

Last Game For 25 HHS Seniors

Pride On Line In Herd Finale

Lubbock High has clinched the District 4-AAAA playoff berth, so it will be mostly a matter of pride when Hereford and Monterey clash Thursday night at Lowrey Field in Lubbock.

Both teams have a lot of pride, however, and the winner can either gain a share of the title or a second-place finish in loop play. How they finish also depends on the outcome of the Lubbock-Plainview clash on Friday night.

The game has some other highlights. It will match the top offensive team (Hereford) in the league against the top defensive squad (Monterey). Hereford has the leading rushing attack in the loop, while Monterey has the best passing game. Hereford is No. 3 in passing, but last in pass defense.

THE HERD WILL go into the game with a shortage of quarterbacks. Sophomore Kelly Kitchens, slated to start this week after Mike Dudding broke a leg in the Lubbock game, sprained an ankle in practice last week. Senior Mike Crim had already been moved to linebacker when Vance Hennington went out with a knee injury. Kitchens' ankle was not improving quick enough this week, so Crim may be called on to lead the Herd attack again. He has been bothered with a sore passing arm, too.

The Herd had an open date last week and, with the exception of Kitchens, had a chance to "heal up" from bumps and bruises. Coach Fred Upshaw said he expected "a heck of a game" against the Plainsmen. "The kids will be ready for an great effort and we'll pull out all stops in an effort to win this last one."

UPSHAW SAID Monterey had an "explosive" offense because of their great passing attack. "I feel like they'll try to run on us first, because we've had some problems on defense." He added that it could wind up with the team "that gets the breaks" winning the contest. When Lubbock edged Monterey last week, it took a little luster off the match-up. It's the first time in several years that the contest didn't have a bearing on the outcome of the race. This is not expected to put a damper on the spirits of the two squads, however.

The game also has some interesting match-ups among the district's individual offensive leaders. The Plainsmen's Scott Gardner has passed for a whopping 1,272 yards, hitting 42.9 per cent of his tosses. Kitchens, now a doubtful starter, has the

School Board Hears Bilingual Ed Debate

100 Attend Meeting Tuesday

By BOBBY TEMPLETON
Brand News Editor

It's all been heard before, but about 100 concerned parents, teachers and other citizens met with the Hereford School Board of Education to bat about the issues surrounding the local "Bilingual Education" program. It was the regular monthly meeting of the school board, which convened first in the board room but then had to move to the administration building cafeteria due to the large crowd.

For over two and half hours, discussion was led principally by Robert Trifletti, Title VII project officer of the U.S. Office of Education. He first delivered his explanation of bilingual education and then attempted to answer questions concerning the federal government funding of the local program.

THE MAJORITY of the bilingual Education program here consists of state mandated instruction for all identified students of "limited English speaking ability." This is funded at about $25 per student and the federal Title VII funds, which amount to about $85,000 this academic year, are complimentary to the state program. The federal funds go principally toward funding the bilingual teacher aid salaries, equipment and materials for the program.

This discussion topped the business of the meeting as the board considered a contract with Jim McMorris for property appraisals, appointed a local textbook committee, approved final exam exemptions for all high school students with "A" averages, heard an update on the high school tennis complex, reviewed guidelines for Title IX (federal laws to prohibit sex discrimination), approved the school district audit, and discussed routine reports on enrollment, cafeteria, transportation and the tax office.

At the beginning of the bilingual education discussion, Ron Zimmerman, school board trustee, read a prepared statement reflecting the wide controversy surrounding the program. This, he said, was indicated by the large number of persons appearing.

Trifletti said, "There is a lot of misunderstanding about bilingual education. What is it?"

Under legal definitions, he said it was the teaching of English to students of limited English speaking ability as a primary language. "It is not just learning another language," he explained as he described the problems facing a student who is trying to learn but does not know the language used in the teaching.

His office funds programs for teaching 43 languages, mostly varieties of Indian language. However, Spanish takes most of the funds with Texas ranking second to California in money allocations. Presently, the federal government spends $44 million with Texas receiving 18.4 per cent.

He noted that the interest here was more than larger cities and that parent input was good since the federal program here is an experimental one and therefore all the answers are not known yet. "We're looking for data from your school district to use for other districts," he said.

ROY HARTMAN, superintendent, concurred by adding that even the state required program was new this year in grades K-2 and "we're doing what we think is best. It may not be the best way to implement bilingual education."

The federal representative suggested that for the federal end of the program, only two or three of the six elementary schools here might be used so that controls could be available to compare the program's progress.

Parents and teachers and aids were primarily concerned with the program's actual operation including the qualifications of bilingual aids, the students required to take instruction, and the procedures in teaching the program.

Trifletti said the personnel here was good and buildings conducive to instruction, but suggested tighter control by the district since a lot of flexibility is given the district.

Some present including Mrs. Gerald Parker, who questioned the program at the last board meeting, asked "if discrimination or segregation existed for those who are taught Spanish or English. Ed McCleary, federal programs director, said, No English speaking child is required to take the Spanish instruction since the parent may just ask the school principal for their child not to take the instruction and "it will be taken care of." Of course, those tested and found to be of limited English speaking ability must take bilingual instruction.

The aids here are required to possess at least a high school degree to G.E.D. equivalent and be 18-years-old. Mal Manchee, whose salary is partially paid for bilingual coordination, said the aids are given some money and encouraged to further their bilingual education.

General opinions presented indicated most preferred their children to learn

King's Manor Founders' Day Plans Made

The annual King's Manor Methodist Home Inc. Founders' Association Day will be highlighted by a dinner at 7 p.m. Monday at the Bull Barn.

About 500-700 persons are expected to show for the 10th annual event which marks the climax of the home's fund raising campaign this year. The home is supported mainly through gifts supplied by the association membership fee of $10 and other larger gifts amounting to $10,000 and $1,000. Also nominal fees are charged residents and gifts are accepted through the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference and from any interested individuals or organizations.

Joyce Lyons, administrator, said the principal speaker for the dinner would be Dr. Sam Nader, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Lubbock.

The dinner is the only scheduled activity celebrating Founders' Day. At it, special awards will be presented to contributors of the home's beef of the month club and life members ($1,000 donation) and memorial founders ($10,000 given in memory of someone) and founder donors ($10,000 donations).

No memorial or founder donors were received as of presstime.

However, nine life memberships have been received and will be recognized Monday.

Jim Conkright, president of the administrative board, will be master of ceremonies for the dinner. Rev. Doug Manning, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Hereford, will deliver the invocation, with the welcoming provided by Donald Hicks, President of the Founder's Association.

Conkright will make introductions followed by entertainment provided by the Hereford Chamber Singers. Dewitt Seago, pastor of King's Manor, will introduce the speaker.

Nader will then present his address followed by the special awards ceremonies. Hicks will then conduct the business meeting at which new officers and four new directorships will be elected.

A ceremony of dedication, honoring life memberships, will be conducted by Dr. James Carter, chairman of the Health and Welfare Ministries of the Methodist Church denomination. Rev. Gene Brink, pastor of the First Christian Church in Hereford will give the benediction.

King's Manor, established in 1962 by Rev. Ron Davidson, consists of the Westgate Nursing Home and the manor, which provides residency in both retirement cottages and dormitory style quarters. Presently, 79 persons reside in Westgate and 67 in King's Manor.

The fund raising this year was reported at a little lower level than last year's collections of $30,248.08.

Rev. Nader is noted of involvement in numerous church and civic projects and gained notoriety in 1966 when he was the second Methodist minister to ever preach in a Methodist Church behind the Iron Curtain. That same year, he was granted an interview with Mrs. Indira Gandhi in Delhi, India.

HIS TRAVELS over the past 25 years have taken him to foreign continents including Europe, Asia, the Middle East, the Soviet and the Orient. He has served as a delegate to the Board of World Peace of the Methodist Church abroad.

The Lubbock minister earned his bachelor's degree from Southern Methodist University at Dallas prior to completing post-graduate work at Columbia University in New York. At college, he was a medalist student in journalism and was sports editor of the SMU publication, The Campus. He was active in athletic competition.

UW Campaign Needs Boost

Deaf Smith County's United Way campaign climbed to 87.7 per cent of its goal Tuesday morning, it was reported by drive chairman Speedy Nieman.

Raymond White, UW board president, announced the drive would continue for at least another week. Nieman reported that some of the drive packets were still out, and several firms had requested more times to gather employee contributions.

White said he and other UW directors feel the goal can still be reached. "We have enough cards that have not been turned in, along with gifts made last year

Antique Show Is Scheduled

L'Allegria Study Club's third Annual Antique Show will be held from 1-9 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 1-6 p.m. Sunday in the Hereford Community Center.

Antique dealers from five states will display a varied collection including jewelry, art glass, furniture, primitive clocks, player pianos and china pieces.

Tickets are priced at $1 and are available from any L'Allegria member, Park Avenue Florist or Flowers West. Door prizes are being offered by both floral firms.

Proceeds from the antique sale will aid in establishing a Y-Center here. Mrs. Cameron Gault and Mrs. Burns Hamilton are co-chairmen for the project.

Art Buffs Invited to Show

Handpainted china and paintings will be among merchandise to be on display by local merchants during the Progressive Art Show and Sale Friday and Saturday. The watercolor painting shown here is by Mrs. Joel Newman and will be given away during a drawing. Artists participating in the show are members of Hereford Art Guild, including Mrs. W.C. Hromas with pieces of her ceramic and Andy Wilks, Guild president.

United Way Agency In Action

Council Stresses Education

If the name of an organization is mentioned that contains the words "alcoholic" or "alcoholism," most people immediately assume the organization is Alcoholics Anonymous. One of those organizations often confused in our area is the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism.

The council works to educate the public of the huge problem of alcoholics in America and when alcoholics come to the council for help, refer them to agencies or persons who can help.

THE REV. BILL LANG, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism, told The Brand that the council is a representative group of citizens in the country from many professions—some of whom are total abstainers and others who are not—working together to promote a common understanding of the problem.

Rev. Lang points out that the Council is not a prohibitionist organization nor does it promote drinking. The Council is neither wet nor dry, but includes persons of all opinions on the issue. The principal objective of the Council is to inform the public about drinking to excess or to the extent that serious personal problems are created through alcoholism. Abstinence is within the scope of teaching of the Council, but it is not its total approach to the problems connected with the misuse of alcohol.

Alcoholics Anonymous is "a fellowship of men and women who share their experience, strength and hope with each other that they may solve their common problem and help others recover from alcoholism." Rev. Lang, says the Council of Alcoholism is an organization designed to prevent persons from becoming alcoholics through education, and refer those who are alcoholics to persons or agencies for treatment and rehabilitation.

help the alcoholic. In addition, the Council will consult with family friends, and problems of the alcoholic on a confidential basis.

THE COUNCIL'S first concern is alcoholism as a disease: not alcohol as a beverage. The Council feels alcoholism is a disease, that the alcoholic can be helped and is worth helping, that alcoholism can be prevented if symptoms are recognized in time, and that alcoholism is a public health problem and therefore a public responsibility.

In their objectives of education and referral, the Council works to increase public understanding of the problem of alcoholism, to maintain information for the public for consultation and referral services, to mobilize public opinion for a community approach to the major health problem of alcoholism, and to help promote and expand needed facilities for the rehabilitation of the alcoholic by bringing together members of the community at large.

Alcoholism, Rev. Lang, said, is a public health problem recognized by medical authorities as one of four major health problems in America, after heart disease, mental illness, and very near the cancer mark—a progressive illness which is characterized by the compulsive drinking of beverage alcohol. But it is a treatable illness.

The Council defines an alcoholic as one whose compulsive (uncontrollable) drinking behavior causes serious problems in the management of his life (facing each day without the need of alcohol). An alcoholic, says the Council is a person who needs assistance in order to recognize and overcome his illness.

THERE IS no distinction among alcoholics, claims the Council. They are in any profession—in any neighborhood—in any family—in any area of the country—anywhere and everywhere in the nation. "Skid Row is a proven myth," says one Council pamphlet. "Ninety-five per cent of the alcoholics are not on skid row. Alcoholism is a living room disease."

THE COUNCIL receives its only income from the United Fund, about $1,200 a year, or two per cent of the United Fund in Deaf Smith County. The money, Rev. Lang said, does not go to any individual or family but is used by the Council to purchase educational films on alcoholism and literature dealing with the problem. All members of the Council work strictly on a volunteer basis, giving their time and efforts, receiving no compensation.

Council members are available to speak before service clubs, industrial groups, churches, schools, civic organizations, and other interested parties and the Council will provide pamphlets and literature to anyone who needs information on alcoholism.

The Council has two telephone numbers available for persons who need their services. The Council's number is 364-4540, but Rev. Lang said persons may also call his home number, 364-0939. The Council will refer persons in need of care for alcoholism to any number of persons or agencies, from AA to doctors and psychiatrists, anyone they feel can

A change in the fiscal year of the county and Federal Revenue Sharing fund extensions by Congress were considered by the Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court during a regular meeting Monday morning at the Courthouse.

The commissioners also passed a motion to transfer unallocated funds to cover expenses by individual commissioners for the remainder of the year until revenue from the next fiscal year may be used, approved a water gas line in precinct three, renewed some certificates of deposit and accepted the October fire report from the city.

COUNTY JUDGE SAM MORGAN said that the county's fiscal year should be set on the basis of the tax year. Presently, the county operates on a Jan. 1-Dec. 31 fiscal year but collects taxes from Oct. 1-Sept. 30. Technically, this doesn't allow current tax collections to be used as they come in since a three-month delay exists from the first of the tax year to the first of the fiscal year.

Commissioner Bruce Coleman suggested backing up to Oct. 1, 1975 to begin the 1976 fiscal year as a means of transition into identical tax and fiscal years. However, Commissioner Austin Rose Jr. said it would be better to implement a nine-month fiscal year from Jan. 1-Sept. 30, 1976 by cutting off the last three months of the 1976 and adding them to following fiscal year to begin Oct. 1.

Coleman was concerned about available funds to operate with for the remaining months of this year. While all expenses would naturally be paid, he didn't like the "technicality of operating in the red."

To solve this, the commissioners unanimously voted to use $23,619.86 in unallocated revenue sharing funds to finish out the year. This is to be divided equally among the four commissioner's precincts.

Previously the county had been using taxes collected in the last three months of the year, mostly in November, for expenses of a current year's budget. Even though most counties in Texas operate this way, the commissioners agreed it was not totally legal and therefore decided to coordinate the tax and fiscal years into one single year as recommended by financial consultant Bob Davis of Amarillo.

THE REVENUE SHARING discussion resulted from a letter sent by the Texas Association of Counties to the county inquiring whether the Commissioner's Court wanted to be represented at a Washington D.C. meeting convened to discuss extending the Revenue Sharing program for five more years. The meeting is scheduled for Nov. 18 and the association has booked a flight leaving Nov. 17 from the Dallas-Ft. Worth Regional Airport.

Coleman was chosen to represent the county since all commissioners thought it was important to argue for the continuation of the revenue sharing. He said the funds were necessary since some of the county's operating funds depended on it. Possible tax increases could result from a loss of them.

Morgan noted that while the county didn't completely depend on them, revenue sharing money was defrayed local expenses.

This led to a discussion of New York City's default problems. Coleman was emphatically against the federal government bailing out New York City and suggested that revenue sharing was the only possible fair method of offering the city some help.

"A five-year extension of on revenue sharing could equally help all U.S. cities strengthen their bonds," Coleman said. Commissioners Earl Holt and James Voyles expressed similar views and the court said Coleman should present this view at the Washington D.C. meeting.

Also, the court, is planning to go on record as not favoring any direct aid to

New York in the form of resolutions. Coleman said Davis told him a New York default would not affect bond and credit ratings here although the Dow Jones averages and stock exchange would receive repercussions from it.

The commissioners decided to renew a $15,063.70 certificate of deposit as well as put about $596,770.52 (mostly new tax money) into certificates of deposit. Vesta Mae Nunley, county treasurer said this includes about $463,330.24 in taxes received and $78,118.14 in fees collected as well as some already deposited funds.

This money will be kept in the bank until January 1, 1976 since it will probably not be needed until then. Coleman said this is the first year that new tax monies will not be needed during the current budget year since enough slack exists with available funds to finish out the year. In essence, the county will be operating on a 15-month fiscal year, but the commissioners attributed this possibility to thrifty spending.

On the first report, 32 alarms were answered including seven grass fires and only two false alarms, a decrease from the number reported in past months. During October, 18 of the calls were considered county fires and 14 were city fires.

The votes in the state constitutional revision election last Tuesday were canvassed and approved by the Commissioners Court. B.F. Cain, county clerk, said the cost for election judges was $1,339 although this does not include the cost of ballots since all bills have not yet been received.

The constitution here was defeated by almost a three to one margin as about 23 per cent of the voters decided the election. He said no real need was experienced for the Spanish interpreters as most persons preferred English language ballots and explanations.

A water and gas line for Garland Solomon was approved for precinct three. All commissioners were present.

top completion mark, connecting on 51.5 per cent of his passes.

The Herd will miss Dudding on both offense and defense. Hereford won three straight games with him at quarterback. He and Crim are both in the top 10 on total offense, as are running backs Carlee Graves and Terry Brady.

GRAVES AND BRADY are fourth and fifth in rushing in the district, and rank sixth and eighth, respectively, in total offense. Graves has rushed for 603 yards and a league-leading average of 7.6 yards per carry. Brady has rushed for 564 yards and has a 3.9 average.

Hereford's passing game has been divided among the three quarterbacks. Crim has passed for 284, Kitchens 255, and Dudding 205. Dudding hit for four touchdowns while hitting just 5 of 12 passes, however. He tops the league in average yards per completion with a scintillating 41 yards. Crim has hit 19 of 57 for a 33 per cent record.

Hereford's top pass receivers have been Archie Crim, Dave Charest and Roy Martinez. Crim has 14 catches for 261 yards, Martinez 9 for 245, and Charest 13 for 186. The three are all in the top 10 in the loop.

Monterey's Richard Bowles is far away the top receiver with 49 catches for 830 yards and four scores. Two other Plainsmen—David Walden and Mark Roddy—are in the top 10.

Hereford, besides posting a winning district mark with a victory, could also finish with a 5-5 season mark. Monterey is also 2-1 in district and has a 6-3 record for the season.

It will be the final Hereford High football game for 25 seniors. Dudding and Hennington have already been sidelined, but the other 23 are expected to see action in the contest—with 14 or 15 starting on offense or defense.

Fire Destroys Cotton Bales

Hereford volunteer firemen battled a cotton fire at Farmers Gin on South Ave. K early Tuesday morning, but a semi trailer loaded with cotton bales was destroyed despite their efforts.

Approximately 44 bales of cotton were destroyed in the blaze.

Firemen had answered a call to the gin Monday afternoon to extinguish a burn fire.

Grass fires kept the VFD busy Monday and units were twice summoned to extinguish a blaze in a lakebed at the labor camp.

According to fire reports, the fires were apparently set by two youths.

Sunday, firemen were called to a food store at 231 Ave. F, but the alarm was termed a "smoke scare."

Saturday afternoon, units were summoned to extinguish a blaze at a county barn 24 miles west on the Harrison highway.

FFA Fruit Sale Continues Here

Members of the Hereford High School FFA will continue taking orders through Nov. 19 in their annual citrus fruit sales project.

Chapter members are selling Ruby Red grapefruit, Navel and Early oranges, in addition to California dates.

The fruit is being purchased from the R&S Fruit Co. in La Feria.

Prices are $6.50 for 40 pounds of grapefruit or oranges, $4 for 20 pounds of grapefruit or oranges and $5 for 2 1/2 pounds of California dates.

The local chapter will replace any spoiled fruit or give patrons a refund.

Delivery on fruit is expected between Dec. 1-12, and individuals wishing to place orders may contact any FFA member or call 364-0624.

Proceeds from the sales project will help finance the annual FFA Parent-Son banquet, and will also go towards the purchase of livestock show equipment for the local chapter.

Mixed Drinks Tax Mailed

AUSTIN—Comptroller Bob Bullock said this week that more than $2.7 million is being sent to 188 counties and 297 cities across Texas as their share of the mixed drinks tax for the July-September quarter of 1975.

The share to cities is 15 per cent of the total tax collected in each city and the 15 per cent of the counties represents tax revenues for drinks sold outside the city's limits. The remaining 70 per cent, $6.5 million for this quarter, goes to the state general fund.

The Deaf Smith County share of the tax was $473.17 and the Hereford share was (See MIXED DRINKS, Page 9A) another language, but confusion and lack of communication existed about the program. Earlier in the year general meetings were held to explain it to parents and a pamphlet was prepared to explain it.

JAMES GENTRY AND CLARK ANDREWS, trustees, recommended that the board offer final exam exemptions at the end of the last trimester period for seniors with an "A" average. Andrews had recommended separately that juniors with at least an "A" average and seniors with a "B" average be exempted, but he changed his mind after some discussion.

Finally, Danny Martin, trustee, moved that all high school students be exempted with an "A" average starting after the trimester ending this week. Zimmerman seconded the motion and the board voted 4-3 in favor. Those voting "no" were Lynton Allred, James Gentry and Clark Andrews.

They didn't like the idea of possibly letting a straight "A" student going through high school without ever taking a final exam. Another objection questioned the use of exemptions as an educational motivator. Several teachers and parents present thought exemptions in some form resulted in better grades for students, while one teacher suggested abolishing them all together in order to obtain equality.

The past policy was to grant exemptions to students with an "A" average and two excused absences per quarter, a "B" average and one excused absence, or a "C" average and perfect attendance. Those students with a "D" or "F", a "U" in citizenship or three unexcused tardies to class were not exempted.

THE MCMORRIES CONTRACT was approved after arrangements had been made for payments. The total cost is $32,711.12 with $7,500 to be paid Dec. 15, 1975 and March 1, 1976 and $15,000 on Nov. 2, 1976. The balance is to be paid after the final board of equalization hearing. This staggered pay schedule was arranged to spread payments over two school budget periods and to pay McMorries as he completes the work.

Larry Wartes, administrative assistant, reported that the tennis complex was almost completed with the exception of the electrical portion for lighting. The main coverings and fencing is to be finished in about two weeks.

The school audit for the school district was unanimously approved after a short review.

JIM HOLMES, administrative assistant, explained the possible implications of the new sex discrimination rulings by the federal government. While exact changes haven't been worked out, he said the principal area of concern was athletics. The guidance and instruction and employment practices of the district will involve little change.

Questionnaires will soon be sent all secondary school girls to find out what sports they might be interested in. The ruling says that girls may try out for boys team sports, but that if enough show an interest in sports offered boys, separate teams must be formed for the girls. This will concentrate mainly on basketball and golf, Holmes said. Other changes were considered.

The district has three years to comply with the rulings on the secondary level and one year on the elementary level, which involves the least reorganization. Holmes was appointed to coordinate the program and he said he would release other changes as they are definitely decided.

Wartes reported that the cafeteria was operating in the black with an October expense of $67,000 and that all the new school buses had been received.

Orpha Click, tax assessor-collector, said over $1 million in taxes were received during October, a volume of which were taken in a five-day period.

Jim Conkwright, president of the board, expressed appreciation to taxpayers for prompt payments.

No teacher resignations or elections were approved.

All school board members were present.

Whittle Chosen TSTI Head Of Information

Clyde Whittle, who was better known as KDJW News Director...Robert Landon has accepted the position of Director of Information for Texas State Technical Institute of Amarillo. Whittle's employment at TSTI was effective October 27th.

Whittle, a 1972 graduate of West Texas State University was a four year veteran of the radio industry before taking his new job. He was a former employee of radio station KTUE in Tulsa. While employed as a graduate assistant for the speech department at West Texas University during the fall of 1972 and spring of 1973, Whittle also served as station manager for West Texas State's educational radio station, KWTS FM. In May of 1973... Whittle assumed the position of news director for KDJW AM &

FM and was also the evening host for the talk program "Community Forum". He served in this capacity until his employment at Texas State Technical Institute.

In commenting on his move, Whittle, said, "TSTI is a growing vocational training institution and will eventually be recognized as the leader of vocational training in this area. I'm proud to be a part of this organization."

Clyde Whittle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whittle of Floydada and is a 1968 graduate of Floydada High School. Whittle married the former Deborah Ann Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.V. Webster of Lockney, Texas. While serving as Director of Information at Texas State Technical Institute...Whittle plans to finish work on his masters degree at West Texas State University.

Pioneer Corporation Declares Dividends

The Board of Directors of Pioneer Corporation (formerly Pioneer Natural Gas Company) declared a regular quarterly dividend of 30 cents per share at their meeting held Tuesday in Amarillo. The dividend is payable December 4, to stockholders of record on November 20.

Consolidated net income for the company's third quarter operations amounted to $7,904,677. For the first nine months of 1975, consolidated net income was $20,478,396.

In discussing the results of the third quarter, K.B. "Tex"

TWQB Sets Hearing On Toxicity

A proposed policy statement concerning toxicity will be the subject of a Texas Water Quality Board public hearing scheduled for at 9 a.m. today in Room 118 of the Stephen F. Austin State Office Building in Austin.

The proposed statement reflects testimony in the record of the public hearing on a draft toxicity Board Order which was conducted in July, and since the concept has been the subject of discussion for approximately four and a half months, the TWQB hearing commission intends to close the record at the conclusion of this hearing.

The policy statement is intended to complement the waste discharge permits issued by the Board, and will not reflect a change in Board policy of issuing individual permits for each discharge into waters of the state in lieu of general effluent standards. The Board reserve the right to establish individual waste discharge permits the toxicity requirement necessary for each case.

House extends fishing to a 200-mile limit.

Watson, Pioneer President said, "Due to abnormally wet and cooler weather in Pioneer's service area during the summer, the amount of gas sold for irrigation was much less than normal. Volumes sold for irrigation in the third quarter were in excess of 6 billion cubic feet below 1974. Substitute sales were contracted mostly effective in the third quarter, but also extending into the fourth quarter. The increment on these will offset the decline in the expected net operating revenue from irrigation sales."

Watson pointed out that the substitute sales also will ease operating problems resulting from the reduced demand and the minimum purchase commitments in gas purchase contracts. It was announced at the meeting that the stockholders of Geo Industries Inc., had approved the exchange of the assets of Geo for Pioneer Corporation stock. Finalization of this transaction is expected within the next ten days and the activities of Geo will be carried on by a wholly-owned subsidiary of Pioneer Corporation, Pioneer Uranium Inc., with headquarters in Grand Junction, Colorado.

The present plans call for continued uranium production in the Uranium mineral district of Colorado, in addition to the exploration being conducted in Colorado and Utah by Pioneer Nuclear.

The quarterly report for third quarter operations of Pioneer Corporation will be mailed to the stockholders about November 17.

Bayne Says Effect Here Minimal

'New York City Ought To Default'

Dudley Bayne Hereford City Manager, told the Hereford Rotary Club Monday that New York City ought to default based on the fact that the city has been run with too much spending. "I don't think the federal government should bail them out," he emphasized during the weekly luncheon of the club. "I also get mad when I hear a congressman say that the city should not be bailed out when the federal government is worse off. When they want more money, they just print more." As for the effect on Texas cities, Bayne said, "We're going to feel some effect, but not as much as if we bail them out." Hereford's city bonds and credit rating won't be hampered, not like some economists are saying, he added.

The city manager reviewed some of progress of Hereford since his tenure in office such as the building of the golf course and a nine-hole addition to it, the construction of the municipal airport at a low cost, and a continued low tax rate over the years. During the past year, Bayne noted that the city like others is slowly losing local control increased state and federal legislation such as forced workmen's compensation, which costs the city $12,000 annually for its employees' insurance. Another future complication might be the voting requirements which dictate, a U.S. Attorney General's opinion on whether new annexations to the city will call for different voting precincts to maintain equal ethnic proportions. "Now we have to run our city to please the whole United States," she said.

The city financing situation is "in good shape," although more personnel are required to run operations and purchases cost more. Based on the Consumer Price Index, he said the city has maintained an even balance between revenue and expenses. He praised the volunteer fire department as the best around. "They can be seen working all the time either out on fires or maintaining the fire trucks and equipment. They even built a fire truck. This helps keep taxes down," he said. Concerning the recently defeated state constitutional revision, he said he was basically for it but didn't think that annual sessions of the legislature would have been that beneficial. "I think they meet too much already. As a friend of mine said, maybe we would be better off if we just paid them to stay home," Bayne remarked. When asked about the city's water supply, he said the city was in no better position than that of the area farmers. The city recently decided to build three new water wells and plans to rework three others in efforts to maintain the city's needs. Johnnie Price, president, said the Physical Fitness Institute sponsored last week was a success. Another one is planned to further promote the Apollo exerciser. Ben Childers and Jack Nunley are presently distributing the book, "The World of Rotary," to the county library and other local institutions. It is illustrated with pictures showing the club's service activities all around the world.

The World Of Rotary

Ben Childers of the Hereford Rotary Club presents a set of books titled, "The World of Rotary," to the County Librarian Gwen London. Through pictures of the organization's activities around the world and written explanations, the books describe the extensive outreach of service provided by Rotary International. Copies of the book are being distributed to area schools and other local institutions.

Amarillo, Reno Meet

An important four game series between Amarillo and Reno highlights this week in the Southwest Hockey League, Inc. Amarillo started its first road trip by meeting Reno Friday and Saturday nights. The Wranglers then travel to Butte for a Sunday-Monday pair of games, then return to Reno for a Tuesday-Wednesday series. That gives Amarillo a hectic six games in six nights, after a rather leisurely eight games at home.

AUSTIN—The Texas Historical Commission (THC) has reallocated $51,000 of federal funds to six historical restoration projects in Texas, announced Mrs. Wesley B. Blankenship, commission chairman. The funds, earmarked for matching grants for the restoration of historic properties listed on the National Register of Historic Places, were originally distributed through the THC to three projects in 1974 which had not been implemented.

William Historic District ($11,250); and to James M. Alexander to help fund the development of a masterplan for the restoration of Fort Phantom Hill in Jones County ($13,500.) The Commission also awarded $7,500 to the City of Post in Garza County for the stabilization of the Algerita Hotel; $1,200 to the Diocese of El Paso for the development of plans to restore the Socorro Mission in El Paso County; and $3,750 for the completion of an archeological report on the work at Mission Concepcion in Bexar County which was conducted under a previous grant awarded in 1972.

The four games between Amarillo and Reno have to be considered key clashes. Reno went into the weekend with a 7-1 record, good for a tie with Albuquerque for first place (but the Chaps have played five more games); Amarillo was just a step behind at 6-2.

The reallocated funds now will go to the Jefferson Junior Historical Society in Marion County for the continued restoration of 61 Dallas Street ($12,800); the San Antonio Conservation Society in Bexar County for structural restoration of the Steves Homestead Carriage House in the King

To be eligible for federal preservation grants, sites must be listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Recipients must match federal contributions with nonfederal funds or donations of goods or services of equivalent value. The funds, which are made available under the National Preservation Act of 1966, are channeled to the states through the National Park Service, a division of the Department of the Interior. The Texas Historical Commission administers these funds for the State of Texas.

The projects which returned the 1974 grants for reallocation had met with complications delaying their implementation. Project instigators returned funds so that other projects now in process and desperately in need of funding could receive this federal aid. Funds revert back to the National Park Service if not used within a specified time period.

The only sin which we never forgive in each other is difference of opinion.

The airman is a 1968 graduate of Hereford High School.

Joe Mayo Fires Expert

Heilbronn, Germany—Army Specialist Four Joe C. Mayo, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mayo, 205 W. Sixth St., Hereford, Texas, recently fired expert with the M-16 rifle in Heilbronn, Germany.

The expert rating is the highest mark a soldier can achieve on his rifle qualification test.

Spec. Mayo, a training clerk in Company A of the 7th Engineer Brigade's 237th Engineer Battalion, entered the Army in April 1974, completed basic training at Ft. Polk, La., and was stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., prior to his arrival overseas in September 1974.

He is a 1971 graduate of Hereford High School and was employed by Scene West in Amarillo before entering the Army.

Turkey hints bases depend on arms aid.

It is very self-defeating to bemoan, and downgrade, and otherwise tear down one's self, but it is quite evident that many persons do this. In some lives, it is a general feeling; in other lives, the attitude fluctuates; with the self-view changing from good to poor, and poor to good. Perhaps this is not a serious personal problem; but it can be, and will be, if such persons continue to depend upon external conditions and situations for the conclusion that they do count.

"You do count", but this does not mean that you are always the center of attention; that you are continually receiving invitations to be with groups of people, or to attend special occasions; or that someone is constantly desiring and seeking your company. It is true, that such activities and happenings can give you the feeling that "you do count". It is also true that these may be nothing but temporary crutches for your sense of wellbeing. How do you feel when they stop?

"Be noble-minded! Our own heart, and not other men's opinions of us form our true honor." - Schiller.

It is not necessary that you be the first, or the most proficient in anything; in order to understand and know that "you do count". You can be a first class human being, and know that you are. You can be doing what you have opportunity to do, and doing it the best you can. You can have a wholesome and appreciative attitude toward the people whose action may excel your action, and also toward those whose action may be something less productive.

You can fill your place of work and service with sincerity and good cheer, and be thankful that you have found such a place. You can do all of these, and all else that has its place in a substantial, acceptable life structure. "You do count."

Some event occurring in the world may seem overwhelming, and may give you some fleeting feelings of insignificance. There may be times when your personal life setbacks hurt and discourage you. You may even be left out, when you have reason to think that you should be included. Your very best intentions may be misunderstood sometimes. You may even be mistreated by the thoughtless and boorish persons, and you may be double-crossed by someone you trusted. All such happenings can hurt, but none must be permitted to cause you to forget that "you do count".

You may not be all you think you wish to be, and you may not be able to do all you think you wish to do; you may not even be all others think you should be; but "you do count", as long as you do the honest best you can with your living.

You do count, you are somebody.

Diesel Class Slated At AC

In the interest of public demand, Amarillo College will offer for the first time an evening class in diesel mechanics, to begin Nov. 18 at the West campus School of Vocational Arts.

"There is a shortage of trained diesel mechanics in our area," said Nat Neal, SVA dean. "We are beginning an evening diesel class in an effort to provide training for students unable to attend daytime classes."

The class will meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 6 to 11 p.m. Classes will be limited to 20 people.

Students will study the same general curriculum as that of daytime students. Courses will cover diesel engines, electrical systems, electrical and control circuits, major diesel engine overhaul and injection repair practice.

Electives in the program consist of industrial power, fluid power and hydraulics, diesel pump and injectors, applications of basic electricity and air conditioning.

Upon satisfactory completion of the program graduates will receive an associate in applied science degree and certificate of completion in diesel mechanics. Tuition is $42.50 per three-month quarter plus tools and books.

Registration will be conducted Nov. 17 at the West campus, 6222 W. 9th, in the registrar's office. More information is available from Dean Neal.

Postal Service Releases Stamps With Price Hike

The United States Postal Service has disclosed the designs and provided further philatelic details about three regular stamps and two items of postal stationery being issued in connection with new postage rates which go into effect on December 28.

The subjects and issue dates of the five items were previously announced along with others being issued in connection with the rate increases.

The three stamps, all in the new Americana Series, are the 11-cent Freedom of the Press stamp, the 13-cent American Eagle and Shield stamp, and the 24-cent Old North Church stamp.

The postal stationery items are the 13-cent Liberty Tree stamped envelope and the 9-cent John Witherspoon Patriot Postal Card.

Stamps in the series will have a common design and will feature subjects related to the history and culture of the United States. The principal element of design commonality is the arrangement of the lettering along the side and around the bottom or top of the stamp.

For the convenience of those wishing to order first day cancellations, following is a summary of information pertaining to the new issues. Orders should be accompanied by the proper remittance by check or money order, instead of cash, and must include self-addressed envelopes. They should be addressed to the name of the stamp, c/o Postmaster, city, state, and ZIP code, and should be postmarked by the date indicated:

Oct. 31-13-Cent Liberty Bell, in three booklet formats, Cleveland, OH 44101. Booklet panes contain 6, 7, or 8 stamps, and remittance for these must be 78 cents, 91 cents, or $1.04 each, with the size of pane desired clearly marked in the upper right corner of the envelope submitted. Only full panes will be serviced. Orders will be accepted through November 25.

Nov. 4-3-cent Francis Parkman coil, Pendleton, OR 97801. Twelve cents should be included for each envelope submitted to cover the necessary first-class postage for first day cover cancellation.

Nov. 8-13-cent Liberty Tree stamped envelope, in sizes 6 3/4 and 10, Memphis, TN 38101. Send self-addressed envelopes of an appropriate size for return of the 6 3/4 envelope under cover. A stamped envelope will expedite return. The stamped envelopes cost 15 cents each and size 10 will be sent only if specifically ordered.

Nov. 10-9-cent John Witherspoon postal card, Princeton, NJ 08540. Send self-addressed envelope of an appropriate size for return of the card under cover. A stamped envelope will expedite return. Both single card and message and reply cards will be serviced.

Nov. 13-11-cent Freedom of the Press, in sheet form, Philadelphia, PA 19104.

Nov. 14-24-cent Old North Church, in sheet form, Boston, MA 02109.

Nov. 15-13-cent American Flag, in sheet form, Philadelphia, PA 19104.

Nov. 15-13-cent American Flag, in coil form, serviced in singles or pairs, Philadelphia, PA 19104.

Nov. 24-9-cent Freedom to Assemble, in sheet form, Washington, D.C. 20013. Eighteen cents should be included to cover the necessary first-class postage for first day covers or collectors should affix a one-cent stamp to their covers and remit nine cents.

Nov. 25-13-cent Liberty Bell in coil form, service in singles or pairs, Allentown, PA 19101. Eagle and Shield, Juneau, AK 99801. Dec. 1-13-cent American

Profits May Result From Oil, Gas Lease Drawing

The majority of oil & gas deposits that are still untapped are on U.S. Government owned land. Therefore, each month the Government holds monthly drawings on parcels in many states. Anyone can submit a ten dollar entry fee and participate in these monthly lease drawings and perhaps, become a millionaire literally overnight. Others already have.

"While most people have never heard of this great opportunity to reap a fortune", asserts Jonathan Stevens, Ass't to the Director of Research Sciences, Inc., a firm headquartered in Washington, D.C. with affiliated offices in New York and Santa Fe, New Mexico, "many Americans with little money, and little or no knowledge of the oil and gas industries have won valuable leases on rich mineral lands for which large energy companies have paid considerable advance cash plus royalties".

These legal lotteries are conducted monthly by Uncle Sam, and any U.S. citizen 21 years of age or older can enter as many times as he or she wants. Some citizens file 20, 30—as many as 50 cards a month.

"What's beautiful is the fact that an ordinary citizen has as great a chance to win the lease as any major oil company. Everyone must file entries for drawings with the U.S. Interior Department's bureau of land management. And no one can file more than one entry for each land parcel offered. Indicative of our faith in specific lands recommended by our consultants", adds Stevens, "is that we offer to purchase any such lease won by our subscribers at a specific price, and even advance the first year's rental whether sold to us or to an oil company".

The drawings have been conducted by the U.S. Government since 1960 and many average citizens have won the rights to valuable leases that were then sold to major oil companies for substantial pay-offs.

While some people have become millionaires, many have received up to $20,000 and even $200,000 and more...it all depends on the particular properties won. Generally, they're worth much more $5,000.

Stevens emphasizes that this is basically a lottery...winners based on drawings supervised by the Government...rather than a sure-fire scheme to become an instant millionaire. However, the odds are very favorable for the small investor, and the potential winnings can be substantial. To further explain this system, Mr. Stevens' firm has published an information packed booklet which it intends to sell for $2.00, but they'll send a copy FREE to readers of your publication. Simply send a postcard or letter requesting it to RESEARCH SCIENCES, INC., Dept. E, 422 Washington Building, Washington, D.C. 20005 or they may telephone (202) Sterling 3-3484.

INSUR-MATION

My wife and I have been married for less than a year. How much life insurance do we need?

There is no set answer... depending on your needs, responsibilities and lifestyle. If you are childless, both working with well-paying jobs, your need for protection is less than a family with children, a non-working wife and probably a smaller savings account. Think of life insurance in terms of income. Income... to meet medical expenses in case of disability, to help cover the cost of your children's education, income to help support a family. With all these variables, you should discuss your personal circumstances with your agent. He will help advise you as to your needs and what is practical.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas Department of Health Resources

Accent on Health

Fratris L. Duff, M.D., Director

It's been a long time since Louise Dietrich saddled her horse, tied on her nursing bag and rode through and around El Paso to care for the people of that area.

This was in the days after World War I when Miss Dietrich was the first general secretary of the Texas Nurses' Association.

It was a little earlier—in 1918—that Mrs. Sarah Parson became the first nurse in the State Department of Health's Bureau of Child Hygiene.

Times have changed in the past half-century but public health nurses today are still endowed with the love of their jobs and humanity, and with the spirit of self-reliance which marked their predecessors.

Nurses still have that wide range of knowledge which is a trademark in their profession, but their talents have been channeled into different specialties. Generally, the Department of Health Resources nursing program extends into communicable diseases (including tuberculosis), control of environmental hazards, chronic diseases, dental health, crippled children's services, maternal and child health, and family planning.

The recently-concluded Texas Nurses' Week called attention to the jobs being performed by nurses everywhere.

Miss Maxine Geeslin, director of the Department of Health Resources' Division of Public Health Nursing, points to the role played by nurses in all public health programs. In order to even start a local health department, you must have a physician, a nurse and a sanitarian, she said.

"Wherever you have people problems in public health, you'll find nurses working with individuals and families," said Miss Geeslin.

From the start, she said, department nurses have been involved in maternal and child health and communicable diseases. They still are, said Miss Geeslin, but even this service has been expanded to include family planning, venereal disease and cancer screening. And, nurses still make the home visits which have always characterized their profession, she said.

There is still strong emphasis on immunizations and other communicable diseases, but there has been a subtle change in priorities to include the chronic diseases. Emphasis has always been given to diabetes, but a new impetus has been given to screening for other diseases—including high blood pressure, or hypertension, which can be a deadly affliction and the cause of other serious problems.

In all her activities, the nurse is an educator. In clinic situations, nurses counsel with their clients on personal and home sanitation and nutrition, for example. "Nurses are stressing nutrition more and more," said Miss Geeslin, "for nutrition is based to good health."

"And while we are trying to educate others, we find that more and more nurses are receiving training—going to school to receive the knowledge which will prepare them to extend their own role in health maintenance, prevention, early case finding and rehabilitation capabilities," said Miss Geeslin. The Department of Health Resources through its Division of Public Health Education is enlarging its training potential to help meet this need.

Specialization, of course, hasn't affected the public health nurses' interest in a person's total health.

This added attention to duty, and to the good health of those with whom they deal, make the public health nurse one of the vital parts of the Department of Health Resources, said Miss Geeslin. "We're all very proud of the role our nurses play in protecting and preserving the health of the people in this state," she said.

The tax is 10 per cent on all gross receipts.

This quarter's total local share was up slightly from the second quarter's $2.5

Cocaine Is Booming Business Again

Cocaine, traditionally the opiate of the upper classes, is a booming business again, according to the U.S. Customs Service which seized 141 pounds of the drug valued at $34 million during August 1975, alone. The average monthly cocaine seizure during all of Fiscal Year 1975 was 60 pounds.

Historically sniffed from a silver spoon worn around the user's neck, the "aristocrat" of addictive narcotics has been identified in the past with prominent figures in literature and public life. It was favored as a stimulant by depression-ridden Dr. Sigmund Freud, an analgesic by cancer-wracked former President Ulysses S. Grant, and a fashionable relaxant by fictional detective Sherlock Holmes.

To capitalize on its sudden return to popularity, cocaine traffickers are attempting to smuggle the drug into this country in everything from wine bottles to toothpaste tubes and film tins. Although most cocaine originates in South America, it is being routed to the U.S. via points as remote as the South Sea Islands and as close as Canada.

Known variously as "Snow," "Bit C," and "Gold Dust" on the street, where it sells currently for $240,000 per pound, cocaine comes from the leaf of the coca plant, grown chiefly in the Andes Mountains of South America. When first processed in power form in 1844, it was heralded by the medical profession as a likely substitute for addiction-forming morphine as a pain-reliever. Later research during which many doctors inadvertently became addicted to the drug, proved cocaine to be psychologically, not physically habit-forming.

Cocaine's effects—a feeling of elation with excitement and stimulation—are short lived. Repeated dosages are necessary to combat the serious depression of withdrawal. Higher dosages may result in twitching and tremors; susceptible users may be subject to hallucinations and paranoid delusions which can render them dangerous to themselves and others. Overdoses, particularly by intravenous injection, can cause coma and death.

Customs continuing battle to combat rising cocaine traffic at U.S. frontiers is progressing, despite the ingenuity of would-be smugglers.

Q. I know that my social security retirement benefits may be reduced if my income for the year is over $2,520. But do I have to count all income I have in figuring the total amount for the year?

A. You must count earnings from work of any kind—whether or not the work is covered by social security—except tips amounting to less than $20 in a month from one employer. Total wages, not just take-home pay, and all net selfemployment earnings must be added together. However, you do not have to count income from insurance, or royalties. This income does not affect your social security checks.

Gaston's SUGARLAND

RECIPE

By Sarah Anne Sheridan

A big bowl of piping hot soup, followed by a crisp salad, corn bread, and a favorite dessert, always has popular appeal to the family. Have the soup just as hearty and hot as you can make it.

Vegetable Soup

- 1 medium sized soup bone
- 2 onions sliced thin
- 3 carrots sliced thin
- 1 c celery diced
- 2 turnips diced
- 1/2 c shredded cabbage
- 1 c butter beans
- 2 c okra sliced
- 2 cans tomatoes
- Salt and pepper
- Sugar to taste

Add soup bone to 2 quarts of water, add onions, carrots, celery, turnips, cabbage and butter beans. Cook about 2 hours. Add okra and tomatoes. Cook 30 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Season with salt, pepper and sugar. Add more water if needed.

Onion Soup

- 4 large onions sliced
 - 2 T butter
 - 4 c strained brown meat stock or 2 cans condensed consommé
 - Slices of French bread
 - 1/2 c grated Pamesan cheese
- Cook onions in butter until lightly browned. Add stock. Cook 20 minutes. Pour into a heated casserole to serve. Sprinkle slices of French bread with cheese. Brown in oven. Serve with soup.

Monterey Rated TD Favorite

Hereford will be a one-touchdown underdog when they clash with the Monterey Plainsmen tonight, according to the Harris Football Rating System.

Monterey is listed as the 93rd team in Class AAAA, while Hereford is ranked at 130, but only 5 "power points" separate the teams. Monterey is still ranked as the strongest team in the district and Lubbock High is second.

Longview is No. 1 in Class 4A, Odessa Permian in the No. 8 spot, Abilene Cooper 9, and San Angelo 12. Pampa is ranked No. 59 and Palo Duro is 77th.

Cuero tops the AAA rankings with Lubbock Estacado rated No. 12, Perryton is ranked 27th and Canyon fell to 73rd position. In Class AA, Cameron Yoe is No. 1 and Olton has moved up to No. 9. Floydada is ranked 18th.

DeLeon leads the Class A rankings and Seagraves is second. Clarendon is 15th, Sanford-Fritch 19th, Stratford 27th and Canadian 43rd.

Herd Cagers In 4-Way Scrimmage

The Whiteface basketball team travels to Snyder Saturday for a scrimmage session, then opens its 1975-76 season Tuesday at Borger, Coach Barry Arnwine reported this week.

After playing Borger Tuesday in the season opener, the Whitefaces go to Canyon the following Saturday night, then have their first home game on Nov. 25 against the Dumas Demons.

Arnwine is a little concerned about the early games this season, primarily because the squad will be relying on more football players than usual. The Herd has five lettermen returning, but two of last year's regulars are still in football uniforms.

Three of the returning lettermen led the way last Friday night as the Whites beat the Maroons, 59-45, in an inter-squad game. Mike Hull tallied 18 points, Paul Trolinder 17, and James Mays added 12. Sparking the scoring for the Whites were David Schumacher with 14, Mike Oglesby 12, and Mike O'Rand 10.

The other two lettermen still in football are Archie Crim and Dave Charest. Several other griders are expected to make the switch and contribute much to the basketball team, including Kelly Kitchens, Jim Lawson, Rowan Alexander, and Davis Ford.

Close Score Decides Contest

It was another close race for last week's Brand Football Contest as all the top contenders guessed 22 correct winners out of 26 game possibilities. So it was up to the tie-breaker score to find the winner.

Tony Yosten squeezed his way into the victor's circle last week after he guessed the number 50 for the tie-breaker. Since the Hereford Whitefaces had an off week, the tie breaker game was the San Francisco 49ers 24-23 win over the Los Angeles Rams. The Tie-breaker is the combined score of 47. Yosten's prize was $15.

The second place slot was shared last week by B.F. Cain and Kenneth Wieck as each guessed equally on the tie-breaker with a score of 43 for Wieck and a score of 51 for Cain. They split the second and third place prize money of $10 and $5.

Entrants in this week's contest are reminded to hand in their ballots by 5 p.m. today at the Brand office. The ballots are found in a double page ad in the Sunday issue.

The contest this week involves the last Hereford football game as the Whitefaces take on the Monterey team in Lubbock. However, the contest continues for three more weeks with the season winners competing for $100 in first place, $35 in second place, and $15 in third place.

Bufs Meet Cowboys Saturday

Two teams that have pulled themselves up by the bootstraps into respectable seasons will try to go over the .500 mark Saturday night when McNeese State's Cowboys host West Texas State University's Buffaloes in Lake Charles, La.

The Bufs, 1-4 just less than a month ago, won their third straight game last weekend when they trounced Missouri Valley Conference rival New Mexico State 38-10 in Kimbrough Stadium. Later that night, McNeese won its fourth game in its last five starts with a 31-14 decision over Northwestern Louisiana in Lake Charles.

Following Saturday night's contest in Louisiana, the Bufs will close their 1975 home schedule in Kimbrough Stadium on Nov. 22 when the host Louisville. That game will have a 1:30 p.m., starting time.

View From The Plains

BY J.D. PEER
TEXAS PARKS AND WILDLIFE DEPT.

DEER & TURKEY FORECAST

Dry weather is predicted to be the only factor that might slow down the November deer and turkey opening in the Panhandle and on the South Plains of Texas.

An excellent crop of young deer and turkey along with ample food and cover should furnish Texas hunters with ample opportunity as the season opens Nov. 22 and continues through Dec. 7 in the Panhandle regulatory district and Nov. 15 through Jan. 1976 in the South Plains district.

"We recorded the best deer harvest on record in 1974," said Weldon Fromm, Amarillo district supervisor, "but 1975 looks better with excellent deer antler growth and an abundance of wild turkey."

Fromm stated that the bag limit of one mule deer buck and one white-tailed deer buck and one wild gobbler or bearded hen is possible this fall in the Panhandle.

Rains coming at the right time on the South Plains of Texas have brightened the hunting picture for deer and turkey hunters according to Bill Pratt, Lubbock district supervisor.

"The mule deer in the caprock country of the Lubbock district are in excellent shape and all areas recording turkey in past years seem to be holding good flocks now," Pratt said.

"A limit of two bucks and one turkey of either sex has been set for the Permian basin—South Plains district Pratt commented.

Both district supervisors are suggesting that hunters use caution this fall while hunting due to the very dry conditions on most of the ranches. Several prairie fires have already been reported and the use of vehicles in the field could be dangerous due to hot tailpipes, mufflers or even the careless use of cigarettes or matches.

Deer hunters in the field for the first time are reminded that legal firearms for deer include all calibers of rifles except a .22 caliber jet gun or rocket or any firearm using rimfire ammunition.

Legal shooting hours for deer and turkey are one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset daily with roosting areas for wild turkey protected by law.

There are certain restricted areas closed to hunting such as state parks, any public road or road right-of-way or on any lands of the lower Colorado river authority.

Most hunters have already acquired the necessary permission from the landowner to hunt this fall. Many communities and landowners are posting a list of available hunting leases either by day, week or season. Sportsmen can contact local game warden, county extension agents or the local chamber of commerce in those counties having this service.

More information about local regulations is included in the new 1975 Texas hunting guide available at license vendors or the P&WD offices in Amarillo, Lubbock or Abilene.

Plays Bi-District Game Tuesday

Hereford Wins District Title

Team Strategy

Planning team strategy during a time out Monday night when Hereford defeated Plainview to win the district volleyball championship two years in a row, are members of the varsity team and their coach, Helen Reed. Coach Reed is wearing a mum corsage flanked by red roses presented to her by the team.

Hereford High School volleyball team defeated Plainview Monday night, 15-12 and 15-6, winning its second straight District 4-AAAA volleyball title.

Hereford, now 7-10 for the season, will host Amarillo High School in the bi-district game Tuesday night in LaPlata gym, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Admission to the games will be $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Fans are urged to attend and back the Hereford team.

Amarillo also won its second straight district volleyball title. Their record is 22-2. They defeated Hereford last year for bi-district and the local team is looking for a big win Tuesday night. The state volleyball tournament will be held Dec. 5-6 in Austin.

Control of the volleyball is on the mind of Coach Helen Reed. "The thing we can't let Amarillo High do is control the volleyball. For us to win, the girls must concentrate on giving 100 per cent for a full match, and not ease up at any time. We have the talent and I'm very proud of their accomplishments this year. We will have to play aggressive, offensive volleyball and keep out mistakes to a minimum," said Coach Reed.

Hereford lost to Amarillo High earlier this year, but Coach Reed said they played an excellent match. "We lost to Amarillo but it was a very close match and I was proud of the way the girls played," Coach Reed said.

Hereford's junior varsity team defeated Plainview 17-15 and 15-10.

Members of the varsity squad are Cheryl Arney, Anna Griego, Lori Taylor, Shirley Wheeler, Terri Minier, Cheri Anstey and Carolyn High. Managers are Charlene Smith and Sofice Pena.

Whistling Wings

By Jim Stoerl

THERE'S NO lack of sport for the dedicated wingshooter to participate in these days, in fact, a serious shotgunner may have a problem deciding just what game he's going to pursue.

Seasons on geese, ducks and sandhill cranes are already open, and as of Saturday, quail season will be open too.

The liberal quail season will continue through Feb. 15 in most areas, so upland hunters and will have ample opportunity to bag bobs and blues.

And just one month from today (Thursday), pheasant season will be opening and the Magic Triangle area will witness another massive influx of gunners from all over Texas and surrounding states.

OPENING DAY of pheasant season is almost unreal at times, especially in this fine pheasant country. Every likely-looking field takes on the appearance of a small city as waves of hunters go sweeping through.

It can get downright frightening and discouraging on opening day, but at least the worst is over after the first weekend and competition thins out in a hurry.

We've been lucky enough to have some fine pheasant cover virtually to ourselves during the latter part of the season the past couple of years, and have also enjoyed some of the finest hunting available anywhere under these uncrowded and unhurried conditions. True, the birds are a lot more jumpy after that first weekend, but they are still there for the man who will work hard enough to find them, and those scattered patches of cover that are often overlooked by gunners in a hurry on opening day have a way of paying off for the hunter who takes his time later in the season.

From all indications, this should be another great year for pheasant hunting. There are big concentrations of birds throughout the area as a drive through the country in the late afternoon will quickly reveal.

-WW-

GEESE ARE beginning to make their appearance in the area in greater number now. I received a report of honkers concentrating on a lake to the northeast of the city and also saw a couple of flocks south of here over the weekend.

We're still waiting for the right waterfowl weather to get goose hunting off to a good start. Some cooperation from the weatherman could spell great goose hunting as the honkers begin to move into the area to fatten up on corn left in the fields.

There are few thrills to compare with pulling a skein of wary honkers to your decoy spread in a field of corn stubble. It's hard—but necessary, to remain motionless as the geese bank toward the spread, uttering barks that send chills running through you.

The toughest time to remain still is when the honkers get over your decoys with their long black necks stretched forward, wings cupped, black feet extended and white cheek patches clearly visible, just seconds before time to shoot.

NOTHING IS quite as colorful or exciting, and if your heart isn't pounding too hard for you to sit up and follow through with the shotgun, you just might be lucky enough to fold a couple of fat honkers.

That will really set your heart pounding!

Tech-Baylor Clash Set At 12:50 P. M.

The Texas Tech Red Raiders will meet the Baylor Bears in Tech's Jones Stadium Saturday.

Kickoff time has been set for 12:50 p.m. The time was changed from 2 p.m. because the game will be regionally televised.

Last week Texas Tech hurdled TCU 34-0 before 18,200 fans in Fort Worth. Baylor has beaten 37-21 by the Texas Longhorns in a game played before 75,500 fans in Austin.

Texas Tech and Baylor have met 33 times in a football series that began in 1929 when the Bears captured a 34-0 victory in Waco. Baylor leads the overall series with 20 victories to the Red Raiders' 12. There has been one tie. Tech, however, owns a 8-7 edge in the win column since joining the Southwest Conference. Baylor defeated Texas Tech 17-10 last year in a game played in Waco.

A crowd of more than 40,000 is expected Saturday.

Wrestlers Continue Old Feud Saturday

An old feud continues this coming Saturday at the Bull Barn. As Lions Club wrestling brings Ricky Romero in a return against Hank James.

James, 6'7" and 250 pounds, styles himself "King of the Black Wrestlers". From Benton Harbor, Mich., he seems to have a strong dislike for all ethnic groups, and for Romero in particular.

Romero, who left Old Mexico as a very young boy, is a six foot, 229 pound speedster who has held the Rocky Mountain heavyweight wrestling championship for several years, and been holder or co-holder of many regional titles. Saturday night's tilt may see a blow-off of a long vendetta.

Frank Goodish, 6'5" 309 pound muscle man who comes from the ranks of Canadian pro football, meets young Scott Casey of Dallas in the semifinal. Casey spots his gigantic foe five inches and 70 pounds. Goodish has as yet to lose a match by a pin, though he has been frequently disqualified.

In last Saturday's matches, Goodish wrestled former world champion Dory Funk Jr. He used the ropes in attempting to pin the champion, and Funk was disqualified when Scott Casey entered the ring to protest. However, referee John Heidman reversed the decision after testimony from the timekeeper and the people that Goodish had attempted to win illegally. Funk therefore ended up in the win column.

The opening match Saturday sees the highly-conditioned and agile Poffo Brothers against the Silver Streak and Randy Brewer. All that is known of the Silver Streak is that he is an extremely fast and daring youngster from Mexico hiding his identity under a mask. He is a junior heavyweight. Brewer, a newcomer, is from Illinois. The Poffos are known as competent wrestlers, but not for their ethics.

Action at the Bull Barn begins at 8 p.m., a popular new time for the season.

Frank Zarb, Energy Administration head:

"Another Mideast oil embargo will make the last one look like a picnic."

Hugh Scott, Senate Minority Leader:

"Congress can earn this reduction for the taxpayers by accepting the fact that spending has got to be curtailed."

Redfish Stocked At White River

High Plains anglers have another fish to put on their list as the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department stocked 14,000 3-inch fingerling redfish in White River reservoir of Crosby county Oct. 10.

The experimental stockings of these normally saltwater fish across Texas is just one of the P&WD fisheries projects and if the White River "reds" grow as fast as other redfish have in southern Texas, anglers fishing in 1978 could be fighting tackle busting 30 or 40 pounders.

"We picked White River because it has an abundant supply of forage fish such as silverside minnows and shad," said Roy Bamberg, Abilene fishery biologist.

The transported redfish were delivered to White River near midnight and with the assistance of Post warden Bud Howell, the redfish were conditioned from salt or saline water to freshwater with the operations being completed by 5:00 a.m.

Bamberg said these redfish are the same species as the popular "bull" reds caught along the Texas coast. The redfish has shown a tolerance to freshwater and if the successful spawning and rearing conditions continue at the P&WD Palacios marine fisheries station, more redfish could be stocked across Texas.

Coastal fishermen have been successful catching redfish using gold or silver spoons, medium-running plugs and shrimp. Freshwater fishermen would be wise to try the same baits in White River.

Redfish inhabit both shallow and deep water and according to Bamberg, the redfish should not significantly compete with teh resident largemouth bass.

A coastal legal length restriction of 14 inches will not apply to the freshwater stocking of redfish as there is no need to protect the brood stock. Anglers will be allowed to keep the redfish they catch but the P&WD does not expect any eating-size reds from White River before next summer.

Wheat Symposium Is Scheduled

Wheat producers, staggered by one of the most complex production and marketing years in history will converge on Amarillo for two days of situation fact finding and "crystal balling" relative to their plight in the future on November 20 and 21, according to Leo Witkowski, Hereford, President of the sponsoring Texas Wheat Producers Association. The Thursday, November 20th "Wheat Symposium" is held in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Districts I, II, & III—Amarillo, Lubbock and Vernon. A platoon of specialists will delve into "Alternatives For Meeting The Production Cost Crisis" from the standpoint of "on-the-farm" decisions that might be made relative to varieties and hybrids, weed control, disease prevention, insect programs, fertility management, agronomic practices and marketing alternatives, Witkowski said. The Friday, November 21, Texas Wheat Producers Association's 25th annual meeting will appraise "off-the-farm" activities and influences that affect farm prices and income, the association president pointed out. Dr. Roland Knutson, Extension Economist from the Texas A&M University campus in College Station will keynote this session with a look at "Public Policy and Marketing Strategy for the Future" at 10:00 a.m.

Joe Halow, Executive Vice President of Great Plains Wheat Inc., an internationally recognized wheat market development leader who supervises U.S. wheat producer-supported programs in Latin America, Europe and the Middle East from his Washington D.C. headquarters will follow with a discussion of "The Changing World of Wheat".

The wheat farmer's own elected leader as Vice President of the National Association of Wheat Growers, Don Crane, a wheat producer from Wright, Kansas will present "The Challenge Ahead For Wheat Producers." Crane has gained the reputation as one of the countries most outspoken and articulate critics of shenanigans of government, trade, labor and consumer advocate officials in interfering in farm production, marketing and policy matters influencing producer income—such as, bans on loading export grain, embargos on sales and unfounded statements such as the "Dollar Bread" scare. Crane was elected to his current national leadership post during the NAWG convention in Amarillo last January.

Wheat producers are faced with expiring legislation at the end of the current crop year and the prospects of new farm programs being drafted during the next legislature. A glance of what they might expect will likely be touched on as local Congressman Jack Hightower, a member of the House Agriculture Committee and Sub-Committee on Grains speaks on "The Changing Legislative Priorities Affecting Wheat Producers." Congressman Hightower's address will be at 11:30, and will be open to the public, as will all sessions of the two day meeting.

Friday afternoon will be spent by the producers themselves adopting policies and giving officer and staff direction on a wide array of subjects from grain reserves to export agreements and from grain inspection to drought and related disaster payments before electing officers for the coming year.

A "Ladies Hospitality Suite" will be open for wives of wheat producers attending the sessions each day along with scheduled time for shopping. On Friday the 20th, a demonstration on "Festive Foods for the Holidays" will be conducted for ladies registered for the sessions at 1:30 at the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service Company. Mrs. Diane Bim, Home Service Advisor of the electric company will conduct the demonstration, according to Miss Mary Ellen Dambold, Nutritionist, Texas Wheat Producers Board.

Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m. each day at the Hilton Inn prior to a 10:00 o'clock starting time. Interested wheat producers, farm leaders, agricultural students and others are invited to attend and participate in all the sessions which carry no registration fees. Lunch will be available in the Garden Terrace of the Hotel, according to Witkowski.

TFB Drafts Proposals

The resolutions committee of the Texas Farm Bureau has finished drafting a set of proposals which will be submitted to voting delegates at the organization's annual meeting Nov. 30-Dec. 3 in San Antonio.

Meeting in Waco Nov. 10-12, the 41-member committee had the responsibility of studying more than 1,000 county recommendations on scores of subjects and then writing a set of proposed resolutions incorporating the consensus of opinion expressed.

The majority of county recommendations dealt with union and governmental interference with farms exports, animal health regulations, environmental restrictions, energy policies, taxation, forced busing and inflation.

Bill Reid of Lamesa, TFB vice president, is chairman of the resolutions committee. M.L. (Bob) Price of Plantersville, TFB state director, District 11, is vice chairman; and Doyle Condra of Talpa, TFB state director, District 7, is committee secretary.

Residents Will Receive American Farmer Degree

David Hutchins and Bill Vetterly of Hereford have been nominated to receive the American Farmer degree, highest degree presented by the National FFA Organization.

Hutchins was nominated for the degree by the Texas FFA Association while Vetterly was nominated by the New Mexico FFA Association.

The nominations were approved at a recent meeting of the National FFA Board of Directors in Alexandria, Va. Numbered among the 701 FFA members nominated for the American Farmer degree, Hutchins and Vetterly will receive their degrees in a special ceremony tonight (Thursday) in Kansas City, pending a final vote of approval of 119 student delegates who represent FFA members in convention business sessions.

Hutchins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Hutchins of Hereford and is currently farming and attending Texas Tech, where he is a sophomore in the college of agriculture economics.

He earned the American Farmer degree on the basis of a supervised farming program, livestock activities and leadership activities.

At Tech, he has been a member of the junior meats judging team, Ag Economics Association and Block and Bridle Club, and has also been included on the Dean's Honor Roll.

His high school vocational agriculture instructor and FFA advisor was Marcus Phillips.

Vetterly is the son of Mrs. Vassie Mae Salesbury of Clovis, and is married to the former Karen Lee Ann Riordan of Clovis. He currently is the Assistant Manager of Triangle Pork Producers in Hereford.

He earned the American Farmer Degree on the basis of agribusiness work experience, supervised farming program and leadership activities.

He attended Clovis High School where his Vocational Agriculture Teachers and FFA Advisors were Tim Turnbrough, Edwin Ford, and Carl Wheeler.

The American Farmer Degree is a highly coveted award because it is presented to approximately one member in 700 of the 485,793 total FFA membership. It is presented only by the National FFA Organization to members who have demonstrated exceptional agricultural and leadership ability.

Each American Farmer Degree recipient will be presented a gold key and certificate by the National FFA Organization.

Recipients who attended the convention will also be presented a check from the National FFA Foundation to help pay their travel expenses.

To qualify for the American Farmer Degree, FFA members must have advanced through a system of degrees unique to the FFA organization. FFA members begin as Greenhands and after one year of membership may be advanced by the local chapter to the degree of "Chapter Farmer".

The third degree, that of "State Farmer", is presented by the State FFA Association to the per cent of the State's FFA membership in any one year. Only students who have earned the State Farmer Degree are eligible for the American Farmer Degree.

The National FFA Convention is an annual event of the Future Farmers of American and is carried out in cooperation with the U.S. Office of Education, the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. This year over 15,000 FFA members, vocational agriculture teachers, parents, and guests are expected to take part in the 48th National FFA Convention.

The convention is conducted entirely by student members all between the ages of 14 and 21. Six National FFA Officers take charge of all business sessions and 119 officials delegates represent the membership in voting on all issues of business.

In addition to the American Farmer Degree, many other FFA awards are presented during the convention. Contests are held in dairy, livestock, poultry, meats, milk quality and dairy foods, agricultural mechanics, horticulture, and public speaking. Several guest speakers on national prominence address the convention audience and entertainment is interspersed with the business. The convention is the largest annual youth convention in the nation. It closes on Friday evening with the installation of six new National FFA Officers.

Pesticide Hearings Slated

A public hearing to consider proposed regulations under the Texas Pesticide Control act will be held in Austin at 10 a.m. November 20, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

Site for the hearing is Room 117 of the Sam Houston State Office Building at 201 East 14th St.

The new state pesticide control act regulating the sale and use of pesticides was enacted to enable the state to conform to Federal regulations. The act provides for the registration of pesticides, licensing of dealers, and testing and licensing of applicators of restricted use pesticides.

The hearing will be conducted by representatives of the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Texas Water Quality Board, the Texas Animal Health Commission and the Texas Department of Health Resources.

Written testimony for the record should be sent to David Ivie, Director of Agricultural and Environmental Sciences, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, 78711.

Research Policy Change Is Urged

"So much of the agricultural research dollar must go for 'defensive research' that too little is left for research to increase the food supply," the head of the agricultural research division of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges (NASULGC) charged recently.

Calling "defensive research" the kind that is "in response to a growing number of government laws and regulations and not designed to increase yields or production capability," Dr. Richard J. Aldrich urged an examination of the total U.S. system for determining research priorities and funding.

Aldrich, who is associate dean for research in the University of Missouri-Columbia's College of Agriculture, said he was told government leaders that agricultural science should be "integrated into a national policy for science and technology."

"An agricultural scientist should be a member of full standing on the proposed Council of Advisors for Science and Technology," he said.

"The agricultural research often has an impact on other scientific disciplines and vice versa. Therefore, it is important that scientists from all these disciplines work together and share ideas."

Aldrich also urged that something be done about federal government policies and funding "which imply that there are first- and second-class scientists, with agricultural scientists falling in the latter category."

"This is one reason we have less cooperation than we should between scientists in agriculture and other parts of universities. Funding by the NSF (National Science Foundation), HEW (Health, Education and Welfare), and other agencies have supported agricultural research but usually only if the research was not production-oriented."

Aldrich also urged improved communication between scientists, not only those of different disciplines but those from public agencies and private industry.

As president of the Agricultural Research Institute, an organization that includes members from both the private and public sector, Aldrich has recommended that private industry "plug into" the Current Research Information System now being used just by university and USDA agricultural scientists.

"One of the strong suits of university agricultural research is its two-way communication system," he said. "The agricultural scientist has direct contact with agricultural producers and consumers through the Cooperative Extension Service. He also gets a lot of feedback and probing questions from students at the university."

"This two-way communication system, plus the system for delivering results of our research to those who need it, have made the Agricultural Experiment Station system the most responsive to issues and social change of any research organization on this earth."

"It's the guy at the lab bench—not administrators or congressmen—who is adjusting research to changing issues," he added.

"Sometimes our agricultural scientists are criticized for doing the same thing year after year. Nothing could be further from the truth.

"Take the environmental issues, for example. A decade ago, our research was aimed at finding the best pesticides to control insects and other pests. Today, we don't have a single project in the Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station that focuses exclusively on pesticides."

"That change, which took place nationally, occurred without any fanfare. Our scientists just figured they had to go another route; that just pesticides couldn't work indefinitely."

Aldrich noted that the Agricultural Experiment Station system was celebrating its 100th birthday this year and its continued success has been due to agricultural scientists' ability to be "responsive to local and regionalized problems or needs."

"We must remember that the American farmer feeds our people, and nothing we now see in science is likely to change this for a good many years to come."

Research Board Concludes Meets

On October 30, the newly formed High Plains Research Co-ordinating Board, Inc. concluded a series of meetings designed to acquaint the members with the agricultural research personnel and capabilities of most of the research facilities in West Texas. This meeting was comprised of a short seminar and field tours of West Texas State University at Canyon.

The group was welcomed by Dr. Lloyd Watkins, President of West Texas State University, who stated, "The University is seriously committed to business and agriculture, and the school of agriculture, under the leadership of Dr. Charles Smallwood, is prepared to assist, in any way possible, in a better total agricultural research program for West Texas."

Dr. Smallwood told the group that he was proud of the facilities at West Texas State University, and that in the last ten years approximately $1,500,000 has been placed into improvement of the school of agriculture.

Dr. John McNeill presented an overview of the research potential at the University and an informative tour of all research facilities was enjoyed, which included a demonstration of computer capabilities. Also seen on the tour was the agriculture building, a modern new Science Center, the Horse center, swine facilities, a new meats laboratory, the Killgore Research Center, and cattle operations at the Nance Ranch east of Canyon.

Previously, this Co-ordinating Board has met at Halfway, Texas Tech University, and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock.

The Board is composed of representatives from Texas A&M University, Texas Tech University, West Texas State University, The High Plains Research Foundation, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, along with representatives from each of the major commodity organizations which serve the High Plains. It is under the direction of Don Anderson, Lubbock, who serves as President.

The purpose of this board, chartered Sept. 9, 1974, is to provide the inputs, both from a knowledge standpoint, and eventually a financial standpoint, to produce the most complete total agricultural research program possible for West Texas.

Farmers Union Convention Set

Farmers from across Texas will converge on Fort Worth December 5 and 6 to attend the 72nd Annual Convention of Texas Farmers Union. The meeting in the new Hilton Inn, downtown Fort Worth will focus on the theme of "1976: The Year for Parity and Abundance."

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco explained that the theme for this year's Farmers Union convention is intended to dramatize the need for a national food policy.

"If abundant food supplies are to be provided to the consumer at reasonable prices, we must provide farmers with the incentive to produce. This means the number one priority of this government should be the adoption of a national food policy."

The headlines will address the Farmers Union convention include United States Senator John Tower, Texas Attorney General John Hill, Rocky Mountain Farmers Union President John Stencil of Denver, Agriculture Commissioner John White, and National Farmers Union Insurance President Ray Novak of Denver.

A program of special interest to the farmer and rancher delegates will be an in-depth study of commodity marketing on Friday afternoon with a panel of experts led by Dr. Bill Black of Texas A&M University. On Friday morning, Victor Ray, Assistant to the President of National Farmers Union will head a review of the "Farmers Union's Plan for Parity and Abundance" with a panel of experts to answer questions of this program.

A ladies' luncheon, featuring Mrs. Bobbie Wygant of KXAS-TV, Anchorperson for the "Inside Area Five" program will be held on Friday. Special activities for the young people attending the meeting will be held on Friday evening and a youth brunch on Saturday morning will feature Mrs. Sherry Leach, Director of Youth and Young Adult Program for National Farmers Union.

The conclusion of the convention of Saturday night will present National Farmers Union President Tony T. Dechant of Denver. Dechant's speech will follow a Texas-style bar-b-que and a program of entertainment by the Choralliers from Texas Women's University.

The official convention activities will be preceded by a meeting of the Farmers Union full Board of Directors that meets twice annually.

Sorghum Team Launches Seminars

A four-man grain sorghum sales team, sponsored by the U.S. Feed Grains Council, has begun three weeks of European seminars promoting the use of U.S. No. 2 yellow sorghum.

The team left Texas November 1, and is expected to make stops in England, Spain, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Yugoslavia and Poland.

USSR Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Boris Runov, has extended an invitation to the team to make presentations in Moscow also, before return to the United States on November 25.

Team members are Elbert Harp of Abernathy, executive director of Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board; Jack King of Lubbock, GSPA-TGSPB research director;

John Baumgardner, animal nutrition specialist from Texas Tech University, Lubbock and Dr. Lloyd Rooney, cereal chemist from Texas A&M University, College Station.

The seminars will focus on countering the poor image which sorghum has in some countries because of its tannic acid content. U.S. No. 2 yellow sorghum is very low in tannin, compared to bird-resistant sorghums from other countries.

The U.S. Feed Grains Council is a cooperative effort of private enterprise and the U.S. government, dedicated to expansion of foreign markets for U.S. agricultural products. The council operates out of its Washington, D.C. headquarters and 12 foreign offices located around the world.

Harp is immediate past chairman of the council.

TAES Issues Report On Grape Variety Testing

Results of grape variety research and commercial production efforts on the South Plains may bolster the hopes of those with an eye to viticulture.

Dr. William N. Lipe, state grape project leader for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says yield reports from leading varieties on the South Plains have been pegged at the 5- to 10-ton range with quality, sugar, acids and pH set at highly respectable ratings.

Lipe, who heads TAES grape research efforts for Lubbock and the surrounding area, says information accumulated over the past three years from Lubbock and Abernathy research vineyards indicates fresh market varieties most suitable to the home garden vineyard are Siebel 9110, Golden Muscat, Hinrod seedless and Niagara.

"The more commonly known Thompson seedless variety and a new variety, Black Monuka seedless, are excellent in quality, but are somewhat susceptible to winter kill here on the South Plains," he explains.

"Marvelli de Maleiga, Meyers 39-3 and G-255-10 appear to be the best adapted 'Tokay' types.

Lipe says less information is available on wine types, although such dual purpose grapes as Siebel 9110 and Niagara are well adapted and very productive. Several other varieties are showing promise, but it is too early to predict which varieties will make the best wine," he adds.

"A number of prospective growers in the Lubbock-South Plains area are contributing to the variety evaluation picture," the researcher says. "About 90 to 100 acres of grapes are in their second year of growth on the Plains, and some are expected to be in production in 1976.

"Plantings by four private groups—Llano Estacado at Lubbock, Smith and Scioi at Ropesville, Lightfoot at Seagraves, and the Sandy Land Grape Growers Association at Morton and Whiteface—are all experimental and are contributing valuable information about which varieties will eventually be grown for wine production on the Texas South Plains."

A state-wide feasibility study conducted in 1973-74, indicated that the most promising areas for commercial grape production are in far West Texas, the South Plains and the Texas Hill Country of the State.

Far West Texas is well suited for the French grape known as Vinifera. The Texas South Plains is suited to both Vinifera and French-American Hybrids, while other areas of the state may be restricted to hybrids and other American types.

Lipe says East Texas may be better suited to the Muscadine types due to better disease resistance.

As a result of the feasibility studies, Lipe says, new plantings were begun in 1974 at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock and El Paso and on a private farm near Junction. Each planting consist of 50 to 60 varieties on three rootstocks. Rootstocks include nematode and disease resistance and more vigorous types.

Plantings will come into production for the first time in 1976, Lipe says, and should yield important information for the developing grape industry in Texas.

Scribbles and Scratches

By KERRIE WOMBLE
Women's Editor

IS LIFE STILL sacred when stripped of its dignity? This question was a key issue in the five-day hearing this week in the euthanasia case of Karen Anne Quinlan.

The 21-year-old woman has been in a comatose state since she consumed a dangerous mixture of alcohol and drugs seven months ago. Since that time, she has been totally dependent on life support systems at a hospital in New Jersey.

Karen's parents requested that their daughter be disconnected from the respirator when it was learned that her brain waves are no longer traceable; the brain is no longer functioning.

Judge Robert Muir Jr. ruled Monday that Karen's current medical treatment be continued until doctors advise otherwise. He also appointed attorney Daniel R. Coburn as the young woman's personal guardian to make decisions in medical matters. Her parents will be consulted in treatment of their child, however they will have no authority in medical decisions. This is wrong.

The court's decision robbed the Quinlans of a parents' guardianship rights, denied the constitutional protection of self-determination and smacks loudly of Big Brotherism. A court spokesman said, "The (court's) decision assured the medical profession that this is a medical question and will stay there for now."

It bothers me to think that medical and moral issues can be so cleanly separated and act independently of each other. The court upheld the doctor's idealistic aim of prolonging life, but ignored the individual emotional aspects of the Quinlan case.

Surely the Quinlans have suffered enough mental anguish in the knowledge that their daughter's mind is, in effect, dead. Karen Quinlan is a shell of her former existence, yet "justice" maintains that her body functions must continue despite the absence of mind.

Euthanasia is frightening, especially when it enters the courts and Judge Muir's decision will be set a precedent. Should he have granted the Quinlan's request, factions could later argue that euthanasia be utilized in cases of insanity or other disabilities. However, I contend that the Quinlans, who certainly must have sought every avenue before making their request, were victims of injustice. Employment of extraordinary medical means should not be a decision of the courts, or the medical profession; this is a choice to be made by the patient or the family involved. The Quinlans are not seeking homicide, but an end to personal grief and suffering.

Convention Draws Local Delegation

Numerous local women traveled to Gruver Saturday to attend the 15th annual district convention of Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

The local delegation represented Hereford Music Study Club and Dawn Music Club.

Mrs. W.T. Carmichael was elected treasurer on the slate of new district officers and Mrs. Carl Wimberley assumed the post of auditor. Mrs. R.T. Stewart, past district president, acted as secretary. Mrs. Alfred Smith, incumb-

I BLEW it again. Credit for Sunday's story about Veterans Day was slightly misdirected when it was reported that my father, Benny Womble, wrote it.

Actually, LeRoy Williamson composed the article and Daddy was just the messenger. It happens in the best of families, I suppose.

Lone Star Women Recall Observance

Memories of Armistice Day were brought up during roll call by members of Lone Star Study Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. G.W. Newsom. Mrs. Jim Bookout was co-hostess.

Mrs. M.H. Wiseman, program chairman, introduced two local representatives of the American Heart Association, Mrs. John Hayes and Mrs. Archie Dwyer. Mrs. Hayes explained the structure of the association, stating that projects were divided among five committees, placing special emphasis on public education and public service.

Mrs. Dwyer, a registered nurse, delved into the physical workings of the heart and the major signs which foretell a heart attack or stroke. She stressed the importance of proper diet, exercise and regular check-ups as preventative measures.

The Bicentennial thought was presented by Mrs. Virgil Dodson. Refreshments were served to 21 members present. The next meeting will convene Nov. 25 in the Lamar Room of King's Manor Retirement Home.

Chamber Described To New Residents

Bill Albright, executive vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, addressed Hereford newcomers during a Dutch treat luncheon Tuesday at Caison Steak House.

Albright described the goals of the local Chamber and gave special attention to the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame, temporarily based at Deaf Smith County Library.

Mrs. Dick Davis and Mrs. Stephen Cole were added to the club rolls. Guests included Mmes. Mickey Brisendine, Calvin Jones, Dudley Arnett and Bob Ginn.

Plans were discussed for a holiday foods program, scheduled Dec. 9, and the Christmas party.

Members attending were Mmes. Charles Short, Warren Hall, Mike Webb, Jim Arnett, Gene Batterman, Bob White, Arthur Dettmann and Freddie Savage.

Mrs. Curtsinger Named Delegate

Mrs. R.E. Curtsinger was appointed delegate to IOOF Grand Lodge, to be held in Abilene during March of 1976, during a meeting of Hereford Rebekah Lodge 228 Tuesday night in IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Ola Hacker was named alternate delegate.

The lodge charter was draped in memory of the late Thelma Chisum by a team consisting of Mmes. Ola Hacker, Walter Lemons, Buck Brownlow, Jim Shaw, Frances Parker, Jim Loving, P.B. Sowell, John Jacobsen.

During the business session, first nominations were made for the 1976 slate of officers.

Also, 39 sick visits and 9 greeting cards were sent since last week's meeting, it was reported. Mrs. Henry Murrell was hostess to 18 members in attendance.

Dean Rusk, former Secretary of State: "I am almost fanatical about freedom of the press."

Gardening Is Given As Program

Miss Gladys Setliff presented a program entitled American Gardening From Colonial To Contemporary to members of Bud To Blossom Garden Club recently at Reddy Room at Southwestern Public Service building.

Following the program, a brief business meeting was conducted with Mrs. Jess Robinson presiding. Members made plans to serve at a local farm sale Nov. 15 as their money-making project.

Also, Mrs. Robinson reported that the club has maintained a blue ribbon rating this past year.

There were six members present.

MEETING DATE CHANGED BY SWEET 'N' FANCY

Members of Sweet 'n' Fancy Decorating Club will not meet tomorrow as scheduled, but will convene at 9:30 a.m. Friday, Nov. 21 in Community Center.

Mrs. Mike Adcock and Mrs. Carl Kleuskens are responsible for providing the cake for the Westgate birthday party next week.

Library Features Several Events

Paul Abalos will headline several events at Deaf Smith County Library during the month of November. He will give a book review on the life of Jack Dempsey at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the library.

Also, scheduled for Tuesday is family film night which will begin at 7:30 p.m. This film relates the story about a boy and an elephant.

A special program for the public entitled "I Am Joe's Heart," sponsored by The Heart Association, will be given at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 24.

Dr. Duffy McBrayer, representative of Deaf Smith County Heart Association, will narrate the film.

Mrs. Billy Hutson is artist for the month of November and has her paintings displayed at the library. She is currently instructing art classes at Kings Manor Retirement Home.

Display of the month is a doll china tea set owned by Mrs. Dewitt Seago, library clerk.

The library is currently seeking donations of games for children and records that are in good condition. Monetary donations are also need toward the purchase of a filmstrip projector for use at the library.

Sorority Rituals Planned By BSP

Plan were made for Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Rituals by members of BSP City Council Monday evening in Friendship Room of Hereford State Bank.

The rituals will begin at 8 p.m. Nov. 18 at Community Center. Chapter hostesses for the affair include Alpha Mu and Xi Epsilon Alpha.

Also during the business session with Mrs. Don Childers presiding, plans were discussed for the BSP Sweetheart Banquet and Dance to be held Feb. 14 in Knights of Columbus Hall.

It was announced that Valentine candidates will be judged at a tea tentatively scheduled in January in the home of Mrs. Joe Story.

Council members were reminded of a dinner Nov. 17 to be held at King's Manor Retirement Home in which all BSP chapters will be honored guests.

Mrs. John Schneider and Mrs. Bobby Jones served as hostesses during the meeting and members present included Mmes. Bud Thomas, Chick Holbert, Coy Mason.

Also, Mmes. Larry Summers, Randy Jones, Max Stipe, R.J. Cramer, Eldon Koch, Jim Cramer, Calvin Jones, Joe Paetzold, Johnny Wall, Warren Hall, David Sorells and Tom Bullard.

MILWAUKEE--The head of a research team at the Medical College of Wisconsin, Dr. Henry F. Edelhauser, said studying the development of the eye disease in baby wolves may lead to a better understanding of the development, and perhaps prevention, of human cataracts.

Products Bear Lower Prices

With turkey, fryer chicken and eggs in adequate supply, consumers can look for specials on these items in Texas grocery stores for the next few weeks.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt says. The consumer marketing information specialist is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

At beet counters, chuck and round cuts are less expensive than the more tender cuts, with ground beef and liver the other economical choices, Mrs. Clyatt added.

"Fresh and frozen fish is plentiful, and it offers low-cost with little or no waste.

"Pork prices remain high, but November supplies should be slightly larger than October's—so now's the time to take advantage of any specials. Look for Boston butts, end chops, quarter-joins cut into chops, smoked ham butts and shanks, frankfurters and liver."

Apples lead the good-buy race at fruit counters with this year's record-large crop, the specialist said.

Simon says tax cut may continue into 1976.

World War II Is Book's Topic

"The Boat" by Lothar-Gunther Buchheim and "The Save Your Life Diet" by David Reuben are the two books being featured this week at Deaf Smith County Library.

"The Boat" is a supreme novel about World War II by a man on the other side. It is widely acclaimed and revered for its devastating candor about German's fighting men.

In "The Save-Your-Life-Diet," Dr. Reuben explains how a person can restore the missing element to his daily menu at a cost of two cents a day and within a few days enjoy the beneficial effects.

He also tells the individual how to select the precise food that will help protect his children with the most protection from the earliest possible moment.

The library is open free to the public from 9 a.m.-9 p.m. Monday and Thursday; from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. other weekdays and until noon Saturday.

THE BOAT

by Lothar-Gunther Buchheim

From Germany (where it provoked an uproar of controversy and unprecedented public debate) comes this truly extraordinary novel about men at war—with a force, a breath, a profound humanity that make it a book of the largest resonance. "The Boat" is the story of U-boat and her crew by Lothar-Gunther Buchheim, who served on one, who saw the worst (of the 40,000 men who served in his country's submarines in World War II, 30,000 never returned), and who has remembered every detail with a blazing obsession.

The time is the fall and winter of 1941—the turning point of the war for Germany and U-boats are hunting British convoys in the Atlantic. From the very first moment, you are part of the shadowy, claustrophobic world

House Brands

Save Money

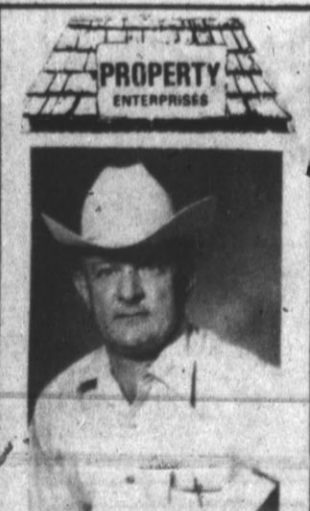

Consumers should "know" the house brand grocery product before buying large quantities at special sale values. Mrs. Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says,

"House brands are goods that carry the label of the retailer, because the retailer contracted with some producer to buy large quantities of his product to sell under the retailer's name."

She explained that this large volume usually results in a lower price to consumers. But if the product isn't satisfactory, consumers may have a hard time reaching the manufacturer to make their complaints.

"Brand name products, on the other hand, usually provide consistent and dependable quality—but may be higher priced to cover advertising costs," the specialist noted.

Advertising between now and Christmas will sell a world of goods.

See Virgil Slentz For any Farm, Crop Hail, Ranch or Vehicle Insurance of the UA VII-C—"The Boat"—and its crew, mere children of 18 or 19, its officers not much older, its Commander an old man (and rare survivor) at 30.

You too are imprisoned in their infernal yet appallingly flimsy machine, designed for war, not for human beings... forced to fine some tiny space to call your own between engines and motors, torpedoes, cables, pipes and wiring... shivering in the same wet clothes, smelling the same stench, sharing each moment of their daily routine...

You suffer the weeks of fruitless patrol, the hours of waiting in fear, the terrifying moments of actual attack; living hundreds of feet below the surface, where the Boat itself acquires an almost human existence, where individuals are trapped within the walls of their memories, their sexual fantasies, their fears, where freedom is a forgotten word until it is safe for the Boat to surface and the vast expanse of ocean is seen again—the most magnificent sight in the world.

This is more than an adventure story, although it is filled with unbearable urgency and excitement; more than a novel about war at sea, although it records the brutal details of battles with torpedoes and depth charges, of attack and defense, escape and pursuit, of the sinking of ships and the many kinds of deaths of the men who serve in them. Neither is it a propagandistic epic of Martial heroism. It is the story of ordinary men in mortal danger, a celebration of human endurance that, in its compassion, its beauty and its power,

The Hereford Brand, Hereford, Texas, Thursday, November 13, 1975

stands comparison with "All Quiet On The Western Front."

THE SAVE YOUR LIFE DIET David Reuben

Would you be willing to try a diet that offered these possibilities?

*Protection from the number one fatal cancer in America—cancer of the colon and rectum—striking 99,000 Americans each year?

*Freedom from the symptoms of diverticulosis—the most common disease of the colon affecting nearly half the population over the age of forty?

*Protection from appendicitis, the number one abdominal surgical emergency, responsible for 200,000 operations and 20,000 deaths a year?

*Real hope of overcoming obesity, the common condition that handicaps 50 per cent of our population?

*Help dealing with hemorrhoids, constipation and varicose veins—those annoying and disabling legacies of civilization?

Drawing on medical research performed by more than five hundred respected scientists around the world and reported in such prestigious medical publications as the Journal of the American Medical Association, the New England Journal of Medicine, the British Medical Journal, Nature, and hundreds of others, Dr. Reuben explains how nearly one billion men and women around the world enjoy virtual immunity from the terrible diseases that we accept as inevitable.

Based on well-accepted medical concepts, Dr. Reuben describes how most of these devastating conditions are basically the result of our modern over-refined diets—diets which are deficient in one indispensable ingredient which is carefully removed during food processing.

Clothes Best For Newborn

Since a newborn baby's life centers around the crib, practical and functional clothing minimizes excessive expenses—and makes the baby feel good, too, Mrs. Becky Culp, area clothing specialist says.

"Practicality and use are prime considerations when selecting clothing and gifts for newborn babies. But many garments don't get much wear because they're too small too soon—or too specialized."

Mrs. Culp is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service,

The Texas A&M University System.

"Other important considerations in buying infantwear are washability, comfort, safety and appearance. Government safety standards require all sleepwear to be flame retardant, but recommended care instructions must be carefully followed for may garments to retain this.

"Seams and fabrics should be smooth, non-binding and non-irritating. Easy on and off garments that open down center front or back are ideal. Pastel colors and unique appliques and trims are widely preferred design details."

She explained that established standards for newborn sizes—zero to three months—fit babies to maximum weights of 12-14 pounds and 23-25 inches tall. A wardrobe of newborn sizes is often quickly outgrown.

Larger infantwear is sized by six-month intervals, six through 24 months.

Recent estimates indicate that a family's first newborn baby receives an average of six gifts—many of them clothing.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Josseland of 333 Centre, announce the marriage of their daughter, Joan Dana, to Ricky Kim Poarch, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Poarch of Amarillo, former Hereford residents.

The couple were married in Clovis, N.M. recently and are now residing at 3433 Amherst Drive, Apt. 310, Amarillo.

ON MEDICAID

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has disclosed that 207 doctors in 16 states and the District of Columbia each earned more than $100,000 in public funds for treating poor Medicaid patients last year.

FTC ON SEDATIVES

The Federal Trade Commission plans to issue regulations prohibiting false advertising for nonprescription sleeping aids instead of initiating suits against individual manufacturers, an FTC official reports.

Bake Sale Is Saturday

The public is invited to shop at the Aggie Mothers Club Bake Sale Saturday in Sugarland Mall, where a variety of pastries will be on display.

Opening at 11 a.m., the sale is an annual project to raise funds for a scholarship award, presented each year to a student desiring to attend Texas A&M University. Special orders for baked goods can be placed by contacting Mrs. Eugene Hendon at 264-2171 or Mrs. A.L. Hollingsworth at 364-2842.

'Bi-Purpose' Turkeys Suggested

Economy-conscious consumer will buy "bi-purpose" turkeys this season—that's turkey big enough for Thanksgiving dinner, with lots left over for other meals, Frances Reasonover, a foods and nutrition specialist, says.

"Allow three-fourths to one pound per serving if the turkey is 12 pounds or under, or one-half to three-fourths pound per serving for a heavier bird." Miss Reasonover is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Protect leftovers from bacterial contamination by refrigerating right after dinner. Since refrigerator space is usually at a premium during the holiday season, remove meat from bones before wrapping for storage. And remember to store stuffing separately. Freeze the meat that cannot be used within two or three days," Miss Reasonover advised.

Make broth to use in soup and casserole dishes later, she suggested.

Put bones and bits of meat and skin in a large kettle, cover with cold water. Add sliced onion and carrot, a garlic clove, spices and two teaspoons of salt. Cover and bring to a boil. Simmer two hours, then strain the broth. Refrigerate in a covered jar for two days or less. She suggested some specific uses for the "bi-purpose" turkey.

CELEBRATION TURKEY SOUP

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup chopped, cooked turkey
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 2 cups diced raw potatoes
- 2 1/2 cups cream-style corn
- 1 tall can evaporated milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ginger
- 1 cup diced celery
- 2 cups turkey broth
- 1/4 teaspoon paprika
- dash pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- Melt butter or margarine. Add turkey and onion. Cook until onion is transparent. Add potatoes, celery and broth. Stir and cook until slightly thickened.
- Simmer until vegetables are tender. Then add corn, milk and seasonings. Season to taste. Garnish with parsley and serve with crackers, bread rolls or toast.
- Makes 8 servings.

THANKSGIVING BUFFET CURRIED TURKEY ON RICE

- 1 tart apple, chopped
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1 or 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon powdered ginger
- 1 cup turkey broth
- 1 cup milk
- 3 cups cut-up cooked turkey
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 3 cups cooked rice
- orange slices as garnish
- Cook apple and onion in butter or margarine until onion is transparent. Combine flour, curry powder, salt and ginger. Sprinkle over apple and onion mixture and blend.
- Stir in broth and milk. Heat slowly and stir to prevent burning. Simmer five minutes. Add turkey and lemon juice. Season. Cover and keep hot five minutes.
- Serve on hot rice garnished with orange slices. Makes 4 servings.

FOOD STAMP LOSSES

The Federal government lost some $78 million during the last half of 1974 because state and local welfare agencies certified for food stamps about 192,353 households that did not legally qualify, the Agriculture Department estimated.

UNEMPLOYED FATHERS

The government has estimated that family welfare expenditures will rise $773 million a year as a result of a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that lets jobless fathers choose unemployment or aid to families with dependent children.

FAITH WILL TEACH YOU HOW TO PRAY

Prayer is intended to be a beautiful communion with the Almighty, but we sometimes turn it instead into a request for some material gain; often of doubtful benefit. To do so is to dishonor God by assuming that He is not already aware of your needs. So go to your Church this Sunday and pray for His guidance to help you become a better person. And, instead of attempting to give God information, just thank Him for what you already have and reaffirm your trust in His infinite wisdom in knowing what is really best for you.

"And it shall come to pass, that before they call, I will answer; and while they are yet speaking, I will hear."
— Isaiah 65:24

Who rises from prayer a better man, his prayer is answered.
— George Meredith

Dance Scheduled By Merry Mixers

Plans for the 5th anniversary dance were discussed by members of Merry Mixers Square Dance Club, in existence for half a decade, during the regular dance session Friday night in Community Center.
 Stewart Rowan will call during the dance, which will be followed by skits and a salad supper. It is scheduled Nov. 21.
 Rowan completed calling honors at the recent dance, where guests from Hereford and Buttons and Bows in Friona were recognized.

 Members were reminded that material for square dancing skirts is available at J.C. Penneys.

Mrs. Reeve Is Guest Speaker

As a special Bicentennial program, Mrs. Glen Reeve of Friona was guest speaker at a gathering for local Future Homemaking Association Chapters Monday evening at La Plata Junior High School cafeteria. Represented were FHA and Hero FHA chapter members from La Plata, Stanton and Hereford High School. Mrs. Larry Alley, president of Hereford chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas, introduced the speaker. The program entitled "The Sixteen Brides of the White House" was presented to help homemaking students appreciate the cultures that are a part of America as they prepare to celebrate the Bicentennial. Details of each doll's wedding dress included design, fabric and decorations were emphasized by Mrs. Reeve and description of the bride's personality and facts about the bridal couple were described. There were approximately 120 FHA members present. Other guests included YHT members, Mrs. Ronald Rayburn and Mrs. Louis Montano. FHA advisors included Mrs. M.T. Burlesmith and Mrs. Leo Witkowski from La Plata; Mrs. Joe Bradley from Stanton; Mrs. Frank Prowell and Mrs. R.L. Layman from high school.

Jehovah's Witnesses Attend Convention

Spanish-speaking Jehovah's Witnesses from the West Texas and New Mexico area are returning to their local congregation this week after having celebrated a successful convention in Carlsbad, N.M. where 1329 were in attendance and 17 were baptized. Local meetings will be resumed according to Orta, presiding minister of the local congregation of the Spanish Jehovah's Witnesses. Orta said, "The convention will benefit us greatly in being able to help more people of the locality to better understand their Bible." He also stated that during the main discourse of the convention; the speaker, L. Torres, district supervisor of Jehovah's Witness, speaking on the theme "how the Kingdom of God Affects You", brought to the attention of the audience the fact that "everyone of us, all mankind, are directly touched by the activities of God's Kingdom." God's kingdom is being preached in more than 200 lands by Jehovah's Witnesses by repeatedly going to homes to offer free instruction about God's Kingdom. "This program of education has continued now for more than 60 years, it has reached us," he said, "and that is why we are here today." Torres then asked, "How will further action of God's Kingdom affect your life? Will it mean destruction? Or will you enjoy the blessing of God's Kingdom now?" "If we really want to enjoy the blessing of God's kingdom as its subjects, we need to show it now," he stated. "By diligently studying the Bible, apply God's law in our lives, making needed changes, and associating with Jehovah's people." He concluded by showing "how the Bible promises and makes provision for everlasting life here on earth under perfect conditions for all of those who show appreciation for God's kingdom now." Any one interested in a free Bible study with one of Jehovah's Witnesses is invited to contact Orta and attend free Bible classes at the local Spanish Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses.

CHRISTIE OTTESON ...Drill team member

Hereford Student Is Angellette

Christie Otteson of Hereford is currently serving as a member of the Angelettes, a precision drill team at Angelo State University in San Angelo. Ms. Otteson is a freshman business major at ASU. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Otteson. There are currently about 33 coeds serving in the colorful performing unit. The girls compete for membership in tryouts that are held at the start of each semester. The girls also compete for a limited number of scholarships that are available to the unit. They also receive one semester hour credit in fine arts for their participation for each semester they are in the unit. The Angelettes provide an extra touch of color to all home football games played by the Rams of Angelo State. In addition to performing during football season, the Angelettes also take part in various local and area parades, they perform at home basketball games, at pep rallies and they serve the community of San Angelo by assisting at various civic functions.

Plans Made To Decorate Church Room

The Believers of St. Thomas Episcopal Church held their monthly dinner and meeting Sunday afternoon following worship services at the church. During the business meeting, the group made plans to decorate a room in the church to be used as a parlor. Also, it was decided to remove the barbed wire fence behind the church to facilitate improved landscaping. The next meeting was planned for Dec. 14. There were approximately 50 members in

There are 8,300 physicians and 23,600 nurses attending patients in 171 Veterans Administration hospitals.

Mr. Farmer:

When buying or selling farm and ranch lands, your selection of a realtor is of supreme importance. Why not choose a fellow farmer who is also a realtor to help you? If your realtor does not understand well logs, underground line sizes and types, water tables, investment credit, repair costs, fuel costs, irrigation horsepower requirements, friction loss, soil maps, insurance rates, tax matters, and detailed production cost figures, then you may have the wrong realtor. Let us serve you. We understand farmers and farming.

Auxiliary Initiates New Member Monday Evening

Alma Coursey was initiated as a new member of VFW Auxiliary when the group met Monday evening in VFW clubhouse. During the business meeting with Mrs. John Rogers presiding, an invitation was read from the Veterans Hospital in Amarillo to attend their open house which was held Tuesday. Also, Naomi Murrell reported on the VFW Auxiliary's district meeting held at Dimmitt Sunday. Plans were discussed for the local auxiliary's Thanksgiving supper scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 24 at VFW clubhouse. The group's poppy drive was completed Tuesday and was reported a success by members and the meeting time of the auxiliary was changed from 8 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Members present included Bea Cox, Ada Hollabaugh, Doris Coffin, Francis Parker and Mmes. Leonard Davis, Jim Loving, P.B. Sowell and George Green.

Yearbook Award Given To Club

Mrs. W.T. Carmichael read a diary account of the recent Texas Federation of Music Clubs Convention at Gruver for members of Music Study Club Monday afternoon in the Joe Hacker home. Mrs. Lyle Holmes and Mrs. Paul Lyons were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Carmichael reported that the local club's yearbook received a blue ribbon award during the assembly. Three Amarillo clubs will host the 1976 TFMC convention where Mrs. Carmichael will serve as district treasurer and Mrs. Ron Eaglebrecht will fill the president's post.

Club members were reminded that they still have access to tickets for an opera workshop to be held later this month at West Texas State University. The business session was opened by reading the club collect, answering roll call and hearing minutes of the previous meeting. Twenty-one members were in attendance.

Songs of the blackface minstrel, the Negro, were vocalized during the program portion of the meeting. Mrs. Jack Rogers rendered "Oh Susannah," one of Stephen Foster's compositions. Another Foster song, "Camptown Races," was presented by Mrs. Tom Burdett.

With Mrs. Hacker providing accompaniment, Mrs. Carmichael performed "Honey-suckle Babe," by C. Smith. Dan Emmett's tune entitled "Dixie Land" was voiced by Mmes. Sam Long, Joe Schultz and Buddy Peeler.

The club combined their talents on two more Foster numbers, including "I Dream of Jeanie" and "Beautiful Dreamer." The meeting concluded after refreshments were served.

One project completed by members of Stanton Junior High School Red Cross Chapter is donating needed supplies to be sent to Gilstown. Others include decorating Westgate Nursing Home for a Halloween party and working on the school's project, packing Thanksgiving boxes to be given to

Mrs. Legg Presents Federation Report

Mrs. Tandy Legg reported activities of Texas Federated Clubs to fellow members of Pioneer Study Club Tuesday in Caison Steak House. Hostesses were Mmes. L.H. Lookingbill, Legg and M.L. Simpson.

Mrs. P.B. Sowell directed the business portion of the meeting and recognized guests, a Houston woman and Mrs. George Turrentine. Members present numbered 24.

The historical link was given by Mrs. C.L. Craig. Miss Roberta Campbell introduced the program, which centered on conservation of the Panhandle panorama. Mrs. Paul Rudd pointed out mistakes and improvements credited to the nation's forefathers. She mentioned the landscaping which skirts Texas roadways and included farm homes in rural areas. She reminded members to plant red, white and blue floral designs in local gardens this spring.

Her address was followed by Mrs. Ralph McCullough, who described the beauty of Texas' heritage and praised Hereford's beauty spots. She commented that this community's foliage has been particularly colorful this season and urged members to take advantage of local recreation facilities, including Palo Duro Canyon.

Mrs. McCullough continued, stating the Pioneer Study Club holds the deed to Mother's Park, which was a gift from the City leaders in 1909. They are responsible for maintenance of this site. She urged the audience to take an interest in Veteran's Park improvements.

Legal Secretaries Offer Scholarship

During the business session of Deaf Smith-Castro Counties Legal Secretaries Association when it met recently in the Reddy Room of Southwestern Public Service, it was decided the chapter would offer a scholarship.

The scholarship is offered to any student, boy or girl, who is interested in pursuing some type of legal profession. Application forms will be sent to the high schools in a few weeks by Judy Watson, scholarship chairman, and the winner will be announced by January 1. There will be other requirements such as an above or better, all around student, but stress on desire to follow some type of legal profession.

At the recent meeting, Mildred Sheffy, PLS, gave the program on office procedures tailored to fit the individual office, stressing points on a "tickler" system that works.

Hostesses were Rita Diller,

Carolyn Calvitt and Rhonda Husemann.

In other business, which was conducted by President Barbara Wheat, a report was made on the successful October fund raising campaign and it was voted to give a cash donation to the Dimmitt Satellite School. The school will also be the chapter's December project and a Christmas party is planned for Dec. 8. Virginia Cowart is project chairman and will be in charge of the party.

The chapter's next meeting will be Dec. 2 in the Castro County Community Room with a get-acquainted salad supper and prospective members will come as guests.

Speaker for the meeting will be Russell Maron, a Dimmitt attorney who will speak on "Fair Credit Treatment for Women" (based on the idea when Kerri Womble wrote the item for the Hereford Brand).

Residents To Address Church

Two Korean missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Choy, will present testimonies during the 11 a.m. worship service at Summerfield Baptist Church this Sunday. The public is welcome.

Following the worship hour, the Women's Missionary Union will serve as hostesses for an Oriental luncheon, complete with chopsticks and Far East cuisine.

A native of Hawaii, Choy received his bachelor of arts degree from Wayland College and served a tour of duty in the U.S. Army. He was director of related activities and international student advisor at Wayland before serving as minister of education at University Baptist Church in Abilene.

The missionary was pastor of Kahului (Hawaii) Baptist Church prior to joining the missionary association in 1967. He was based at Seoul, Korea until 1974, when he transferred to Taegu, where he now ministering with his wife.

Mrs. Choy was also born in Hawaii and graduated from Queen's Hospital School of Nursing, University of Hawaii, in Honolulu. She furthered her education at Wayland and Hardin-Simmons University. She was a junior high school teacher for a time in Honolulu.

Mrs. Choy served as an evangelist from 1968-1974. The couple has three children, Sammie Lynn, Terri Lynn and Toni Lynn, twins.

Call Avis Blakey For all your Home, Car or Business Insurance. 205 S. 25 Mile Ave. 364-6633

You're doing without a Zimmatic center pivot. Saving your hard-earned capital for other improvements. Don't want to borrow right now.

But it's costing you money every year you wait. Two ways. First, you're losing the extra crop production you get under irrigation. Second, inflation is at work. Boosting prices, dropping the value of your dollars.

Why not rent a Zimmatic under our new lease plan? Let the system pay for itself and put some extra money in the bank for you at the same time.

Our rates are reasonable. You can include freight, installation, pump...

other "above ground" items in one flexible package, tailored to your needs. Why wait to irrigate? It's just costing you money. Call us today for details on our new lease plan.

Michael Murphey To Appear At WT

WTSU— Student Activities Council of West Texas State University will present singer Michael Murphey in concert at 8 p.m. Nov. 22 at the WTSU Field House.

Tickets for the performance will be $3 for all WTSU students and $5 for general admission. They may be purchased at the WTSU Activities Center information desk.

Murphey's hit singles include "Wildfire" and "Carolina in the Pines."

Murphey grew up in Dallas wanting to be a minister in the Southern Baptist Church but cast those ambitions aside after receiving his first guitar.

After studying classical Greek at North Texas State University in Denton, Michael moved to Los Angeles where he composed over 400 songs for Screen Gems. His songs were recorded by Bobbie Gentry, Flatt and Scruggs, Roger Miller, the Monkees and the First Edition

Ambulances Ordered For 10 Communities

Emergency vehicles ordered through the Health, Education and Welfare Emergency Medical Services Grant are due to begin arriving in late December, according to Betty O'Rourke, emergency medical services coordinator, Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

Spearman and Fritch will each receive a modular type ambulance as ordered. Total award to southern ambulance in Georgia for the two vehicles is $33,558.70.

All ten agencies are paying a minimum 25 per cent match of the total cost of their vehicle, the maximum federal match is $10,125.00 per ambulance.

Stores Canvassed For Dangerous Lights

WASHINGTON, D.C. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission has launched its sixth Consumer Deputy program to utilize the assistance of hundreds of volunteers nationwide to canvass stores for potentially hazardous Christmas lights.

Last December, the Commission issued a warning that approximately 300,000 sets of indoor-outdoor miniature Christmas lights that sold around the country over the past two years could present severe hazards of electric shock. The companies involved initiated a voluntary recall of potentially dangerous sets.

A CPSC area office survey underway since July of manufacturers, importers, and distributors already has turned up over 100 cases of decorative lights with possible defects or hazards. The Commission is seeking voluntary corrective action by the companies, but could initiate a hearing to seek mandatory repair, replacement, or refund for consumers.

According to a CPSC spokesperson, the Consumer Deputy programs augment official agency inspection efforts and serve important education functions for both consumers and retailers.

The Consumer Deputies are trained by staff from the Commission's 14 area offices. The estimated 500-600 students, consumer and community organization members, and state and local government workers will visit department, hardware, grocery and drug stores and ask store managers to survey the shelf stock. Deputies also will provide retailers with a copy of a special fact sheet to help them evaluate the comparative safety of Christmas lights through five screening methods: cracked sockets, loose add-on end connectors, exposed bare wires, exposed bulb contact wires, and exposed socket contacts.

Past Consumer Deputy programs relating to children's fire resistant sleepwear in sizes 0-14, poison prevention packaging and toys have found virtually 100 per cent cooperation by retailers. In some cases, official CPSC inspectors will make follow up visits.

The Consumer Deputy program for Christmas lights is being coordinated with the Commission's holiday season information program. Among the publications available free are: "Toy Safety, Always in Season," "The Safe Use of Electrical Toys," "Think Toy Safety Coloring Book," and fact sheets with safety tips on decorations, fireplaces, tricycles, bicycles and toboggans, sleds and snow disks.

Diphtheria Not Defeated

Diphtheria isn't dead yet—out breaks do occur in all age groups, and national statistics show many cases are severe with five to ten per cent fatal, Carla Shearer, a health education specialist says.

She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. "Immunization is the only effective protection against diphtheria. Babies can be immunized at about two months of age, but aren't fully protected until they have all three doses of the series."

"Diphtheria vaccine is almost always combined with pertussis (whooping cough) and tetanus vaccines. After the basic series, regular booster doses of diphtheria vaccine are necessary to stay immunized."

"Although often thought of as a childhood disease, diphtheria also strikes adults. The Texas Department of Health Resource suggests that adults receive diphtheria booster shots, usually combined with tetanus vaccine, every 10 years," the specialist said.

New Member Welcomed

Irene Mathies was welcomed as a new member by West Hereford Extension Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Evelyn Bell with Alice Cox as co-hostess.

During the business meeting, plans were made for the club's Thanksgiving dinner scheduled Nov. 20 at noon in the home of Mrs. Dale Walton.

The hostess gift was won by Mrs. Walton. Members present included Arlie Frost, Edna Anders, Myrtle Allmon and Mrs. U.V. Pierce.

WT Chamber Receives Post Survey Results

West Texas Chamber of Commerce members by a overwhelming majority favor private enterprise being allowed to compete with the U.S. Postal Service in delivering the mail, recent survey results show.

The results of a recent mail survey of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce members regarding national affairs issue were released today by the organization.

Included in the survey were 12 questions of vital interest to all West Texans. Federal legislation regarding some of these issues is now before the Congress.

The results of the survey showed, by those responding, to be as follows: Do you favor private enterprise being allowed to compete with the U.S. Postal Service in delivering mail? Yes-87 per cent; No-7 per cent; No Opinion-6 per cent.

Do you favor oil priced decontrol? Yes-80 per cent; No-13 per cent; No Opinion-7 per cent.

Do you favor natural gas price deregulation? Yes-80 per cent; No-12 per cent; No Opinion-8 per cent.

Memorial Given By Dawn Women

Members of Dawn Music Club made a contribution to Dawn Community Association in memory of a longtime member, the late Myrtle Lea May. The donation was made during a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R.T. Stewart.

Ragtime, jazz and "boogie" music from America's past was performed by members during the program segment of the meeting. Three Scott Joblin melodies were presented in duets at the piano. They included "Easy Winners" played by Mrs. Jim Tilley and Mrs. Stewart.

"The Entertainer" by Mrs. Dwaine Nelson and Mrs. Carl Wimberley and "Maple Leaf Rag" by Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Wimberley.

"St. Louis Blues," a composition by Handy, was sung by Mrs. Tilley with accompaniment provided by Mrs. Wimberley. Mrs. R.E. Curtisinger rendered two tunes at the piano, "Chattanooga Shoeshine Boy" and "Twelfth Street Rag."

Two pianos were utilized by Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Wimberley, who teamed to perform "Fascinatin' Rhythm" by Gershwin. This arrangement was used for Wilson's "Two Piano Boogie" played by Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. L.W. Tooley.

Mrs. Stewart remained at the piano to accompany Mrs. Tilley, as she sang "Downtown" by Hatch. "Blue Suede Shoes" was presented by Mrs. Walter Lemons with Mrs. Wimberley accompanying at the piano.

Club members joined voices to sing the hymn of the month, "God of Our Fathers." The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. Dec. 9 in the home of Mrs. Carl Wimberley.

"Rhoda" makes a squeeze play on Joe

Joe Gerard goes against his better judgement when he hires Nick, Brenda's obnoxious boyfriend whom he can't stand, to become a wrecker at his demolition firm, on "Rhoda," Monday, Nov. 17 (7:00-7:30 p.m.) on the CBS Television Network.

Nick Lobo, who proclaims he's an excellent professional accordion player, begins to see the light when he can't get a job. Against Brenda's wishes, he decides there's only one thing to do: move out of town and seek another field. Only for the sake of Brenda's happiness, with a little pressure from Rhoda, does Joe break down and give him a job.

Making Marriage Work

VALERIE HARPER: "Dick and I don't force each other to play husband and wife. We don't feel bound by marriage. There's no owning, no possession, no you're-compelled-to-because-you-belong-to-me. That's the evil I see destroying so many marriages..."

ROBERT REDFORD: "We try to please each other. If I ask her to be on time tonight and she asks me not to wear a certain tie, then she's on time and I don't wear the tie. We have yet to go to bed without a loving word for each other since our second marriage."

Heroes

ROBERT REDFORD: "Integrity means more to me than anything. I get that from my father. He has the greatest sense of integrity of anyone I have ever known."

Failure

SUSAN BLAKELY: "I had so many failures in the beginning that success began to seem impossible. The worst was 'Lenny' where the director called me for six interviews—six—before deciding to give the role to Valerie Perrine. I know I would have called it quits if it hadn't been for my husband."

'TENDS CAREFULLY TO HIS WORK'

Bernard Barrow is an actor who believes in delving into the background of the character he plays. As Johnny Ryan, owner-operator of Ryan's restaurant bar on ABC's daytime dramatic series, "Ryan's Hope," Barrow plays many of his scenes behind the show's working bar. To get the right feel for the bartending scenes, Barrow recently spent several evenings as an apprentice bartender at a midtown Manhattan bar.

'RYAN'S HOPE'

"Ryan's Hope," airs Monday-Friday on the ABC Television Network.
