Gas Supply, Sex Discrimination Considered

School Board Approves Policy For Child Abuse

BY BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

The Hereford School Board of Education finished in rapid time to approve a child abuse policy, appoint a representative to the county Juvenile Board, discuss the district's gas supply policy and hear special reports on the Right to Read Program, the athletic program and the tennis complex at a regular meeting Tuesday evening at the district administration building.

In other business the school board trustees heard reports on the enrollment, the cafeteria, transportation, the title IX proposed survey (sex discrimination) and approved resignations of two teachers and the election (hiring) of another. Also approved was Shirley Garrison as a member to the county wide reappraisal committee. Other members approved by the County Commissioners Court this week also were confirmed.

THE CHILD ABUSE policy simply requires all cases of child abuse and neglect to be reported. It also encourages all school personnel to become familiar with the new Texas Family Code, which requires the above policy.

Roy Hartman, superintendent, said cases in Deaf Smith County are just as bad as elsewhere. Jim Holmes, administrative assistant, added that reports across Texas have amounted to volume numbers and that this is only a portion of them.

Paul Abalos was appointed to coordinate the reporting of such cases since he is parental involvement director and comes in contact with households more than any other administrator.

Larry Wartes, administrative assistant, was reappointed as the school representative to the county juvenile Board which oversees the juvenile probation program currently under the direction of Larry Watson, juvenile probation officer.

Concerning the district fuel supply for buses and maintenance vehicles, Wartes reported that the situation was still unsettled and asked the board to either allow him the authority to arrive at a solution or decide on a policy themselves. Jim Conkright, president, concurred with other trustees to grant Wartes to reach a settlement to insure adequate supplies.

Methods discussed to supply the fuel involved a rotation by the eight or nine local dealers, calling once a month to check on the dealer supplying the cheapest gas, and securing storage tanks to buy fuel in volume in two week segments. The objective of the board was to decide on the cheapest supplier of fuel for secured length of time.

Lynton Allred, trustee, and a local fuel dealer, said the price fluctuates daily and that it was impossible for any dealer to guarantee a stable or low price for any longer than one day and definitely not for a month. "The cost of gas in Hereford has varied as much as seven cents at a time," he said.

Henslee First Candidate For '76

The first hat was tossed in the ring to start political activity in 1976 when Donald D. Henslee filed Wednesday morning as a candidate for Deaf Smith County Commissioner, Precinct 2.

The family resides at 123 Star and he and his wife, Rachel, have three children.--Capt. Don R. Henslee, in the U.S. Army; Mrs. Johnny Rickman of Hereford, and David, a medical student at Denton.

Henslee is seeking his first elective office and will be a candidate in the Democratic primary May 1, 1976. His father, the late Homer Henslee, served as county judge of Deaf Smith County. His mother still resides in Hereford.

Earl Holt is the present commissioner for the precinct, and his term expires at the end of 1976. Holt said this week he will probably announce his intentions Sunday.

County elective offices which have terms expiring in 1976 include the county sheriff, tax assessor-collector, and commissioners of precincts 1 and 3.

Henslee, 52, is a salesman for Jones Motor Co. and was employed in the county tax office in 1965-68. He came to the county in 1925, graduated from Hereford High School and attended Texas Tech. He is a veteran of the Navy during World War II.

Watson Resigns Probation Post

Larry Watson, Deaf Smith County juvenile probation officer, officially submitted his resignation to members of the Juvenile Board at a meeting held Wednesday afternoon at the county courthouse.

Watson, who has served in the capacity since March, 1974, is resigning to accept the administrator's position at the newly conceived Panhandle Emergency Receiving shelter in Amarillo. The shelter is located on the second floor of St. Anthony's School of Nursing.

I am accepting the position because it offers a challenge in serving a larger area," Watson said. The shelter will house up to 16 juveniles at a time for maximum periods of up to 30 days. The resignation is effective Jan. 1, 1976 according to a letter Watson submitted to the board.

Applications for juvenile probation officer will be accepted in County Judge Sam Morgan's office on the second floor of the courthouse.

In the letter, Watson said that due to his acceptance of the Amarillo job, "I am therefore submitting my resignation and request that it be accepted and made effective Jan. 1, 1976."

Watson said Tuesday, "I appreciate the cooperation of the board and hope the board will be as progressive in the future as it has been in the past in serving the needs of juveniles here. I have enjoyed serving this county."

Season Opens Saturday On Area's Top Gamebird

CHINESE RING-NECKED PHEASANT
...Colorful, elusive prize for upland hunters

BY JIM STEIERT
Brand Farm Editor

With sunrise Saturday morning, thousands of Panhandle-area gunners will be taking to the stalk fields and plays lake beds in pursuit of the state's most colorful and highly sought-after upland gamebird--the Chinese Ringnecked pheasant.

THE SEASON opens Saturday and continues through Sunday, December 28, spanning three weekends for the second straight year. Shooting hours are one half hour before sunrise to one half hour after sunset.

Bag limit is two cocks per day with a possession limit of four. Hens are not fair game.

Shotguns need not be plugged to three shell capacity for hunting the colorful upland game birds, but if gunners intend to shoot ducks or geese in addition to pheasant, their guns must be plugged.

Although it is legal to bag pheasants with a rifle, the policy is not advised, due to the large numbers of livestock in area fields. Hunters may also hunt pheasants from a vehicle on private property, but it is against state law to shoot from a roadway.

OUTSTANDING nesting success this summer has led to prospects for one of the finest years for hunters since the season was opened on pheasants in 1964. In the eleven years since the season was first opened, the area pheasant population has continued to expand, and the Deaf Smith, Castro and Pecos county areas have become some of the finest pheasant country in the nation.

The story of the pheasant has been one of remarkable success in the Hereford area. Landowners and townspeople brought the first of these exotic gamebirds to the area and released them in 1946 or 1947. In just 18 years, the population grew and expanded to a huntable level.

Chuck Cosper of Hereford, state game warden, reports that there is an outstanding population of birds this year. "Most of the stubble fields have already been plowed, due to this year's early harvest. The birds are concentrated in certain areas, and there are large numbers of cocks running in bunches. When a hunter comes across one of these large concentrations and the birds fly up in a group, he must take care to avoid shooting hens," said Cosper.

If 1974 was any indication, local fields will be swamped with hunters. Cosper estimated that up to 10,000 hunters went afield in the three county areas on opening day last year.

HUNTER INTEREST quickly tapers off after opening day however, and only a few dedicated gunners are still walking the fields in search of birds by the closing weekend.

Cosper rates the pheasant as a tough target. "The cocks will come down running if you don't kill them with the first shot, and it's hard for a hunter to find a wounded bird without the aid of a dog, because they hide so effectively. Magnum No. 6 loads are a favorite for taking pheasant, but some hunters will even use No. 4's to make sure they can bring their birds down," Cosper explained.

Although enjoyable recreation is (See PHEASANT, Page 2A)

10 Persons Indicted By County Grand Jury

The Deaf Smith County Grand Jury last week returned 10 indictments for varying offenses according to records of the Criminal district Attorney Andy Shuval.

The cases were presented with evidence compiled by Shuval and Roland Saul, assistant district attorney.

Five persons were indicted on Felony driving while intoxicated (DWI) charges. This constitutes the second or third DWI offense. Indicted were Ben Thomas Wells, David Allen Keener, Ronnie Joe Cantrell, Alonzo Ramirez Jr. and Alfred Anthony Espinoza.

Theft over $200 but less than $10,000 charges were sustained against John Yocum and Donald G. Heh.

Other indictments returned included: --Jaime Malto, carrying a prohibited weapon.

--Alfred High, aggravated assault. The grand jury, which convened twice on the indictments decided not to return any no-bills. Most of the defendants were listed as free on bond pending scheduled trials.

County To Hire Deputy, Ups Insurance Coverage

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN

Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court, in regular session Monday, approved the employment of an additional deputy sheriff on Jan. 1, voted increased insurance coverage on county buildings and contents, approved the re-appointment of Doug Manning to the juvenile board, and formally approved a state project to complete the paving of FM-2943 in the northwest part of the county.

Commissioners and County Judge Sam Morgan also met with representatives of the Hereford School board and Hereford City Commission to appoint a seven-member advisory group for the tax re-appraisal program.

PURPOSE OF THE RE-APPRAISAL committee will be to study grades of farmland proposed by the appraisers, as well as classification of residential commercial and industrial properties to determine if the schedules are fair to all concerned.

The city appointed Neil Cooper and Melvin Jayroe to the committee the county and school appointed H.R. Stewart, Frank Zinser Jr., Joe Reinauer Jr., and Frank Brorman, and the school appointed Shirley Garrison, who resides outside the county but in the school district. Appointments cover all areas of the county, as well as farmers with dryland and irrigated land.

The farm-to-market paving project is for 5.1 miles of road on FM-2943. The paving will proceed one mile east and then 4.1 miles north to connect with FM-1062. The FM road extends north from Hwy. 60, along side of Southwest Feed Yard, and will connect with FM -1062, an east-west road, which goes to Hwy. 385(Milo Center) on the west and FM-809 on the east.

While approval of the $269,000 project was a formality, commissioner Bruce Coleman questioned the manner in which the selection was made. While he expressed appreciation to the highway department for approving the project in Deaf Smith County, Coleman complained that commissioner Earl Holt and former commissioner Donald Hicks had "made contacts with highway department officials without the knowledge of the rest of the court."

Coleman said he protested "the manner in which the paving selection was made" and added that he thought it was "unfair for the rest of the county

Esteemed Presentation

Mrs. Reece Lawson, president of Hereford CowBelles, places the symbolic pendant around the neck of Mrs. Bussy Kaul, named CowBelle of the Year during a Tasting Bee Tuesday. The award recipient was noted for her service during 1975 as second vice president and beef promotion chairman. The presentation is the traditional climax of a year of efforts by the CowBelles to aid the cattlemen and related businesses. [For details, see the story in Section B.]

CONSTRUCTION starts in November reflected a healthy building situation in Hereford, and this year's total should be above the $4 million mark--or about twice the amount for 1974. Building permits hit the $4 million mark in 1973 after year of $3 million-plus in '71 and '72. The total reached $5.1 million in 1970.

Congratulations are in order for many citizens of the community in the announcement that the United Way has reached its goal. A large part of the credit has to go to the division chairmen and their captains who performed much of the actual solicitations. For the men and women who are called upon to do the leg work, the idea of one drive for nine agencies has to be the best thing going. And, it's simpler for the contributor, too.

McPherson Injured As Gun Blows Up

Deaf Smith County Sheriff Travis McPherson was injured Thursday afternoon at the city firing range when the rifle he was shooting blew up.

According to a spokesman for the sheriff's office, McPherson and Bill Brady of Hereford were firing a 7 mm magnum rifle when the gun malfunctioned and an entire clip of ammunition blew up.

McPherson was struck on the head and leg by fragments of the gun, suffering cuts and bruises.

He was returned to the city for medical attention before being sent home. Brady was not injured in the accident.

Principal Presents Award At TSTA Banquet

Alice Christman Chosen 'Teacher Of The Year'

Teacher Of The Year

Rodney Laubhan, principal at Bluebonnet, presents the Teacher of the Year Award to Mrs. Alice Christman, a third grade teacher at Bluebonnet. It was presented at TSTA banquet Monday night.

Mrs. Alice Christman, a third grade teacher at Bluebonnet Elementary school, was presented the annual "Teacher of the Year Award" by the Hereford unit of the Texas State Teacher's Association at its Christmas banquet Monday night in the Hereford High School cafeteria.

While the presentation had already been previously announced, Mrs. Christman received the award with bewilderment and mixed emotion. She said it was the high point of her 35-year teaching career, which ends this school year with her retirement.

"I THINK I could cry," she said at the banquet. "My greatest reward, though, is just being able to teach here in this fine school system."

The TSTA selects a teacher each year to be so honored according to Gene Barkowsky, association president. The award was presented by Rodney Laubhan, Bluebonnet principal.

Mrs. Christman said the award meant much to her especially this year since it is her last. "It will be the last time I will be doing a lot of things (as a teacher) such as getting ready for Christmas and I will miss a lot."

In a special historical interview by a West Texas State University student last year, she stated the following philosophy of teaching: "No endeavor requires more wisdom, more humility, more labor, more dedication than teaching. Teaching should be our way of life, an opportunity to live richly and deeply, a fulfillment of that which is useful, beautiful and true.

As long as we are teaching, we must leave an indelible impression on truths in the classroom—that laboratory of life."

SHE BEGAN her teaching in this area in 1946 when she taught one year at Summerfield, seven miles west of Hereford. One year also was spent in a school at Dawn. Both are no longer in existence.

She has since spent 25 years in the Hereford Independent School District. Her classes have included children in first second and third grade.

Born in Grayson County (near Sherman) in 1910, Mrs. Christman grew up with four brothers and one sister. She was the only one of them to finish high school due to the depression.

She graduated from high school in Denison, near Sherman in 1928 and later enrolled in Southwestern State Teachers' College in Durant, Okla. She received a B.S. degree from West Texas State.

Her first job, after a year of college, was in Willow Springs, Tex., where she had attended first-seventh grades. Her salary was $80 a month, which sometimes had to be discounted at the local bank in order to be cashed.

"I WAS HIRED by the board of trustees, three men elected by the people in that school district. Sometimes the elections were very 'heated' and people tried to use the usual political tricks to get the man they wanted in office elected."

Her basic job was teaching "Reading", "Rithmetic", and "Rithmetic," but her duties in the beginning included all janitor work such as sweeping the floors or building fires in the wood stove. Now, the teacher's job centers around established curriculums, but Mrs. Christman counts heavily on human relations between faculty, students and parents.

She lives with her retired husband Fritz at 208 Aspen. They have two children, Mrs. Lois Ketcham, a teacher in the Andrews school district, and Paul Christman, an insurance agent in Houston.

"I am proud and glad of the fact that both went through school in Hereford," their mother said.

Her memberships include the National Education Association, TSTA, and Delta Kappa Gamma, a professional teachers organization. She is past member of the Classroom Teachers Association.

CB's, Stereo Are Stolen

Police continue investigations into incidents of auto and residential burglaries which occurred over the weekend and early this week.

A stereo was taken from a vehicle parked in the driveway of the Doug Manning home at 231 Ranger last week, while Mrs. Johnny Davis of 130 Ave. E reported the theft of over $1,000 worth of household items from her home Saturday night.

CB radios were also taken from vehicles parked at the G.W. Payne residence at 114 Mimosa and the H.H. Patterson residence at 344 Douglas Monday night.

Leo Hollowell of 240 North Main also reported the theft of a pair of clippers and blades. The theft occurred sometime during the weekend.

normally associated with pheasant hunting, the opening day of the season often-times spells headaches for some local landowners.

Careless hunters often knock down electric fences or fail to close gates, creating extra work for landowners who must gather stray cattle and make repairs.

COSPER REMINDS hunters to be considerate of the rights of the landowner, and to be especially careful about closing gates and looking out for fences.

"Hunters should always have permission before going onto another man's land, and they should honor the signs put up by landowners," the warden pointed out.

According to Cosper, farmers who do not want hunters on their land should put up several signs, in addition to the one required at the main entrance of the posted property.

Although important to the sportsman as a highly-regarded quarry, the pheasant has also become important in the local area from an economic standpoint.

Hunters coming into the area each year in quest of the colorful gamebird mean extra income for area motels and restaurants, which are often filled during the opening weekend of the season.

VFD Auxiliary Schedules Breakfast For Hunters

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department Auxiliary will hold its third annual Hunters' Breakfast Saturday in the Hereford High School cafeteria from 4:30 to 7:30 a.m.

EARLY-RISING PHEASANT HUNTERS can dine on a breakfast menu which includes eggs, sausage, gravy, coffee and milk. Tickets for the breakfast are $2.50 each and may be purchased at the door.

Proceeds from the breakfast will be used to purchase additional equipment and supplies for the volunteer fire department.

According to Mrs. Jay Spain, breakfast chairman, the auxiliary served approximately 400 hunters at its breakfast last year, and the 30-35 auxiliary members are expecting a crowd to equal or excel the 1974 figure this year.

"WE'VE BEEN GETTING requests on information about the breakfast for over a month now, and the majority of those we serve will be out-of-town hunters. We feel like the breakfast will be a big success," said Mrs. Spain.

Miss Hereford Pageant To Award $1,150 In Scholarships

At a meeting Tuesday morning at Hereford High School for prospective Miss Hereford entries, it was revealed that two more scholarships will be given this year, bringing the total amount of scholarships to $1,150.

First place winner in the pageant, which is to be held Feb. 21 in the high school auditorium, will receive a $500 scholarship. For the first time in Hereford, first runner-up will receive a $300 scholarship and second runner-up will receive a $100 scholarship. They will also receive individual awards, such as a silver tray or dish.

A $50 scholarship for talent winner and $25 for Miss Congeniality will also be awarded again this year.

Sixteen girls met with Mrs. J.W. Robinson and Mrs. Glenn Watts Tuesday and viewed a film made of last year's pageant. It was indicated that there were several more girls interested in entering. Deadline for high school girls to enter is Jan. 1. Deadline for girls in college is Jan. 20.

In conjunction with the Miss Hereford Pageant, the Women's Division of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce will also sponsor a Miss Teen Division and Miss Hereford Younger Age Division.

The Younger Age Division pageant will be held that afternoon at 2 p.m. There will be three awards given in each age division, including Cutest Miss, ages 3-5; Miss Petite Hereford, ages 6-9; and Miss Junior Hereford, ages 10-12. The winners will be announced at the Miss Hereford Pageant.

The Miss Teen Hereford Pageant, which is set for 7:30 that evening, will also have three top place winners with Miss Teen receiving a $100 scholarship and being named Miss Bicentennial for 1976. A $50 scholarship will go to the talent winner and a $25 scholarship will go to Miss Teen Congeniality.

Girls wishing more information about entering the Miss Hereford or Miss Teen Hereford pageants should contact Mrs. Glenn Watts or Mrs. J.W. Robinson.

Mrs. Dan Warrick, who has been named director of the Younger Division, should be contacted for information pertaining to it.

There will be an entry fee of $3.00 for the Younger Division Pageant and admission has been set at $1. Admission to the Miss Hereford and Miss Teen Hereford Pageants will include a complete program book featuring Miss America Pageants as well as the local pageant. Tickets are $3 each.

West Texas Industrial Tour Termed 'A Total Success'

The recent visit by four Hereford men on the West Texas Industrial Tour to New York City was viewed as a "total success."

Bill Albright, executive vice president of the Deaf Smith Chamber of Commerce, said this week that all were impressed with the responsiveness and receptiveness of the New Yorkers' impression of West Texas. The tour was sponsored by 11 West Texas and Panhandle towns in an effort to talk with and possibly convince New York industrialists of the potential for locating further expansion in West Texas.

Attending from Hereford were Albright, Bud Eades, president of the Cof C; Bud Snyder, C of C board member; and Tom Burdett, president of the Hereford Industrial Foundation. Clint Formby, owner of KPAN radio, attended in place of Governor Dolph Briscoe who was to conduct part of the tour.

Three luncheons were held at the last week at which over 150 New York company presidents and chairmen of the board appeared. They were given specially prepared brochures and an audio visual presentation on the assets of West Texas. The company representative were contacted in advance of tour.

The tour was the first such venture for the West Texas towns and was patterned after similar tours sponsored by the East Texas Chambers of Commerce. The first two luncheons were conducted by Bill Clayton, Texas speaker of the House, and Formby conducted the third one.

Future such tours are planned to other parts of the country such as Chicago and to cities on the West coast.

Albright, Eades and Burdett made a side trip to Milwaukee, Wis., on their way home to visit a firm considering locating a large facility here. While not publicly releasing the firm's name, Albright said, "It is a compatible industry to this area and it would use raw materials specific to this area."

The firm is presently considering Hereford, along with about two other locations, for further expansion possibilities. The Hereford men took a tour of the firm's plant and talked with company representatives on Hereford's advantages.

The firm has twice sent representatives here and plans a visit in the near future, Albright said.

The last new industry located here is the Sue Ann Garment plant which is just beginning operations.

Courts Experience Light Load

Court activity in the past week was relatively light as only two criminal cases were decided and another six were filed by the Criminal District Attorney's office. No cases were decided in District Court and five felony cases were filed in Justice of the Peace court.

Found guilty on driving while intoxicated charges were Doro Salazar and Rickie W. McGill. Each was fined $150 plus court costs. Salazar was sentenced three days in jail and McGill was sentenced 15 days in jail on a one year probation.

Also four other DWI cases were filed and two welfare fraud cases were filed. One civil case involving the commitment of a defendant to Vernon State Hospital was heard.

Total fines assessed last week were $300 bringing the year's total to $35,775.50. Total bond forfeitures in 1975 amount to $3,300.

Cases filed in JP court included four Felony DWI offenses and forgery and passing offense.

School Board

was impossible to secure any number of bids for five buses the district has for sale. "I thought the market would be good, but we have only one bid submitted and it is far below what the buses are worth," he explained. Buses have been sold last year for over $3,000 and the one bid was for less than $1,000.

The board decided to wait on the sale of the buses until the market could possibly improve or recycle the buses by renovating them. Wartes is checking on whether the buses might be sold directly to another school district which could pay adequate prices.

The board approved a survey to be circulated among high school girls to see how many want to participate in athletics, especially those established principally for boys. Jim Holmes submitted the survey in the initial act to comply with Title IX sex discrimination rulings handed down by the Department of Health Education and Welfare. Results will be released later.

Also approved was a committee to study whether the district has any sex discrimination on the basis of sex. Holmes chairs it.

MARY JO HAMMAN, coordinator for the Right to Read Program, presented a detailed review of the program's current involvement. It is in beginning stages and she is conducting a "needs assessment" to find out what direction to take in the future. So far students at Stanton Junior High School set aside 15 minutes for pleasure reading to encourage them to read more for fun.

Ed McCreary, a federal programs director, is administrator for the program. Mrs. Hamman has take 240 hours of in-service training on the program, which receives no direct government funding. Its objective is to supply all students with the ability to read effectively so that they will not ever be denied work for lack of reading skills.

Fred Uphaw, athletic director and head coach, reported that over 600 students in grades 7th-12th participate in the athletic program, (non-physical education class sports). He said about 150 students may participate in two or more sports.

He said a successful athletic program is made up of involved students, competent coaches, cooperative administration and school board, total school involvement and community involvement. The philosophy of the program is the coach and teach simultaneously which includes fairly delivered discipline. Other important components listed were the care for injuries by the trainer and the future programs for girl athletics.

The tennis complex was described as near completion with only the court surface to be laid.

ON ENROLLMENT, Bill Phillips, administrative assistant, reported as of Dec. 9, 5,511 students were enrolled in all schools, about 115 above this time last year. It is 112 students down from last month, which was considered part of the normal trend in the number of migrant students leaving.

Total football receipts were reported as the best ever. During 1975, $23,291.46 was taken in from all 10 varsity games with the Pampa and Plainview games grossing the most. Last year's receipts were $21,399.77.

Teachers resigning were Richard Wildman, Nan Conway and Francis Farr. The only teacher hired was Sue Powell. All trustees were present.

citizens." The FM road is in Precinct 1, Holt's area.

Holt responded that completion of that road "has been in the process for a number of years," and he thought the state had agreed it was a logical selection. "I did go and talk to highway department officials four or five times," stated Holt, adding that the thought the court was aware of the planning being done.

COMMISSIONER AUSTIN ROSE also expressed appreciation in getting the paving project, at a time when funds are scarce for FM paving. He added, however, that he also felt the court should make such decisions as a group. Coleman said he had the assurance of the highway department that they would come to the entire court for any future selections, and they had assumed this project had the support of the entire court.

Sheriff Travis McPherson appeared at the meeting to discuss the employment of another deputy. Judge Morgan explained that the move was expected and should have been provided for in the 1976 budget. It was inadvertently omitted when the budget was prepared. McPherson pointed out that new wage and hour laws effecting the county would entail more overtime pay than the cost of an additional deputy.

The sheriff also told commissioners that the new officer would bring his force back to the number employed several years ago. At that time, deputies received a pay increase when one of the officers left, instead of replacing the officer. McPherson said he planned to employ a female deputy. The commission approved the action, effective Jan. 1.

Bud Eades and Marvin Coffey, representing Plains Insurance Agency, met with the court to discuss the county's insurance. It was pointed out that coverage was far below actual cost values and should be updated. Commissioners studied figures on 80 and 90 per cent of values and decided the 90 per cent coverage provided the best insurance.

THE COUNTY had been paying a yearly premium of $2,940 on building values of $1,250,000. This premium was increased to $5,658 for 90 per cent valuation of $2,582,347. The court also reviewed the insurance on contents and increased the coverage, raising the premium from $393 to about $600—with the specific schedule to be agreed upon.

Two requests for use of the little Bull Barn were approved by the court, pending arrangement of dates with maintenance chief J.C. Simpson. One use was requested by Father Joe Gilligan for a special mass and Holy Communion service on Dec. 12. The other request came from Sandy Coleman and was for the purpose of holding a "dog obedience course" on nine consecutive Monday nights.

The court also approved monthly bills and voted to renew a certificate of deposit for 60 days. The CD is for right-of-way funds and has a current balance of $15,139.02.

Tour Proceeds Surpass $500

More than $500 was collected during the recent Tour of Homes, it was reported during a Christmas party held by members of La Madre Mia Study Club Monday night in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Anderson. The club, sponsors of the holiday tour, will contribute the proceeds of the fund-raising project to a campaign to build a youth recreation center here. The announcement was made during a brief business period led by the president, Mrs. Dean Herring. Gifts were exchanged among members and refreshments were served by the hostesses, who included Mmes. Anderson, Wayne Lady and Roger Williams. Members in attendance were Mmes. C.D. Adams, Lynton Allred, Doug Bartlett, Waldo Baxter, Herschel Black, Charles Frye, Dickie Gerie and Herring. Also, Mmes. Gerald Martin, Dwight McGee, G.C. Merritt, Bobby Owen, Stanley Simmons, Craig Smith, Bud Snyder, W.E. Sparks, Don Taylor, Charles Watson, Butch White and Steve Hodges.

Hosiery departments are featuring large selections of hard sole slippers and casual shoes such as espadrilles, wedges and sandals. Popular casual styles look similar to selections in regular shoe departments—but are generally about half the price, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, says.

Cooked For Newcomers

Representatives of Southwestern Public Service in Amarillo were guest speakers during a luncheon attended by Hereford Newcomers Tuesday in SWPS Reddy Room.

Diane Bimm and Joy Stevenson centered the program around preparation of holiday foods and yuletide decorations. They described the opportunities available through Home Demonstration Club work and 4-h programs.

Guests present included Mmes. Gene Hazlett, Richard Green, John Metcalf, Don Lucas, Clay Sams, Joe Lindeman, Jerry McConnell, Thong goc Nguyen and Nguyen Thi Nhut.

Members in attendance were Mmes. Charles Brandan, Jim Arnott, Charles Short, Bob White, Stephen Cole, Gene Batterman and Freddie Savage.

Childress, Groom Still In Playoffs

Cuero is favored by 7 points over Ennis in the Class AAA state finals, and Big Sandy is given a 19-point edge over Groom in the Class B finals this week, according to the Harris Rating System.

The AAAA schoolboy teams are in the semifinals with Longview rated an 8-point favorite over Odessa Permian, and San Antonio Lee given a 7-point nod over Port Neches-Grove.

Two close games are seen in the Class AA semifinals, too, with Decatur a slim 1-point favorite over Childress. LaGrange is rated by 6 over Hampshire-Fannett in the other contest.

The games are rated even closer in the Class A semifinals. Seagraves and DeLeon are rated even in their battle at Sweetwater. Groveton is favored by 4 over Schulenburg in the other AA clash.

The big shocker in the playoffs last week was Hampshire-Fannett's upset of No. 1 ranked Cameron Yoe, 14-6. After 28 games without a loss, Celina took it on the chin from Groom 15-13, in Class B action, but this was not too much of a surprise.

What is the significance of the closeness of the lines on weather maps? When the lines on the weather map in your newspaper are close together (these lines are isobars) that means pressure changes are great. Isobars are merely lines connecting points on the map which have reported the same barometric pressure.

This speed, or wind velocity, causes heavy wind. If the incline is not steep—the lines (or isobars) not close together—then the wind will flow more slowly.

The Abundant Life

Not Helpless

By BOB WEAR

OBSTACLES, PROBLEMS and difficulties are the common lot of all people. You and I know this, because it is a general condition. These are not exactly the same in each life, but all of us know that they are real and are present in the life situation of each person.

We have enough troubles to equip us to be understanding and sympathetic in our attitudes toward one another.

Regardless of our wisdom, our caution, and our good luck; all of us will have obstructions, complications and vicissitudes with which to cope. There will be some differences from person to person, but, in general, all of us will have about the same kinds of troubles. This is not the whole of life.

THERE ARE many blessings available to us. Even though some persons seem to obtain more of these blessings than others, there are enough for all of us. In an enlightened social order, there will be many ways in which we will share with and help each other. We will realize that this is one source of our combined strength.

We are "not helpless", and must never make the mistake of adopting the attitude that we are helpless. Even when living becomes very rigorous, and we are wishing that it could be easier; we are "not helpless."

We have great capacity to live with a sense of purpose and triumph. In fact, when we respond to challenges, in the very best way we can, they will become opportunities for increasing our strength; and will increase our great potential for meaningful accomplishment.

WITHOUT THE testings, which are part of the established order for the human experience; we would have little or no way to become strong. As we become progressively stronger, we become more and more capable of living a full and productive life. We have been made for this, and accomplishment is certain; if we keep trying according to the best available guidelines. We are "not helpless."

A truly virtuous person is like good metal; the more he is fired, the more he is refined. The more he is opposed, the more he is approved. Wrongs may well try him and touch him, but they cannot imprint on him any false stamp."-Richelieu.

WE ARE "not helpless", because we have the privilege to choose our manner of response to what happens to us. This is one of our greatest blessings, and one of the most useful.

"Life is a voyage in which we choose neither vessel nor weather, but much can be done in the management of the sails and the guidance of the helm."-Anon.

WE ARE "NOT HELPLESS". Keeping this fact in mind, and acting accordingly, will sustain us as we meet and cope with the testings of life.

Tree Gets Decorations

Dean Herring places decorations on the tree the Noon Kiwanis Club donated to Kings Manor. Members of the Kiwanis Club and their children decorated the tree and sponsored a party at Kings Manor Sunday afternoon. Refreshments were served to the residents and the group sang Christmas carols.

Correctional Services Center For Parolees Established

AUSTIN—The creation of the Center for Correctional Services has been announced by the State Bar of Texas.

State Bar Executive Director, H.C. Pittman, said that, "The establishment of the Texas Center for Correctional Services, which is funded by a grant from the Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office, permits the consolidation of several current Bar related projects with some additional projects under a single umbrella and provides for increased flexibility and ability to respond to the needs of the correctional system for Bar related services."

"The Center will be responsible for administration of programs to provide required legal services to inmates and parolees of the Texas Department of Corrections and the Texas Youth Council; development and administration of programs for volunteers in corrections; and participation in training programs in corrections and correctional law."

W.C. LaRowe of the State Bar staff has been named as Director of the new Center.

Initially, the activities of the Center will include two projects which are already in operation, the State Junior Bar of Texas

Volunteers in Parole project and the State Bar Counsel for Indigent Parolees project, and two new projects.

The State Junior Bar Volunteers in Parole Project matches lawyer-volunteers with parolees on a one-to-one basis to provide general counseling and help in successfully reintegrating-into society. The help could take a variety of forms depending on the needs of the individual and might range from general advice or supportive companionship to help with job placement.

Pittman said that this significant step forward improvement of correctional system clearly demonstrates what can be accomplished when involved agencies work together in a positive, cooperative manner.

Pastor Talks To Auxiliary

The history of Christmas was detailed by Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of First United Methodist Church, recently when he spoke to members of the American Legion Auxiliary, who met in the Legion Hall, Veterans Park.

Dr. Grooms read the lyrics of the oldest Christmas song, first sung by Mary, as a segment of his program.

During a business discussion, members planned to prepare yuletide meals for various organizations on Dec. 12, 13, and 15. Also, attention was given to a New Year's party scheduled at the end of this month. Auxiliary members joined with the Legion for refreshments. There were 15 women present, among whom were Mrs. Hazel Sparks and Mrs. Mable Wagner, hostesses.

Girls Compete In Abilene

Hereford's Whiteface girls cross country track team finished seventh out of 12 teams in Division A in the Region I Cross-Country championships held at Nelson Park in Abilene Saturday.

The team had won second in district behind Lubbock Coronado, but beat the Coronado team at the region meet. Hereford scored 204 points and Coronado scored 310. Cross-country results are based on low totals for the winners.

Coach Roy Shipp said

Hereford's best two times were run by Stephanie Kelso who was 36th and Joyce Betzen who was 37th out of a field of over 100 track girls.

He said they thought they were running for one mile, but the cross-country run covered 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 miles. He said he was proud of all his team for the endurance they showed. They were accompanied to the meet by Mrs. Roy Shipp.

Members of the cross country team included Suzanne Duvall, Sharon Strafuss, Pam Whitley, Stephanie Kelso, Kathy Wilson, Judy Birdwell, Joyce Betzen, Kay Hall and Rene Rayne.

Team totals in Division A are as follows: Amarillo 30; El Paso Riverside 86; El Paso Ysleta 93; Amarillo Tascosa 114; Amarillo Palo Duro 147; El Paso BelAir 154; Hereford, 204; Fort Worth Castleberry 241; Abilene Cooper 242; Abilene High 246; Lubbock Coronado 310; and Lubbock Monterey 410.

Grid Contest Winner

Kenneth Wleck, right, was $100 richer after being presented a check for winning the season-long Brand Football Contest sponsored by local merchants. Making the presentation is Lynn Brisendine, advertising manager.

Romero To Meet Tyler

The Hereford Lions Club announced the return of Rick Romero against Randy Tyler in Saturday night wrestling at the Bull Barn. Lord Alfred Hayes, the gentlemanly roughneck from England, also returns in tag team action. He joins with Scott Casey against Frank "The Hammer" Goodish and Super Destroyer, and in an exciting opener, Angelo Poffo-"Mr. Condition"- will meet the Louisiana sweet man, Spunitik Monroe.

Romero's battle with Tyler may end a feud that has started with more than the action in last week's tag match at the Bull Barn. The two men, widely different in background and physique, have had a strong personality clash since their first meeting.

Lions Club Officials announced that Saturday's wrestling would be the last until after the holidays. Wrestling action in Hereford will resume after Saturday's card in January. Watch the Hereford Brand for announcements. Action at the Bull Barn begins at 8:00 P.M.

Stanton Bows To Levelland

"I'd rather explain higher gas bills than why you don't have gas."

Your natural gas bill is higher. And, you have every right to know why.

One reason is lower temperatures brought on by winter.

The main reason, however, is simply that you are paying more for natural gas. Because we are paying more. This chart shows how much:

This increase hurts both you and Pioneer. It adds to your bill and to our cost... a cost for which Pioneer is not entirely compensated. It is passed through without mark-up or additional charges.

Why does gas cost more? Competition... particularly from petrochemical and other industries. The competition for gas has never been so fierce.

We will have to pay more for gas than in the past. But by working together, and without outside interference, you'll have the gas you need today and in the future.

Hustlin' Herd Rolls By Dumas 74-44

All-Tournament Selections

are Mike Williams and Troy Patton of Morton, and Mike Hull and Kelly Kitchens of Hereford. The fifth player, not present for the award, was Scott Jackson of Brownfield.

Morton Tops Hereford For Tournament Crown

The hot-shooting Morton Indians captured the championship of the first annual Deaf Smith C of C Invitational basketball tournament by downing the host Hereford Whitefaces, 57-41, here Saturday night.

Brownfield breezed by Dumas, 66-48, for third place, and Canyon defeated Levelland by 62-47 for the consolation crown. Vernon edged the Hereford junior varsity, 31-29, for seventh place.

The five-man All-Tournament team selected Saturday night included a pair from the champion Morton team—Mike Williams and Troy Patton, two from Hereford—Mike Hull and Kelly Kitchens, and Brownfield's Scott Jackson.

Lorenzo Childers of Levelland, however, emerged as the tourney's top scorer as he amassed 63 points in three games. Williams of Morton was one point back, and Jackson of Brownfield tallied 53. Another Cub, Danny Hamilton scored 48, while Hull of Hereford and Mike Flynn of Canyon each canned 40 points in the three-day tourney.

In the title game, Morton jumped to a 16-4 lead in the opening period and led by 20-10 at the end of the quarter. Williams hit 10 points in that opening stanza. Hereford closed to seven points on several occasions, but could never overtake the Indians.

Morton hit 50 per cent of its shots from the field, while Hereford managed only 34 per cent. Morton ran its record to 6-1, with only a loss to Wichita Falls Hirschi. Hereford evened its record at 3-3.

Hull was the only Herd cager to hit double digits in the finale as he scored 14. Williams, with 18, was the only Indian in double figures. Hereford scored only 6 points in the final quarter, compared to Morton's 13. Only 26 fouls were called and Hereford was 5 of 10 at the charity line, while the Indians hit 3 of 8 free shots.

Coach Barry Arwine was pleased with his team's performance in the tourney. "We didn't attack Morton's zone press in the first half and had too many turnovers in the first quarter. The Indians have a fine team and we couldn't overtake them," he commented.

Kitchens and Paul Trolinder each chipped in 8 points in the tourney finale, while Patton had 9 for the winners. Morton Coach Ted Whillock thought his team played a well disciplined offense, which is what he's been aiming for this season.

Brownfield, which wound up as the highest scoring team in the tourney, had three cagers in double figures in the third-place win over Dumas. Jackson hit 15 points and Hamilton had 16, while Jimmy Hulsey led Dumas with 18. The Cubs outscored Dumas in every quarter and wound up winning by 18 points, 66-48.

Canyon moved to a 30-24 lead over Levelland at halftime of the consolation game, then outscored the Lobos by 18-7 in the third period to coast on in for the victory. Mike Flynn and Mark Nelson hit 18 and 14 for the winners, while Childers and Randy Roberts led Levelland with 16 and 13 points, respectively.

The Hereford JV almost won the 7th place battle, but missed too many shots in the 31-29 defeat. Vernon got the margin at the free-throw line, hitting just 7 of 17 free shots while Hereford was only 1 of 4. Greg Brockman led Hereford with 12 points, while Gary Krieg led Vernon's balanced scoring with 8 points.

Playing without their two big men underneath, Hereford's Whitefaces relied on hustle as they rolled past the Dumas Demons, 74-44, here Tuesday night.

James Mays hit a personal high of 25 points, and Kelly Kitchens and Steve Cornelius helped take up the scoring slack as they tallied 17 and 12 points, respectively. rich George led Dumas with 13 and Jeff Fagan added 12.

The Whitefaces jumped to a 10-point advantage after one quarter, 23-13, and stayed about 10 to 14 points ahead much of the way. The Herd put it away in the final period, outscoring the visitors by 18-2.

Coach Barry Arwine takes his squad to the Amarillo Tournament Friday, where they meet El Paso Bowie in one of the first-round games at 5:15. The win left Hereford with a 4-3 mark on the season. Dumas is now 1-6.

Hereford's big post man, Mike Hull, missed the game Tuesday night after being hospitalized for tests Sunday. Paul Trolinder, 6-2 forward, was also sidelined by illness. Hereford's starting five had no player over 6-1 in height.

Dumas attempted to put a full-court press on the Whitefaces, but it resulted in foul trouble for the visitors. Hereford was hot at the free-throw line, connecting on 28 of 35 attempts, and the Herd also hit 55 percent of their shots from the field. Dumas hit 43 percent from the field and was 8 of 19 at the charity line.

Mays, a 6-0 junior, got most of his points inside as he hit 9 shots from the field and converted 7 of 10 free shots. Kitchens had six field goals and was 5 of 5 at the charity line. Cornelius and Barry Muller also had perfect nights on free throws, each hitting 6 of 6.

Hereford led by 40-28 at halftime and 56-42 at the end of three quarters. Arwine substituted freely in the contest and seven players took part in the scoring attack.

Hereford also won the junior varsity game, capturing a 55-36 decision. The JV led by only 22-19 at halftime but outscored the visitors by 33-17 in the second half. Greg Brockman led the way with 16 points, and David Arney was close behind with 14.

The Hereford sophomores lost a close 36-34 contest with the Canyon sophs in the first game of the night. Greg Hennington was top scorer for Hereford with 13 and David Schumacher followed with 8. Crawford led Canyon with 15 points.

Vega Girl Wins State 4-H Forestry Award

By LAVON NIEMAN
Brand News Staff

Forestry Award Winner

Judy Conn of Vega is pictured with her demonstration on forestry which helped her win the Texas 4-H Forestry Award and an expense paid trip on to Chicago, Ill.

Judy Conn, a Vega High School student, has been named this year's Texas 4-H Forestry Award winner. Yes, That's what we said—a girl from Vega Texas. Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Conn of Star Route, Vega who live 19 miles North of Hereford.

We asked Judy why in the world she thought about entering a record book on forestry when Vega has about as few trees as any place around. Judy said she enjoys working with plants and trees and feels she and other citizens of this area probably appreciate forests more than the people actually living near them.

Last year she did a demonstration on forestry using the demonstration as shown in the adjoining picture. Then, this year she started keeping a record book.

She said Oldham County Agent Jimmy Walker encouraged her to enter her forestry record book for state competition so she did. This was the first year for such a category and the International Paper Co. sponsored the division.

By winning the state award, Judy won an expense-paid trip to Chicago, Ill., with most expenses paid by International Paper Co. and some by High Plains 4-H. The National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago was attended by 45 state winners from Texas in various divisions. They were chaperoned by 4-H state youth specialists.

Judy said there were 34 winners in forestry from across the United States, Puerto Rico and District of Columbia. This was the first year the forestry contest was sponsored. There were 1600 youth attending the 4-H congress.

She was presented a state winner pin in forestry, a Texas 4-H silver pin in the shape of the state of Texas and International Paper presented her a large book entitled "The International Book of Trees" by Hugh Johnson. The congress was held Nov. 30 to Dec. 4.

Because of Judy's interest in forestry and encouragement from the Soil and Water Conservationists, the "outdoor classroom" is being tried at Vega High School this year. She said 118 wind break trees have been set out around the school buildings by members of the student body, faculty and soil and water conservationists.

She said the planning of this was made available through her research. She gives much credit to Marie Davis, an organizational leader who worked with Judy for hours.

Also, she noted that soil conservationist, John Graves, furnished her with pamphlets and all the information to make her research a reality. "I really learned from studying everything provided and putting it all together into a project", she said.

A Gold Star Winner this year in Oldham County, Judy has proved herself to be an outstanding citizen in 4-H as well as school and community.

Through her 4-H work she has won awards in conservation, leadership and forestry. She has also held a number of offices in her local club and has served on the Oldham County 4-H Council.

A senior at Vega High, Judy is a member of the National Honor Society and has been named to Who's Who Among High School Students and The Society of Distinguished American High School Students. She was the 1975 recipient of the Daughters of American Revolution Award and is on the "A" honor roll.

Serving as head twirler of the high school band for the past three years, Judy received a rating No. 1 in French horn solo and rating No. 2 in twirling solos. She was named most valuable band member for 1975 and is the 1975-76 band sweetheart.

This year she also placed first in the UIL district prose contest and was a finalist in the Government-In-Action contest sponsored by Deaf Smith REC.

While in high school she has been elected student council secretary, senior class vice president, band president and yearbook staff editor.

She is a member of the Catholic Church at Vega.

In continuing her 4-H work, Judy says she plans to enter National 4-H Conference which includes all 4-H projects and activities. If selected as a state winner, she would win a trip to Washington, D.C. next year.

Two boys and two girls from the state will be selected as winners.

After graduation from high school Judy says she would like to attend a fashion design and modeling school.

Robert Merrill Is Promoted

Marine Private First Class Robert J. Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Merrill of 411 E. Third St., Hereford, has been meritoriously promoted to his present rank upon graduation from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S.C.

He received the early promotion for his superior performance in all phases of the training, which emphasizes physical conditioning, discipline and teamwork.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters Select 1976 Officer Slate

The board of Big Brothers-Big Sisters met at their regular monthly meeting Wednesday morning at Dickie's Restaurant.

Three new board members were elected to begin three year terms in 1976—Mike Patrick, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone, Jim McDowell, co-owner of McDowell Drug, and Virgil Stentz, partner in Property Enterprises. Two present members were also elected to serve three years. They are Jim Johnson, a farmer, and Toby Torres, a Big Brother and employee of Holly Sugar. Certificates of Appreciation were presented to retiring board members by president Rodney Laubhan. R.L. Blakely, David Pruitt, and Andy Sival were thanked individually by the board for their service of two years.

Rodger Ruland reported on the bus trip to the Amarillo Wrangler's ice hockey game November 21. Some 50 members and their families attended the game, which was a first for most!

Big Brothers-Big Sisters is planning a Christmas Party Friday, December 12, 7:30 p.m., at the community center. All Big Brothers and Little Sisters, Big Sisters and Little Sisters, and unmatched children are invited. Christmas carols will be sung and the evening will be highlighted by John Gilliland's Magic Show.

HHS Orchestra Concert Set For Tonight

The Hereford High School orchestra will present a concert tonight at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium.

Admission for the concert will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Student soloist Delphine Ulibarri will be featured in a presentation of Mozart's Violin Concerto while Blake Allen will be featured soloist in a presentation of the Vivaldi Cell Sonata.

Other orchestra presentations will include Beethoven's First Symphony, Brahms' Hungarian Dance No. 5 and Britten's Simple Symphony.

Houston, who played the lead role in "The Hiding Place"; William Pinson, professor of Christian Ethics of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth; Shirley Cothran, the 1975 Miss America; musician Andrae Crouch and the Disciples; William Hendricks, professor of theology at Southwestern Seminary.

But the focal point of Freedom 76, unlike most events, will not center exclusively on a platform. It will begin with a musical drama, "Stearns and Company" and conclude with a midnight light-procession down the San Antonio River to the city's Central Plaza, running into the nation's third 100 years.

In between those two events, the expected 10,000 participants will take part in morning, afternoon and evening experiences offering creative options.

The afternoon program in the Convention Center is designed to confront participants with Christian and national heritage, the dynamics of family life and the needs of worldwide missions and to help them develop Christian options to world problems.

'Freedom 76' At San Antonio

Program personalities, woven into an innovative and fluid format featuring the sights and sounds of Christian freedom, will highlight Freedom 76, a nationwide event scheduled here for students and single and married young adults, Dec. 28-31.

Believed to be the first Bicentennial event in the nation to welcome in the nation's third 100 years, running past midnight, Dec. 31, the four-day event will branch out into the San Antonio community, as well as focus at the San Antonio Convention Center.

Outside the Convention Hall in the afternoons, participants will find missions work project and a game bus to reach children in areas of need, community entertainment, opportunities for personal evangelism, a mission tour and sightseeing in historic San Antonio.

Program personalities for the event, sponsored by the nation-wide agencies of the Southern Baptist Convention, include comedian-entertainer Grady Nutt, who will serve as master of ceremonies and lead program activities.

Other personalities include actress Jeanette Clift George of

The CLOD KICKER

By Roy Faubion

I spend a great deal of time searching for a little time for my own. It may sound silly, but that's the way it seems sometimes. All through the busy days I keep thinking, maybe in a minute I can slow down a bit and then I'll have time to devote to a hobby, or take to just think a while, or time to do nothing. But, it rarely happens that I find the time that I think I'll find. It just seems there is always something else turning up.

How foolish it appears to be so busy that I never have the time to just goof off. I cannot recall when I last said, "there's nothing to do in my town".

Yet, I hear it said everywhere I go. In my town, in other towns. There just seems to be nothing to do for some people. And, it doesn't matter what size of town I'm in. I hear it said often.

It kind of makes me feel guilty. I feel guilty because I am apparently robbing others of things to do. I must be, for I have so much to do myself, and they have so little to do. Somehow, it just doesn't seem fair.

Maybe work begets work. I don't know about that for sure. But, I am certain that boredom begets boredom. I know that because I tried visiting with some of the folks who are so bored with life that they just stand around griping about having nothing to do. I got bored quickly. Wow, that's a tough way to spend time. Just wishing for something to do.

No, as for me I would rather go about my business and work for some time for my own. I said work for the time, not wish for the time. It proves itself over and over that the only free time that is enjoyed is that which is earned after working for it, in a productive manner. I think it wasn't accidental that the plan was laid out to work six days and rest on the seventh.

It's a shame those wishing for something to do cannot get so busy that they would be working for some idle time. Eh?

RESSI Schedules Two Courses

The 1976 schedule for two courses offered by the Real Estate Securities and Syndication Institute (RESSI), an affiliate of the National Association of Realtors, has been announced.

Course 1, "A Workshop in Real Estate Syndication," and course 2, "Advanced Techniques in Real Estate Syndication," will be presented first in Denver on Jan. 19.

fees for the five-day courses are $295 for RESSI members; $320, RESSI special subscribers; and $345, non-members of RESSI.

Course 1 is organized around three phases of real estate syndication: origination, operation and completion. Emphasis is on structuring the syndication, marketing and managing the partnership.

Syndication profits are discussed, and a case study is used to illustrate course concepts. The course also will deal with real estate as a security and what to include in a private offering document.

Course 2, which has Course 1 as a prerequisite, will concentrate on management of the syndication process, emphasizing planning for a successful long-term investment.

Through role playing and other techniques, students will apply Course 1 information to the syndication process. Classes will be organized into small groups.

Following are the course schedules for 1976:

Course 1--Denver, Jan. 19; Honolulu, Feb. 16; Fort Lauderdale, Fla., March 8; Seattle, March 15; Nashville, March 22; San Antonio, April 5; Scottsdale, Ariz., May 10; Virginia Beach, Va., May 17; Dearborn, Mich., June 7; Boise, Idaho, July 19; and Anchorage, Alaska, and Kansas City, Mo., both Sept. 13.

Course 2 also will be offered in Atlanta during October, with the date to be arranged.

Course 2--Denver, Jan. 19; Scottsdale, May 10; and Virginia Beach, May 17. The course also will be given in Atlanta during October, and is being considered for Honolulu beginning Feb. 16.

For further information on the courses, contact RESSI at 925 15th Street N.W. in Washington, D.C., or phone 202-628-5300.

A Pro Football Game-- A Memorable Experience

Hereford, Texas, Thursday, December 11, 1975

The fans roar! The hefty players hit hard! The cheerleaders yell! The quarterback shouts his signals! This conglomeration of noise and frenzy and more makes up the exciting and fast-paced activity of a professional football game.

A visit to such a game, especially on the sideline, is an experience to remember since there aren't many opportunities for Panhandle residents to attend pro battles. This reporter had such a chance during the Dallas Cowboys and New York Giants game two weeks ago at Texas Stadium. The precious sideline passes are rare and one was arranged through a photographer for the Dallas Morning News.

Inside the magnificent new stadium it is a maze of plush upper deck boxes, which the rich rent for thousands of dollars, press boxes, concession areas, bleachers seats, and endless hallways. Even the sports writers are pampered as each has small television on which to get closeup views of the players in action.

However, they don't feel the mounting enthusiasm from the fighting teams and the blaring crowd of over 53,000 persons. Down there on the field, the players treat the fans to a grueling test of muscle and strategy. It's not like in other ranks as the 250-pound men are working full time for pay and a once in a lifetime trip to the Superbowl.

In this case, it was just that as both teams were fighting to keep on top of division rankings.

A pro game is an extravagant show as the home team's band and the lovely cheerleaders march on the field to perform. The pre-game show concludes and the band and cheerleaders form parallel lines and the teams charge in between to their respective sidelines.

From that point on it's not predictable since each quarter of play is whole new ball game. Even 20 and 30-point leads have been torn apart in the closing minutes.

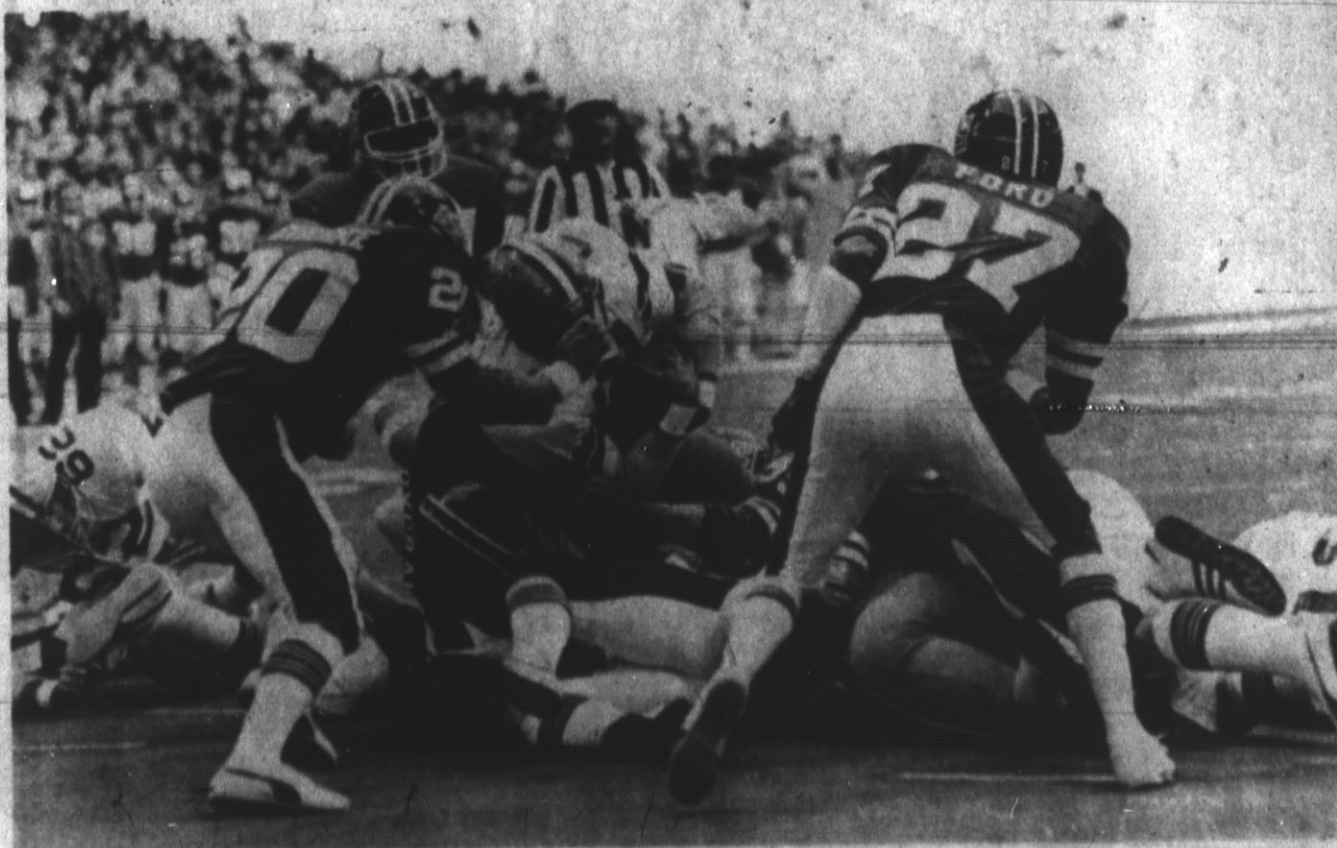

In this particular game, it was indeed one sided as the Cowboys went on to one of their fewer than usual number of victories by trouncing the Giants 14-3.

But what is most stimulating at a pro football game is the volume of support for the home team and the expertise of the players in executing plays. They know their sport well as evidenced by none other than the perfectly thrown bomb pass to the receiver or the long yardage run made possible by well placed blocks of linemen.

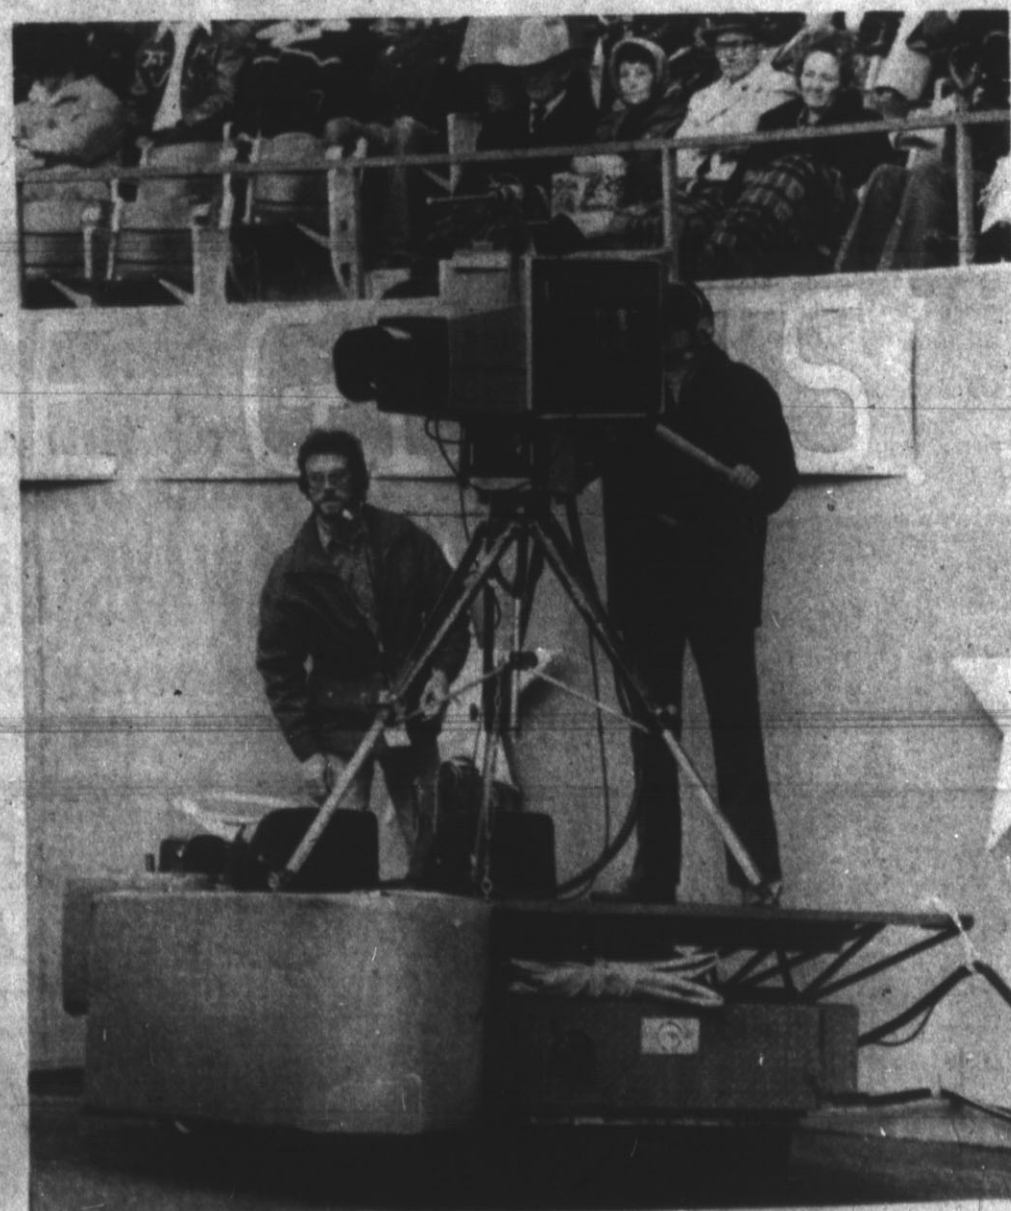

It was a thrilling day and the fans usually leave exhausted as they too worked hard to cheer on the home team and chide the opponent.

Council Slates Valentine Tea

Plans for the Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Queen's Tea were discussed by members of the BSP City Council Monday night in Hereford State Bank Friendship Room. Mrs. Jim Cramer was hostess.

January 18 was the tentative date chosen for the tea, which results in selection of a BSP woman who will be crowned during the annual Valentine Ball, scheduled Saturday, Feb. 14. Entertainment for the dance will be provided by a band from Tucumcari, N.M., called the Redden Brothers Show.

During the business session directed by the council president, Mrs. Ken Walser, Mrs. Howard Gore gave a progress report concerning the "First Lady of the Year" award to be presented by the sorority. As general chairman, she announced that a public tea will be held in the spring to reveal the recipient of the honor.

Representatives from Xi Epsilon Alpha Chapter promoted their money-making project by urging those present to make reservations for a visiting Santa Claus. Mrs. Kirk Owsley stated that Santa will visit a home for a $2 fee and will make an appearance at a party for $5. In order to make reservations, contact Mrs. Owsley at 364-4398.

Council members in attendance included:

- From Kappa Iota: Mrs. Tom Carter and Mrs. Calvin Jones.
- From Alpha Iota Mu: Mmes. Chick Holbert, Bud Thomas, Eldon Koch and Walser.

McMurtry Releases New Book In Texas Setting

The latest novel by the author of "The Last Picture Show" is one of two novels being featured at Deaf Smith County Library this week.

Larry McMurtry, one of today's most influential writers, has released "Terms of Endearment," a story introducing Aurora Greenway, one of his most fascinating and enduring characters. She is the foundation on which the colorful tale is built, involving her family, suitors and employees.

Another fiction selection also being promoted by the local library is "River Rising" by Jessica North. The book takes a gothic twist when Rochelle Dumont discovers that her life is greatly affected by a tragedy buried in her family's obscure history.

Deaf Smith County Library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

TERMS ON ENDEARMENT by Larry McMurtry

Larry McMurtry's new novel is so good, so grandly satisfying as a work of fiction, that it draws the reader totally into the lives of its characters, until they become more real, more familiar, than our own.

McMurtry is one of the most important novelists in America today—author of "Horseman, Pass By" (filmed as Hud), "The Last Picture Show," "Leaving Cheyenne," "Moving On" and "All My Friends Are Going To Be Strangers"—and his new book confirms and enhances his reputation.

It is, quite simply, a glowing, war intensely human and brilliantly readable work, written with the incomparable gift for creating characters, the acute observation and the intimacy that are the hallmarks of McMurtry's fiction.

As the center of "Terms of Endearment" is Aurora Greenway, a formidably charming (and demanding) New Englander transplanted to Texas, widowed, and now living in comfortable circumstances in Houston. Around her (for she is the kind of person who makes the world orbit around her desires) are her daughter, Emma; her maid, Rosie; and her devoted string of suitors; Alberto, a melancholy retired opera singer; Edward, a singularly timid banker, who consistently fails to meet Aurora's exacting standards; General Hector Scott, who courts Aurora with all the vigor which he commanded armies in his prime; Trevor, Aurora's aging but perennially charming old flame; and Vernon (a Texas character only McMurtry could create).

When Vernon rescues Aurora from a highway mishap, he finds her overwhelming his simple and effective life-style, which consists of sleeping and doing all his business as a one-man oil conglomerate in the back seat of an air-conditioned, telephone-equipped Lincoln, which he parks on the top floor of a garage at night and calls home.

The lives, loves, marital entanglements and emotional problems of these people always revolve around the formidable Mrs. Greenway herself, whose zest for life, sense of her own worth and need for affection manage to impose themselves on almost everyone, including Emma, whose life and marriage have turned sour; Rosie, whose husband has taken up with a waitress but who still loves his wife enough to drive his potato-chip delivery truck into a bar in pursuit of her; and all her suitors, who live in trembling fear and love of her.

Tender, funny and shrewd as only he can be, Larry McMurtry has created in Aurora Greenway one of his most enduring and fascinating characters, and in "Terms of Endearment," perhaps his finest novel to date.

RIVER RISING by Jessica North

Rochelle Dumont, a young woman in her twenties, has spent most of her life in Antigua, where her mother, Charlotte, a seemingly strict, unbending woman, ran island school for girls. Now Charlotte is dead and Rochelle has received an invitation from her great-aunt Regina to visit the family's estate in Canada.

Rochelle decides to accept the invitation—but she does so with mixed feelings, since she has never been told why her mother had so completely cut herself off from her family or why she spoke so little about her background or about Rochelle's father. It is too late for Rochelle to ask her mother these questions, to find out why Charlotte and the painter Paul LaForge never married, but remained on the island, secret lovers, until they died.

Now Rochelle begins the journey north. It is a journey which presents beauty, danger—and love—in a mixture that is only a foretaste of what she is to find at River Rising. At the airport, an old school friend appears, is threatened with death, and mysteriously disappears.

On the riverboat, Rochelle meets Pierre Lachance, the handsome boat captain who is inexplicably hostile to her. And when she arrives at River Rising, she finds that the family she never knew is torn apart by subtle tensions, by fears she does not understand but which seem to focus on her own presence and on her dead father's role in a terrible tragedy.

This is a wonderfully plotted tale with a very surprising resolution, an unusual love story in a locale in Canada which is vividly drawn. The many readers who enjoyed Jessica North's "The High Valley" will be delighted with this new novel.

Louis Harris, Pollster:

"The acrid smell of fear seems to come out of Mr. Ford in terms of Ronald Reagan."

Fashion

Nothing like long pants to keep the small legs warm these cold days. It pays to buy these garments of sturdy fabrics.

Fur trimmed coats seem to continue their popularity, but they are a bad buy for those women who live in the deep south.

Post-Nuptial Courtesy

Mrs. James E. Higgins, left, was hostess in her home Saturday afternoon for a shower honoring Mrs. Michael Howard Lucas, who was recently married at San Angelo. Also in the receiving line, from left, were the honoree's mother, Mrs. Joe Henry, and her grandmothers, Mrs. O.O. Henry and Mrs. Marcus Latham.

Familiar strains of Christmas carols wafted from the organ in the C.F. Newsom home Tuesday during the CowBelles yuletide Tasting Bee. Mrs. David Hutchins lends an appreciative ear to selections played by Mrs. Melvin Cordray during the diverse luncheon, attended by approximately 60 women and Mrs. Cordray's husband.

Mrs. Kaul Christened CowBelle Of The Year

Mrs. Bussy Kaul was awarded the coveted pendant signifying the CowBelle of the Year for 1975 during the organization's Christmas Tasting Bee Tuesday in the C.F. Newsom home, 150 Liveoak. In the presentation of the title, Mrs. Reece Lawson, president of the CowBelles, praised Mrs. Kaul "for outstanding work in supporting the club's purpose—promotion of beef." Her efforts in this area have included service as beef promotion chairman and as second vice president, both during this year. She was nominated and elected for the citation by the CowBelle general membership.

The honored CowBelle has directed her committee in work with the Chamber of Commerce and agriculture-related businesses in pursuit of several project goals. These have included observance of national Ag Day and Farm City Week. Mrs. Kaul's background as a teacher prompted her to instigate a collection of film strips and literature concerning the beef industry. These materials were distributed in the local school system. Hostesses, wearing frilly Cow Belle aprons and long dresses, were officers who are nearing the completion of their terms. Preparing for personnel changes in the executive branch, members volunteered for 1976 committees. This was done under the direction of Mrs. Ray Polan, president-elect, and Mrs. Charles Springer, first vice president-elect. Members were reminded that their annual dues are to be submitted in order to preserve local, state and national memberships. These fees should be mailed to Mrs. Bill Albright, 139 Pecan. Mrs. Albright also announced that blood donations are needed on Dec. 17 when the mobile unit comes to Hereford Community Center. Mrs. Melvin Cordray, who was a nominee for CowBelle of the year, provided Christmas music at the organ while guests tried a variety of foods. Her husband, who is Honorary CowBelle for 1975, was a special guest. Attending from out-of-town were Mrs. Sherman Tanner of Wildorado, second vice president of Texas CowBelles and president of Oldham County CowBelles; and Mrs. Robert Jacobson of Adrian, secretary of Oldham County CowBelles.

Party Slated By Auxiliary

Plans for a Christmas party scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Dec. 22 were made by members of VFW Auxiliary during a meeting Monday night in the VFW Clubhouse, Veterans park. The yuletide party will be given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Loving, it was decided during a business session. Mrs. P.B. Sowell presided in the absence of Mrs. John Rogers. It was announced that contributions for cancer research have been sent by the auxiliary. Members present were Mmes George Green, Naomi Murrell, Leonard Davis, Frances Parker, Ada Hollabough, Loving, Bea Cox, Alma Coursy and Sowell.

Public Welcome To See Movie Tuesday Night

"The Little Nuns," a feature film, will be shown free of charge in Deaf Smith County Library, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, which is family film night. The full-length movie is described as "an engaging comedy telling the warm, humorous story of two nuns who come to Rome to protest about jet airplanes which have been flying over their convent school, disrupting classes and damaging the ancient fresco of their patron saint." Filmed on location in Italy, the tale depicts the havoc and confusion resulting from the dedicated nuns in their determination to resolve the topical problem. The public is urged to attend.

Genealogy Society To Meet Today

Interested persons are invited to attend a meeting at 7 p.m. today of Deaf Smith County Genealogy Society at Deaf Smith County Library. On the agenda for the gathering is a layman's explanation of research techniques available from local sources. Gary Cone, president of the newly-formed society, stated that tips will be given describing how to use library materials most effectively when tracing genealogy records. Suggest that your club or church mission group remember the lonely senior citizen church members with small gifts and visits this Christmas.

Miss Wagner Cited At Wool Contest

Recognized again for her sewing and modeling abilities, Miss JoAnn Wagner received second place in the Junior division of the state finals in the Make It Yourself With Wool competition at Kerrville Saturday.

Accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wagner of 244 Centre, the local 4-H girl was awarded a $50 US savings bond, plus three yards of Pendleton wool. Her entry was a two-piece wool ensemble, including slacks and vest.

If one of the top three winners is unable to attend the national contest in Wichita, Kans. Jan. 25-27, Miss Wagner will serve as alternate competitor. She won the right to enter the Texas finals by copying first place in the regional contest two weeks ago at Lubbock.

Cited as Deaf Smith County's

Study Club Cites Mrs. Snyder

Recognition was given by members of Hereford Music Study Club to a charter member who is moving from this area during a meeting Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J.R. Allison, 113 N. Texas.

Members expressed farewell to Mrs. Glenn Snyder, a founding participant of Music Study Club since 1916. She will be changing her residence to Seattle to live with her daughter. She was cited for her long time support of musical endeavors in this community.

During a brief business session, it was announced that the club will host the birthday party at Westgate nursing home today. Refreshments and entertainment will be provided.

The yuletide motif in the Allison home prompted members to reminisce about past Christmas parties held by Music Study Club. Recognized as guests were Mrs. J.D. Neill, former member and past president, Margie Rush and Shannon and Bliss Burdett, brought by their mothers, Mrs. Tom Burdett.

Mrs. Wayne Thomas introduced the seasonal program, which centered on songs of Christmas heritage. Berlin's famous "White Christmas" was sung by Mrs. W.T. Carmichael and Mrs. Wesley Fisher with Mrs. Bill Bradley providing accompaniment. Mrs. Burdett then presented "Christmas Fantasia" by Mueller.

If your house is insured at yesterday's prices, just hope it doesn't burn down tomorrow.

Inflation has raised the price of almost everything.

It would undoubtedly cost significantly more to replace or restore the things you own than your insurance was written to provide.

That's why it's vitally important for you to make sure your personal or commercial property and casualty insurance coverage is reevaluated.

We as an independent agency are especially qualified to advise you. Because we are local, professional business people and we are very much aware of how inflation is affecting our community.

And we can give you expert, professional advice on insurance without any obligation to recommend any one of the many companies we represent.

Call us. We can sit down and examine your situation carefully and then figure out how to make sure your insurance still covers everything you think it covers. And that's what you really want, isn't it?

THE BILL OF RIGHTS GIVES US FREEDOM OF WORSHIP

largely unheralded in the excitement of the approaching holiday season is the Bill of Rights Day: an event set aside to commemorate the ten most vital provisions in our insurance policy of freedom known as the Constitution. One of them contains among other things the guarantee of our right to express ourselves freely, without fear of reprisal; through speech, the press, in the company of others, and in accordance with a primary purpose of the founding of this great nation, in our right to worship God as we see fit. Take advantage of this priceless freedom by attending the Church of your choice on Sunday.

"Blessed be the God... who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the king's word... that they might not serve any god, except their own God."
— Daniel 3:28

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof...

Scribbles and Scratches

By KERRIE WOMBLE
Women's Editor

By Kerrie Womble
Women's Editor
ALL THAT HOLIDAY joy has a tendency to show up around one's waistline, but it sure is fun putting it there. The CowBelles prepared a buffet for their Tasting Bee Tuesday that would put Henry VIII to shame if he tackled such a huge and delectable spread.
Special congratulations to Joyce Kaul, who was awarded the title of CowBelle of the Year. It is known that her happiness at receiving the honor was dampened by the illness of her mother-in-law, Leta Kaul. This familiar family is in many thoughts at this time.

picking up on this cue, the NHCA conducted a presidential preference poll and a survey on the three national issues of most concern to Americans.
While sitting in the salon waiting rooms and under dryers, US females have been airing their thoughts. Here are the results of the polls.
Of the more than 14,500 women polled in the nation's beauty salons, over 4,300 women (30 percent) wrote in President Ford's name as the person they would most likely vote for "if the 1976 Presidential election were held today."

The poll was conducted throughout 39 states and the District of Columbia between Oct. 5-18.
Following President Ford's 4,337 write-in votes were the following:
Undecided--2,783 votes (19 percent); Ronald Reagan--2,227 votes (15 percent); Alabama Gov. George Wallace--1,068 votes (7 percent); Sen. Edward Kennedy--992 votes (6 percent); Sen. Hubert Humphrey--397 votes (3 percent); Sen. Henry Jackson--383 votes (3 percent).
Also, 234 votes were written in for "a Democrat," and 211 votes were written in for "a Republican."

IN THIS SEASON of giving, don't forget the Girlstown communities at Borger, Whiteface and Austin. Hereford Noon Lions Club members are collecting funds to buy $75 gift certificates for each of the 106 girls, who are in need of coats, shoes and other clothing items. That total runs into a lot of money and some girls are going to be disappointed at Christmas, if this project isn't supported.
Donations can be taken to Nolan Grady at the Post Office or mailed to Box 414 locally.

Other persons receiving over 100 votes were:
Sen. Barry Goldwater--164 votes; Sargent Shriver--148 votes; Rep. Morris Udall--140 votes; Vice-president Nelson Rockefeller--118 votes.
There was a total of 1,340 votes for other possible candidates. Others who received more than 10 votes, were:
Sen. Edmund Muskie--79; Sen. Frank Church--74; Sen. Birch Bayh--73; Jimmy Carter--52; Rep. Barbara Jordan--41; Richard Nixon--37; Sen. Howard Baker--36; Sen. Lloyd Bentsen--34; Florida Gov. Reubin Askew--30; John Connally--30; Sen. Charles Percy--26; Terry Sanford--22; New Hampshire Gov. Meldrim Thompson, Jr.--21; Evel Kniesel--18; Sen.

S&S
WATCH FOR RECIPES which were submitted in the 4-H Food Show when they appear in The Brand's Christmas edition. There are a lot of good meals included in the menu prepared by local girls.
Also, in the list of Food Show judges appearing elsewhere in this issue, two names were omitted. They are Mrs. James Perkins and Mrs. Steve Olson.
IF YOU WANT to know what's going on inside a woman's head (as well as on top of it), forge into the hot spot of the nations-beauty salons. At least that's a concept deduced by the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.
And it's not a bad idea, in this writer's opinion. Where else do you have women in their own pungent environment reading four-year-old magazines and, most important, talking. So, choice, many women who filled out a corresponding national issues rating poll also conducted by the Association completely ignored the opportunity to show a presidential preference, even though they filled out their national issue preferences.

There was a total of 23,000 women who took part in rating 10 national issues of importance to them, but only 14,542 of these same women filled out their presidential preference, which was requested on the same one page questionnaire. These women ignored the presidential preference question.

"Those women who ignored the presidential preference section, and the 19 percent of undecided women who filled out the presidential preference section, seem to indicate that a huge percentage of American women really do not have any presidential preference of any kind at this time," Mrs. McCoy said.
For the second consecutive year, the three national issues of most concern to the American woman are (1) the economy, (2) confidence in government, and (3) crime, according to the second annual national issues poll conducted by the 64,000 member National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association.
More than 23,000 American women in 39 states and the District of Columbia were polled. American women rated 10 listed subjects in order of preference from 1 to 10.
The American woman who frequents the beauty salon rated her first three preferences in the same order as she did in the national association's first poll conducted in October of 1974.
The seven other subjects named on the poll, and the order in which the American woman listed these items, are: (4) energy; (5) taxes; (6) too many increases in welfare programs; (7) disarmament; (8) protection of the environment; (9) too much influence and effect of labor unions; (10) too much influence and effect of news media.

The number 4 and number 5 preferences switched places from last year, when "taxes" received the number 4 spot, and "energy" was number 5. "Too many increases in welfare programs," a new item added to this year's poll, received the number 6 spot which was held by "protection of privacy" last year.

"Disarmament," the number 7 item, moved up from number 8, and "protection of environment" switched from number 7 to number 8.
The last two rated items on this year's poll--"Too much influence and effect of labor unions" and "too much influence and effect of the news medias"--were new items of interest added to this year's poll.
The two, which received the least attention by America's women, replaced "national health insurance" and "conditional amnesty for American draft evaders," the least two rated items on last year's poll.
Mrs. McCoy said that the poll was conducted again "to let legislators in Washington know what the women of America think concerning today's issues."
Results of the poll are being sent to president Gerald R. Ford and members of the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives.
The 23,000 national issue questionnaires tallied by the Association were rated and totalled according to each woman's preference. An issue receiving first preference received 10 points, the second preference received 9 points, and each respectively itemized issue received a lesser point.

Farm Bureau Strengthens Stand On Brucellosis Eradication

Texas Farm Bureau retained its traditional stance in opposition to revision of the state constitution at its 42nd annual convention which ended in San Antonio Dec. 3.

The some 1,159 voting delegates from 164 counties also took a slap at the Longshoremen's Union for its recent action impeding the shipment of grain sold for export and went on record as opposing federal aid for "bailing out" state or local government units.

The total convention registration of more than 1,500 persons was a record attendance at a TFB convention, as was the number of voting delegates certified.

Carroll Chaloupka of Dalhart was unanimously re-elected president for 1976 after two nominees—T.J. Richards of Paducah, outgoing longtime director of 14 years from District 3, and Bill Reed of Lamesa, District 7 director—both declined nomination in support of Chaloupka.

Four new directors were elected. They are S.M. True, Jr., of Plainview, Joe F. Fisher of McKinney, Marvin W. Phemister of Weinert, and Donald Hebert of Waller. Reid was subsequently re-elected vice president and W. Reed Lang of Rio Hondo was named secretary-treasurer by the Board of Directors following conclusion of the convention.

Most controversial issue—other than a proposed by-law amendment—was the brucellosis eradication program which took some two hours of debate to resolve. When the air was cleared, the delegates had strengthened the organizations stand on eradication.

The approved resolution urges the Texas Animal Health Commission to "promulgate the necessary rules and regulations to achieve and maintain a certified bovine brucellosis free state as charged by the Legislature." Delegates said the present state constitution should be retained "since it is basically sound and can be amended at any time."

Concerning the Longshoremen's action delaying grain shipments, delegates said that "exporting products should be subject only to pertinent existing laws and that appropriately severe penalties be imposed on those who arbitrarily delay such exports." They further declared that "the judicial route should be followed to force labor to fulfill its contracts with shipping suppliers in loading ships with export items," and that legislation should be passed making organized labor subject to the same antitrust laws as industry.

In other action during the two-day business session the delegates passed resolutions calling for a legislative study of the California plan or other state plans, with the aim of providing relief to Texas doctors.

They said county commissioners courts should be given authority to regulate sub-developments "due to the moving trend from metropolitan areas to rural areas."

A resolution was approved opposing legislation or regulation by federal or state government to control the withdrawal of under ground water for irrigation.

Voting delegates approved a resolution calling for the widening of farm-to-market roads "as funds become available," but voted down a resolution from the high plains calling for more comfort stations with restroom facilities along the state's highways.

TFB also wants more emphasis on maintenance of the present farm-to-market road system rather than new construction.

Positions taken by the voting delegates on national issues are actually recommendations to the house of delegates of the American Farm Bureau Federation convention which will be held in January in St. Louis.

On government farm programs, TFB says the target price concept of the 1973 Farm Act should allow the escalator clause to include the rate of inflation for 1974 as well as 1975 in setting the new target prices for the 1976 crop year.

A recommendation was approved opposing farm payment limitations.

Another urges USDA to announce the details of farm programs early so that farmers may know all the facts about their management decisions; avoid changing program provisions after the sign-up; and avoid over-reacting to the supply-demand situation in announcing program provisions which could stimulate over production.

The delegates said cost of living criteria for each specific area of the nation should be used as the basis for determining eligibility for the food stamp program because of wide variations of the cost of living in different parts of the country.

They said AFBF should oppose any check-off system for research and promotion of agricultural commodities when funds are not controlled by the producers of that commodity.

They re-iterated their opposition to compulsory land use planning, expressing the belief that "land use planning can best be accomplished locally by private landowners." They also expressed opposition to "the increasing involvement and mounting authority by the Corps of Engineers and other government agencies."

They said the Secretary of Agriculture should have veto power over EPA restrictions which relate to agriculture.

The voting delegates see the courtroom as "the battleground from where the direction of our society is emerging" and said farmers and ranchers "should be well represented there." They urged the organization to "involve itself more actively and enthusiastically in support of its farmer and rancher members through the use of the court system."

Also concerning the courts, the delegates expressed opposition to "the present tendency of the federal judiciary to invade the legislative area, to expand federal authority at the expense of state law, and to affirm executive interpretations of statutes beyond the intent of Congress." They said the Supreme Court should "confine itself to interpretations of the Constitution and should not perform a legislative function."

The proposed by-law amendment—which was defeated by a narrow margin—would have increased membership dues to finance proposed expansion of TFB programs and activities.

Livestock Buyer Charged With P&S Act Violation

J. Troy Woodward, Inc., Pearsall, Tex., and its principal owner and manager, J. Troy Woodward, have been charged with violating payment, bonding, and recordkeeping requirements of the Packers and Stockyards Act, the U.S. Department of Agriculture

(USDA) has announced. The respondents operate as a livestock dealer. They purchase livestock in southern Texas and also in the Texas Panhandle. USDA's Packers and Stockyards Administration charged in an administrative complaint that the corporation, under the direction and control of J. Troy Woodward: -- Issued insufficient funds checks in payment for more than $55,000 worth of livestock, delaying actual payment for more than a year; -- Failed to pay, when due, for the livestock, delaying actual payment for more than a year; -- Failed to pay, when due, for another $34,000 worth of livestock purchased during April and May, 1975; -- Continued its livestock dealer business without filing a reasonable bond although Mr. Woodward was officially notified that this is a violation of the Packers and Stockyards (P&S) Act; and -- Failed to maintain sufficient accounts and records to fully and correctly disclose all transactions involved in its livestock business.

Filing of the complaint does not prove that either of the respondents have violated the P&S Act. They have a right to a hearing to determine if the evidence supports the charges. If the charges are proven, the respondents would be placed under a cease and desist order.

Mr. Farmer:

When buying or selling farm and ranch lands, your selection of a realtor is of supreme importance. Why not choose a fellow farmer who is also a realtor to help you? If your realtor does not understand well logs, underground line sizes and types, water tables, investment credit, repair costs, fuel costs, irrigation horsepower requirements, friction loss, soil maps, insurance rates, tax matters, and detailed production cost figures, then you may have the wrong realtor. Let us serve you. We understand farmers and farming.

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now. But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time.

Weed Control Reviewed At Bushland

EDITOR'S NOTE— The USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland hosted the Penobscot Weed Control Symposium Tuesday. The following are short abstracts of talks given at the symposium by various TAES and USDA researchers.

JIM SCHRIB

There is a good selection of herbicides for corn, according to Jim Schrib, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Weed Researcher from Halfway. "If you know your major weed problem, there is a herbicide that will control the pest", he continued. Currently labeled preplant herbicides are AATrex, Eradicane, Sutan. Either Eradicane or Sutan are the best choice for fields infested with shattercorn or Johnsongrass. These herbicides can be incorporated with either a tandem disk or rolling cultivator. Best weed control will be obtained when corn is "irrigated up". In Dallam or Hartley counties Sutan is the only choice. AATrex is excellent for watergrass control, but because of soil residue only corn or sorghum can be planted for 18 months.

AATrex also can be used pre-emergence or post-emergence. Along with AATrex, Lasso, and Bladex are pre-emergence herbicides that give excellent broadleaf and good watergrass control.

Evik and Lorox are post-emergence herbicides that must be applied as directed sprays from broadleaf and grass control. Banvel is applied over-the-top of the crop and controls broadleaf weeds.

Research at halfay in the last few years has proven two new pre-emergence herbicides, Cycle and Dual. These two herbicides have short residual, and wheat can be double cropped immediately after corn harvest, the scientist concluded.

WAYNE CHENAULT
Wayne Chenault, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Weed Researcher, described several different types of tips used for spray applications. Two new spray nozzles, the Raindrop Nozzle and Uniform Droplet Nozzle produces fewer fine drops that tend to drift. Research at Lubbock showed that more spray material hit the ground with these spray nozzles, than with conventional flat fan nozzles.

Research with Nalcontrol, a spray thickener, showed that a small amount of this chemical mixed in a spray solution greatly reduced drift.

Chenault also told symposium participants a simple method for calibrating sprayers. It consists of carefully measuring and determining the number of seconds it takes a sprayer to travel 100 feet. Later with the sprayer setting still and the pressure set, spray is caught from nozzles used to cover 40 inches. The number of ounces caught is equal to gallons applied per acre.

ALLEN WIESE
Dr. A.F. Wiese, Texas A&M University Weed Scientist from Bushland, described three years of research that lead to methods of controlling watergrass in sorghum. "Our best practice is applying three pounds per acre of Milogard preplant and incorporating it with a rolling cultivator a week or two before planting", the researcher said. This system fails if the top of the bed is removed during planting, the result is a weedy row and a clean middle. Milogard and Milogard mixed with either Lorox or Ramrod applied pre-emergence gave good watergrass control if rain occurred shortly after planting.

A post-emergence application of AATrex in an oil-water emulsion carrier is the best control for watergrass that may remain if preplant or pre-emergence treatments fail. Following this treatment, a rolling cultivator can be used to incorporate the herbicide and kill the last watergrass in the field. "Spending a little extra money for enough herbicide is profitable", Wiese concluded.

In one of our studies, sorghum yields were held down to 1600 pounds per acre by watergrass where two cultivations were used, but increased to 4800 pounds per acre where a good herbicide treatment was added to the cultivations.

"Our research has resulted in good methods for controlling watergrass in sorghum. We trust that farmers can take the information and control the pest", Wiese concluded.

HARVEY GARRISON

Harvey Garrison, a young farmer who operates four sections of irrigated land ten miles east of Dumas, described his experience in eliminating watergrass from the farm. Milogard and AATrex combined with two to three cultivations and rotating the worst fields to winter wheat did the job in three years. "After following this program for five years, I can grow any crop without being worried about being smothered in watergrass", Garrison told the symposium participants.

FRANK PETR

Proper timing of spray applications is the key to getting a good job of controlling mustards in wheat, according to Dr. Frank Petr, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Agronomist from Amarillo. One-half pound per acre of 2,4-D will kill tansy mustard any time it is applied. However, if it is applied before wheat is fully tillered, tillering and head weight may be reduced. This might cut yields on irrigated fields more than having weeds. Dr. Petr told that research at Bushland showed that one tansy mustard plant per square foot will reduce yields 10 percent. Spraying a dryland field with only a 10 bushel yield potential may not be profitable. When yield potential is 50 bushels per acre on an irrigated field killing a few tansy mustard will return a good profit.

Tracle mustard, which is a problem near Dumas and Hereford, is more difficult to control. Early research efforts failed because experimental herbicide applications were made in March. "After we started treating weeds in February while rosettes were smaller than a half dollar, 0.75 pound per acre of 2,4-D and MCPA did a good job", Petr concluded.

JOHN ABERNATHY

Latest research information on problem weeds was the topic covered by Dr. John Abernathy, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Weed Scientist from Lubbock. "Nutsedge, silverleaf nightshade, and Johnsongrass are our worst perennial weed problems", the scientist stated. "But field bindweed, Texas blueweed and Lakewood are not far behind". Morning glory, lanceleaf sage, cocklebur, devil's claw and oakleaf thornapple are difficult to control annual weeds in cotton growing communities.

Where 2, 4-D can be used, bindweed is easy to control. This herbicide cannot be used near cotton because of possible crop injury and bindweed are hard to control. Subsurface layering of Treflan and Tolban may be the answer. In an experiment at Lubbock 2X rates of these herbicides applied to the same areas for three years did not injure cotton.

Roundup applied at three pounds per acre in the fall has given excellent silverleaf nightshade control. Johnsongrass control with Roundup has been obtained in cotton and sorghum with a recirculating sprayer.

Dr. Abernathy stated that knife injection of Eptam is another new technique that shows promise for controlling outgrass in soybeans and cotton.

DWANE LAVAKE

Dwane Lavake, another Texas Agricultural Experiment Station researcher from Bushland, discussed new methods of applying soil sterilants for field bindweed control. For the past four years, injection of Tordon, Fenac, Banvel, and Trysben 200 with anhydrous ammonia chisels has controlled field bindweed better than other methods of application evaluated. Granular formulation and subsurface application with large sweeps proved better than spray applications of the herbicides on the soil surface. Application methods did not affect weed control the first year, but differences showed up the second and third year after application.

In another aspect of the study, two pounds per acre of dinitroaniline herbicides such as Treflan and Tolban gave more bindweed control than the same amount of Fenac, Banvel, and Trysben.

"Unfortunately none of these treatments are labeled for cropland. We plan to continue our research and cooperate with companies until labels are obtained", the scientist told the audience.

Most Ag Items Abundant

Most items that agricultural producers will need in the coming year are in abundant supply and prices have eased somewhat. So an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service recommends making needed purchases or lining up needed supplies. The purchases can also be applied to this year's expenses to help reduce income taxes.

"Costs of farm inputs have generally leveled off as supplies have increased steadily in recent months," points out Dr. Wayne Hayenga. "Many manufacturers and dealers are now offering items at more attractive prices-- at least somewhat lower than in the past few years."

Among items with larger inventories are fertilizer, farm equipment, pesticides, wire and twine, and seed for certain crops.

Fertilizer use was off during 1975 so supplies are generally up and prices have softened, notes the Texas A&M University System economist. However, there is some concern about natural gas curtailments that would affect nitrogen production. So, hayenga advises purchasing needed fertilizer supplies for the coming year as soon as possible.

"Except for big tractors and combines, farm machinery sales have been off, so producers thinking about replacing certain equipment might be able to find some bargains," says Hayenga. "Many dealers will be hard-pressed to move items due to large inventories, so farmers should be able to do some bargaining. Some dealers may also be offering rebates."

As far as fuel is concerned, the economist notes that diesel and gas supplies should be ample but that propane and natural gas may again be tight in supply this winter. Hayenga advises producers to try to phase out equipment using propane and to "lock in" a source of natural gas since curtailments seem probable.

As 1975 winds down, it makes good sense to prepare for the coming year by purchasing needed equipment and supplies while inventories are up," contends Hayenga.

Cottonseed Oil Made Debut in Philadelphia

First cottonseed oil made in the United States was presented by a Dr. Otto of Bethlehem, Pa., to the American Philosophical Association in Philadelphia in 1768.

The association was the earliest organization formed in the U.S. to promote scientific agriculture, reports the National Cotton Council.

Samples of oil submitted by Otto included nine pints obtained from 1 1/2 bushels of cottonseed.

It was almost a century later, however, before cottonseed oil was being successfully produced on a large-scale commercial basis.

Off To Early Start
Cotton was among the crops being cultivated in 1726 in the French colony of Louisiana.

The first use of a concentrated fertilizer on cotton in the United States came in 1846, when David Dickson of Hancock County, Ga., applied Peruvian guano to his crop.

Corduroy Makes Debut
Cotton corduroy was the first American-made textile to be advertised for sale in the United States. The fabric was manufactured in 1789 at a Beverly, Mass., textile mill which was powered by mules.

Early Cotton Trader
Sterling Doby was the first cotton merchant whose name appears in Texas records. A notation shows he bought a bale of cotton for $60 in 1834.

Dawn Music Club Schedules Party

Members of Dawn Music Club met in the home of Mrs. Carl Wimberley Tuesday afternoon for their Christmas party and gift exchange. During the business meeting with Mrs. Ray Stewart presiding in absence of the club's president, Mrs. R.E. Curtisinger, a committee was announced to plan a holiday program.

The Christmas program, scheduled at 7 p.m. Dec. 19 in Dawn community building, will be outlined by Mmes. Wimberley, L.W. Tooley and Stewart. "Nobody Knows the Trouble I've Seen" sung by Mrs. Jim Tilley and accompanied by Mrs. Wimberley at the piano highlighted the musical arrangements during the program.

A piano-duet of "Silent Night" was presented by Mrs. Wimberley and Mrs. Nelson. Mrs. Walter Lemons sang "Amazing Grace" accompanied by Mrs. Stewart playing the piano. "O Holy Night" and "Jingle Bells" was an organ-piano duet presented by Mrs. Wimberley and Mrs. Stewart and the hymn of the month was "Star of the East." Following musical selections, members sang Christmas carols and opened gifts. Mr. Dwayne Nelson was recognized as a guest by members present and Mrs. H.V. McCabe.

Food Show Winners Advance To Finals

[EDITOR'S NOTE: Recipes prepared for the recent 4-H Food Show will be published in The Brand's Christmas edition for the benefit of interested cooks. Eight of the local youngsters will be advancing to district competition with their prepared dishes on March 13.] Heritage Foods was the theme for the Deaf Smith County 4-H Food Show, which was held Saturday afternoon in Hereford Community Center. Competition yielded eight first place winners, who will represent this county in district finals scheduled March 13 in Amarillo.

Blue and red ribbons were awarded to 48 entrants with recognition going to first, second and third place winners in each of the eight categories. Judges included Beverly Nixon, Mrs. Lester Kirkland, Bill Albright, Mrs. Marvin Thuvonnall, Mrs. Leroy Johnson and Mrs. Garland Stewart. Staging the food show was a committee composed of Mmes. Gaylon Bryan, Lee Umsted and Burke Inman Jr.

The top contestants in each division were: SENIOR MAIN DISH Geni Welty, first; Beverly Edwards, second. JUNIOR SIDE DISH Kristy Simons, first; Eva Johnson, second; Karen Elaine Jones and Annette Dawson, tied for third. SENIOR SIDE DISH Rhonda Hagar, first; Lana

Porter, second. JUNIOR BREAD & DESSERTS Becky Hughes, first; Angela Porter and Genell Hartman, tied for second. SENIOR BREAD & DESSERTS Micki Merritt, first; Melody Kendrick, second. TIME SAVER — If you're cooking breakfast for a house full of guests, don't stand by the stove frying skillet after skillet of bacon! Lay the strips on a broiler pan and bake 8-10 minutes at 400 degrees. Browns beautifully without turning.

TREAT THE GANG — Your kitchen can become an instant soda fountain — and a very popular place on a hot day! Put 1/3 cup frozen strawberries or raspberries in a large glass, add 3 tablespoons milk and large scoop of vanilla ice cream. Fill with cold soda water and stir. An old-fashioned treat to beat the heat!

BUTTER UP — Know the fast way to let the family butter their corn on the cob? Pass a stick of butter or margarine around and let each person roll their corn around on it. The entire family can "butter up" while the corn is still hot! Use corn holders for easier handling. Save the whittled-down butter for cooking later.
