Schools Receive Second Top Rating

Hereford Independent School District received its second rating within a week and has set a special meeting of the Board of Trustees at 3 p.m. Monday to discuss the sale of $750,000 in bonds, recently approved by the voters here.

At the same meeting, superintendent Johnny Clark Jr. said that the board would look over better drafts of new elementary school plans than were received for their last regular meeting.

Bob Davis of Columbian Securities Corporation of Texas in Amarillo and financial advisor for the schools here, received the information Thursday morning that Standard and Poors had placed the school system here in an AA rating. Earlier in the week, Davis had reported that the Moody Investment Company had raised its rating of the schools here from an A to A-1.

Standard and Poors' AA rating places Hereford with metropolitan areas, in the same bracket with Amarillo, Houston and Dallas, Davis said.

Clark pointed out the ratings as important to school bonds. "When bids are placed on the bonds, the bidder looks at the rating. It represents a substantial savings in the interest costs to the school district. We have figured that these ratings will save us from $40,000 to $50,000 over a period of 15 years," he said.

Clark reviewed visits last year by representatives of both Standard and Poors and Moody, including an air tour of the Hereford area. He said they were "very impressed with everything they saw here" and all these things had a bearing on the ratings received. He credited the people of Hereford for creating the good impression the representatives gained here.

The elementary school bond, in the amount of $600,000 is earmarked for a building planned for opening in the fall of 1969 in the South Hereford section. In the same issue is $150,000 bond for football stadium improvements. But officials say that stadium plans will not be studied until after approval of the school plans.

Revenues Up In Justice Court

A combination of growth in the city and increased law enforcement strength has caused a considerable increase in money paid to the Justice of the Peace office at the Deaf Smith County Courthouse.

Earnest Wade stated Thursday that money paid into his office for fines and small claims had reached $51,898.80 in the first 10 months of this year, as compared to $39,303.97 for the entire year in 1967.

Wade pointed out that the large increase has been due to the continued city growth, more Highway Patrolmen being stationed here, addition of two new sheriff's deputies and a Liquor Control Board agent here.

A breakdown of money paid into the JP office in 1967 was presented by Judge Wade. It includes January, $1,843; February, $1,730.82; March, $2,015; April, $2,766.60; May, $2,101.50; June, $2,195.75; July, $3,194; August, $5,110.50; September, $4,552; October, $5,387.50; November, $5,368; and December, $3,049.50.

Thus far in 1968, the figures include January, $2,688.25; February, $4,073; March, $3,104; April, $5,261.0; May, $5,576; June, $4,786; July, $6,659.50; August, $5,361.55; September, $6,327; and October $7,782.50, the highest month on record at the office.

trucks you see going to or from the plant or the railroad cars waiting on the tracks. When this photo was taken Saturday morning, there were an estimated 50 trucks of various shapes and sizes at the plant site. — Staff Photo

Students, Faculty To Get Holiday

Local schools will dismiss at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday for the Thanksgiving holidays, school officials have announced. Classes will resume Monday, Dec. 2 at the regular class time.

Dates Set For District Court

Several cases will be heard at the next session of action in 69th District Court set for Dec. 9. The Deaf Smith County Grand Jury will meet next on Dec. 18.

Time To Inspect Autos

Ten official auto inspection stations have been designated for Hereford by the Texas Department of Public Safety for the 1969 vehicle inspection period now in progress.

Those stations for Hereford include Kemp Auto Repair, East Highway 60; Kinsey-Orsborn Motors, 142 N. Miles; McRight Garage and Supply, 642 E. Second; Orval Watson Ford, 200 W. First and Orsborn Chevrolet-Olds, 211 N. Schley.

Others include Pennys Auto Center, Sugarland Mall; Hereford Radiator, 120 Schley; Enco Service Center, 403 N. 25 Mile Ave.; Dishman-Hale Chrysler-Plymouth, 345 E. First; and Beavers Motor Company, 302 E. Third.

Texas DPS officials anticipate that more than six million vehicles to receive the compulsory inspection prior to the April 15, 1969 deadline.

All motor vehicles registered in the state are required by Texas law to have inspected, the brakes, lighting equipment, horns and warning devices, mirrors, windshield wipers, front seat belts in vehicles where seat belt anchorages were part of the manufacturer's original equipment on the vehicle, steering (including power steering) and wheels and rims (not to include removal of the wheel from the vehicle).

Trailers, semi-trailers, pole trailers or mobile homes having a loaded gross weight in excess of 4,000 pounds, will require special inspection provisions. The minimum fee is $1.75 and does not include the cost of repairs or adjustments necessary to enable the vehicle to pass inspection.

Last year, in Deaf Smith County, there were some 12,390 vehicles inspected.

The new vehicle inspection sticker will be a two and one-half inch square replica of a DPS patrolman's badge with red background. Motorists are urged to have their vehicles inspected as early as possible for the 1969 year to insure that they are safe for fall and winter driving.

Six pastors of other Hereford churches will participate in the service, which will include special music.

"Now Thank We All Our God" will open the service with Mrs. Sharon Cramer at the organ. Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, will then deliver the call to worship. The Spiritual Swingers of the First Baptist Church will offer a musical selection.

The Rev. Heine will offer the responsive reading. Mrs. Cramer will follow with "Praise to the Lord."

FMCS Schedules No Future Meets For Strikers

The Dallas office of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service reported Friday that no further wage negotiations are scheduled between Missouri Beef Packers Inc. and its employees at Friona, according to company spokesman Clark Kooles.

The employees are represented by the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America.

Negotiations between the company and the union commenced in August and have continued until recently. The Federal Mediation Service has been trying to assist in the solution of the labor dispute since shortly before the employees went on strike on Oct. 17, 1968, but no additional talks are now scheduled, the Dallas office reported.

Commissioner Ed Koenig reportedly stated that "it appears that the company (Missouri Beef Packers) has already made its final offer and there is no sound purpose to be served by scheduling meetings (with the union officials and employees)."

Tuesday Night Meeting Is On Charity Clinic

The possibilities of a charity clinic in Hereford will be discussed during a meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Hereford Community Center.

According to Dr. C. E. Rush, "members of the medical community believe that a more wide spread interest is mandatory in order to meet the needs of the largest number of individuals in our community."

"A rather unilateral approach to the problem has been made in the past by Dr. Lena Edwards and has been carried forward and matured by the Catholic Church," explained Dr. Rush. "The medical profession is indeed indebted to these dedicated individuals for their concern."

"We believe, however, that a more wide-spread understanding of the problem, and with it, a responsibility for the care of these individuals is needed," he stated.

Methodist To Convene Here

Between 400 and 500 lay leaders, ministers and other representatives of 33 area Methodist churches are expected here Monday for the annual district conference of the United Methodist Church.

The First United Methodist Church, 501 N. Main Street, will be scene of the conference, which will begin at 4 p. m. with a reception honoring Bishop Alsie Carleton and Mrs. Carleton of Albuquerque, N. M. Bishop Carleton, a native of Floydada, is presiding over the Northwest Texas Conference and New Mexico Conference, having been elected in June of this year.

The reception, to be held in the church parlor, will be hosted by Rev. Clifford Trotter, pastor of the First United Methodist Church; Mrs. Trotter; Mrs. S. L. Garrison of Hereford, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service; Dr. Charles Lutrick of Amarillo, District Superintendent, and Mrs. Lutrick. All interested persons are invited to the reception.

A business session will follow at 5:30 p. m., and dinner will be at 6:30 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Another business session will begin at 7:30 p. m. and worship service is scheduled to begin at 8:30 p. m. Dr. Lutrick will preside over the business sessions, and Bishop Carleton will be in charge of the worship service.

Special music for various services will be furnished by choirs of the Hereford church. Robert M. Wert, minister of music, said choirs participating will include the Wesley Singers, a junior high girls choir; the Ladies Handbell Choir and the Sanctuary Choir.

One of the principal areas of study included on the agenda for Monday's meeting is a renewal of the church in light of the recent merger of the Methodist Church and Evangelical United Brethren (EUB) into the United Methodist Church. Those participating in the business sessions will study the implications of the merger, which took place in April.

There also will be a dialogue on the subject from the standpoint of the ministry by Dr. Lutrick and the laity by Earnest Langley of Hereford, District Lay Leader.

The Northwest Texas Conference includes 67 counties which are divided into eight districts. The Amarillo district is made up of 33 churches in its surrounding area.

Others appearing on the program will be the Rev. Frank Oglesby of Amarillo, who will make a report on the Ministry; Rev. Jacinto Alderete, director of the Amarillo Wesley Community Center, who will describe

Crop Clinics Set

Plans were discussed and committee chairmen were elected for the upcoming Farm Crop Clinic in a meeting last Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce Board Room.

Various representatives from throughout the Panhandle area attended the meeting with those elected to the committee from Hereford being, Rex Lee, building; "Red" May, food; Jake Moseley, registration; and Gene Hunsinger finance. Others elected to head committees were Bill Scott, of Amarillo, general chairman; Melvin Semrad, also of Amarillo, publicity; Carroll Ceckley, of Tulsa, finance; and Cecil Medders, from Dickens, door prize chairman.

The Hereford clinic will be one of five such clinics in the state next year, and one of 148 in the United States. The first clinic will be held in Seminole on Feb. 10, 1969 with others to follow with the Feb. 11 meeting in Hereford, another the following day in Plainview and on the 13th in Dumas. The circuit will be completed with a Feb. 14 clinic to be held in Perryton.

Each clinic is scheduled to last about eight hours, beginning around 9 a. m. and lasting through the day to sometime around 5 p. m., depending on the number of participants.

Seven years ago, the first clinic was originated in the East, and due to its tremendous success, they have spread slowly west. Interest in the meetings has stemmed from the participants interest of farmers, their needs and their problems. The participants "buy" portions of time during the clinics for "plugging" their products through speakers discussing various phases of the agriculture industry. For the Hereford clinic, the participants will be Behlen Building, Peoples Natural Gas, Alis-Chambers, Dekalb Agresearch Inc., Amchem Products, Valley Irrigation, and possibly numerous local fertilizer companies.

General chairman Scott discussed the crop clinic which was held in Dumas in the early part of the year, stating that the turnout at the meeting there, far exceeded the expected number. The planning committee for the Dumas clinic had prepared for about 500, and over 700 turned out for the clinic, he stated.

Summerfield Residents Give $500 To Opportunity Plan

Residents of the Summerfield community met Thursday night to recall school days and honor their former teachers from "the good old days" of the one-room school.

Highlight of the evening was presentation of a $500 check to Milton Morris, founder of Opportunity Plan, Inc. at West Texas State University. The money, donated in honor of the teachers, will be used to finance the education of students who want to go to college but can't afford it.

Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill, secretary of the community organization, made the check presentation after explaining that the money had been raised by members of the community putting on plays. She credited Mrs. J. B. Noland with coming up with the idea of honoring the teachers.

Prior to the presentation, Mrs. Noland and Mrs. Roy Johnson introduced those former teachers present, and called on former students to recall school days. The teachers also had the opportunity to recall their teaching days and the students involved.

Teachers recognized were Will Harris, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Jim Bookout, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., Mrs. Fritz Christman, Mrs. Tandy Legg, Mrs. Edith Lillard and Mrs. August Frye.

In a brief talk, Morris explained that Will Harris had established the "Ruth A. and Will C. Harris Division" in memory of his wife. Other county organizations which aid Opportunity Plan, Inc. are the Bay View Study Club Pioneer Study Club, Summerfield Study Club and Jim Hill Fund.

Harris started still another fund Thursday night with a $10 donation.

Morris urged those present to notify him if they know a person who wants to get an education but can't afford it. "We'll get them started," he stated.

Approximately 85 persons attended the special night at the Easter Lions Clubhouse at East-

Cancer Board Hears Reports Of Committees

Officers of the Deaf Smith County Cancer Society received "pleasing" reports from its committee chairmen during a meeting of board members, chairmen and committee members Friday at the Jim Hill Hotel.

Herman Ford, county chairman presided during the meeting, with Jack Cromartie of Amarillo, district supervisor, also in attendance.

John David Bryant, chairman of the Education Committee, presented a report on the meeting his committee had the previous week, and also pointed out that the film "Investment in Life" had been shown to Kiwanians and Lions Club meetings, with 208 persons seeing the cancer film. Literature about cancer also was passed out during each meeting.

Bryant also reported that he had talked with Francis Hardwick, manager of the Star Theater, and Hardwick was anxious to show educational films concerning cancer at the theater. Tentative plans are to have a showing in the morning and another in the afternoon for persons working, with the employers being asked to let their workers attend the showing.

More plans will be announced on the films as they are finalized, Bryant reported.

Tom Harkey, a member of the Education Committee in charge of the schools, said appropriate films are being made available to teachers in the school system for educating the young people as to the facts on cancer.

During discussion about the films, it was decided that Mrs. Henry Sears, also a member of the Education Committee will make films available, to women's organizations at any time. Many times, it was brought out, a program will not be able to make it to a club and they will be left short. By having a film available, the local Cancer Society could be doing the club a service and also educating the members on cancer.

The next meeting of the Cancer Society will be Jan. 17. The Cancer Crusade will begin April 15.

The clinic will tentatively begin at 9 a. m. on the scheduled date, with a coffee and donut period allowed for participants to get acquainted with each other. A film will be shown about 8:30 and the master of ceremonies will take over immediately following the film. A keynote speaker, yet to be determined for the Hereford clinic, will appear on the agenda next, and the participants' speakers will follow throughout the remainder of the session. A luncheon will be provided by the various sponsors and will be catered by the Caison House.

Following the regular program, the speakers will form a panel and the audience will be allowed to participate in the question and answer session. Also included in the clinic, to aid the speakers, will be a side-entry van, provided by the Dodge Motor Company. The van has sides capable of being folded out for use as projector screens. It is also equipped with two podiums, three screens, two projectors, and a public address system.

A second planning meeting of the chairmen... of the various committees will be held Dec. 3 at the Country Club to further work on details of the clinic.

Joe Kissel of Chicago is president of the Bowling Writers Association of America. He succeeds Chuck Pezzano of Paterson, N.J.

Cramer Shoot Is Scheduled Today

Gene Cope, president of the Hereford Gun Club, reminds trap shooters of the R. J. Cramer Trophy Shoot which is to be held today at the shoot site near the airport.

The shoot will begin with practice shooting at 1 p. m.—and the actual shoot will get underway around 2 p. m. Anyone interested in attempting to win the trophy are urged to participate in the shoot.

R. J. Cramer, who originated the R. J. Cramer Trophy Shoot, did so for the purpose of creating an interest in trap shooting. The trophy is of the traveling variety, and any one person who wins it three times in succession maintains permanent possession of it. In the last two shoots, C. J. Lance has won the trophy, and will be going after it for the third consecutive time. Ammunition will be sold at the shoot, and the cost of the match is set at $5 per person, with 100 rounds to be fired under trap shooting rules. The person with the greatest number of "hits" with his 100 rounds will claim the trophy.

By MELVIN YOUNG

Noticed that an area paper recently ran a full page ad telling its subscribers why they should do their Christmas shopping before Thanksgiving, rather than after, and the whole deal makes sense although it's a little hard for us to get in the Christmas mood before turkey day. It seems that we just have to see that traditional Thanksgiving Day football game between the University of Texas and Texas A&M before we can get ready to Christmas shop.

Merchants on the other hand, would like to have a little of their Christmas rush in November and not all of it in the last two weeks before Dec. 25, and we understand their concern. They could do a better job of waiting of the customers, can offer a much better selection to the shoppers and their dispositions would be considerably better in November. There's no one grouzier than a tired merchant on Christmas eve, unless of course, it's a tired shopper. Get the two together and you really have problems.

Honestly though, this year has gone by so fast that it hardly seems possible that this should be November 24 — just a scant month away from the big day.

The real problem though, and the solution also, is the weather. Now if we had had a 6 inch snow about the middle of September, with the north winds howling down since, then no doubt we would all be filled with Christmas spirit. But the weather this week has been beautiful. To be sure, we have had some freezing temperatures at night, but when the thermometer comes up to 50, 60 and even 70 degrees in the middle of the day — well it just doesn't seem like Christmas.

So merchants — there's your solution to the problem. Convince the weather man that we should have some real winter weather in October and November and you'll get the shoppers in the mood to buy Christmas gifts before Christmas eve.

You've heard the old story we're sure, that if you show your fear of a dog, he's apt to bite you.

Sue Coleman, our genial women's editor, feels the same way about cameras. About the time Sue feels that she has become proficient with the nasty little instrument, something happens and she winds up without pictures for her Society page.

However, the problem is not one that's new in the newspaper business and those of us who have been associated with camera, flash bulbs and strobe units can well appreciate her problem.

A number of years ago when this writer was rather new at the business, and a new member of the local Rotary Club as well, it became our duty one evening to photograph the five remaining charter members of the local club. Back in those days we used sheet film with the old newspaper workhorse, the Crown Graphic camera. A wonderful piece of equipment to be sure and we're still using one of the units today, but it is rather large in comparison to modern day cameras and although not a bit more complicated, it is big enough to scare a cub reporter out of his wits. And since my specialty was advertising and not news reporting, I was doubly nervous.

To make a long story short, someone had loaded the holders wrong and a sheet of film had popped out and into the interior of that camera completely blocking the light from the remaining exposures. Well, as you may have guessed, after lining up the charter members, we didn't get a picture. After discovering that the film was blank, we tried again the following day — had to call those people and get them to come by the office. Of course, we used the same camera, with the same results. On the third try, we let the news editor take the picture, with the same results. After the fourth try, and the subsequent investigation into the interior of the camera we found the trouble and finally got our picture. But to this day we haven't convinced those Rotarians that it was the fault of the camera and not the photographer — and frankly, we've quit trying.

With Sue Coleman however, it's a different story. Each time she has camera trouble she promptly marches into the office with her resignation. Which is just as promptly refused. Cameras have a mind of their own — and they fight back. You can't whip them, you just have to try to sweet-talk them into working properly.

According to the Boston Globe, by the time a flower child gets to be 40 or so, he tends to look a bit faded.

You can bake corned beef hash. Just pack the hash from a couple of one-pound cans into a baking dish a glass one that is 10 by 6 by 1 1/2 inches will be fine. Brush with melted butter or margarine and bake in a moderate oven until piping hot this may take half an hour.

Dumas Wins, But Hereford Enters Playoffs

Dumas held on to its 12-year domination of the Whiteface-Dumas clashes and won Friday night, 13-6, but Hereford won the toss of the coins, thus gaining the right to represent district 1-AAA in the bi-district playoffs this week.

The loss to the Demons threw the district into a three-way tie for first place with Hereford, Perryton and Dumas all winding up with 4-1 conference records. Immediately following the game Friday, the coaches of the three teams met, flipped their coins, and Hereford was declared the winner of the bi-district berth.

The locals will now meet Kermit, the winner in district 2-AAA, who clinched their title last Friday by downing Seminole, 46-26.

Hereford, picked as the favorite going into the Dumas game, couldn't quite get their offense rolling while the Demons came up with the big breaks — the thing that proved to be the winning factors. Ten of the 13 Demon points were put on the scoreboard misques on the part of the Whitefaces which they took advantage of.

Their first break of the ball game came off the opening kickoff when they attempted an on-side kick. A Whiteface player touched the ball and in the wild scramble that followed, a Demon recovered the ball on their own 45-yard line. Hereford then got their first break of the contest when Donnie Fangman recovered a Demon fumble on the host team's 40. The offense, held by a sturdy Demon defensive unit, could not capitalize on the fumble recovery, and were forced to punt after three no-gain plays.

The ball changed hands two times during the next two minutes, and when Dumas got hold of it for the second time, they turned it into a score with a 21-yard field goal.

Dumas took the Whiteface punt on the Hereford 36 and promptly marched to the locals four-yard line before being accessed a 15 yard offensive holding penalty. After two incomplete passes, the Demons' field goal specialist was called in and split the uprights for a 3-0 lead.

Taking the kickoff, Hereford was held to no gain in three plays, and Dumas got their second break of the game, this time on a blocked punt on the Hereford 30-yard line. The Whiteface defense held solidly on the next Demon series of plays, and the hosts were forced to punt as the first quarter ended with the Dumas squad ahead, 3-0.

Things took on a different light for the Whitefaces in the second quarter, but they didn't last that way long. They took the ball on their own 23, Steve McAndrews picked up seven, Bill Cole got the first on a quarterback sneak but then on the next play, they were given a penalty for delay of game. A delayed draw by Williams added to a pass to McAndrews laid the ball to rest on the Dumas 35 then another pass that covered 15 yards to end Larry Guinn, set the ball within field goal range. After a couple of losses on ground plays, booter Jim Loerwald attempted a 17 yard field goal, but it went astray and the host team held their slim 3-0 lead.

Dumas got their third break in the waning minutes of the second quarter when they got a safety as a result on a fumbled snap on a fourth and punting situation. The ball rolled out of the end zone for the score and Dumas held a 5-0 lead at the end of the first half.

Hereford played catchup ball in the third period then got their long overdue break when Bill Cole intercepted a Demon pass on the Dumas 25. McAndrews and Williams alternated carrying the ball as the locals managed an a sweep for the go-ahead TD. The point after attempt was fumbled on placing and the score stood at 6-5 at the end of the third quarter, in favor of Hereford for the first time in the game.

The margin of victory for the Dumas team came in the fourth period when they got their deciding break on a Whiteface fumble on their own four yard line. The Demon quarterback then connected on a 10-yard touchdown pass that provided the winning points. Padding the lead, the host team went for the two-point conversion which was good enough for the final scoring play of the game.

A last minute Hereford rally was halted by the rugged Demon defense, and Dumas maintained their winning string over the locals.

In other district action Perryton shut out Muleshoe, 53-0 and Canyon won 28-22 over Tulia.

Hereford will now meet Kermit in the bi-district playoffs. Kermit is the number eight rank ed team in the state in AAA ball and sports a 9-1 record for the season. They lost their season opener to the Hobbs, N.M. team, 24-14. A site and date for the playoffs were not available at press time.

WTSU "Mercury Man" Ends Grid Season With 9 Records

CANYON, Tex. — Halfback Eugene "Mercury" Morris bettered six school and three NCAA records and Joe Kerbel became the winningest coach in West Texas State football history this season when the Buffaloes completed their regular football schedule Saturday with the fourth finest record in the school's history.

The Buffaloes of coach Joe Kerbel finished with an 8-2 mark with Saturday's 22-17 decision over Colorado State in Fort Collins. That mark equals the mark of Kerbel's 1963 Buffalo club and is exceeded only by a 3-0 mark in 1918, a 7-1 standard in 1936 and a 9-1 season by the 1950 Buffaloes.

The win Saturday was Kerbel's 55th coaching victory since joining West Texas in 1960. Frank Kimbrough, who coached the Buffaloes from 1947-57 and is the university's athletic director, had won 54 games.

In nine seasons, Kerbel's teams lost 35 games and tied one. Kimbrough's teams lost 32 and tied two.

The 190-pound Morris completed his collegiate career with 112 yards against the Rams in 32 carries. That total gave him two national records.

By rushing for 1,571 yards in 10 games, Morris bettered the NCAA record of 1,570 yards set by Fred Wendt of Texas Mines in 1948. The halfback also established a career NCAA rushing record by accumulating 3,388 yards in three years. The previous career record had been held by Art Luppino of Arizona who rushed for 3,381 yards from 1953-56.

Earlier this season Morris had established a single game rushing mark with 340 yards in the Buffaloes' 35-49 win over Montana State. That mark was erased from the record book Saturday as Michigan's Ron Johnson rambled for 346 yards on 31 carries against the Wisconsin Badgers.

The 340 yards still sets West Texas record for the most yards rushing in a single game by an individual.

By scoring one touchdown in Saturday's victory, Morris increased his season's scoring total to 114 points, which leads the nation in that department. Morris scored 19 of West Texas' 37 touchdowns this season.

Morris easily became the leading ball carrier in the school's history this year with 3,561 yards, counting the 173 he gained in the Junior Rose Bowl 35-13 win over San Fernando Valley State in Pasadena, Cal. last season.

The National Collegiate Athletic Association does not count bowl games in season and career rushing.

Morris, with 246 points, is also the all-time school leader in the scoring department. Ben Collins, who graduated in 1941, held the previous mark of 221 career points.

Fullback Albie Owens completed this season with 446 yards and is eighth among the school's all-time ball carriers with 1,457 yards. Duane Thomas, the other Buffalo fullback, gained 708 yards this fall and now has a career total of 1,204, good for 11th place in the all-time Buffalo rushers.

Quarterback Roy Winters hit on 75 of 183 passes and now has 180 career completions to become the third best passer in West Texas State's history.

Flanker Charles Henderson, who was hindered all season by injuries caught eight passes and moved into third place in that department with 56 receptions. Morris has 54 career receptions and is tied among the all-time school leaders with Jerry Richardson.

West Texas' two losses this season came at the hands of Memphis State, 42-21, and Utah State, 26-16. The Buffs defeated Lamar Tech, 45-7; Wichita State 28-9; University of the Pacific, 23-7; Montana State, 35-20; University of Texas at Arlington, 41-0; New Mexico State, 23-14; Western Michigan, 53-36; and Colorado State, 22-17.

Newcomers In Profile

Texas Areas Sampled

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

Four areas in Texas, all different, have been home for Mrs. Jim Hamilton since she began living in the state; she grew up in neighboring Oklahoma and had never been in Texas but once before she married.

The young wife of the new assistant minister at Central Church of Christ is a native of Lexington, near Oklahoma City, but moved to Shawnee as a child and was graduated from high school there.

She was married soon after graduation, while her husband was still a college student. He went as assistant minister to Childress, in West Texas' below the caprock prairies and the newly-married couple lived there for a time.

When he returned to school it was at Pan-American College at Edinburg in the Rio Grande Valley, then he worked on his masters degree at Austin so they moved to capital city near the center of the state. He was minister at Pleasanton, near San Antonio, just before they came to the high plains with the move to Hereford Oct. 1. "We still haven't lived in far East Texas or the extreme west", Mrs. Hamilton says, "but in time we may get to both; we've just about gone as far as we can to the north and south!"

They are happy to find Hereford "a town on the go, so busy and friendly". In fact, Mrs. Hamilton says they have been "on the go" so much of the time in the few weeks they've lived here that "I haven't got the house fixed up yet". They live in a ranch style brick at 802 Blevins.

The family includes a daughter, Melanie, five and a half years old, and a son, Robby, three this month.

In the churches her husband has served, Mrs. Hamilton has found duties as teacher of small children, pre-school and primary ages. She enjoys work with young people also, and attends discussion groups for youth in the church here.

She helps sing, too, an activity that might be called one of her hobbies. Beginning with membership in a girls choir while she was in high school, she has sung with various groups.

Sewing and cooking are her favorite household activities. She makes clothing for herself and her daughter, also such household items as curtains and bedspreads, and now she is looking at a living room chair and speculating about the amount of work that would be needed to reupholster it.

To help get acquainted in Hereford, a matter that she has found no problem, she has become a member of the Newcomers Club which meets monthly, and has accepted committee duties. She is also a member of Lubbock Christian College Associates, a group which works locally to aid and publicize the college.

Since she is now living with commuting distance of a college, Mrs. Hamilton plans to enroll for classes at West Texas State University with the aim of eventually earning her degree.

Agent Presents Cultural H.D. Club Program

A Thanksgiving poem, Many Blessings, was read to begin the program for Cultural Home Demonstration Club when it met in Mrs. J. G. Gandy's home Friday afternoon. The hostess read the verses before a talk by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, on Club History and Future.

Preparation of the holiday dinner was also discussed and Mrs. Draper gave suggestions for thawing and cooking frozen turkeys.

The club Christmas party, set for Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Ira Scott, was planned. Mrs. Art Lewis presided for business in the absence of Mrs. Louie Olson, president.

Also present were Mmes. J. D. Love, D. C. Allman, P. N. Houser, Grady Parsons and Scott.

Speed Reading Is Set For Meet Here

Arrangements have been made to conduct a 27-hour course in Speed Reading in evening classes at Hereford. The course is designed for college-bound high school students, college students or professional people with more to read than they can handle.

The average person today reads about 250 words per minute, and has approximately 60 per cent comprehension of what he reads. After taking the course in Speed Reading a person should be able to read at 2,000 to 2,500 words per minute with 90 per cent comprehension. Such an increase would mean that most books of average length could be read in 45 minutes to an hour with much more understanding and enjoyment than prior to taking the course.

Accelerated Education Schools sponsors this course which was originated by Wade E. Cutler, Ph.D. Dr. Cutler, who earned his Ph.D. in Psychology, has been teaching speed reading for the last five years and has over 5,000 graduates in Texas.

A number of orientation meetings have been scheduled for those who would like to know more about the course. The orientation meetings will be held at the Hereford Community Center at 7 and 8:30 PM on Friday, December 6; and at 10 AM, 2 PM and 3:30 PM on Saturday, December 7. The orientation meetings are designed to explain the course in detail — including class schedule, requirements, and tuition. There will be no obligation to enroll in the course by attending one of the orientation meetings.

The class will be limited to 20 students, and class places will be reserved on a first come first serve basis. Anyone who cannot attend one of the orientation meetings, or who would like further information, should call 364-0939 or 364-0146.

Book Reviewed In St. Anthony Guild Meeting

Answers to the roll call question, "What improvement would you like Hereford to make?" proved an interesting item on the program of St. Anthony's Guild at its meeting in the parish school auditorium Thursday evening.

Featuring the program was the review by Mrs. Jim McAndrews of a book, Death And Its Mysteries, by Father Ignace Lept.

The Rev. Simeon Heine, S.A., moderator, reported on a recent pastoral council in Amarillo in which functions of the layman in the parish were discussed. Mrs. Wern Koelzer gave the report on the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, which also convened in Amarillo lately.

A freewill offering to be sent for aid to Biafra, in Africa, was taken instead of giving a door prize, at the suggestion of the Parish Council. Cooperation in a Council project of collecting clothing and food for needy local families was also promised.

Plans were made for the Guild to act as hostess to the Antonian Circle at the January meeting, and it was decided that meetings beginning in January will be held after evening mass. The Guild and Circle will have their annual Christmas party together next month.

Mmes. Arnold Betzen, Howard Walker, Glen Springer and Raymond Schlabs, hostesses, served refreshments in a social period.

First HCP Play Termed Success

Large audiences applauded the first dramatic offering of Hereford Community Players both Thursday and Friday evenings in Stanton Junior High auditorium and laughed through three acts of Noel Coward's comedy, Blithe Spirit.

Actors were applauded for effective scenes throughout the play, as well as at the close when the entire cast responded to curtain calls. Miss Imogene Anderson, director, and cast members received congratulations when they stood in line as the audience left Friday evening.

Miss Anderson was presented a plaque by HCP members in appreciation for her expert direction which welded the seven actors into an effective cast and launched the new organization so successfully.

Actors experienced only in school plays presented a sophisticated comedy and tossed Coward's flippancy amusing lines off confidently. No miscues were detectible by the audience and the entire cast spoke so that lines in which the comedy rested were always audible.

Fred Howard as Charles Condomine carried the brunt of the action and was onstage most of the time. His excellent speaking voice was backed by expert timing in delivering his speeches, especially a final monologue which closed the play with fresh laughs.

Mary Howard as his nagging wife and Sylvia Parsley as the ghost of his deceased first wife each gave a spirited interpretation to her role. Carole Byers was a wonderfully eccentric Madame Arcati, the enthusiastic medium whose trances materialized the ghost.

They were ably supported by Donna Johnson and Tom Kendrick as a couple of friends and Lorene Johnson as the maid whose hysterical scene spiced the final act.

Makeup played an important part in the show, with the misty effect of the "ghosts" outstanding. Amy Gilliland, Kay Claypool and Bessie Wood were responsible for this.

John Claypool, John Gilliland and Dale Moore had charge of the staging and lighting, producing the lighting effects which were necessary to the plot. Earl Wood was house manager.

St. Joseph's School Has New Technique In Math Now

By EARL MOSELEY Staff Writer

Brightly colored rods "spare the children" at St. Joseph's Mission School in the Labor Camp, according to principal-teacher Sister Yvonne.

And they have also included typewriters for first and second graders.

Sister Yvonne, who piloted the Cuisenaire Rod Approach program for PESO at St. Laurence Church School in Amarillo last year, explained the new system of mathematics and its relationship to the bi-lingual student.

"The children at St. Joseph's find their math period a most pleasant experience," she said enthusiastically. "It is no wonder, because they have been introduced to the Cuisenaire Rod Approach in mathematics which makes math a delightful subject — it is alive with color."

Sister Yvonne explained that Cuisenaire Rods have been named for a Belgium primary school teacher, M. Georges Cuisenaire, who invented the rods to show relationships to numbers.

"The rods are colored blocks of wood, each having a cross-section of one square centimeter. They vary in length from one centimeter to ten centimeters. The rods are multivalent and may take on many different values in the field of mathematics."

The rods are designed to give conceptual knowledge of the basic structure of mathematics instead of mere manipulative mathematical skills, she explained. "The pupil is guided to make mathematical discoveries for himself — to understand and appreciate patterns and structures found in math. These rods are a model for the set of rational numbers just as a globe is a model of the earth. The rods stimulate the child to explore the relationships of addition, subtraction, multiplication, division, fractions, positive and negative numbers, sets operations and other basic principles of mathematics."

The method is a graduated stage from the children's game of blocks. But it has been transferred from game to reality — "they can see it, they can prove it."

Sister Yvonne said the degree of retention is at a higher degree now than with former systems.

FOUR STAGES

She pointed out that the new approach may be (and is at St. Joseph's) divided into four stages of instruction.

"The time spent on the different stages depends upon the group of children. As in other math programs, all children do not learn at the same rate."

Sister Yvonne explained the four steps used at St. Joseph's: "Beginning in kindergarten or first grade, the child is given an independent exploration period. He simply builds and plays with the rods. But in order to build, he discovers for himself spatial (Of or pertaining to space; occupying space; occurring in, or conditioned by, space; considered in relation to space) relationships."

The child becomes acquainted with the tools.

"The second stage adds directed activities to the independent exploration. Relationships are observed and discussed. And the child is still given time for building, but encouraged to talk about or discuss whatever he has built."

"The third stage becomes directed activities in which mathematical notation is introduced. But number value of the rods is still not used. Instead, letters are used to identify the color of the rods."

As an example: G plus P equals (W) D. Or 1/2 of 6W equals 3W.

"The fourth and final stage is the directed activities stage in which mathematical notation is extended and number values are assigned to the rods."

The equation now becomes: 3 plus 6 equals 9. Or, 10 minus 8 equals 2.

"Cuisenaire rods afford an exceptional opportunity because of their additional applicability to subsequent mathematical thinking," she said. "Through their use, drills and rules are eliminated, since the children make their own discoveries and prove the results of their equations with the rods."

The children at Mission School have already reached the fourth stage. "They are delighted with their new math program," she said.

FROM WYOMING Sister Yvonne came from Rock Springs, Wyoming. But prior to her arrival in Texas she has taught in Panama and Los Angeles. She came to St. Joseph's in September from Amarillo. "I didn't get interested in the rods until I came to Texas."

Last year, Sister Yvonne volunteered to pilot the Cuisenaire Rod Approach to Mathematics under the direction of Panhandle Educational Services Organization. She is now convinced that this method is best for children, especially the slow learner and bi-lingual child.

"Last year it was also noted that the retention of mathematical concepts and skills in those students who used the rods were much greater than in those who did not use them," she added. "The best recommendation for the use of the rods is the fact that children like to work with them."

TYPEWRITERS INCLUDED Following the advice of expert reading consultants, Sister Yvonne has introduced typing in the first and second grades.

She said that the children have learned to insert the paper, shift, and use the carriage and spacer. "Typing their names and short sentences has made the use of the typewriter a thrilling experience for these children."

Sister Yvonne's class, she reported, "has picked up speed, and the faster they can type the more thrill they get."

Free time between subjects taught is used by the children to type.

Aid To Classes Planned In Ford Club's Project

Items needed in special education classes and the satellite school are to be collected by Ford Home Demonstration Club at its January meeting, members agreed Wednesday after hearing Mrs. Luther Norvell tell of the needs.

The club met in Ford Community Building with Mrs. John A. Smith presiding. Plans were made for the annual family Christmas party which will be held Dec. 6 at the Community Building. Children will exchange gifts.

Facts about Deaf Smith County and highlights of its history were related by Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, on the program. She told of maps now being prepared to show the county's landmarks. Something of the future was also predicted as she outlined plans for bringing water to this area from eastern rivers.

Officers of the club were hostesses for the meeting, with guests invited in a membership drive. Mmes. Steve Meiwes, J. D. Mounce and Norvell were the guests.

Members present included Mmes. Frank Brorman, W. A. Carter, Raymond Flores, A. B. Kent, Tex McKnight and Raymond Smith.

Deadline Nears In VFW Contest

Deadline is nearing for entries in the "Voice of Democracy Program" sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Hereford in cooperation with Hereford High School.

The contest is a national broadcast scriptwriting program designed to give high school students the opportunity to voice their opinions on patriotic themes and to convey them via the broadcast media all over America. Theme of the contest is Freedom's Challenge.

All 10th, 11th and 12th grade students in public, parochial and private schools in the United States, its possessions and territories and in overseas schools for military and civilian personnel are eligible.

C. L. Walker, chairman of the committee of the VFW in Hereford, explained that participants' approach to the subject material should be positive — for freedom and not against the political concepts of totalitarian governments. Students may not refer to their race, creed, national origin or in any way identify themselves in the script.

Scripts, which must be transcribed on magnetic tape for judging, must not be less than three minutes nor longer than five minutes. The script as read by the student should be the only sound on the tape and care must be exercised to make sure no background noises or other distractions interfere with the voice quality of the participant.

Following school competition, official entry form will be prepared for the school winner. The official entry form, together with the tape of the school winner sponsored by the VFW post or broadcasting station, Chamber of Commerce officers. 16 — Annual banquet of the Tierra Blanca District of the Boy Scouts of America. 18 — Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers banquet. Bull Barn. 24 — Annual banquet of Camp Fire Girls. 31 — Deaf Smith County Junior Livestock Show sponsored by the Young Farmers.

February 1-2 — Deaf Smith County Junior Livestock Show. 11 — Crop Clinic at Bull Barn beginning at 9 a. m. 13 — Annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet. Speaker will be Irv Wernont.

28 — Community Concerts present Norman Duboff Choir in concert at high school auditorium. March 15 — Community Concerts presents the Clebanoff Orchestra, high school auditorium, 8 p. m.

will be entered in the next higher level of competition — the city-wide or community-wide judging. Deadline for this contest to be held is Dec. 9.

In case the city-wide or community-wide competition is not held, the school's winning tape will be entered in the VFW district judging. Next will come the state judging.

The five top prizes are National Scholarship Awards; first place, $5,000; second place, $3,500; third place, $2,500; fourth place, $1,500, and fifth place, $1,000. More than $200,000 in bonds and scholarships will be distributed on the state, district and local levels. Fifty-three national finalists will receive all-expense paid trips to Washington, D. C.

Detailed information may be obtained from the school principal or the teacher assigned to supervise the contest at Hereford High School.

VFW of the U. S. has suggested the following questions as assistance in developing ideas along the line suggested by the theme, Freedom's Challenge:

1. As a student, what is your personal role in meeting the challenge of freedom? What actions can you take in your daily life that will make freedom meaningful to yourself and those around you?

2. How might our national institutions and practices be changed or refined to more fully meet the challenge of freedom?

Point value in the judging will be assigned as follows: content, 45 percent; originality, 35 percent, and delivery, 20 percent.

Both writing and delivery should be made in a normal style. Voices should be normal and conversational, not oratorical.

COURT OF HONOR

Boy Scout Troop 151 will hold their Court of Honor at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church at 401 W. Park.

One Eagle award will be presented with other activities.

STANTON JUNIOR HIGH held parent night last Monday night. On the wall by one of the entrances hung a sign welcoming parents to the school. At right, the parents had the chance to sit in on the classes which the students attend daily. —Staff Photos

Cub Scouts Repair Toys For Project

Den 3, pack 51 of the Cub Scouts met last Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Jim Clarke, den mother.

The boys repaired and painted toys for Christmas for their Toys for Tots project. The cubs brought broken and used toys from their home and when they had finished repairing them they took them to the Welfare Office.

The boys working on this project were Bennie Moore, Terry Paul Dedyne, Douglas Reinart, Tommy Clarke, Greg Hacker, Joe Ray, Gary Gallagher, Chris Paetzold and Buddy Warren.

Their next meeting is scheduled for tomorrow night and the Christmas party will be held Dec. 18.

Some folks are so pessimistic that they think the game of life is fixed.

Community Calendar

The Community Calendar, which includes major events which will be of interest to Hereford and residents of the immediate area, will run in each issue of the Brand. The calendar will include events for the coming six months, and all individuals and organizations are urged to write or mail their event for inclusion.

Bay View Club, Guests Make Tour

Bay View Club members were accompanied by several guests on a trip Thursday afternoon to Colony Catherine, a unique art colony on the rim of Palo Duro Canyon northeast of Canyon. They met in the home of Mrs. Juston McBride, who arranged the outing, and went together.

Founded by Catherine Buck and Robert McKenzie, the colony is formed of a number of studios and shops, with several private residences located for a magnificent view of the canyon. The club group's guide was Don Markham, a member of Amarillo College art faculty who has a studio in the colony.

He demonstrated the making of pottery, shaping a piece on the wheel, and the visitors also saw silk screen prints being made. These are some which have won international awards, and some of the prize winning pieces were on display. Work in bronze and other crafts were also seen.

Club guests included four from Vega, Mmes. Raymond Thompson, Joe Montgomery, Bill Toher and John Van Meter.

Others were Mmes. Steve Clements, Jim McAndrews, Earnest Langley, Bruce Brown, George Turrentine and Henry Sears.

Members on the tour were Mmes. Carl Swanson, Tom Sawyer, R. B. Miller, Ansel McDowell, Howard Gault, St. Darling, H. L. Benefield and J. R. Allison.

After the afternoon tour, they returned to Mrs. McBride's home for refreshments of coffee and cake, and talk about their impressions of the handwork of the artists and skilled craftsmen at Colony Catherine.

Women Of Episcopal Church Slate Festival

Festival Day is announced by the women of St. Thomas Episcopal Church for Saturday, Nov. 30, when the annual gift and food sale is scheduled with new features.

Christmas gift items will be offered at a table where Mrs. Ross Cooley is chairman, and where a wide variety of handmade gifts will be displayed. Something to please everyone from a new baby to a difficult aunt or uncle, is the aim of this sale.

Another of the three main features will be sale of Mrs. Cur-

CARD OF THANKS

Our most sincere appreciation to each and everyone that has helped make the passing of our loved one more bearable — friends, neighbors, relatives, Dr. Payne, Rev. Wingert, the American Legion. Also for the cards, food, flowers, visits and the kindly interest that has helped us so much in our time of sorrow.

Harvey Marshall and Family

After the afternoon tour, they returned to Mrs. McBride's home for refreshments of coffee and cake, and talk about their impressions of the handwork of the artists and skilled craftsmen at Colony Catherine.

Home baked products will be on sale at still another table, with Mrs. Vera Hewitt in charge. The selection will comprise breads, pies, candy, cakes of various kinds and an array of tidbits.

The public is invited to attend the Festival in the parish house. It will be open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m.

2 Members Give LAE Club Talk

The annual holiday party of La Alflatus Estudio will be held the evening of Dec. 10, at the home of Mrs. George Sugars, and members planned at a meeting this week for the supper and exchange of gifts.

Mrs. B. A. Reddell was hostess at her home and the program was another in a series on Cultures Of The World. Mrs. Emmett Hale and Mrs. A. L. Hewitt presented the discussion on Imperial Rome.

They sketched the history of Rome as the head of a world empire, pointing out that although many other cities have risen and fallen since then, Rome has continued to hold its place of importance and has earned the name of "the eternal city."

"Educated Romans never ceased to be influenced by Greek literature, and that influence was passed on to the western world. Rome left its mark in language as well as stone, in culture as well as concrete," a speaker emphasized.

Mrs. Bud Durkee opened the program with a Thought For The Day.

The most recent important find was the main public baths. Previously a huge forum, villas and a temple foundation were uncovered.

OES Officials To Stage School

Order of Eastern Star members from 15 cities in this area will attend a district school conducted by state officers here Tuesday. A luncheon and dinner will honor the visiting officers, and school sessions are scheduled at the Masonic Hall.

Mrs. Art Lewis, worthy matron of the local chapter, and other members are completing preparations to play hostess to members from over District II, Section III. Arrangements are in charge of Mrs. Glenn Dowlen of Canyon, deputy grand matron, and Mrs. O. H. Culpepper, co-chairman.

Theme of the school is Reflections. Registration will begin at 8 a. m. in the Masonic Hall, where coffee will be served to the early arrivals. The opening drill will be presented at 9 a. m. by worthy matrons and associate matrons, who will serve as officers during the school.

Christmas Music Hour To Be Opened To Public

Decision to open to the public its special Christmas program was made by Valeda Study Club at a meeting this week in Mrs. George Ritter's home. The special meeting will be on Dec. 10 for a program by guests, titled The Songs Of Christmas.

It is scheduled in First Methodist Sanctuary with Bob Wert, minister of music there, directing. Don Baugous, organist, Mrs. R. C. Godwin and Mrs. Wert, soloists, will have featured parts in the program of music. Mrs. Hugh Clearman is program chairman and Mrs. Ron Harpster hostess chairman from the club.

Another special event for Valeda members during the holiday period will be a Thanksgiving supper Nov. 26 in Pioneer Gas Flame Room, with members' husbands as guests.

Mrs. Gerald Wilson was introduced as the program guest this week, to review William Danforth's book, I Dare You. The book presents a series of challenges to each reader, daring him to give generously, to give himself in making friends, to share his talents and to live aggressively in all the four aspects of life, physical, mental, social and religious.

In addition to Mrs. Wilson, guests were Mrs. Alvin Smith and Mrs. Gwynne Owen. Twelve of the club's 14 members were present.

Charity Project Is Adopted By Parish Council

A Christmas project of collecting food and clothing for needy families of Hereford was one of the proposals adopted by board members of the Parish Council of St. Anthony's Catholic Church at a recent meeting in the home of Mrs. Paul Zinser, president.

The family affairs commission recommended establishing a fund for the needy of the parish and the international affairs commission suggested asking all parish organizations to contribute money for relief work in Biafra.

Mrs. Zinser read Mrs. Werner Koelzer's report on the recent Diocesan Council of Catholic Women's meeting in Amarillo and comments were added by others who attended, Mmes. Ed Loerwald, Gene Loerwald, Walt Warren, William Gilleland, Elmer Reinart, Freedy Cooper, and the pastor, the Rev. Simon Heine, S. A.

E. Milburn, S. F. Clements, B. F. Cain, Lloyd Pool, R. B. Hutson, Urlin Streu, R. G. Peeler, Robert Veigel, Paul Hamrick and Mack Cansler.

Miss Gililand and her mother, Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath Jr., received guests who were greeted at the door by Mrs. Allison. Friends called during two hours of the late afternoon.

Mrs. David Hill and Miss Donna Hill presided in turn at the guest register and the refreshment table. Decorations on the table centered at a candelabrum set among gold roses and chrysanthemums. Coffee was served with cookies, tea sandwiches, nuts and mints.

The honoree and houseparty members wore corsages of white chrysanthemums and fresh green leaves, tied with gold ribbon to emphasize the green and gold color theme which is planned for the wedding.

L'Allegra Lunch Has Big Crowd

Scores of area residents had lunch Thursday with L'Allegra Study Club members, who held their annual benefit sampling luncheon in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn. Proceeds of the event go to a scholarship through the Opportunity Plan of West Texas State University.

With Mrs. James Martin as general chairman, all members worked in preparing for the luncheon, making cookbooks which were given to ticket-buyers, decorating tables and serving the dishes made by special recipes.

Theme of the lunch, Sugar 'n' Spice, was stressed in table decor. One of the buffet tables where food was served was gay with jolly gingerbread men; another had a fairyland castle which Mrs. Gary McQuigg constructed of cake icing and varicolored candies on a cardboard frame; another a sugar-plum cottage made by Mrs. Bill Warwick, with pink and lavender felt flowers around it; another a large bouquet of pink carnations.

Long dining tables had white covers with strips of pink net down the centers, scattered with mints and hard candy. At intervals were topiary trees made of lavender and pink satin balls studded with more of the colored candies, all handmade by club members.

Turkey Dinner Is Served For North H.D. Club

North Hereford Home Demonstration Club had its Thanksgiving dinner at noon Thursday in the home of Mrs. A. E. Hodges, where a turkey dinner was served to a dozen members. The club Christmas party was set for Dec. 19.

Plates were prepared and taken to Mrs. W. H. Russell and Mrs. C. L. Whitehead, charter members of the club, and Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, a longtime member, who could not be present for the meal.

Argen Draper, County H. D. Agent, gave the program on County Landmarks, speaking of the history of Deaf Smith County and of North Hereford club.

Others present were Miss Roberta Campbell, Mmes. Paul Hoff, O. L. Williams, W. J. Lueb, Fred Barrett, Velma Salvino, Roger Williams, Otto Massie, A. A. Hare, Otto Olson and Viola Williams.

When you are braising beef short ribs, use as little water as possible so the gravy will be rich. Half a cup of water should be enough for three pounds of short ribs and a couple of onions as a start; more water may be added if necessary.

Miss Kuper Is Shower Honoree

A bride-elect whose wedding is planned for Dec. 14, Miss Lynda Kuper was complimented with a shower in Hereford Country Club Saturday afternoon. Miss Kuper and Nick Milburn are to be married here in St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

She received callers yesterday with her mother, Mrs. Henry L. Kuper, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Emmett Milburn. The honoree was wearing a forest green crepe dress, cut in A-line style.

Miss Evelyn Kuper was at the bride's book where guests registered, Mrs. Alan Evers, Mrs. Marvin Kuper and Mrs. Jack Rogers alternated at the table where refreshments were served.

Silver punch bowl and coffee service were at opposite ends of the table, which was covered with a cloth of airy net over white satin. In the center, crystal candelabra had aquamarine tinted carnation blossoms tied to their branches, and touches of that color, which will be used in decorations for the wedding, we repeated on the cake icing.

In the hostess party were Mmes. Claude L. McGowan Jr., John F. Blocker Jr., George B. Stambaugh, Edward Schilling, Ansel McDowell, Reagan Peeler, George Warner, Ben Childers, Carl McCaslin, George K. Muse, C. J. Crump, Joe Schulte, Joe Schumacher.

Also Mmes. Arnie Husman, Grant Fuller, Alton Fraser, S. S. Williams, W. M. Nobles, F. A. Marnell, E. M. Hoffman, Lester Wagner, A. C. Stengel, John Warren, S. S. Dodson, Elmer Reinart, Jimmie Jesko, Johnny Jesko and Ed Bezner.

Shower Is Given For Member Of Wyche H.D. Club

A layette shower was given a member, Mrs. Wayne Jones, at a meeting of Wyche Home Demonstration Club Thursday in Mrs. T. J. Kelly's home. Gift packages were opened after a surprise presentation.

Mrs. C. F. Newsum was leader of the program on Family Health, speaking of emphysema, a widely prevalent disease of the lungs. She said annual deaths attributed to emphysema total 10,000 and that a large majority of the victims are men.

Members named old-fashioned home remedies at roll call.

The club Christmas party will be held Dec. 13 at First National Bank, and the next business meeting will be on Jan. 2, 1969, when new officers will be installed at the home of Mrs. Norman Hodges.

Those present Thursday included Mmes. L. B. Worthan, Bill Ellis, Cecil Hart, G. W. Duncan, Hodges, Charles Packard and Leroy Bodkin.

Husbands Are Supper Guests Of Needle Club

Autumn leaves and turkey cutouts decorated tables for a Thanksgiving supper this week in Pioneer Gas Flame room, where Mmes. C. N. McClure, Nell Austin and Ralph Paul were hostesses. Husbands of members were among the guests.

Supper was served to Messrs. and Mmes. Adam Flowers, Haskell Benson, Earl Cole, H. E. Lindley, J. L. Shirley, Lloyd Battey, Paul Austin and McClure; Mrs. Annie Springer, Mrs. A. H. Cook, Mrs. W. H. Awtrey and Wayne Carthel.

Plans were made for the club Christmas party Dec. 19 in the Shirley home.

At The Library

Suspense Novel, Life Story New

Two new books, one about the life story of a queen and the other about a terrible battle with results that someday may come true, are now at the Deaf Smith County Library.

ROYAL ROAD TO

FOTHERINGAY
By JEAN PLAIDY

Jean Plaidy, one of England's outstanding novelists, has here written an absorbing novel of the fascinating and tragic Mary Stuart, Queen of France, Scotland and the Isles.

A Queen in her cradle, Mary was, from the moment she was born, the center of the storms which swept her turbulent country. She was little more than a baby when escape to France was necessary, and there she grew to love the young Dauphin who was to be her first husband.

She was the darling of Henry II and his mistress Diane De Poitiers; she was adored by the Dauphin; She was the most beautiful and beloved child in France and had reason to believe that her life would be as delightful as it was in those first years.

When Henry II died, Mary became Queen of France; but while still in her teens, she was forced to leave the land she loved and return to her own country, where unscrupulous men were waiting for her.

There followed her ill fated marriage with the dissolute dandy, a marriage doomed to failure from the beginning; there was the rise of power of David Rizzio which was to end in his murder: There was the encounter with the ruffian from the border, the bold and lustful adventurer Bothwell, and the awakening of that passion, so long dormant, which followed the border's rape of the Queen—the outcome of which was murder and the speedy descent to disaster.

Mary's story is that of a charming woman, tenderhearted and generous, betrayed by her passions, so long smoldering until they carried her along the road that was to lose her everything—her lover, her child, her throne and doom her to the prison at Fotheringay and her ultimate execution.

"THE BRINK" by Dan Gallery is fiction. Some terrible tomorrow it could become fact.

just the way it happened here...

In the icy gray reaches of the polar seas an American nuclear submarine confronts a Russian destroyer. There are feints and dodges; ominous maneuvers above and below the polar ice cap. And then, in one searing second, a ship is atomized into a cloud of radio-active debris...

In Washington, as the maneuvers become political and the stakes astronomical men in high places must carefully assess their public images, their personal loyalties, their private ethics. These men will decide the fate of the world teetering on the brink.

This is a frightening, suspenseful novel, full of the lore of modern naval warfare and the intricacies of modern world politics, all underscored by emotions as old as man himself.

Friday Is The Day For Shop and Show

Francis Hardwick, manager of the Star Theatre in Hereford, is set to show "Namu, the Killer Whale" at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Friday, sponsored by the First National Bank and free to children whose mothers wish to begin their Christmas shopping in the Hereford stores on that day.

Hardwick said that the Shop and Show matinee would be "a whale of a bargain" for mothers and children alike here — the mothers will be able to shop with ease in the downtown and Sugarland Mall stores while he acts as "the biggest baby-sitter in town."

According to Hardwick, the idea behind the Shop and Show matinees (there will be three of them shown free before Christmas) is to boost sales in local stores to an estimated $20,000 to $30,000. He and bank officials feel that this project will benefit both the buyer and seller.

"The stores here sell merchandise with the same brands as stores in all the larger cities," Hardwick stressed. "And to go into the other cities for Christmas shopping out of Deaf Smith County actually represents a loss, because of the gasoline expense — not to mention taking the dollar out of circulation here. By sponsoring the free showings at the Star the First National Bank has also saved parents on the baby-sitting fee. I believe that every parent in the county should take advantage of it."

And he pointed out that "Namu, the Killer Whale" is a top-notch picture.

It takes a bit of something to get the starring feminine role in an adventure picture which also stars a 26-foot, six-ton killer whale, but tall, dark-haired Lee Meriwether has it!

Miss Meriwether will be recalled as the Miss America of 1955. She is a native of Los Angeles and a graduate of City College, San Francisco, where she majored in theatre arts. While in her freshman year there, her sorority sisters entered her in a beauty contest and she won, hands down. It was this victory which encouraged her to try for the national title which she also won handsomely.

Lee Meriwether does her little swim in "Namu, the Killer Whale" in the company of Robert Lansing when it becomes necessary in working out the plot to prove that the whale is not a killer at all but a frisky, playful animal who quite enjoys the company of humans.

MISS AMERICA OF 1955 — Lee Meriwether, who stars with Robert Lansing, John Anderson and Richard Erdman in the Color by Deluxe production, "Namu, the Killer Whale," will be shown as the first Shop and Show matinee at the Star Theatre free for all kids Friday, while their mothers begin their Christmas shopping in the downtown and Sugarland Mall stores.

Marshall Wilson Is New Owner Of Meat Market

Marshall Wilson, a Hereford resident 20 years, has purchased the Hereford Meat Market at 220 N. 25 Mile Avenue.

Born in Gall, located between Snyder and Lamesa, Wilson came to Hereford in 1948 when he was in the seventh grade. He graduated from Hereford High School in 1953, and was made manager of the Piggly Wiggly Store at that time.

Wilson had been manager of the Piggly Wiggly Store until he purchased the Hereford Meat Market on Nov. 15th. He described the years as manager of the local store as "very enjoyable."

Wilson said the Hereford Meat Market will continue to specialize in choice beef, and in recent months has accumulated a full stock of grocery products. The market also will handle Christmas trees this season as it has done in past years.

Wilson and his wife, Melrose, have two children, Kimberly, 11, is a student at La Plata Junior High, and Kathy, 8, attends Northwest Elementary School. The family lives at 201 Northwest Drive.

Talk of Texas

By JACK MAGUIRE

CORRECTING THE HISTORIANS — Texas, not Massachusetts, was the scene of the first Thanksgiving.

It happened on May 23, 1541, and the site was the Palo Duro Canyon in the Panhandle. Coronado had led his men up from Mexico looking for a legendary city called Quivera — a place so grand and so rich that the women were said to cook their food in golden pots. The expedition was almost out of food when they stumbled onto the canyon and found a friendly tribe of Texas Indians living there.

To celebrate his good fortune in finding the Indians, Coronado ordered a day of thanksgiving. Today a plaque erected in Palo Duro in 1959 by the Texas Society of the Daughters of the American Colonists proclaims May 23, 1541, as the "Feast of the First Thanksgiving."

THANKSGIVING AND INDEPENDENCE — Texans are notorious non-conformists, even in the matter of holidays.

Sam Houston, for example, always felt that the greatest blessing Texas ever received was its independence from Mexico in 1836. So when somebody suggested in 1842 that he should proclaim a day of Thanksgiving, he decided that it should coincide with Texas Independence Day.

That's how March 2, 1842, came to be celebrated as a double holiday.

GOVERNOR'S THANKSGIVING — After 1842, there was no celebration of Thanksgiving in Texas for eight years. Then in 1850, five years after Texas had entered the Union, Governor Peter H. Bell decided that the holiday should be observed.

Like Houston, however, he felt that it should be on, or near, Texas Independence Day. Since March 2 often was celebrated with much drinking and the shooting of pistols and even cannon, the governor wisely moved the official day of Thanksgiving forward a few days. Thus, March 7, 1850, became the first official Thanksgiving Day in Texas.

TRAVELING TEXAS — For as little as $6 a night, the visitor to Jefferson, in deep East Texas, can stay in a hotel boasting chandeliers and paintings from France, fireplace mantels of Italian marble and a ballroom whose columns once graced a Grecian hillside.

It's the Excelsior House, which has been accepting guests now since the 1850's. Today it is owned and operated by the ladies of the Jessie Allen Wise Garden Club who do all of the work of running it.

Guests willing to pay a little more than the standard $6 to $15 rates may occupy the two-room Presidential Suite where both Presidents Grant and Hayes rested while visiting Jefferson.

THE STATE OF TAXES — When the first hospital in Texas opened in Galveston in 1839, it was supported entirely by a kind of travel tax.

Every citizen entering Galveston, including foreign visitors, had to pay a hospital tax of one dollar.

Remote Program At Vega Church

The Rev. Father Clifton J. Corcoran of Immaculate Conception of Mary Church in Vega has announced there will be a special live broadcast from the chapel on Thanksgiving at 9 a. m. over Radio Station KNNN, Frisco.

For those who cannot attend, Father Corcoran invites them to listen to the broadcast. KNNN is heard at 1070 kilocycles.

SCREWORM ALERT — The number of screwworm cases in Texas and the Southwest continues to climb. Owners of livestock and household pets should check their animals closely for wounds; treat all wounds found and use all possible preventive measures to cut down on infestations.

Local Students On TCU Honor Roll

Miss Jean Roberson and Douglas Scott Lewis, both of Hereford, are among more than 300 students participating in Texas Christian University's Honors Program during the 1968-69 academic year.

Inaugurated at TCU in 1962 to identify, to motivate and to challenge superior students, the Honors Program was developed to assist the exceptional young person in attaining his highest potential.

Selected students take part in regular classes and activities but also take two or three courses each semester designed to challenge them to advanced thinking.

Entering freshmen are invited to participate on the basis of College Entrance Examination Board scores. All persons with a CEEB Scholastic Aptitude Test score of 1200 or higher and a high school grade-point average of at least 3.0 (B) are selected. Sophomores are invited on the basis of CEEB scores and grade-point averages. At the beginning of the junior year, all students are reevaluated, and children in schools, Mrs. Williamson said.

Approximately 200 delegates appeared at the convention.

all those having a 3.4 or better grade-point average on a 4.0 system are considered for participation regardless of CEEB ratings.

This year's Honors students come from 63 Texas cities; 30 other states and one foreign country. Of the total, 56 are seniors; 49, juniors; 87, sophomores; and 132, freshmen.

Among major fields of study of participants are math, educa-

Legion Delegates Report On Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Wiseman, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ott, Robert Betzen, Grant Hanna, and Roscoe Stark of Hereford returned from the 18th District of the American Legion Convention held last Saturday and Sunday in Memphis.

The convention was for both the American Legion and its Auxiliary, who held separate business sessions on Sunday.

Among those who officially greeted National Commander William C. Doyle, who appeared as principal speaker, was Grant Hanna of Hereford Post No. 182.

Doyle was reportedly optimistic toward the current bombing halt in Vietnam. He feels that it has given new rise to hopes of productive peace talks.

The national commander's home is located at Vineland, New Jersey. He has recently returned from an official visit to South Vietnam. Upon his appearance in Texas, he was presented a Stetson hat and a minature bale of cotton by the Lone Star State delegates to the convention, and an Oklahoma state flag by the Sooner delegates.

Mrs. Williamson, Unit President of the Hereford Auxiliary, reported that Mrs. Ira Ott presented a program on the gift shop at the VA Hospital. Auxiliary battalion commander Mrs. Sam Williams of Friona was also present and State Department President Mrs. Myra Heister gave a talk on Americanism.

She said they were told that their Girl's State program "was the best in the country" and urged continued support.

One student is permitted in this program, but it was pointed out that individuals could sponsor a girl (although they cannot select her personally) from schools that have no American Legion representation at this time, through contact with an area Legion post.

They were also advised to collect good used clothing and other wearing apparel articles for ne-

Many Medicare Recipients Not Familiar With Filing Procedures

Persons over 65 and enrolled for medical insurance under Medicare are sometimes not familiar with the procedure for filing their claims.

Travis C. Briggs, district manager of the Amarillo Social Security office, stated in a recent interview that the most important point to remember is that any social security representative will be happy to assist in the filing of the first claim for benefits.

Many eligible persons who had doctor bills of more than $50 last year have still not submitted a claim. They should do so as soon as practical for more reason that just immediate reimbursement.

Pack 51 Has Recent Meeting

Cub Scouts Pack 51, Den 1 held a meeting on Monday, in the home of their Den Mother, Mrs. Gerald Sledge.

The boys enjoyed different ideas on Christmas gifts they could make. Mrs. Sledge furnished the refreshments.

Briggs explained that any part of the $50 deductible amount which may have been incurred in October, November or December may carry over into the following year and be counted as part of the deductible amount for a second time. Briggs cited an example or two concerning this last quarter payment. For instance, suppose a person had only $35 in doctor bills in 1967 and these were incurred in November. He would have to have only $15 in 1968 before the deductible would be met. Or if the bill in November had been $135, there would be no deductible in 1968. Persons having Medicare questions or problems should contact the social security office in Amarillo or meet with the representative who visits HEREFORD regularly. His schedule is available at your post office.

Church Group Attending Meet, Revise Schedule

"Sharing Fully in Preaching the Good News" is the theme for the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's witnesses to be held in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School Auditorium in Pampa this weekend.

George Humphries, in commenting about the assembly, said all local meetings at the Kingdom Hall, 319 Ave. I, would be cancelled this weekend and would be resumed Tuesday, November 26.

"We will all be going to Pampa for Bible education and spiritual fortification. While it is true Jehovah's witnesses are all ministers, we feel that Bible education never stops. Especially in this time with its problems, both personal and community, spiritual strength is very necessary. These assemblies are one source of such encouragement. The instruction and Bible study will not only be of benefit to the delegates, but also to the residents of Hereford as each one of Jehovah's witnesses returns home, he will be sharing this information with his neighbors," explained Humphries.

All sessions will be open to the public and no collections are taken.

Army Group To Teach Course

An Army Radiological Monitoring Team from Fort Hood will be in Hereford Monday and Tuesday to teach a 16-hour course dealing with fallout and radiation.

Training in such vital information as mathematics of fallout and measuring radiation will be included in the course. Mathematics will play a big role in the course.

Certificates from the Army and the Office of Defense and Disaster Relief will be presented to those completing the course. Members of the Department of Public Safety, Hereford Volunteer Fire Department and Civil Air Patrol are expected to participate, along with representatives from other agencies.

There is no charge for the course, which is open to anyone interested.

The Sound of Laughter

Laughter probably began when a cave man felt some sudden exhilaration that he had no other means of expressing. On the other hand, it may have been the surprise or wonder he felt when he first saw his reflection in water.

But the sincere sounds of spontaneous chuckles or silver-tongued mirth or leather-lunged laughter have saved many days rued even by the crows.

Hard Core Fairy Tales

Everybody has a reason for the alleged decline in the morals of our young people. The problem is not limited to any one nation. It is worldwide, and the dilemma grows more severe with the passage of time. We have heard some theorists hold forth with beliefs that have appeared to be worthy of further study. Others have generated our skepticism.

Some have blamed violence and sex on TV or the movies. The availability of pornographic books and photographs has been cited. Comic books have been brought into the debate by a number of people. The blame has been placed on our schools, our churches and the parents of the offenders.

Recently an Australian psychiatrist has placed a large portion of the blame on fairy tales. This particular scholar has been studying the psychiatric effect of fairy tales for longer than most children believe them. He has devoted ten years to investigating Red Riding Hood, Goldilocks and Jack of beanstalk fame.

Now he suffers great apprehension over the influence these fantasies have on young minds. He has concluded that Little Red Riding Hood "is a sexually-tempted young girl, with the warning of her mother not to stray from the straight and narrow path ringing in her ears. The big, bad wolf does not need much interpretation." Well, after reading his theory one wonders why more Peyton Place fans don't open their copies of Mother Goose, instead of wasting money on more expensive hard-cover novels.

The doctor sees Jack as a one-man crime wave in the beanstalk affair, and even Goldilocks stole the bear's porridge. He fails to explain why the world was not already beyond redemption from these lurid tales. It has, after all, been more than 150 years since the brothers Grimm authored the "horrorifying and frightening" tales for which they have become famous.

Perhaps the good doctor will grow up himself soon and realize the difference between the adult mind and the imagination of the young ones. Meantime, we wonder what he thinks of Santa Claus? Somehow we're relieved that Virginia's letter didn't fall into his hands.

Virginia City (Nev.) Territorial Enterprise

There are few tension-ridden situations that aren't ameliorated by laughter and there are few free-swinging ones that aren't rendered enduring by this priceless gift. The best laughter is usually as extemporaneous as a sneeze, but it may exude all the warmth of an open fire on a snowy day.

Some people laugh the way a jaybird takes off when one wing is effervescent and the other wing is wholesome sass. Some howl as if their lungs are happy cats and others send merriment springing up from the belly down through the sliding boards of the nostrils. Some start slowly, like a car on an icy morning, and then they really strip their vocal gears.

Some go like Woody Woodpecker and others laugh as if their funny bones are tickled by ants and goose feathers at the same time. Some reduce their laughter to beatific smiles that stand as epilogues for human kindness and tolerance, and there is still one man in every neighborhood whose laughter is a huge bell. His clapper goes slowly at first, and then it picks up merry steam until it shakes the whole street with the irresistible infection of uproarious candor and friendliness.

A Major Advance In Pressure Medicine

One of medicine's newest weapons carries a name that matches the ailments it treats so successfully. Hyperbaric oxygenation, also known as HBO, is treatment in a steel chamber in which the air pressure is raised to a higher level than normal room pressure. While under this pressure the blood carries more oxygen. At the typical HBO pressure of three times normal, the amount of oxygen in the blood is increased 25 times.

Some germs, such as those responsible for gas gangrene, cannot produce their toxins in the presence of large amounts of oxygen. Antibiotics and surgical cleansing then become effective against infection, making it possible to prevent amputation if a leg has developed gas gangrene from a deep wound.

Monoxide poisoning is treated in pressure chambers. Lack of oxygen in the brain causes the victim to become unconscious. In the chamber enough oxygen dissolves in the blood to protect the patient until his hemoglobin can free itself of the carbon monoxide, and the red blood cells can once more do their job.

The pressure chamber has also been useful in heart surgery. A few dozen hyperbaric chambers large enough to accommodate medical teams are now in use. They are a major advance that may have revolutionary effects in treatment of coronary heart attacks.

Restoring Order In D. C. Will Not Be Easy Task

By BERT MILLS

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Crime was a major issue in the recent political campaign and Richard Nixon's strong stand for law enforcement was one reason for his election.

One of the most conspicuous failures of the defeated Democratic Administration has been its inability to stem the constant rise in the crime rate. The most glaring example is the District of Columbia — the only place in the nation where the Federal government has complete jurisdiction over control of crime.

President Johnson has argued that crime is primarily a local problem. That is true generally, but not in Washington, D.C. The President appoints the Mayor and the City Council in Washington, and they administer the Police Department. The President also appoints the judges and prosecutors.

Two years ago Congress passed a tough law to control crime in D.C. It never took effect because President Johnson considered the bill too strong and killed it by his veto. Since then the crime rate in Washington has continued to escalate.

Federal Bureau of Investigation figures show that of 56 cities with a population exceeding 25,000, Washington ranks sixth in the crime rate. Only Newark, Baltimore, San Francisco, Detroit and Los Angeles have a worse record.

BANK ROBBERS ARE FINED
Washington residents are outraged regularly by the crime news. Recently two 17-year-old youths robbed a bank of $9,000, pleaded guilty, but the money was not recovered. Instead of being tried as criminals, a juvenile court judge released them upon payment of fines of $100 and $200.

The judge said neither thief had a criminal record and he did not want to send them to jail where they would associate with hardened criminals. He said one boy might lose an athletic scholarship to college if he were jailed. Of course, the names of the youthful holdup artists were not published. Lenient judges are by no means the whole problem in Washington. Court rulings favoring criminals have so tied the hands of police that they are often powerless to make arrests and get convictions. An almost incredible example occurred within five blocks of the White House recently.

So many bank holdups have been staged in Washington of late that detectives patrol the streets where banks are situated. Two robbery squad detectives in a patrol car spotted a suspicious man walking near a bank, carrying a briefcase. By the time they reached him, he was seated in a parked car with two other men.

The suspect was arrested, and the briefcase found at his feet on the floor of the car. It contained four revolvers, ammunition, two ski masks, and two pairs of rubber gloves. The man was charged with carrying dangerous weapons and the guns were confiscated. The two other men in the car, both awaiting trial on bank robbery charges, were not even arrested.

Upon advice of the U. S. Attorney, the suspect with the gun-filled briefcase was released for lack of "probable cause" for arrest. It was explained that the law requires a policeman to have "reasonable grounds for suspicion, supported by circumstances sufficiently strong in themselves to lead a cautious police officer to believe that a party is guilty of a crime."

POLICE RECRUITS SOUGHT
Congress was so exercised this year by crime in Washington that it authorized 1,000 more policemen for DC. The rate of increase was to be 100 per month for 10 months. The program is more than two months old but only 33 men have been added. A nation-wide search is now being made for 967 more men willing to be Washington policemen. Normal recruiting methods have failed so military personnel due for discharge are being solicited in 28 bases as far away as the West Coast. The Pentagon has agreed to release servicemen 60 days early, if they will agree to become Washington policemen.

Mr. Nixon has promised to restore law and order in the nation's capital. Obviously it will not be an easy task.

Good Luck,
Mr. Shivers

Former Texas Governor Allan Shivers, now prominent business leader, has said to businessmen that government and business teamwork is needed to attack problems that are "a shame and a peril to our cities today." Shivers has suggested a free enterprise effort, led by businessmen, to solve problems of hardcore unemployment, poverty, pollution, etc. Unless these problems of cities are dealt with, cities "will soon become unfit to live in, or do business in."

This request for active participation of businessmen, especially big businessmen, comes at a time of opportunity for Shivers and leaders like him who are willing to accept some progressive responsibility in matters extending beyond the corporation's profit and loss statements. But what Shivers is requesting, he will not receive. Big business has started on the problems, but the business community in general has not demonstrated substantial interest in even directly related socio-economic problems. Maintaining and improving profit figures is the overwhelming concern in any establishment set up to make money.

Shivers says, "Businessmen must become more involved, not just in expanding their own companies, promoting more economic activity and spreading prosperity generally, but also in the specific problems of disadvantaged people from which our present problems arise." But this has never been the role that business has accepted.

No businessman, considering his own profits, can really be willing to hire a person classified as "hardcore unemployed." Even with government aid, paying and training ill-disciplined people gets expensive. A businessman generally doesn't take great efforts to lead wage scales; he follows. Business has not considered the problem of pollution until government has so ordered.

The point of all this is not to indict business; business has not seen fit to undertake certain improvements because they are out of business' immediate realm of profits and economic growth. Business has built its stereotyped position, and government has built another one.

If business wants a bigger share in improving the lot of urban mankind in the United States, a job up to now largely dumped onto the federal government, it will have to initiate its own action. Business leadership could bring new ideas, better ideas, perhaps faster results, by taking a positive, progressive role. But in consideration of events in recent years, I would say it's a little late.

—Larry Fuhrmann

The Missionary Entertainment, given under the auspices of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, was pre-eminently a success. The program, consisting of music and recitations, all of which breathed a true missionary spirit, was begun promptly at 8 o'clock to a large and appreciative audience, the new church being filled to overflowing.

All unemployed men on the Deaf Smith County Relief rolls, plus an additional 110 per cent after December, are to be furnished fulltime work on projects financed under the Civil Works Administration. ### Poultry Tops This Month

By Mrs. Argen Draper
Home Demonstration Agent

Poultry will be used more the next few weeks than any other one food.

CHOOSE THE MARKET for cleanliness when buying chicken or turkey as a good market keeps fresh birds refrigerated and frozen birds frozen at all times. Our local markets are very good at taking good care of frozen poultry and other frozen foods.

Poultry is a low-calorie meat but the preparation can add many calories. An average serving, 3 1/2 ounces of roasted turkey has only 190 calories. Equal quantities of poultry are higher in protein than other meats because of their low fat content. Unstuffed frozen turkeys should be thawed until pliable before cooking. Do not thaw commercially frozen stuffed birds before cooking.

FROZEN FOODS, including main dishes, gourmet items and desserts, are featured in most all stores this month. Special care should be taken to keep these foods in quality condition. Hurry frozen food into the refrigerator. One exposure to high temperature can cause severe damage. Storing frozen food at a too high a temperature is the most common loss of quality.

A storage temperature of zero degrees or lower is needed to maintain the best quality in frozen foods. At higher freezing temperatures chemical changes cause food to lose color, flavor, characteristic texture and nutritive value.

Is the space you store frozen foods the recommended temperature reading or close to it? Use a thermometer and take the temperature reading in several locations to check accurately. Regulate the temperature control to obtain and maintain zero degrees in the warmest spot, if possible. If your equipment does not maintain a temperature of zero, plan to hold frozen foods only a few days before you use them.

COOKIES AND CAKES which are long-lived and can stand a few knocks can be mailed with confidence, regardless of distance. Soft drop cookies, chewy bar cookies, squared and filled cookies travel well. Also, applesauce, molasses, oatmeal and mince meat cookies are good packers. Cookies flavored with honey and fruit improve with age. If cookies are too rich, they may crumble or turn rancid.

Cakes are difficult to ship successfully because they dry and break. Syrups substituted for part of the sugar help to prevent rapid drying. Fruit cakes and those made with applesauce remain moist most of the time. Send cup cakes in fluted paper cups or cut a square cake and frost all pieces on all sides, wrapping each piece individually. These are two recipes that make products that travel well:

HONEY HERMITS

Melt 1-3 cup shortening and add it to 1-1.3 cups of strained honey. Then add 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt and 1 cup chopped raisins. Sift together 3 1/2 cups flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves, and 4 teaspoons of baking powder.

Add the dry ingredients to the moist and mix well. Drop on greased cookie sheet and bake in 375-400 degree F. oven until done.

APPLESAUCE LOAVES

Cream together 1/4 cup shortening and 1 cup sugar. Add 1 cup applesauce. Sift together 2 cups flour, 1 level teaspoon baking soda, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, a pinch of salt and a pinch of nutmeg.

Add dry to moist ingredients, then stir in 1 cup chopped raisins and currants. Mix and bake in individual small loaf pans, using 350-375 degrees F. oven. Chopped citron or candied fruits can be substituted for a portion of the raisin-and-currant mixture, if desired.

HOME DEMONSTRATION

Council meets Monday at 2:30 in the County Courtroom. This is the annual meeting of the council and club presidents give project reports for 1968.

All the home demonstration clubs have met in November as they have rearranged schedules to miss the Thanksgiving holidays. Happy Thanksgiving.

LIONS SPEAKERS - Speakers for the noon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club Wednesday were Herman Ford, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Cancer Society, and Jack Cromartie of Amarillo, district supervisor. Don Chaney, chairman of the

Small Talk

By SUE COLEMAN
Women's Editor

We needn't wait any longer, the holiday season has positively started and shows signs of being a busier one than the busy ones of past years.

I'M NOT TALKING about the shopping season, which is here already and will add to the busy-ness, but the partying season.

Practically every organization has plans for a Thanksgiving or Christmas party, sometimes both plus a New Years party, so nearly everybody can expect to be on the go for a month or more now.

An officer of the Country Club told me this week that the club building is booked for some entertainment every day in December, and on some days all four rooms will be in use. If you don't already have an invitation or two, you might look for one any day.

favor of the government, and Internal Revenue refunded $94. million to these taxpayers who had cheated themselves out of almost $100 million through their own bad arithmetic.

This may not prove that most taxpayers would flunk grammar school arithmetic, but it seems to prove Internal Revenue's repeated warning: "Check it again - carefully - before you mail it." That dollar you save will be your own.

It had been seen here by some of the girls, and members of the organization felt that it deserved a spot in their fine new home.

The young tree was incorporated into the plans for ground beautification which Hereford Garden Club is undertaking. It will be a project requiring several years, but it won't be that long before the grounds will begin to show results of the garden clubbers' touch.

They have planted a bulb bed which should break out into flowers early next spring, and the lawn which the City of Hereford put in, should be very handsome next summer. Slower-growing things - the trees and shrubs - will take longer so we can look for constant improvement.

Mrs. O. G. Hill-Sr. is the chairman of this garden club project. The city is cooperating because the building is on park ground, and the girls are helping because they take pride in the new building and its surroundings.

ONE OF THE FUND-raising events which Hereford residents expect every holiday season is the gift and food sale at St. Thomas Episcopal Church. It is slated for next Saturday, an all-day Festival in the parish hall.

Instead of the luncheon which is always an important part of the day, there will be a bake sale and a sale of homemade chili. Mrs. Curtis Trawick's special chili which has a very good reputation hereabout.

In addition to all sorts of gift items, handmade, there will be Horseradish Sauce tastes delicious with cold sliced smoked tongue or ham. To make it, whip half a cup of heavy cream and add several tablespoons of well drained horseradish (the bottled variety) and salt to taste.

Artichoke hearts make a notable first course for a company dinner that's on the formal side. Use drained canned or frozen cooked artichoke hearts and team them with a rich cream sauce: sprinkle copiously with grated Parmesan cheese and brown under the broiler.
