar, margarine and syrup over medium heat, bring to a boil, and boil for 15 minutes, stirring constantly until it is caramel colored. Add vanilla and pour over popcorn mixture.

MIDGET SWEDISH MEATBALLS
¾ C oats, uncooked.
1 egg
1 t. salt
¼ t. pepper
1 lb. ground beef.
½ C. milk

¼ c. grated onion
½ t. ground mace
2 t. steak sauce
½ lb. ground pork
SAUCE
2 T. all purpose flour
½ t. pepper
1 t. steak sauce
½ t. salt
2 C. milk

For meat balls, combine all ingredients thoroughly. Shape to form small balls, using about 1 tablespoon meat mixture for each. Brown in small amount of shortening in large skillet, turning frequently until browned on all sides.

Add ¼ cup water. Cover; simmer 30 minutes. Remove from heat.

For sauce, remove meat balls and drain off all but about 2 tablespoons drippings from pan. Add flour, salt and pepper to drippings in pan, mix well.

Add milk and steak sauce. Simmer about 5 minutes or until thickened, stirring frequently. Add meat balls. Heat thoroughly. Sprinkle with snipped parsley. Makes 48 meatballs.

Traditional Christmas Mass Slated

Among special Christmas services in Hereford churches will be the traditional midnight mass in St. Anthony's Catholic Church on Christmas Eve. This year the mass will be celebrated by the Rev. Simeon Heine, pastor, the Rev. Aeden Davis and the Rev. John Vander Kuil, associate pastors.

Mrs. Jim Cramer will be the organist. A program of Christmas music preceding the mass will begin at 1:30 p. m. Christmas Eve. Soloists will be Miss Jan Turrentine, singing The Drummer Boy and Gesu Bambino; Mrs. Elbert Vance, Birthday Of The King and Star Of The East.

Also Mrs. Joe Reinauer, O Holy Night; Mrs. Carl McFaul, Stars Of Glory and O Dear Little Child; Mrs. Frances Parker, Stille Nacht and Aleut Carol; Ed Dziuk Jr., I Hard The Bells On Christmas Day and O Little Town of Bethlehem.

Miss Brisendine Home On Leave

Diann Brisendine, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Brisendine, of 805 S. 25 Mile Ave., Hereford, is home for a 15-day leave from Omaha, Neb. where she has been stationed for the past six months.

Miss Brisendine, who entered the WAF 11 months ago, was first stationed at Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls for a short time before being transferred to Offutt AFB in Omaha. She is entered in the field of communications.

Candles-Carols Service Set By First Methodist

The annual Service of Carols and Candles at First United Methodist Church will be presented at 7 p.m. this evening, featuring Christmas music in that church.

Added to the program this year will be a Nativity scene posed by a group of members including children enacting the animals. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rudd will appear as Joseph and Mary, Phillip Shook and Kenneth Wiley as shepherds, Jim Arney, Robert Strain and Paul Scott as wise men.

Wearing cardboard drawings of the animals, John Stoy will be the donkey, Larry Justice the cow; David Duvall, Dale Hairgrove and Tom Myers the camels; Tom Barber, Joel Pittard and David Hutchins the sheep.

Alternated with Scripture readings by the Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor, songs will follow the initial lighting of candles in the sanctuary and the professional hymn, O Come All Ye Faithful. The Sanctuary Choir will sing an anthem, Trumpet Gloria, and a carol.

Songs by the Wesley Singers are — O Come Emmanuel and What Child Is This?; by the Crusader Choir, O Sing a Song of Christ and Bring a Torch; by the Cherub Choir, Sweet Little Jesus, In the Starlight and Lullaby. The Ladies Bell Choir will present Angels We Have Heard on High.

Songs by the congregation and the final lighting of candles by all present will complete the service, which is directed by Robert Wert, minister of music.

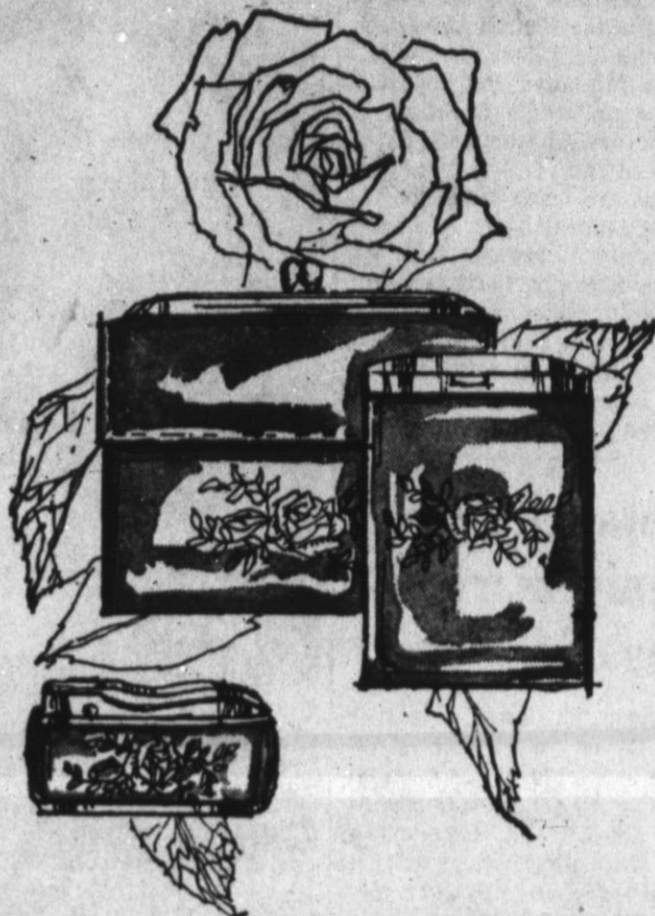

Other special programs are announced for next week in the church. The Wesley Singers, a junior high girls' choir, will sing for the Easter Lions Club Christmas banquet Monday evening. The Ladies Bell Choir, which ended a series of programs for elementary schools at Aikman Thursday afternoon, will ring Christmas music at the Terra Blanca Medical Society's dinner in Hereford Country Club Tuesday evening.

Another annual event, the old-fashioned family party and tree trimming, is planned for Wednesday evening in Fellowship Hall.

The public is invited to a concert of Christmas music in Sugarland Mall at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, by the 50-voice Crusader Choir and the Ladies Bell Choir.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Readers Are Asking

HOW CAN one tell if a child has an ordinary stomach ache or if it is an attack of appendicitis?

I have long ago decided that mothers and grandmothers are the greatest medical diagnosticians in the community. When a mother puts her lips to her child's forehead she says with the definiteness of authority, "He has no fever." When a Doctor walks into a patient's room and the grand mother says, "Doctor it's measles" the doctor can turn right around and go home because you can be sure it is measles. Their diagnostic ability does not extend to the difficult problem of appendicitis. Even physicians and surgeons who deal with this problem every day will admit that the diagnosis of inflammation of the appendix is a most difficult one. It requires expert judgment and experience, in addition to blood studies and a careful history of the onset.

Pain in the abdomen, especially on the right side, associated with fever, nausea and vomiting, must not be considered as an ordinary stomach ache. Guesswork may turn out to be correct, but it is entirely unsafe for any mother to take this responsibility.

The first impulse of many people is to give their child a laxative or an enema when they complain of discomfort, especially if the child has not had a bowel movement that day. This is unwise, unsafe and dangerous.

It is always safer to consider pains in the abdomen as being meaningful rather than a passing discomfort. A telephone call to your physician will relieve you of responsibility and allow him to make the decision about the need for further examination.

Is an osteopath the same as a chiropractor? They are distinctly different and must definitely be separated because of their differences of training and accomplishments.

The osteopath is a graduate of a school of medicine known as osteopathy. Intensive training in this specialized school is based on the idea that the structure of the body and its bony framework are responsible for its health and disease. Manipulative correction is one of the important forms of treatment in osteopathy.

In addition, drugs and surgery play an important role in hospitals that devote themselves to this type of medicine. The formal training is arduous and many osteopathic physicians have respected positions in hospitals and communities all over the country.

The chiropractor is not a physician but rather one who, unfortunately, does not have a long and intensive period of study about bodily diseases. They devote themselves entirely to manipulative treatment of the bones of the body, especially the spinal cord. They believe that the nerves coming from the spinal cord are responsible for many pains, illnesses and diseases near and far removed from the spinal canal.

I have known a number of excellent chiropractors who are perfectly brilliant in their methods of massage and manipulation. My respect for them is based on the fact that they are modest about their knowledge and do not pretend that corrective manipulation can cure all diseases of the heart, lungs, liver, brain and intestines.

All physicians know their limitations and do not feel that they must know everything about everything. This allows them to call for consultations when a difficult problem arises.

The chiropractor must know his limitations to practice his nonmedical art in safety.

Parties Honor Barbara Zinser

A bride-elect of Christmas week, Miss Barbara Zinser was the honoree at a shower and a luncheon Saturday. Her marriage to Jerry Curry of Fort Silo, Okla., is set for Dec. 22.

Miss Moira McAndrews complimented her with a luncheon and handkerchief shower in Hereford Country Club, decorating the table with red roses and white chrysanthemums to show the wedding colors.

Places were marked with hand-made white cards on a red felt base, for Mrs. Ernest Flood Jr., Misses Sharon Seiver, Sidney Davis, Gwen Cargo, Sid Sheffy, Diana and Jane Zinser, Theresa McAndrews, the honoree and hostess.

At the afternoon shower, Mrs. Billy Wayne Sisson greeted callers at the door of her home and presented them to a receiving line which included the bride-to-be; her mother, Mrs. Frank W. Zinser; her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Wesley Curry of Levelland, and her sister Jane, who is to be her maid of honor.

Rooms were bright with Christmas color and the table, covered with white linen and lace, had red carnations in a central silver bowl. Mrs. Dorman Duggan ladled punch and Miss Seiver served rolled sandwiches, nuts and mints.

Guests were registered by Miss Moira McAndrews.

Hostesses with Mrs. Sisson were Mmes. Wilbur Gibson, Roger Brumley, Johnny Jesko, Jimmie Jesko, Ed Bezner, Steve Clements, George Ritter, Clinton Jackson, William H. Willis, Leo Witkowski, John Seiver, Joe Zinser, Hugo Kinkler of Littlefield, Ed Loerwald and Clarence Betzen.

At The Library River Voyage, New Adventure

The hilarious tale of suburbia living, neighbors, parties and pets, and the voyage of Emily Kimbrough and ten of her friends through the rivers of France, are just two of the many new books which are at the Deaf Smith County Library.

THE NEIGHBORS ARE SCARING MY WOLF

By JACK DOUGLAS

Jack Douglas has never been funnier than in this account of the searing experiences he, Reiko and their six-year-old son, Bobby, have undergone since they moved to outer suburbia to a town called Old New Litchridge (and thereby hang several tales), Connecticut.

Jack tells why he moved to Old New Litchridge, how he found his house, and of the lady next door whose piercing voice reduced his pet timber wolf to a "nervous, wild-eyed, collapsible wreck." He also tells how he happened to have a wolf on hand in the first place. He describes another neighbor, a couple whose weekday existence resembles "Wuthering Heights" with a dash of Dial M-F-O-R Murder" but who doze their pain on weekends with the help of their special martinis (ten parts gin to ten parts vodka. On Saturday night the vermouth is flown over Old New Litchridge-ge by a low-flying crop duster").

A squirrel assassin also lives nearby; another neighbor is (or was) in love with his garden until he had a sad experience with an LBJ rosebush, which made him switch to cabbages. Jack tells how and why he feuds with the local shops; he gives the history of Old New Litchridge — how it was founded and the unique background of some of the older houses; he tells how Old New Litchridge got its name; and he tells how to get to Old New Litchridge with the Old New Litchridge bird watchers club; tells of the woodrats that came in place of raccoons; of the horsey set and their hunt club; of the doggy set and their do shows; of the local juvenile delinquents and the mysterious huge white footprints attributed to them by some, but not by Jack, who knows his house is really in the middle of an abominable snowman crossing.

If problems of country living — or just plain living — are getting too much for you, try Jack's problems. His agreeably distorted view should give you a brand-new perspective.

FLOATING ISLAND
By EMILY KIMBROUGH
One April morning in 1967, the Palinurus, a converted barge, slipped its moorings at Samoia, a village on the Seine, and began a lazy and idyllic voyage through the rivers and canals of France. Aboard were Emily and ten good friends.

Included in the unusual cruise equipment were a number of bicycles for riding along towpaths. There was also a Volkswagen microbus for on-shore excursions. Parked in towns near the water when not in use, the Microbus was retrieved by taxi when the Palinurus made its stops. From their lively explorations on land the passengers returned to the dreamlike rhythm of the barge, a veritable floating island, content to be released from the tensions ashore, detached from earth and time.

Adventures and misadventures, delightful and preposterous, started their happy progress to Montbard on the Burgundy Canal. And Emily tells it with that joy of living and sense of nonsense only she can convey so irresistibly.

Candle Lighting At Presbyterian Church Tonight

The annual candle lighting ceremonies at the First Presbyterian Church will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor, said the ceremonies will include special Christmas music. The candle lighting is a tradition in the church.

Persons of all faiths are invited to attend the ceremonies.

Between 1947 and 1964 there were 8,763 unidentified Flying Objects sighted by the United States Air Force.

Madre Mia Has Holiday Coffee

A Christmas coffee at the home of Mrs. Ronald Zimmerman, with Mrs. Wayne Lady as co-hostess, entertained members of La Madre Mia Study Club Thursday morning, one of the pretty club parties of the week.

Holiday decorations on the table repeated the motif of room decorations. Mrs. Zimmerman told a Christmas story and members exchanged gifts. Most of the meeting time was devoted to casual conversation as the hostesses poured coffee informally.

Preliminary plans for conducting the Mothers March of Dimes next month were discussed in a brief business session. The club sponsors this fund-raising campaign annually in Hereford. Members present were Mmes. Lynton Allred, Herschel Black, Carl Carlile, James Gentry, Joe Hacker, Dean Herring, Bill Lankford, Gerald Martin, David Honea, Bobby Owen, Walker Parris, G. C. Merritt, Harold Morton, Eugene Sparks, Don Walsler and Richard Ward.

Buffet Dinner Is Given As Farewell To Two

A farewell party honoring Mrs. Wilton Green and Mrs. Matt Matthews, both moving soon to new homes, was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford Friday evening.

Guests were fellow-members with the two honorees in the Melody Class and Ladies Bell Choir of First United Methodist Church, and their husbands. Mrs. Kenneth Wiley, Mrs. Paul Scott and other women of the class assisted Mrs. Ford in serving the buffet supper.

Table games were played afterward, in rooms gay with holiday decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Green are moving to Hugoton, Kan. The Matthews family will go to a home in Lubbock; Matthews has recently resigned as associate pastor of First United Methodist Church here and will begin new work with the church in the Lubbock area.

Quick Action Can Defeat Neuritis
The origin of the word "neuritis" is "neur" meaning nerve and "itis" referring to inflammation. The danger of neuritis is that the condition goes rapidly from bad to worse unless its cause is quickly and expertly treated.

The chiropractor is fully trained and qualified to identify the cause of nerve inflammation. Although the pain of neuritis may be felt in the shoulder or finger, the cause is almost always at or near the spine. By administering natural healing techniques, the chiropractor will return the nerve to its normal function, bringing you the relief you want.

We strongly recommend you take quick, positive action when you detect symptoms of neuritis. A sharp pain in either or both shoulders, lasting for hours, is your body's

Class Plans For Holiday Visit

A visit to their class mother was planned by members of Avenue Baptist Victory Class Thursday evening, at a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Billy Wall. The group will visit Mrs. Pearl Boyer in an Amarillo convalescent home.

An article by Mrs. Billy Graham, titled Revised Christmas Shopping List, was read as the devotional selection. Carols and games were on the program and a gift exchange was held. A gift from the class was presented to Mrs. Johnny Townsend, the teacher.

Also present were Mmes. Carlile Sargent, Clois Kemp, M. E. Tyler, Marvis Southward, G. W. Duncan and Leon Perry.

SERVICES PENDING

Funeral services are pending at Texline for Irvin William Decker, 49, of that city, who died early Saturday after suffering burns in an explosion there Thursday.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. J. W. Decker, 209 James, and a sister, Mrs. Eleanor Winkler, 211 James, on Route 2.

Guests Hear Yule Music With Club

Approximately 50 guests enjoyed the program of music presented at the Christmas party of Veleda Study Club in Ward Parlor of First United Methodist Church. The club opened the special program to friends who wished to hear the music. It was presented by a quartet from the church choir accompanied by Mrs. J. C. McCracken, pianist. The singers were Robert Wert, minister of music, Mrs. Wert, Mrs. R. C. Godwin and Don Baugous.

Traditional and contemporary carols were on the program. One 16th century carol was by the two sopranos, with accompaniment by Wert on the recorder, an antique wind instrument.

Mrs. Hugh Clearman, program director, introduced the guest musicians. Christmas cookies and punch were served from a table sparkling in holiday decor. On the

Program Guest Relates Story At NSA Dinner

Narrated by the Rev. Clifford Trotter of First United Methodist Church, the Biblical story of the Nativity was given as the program at the Christmas dinner of Hereford Chapter, National Secretaries Association, Thursday evening.

Members and their husbands were entertained at the country home of the Earl Gunthers. Tables for four were arranged for the dinner, each centered with a fluffly net Christmas tree. Bags of colored net held candy at the places. A series of table games followed the guest.

90 MILLION GALLONS OF OIL VANISH AT SEA--
I'VE FIGURED IT OUT. IF 180 MILLION PIRATES EACH SWALLOW A HALF GALLON-- SHADDUP!

OIL TANKER GOLD STAR ATTACKED BY PIRATES--
TELL THE CAPTAIN! A RADIO MESSAGE FROM THAT BLASTED TANKER!

GET RID OF THIS GIRL AT ONCE-- PUT HER ON A RAFT!
CAPTAIN-- OUR RADIO PICKED UP A MESSAGE FROM THAT TANKER!
WHAT?! SOMEONE-- GOOFED!
TAKE CARE OF THE WOMAN YOURSELF, COUNT. WE'RE IN TROUBLE!

WHO WAS SUPPOSED TO BLAST THE RADIO TRANSMITTER ON THAT TANKER?
NOT ME-- NOT ME-- NOT ME--

ME, CAPTAIN, STAND OVER THERE!

YOU TOO, COUNT PETRO!
ONLY ONE VOICE LIKE THAT IN THE WHOLE WORLD!

DARLING! WE'RE AT THE BOTTOM OF THE OCEAN! HOW DID YOU EVER FIND ME HERE?
LONG STORY, DIANA. GET BEHIND ME.

BRINGING UP FATHER

by BILL KAVANAGH & FRANK FLETCHER

SAY, TRIPPER, IF YOU'LL BUY YOURSELF SOME NICE CLOTHES, I'LL PAY FOR THEM--

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH THESE THREADS, DADDY-O? LIKE ALL THE CATS SAY, I'M IN HIPSVILLE--

I GIVE UP! THERE'S NO WAY OF GETTING THROUGH TO THAT HIPPIE--
Dinty Moore's

SO YOUR WIFE'S NEPHEW IS LIVING WITH YOU NOW, JIGGS? WHAT'S HE LIKE?
LIKE NOTHING I'VE EVER SEEN--

JIGGS, YOUR WIFE'S NEPHEW WANTS TO SEE YOU-- TELL HIM TO COME IN--
12-15 FLETCHER

CAN YOU SPARE A LITTLE BREAD, DADDY-O?
OK-- BUT IT'S JUST A LOAN--

I WOULD HAVE INTRODUCED HIM, ONLY I'M EMBARRASSED BY THE WAY HE DRESSES--

I'D BE EMBARRASSED, TOO, IF MY NEPHEW DRESSED LIKE THAT!
SO WOULD I!
ME TOO!

DAD

DAD!

WHAT IS IT?

WHY DOESN'T GOD ANSWER US?

BUT HE DOES! HE ANSWERS OUR PRAYERS IN MANY VARIOUS WAYS, DOT.

BUT I MEAN, WHY DOESN'T HE EVER SAY, 'OKAY, DOT, YOU CAN'?

I GUESS HE JUST DOESN'T FEEL LIKE DOING IT THAT WAY...

MAYBE GOD READS THE PAPER A LOT

GRANDPA, I HOPE WE FIND THE BUFFALO HERD BEFORE THE INDIANS FIND US!

YOU SURE WORRY FOR A YOUNG-UN, DOUG! DON'T WORRY ABOUT TROUBLE - IT'LL LOOK FER YOU!

MEANWHILE, SUSPECTED OF BEING RUSTLERS, THE LONE RANGER AND TONTO ESCAPE FROM THE TRAIL HANDS.

TRY YOUR GUN, TONTO!

IT STILL WORK!

YOU, THERE-- DROP YOUR GUNS!

WHAT IN BLAZES--

B-BEHIND US! BETTER DO LIKE HE SAID!

OKAY, NOW YOU GOT THE JUMP ON US, I RECKON YOU'LL RUN OFF THE WHOLE HERD INSTEAD OF NIBBLIN' AT A FEW STEERS A NIGHT!

HERE NOT RUSTLERS!

THEN WHY THE MASK?

AND WHO IS STEALIN' OUR CATTLE?

HERE TRAIL OF WHOEVER STEAL YOUR CATTLE, AND IT NOT RUSTLERS!

NOT RUSTLERS? THEN-- WHO?
