7.7 Percent Of County's People Were Foreign Born

NEW YORK (Special to the Brand) How many of the people who have come to the United States from other countries in the last few decades have settled in Deaf Smith County?

What is the proportion of foreign-born in the local population as compared with the proportions in other areas?

The subject comes to the fore at this time because of the new immigration law, which will go into effect on July 1st.

Under its terms, the entire system of admitting immigrants in operation for more than 43 years, will be changed as of that date. No longer will visas be issued on the basis of national quotas.

Instead, first preference will be given to people who have close relatives in this country. The objective is to reunite families that were divided when earlier generations of immigrants came here.

Preference will also be given to people with special training and skills, insofar as they are needed and do not threaten the jobs of workers here.

In Deaf Smith County, ac-ording to the Census Bureau's most recent figures, 7.7 percent of the local population are of "foreign stock."

This designation takes into account persons who were born in other countries and, also persons born in this country to parents of foreign birth.

In other parts of the West South Central States, those of foreign stock average 7.8 percent of the population. They represent 11.3 percent in the State of Texas.

The local picture, viewed from another angle, portrays a population in which 92.3 percent of the people are native-born Americans, three generations or more in depth.

Considerable feeling has been aroused among some of the ethnic groups in this country who have, heretofore, enjoyed special treatment under the old immigration system. They will now have to compete for entry with applicants from areas less favored previously.

It is pointed out that the preference system will not apply to Western Hemisphere emigrants but that a limit of 120,000 will be set for them.

The latest Census Bureau figures list Deaf Smith County with 1,015 of foreign stock, including 688 with a background in Mexico, 136 in Germany and 30 in Canada.

Committee Acts On Vital Issues

Two recommendations to support an appropriations bill in the Texas Legislature and the city's proposed $590,000 revenue bond were passed by the Government Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce at their Tuesday meeting.

Other discussion centered on the compromise bill pending in the U. S. Congress for a 10 percent tax increase and $6 billion cut in expenditures.

(See story this page for more details on the bond issue.) Both recommendations went to the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning and were approved.

Earnest Langley, attorney, was appointed by the committee to write a letter to Senator Hazlewood recommending he support a $60,000 appropriation to the agriculture department at Texas Tech.

Half of the $60,000 will be used for research on hogs and the other half will go for research on vegetables.

A copy of the letter will be sent to all senators of the Texas Legislature.

Although the group has no administrative power, their recommendation carries quite a bit of weight.

Consisting of 15 or 18 people in town, the committee meets once a month to discuss any issue of legislative importance.

Rites Held For Mrs. Godwin

Mrs. A. D. Godwin, 91, who operated the first hospital in Hereford and lived here until the late 1950's, died Sunday in the IOOF Home at Ennis, where she had resided since retirement.

Funeral services for the long-time Hereford resident were conducted Tuesday afternoon in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home by the Rev. Russell Wingert, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of which Mrs. Godwin was a member.

Born Jan. 16, 1877 at Whitesboro, Mrs. Godwin was Dollie Burnes before her marriage in that city in January, 1896, to Andrew D. Godwin. The couple came here in 1907 from Whitesboro.

A practical nurse, Mrs. Godwin equipped a room in her home on Brady Street for the care of maternity patients, and many children born in this city as late as the 1930's can point to that as their birthplace.

After a larger building became the first actual hospital here, Mrs. Godwin continued to work with local doctors in the care of the sick.

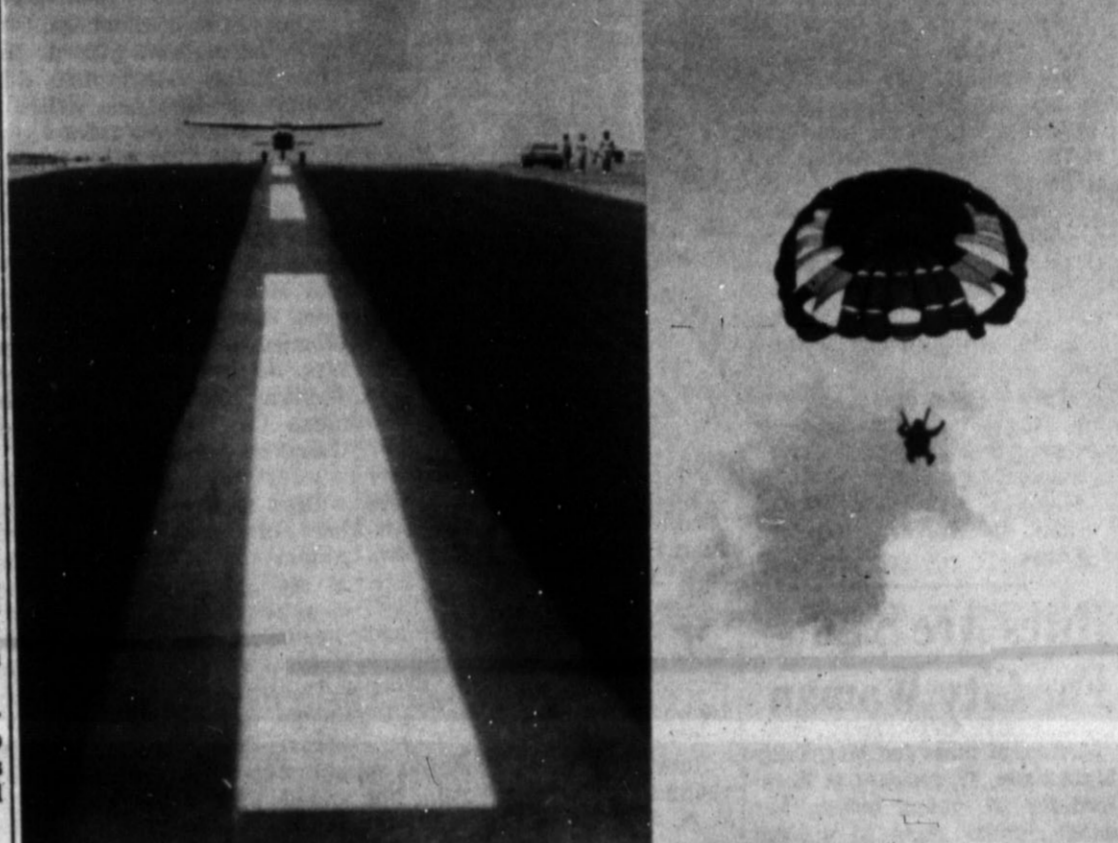

She and her husband celebrated their golden wedding anniversary almost a dozen years before his death Nov. 13, 1957. Mrs. Godwin sold the home and left Hereford soon afterward.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Maggie Hopper of Canyon and Mrs. Mary Chapman of Truth or Consequences, N. M.; eight nieces and seven nephews.

Chamber Committee, Board Approve City's Bond Issue

By VICKIE INMAN
Staff Writer

The $590,000 revenue bond issue to be voted on July 16 has the wholehearted support of the Government Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

During a meeting Tuesday, the group unanimously endorsed the revenue bond issue that will provide water facilities for the proposed multi-million Wilson & Co. plant to be constructed near Hereford in late August or early September.

Mayor Ray Cowsert was on hand to explain several features of the revenue bond and answer questions posed by the members.

Based on several points, the committee's recommendation that the revenue bond be passed went to the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors Wednesday morning and was approved.

Taxpayers or property owners will not be asked to foot the cost of the revenue bond, Harlan Vander Zee, chairman, pointed out. "It will be repaid from the revenue of the company that takes the water," he said.

"The law requires that this bond issue be repaid only and solely by water and sewer revenue," Earnest Langley, attorney, said in answer to a question from Dr. Joe Whitley, 433 Star, who asked if the bond could be repaid any other way.

"We couldn't use tax money to pay these bonds even if we wanted to," Langley said.

Under a contract signed recently, Wilson & Co. is bound to pay a minimum $20,000 water bill per year to the city for 20 years. Their expected water bill should run about $30,000 a year.

"Even if Wilson & Co. should close down, which they certainly aren't expected to do, they are still obligated to pay $20,000 a year," Cowsert said, making it explicit that the city would be making a profit on the water sold as a result of the bond issue.

"What portion of the $590,000 revenue bond is specifically for the Wilson operation?" Dr. Whitley asked Cowsert.

Treatment of the sewage plant and improvements on it amounts to $68,000 of the $590,000, Cowsert said.

In the remaining $522,000 is included cost of water rights, three irrigation wells, a million-gallon storage tank and the water line to Wilson.

"You could say that $296,000 is actually allocated to Wilson," Cowsert said.

Neither the storage tank nor the wells have been charged to Wilson because they are considered assets to the city.

Cowsert anticipates other industries locating near Wilson & Co. west of town. Should that happen, we will already have the water facilities available, so it's just profit to the city, he said.

Present sewage and water storage facilities will be enlarged by the revenue bond. The city has bought water rights for two shallow wells at $1,000 each and was given water rights for one deep well.

"We ran tests, and the wells are justified," Cowsert said. "The deep well, which will be about 900 feet, shows up real good."

Although the interest rate on the bonds is not known at this time, Cowsert anticipates that it will be between 4 and 4.4 percent.

The area's water supply will not be depleted by the new plant since Wilson & Co. will use less than the capacity of one well a day. This would be about the same amount as would be used if the land was farmed, Cowsert said.

If operating expenses to get water to Wilson & Co. increase, then their rate also increases. "We are even protected from escalation costs for a full period of 20 years," Cowsert said.

Decision on the revenue bonds will be in an election July 16, while Wilson's construction contract will not be let until August 23 or 30. Cowsert said that if something happened to Wilson between July 16 and August, then the bonds would not be sold.

"Wilson's annual bill of $20,000 or possibly $30,000 would retire the revenue bond over a period of 20 years," Vander Zee said.

Bond Election Officially Set By Commission

Members of the Hereford City Commission, in their regular meeting Monday night, officially called the $590,000 revenue bond issue for July 16.

The election, as called for in the ordinance, will be held at the Community Center with Lloyd Fool serving as presiding judge and Mrs. Walter Seeds as alternate presiding judge.

New requirements for voting passed by the 1967 Legislature were stressed by City Manager Dudley Bayne and Earnest Langley, attorney for the city.

The new requirements state that persons wishing to vote have to sign an affidavit saying they not only own taxable property, but have rendered it to the City of Hereford for taxation. The voter must also have been a resident of the city for six months preceding the election.

This is the first time the new law has been used in city election, said Bayne. And it is not adequate if the taxable property has been rendered to the school or county and not to the city, he added. "It would be inconvenient to go to the Community Center to vote and then have to go to City Hall to get their property rendered before returning to the Community Center to vote."

(See story on this page for details on the bond issue.) In other action, commissioners announced that a public hearing will be held on the paving program at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

TAP Members Meet Monday

A report by Lester Rape, local Texas Employment Commission office manager, on the progress of the Youth Employment Service program is on the agenda for the June Deaf Smith County Technical Action Panel meeting.

Everyone who is working on this program or wants to work is invited to attend.

Walker Receives AF Appointment

Appointment to the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs is hard to come by, as Joe Walker, 18, can tell you.

A 1968 graduate of Hereford High School, Walker has been selected for the Air Force Academy Preparatory School, open to candidates who were qualified for the Academy but were not offered an appointment in the previous cadet class.

Walker, who plans on a military career, started applying September, 1967, to the Academy. He received final word that he was accepted at the prep school two weeks ago.

He will report for basic training July 13 at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio. Around the middle of August, the cadet candidates at Lackland will be airlifted to Colorado Springs.

Students selected for the prep school are required to join the Air Force Reserve. Walker was to have been sworn in as a reserve Wednesday in Amarillo.

Although attending the prep school does not guarantee an appointment to the Academy, graduates are assured a greater degree of success. "To date, 90 percent of the prep schools' graduates make the Air Force Academy," Walker said.

Congressman Bob Price nominated Walker, along with five other candidates. "One of the five beat me out for the appointment," Walker said.

Recommendation by a Congressman is the main method of appointment to the Academy. A civil service exam is given to those who apply to the Congressman. Records of the top six are sent to the Air Force Academy where the top candidate is chosen through further testing.

Walker had to compete for the appointment to the prep school through still more tests. "The top 100 with the highest scores out of 500 were accepted," he said.

Students at the prep school receive intensive instruction in English and mathematics. Among the top 20 graduates in a class of 247, Walker was active in track, thespians and science. Last summer he was chosen to attend the national science foundation summer training program at the University of Texas.

Walker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Howard Walker, 121 Beach.

Academy students are chosen on the basis of academic transcripts, medical examination, test scores, personal recommendations and other reports and records indicating aptitudes and achievements.

Police Investigate Three Burglaries

Three Hereford businesses were struck by burglars over the past weekend, with only one of the burglaries being successful.

A city policeman discovered a window broken out at Warren Bros. Motor Co., 1410 Park, while he was making rounds about 2:44 a. m. Monday. Further investigation revealed that someone had rammed a 2-by-4 board about 14 inches long through the glass in a door on the west side of the office.

Nothing was found missing and damage was estimated at no more than $12. The burglary occurred between 7 p. m. Saturday and 2:44 a. m. Monday.

An attempt also was made to enter Phillips and Lawrence Texaco Service Station, 503 E. First, between 4:45 a. m. and 5:36 a. m. Sunday.

Officers said someone had broken a hole in the glass on the southwest door near the front of the station and near the inside lock. Apparently the burglars did not enter the building, officers said. Damage was estimated at $12.

Approximately $142 in cash and some checks were taken from a filing cabinet in the front office of the Hereford Laundry, 144 Schley, between 4:20 p. m. and 6 p. m. Sunday.

Police said someone had broken into the south side door during a heavy storm.

Fingerprints were looked for at all three burglary scenes and officers are continuing their investigation.

Judge Williams Has Surgery, Line On Bench

J. Edward Line, associate attorney of Cowsert and Bybee Law Offices in Hereford, was shown in as "temporary" County Judge at 1 p. m. Monday, according to County Clerk B. F. Cain.

Judge H. C. Williams had left for the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minnesota, where he underwent tests and surgery on the throat, Mrs. Williams reported.

The surgery was performed Wednesday morning and it was successful, Mrs. Williams said.

However, the judge will remain in the hospital "about five days" before he will return to Hereford and Mrs. Williams plans to leave for Minnesota to join him there today.

She said that Judge Williams is in Room 758-B of the Methodist Hospital in Rochester.

The length of time he will be away from Court could not be determined at this time, "but he should return very soon."

Line will serve as County Judge until Judge Williams returns.

Several of the committee members, with others who attended, were named as a temporary board of directors to complete formation of the theater and its board.

Ford Criticizes Clayton Action

Frank Ford, Republican candidate for the Texas Legislature has expressed sharp criticism of the tax bill introduced this week by Rep. Bill Clayton.

"This bill which would increase the state sales tax to 3 percent, remove some exemptions, and double tuition at our state supported colleges," stated Ford "does not contain any provisions for returning any tax monies to the cities or counties, where ad valorem taxes are carrying a maximum burden at present."

"Nor does the bill provide for any increased support for education and vocational training," Ford continued. "It has been my belief that any broad-based increase in taxes of this nature should be used either to strengthen local self-government by returning taxes to the local level, or provide more support for our future through better education."

"As the Clayton bill does neither of these things, I believe this is bad legislation to be proposed in this short session of the Legislature."

Ford and Clayton are opposing each other in the 72nd Legislative District, which includes Cochran, Lamb, Bailey, Farmer, Castro, and Deaf Smith Counties.

H. C. Parvin Services Held

Half-Dollars Still Scarce In Local Banks

There are no extra half-dollars coming into the Hereford banks.
Based on a report from Lubbock that near-extinct 50-cent pieces were at last beginning to show up at the banks there, it was discovered that such is not the case here.

One local teller interviewed said that she had become so accustomed to handling quarters that she would very likely give two halves in change from lack of use and force of habit.

Mrs. Dorothy Ward of the First National Bank reported that she had gotten a total of four halves in deposits since the beginning of the week. "It's still just like it always was — occasionally get one or two."

At the Hereford State Bank, Mrs. Nadine Wade said, "They may be coming back, but we haven't seen them. Some of them come in as deposits, when the people have discovered there will be no advance value on them."

Baptists Set Bible School

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q — If a man mails his draft card to Selective Service national headquarters, would he be considered delinquent by his board for not having it?

A — Where he mails (or leaves) his registration certificate is immaterial. The infraction of law is the consequence of not having it. Whether he will be processed as a delinquent by his board depends upon related circumstances.

Q — Who makes the decision that a conscientious objector will not serve on civilian duty because of a physical defect?

A — His physical acceptability is determined by the same standards applied to men who are not conscientious objectors, normally by an armed forces examining and entrance station.

Corn starch forms the base of most wallpaper adhesives.

MARRIED COUPLE — Flemming Hansen and his bride, Jytte, are shown after their April wedding in Denmark. He was the first boy exchange student to attend high school under the American Field Service program.

Past Exchange Student Weds

The Denmark wedding of Flemming Hansen, Hereford's first boy exchange student, was recently announced in a letter to his American parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Skypala, 510 McKinley.

His wife's first name is Jytte, but Hansen forgot to mention her maiden name in his letter.

He attended Hereford High School 1959-60, the first year of the American Field Service program here, and stayed with the Skypalas.

He is a product manager in a Denmark company in the same concern as Lever Brothers.

In his letter, Hansen assured the Skypalas that his April wedding was "wonderful." After the wedding, there was a dinner party for 32 guests which lasted four hours. Later, he and his wife danced to the wedding waltz to start the dancing.

The couple's new address is Nytoften 10, 2750 Ballerup, Denmark.

Commenting on Sen. Robert Kennedy's assassination in his letter, Hansen said that he was often asked if America was like that. "Of course, I answer, 'Not at all, do not judge a whole country by some few criminals,'" he wrote.

"Unfortunately, as I told you before, the common people just know America by the sensations and not by daily life."

Attorney Quizzed On Civil Liberties Union, Defense

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

An attorney in active law practice in Hereford was interviewed on specific questions involving the operation of the American Civil Liberties Union, opinions on cases involving Sirhan Sirhan, Lee Harvey Oswald and Jack Ruby, including the attitudes and problems of handling cases when appointed by the Court.

This attorney stipulated that his opinions involving specific cases should be prefaced with the statement that a lawyer must have all the facts before he can be expected to give qualified answers.

The Brand appreciates his statement and realizes that such an interview could include an element of danger (of misunderstanding) to any person in the practice of law, and asks the reader to accept this column on the basis that it was gained from a citizen in the law practice for personal not professional opinions.

Andrew Shuval, an Air Force veteran who opened his own law office for private practice in Hereford in 1965 after graduating from Texas A & M and attending the University of Texas Law School, explained that the American Civil Liberties Union (where Sirhan Sirhan has reportedly requested the services of an attorney in California since the assassination charge of Sen. Robert Kennedy has been filed against him there) is, generally, an association of lawyers and laymen who wish to uphold the Bill of Rights in the Constitution of the United States.

Shuval also explained that he is not a member of the Texas Civil Liberties Union, although he, too, champions the same Bill of Rights.

He said, "The function is to help an unpopular person receive the rights afforded him under the Constitution. This organization does not necessarily agree with the defendants in these cases. What they do is raise private funds for the defense of such a person."

Shuval said that this organization (CLU) is making efforts to "protect everybody's civil liberties. They won't take just any criminal case, only those that involve a Constitutional principle."

He pointed out that the basis of the law in the United States is built on the foundation that it would rather see a few of the guilty go free than to have one person convicted of a crime when he is innocent.

How the lawyer appointed by the California Civil Liberties Union will proceed in the case of Sirhan at this point, he offered no opinion.

(Reports indicate that four Jordanian lawyers have been chosen to take part in the defense of Sirhan, and will be joined by lawyers from other Arab countries. The four were reportedly chosen at a meeting attended by Sirhan's father in Amman. At young Sirhan's request, A. L. Wirin, Southern California counsel for the ACLU, has kept watch on the case since the Jordanian immigrant's arrest.)

He mentioned that the Civil Liberties Union defended George Lincoln Rockwell, the deceased head of the Nazi party in America, and also successfully represented a Negro boxer in his court fight to declare unconstitutional a Texas statute which prohibited a Negro from fighting a white man in the ring professionally.

"They are involved in these kinds of cases all over the country."

They also had a part in the recent capital punishment case decided by the Supreme Court, which has caused so much controversy, he said.

He pointed out that it is the lawyer's job to find the exception in the law. "Without an exception, there would be no need for a lawyer. The news media will usually support the general rule in a case, leaving out the qualifying and limiting clauses. This procedure can cause much misunderstanding by the public, because they get the wrong impression of what the Court actually said.

"A perfect example of this is the Supreme Court's ruling on praying in school," Shuval illustrated. "The Court did not rule, contrary to popular belief, that you cannot pray in school, but only that the school board or any other government body cannot write a prayer and then require that it be said in the schoolroom."

Shuval has had many cases as court-appointed attorney. He pointed out that lawyers try just as hard in such cases for their clients, but there is not always enough money available for the defense.

As illustration, he described a rape case in which he was court-appointed defense attorney in Dalhart several months ago.

"A court-appointed attorney is allowed $250 expenses in addition to his fee, which in a capital case such as this one is from $50 to $100 per day.

"In this case, I received a total of $550 for my fee — for five-and-a-half days in court. However, my expenses in defending my client, which included an investigator's fee — because my client was Spanish, a psychiatrist's fee, and other research and legal fees were much greater than the $250 allotted me for expenses. After paying my living expenses in Dalhart, I probably netted $75. I would have lost money if it had not been for the kind cooperation of Bill Hunter (the district attorney) and the judge for their understanding of the situation."

His client was convicted. But as Shuval pointed out, the issue of the trial was not whether the defendant had committed the act but whether he was sane or insane.

"If my client had had money, it would have been possible for us to have had him examined by several psychiatrists instead of just one. Psychiatrists often differ and it is quite probable that we could have gotten two or three who would have testified that the defendant was insane."

Shuval mentioned that the old saying, "The rich man does not get the chair, but the poor man does" is unfortunately true too many times.

He compared the attorney to men in other professions, who have a special pride in their work. The attorney tries extremely hard to do the task assigned him because they are dedicated to the law, he said. But the amount of money available to his client does have a great bearing on how much investigation can be done and how many experts can be brought in.

Shuval indicated, however, that 95 per cent of times where the court appoints an attorney the system works well. Moreover, he felt that the problem with the Public Defender type of defense is that the best person would not always seek the job. "It is a salaried position and a first-class man would rather earn his fees on a per-case basis."

Shuval explained that he, Bruce Miller and Cowser and Bybee Law Offices took the court-appointed cases in Hereford. And he explained that Witherspoon, Aikin, Thomas and Langley did not participate in them due to the fact that John Aikin is County Attorney, which might place the firm in opposition on various cases. "I think one gets better representation if it is spread among the different attorneys."

In the case of the late Jack Ruby, Shuval said that "it is always very difficult to second-guess other attorneys. But I feel that Melvin Bell, Ruby's attorney, asserted his own character to such a degree that he clouded the real issues in the trial.

"If I had been called upon to defend Oswald," Shuval said, "assuming that he did kill President Kennedy, it would seem to me that it would be very important to find out what was on his mind to cause him to shoot the President."

He emphasized, "Each man is an individual and each man does things for different reasons. There are no two cases that are alike. Each case is based on its own facts."

Shuval became more emphatic: "Each man has an influence for good and for evil. People today are excusing themselves instead of using that influence. They complain about light sentences given the guilty, when it is people like themselves who make these decisions — because the jury decides on both the verdict and the sentence here in Texas.

"The law can't stop you from killing your wife. The law can punish you for it, but you have already committed the act when the law comes in. But your next-door neighbor, by his example, can make you a better man. His influence and his example may prevent a killing.

"We are no longer a rural society but a complicated metropolitan society. Society demands that we as individuals act responsibly. We need people who are willing to support the police, to serve on juries without complaining, and accept the many other responsibilities that a free society demands of us. Too many of us are complaining that the other fellow is not doing his part, when we should in fact spend more time examining what more we can do."

Shuval excused himself for preaching. He said, "When you preach, you are always open to criticism that you yourself are not perfect — which is certainly true."

He went on to say: "The issue is not, Why should I obey the law if the other fellow does not."

Shuval, as are most attorneys who handle criminal cases, is often referred to as "Perry Mason." But it must be pointed out, he said, that real lawyers spend hours of preparation in their office which is never seen on T. V. They win cases by long hours of research, not by getting the witness to dramatically confess on the stand.

"Also, television tends to leave people with the impression that opposing attorneys bear personal animosity toward each other. In real life it is not unusual to see two opposing attorneys go out to dinner together after the trial is over. In court, they do their best for the client and they understand that the other attorney is doing the same."

He concluded, "Lawyers as a general rule have a great respect for the law and a love for it. One of the lawyers who recommended me for the bar was an elderly gentleman whose career in law could be compared to 30 years of honoring a beautiful woman. To me, the practice of law is like being in love. Everyday you discover new challenges and new vistas you didn't know existed."

EAST HIGHWAY 60

with the wonderful people who made up the International Parks Highway delegation from Muzquiz, Coah., enroute to Weyburn, Canada for the International meeting.

Only one member of the entourage could speak English, but with the help of Paul Abalos and others in Hereford who served as interpreters, we had a very enjoyable evening visiting with these folks. Of the four families from Muzquiz with whom we visited, two owned cattle ranches, one family was in the wholesale fruit and produce business and the other man was a wholesale shoe dealer. All were top-level; kind and gracious, and each was thoroughly enjoying the visit to Hereford. One of the families brought a niece and several of her girl friends, so the younger generation was well represented.

It's wonderful to have people like those with the Muzquiz delegacion visit our city. It would be nice to have more of these type 'good neighbor' visits.

We wonder sometimes how many people confuse revenue bonds with tax bonds? Quite a number we suspect. It's just natural to think that when the city calls for a bond issue, taxes are going to be raised. But that's not the case with revenue bonds.

—HB—
More and more people are "jogging" these days. Apparently a lot of people have come to realize that we're not getting the exercise we need in our daily endeavors, and must turn to some other method to get that exercise. Jogging seems to be the best.

One fellow was telling us however, that he had originally thought about horseback riding as a means of getting exercise and reducing. He was pretty well sold on the plan and presented it to one of the local doctors. "That's fine," the doctor said, "if you're trying to reduce the horse." Let's face it fellows — there just isn't any easy way.

HOLLYHOCKS BY THE GARDEN WALL

Yes, I'm sure that I am a bit old fashioned, because I like the old fashioned flowers so very much. One that I like especially is the Hollyhock. They are very stately and stand straight and sure, lifting their stalks bearing the lovely rose like blossoms up towards the blue skies. Indeed they add glamour and motion to the garden as they dance near a brick wall or a garden path. It has long been known as one of the great favorites in our great-grandmother's gardens, long they have grown against house and garden walls. Well, I remember them in my grandmother's garden and in my mother's garden. When we moved to our new home one of the very first plants, (for transplanting) that I selected was some of the pretty hollyhocks which my mother had planted which she grew and loved.

Four hundred years ago the hollyhock, which has been known scientifically as Althaea rosea, a member of the Mallow family, grew in English gardens. Through the years it has been grown as either a biennial or semi-perennial. It is grown in our gardens as a semi-perennial.

HOLLYHOCK is the common name for Althaea, a Greek word meaning to heal. It is closely related to the mallows. It probably grew in monastery gardens with other medicinal plants, since it was recommended for chest and stomach diseases.

The flower stalks grow to a height of 10 to 12 feet, the leaves are large, rough, and rounded-heartshaped. The flowers are nearly sessile, and are borne along leafy, hairy, main stems. Flowers are both single and double and are of beautiful pastel shades as well as red, rose, yellow, salmon or white. The leaves of this plant were used as a potherb, and the five crinkly petals of the wild-rose-like bloom (often described as frilly pinnatifid, ballerinas and just skirts) supplied dye as well as a medicine that healed many diseases.

The HOLLYHOCK was native to Syria, Turkey, and Greece, as well as China (the seed were brought from China to England from the Holy Land, later they were brought to America). The leaves of the plant were used to reduce the swelling of a person's ankle, and a horse's hock, and because of its relationship to the Holy Land, and its use for pain and swelling, the name Hollyhock was given to it. Hock, is the Saxon name for the heel, therefore healing for the heel, is connected with the history of the plant.

HOLLYHOCK like a rich, sandy soil and they like to be well fed therefore they need lots of fertilizer, they also thrive on plenty of sunshine. It is advisable to plant them in a well drained place, which has been deeply prepared, and a generous application of well rotted manure, or a well balanced plant food. It is suggested if an early bloom is wanted, the seed should be sown in late summer, if the seed is sown in the spring then the first year's growth is primarily of stalk and foliage, and blossoms will not appear until the next growing season.

The blossoms first appear at the base of the flowering stalk and as they develop, they bloom upward on the stalk, therefore there is a long blooming period. As the blossoms open and mature, they should be removed when they become darkened and dried. It is a delightful effect as the flowers appear in a lovely arrangement effect with the green leaves. The Hollyhock is pretty in that it is a different green, and blends well with walls, or old and weathered background.

The flowers are similar to the form of the carnation (the double blossoms) and are often used as floating materials in a centerpiece. They are real pretty when floated in a glass container, of an attractive color or just clear glass. Do not overcrowd, as one of the interests is the water reflection and spacing between the flowers. Some of the tight buds can be used effectively with the blooms in the arrangement, usually some of the small grey green leaves are attached to the buds thus adding a creative note to the centerpiece.

The most common insect attacking the Hollyhock is the corn borer. Termites have been known to attack the woody stalk. Plants should be dusted or sprayed at 5 day intervals, before the blooming period, which usually starts June 10th to the 15th. I would also advise if making new planting that systemic poison should be added to the prepared soil. This could also be added in the spring around the roots.

The most common disease is rust. This shows itself on the underside of the leaf by the reddish-brown rusty-spore bodies. When these first appear, pick off the affected leaves and carefully burn. Spray or dust the plant with mixtures containing copper oxide or copper oxychloride sulfate, or any other recommended spray or dust.

When the blooming cycle has been completed, cut all stalks, pick up all leaves, stems, etc., and burn. It is well to remember that the process of spraying and dusting should be started when the growth of the plant first starts in the spring. I have learned if this is done, it is a good preventive to diseases and insects.

Thanks to the hybridizers the blossoms become more beautiful in color and formation year by year and enhance the charm of homes and grounds. Many lovely and picturesque plantings are in town, and yesterday while in Amarillo, I noted a noted number of the stately beautiful Hollyhocks gracing the grounds of many gardens.

The following poem was written by my friend, who is the garden columnist of The Dallas Morning News. You will note that it is not all together old fashioned.

Hollyhocks.
The hollyhocks, sedate and tall,
Are gay against a weathered wall.
Their petal-pinafores are bright,
Their mini-length exactly right.
They look as if they choose this place
As background for their stately grace—
A picture that will always stay
With anyone who comes this way.

Nancy Richey Ranson.
Most everyone has completed their plantings for their gardens, but as added things of beauty and to be used in vacant spots the following are suggested: Joseph's coat, coleus, and foliage plants in tones of grey-silver lace Arctostaphylos, is a good selection.

Plant celosia for its heavy pink, coral or deep red flowers. (My neighbor Mrs. Mitchell and I have some nice plants growing) The celosia flower spikes are especially good for arranging, as they are lovely spike material.
Buy some of the dwarf fruit trees in containers to set in the patio or near an open door. They can later be planted in the garden. This last week I purchased a pretty small evergreen (Roburta Green) in a container will use it on the patio, with a grouping in which have included the Okinawa Dogs (Ceramic) will also use it in the fountain area. This fall will bring it in the house, and at Christmas time will have an attractive miniature Christmas tree, and then in the spring it will find a permanent home. That is, if I do not decide to make of it a Bonsai. Many possibilities with plants in containers. Last summer I used some potted roses on the patio.

Begonias thrive in semi-shade. Try a planting near bricks or rocks. They really add a boost to the garden.
Last week we attended a workshop in Amarillo for National Flower Show Judges, and during the day we visited two gardens in which succulents and cacti were the predominate plantings. It was fascinating to see the many adaptations, Agave (variegated) and Rabbit Ears, were used for accent plantings with some of the succulents and cacti. The contrasting of the greens and textures created a very pleasing effect. A beautiful blend can be created with the various greens, also the deep reds to the lighter pinks, some of which had dainty blossoms.

Some striking sculpturing effects were created with the cacti. The "Cactus Shell" (euphorbia mauritanica) has a most fascinating form with the spread as a fan. It is a dullish green, and takes little care. That is one of the nice things about cacti and succulent gardens. They require very little water, and thrive on light weight organic planting medium. They do however like a protected area. One of the ladies in whose garden we toured could name each of her plants, just like a mother naming her children, she also tends them lovingly and regularly. The husband had retired and they were sharing the garden as one of their chief hobbies.

Don't forget to make other plantings of gladioli. They can be planted until July 15th. Noted some nice quality corns in the stores last week. The late flowering glads are beautiful to combine with the fall roses, also choice colored chrysanthemums. Especially pretty with feathered or spider mums.

As I close for today and look out my window I see the gaily colored butterflies flitting about the stately Hollyhocks.... a pretty sight.

Progressive Club Meets In Museum

Life in early-day Deaf Smith County as shown in exhibits at the county museum was viewed by Progressive Home Demonstration Club members after a luncheon Tuesday marking the start of a summer vacation period.

After touring the museum, the group heard a program there on the topic, Planning For Retirement. Mrs. Tom Morgan, the speaker, said retirement comes as a shock to many people who have refused to look ahead to later years, but sensible planning can eliminate much of the hardship.

A brief business session was held during lunch at the Calson House. Mrs. H. L. Hershey was named hostess for the next meeting, in September. Each member contributed to a collection of groceries for a local family the club is aiding this year.

Mrs. Earl Clark was a guest. Others present were Mmes. Dean Stallings, Charles Gresham, J. D. Gilbert Jr., Dale Hallows, Tom Nance, Taft McGee, Pete Carmichael, Leon Coffin, Bert Coffin and Hershey.

Concerning Veterans

The current GI Bill education and training program has been in operation less than two years. Yet, nearly three quarters of a million eligible veterans and servicemen have entered school or training under this program, Jack Coker, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco reported today.

Since June 1, 1966, when the Veterans' Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966 educational provisions first went into effect, more than 701,000 veterans and 45,000 servicemen have entered training. Enrollment in school or training at the end of March 1968, stood at almost 423,000 veterans and 27,000 servicemen, Coker said.

Popularly known as the "Post-Korea" or "Third Generation GI Bill," the 1966 Act grants veterans with at least 181 days of military service (part of which was after January 31, 1955) up to 36 months of education and training benefits.

Vietnam era veterans — i.e. those with at least 181 days of service, part of which was after August 4, 1964, — and active duty military personnel with at least two years of service are included.

Nearly two-thirds — or approximately 283,000 — of the Third Generation GI Bill beneficiaries on school or training rolls at the end of March were taking college level courses. This compares with about 1 percent who entered college training under the Korean Conflict GI Bill and less than 30 percent who pursued college level courses under the World War II GI Bill.

Veterans and servicemen entered in below-college level training at the end of March totaled 155,000, with veterans accounting for nearly 8 percent of this number.

Since October 1, 1967, when on-the-job, flight and cooperative farm training were added to the Third Generation GI Bill curriculum of approved training, nearly 6,200 veterans entered on-the-job training. An additional 8,000 veterans had enrolled in flight training courses as of March 31, 1968.

Another provision of the Veterans' Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967 relating to education and training permits veterans to complete high school, while receiving educational assistance allowances from VA, without having any of their entitlement to college level training reduced.

In only six months, between last October and the end of

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Diet Is No Bugaboo

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor
Special diets are a matter of everyday living in many homes, as they are in that of the Jimmy Jesko family just south of Hereford on the Dimmitt Highway.

"SINCE WE discovered last February that our 14-year-old son, Jim Bob, is a diabetic, I've been amazed to learn how many other families have this same problem, and equally surprised at all the help there is available for planning and preparing the food he needs," pretty Mrs. Jesko says.

She is eager to share with others the information which has helped her and Jim Bob, and she hopes that perhaps an association of diabetics and their families in this county may be formed, like those she has found exist in many communities.

A neighbor of her niece in Santa Ana, Calif., Mrs. Sandra L. Smith, who is librarian for the County Diabetic Association at Santa Ana and has a diabetic son, was her first source of information after the family doctor.

SHE SENT a packet of recipes, menus planned for diabetics of various ages and with various calorie allowances, charts to be used in menu planning and pamphlets with facts about the disease, which is by no means rare in any age group.

Her son also wrote to Jim Bob and sent him a "dog tag" carrying the information that he is diabetic, so if he should become ill or be injured and taken for emergency treatment, hospital personnel and doctors would be warned to avoid any treatment which might be harmful.

There was also a list of sources of information, much of the material offered free and some at small cost. The American Diabetic Association, 188 East 48th New York, N. Y. 10017, gives information or refers questions to other sources, and has a Cookbook For Diabetics priced at one dollar.

MRS. JESKO stresses that the first thing is to consult a doctor, see him regularly for checkups and follow his instructions, as the calorie allowance must be set by the doctor after thorough tests to determine individual needs.

The doctor also must decide whether insulin is required, and whether it may be taken by mouth or by injection. Jim Bob expects to stay on a diet and continue to take insulin in order to control the disease, so he has learned to inject the insulin he needs.

"Control" is the key word for the diabetic, the Jeskos have learned. The patient simply learns to live with the disease, using the measures which control it so that he may live a normal life. School activities and a job at a drive-in keep Jim Bob busy.

WHEN HE first developed the disease the whole family shared his apprehension, his mother says, because they were facing an unknown problem. As they have learned about diabetes they have all relaxed and Jim Bob has discovered that it isn't even too difficult to drink diet pop in a crowd that is splurging on milkshakes.

It is only desserts that Mrs. Jesko usually makes with special recipes; her son can share in more foods at family meals, perhaps eating smaller portions.

The fact that many diet foods are available in supermarkets today makes it easier to vary his menus, Mrs. Jesko says. Desserts must be made with sugar substitutes. Jim Bob has experimented with various brands of the substitutes and likes one for one use, another for something else.

Dessert recipes the Jeskos have tested and approved call for sugar substitute by the brand name. Here are two they recommend:

WHITE CUP CAKES

- 2 cups SugarTWIN
  - 1/2 cup butter
  - 3 eggs
  - 1 cup milk
  - 3 cups flour
  - 2 tsp. baking powder.
- Blend all ingredients together and beat well. Bake in a moderate oven, about 250 degrees, 25 to 30 minutes.

BANANA-NUT BREAD

- 1 cup mashed ripe bananas
- 1 tablespoon Adolph's sugar substitute
- 2 eggs, well beaten

- 1 1/2 cups flour
  - 3 tsp. baking powder
  - 1/4 tsp. salt
  - 1/4 cup chopped walnuts.
- Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Sprinkle sugar substitute over bananas and blend well until dissolved. Blend in eggs. Sift flour, measure and re-sift with baking powder and salt; add walnuts and mix well. Combine flour mixture and banana mixture, blend well but do not over-mix.

Pour batter into greased loaf pan about 4x7 inches. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees; reduce heat to 300 degrees and continue baking until done, 35-40 minutes longer.

Food value per slice (20 slices per loaf): Protein 1 gram, fat 1.6 gram, carbohydrates 9.5 gram, calories 59.

THE JESKO family has lately moved to their present home from Westway. Jesko, who has been farming, is with an insurance firm.

Mrs. Jesko was born in Colorado and grew up at Flagler. She came to Hereford her junior year in high school and married before she was graduated.

"Someday I'm going back and get that diploma!" she insists.

There are seven children in the family; the oldest, Deborah, is now Mrs. George Bullard. Others are Stephen, Rebecca, Karen, Bernadette and Jennifer in addition to Jim Bob.

The five oldest were all born within five years, and Mrs. Jesko says friends now tell her they sympathized with her when she was "so overworked" with five babies.

"MAYBE I WAS just young and not smart enough to worry about them, but I never felt burdened," she laughs. "I took it for granted that babies kept one busy, but they soon learned to look after each other and even help me, and I just enjoyed them and didn't mind the extra work that I can now see I did then!"

Beverly Jesko is a member of the Parish Council of St. Anthony's Catholic Church and of Westway Home Demonstration Club, which she is serving as secretary. She makes a hobby of antique-finishing furniture and of the old-fashioned art of quilting.

From her list of sources for information on diabetes are these addresses: The Amos Co., Elkhart, Ind.; Pfizer Laboratories, New York, 17, N. Y.; Mr. John Tymkovich, Upjohn Co., 900 N. Cahuenga, Los Angeles, Cal., 90038.

Also, Education for Health, 510 Plymouth Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., 55411, will mail free a publication, The Diabetic, issued every few months, and has a book, Diabetic Cooking Made Easy, priced at a dollar. From Good Housekeeping Bulletin Service, 57th St., at 8th Ave., New York, 19, N. Y. a bulletin, Diets For Diabetics, is priced at 50 cents.

Arts and Crafts Class Needing More Students

More students are needed for the summer class in arts and crafts, open to adults and teenagers, Mrs. Bob Wert, instructor, announces. Students may still enroll, at class meetings today or next Tuesday.

Inquiries are invited from interested persons, who may come to the class meetings in Room 22, LaPlata Junior High School, at 9 a. m. today or Tuesday, Mrs. Wert says.

This class is a part of the summer instruction offered by Hereford Schools. Like an arts-crafts class conducted during the regular school term, it will give students an opportunity to make a number of costume accessories such as purses and colorful jewelry, and articles for home decoration.

Local Men To Attend Confab

Three members of St. Anthony's Catholic Church in Hereford will be attending a convention of Catholic organizations.

Edward Shilling, president of the Catholic Life Insurance Union; Leander Reinart, first vice president of the union, and William Kahlick, second vice-president of the union, are planning on attending the convention of the Catholic Life Insurance Union to be held in Corpus Christi July 19-21st.

The three-day session will include highlights such as a joint session of C. S. L. Catholic State League, and the C. L. T. U. under the leadership of Andrew Roewe, Jr. president, and Edward Dausin, grand president. A free fish fry sponsored by the fraternal insurance union at Corpus Christi Abbey will precede the moonlight cruise on SHOW BOAT in the Bay of Corpus Christi. Refreshments and dancing will be available aboard the ship.

Committee meetings, workshops, and general assemblies will occupy most of Saturday's activities. An Awards Dance (Western) for youth will conclude the day's "going's on."

Clifford Trotter Rotary Speaker

Rev. Clifford Trotter, Methodist minister of the United Methodist Church in Hereford, was the featured speaker at the noon meeting of the Rotary Club on Monday.

Rev. Trotter's topic was the United Church, and he outlined the advantages of church unity in our modern world.

"Last year, every major congregation in the United States showed a net gain in capital investment, and a net loss in participation," he said speaking to the club. "We have to get away from this sort of thing."

Trotter went on to give some of the history of the Methodist Church.

"We are a grass roots movement. Our church was organized to clean up the un-desirable ways of living in England."

The local church official recently returned from a joint meeting of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, and the Methodist Church, at which the two merged into the United Methodist Church. He presented highlights of this meeting to the club.

Entertainment was provided by the Daisies, a singing group consisting of Penny Young, Levenie Benefield and Connie Bryant.

It was also announced that there would be no meeting next Monday. Members were reminded of Ladies Night, to be held on June 28.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Meeting

The Hereford Rebekah Lodge met Tuesday night in the Odd-fellow Temple, with Mrs. A. N. Hopson acting Noble Grand.

Mrs. Zelma Waller was welcomed as a member of the Hereford Lodge by transfer from Morton Lodge, Morton, Texas.

A review of the program set up by the president of the Rebekah Assembly of Texas, for Sunday's agenda climaxes the convention with election of officers for both the Catholic State League and the Catholic Life Insurance Union.

AFTER GRADUATING FROM THE American Red Cross School of Water Safety in Sulphur Okla. last week, Kandis Hill, left, and Kathy Miller, put their talents to use by teaching children and beginners for the Red Cross Swimming program this summer.

Rioting in the streets. People suffering from a lack of proper foods. Babies dying of diarrhea and disease. Improper housing. Lack of permanent jobs. These are signs of poverty across America. The nation cries "What can we do to help?"

In Hereford poverty also exists. People suffer from lack of proper diet. Babies die of diarrhea. People live in inadequate housing. What can we do to help? There are many things and this column will tell of things that can be done and things that are being done. Let us all join in the nation's war on poverty and rid the conditions which bred riots, disease and despair. In Detroit more jobs become available to the poor. In New York people began to wash and paint the ghetto streets.

Let us in Hereford give some time and effort to help those less fortunate than ourselves and help strengthen America.

Redbirds Defeat Clarendon For Second League Victory

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

The American Legion baseball team made it two in a row last Sunday when they slipped past the Clarendon Legion team 8-5, in six innings before the game was called because of rain.

Things began looking rather bad for the home team as the Clarendon team jumped on the pitching of starter Kenny Hagar for a single and a double which resulted in a score for them. Hagar found the handle on the ball then proceeded to retire the team before any additional runs could be accumulated.

Behind the pitching of Chuck Adkins, the Clarendon squad held the Redbirds scoreless the first three innings as they continued to mount up an impressive lead. In the top of the third, the Clarendon second-sacker was given a base on a Redbird error then immediately following him was the Clarendon first baseman who unloaded for a high sailing homer which scored both of them and they took an even greater lead of 3-0.

Things finally began to fall right for the Redbirds as in the fourth frame, lead-off swinger Jim Scott slapped a single, was followed by a double by Lynn Betts and another double by Tom McGowan. This scored two quick runs for the Redbirds before an out was registered. Randy Ragan, shortstop for the locals, then followed with a triple which scored McGowan and tied the score up at 3-3 with one out.

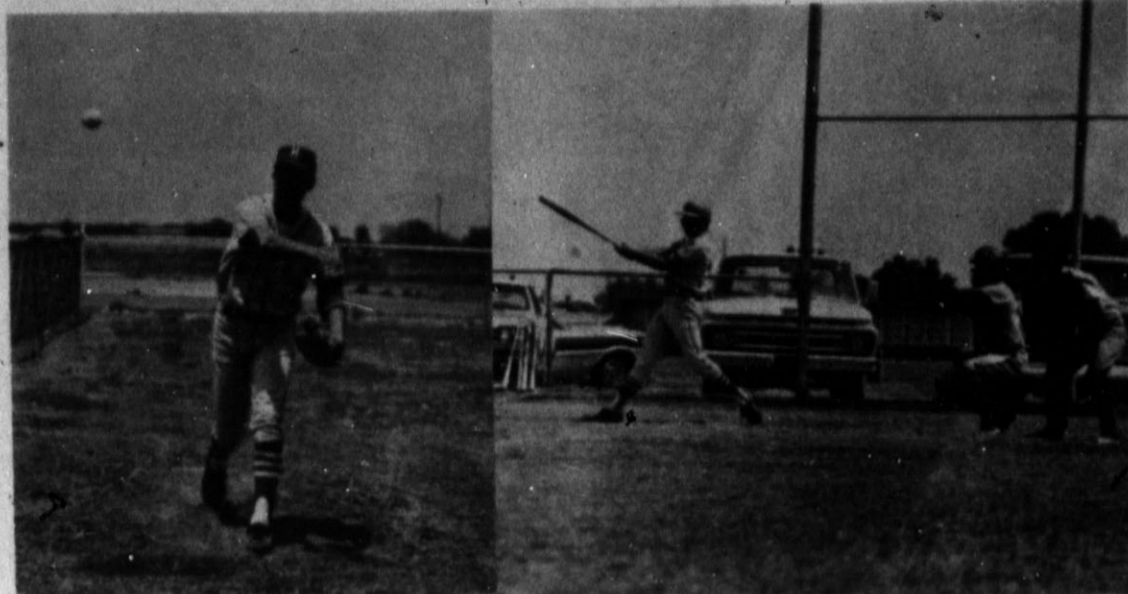

Following Ragan's triple, Sid Shaw and Berry Johnson hit back-to-back homers which gave them a permanent lead of 6-3 before the side was retired. Hagar then bore down on the opposition's batting power and retired the side with ease in the top of the fifth. The Redbirds then came to bat for the last time of the evening and added two more runs to their lead on two passed-balls on the catcher then three base on balls.

Clarendon came back in the top of the sixth to collect two runs on two singles and a couple of Redbird errors, but were stopped by rain before any more could be tallied.

This being Hagar's first starting pitching assignment of the season, he retired eight batters via the third strike while pitching the entire five-and-one-half innings. He was tagged for nine hits while walking two and hitting one with a pitch.

The Redbirds collected six hits, drew eight walks, in collecting their eight runs. Big gun for the 'Birds was Johnson as he tagged on to a triple and a homer for a two-for-four day at the plate.

Next game for the team will be Saturday, June 22 when they travel to Groom for their fourth game of the season. This game is to start at 7:30 p.m. and on the following day, the team will journey to Amarillo to play Caprock. That game is to start at 2 p.m. at the Caprock field.

EIGHT HIT PITCHING AND HOME RUN HITTING — Behind the eight hit pitching of Kenny Hagar and the power hitting of Berry Johnson, the American Legion Redbirds dealt the Clarendon team a set back Sunday. Hagar allowed the Clarendon team only eight hits while Johnson was the big gun with a triple and a homer.

Sonics Nip Astros 7-4 To Share Lead In League Play

By MARSHALL DAY
Staff Writer

After falling in the first meeting of the two Hereford Colt League baseball teams, the Sonics avenged an earlier loss as they edged the Astros 7-4 in a nine inning marathon of pitching.

Behind the pitching of starter Alan Wagner, the Astros held the Sonics scoreless in the top of the first then came back themselves to add the first run of the game on a walk and a double by Jeff Loerwald. Neither team managed a score in the second inning.

Going into the top of the third, the Sonics tied the game up for the first of three times as Donnie McDermitt connected for a home run.

The Astros jumped back a head by one run in the bottom of the third to take a 2-1 lead. Their score came as a result of two walks and a wild pitch which scored one of the runners from second.

With a single and an error, the Sonics again tied the game up in the top of the fourth at 2-2. The Astros then came back again to take the lead in the bottom of that frame on three back-to-back singles that scored one run.

Neither team managed a tally in the fifth, but the Sonics took their turn at the plate in that crucial sixth and tied the game up for the last time on two hits and two Astro errors. Scoring went blank for the next two frames of over-time.

The Sonics burst loose in the top of the ninth for four big runs that wrapped the game up for them on a double by Keith Duncan, an Astro error, and three singles. The Astros managed one run in the bottom of the ninth on a walk, two stolen bases and a passed ball on the catcher.

Keith Anderson was the starting hurler for the Sonics as he threw seven frames and was relieved by Ishmo Urias in the eighth. Urias picked up the win as Jeff Loerwald was tagged with the loss.

The Astros got their four runs on eight hits with two of these being doubles while Percy Mays also contributed a triple to the effort. The Sonics collected 11 hits with one double and one homerun to gain their seven runs.

This defeat to the Astros threw the league lead into a two-way tie for first between the two local teams, with each having four wins and one loss.

Today, Thursday, the Astros will play at Dimmitt with the game to start at 8 p.m. while the Sonics will play host to the Nazareth Braves with the ball game to start at 6 p.m. on the high school field.

Rebels Defeat St. Anthony's

Defeating the St. Anthony's team Sunday at the St. Anthony's field, set the stage for a couple of do-or-die games for the Irrigation League Rebels as they will play the two teams that have defeated them thus far this season, this coming Sunday.

Friona and the Amarillo Graham Plows are the two teams the Rebels will meet this Sunday in back-to-back games to be played on the high school field. Amarillo has defeated the Rebels on two occasions while the Friona team has defeated them once.

In the game Sunday, the Rebels jumped off to an early lead in the top of the first on two singles by Ray Martinez and Steve Hodges and a double by Gary Tucker which scored both Martinez and Hodges. The St. Anthony's team then came to bat but were put down by the pitching of Mike Ranspot on the good old one-two-three basis.

Taking a 2-0 lead into the top of the second, the Rebels, scurrying around the circuit on a series of St. Anthony errors, grabbed an even larger lead of 4-0. They collected no hits while getting the two runs. St. Anthony's then managed a score in the bottom of the second on a homerun by Goforth, to make the score 4-1 in favor of the Rebs.

Allowing the Rebs no scores in the upper half of the third frame, St. Anthony's then tied the game up on two singles, a double and a sacrifice in the bottom of that frame.

The Rebels then came back to burst ahead to stay as Ranspot, Longo Cuellar and Charlie Moreno all got hits then were pushed across the plate on other hits by Terry Hill and Robert Wagner. Scoring was all of these five players as the score read 9-4 in the fourth.

Ranspot held the St. Anthony's team scoreless the rest of the game while they themselves added one more run in the fifth on a double by Hill and another double by Wagner. The game was then called on account of rain, but after having played at least seven innings the Rebels were credited with the win.

The Rebels will now play Umbarger tonight at 8 p. m. at Umbarger, then prepare to meet Amarillo and Friona on Sunday in a double-header at the high school field. Starting pitcher for the Rebels against Umbarger tonight will be S. D. Baize.

City Olympics To Be Discussed By Local Churches

Plans to organize the first city-wide olympics are now being discussed by members of the city churches, it was announced.

Youths between the ages of 7 and 15 are to be eligible for the olympics with the younger kids to participate in less strenuous games while the older children will compete in games such as cross-country races and weight feats. The older children will organize and pick the games.

An organizational meeting for the city-wide olympics will be held Tuesday, June 25 at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center. Interested persons are urged to attend.

New York was known as New Orange from Aug. 9, 1673, when the Dutch recaptured the city from the English, until Nov. 10, 1674, when New Netherland, including the city, was ceded to England.

Big Brothers Are Seeking Workers

Persons are reminded that applications for the role of a part-time social worker are now being taken by members of the Big Brother program.

Qualifications for becoming a part-time social worker, are: must have a capacity for a close and sincere friendship without conditions; ability to control tendencies to use a relation for the fulfillment of personal needs without regard to the boy's welfare; sufficient free time to avoid conflict with work schedules and family responsibilities; self-confidence and a sense of responsibility; ability to learn from mistakes; ability to regard the boy as a person rather than a "case"; and the ability to trust others and allow the boy a degree of independence in the choices and judgments he may make.

The job of the social worker will be to serve as a "big brother" to a "little brother." A "little brother" is a boy between the ages of 8 and 17 who needs friendship, affection, advice and someone to emulate. He may be in difficulty with the law, emotionally deprived, fatherless, isolated in an institution, or just an unhappy boy in need of a meaningful male relationship. The Big Brother is a volunteer who attempts to give of himself in a way that contributes to the boy's growth and development. This service is offered under the supervision of a social worker. Supervision is directed toward helping the volunteer initiate, sustain, and strengthen a relationship with the boy.

Persons who are interested in becoming a part-time social worker, are urged to contact any member of the program. For more information, persons can contact Melvin Jayroe, president of the organization.

Ranch Is Strong On Conservation

In order to achieve better grazing distribution on their rangeland, Wayne Sifford, foreman, and Herman Sifford, general manager of the Bridwell Ranch is northwest of Deaf Smith County, have recently completed the installation of seven water storage facilities.

These were installed with technical assistance from the Soil Conservation Service. The ranch is under contract with the Great Plains Conservation Program developed in 1957 to assist the ranchers in improving their conservation program. Each of the storage tanks will hold about 7000 gallons of water which is a seven day supply for about 70 head of cattle.

Good water is scarce in that part of the country and the ranchers feel that these facilities will increase the income from the ranch through better grass use and improved management, said Arnold King, conservationist with the local SCS. The amount of gully erosion occurring on the trails to some of the old wells will be reduced and as a result more of the rainfall will be utilized.

Local Dairymen Pick Trademark

N. R. and Elwood Jones of Hereford will have the exclusive use of "No-Jo" as the prefix in naming all Registered Holsteins bred in the herd.

The use of this herd identification name has been granted by Holstein-Friesian Association of America, Brattleboro, Vermont. It becomes one of more than 48,300 officially recorded prefixes in the Association's files.

By reserving a prefix, a Holstein dairyman establishes a "trade mark" which is used in all published information concerning the performance of his cattle. It becomes the first part of the name of every animal bred in the herd.

The origin of prefix names of ten stems from farm names, family name combinations or unique geographical or historical features of the farmstead. Members of the immediate family of the person for whom the prefix is recorded may also be allowed to use the prefix when the herd is a single unit.

New Approach In Irrigation Eyed

Efficient and economical tailwater return, a matter of pressing concern to Plains area irrigation farmers, is being tackled with a new approach in a north Lamb County experiment.

Donnie Clayton, farming just west of Springlake, has installed an experimental facility which will be closely watched for a three-year test period. Co-operating in record keeping and analysis is the High Plains Water Conservation District. Anticipated advantages in this type of an institution includes keeping the top soil which collects in the pit as silt in suspension to be pumped back on the land.

Essentially, the experimental system is built around a partially-buried 4,600-gallon steel tank.

The tank is of compact dimensions: 7 feet diameter and 14 feet depth. Pumping power is furnished by a three-phase, 15-horsepower electric motor. The pump has a 500 gallons per minute (gpm) capacity, with a capability of being reduced down to 100 gpm as the inflow decreases.

Clayton is using an automatic electrode on the motor for cut-off and starting, and has installed a manual flap valve for backwashing should it become necessary.

Tailwater from two 8-inch wells is channeled into the tank where it is rapidly and automatically returned through a half-mile of 6-inch underground pipe to be used again.

Observations on the project will be on a continuing basis, with the Water District keeping records and compiling data which will be made available to area farmers.

The District long has taken leadership in water conservation including tailwater utilization, and has made its findings public in an effort to focus more and more attention on the numerous problems of safeguarding the remaining water supply.

Frank Emerson Takes Post With Gas Company

Starting June 1, Frank Emerson, 32, became Peoples New Agri-Engine customer service man for the North Plains.

Emerson's duties include supervision of Agri-Engine installations and metering, and test pumping of irrigation wells to determine proper engine sizes.

Originally from Hobart, Oklahoma, the new engine man is more recently from Sunray; Guymon and Goodwell, Oklahoma. Emerson's wife Shirley is from Goodwell and they have two children, ages eight and nine. Graduating from Sunray High School in 1954, Emerson attended Panhandle A&M at Goodwell.

A previous employee of Northern Natural Gas Company, Peoples' parent company, Emerson was responsible as an oiler, stillman and relief operator. He was more recently a Justice of the Peace at Hobart.

New Wheat To Be Shown Today

A new variety of wheat called "Sturdy" will be shown to the public during a wheat field day at 3 p.m. today by Darrel Dirks and Truman Ragan, who farm northwest of Hereford.

Dr. Kenneth Porter, agronomist at the Bushland research center and one of the developers of the new variety, will be on hand to list the advantages and disadvantages farmers may find in using the Sturdy wheat.

Described as a short straw variety, the Sturdy is usually 31 to 34 inches in height. County Agricultural Agent Justin McBride said the variety was developed primarily for high fertility and maximum irrigation, conditions where lodging has been a problem with other varieties.

"The Sturdy will yield favorably with other varieties under these conditions," stated McBride.

The new variety is not recommended in dryland or minimum

NEW VARIETY INSPECTION — A new wheat variety called "Sturdy" gets the once over. Truman Ragan, right, and Darrel Dirks, second from left, have new variety planted on their farm west and north of the city. James Gouddy, local Farmers Home Administration manager, second from right, and County Agricultural Agent Justin McBride look over the wheat.

Lewis Poarch Home On Leave

Lewis A. Poarch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Poarch of 213 Fuller, Hereford, has been home on a 14-day leave from the Navy.

Poarch is a 1966 graduate of Hereford High School. He has been in the Navy since December 1966.

He has served a 6-month tour of duty off the coast of Vietnam in 1967, and will leave for a 2-year tour of duty in July for parts of the Pacific, which will again include Vietnam.

Poarch is assigned to a Naval destroyer, the USS Henry W. Tucker, which is now stationed at Long Beach, California.

Baseball bats are made from the northern white ash. Its wood has the right hardness, resilience and weight. Second-growth trees with a diameter of 12 to 15 inches make the best bats because their wood is more resilient than that from larger, older trees.

"We, the People," the popular guidebook of the U. S. Capitol published by the United States Capitol Historical Society, has been translated into French, German, Italian, Portuguese and Spanish.

How To Keep Farms Going Will Be Topic Of FHA Meeting

How to check the flow of rural people into urban centers will be discussed at a regional meeting of the Farmers Home Administration, to be held June 25-28 in St. Louis, L. J. Cappelman, Texas State Director for the agency said today.

Texas officials attending the meeting will include Mr. Cappelman, John O. Barnes, Assistant State Director, L. D. Smith, Rural Development Specialist, Arnold H. Paul, Executive Officer, J. C. Hayes, Assistant to State Director — Farm Management, J. D. McKenzie, Chief, Operating Loans, and W. E. Lawson, Chief, Community Services.

Agency leaders representing 18 states will attend.

Cappelman said that the Farmers Home Administration will loan about $1.3 billion during the coming year to create jobs in rural America, improve rural housing, strengthen family farms, develop needed rural community facilities.

"The main drive in all Farmers Home Administration programs is to strengthen the economy of rural America, to make it a place that will attract rather than repel people," Cappelman said.

He estimated that 4 million people would benefit from the services of the Farmers Home Administration is fiscal 1969.

The Farmers Home Administration through 1,600 county offices located in rural areas in all states provides development credit accompanied by management aid. Funds advanced by the agency are used to help low-income rural families obtain needed resources and raise their incomes, and to help disadvantaged rural communities obtain modern community facilities.

As of December 31, 1967, the agency reported losses of less than one percent on funds advanced through current programs.

Loans outstanding total $4.2 billion.

The greatest distance between any two points in the United States is the 5,850 miles from Elliott Key, Fla., to Hawaii's Kure Island.

Barley Yield Is Pleasing To Andrew Kershen

A search for a crop to plant behind milo in the fall and wheat in the winter has apparently paid off for Andrew Kershen as a barley crop harvested last week yielded 108 bushels an acre.

The new variety, called W11 Barley, comes from the Oklahoma State University experiment station, explained Kershen. It had a 51 test weight average, while the usual average is 48.

Kershen said the barley harvested Thursday was planted on about 18 acres in September, while another patch was planted about Christmas time. It was watered in January.

Although he is pleased, Kershen said he did not know whether the test was a good one or not since the past January "was the nicest one we've ever had."

Last year the price for barley was $1 a bushel, while this year it has been 96 cents a bushel. Kershen has contracted with the Hereford Grain Corporation for his grain, with Holly Feed Yards expected to buy all of the grain for its feeding operations.

Kershen farms about 5 miles west of Hereford.

Wheat Harvest Begins In Area

The wheat harvest began in the Hereford, Farwell and Dimmitt areas Monday, according to Farm Labor Bulletin of the Texas Employment Commission.

Above average yields still are predicted by the Wheat Harvest Control Office, with no shortage of men and machines expected.

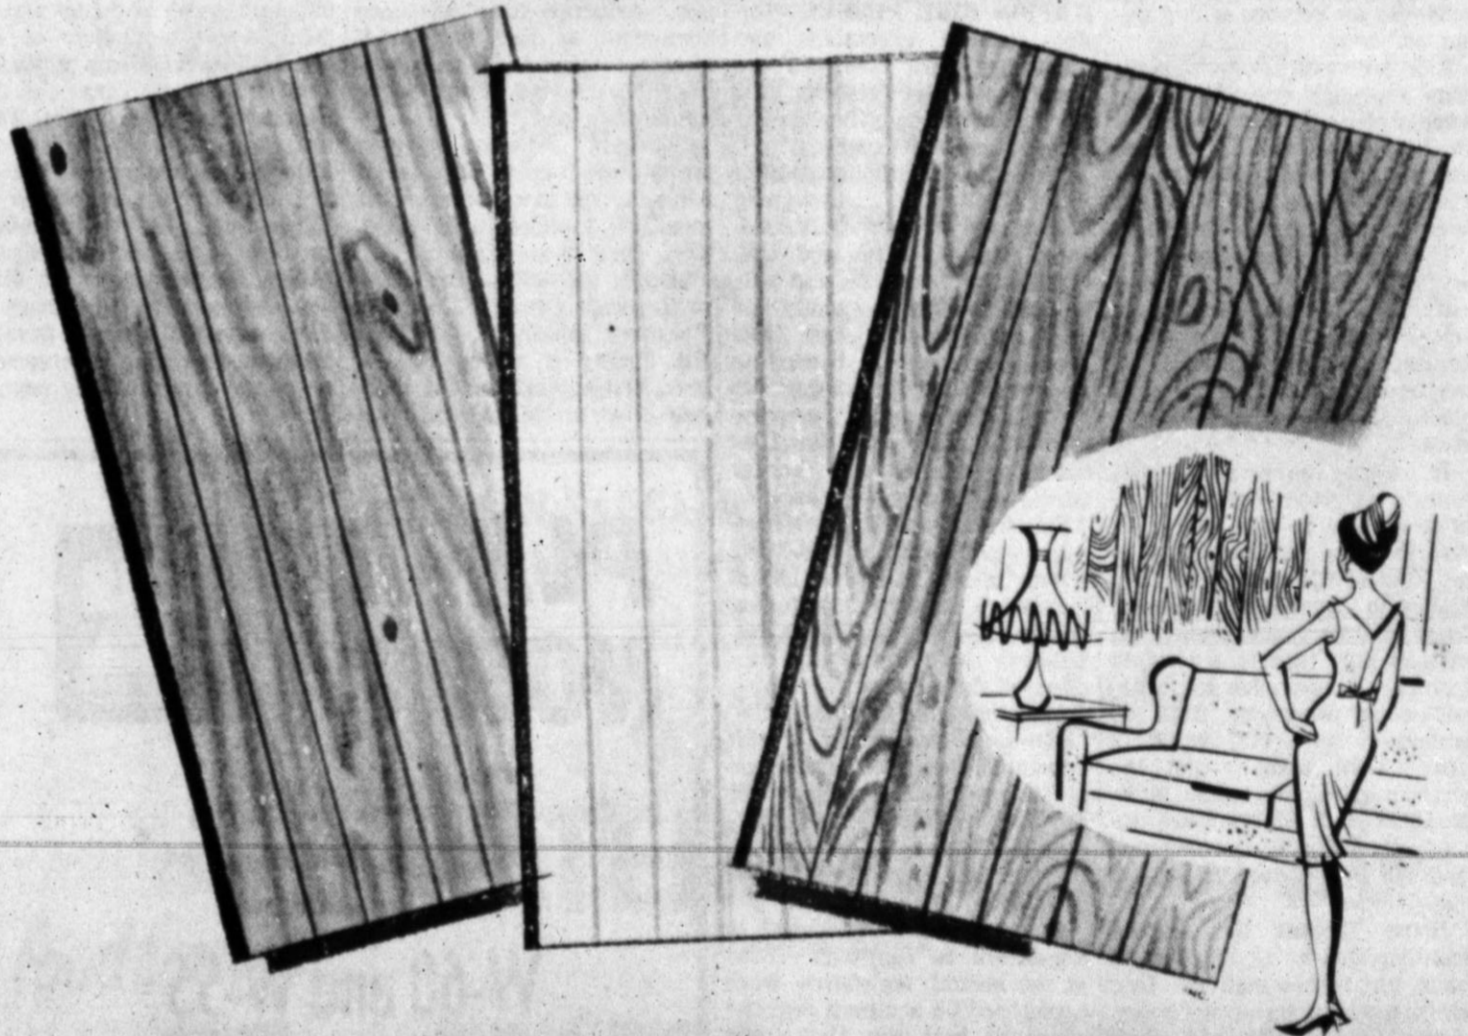

Texas wheat production, based on June 1 prospects, is forecast at 89,397,000 bushels, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. "This is unchanged from the May 1 forecast, but 68 per cent above a year ago. The yield is expected to average 21.5 bushels per acre, compared to 16 bushels a year earlier."

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Mini-Bottle Liquor-Bill Has The Capitol Spotlight

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN—This is a crucial week for the special session of the Legislature which, as expected, neared the half-way mark without coming to grips with any major assignments.

House members were due to face up to Gov. John Connally's "small bottle" liquor-by-the-drink bill early in the week, followed closely by a vote on a $2,500,000 budget for 1969 state governmental operations.

The mini-bottle liquor-bill was voted out of the House State Affairs Committee, but only after one of the most confusing bouts of legislative, in-fighting history.

Two "wets" held critical positions. They voted for the bill on the second day of the committee debate after opposing it throughout the preceding day.

First, Rep. James Clark of Dallas captured the spotlight when he switched his vote from pro to con during the initial day's debates. Clark had offered amendments to the bill which were defeated by the committee.

Then, late in the afternoon, Clark started voting with the "drys" saying the legislation was an impossible "hodgepodge of legal gobbledegook."

But the next morning Clark voted for the bill, as did another "wet opponent, Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio.

Both men indicated they had received assurances from the authors of the bill that their amendments would be given favorable consideration on the floor of the House if they would just help get the bill out of committee.

Clark and Johnson both want liquor-by-the-jigger legislation instead of liquor in two-ounce mini-bottles as provided in the governor's bill. But they said they would go along with the little bottles if they could secure certain other changes in the law.

They want at least three provisions added:

1. An amendment to outlaw the practice of legislators representing clients in cases before the Texas Liquor Control Board.

2. A provision doubling the license fees for persons selling liquor and beer.

3. A provision requiring complete financial disclosure by holders of beer and liquor licenses. This is aimed at stopping the practice of juke box operators making loans to tavern operators at high interest rates.

With these assurances from the bill's authors, Clark and Johnson would seem to be in a strong position to make their demands be met but margin on the House floor appears very close, and the Senate even closer.

In case of failure of the governor's tax proposals, tied largely to a raise in the sales tax rate to three per cent with 75 per cent of the new income refunded to incorporated cities on basis of their populations—lawmakers may turn to a straight increase in the sales tax without refund provisions. Both the governor's bill ($127,200,000 a year total taxes and the straight sales tax raise ($150,000,000 annual yield) were reviewed by the House Revenue and Tax Committee and sent to sub-committee.

House Speaker Ben Barnes has indicated he would like to have his representatives face all three major issues of the session — taxes, budget and liquor by-the-drink — by the end of the week. That would leave less than two weeks for Senate action and final reconciliation of differences in conference committees.

STATE CONVENTIONS—Two Texans will go to the national political conventions as favorite son candidates for president: Governor Connally for the Democrats and Sen. John Tower for the Republicans.

Both won their honors overwhelmingly in state party conventions.

Both also are being mentioned prominently as prospective candidates for vice presidential nomination, although they deny they seek or expect places on the national ticket.

Connally and the moderate-conservatives proved they still are in firm control of the State Democratic party machinery when they crushed liberal opponents 2,835 to 499 on the favorite son resolution at their state meeting in Dallas.

All 104 Texas delegates to the Democratic convention in Chicago, August 26, are bound to support Connally under the unit rule until he releases them — which is expected to be early — in favor of Vice President Hubert Humphrey. It is doubtful there are any supporters of Sen. Eugene McCarthy on the delegation.

Republicans shouted four-to-one approval of the Tower favorite son resolution, and instructed their 56 delegates to Miami Beach for the August 5-8 national GOP convention to back him "until released after consultation" among the group.

While most of the Republican delegation is believed to favor Richard Nixon for the presidential nomination, an estimated 12 to 16 prefer California Gov. Ronald Reagan. Reagan boosters, catching the majority by surprise at the Corpus Christi convention, forced through a resolution commending the actor-turned-governor on his administration and his "constructive influence on national affairs," and urging him to take a more active role in national GOP politics. There were no backers of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller among the Texas delegates.

Texas Democratic leaders polled in Dallas acknowledged a race between Nixon and Humphrey would be too close for comfort.

TUITION HIKE PUSHED—Top state college executives and governing board members are pushing hard for doubling the $50 per semester tuition fee at colleges and universities.

Committee of State College and University Governing Boards and Council of President of State Colleges and Universities by resolution and public statements have jointly endorsed the increase. They claim revenue is urgently needed to close the $21,400,000 gap between higher education requirements in seven areas (such as teaching salaries and library needs) and funds foreseeable.

Tuition boost to $100 per semester would bring in $20,000,000 a year in new revenue. Liberal legislators already are tuning up for a fight against the raise. Tuitions have remained unchanged since 1957.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED—Lt. Gov. Preston Smith appointed Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells chairman of the Senate Water and Conservation Committee, succeeding the late Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

Governor Connally named 10 legislators to represent Texas at the annual legislative work conference on southern regional education here July 11-12. They are Sens. Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo, Jack Hightower of Vernon, Bill Moore of Bryan and J. P. Word of Meridian, Rep. A. C. Atwood of Edinburg, Bill Barton of Borger, Don Cavness of Austin, David Crews of Conroe, Bill Finck of San Antonio and James Slider of Naples.

COURTS SPEAK—State Supreme Court set July 10 for review of a labor union's appeal from an injunction against picketing construction near Orange.

High court refused to order Regulatory Loan Commissioner Francis S. Miskell to issue Beneficial Finance Company license for its 61st Texas office.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin intervened to defend an 89-year-old Texas law against demonstrations which block a private business' activities. Challenge of law was filed in federal court by students who have picketing an Austin service station.

Court of Criminal Appeals refused to rehear the appeal of a Houston attorney who was convicted of encouraging an illiterate client to lie in court testimony. Attorney got six-year prison sentence.

STATE PAY—Members of the Attorney General's staff are meticulously studying a recent U. S. Supreme Court decision which requires states to pay the federal minimum wage at state schools and hospitals.

State of Texas currently is paying the minimum wage, but requirements for paying overtime could call for $14,000,000 more in state expenditure.

DEATH PENALTY—Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston has asked Governor Connally to open the special session of the Legislature for consideration of a bill that would do away with the death penalty.

Schwartz would prefer to provide for a life sentence that lasts until the inmate's death without any provision for parole.

He argues that a recent Supreme Court ruling makes the death penalty impossible now anyway. High court's opinion held that persons who do not believe in the death penalty may not be excluded from juries in capital cases. Otherwise lopsided decisions are possible.

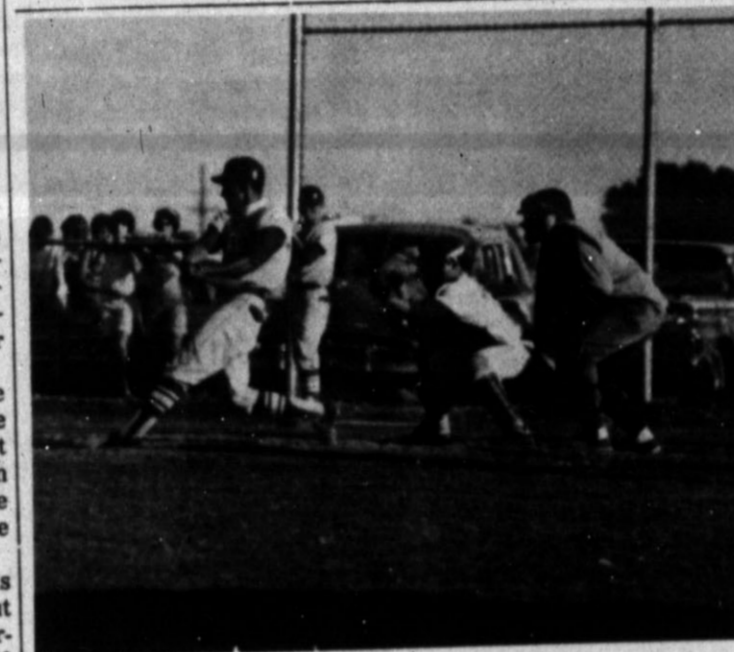

PHONE TAX—Sen. Bill Patman of Ganado assailed Governor Connally's recommended tax reduction for telephone companies as the "most indefensible special interest proposal brought before the Legislature in years."

Patman's objection centers on the fact that the Governor is asking at the same time for tax increases, through the sales tax, from other businesses.

SHORT SNORTS—In response to Governor Connally's request, President Johnson has declared Hill County a major disaster area and authorized $250,000 to help clean up May flood dam-

By SUE COLEMAN
If you have time on one of these perfect summer mornings that we are having now, you can entertain yourself by just driving around town, on any residential streets. SHORT OF TIME just out on errands, lately I've seen things like bunches of youngsters with a now-school's out air, drifting from one yard to another in search of that perennial vacation goal, "something to do"... Bill Devers energetically mowing his lawn... an elderly couple surveying their flower beds, the woman wearing a pink-flowered blouse gayer than anything they could grow... Evelyn Hacker driving toward town at a leisurely rate that indicated she was taking time to look at the handsome yards on Star Street... a couple of women sitting at ease among the merchandise at a garage sale, with several youngsters and a small dachshund playing around... A little girl in an orange playsuit dawdling alone at a rope swing under a tree, returning with instant friendliness a smile from a passerby... Dorothea Prowell making an excursion into her front yard to move a water hose or some such chore... A boy about Junior High size marshaling equipment for a window washing job, attired in a much-faded football jersey with big red numerals, 69, on the back... Three boys of assorted sizes, the middle-sized one carrying a carton of pop, crossing Park Avenue from a grocery store, herded carefully by the biggest boy... crowds of kids splattering the water in the swimming pool as instructors on the edge gesture instructions, a daily sight... And what on earth are they doing to the lawn at Community Center?... hope that big plow-up is for an improvement and not an extension to the parking lot... Mrs. G. W. Newson grooming the roses that make such a beautiful display in her front yard... of course it's treason to say so, but aren't the bindweed blooms pretty?

NOT SUCH A pleasant sight, which brought me to a jolting stop on one street, was a toddler on a kiddy-car who calmly ambled out into the street just in front of me. He was too young to know better, but was in a crowd of about half-a-dozen youngsters who were big enough to know the danger and presumably were "taking care" of him. Some of them idly watched him, evidently confident that the car would be stopped before it hit little brother. Of course it was, but somebody could have come around a corner too fast to stop in time. It always bothers me that people permit their children to play in any street; there may be excuses in cities so crowded there is no other play space, but that certainly isn't true of Hereford. HAVE YOU NOTICED that the parents who seem most vocal about frowzy clothes affected by hippies, are the ones who as teenagers back in the 1940's were leaders in the fads for wearing sloppy Joes and torn T-shirts?

RADIO CLUB MEETING
Due to a conflict in scheduling the Hereford Amateur Radio Club will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight instead of Tuesday as was planned. The meeting will be held in the Chamber of Commerce office. Mexican artist Juan O'Gorman painted a 130-foot mural adorning the facade of the Convention Center Theater at HemisFair '68.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. 9th Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q - My neighbor's son has stated he will not comply with his order to report for induction. If he is convicted for such offense and serves a prison term, will he then be free of his obligation to serve in the Armed Forces?

A - No. The Military Selective Service Act of 1967 provides that "any registrant who has failed or refused to report for induction shall continue to remain liable for induction and when available shall be immediately inducted."

Q - Do I understand correctly that an alien can avoid military service in the United States if he makes a request to that effect?

A - An alien who has not been admitted to the U.S. for permanent residence but who has remained in the U.S. for a period exceeding one year, may, prior to his induction, file with his board an "Application by Alien for Relief from Training and Service in the Armed Forces." Any alien making such application is thereafter debarred from becoming a citizen of the United States.

Q - What is a I-W classification, and to whom is it given?

Concerning Veterans

Q - I am interested in the new Modified Life plan of government insurance I have been reading about. I now hold $10,000 of government insurance.

those men who, as conscientious objectors, are performing civilian work contributing to the maintenance of the national health, safety, or interest, in accordance with the order of their local boards.

Where can I get more specific information about the Modified Life plan?

A - Write to the Veterans Administration Regional Office where your records are held or to the VA insurance office (Philadelphia or St. Paul) where your premiums are paid. Ask for a copy of VA Pamphlet 29-22 which discuss the benefits of this plan.

Q - I read recently that the Post-Korean G. I. Bill is two years old. I got out of service in 1965 after four years in the Army. Am I eligible for education and training benefits under this bill? If so, how long do I have before my entitlement expires?

A - First, and most important, you are eligible for education and training benefits under the Post-Korean G. I. Bill. This third generation G. I. Bill was enacted for veterans who served for at least 180 days consecutively in the Armed Forces, some of which was after Jan. 31, 1955.

Since you were released from active duty between Jan. 31, 1955, and June 1, 1966, your eligibility for VA education and training assistance runs until May 31, 1974. Veterans discharged since June 1, 1966, when the Post-Korean G. I. Bill education

Miss Johnson Is Girls State Officer

Anna Jane Johnson of Route 4, Box 182, Hereford, a Citizen of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State now in progress in Austin at Saint Edwards University, was elected as Nationalist Party Nominee for Commissioner Place 4 Me County in an election.

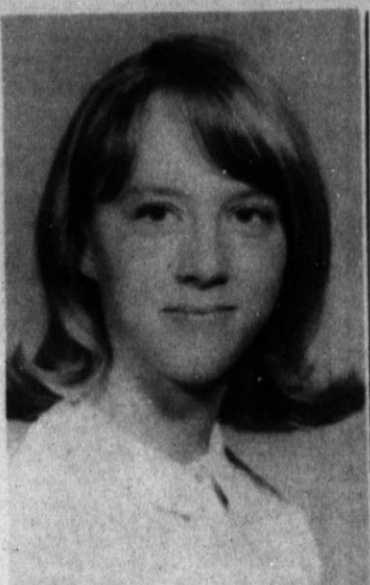

She is the daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Emmett Johnson and was sponsored to Girls State by the local American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 192.

Girls State was organized as a National Americanism activity in 1937 by the American Legion. Non-partisan and non-political, the purpose of the Girls State program is to provide citizenship training for girls of high school age, to afford them an opportunity to live together as a self-governing group and to inform them of the duties, privileges, rights and responsibilities which they will assume when they become adults. They learn the problems of government by performing the same duties as real office holders in the everyday world.

The 1968 session of the American Legion Auxiliary Bluebonnet Girls State has grown from an experimental conference of 94 girls, held at Baylor University in 1941, to become the largest single extracurricular educational program for high school girls in Texas. This year, 420 girls are in attendance making a total of more than 8,000 girls in Texas who have participated in this top-level citizenship program. Citizens are selected at local levels principally on a basis of character and leadership from students who have just completed their junior year in high school. Since 1963, two Citizens from Mexico City have attended the session each year.

Associate Justice Meade Griffin of the Texas Supreme Court will administer the oath of office to the various elected state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State Monday, June 17, in the Rotunda of the State Capitol. The Honorable Ben Barnes, Speaker of the House of Representatives, will be the principal speaker.

Climaxing the session will be the selection of the two outstanding citizens of 1968 who will be sent to Girls Nation in Washington, D. C. There the two young representatives will continue their study in the responsibilities of the Republic. The election of a President of Girls Nation will highlight the Girls Nation program.

Diana Lynn Hickman on vacation

Student At Home From Virginia

Miss Diana Lynn Hickman, who has completed studies as a high school junior at Fairfax Hall school for girls in Waynesboro, Va., is here to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Hickman, 814 Avenue K.

Miss Hickman will be employed as a life guard at the city swimming pool during her vacation. She has attended Fairfax Hall three years, after elementary and junior high school years in Hereford schools.

This week she is on the chartered bus trip with Rainbow Girls of Hereford to a state meeting in Corpus Christi. Earlier, she had as a house guest Miss Lyndana Amthor, whose home is in San Salvador, capital city of the Central American country of El Salvador.

A weekend guest in the Hickman home was Ascel Mohamed Shaheed, a freshman pre-med student at West Texas State College whose home is in British Guiana. He has been teaching school and working as a surveyor in the Bahamas the past two years.

Lately-Married Couple Make Home In Hereford

Mr. and Mrs. David McDonald are at home in the Lynette Apartments after a short trip following their recent marriage in Temple Baptist Church. Mrs. McDonald was Miss Carolyn Scarborough before the ceremony conducted by the Rev. J. L. Bass, pastor of Farwell First Baptist Church.

single stem of white gladiola. A wedding reception was held in First National Community Room. Misses Darla Underwood, Sharon Barker and Nell Wood, all classmates of the bride in Dimmitt High School last term, served refreshments and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Debbie McDonald, registered guests.

White cutwork linen covered the table where the wedding cake, topped with bride-and-groom figurines and ornamented with daisies, was served with punch.

For travel the bride changed to a navy and white knit dress with navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

She was a member of Future Homemakers of America and the Pep Club at Dimmitt High School. The bridegroom, now employed as salesman with Hereford Janitor Supply, attended West Texas State University after graduation from Hereford schools in 1966.

Out-of-town wedding guests included the Dan McDonalds and Mrs. Sarah Payne of Muleshoe, the Johnny McDonalds of Farwell, Lt. Col. Robert Anderson and family of Albuquerque, the Henry Scarboroughs of Petersburg and the J. J. McDonald family of Friona.

Veiled women of Sanaha, the capital of Yemen, won the right to attend movies on two days of the week, but police guard the theater to keep out men and boys over 6. The women must be back in the harem before sunset.
