Sights and Faces Seen

The American Legion Auxiliary reported a total of $2,435.15 in bond and stamp sales during the Molly Pitcher Day drive Wednesday. Sales showed $2,062.50 in War Bonds and $372.65 in stamps.

It just takes a good idea and a little publicity to get any job done. County Judge Fred Baird recently wrote an interesting letter on the subject of cheering the flag and singing to the picture shows, "bouncing ball tunes." At an owl show at the Texas, two days after the appearance of his letter, the audience really chimed in on the singing shorts.

L. G. T. Higgins spent Tuesday and Wednesday of this week with his parents. He is located at Tullahoma, Tenn.

The navy finally decided that they could get along a few days without Elmo Hicks, who is visiting with his family this week. Elmo looked over the old crate in which he and Jack O'Quilland navigated the Terra Blanca in a history making run—and confidently told Jack that no sailor in the U. S. Navy would be silly enough to try the trip, including himself.

Ardelle Morgan is back on the job at the bus station, returning Wednesday from Clovis where she was called last Saturday to replace an agent who was ill. Helen Acker handled the local station during Ardelle's absence.

Some of those army censors could learn a few tricks by hanging around The Brand office and listening to vacationers. (Continued on Page 10)

Court Cites Law Preventing Damage Of Paved Highways

Pointing out that more than $200 damages had been done to the South Main Street road by the operation of tractors with lugs on the pavement, the Commissioners' Court today pointed out that rigid enforcement of the state law against such operations will be made in the future.

"This includes crossing or running on paved highways with lug wheels, pointed plows or any other implement or vehicle which might damage the highways," court members stated. "We will be forced to file charges against all violators in the future, and we ask your cooperation in avoiding any trouble along this line."

USO Proves Popular With Soldiers During Month of Operation

By Mrs. John Olson, U. S. O. Supervisor

Although no big announcement was made, the USO opened its doors in a very pleasant "Temporary Location" — the Firemen's Hall, on July 1, 1943. The equipment committee worked all morning assembling the furniture and by the time the soldiers came in "the situation was well in hand." Fifty four registered the first night.

The men have seemed from the first to appreciate the center and more every day are availing themselves of the privileges. The register shows that they are from all sections of the United States, from Maine to California and from Washington to Georgia. There are only about six states missing and men from them may have come but did not register.

The center is primarily for reading, writing, music, games, and talking. The three ping pong tables are the most popular of all with table games and letter writing a close second. The average attendance is about 40, there have been as few as 10 and as many as a hundred. They come and go and then come back. Sundays are usually the biggest days.

There have been about 40

Some Helpful Hints to Prevent Loss in Canning

"Victory Canning" is this year a near-necessity, but sometimes fails to be quite as easy as pictured on the pretty posters.

In fact, scores of home canners, including many women who have had considerable experience, have been losing large amounts of canned foods. Telephone calls have been answered early and late in the Home Demonstration office on "Why did I lose the liquid from my jars."

The following 10 tips on how to prevent loss of liquid in jars was compiled by Miss Winifred Jones, Food Preservation Specialist, Texas Extension Service, and is presented in hopes of assisting "Victory Canners" this season:

1. Have food HOT when sealed and seal AIR TIGHT before processing.
2. Fill containers full if food is hot when sealed. If not there must be room for air to expand and the container cannot be sealed air tight. Always have 1-2 inch of liquid over food. For greens, shelled peas and beans and corn, it is best to have about 1 inch of liquid above food; and in hominy, 2 inches of liquid is more desirable. Greens should not be packed too tight, because heat cannot penetrate to the center.

3. Have good equipment. If pressure cooker gauge does not register right or if cooker leaks steam, there is more danger of losing liquid.
4. Always exhaust the cooker 5 to 7 minutes before closing petcock in beginning step.
5. Keep pressure even. Fluctuations of temperature draw out liquid.
6. Do not let pressure go too high. If safety valve pops off it causes liquid to be drawn out.

7. Let gauge return to zero and remain for a minute or two before releasing petcock, then release it slowly.
8. When lid is taken off, leave jars in cooker from 10 to 20 minutes before moving. If moved too soon or tilted a little while the liquid is boiling inside the jar, it often boils out or prevents a perfect seal.
9. Never open jars after processing to add liquid if it has been lost. The lack of liquid does not render the food unsuitable to eat. It may not be as attractive or have as good a texture, but it is safe.
10. In water bath the loss of liquid is due to jars not standing level, jars packed too full, not boiling evenly and continuously, and water not covering jars at least two inches.

Court Docket Light As July Term Begins

Faced with an extremely light docket, the July term of District Court opened Monday morning. Two divorce cases were granted in record time and the juries were dismissed.

The grand jury also convened Monday, Aug. 2, was impaneled and sworn in, and adjourned until Aug. 10.

The petit jury called for the second week did not appear, having been previously notified that their services would not be required, due to the light docket. This policy has been adopted throughout the entire district by Judge Jas. W. Witherspoon in an effort to save unnecessary expense to the taxpayers.

In connection with juries, District Clerk Robert Thompson points out that all juries, including the grand jury, will be subject to call at any time between now and the next term. This policy is in keeping with the new court regulations which retain courts in session at all times.

Budget Hearing Set For September 7th

The hearing on the City budget, announced in last week's Brand, will be on Sept. 7 instead of August 7, as stated in last week's story. The date as stated in the official notice last week was correct.

The hearing will be held at 10 o'clock, A. M., Sept. 7, and all taxpayers and other interested citizens are invited to attend.

L. H. Andrews of Tucson, Ariz., will arrive in Hereford this week and will assume his duties as Minister of the Church of Christ, delivering his first sermon next Sunday. He succeeds Minister H. P. Cooper, who recently accepted a post in California. Min. Andrews will be accompanied here by Mrs. Andrews and their eight-year-old daughter.

Church of Christ Names Andrews Local Minister

Announcement was made this week that Minister L. H. Andrews of Tucson, Ariz., has accepted the position of Minister of the Church of Christ.

Min. Andrews comes to Hereford highly recommended by members of the local congregation who state that he is a faithful gospel preacher whose conduct is beyond reproach. He was a student of David Lipscomb College in Nashville, Tenn., for several years and studied under H. Leo Bales, A. G. Freed, S. P. Pittman and other noted Bible teachers. Mrs. Andrews was also a student in the same college.

Min. Andrews has spent 20 years in the ministry; seven years at Pontiac, Mich., three years at Boulder, Colo., and the remainder of his time at Tucson, where along with his regular congregation, he assisted in conducting radio broadcasts for the Church of Christ in Arizona over ABC network.

"The public is cordially invited to hear Min. Andrews at 11 a. m., and at 8:45 p. m.," members said, "and every member is requested to be present."

Western Union On West Third Street

The Western Union Telegraph office this week moved into the location at 102 W. 3rd. Street, where it was located until one year ago when it was moved into Close Drug.

The office went back under direct company management, due to the large volume of telegrams from this point. Miss Dorothy Nell Adams is manager of the local office, assisted by Mrs. Virginia Cornell, who has been attending a special school in Plainview.

Gene Worley Will Speak Here Aug. 18

Expressing plans to be in Hereford Wednesday, Aug. 18, Congressman Eugene Worley said that he would include this community in the itinerary which is carrying him to every town in the 18th District.

Mr. Worley will speak on the courthouse lawn Wednesday evening, Aug. 18, beginning at 9 o'clock. R. L. Thompson, Chamber of Commerce President, said today.

Mr. Worley plans to visit several potato fields, the Hereford War Prison Camp and other points of interest before making his talk.

"I am anxious to talk before every person in the entire district," he said. "I want you to know about some of the problems which are coming up, and I want to get your ideas about other things. I hope as many as possible will attend the gathering Aug. 18."

Row Crop Hopes Taking Place Of 1943 Wheat Crop

With estimates varying from 1,200,000 to 1,500,000 bushels, the 1943 harvest fell far short of last season, when the yield for this territory his approximately 8,000,000 bushels.

Harvest, which started off with 90-and-above tests, dropped during the latter weeks to tests as low as 50. Rains during the harvest season also proved expensive to growers, who gave up with low yields and intensive weed growth. Some persons even gave the remainder of their crops to persons who would cut it, but most of these deals failed to prove profitable, not even paying for combine work. The greenbugs and early drought were reported as responsible for most of the crop loss in this area. Hall

Statement Shows County In Good Shape

Reporting a percentage of 93.7 in collections on 1942 taxes, the comparative statement for Deaf Smith County was this week released for publication by the Commissioners' Court.

The percentage of collections was thought to be the highest in the history of the county and will probably be one of the highest in the entire state. Last year the county reported 86.8 percent collections, which was considered exceptionally good. Probably the lowest percentage of collections was back in 1932, when approximately 50 percent was reported.

Delinquent tax collections also showed an upward trend on the statement; 1942 showed $9,439.43 as compared with only $3,494.79 for 1943.

The statement likewise found Deaf Smith County in excellent financial condition. Of a total of $145,252.32, the county disbursements were $73,683.83, leaving a balance of $71,568.49 on hand June 30, 1943. It is also interesting to note that $20,000.00 of the disbursements was placed in U. S. War Bonds, bringing the current assets to actually $91,568.49. County indebtedness totaled $23,712, having been incurred in the county hospital and State Park purchase. Deducting the indebtedness from the balance on hand, Deaf Smith County is considered in the top ranking few financially sound counties of the state.

A boost of around $3,000 was noted in automobile registrations, despite gasoline rationing and tire restrictions. However, a large number of construction trucks helped boost this amount due to construction of the Internment Camp.

Mercury Hits 105 Mark For August High

Residents of this community saw the hottest weather during the past week which has been recorded here in August for many years. The two really hot days were Monday and Tuesday, both of which saw the mercury soar to the 105 mark.

Considerable argument resulted as to which of the days was really the hottest, but thermometers gave Monday a slight edge. Monday showed 105 1-2 degrees, while Tuesday was close with 105 degrees. The nights were fairly cool, however, which has done much toward saving gardens and row crops.

Although hotter weather has been recorded in June during recent years, readings this week were presumed to be a new record for the month of August—at least for the past few years. Temperatures recorded in Hereford by the West Texas Gas Company thermometers were:

	Max.	Min.
Thursday	98	66
Friday	92	66
Saturday	93	67
Sunday	97	71
Monday	105 1-2	70
Tuesday	105	69
Wednesday	97	65

Rainfall Wednesday night measured .17 of an inch.

Ward Revival Opens Sunday, August 8th

That a revival meeting will start Sunday, Aug. 8, in the Ward Community was announced this week. Hardy E. Stevens will be in charge of the meeting, which will continue through Sunday, Aug. 15. Services will be held each evening, beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

Rev. Stevens was recommended as an exceptional preacher and the public was invited to attend each of the meetings.

Viola Phillips Takes Post With American Airlines

Miss Viola Phillips left Dallas yesterday by plane for New York City, where she will take a five-week training course prior to becoming a reservationist for the American Airlines, Inc.

Miss Phillips will be located at one of five American Airlines stations in the Southwest upon completing the course of study. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Phillips and a graduate of Texas State College for Women at Denton. For the past year she has been employed in Hereford. She was accompanied by three other Texas girls who will also be employed by American Airlines.

Ag Writer Sees Future For This Irrigated Area

Pointing out the comparatively low price of land in the Hereford area as compared with other irrigation districts in the Rio Grande Valley, California and Idaho, Victor H. Schoefelmeyer, agricultural editor of the Dallas News, said recently that the Hereford territory has barely begun to develop.

Mr. Schoefelmeyer made a brief tour of the Hereford potato fields, visiting the Wm. Hodges and J. J. Paetzold farms and several processing plants. He came here as the guest of H. M. Bainer, agricultural agent for the Sante Fe Ry. Co.

This is his second visit here.

Soldier Injured In Car Accident

Pvt. Ray Bisetti, Hereford Prisoner of War Camp soldier, suffered a broken leg and severe bruises Friday night, July 30, when he was struck by an automobile three miles west of Hereford on Highway 60, according to State Highway Patrolman J. C. Reese.

Guadalcanal — "Land of Living Hell" To Vernon Wederbrook of Marines

"A land of living hell, where death lurks behind each tree, and only the lucky ones come out alive," is the way 21-year-old Marine Corporal Vernon Wederbrook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wederbrook, describes Guadalcanal during the hectic days of occupation.

On August 7, Corporal Wederbrook was launched on Gavutu, a small island with only a block and one-half of surface, located between Guadalcanal and Tulagi. His squadron was part of the Third Battalion Second Marine Corps under Col. Hunt—and their orders were to "mop up" the island and report back.

"And certainly none of us suspected what awaited us on this strange, tropical island," says Vernon with a grin. "Went in Naked."

"We went in under fire. The first thing you do is dig a fox-hole and then get set. We were as naked as when we were born, except for guns and knives strapped about our waists. Fortunately, the Japs thought our landing was an air raid. They abandoned their beach fortifications and ran for shelter. This gave us a chance to get entrenched—and we held on."

Potato Yields Averaging 150 Sacks to Acre

Farmers and workmen this week swung into the business of harvesting, packing and shipping Hereford's 1943 potato crop, which is expected to run slightly more than a million dollars.

Yields, as usual, varied widely—running from 110 sacks an acre to 275 sacks of field run potatoes. Bliss Triumphs, Cobblers and White Rose Varieties were being harvested this week and yields were averaging around 150 sacks to the acre.

Growers and processors estimated roughly that 3,500 acres have been planted to potatoes in this territory and practically all were guessing that the 1943 crop would gross slightly more than a million dollars to growers in this section.

Potato prices were said to be jumpy, however. Number 1 cobbler were running from $2.50 to $2.65, with Bliss Triumphs about the same. White Rose, which is now scarce on the markets was going at the ceiling price of $2.80. Producers saw little worry on price fluctuations, due to the government floor of $2.25 and the ceiling price of $2.80 on all No. 1 grade potatoes.

Despite the jumpy prices, demands for Hereford spuds were said to be good this season. Potatoes from here have already gone into army camps scattered over Texas and New Mexico, while dealers were shipping carload lots into numerous other states.

Another improvement for the shippers was the pre-cooling service on all potatoes shipped in cars. By means of this service, the moisture is taken from the cars and the temperature is brought to a low degree; potatoes are then sealed in the car, arriving at their destination cool and dry.

Owen Finland also sold Hereford's first full carload of turnips, approximately 650 sacks. He received $35.00 a ton on the car.

County Over Bond Quota for July

With July bond sales totaling $34,347.50, J. C. Ricketts, Deaf Smith County chairman, today said that this county passed its July quota of $31,400.00 by a margin of $3,947.50.

"Bond sales in Deaf Smith County are running on an average of about what our quotas call for," Mr. Ricketts said. "In June we were a little bit under, but the amount over in July balanced things up."

Bond sales in 1943 totaled $343,422.25 while bond sales through July, 1943, amounted to $411,235.50.

Guadalcanal — "Land of Living Hell" To Vernon Wederbrook of Marines

Shortly after the landing, however, the Marines discovered that the Japanese were housed within pill boxes made of two inches of steel and covered with 14 inches of concrete.

"We got on our 'walkie-talkie' and radioed a destroyer. They came in with six-inch guns and blew the boxes to hell. From this point on, the best and luckiest man won."

Hand-to-hand fighting was the basis of the entire campaign, he says. Strictly guerrilla warfare was the only means of fighting on the small spots. The two islands, Gavutu and Tulagi, would cover about three square city blocks. They were infested with 1600 Japanese Imperial Marines (the best Japan offers) and he estimates that 400 U. S. Marines were wounded to date.

Coffee Is Given For Dallas Visitor

Chatting over coffee cups, old friendships were renewed, intervening years discussed and family interests were recalled Thursday morning when Mrs. W. E. Dameron entertained at her home with a morning coffee to compliment Mrs. A. L. Wilfong of Dallas, one-time resident of Hereford.

Mrs. Wilfong, the former Miss Willa Rhone, was head of the music department of Hereford Christian College and many incidents of those days were remembered including concerts given by the college glee club, individual music recitals, as well as the proverbial fun. The honor guest who has kept up her musical training during the years, also entertained the group with a group of vocal selections.

Decorations for the coffee table centered around four tall cornflower blue candles which flanked a silver bowl of pastel shaded blossoms in the center of the table. A deep-cream Quaker lace cloth covered the table and appointments were in silver. Mrs. F. H. Oberthier poured, assisted by Mrs. C. H. Dyar. Others in the house party were Mrs. Harry Seed and the hostess's daughter, Miss June Dameron.

MRS. JOHN McLEAN, Society Editor — Phone 181

Some housewives think they haven't begun to make pickles until they get their bread and butter pickles off their hands. One good reason for that is that almost any size of cucumber may be used for this particular type of pickle, even the large ones that are not so well suited for other methods. Here is a recipe used by Mrs. N. E. Gass who recommends it for beginners. She got it from Mrs. Edith Hughes who says it has been a stand-by in her family for years.

Let's Cook Something

Bread and Butter Pickles

Fill a gallon stone jar with cucumbers sliced thin. Slice one large onion and stir in with cucumbers. Pour over this one cup of salt, cover with cold water. Let stand over night.

The next morning mix the following ingredients together:

- 2 pints vinegar
- 2 pints sugar
- 1 pint water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon black pepper
- 2 teaspoons celery seed
- 2 teaspoons ginger
- 2 teaspoons mustard
- 2 teaspoons cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon turmeric

Bring the liquid to a boil, add the cucumbers which have been lifted out of the salt water and drained, and bring just to the boiling point. Pack in jars and seal while hot.

(Note—If cucumbers are allowed to boil the pickles will not be crisp.)

In 1942 Mrs. R. A. Frye at Dawn planted "Ruddy", a new variety of red raspberry. From the twelve plants in 1943 she picked about 2 gallons of berries. They sucker and grow long canes which will supply more plants readily.

The same variety was planted in 1943 by Mrs. J. Fields Matthews and the pruned plants as set out had a good crop of berries. This variety is sold by the same nursery which introduced the Bison tomato and the Danmark and Victor tomatoes for the High Plains.

A special meeting for the repair of furniture will be held at the Sales Pavilion (Bull Barn) on Friday, Saturday and Monday, August 20-21-23. Those who work will supply all equipment needed.

Two chairs were reconditioned at Hippus Club meeting on July 28 at the Home of Mrs. C. E. Ricketts. One was a rocker which was recovered in imitation leather. The other was an occasional chair belonging to Mrs. Stella Thuet. The rocker was done by Mrs. Ricketts and Mrs. J. G. Fortenberry, while Mrs. Thuet supervised the work on the other chair. Many assistants were available.

In a corner between the stove and refrigerator, her husband built a large pantry-closet and used old material. It is good-looking and convenient the way it is finished.

Mrs. Russell intends to repair and refinish a favorite rocker. Three screws and a cushion will be needed. The children remember vividly their pleasure during evening hours when they were small as the two bigger babies sat on the arms of this rocker and their mother held the little baby during a visiting period before bedtime.

Before the boys left for the army, the A. S. Higgins home was rebuilt. Mrs. Higgins and Wilma plan to complete more of the interior work this summer. They have paper for two bedrooms and paint for all the interior woodwork. The floors of four rooms and the hall are to be finished.

One coat of stucco has been put on the outside walls and they plan to have two more put on before winter. When equipment can be located, the kitchen will be finished. The cellar is an excellent storage place for crates of large white infertile eggs.

More buffalo grass has been set by Glenn Ricketts home. They plan to move the fence on the south side farther back so as to make the shade of an elm tree more conveniently reached. That spot is a convenient work place for the preparation of vegetables. At present it is fenced out and the chickens are a nuisance. More grass will be needed for a side-back lawn after the fence is moved.

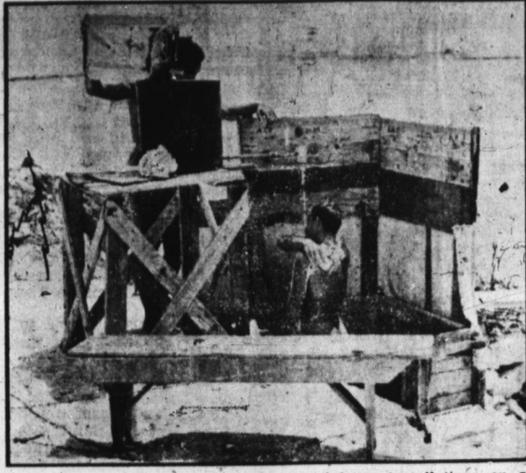

The flowers are being cleared out of the front yard in accordance with present landscape practice. Grubworms have done considerable damage this year.

One oka plum produced a few choice fruits this year. These were freestone and juicy. After eating them Mr. Ricketts said that he hopes to plant two dozen next year.

Boysenberries did not winter kill because the canes were covered with pummies. The fruit this year was superior in quality. A daughter, Mrs. Howard Higgins, planted twenty-four Hansen bush cherries in 1941. In 1942 she used them fresh. In 1943 she canned more than a dozen quarts and shared others with relatives. She used a cherry seeder to remove the stones. She added lemon juice to destroy the astringent flavor. Her brother says that they make real cherry pies when lemon juice is added.

Hanska is a cherry-plum hybrid recommended for the Fort Bend Country. In Ire Jean's garden it has grown a large tree and no fruit at all.

Canning Peaches

If 16 points and 20 cents will buy three and one-half peaches, how much can you afford to pay for a bushel of peaches? Based on these facts, Mrs. Ray L. Coleman of Messenger has decided on her plans for the season.

In the CHD Cooperative orders, peaches cost $3.00 per bushel at the orchards—and none are shipped, except where baskets are sent for them. One hundred and thirty-five persons have sent checks for more than 400 bushels to be hauled by Packard trucks.

Below is the copy of a letter from Miss Minnie May Grubbs, district agent, which will be of value to all persons who are canning this season:

"Dear Miss Maynard:
"The home canned pumpkin which caused the death of four people in Santa Rosa, New Mexico, was canned in December, 1942. No pressure cooker was used. The pumpkin was first cooked, then placed in jars and finally subjected to a water bath. Very little sugar was used. We were unable to determine how the pumpkin was treated before serving, as the persons affected were unable to talk. From the appearance of pumpkin found in a cooking dish, I would suspect that the pumpkin had not been cooked after it was removed from the jar.

"Two unopened jars of pumpkin and a sample pumpkin from a cooking dish were taken from the trailer where the victims lived. One unopened jar was obtained from the woman who did the canning. All unopened jars and opened samples were submitted to the Public Health Laboratory. The laboratory reported that the three unopened jars showed nothing of interest, but the sample obtained from the cooking dish contained Clostridium botulinum Type A.

"Since the first samples were submitted to the laboratory, I have located four more jars of pumpkin from the same canning and I am submitting these to the Public Health Laboratory. If you are interested in the laboratory findings, I will be glad to submit a copy of the report to you.

Yours truly,

Former Local Boy Caught Between Fires In North African Campaign

The following excerpts regarding the African campaign were taken from a letter written by Pfc. Haskell H. Runton to his sister, Mrs. Ervin Robinson of this city. Haskell will be remembered by his friends as "Jack" and is the son of C. Runton, former resident of Hereford. The letter was passed by censors, but no excerpts were made.)

NORTH AFRICA, June 11, 1943
Will try to tell you some of the things we have been going through. This is the first time I could write anything about it that has been going on over here. All of this happened some time back. Our business (Engineer's Water Supply Company) is to furnish water to the front lines. We are right up with the boys who are fighting. Sometimes our business is pretty rough. There is one experience that I thought you would like to hear about.

Five of us were sent up to a point without a car to anything to travel in. The fighting was just across a little valley from us and we could watch it every day. The valley was about a mile and a half across the center through which ran a road called "Messerschmitt Lane" because the Jerrys strafed everything that went down it. The valley was called "Stuka Valley" because they dive bombed all of the Yanks or French who went across. We had some thrilling experiences there. One Sunday we were strafed about every 30 minutes. From two to ten Messerschmitts would come over; it kept us busy running for shelter all day. We would lie flat on the ground and pray that they would miss us. On Monday things got worse. The Stukas started dropping 100-pound bombs, which made the most terrifying screams you ever heard. They came over real high, circled once or twice, then started peeling off one at a time and diving straight down with their motors wide open. They came at you at 500 miles an hour and it sounds like they have a siren on them. When they get down to 700 feet they let their bombs go and you think the earth is coming apart. They come about 30 seconds apart, and with quite a boom.

Well, we made that alright until Tuesday at noon when five more of our fellows came up to relieve us and we went to a point at Sfeila. That night the Jerrys came to Hadjib and we have not heard from those fellows yet.

We got into Sfeila and about the time we got things underway the fireworks started about two miles south of us between tanks. Eight German 62-ton tanks met five of our medium tanks. We watched them play hide and seek. Some sport. We saw the Yanks knock out three of the big Jerrys. We watched them until about two hours after dark and it was a pretty sight after night-fall. All of the different colors of lights in the sky which you might see on the Fourth of July—then everything got quiet.

Finally we went to bed in an old bomb-torn building. We were just sleeping good when all at once we awoke on the floor and the house was shaking like an earthquake. We ran out and it looked like the whole world was on fire. The Yanks had blown up their own ammunition dumps. I went to a railroad station to see an officer and try to find out something. It turned out that we were the only ones left in town. The ammunition dump was just across the railroad from us about an eighth of a mile. The bombs and shells started falling close to us, so we went into a huddle and started out north. We walked about a mile and a half and came across the five Yank tanks we had been watching all afternoon. I talked to a Lieutenant and he told me that we were going to try to hold the town, so we tried to get a couple of hours of sleep, but got very little.

About 5 o'clock in the morning we decided that the Yanks were going to loose the town so we walked back to get our equipment. It was getting light by that time and the Jerrys usually open up with all they have. We could see them just across the tracks a little way, and the Yanks were about three miles to the north. We got about half of our stuff loaded into a three-wheel trailer when between 50 and 75 Messerschmitts came off strafing. It was about 6:30. We made for the shelter and it was around 12:15 when we got out. The German planes came over one wave after the other. A few minutes later around 100 Spitfires came in and chased the Jerrys away.

We jumped out and loaded everything except our big water tank in a hurry and started pushing the trailer out of town. When we got about 30 yards away I threw a grenade into the big tank and finished that. We pushed the trailer a little over a mile when we met five officers in a jeep. They said they were going back to our lines and we asked them to pull the trailer as far as they were going and leave it beside the road. From this time (6:30) until 1:30 the Yanks were firing 75's and 105's and the Germans were firing 88's over our heads. We were in between them, closer to the Jerry than to the Yank. While we were walking out we had to pass an old Roman ruin. The Yanks had an artillery battery in this ruin and just before we got there the Jerrys put an 88 mm right in the middle of it; there were nine men in there and three got out. We would walk away then the Jerry planes would send us in to the dirt. The road was lined with burning trucks and cars. Finally we came to our trailer and

WHAT SAVED BRITAIN in the blitz of 1940? Some authorities say that the defeat of the Luftwaffe can be credited chiefly to a difference of only 13 points in octane number!

While the Germans had only 87 octane aviation gasoline, the good planes and gallant pilots of the R. A. F. had 100 octane. This gave the Royal Air Force reduced fuel consumption, and greater horsepower for faster climbing... greater altitude... extra maneuverability.

Phillips and the American petroleum industry are today supplying great quantities of 100-plus octane gasoline. This super-fuel increases enormously the fighting effectiveness of U.S. and all United Nations war planes.

No wonder the British Prime Minister is never more confident than when predicting great air offensives to devastate Germany and Italy, to lay "the cities and other munitions centers of Japan in ashes."

Thanks to its long-range program of peacetime research, Phillips Petroleum Company was one of the first to take 100 octane aviation gasoline out of the laboratory and into mass production. The making of these American super-fuels is not merely a refining process; it is actually the synthetic production of chemicals!

That is why we say: Every time you see the Phillips 66 Shield, let it remind you that Phillips refineries, in addition to producing gasolines, lubricants, and fuel oils, are also gigantic chemical plants pouring out weapons for victory.

G. R. Ward, of Hereford, was shot and killed last Sunday morning. The tragedy occurred at Mr. Ward's ranch about 17 miles southeast of Hereford. The weapon used was a shotgun. A renter on the Ward place went to Canyon and surrendered to the sheriff, later being released on bond.

It would seem that the trouble between the two men began over the shutting of a gate which allowed stock to get from one pasture to another.

fought and existed on these islands for three months before they came.

Ate Fish Heads

During this 90 days the Marines captured their supplies from the well-stocked Japanese larders, according to Vernon, who adds:

"The food sure got old. It consisted chiefly of dried fish heads, Jap beetles, rice, Salmon and Sachi, a strong Japanese drink."

Japanese cigarettes they also found plentiful—and of fair quality. He also pointed out that the Imperial Marines are probably the best equipped and best fed of the entire Japanese forces, as well as being the best trained. They carried 90 rounds of ammunition, a .25 calibre rifle, a cloth helmet and a haversack.

"They were very neat," he recalls, "we often found boards in the haversacks by which they tried to keep their clothing pressed."

Cpl. Wederbrook, like most other veterans of battles, is more or less reluctant to talk about his experiences, but sometimes when he forgets and talks a little bit, you can catch a gleam in his eyes, which probably makes him the typical fighting Marine.

Some of the things which he says he shall never forget as long as he lives are:

When the army finally came into Guadalcanal and the soldiers captured around 80 Japs. The group was passing a small hill accepted by a few Marines. The marines machine-gunned every Jap.

The night an 18-year-old Marine killed a Jap, took a wallet from the dead man's pocket—and found that it had belonged to his own brother, containing pictures of his mother, father and sister. The boy went crazy. Slept With Dead Jap

The night he was sleeping in a foxhole, all of which were filled with water and blood, and a sentry killed a Jap who fell into the hole. Vernon says he just pushed the Jap on in and slept on top of him, keeping fairly dry.

"Sawing Machine Charlie," a Japanese plane which always came over at exactly midnight and awakened the Marines. "Whistling Pete" was their name for a Jap six-inch naval gun which constantly shelled them.

The Marine graveyard on Guadalcanal, approximately two by three miles square.

The two Marines captured by the Japanese. The fingers, toes and ears of the Marines were cut off and their bodies soaked with gasoline and ignited in an effort to destroy morale of the Marines. He says it did just the opposite—and is one of the many reasons they took only three prisoners out of the 1,600 Japanese.

The night of Nov. 13, when a 100-ship Japanese convoy approached to take Guadalcanal. Marines saw this fleet with sinking hearts, knowing that all was lost—and Admiral Halsey's Pacific fleet came into view. It was the greatest thrill he ever had.

A Japanese soldier who said he had three years in U. C. L. A. and was going back after the war to finish there. He told the Marines that they might lose Guadalcanal, but that Japan still had their impenetrable line from San Francisco to Louisiana—a fact which he firmly believed. All of the Marines will testify, however, that the fellow will never attend U. C. L. A.

Morphine tubes found upon each dead Japanese soldier. He says that morphine is the secret weapon of Japan. It makes the soldiers fighting mad.

An American Flying Fortress nearly always getting five or Marines swimming in pairs, while 15 other Marines stood guard to watch for patrolling Japs.

The night a marauding Jap slipped through the lines and struck him, on the spine. Vernon was paralyzed and still suffers from the lck.

Staying on the lines by choice after eight malaria attacks—because it was safer than the hospitals, which Japanese planes invariably bombed.

Gets Decorations
Cpl. Wederbrook was in five campaigns: Tanaroo River, Bloody Gulch and Cocobona River. He has five decorations, including the Offensive and Defensive Guadalcanal medal, Marine Expeditionary Medal, American Defense bar, Southwest Pacific bar and a special bar by Presidential citation to all Marines in the Guadalcanal conflict.

He says the people of New Zealand realized that the Marines kept their country and that nothing was too good for the boys. Vernon stayed with one family 22 days in New Zealand and was treated like a king, despite strict rationing and acute shortages in the country.

"You don't think about home or anything else much," he says. "You don't know whether you will live—and you get to where you don't care. The boys who came through were those who had 'Jui-Jitsu' and 'Scout and Sniper' training and, above all, who were lucky."

Vernon says the regular army is far too soft for real fighting, but he knows the Japs will never re-take Guadalcanal. Many of the Marines who fought with him are now at Munda and Rendevoux.

Due to his spinal injuries and current malaria attacks, Cpl. Wederbrook was sent back to the states. He arrived in Los Angeles on June 25, went into a hospital, and arrived here on July 27.

On July 5, he was visiting a girl in Beverley Hills, picked up a Life magazine—and for the first time learned of the death of his brother, Roy Wederbrook, who he proudly terms a Shanghai Marine, who had died in action in the Philippines. Vernon marched over the next morning and again signed out for foreign duty.

He will remain here until Aug. 15, when he reports to Norman, Okla., for hospitalization, following which he goes back into service.

"Yes," he said, "if I were starting out again, I would go right into the Marines. I am proud of the record our Hereford boys have made with the Marines. One of the biggest thrills I had was meeting Earl Lance on Tulagi and later running into Lt. Chas. Spradley, Elmer Matthies and Buford Luttrell in New Zealand. We certainly did celebrate.

The accident occurred around 8 o'clock. Pvt. Bissetti had left a parked car and crossed the road to talk with occupants of a car on the other side. A truck drove down the road and he crossed behind it, apparently failing to see the approaching automobile which struck him. He was returned to the camp hospital for medical treatment.

The car which struck Pvt. Bissetti was driven by Mrs. Chas. Guessman of Cupertino, Calif., who was accompanied by another woman. Both women were wives of Lieutenants who were driving to meet their husbands in Omaha, Neb.

Jimmie Allred and Willard Osburn, amateur magicians, entertained members of the Hereford Lions Club for 30 minutes Wednesday at noon. Club members were about ready to put them in the professional class when the program finished, and Dubbs Pitman still wants to know where Willard Osburn put the egg which he made disappear. Anyway, the boys have a swell act, which is worthy of the title of legerdemain.

Here are some of the things the USO needs: Home cooked meals, apartments, rooms, subscription to Amarillo News, subscriptions to magazines, cigarettes, matches. Of these the home cooked meals are most demanded; the boys sit around and plan menus for real, home cooked foods. If you want to take a boy out to dinner, just contact the USO center.

Harold Glose says he is going to renew acquaintances since he has moved the Western Union from his drug store.

We waited for the story—and the egg—to get old before mentioning this, but Mrs. J. L. Look-ingham of Summerfield last week brought a "whoppin' big" egg in to the Brand office. The egg, which was laid by a New Hampshire Red hen, measured 9 1-4 inches the long way and 7 1-2 inches around and weighed five ounces.

The exceptionally high percentage of taxes paid was attributed to the fact that "people have more money" by County Judge Fred Baird. "Too, people are becoming more tax conscious and realize that they are 'the county,'" he added. "Notices are being sent more promptly than in past years, but it is chiefly due to the fact that the people have the money with which to pay them."

damage and late rains did the rest. True to their calling, however, farmers were busy plowing this week and scores of others were irrigating feed crops.

Many farmers are expecting more cash revenue, either thru direct sales or through cattle feeding, from their feed crop than from their wheat. Row crop prospects were reported as excellent at the present time, although hot winds and dry weather are reported to be doing extensive damage.

arrangements for the Wyche community to entertain 25 soldiers July 31st, and the Rebekah Lodge to have a picnic for 30 soldiers on Aug. 6. We secured a list of wives of service men living in Hereford for the Federated Council of Church women so that they might invite them to a tea. There were approximately 94 names on this list.

We have found rooms and apartments and even a baby's bed for the men. We have met trains and busses for them.

The last two weeks we have had the pleasure of having the men from the Air Corps stationed here on the salvage drive use the Center. They have kept us from being too lonesome while our boys are restricted and we are happy to have them here with us.

Although there is still a good deal to be done toward making the boys feel at home here, we hope that a beginning has been made which will lead to more hospitality. As we become better acquainted we hope that we can prove to the boys that we are a friendly people and happy to serve them.

Miss Mabel Milburne left today for her home in Oklahoma City, after a week's visit in the home of her brother, N. E. Milburne.

Guests in the J. H. Miller home are Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. M. S. Gatewood, and sister, Miss Katherine Gatewood, both of Fort Worth. A son, Alton Miller and family have returned to their home in Plainview after a two day visit here this week.
