Hear ye, Hear ye. For all you civic minded people who never seem to find a way to entertain guests at a club meeting or banquet, your problem is solved. The City of Hereford now possesses its own stage band.

Hereford High School band director, Ben Gollehon, has started a stage band among the instrumental musicians of HHS. For one hour each day they will stray from concert and marching type selections and concentrate on more of a jazz rhythm. Gollehon said, "This organization is devoted to playing popular and TV background music."

He also stated that one of the qualifications for the participants is that they must be a member of the concert band. "The stage band gives the more gifted kids a chance to show their stuff with more difficult material."

According to Gollehon, the music department of Hereford High had a stage band four years ago. At this time they won the "Doc Severinsen" award but had to discontinue the group when the marching band was named honor band of the State of Texas. These students were then obligated to spend most of their time working on programs for the honor band.

This organization will be available to play for events such as dinner banquets and civic clubs or community functions that do not include dancing or alcohol, Gollehon stated.

Doc Severinsen and his orchestra performed in Lubbock at the beginning of this school year. The HHS stage band were present to hear his concert and get a better understanding of the correct style they will be trying to imitate. Gollehon said, "Severinsen's band will be used as a sort of 'guide copy' for us."

The main problem of the group now is simply getting booked to perform.

Stage band contests such as the ones at Texas Tech, Dallas, and Brownwood will be entered by the musicians. They will be able to enter in competition more because of the limited number of participants.

Sport coats and dresses, a more casual dress, will be worn by the band in their performance instead of the school uniforms.

"Members of this group are very fortunate to have this opportunity," said Gollehon, "because many schools do not have the seven period school day such as we do to work this extra class in."

The band has not derived a name for themselves yet. The previous Hereford High stage band was called the "Lamp-lighters", which is also the name of the bull mascot in the hall of high school, but Gollehon said this year's band has not yet chosen a name.

Kevin Young, Donny Coker, and Nancy Fisher make up the piano section of the stage band while Wayne Sterner, Denny Hicks, Mike McCathern, and John Ambo hold the trumpet slots. The other members of the band are Randy Jones on the bass, David Watts, Ronnie Matthews, David Owens, and David Hensley with the trombones, and Mike Higgins, and Tony Hardin keep the beat with the drums.

The saxophone section, the largest portion of the band, include Kay Euler, Connie Waldner, Gary London, Joe Pesina, Joy McCathern, Deborah Wilson, Shan Banks, and Jana Denton.

Gridsters Face Injury Problem

By JERRY ODOM
Staff Writer

Injuries galore headline the problems of coach Larry Wartes and his Whitefaces this week as they prepare for the Dalhart Wolves. At the top of the crippled list are running backs Alan Wagner and John Frank Martin who sustained leg injuries in last week's game against Phillips.

The greatest part of the Hereford ground attack now rests upon captain Richard Lyons and fullback Ricki Ward who will take the largest part of the responsibility of toting the football.

Potential all-state tackle Tony Gorman will still be sidelined for tomorrow evening's contest with a leg problem he received in the Pampa game. Substituting for him is lineman Johnny Wall who was favorably commented about by coach Wartes.

The Dalhart game could possibly be the biggest non-conference game of the season for Hereford as it will be their last chance for preparation before district. The Whitefaces have thus far redeemed their record as to what it read a year ago at this time.

The Whitefaces will have to get their passing game — which has been their weakest aspect of the 1969 campaign — going to march into district with a well-rounded team.

When the Dalhart Wolves roared out on Whiteface field in 1968 they received the biggest surprise of their grid season. The Herd inflicted pain on the northerners in every way that can be imagined in a football game. Driving the pigskin for yard after yard and pouncing upon Wolf running backs about the time they took the hand-off became the biggest factors in this contest.

Quarterback Ricky Heiskell will be the field general for the Wolves and one of the main fellows who remembers last year's 27-13 score. His prime aerial target is end Gary Packer. Halfback Stanley Hughes will be delivering the football through the same defense which continuously halted him last year.

The locals are favored to win this game in the polls but this will mean very little in Wolf-land which boasts the football tradition of winning.

Beet Crop Faces Hurt Due To Cut

James Witherspoon, executive secretary of the Texas-New Mexico Sugar Beet Growers Association, in an announcement this week concerning the recent cutback in beet acreage for 1970, stated that the cutback is more than likely going to have a tremendous effect on the local acreage.

"Exact figures for the area here have not been given," Witherspoon reported, "but no matter what they are, they are going to hurt us quite a bit."

City Council Has Light Meeting

City commissioners, in their regular meeting Monday night, had a very light session, discussing only two items on the agenda and taking no action on either.

Discussion and possible action on public and-or private housing was delayed by commissioners until they were allowed time to confer with housing specialists from the Housing Urban Development committee.

In discussing two bids submitted for lease purchase proposals of a crawler tractor — one by Plains Machinery and the other by West Texas Equipment — the commissioners agreed to table the matter until further investigation could be done into the matter. After hearing statements from representatives of West Texas Machinery concerning their bid, the commissioners decided to table the issue until they could find the time to look into the purchase of a used tractor, for use at the city dump grounds for clearing pits.

"It looks to me like the cutback will be approximately 5,000 acres," he added, "from the Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro counties because of the additions of acreage allotments by Great Western in Dumas and around Dalhart."

The Agriculture Department reported last Friday that the beet acreage allotment for 1970 will be the first restrictions set on the crop since 1966.

This year's allotment, which is 1,600,000 acres, is expected to be cut considerably for the 1970 year, to only 1,450,000 — a reduction of some 210,000 acres.

The 1968 sugar beet crop, which set a tonnage record, was nine per cent less than the expected record for this year. The 1969 crop is expected to produce 27.7 million tons of beets making this a 44 per cent increase over the 1967 acreage.

About 30 per cent of the nation's annual sugar requirement is provided by domestically grown sugar beets, about 10 per cent from sugar cane and the remainder from offshore suppliers, including Hawaii, Puerto Rico and foreign growers.

Texas' acreage allotment has been set at 40,784 acres in the effort to balance future need so that production will not surpass the carryover and quota requirements.

According to department officials, possible acreage allocations included:

Arizona, 26,845 acres; Arkansas, 58; California, 293,290; Colorado, 172,178; Idaho, 178,093; Illinois, 799; Indiana, 42; Iowa, 2,140; Kansas, 29,662; Maine, 19,532; Michigan, 83,450; Minnesota, 144,253; Missouri, 176; Montana, 81,003; Nebraska, 77,628; Nevada, 1,096; New Jersey, 572; New Mexico, 5,460; New York, 15,638; North Dakota, 83,915; Ohio, 33,454; Oregon, 21,687; Pennsylvania, 1,000; Texas, 40,784; Utah, 30,908; Washington, 56,393; Wyoming, 58,943 and held in reserve, 1,000.

Grain Meet Tonight

Texas NFO president Don Kimball of Amarillo has announced a special meeting beginning at 8 p. m. at the Deaf Smith County Bull Barn and has invited both NFO members and non-members for attendance. However, all members have been urged to attend.

Kimball said the meeting is for a discussion of grain sorghum prices in the area.

School Board And Journalism News

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Trustees of the Hereford Independent School District Board heard reports on the high school journalism class, received a belated approval of the Veterans Education Program, heard that it is impossible to "read and comprehend 1,000 words per minute" on the subject of the high school reading course, and encouraging enrollment, cafeteria, transportation, and tax office reports during their 5-hour session one week ahead of their usual monthly meeting date Tuesday night.

Date had been set back by the trustees so that 13 local administrators and teachers could attend the annual Child Migrant Workshop next week in McAllen.

Superintendent Roy Hartman introduced journalism teacher William Penn to the trustees, who in turn, described the activities of his nine students towards publication of the bi-monthly newspaper, The Whiteface, and their radio broadcasts for KPAN each school day.

Concerning the school's newspaper, which Penn said is written and edited by the class, set up at the Hereford Brand and published at Southwest Offset, the staff now has the opportunity to develop and print their own pictures through Graphic Arts instructor Marvin Hunter's facilities, which they did not have at the beginning of the newspaper and "now everything is running real smooth."

Penn said Hartman had approached him on the subject of daily news broadcasts and had given the class a talk on the subject of "real professionalism." Penn reported that students now begin taping the broadcasts at school each morning at 10:45 via telephone to the radio station for replay during the afternoon. They have also received sponsorship, he said.

Roy Faubion and Darrell Rose of KPAN were present during the trustee meeting and offered their comments. They also played back a student tape.

Faubion said "We are not teaching broadcasting per se. This is journalism. The students have to write their own scripts. I personally would like to see this method catch on in every radio station in the country."

He said that Penn is sent a critique on the broadcasts following each program, as to delivery and quality of performance. "Two student segments have already been used on our regular news broadcasts. And they have done a real job! They are learning to gather news from tips and how to meet deadlines."

Faubion also reported that students have "specials" coming up at KPAN and they are scheduled to go to the studios and prepare them.

"They are treated exactly as if they were on our payroll," he pointed out. "The students do not hear their tapes after they are recorded. If they want to hear them, they have to tune them in when they are played for the public."

Faubion stated, "I have also discovered there is more spirit in the high school now than I have ever seen before."

Rose reinforced Faubion's statement with his report that KPAN and the high school had attempted broadcasts last year but they had proved unsuccessful at that time. "The kids then didn't seem to take it seriously. But this year it has been completely different and has worked out real well."

Hartman also pointed out the differences in style regarding radio and newspaper journalism. "I have discussed this matter with representatives of both media and have learned that it is necessary for them to have entirely different approaches toward reporting the news. I believe the public should realize this," and I am glad that our journalism students have the opportunity to learn both phases."

Penn said that Laquita Robison is editor of The Whiteface and that Susan Balden is radio editor.

VETERANS APPROVED

Hartman reported he had received approval notice from the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco for high school credits dated Sept. 15 with an approval date of Aug. 25. However, he said it had been received this month through no explained reason.

"We have had veterans returning from Vietnam who have a desire to finish high school under the G. I. Bill," Hartman said, "and discovered that our school was not officially approved for it. But we felt that this is real important. If these veterans want to finish school, we felt we should provide a facility for them." He said that application for approval was prepared by Secondary Coordinator William Phillips.

Through not having received this approval notice in August, he pointed out, there had been some confusion toward veteran enrollment. "But the veteran may certainly enter now under his G. I. Bill provision."

Afterward, Assistant Superintendent Robert Holman offered his report on the current high school reading course and made statements regarding Speed Reading.

"This program was started 8c SCHOOL, Page 2

Sheriff Injured In Pickup Wreck

Ed Roberson, Deaf Smith County Sheriff, received numerous bruises in a one-vehicle turnover Saturday evening a about two miles south of the Dawn community.

Roberson, who was traveling alone in his 1959 Chevrolet camper pickup, stated that he was caught by a side wind that whipped the pickup to one side. When he attempted to straighten the vehicle up, he lost control and it overturned.

Roberson was taken to Deaf Smith County Hospital where he was admitted. He was released Monday morning.

Fiesta Mexicana Opens Season

Hereford Community Concerts president Bill Thompson reported that it is imperative for both past and new members "to get their memberships in as soon as possible" prior to the weekend deadline and in advance of the first imported production, "Fiesta Mexicana," booked here Tuesday at Hereford High School auditorium, immediately following the close of the membership drive.

Only members with season tickets will be eligible to view the attractions lined up for the season. Ferrante & Telcher in Piano Portraits is booked for Feb. 13, 1970. Another attraction is also scheduled to be announced for the season with the added possibility of a fourth one, it was announced.

Membership chairman is Mrs. Joe Reinauer.

Direct from Mexico City on its fourth coast-to-coast American tour is Javier de Leon's extravaganza, "Fiesta Mexicana," with a company of 30 dancers, singers and musicians.

"Fiesta Mexicana" is described as a panorama of dance and musical traditions of Mexico from the pre-Hispanic Aztec and Mayan civilizations through the folk and popular dances of more recent years.

During its first three extended U. S. tours, "Fiesta Mexicana" received the kind of American press acclaim it had known earlier on overseas tours. Before the show had been applauded across North America, it had established an international reputation. In such cities as London, Paris, Madrid, Berlin, Naples, Honolulu and in Japan, the critics were as enthusiastic as the audiences.

No small part of the company's success is directly attributable to the lavish costumes worn by the artists. From his childhood de Leon was fascinated by Mexican folklore. By reading much of his country's history — and by making countless visits to museums and other archives — he became very much an authority on a wide variety of subjects. Such knowledge was put to expert use in producing his show.

De Leon personally supervised the reproductions of the plummed headdresses, the fantastic masks, the intricately ornamented jewelry which comprised the glory of the Aztecs and Mayans.

First part of the program will bring to life the legends of the ancient, majestic culture with all its beauty, mystery and earthiness. Second part is modern.

FIRST ATTRACTION — When Javier de Leon's "Fiesta Mexicana" appears here Tuesday in the Hereford High School auditorium as the first season attraction of the local Community Concert Association, masks and plumed headdresses of the Artec and Mayan nations will be very much in evidence — as shown here by a portion of the company of 30. Admission by membership only, these memberships must be concluded by Saturday.

Olson Wins At Dallas Fair

Judging results of Pan-American Livestock Exhibition at the State Fair in Dallas revealed that Steven Olson of Hereford has placed high in three categories.

Steven is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Olson of Frio. He took first place honors in the Junior Heifer Division of the show and second spot in the Junior Bull Calf section. Rounding out his awards, Steven took second place honors for the Pair of Calves contest.

Ward, Paetzold Players Of Week

Ricki Ward, representing the offense, and David Paetzold, representing the defense, took laurels as "Players of the Week" in last week's game against the Phillips Blackhawks.

In the 15-4 win over the Blackhawks, Ward, filling in for the injured John Frank Martin, bulled his way for 100 yards on the ground. Ward is a 152-pound Whiteface junior.

For the defense, Paetzold was credited with nine unassisted tackles and was in on 12 others. He is senior who tips the scales at 178 pounds.

Paetzold was also selected, along with Richard Lyons of the Whitefaces, as honorable mention in the class AAA Amarillo

Hackers Listed Fair Wednesday

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hacker were reported in fair condition at a hospital in Tucumcari, New Mexico late Wednesday afternoon, after both were admitted following an accident there this week.

Officials at the Tucumcari hospital reported that both Mr. and Mrs. Hacker would be well enough recovered to return to Hereford within the next few days.

No other information concerning the accident was available at press time Wednesday.

Mrs. M. T. Burlsmith Attends YHT Council

The Area 1 Young Homemakers of Texas Executive Council met Saturday in Plainview to make plans for the coming year.

Howard Wright of Lubbock, representative of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, Inc., talked to those present about his organization.

Mrs. Ben Holcomb, state parliamentarian, gave a report from the State YHT Executive meeting and a preview of the State YHT Convention to be held in Galveston, January 15-17, 1970.

The Council decides to purchase a copy of the "YNT Slide Story" for the Area to use in reaching new members and organizing new chapters.

The decision was made not to have a Young Homemaker College this year, but to concentrate on the Area Convention to be held September 12, 1970.

After reports of plans from each officer, the council voted to postpone the making of a new handbook until spring. All information needed by each chapter before that time will be mailed soon.

The deadline for all awards applications was set as September 1, 1970.

Appointed to the budget committee were: Mrs. Tommy Garrison, Mrs. Gordon Lowrey, Mrs. David Prewitt, and Mrs. Ben Holcomb. This committee will meet in Silverton in early February.

Attending from Hereford was Mrs. M. T. Burlsmith.

Old Timers Feted By Assembly Of God Church

"Old Timers" day was observed Sunday by the local Assembly of God Church. Plaques were awarded to several members of the congregation for their long and outstanding service to the church.

Among these were Mrs. Roy Botsford for more than 40 years of service in music in different departments of the church; Mrs. Ola Rice for more than 40 years service as a teacher; and Lester Galley for more than 30 years of continuous service as a Deacon.

Pastor Goodwin reports a large number of visitors from out of town and out of State were present for the special services. Among the visitors were some of the church young people home from college. These were Billy and Charley Pierson, theology majors, and Dorman Stowers, business administration major. All enrolled in Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahachie, John Goodwin, a theology major, brought three of his classmates from Oral Roberts University, Tulsa, Okla.; Jim Emery, a pre-med major; Tom Correll and Douglas Milliron, Theology majors. Other visitors were from Lubbock, Abertnathy, Plainview, Amarillo and as far away as South Dakota.

During the morning service the pastor announced the plans of the local congregation to build new facilities for worship.

At the conclusion of the morning worship service dinner was served for all visitors at the Community Center by the ladies of the local Assembly of God Church. Approximately 150 people were served at the dinner.

School

(Continued from Page 1) last year here including Speed Reading and the training of a teacher," Holman said. "This year, the reading course, with various equipment, has been offered as an elective course for the average student and above, in order to improve the speed of their reading. But reading 1,000 to 2,000 words per minute is an impossibility. Instead, we try to place them on a high plane of reading (approximately 450 words) over a period of time in order to break their old reading habits."

Holman went into detail on human reading problems and stated that reading 1,000 words-per-minute and above is "skimming and scanning" without proper reader comprehension. But he did say that after taking the basic high school course, the student could "scan afterward" with more comprehension.

"This is not an easy course," he pointed out. "But if the student will apply himself, it will help them. But — no guarantee is offered."

Trustee president Raymond White reported that he had discussed the reading course at length with Holman. "I feel," he said, "it is the best course for a student who intends to continue his education in college."

Hartman said that a representative of an outside Speed Reading course had come to his office recently asking for possible space to teach his course in the high school, but had told him that he didn't feel it should be included there because of conflict with the school's own course. "But if he cannot find a place elsewhere, we will try to find him space in one of our other schools here."

However, Hartman said he had asked the man if he could read 1,000 words per minute. According to Hartman, the man said that he could not.

TAX REPORT
School Tax Assessor-Collector Orpha Click reported that current collections through Oct. 1 had reached $136,482.70 for the year with an additional $107,738.33 collected since the first click also went into detail concerning Texas Attorney General Crawford Martin's recent opinion which compels all cattle owners and feedlot operators to render their livestock for tax purposes.

Hartman reported approval by the Texas Education Agency for funding in Vocational Education, Title 1 Regular, Title 1 Migrant, and Adult Basic Education, but that amounts were lower than in past years.

Funeral Rites Pending For Antonio Mendoza

Antonio Floris Mendoza, 64, of 120 Lake St. died Tuesday morning in Deaf Smith County Hospital following a long illness. Funeral services are pending with Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mendoza was born Dec. 26, 1904 in San Luis Potosi, Mexico and came to Hereford in 1958 from Laredo.

He married Ruperta Ibarra at Laredo in 1931.

Survivors include his wife; daughters, Mrs. Sammie Gonzales and Mrs. Alfredo Barrera, both of Hereford; brothers, Jose of Los Angeles, Calif. and Dolores of San Luis Potosi, Mexico; a niece, Mrs. Edwardo Rangel of San Antonio; a nephew in Vietnam, Pedro Mendoza and 10 grandchildren.

Rites Are Held For Ray Barclay

Funeral services for Ray Barclay, 47, a Vega rancher, who was found Sunday evening, the victim of apparent self-asphyxiation, were held in Amarillo, Tuesday, with arrangements handled by N. S. Griggs and Sons Funeral Directors.

Deaf Smith County Justice of the Peace Bill Rowland stated that Barclay's body, which was found by his 19-year-old son Donnie Sunday afternoon about 5 p. m. in the garage at the family home, had been there for several days. A hose had been run from the engine exhaust into the cab of the pickup causing death by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Rowland said that from investigation, the local sheriff's office had learned that Barclay had been dispondent for several days prior to his death over personal matters.

Barclay's body was taken to Amarillo for an autopsy.

Barclay had been a resident of Vega for about 22 years and was veteran of World War II.

His survivors include his sons, Donnie, of the home, Douglas of Boys Ranch; brothers, Lewis of Stockton, California, Eugene of Amarillo; a sister, Mrs. Phyllis Dugan, of Canyon and his mother, Mrs. Jewel Barclay, also of Canyon.

No cases are scheduled to be heard by the District Court until the first week of December.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:
We, the wives of the local volunteer firemen, wish to pay public tribute to our husbands for their dedicated work, service and contribution to our community.

These men, who are on constant call to help protect you and your property, give a large portion of their free time to the study of and training for the use of newer and better methods of fire-fighting, as well as being physically present and working all fire calls, and asking nothing in return.

It is a privilege to serve our "fire boys" by being keepers of the coversalls, taps and boots; clearing the way for a fast departure from home; starting the cars in any kind of weather; listening for the sound of the grinding crash of cars, ambulance sirens and maybe the phone ringing telling us of an injured or dead fireman; and until they return home we live with the nagging worry about their safety because we know they take many unselfish and heroic chances with their own lives in the line of duty.

We are humble and grateful for being allowed to be a part of the contribution to the community by the VOLUNTEER FIREMEN OF HEREFORD. We are proud of our men!

Concerning Veterans

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q — I have heard many times that certain VA hospitals are "teaching" hospitals. Just what does this mean?

A — Many VA hospitals are affiliated with university medical schools. In this arrangement, VA hospitals are used to train residents pursuing a course in medicine. In fact, the VA trains more than 11 percent of all medical residents.

Q — I have a loan on my GI insurance policy. For the past few years I have been paying the interest as it became due. I would now like to pay on the principal, but how do I proceed?

A — Send with your check the stub attached to the receipt of your interest payment. If you do not have the stub, enclose a note requesting that the payment be applied to your loan.

Q — I am enrolled in college under the G. I. Bill. Will my monthly subsistence be reduced for the Christmas vacation and the period between semesters?

A — No. In institutions of higher learning the Christmas vacation and the period between semesters are considered part of the school year. Deductions will not be made for these periods.

Q — Is there ever a time when VA benefits may be forfeited?

A — Yes. They may be forfeited for fraud, treason and subversive activities.

Q — My son will soon be discharged from the service. He quit high school in his third year to enlist, and now he is interested in getting a diploma. Because of our financial needs at home, can he get benefits from the VA while attending high school part-time or full-time?

A — Yes — and without any loss to his entitlement for attending college should he elect to do so after earning his high school diploma. If he attends high school full time as a single veteran he will receive $130 a month. Payment for half time is $60; for three-quarter time, $95. Any VA office will gladly assist him. One of the first things he should do upon discharge is to apply to the VA for a Certificate of Eligibility which he needs to obtain benefits for schooling or on-the-job training.

Q — I am a veteran of the Vietnam conflict with two years service and did not complete high school before entering the service. Would I be able to finish high school at government expense?

A — Yes. In fact, there is a special program set up for Vietnam veterans who have not completed high school. The financial assistance you receive to get a high school diploma will not use up the entitlement you have earned for education beyond high school.

Q — If the wife of a totally disabled veteran wants to take advantage of the new educational opportunity, must he go to school full time? She often has children, as well as her husband, to care for.

A — Part-time training is authorized for widows and wives of disabled veterans with $95 monthly allowance for three-fourths time and $60 for half-time training.

Q — What is the time limit of the guaranteed home loan a veteran may obtain from a lending institution, and what is the maximum time allowed to repay such a loan?

A — The VA has no limit on the amount borrowed, but has a limitation on the amount of the guaranty to the lender. The guaranty may not be more than 60 percent of the loan and in no event exceed $12,500. These loan mortgages may run up to 30 years.

Q — Can I train for a commercial pilot's license under the G. I. Bill?

A — Yes, if you have sufficient entitlement and meet the necessary qualifications, first of which is that you possess a private license or its equivalent. Also you must meet the medical standards established for a commercial pilot and your training must be approved by the approving agency of your state.

Q — I am attending business school under the G. I. Bill. Recently, I received a monthly attendance certification card to fill out. I was under the impression that these cards were discontinued.

A — No. Monthly certification cards are still required from those veterans training in programs other than in college. The cards must be submitted to avoid an interruption of allowance checks.

Q — How do I apply for an increase in my compensation?

A — A letter to the VA stating why you should have an increase, accompanied by your doctor's report on his medical findings pertaining to your disability, will generally accomplish the desired consideration. Be certain to include your full name, address and file or "C" number in any communication to the VA.

Q — My brother has been in a VA hospital for three months. His last pension check was reduced to $30. Why? Can it be increased to the amount he received before entering the hospital?

A — Your brother's pension check from VA was reduced because of a law limiting pensions to this amount for veterans without dependents after two full calendar months of hospitalization at VA expense.

His full pension will be restored upon his discharge from the VA hospital.

Q — In the event that both my wife and I should die — say in an automobile or air accident — what would the VA do about my G. I. insurance? My children are contingent beneficiaries but they are too young to handle their affairs.

A — The VA legal division would work with the court to appoint a guardian to handle this as well as any VA pension rights which the children might have. You may, if you wish, name another person such as a close relative to receive the insurance in trust for your children. This would avoid the expense of having a guardian appointed.

Q — I will be released from service this month. How soon must I begin training under the G. I. Bill?

A — A veteran released from active duty after June 1, 1966, has eight years from the date of release from active duty in which to take advantage of his entitlement under the G. I. Bill. It is advisable, however, to immediately apply to your nearest VA office for your Certificate of Eligibility to avoid delay should you decide to attend school or take on-the-job training.

Kappa Iota Sees Film

Kappa Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority viewed a film on Multiple Sclerosis Tuesday evening presented by Mrs. Ronado Lovelady of Amarillo at a meeting held at the Community Center. The film was entitled My Friend Joe.

Hostesses for the evening were Mmes. Charles Cabbiness, Bob Pugh and Bob Spangler.

Following the film, Mrs. John Claypool presented a program on Voice and Vocabulary Reflect The Inner You.

In a brief business session directed by Mrs. Joe Frank Huckert, president, plans were made for the chapter's bridge benefit scheduled Oct. 16 at the Community Center.

Fifteen members and five guests attended.

Buffs Ready For San Diego State

CANYON, Tex. — West Texas State University football coach Joe Kerbel has said the San Diego State Aztecs will be the finest club to play in Buffalo Bowl since the stadium opened in 1968.

Kerbel could well be correct as the Aztecs have a record to back him up.

Led by quarterback Dennis Shaw, San Diego State has romped past a pair of foes this season, winning 40-0 over Los Angeles State and 55-21 over San Jose State, and hold a 37-1-1 mark in their last 39 games.

Shaw, who is considered by some professional scouts as the nation's top pro quarterback prospect, and his teammates invade Buffalo Bowl for an 8 p. m. battle Saturday night.

The Buffaloes are returning home after a one game swing on the road and have pushed their season record above the .90 mark at 2-1. The Buffs downed Wichita State's Stubborn Shockers, 24-14, in Wichita, Kan. Saturday afternoon.

Besides their explosive offense, led by Shaw and fellow All-America candidate center Bill Pierson, the Aztecs' defense against the rushing game has been fantastic this year.

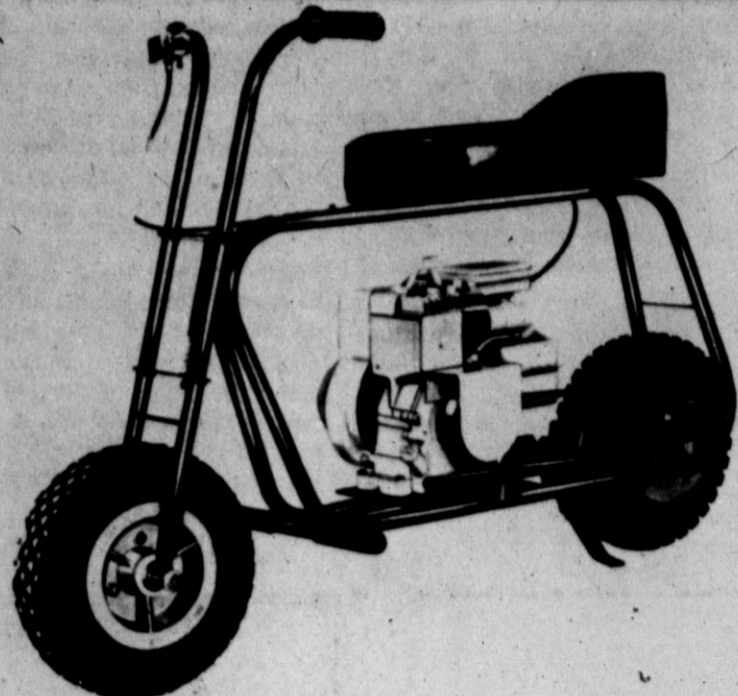

Los Angeles State was held to a minus 5 yards rushing and San Jose State had a minus eight yards on the ground.

West Texas came out of the Wichita game with no injuries and Kerbel started his squad working Monday with a heavy emphasis being placed on pass defense and a rushing offense.

Buff fullback Duane Thomas bulled for 42 yards against the Shockers and became the seventh leading rusher in the school's history. Those yards give him a career total of 1,516-212 this year. He replaces Joe Walden in the seventh place and needs only 57 yards to take over the sixth position, currently held by Bob Ratliff.

The fifth leading rusher, Charlie Sanders, has 1,828 yards.

Olan Thompson paced the Buff ground game at Wichita with 82 yards and caught four passes for 40 yards. Quarterback Clarence Redic connected on 10 of 22 passes for 148 yards and threw his first interception of the year.

Damage Light In Accident Sunday

An accident at the intersection of Park Ave. and Miles St. Sunday afternoon around 5 p. m. resulted in an estimated $300 damage to the two vehicles involved.

Involved in the accident were a 1963 Chevrolet driven by Janice Durham, which received $25 damage, and a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Larry Moseley, which received $275 damage.

The accident occurred when, while one of the drivers was stopped waiting for a vehicle in front of him to turn, the other car approached from the rear and struck his vehicle.

Investigating officers issued a citation for following too close.

Citation Issued In Wreck Here

Investigating officers issued a citation for negligent collision by failure to yield right of way at a stop sign following an accident Monday afternoon at the intersection of Sunset Drive and Plains Avenue.

A 1964 Chevrolet driven by Jane Lozoya sustained $150 damage and a 1969 Chevrolet driven by Thomas R. Timberlake received an estimated $350 damage.

The accident occurred when the driver of one of the vehicles, which was going north on Sunset Dr., stopped at a stop sign and apparently did not see the other car approaching the intersection on Plains Ave. The driver pulled into the intersection, into the path of the westbound vehicle, causing the accident.

League Bowling Winners Named

A new bowling league of mixed couples was formed at Sunset Lanes last week, naming themselves the Wednesday Night Mixed Couples League, consisting of two-member teams.

Charlie Owens grabbed "Bowler of the Week" honors for the new league as he rolled a 573 handicap series with L. V. Watts taking first in the event with a 579 series. Clea Weemes had a 509 handicap series for the women and also collected high game with a 165. Watts nabbed the mens individual high game with a 190.

In team play, Team Number 8 took high honors with a 1082 series and Team Number 4 was the high game winner with a 383. Collecting splits were Judy Brister, the 2-7; Jean Watts, the 5-7-9 and Clea Weemes, the 6-7-10.

In game play, Team Number 4 won 4 and lost 0; Team Number 8 won 3 and lost 1; Team Number 6 won 3 and lost 1; Team Number 5 won 1 and lost 3; Team Number 3 won 0 and lost 4; Team Number 1 won 2 and lost 2; and Team Number 2 won 2 and lost 2.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

These Are Your Questions

CAN ANY special test be performed to find out if the liver is functioning properly in a person who is a chronic alcoholic?

Alcoholism is only one of the major reasons for disease of the liver. Cirrhosis is a chronic disease in which fibrous tissue replaces the normal, active healthy cells of the liver and interferes with all of its important functions. Besides alcohol, drugs, syphilis and chronic heart ailments may be associated with scarring and changes in the liver. Many tests can determine how well the liver performs in health and disease. These tests are commonly referred to as a liver profile, by which almost everything can be learned about this vital organ that plays such an important role in the chemical balance of the body.

The urine can be studied for the presence of bilirubin, a special pigment found in bile. It is chemically changed in the liver and normally is not found in the urine unless there is some interference with the normal function of the liver. The icterus index test, a highly specialized one, is used particularly in patients who have jaundice. This too contributes a great deal of information about the liver.

The study of the stool for bilirubin suggests evidence of the failure of the liver to excrete this substance, causing the stool to be clay colored. A number of dyes can be injected into the bloodstream to study the liver. Additional tests are created each year to replace those already in use in order to learn how to prevent the progression of chronic disease of the liver.

X-ray scanning of the liver with a Geiger counter technique and with the by-products of atomic energy can now locate tumors of the liver that may yet be amenable to treatment. These tests can be performed in all people, not only the alcoholic, when liver disease is suspected.

Is it possible to have a fracture of the ribs without severe pain after a minor injury? Often a new or old fracture of the ribs is found in people during a routine X-ray examination of the lungs. This is explained by the fact that symptoms are caused when the lining of the chest cage, the pleura, is bruised or when the lung itself is injured by a break in one or more of the ribs.

Occasionally an incomplete fracture, known as a green stick fracture, causes little or no damage and remains unsuspected. Relatively insignificant injuries, especially in the elderly, whose bones may be somewhat brittle, can cause a fracture without producing pain. A fracture may be suspected if there is pain on deep breathing or a severe long-standing cough. Every injury to the chest deserves an X-ray.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH — Infection of the toes can be avoided by cutting the toenails straight across. Dr. Coleman welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

RACIAL TENSION
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — South Africa has less observable racial tension than the United States, Pretoria University Prof. Ben Marais told the South African Institute of Race Relations.

Marais, who lectures in Christian history, said the lack of obvious tension does not mean its race problem. It might merely mean South Africa has not yet reached the same stage as the U.S.

There are differences between the racial problems in the two countries, he said. Americans did not always realize most black South Africans still have ties with their tribal background whereas American Negroes constitute a group without tribal ties.

POPULATION FACTS
BUDAPEST — By the end of 1968 Hungary's population numbered 10,275,000 persons, 39,000 more than the previous year, the news agency MTI reported.

There were 33,596 more females than men but this ratio was slowly changing. While in 1940 the ratio was 1,061 women for each 1,000 males last year it was 1,068 to 1,000.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bloodhound "Testimony"
In a burglary case, the prosecutor offered evidence that a bloodhound had followed a trail from the burglarized warehouse to the home of the accused man. Promptly the defense attorney raised an objection.
"After all, this is nothing but the testimony of a dumb animal. That isn't good enough for a court of law."
Nevertheless, the court decided the evidence was admissible—and it helped send the defendant to jail.
The use of bloodhounds to track down criminals has been known for hundreds of years. According to Sir Walter Scott, the practice was favored by King Richard the Lion-Hearted back in the twelfth century.

And today most courts do consider this kind of evidence reliable enough to be permitted in criminal trials. In the usual case the trainer of the bloodhound is called to the witness stand. There he seeks to establish the dog's credibility by describing his pedigree, his training, and his behavior.
Still, even though bloodhound evidence is permitted, it is not considered strong enough—all by itself—to support a conviction. There must be some additional proof to back it up. This lessens the risk that the jury will be swayed by what one expert calls "a superstitious faith" in the bloodhound's accuracy.
Furthermore, the circumstances of the particular case may affect the value of bloodhound evidence. Thus, in a murder case, the fact that a bloodhound sniffed his way to the defendant's house was cancelled by the fact that the dog showed no reaction at all to the defendant himself.
And the weaker the trail, the weaker the evidence. In an arson case, a bloodhound had supposedly picked up the defendant's scent at the scene of the fire. But from the time of the fire to the time the bloodhound was put on the trail, five days and two rainstorms had gone by. Rejecting the evidence, the court said:
"While we will not suggest it is impossible that the dog could have followed this trail, it is certainly highly speculative."

"If You Stutter . . ."

School's Speech Therapy: Make Your Best From It!

By EARL MOSELEY
Staff Writer

Mrs. Merle Clark, who speaks with a beautiful normalcy, is Speech Therapy instructor at Aikman and Northwest elementary schools for young students who do not speak beautifully or with any normalcy.

Some of them stutter. Others have such problems as "baby talk."

For the student with the baby talk tendency and other common speech deficiencies, there is reasonable assurance this class can and will offer a complete remedy of individual situations. But some stuttering cases cannot be cured.

(There are a number of different speech deficiency classifications, but this report is concerned with the two basic deficiencies only — those which cannot be cured and those which can.)

What is the teacher approach to both classifications?

"Counseling them is the main thing," Mrs. Clark said. "But stuttering is not as prevalent here as it is in other school systems, for some unknown reason."

Mrs. Clark explained that the Hereford schools (who now have three Speech Therapy teachers) screen all first graders. "The children who seem to have a problem at that time are given a phonetic inventory test. Then we select the most severe ones for further training. The older ones are selected by teacher referral and re-examined at the beginning of every school term. But the first, second and third grades will have the larger number."

They are then worked into groups of five and six students. "Mostly we play games. You can keep their interest if it is fun," she said.

What kind of games?
Monday morning at Aikman

it was a card game which the students were to match objects. They were also instructed to repeat orally each object they selected. All objects, incidentally, began with the letter "L" — "the la-la sound" — lantern, lightning, log, letter, lion, lemon, ladder, etc.

Mrs. Clark instructed them to place their tongues at the roof of their mouths — not against their teeth. Easy for the normal speaker — not easy for the person with a speech problem. But they must practice.

The children have articulate problems, cleft palates, and some with hearing losses. But — "a lot of children, their stuttering could be a psychological thing. We are never sure. Unfortunately, we do not have the time to go into their homes."

But Mrs. Clark said, "We try to teach the stutters: This is your problem. Learn to live with it as best you can. Stuttering is like all other handicaps. If you are going to stutter all your life, make the best from it."

She added, "I hope it has done some good."

A child who does not speak as other children has a psychological tendency to listen to the other's speech "too closely." Throughout his school career he will ask himself many times: "Why can't I speak like everyone else?"

Mrs. Clark pointed out this condition as the best reason for her "live with it as best you can" approach. It is important toward blocking individual inferiority complexes.

SELF-CONFIDENCE
Since it is a problem that "normal" spokesmen (the laymen) cannot understand, it is also pointed out that the stutters does not understand his problem any more so. Therefore, they must learn to live with it — if he is to succeed.

Research indicates that the stutterer (which has included Moses, according to the Old Testament, and England's King George VI) in the majority of cases is normal in all other respects — and, like other people, will have an I.Q. ranging from below normal to superior. His speech problem is not an I.Q. factor.

The stutterer, also according to statistics, will usually be well above normal on the subject of synonyms — because he is often placed in a position of word substitution on the spur of the moment.

Hereford Independent School District has had this Speech Therapy program here for a number of years — prior to the time it was begun in some of the larger school districts — as a method to instill "self-confidence."

Many school districts in the past — such as Dallas — had placed children with speech problems in hearing classes. But it was discovered that this was not the answer. "It was alright in the case of the child whose speech difficulty was due to a lack of hearing, but for those who had no hearing difficulty at all it certainly did not build self-confidence. To the contrary, they felt even more out-of-place."

The point of self-confidence is paramount in this program, the school systems discovered.

Actually, the speech handicap is not in any measure as great as blindness and man: of the other handicaps and has never received such a level of understanding. But to the stutterer — who resents the layman's help in his efforts to "speak for him," it has been discovered — he realizes each time he must speak that he is a stutterer and that he "must work hard" to deliver his message. His words

STUDENTS PLAYING CARDS — However, the card game they are playing is designed to improve their speech difficulties. Shown with them is Speech Therapy teacher Mrs. Merle Clark, who instructs at both Aikman and Northwest elementary schools in Hereford. There are also two other Speech Therapy teachers in the schools here. —Staff Photo by Jerry Odom may not flow exactly as he has planned them. Therefore, his problem becomes "that much worse" when he does not have the necessary self-confidence.

Mrs. Clark was asked what motivated her to enter the Speech Therapy field.

"I was interested in Speech and Drama when I entered college," she replied. "But I took a survey course in Speech Therapy — and I fell in love with the little children! I tried teaching Speech and Drama in high school — never again! I knew where my real interest was — because I loved the little children."

She said this year is her tenth year in therapy. Aikman principal D. C. Martin reported that Mrs. Clark spends her entire two days at Aikman "on the job" except for her lunch period, although she is entitled to other rest periods, "at her own request."

Her reply was: "I have to be finished with first graders by 2:30."

She said, "I also do private therapy after school. They do not have Speech Therapy in Dimmitt or Friona schools. And I also have preschool children. If you can get them a year before regular school, it is so much better for them. They may not know all the letters at that age, but it does help them tremendously."

(The other two Speech Therapy teachers in Hereford schools are Mozelle Fillingim at Bluebonnet and Shirley, and Jim Holmes at Central and both junior highs.)

SOME OPPOSITION
What happens to these children with "permanent speech damage" when they become adults?

Statistics show that they are very little different from the "normal" speaker. They have a marriage, they have children (and in almost 100 per cent of the cases children who have no speech problems), and they have all types of jobs — even "public speakers." Garry Moore, the TV master of ceremonies, is one example of the latter. He stuttered throughout his childhood but finally gained enough confidence to face audiences consisting of millions of people when he reached adulthood. Incurable stutterers can also be found in responsible positions.

But almost never is this self-confidence gained from the home environment, these same statistics indicate. No concrete reason is given for these circumstances, that the parent can do very little.

But it does point up the importance of an outside teacher. Superintendent Roy Hartman along with Mrs. Clark, pointed out that there are some parents who express opposition toward enrolling their speech-impaired children in the school program — "but, fortunately, not many."

"We have three well-qualified teachers," Hartman pointed out. "Mrs. Clark has been employed with us for a number of years and is certainly outstanding. Although the Hereford ISD was qualified for three Speech Therapy teachers last year, we could not find the other experienced teachers until this year. We employed Holmes out of Amarillo where he had an outstanding record in this subject. Mrs. Fillingim, who is new to teaching this year, has previously had much experience at Amarillo Speech and Hearing Clinic. We believe we are very fortunate to have all three of them with us."

For the record, the staff writer who covered this assignment for the Brand is an incurable stutterer.

Washington Report

From Congressman
BOB PRICE NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J.

1223 LONGWORTH OFFICE BUILDING, WASHINGTON, D. C. • 205-206

Last week I described and quoted in some detail the testimony of Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin in his appearance before the House Agriculture Committee. In that report, I concentrated on the first part of his testimony — that dealing with commodity programs and the two alternative approaches he suggested for increasing farm incomes, and reducing government costs, the set-aside approach and the domestic allotment and diversion approach.

In regard to a long-range solution to the problem of agricultural surpluses, however, he proposed three methods of adjusting our resources, all of which could be used simultaneously for an annual cost of approximately $100 million. It is these three suggestions and the remainder of his testimony I want to discuss with you this week.

Any approach to long-term land retirement must first of all be a deliberate approach. There are too many complex factors involved to launch into such an experiment in a rush. As the Secretary pointed out, our rural areas could become depopulated and our cities — already crowded — could become even more overcrowded.

As the Secretary observed, our Nation is faced with major urban problems which the President is trying to alleviate; while, at the same time, alleviating our major farm problems.

This is the reason Dr. Hardin suggested using some farm lands for non-farm uses; such as, timber, grazing, recreation, and the conservation of wildlife. This would be accomplished on a voluntary contract basis.

You will recall that in 1962, the Cropland conversion law was put on the books, but funding of the program was limited to a commitment of $10 million for experimental purposes. The Secretary recommended that it be funded and reactivated, providing a base for further experimentation and possible later expansion.

Dr. Hardin also suggested the possibility that farm lands for which there would be possible urban uses, such as, airports and parks, could be purchased by states and local governments on a cost-sharing basis with the Federal Government. These lands could be shifted from crop uses; and in addition to meeting urban needs, would be of some value in reducing agricultural surpluses. He noted that programs of this sort were in operation several years ago but were terminated without adverse appraisal when the parent Cropland Adjustment Act went unfunded.

As a possible third program to be used in conjunction with the other programs, Secretary Hardin suggested that an easement approach could be employed whereby farmers could sell cropping rights of their land to the Federal Government. The owner could then continue to use the land for whatever non-agricultural purpose he chose; he could continue to live on it; he could use it for business or recreational purposes, but he could not use it for crop production. Secretary Hardin suggested a pilot program which would retire approximately three-to-four million acres annually. Secretary Hardin commented on other areas of great interest and vital importance to Texas and the Panhandle. In regard to the Class I Dairy Base Plan, the Secretary suggested that the plan be treated separately from the comprehensive farm bill and acted upon soon. The Secretary observed that the present Class I Dairy Base Plan should be amended so as to provide easier entry for new producers; and in addition, precautions should be included so that dairy bases, while transferable, would not assume an unreasonable value and there by add excessively to the cost of producing milk. The Department of Agriculture has a draft of a bill ready to submit for the Agriculture Committee's consideration.

With reference to payment limitations, the Secretary did not commit himself to any specific limitation amounts but restated the Department's belief that, "It is possible to design sound farm programs that provide for some payment limitation." He noted that "payment limits that are too low could force big operators to go outside the program, would break efficient farms down into a number of less efficient units, would impose excessive acreage cuts on the small farms, and with a given target for acreage reduction, would increase costs rather than reduce them." Dr. Hardin stated although the Department does not presently have any specific proposals, it stands ready to work with the House Agriculture Committee on basic legislative proposals.

As regards the time schedule for enacting a comprehensive farm bill, the Secretary reminded the Committee that even though the Congress had extended the 1965 Act to the end of 1970, the USDA wanted to cooperate with the Congress and get a generally-agreed upon bill passed as quickly as possible so that farmers would be able to engage in longer range production planning.

Incidentally, by the time you receive this newsletter, we will know whether the supporters of payment limitations are successful in their attempts to place payment limitations on next year's agriculture production. I am, with like-minded members, working diligently to stop these efforts; hopefully, we will prevail.

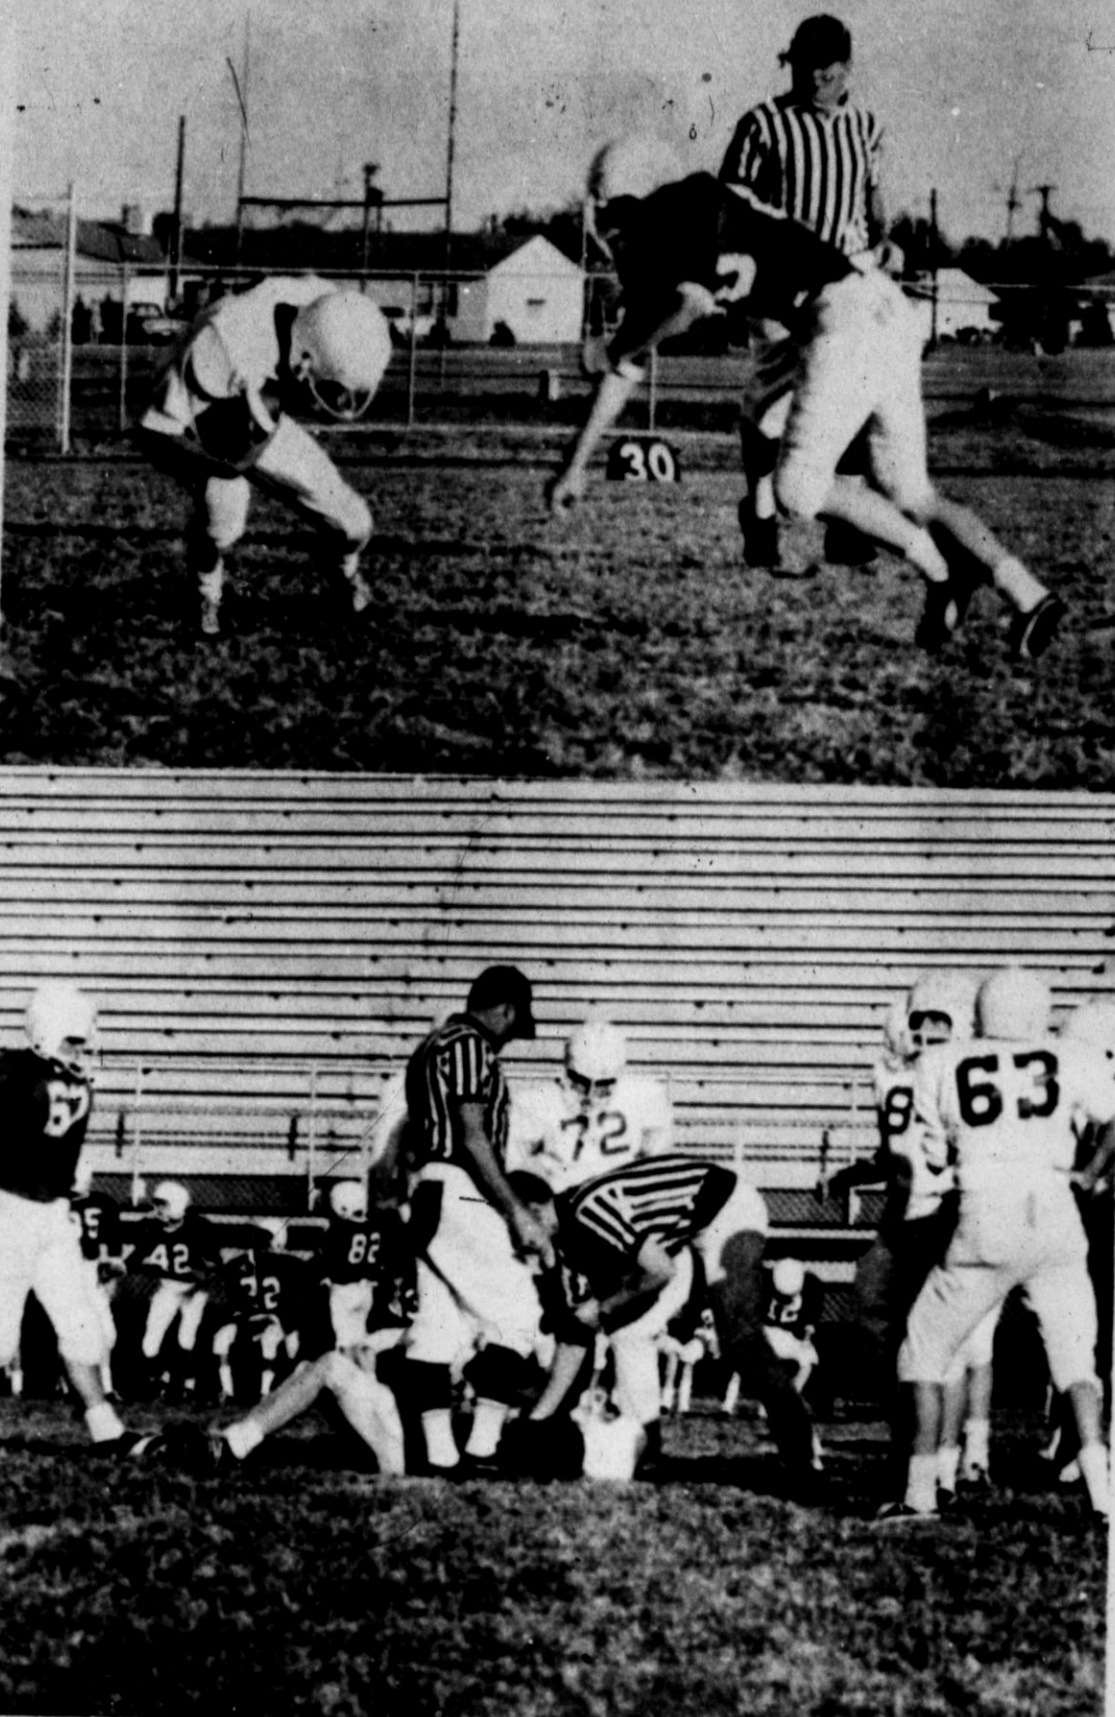

In recent days, I have received numerous letters, phone calls and petitions asking me to support the so-called "coalition farm bill." I have advised all interested parties that:

I am studying that proposal very carefully, but as of this time, I do not plan to be a co-sponsor. Let me tell you why.

The Committee on Agriculture, upon which I have the privilege of serving, has been holding a series of hearings on Mr. Poage's bill, H. R. 12430. This bill would extend the present major commodity programs and the food stamp program without any substantial changes.

Last week we heard from the Secretary of Agriculture who presented the Committee with the general outline of two alternative programs which might replace the present program. In addition, we now have the "coalition" bill before us together with a number of other proposals by various farm and commodity groups. On top of that we have dozens of suggestions and proposals to modify or change one or more of the bills I have just described.

The Committee has been working very hard in an effort to develop from these many proposals a good committee bill which will really improve the economic position to farmers. In doing this we want to be able to come up with a program that we can pass in the House because, as I'm sure you know, we don't have the votes that we once had. Therefore, I have decided not to introduce any of these proposals until we have made further efforts toward working out a good committee bill.

ROUGH GOING — Both Stanton and Canyon seventh and eighth grade teams found the going a little rough Tuesday night in grid games here. Stanton won both the games, the seventh grade winning, 24-6 and the eighth grade by a score of 12-6. —Staff Photos

At The Library

Texan's Attitude Quite Unique

Learn about the beauty of Texas and all the state has to offer by looking into the story now available at the Deaf Smith County Library.

THE TEXANS

By David Nevin

"There has never been anything quite like Texas," says Mr. Nevin. Not just a state, it is a region of North America in its own right; and this sense of bigness, of multiples and of power within the limits of a single entity is all-pervasive. Events in Texas have an epic quality, and the thrust that makes them so proceeds from a basic attitude of Texans — an attitude that is unique in the United States and, possibly, in the world.

Always in terms of specific persons and their actions, Mr. Nevin shows this attitude at work the length and breadth of Texas — from the lonely distances of the big Bend country east to the great centers of Dallas and Houston; from the pine forests of East Texas south to San Antonio — most graceful of Texas cities — and the Mexican border towns. An exclusive interview with President Johnson at the LBJ Ranch mingles with a sermon in the First Baptist Church of Dallas. A Ranger's investigation of a murder counterpoints local politicking six hundred-odd miles away. The Globe Theater in Odessa confronts the Astrodome. Great contrasts, indeed — of land and weather, of people and events — and all expressions of the composite Texas personality.

Its essence, Mr. Nevin believes, is that the people of Texas were and are children of a rapidly expanding frontier who have been conditioned by a lush and unexpected gift of that frontier — great pools of capital pouring from the earth in the form of oil. On one hand this natural wealth gave enormous impetus to the natural drive of the frontier, and on the other, the frontier outlook determined the ways they used it. Vigorous and direct in the writing, lively of scene and anecdote, this is a sympathetic portrait of Texas — yet one that is clearly focused, sharply edged. A comprehensive view of Texas and its people today — brilliantly capturing the excitement and the ultimate realities of the most paradoxical state in the Union.

Ofelia Rangel Buried Monday

What is more exciting than harvest time? A thing of beauty is a full load of thrashed red maize golden grains of corn, and creamy white soy beans loaded and ready for the grain elevators. One may get tired physically, but I never tire of the rich-full loaded trucks as they come onto the scales. Even the drivers look handsomer, with their dirty hands and faces. Their smile seems brighter, the whiteness of their teeth gleams, and happiness really prevades the air. Some take time to sit a while and drink a coke or a cup of hot coffee. It is interesting to listen to them tell of their experiences — even some break downs — the machinery balks

Advance "Look" Planned For Premiere Film

A special press and invitation screening of "Battle of Britain" has been arranged between the United Artists Corp., distributors of the not yet released film, and Francis Hardwick of the Star Theatre in Hereford, at 2 p. m. Monday. The feature is scheduled for regular showings here beginning Oct. 22 on a U. S. premiere engagement along with some of the larger cities throughout the country. Importance toward Hereford being chosen as one of the premiere sites is through the participation of Gerald Martin in the production's filming last year in Spain. Martin is a local man. Hardwick reported that there is a possibility of an Autograph Party showing of the picture prior to its regular opening, but these details have not been worked out completely at this time. "Battle of Britain" will be shown in Hereford in advance of its Amarillo booking, it was announced.

I am working some at the elevator (Art's Corner) and I am made to be more thankful for the men who toil and make the crops and keep on keeping on. To them, we are indebted. We should never forget the goodness of the soil, and should admire the dignity earned by those who toil and make the crops, and take the disappointments on the chin.

LASTING BOUQUETS (Arrangements)

Some of the flowers which may be dried are zinnias, dahlias, strawflowers, cosmos, larkspurs, hydrangeas (these are beautiful). They can be cut at different degrees of development, and can be sprayed different colors). Baby's breath is another lovely material, which can be sprayed and its uses are many.

For cut flowers such as asters, roses, marigolds, violets, chrysanthemums, and other select flowers from your garden, one should use a drying agent. Silican gel is on the market. But if silica gel proves fairly expensive, then substitute the most commonly used agent, Borax, and sand or yellow cornmeal in equal parts. For the silica gel, it is used full measure, and the flower blossoms are completely covered with it. However, one economical thing about it is, that it can be used from year to year.

With the other mixture mentioned it has been suggested by Mrs. David Hallum of Houston that three tablespoonsful of uniodized salt will help to keep the colors brighter.

Mix well, then pour into a wax-lined box to the depth of one-half inch. Place blossoms into the mixture, turning the large blossoms face down (takes less of the mixture) and the smaller blossoms face up; none touching.

With a spoon carefully add small amounts of the mixture around petals until each flower is completely covered. Stems are left uncovered.

Flowers should be in single layers and the box left unopened during the drying period. Small blossoms usually take from 4 to six days while larger blossoms take longer, perhaps as long as ten days. When dry, lift from the mixture carefully and with a soft rush dislodge the mixture from the flowers. Store cured flowers in another box (carefully) until ready to use.

In some instances, it will become necessary to wire the flower blossoms and tape them, as stems often dry so small they cannot be used.

However, when at all possible, use the natural stem, as it adds to the attractiveness of the arrangement.

In gathering your materials do not overlook the seed pods some that are open and others that are full. They dry beautifully and do make excellent material for arranging. Yucca pods are used either full or split. They too can be used for miniature containers for the small grasses, or baby's breath and the tiny rosebuds.

Remember when gathering materials to get more than you think you will need, because they do shrink, break, and shatter. So be prepared to have enough when you start making arrangements.

Have fun and good luck.

BEAUTY SPOTS

Ornamental grasses are becoming very pretty in many locations in town. At the Ray Howell home on Sunset Drive it is very attractive. Remember, it is good material for landscaping, for background as well as accent plantings. It sprays beautifully for winter use.

There is a lovely-shaped pyramantha, covered with hundreds of orange berries, at Miss Maggie Cocanougher's home. The shape and background would be nice to paint in oils.

Well arranged and attractive cacti garden at the James Edmonson home, 601 Star.

One of the loveliest planters in the city is that of Mrs. J.J. Durham, 147 Ranger Drive. The combination of materials is excellent. The lovely geraniums, the cascade red petunias, and the Joseph's goat, are very pretty.

Don't fail to see the showy yellow flowers at the home of Mrs. George Beams, 601 E. Third. Some call them daisies, others say they are sunflowers.

We are not certain. The seed was given to Mrs. Beams by Mrs. Diebel years ago, and she called them Mexican Daisy. I didn't know they could be propagated by seed. I thought that one needed a root.

When we lived on the farm, my mother brought some roots from Oklahoma and they made beautiful flowers. I am going to do some research on this and maybe we will learn the correct name, perhaps the botanical name.

Mrs. R. L. Wilson has some lovely red roses, as well as other pretty garden flowers. One almost has to peek over the fence to see the pretties.

Last week for roses it should have been 117 Kingwood. Sorry. Roses are pretty at Mrs. Keith Jordes on Harrison Highway.

CONGRATULATIONS!

To the winners of the Beauty Spot of the month. I am proud for both. The residence at 506 W. 4th is the first home that Art (my husband) and I built. It was here that our son, LTC Lloyd Howton Manjeot, was born. Many changes have been made.

Be sure and notice the fence as well as the flowers when you view this beauty spot.

Proud for HHS! When you go to see it, try to go in the morning when the flags are just quietly waving over the beautiful "Peace Rose Memorial Garden." It is prettiest then.

This will be a pretty place to see in the spring, as there is to be many bulbs planted.

MISCELLANEOUS
Thanks to all our friends who brought us potatoes, melons, turnips, onions, corn, beans, etc. They are good and we are most grateful.

Welcome to Gary Mark McQuigg, fine young son of the Gary McQuiggs. I have tried to get out and visit, and help grandmother Carr spoil him a bit.

BE SURE AND ATTEND THE FLOWER SHOW OF THE BUD TO BLOSSOM CLUB.
The title: Happiness Is. Show is Friday from 3 to 5 p. m. at the Community Center. Go see just what "Happiness is."

A new idea for salad: When grinding up the other ingredients, grind a portion of yellow squash. It gives it a new taste that makes one guess just what the ingredients are.

I still have some bulbs for spring blooms. If you need some, call 1364-1365, or Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., or Mrs. Ralph McCullough, or any other member of the Pioneer Club.

ATTENTION: Hereford Garden Club Members, do not forget your Horticulture specimens and arrangements for the Mini-Show, Friday.

To see the world in the harvest grain, and beauty in a flower... is Happiness.

Rubella Problem

(Editor's note — The following is the second feature of a series appearing in the Brand each week. Furnished by the Texas State Department of Health, it is an aid to inform the public on the dangers of rubella and the need for immunization.)

What is rubella, and how does it do its damage? In the first place, rubella is not ordinary measles. They are two different diseases caused by two different viruses. In either case, however, once the disease is contracted by a person he will have lifelong immunity from that disease. Of course, a child can and often does get both rubella and ordinary measles, which causes some people to say that "Mary had measles twice."

It is probably unfortunate that the common name for rubella is German measles — this alone is enough to cause confusion. In addition, both diseases are characterized by rash and fever, but here again, there is a pronounced difference between the signs and symptoms of rubella and measles. With rubella, the rash is not very prominent. Sometimes there is no rash. On the other hand, the child who gets measles is often quite sick and may have complications from the disease: pneumonia, encephalitis, and loss of hearing. The child who gets rubella usually doesn't feel very ill and rarely has any after effects of the disease. The symptoms of measles are high fever, extensive, red rash, Koplik spots in the mouth, severe eye distress, hacking cough, and cold symptoms.

Rubella is not as contagious as measles, therefore, 10 to 20 percent of women reach child-bearing age without having had rubella and thus acquiring natural immunity. Outbreaks of rubella don't occur as frequently or as regularly as measles, only in cycles of six to nine years. Like measles, however, rubella is a late winter and spring disease and it is spread from child to mother. During a normal year there are some two to three million cases of rubella in the United States.

Rubella does its work by crossing the placenta between mother and fetus and damaging or interfering with normal cell growth and development. The mother who contracts rubella during early pregnancy faces a serious problem. Should she allow the pregnancy to go full term or should therapeutic abortion be induced? Statistics show that as many as 50 percent of children born to rubella infected mothers suffer some form of fetal damage.

Dr. Collin S. Karmody, of the Division of Otolaryngology at the University of Vermont, studied the results of an epidemic of rubella which took place on the island of Trinidad in 1960. The island of Trinidad in 1960. The study concerned 139 children, 10 years and younger, who were congenitally deaf. Dr. Kar-mody found that the number of congenitally deaf children seeking admission to a school for the deaf, rose sharply for those born in 1961, a year after a rubella epidemic.

Most of the cases of deafness could be traced to maternal rubella, but other cases were idiopathic, that is of unknown origin. However, when serologic tests for rubella antibodies were performed on the idiopathic deaf children, the results were positive for 74 percent, as compared to 30 percent in a control group born the same year. In view of these figures, it is likely that some cases of congenital deafness from unknown causes are actually caused by subclinical maternal rubella.

Parents who have children with rubella syndrome are understandably unhappy, and often angry because this tragedy has happened to them. They blame doctors, themselves, and even the helpless children. Of

Committee Is Set By Barnes

Li Gov. Ben Barnes has announced the appointment of a special, five-member Senate interim Penal Servitude Committee.

Named by Barnes to the Committee were Senators Grady Hattaway, Jr., and zlewood of Canyon; O. H. (Ike) Harris of Dallas; Barbara Jordan of Houston; William T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan; and W. E. (Pete) Snelson of Midland.

The Committee, authorized by Senate Resolution 1006, will study the laws and practices relating to eligibility for release on parole, including the practice of allowing commutation of time for "good conduct, industry and obedience." The findings of the Committee will be reported to the 62nd Legislature meeting in 1972.

GIRL FIRST

BRADFORD, England — Costable Janet Stephenson went on a three-month police training course with 16 men and beat them all. Red-haired Janet, 1 was first in her class in self-defense, law and general studies and averaged 80 per cent in her exams. The men averaged 65 per cent.

FAMILY PLANNING

GREENOCK, Scotland — Due to a shortage of suitable staff opening of a family planning clinic at Gateside Prison, Greenock, Scotland's only woman prison, has been postponed. The clinic was to advise women due for release.

4th Check-In For UF Today

United Fund drive chairman Clete Corlis reported that the fourth check-in meeting of majors will be conducted at 10 a.m. today in the Hereford State Bank board room.

At the third check-in meeting last week, a total of $23,294.75 was reported collected toward the $38,000 goal. The total represents 61.3 per cent toward the desired amount.

ProChemco Buys Nebraska Feedlot

AMARILLO — Paul F. Engler, chairman of Pro Chemco, Inc., announced additional expansion of the company's cattle feeding operation. ProChemco completed the acquisition of a 20,000 head feed yard in Ohio, Nebraska, from Seaboard Allied Milling Co. of Kansas City, Missouri.

Transactions with the Missouri firm were for an undisclosed amount of cash.

The newly acquired facilities will be operated under the name Mid-America Feed Yard and are estimated to be ready for operation within 45 days. The 20,000-head feed yard will increase ProChemco's feed yard capacity by 40 percent, Engler pointed Texas, and Liberal, Kansas, will manage the newly acquired facility, Engler announced. Assistant manager will be Robert Powell, who has had several years experience at the Hereford feed yard.

"Our faith in the Panhandle as a leading cattle feeding area remains strong, but we feel this diversification into surplus feed grain producing areas which are currently being overlooked for modern large-scale commercial feeding is essential for the long-range growth plans of Pro Chemco," Engler stated.

ProChemco integrates its feed yard operation with cattle ranching in Montana and Mississippi. The Amarillo-based firm also engaged in oil and gas well servicing, oil and gas production, and sell industrial and agricultural chemicals.

Recently, ProChemco report a 29 percent increase in net earnings for the nine months

INH Story Told By TB Director

Top of Texas Tuberculosis Association executive director Charles McIntosh, who reported that additional cases of TB have been placed under treatment of the Deaf Smith County area, has also released the story of INH:

"In 1962, an epidemic of tuberculosis infection developed in an Ohio school. A sixth grade teacher had entered that school ended July 31, 1969. Net earnings reached $716,454 of 71 cents per share for the nine months, compared to $534,411 or 55 cents per share for the same period or 1968.

in January at mid-term without the usual careful clearance of school employees for possible tuberculosis.

"Late in April, an alert family physician administered a tuberculin skin test as part of his examination of a sick child. The child developed a severe positive reaction to the skin test. The physician reported this to be the central tuberculosis reactor register.

"In checking for the possible source of infection, the health authorities identified the young teacher. He was examined and found to have far-advanced, active tuberculosis with cavitation and also TB of the larynx. He was hospitalized, together with his brother and sister.

"Immediately, the county TB controller and health commissioner took steps to tuberculin test the teacher's sixth grade class of 44 students, along with all employees and other students. A virtual epidemic was found.

"Everyone of the 44 students was a positive reactor, and most had severe reactions. All the students in the class were x-rayed. Three students were hospitalized with active tuberculosis. Sixteen — because of X-ray findings — were put on isoniazid (INH) as a preventive measure. Seven years later, not one of the 16 has developed TB.

"But what happened to the rest is a tragic story. Each year since 1962, one of the 25 students unprotected by chemoprophylaxis has developed active tuberculosis.

"In 1962, the theory was that recent converters should be given drug treatment. The physician in charge of skin testing the students said there was no way to determine how many of these 25 were recent converters, and because they showed no evidence of tuberculosis on x-ray, a course of preventive isoniazid (INH) was not recommended for these students. Now, with the American Thoracic Society's strong statement in 1967 on chemoprophylaxis, we know that every one of those students could have benefited by a one-year course of isoniazid. Steps are now being taken belatedly to place them on this preventive drug treatment.

"This story should be proof positive that every reactor could benefit by one year of INH."

An encephalitis epidemic in Ecuador recently infected more than 40,000 people, causing 400 fatalities. A mercy mission of United States Air Force planes checked the sleeping sickness outbreak by spraying insecticide on 250,675 acres of coastal lands.

Swamps, salt-water marshes, and receding flood waters are favorite mosquito breeding grounds. Many species deposit their eggs in damp soil, but these will not hatch until covered with water.

By DICK WOLFF

SNOW: AN EARLY INTIMIDATOR

You look at that Wyoming sky with its leaden clouds in early fall and hope like the dickens you're not odd man out with your slender fly rod in the swift waters of the Snake River above Jackson. Snow comes early and fast and it's a gamble to get in and out with a creel of cutthroat trout.

The river is at its lowest this time of year and the air is chill and the wool shirt and the heavy wool socks in the waders are warm and comforting. I waded out knee-deep — down stream from a head of boulders which broke the current and formed good holding waters.

My Abu Delta 3 reel was packed with GBG floating line and rigged to a whippy 7-foot, 10-inch Garcia Conolon 2536 rod. I lost little time tying a gray nymph to a 8-foot leader and casting into the holding waters below the boulders.

I watched intently as leader and nymph sunk away from my snaked out floater and began a slow hand-twisting retrieve. Working with nymphs takes a sixth-sense and only after hours of practice do you begin to distinguish a strike from a rock or stick snag.

The cutthroat — distinguished by the red markings along and below its lower jaw — inhabits the Snake River in large numbers and is a good underwater battler, though he seldom jumps when hooked. The joy was hooking into one with size and being sure it was a strike and not a snag. It was almost as uncertain as watching the clouds and wondering if they held snow.

In the first hour I hooked into a beauty — a four-pounder that ran out strongly taking all the slack from my fingers. He tired on Delta 3's pre-set drag and my occasional finger-braking, and he came flapping angrily in the shoal water where I waded.

Four cutthroat were in the creel when the warmth began to leave the heavy wool socks in the waders and the cold numbness began entering my fingers. It was a good three hours in the chilling waters of the river. But now the gray clouds were oppressively low and the high Tetons in the distance were whitening and the countryside was telling me to leave under rapidly departing safe conduct.

Lions Clubs In Aids Toward World's Needy

The Lions Clubs of Texas have a long reach, and the good their members do extends far beyond the borders of their state. Today, the words "Texas" and "Lions" carry a special meaning to men, women and children burdened with a heritage of centuries of poverty. By donating $6,230 to CARE during the past year, Texas Lions have contributed to the welfare of many needy people around the world. This includes Hereford Lions Club. They provided aid to the needy sick of three continents through MEDICO, a service of CARE. In Hong Kong, they co-sponsored a school gardening competition aimed at increasing food production. They supplied materials to build three new schools in Honduras and also built and equipped a school in Guatemala.

Lions Clubs throughout the nation contributed $147,666 to help support CARE projects in 23 countries. Farmers were provided with seeds and hand tools school children were given school supplies; the tools of the trade were supplied to carpenters, masons, shoemakers, auto mechanics and other skilled foremen; midwives were equipped with modern, sanitary supplies to deliver healthy babies; seamstresses were given sewing machines.

In all, Lions built 81 schools last year and provided school desks for more than 1,600 children, installed water systems in four Central American villages, and an artesian well in the Philippines. Lions aided the blind of India, Pakistan and Ceylon by providing educational aids, Braille typewriters and duplicating machines.

HARD WATER and SOFT WATER may look alike . . .

but they are DIFFERENT!
Here's how to know if you have hard water:
Do you have a ring around your bathtub?
Use harsh detergents?
Fabric softeners?
Use packaged water conditioners? Bleaches?
Do you wear rubber gloves to do dishes?
Is your hair "dull" after you shampoo it?
Is your skin dry and scaly after you bathe?

Discover the difference soft water can make throughout your home. Portable Exchange Service as low as $6.00 per month. Own a fully automatic model from just $13.95 per month (our serviceman can install) Call and say —

HUMAN ALTERNATIVE
CHICAGO — A tear gas first aid device is the newest item police officers will carry to offset the danger of after effects attendant with spraying the disorderly with the tear-producing gas.

A mild antiseptic, the tear gas antidote can be sprayed on affected skin areas to provide instant relief.
Available in aerosol pressurized cans, the TGA was developed by Partner Industries, a Chicago firm.
It was developed because of increasing criticism of tear gas by legislators. Yet, most law enforcement officials agree that nonlethal chemical weapons are an effective, humane alternative to firearms and other forms of physical force.

REAPING

"And they took the fruit of the land in their hands and brought it down to us." Deut. 1:25. Isn't that just like God's children... always ready to lend a helping hand, or to give an extra portion — all if necessary. When the crop is ripe, the reaping done and the bounties stored away, do you ever stop to thank God? Maybe your inventory still shows all you ever possessed. Better realize it all came from God and give back a portion. How is it right now with you and yours? It is reaping time but what will your harvest be? Do you support His cause, His church, or, are you one of the would-be self-sufficient? Why not begin right now to use your harvest to help bring in the Kingdom?

Highlights And Sidelights

Automobile Insurance Rates Increased To 9.9 Per Cent

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Higher automobile insurance rates were adopted by the State Board of Insurance, but they are not as high as had been originally predicted.

Statewide, the increase in rates on Nov. 1 will be 9.9 per cent. Insurance Board's staff earlier had recommended an 11.1 per cent increase.

This smaller increase was accomplished by accepting the recommendation of Gov. Preston Smith's study committee that the percentage allowed insurance companies for acquisition costs be cut from 25 to 22.5 per cent of the premium.

Another recommendation of the study committee headed by former Gov. Price Daniel was that the Board should include investment income of insurance companies in setting the rates.

Board Chairman Ned Price said the Board would give careful consideration to inclusion of investment income from unearned premium and loss reserves as "profit and contingencies." He added that "we may have further comment on this at a later date."

However, Price also warned that it may not have as much effect on the price of insurance as had been thought. He said "The Board has consistently recognized and considered in its regulatory acts that the companies have other income than that from underwriting."

Price also said that the Board will begin, "as time and circumstances permit," a detailed study of automobile rate-making formulae. He said the study of the present formula used in setting rates would be made during the coming year. The formula, he said, "will be reviewed with the objective of determining if rates can be made more precisely by another formulae."

DEMOCRATS — State Democratic Executive Committee has nominated Mrs. Carrin Patman of Ganado to serve as the National Democratic Committeewoman from Texas. She is the wife of Sen. William N. Patman and replaces Mrs. Lloyd Bentsen of Houston, who resigned the position. Mrs. Patman is the daughter-in-law of U. S. Rep. Wright Patman and the daughter of the late State Sen. Fred Mauritz of Ganado. She still has to be approved by the National Committee.

At the meeting, State Chairman Elmer Baum told committee members that Democrats have to overcome their biggest handicap — taking success for granted. He is organizing a future committee to act as an advisory group to chart new approaches "for a brighter future."

French Robertson of Abilene, executive committee finance chairman, told members that he is dropping the "card carrying" Democrat scheme to raise money. The party had been selling gold Democratic Party membership cards for $100 and other cards for $1, but Robertson said it wasn't raising enough money to continue the program.

BILLS — Governor Smith has sent Sen. Mike McKool's voter registration bill to the Secretary of State without his signature, thereby allowing it to become law. It requires that all citizens registering to vote in person must fill out a written application containing the same information as the registration certificate in order to get a certificate.

Governor vetoed a bill that would have allowed legislators to have office space in their home county courthouses. He said office rental could be provided from legislators' expense allowance.

He also vetoes bills providing for insurance protection (through private, non-profit corporations) on bank deposits above $15,000.

Smith said he is in accord with idea of giving full protection for bank deposits but feels that the matter should have careful study before implementing legislation becomes law.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Smith selected as new judges of the district courts just created: Robert George Scofield of Grapevine, Hollis D. Garmon of Greenville, Noah Kennedy of Corpus Christi, J. F. Clawson Jr. of Temple, Don Maxwell Dean of Amarillo, Thomas A. Thomas of Beaumont, David Walker of Lufkin, Marcus F. Vasocu of Longview, Lee Duggan Jr., Joseph Michael Garino, Wallace Koker Moore, George Leamon Walker, Edward Donald Coulson and Wyatt H. Heard, all of Houston.

Smith named Ellis County Attorney W. Bruce Allen of Waxahachie, as judge of the existing 40th district court, succeeding Judge A. R. Stout, also of Waxahachie, who resigned.

District attorney appointments went to Dan McCall Brazil of Lufkin, Larry Lee Miller of Greenville, and Jack Gayle Neal of Sulphur Springs.

Millard K. Neptune of Austin is the new director of the Southwestern area office of Economic Development Administration.

Governor appointed 50 members of his new Committee on Human Relations, with Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. as chairman.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher named a five-member general investigating committee, headed by Rep. R. H. Cory of Victoria.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes named lunar landing commission members from the Senate, and committees on urban affairs, penal servitude (parole) and historical and recreational sites.

Department of Public Safety chief pilot L. A. Bradford resigned to accept a position as executive vice president of Rio Airways in Corpus Christi.

COURTS SPEAK — Supreme Court handed down a roomful of cases after its summer recess. It declined rehearings in three major cases decided last July, reaffirming that:

"Sundaco Inc. of Tarrant and other counties will not get an advisory court opinion on whether its arrangement for evading Sunday closing law is legal. *Until the Sarita Kenedy East will contest is concluded, Alice National Bank will remain as executor of the $300 million estate.

"Juvenile delinquency proceedings do not require proof of guilt beyond reasonable doubt."

Travis County district court assessed a $2,800 penalty against Orange real estate development concerns for polluting the Sabine River. Penalty was first recovered under the Water Quality Act. Firms are now constructing waste disposal plant to avoid future pollution.

Supreme Court refused to order Limestone County court to dismiss bank robbery charges against a man there.

FIRST CANDIDATE EMERGES — Hawthorne Phillips, former district judge at Brownville and now executive assistant to Attorney General Crawford Martin, has announced his candidacy for the Texas Supreme Court.

He says he will run for the seat being vacated by Associate Justice Robert W. Hamilton of El Paso, who recently announced that he will not run again, after 11 years on the bench.

CRIME — Judge Joe Frazier Brown of San Antonio, executive director of the Governor's Criminal Justice Council, has urged industry to take a technological hand in fighting "the ever-rising threat of crime."

He said "In spite of the fact that our society has developed systems that take us to the moon, our approach to the crime control act was still too much the old hit-em-in-the-head night-stick philosophy, or the ignore-the-problem-and-it-will-go-away philosophy. This has got to change."

TO AWAKEN SMALL TOWNS — Governor Smith announced a "Texas Communities Tomorrow" program to revitalize the small towns in Texas.

Aim is to provide a central source through which small towns can get information on governmental aid available to them and to help find technical and financial know-how for improvement programs.

Most "hometowns" are "becoming crowded cities" or "are decaying into nothingness," complained the governor.

SHORT SNORTS
Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. says there were 13,001 profit corporations chartered in Texas for fiscal 1969, an increase of 3,000 over 1968.

Thinking Aloud

By BARBARA SWIMMER

Have you ever been in a dimly lighted room and caught a glimpse of yourself in a mirror? — I'll tell you what, every morning when my alarm goes off at 6:30 a. m. and I stagger to the door to retrieve my newspaper, and catch a gander of myself in my full length mirror, I have a cowboy runaway. . . Now I'm a sight to behold in the mornings anyway, and seeing a sight like that so early in the mornin' is just too much.

Every night when I go to bed, I always remind myself to be prepared for the booger that always looks back at me at that early hour, but each time I catch myself talking back to it, saying "Don't get me, I'm just a little girl!" If that reflection ever reaches out and grabs me, I really will have a cowboy runaway.

You know, I'm getting worried about the high taxes and higher hemlines. They're both gonna reach the flood stage before long, and then where we gonna be?

I really am worried about the short skirts. I hate to date myself, but I can remember back in the late fortys when they dropped from above the knees to thirteen inches from the floor. I've never seen so many people going around with the same old dress with a ruffle on the bottom. When hemlines shorten, it's not so bad, cause you can always cut them off, but it gets a little tedious sewing them back on. . .

I have this problem, you see, (me and my friend, Erma Bloomberg) it's kinda bad when you have knees that look like lettuce heads in a pea patch. . .

A railroad yarn about the time, — early in this century—when passenger trains were regarded with the same lively interest that huge airlines are now, was told to me by one of my readers. —

Along late in the evening a crowd had gathered in a little Texas town to watch the first fire-eating engine and long string of passenger cars pull into the small yellow depot yards. Amid clanging of bells and loud whistles the conductor jumped off the first car. "Move back! Move back!"

Way back!" he yelled at the crowd. "We've got to turn this thing around." For a while there was some mighty scurrying. REALITY — Is a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live there.

Dandy Sauerkraut Salad

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food
Editor
DEAR CECILY: I was a guest at a lovely picnic during the warm weather. We were served a salad that I very much enjoyed and I'd love to have the recipe for it because it can be used all year round. I noted that this salad contained sauerkraut, celery, carrot, green pepper, onion and sugar, but I don't know how much of each ingredient to use. Do you have a recipe like this you could pass along? — SALAD FAN.

DEAR SALAD FAN: Yes, I do have a recipe for sauerkraut salad that is like the one you describe — with one exception. My recipe does not call for carrot. However, you can remedy this by substituting finely shredded carrot for half the amount of green pepper called for. I'm not surprised that you want this recipe because it really does make a delicious salad. Whenever I've tested a version of it, all my tasters have been enthusiastic. — C. B.

SAUERKRAUT SALAD
2 cups sauerkraut
1 medium onion, finely chopped (½ cup)
½ cup finely chopped celery
1 large green pepper, finely chopped (1 cup)
½ cup sugar
Turn sauerkraut into a strainer to drain thoroughly. In a refrigerator container or mixing bowl (about 1 quart), with a fork, thoroughly mix together the drained sauerkraut, onion, celery, pepper and sugar.

Cover tightly and refrigerate 6 hours or overnight to chill and allow flavors to blend. Makes about 1 quart. Note: This salad may be served with sliced roast meat or poultry; it is also good with fried, broiled or baked fish. Try it, too, in a Hero sandwich.

HERO SANDWICHES — A filling of meat, cheese and sliced tomatoes may be topped with sauerkraut salad.

Dr. McBrayer Is Study Club Speaker

The illicit use of drugs and their harmful results was the program presented by Dr. D.E. McBrayer Thursday evening to members of the Hereford Study Club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Marvin Knox. Co-hosting the meeting was Mrs. Don Robinson.

Dr. McBrayer said the most commonly used drugs were marijuana, LSD and heroin. He

HEREFORD WHITEFACES

1968 RECORD 5 WINS 6 LOSSES

Friday, OCTOBER 10

GAME TIME 8:00 P.M.

Fresh from a 15-6 licking of the Phillips' Blackhawks last week, the Whitefaces find themselves in somewhat of a battered condition, having lost several of their key players.

John Frank Martin, who has plowed gaping holes in every opponents' defensive line this year, was lost for an indefinite time when he twisted his knee in last week's game, and junior back Alan Wagner was taken out of commission, also due to an injured knee.

With these two out, in addition to all-state candidate Tony Gorman, the Whitefaces will have their work cut out for them Friday when they journey to Dalhart.

Even with the losses of three starters, the locals, gifted with good depth, will be more than ready for the Wolves with replacers Charles Black, Ricki Ward and Johnny Wall filling in the vacant spots. Ward, who replaced Martin in the backfield, gained over 100 yards in last week's game against the Blackhawks, and is expected to fill the hole well again.

Dalhart, coming off from a loss to Canyon last week, will have upset intentions on their minds and could very easily prove a team to beat for the Whitefaces, who are experiencing a good year with their 3-1 record.

DALHART WOLVES

1968 RECORD 6 WINS 4 LOSSES

WOLVES' Stadium

SUPPORT YOUR TEAM!

The Dalhart Wolves, experiencing one of their most off years in recent times, will be looking to improve on their record of when they entertain the Whiteface Friday night at Dalhart.

As of last year, the Wolves were considered the winningest football school in the state of Texas by way of their won-lost percentage over the past decade. Last year, they fell to a poor 6-4 season in district 1-AA, and one of their losses was to the Whitefaces here.

The win by the Whitefaces marked the first win of the '68 campaign which carried them into bi-district play, and the Wolves will be looking to counter from last year's loss.

With an inheritance of only three offensive and three defensive starters back from last year's team, the Wolves have found going somewhat tough this year. But, though they are weak in starters, speed and depth, they have names such as Karl Woods, a 6-2; 190-pound tackle and Ricky Heiskill, a 180-pound halfback, to rebuild around. Guards Jay Foster and Stanley Hughes have also provided the Dalhart fans with things to talk about this year, even though it has not been a good one so far.

School Breakfast Program Doubles

AUSTIN — School breakfast programs in Texas public schools are expected to pass the 350 mark in 1969-70, doubling the 172 total set during the last academic year.

This breakfast program is now in its second year in Hereford's five elementary schools.

Requests for funds to help support both the breakfast and lunch programs are now being received at the Texas Education Agency from all sections of the state, from large and small school districts, and from both urban and rural areas.

Additional personnel needed to speed administration of the child nutrition programs in Texas were approved Saturday by the State Board of Education meeting in Austin. Two field consultants and necessary clerical workers will help cut the time needed to process applications from the schools and report progress of the program to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

House and Senate appropriation bills are expected to allocate $20,000,400 to Texas for the new school year, an increase of almost $6 million. The largest single program increase will be $3,141,314 designed to provide extra reimbursement up to 15 cents per meal served to lunch rooms on school campuses with a high percentage of children from poverty areas.

The 1970 Congressional appropriation is also expected to contain an increase in state administration funds. The tentative allocation to the Texas Education Agency is $107,245, a $62,671 boost over the $44,574 figure set in 1968-69, according to Charles Hicks, director of the program.

The State Board of Education Saturday authorized the Agency to ask the U. S. Department of Agriculture for permission to use $34,985 of this $62,671 in additional state administration funds for the eight-month period beginning Nov. 1, 1969, and ending June 30, 1970.

Vienna is offering 125 concerts this summer, of which 73 are free.

Bill David, owner of Davis Implement Company, tells us that he has acquired the Oliver dealership for the Hereford territory, to go along with the Minneapolis-Moline dealership that he now has. Bill says they are now in the process of getting their initial parts order in but in the meantime will do their best to service all the Oliver equipment in the area by getting emergency parts service out of Dallas. The company has assured him that orders will be processed on an emergency basis until he can get parts in stock.

We understand also, that Davis Implement Company will be the new Bush Hog dealers for the area. Bush Hog stalk cutters have been quite popular with farmers around Hereford and Bill does have repair parts in stock — as well as some new cutters.

The Hereford Key Club will be putting out flags Saturday morning (Columbus Day).

The Key Club recently took over the duty of putting out the flags which was previously handled by the Veterans organizations. They're doing an excellent job too.

And speaking of the Key Club, we understand that these young men spent all day Saturday out at Kings Manor cleaning windows, blinds and scrubbing floors. They will be out again this Saturday doing more of the same.

It is refreshing to be able to report on these activities of our young people, when so much of the news today is filled with the undesirable activities. We suppose it can't be helped. Although only a very small per cent of our youngsters get in trouble, it is this small per cent that make the headlines.

The Hereford Kiwanis Club is still in the firewood business. And with winter just around the corner, it might be a good idea to stock up. You want to be ready when the first snow flies. That may be sooner than you think. The mornings are already getting cold. The thermometer at our house showed 37 degrees Tuesday morning and just a slightly warmer 44 Wednesday morning. That's sweater weather.

This will be the big weekend down at Lubbock. Texas A&M will be invading Jones Stadium to do battle with the Red Raiders and local Aggie supporters will be traveling to Lubbock en masse to root for the old Alma Mater. We're not making any predictions on the outcome of the game, havin' been on hand for the photo finish two years ago. Aggie boosters are hoping for a repeat performance.

And then there's the story about the golfer who got so mad that he threw all his clubs in the creek. Turning to his partner, he asked to borrow a club to finish the game. "OK," the partner replied, "but these are my clubs and if you goof this shot, don't throw the club in the creek." The exasperated golfer replied in disgust: "If you can't afford the game, don't play it."

Speaking of golf, Dale Tinnin, who used to play quite a bit at the local course, always upset the beginners by offering to play them "left handed." For a lot of people that would be quite a feat. Not for Dale. He's left handed.

According to the Tampa Times, the prize quip of the week goes to that fellow who expressed shock at the rash of nudism and stated:

"If God had intended that man should go naked, he would have been born that way."

Safety In The Home Is Young Homemakers Topic

Mrs. June Rudd, local school nurse, spoke on Safety In The Home to members of the Young Homemakers of Texas at a Tuesday night meeting held at La Plata Junior High.

Fire and auto safety were Mrs. Rudd's topics and she presented first aid hints and ways to combat poisoning.

An inspirational poem on Love was presented by Mrs. Don Howard.

During a brief business meeting, members voted on the Outstanding Young Homemaker of the Year which will be announced at the awards banquet scheduled Oct. 17.

Members received packages of pecans which they will sell as a ways and means project.

Attending were Mmes. J. M. Culpepper, Charles Weatherford, Carlton Richardson, Larry Dobbs, Connie Urbanczyk, John Newton, Mike Ranspot, Harvey Melton, Leland Shelton, Don Howard, Dorman Duggan and Mike Watts.

Mistake In TOPS Tally

At a Monday evening meeting of the Sugar Blues TOPS Club held at the Community Center, it was announced that after a re-tally of last month's weight losses, Mrs. A.C. Brorman was the September TOPS Queen with a weight loss for the month of fourteen pounds.

Mrs. Eugene Fangman, who had been crowned queen, was runner-up with a loss of 12½ lbs.

Mrs. Frank Short, outgoing president, was installing officer for the newly elected slate in a candlelight ceremony Mrs. Woody McDermitt was installed as leader, Mrs. Elmore Raines, co-leader; Mrs. Fred Ruland treasurer; Miss Dorothy Troxell, secretary; and Mrs. R. L. Blakely, weight recorder. Mrs. Bob Brockman, reporter, was not present. The 23 members attending recorded a weight loss of 6½ pounds for the week.

BEAT ODDS

WIGGINS, Colo. — A Guernsey milk cow on an eastern Colorado farm beat high odds by giving birth to triplets, a bull and two heifers. A veterinarian said the chances of triple births among cattle are one in almost 107,000 births.

WHO?

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — A motorist whose windshield was smashed by a large owl was asked on his insurance claim form: "Who in your opinion was to blame for the accident?"

"The owl forgot to hoot," he wrote.
