

City Purchases Homing Device

In a very light city commission meeting Monday night, commissioners accepted a bid from Southern Avionics for assistance in installing a nondirectional, low-frequency homing device for the municipal airport.

The homing device bid was for $3465 and will include an FAA approval on frequency. Southern Avionics, entered a bid of cost plus $350 for supervision of the installation of the homing device, and commissioners accepted unanimously.

Installation of the homing device is expected to be completed within a month, city manager Dudley Bayne stated, and with its installation, executive-type jet aircraft will be able to land at the local airport. The device will be situated at the crossroads of Farm Road 2945 and Austin Road.

In other commission action, the council voted to borrow $50,000 from the Hereford State Bank at an interest rate of 7 1/2 per cent.

Bayne also announced that due to recent legislative action, the city commission is required to post an agenda for a forthcoming city commission meeting at least three days prior to the scheduled meeting. The state's bill now makes it mandatory that a city commission or other open meetings post their agenda, and Bayne has asked that anyone who has business with the city to notify the city clerk at least by Thursday of the week before the regularly scheduled Monday meeting of the commission.

Commissioners also discussed the problems that have developed over the new trash containers that were placed throughout

Sen. Yarborough Here Wednesday

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Texas, who was scheduled to appear in Hereford for a reception at the Cason House and a public appearance at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn after press time Wednesday, is currently making a five-day tour of the Texas Panhandle.

Story and pictures of his appearance here are to be published in the Sunday Brand.

Today, Sen. Yarborough will attend a coffee at 9 a.m. in the Herring Hotel at Amarillo. An 11 a.m. luncheon is planned for him by the Panhandle Producers and Royalty Owners Association and local businessmen in Amarillo.

At 1:30 p.m., Sen. Yarborough will visit the West Texas State University campus at Canyon. He is set to deliver the commencement address for WTSU at 8 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum.

On Friday, he is slated to attend an 8:30 a.m. coffee at the First Christian Church in Claude.

The senator's schedule for the remainder of Friday will include meetings at Conway, Groom, Clarendon, Turkey, Quitaque, and Silvertown.

His Panhandle tour will end Friday evening with his attending a production of "Texas" in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

the city recently. Several businesses throughout the Main St. area have failed to comply with the city ordinance stating that they must crush or cut all cardboard boxes deposited in the new containers. Sanitation men have been having a difficult time in recent weeks of getting boxes out of the containers that have not been properly prepared for disposal.

Bayne also said that, because of the weight of the tops of the containers, that he had submitted a diagram to the container company suggesting they put a different type of lid on containers to be put in residential areas. The weight of the present containers is thought to be too heavy for children to lift and Bayne's design called for a lid divided into sections.

Discussion also took place over the purchase of a bull dozer for use at the city dump, but no immediate action was taken.

Xmas Group To Meet Friday

Christmas Decorations Committee of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a meeting at noon Friday in the Hereford Country Club. Debbs Knox is chairman.

Vance Cobb of Odessa, representing the Foreman Decorating and Lighting Co., is slated to present several proposals for expanding and improving the decorations on Park Avenue, US 385, and the court house square for the committee's consideration.

Knox has described it as an important meeting with "important decisions involving a large investment."

Girl From Norway Living With Bells

By JANIE REINART
Staff Writer

"I expected to see cowboys, pistols, horses, hats, and some Indians here, like in the movies."

These were first impressions of Texas on the part of 17-year-old Elin Anderson, AFS student from Norway. Traveling from New York to St. Louis by air she then travelled by bus to Texas on the part of 17-year-old Elin Anderson, AFS student Amarillo and met her American family, the Charlie Bells, Friday morning at 11 a.m. "It was a very long trip but very enjoyable."

Elin lives in Vagsbygd, a suburb about the size of Hereford, near the large city of Kristiansand; population 60,000.

She comes from a rather small family. Her 23-year-old brother Dag is attending college, her mother Lill, teaches school, and her father Ingvald, is an engineer.

Her American family consists of three sisters; Becky 18, Sara 16, and Kathi 13, and one brother, David 10, including her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell. They reside on Harrison Highway.

There is no doubt why swimming and hiking are Elin's favorite pastimes since she lives near an ocean and forest. She spends much time during the summer walking in the mountains from house to house and taking daily dips in the ocean.

Since her arrival she has attended church with the Bells and enjoyed an evening swimming party in the Bells' backyard. She put forth her musical talents by entertaining newly made friends with her guitar playing. Mrs. Bell was "really impressed with her musical abilities."

Elin also plays the piano and soon to be a Hereford High School band member she will play the cymbals.

Her favorite subjects of study includes science, biology, and chemistry. In Norway the education system is somewhat different from that in the United States. A child must first spend six years in a primary school before going on to three years in a secondary school. The first nine years are the required education in Norway. Following this one may take three years of High School if so desired. Courses are then taken by the day instead of by the hour. Since there are six lessons the school week lasts six days. Sunday is considered "rest day" by students.

"It is not as hot in Norway as it is here!" was Elin's reply when asked to compare the summer temperatures in Norway with that of Hereford. However, she has an answer to the intense heat problem. "The heat is not so very bad. I just stay inside or go swimming."

She added that in her country the sun shines during the summer from 3 a.m. to 10 p.m. and in the winter from 9:15 a.m. to 4 p.m. Because of this the Norwegians don't sleep much during the summer.

Elin said she believes more vegetables and seasonings are used in this country than at home but she thoroughly enjoys American food. Norway has an abundance of fish and other main foods are potatoes, pork, and mutton.

She said Norway too has hippies who sit in parks and play guitars, have riots, and take drugs. They have heard of our race problems but do not have them.

Norway is very modernized; however, most families who have cars only have one, which is small and comes from Germany, England, or Sweden.

Something unusual has recently occurred in her country that Elin felt would be interesting to readers of the Brand. The Prince married a Norwegian girl instead of the Princess and this has never happened before.

A common topic of discussion among girls brought out this bit of information. In Norway teenagers begin going out at the age of 14 as we do here but begin to date at age 17. Because of the few cars there are no drive-ins but there are movie theatres. The way to date there is for groups of about 15 to go out together. Although some teenagers do date in couples the expenses are divided between the girl and the boy. According to Elin it is not rude or unusual for a girl to call a boy for a date.

Also, most young people marry there at the age of 22 or 23. Those attending college usually marry at 25.

Elin, who seems to be a very active girl, will be a member of the Pep Squad this school term. She said she hopes to meet the male foreign exchange student before school begins.

CAC Appointment Set

Castaneda Accepts Coordinator Post

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Ernest Castaneda, who has made Hereford his home during the past 23 of his 25 years, officially accepted the position as Neighborhood Center Coordinator before a special committee of the Community Action Corporation who met Monday night for the purpose of discussing this appointment, his salary, and future meetings of the CAC board here.

Hereford CAC board has set an open meeting beginning at 8:30 p.m. next Monday in the Community Center here. At this time, the 18-member board is scheduled to hear recommendations which will include a $600 monthly salary for Castaneda's position, a starting date of Aug. 19 as Neighborhood Center Coordinator, and future board meetings on the fourth Monday night of each month. Salary is paid by OEO.

Castaneda, who recently graduated from West Texas State University, with a degree in International Relations, actually began work last Monday with a study of the CAC in the Office of Economic Opportunity's Amarillo headquarters, according to Texas Panhandle CAC executive director Argus Burnett and William Cheshire of the center there, and returned Tuesday to complete the week with a study of the overall operations in "as many as possible" of the CAC centers in the 29-county area "to see how each of them operate."

Hereford is the tenth CAC opening in the area of Amarillo. Castaneda, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Castaneda of 121 Kibbe, reported that he had previously read some of the material on the program which had been given to him by Burnett and Cheshire "and I began to see what the program can do toward the benefit of all the people in Hereford."

He said he filed his application for the position "because it was a federal program coming into Hereford. My major was International Relations and I felt I wanted to go this route."

Hereford CAC officers and board members, who have announced their enthusiasm toward the introduction of this program here since it was placed before them for approval last April, reported they feel Castaneda's position to be the most important assignment in connection with the success of the program. His application, along with seven others, was discussed at great length last week. Included were remarks from the four Latin-American board members and other Latin Americans in attendance.

Castaneda's appointment was approved afterward by a wide majority in a secret ballot election. He was not present at that time.

"I've got to have the help of a lot of people, if this program is to succeed," Castaneda said. "Everyone has their own ideas. I must listen to them. They might have better ideas than I have. I must take everything into consideration."

He pointed out his belief that the CAC program here "will go toward a better understanding between all the people."

The objective of a community action program is to mobilize available resources within the community, public and private, for a coordinated attack on poverty. Not a "give-away" program, it was explained, but one of "self-help."

Community needs and resources differ widely. Therefore, OEO has not set any local See CAC, Page 2

"Batter Up!"

Baseball - Pony, Colt And Little

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Little League Baseball is an organization of baseball teams for boys 12 years old and younger (it's Tee Ball in Hereford for boys 7 to 9 years of age). Pony League covers boys 13 and 14. Colt League includes ages 15 and 16.

Each local league has become a separate agency of the United Fund.

Little League uses a diamond two thirds the size of a regulation baseball diamond, and games last six innings instead of nine. The players wear rubber-cleated shoes and use bats no longer than 33 inches. The ball weighs 5 to 5 1/2 ounces. The batter wears a protective helmet.

And these sizes and weights increase through the Pony and Colt leagues.

"Junior-sized" baseball was organized in 1939 by Bert and George Bebble and Carl Stotz of Williamsport, Pa. — which is the site of the Little League World Series each summer.

Baseball itself has been popular in Hereford from its beginning, and its first teams can be traced almost to the day Hereford was organized.

Rat Jowell was a member of a baseball team here in 1903. Jowell, one of Deaf Smith County's early sheriffs, appeared with other team members in exhibition games wearing "mother huddlers."

But baseball, dubbed "The Great American Pastime," actually developed from the game of cricket and an old English sport called rounders. Boston youngsters in colonial times played games called one old cat and two old cat, using one or two bases. Later they developed a game called town ball that had four bases and a batter's box between home base and first base.

Cricket enthusiasts in New York City developed a similar game called the New York game.

Abner Doubleday, who later became a noted Army officer, laid out a diamond-shaped field with four bases 90 feet apart in 1839 at Cooperstown, N.Y., and named the game baseball.

However, Alexander J. Cartwright, a New York City surveyor, designed the game almost exactly as it is played today. He established standard rules about 1845, and laid out the diamond with most of the distances used today. He also organized the New York Knickerbockers team.

For the record, the New York Nine beat the Knickerbockers 23 to 1 in the first matched baseball game, a four-inning contest on June 19, 1846, in Hoboken, N.J. (not exactly rated as the lightest game score-wise on record, though.)

The Cincinnati Red Stockings formed the first all-professional team in 1869. The players earned from $600 to $1,400 that year.

In 1871, nine teams organized the National Association of Professional Baseball Players. They were the Boston Bostons, Chicago White Stockings, Forest City of Cleveland, Forest City of Rockford, Ill.; Fort Wayne, Ind.; Kekiongas, New York Mutuals, Philadelphia Athletics, Troy, N.Y., Haymakers, and Washington Olympics.

The National League was organized in 1876, with teams in Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Hartford, Louisville, New York City, Philadelphia, and St. Louis. One of their first great heroes was Charles "Old Hoss" Radbourne — who pitched 72 games in 1884 for Providence, 38 of them in succession, and won 60.

The American League was formed in 1900 by Byron B. "Ban" Johnson, who had been president of the Western League. He asked the National League to recognize his league as a major league. The National League refused, and American League clubs "raided" National League teams for players.

The two leagues settled their dispute in 1903, and the American League became a major league. It had teams in Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, New York City, Philadelphia, St. Louis, and Washington D.C.

And far from any major league connections, Hereford men and boys interested in baseball were captured by its interest — which hasn't faded in 66 years.

From its national beginning, great players attracted fans to the baseball parks. Shortstop Honus Wagner led the Pittsburgh to National League pennants 1901-03. Christy Mathewson pitched the New York Giants to 1904-05 titles. Ty Cobb became famous for his great hitting and speedy, reckless base running. Grover Cleveland Alexander won 94 games from 1915 through 1917.

The "Babe Ruth Era" stressed home runs instead of defensive play and made baseball more popular. Millions of fans came to see "The Babe" smash home runs out of the park, then trot around the bases. Yankee Stadium opened in New York City in 1923. It became known as "The House That Ruth Built."

Other players also became famous. Lou Gehrig of the Yankees won the nickname of "The See BASEBALL, Page 2 guidelines, it was pointed out. Hereford's CAC will formulate its own guidelines as the program progresses here.

 Casaneda's role as coordinator is one of acting as liaison between all the peoples of the community and the CAC board, and aid toward mobilizing the many resources and consolidate them toward out-reach to the local disadvantaged. Board members have described the coordinator's job as "no easy task, and one that will require long hours of toil and patience."

 Yet to be determined by the local CAC board is a site for a Neighborhood Center.
 On the CAC board representing the disadvantaged of Hereford are Jesus Cano, Jesse Diaz, Noe Salinas, Arthur Gonzales, Jim Scott, and R. W. Botsford. Board members representing private citizens are Virgil Dodson, Rev. Gerald Mann, Father Michael Graham, Tom Albracht, Neil Cooper, and Mrs. George Turrentino. Representing public officials are city commissioner Roland Barton, county commissioner Marcus Latham, Lowell Sharp, Rita Huckert, James Gouley, and a member yet to be named from the hospital board. The board is divided into thirds.
 Commissioner Barton was elected president, Rev. Mann vice-president, and Mrs. Turrentino secretary.

CASTANEDA'S EXPERIENCE
 The new Neighborhood Center Coordinator was born at Vernon, Tex., on Feb. 21, 1944. At that time, his father was working on the Waggoner Ranch. About two years later the Castaneda family migrated to Hereford for seasonal work. The elder Castaneda became a welder's helper for Poarch Brothers. He is now a welder for Kenny Gearm Machine Works, where he has been employed the past five years.

Castaneda — who said that people who know him call him Ernie — has eight brothers and sisters. They are Mary Helen, Linda, Carmen, who is a senior at Hereford High School; Christine, who is a junior student; Richard, seventh grader at St. Anthony's, Jesse, sixth grader; and Edward, third grader. His married sister, Gloria Garcia, is a meter maid for the City of Hereford. Her husband is now serving in Vietnam with the U. S. Army.

Ernie began school at St. Anthony's and graduated from Hereford High School in 1963. He is a member of St. Anthony's Catholic Church. At West Texas State University, he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega. He is not married.

It seems that Irene managed to get near enough to shake hands and talk to "the second man to walk on the moon", Edwin Aldrin, Jr., while vacationing in the Houston area. Now she's trying to capitalize on the deal by charging a dollar to shake the hand that shook the hand of the second man on the moon.

"Had I been able to catch Neil Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon, the price would have been two dollars," she said.

Now this may have been a big deal with Irene, but heck, we'd much rather hold hands with Zsa Zsa Gabor.

This is the time of year when both teacher and student would appreciate a little air conditioning at the schools.

Cafeteria Seminar Conducted Friday

A School Cafeteria Workshop and Seminar — a "first" for the Hereford Independent School District — will be conducted here Friday.

Mrs. Ruby Smith, director of the school's cafeterias here, reported that local cafeteria employees have had to attend workshops at Amarillo and Lubbock in the past which made it inconvenient for some of them. "We are expecting a large crowd," Mrs. Smith said. "Most of our local employees (we will have 58 this year) will attend, and we have already received a total of 70 confirmations from out-of-town cafeteria personnel."

The workshop-seminar is to be conducted at Northwest Elementary School — in Hereford's all-electric installation.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served during registration from 8:15 to 8:45 a.m. Friday, Mrs. Smith reported.

First speaker is Roy Hartman, superintendent of the Hereford Schools, who will give the welcoming address. At 9 a.m., Elvin J. Schofield of South west Public Service in Amarillo is slated to give a 30-minute lecture on Use and Care of the Equipment.

Afterward, Norval A. Dahl of Raleigh W. Johnson & Co. of Dallas will discuss convection ovens. At 10 a.m., Ray Quade of Shurtenda Foods Inc. of Houston, is scheduled to speak on meats.

Swift & Co. of Dallas will cover baking techniques, followed by Institutional Foods by Gary Walsh of Arctic Food of Amarillo.

Noon lunch hour is to consist of the food specialties prepared by the speakers.

Aubrey Russell of the Russell Co. of Amarillo will begin the afternoon session with a talk on scullery operations. At 1:30, Tom Beene of Durning-Rentzel of Dallas is to demonstrate cooking with steam.

Frying techniques will follow with Ross Myer of Proctor & Gamble in Oklahoma City and Larry Fuller, Southwestern Public Service manager in Hereford, will speak on "Your Job Is Important."

Mrs. Smith is to conduct the closing session scheduled from 3 to 3:15 p.m.

Water Systems Spread Through Rural Texas

The age-old problem of scarce and unfit water supply is giving way to the growth of modern, city-style water and sewer systems in small towns and farm areas of Texas, according to James Gouley of Farmers Home Administration in Hereford.

The opening of the Madera Valley water system Tuesday, linking eight small communities in Reeves County south of Pecos, will mark the 500th water system completed in Texas' Rural Water Facilities (Po-Aiken) Program.

Development is carried on by local governments and non-profit corporations, with financing through the Farmers Home Administration, a U. S. Department of Agriculture agency. Texas leads the nation in the program, with 5,000 projects built or approved in the nation to date, Gouley said.

The first system in Texas was located at Golinda, in Falls County south of Waco. Golinda's system supplied 27 homes when originally built in 1959, now serves 70 after 10 years of community growth nourished by the water lines.

The Madera Valley system takes water from a deep well near the Ft. Davis Mountains in Jeff Davis County and distributes it northward to the vicinity of Pecos. A 127-mile pipeline system reaches the communities of Toyahvale, Baragosa, Brogoda, Saragosa, Verhalen, Alamo, Hoban, and Valley Farm. Four hundred homes, farms and other establishments will be served. The new system ends their dependence on water hauled from points such as Pecos and Balmorhea—only towns in the area previously equipped with water systems.

The Madera Valley system was built with a $871,000 Farmers Home Administration insured loan to the nonprofit Madera Valley Water Supply Corporation. With its completion, the advantage of modern water service now has been brought to 250,000 rural Texas people, in the past 10 years, Gouley said.

Letter To The Editor

Dear editor:

So that people won't be too disappointed when time comes to pay taxes, I feel that a correction should be made concerning misleading statements made by Bob Price in the Brand, August 14.

There is little relief in this tax bill for people in $5,000 to $10,000 income group. Over half of the relief goes to those with incomes over $10,000. Even after reforms 50 per cent will go to this group. Exactly one-third goes to the group with $15,000 and above. Only 10 per cent of the population is in this group.

Less than 25 per cent of the relief will go to those with less than $5,000. Thirty per cent of the population is in this group. There is very little change in the income status of those in the $5,000 — $10,000 group which is about 50 per cent of the population. By 1972, it is estimated that the average family of four may be paying slightly over $100 less on a $7,500 income.

Even though we are glad to see an improvement in our welfare policy, it is not an original idea of Nixon's as John Tower would have us believe. Nor is it at all a new idea. It has been talked about and written about extensively for over five years. I believe the idea originated with the ADA about 1963. President Johnson spoke of it several times with approval. It was part of Hubert Humphrey's campaign last fall and caused him to be called irresponsible by his opponent.

Thank you. Sincerely, F. Dickinson, 508 Lawton, Hereford, Texas.

For God So Loved The World

GOD is

John, the last prophet of the Bible, dreamed of a place where there would be no night. There is such a place. We live in an X-ray world. While we may not be conscious of it, a light is forever falling upon us. God's light falls upon this man. Brother, your could not make it alone! We must have Him. How foolish of anyone to try to walk in darkness... to walk alone. Why, you can't do it. Even the way to church is lighted, with His presence when you head that way. God watches over His children, and doesn't that make you glad? Look at the friendly, ever watchful eye of God pictured on our one dollar bill. He is watching over the destinies of our America. He will guide the steps of His children, if they allow Him... will you?

LET'S COOK SOMETHING

Cool Punch From Spain

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

This country's enthusiastic adoption of the cold Spanish drink called sangria — often made with dry red wine, fruit and club soda — has adventurous hosts whipping up wine and fruit punches.

Here's the latest recipe of this sort we've tried. It's a pleasant combination of red wine, cranberry juice cocktail and citrus juices — orange, lemon and lime — plus club soda. For an attractive garnish, orange slices and mint sprigs are added.

If you're interested in serving this punch at a big party, have a rehearsal first. Make up the following recipe (it yields a couple of quarts) and invite some neighbors to try it. Then if the punch suits your informal taster's, you can feel secure about doubling or tripling the amounts for a larger and more formal party.

You can serve this punch in a pitcher and use old-fashioned glasses. Or you can offer it in a punch bowl with its accompanying glass cups.

One handy reminder: the cranberry juice needed for this punch comes three ways — in pint bottles (2 cups), quart bottles (4 cups) and 48-ounce bottles (6 cups).

CRANBERRY WINE PUNCH
3 cups cranberry juice cocktail, chilled
2 cups dry red wine, chilled

1 cup orange juice
½ cup lime juice
½ cup lemon juice
½ cup sugar
1 small bottle (7 ounces) club soda, chilled
Orange slices and mint sprigs

Shortly before serving, into a large pitcher or other container turn the cranberry juice cocktail, wine, orange juice, lime juice, lemon juice and sugar; tail, wine, orange juice, lime juice, lemon juice and sugar; stir until sugar dissolves. Cover and refrigerate.

At serving time add ice cubes (if a pitcher is used for serving) or a small ice ring (if a small punch bowl is used for serving) and club soda. Stir and serve at once.

Makes about 2 quarts.

Note: If you like a very sweet punch, you may want to add as much as ½ cup more sugar. The tartness of the wine, the sweetness of the orange juice and the acidity of the lime juice and lemon juice will vary, so sugar can be added at your discretion. Be sure to use freshly squeezed and strained lime juice and lemon juice for best flavor.

Thinking Aloud

By BARBARA SWIMMER

Boy, did I ever make a booboo. My Newcomers In Profile feature this week was about one of the loveliest young women I have met here, but her name isn't Nancy, as I so often referred to her. Mrs. Peggy — I repeat — Peggy Furr was so gracious about the mistake I had made throughout the feature story. — Sorry 'bout that, Peggy and thanks for accepting my apology.

Mayhem's back... and I mean the whole kit and kaboodle litter. Our household is mass confusion at the moment, and guess who's looking forward to school starting. . . Mother.

The Emil Dettmans returned Sunday evening from a four-week trip through Alaska and Canada and from my conversation with Mrs. Dettman, they really had an enjoyable trip.

With a camping trailer, they drove to Prince Rupert, Canada, loaded their car and trailer on a ferry to Haines, Alaska, then drove to Fairbanks. From there they went by plane to Kotzebue, north of the Arctic Circle, where they visited the Eskimo villages and viewed their handicrafts and sports. The blanket toss, Mrs. Dettman said, is their favorite sport and is similar to our trampoline. It is made from a large piece of animal skin with hand grips attached to the edges. It is supported in the air by several Eskimos, with one person performing gymnastics on the blanket.

From there they flew to Nome, where there were also Eskimos and gold mines. She said they planned for gold and enjoyed seeing reindeer and dog sleds.

From there, they flew to Anchorage, looked over the earthquake area, then back to Fairbanks.

Back in their car again, they then drove on the Alaskan highway all the way back through Canada and back home.

Mrs. Dettman said the weather was so disagreeable, with rain, fog and even snow, they didn't have much use for the camping trailer. They stayed in it about three nights during the entire trip.

Our household is anxiously 1234567 8910 reasons why Maverick is the fastest-selling new car in automotive history!

Our little car is making a big hit. In its first 100 days Maverick has outsold every new car ever introduced. And every day more and more smart drivers are discovering the fun of owning the simple machine. Take a few minutes to find out why Maverick's so popular. Then take a test drive at your Ford Dealer's.

New Ford Maverick... the simple machine

- 1. LOW PRICE. Maverick is the best seller of the '70s at 1960 prices. And you get your money's worth. A complete car all ready to drive home.
- 2. LOW FUEL BILLS. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg. (Some Maverick owners report they get 25 mpg and better.)
- 3. 105 HORSES. Maverick's high-spirited Six gives you nearly twice as much horsepower as the leading import's engine. You get fast acceleration, easy passing.
- 4. PEOPLE-SIZED INTERIOR. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. Its front seat gives you nine inches more shoulder room than the leading import. Plus lots of leg room, hip room and head room.
- 5. EASY HANDLING. Maverick can outmaneuver the leading economy import. It can U-turn in a tighter circle, nip around corners and slide into tight parking spaces with amazing agility.
- 6. FEWER SERVICE CALLS. Maverick is actually easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import. Maverick oil changes come only once every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrications once in 36,000 miles. The leading import recommends an oil change twice as often and a chassis lubrication six times as often. (Maverick gives you economy without inconvenience!)
- 7. SIMPLE SERVICE AND REPAIRS. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You can change spark plugs, replace fuel filter, adjust ignition timing, and more. Even a smashed grille can be replaced in as little as 13 minutes.
- 8. WIDE-OPEN TRUNK SPACE. No more cramming in luggage just because you have a small car. Maverick gives you 10.4 cubic feet of luggage space—nearly twice as much as the leading import. (With Maverick, you can take it with you.)
- 9. SOLID DURABILITY. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. (And Maverick's 3-speed transmission is tough enough to handle twice as much horsepower as the engine turns out.) (Maverick may be little, but you don't have to treat it like a kid.)
- 10. BUILT-IN SAFETY. Unlike most economy imports, Maverick's tread is wider than the car is high. That means stability—mightily important when the road is wet or the wind is strong.

A 1967 Chevrolet driven by Earl Dean Jackson sustained an estimated $2500 damage and the 1965 Chevrolet owned by Knox Tremmel, which was parked, sustained $1500 damage.

A citation for negligent collision was issued.

In a business session of the meeting a 57 lbs. loss and 3 1/4 lb. gain was reported.

Miss Roberson Returns To United States

Miss Sandra Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deward B. Roberson, 310 Union in Hereford will be returning to Houston Saturday with 350 young volunteers, the Amigos de las Americas, from a summer of work in Central America.

The Houston based Amigos organization, in its fifth year of volunteer service in Central America.

They went through a war, gave over half a million inoculations, dug ditches and established among tens of thousands of Guatemalans and Hondurans that the United States has a mighty friendly face. All this was accomplished without spending a penny of government money.

The young volunteers, mostly in the 18-21 year old bracket, spend a three week term in villages so remote they often have to get there on horseback. The Amigos pay their own way, receive no compensation for their work and live with the people they serve.

The volunteers come from all of the 50 states and 10 foreign countries.

cedure with reference to the cut in acreage for 1970. However, one plan suggested is 90 per cent of the 1969 accredited acreage.

Another plan under consideration is 70 per cent of the 1969 acreage and 30 per cent of the average accredited acres for the years 1967-68.

However, it was reported that California is urging a plan of 90 per cent of the highest year of production for the past five years.

James W. Witherspoon, executive secretary and legal representative of the local beet growers association, stated that the California plan would not be helpful insofar as the Texas-New Mexico area is concerned.

"The most favorable plan" Witherspoon said, "would be the plan of 70 per cent of the 1969 crop plus 30 per cent of the average of the years 1967-68."

Jay Boston, president of the association, headed the meeting. Present from Holly Sugar Corporation were Eddie Daniels and Bruce Brown. Others from ASCS were D. W. McElwath, state executive director; Frank H. Hinkson and Eldon G. Schuhart II, members of the state ASC Committee; Terry Harman, farmer fieldman of District 2; and office managers from Moore, Dal-lam, Castro, Parmer, Oldham, and Deaf Smith counties.

The serving table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an attractive arrangement of kitchen utensils tied with blue bows.

$500 Damage In Accident Sunday

An accident on New York Avenue Sunday about 9:30 p.m. caused extensive damage to a 1962 Rambler driven by Mrs. May Wells Roberts.

Haiduk Aiding In Study Guide

Harry Haiduk, a doctoral student in insurance and instructor at the University of Texas in Austin, has been selected as a research associate on a project for the Texas Board of Insurance to write a book for use by the board as a study guide for prospective agents to prepare them for their licensing examination.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haiduk, Groom, and is married to the former Ariene Diller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Diller, Route 2, Hereford. They have a 3-year-old daughter, Celeste.

Haiduk is teaching a summer course in insurance in the Graduate School of Business and is research associate on a project to assist Dr. William T. Hold, assistant professor of insurance in the University of Texas Finance Department, who has been named by the Federal Trade Commission and Department of Transportation to head a study of the nation's automobile insurance assigned risk plans. This research will become part of the Department of Transportation's $2 million study of the automobile insurance industry in the United States.

The investigation will center on the over one-million automobile drivers in this country who are considered undesirable insurance risks. The major purposes of the research are the development of a profile of the high risk driver, the comparison of these drivers between states and an analysis of rates charged.

The ultimate goal of the research will be the development of a more efficient market for providing insurance coverage for the driver with a high loss potential.

Haiduk received his BBA and MBA from West Texas State University and was a member of the faculty there prior to the beginning of his doctoral studies. He did graduate work at Wharton School of Finance at the University of Pennsylvania in before enrolling at the University of Texas to complete his doctoral work.

Glady's Garden

By Gladys Howton Manjeot

Do you know what one of the lost arts is? The art of visiting is practically a lost art. When did you make a visit to an old friend or to welcome a new family to our town? I made some very interesting visits last week. Namely, two much loved old friends (not in years of age) newcomers, and to the gardens of some friends, both old and new. One of these was the home (or should I say garden) of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Ricketts of 521 Ave. J.

The Ricketts formerly lived on a farm, and about six years ago they moved to town. Having lived on a farm, they love the soil and understand productivity of both farm and other plants.

Just last year they celebrated their 43rd wedding anniversary. They keep in step with new ideas on horticulture, and enjoy working together in the yard. They have only their home and regular-sized city lot. Here they have created beauty — and many delicious foods.

Since we have just recently placed emphasis upon trees, let's think about fruit trees, etc.

The Ricketts have a small fruit orchard. It consists of two apricot trees, one cherry tree, one plum tree, three peach trees, and two apricot trees. Also, a number of varieties of grapes, and the vines are laden with wonderful bunches, from the deep purple Concord to the white seedless.

The peach tree which produced the most is a Hale, another is the Polly (they had ordered an Alberta and this was a substitute.) Another is a white meated peach, which Mr. Ricketts transplanted from the farm. Name unknown, it is a late bearing tree. I noted that not only do the trees produce well, but they have been well-cared for.

Mr. Ricketts has done a very fine job of tree surgery on some of the trees, and all have been properly pruned.

I asked how much the Hale tree had produced this year and he said between 5 and 6 bushels. The largest peach measured 10 1/2 by 11 inches. He also stated that usually the largest ones grew in the top of the tree.

There is where I would have had fun, as I used to always climb the trees for mother to pick the fruit, and I also just liked climbing trees. Yes, I guess I was a Tom-Boy.

Mrs. Ricketts had a large pan full of beauties (peaches) which she was getting ready for canning. I asked her if she used the new method, that of freezing, or did she use the open kettle method. She uses the latter and makes a medium syrup, which they both prefer.

Still another fruit which they grow is the tomato. This year her choice vine is twinning itself around the front porch column. Beautiful red, well-formed tomatoes hang among the verdant foliage.

After our visit outside, we went into the room where they keep their canned foods stored. There were hundreds of containers and so very attractively filled and prepared. As I looked I could in my imagination make many enticing menus from the food display.

I asked if Mrs. Ricketts did all of the canning. She quickly said, "Oh! no, Mr. Ricketts helps me with everything, and he seems to enjoy it very much." He had on just as attractive an apron as she and seemed to wear it with pride.

As I left their home I felt my life had been enriched, and I remembered: "He whose hand fashions a garden makes a kingdom of his own... conjuring a little Eden out of earth and stone; bringing into being things of beauty and of grace... thus he helps the make the world a fairer and sweeter place."

The other garden visited was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. DeRusha, 312 Western. They too had fruit trees and a peach tree that had produced generously. The fruit was so plentiful that they shared with their neighbors, who can vouch for its deliciousness and size, which was 8 1/2 x 9 1/2 inches circumference.

Mrs. DeRusha also grows vegetables and flowers. Her planting of flowers is such that there is a continuous bloom from early spring to frost.

One of the lovely things in her front yard was a mimosa tree. She told me that she kept the beans picked off so that it would not make the lawn so messy. I could tell that it would be well to cultivate her friendship because she loves flowers — and her grandchildren. Toys were here and there and one could tell that she lived a busy unselfish life.

I returned home via Mrs.

Monk Johnson's, and noted that they too had some fine peach trees, and she gave me a very generous sack full — also jelly that she had made. The jelly was delicious with the hot toasted gems (which Mrs. Besie Hill had shared with us.) Oh! yes, the apricot preserves were delicious, just yummy good like Aunt Bill (Mrs. J. B. Harlin) always makes. She has taught me much about jells, jams, and preserves.

Another friend with whom I frequently visit is Mr. Leon. He has many varieties of fruit trees, several varieties of plums (the ornamental dark red plums makes fine jelly), yellow cherries, dwarf plum, Delcon apple (which is a cross between the Jonathan and Delicious apple), dwarf peaches (their yield this year has been good), Hale peaches, and an almond tree. He also grows varieties of berries, and tells me they do well here.

Other fruit trees, not named, which do well in our locale are pears, many varieties of plums, numerous varieties of cherries, and different kinds of grapes. Nuts are also produced here, pecans perhaps the best, then black walnut (will wait and see how the almond produces). All these trees make wonderful additions to the landscaping as well as to the budget.

THINK! SEE! DO!
AIR POLLUTANTS DAMAGE PLANTS: Beltsville Md., "Scientists have found that polluted air, even in a typical greenhouse, can cut the growth of very susceptible plants as much as 50 percent."

Why do I mention pollution so many times? First, to make you think. Then if something is not done, the human race is going to suffer.

Make the watering of trees and other plants count by watering slowly either early mornings or evenings. Water thoroughly. Once a week should do in most cases.

Do not sprinkle roses, zinnias, phlox, and dahlias in the evening. This tends to make them develop mildew. Dig trenches around the roses, and dahlias, and slowly soak the soil. Before you water, take time to trim off the old blossoms, dried portions, or other unsightly portions of the plant.

I usually remove the lower leaves of the dahlias, those touching the ground. When the soil has become partially dry, after watering the roses should have a light feeding.

Look your garden and premises over carefully. Evaluate what you find. Would it be a good entry for the 'Beauty Spot of Hereford' for this month? Cleanliness, appropriateness of plantings, balance and proportion, color, relationship of plantings to the architecture style. This will be fun and should make you a better gardener.

Beauty Spots: Zinnias at the corner of Long and 13th; rock, wood and cacti garden at the corner of 13th and 14th Sts.; the nice showing being made at the Camp Fire Lodge, the golden colored calendula (Sunny Boy); the altheas at the Brumley home on Texas and the Jim Arney home on Douglas; geraniums at the Roy Botkins home, corner of Elm; profusion of roses at 305 Westhaven, Mrs. Mitchell; the red floribundas which have been so colorful and beautiful at the Seven Day Adventist Church, Park Ave. dahlias at the R. L. Mason home who also have a nice orchard; gorgeous, sunny golden glow at the Walter Kuper home (the two planting of purple carpet sweet alyssum at the Yarbro's on Kingwood; the White Cascade petunias, 123 Kingwood.

Make a list of flowers, shrubs, and trees which seem to stand the not dry weather the best. For example, vinca is one that takes the heat and dryness also marigolds, mos all varieties; zinnias, etc.

Hereford should be a beautiful place next spring when all the bulbs start blooming. Sales for The Pioneer Study Club have gone well. I have contacted at least 150 people, and have had only one refusal.

To our friends near Center Point (Art's Corner) we say many, many thanks for the delicious vegetables and fruits you shared with us. We appreciate you and your many kindnesses.

Another special Beauty Spot is the alley planting of zinnias and young fruit trees which the Herman Fords have planted (103 Elm) in their alley. It is really nice to look at from our front door.

If you really want to see some interesting things, filth, weeds, grasses (some Johnson), old castaways, and some pretty growing plants and gardens just drive down the alleys instead of taking the streets all the time. I do this at least twice a year, taking turns with different parts of town.

Our town can no longer be described as a clean, attractive town with so much litter, and weeds.

Yours for a prettier and cleaner Hereford. . . Glad.

- Same plug-in tubeless mini-circuits for fast, easy service.

Compact Quasar Color TV with the "works in a drawer" that slides out the back. That's what makes it compact!

Why the lower price on Quasar Color TV? Because Motorola made this Quasar TV compact... so the price is compact, too. But the tubeless plug-in solid-state mini-circuits haven't changed. You get the same solid-state dependability and fast, at-home mini-circuit service that the famous console model has.

Same solid-state mini-circuits for color, for sound, for picture, and so on. Same years-ahead dependability because mini-circuits are designed not to lose power, not to burn out the way tubes do. Same ease of service — if a mini-circuit ever needs replacing, another can be plugged in usually right at home, in minutes.

So, if you're looking for a "something better" Color TV, better look into the new compact 22 1/2-inch square inch picture Quasar Color TV. It has the big dependable difference at a low low price.

For people who want portability, this Quasar TV is available with a Free roll-about stand. WT675

Ice Capades Back In Amarillo Soon

Great family entertainment returns to Amarillo when Ice Capades opens its all-new spectacular at the Civic Center Coliseum Thursday, September 4.

The multi-magic of film and live action begins in the opening production "Skate-In". It's Skate's Waltz, the 1970 way!

During the number, each of the show's skating stars makes an appearance on the ice as their images are flashed in cinemascope across the motion picture screen in the set. The Corps de Ballet previews the incredible costumes that will appear throughout the show as they glide across the ice in yards of white fox and white mink and nearly 200,000 sequins and rhinestones.

Imaginative staging and innovative film effects has made Ice Capades stand alone when it comes to arena entertainment. They were the first to introduce Magic Screen, a film process which allowed skaters to dart in and out of a motion picture sequence. This season Multi-Vision, a technique requiring three screens and three projectors is used.

Film segments are incorporated throughout the show and highlight the "Rhapsody for Piano and Ice" and "Mission Impossible" numbers. "Rhapsody" is an original ice ballet written by the show's musical director James Harbert, and is introduced by a three-minute Multi-Vision film. "Mission" is a spy spoof featuring Agent Two Below Zero, the man from I.C.E. and culminates in a sensory freakout and psychedelic strobe-light show.

Children will delight in "Once Upon a Time", the number created especially for them. Scenery literally unfolds like the pages of an old-fashioned, three-dimensional story book.

Solo performances are spaced throughout the show. Topping the cast is Donald Knight, North American Champion; Japanese Champion Sashi Kuckiki; Olympians Roy and Sandi Wagelein; Canada's Cliff McArdle and Marc LeBel; Boston's Tina Noyes, making her professional debut, and many more.

Ice Capades will play Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum Thursday, Sept. 4 through Tuesday, Sept. 9. Evening performances are scheduled Thursday, Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m., Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., and matinees on Saturday at 2 p.m., Sunday 2 and 6 p.m.

You can order conveniently by mail. Send check or money order to Ice Capades, Civic Center Coliseum, P. O. Box 1971, Amarillo. State number of tickets, price, date and time of performance desired.

it's TIME FOR BACK TO SCHOOL

Following what seems to have been an all too short summer, the bells of education will be dusted off and struck up again next week, signaling elementary, junior high and high school students back to the classrooms.

And, with the coming of school, parents, teachers, administrators and students will be caught up in the rush to get things in order for next Wednesday's grand opening. Halls and classrooms that have been silent from student and teacher work for several months, will be revived once more and teachers who have taken that all-to-well deserved three month vacation, must begin getting their work in order.

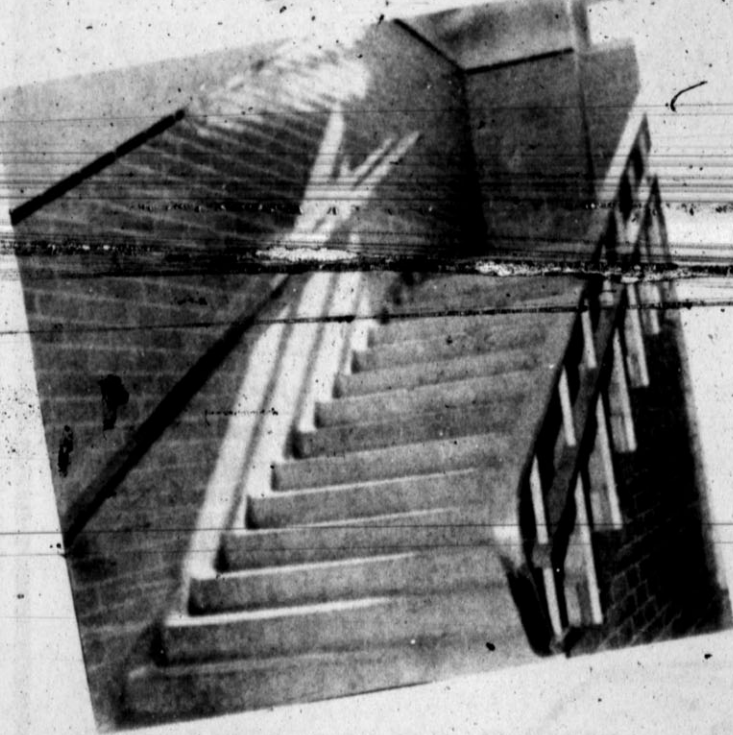

For some teachers, it will be their first experience from behind a desk looking out at a classroom filled with smiling, shy faces looking back. For others, it will be the start of another year of more and different adjustments.

As always, with the opening of each school year, clubs and organizations will be getting their feet on the ground and one of the newest additions is the newly formed girl's Pep Squad.

Taking a great deal of attention will be the launching of the 1969 football season brought on by the sound of cleats digging up the grass and coaches' hoarse voices screaming corrections and words of encouragement to their masters of the gridiron.

This Costs Texans $ 2 MILLION A DAY

YOU HELP PAY THE BILL

The way cars are being wrecked and the way folks are being injured and killed in traffic accidents, it looks like this year's Texas traffic toll will top $800 million. This figures out to be more than $2 million a day and that is a lot of money!

When you pay for your auto insurance you help pay this bill because most of your insurance rate is for the amount of money insurance companies pay for traffic accidents. Add to this the amount they pay for autos destroyed or damaged by collision, fire, hail, theft and pilferage. Lower these amounts and your insurance costs will go down. Raise these amounts that insurance companies must pay and your auto insurance costs will have to go up. It is as simple as that.

Here are three ways to cut your auto insurance costs.

1. Help reduce the number of Texas traffic accidents. You can do this by driving the very best you can and by insisting that traffic laws are enforced in your town, county, and state. Let your Mayor, County Officials and Governor Smith know that you want all traffic laws enforced.

2. Help cut down on car thefts and vandalism by locking your car and taking the keys whenever you park. Always try to park your car in a safe place.

3. Ask your insurance agent to show you how you can save money on your auto insurance by taking full advantage of the Driver Education, Two Car and other discounts now offered in Texas.

Auto insurance costs will be cut in Texas after accidents and their costs go down. You and other motorists of Texas can bring this about... if you really want to. IT IS UP TO YOU!

FIGHT BACK!

Fight the price/cost squeeze on your wheat with NITROMITE. Shamrock's new brand of anhydrous ammonia. A preplant application of NITROMITE speeds early growth, producing lush, high-quality forage (and plenty of it!)—an important factor if you plan to graze cattle this winter. And the cash crop? NITROMITE delivers the most usable nitrogen per dollar to help increase yields without increasing cost appreciably. So come harvest, even if prices are low, you make out. If they're good, you'll be the big winner. Put down NITROMITE now. It'll give you a fighting chance in the marketplace.

WHAT DOES EVERYDAY LOW DISCOUNT PRICING MEAN?
It means making your EVERYDAY grocery need available at a LOWER TOTAL COST. Safeway does not have "sales" because every item is on "sale" everyday of the week. There is no need to wait for any food item to go on "special" before you can buy it. Safeway's prices are available everyday of the week. Cutting prices for weekend "specials" necessitates making up the loss by higher prices on other items....Compare Safeway's EVERYDAY LOW DISCOUNT PRICES and you'll be convinced that Safeway Discount is the place to SHOP and SAVE.

LIFE WITH DAKTARI: TWO VETS IN EAST AFRICA

By SUSANNE HART
 DAKTARI means doctor in Swahili, and the author's husband Toni Hartthorn, is one of the best-known vets and animal scientists in Africa; indeed, he served as prototype for the central figure of the beloved TV series.

NOW I SEE

By Charley Boswell
 One morning in November, 1944, as American tanks punched into Germany, Captain Charley Boswell was caught by a soaring explosion. After agonizing months of surgery and uncertainty, he faced the crushing realization that he would be blind for life. For the former University of Alabama football star, a crack athlete with hopes before the war of a career in professional baseball, blindness seemed an insurmountable obstacle to normal existence. Then Charley Boswell was introduced to the world of blind golf.

Old-New "GWTW" Again In Hereford

By EARL MOSELEY Staff Writer

Mrs. John Marsh was a newspaper woman whose only literary brainchild, "Tomorrow Is Another Day," the story of a southern belle named Pansy O'Hara, won a Pulitzer prize, the American Booksellers Association selected it as the outstanding novel of 1937, and it became one of the best-selling books of all times. The motion picture version of the novel appeared in 1939 and set an attendance record which was not broken until "The Sound of Music" surpassed it in 1967.

The motion picture version, now 30 years old and in its sixth reissue, has made a return appearance in Hereford for a one-week's booking on a two-day showing basis.

But Mrs. Marsh, who spent ten years writing the book on a piece-meal basis, had her brainchild published under her maiden name, Margaret Mitchell. Her publisher, who first read the manuscript on a train as he traveled back to New York from Atlanta, suggested that the title be changed to "Gone With The Wind" and the leading character's name to Scarlet. She followed his advise.

David O. Selznick, who had formed an independent company in Hollywood that same year under the name Selznick International with its pictures scheduled for release through United Artists, took a screen option on the book from galley proofs. A long book, he decided to make it a long motion picture. Where the average movie of the day would run five reels, he extended "Gone With The Wind" to 13 reels (3 hours 40 minutes) and placed an intermission at the end of reel six. He also included an overture and exit march which extended the overall length to approximately four hours.

But at the beginning he had his problems. The public had already selected Clark Gable, at the time MGM's top star, to play Rhett Butler, the male lead. In order to get permission to sign Gable for the role, Selznick had to agree to release his picture through MGM (and eventually sell all rights to MGM in the 1950s).

But the selection of the star for the role of Scarlet O'Hara became a press agent's dream. Russell Birdwell, a man who had begun his career as a newspaper reporter at the University of Texas, built up a campaign for the selection of this star which lasted over two years.

But it was Selznick's brother, Myron — a competitor in the movie business — who finally located the personality to play Scarlet. It turned out to be an English actress with practically no movie experience, Vivien Leigh.

Sets were constructed long before Miss Leigh was signed. Therefore, Selznick began filming of the picture with the burning of Atlanta — so that he could remove all the old sets and build new ones. Before filming was completed, Selznick had used three directors — Victor Fleming, George Cukor, and Sam Wood.

It received its world premiere in Atlanta — and has been re-premiered there with each re-issue. However, its longest run is recorded in London, England.

This last time around only one of its top stars is still living — Olivia de Havilland. Miss Leigh died in 1966, Gable passed away in 1960, and Leslie Howard went down in a plane crash over the English channel in 1942, while reportedly on a government mission during World War II. Selznick is also dead. So is Mrs. Marsh.

This death list also included Oscar winners for best supporting actors Thomas Mitchell and Hattie McDaniel, the first Negro performer to receive such an honor. Miss Leigh and the picture itself with director Fleming also won Academy Awards.

But its Technicolor photography was another thing. Selznick once more was ahead of his time. Although the picture was photographed 15 years prior to any form of widescreen, he believed in wide panoramic shots in all of his pictures. While many of the old standard sized films have a tendency to "crop heads," Miss Mitchell's brainchild-on-film only encounters this problem once or twice briefly throughout its entire length.

On this reissue, MGM tried something new. Their laboratory took "Gone With The Wind's" original 35mm negative and blew it into a 70mm release print for road show engagements. The sound recording department also created stereophonic quality from the original flat sound track.

After 28 years, it was again something "new." Reseated engagements — including a run of many weeks in such cities as Lubbock — were highly successful. In fact, its gross was so high they were reportedly "astounded" by its acceptance from the present generation.

But MGM decided to re-release it in 35 mm too, so that such theatres who are equipped only in this size — such as Amarillo and Hereford — could show it. (Amarillo has already completed its booking in the 35mm version).

The story content is not dated, anyway. It reflects the Confederate view of the Civil War. For general audiences, Gable's

Frank Cain At Ft. Benning, Ga.

FT. BENNING, GA. — B. F. Cain II, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Cain, 104 Elm, Hereford, has completed the nation's only basic ROTC summer camp as a member of Company C, Sixth Battalion.

Conducted for the third consecutive year by the Training Center's 2nd Brigade, the six-week camp has doubled in size since the 1967 camp.

Unique in its concept of providing active-duty training in lieu of two years on-campus study, this camp differs in many aspects from the normal basic training cycle.

Each cadet attending the camp is a volunteer, under no obligation to continue the entire six weeks; therefore, those completing the program are highly-motivated young men.

Covering basically the same course of instruction in two weeks less time, the cadets receive greater emphasis on tactics and leadership. Each cadet at some time served in a leadership position, be it squad leader or platoon leader. The graduation ceremonies were conducted entirely by cadets.
